Intro

It was a beautiful day. The sun was shining, the birds were chirping, The flowers were blooming; yes, everything was perfect. It was an island so beautiful that once you set foot on it, you would never want to leave again. This island is one of the greatest islands of the Grand Line that has ever existed. Too bad that this island has nothing to do with this story whatsoever.

What has to do with this story is the Strawhat Crew that are sailing through the seas.

Luffy, the future pirate king, is fishing. Zoro, The future strongest swordsman, was taking a long nap (what a surprise). Nami, the woman who will draw a map of the world someday, is counting all the berri she has left after leaving water 7. Usopp, the man who will become a brave warrior of the sea, is telling Chopper, the one who will make a medicine that will cure everything, one of his stories on how he defeated a black-hearted demon with just one hit of his slingshot, which was obviously a lie. Sanji, the man who will find the All Blue, is making a delicious meal for Robin. Robin, the woman who will find the Rio Poneglyph, is reading her third book of the week. Franky, the man who built the ship "The Thousand Sunny" for the Strawhat crew which will reach Raftel, is for some reason dancing and singing some random song all over the deck. Yes, it was a normal day for the Strawhats, but what they don't know is that this day will lead them to another great adventure.

One Piece

A Smash Adventure

Chapter 1: A crazy storm, A new adventure

"Oi Zoro." Luffy said as he tried to wake up Zoro. Luffy couldn't catch any fish, so he tries to wake Zoro up so he can help. "Zoro, wake up!" Luffy said again, but to no avail. Luffy couldn't wait anymore so he grabbed one of Nami's Orange trees and whacked Zoro with it.

"Oww!" Zoro shouted in pain, instantly waking up from his nap, "What the hell was that for Luffy?!" Zoro yelled.

"I cant get any fish. come help me." Luffy said plainly.

"Why dont you ask Usopp instead?", Zoro asked.

"I need someone to… GAHHHH!" Luffy cried out as he was hit in the head by one of Nami's deadly punches.

"Luffy, what the hell are you doing with one of my orange trees?!" Nami shouted at Luffy.

"I was trying to wake Zoro up so he can help me fish." Luffy said as he is holding his head in pain.

"WELL THE NEXT TIME YOU WANT TO WAKE UP ZORO,USE SOMETHING THAT HAS NO MEANING, LIKE USOPP'S NOSE!" Nami shouted.

"Oi!" Usopp yelled.

"Will you guys shut up! I am trying to hear myself sing.", Franky said arrogantly.

"Oi, you shitty pants-less man! Don't yell at Nami-san." Sanji said as he stomped out of the kitchen and confronts Franky.

"Don't mess with me lover boy. You wouldn't like me if you gave my week a bad start." Franky said.

"I didn't like you the first time I met you!" Sanji said.

"WHAT WAS THAT! Franky said as he confronts Sanji eye to eye.

"Would you two keep it down? I am trying to go back to sleep." Zoro said.

"Shut up, you shitty marimo!" Sanji said as he throw a frying pan at Zoro's face. Zoro didn't even flinch when that happened, but it did make him angry.

"You want a piece of me, you dumb cook!?" Zoro yelled angrily.

Zoro,Sanji,and Franky continued to argue with each other, while the rest of the crew were doing what they were originally doing, except for Nami who is still looking at the three stooges or so she calls them. "Man, Everyday is the same thing. when something stupid happens, these three always argue about it." Nami said to nobody in particular.

"Its best this way navigator-san." Robin said while reading her book.

"How is this best for anything? Look at them." Luffy is fishing and stuffing a cooked turkey in his mouth at the same time, Zoro,Sanji, and Franky were arguing about hair color for no clear reason, and Chopper keeps listening to Usopp about how he defeated a giant squid noodle.

Even with all this strange activity going around, Robin smiles at Nami and said "It's better to have all this than to not have anything at all." After hearing this, Nami let out a small smile. It was true that these people did more than arguing, telling lies or stuffing a cooked turkey down their throat all the time. They have always sticked together like one big happy family.

"I guess you're right, Robin. This is worth it." says Nami. Nami was about to return to her berri counting when all of a sudden she heard the sound of thunder. "What the? A storm now? Well this is the Grand Line after all."Nami thought to herself. "Oi, everyone get in your positions!" Nami said to everyone.

"My hair is not stupid, you stupid cook!" Franky said to Sanji.

"Hey, you three. Quit arguing and hoist the sails already." Nami said.

"YES, NAMI-SAN!" says Sanji in a delightful way.

The Strawhat crew always confronted storms but not like this one. This storm was quite odd, Instead of dealing with huge waves of the sea, there wasn't any at all, but it was still raining hard and the wind was blowing like crazy yet there is still no monstrous waves to crush them. "What is up with this storm? How come there aren't any waves?" Usopp asked.

"I think it's sick." Luffy replied.

"How can the sea be sick?" Usopp asked.

"Well I had to go to the bathroom, but I didn't want to leave the fishing pole, So I…"

"Say no more, I get the picture." Usopp said.

"Don't worry, Usopp, I didn't pee on the sea, I actually po…" Before Luffy could finish that sentence there was thunderous lightning bolt that almost hit the Strawhat crew. This completely scared the heck out of Chopper as he jumped on Zoro's head.

"Get off of me Chopper, I can't see!" Zoro said.

"NO! I am too scared!" screams Chopper. "Somethings not right, even though this is the Grand Line, There should always be waves during a terrible storm such as this." Nami said with a concerned look.

"GYAAAAAAAHHHHH WHAT IS THAT!?" Usopp and Chopper screamed in unison. Nami checked to see what is going on and saw something unbelievable.

Everyone was at shock at what they are seeing, even Robin couldn't believe it.

"What the heck is THAT doing out here!?" Franky screamed.

"I don't know, but it's so coooooooooool!" Luffy said.

"THIS ISN'T THE TIME TO BE ADMIRING THINGS LUFFY!" Usopp yelled. What stands in front of the Strawhat crew was an enormous door, about five times the size of the Thousand Sunny, The door looks antique and it has a weird marking that is in a shape of a hand. the odd thing about it is that it's in the middle of the sea.

"Why would there be a door in the middle of nowhere?!" Sanji asked.

"That has to be the door to the next life, were gonna be punished for our pirate ways!" Usopp cried.

"REALLY!?" Asked the frightened Chopper.

"Look, it's opening." Robin said.

The door is indeed opening and when it completely opened, there was nothing in it but pure darkness, so dark that nobody in their rightful mind would go in their.

"I'm scared…" Chopper said as he was still holding on Zoro's head. Zoro on the other hand felt excitement and fear at the same time. From some place that is so dark there where sure to be some powerful creatures inside. Usopp is so scared his nose is trembling with fear. Robin felt like she was in Enies Lobby again. Sanji didn't want to even look at it since it makes him remember his past. Franky seems as if he saw his life flashing through his eyes, Nami was standing still as if she is paralyzed. And Luffy didn't even know how to react, he was just looking at it plainly, as if it's not there at all.

"OI, LETS GET OUT HERE!" says Usopp. The rest agreed except for Luffy who is still looking at the door. The wind stopped blowing all of a sudden, nobody seemed to notice as they were trying to move the ship far away from the door as possible.

When they finally moved the ship around, Franky was about to use the Thousand Sunny's booster to escape faster. Before he could though, the door suddenly started to suck the Strawhats in.

"ARRGHH, COUP DE BURST!" the ship then let out a huge pressure that it went flying at the opposite direction of the door, but is was no use, the door's wind current was just to powerful to escape from.

The ship was about half way in the door and almost everyone was panicking for their lives. Luffy was still looking at it as if he was hypnotized. "LUFFY, DO SOMETHING!" Usopp shouted as he is trying to knock some sense into Luffy by doing karate chops on his head countless of times, but to no avail.

"… We can't escape…" Luffy said in a plainly way.

"No shit, Einstein! Tell us something we don't know!" Usopp shouted in a very rude way. Luffy then started to smile, and Usopp is confused by this.

"This door might… might… lead us to an adventure!" Luffy says in an excited way. Usopp is dumbfounded by hearing that, but at the same time it didn't really surprised him.

Usopp then sat at the floor all scared and said, "My I-am-going-to-have-a-heart-attack-when-I-enter-a-giant-door disease is acting up again". The ship was finally inside the door. The door closed and vanished into thin air, making the weather return to its normal peaceful habitat.

TO BE CONTINUED…

Well this is it, my first story already in progress, This chapter may not have been very good, but I will assure you that it will get better later.

See ya.

Mario Pt 1

It was nothing but pure darkness, the door that will lead anyone into great joy or terrible sorrow. The last we seen the Strawhat crew, they were sucked in by a giant door with a mark in shape of a hand. Just what exactly is this door? Where did it come from? Why would it take the Strawhats into a place so dark that no one in their rightful mind would ever set foot in? We will soon find out as we continue on with the story of One Piece: A Smash Adventure!

Chapter 2: Embark on Mushroom Kingdom, The great hero Mario

The Strawhat crew were all unconscious. The last thing they remembered before losing consciousness was going inside the door filled with darkness. Nami was the first one to wake up and look at her surroundings. She was afraid that she might not see anything due to the darkness, but instead she saw her crew knocked out and the calm blue sea. "Was it all a dream?" Nami thought to herself.

She looked around and saw Luffy sleeping on Zoro, who was on Sanji's face to face, with their lips about three or four centimeters apart, just so close for any yaoi fan would die to see.

Nami then shoved Luffy off of Zoro and proceeded to wake him up in a nice, gentle way. "WAKE UP, YOU IDIOT!" Shouts Nami as she was beating Luffy up into a pulp… WAIT A MINUTE! DIDN'T I SAY IN A NICE GENTLE MANNER!? "SHUT UP!" Nami shouted as she hit me in the face… ouch. The ruckus caused Zoro and Sanji to wake up at the same time and since they were really close to each other…

"GAAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAH!" shouted Zoro and Sanji as they saw what they would never ever wanted to see: Their lips ALMOST touching with one another.

"OI, KEEP THAT DISGUSTING PIECE OF TRASH YOU CALL A MOUTH AWAY FROM MINE! Sanji said to Zoro.

"THAT WAS WHAT I WAS GONNA TO SAY YOU!" Zoro yelled before he started to brawl with Sanji.

The louder ruckus woke up the rest of the crew. "Uh, what happened?" Chopper asked. He then saw Luffy with the biggest swollen face he has ever seen. "AHHHHH, Luffy what happened to you!?" Chopper asked worryingly.

"I don't knof, I just woffed ap lick thes." Luffy said, as his face was so swollen, he couldn't talk right.

"He fell face first, that's what happened." Nami lied in an arrogant way.

Usopp woke up, but didn't want to open his eyes for he might see a terrifying monster of any sort. "Giant door scary… giant door scary… giant door scary" Repeated Usopp. "Wait, I get it. this has to be a dream. Yes, a horrible nightmare. Yeah that's it, I'll just open my eyes and see the nice, calm…" Usopp opened his eyes and saw Nami in her bad mood look.

"GYAAAAAAAAAHHHHHHH! GIANT DOOR SCARY… GIANT DOOR SCARY… GIANT DOOR SCARY.." Usopp repeated even louder this time.

Franky looked around to see any changes in the area, but everything looked the same.

"Oi, what just happened?" asks Franky. Nami then double checked the area to see if there is anything that is different no matter how big or small it is, but no, everything looked normal to her. " Maybe it transported us into another place or something." says Nami.

"I don't think so Miss Navigator." Robin said, popping out of nowhere.

"What do you mean, Robin?" Chopper asked while he was trying to reduce Luffy's swelling.

"I read something about this, where a door would seem to appear every thousand years to take any soul that comes near it." Robin said.

"Any… soul?" Usopp asked with a gulp. "I KNEW IT! IT DID COME TO PUNISH US!" Usopp screams loudly.

Ignoring Usopp, Nami wanted to find out more about this door. "So, what happens to the people who go in the door?" Nami asked.

"Well… nobody is quite sure, but there are rumors that said that once you go in the door, you would end up either in a different world or dimension or just about any place for that matter." Robin explained to everyone.

"Ahh, sho ichs a Myschery door." said the swollen Luffy.

"Yes, something like that." Robin replied.

"Well, how do we go back to our world then?" Franky asked.

"Well, the first thing we need to do is to find some civilization and if we see anything not normal then we can conclude that we are in another world." Nami said.

"But we always see weird things all the time, Nami. How are we going to tell what is normal and what is not?" Chopper asked curiously.

"-Sigh-… okay we ask someone if they know what One Piece is and if anyone doesn't know, then we will know we are from another world."

"Okay, but what if it's some people who doesn't know what One Piece really is?" Chopper asked.

"Well, we will just ask them what is a devil fruit then."

"But what if they don't…" Nami was sick of the questions and glared at Chopper furiously.

"NO MORE QUESTIONS." Nami said in a scary way.

"Ahh, OKAY!" Chopper said nervously.

Zoro and Sanji were still duking it out, until Nami ran to them and punched them in the face. "YOU TWO LOWER THE SAILS ALREADY!" Nami shouted.

"YES NAMI-SAN!" said Sanji with hearts in his eyes.

"Bah… whatever." murmured Zoro as he and Sanji lower the sails, which made the Thousand Sunny go full speed to where ever it was going to.

Meanwhile…

It was a peaceful day at the Mushroom Kingdom, where no one has a care in the world. The residents are always friendly with each other making it one of the peaceful kingdoms that has ever existed, but it wasn't always peaceful. There are times when the Mushroom Kingdom would face great terror from the evil King Koopa, Bowser. Almost every day, he would try to kidnap the Princess of Mushroom Kingdom, Princess Peach in order to gain her love. Fortunately, there will always be someone out there who would stop Bowser's evil ambitions. This someone is Mario, a great hero who always defeats Bowser no matter what evil he'll do.

Today, Mario is in his house with his brother Luigi, a fellow that is not really into saving or adventures due to his fear of almost… well… everything for that matter. They are having a peaceful day just like everyone else. Mario and Luigi are chatting around the dinner table doing nothing, but chatting about their previous adventures since they have nothing else to do. Ever since the Prognasticus incident (SUPER PAPER MARIO) nothing else happened, that was four month ago.

"Hey Mario, Its been very peaceful since that day four months ago, huh?" Luigi asked.

"Why yez it haz been very a-quiet lately" Mario said in his usual Italian accent.

"It's a good thing too. Another thing like that would make me pee my pants." Luigi said.

"Luigi, don't-a be exaggerating." says Mario. Mario thinks that since he hasn't done anything adventurous lately, he might lose his touch sooner or later. Who knows, maybe this is the day he would go back doing adventurous stuff again.

Meanwhile…

Peach's castle is the landmark of Mushroom Kingdom. Within lies Princess Peach herself. She is on the balcony of her castle looking at her peaceful town. "Hm… I wonder what Mario has been up to lately." Peach asked herself. An elderly Toad then comes with a cane that has a mushroom on top.

"Princess Peach, what are you doing up here? You should be downstairs practicing your piano lessons." The elderly toad said.

"I'm sorry, Toadsworth. I was just taking break" Peach said.

"Honestly, young lady. How will you be a fine Queen someday if you are going to slack off to every simple task you are obligated to take." Toadsworth said.

"Oh Toadsworth, you always exaggerate over everything." Peach said.

"Well yes, but…"

"PRINCESS PEACH!" screamed a toad soldier who rushed in to the balcony.

"What is the meaning of this!?" Toadsworth asked.

"I am sorry sir, but I think you should know that there is an unidentified ship heading towards the Mushroom Kingdom." The soldier said.

"Is it Bowser?" Peach asked.

"I don't think so, but it kinda looks like a pirate ship if you ask me." said the soldier.

"A pirate ship!? Soldier, tell every other soldiers in the castle to head to the docks immediately" Toadsworth said . "Princess Peach, do you want me to call Mario?"

"No, we don't want to bother Mario for something we can handle." Peach said.

"Well as you wish Princess. Anyway, these pirates must be taken care of immediately. We don't know what kind of disaster they would unleash in our beloved Mushroom Kingdom."

Back to the Strawhats…

"AAAAAAAAHHHHHHHHHHHHHHH, I feel a lot better!" Luffy said, as his face looked normal again.

"Good thing I treated you at the right time or you face would still be a little swollen" Chopper said.

"Thanks Chopper, you're the best." Luffy said as he gave Chopper the thumbs up.

"Ga… you idiot! Don't think I will be happy just because you said that to me! YOU BIG IDIOT! ASSHOLE… ASSHOLE.. ASSHOLE…" Chopper said happily while doing a happy dance.

"Land hoooooo!" Usopp shouted as he sees land straight ahead of him.

"YOSH, time to get our questions answered. FULL SPEED AHEAD!" Luffy shouted as he points straight forward.

"AYE!" said the rest of the crew.

TO BE CONTINUED…

That ends Chapter 2. Leave your opinions by leaving your review.

Mario Pt 2

A door that will lead anyone to a distant place, never to be heard from again. The Strawhat crew were somehow able to survive through the door of darkness, but it seemed to have lead them somewhere far away from home. Robin explained to the crew of the door that appears every thousand years to take any unsuspected guests to anywhere around the universe. Will the Strawhats be able to go back to their home planet or will they be stuck in a planet for all eternity.

Chapter 3: A surprise welcoming party, Peach's Invitation

"Oi Usopp, are we there yet?" Luffy asked.

"Can't you wait for three minutes? We're almost there." Usopp said.

"But I want to get their nowww." Luffy moans.

"Why do you want to go their now Luffy?" Chopper asked.

"Well, we are in another world right? So, I want to see what kind of weird people we are going to meet." Luffy said with a big smile.

"Ohh."

"-sigh-… You and your stupid imagination." Nami said, who just joined the conversation.

"What do you mean?" Luffy asked.

"We're not in another world. We were just having a stupid dream." Nami pointed out.

"How can it be a dream if we were all awake?" Luffy asked.

"Tsk… fine, it was a mirage, a big, scary mirage, Okay!?" Nami said before she stomped out away.

"Luffy, what Nami just said was true?" Chopper asked with a sad look.

"Of course not. We are in another world! And who knows, we might meet bug eye people who are over ten feet tall." said Luffy with a big grin.

"Over ten feet tall? COOL!" Chopper said excitedly.

Nami went into the kitchen and sat down on a chair. "Sanji-kun, you know that we are not in another world, right?" Nami asked in a flirtatious way.

"Of course, Nami-san, you are always right!" Sanji said with hearts in his eyes.

"Good, finally someone understands that going into other planets by just going through giant, abnormal doors is completely illogical." Nami sighed in relief.

"I don't know, Nami-san, maybe it is possible after all." Sanji said as he was cleaning some dishes.

Nami was curious on why he just said that, so she asked him, "Why do you think that? You just agreed with me a little while ago."

"Well, Nami-san, now that I think about it, we were in the Grand Line when that happened and anything unexpected can happen in the Grand Line." Sanji said as he finished cleaning his last dish.

"Well, fine! Believe what you want, you idiot!" Nami said before she left the kitchen angrily.

"NAMI-SAAAAAAN, PLEASE DON'T LEAVE LIKE THAT!" Sanji cried. He then opened the refrigerator with a lock and took out a popsicle. "NAMI-SAAAAAAAAN, HERE IS A POPSICLE. DON'T BE ANGRY ANYMORE. NAMI-SAAAAAAN!" Sanji cried. But it was too late, Nami already left. Sanji then lowered his head in shame and went back to the kitchen.

Zoro was looking at his sword Yubashi, which is now unusable due to a battle with a captain at Enies Lobby. As everyone would know, Zoro uses a Santoryu sword style, and now that one of his swords is destroyed, he feels less secured and unable to do his full potential in battle. " Hmm… I wonder if that place has any good swords or any swords for that matter. " Zoro thought to himself.

Franky was checking around the storage to see if he has any cola left. Franky then opened a box and saw empty bottles of cola. This made Franky angry and he stormed off the storage room to face everybody. "Oi, who was the idiot who drank all the cola!?" Franky shouted loud enough so everybody could hear him.

"Hmm..oh, I drank it all." Luffy said with a wide grin.

Franky then approached Luffy and said "We just left Water 7 two days ago and you drank the entire 4 month supply of cola!?".

"Well… I think it was about yesterday at midnight." Luffy said as he started to remember what happened yesterday.

FLASHBACK

Luffy woke up and he was hungry. So he went to the kitchen to get something to eat, but it's locked. Luffy was so hungry, he could eat anything. "Maaaahhhhh, I am huuuunnnngrrrryyy!" Luffy said. He then saw something round near Usopp's workstation. He thought it was a little grape. Even though its little, it was still food. "FOOD!" said Luffy excitedly as he grabbed the grape and ate it, "Mmmmmmmmmm, that was good." Luffy said all satisfied. Luffy then started to feel warm all around his body, especially in his mouth. He then started to feel as if he was on fire. All of sudden, flames started to come out of his mouth.

"HOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOTTTTTT!" Luffy shouted as he was running all over the place. What he thought was grape that he eaten was actually one of Usopp's Tabasco boshi's.

Luffy ran all over the place screaming for water, but surprisingly, nobody woke up from the ruckus. They were so asleep that nothing can wake them up. Luffy then ran into the storage room to find anything to stop the flames coming from his mouth. He then opened a box that had a lot of colas in it, and started to drink every single bottle of cola until the flames died down.

"AHHHHHHHH, I feel a lot better.." Luffy said, all relieved. He noticed that he actually drank every single cola that was in storage. "Uh-oh, better put those away." Luffy puts the empty bottles of cola back in the box. As soon as he did he left like nothing happened.

END OF FLASHBACK

"So you mean to tell me that you drank all the cola from the storage room just because of one of Long-nose's spicy balls?" Franky asked with one eye twitching.

"Uh-huh." Luffy said with a stupid grin. Franky then paid attention to Usopp who was observing land in front of him with binoculars.

"Hm… there are houses, but whats with the mushroom shape roofs? Usopp asked himself. "Maybe if I can look for any civilians I could…" Usopp was about to finish is sentence, before Franky came right into Usopp's vision.

"YOU AND YOUR STUPID INVENTIONS!" Franky said right at Usopp's face. Usopp was so shocked that he jumped several feet in the air and landed right next to Robin, who was reading a book (SURPRISING, AIN'T IT?).

Usopp then got up and said "Oi, Franky, don't startle me like that. You almost made me fall of the ship." Usopp said.

"Good, maybe you can do something useful for once and push the ship yourself." Franky said.

"Well I least I got some pants on." Usopp said mockingly.

"Are you trying to insult me Long nose, because it ain't working." Franky said.

Robin then took her eyes of her book and saw that they already arrived at the docking bay. "Gentlemen, we already arrived. Shall we take are leave?"

Franky and Usopp stopped arguing to see that they already arrived. The rest of the crew came to see the place. Luffy,Usopp, and Chopper are amazed at what they are seeing. Sanji, Nami, and Franky are also surprised, while Robin and Zoro weren't that shocked as the rest. It looked like a town, except for the mushroom-shaped houses. They can see a large castle at a distance. There were signs that had either mushrooms or stars with cartoony eyeballs.

What was most shocking is that the residents are mushrooms themselves, only with feet and hands. There are even human sized turtles that are walking on two feet with shoes on. The residents were looking at the Strawhat crew wondering who they are.

"Who are those guys? asked a random resident.

"It looks like a pirate ship." said another resident.

"Mommy, that guy has no pants on." said a little girl.

"Don't look at him, sweety." said the mother of the child blocking her daughter's vision.

"WOW, SO COOOOOOOOOOOOOOL!" Luffy, Usopp, and Chopper said at the same time.

"What the?! What is with this place? Everything here doesn't look normal!." Nami said.

"Hmm?..What's with the mushrooms?" Zoro asked.

"How come all the women are mushrooms? AND most importantly, WHY don't they have a cleavage!?" Sanji asked while weeping like crazy.

"It looks like some sort of circus if you ask me; they all look weird." Franky said as he is making a pose.

"You see, Nami!? We are in another world! Just take a look a this place, It's so cool!" Luffy said all excitedly.

"Th..this doesn't prove anything. It could be just another weird island we always go to." Nami said frustrated.

"Look, there are more coming." Robin said pointing were the castle is.

A small fleet of toad soldiers were heading straight towards the Strawhats. When they arrived, one of them stepped forward. He was leading the small fleet, like a captain of some sorts. "People on the pirate ship, we ask that you leave Mushroom Kingdom immediately or w-we will use force." said the captain, who was a little nervous.

"Mushroom Kingdom? Is that what this place is called? Interesting…" Robin said.

"Oi, why do we have to leave? We just got here." Luffy said.

"Yeah, we are not doing anything bad." Chopper said.

"We will not take word from filthy pirates such as yourselves. Leave now or we will force to take action." the captain said taking out a sword from its sheathe, trying to sound brave.

"Wait! Were just here to get some questions answered. Were not here to cause any trouble." Nami said.

"Y-Your time is up, pirates! Prepare to face justice! Men, CHAAAAAARRRRGGGGE!" the captain shouted semi-bravely as he and his men were getting on the Thousand Sunny.

"I guess they won't listen…" Zoro said as he is taking out his swords.

"No use in running now…" Sanji said as he is getting ready for battle. Robin let out a smile and put her book away.

"Auooo, time to do some exercise." Franky said as he was starting to flex a bit.

"Yosh, I'll leave everything to you guys." Usopp said as he and Chopper were hiding in the cabin.

Nami just let out a sigh and took out her clima tact, "Lets just do this quickly."

Luffy cracked his knuckles, and smiled at the soldiers. "Bring it on!".

The toad army started to attack. Luffy went charging right at one of them and "Gomu Gomu no…" said as he extends his hand backwards "PISTOL!" he then thrusts his fist forward hitting the guy in front of him so hard, he flew of like a rocket.

"WHA..WHAT WAS THAT!?" asked a soldier.

"DI..DI… DID HIS HAND JUST STRETCHED OUT LIKE A RUBBER!?" asked another soldier.

"D-D-Don't get distracted men, it must have been some sort of trick to fool us!." The captain said.

"Y-Yes sir!"

Six soldiers surrounded Zoro, ready to jump on him, but Zoro was ready for it. He is holding two swords, including the Yubashi and another sword he held with his teeth. "What kind of sword style is that?" asked a random soldier.

"Who cares!? get him!" said another soldier as he and the other five are jumping right at Zoro.

"TATSU…" Zoro was about to spin "… MAKI!" Zoro then did a 360 degree spin with his swords causing a tornado of cutting waves, which made the soldiers around him fly off the ship.

"Prepare to feel some pain, l-l-little girl!" said a rough-looking soldier, but is as nervous as everyone else.

What he didn't know is that there was a little dark cloud over him. "Little girl? Me?" Nami asked, as she let out a thunder ball in the dark cloud.

"What the…" said the rough soldier as he looks up.

"THUNDERBALL TEMPO!" Nami said as a lightning bolt hit the rough soldier, turning him into a fried mushroom.

"Hey, I saw some people going in here!" said a soldier pointing at the cabin. Two soldiers went inside the cabin.

Went they got in it, the light were off, making hard to see. "Where are they?" A soldier asked.

"Hold on. I'll turn on the lights." said another soldier as he turned on the lights. As soon as he did, Usopp popped up right in front of them readied his slingshot.

"HISSATSU KOUSHOU BOSHI!" Usopp shot the two soldiers as the pellets exploded into a cloud of pepper.

"I can't see anything!" Both soldiers said as a big figure came into their view. "What the.. A MONSTER!?". Chopper punched the two soldiers right in their faces, knocking them out.

"That's right! Don't mess with us!" Usopp shouted as Chopper let out a roar.

Sanji was facing a very tall toad soldier. "Guh huh huh huh. You cant hurt me, curly brow". said the tall soldier, who was shaking in his shoes.

Sanji then took out a cigarette from his pocket, and a lighter to light it. He then inhaled and exhaled the cigarette smoke in a smooth way and then he said "You cook the mushroom until it gets tender, then chop it in pieces to make a nice cuisine."

"Guh!? A-Are you threatening me!?" the tall soldier said, as he rushes at Sanji.

Sanji then opened his eyes and lifts his leg up to his side "COLLIEUR…" and then he thrusts his leg sideways "SHOOT!" He kicked the soldier in the abdomen making him fly straight into the ocean. "Hmph.." Sanji then throws the cigarette away.

Four soldiers cornered Robin at the back of the ship. "We got you now!" A soldier said.

Robin just smiled and crossed her forearms in front of her chest, confusing the soldiers. "VEINTICUATRO FLEUR…" Robin said as four arms appeared on each soldier holding them in place.

"WHAT THE-!?" shouted a soldier.

"CLUTCH!" The arms that are on the soldiers forced their bodies to move their legs and neck back, causing it to break their spine.

Reinforcements started to show up and they were about to get aboard the Thousand Sunny, until Franky was on the ledge of the ship. " Hmph..piece of cake! " Franky thought. "FRESH…" Franky said as he started to inhale a lot of air and then "… FIRE!" a stream of came out of his mouth taking out most of the reinforcements, while the rest of them ran away. "SUPAAAAAAAA!" Franky said as he did his own victory dance.

Basically, the soldiers that get on the ship, leave badly injured. After the massive beatings, only the captain of the toad fleet still stands. "You may have beaten my fleet, but you will never defeat me!" said the captain.

Luffy, who has taken the last soldier out, turns to the captain and said, "Hee hee, guess will have to prove that, don't we?"

The captain gulped as he was about to battle.

"That's enough!"

Luffy and the captain stopped and looked at the direction at where that voice came from.

"Who's there?!" Luffy and the captain said at the same time.

That person turned out to be none other than Princess Peach herself with her steward, Toadsworth. "P-Princess Peach." said the captain. He then got off the ship and bowed down to her. "What are you doing here, princess? It is dangerous here." The captain said.

"I would like to speak to the pirates." Peach said.

"WHAT?! But princess they are…".

"That is an order, captain." Peach said in a stern way.

"But… all right Princess, but do be careful." Peach nodded and proceeded to get on the Thousand Sunny.

"Are you sure about this, Princess?" Toadsworth asked concerned, "Look what they've already done to the soldiers. They have already proven to be the vicious type."

"That's because they were only defending themselves, Toadsworth." Peach said with a smile, "I'm sure if we just talk to them, we could get to know more about them, and resort this out in a peaceful manner."

"I don't know… but I will go with you if anything bad happens." Toadsworth said.

"Hmm?" Luffy watched Peach and Toadsworth getting onboard. "Oi, someone else is getting in." Luffy said to everyone. Usopp and Chopper came out to confront the person.

"Bring it on! I ain't scared!" Usopp said while ready to fire his slingshot, while his legs were shaking in fear at the same time.

"Okay, who is the guy is going to get beaten up this ti…" Sanji stopped as he didn't see a soldier, but Peach and Toadsworth. Sanji is dumbfounded by Peach's beauty, as his jaw dropped, touching the floor and his eyes were almost popping out of his sockets.

"Who are you?" Luffy asked.

"Forgive me for this intrusion. My name is Princess Peach, and this is my steward, Toadsworth." Peach said kindly.

"Pleasure to meet you." Toadsworth said a little uncomfortably.

"I would like to apologize for this big misunderstanding; my soldiers were too hasty, and attacked right away. They were only trying to protect the town, but I'm sure you didn't mean any harm either. As an apology, I would like to invite you people to our castle."

"Wait, let me get this straight. You are princess and you are inviting us to your castle? Nami asked. Peach nodded, which made Nami have Berri signs on her eyes. "Well, we can't reject that invitation now, can we? Nami asked facing her comrades.

"Oi…" said Usopp, Chopper, Zoro, and Franky at the same time.

"Will there be food?" Luffy asked. Nami then hit Luffy at the back of the head.

"Why yes, their will be food." Peach replied kindly.

"Yosh, We will accept your invitation." Luffy said with a bump on his head.

"Why, thank you."

"Wait a minute, Princess. Who is going to take care of the ship?" Franky asked.

"Oh, don't worry. My soldiers will protect it while your gone." Peach said, pointing at her guards.

And so, everyone followed Peach to the castle, all except Sanji, who still has the shocked face from earlier. "Beautiful blonde hair, cleavage, beautiful face, cleavage, A lovely pink dress, CLEAVAGE, A crown, CLEAVAGE!" Sanji thought to himself. "I LOVE THIS PLACE!" he shouted happily as he skipped merrily while getting off the ship, "MELLORINE, MELLORINE, MELLORINE, MELLORINE!" said Sanji repeatedly as he catches up with his crew.

Phew… My longest chapter yet. I hope enjoyed reading it as I did typing it.

Mario Pt 3

A different world can lead to surprises. The Strawhat crew had arrived in a place called the Mushroom Kingdom. But as soon as they arrived, they were confronted by a small fleet that wanted the Strawhats to leave. By not accepting their demands, the the small fleet of soldiers began to attack them. One soldier went down after the other as they stood no chance against the Strawhats. The battle soon ended as the princess of Mushroom Kingdom, Princess Peach, invited the Strawhats to her castle. Luffy and the others gladly accepted the offer, but what does the princess want with them? Will soon find out as the story continues…

Chapter 4: A town tour, An evil plan

Peach, accompanied by her steward, Toadsworth, is walking through the town with her invited guests, the Strawhats. As they were heading to the castle, the Strawhats got to see more of the town. "Woah! Check out that guy!" Luffy said as he was referring to a flower with a face and feet called 'Dayzees'.

Usopp's eyes popped out as he saw a bomb walking by called Bomb-ombs.

Chopper noticed a fish on plain land, talking to a toad. "Cooool!" Chopper said with big sparkling eyes.

Franky noticed some people going in a green pipe sticking out of the ground, but as soon as soon as they got in, they didn't get out. "Oooookaaayy…" Franky said a little freaked out.

Nami saw a cloud in the sky and noticed it had a face on it. " Of all the weird places we've been on, this is by far the weirdest one so far. " Nami thought to herself.

Robin saw a turtle with wings delivering mail to some people before flying away. "Interesting…" was all that she had to say.

Zoro saw a fat guy with a zigzag mustache selling various things. What caught his attention was a katana sticking out of the fat guy's bag. He wanted to go and take a look at it, but he then realized he didn't have any money with him. He can't go ask Nami for some, because that will be like signing a contract to go to hell. "Hmm… I'll check that out later." Zoro said as he continue to follow Peach.

There were little creatures called Goombas looking at Sanji skipping by as if he was a little girl. Some people snickered as he walked by, but Sanji didn't even seem to notice as he was looking at Princess Peach's back with hearts in his eyes. "Sigh… What a glorious sight. Who ever thought that people from other worlds would look so beautiful as Nami-san and Robin-chwan." Sanji said as he continues to skip merrily through the town.

They arrived at the gates of the castle with two guards guarding it. "Welcome back, Princess Peach." said one of the guards as he bows down to her.

"Thank you. I invited some people over. Would you please let us in?" Peach asked kindly.

"Of course, princess." said the guard as he and his partner opened the gates.

"Thank you." Peach said as she and the rest follow went through except Franky, who was stopped by the guards.

"What's the big idea!?" Franky said.

"I'm sorry sir, but we can't allow you in." said the guard.

"Why not?"

"Well sir, people here think you are some sort of stripper since you have no pants on." said the guard. "If we let you in like that, we can't assure what kind of images you will give to the princess". Franky got angry upon hearing that.

"IMAGES!? Listen you pipsqueak. I am just a normal person as everyone else and I have the right to express myself!" Franky said as he was doing an awkward pose, which made the guards feel ill and made a guy who was watching puke in a trash can.

"Sir, as a royal guard of this gate, I will not allow people with no pants on through." said the guard in a stern way.

"Ohhh, I see what this is. You are a RACIST!" Franky said.

"WHAT!?" said the guard all baffled.

"You said so yourself. You won't allow people with no pants through this gate. You got a problem with people with no pants!?" Franky asked at the dumbfounded guard. He then looked at a Koopa walking by "Look at that guy; he has no pants, so that means you ain't gonna let him in too?! Franky said as the Koopa mentioned joined in the argument.

"Yeah man, what is your problem?! said the Koopa to the even more dumbfounded guard.

Soon everyone that had no pants started to yell at the guard.

"You think your better than us, huh!?"

"What makes you pant folks the right mock us no panters?!"

"You are going down, pant wearer!"

"WAIT JUST A SECOND!" said the guard all of a sudden. "How can all of you people agree with this person that you don't even know?" asked the scared guard.

"There is a name for that and it's called 'BROTHERHOOD'! GET HIM!" Franky shouted as every no pants person dog piled the guards and started to cause havoc at them. Franky then tiptoes through the gate and catches up with the crew.

The Strawhats were now in front of Peach's big castle. "Wow, it's so beautiful." Chopper said with his usual sparkling eyes.

"I couldn't agree with you more, Chopper." Sanji said as he was looking at Peach instead of the castle. Franky then shows up.

"What took you so long?" Zoro asked.

"Meh, I was talking to the guard at the gate about some stuff. I am pretty sure that he will remember our conversation for a long time." Franky said with an evil grin on his face.

Meanwhile…

At the gate, the no pants hater guard was unconscious due to the severe beating he took from the newly formed group known as the No Pants Allowed or NPA for short. "All right men, lets continue to express ourselves!" said the leader of NPA.

"YES SIR!" said his followers as they were marching to some distant place… pantlessly.

Back to the Strawhats…

The Strawhats followed Peach inside the castle. It looked just as good as the outside. It has blueish walls with clouds painted on. The floor has white and black square tiles with a emblem of a star with in the middle of the room, and there were stairs that lead up to the second floor. Overall, it was a nice looking place.

The Strawhats went up the stairs and went through the door to go into a hallway with large windows that you can see a nice garden outside. "Oi Luffy. Don't you think this is rather suspicious?" asked the whispering Usopp.

"What is so suspicious about a garden?" Luffy asked.

"No, you idiot. I mean that don't you think it's suspicious that a princess is inviting us to her castle after we beaten up almost every guard of hers? She must be leading us to some sort of trap." Usopp said.

Sanji overheard this and went straight to Usopp's face, "Oi, how dare you say something like that to Peach-san after all she is doing for us?!" Sanji asked furiously.

"Don't worry, Usopp." Luffy said. Usopp and Sanji looked at him and were curious on what he was going to say next. "Peach won't do anything bad to us. Besides, people who offer other people food are the ones to be always trusted." Luffy said with a big grin. Sanji just sighed after hearing that and Usopp looked at Luffy with a long face.

"There is no surprise that you will die before us…" Usopp said with a smug frown.

They soon entered the dining hall, which had a huge table with lots of fancy chairs with stars on top. Luffy rushed to a into a seat already having a fork and knife in hand. Peach sat at her usual spot at the end of the table. Usopp wanted to keep an eye on her, so he went to the chair close to her, but as soon as he was about to sit on the chair, Sanji went running straight at him and kicked him so hard that he hit the wall face first.

Sanji's I-am-going-to-hurt-you face suddenly changed into a I-am-deeply-in-love-with-you face as he sat down next to Peach, looking at her while hearts were coming out of his eye, since his other eye is always covered by his hair. Peach is confused at what just happened, but since nobody seemed to care, she decided to forget about it.

As everyone took their seats,except for Usopp who was still in pain, the chefs came in carrying delicious meals that could satisfy a giant. Luffy was so happy, that he didn't notice that his saliva was coming out of his mouth like if it was a waterfall. Nami shut Luffy's mouth to avoid a flood. "Bon appetite!" said the main chef as he and his co-chefs left the room.

"All right! Lets eat!" Luffy said as he stretched his arm all the way to where the turkey was, but Nami stopped him by stepping on his foot. "Ow! Nami what was that for?"

"Idiot, You can't eat everything like you always do until we at least introduce ourselves to the very rich princess." Nami said while pointing at Peach, who was in shock to see Luffy stretch his arm all the way like that.

Toadsworth was the first to ask, "Y-Young man, how did you do that just now!?"

Luffy then pulled the left side of his mouth. "I ate a fruit that made me become a rubberman." Luffy said.

Peach then started to giggle as he saw Luffy extending his mouth like that. "-Sigh-… Peach-san looks extra beautiful when she giggles like that." Sanji said while still looking at her.

"Idiot." Zoro said while drinking some beer. Sanji then got angry and rushed into Zoro's face.

"What did you call me?" Sanji asked with a threatening voice.

Ignoring Zoro and Sanji for a moment, Luffy and the rest started to introduce themselves. "My name is Monkey D. Luffy and I am going to be the pirate king." Luffy said all proud of himself, even though he didn't achieve it yet.

"My name is Nami, and I am the navigator of this great, yet idiotic crew." Nami said as she was looking at Luffy stuffing the turkey down his throat… again.

"My name is Chopper, and I am the doctor of the crew." Chopper said as he walked up to Peach.

"Aww, you look so adorable." Peach said, as she pets Chopper on the head. Chopper was about to do his Happy dance, fortunately Nami came just in time and covered Chopper's mouth.

"He says thank you for the compliment." Nami said as Chopper was cursing even though his mouth is covered.

"I am Nico Robin and I am an archeologist of the crew." Robin said kindly.

"Ow! I am the one who built the greatest ship for these guys and I am their current shipwright, The Great Frrranky." Franky said while doing his traditional pose on the table.

"Master Franky, please refrain from getting on the table again and sit back down please!" Toadsworth said. Franky then sat back down and mumbled some stuff.

After the stare down with Sanji, Zoro sat back down and said "My name is Zoro." and that's all he had to say before Luffy snatched Zoro's food from his plate. "Why you… give that back!" Zoro said before lunging at Luffy, trying to rip his face apart. Usopp then popped up in front of Peach, almost startling her, giving his proper introduction to her.

"I am the most feared man that ever existed, even the gods don't want to mess with me. I am what they call 'The Lord of Destruction'. They call me USSSSSOOOOOO… whoaaaaa!" Usopp couldn't finish that sentence due to kick he received again from Sanji.

Peach is concerned over Usopp's condition, but is stopped as Sanji, with a rose in his hand, looked smoothly at Peach. "I am Sanji. I am the cook of Nami-san and Robin-chwan and those other guys. I am the most handsome skilled chef that does not ever lay a foot on a lady. I am what you call 'Mr. Prince'. As soon as I laid eye on you, I instantly felt as if I was in heaven. Please, take this, as a gratitude for giving me that feeling." Sanji said as he gave her the rose.

Peach blushed at this. "Why, thank you, Sanji, you are the first one who has ever said that to me. I'm flattered." Peach said before smelling the aroma of the rose. Sanji's cool expression suddenly faded as he started jump with joy while making a happy gorilla face.

"IT WAS NO PROBLEM, PEACH-SAN! I'LL DO ANYTHING FOR YOU!" Sanji said before he started to skip around the room saying 'Mellorine' with each step he took.

Meanwhile…

In the dark areas of the Mushroom Kingdom lies all that is evil. He bathes in molten lava, being bad is what he is very good at, he is none other than the evil King Koopa, Bowser. Bowser is sitting in his throne room half awake. He hasn't come up with any good ideas to capture Peach lately and every time one of his lackeys thinks of an idea for him, he simply beats the heck out of them.

"Your Chunkiness!" shouted an elderly female koopa at Bowser.

"WHAT DO YOU WANT, KAMMY!? CAN'T YOU SEE THAT I AM THINKING OF WAY TO KIDNAP MY BELOVED WIFE PEACH!? Bowser said very furiously. Bowser happened to marry Peach thanks to the actions of Count Bleck a couple of months ago. Although it wasn't a legal marriage, Bowser still thinks Peach as his beloved wife… how sad.

"I apologize for that, your evilness, but you should know that some pirates have recently arrived at the capital of the Mushroom Kingdom." Kammy said.

Bowser than suddenly got up and looked at her "Who gives a crud if a bunch of pirates go to the capital!? Do I look like the mayor or something? Besides, there is always Mario to go and save the day as always. Curse that Mario for always ruining my plans! When will there be video game that makes me the main character and not him!?" Bowser said before he repeatedly stomps his foot on the ground, making his entire castle shake.

I know how you feel your dreadiness, but we had a report saying that Princess Peach invited those pirates over to her castle." Kammy said. Bowser then stops stomping at the ground.

"Invited the pirates? What for?" Bowser asked. Bowser then thought of something so brilliant, it should not fail. "Kammy, I just thought of an idea, and those pirates will play a big part of it. GWA HA HA HA HA HA HA HA!" Bowser said as his laughter echoed through the emptiness of the dark clouded sky.

I'll be taking a day off, expect an update on saturday. Maybe sooner. Till next time.

Mario Pt 4

I forgot to add a disclaimer

DISCLAIMER: I DO NOT OWN ONE PIECE NOR ITS CHARACTERS. I ALSO DON'T OWN NINTENDO. WHAT I DO OWN IS THIS STORY.

Having new friends can sometimes let you get new enemies. The Strawhats were amazed at the sights of the Mushroom Kingdom. As they went to the castle, Franky had a little argument with the gate guard about pants. This didn't amuse the no-panters and led to a severe beating to the guard. After Franky's "Revolution", He and the rest of the crew entered Peach's Castle to have a nice decent meal… OK well not so decent as you can obviously imagine why. What the Strawhats don't know is what evil awaits them as Bowser has thought of a plan to capture Princess Peach. Just what is this diabolical plan of his? And what does it have to do with the Strawhats?

Chapter 5: A spooky forest, The man of greed, Wario

Everyone has finished their delicious meals. Well everyone except Luffy, who now has an oversized belly and eating his 50th dish. "More please" Luffy said holding on to an empty plate. The chefs were extremely exhausted. One of them was about to commit suicide by stabbing his neck with a cooking knife, but the other chefs stopped him.

"Luffy, if you eat one more thing, you might blow up." Chopper said, looking at Luffy with big concern over his health.

"It's only 50 dishes Chopper. What are you so worried about?" Luffy asked.

"Every dish you just ate happened to be turkeys and you swallowed each and every one of them whole!" Chopper exclaimed.

"What's with you and turkeys all of a sudden?" Usopp asked.

"I don't know, I just have a sudden urge of swallowing a turkey every time I see one." Luffy explained.

"That is it!" yelled the top chef, he then ran straight to Luffy and hit him with a turkey leg.

"Cheferino! What is the meaning of this?!" Toadsworth asked.

"I am so sorry sir, but I could not a make another dish for this, how do you say? Oh yes, CRAZY PERSON!" Cheferino yelled as he was pointing to Luffy.

"Its okay, Cheferino, you are excused for the day." Peach said.

"Thank you, madam moselle, I will now go back to my room and drink some mushroom extract… which I haven't drank ever since my divorce years ago!" Cheferino yelled as he and his fellow chefs left the dining room.

Luffy got up after the commotion. "Nya..that was one weird chef." Luffy said.

"I am sorry, Luffy. Cheferino can get very strict when it comes to people with eating habits. He has it and got divorced thanks to that." Peach said.

"How did he get divorced due to his eating habit?" Robin asked.

"Well, his wife always cooked him the same meal everyday and after eight years, he wanted to eat something different. For some reason she got very upset, so she divorced him and took everything he owned." Peach explained.

Usopp only narrowed his eyes after hearing that, "That's a weird reason to divorce someone."

"Well, enough about him, tell me what brings you here in Mushroom Kingdom?" Peach asked curiously.

"It's a long story…" Nami said, as she tells Peach and Toadsworth about the events that happened to the Strawhats recently.

"Oh dear, and that's why you are here?" Peach asked.

"Yeah, but I believe that door was just a figment of our imagination. Speaking of this, maybe I should start asking some questions." Nami said as she was prepared to interrogate Peach until Sanji stopped her.

"Nami-san, I don't want to be rude, but I think you should just accept that we are in another world." Sanji said in a delicate, kind matter.

"We wont know that until we get some questions answered." Nami said as she shoved Sanji out of the way, "Now Peach, have you ever heard of One Piece?" she asked, hoping that Peach would answer yes.

"One Piece? What is that?" Peach asked. Peach then looked at Toadsworth to see if he knew, but he was clueless as well.

"You see, Nami, we are in another world!" Luffy said, as he started to dance around with Chopper with excitement.

"YAY, we're in another world!" Chopper said excitedly while dancing with Luffy.

"WILL YOU TWO SIT DOWN!? I'M NOT DONE ASKING QUESTIONS TO HER YET!" Nami yelled. Luffy and Chopper stopped dancing and sat right back down without saying another peep. Nami then looked back at Peach, who was a little creeped out right now. "Well its pretty obvious that not everyone know what One Piece is. So I'll ask you this, do you know what devil fruits are? Nami asked. Peach didn't want to make Nami upset so she tried to answer in a nice, positive way.

"Um, fruits that are possessed by devils?" Peach replied with a weak smile.

Nami could tell that Peach didn't know about devil fruits, but she wont give up. "Well, do you know about..um… Zoro's sense of direction? Its really bad."

"Oi." Zoro said.

"What does that have to do with anything." Usopp asked.

"It has to do with a lot of things, Usopp!" Nami snapped as Usopp retreated to a corner.

"Miss Navigator, I think you should just accept the situation we are in." Robin said.

"But it's not normal that a door would come out of nowhere and take us to some other planet. It's not possible." Nami said.

"But it did happen, and now we are here in a world distant to ours." Robin replied.

Nami was about to say something else, but it was no use arguing with Robin. "Sigh… OK. I accept it. We are in another world. You happy?" Nami asked as she fell to her knees, all in disbelief that they are really in another world. Luffy and Chopper started to dance again, while Sanji went to comfort Nami. Franky suddenly got up.

"So how the heck are we going to go back in our world now?" Franky asked. Nobody knew the answer to that question. Peach then got up from her chair.

"If I may make a suggestion. I think I know the person who could probably solve your predicament." Peach said

"Who would that be, Ms. Peach?" Robin asked.

"There is a wizard named Merlon. He knows everything about the door you mentioned. I am sure he can help." Peach said. Nami finally, truly accepted the fact that they are in another world, so she got up and looked at Peach.

"Where can we find him?" Nami asked.

"I believe he his visiting Lady Bow at the Forever Forest." Toadsworth said.

"Forever Forest? Where is that?" Chopper asked.

"Its just east from here. Its a forest that when you go in, the possibilities of getting out his two percent."

Usopp gulped after hearing that. "Tw… Two percent?" asked the scared Usopp. Toadsworth nodded, making Usopp even more scared.

"Dont worry, masters. We have a map of the forest in our possession. We would gladly let you use it to overcome that forest." Toadsworth said as he went to look for the map somewhere else.

"Oi, Peach." Luffy said.

"Hmm? Yes, Luffy?" Peach said.

"Since you are a princess, don't you like get kidnapped all the time?" Luffy asked.

"Oi, Luffy! What kind of questions are you asking to Peach-san!?!" Sanji asked, infuriated by Luffy's stupid question.

"Oh, its okay Sanji, I dont mind answering that question. Please calm down." Peach said.

"Okay, Peach-san!!" Sanji said happily. Peach than sat down on her chair and began to tell her story.

"The Mushroom Kingdom wasn't always at their peaceful times, there will always be someone to try and ruin the peaceful lives we live in. There is one man in particular that always attempt to do that, and his name is Bowser. He would kidnap me every time he has a chance to. He kidnapped me so many times, I lost count." Peach said. Sanji did not like what he was hearing, as flames started to envelope around him.

"Don't worry, Peach-san. If he ever tries to kidnap you again, I will make sure that he would never see the light of day as long as he lives!" Sanji exclaimed as the flames around him started to grow strong with confidence.

"Hmph..idiot." Zoro said with his eyes closed.

"What did you call me?" Sanji asked as his flame disappeared.

"So, how do you always get away from him?" Chopper asked.

"Well I am pretty sure that her guards didn't help her. They're too weak to fight anybody." Franky said.

"Actually, there is someone who always comes to rescue me every time I'm in peril." Peach said as she went to look outside a window. "He is the hero of this town… Mario." Peach said.

"Mario? That's a funny name." Luffy said while doing a big grin.

"I haven't seen him since the Prognasticus incident. I wonder what he is doing right now." Peach said.

Meanwhile.. .

"ACHOO!" Mario sneezed as he went to get a tissue. "Somebody must-a be-a talking about-a me right now." Mario said to himself. Mario shrugged it off and went back doing his daily things.

Back to the Strawhats…

Toadsworth came back holding a map, "Here is the map, Master Luffy." Toadsworth said as he gave the map to Luffy. "Now, master Luffy, there are ghosts in the forest, but don't harm them if they scare you; they just want to have fun with other folks."

"Have fun!?" Usopp asked as he thinks about multiple ghosts scaring him. "L-Luffy I am going to stay here. I don't want my going-to-a-scary-forest-will-cause-me-to-have-seizure disease slowing you down." He lied.

"Disease, huh? Right… anyway, Luffy, I am going to stay here too. There is something in this town that caught my attention." Zoro said as he was referring to the sword he saw earlier.

"I'll stay here too, I have had enough surprises for one day." Nami said. "I cannot let Nami-san and Peach-san stay here unprotected. So I'll stay here and make sure no filthy idiot lays a finger on them." Sanji said.

"Is he always like that?" Peach asked.

"You'll get used to it." Nami reassured.

Luffy put the map in his pocket. "So, its just me, Chopper, Franky and Robin, huh? Yosh, lets get going." Luffy said.

"I will lead you to the forest, this way." Toadsworth said as he lead Luffy and the gang out of the castle.

"-sigh-… now what do we do?" asked a bored Usopp.

"Why don't you take a look around the town. I would like to give you some money to buy some things you might be interested." Peach said.

A servant then came in with a block floating in the air. "Here is the coin block you requested Princess Peach." said the servant.

"Thank you, you are excused." Peach said. the servant nodded and left the room. Peach then went to the floating block. "Here it is, you can have every coin from this block." Peach said. Nami eyes then turned into berri signs. Usopp looked at the block strangely.

"How is this block floating in the air? And how are we supposed to get the coins out of it?" Usopp asked.

"Simple, you just hit the the block and the coins come out." Peach explained.

"Just hitting it? Don't you think that is a little… AHHHH!" Usopp screamed as Nami grabbed his feet. She then hit the block countless of times by using Usopp as if he was a baseball bat, as the coins spewed out from the block, and scattered across the floor. As the block ran out of coins, Nami then jumped at the pool of coins on the ground.

"I love this world!" Nami exclaimed as Usopp lied on the ground with multiple bumps on his head.

"Hah, Nami-san is so beautiful when she is swimming through a pool of gold coins." Sanji said with heart in his visible eye.

Zoro was able to get some coins when Nami wasn't looking. "Okay, I am gonna go explore the town. Catch you guys later." Zoro said.

"Oi, Marimo, you sure you don't need someone to hold your hand in case you get lost." mocked Sanji.

"Shut up, cook! I can find my way back." Zoro said as he left the castle to look for the sword the zigzagged mustache guy had.

"Well that just leaves me with you beautiful ladies." Sanji said as Nami was only paying attention to coins she was holding and Peach continued to look outside the window. Usopp then teased Sanji by pretending to be a girl.

"At least you still have me, Sanji-kun." Usopp said while blowing a kiss to Sanji.

"GET AWAY FROM ME!" Sanji shouted.

Meanwhile, Luffy and the gang followed Toadsworth to the forest. "This place is so weird. Who could have beaten the guard at the gate?" Chopper asked as he was remembering the guard at the gate who was severely injured.

"I guess he pissed off someone about something." Franky said as he obvious knew what happened to him.

"We are here." Toadsworth said as he was pointing the gate were they can see the Forever forest very close to it.

"Hello, Toadsworth. I just got your message from a guard in the castle. Are these the pirates that want to go in the forest." the guard asked.

"Yes, they are." Toadsworth replied. He then faced towards Luffy.

"Merlon looks like this." Toadsworth said as he gives a photo of Merlon to Luffy. He has a white mustache that reaches all the way to the ground, he also has a blue cape with a hood covering his head, which you can only see his eyes.

"Yosh. Lets go find this Merlon guy. To the forest!" Luffy said while pointing the forest.

"Aye!" said the rest of his crew. They walked through the gate except Franky, who wanted to talk to the guard alone. "You don't have anything against people with no pants, do you?" Franky asked suspiciously.

"No, sir." the guard replied.

"Yeah, you better." Franky said as he headed to the forest, leaving the guard confused.

Meanwhile…

Zoro continued to look for the zigzagged mustache guy as he walked through the town. He then noticed some people with no pants on marching by. "That's right men, continue to express yourselves." said the Leader of the NPA.

"Yes, sir!" responded his men as they continued to march into some distant land.

"Hmm… weird town." was all that Zoro said before he continued to look for the zigzagged mustache guy.

Zoro then saw the zigzagged mustache guy, arguing with a client. "Are you kidding me!? That amount of coins are enough to buy a mansion!" Argued the client.

"I don't know why are you so mad about it. This is one of the unique items that you can never find at any place in the world." said the zigzagged mustache guy.

"It's a s dried shroom! It could be found in a garbage can!" The angry client said.

"This is no ordinary Dried Shroom! This shroom can immediately sent you to a great place, that you would never want to leave."

"Are you saying that thing could kill me?!" The client asked.

"Ummmm… No?" replied the zigzagged mustache man. The client than leaves.

"Man, maybe selling merchandise wasn't a good idea after all." The zigzagged mustache man said.

"Oi, salesman." Zoro said walking up to the cheap salesman.

"Huh? What do you want?" asks the zigzagged mustache man.

"Earlier I saw you have a sword in that bag of yours. I want it." Zoro said.

"Ohh, a customer." said the zigzagged mustache man with a grin. "First allow me to introduce myself. I am the great Wario. The man who gets everything he wants."

"Whatever. Where is the sword?" Zoro asked impatiently, but calmly.

"Alright, alright. hold your horses already." Wario said. as he took out the sword from his bag. "What we have here, my friend, is one of the strongest swords that has ever existed. It was forged by none other than the gods themselves. It was used to defeat a terrible demon named Aku. It wasn't easy getting this, for this blade came from a distant world, thus making this blade very valuable. Normally this sword would cost like a billion coins, but for a limited time offer, you can get this sword for only 999,999,999 coins. Now tell me, would you like to pay it in cash or credit card?" Wario asked while pulling out a credit card machine.

Zoro checked out how many coins he had in his pocket. "How about 50 coins for the sword?" Zoro asked. Wario then got upset.

"50 COINS!? Who do you think I am, you moron!?" Wario asked angrily. "Listen buddy, either you pay 999,999,999 coins for the blade or get out of my sight! Why don't you buy some decent clothing instead, like a shirt that doesn't reek so much or a pair of pants that…"

"PANTS?!". Wario turned around to see who just shouted. It was none other than the NPA, looking at Wario very angrily. "What do you freaks want?" Wario asked.

"You got a problem with people with no pants, buddy?" The leader asked.

"When did I say that?!" asked the enraged Wario.

"Silence! Prepare to feel pain." The leader asked as he and his men were about to attack Wario.

"You want a piece of me? Bring it on!" Wario yelled as he charged straight to the NPA, leaving his bag of merchandise behind. While Wario was taking of them easily, Zoro took the sword out of Wario's bag and replaced it with the coins he had.

"Pleasure doing business with you." Zoro said before he left with his new sword, while Wario was piledriving the leader's head to the ground.

Zoro took a good look at his new sword. "It is pretty sharp, although I question its durability. The previous user must have had a tough battle to make the sword look worn out like this. This will have to do for now." Zoro said as he sheathed his new sword away. "Okay, now to get back the castle. Which way was it again? Oh yeah, to the right." Zoro said as he actually went to the left.

Wario finished beating up the NPA, who lied all over the ground unconscious. "GAH! I have to pick better places to sell things." Wario said as went to go get his bag, until he noticed that something was missing. "What the? Where is the sword?!" Wario asked as he took out everything of his bag to look for it. He then noticed 50 coins coming out of his bag, and remembered that Zoro had 50 coins. "Why that no good stealing…" Wario said before he started to inhale some air and yelled, "FISH STICKS!!!"

Wario then ran to his motorcycle that was nearby and drove off to find Zoro. "I'll show that green hair octopus head not to steal from me!" Wario yelled as he drove away.

I dont mean to be rude, but can you atleast leave a review when you are finished reading a chapter please. Thank you :)

Mario Pt 5

I just saw Spiderman 3 yesterday and even though it wasn't the best in the trilogy, it was still alright. Kinda sad how it ended though. Anyway, Here is Chapter 6 of One Piece: A Smash Adventure.

Greedy people don't always get what they want. Zoro, in quest for a new sword, has confronted a greedy salesman named Wario. He held a sword that seemed to have been used for a long time. Zoro wanted to purchase it, but Wario's price was a little bit overwhelming. Zoro only had 50 coins to offer, but Wario didn't seemed to pleased with that amount. Wario insulted Zoro with the words "Pants" in his sentence, which offended the NPA and fought Wario with vengeance. Despite the numbers, the NPA was defeated by Wario. Although Wario has won the battle, He has lost his prize. Zoro took the sword and replaced it with the coins he had in Wario's bag. Wario seeks revenge as he went off to find Zoro. Meanwhile, Luffy, Chopper, Robin and Franky went in to the Forever forest to look for Merlon, who knows the secrets of the door of darkness they encountered. Will the Strawhats find Merlon or will they be lost in the forest forever?

Chapter 6: The Master Door, Bowser's Plan commences

Luffy and the gang walked through the dark depths of the Forever Forest. Luffy had a stick in his hand and weild it as if it was sword. "Luffy, that is a nice stick." Chopper said, looking at the stick.

"I know, but you are going to have to get your own. This one is mine." Luffy said.

"Aww, I want a stick." Chopper whined. He then saw a stick on the ground and picked it up. "Yay, I found a stick." Chopper said happily.

"What the heck is so good about a stick?" Franky asked. Luffy turns to Franky.

"Don't you know that sticks gives power to anyone tha has possession of it? It makes you feel the romance swirling through your body." Luffy said, holding his stick up high in the air.

"REALLY?!?!" Chopper asked. Franky then took of his shades and he seemed to be crying.

"R-Romance? I never thought that sticks had such a great emotion locked inside. I must sing a song about that!" Franky said. as he took his guitar from out of nowhere and started playing it. "When life you gives you a stick, you get romaaaaannnncce." Franky sang while playing his guitar.

"Yay, a song!" Luffy and Chopper exclaimed happily at the same time as they started to dance with the beat. While that was going on, Robin noticed a sign of some sorts.

"I found a sign." Robin said to her crew. Luffy and the rest stopped their stick song and looked at the sign that Robin was referring to. "Take the wrong turn and you will be lost forever. Mwa ha ha ha ha - sincerely, Lady Bow." Robin read from the sign.

Chopper jumped on Franky's head as soon as she finished reading that. "Where going to die!" Chopper cried while holding on Franky's head.

"Don't worry, Chopper, we got the map right here." Luffy said while holding the map in the air. All of a sudden, a Boo appeared and snatched the map out of Luffy's hand.

"Oooooo, what do we have here?" The Boo said holding the map.

"HEY, that is our map, give it back!" Luffy yelled at the Boo.

"Not until you say please." The Boo laughed before he started to run off.

"Get back here you pitiful excuse for a ghost!" Franky yelled as he started to chase the boo with Chopper still hanging on his head.

"Come back here!" Luffy yelled as he was about to chase the boo as well, but Robin stopped him.

"Wait, Luffy, we must stay together, we can't afford to be separated." Robin said.

"But that ghost took our map. How are we going to get through this forest without it?" Luffy asked.

"I just noticed something that may help us get through this place." Robin said as she pointed to multiple signs with arrows pointing to the opposite direction where Franky and Chopper went.

"Oh, I didn't notice that." Luffy said as he was looking at the arrows. "But what about Chopper and Franky? How are they going to get out here?"

"Don't worry captain, I am sure that they will find there way out eventually. If not, then they will surely die here and rot in the forest for all eternity." Robin said in a plainful matter.

"Ohh… Well, okay! Let's get going then." Luffy said, not worried about Chopper and Franky anymore, thanks to Robin. Luffy and Robin then proceeded to go where the arrows pointed.

Meanwhile…

"Get back here you floating ball!!" Franky yelled as he was still chasing the boo with the map while having Chopper on his head.

"Nah, nah! You can't catch me." The Boo said as was starting to get away.

"Franky, he is almost out of our sight. What are we going to do?" Chopper asked.

"Don't worry, I got a good idea." Franky said, as he then grabbed Chopper with his right hand and started to aim at the Boo.

"Franky, What are you doing?!" Chopper asked nervously, worried about what Franky has in mind.

"Don't worry, just snatch the map when you get near him." Franky said as he was still aiming at the Boo. "Yosh, hear we go, STRONG…" Franky moved his right arm back and "RIGHT!!" He pushed his arm forward, making his forearm launching out of his body. Chopper was screaming for dear life, but he soon got focused as he was getting close to the boo.

The Boo suddenly looked back. "What in the…" was all he got to say before he got hit in the face by Chopper's head. Chopper was a little dazed due to that, but he soon got focused again as he was able to snatch the map from the Boo.

"Franky I got it!" Chopper yelled.

"Good job!" Franky said as his forearm went back to him at full speed, but he accidentally let go of Chopper due to his finger getting itchy all of a sudden.

Chopper went crashing straight to the ground, holding the map in his hoove. He then got up and transformed into his Heavy point. "You hooligan! Why did you let go of me?!" Chopper asked enraged at what just happened.

"What are you so pissed off about? We got the map." Franky said.

"I know that, but why did you let go of me?! Chopper asked. Franky and chopper continued to argue as the Boo regained consciousness and looked at the arguing duo.

"You fools!" The Boo yelled at Chopper and Franky. The two stopped arguing to look at the Boo. "I don't know how you just did that, but mark my words, YOU WILL PAY FOR THIS!" The Boo then flew off, and disappeared within the mist.

"He got away." Chopper said, going back to his normal form.

"Who cares, we got the map." Franky said as he picked up the map from the ground. Franky looked at the map, but he could barely see it, since its so dark.

"Do you know where we are?" Chopper asked.

"I am trying to, but its too dark to see." Franky said, as he was still trying figure out what the map looks like.

"Let me see." Franky gave the map to Chopper to see if he can try to see it. "Hmm… its a little dark, if only we had some light." Chopper said. Franky then came up with an idea. "Wait, I think I have a match in my backpack." Chopper looked into his backpack, and took out a match, "Here it is, normally I would use this for medicine making, but I guess this is more important. Franky do you have a…" Chopper couldn't finish that sentence as he was seeing that was about to do blow out fire. "Franky! Don't-."

"FRESH FIRE!!!" Franky blew fire from his mouth, blazing the map in the process. Chopper had his mouth completely opened with his eyes coming out of his sockets.

"Franky, why did you do that!?!?!" Chopper asked.

"You needed light to see right? So I thought if I could you use my Fresh Fire, you could see the map without hesitation." Franky said, unaware that he burned the map.

"But you just burned the map, you idiot!" Chopper yelled pointing at the remains of the map. Franky took a couple of seconds to understand the situation they were in.

"… What the?!?! What happened to it?!?!" Franky gasped.

"Didn't you hear me? You burned the map you idiot!" Chopper yelled again.

"Bah, we don't need no stinkin' map, we can get out of here without it." Franky said as he started to walk through the forest only to appear right next to Chopper seconds later.

"How did you get over here so quickly?" Chopper asked.

"Huh, I could sworn that I went.. nevermind, I will try this way." Franky then went to another direction only to appear next to Chopper again a couple of seconds later.

Chopper was losing hope, as he sat down on the floor starting to cry. "We are never going to get out of here. We are going to die. WAAAAAAAH!" Chopper cried.

"Oi, this isn't the time to be crying. We are going to get out of here somehow." Franky said as he tries to find something in the forest that looks different that might lead them the the way out, but to no avail; there was no way out of the forest.

"It's no use, we are going to be stuck here forever and be eaten alive by some monsters. WAAAAH!" Chopper cried while he is still crying. Franky then started to feel emotional.

"Oi,oi, don't say that kind of stuff man." Franky whimpered as he was starting to cry as well. "DUMBASS, I'M NOT CRYING!!" Franky cried as he was crying like crazy. Chopper and Franky continued to cry in the forest which they will never get out of.

Meanwhile.. Back in Toad Village…

Luigi was walking around town with a bag of Mushroom shakes. "I don't know why, but this place seems kinda different since I last visited." He noticed a group of people with no pants with bandages on their heads walking by. Luigi shrugged it off as he walked by Peach's gate, which he noticed the guard at the gate at several bruises on his face. "Mama-mia! What happened to you?" Luigi asked the guard.

"Oh, its you Luigi; don't worry about me, I only tripped and fell on my face." lied the guard, as a couple of members of the NPA were keeping an eye on him. "By the way Luigi, did you know that the Princess has invited pirates to her castle?" The guard asked.

"P- Pirates?!" Luigi gasped as he started to shake in fear. "Why did she invited pirates to her castle?"

"I am not sure, but I haven't heard of the princess ever since she has returned. Luigi, why don't you go inside and see what is going on." The guard suggested.

"M-Me!? What do you want me to do?" Luigi asked.

"Well, aren't you one the strongest men that has ever existed? Aren't you the man that has saved Mario from the hands of King Boo." all of a sudden, dramatic music could be heard in the background. "Aren't YOU the man that could surpass any obstacle that you happen to confront? Isn't this the time were you will shine over all those who dare stand in your way!?" the guard's questions started to motivate Luigi, as his fear completely faded away and he stood up with bravery in his eyes.

"Your are right! I will defeat the pirates!" Luigi exclaimed, as he then rushed in to Peach's castle.

"Yes Luigi, GO TO YOUR DESTINY!!!" The guard yelled. The guard went back to his post. "-sigh-… he is a dead man." says the guard. He then saw the source of where that music was coming from. and turned out to be a musical band rehearsing next to him. "Okay, enough with the music already. Get out of here."

Luigi was at the front door of the castle. "Hmm… it's a little quiet.". He then slowly opened the door and peeked inside for any suspicious activity. Luigi got inside closing the door very gently. "OK, now to check all the rooms." Luigi whispered as he started to go to every room in the first floor, but no pirates were seen.

Luigi went upstairs to the second floor. He tiptoed through the hallway while still holding the bag of Mushroom shakes with his hand. "Ha ha, these pirates must be so afraid of me they must have bailed out of here as soon as I got in." Luigi said with a little bit of overconfidence, as he was heading to the dining room. Luigi opened the door with his eyes closed. "Ha ha ha! You pirates are so afraid of me you decided to… AAAHHHHHH!!!" Luigi opened his eyes to see Peach at the end of the room with Sanji, Usopp, and Nami, who was still in her pile of gold coins.

"Hmm? Who is this guy?" Sanji asked as he was looking at Luigi.

"Luigi?" Peach said in surprise. Luigi was frozen stiff, but he soon got to his senses as he thought Peach was being held hostage.

"You pirates think you can get away with this, holding Peach hostage and stealing all of her money?!" Luigi asked as he was pointing at Nami, who wasn't paying any attention on whats happening since she was still looking at her pile of gold coins.

"Luigi, wait! I can explain." Peach said.

"Don't worry, Peach, I will save you!" Luigi said, as he started to attack Sanji.

"You want a piece of me, huh?" Sanji asked, before he did a horizontal kick at Luigi, but Luigi avoided the kick and gave Sanji a devastating uppercut, which made Sanji fly, and hit the ceiling, and crash back down to the ground.

Usopp eyes came popping out as he saw that happen. "Holy crud, he is strong!". Sanji then got up in a very bad mood.

"Ha… guess you are no pushover. Nonetheless, you are going down." Sanji said while rubbing his head.

"B-Bring it on, curly brow!" Luigi stuttered as he and Sanji started to attack eachother.

Luigi jumps on Sanji, but Sanji rolled out of the way to counter with a kick. Luigi got kicked in the face and was about to crash into the wall, but he retaliated and bounced back at Sanji at full speed. "LUIGI ROCKET!" Luigi rammed his head into Sanji with his head as they both crashed into a wall, creating a hole in the process.

"Sanji!" Usopp yelled worryingly. It was hard to tell who was the victor, since dust from the battle covered up the whole room, Peach opened the window to let dust out. Luigi then jumped out of the hole in the wall, following Sanji.

"Mama-mia… y-you are really tough!" Luigi gasped as he was exhausted for doing one of his powerful moves on Sanji.

"When it comes to cooking, the chef doesn't quit until he finishes making his meal for his lovely soulmate." Sanji stated with big determination in his eyes.

"I don't know what you are talking about, b-but this ends now. WAAAAAAAHHHHHH!!!" Luigi yelled as he charges at Sanji with his hands clenched in fists in the air.

"HIYAAAAA!" Sanji yelled as he charged at Luigi. Sanji and Luigi suddenly got hit in the head by Nami, who wasn't in a happy mood.

"You idiots! Look what you done!" Nami yelled furiously. The dining room was a complete mess, the walls had cracks in it and the ceiling looks like it was about to fall apart. But what made Nami most angry is that there was dust on her pile of gold coins. "Do you think cash is made of soap!? Thanks to your stupid fight, my gold coins are filthy! Clean it up, NOW!!"

"Yes, Nami-saan!" Sanji said happily, as he started to clean every single coin that Nami owned.

"Ohhhhhhhh… Mama-mia." Luigi groaned before passing out.

"Luigi!" Peach gasped as she went to Luigi's side. "Luigi, are you alright?"

Luigi regained consciousness quickly, and looked at Peach with a dazed look. "What? Oh, it's you, Peach." Luigi said as he started to get up. "I had a scary dream that your were held hostage by..PIRATES!!!! Luigi yelled, as he saw Sanji, realizing that this wasn't a dream, "Oh no, I'm doomed!" Luigi then tried to hide in the corner.

"What the? He attacked us and now he is cowering in the corner, how pathetic." Usopp said. Everyone else glared at him. "What?"

Peach ignored Usopp and went to Luigi. "Luigi, these people are not bad pirates, I invited them over because I wanted too." Peach said. Luigi then got out of the corner.

"T-They are not?" Luigi asked. Peach then began to explain about the Strawhats, the door of darkness, the encounter, well everything that has happened so far.

Back with Luffy and Robin…

"And that's why I have a big appetite." Luffy said.

"How fascinating, I never knew that was the reason to your eating habits." Robin said. Luffy was explaining to Robin about how he started to have a habit on eating so much than any other normal human being while they were still following the path were the arrows were pointing.

"Man, this forest takes forever to get through, I'm already hungry again." Luffy moaned. Robin then saw something up ahead.

"Captain, I believe that we already reached our destination." Robin said, pointing ahead.

"Yosh, let's go!" Luffy yelled as he started to run in the direction that Robin was pointing.

When Luffy got there, He saw a mansion, a spooky mansion. It looked like nobody has been inside for years. "Wow, cool!" Luffy said in awe, while Robin finally caught up with him.

"It seems Merlon is inside that abandoned mansion. Shall we take a look inside?" Robin asked. By the time she asked that, Luffy was already at the front of the door.

"Robin, hurry up or I am going to leave you behind." Luffy said.

Robin then went to Luffy, as Luffy opened the door. As he did, the door made a creaking sound. Inside was nothing but spiderwebs and a bunch of portraits of old people. "It doesn't look like anybody is here, captain." Robin said. Luffy then inhaled some air.

"MERLON!!!!!! ARE YOU IN HERE!?!?!" Luffy yelled so loud, the mansion shook a bit.

"Hey, what's with the ruckus!?" Someone yelled nearby, but couldn't be seen.

"Who said that?" Luffy asked. Boos then started to appear in the room, and there were a lot of them.

"Will you two keep it down! We are trying to take our afternoon nap!" yelled a boo.

"Hey, I know those two! Those guys are friends with that reindeer and the robot guy that attacked me earlier." said another Boo.

"YOU! You are the one that took our map! Where is Chopper and Franky!?" Luffy asked.

"Oh, don't worry about them, they are lost in the Forever forest and they will stay there for all eternity. Ha ha ha ha ha" laughed the boo, as his pals started to laugh with him. Luffy then got angry.

"You bastard, I am gonna kick your ass!!" Luffy yelled while cracking his knuckles, while Robin was getting prepared for combat.

"So, you want revenge huh?" The Boo asked. "Everyone it is time to combine!"

"YEAH!" said the rest of the boos as they started to combine with eachother, forming a BIG boo about 5 times as big as a regular one.

"You think that's scares me?! Huuuuuaaaaa!!" Luffy yelled as he tried to hit the big boo, but his fist went right through it. "What the?!"

"You can't hurt me, but I can hurt you!" The Big boo yelled as he rammed Luffy into the wall.

"ARRG!" Luffy cried in pain as he was smashed between the boo and the wall.

The boo then backed off. "Ha ha ha, Is that all you got? Your pathetic." The Big Boo laughed.

Luffy got out of the wall, and landed on his feet. "GOMU GOMU NO…" he stretched his leg all the way back, "STAMP!" he thrusted his foot at the big boo, but it still went right through him.

"Still not a scratch." mocked the big boo as he tried to ram Luffy again, but this time Luffy grabbed a wood structure over him and sprung up as the big boo missed, and hits the wall.

"Ow, dang it!" The Big Boo said. He noticed he left a big crack on the wall. "Oh no. I better finish this up before Lady Bow finds out. Lets see, where did that guy go?" The boo looked left and right, but couldn't find him. Luffy was above him, waiting for a moment to strike.

"NOW!" Luffy yelled as he jumped down. "GOMU GOMU NO YARI!!" Luffy thrusted both of his legs as if it was a spear, but it still didn't hurt the big boo as his legs only went through it..

"You are starting to bore me, man!" the big boo said, as he charged at Luffy again, but Luffy dodged it as the big boo was going to hit the wall again."Oh no! Come on turn invisible!" The Big Boo turned invisible just in time as he went through the wall.

Robin was observing the fight to see if the big boo had any weakpoints of some kind. "That's it! Luffy!" Robin yelled to get Luffy's attention. "Try to hit him again, and leave the rest to me."

"Okay!" Luffy said. The big boo finally comes back in the room.

"OK, I had enough games, you are going down!!" The Big Boo yelled.

"GOMU GOMU NO PISTOL!!" Luffy tried to hit the big boo again, but to no avail.

"This will finish you off!" The Big Boo said as he charged at Luffy again, when suddenly two pair of hands sprouted right next to his eyes. "What the?!" The Big Boo gasped before he got poked hard in both of his eyes by the hands. "MY EYES!! I CAN'T SEE!!" He cried as the hands continued the poke his vision.

"It's quite simple when you look at it." Robin said with her forearms crossing. "When you attacked Luffy, you need to be visible in order to cause harm, and when you are not attacking, you focus your energy to become invisible at the right time Luffy attacks you. But now that I got you, you have nowhere to run." Robin explained.

"Why you… owww!" The Big Boo cried as the hands keep poking his eyes.

"Captain, now is your chance." Robin said.

"You don't need to tell me twice." Luffy said with a big grin on his face while stretching both his arms all the way back.

"Wa..Wait a minute!" The Big Boo cried, but Luffy didn't pay attention to him.

"GOMU GOMU NO BAZOOKA!!!" Luffy thrusted both is palms forward, hitting the big boo so hard,it exploded into several boos in the process.

"Man, this guy is tough…" said an exhausted boo.

"It doesn't matter, well take him down together! Get them!" A Boo yelled, as he and the rest charged at Luffy and Robin when all of a sudden…

"What is going on around here!?!"

Everyone looked at the direction of where that voice came from, the boos seemed a little frightened as they heard it. "Oh no, here she comes." A frightened boo said.

A green female boo wearing red bowties on her head came out from the second floor while holding her feathered fan. "What are you morons doing now?" The green boo asked.

"W-We are sorry, Lady Bow! Please don't punish us!" begged all the boos.

"Honestly, I am trying to get my fortune told here, and you morons are making so much ruckus that my fortune teller is losing focus!" Lady Bow yelled.

"We're so sorry, Lady Bow. It's just that we were trying to get rid of the intruders, but they are so strong." The Boo said. Lady Bow just sighed after hearing that.

"If you can't get someone to do the dirty work for you, then you have to do it your…" Bow stopped as she looked at the intruders.

She looked at Robin, but she wasn't paying attention to her. Was she was looking at was Luffy. She felt as if she was shot by an arrow from a cupid as she started to go to him. "Uhh… Lady Bow?" A Boo said before he got hit by Lady Bow's fan for being in the way. Lady Bow then went straight to Luffy, face to face.

"What is your name, handsome?" Lady Bow asked.

"Uh..Luffy." Luffy replied.

"Luffy, huh? Well Luffy, what brings you in a place like this?" Lady Bow asked flirtatiously.

"Where here to find someone named Merlon." Robin answered.

"DID I ASK YOU?! WHY DON'T YOU STAY QUIET AS THE HOTTY AND ME TALK, OK?!?!" Lady Bow yelled. Robin simply nodded in response.

Lady Bow then turned to Luffy. "So Luffy, Why dont we go to my room and have a little… tour if you know what I mean." says Lady Bow in an erotic way.

"You want to show me your room?" Luffy asked.

"No, I mean…" before she could finish, someone with a long mustache came in the room.

"Lady Bow, may I remind you that the longer I am here, the more expensive this fortune telling would be for you."the Long Mustache guy said.

"I don't need you anymore, I already found what I wanted." Lady Bow said before she kissed Luffy's cheek, which made him blink in confusion. The long Mustache man took a good look at the boy Lady Bow kissed and the woman next to him.

"Ahh, the Pirates from another world, you have arrived at last." The long mustache man said.

"You knew we were coming." Robin asked. "But of course, I have foresaw your arrival, that is why I put the arrows in the forest so you can find me. Allow me to introduce myself. My name is Merlon." Merlon said.

"Your the old man that we were so supposed to ask questions to?" Luffy asked.

"Yes, of course. You can ask me everything you need to know, but first lets have a seat." Merlon said.

"Stay put, I'll get them for you." Lady Bow said. "HEY YOU IDIOTS, GET US SOME CHAIRS!"

"Yes, Ma'am!" responded her servants as they went to go get chairs for them. As they go the chairs, Luffy, Robin and Merlon, while Lady Bow was right next to Luffy.

"Now then, what would you like to know?" Merlon asked

"We would like to know that big door that brought us here to this world." Robin said.

"I thought you would want to know that first. Ahem, that door is not what you people think, Its actually a door created for a great purpose, that door is called the Master door."

Meanwhile… At a volcanic area…

"Hmm? This isn't the same castle." Zoro said as he was standing in front of Bowser's Castle. "Guess I took the wrong turn. Oh well, guess I'll had back." Zoro then started to walk away from the castle, while a couple of Bowser's soldiers on the gate walls saw him leave.

"Who was that guy?" asked one of the soldiers.

"I don't know, must have been a tourist or something." Another soldier replied.

In the castle, Bowser was sitting in his throne, with three big Koopas standing in front of him. One was a purple koopa that has a hat, and he also has sunglasses on. The other one is also a purple one, but has spikes on his back and his tongue was hanging out of his mouth. The last one was a rather bigger Koopa compared to Bowser; he has a red shell and has nerdy glasses on.

"OK, now that we are all here, lets get down to business." Bowser said while sitting down on his chair. "Now as you all know, you all had great lives until a certain plumber came and ruined them." The three of them nodded.

"Well what are you going to do to fix this problem then, son." The little Koopa asked.

"First of all, don't call me son, Grubba. Second of all, I heard that a bunch of pirates landed on toad village a while ago, and from what I heard, they seem to be getting along with Peach. So, I am going to use them as our source to get what I want.

"And how are you going to do that?" The really big Koopa asked.

"Well, Kent, one of my spies told me that 4 of them went to the Forever Forest to talk to the fortune teller about some door or something. As they are there, we will attack Peach's castle and abduct my lovely wife back to my arms." Bowser explained as he was imagining it happen.

"What happens if those 4 come back though?" Grubba asked.

"That is why these guys will make sure they don't. Come in, already." Bowser said. Four Koopas then came into the room. They had bandanas on their heads, with each of them having a different color.

"It is us, the great and powerful Koopa Bros.!" The red one said as the four of them gave the thumbs up to Bowser.

"Yeah, yeah, whatever. You guys know what to do right?" Bowser asked.

"Yes Boss, we'll make sure that the pirates in the Forever forest dont get out alive." The Red koopa said.

"Well, what are you waiting for then, a kiss goodbye? GO!" Bowser yelled as the Koopa Bros left.

Bowser then turned to his minions. "Now lets review are plan again, shall we? bowser said as he started to laugh like a maniac. His minions then started to laugh as well. "SHUT UP!" Bowser asked before his minions has silenced their mouths. "Now where was I? Oh yeah! GWA HA HA HA HA HA!

Damn, I'm tired. I Wont be able to update for a while now. I got to take a break too you know. See ya.

Mario Pt 6

Sorry for the wait folks, had a bunch of school stuff to do. But as an apology, I made this super big chapter for you all. Enjoy.

A scary forest that will lead to answers. Luffy, Chopper, Robin and Franky went into the Forever Forest to look for a wizard named Merlon. As soon as they entered though, A boo stole the map of the forest, which lead Chopper and Franky to go after it. Luffy and Robin followed a path of arrows that might take them to see Merlon. What they found was a spooky mansion, and the residents didn't gave them a nice welcome. After Luffy and Robin defeated the boos, A female boo named Lady Bow wanted to know why her servants were making ruckus. When she found out why, she didn't regret it at all as she liked her "intruder" and started to flirt at Luffy, but putting that aside, Luffy and Robin finally found who they were searching for, as Merlon the wizard was right in front of them. Apparently Merlon knew they were coming and starts to explain about the Door of Darkness known as "The Master Door". What exactly is this Master door?

Chapter 7: Infiltration at Peach's Castle, The fight with Ninjas

"The Master door?" Luffy said curiously.

"Yes, It is the only door of it's kind." Merlon replied.

"Why would that door come into our planet and abduct us?" Robin asked.

"Oh, don't be mistaken. The Master door is not what you people think it is." Merlon said. Luffy then tried to pay close attention to him as Lady Bow was looking deeply into Luffy's eyes while being next to him. "Ahem, the Master door is actually a great gift to anyone that encounters it. It will lead you to Master Hand's world." Merlon said with great joy.

"Master Hand? Who is that?" Luffy asked.

"Master Hand is one of the few 'hand' species that gather strong warriors of any kind from any world to participate in his tournament, but don't get me wrong, this tournament isn't about being the strongest, it is about how people can be at peace with one another by fighting with honor and dignity." Merlon said. Luffy started to like this Master Hand guy for making such a cool tournament.

"If what you say is true, then how come we weren't greeted by Master Hand himself?" Robin asked.

"Now that I can't answer. For you see, something must have happened to him, because if you entered the master door, it should have lead you to his planet, but you are here instead. I don't know why he has done this, It has never happened before." Merlon said, while looking out the window.

"Well, maybe the door was broken or something. He should probably fix the dark hole in the door, so it doesn't scare off people." Luffy suggested.

"Dark hole? What are you talking about?" Merlon asked.

"When the door opened, we saw nothing but darkness inside." Robin said.

"That is not possible. The door should only have a clear view of Master Hand's planet. So there is something going on." Merlon said in worry.

"Well, whatever the cause is, we need to go back to Peach's Castle and figure out what we should do next." Robin said as she got up, ready to leave the mansion.

"You two are leaving now? Can't you stay a little while longer." Lady Bow asked, doing the innocent girl look at Luffy.

"We are sorry, but we should be going." Robin said. Lady Bow then angrily looked at Robin.

"I DON'T BELIEVE I ASKED YOU, DIDN'T I!? STAY SILENT UNTIL YOU ARE TOLD TO SPEAK!!" Lady Bow yelled threateningly. Robin simply nodded, not feeling scared at all.

"Sorry, We have to go back to our crew now." Luffy said. Luffy then remembered something very important, something that has to be treated right away. "Oh my gosh! I forgot that I was hungry this whole time!!" Luffy gasped while holding his tummy.

"You hungry, sweety? Don't worry, I'll take care of it." Lady Bow said as she faced her servants. "YOU HEARD HIM, DIDN'T YOU?! NOW GO GET HIM SOME FOOD!!"

"Yes ma'am!" said her servants as they went to get Luffy some food.

"Now that I think about it, weren't their other people with you?" Merlon asked.

"Oh yeah, Chopper and Franky are still out there thanks to that boo that stole the map." Luffy said, now realizing the more important thing then eating right now.

"Your friends are lost in the forest? I'll take care of this." Lady Bow said. "Oh, Bootler." An old boo with a mustache suddenly appears in front of her.

"You called, Madam?" Bootler asked.

"Yes, my sweety pie's friends are lost in the forest, would you go and bring them here?" Lady Bow asked.

"Of course, madam. I'll be right back." Bootler said before as he left. The boos suddenly came in with a pile of food on one big plate.

"WOAH! ALL THAT FOR ME?!" Luffy asked happily.

"But of course, you can eat as much as you want." Lady Bow said.

"GEE, THANKS!" Luffy yelled before he ate the whole thing in 0.5 seconds.

"MY WORD, BOY, COULDN'T YOU AT LEAST TASTE THE FOOD BEFORE EATING IT LIKE THAT!?" Merlon asked, as he was surprised to see him eat the whole meal that quickly. The other boos were just as shocked as he was. Lady Bow however loved how Luffy devoured the meal less than a second, It made her fall more in love with him within every second passing by.

Meanwhile…

"So I asked her to go on a date with me, but she couldn't because she said that she had to wash her hair, but she was bald! Aaaaaaaghh!" Franky cried. Chopper was done crying a long time ago, and now was stuck listening to Franky's story on how he gets rejected by the ladies.

"Um, Franky, maybe we should try to think of an idea on how to get out of here." Chopper said, desperately trying to change topic.

Franky then FINALLY stopped crying. "-sniff-… You are right. Ok, so what do we do?" Franky asked. Chopper was about to answer until he saw something getting close to them.

"Franky, there is something coming behind you." Chopper said pointing at the opposite direction where Franky is facing.

"Now that is the oldest trick in the book, first you tell me that something is behind me and the next thing I know, my thong is covered with cheese." Franky said, remembering the time that happened in Water 7.

"Good evening, gentlemen." Bootler said, who was behind Franky. Franky then looked behind him.

"Oh, hey." Franky said as he then looked back at Chopper. "Now as I was saying, when that happened to me, my thong was so sticky, It took me about 5 hours to peel out the entire thing. Since all my other thongs were being washed, I was thong-less the entire time and when people looked at me, they started to run into garbage can and puke like crazy. Honestly, It was like that they haven't seen one before, all men has one, except for a friend of mine that lost his during a fight with a crab. I don't want to talk about it though." Franky said as Chopper wasn't paying attention to him at all since he was too scared to listen.

"F-Franky, there is a ghost behind you." Chopper said while shaking in fear.

"Huh? Don't tell me its that no good map stealing punk again." Franky said before he looked back to see Bootler. "Huh? This isn't the same no good map stealing punk from before, Its just another floating ball with a mustache." Franky said crossing his arms.

"Forgive me for interrupting your odd conversation, but I believe a young man with a straw hat and a very nice figured woman was looking for you." Bootler said.

"Luffy and Robin? We're saved!!" Chopper exclaimed while jumping in joy.

"Ow! I knew that we were going to be rescued this whole time." Franky said while giving the thumbs up.

"You did? So all the things you did like sucking your thumb was all just an act?" Chopper asked.

"Uh… yeah, It was all an act." Franky lied.

"Well, let us get going now gentleman. This way, please." Bootler said as he started to head to straight.

"Lead the way old man. Lets go, gorilla." Franky said.

"IM A REINDEER!!" Chopper yelled as he and Franky started to follow Bootler out of the forest.

Meanwhile… Back in Peach's Castle…

"Oh, so you guys are from another world and only wanted to know how to get back to your planet?" Luigi asked, who was now informed about the situation the Strawhats were in.

"Yeah, we are waiting for our friends to come back from visiting Merlon from the Forever forest." Usopp said.

"I see… well I first want to apologize to you guys for my behavior earlier." Luigi said while bowing down.

"It was nothing, we are already use to it." Sanji said, cleaning Nami's last gold coin.

"Allow me to introduce myself. My name is Luigi, I am Mario's younger brother." Luigi said.

"Oh so your the brother of the guy who always save Peach, huh? My name is Sanji." Sanji said while shaking hands with Luigi.

"I hope I didn't really hurt you; If I would of known you were simply Peach's guests, I wouldn't have gone crazy like that." Luigi said while rubbing the back if his head shamefully.

"Like I said, don't worry about it. We are use to this sort of thing." Sanji said with a smile.

"Speak for yourself." Usopp said. He then turns to Luigi. "Anyway, I am what you call, a god. I am Captain Usopp!" Usopp said as he had one foot on a chair and posed as if he was George Washington.

"Ignore the liar. My name is Nami, and if you touch my money, I am going to rip you to pieces." Nami said while saying that in a kind matter, which scared Luigi.

Peach then turned to the Strawhats. "Luigi has done some heroic deeds as well. He saved Mario from the dreaded King Boo." Peach said. Luigi then blushed.

"Aww, that was a long time ago, It was nothing really." Luigi said.

"Man, everybody in this town is a hero, but why are you wearing a plumber suit?" Usopp asked.

"Oh, this is the clothing I wear everyday, I have many of them back home." Luigi explained.

"Wow, how original you are." Usopp said with sarcasm.

"My brother does other things besides rescuing Peach all the time. No offense, Peach." Luigi said.

"None taken." Peach replied.

"My brother also is a part time doctor." Luigi said.

"A doctor huh? He must be one busy man." Nami said, actually paying attention to something that isn't her gold coins.

"Oh, that's not that all, He also used to be a Tennis player, a golf player, a pinball, a baseball player, a dancer, a race kart driver, a soccer player, a referee, a juggler, a teacher, a basketball player,…" Luigi kept on going for a while, lets get back to him later.

Back to Luffy and Robin…

"Man the stuff here sure is good." Luffy said as he finished eating his fifth dish, once again in 0.5 seconds.

Merlon was still amazed on how Luffy can eat so much and so fast without having a heart attack. "To think I have seen everything there is to see, and yet this boy comes along, and proved me wrong."

"I know, isn't he magnificent?" Lady Bow said, as she sees Luffy eating his sixth dish.

"Lady Bow, he has already ate everything in the storage, we can't continue to feed him anymore." said one of Lady Bow's servants.

"Well go and get some more food, you moron!" Lady Bow yelled.

"AHH, yes ma'am." said the servant as he was about to go out to get some food, until he saw Bootler about to come in with Franky and Chopper. "Ma'am, Bootler is arriving with some people."

Bootler then came in the mansion with Chopper and Franky. "I have found the boy's friends, madam." Bootler said.

"LUFFY!!!" Chopper yelled happily as he ran to Luffy and hugged him.

"Hey you guys, you finally got out of the forest." Luffy said while holding Chopper.

"Yeah, no thanks to you, Strawhat. And you too, Robin." Franky said while pointing at Robin, who simply giggled.

Chopper then stopped hugging Luffy and looked at his surroundings. "Wow, this place is so big and its filled with ghosts." Chopper said. He then looked at Lady Bow. "O-Oh! A green ghost." Chopper said as he was pointing to Lady Bow.

"The pleasure of you admiring me is all yours. I am Lady Bow, the owner of this mansion." Lady Bow said.

"You own this dump? It looks cleaner in a trashcan than this place." Franky said.

"Hmph! And I hate to see people with hairy legs who has nothing better to do all day, but whine like some two year old. But you don't see me complain about that, do you?" Lady Bow asked, which only made Franky crossed his arms angrily after hearing that.

"Well anyway, where is this wizard weeny we are supposed to meet?" Franky asked.

"Ahem, here I am, and I am not a weeny." Merlon said while getting up from his chair.

"Your the wizard weeny that knows about that big door that swallowed us?" Franky asked.

"Yes, young lad, and once again, I am not a weeny." Merlon said now getting annoyed of Franky.

"Why don't I explain what's going on instead." Robin said. She explained Chopper and Franky about the Master door, Master Hand, and the kind of tournaments he held.

"So something bad happened to Master Hand?" Chopper asked.

"I do not know, but whatever reasons, we can't do anything about it right now." Robin said.

"Bah, this is just great. Now how are we going to get out of this planet?" Franky asked.

"I know of a way, but its not an easy task." Merlon said as he was about to explain his suggestion until…

"PIRATES, GET OUT HERE!!" said an unknown voice.

"What the!?" Luffy said before he and others got outside who was calling out the pirates.

"Where did that voice come from?" Chopper asked as he was looking around for who was yelling earlier.

"Forget that. What the hell is that noise?" Franky asked as he and the others started to hear noise that would come from tiny wheels.

"Something is coming." Luffy said as he and his crew started to see something coming in their view.

What appeared in front of Luffy and co. is none other than Bowser… or at least it looks like him. It was poorly made wooden robot version of him. Instead of legs, it has tiny wheels that could barely move due to the weight. It's arms could only move up and down. As soon as the wooden robot version of Bowser stops moving, carbon dioxide comes out of his rear. As the robot opened its mouth, you could see a megaphone that is almost coming out.

"GWA..HA..HA..HA..HA! IT IS I, THE GREAT KOOPA KING, BOWSER AND I AM HERE TO DESTROY THE PIRATES!" The wooden Bowser said in a robotic voice.

"What in the world is this stupid thing?" Franky asked.

"It appears to be that evil man Bowser that Princess Peach spoke of." responds Robin.

"That's the loser? It looks like some cheap model of him made by some retards that can't even draw a proper blueprint." Franky said observing the robot.

"HEY MAN, IT ONLY TOOK ME TWENTY TIMES TO DRAW IT! DON'T UNDERESTIMATE ME!!" yells the robot, only with a different voice.

"Hey Green, shut up! They are going to find out." The robot said again with another voice.

"Looks like this guy is nothing but a fraud, what do you guys think?" Franky asked before he looked at Luffy and Chopper yelling at the robot.

"SO YOU ARE THE GUY WHO ALWAYS KIDNAPS PEACH! I AM GOING TO KICK YOUR ASS!!!" Luffy yelled with his hands clenched in fists in the air.

"YEAH!!" Chopper yelled.

"You guys are slow!!" Franky exclaimed angrily with eyes popping out his sockets. Robin wanted to make sure if it was really Bowser, so she crossed her arms and closed her eyes to make an eyeball appear inside of the robot.

"WHAT THE?! THERE IS AN EYE IN HERE!!" The robot Bowser yelled as he started to shake, mostly in the stomach area. Robin then opened her eyes.

"There are four koopas inside, maneuvering this robot." Robin said.

"Just as I thought." Franky says as he started to take a deep breath. "FRESH FIRE!!" He blows a stream a fire to robot bowser, causing it to burn.

"Woah! It's hot!"

"How in blazes did he just do that?!"

"This is no time for bad puns, Yellow!"

"WHERE IS THE EXIT IN THIS THING!?!" The robot Bowser yelled with different voices. Four koopas then came out of robot Bowser before it burned to ashes.

"Huh? Bowser just puked out four turtles." Luffy gasped.

"YOU ARE A RETARD!" Franky yelled smacking Luffy upside his head. Lady Bow then recognized the four Koopas who were catching their breath.

"Well, if it isn't the Stupid Bros. in person." Lady Bow said mockingly. The one with the red bandana suddenly got up angrily.

"Hey! Don't make fun of us!" Red said before he took a good look at Lady Bow. "Wait, I know you. You were with Mario back then when he defeated Bowser, back when he had the star rod." Red said, pointing at Lady Bow.

"Hmph! When will you idiots ever learn that working with a loser will make you guys more pathetic then you already are?" Lady Bow asked, not really caring.

"Shut up! We are much stronger than the last time you saw us, because we are none other than the amazing Koopa Bros." Red said before he and his brothers gave the thumbs up.

"Koopa Bros.? You guys don't looks so tough. You're nothing but posers." Franky said while holding his chin.

"Wha-What is that supposed to mean?!" Red yelled as he and his brothers were looking at Franky furiously. "You know what, it doesn't matter. We are supposed to get rid of you guys anyway." He said as he and his brothers got in their fighting poses.

"Why do you want to get rid of us? What did we do to you guys? Chopper asked.

"Nothing personal, we are just following orders from our leader, Bowser." Black said.

"What?! you work for Bowser?!" Luffy asked angrily while cracking his knuckles. Red then hit Black at the back of his head.

"You moron! You weren't suppose to tell them that!!!" Red yelled.

"Sorry, I thought it didn't matter since we are going to get rid of them anyway." Black said while holding the back of his head in pain.

"Yeah, I guess you have a point there." Red said before facing at Luffy. "Say your prayers. dudes, because this is going to get nasty!" Red and his bros. charged at the Strawhats.

"ALRIGHT GUYS, LETS GO!!" Luffy yelled before he and his crew charged at the Koopa Bros. Luffy took on the Red Koopa, Chopper took on the Yellow Koopa, Franky took on the Green Koopa, and Robin took on the Black Koopa.

Luffy and Red started to punch eachother rapidly, with none of them landing a hit. Red then jumped back and tries to kick Luffy in the face, but Luffy ducked and grabbed Red's leg, and threw him across the field. As soon as Red crashed to the ground, Luffy stretched his fist back "GOMU GOMU NO PISTOL!!" Luffy then stretched his arm at Red, but Red barely dodged it as Luffy destroyed a tree behind Red instead. "What in the world…" was all that he could say before Luffy ran at him, and kicked him across the face.

Chopper was avoiding Yellow's shurikens in his walk point. He then charged at Yellow head on, but Yellow jumped over him. Just when Yellow was about to land, Chopper transformed in his Heavy Point, and punched Yellow from behind as soon as he landed on the ground. Yellow retaliated as he did a front flip and threw a smoke bomb at Chopper. "-cough-… I can't see." Chopper coughed as he was trying his best to see in the smoky view.

"Ha ha ha, You can't defeat me now." Yellow said as he jumps on Chopper, unfortunately for him, the smoke has just lifted and Chopper saw him coming and punched him in the face.

Franky proceeded to punch Green rapidly, but Green dodged every move Franky made. "Is that all you got?" Green asked as he continued to dodge Franky moves. Franky then had enough, as he took a deep breath. "You are going to do that fire move again? I can simply avoid it by getting away." Green said as he jumped back to avoid the flames, or so he thought.

"MASTER NAIL!!" Instead of breathing fire, he spat out a montage of nails at Green.

"Huh!?!" Green gasped as the nails nailed Green to a tree behind him.

"Ha ha ha! Who is laughing now?" Franky asked as he moved his fist back. "STRONG RIGHT!!" His fist went flying straight to Green and hit him so hard, that the tree he was nailed to broke, and fell on the ground.

Black was trying his best to hit Robin, but she simply dodges every move that he made. "Hold still, you very hot lady!" Black said as he threw another fist at Robin. Robin giggled at his attempts to hit her. Black then jumped right at her at full speed. "I got you now!" Black said while in midair. All of a sudden, a hand grabbed his foot. Black looked back to see who was holding his foot, only to see a hand being hold by other pair of hands that sprouted from the bottom of a tree branch.

"QUINCE FLEUR WHIP!!" Black was then swinged back and crashed into the tree behind him.

The Koopa Bros regrouped, while catching their breaths as they were clearly losing. "Bro, these guys are way stronger than we expected." Black panted.

"You're right. I guess there is no other choice but to use that move." Red said.

"What?! You don't mean…" Yellow said.

"Yes, our special move VERSION 2!" Red said before he and his brothers faced the Strawhats. "You guys think you have won!? We haven't even shown you our true power yet! BROTHERS, LET'S GO!! SPECIAL TECHNIQUE VERSION 2!! The Koopa Bros got on top eachother and withdrew into their shells; as soon as they did, they started to spin at an incredible rate.

As they spinned, they started to charge at the Strawhats at full speed. "LOOK OUT!" Luffy yelled as he and his crew barely dodged it as the Koopa Bros went right past still continued to advance to forward.

"ALRIGHT, NOW SEPARATE!" Red yelled as he and his brothers separated from eachother and started to bounce on every object they hit. Every time they hit an object, their speed increases dramatically. They were so fast, that you can only see a blur of them.

"If they hit us, we are surely going to die." Robin said, now actually worried.

"We have to block that move. COME ON!!" Luffy yelled while Chopper ate a rumble ball.

"You fools! There is nothing you guys can do to block our strongest move!" Red yelled as he and his brothers went straight towards the Strawhats.

"HERE WE GO!! GOMU GOMU NO FUUSEN!!!" Luffy jumped in the air and inflated his stomach as if it was a balloon.

"GUARD POINT!!" Chopper's fur has expanded like if it was an oversized chia pet.

"HOSHI SHEILD!!" Franky's left arm has turned into a shield of some kind.

"CINCUENTA FLEUR!!" Fifty arms came from the ground and started to form a net.

The Strawhats were now prepared for the impact as the Koopa Bros collided with their defenses. The impact was very powerful, but the Strawhats were able to stop the Koopa Bros powerful attack, as they were bounced back to the ground while coming out of their shells. "Im-impossible…" was all that Red said before he and his brothers were suddenly being held by a couple of arms sprouting out of their bodies.

"HORN POINT!!" Chopper transformed into something similar to walk point, only his forelegs are bulkier and his antlers were larger and sharper. Chopper then ran straight to the Koopa Bros with his head hung low. "ROSEO COLONNADE!!" as soon as Chopper got close to them, he lifted his head up, making the Koopa Bros fly upwards.

"WOOOOAAAHHH!" screamed the Koopa Bros as they were flying up.

"Hee hee, now to finish them off. GOMU GOMU NO…" Luffy prepared to attack.

"It's about time, too." Franky said, also preparing himself for the finishing blow, "STRONG…"

"PISTOL!"

"RIGHT!"

The punches send the Koopa Bros fly even farther away, but it wasn't over yet. "CLUTCH!" from a distance, you can hear snapping noise as the battle has ended.

"Amazing strength…" Merlon commented as he watched the entire fight. Everyone else was just as amazed.

"Heh, finally. So those guys are working for Bowser." Franky said.

"I wonder why they wanted to attack us?" Chopper asked.

"Maybe they were trying to stall us of something." Robin said.

"I don't like the sound of this! We must go back to Peach's castle now!" Luffy said. Merlon then approached them.

"We should follow the arrows that brought you here, It would let us get there faster." Merlon suggested.

"Yosh, let's go!" Luffy said as he and his crew, along with Merlon riding on Chopper's back, went running back to the castle as fast as they could.

"Good bye, my love! I'll see you again someday!" Lady Bow said sadly while waving her fan.

Back to Peach's Castle…

"… And finally, he is a plumber." Luigi said, as he was finally done talking about what his brother Mario does for a living. Sanji and Usopp were dumbfounded upon hearing Mario could do all that. Nami, on the other hand, returned to her gold coin counting just after Luigi finished half of what Mario does.

"That is amazing! So if he has done all that, then he must be one rich guy." Usopp said, who was very amazed.

"Actually, my brother does all that for free." Luigi said simply. This caused Sanji and Usopp to fall down in shock.

"HE DOES ALL THAT, BUT JUST BECAUSE HE FEELS LIKE IT?!" Sanji and Usopp yelled dumbfounded at the same time.

"Mario never cares about the money, what he cares about the happiness he gives to the people." Peach explained.

"Hmph, what a bore." Nami said while still counting her coins.

An injured soldier then came in to the room. "Princess… Peach.." Said the soldier weakly. Peach rushed to his side.

"Oh my gosh, what happened to you?" Peach asked all worried.

"Princess… some big turtle with glasses wants to kidnap you… you must escape.." said the soldier before passing out. Usopp and Luigi were scared stiff, while Sanji simply stood up.

"Usopp, Luigi, you take care of Peach-san and Nami-san." Sanji said as he walked out of the room.

"Oh dear, will he be alright?" Peach asked.

"Don't worry, Princess, he wont go down that without put. Besides, as long as I am here, there is nobody that would even think to put a finger on you. Although, I don't know about Usopp and Luigi though, they might get torn to pieces." Nami said.

"Oi, Oi, Oi." Usopp said while he and Luigi were hugging eachother in fear.

Sanji then got out to the castle to see who he was dealing with. As soon as Sanji saw him, he took out a cigarette and light it with his lighter. "Let me guess, you are one of Bowser's goons that came here to kidnap Peach-san." Sanji said before he put the cigarette in his lips.

"Heh, you guessed right man. I am Kent C. Koopa, the largest Koopa that has ever existed. Now hand over Princess Peach and I'll make sure that you don't suffer much." Kent said.

Sanji looked at his surroundings and saw several toad soldiers who severely injured, an. The residents were all watching from a safe distance as they saw the destruction Kent has caused. "You have a lot of nerve… I'll make sure that you don't stand up again." Sanji said as he prepared for battle.

"HA, you want to challenge me? Don't you see the difference in size between you and me? I can squish you like the tiny bug you are." Kent said.

"I guess we have to see about that." Sanji said as he ran straight to Kent.

Sanji threw a kick at Kent, but Kent simply lifted his arm to block it, and he didn't felt a thing. Sanji then jumped back and went for Kent again with another kick, but he missed as Kent hid in his shell and went spiraling towards Sanji at a very slow speed. Sanji dodged him, but the rock behind him was smashed into pieces as Kent crashed into it. "Hmm… I guess I have to fight more seriously." Sanji said as he charged at Kent again, and kicked him in the face as soon as he came out of his shell. Kent didn't felt much pain, but he did stagger back as Sanji attacks again.

Kent then threw a punch at Sanji, but Sanji jumped over it and landed one foot over Kent's head. Kent retaliated by grabbing Sanji's foot and swung him around a bit, until he threw him to a wall. Kent then withdrew into his shell again, and went spinning towards Sanji. Sanji got up and saw Kent spiraling towards him, fortunately he was able to jump over him in time. "BASSES-COTES!" Sanji did a roundhouse kick at Kent while in midair, making Kent slide towards another wall.

Kent got out of his shell all dazed until…"LONGE!" Sanji then kicked Kent really hard at the back at his shell. Before Kent could react, Sanji flipped in front of Kent, "TENDRON!" Sanji thrusted his foot at Kent's neck. Kent went flying back a few feet, but he was still standing. Sanji then ran as fast as he could at Kent and jumped, "VEAU SHOT!!" Sanji delivered a strong kick at Kent's face, which made Kent to fall on his back and slide towards the front gate.

"Looks like you were nothing but talk." Sanji said as he walked up to Kent. Kent then got up quickly and threw a surprise punch at Sanji. Sanji fell to the ground, barely able to stay conscious due to the massive punch he received.

"I'll admit, your are pretty good to take me down like that, but now it ends here." Kent panted as he took out a fire block. "I am going to burn you alive, and nobody is going to stop me!!" Kent exclaimed as he was about to throw the fire block at Sanji, until…

"WOHOOO…"

"What the?!" Kent gasped before he looks up and his face gets planted by someone's feet, and it wasn't Sanji. This made Kent drop the fire block, which the mystery person hit it with a hammer, and it flew towards Kent's face, and exploded. "ARRGH!" Kent cried in pain as he tried to get the flames out of his face. As soon as the fire died down, Kent went to see who attacked him. "WHO DO YOU THINK YOU ARE!?" Kent yelled at the mystery person.

The mystery person then rested his hammer on his shoulder. He then turned to Kent and said "Its-a me, Mario."

Back with Peach…

Peach was pacing back and forth, all worried about Sanji. "I hope he is okay." Peach said.

"Sanji can take on anybody he faces. I should know because I am the one who taught him everything I know about fighting." Usopp lied while proudly pointing to himself.

"OHH, so you are his master?" Luigi asked, who actually believed in what Usopp said.

"Yes, I may not look like it, But I have a black belt in Tae Kwon Doe. Yes sir, when people look at me in the eye, I simply say to them…"

All of a sudden, the wall of the dining room exploded into pieces as everyone flew back several feet from the explosion. What caused the explosion was the real Bowser coming in the dining room while riding his Koopa clown car. He got off and looked at his surroundings. "Gwa ha ha ha ha! These are the pirates that I heard so much about? Looks like a bunch of wimpy kids to me." Bowser said as he continues to laugh. Peach got up weakly after the explosion.

"Bowser! I should have known it was you." Peach exclaimed. Bowser then looks at her.

"Oh well, if it isn't my lovely wife. How are you, honey?" Bowser asked. Usopp then got up and saw Bowser.

"GYAAAAAAAHHHHHH, WHAT IS THAAAT!?!" Usopp gasped as his mouth was wide open and his eyes popped out from seeing Bowser.

"Oh no, It's Bowser." Luigi gasped while shaking in fear.

"Tha-That is Bowser!? He is way more scary than I imagined. I got to hide!" Usopp yelled as hid behind the table.

"Wait for me!" Luigi cried as he hid behind the table as well.

Bowser was amused to see people fear him. "Gwa ha ha ha ha! These guys are nothing but a bunch of posers. Lets see we have here. Some sort of dork with a long nose and a orange hair girl that… huh?" Bowser was looking at Nami, who seems to have a dark visible aura coming out of her from her body.

"You picked the wrong person to mess with, TURTLE!" Nami said while looking at Bowser furiously. Bowser took a few step back after seeing her scary face. "You can destroy castles, you can hurt people, you can even rip Usopp to shreds, I don't mind. But what you just did makes me want to kill you from were you stand." Nami said as she was referring to gold coins, now turned to ashes due to the explosion Bowser caused. Nami got took out her Perfect Clima Tact, as she was ready to give Bowser the beating of his life.

"Hey, wait a second, cant we just talk this over?" Bowser asked nervously.

"NO!" Nami yelled as she hit Bowser's forehead with her PCT (Perfect Clima Tact). Bowser felt a little dazed after getting hit really hard, while Nami was holding her PCT horizontally. "THUNDER CHARGE!" Nami's tip of her PCT was covered in electricity. Nami then started to swing the end of the tact as if it was a flail and went to Bowser again. "SWING ARM!" Nami swung her electrical tact at Bowser and gave him a huge electric shock.

Bowser was burned to crisp, but was still standing. "-cough-… This girl is insane!" Bowser said as he was more afraid of Nami now.

"YEAH!! GO NAMI, FINISH HIM OFF!!!" Usopp yelled who was still hiding behind the table.

"Wow, she is so scary." Luigi whimpered while pulling his hat down in fear. Nami then separated her tact in two and a bunch of cool balls and fire balls went in the air forming a very big cloud.

"W-wait, Nami, don't you remember the last time you did that…" Ussop said in fear as he remembered the humongous thunder ball tempo move back at Enies Lobby.

"SHUT UP!! HE MUST PAY!!!" Nami yelled. Usopp then grabbed Luigi and ran to a corner while also dragging the table with him for protection. Bowser looked up to see an enormous cloud ready that looks ready to gulps in fear as Nami was smiling wickedly.

"NOW YOU WILL DIE! THUNDERBALL…"

Before she finished Kammy Koopa came in the room while flying on her broom. "HYPNOSIS!" Kammy Koopa cast a spell at Nami, which made her fall to sleep, as the clouds in the air faded away. Bowser, for the first time, was relieved to see Kammy Koopa.

"Phew… I thought I was a goner. Good work, Kammy." Bowser said.

"I live to serve, your vileness." Kammy said as she stood beside her king.

"NAMI!" Usopp gasped as he came out of hiding.

Luigi then came out of hiding as well and ran next to Peach. "I won't let you take Peach again, Bowser." Luigi exclaimed while in a defensive position.

"Gwa ha ha ha ha! What can you do? Mario isn't here to protect you two this time." Bowser said as he walked towards them.

"I'll show you. SPRING JUMP!" Luigi crouched down jumped very high in the air.

"Amazing." Usopp said in amazement, until he saw Luigi heading towards the ceiling. "Luigi! Look out for the cei… oh that's right, his head must be so durable, it could break through anything it comes across. Go Luigi!!!" Usopp yelled as he saw Luigi getting close to the ceiling. As soon as he did, Luigi crashed into it in pain and gently floated down while holding his head.

"Ohhh… my head…" was all that Luigi said before passing out. Usopp had his eyes rolled at the back of his head and his mouth was wide open after seeing that pitiful attempt in defending Peach.

"WHAT THE HELL WAS THAT!?!" Usopp asked in disbelief at what just happened.

"Gwa ha ha ha ha! Now it's your turn, Pinocchio." Bowser said as he walked towards Usopp slowly. Usopp cowered in fear until he thought of an idea.

"You can't lay a finger on me. If you do, my 8 billion followers will come and destroy you all." Usopp said while putting his hands in the air. Kammy Koopa just laughed at that.

"Oh please. Do you really think we will believe that? Your filthiness, did you hear what he…" Kammy Koopa saw Bowser, looking at his surroundings in fear.

"8 BILLION!? Where are they!? I don't see anybody!" Bowser said as he was looking for the 8 billion followers.

"Sir, he doesn't have 8 billion followers, he lied to us." Kammy stated.

Bowser then faced at Usopp angrily. "YOU DARE TRICK ME!?!" Bowser yelled as he took a deep breath.

"Oh no! ZORO, WHERE ARE YOU!?" Usopp yelled as he was kinda prepared for the worst to happen.

Meanwhile in some distant place…

Zoro was in the middle of a Yoshi field. A green Yoshi then came to Zoro. "Yoshi." said the green Yoshi happily.

"WHERE THE HELL AM I!?!?!?" Zoro yelled as he scared the Green Yoshi in front of him, and every Yoshi in the field.

Back to Sanji…

Kent was looking at Mario furiously as he remembered the last time he encountered him. The crowd that was watching the fight started to cheer for Mario happily. "You think you are going to beat me again!? I'll teach you not to mess with me!" Kent yelled as he charges at Mario.

"Lets-a go!" Mario says as he jumps on Kent multiple times on his head. Mario then jumped off and use his hammer to hit Kent's tail.

"GWOOOOOOOOO!!" Kent cried in pain. Mario then let go of his hammer, and grabbed Kent's damaged tail and started to spin at such an incredible rate, that a tornado a small tornado was forming around them.

"Bye bye." Mario said before he let go of Kent and he flew so far, he disappeared in the air.

"Wow.." Sanji said in awe as the cigarette fell from his lips. Mario then walked up to Sanji and gave him a hand.

"Are-a you okay?" Mario asked while helping Sanji get up.

"Yeah. I'm fine. Thanks." Sanji said.

"No time to-a talk now-a; We have to-a see if-a Peach is alright-a." Mario said as he then ran into the castle.

"Oh, that's right! I have to see if Peach and Nami-san and those other guys are okay." Sanji said as he also rushed into the castle.

As Mario and Sanji entered the dining room, they saw Bowser getting on his Koopa clown car while holding Peach on his back.

"PEACH!" Mario gasped.

"Mario, you came." Peach said happily. Bowser turned around to see Mario.

"Mario. I thought you would come here and try ruin things as usual." Bowser said. Sanji looked around and saw Usopp burned to crisp, but was still breathing. He then saw Luigi knocked out cold.

"Oi, you must be that shitty turtle that keeps causing trouble around here. Let go of Peach-san this instant!" Sanji demanded as he went to attack Bowser.

"Don't you even think about it, blondy." Bowser said as was holding Nami with his other arm. Sanji stopped as soon as he saw her.

"NAMI-SAN!! What are going to do with her!!" Sanji asked.

"This girl is one of the most ferocious females I have ever seen and I like that. And because of that, I feel like taking her with me as well. It's like hitting two Paratroopas with one stone! Gwa ha ha!" Bowser said with a grin.

"You bastard! How dare you try to kidnap Nami-san, and also trying to kidnap Peach-san for your selfish reasons?!" Sanji yelled.

"I could do anything I want with Peach. She is my wife, afterall." Bowser said while making kissy noises at Peach, which grossed her out.

"W-Wife…" Sanji felt as if he was hit in the face by a missile. He then started to grow so pale, that he turned black and white, and frozed in place.

"Bowser, that wasn't a legal marriage! It was just a way for Count Bleck to get the chaos heart." Peach said.

"Silence! You will now come back with me to my castle, where you will be for all eternity! Gwa ha ha ha ha ha ha!" Bowser said as he and Kammy were about to leave.

"You are not-a going to get away!" Mario said as he went straight to Bowser.

"Take this." Bowser said as he threw a bob-omb at Mario and exploded upon impact. As the smoke cleared, Bowser and Kammy were no longer in sight.

"No…" Mario said before passing out as Bowser's plan to kidnap Peach was successful.

TO BE CONTINUED…

I would like to thank avatarjk137 for being the first one EVER to review this story. And to answer your question about Jacks sword, that is Jacks sword. I know Samurai Jack was cancelled, but I suppose Jack defeated Aku and went back to his time or something. As for the rest of you, You better Review or else… Nah just kidding. See ya.

I feel like this chapter wasn't one of my best work, but it should do for now. Enjoy!

Sometimes bad guys can get what they want. Luffy and the gang had been told that the Master door is a good thing for people to encounter. But, it seems the Master door isn't what it used to be, as Merlon said that it wasnt supposed to have a dark hole in it. As they were trying to figure that mystery, the Strawhats were interrupted by a group called the Koopa Bros. After Luffy and the gang sent them flying, They went rushing back along with Merlon, to Peach's Castle. Meanwhile, Peach had an unexpected guest, as Kent C. Koopa went to try and capture her, however Sanji, would soon try stop him. Despite Sanji being there, Kent had the upper hand as he was about to finish him off with a fire block. Until Mario has come to the rescue and defeated Kent with such ease. As Mario and Sanji went to check on the princess, it was to late. Bowser has personally captured Peach, as well as Nami. Mario attempted to rescue them, but Bowser used a Bob-omb at Mario as Bowser plan on kidnapping Peach was successful. Will Peach and Nami be rescued?

Chapter 8: The big rescue, Passing through Bowser's fleet.

Luffy and the gang got out of the forest to see Toadsworth shaking in his feet. "Oh dear, oh dear! How could this happen?" Toadsworth asked himself.

"Oi, mushroom head-ossan!" Luffy said. Toadsworth turns around to see Luffy and his crew.

"Oh Master Luffy, thank heavens you have arrived." Toasdsworth said, feeling a bit relieved.

"What the heck is going on?" Franky asked.

"It's Bowser. He flew away with Princess Peach and he also has Miss Nami with him." Toadsworth said.

"Oh no, Nami!" Chopper yelled. Luffy started to get really angry upon hearing that.

"I'll make sure that Bowser guy get his ass kicked so hard, he wont be able to sit down again." Luffy said with pure anger in his eyes.

"Lets forget about that for now, we should check on our crew to see if they weren't killed to a bloody death." Robin said.

"GAHHH! Robin don't say that!" Said the scared Chopper.

"Well, there is no use waiting here then! Let's go!" Merlon said while still on Chopper. Everybody rushed to the castle as fast as they could. As they arrived, the castle was a mess. Their were wounded guards everywhere, the walls of the gates were filled holes, the garden was completely messed up. Luffy and the rest went inside the castle and rushed to dining room. As they got in, the wall that used to be at the end of the dining room was no longer there.

"USOPP!" Chopper gasped as he saw Usopp completely burned. Chopper ran to him to get a closer look. "Oh no, DOCTOR!! Oh wait thats me." Chopper said as he started to heal Usopp. Toadsworth noticed Mario and Luigi lying on the floor.

"Oh dear, how could this have happened." Toadsworth said.

"Oi cook, what the hell happened here?" Franky asked Sanji, who was still petrified after hearing Bowser saying that Peach was his wife. "Oi, stupid cook, I am talking to you." Franky said while poking Sanji, but no response.

"Allow me, Mr. shipwright." Robin said as she got close to Sanji. As soon she poked his shoulder, Sanji has sprung back to life as his paleness faded afterwards.

"ROBIN-CHWAN!! YOU ARE BACK!!!" Sanji said while hearts are coming out of his visible eye. Chopper had finished healing Usopp, but he was still unconscious.

"Phew… that should it." Chopper said as he turned around to see Mario and Luigi on the ground. "Oh no, I got to help those guys too." Chopper said as he went to them and started to heal them as well. Franky looked at Mario and Luigi, curiously.

"Who called the plumbers?" Franky asked.

"Master Franky, they are none other than Mario and his brother Luigi." Toadsworth said.

Luffy then got a good look at them and giggled. "Hee hee! They look funny." Luffy said while they were getting cured by Chopper. Sanji then noticed something he never thought he would ever see. He noticed Luffy has some lip gloss on his cheek. He then looked at Robin who was giggling at what Sanji was thinking. Sanji then turned completely red and grabbed Luffy furiously by his vest.

"LUFFY, WHAT THE HELL HAPPENED IN THAT FOREST!?" Sanji asked while shaking Luffy back and forth.

"What are you talking about?" Luffy said who was getting dazed due to the shaking.

"Don't pretend that you don't know anything! Why do you have lip gloss on your cheek!?" Sanji asked before he stopped shaking Luffy.

"Oh this, I got it from a green ghost girl. You know, I think she likes me." Luffy said.

Sanji was shocked after hearing that. "How could you get a kiss?! You don't even know how to attract females!!" Sanji yelled as was acting completely jealous at Luffy.

"Can you two idiots forget about that now? We have a crisis in case you didn't know." Franky said as Sanji was starting to calm down.

"You are right. I bet the one that kissed you wasn't pretty anyway." Sanji said, still feeling jealous.

Usopp then sat up quite quickly. "GYYYYYYAAAAAAAHHHHHHHH, IM ON FIIIIIIIIIRRRRRRE!!!" Usopp yelled, thinking he is on fire, but he really wasn't. After he realized he wasn't on fire, he noticed Luffy and the gang had returned from the forest. "LUFFY, YOU FINALLY CAME BACK!! DON'T YOU REALIZE HOW MUCH TROUBLE I WENT THROUGH TRYING TO DEFEND PEACH FROM THAT MONSTROUS PERSON!?" Usopp said while crying hysterically.

Mario and Luigi woke up after the ruckus Usopp caused.

"Ohhhh… I am dizzy." Luigi said while his eyes are rolling uncontrollably, until Luigi hit his head to regain his composure.

"Mama-mia…" Mario said as he was a little dazed too.

"Wow, you guys sure can recover quickly." Chopper said amazed.

"Who are you people?" Mario asked looking at the Strawhats.

"They must be the rest of the pirates that went to the Forever forest. Let me explain Bro." Luigi said as he explained Mario the whole everything that happened so far.

Meanwhile..In Bowser's Castle…

Bowser sat at his chair proudly, as his soldiers were celebrating his success at capturing Princess Peach, also at capturing Nami as a bonus. "All hail King Bowser!" yelled one of Bowser's soldier as everyone cheered for Bowser.

"Gwa ha ha ha ha! That's right, worship me more. Gwa ha ha ha ha." Bowser said as he was clearly enjoying himself. Peach and Nami were in a cage, watching the whole party going on.

"HEY, YOU STUPID GOLD COIN DESTROYER, GET ME OUT OF HERE SO I CAN RIP YOU TO SHREDS WITH MY BARE HANDS!!" Nami yelled as she she was trying to break out of the cage like some ferocious animal.

"Hey boss, can I play with that orange hair girl you brought?" asks some perverted soldier.

"Sure, knock yourself out." Bowser said before the perverted soldier opened the cage and went inside.

"Come here little girl. Give me some sugar." Said the perverted soldier as he started to make smoochy noises.

"Sure, just close your eyes." Nami said as the soldier closed his eyes and pucked his lips. "HERE YOU GO!!" Nami yelled as she punched the perverted soldier so hard, that he went flying straight out of the cage, then he flew out of the castle, and into the dark sky, never to be seen again.

Everyone with their happy celebrating mood, turned into complete fear as everyone, including Bowser, had their mouths hung open after seeing that destructive power. "HURRY, CLOSE THE GATE!!!" Bowser yelled as all of his soldiers were forcing Nami to stay in the cage and locked it with the key. Just in case, they put the cage in another cage which got in another cage. They also hanged the cage over a pool of lava in another room.

"Your vileness, We have successfully secured the cage. There is no chance that anybody can get out." Kammy said.

"Good, that girl is more vicious than I thought. Perhaps bringing her here wasn't a good Idea. I have to think of a way to get rid of her. In the mean time, Lets continue to party!!" Bowser laughed as his soldiers started to celebrate again.

Nami and Peach were in the triple cage, hanging while their is pool of lava below them. Nami finally was able to calm down and started to chat with Peach. "Damn, they even took my Perfect Clima Tact too." Nami said.

"I'm sorry that I got you into this. This is the first time Bowser has kidnapped someone else along with me." Peach said while looking down.

"Don't blame yourself Princess. Besides, Everyone is going to save us anyway." Nami said.

"I hope your right." The two then became quiet for a little while, as they wondered how can they get out of the cage. Peach then asked, "So, why did you become a pirate?" Nami started to remember the old days.

"Well at first, I thought that all pirates were nothing but a bunch of filthy, rotten, selfish people. They would kill the people you love the most in order to get what they want. Until I met Luffy… he is not like any other pirate I have ever seen before. When he wanted me to be a part of his crew, I rejected him at first. But until I saw his ways, I then accepted to be his Navigator. We have been like a family ever since." Nami said.

Peach felt happy to hear that story. "Wow, I guess you have nothing to worry about then. Your right, we are going to get rescued." Peach said excitedly.

"That's the spirit. Now the only problem is when after we get rescued, we are going to find this Bowser's guy safe and take everything he owns. It will be difficult, but it will be worth it." Nami said. Peach only sweatdropped after hearing that.

Back to Luffy…

"Oh, so that's-a what is-a going on." Mario said as he now knows everything that happened to the Strawhats. "It must-a been-a very tough trip for you all-a. My name is-a Mario, nice to meet-a you." Mario said as he put his hand forward.

"Ha ha ha, you talk funny." Luffy said while shaking hands with Mario.

"So plumbers are saviors of this town? This place is definitely 100 percent weird." Franky said while scratching his head.

"We don't have time to chat now. We have to go rescue Peach-san and Nami-san from that shitty turtle." Sanji said while pointing in the direction that Bowser escaped from.

"But where could they be?" Chopper asked.

"They went to his castle in the mountains, it is very dangerous." Toadsworth said.

"In the mountains? That will take a long time to get through by foot. There has to be some sort of a shortcut." Sanji said.

"There is a way." Merlon said. Everyone then paid attention to him. "There is a new Warp pipe just north of Toad town. Use that and you will be in front of Bowser's castle in seconds."

"Warp pipe? How is a pipe going to get us there in seconds?" Franky asked.

"You will-a find out as soon as we-a get there." Mario said.

"W-Wait a minute guys. Bowser is very powerful. Didn't you see what happened to me? I almost died." Usopp said while shaking in fear.

"But you always almost die anyway, Long-nose Kun." Robin said.

"That's not the point. The point is that I almost died while being BURNED alive, there is a difference." Usopp said.

"Don't worry, Usopp. We are going to rescue Nami and Peach. As soon as we do, I am going to kick Bowser's ass." Luffy said confidently. Usopp simply gave up on convincing Luffy and the rest to not go, since every attempt he does never works anyway.

"-sigh-… Okay fine, but If my encountering-with-Bowser-again-will-surely-kill-me disease reacts, then don't go emotional if I lose my life." Usopp said.

"Hee hee, okay then lets get going." Luffy said as he and the others except for Toadsworth and Merlon headed outside. As they went outside, Luffy noticed that someone was missing. "Oi, where is Zoro?" Luffy asked. Just when Sanji was about to answer, Zoro could be seen arriving at the front gates of Peach's castle while riding a green Yoshi.

Zoro then got off of the green Yoshi. "Thanks for the lift, and good luck with that eating contest you entered." Zoro said.

"Yoshi!" Yoshi replied as he gave Zoro a thumbs up and left back to his Yoshi field. Zoro turned around to see angry faces from Sanji and Usopp.

"WHERE THE HELL HAVE YOU BEEN, MARIMO!?" Sanji yelled furiously.

"DON'T YOU KNOW THE PAIN WE HAD TO GO THROUGH WITH YOU NOT BEING HERE!? Usopp yelled furiously as well.

"Whats with you guys? Usually you guys hate it when I come back, but this is the first time I actually see you guys worry about me. Are you starting to get attracted to me or something." Zoro joked while getting vicious glares from Sanji and Usopp. Zoro then looked at Mario and Luigi. "Who are the plumbers?"

"These are the gentlemen that has saved Princess Peach from many occasions, Mario and Luigi." Robin said.

"Actually, My brother Mario is the one who does all the saving. I am just sort of a sidekick." Luigi said while blushing a bit.

"The heroes of this place are two plumbers? Weird town." Zoro said.

"That's what I said." Franky said.

"Enough with the talking already. Lets go to that shitty turtle's castle so we can save Peach-san and Nami-swan already." Sanji said in a rushed way.

"You just said that a while ago." Usopp said while narrowing his eyes.

"I know and I will keep saying it until we save Peach-san and Nami-swan." Sanji said.

"Peach and Nami got kidnapped? What the hell were you guys doing when that happen?" Zoro asked. Sanji and Usopp then jumped on Zoro and they proceeded to beat him up viciously, except Usopp who was knocked out after the first blow he received.

"Are they-a always like-a this?" Mario asked.

"Pretty much, yes. Anyway, we should start leaving now. Lets go cook-san." Robin said. Sanji then stops fighting with Zoro.

"YES ROBIN-CHWAN!!" Sanji said while catching up to her.

"Bah… Idiot." Zoro said as he grabs the unconscious Usopp by the foot and follows his crew out of toad town. As they leave at the northern part of town. Chopper noticed that Zoro has a new sword.

"Where did you get that sword, Zoro?" Chopper asked.

"Hmm? Oh this. I bought it from some greedy fat guy with a stupid mustache. The guy smelled like garlic too." Zoro said while still dragging the unconscious Usopp.

"A greedy fat guy that smells like garlic? Doesn't that sound familiar Bro?" Luigi asked.

"Hmm… Nope. Doesn't ring-a bell." Mario said.

As they continued to walk further, someone with binoculars was watching them from a very far distance. "Its Mario and Luigi, and they are with those pirate guys." said one of Bowser soldiers who was spying on them, while hiding in a bush. He then writes a note and faces the soldier behind him. "Send this to our boss immediately." Bowser soldier said as the other soldier grabbed the note and ran back to Bowser's castle with great speed.

After a while of walking, Usopp brought up something after he just regained consciousness, "So, what did you guys find out about that big scary door we went through?" Usopp asked. Robin explained the Master Door and its purposes.

"That's what it was for? And Merlon thinks that something is wrong with it?" Sanji asked.

"Well that's what he said." Chopper said.

"The Master-a door is only-a transportation device to go to the Smash world-a. I never-a thought it would be broken." Mario said.

"How do you know so much about the Master Door, Mario?" Chopper asked.

"Well, I used-a to be a competitor myself, three times as-a matter of fact-a. My brother Luigi was also-a competitor himself." Mario said.

"Well, I wasn't really into the whole thing, but it was pretty nice while it lasted." Luigi said while putting his hand behind his head.

"You guys use to be in that tournament? You guys are so cool!" Luffy said, happily.

The sun was setting as the Strawhats along with Mario and Luigi are almost at the warp pipe. "Oh no, It is getting dark. Anything that goes wrong always happen in the dark." Luigi said nervously.

"WAHH, REALLY!?" cried the gullible Chopper.

"Hey, don't worry, guys. What could possibly go wrong in this very peaceful road." Luffy asked while doing a big grin. This caused Usopp to suddenly feel like if he was struck by lightning.

"Luffy, why did you say that!? Don't you know that when somebody says those words, something bad actually happens!?" Usopp exclaimed before something bad actually happened. A gang of Koopas wearing sunglasses jumped in front of the Strawhats, and Mario and Luigi.

"Hey holmes, this our turf. If you want to get through, then you better give us everything you own." said the leader of the gang.

"OH NO!! GANGSTERS!!" Usopp gasped as he, Chopper, and Luigi as they hugged eachother in fear.

"Aww, some babies came out and wanted to face us like man. Shouldn't you kiddies be back home playing with your dollies." Franky asked mockingly.

"What was that you, punk!? You dare make fun us, even though you are clearly outnumbered." said the leader of the gang as he shows behind him an arsenal of Koopas.

Mario then notices a yellow block with a question mark on it. "I guess I'll get rid of them." Zoro said as he was about to take out his swords until Mario stops him.

"Wait-a minute. I will-a handle them." Mario said as he stepped forward. Zoro didn't mind, and stood back.

"You want some of this, old man? Well don't worry, 'cuz we are going to give you the whole thing." The gang leader said as he and his men ran straight forward at Mario.

"Lets-a hope its-a this one." Mario said to himself as he jumped to hit the block with the question mark on it with his head. A very big orange mushroom then came out of it. Mario then jumped to get the mushroom. As soon as he touched it, it disappeared, while something was happening to Mario.

"Oh no, he touched the big mushroom." Said the gang leader as he and his men started to get nervous. The Strawhats were wondering what was going to happen next.

Mario then started to grow larger and larger until he was like 5 times his own height. The Strawhats were amazed just looking at him grow. Franky only got amazed by the music that could suddenly be heard.

"This music… it is so… SUUUUUUUUPAAAAAAA!" Franky exclaimed as he started to break dance with the beat. Luffy, Usopp and Chopper's eyes grew huge as he saw Mario growing tall.

"COOOOL!!!!!" The three exclaimed in unison.

When Mario stopped growing taller, he then started to jog through the gang. He kicked half of them in the air, while the others were stepped on. Mario has finished the entire gang in ten seconds. As soon as he defeated the gangsters, Mario started to shrink back to his normal size, as the Strawhats rushed to him.

"MARIO, YOU'RE SO COOOOOOL!" Luffy said excitedly.

"NOW I SEE WHY YOU ARE THE GREATEST OF ALL TIME!!!" Usopp yelled excitedly as well.

"Can I have your autograph?" Chopper asked with his eyes sparkling with joy as he was holding an autograph that came out of nowhere.

"What the hell did you do?" Sanji asked.

"Oh, I just-a simply took-a Mega Mushroom to defeat those-a gangsters." Mario said while finish signing his name at Chopper's autograph book and giving it back to him.

"That really doesn't explain much." Sanji said.

Mario explains the Strawhats about how mushrooms work, he also explained why music plays everytime he uses a special item. "This place is so fascinating, I will keep a mental note on this." Robin said, very interested in what Mario said.

"Well anyway, we should get-a going." Mario said as he, Luigi and the Strawhats continued to head for the warp pipe. They have reached the end of the road and saw a big green pipe sticking out of the ground.

"Alright, lets-a go." Mario said as he entered the warp pipe while a sound was being made at the same time. Luigi then turned to the Strawhats.

"All you have to do is just simply go in and you will be at Bowser's place in seconds." Luigi said before he got in the Warp pipe.

"Well, sounds easy to me." Luffy said, as he dived in the warp pipe. Everyone else simply got in, except for Franky who has a little trouble.

"'All you have to do is just simply go in and you will be in Bowser's place in no time', blah blah blah." Franky said, mocking Luigi. Franky was to big to fit in. "How the hell am I supposed to… WOAH." Franky simply let one foot in the pipe, and he was already going in. And so, everyone was already heading to Bowser's castle as we speak. But It will probably wont be an easy trip, as Bowser isn't someone you can simply fool.

Meanwhile… in Bowser's castle…

"Alright, which one of you dorks put cheese in my tuxedo?" Bowser asked. Bowser was trying on one of his fancy suits, which aren't that many, for his 'Honeymoon' with Peach. When one of his goofy soldiers told him to look back, his tuxedo was suddenly filled with cheese. "I am serious, guys, who ever put cheese in my tuxedo will pay for it, and it won't cheap." Bowser said as he was about to interrogate someone, until a fast soldier came in.

"Sir! A report from the south!" yelled the fast soldier as he gave the note to Bowser and left really quick.

"That guy should really lay off the caffeine." Bowser said as he started to read the note. His cheerful mood suddenly went away as he didn't like what he was reading. "Well, this a first. Mario usually saves Peach by himself, but now he comes here with the wimpy pirates. I am not impressed." Bowser said.

"Your chunkiness, they are heading here as we speak. What are your orders?" Kammy asked.

"Well, since I feel very confident that I am going to win this time, I am going to give those Mario chumps and those wimpy pirates everything I got. Tell half of my strongest fleet to go attack them while the other half stay here." Bowser said.

"Yes, sir!" Kammy said, as she left, while flying off on her broomstick.

"This is it Mario, your day has finally come, Gwa ha ha ha ha ha!" Bowser laughed while holding a flashlight under his chin to add a scary effect.

Mario, Luigi and Strawhats got out of the warp pipe to see a castle bigger than Peach's. It was dark colored castle, which kinda looks like a demon castle if you get near it. The surroundings werent a pleasant site either; there was nothing but sturdy rocks and the skies were as black as night. Lava was pouring below the castle, you can also notice a few skeletons here and there.

There was a sign that red "DO NOT ENTER OR YOU WILL BE BURNED TO CRISP." just in front of the gang. Usopp nodded after reading that, and started to walk back to the warp pipe, until Luffy grabbed him and pulled him back without even turning around.

"This is Bowser's castle? I've been here before, only I got here faster this time." Zoro said.

"Idiot." Usopp and Sanji said, while Zoro just ignored them.

"Nami-san and Peach-san must be scared to death to be held in there. We must rescue them as quickly as possible." Sanji said eagerly.

"Don't you think this is rather odd? There is nobody here to attack us." Robin said.

"Don't let your guard down. One wrong move and it will be your last." Zoro said, not letting his guard down.

"Dont-a worry. Bowser usually-a never attacks outside his-a castle before, we will-a be just-a fine out here." Mario said as he took the first step closer to the castle.

As soon as he did, A HUGE fleet of Bowser's men came running out of Bowser's castle and charged at Mario and the gang. "YOU JUST HAD TO SAY THAT, DIDN'T YOU!?" Usopp asked as his eyes were popping out. The entire fleet were now getting closer, as the Strawhats, Mario and Luigi prepared for battle.

Luffy went running to a couple of them. "GOMU GOMU NO GATLING GUN!" Luffy punched every single soldier in front of him repeatedly. As Luffy stopped, he saw some guys riding on clouds called Lakitu's throwing spikey balls at him. Luffy avoided some and jumped straight towards them. "GOMU GOMU NO…" Luffy then started to curl like a ball, "HANABI!" Luffy then stretched out and started to hit everywhere, knocking the Lakitu's out cold.

Armored koopas, with spikes on their helmets, went charging head first at Zoro. "Time try this new sword out." Zoro said, as he took out his three swords. "ONI GIRI!" Zoro slashed through the armored Koopas at a very high speed, taking them out instantly. A couple of Paratroopas was about to hit Zoro, until Zoro turned around while putting his two swords away. "SANJUU-ROKO POUNDOU HOU!" Zoro swings his new sword so hard it made a cutting wave and it hit the attacking Koopa, taking him out. "Looks like you still have potential." Zoro said to his new sword as continued to attack the fleet.

A couple of soldiers were running towards Usopp, but he stood still with his arms folded. "Well, I guess I have to use that technique." Usopp said as he took out a tiny chalkboard from his bag. "USOPP NOISE!" Usopp scratched the chalkboard with his nails to make such an irritating sound. "MY EARS!!" yells one of the soldiers. Another soldier was about to attack Usopp from behind, but Chopper gored the soldier in his ribs while Chopper was in his walk point.

Sanji was viciously kicking every soldier he saw. He then stood with his hands in the ground and started to spin with his legs spread out, kicking anybody within reach. He then got back on his legs and thrusted his foot sideways at one soldier so hard, he crashed into the castle walls, leaving a huge crack. He then saw a big soldier swinging a flail. Sanji literally destroyed the flail with his left foot and proceeded to kick the big soldier's face repeatedly with his right foot, until the soldier passed out. After the beating he gave to the big soldier, he then lifted his hands in the air in rage. "RETURN NAMI-SAN AND PEACH-SAN TO ME YOU STUPID EXCUSE FOR MEN!!" Sanji said as started to attack again.

Robin simply looked at the army going straight at her. She then crossed her arms, "CIEN FLEUR, FLIP" a hundred pair of hands sprouted out of the ground and hold every soldiers feet, forcing the soldiers to trip. As the soldiers were being hold, Franky holds his left arm straight out in front with his palm facing the soldiers, his arm then rotates inward and his wrist opens like a door hinge, the hole in his left hand opens to reveal a cross hair that Franky can aim with, "WEAPONS MISSILE!" a missile comes out Franky's wrist and knocks out the soldiers in the ground.

Mario and Luigi used teamwork to beat their group of soldiers. "Lets-a go, Luigi!" Mario said.

"Okey dokey." Luigi said. Mario jumps on Luigi's shoulders and then jumps again while spinning with his fists extended, hitting any Lakitu's in the process. As Mario was still spinning in the air, Luigi then jumped to get Mario's legs, when Luigi got Mario's legs, Mario then did a forward flip and went straight down to the group of soldiers like a missile, knocking them all away upon impact.

Kammy was watching the whole battle from the castle. "If this goes on, we are going to lose." Kammy said before she faced one of the soldiers. "Its time to use plan Big B! Get that bob-omb out there now!" Kammy yelled as the soldier went running to the entrance of the castle. There was a cage just outside the entrance. The guard went on the cage and opened the gate above. The Mario Bros and the Strawhats stopped fighting as they saw something coming out of it.

It was a Bomb-omb, only it was huge and it was also pink. It was running to the Strawhats and The Mario bros, but it moved so slow, an ordinary turtle could outrun it. "Woah, that's a BIG bomb." Usopp said amazed.

"That is-a Bomb-urlk, It is-a way more powerful than-a regular bob-ombs and has-a shorter fuse. We can-a easily avoid it since it is-a very slow." Mario said.

"Heh, that is so sad. They think we are stupid enough to attack a bomb that big, only a retard would that." Franky said.

Everyone then realized on what Franky just said, and then immediately put their eyes on Luffy, who was charging at Bomb-urlk with great speed. "I am going to kick your ass!!" Luffy said as he was about to hit Bomb-urlk.

"NOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOO!" Almost everyone yelled as Luffy hit the Bomb-urlk, which exploded upon receiving a hit. The explosion was massive, as the whole group were sent flying off in different directions.

Yet, somehow, everyone was sent flying directly into different areas of Bowser's castle. Kammy was angry and relieved at the same time.

She is glad that the plan actually worked, while on the other hand they were able to get in the castle anyway.

"What are the odds that they all came crashing down here at the castle?" Kammy said. She then flew off, while riding on her broom. "They wont be able to get out of here alive anyway, since we have our secret weapon." Kammy said before she flew away.

I got a new reviewer YAY! Ahem… anyway this chapter has a lot of battles. Enjoy.

The rescue has begun. After Peach and Nami were captured by Bowser, The Strawhats and the Mario Bros set their journey to rescue them. As they went their way to rescue them, The Strawhats were able to learn more about the culture of the planet as they saw Mario grow larger for a couple of seconds just by touching a big mushroom and also learning about the transportation system, which are big pipes that lead you to one place to another. Anyway, as soon as they reached Bowser's castle, they were welcomed by a fleet of soldiers, and they weren't friendly. The Strawhats and The Mario Bros were doing a good job defeating all of them, until they faced a really big bomb-omb called Bomb-ulk. Nobody was that dumb to attack a bob-omb that size, except for Luffy of course. Luffy hit the bomb-ulk, which exploded upon impact, causing everyone else to fly off in different directions. Now that they separated, has their chances of rescuing Nami and Peach slipped away?

Chapter 9: Battle Frenzy, Zoro VS Wario

The dust from the explosion was still covering up the front gates of Bowser's castle. Luffy and Mario were on the front gates, covered by the dust of the explosion. There were soldiers that were surrounding them outside of the blurry dust, waiting for Luffy and Mario to come out and attack them. Luffy and Mario were just regaining consciousness from the explosion that Luffy caused.

"Mama mia… Luffy, why did you-a have to-a hit the bomb-ulk?" Mario asked.

"Well I thought if I hit it, then it would probably fly straight to the castle, and blow everything up." Luffy said.

"But if even if-a that would-a happen, then your-a friend and-a Peach could have died." Mario said.

"Oh… I haven't thought of that. Well that would probably be bad if that happen then, ha ha." Luffy said, while having a grin on his face.

Mario was shocked to hear that. Either that he thought that Luffy was very crazy or just simply stupid. "Well-a lets forget about that for now-a. We have to-a hurry and-a rescue your friend and-a Peach." Mario said as he was heading out of the dust.

"Yeah those guys are probably running for their lives when they saw us." Luffy said as he also went out of the dust. As the dust cleared they saw a bunch of soldiers surrounding them.

"Usopp was right about-a you, you are-a jinx." Mario said as he saw the group of soldiers in front them.

"There they are! Get them!" Said one of the soldiers as he and the rest attack Luffy and Mario.

"You-a take-a that side and I'll take-a this side." Mario said as he attacked the soldiers in front of them.

"OK! RAAAAAAAAAH!" Luffy yelled as he attacked the soldiers on his side.

Mario jumped on each and every one of them. As soon he landed on the ground, he took out his hammer and swung it horizontally at an armored Koopa, causing the Koopa to fly backwards, crashing anybody in the way in the process. Mario then threw a fireball in the air and as soon as it got down, Mario hit it with his hammer, and the fireball spreaded forward to the group of soldiers, knocking them away.

Suddenly, three koopas wearing regular helmets stood in front of Mario. One of them started to throw hammers at Mario. Mario dodged it and countered by throwing his own hammer at him, successfully knocking him out. The second koopa started to throw boomerangs at Mario, but he was able to dodge them. Mario then ran at the boomerang koopa and gave him a strong punch to the face, causing him to fly off the front gate.

The third koopa started to breath out fireballs. Mario didn't see it coming, so his rear got hit by a fireball. "MAMA-MIA! ITS-A HOT!!" Mario cried as he ran in circles with his overalls on fire. Mario then grabbed his hat and and started to hit the fire with it. As the fire died down, Mario looked at the fire koopa, who was breathing out another fire ball at him. Mario jumped over it this time and went to land on the fire koopas head.

"ICE-A STOMP!" Mario boots turned to ice and once he landed on the fire koopa, he completey turned to ice. After Mario has frozed the fire koopa, He saw more soldiers coming straight at him. Mario then rushed to his hammer and picked it up. He then ran to the frozen Koopa and hit him with his hammer. This caused the frozen soldier to fly straight to the charging soldiers, crashing into them in the process.

Luffy was doing a good job at beating up his side of soldiers as well. "GOMU GOMU NO WHIP!!" Luffy did a horizontal kick while his leg was stretched out, hitting almost everyone in front of him. He than ran at the soldiers who was still standing. "GOMU GOMU GATLING GUN!" Luffy rapidly punches everyone else that was standing in front of him. Luffy thought he finished beating up everyone, or so he thought.

The next thing that stood in front of him were what looked like Koopas, only that they were skeletons. "Walking skeletons?" Luffy said before one of them pulled out a bone from its body and threw it to Luffy, which he dodged. "You want to fight!? Hyaaaaaah!" Luffy yelled as he threw a fist at one of them and shatter it to pieces, unfortunately for Luffy, the one that got hit to pieces pulled himself back together.

"Huh?" Luffy said before one of the of the skeleton koopas, or dry bones which they are called, started to charge at Luffy. "GOMU GOMU NO GATLING GUN!!" Luffy rapidly punches every dry bones in sight, only for them to pull themselves back together again. Before one of them could fully put itself together, however, Luffy grabbed its head and threw it at it's body, the only problem that is Luffy aimed at its neck, and the head automatically snapped right back to its place.

Luffy then started to think of another way to defeat them, until he came up with another of his so called brilliant ideas. He ran to them and kicked every dry bones in the air "GOMU GOMU NO…" Luffy then entangled his fingers "NET!" Luffy stretched his fingers to form a very big net. He then used it to catch all the dry bones and toss them to the lava outside the castle. Luffy's then went back to their original size.

"Maaaaan, those guys were annoying." Luffy said as Mario ran up to him.

"I don't-a know how you-a did that, but good-a thing that you were able-a to a finish them off-a. Now lets-a hurry inside-a." Mario said as jumped of the gates and into the front yard.

"YOSH, HERE I COME!!" Luffy said while following Mario.

Meanwhile… at the Training room…

The training room was a good place for Bowser's soldier to train (Duh!). The walls were covered in different kind of weapons for the soldiers to practice with, there was a wrestling ring in the middle of the room, and there was a big… hole in the ceiling? The hole was in shape of Usopp and Luigi's figure. They were now regaining consciousness as they were standing on the wrestling ring.

"Mama mia… I never thought he would actually hit it." Luigi said as he was trying to keep balance after the explosion Luffy caused.

"Trust me… It's a lot better to suffer his ways for one day instead of having to deal with him for the rest of your life." Usopp said as he began to look at his surroundings. "What is this place anyway?"

"This must be a place for Bowser's soldiers to train." Luigi said, as he obviously repeated the last thing I said earlier.

"This place is enormous." Usopp said, amazed. Suddenly the doors burst open as soldiers were barging in the room.

"Intruders! Seize them!!" Said one soldier as he and everyone else went into the ring and started to attack.

"WAAAAAAAAAAH!!!" Usopp and Luigi cried in unison as they started to run in circles around the ring, followed by Bowser's soldiers. Usopp then felt courage building inside of him.

"Why am I running?" Usopp said as he continued to run to the top rope of the ring. "I'll show them not to mess with Captain Usopp!" Usopp said as jumped on the top rope and did a back flip on the soldiers, only for them to catch him and toss him out of the ring as Usopp crashed face first into the floor.

"Oh no." Luigi said as he then turned around and faced the soldiers. "GYAAAAAAAH!" Luigi yelled as he ran straight to the soldiers while swinging his arms with his eyes closed.

Luigi was actually knocking out every soldier in front of him. Luigi opened his eyes to see the soldiers all knocked out. "Oh, I guess I don't know my own strength." Luigi said, while doing a few flexes. A few hammer koopas then came in the room and started to throw hammers at Luigi, who didn't notice that they came in. The hammers were about to hit Luigi, until the hammers were shot down by Usopp.

"HISSATSU BOSHI!" Usopp then fired at the hammer koopas, knocking them out. Luigi then got back to his senses.

"Mama mia! Thank you, Usopp." Luigi said.

"Don't mention it! There is not a single soul that dares to defeat CAAAPTAAAAAAAAAAIIIIIIIN…" Before Usopp could finish his sentence, a rather fat Koopa came barging in the room.

"What in tarnation is going on here?" The fat koopa asked. He then looked at Usopp and Luigi. "Well well, you must be those darn kids that trying to kidnap the ladies from the boss. Allow me to introduce myself, I am Grubba, former chairman of the Glitz pit arena." Grubba said.

"You must be that guy that used the crystal star to drain the energy from powerful warriors and use it for your own selfish reasons." Luigi said, as he remembered Mario talking about that.

"And I would have still be doing that, if it wasn't for that meddling plumber." Grubba said with his fists clenched with anger. "That no good stinkin varmit took everything from me, and now I feel like beating the heck out of you two just for the heck of it." Grubba said as he went into the ring. Usopp then got back in the ring, with his feet shaking in fear.

"Y-You think you can defeat us? You are clearly outnumbered." Usopp said while aiming at Grubba.

"A handicap match, huh? Well that would be just fine then. You guys will be the first to witness the power of my new health drink." Grubba said as he took out what looked like a health drink from his pocket. He than drank the whole thing and tossed it away as Grubba started to grow bigger and buffer. Grubba was now three times bigger than he usually was and his muscles were more buff, and his skin has changed from purple to orange.

Usopp and Luigi hugged in fear to Grubba's new look. "Now I feel like when I was in the good old days, like when I defeated the strongest opponent to get the world heavyweight championship like a true man. Not like some long, blonde hair guy that uses a stupid briefcase that gives him a title shot whenever he wants to, and uses it right at the moment after the champ is all weakened by an overweighted bimbo, and then easily pins him to win the title like the filthy coward he is." Grubba said as he remembered seeing that a week ago from a wrestling show.

As soon as Grubba finished talking, Usopp was aiming at him "Take this! HISSATSU BOSHI!!" Usopp shot a pellet at Grubba, but it simply bounced off of Grubba.

"I didn't even felt that." Grubba said, while flexing.

"Damn! Luigi give him an uppercut or something!" Usopp said.

"Me? oh well… OK." Luigi said as he ran at Grubba and gave him an uppercut, but Grubba didn't even flinch.

"I had stronger blows from a baby." Grubba said before he smacked Luigi out of the way. Usopp was confused on why Luigi's uppercut didn't work. Sure, Grubba was huge, but if that uppercut could damage Sanji, then it would surely would have damaged Grubba.

"Luigi, whats wrong? How come you didnt hit him so hard." Usopp asked as Luigi was getting back up on his feet.

"Oh, I forgot to tell you that my powerful hits only have a 2 percent chance of coming through." Luigi said ashamedly.

"WELL NOW WE KNOW WE ARE DOOMED!" Usopp yelled as he barely dodged Grubba's fist. As Usopp dodged Grubba's fist, Usopp then aimed at Grubba. "HISSATSU TAMAGOBOSHI!!" Usopp shot a rotten egg at Grubba at his face.

"-cough-… What is that stench?" Grubba asked, while trying to blow the stench away. As Grubba was distracted, Luigi took out his hammer, and hit Grubba's head with it.

"OOOOOF!" Grubba cried as he got hit in the head hard. Grubba then got angry. "I'VE HAD ENOUGH OF YOU VARMITS TRYIN TO GET THE BEST OUT OF ME!" Grubba exclaimed as he jumped on the turnbuckle. "GRUBBASAULT!" Grubba did a backflip and was about to land on Usopp and Luigi with his belly, until they ran out of the ring. When Grubba landed, the whole ring went down to pieces. Grubba got up and couldn't see Usopp and Luigi anywhere.

"Now where did those guys go?" Grubba asked. Suddenly, Usopp popped out of the remains of the ring and aimed at Grubba.

"Now you will see the potential of our strength! HISSATSU KAEN BOSHI!" Usopp fired a flaming pellet at Grubba's face, and as he got hit, Grubba face then got caught on fire.

"MY FACE!!" Grubba cried in agony as he ran in circles. Luigi then ran to a wall with his hammer and jumped on it.

"SPRING JUMP!!" Luigi jumped off the wall with great speed and headed straight to Grubba.

"What the!?" Grubba gasped as he turned to see Luigi, only to get hit in the face really hard which caused him to fly straight back to the wall. Grubba then fell back down to the ground, unconsciously. Luigi then put his hammer away and ran to Usopp with joy.

"We did it!" Luigi said.

"Heh, I knew we could defeat him all along." Usopp said, while his feet were shaking in fear.

"Well, let's get going! Nami and Peach are waiting for us!" Luigi said as he walked out of the training room.

"I'm right behind you." Usopp said as he was about to leave too, until he heard something behind him. Usopp looked back and saw Grubba barely getting up.

"Damn… you…" Grubba said as he was still getting up. Fearfully, Usopp took out his tiny hammer and ran to Grubba to…

"USOPP HAMMER, USOPP HAMMER, USOPP HAMMER, USOPP HAMMER, USOPP HAMMER, USOPP HAMMER, USOPP HAMMER, USOPP HAMMER, USOPP HAMMER, USOPP HAMMER, USOPP WAGUMO, USOPP HAMMER, USOPP HAMMER, USOPP HAMMER, USOPP HAMMER, USSOP HAMMER, USOPP HAMMER, USOPP HAMMER, USSSSOOOOPP HAAAAMMMMERRRR." Usopp hit Grubba's head 19 times with a hammer and 1 time with a rubberband.

Usopp was exhausted after doing all that, as he saw Grubba with a mountain of bumps on his head.

"Phew… You are finally down." Usopp said. Luigi then got back in the room.

"Usopp, whats taking you so long?" Luigi asked.

"Hold your horses, I am coming already." Usopp said before he and Luigi left the room, leaving the completely unconscious Grubba alone.

Meanwhile… near Bowser's throne room…

Zoro got up after suffering one Luffy's methods of strategies. "That idiot… attacking a bomb. Well anyway, I should find this Bowser guy and I can finish this quickly. Let's see… this way." Zoro said as he went the opposite direction of the throne room which he was just in front of a second ago. You guys will probably know the rest, so lets get back to him later.

Meanwhile… in some other part of the castle…

"AARGH, that moron!!" Franky yelled as he was running through the hallways with Chopper hanging on his shoulder.

"Do you think the others are okay?" Chopper asked.

"Don't worry about them, they can handle themselves. Right now we have to find a way out of here." Franky said as he continued to run. He then saw a door straight ahead of him.

"Maybe Nami and Peach are in there." Chopper said, while pointing at the door.

"Well, let's see. STRONG RIGHT!" Franky shatters the door in pieces and he went through it to enter the kitchen. There were two refrigerators, one for meat and one for drinks. There were a lot of kitchen stuff that Sanji might like, but Franky wasn't paying attention to that. He was paying attention to a big purplish koopa with his tongue sticking out. "What the heck is this stupid looking thing." Franky asked.

"TUBBA BLUBBA!" replied the creature, while a lot of spit came out of his mouth.

"I think that's its name." Chopper said, while getting off of Franky's shoulder.

"Heh, it looks like it wants of piece of us. You stay here gorilla, I will take care of him." Franky said as he walked to Tubba Blubba.

"I am not a gorilla, I am a reindeer." Chopper said as he saw Franky going to his boxing position.

"FRANKY BOXING!" Franky punches rapidly at Tubba Blubba, but Tubba Blubba countered by licking Franky. "Eww, You sick pervert." Franky said as he was about to attack again, but could barely move. "What the hell!?" Franky then noticed the saliva on him.

"That saliva must be so sticky, that if anybody touches, it wont get off for a while." Chopper said as he was seeing Franky's situation.

Tubba Blubba then went to tackle Franky. "GOOAAA." Franky cried in pain as he crashed into a sink. When he crashed, the water from the sink spewed out and showered Franky. He then got up, moving normally again. "Haa, What are you going to do now huh? I ain't sticky anymore." Franky said. Tubba Blubba somehow extended his tongue and swung it horizontally at Franky, but Franky grabbed it just in time.

"Now this is going to hurt you more than its going to hurt me!" Franky said as he tossed Tubba Blubba to other side of the room by his tongue. Franky then took off the skin of his right hand to reveal a green fist made of pure steel. Tubba Blubba got up and started to charge at Franky. "STRONG HAMMER!" Franky hit Tubba Blubba with his right hand, causing a bright glow from Tubba Blubba's abdomen, after the glow faded, Tubba Blubba went crashing back to place he was tossed to.

"Awesome!" Chopper said, amazed at Franky.

"Ha ha ha ha, I ain't some ordinary chump y'know. Huh?" Franky then saw Tubba Blubba getting up again. "I got to say, you can definitely take a punch." Franky said as he was about to hit Tubba Blubba again, until his hair started to lose its shape. "Damn it, I am running out of cola!" Franky said before he turned to Chopper. "You know the drill; get to that fridge and give me three bottles of cola." Franky said while pointing at the fridge.

"Okay." Chopper said, as ran to the fridge. In the mean time, Franky had to deal with Tubba Blubba, who was slowly getting close to him.

"STRONG HAMMER!" Franky ran to Tubba Blubba and hit him, only it wasn't as powerful as it was before, as it only made Tubba Blubba to take a few steps back. Tubba Blubba then gave a headbutt at Franky, causing him to fall to the ground. "Ow, come on gorilla, I need those colas." Franky yelled.

"Hold on!" Chopper said as he opened the fridge to see a bunch of bottles with labeled mushrooms with different colors. Chopper couldn't tell which was which, so he grabbed three bottles with the red mushroom label on it. "Franky!" Chopper cried as he tossed the bottles to Franky. Franky shoved Tubba Blubba back and saw the three bottles coming to him.

"Thanks!" Franky yelled as he jumped in the air and catches them.

Franky then opened his stomach to reveal three empty bottles of cola in it. He took them out and then he put the new bottles he got inside his stomach, he then closes his stomach as Franky started to receive a lot of energy.

"MmmmmmmmmmMMMMMMMMMM… MAMA MIAAAAAAAAAAA!" Franky yelled while putting his hands in the air as red steam started to come out of his body.

Chopper and Tubba Blubba were kinda curious on what is going to happen next. As Franky landed, he faced at Tubba Blubba, while doing an exaggerated smile. There was also something different about his hair, instead of having the usual Elvis/Ace Ventura look, it was now has a mushroom shape style of hair. Franky then pointed at Tubba Blubba. "Its-a me, Franky! I am-a going to give you such-a beating." Franky said with an italian accent, before he jumped on Tubba Blubba.

Meanwhile… at the dungeons…

Sanji and Robin were avoiding the cannon fire that were coming in front of them. "Stand back, Robin-chwan, let me be the one to take the hit for you." Sanji said as he kicked away the oversized bullets away.

"What strange projectiles. The bullets have eyes and little arms." Robin said.

"FIRE!" said a soldier as his men shot at Sanji and Robin again. Sanji jumped and stomped on the bullets, destroying them.

"Lets end this now, OCHO FLEUR." Arms then sprouted out of the cannon, which surprised the soldiers. The arms at the bottom of the cannon pushed the floor, causing the cannon to flip in the opposite direction it was facing. The cannons were now facing at the soldiers, the hands then pulled the string of the cannon causing it to fire at the soldiers and the wall behind them. After the dust cleared out, They saw a cage hanging from the ceiling with two familiar figures in it.

"THERE THEY ARE!! NAMI-SAN AND PEACH-SAN!!!!" Sanji exclaimed in joy as he and Robin ran to them.

Back with Zoro…

"I guess I went the wrong way." Zoro said. He was now back at the front gates of Bowser's castle… again. "This castle is like a maze. Oh well, Guess I'll had back in." Zoro said as he was about to head back it the castle until…

"THERE YOU ARE!" Zoro turned around to see who was calling him. He could see something approaching at a very fast rate. He was riding a motorcycle and he had a zigzagged mustache.

"Huh? You are…" There was no doubt about it; It was the man that he got the sword from. It was Wario. Wario was riding his motorcycle straight at Zoro with a furious look.

"I finally found you, you stupid green octopus head!!" Wario yelled. As soon as he said that though, he started to lose control of his motorcycle. "Oh no, not again!" Wario cried as he went by Zoro and crashed into a big rock. Wario then got up all frustrated, while Zoro was looking at him pitifully.

"Do you want something? I am kinda busy." Zoro said.

"SHUT UP, you no good theif!" Wario yelled.

"Theif? What are you talking about? I bought this sword with all the money I got, I don't know why you are so mad at me for." Zoro said, while showing off the sword he bought from Wario.

"DON'T GIVE ME THAT GARBAGE!! You still owe me 999,999,949 coins, buster!! Now, pay up, or feel my wrath!" Wario exclaimed as he was cracking his knuckles.

Zoro took out his three swords, ready to fight. "Well, I guess I could just hang around a bit."

Wario ran at Zoro and threw a fist at him. Zoro blocked it with his swords, but almost lost his balance due to the force of the blow. "The hell? His punches are devastating." Zoro said as he blocked another fist by Wario. Wario continued to punch Zoro, until Zoro was at the edge of the road, which below lies a pool of lava.

"Take this." Wario said as he did a headbutt, but Zoro jumped over him. As Zoro was in midair, Wario turned around and grabbed Zoro's feet. He then started to spin faster than a pinwheel on a windy day. "WILD SWING DING!" Wario then tossed Zoro to the big rock where Wario crashed earlier. Although, this time, when Zoro crashed to the rock, it shattered to pieces. "Have a rotten day!" Wario said as he was about to leave, until he saw Zoro getting up.

"Eh? You want some more?" Wario asked. Zoro then grabbed the bandana that was on his left arm, and wrapped it on his head.

"I have to admit, I thought you were some pushover. But I guess taking you on wasn't such a bad idea." Zoro said as he was he hold his swords hands in the air near his head.

"Wah ha ha ha! Then I'll finish you off right here!" Wario exclaimed as he charged at Zoro.

"USHI BARI!" Zoro charges at Wario, slashing rapidly at him. Wario tried to block it with his fists, but he still got hit all over his body. Wario then jumped back and curled into a ball and then started to roll straight at Zoro. Zoro ran to a castle wall and jumped on it and did a back flip, while Wario crashed into it. Wario got up and lifted a rock twice his size, and threw it to Zoro.

Zoro slashed the rock to pieces, but was unaware that Wario was flying straight at him, while in his ball position. "CORKSCREW CONK!" Wario crashed into Zoro, which made him fall back a few feet to the ground. Zoro got back up to see Wario trying to shoulder barge him.

"TORA GARI!" did a downward slash at Wario, causing him to fall down in pain.

"WAAAAH!" Wario yelled furiously as he got up angrily and went for Zoro again.

Zoro charged at Wario as well, "ONI GIRI!" Zoro did a very fast slash, but somehow, Wario was able to jump over it. As Zoro was under Wario, Wario did a 360 degree flip in the air and went to smash Zoro with his rear, but Zoro was able to avoid it. Zoro then went to slash Wario from behind, But Wario rolled out of the way, and then ran at Zoro trying to tackle him, only for Zoro to jump on his head and land back at the ground.

Wario then quickly went to Zoro and grabbed him. He then flipped him around and jumped in the air while spinning horizontally. "PILEDRIVER." Wario went down to the ground, as Zoro landed on his head really hard. Wario then got up, to check to see if Zoro was dead or not. To his surprise, Zoro got up, almost slashing Wario's head off. Zoro was barely able to keep focus as his head started to bleed.

Wario was in bad shape as well. His body was now filled with cuts, but nothing life threatening. As a moment of silence passed by, Zoro and Wario charged at eachother once again. Wario threw a fist at Zoro, but he dodged it and started to spin. "TOU ROU NAGASHI!" Zoro subsequently slashed Wario at his abdomen.

"OWOWOWOWOWOWOW!" Wario cried in pain. Wario then grabbed Zoro's left arm and lifted him up.

"MEGA TOSS!" Wario tossed Zoro to the front gates, but Zoro was able to land on the wall with his feet and jump back at Wario.

"SANTORYU HYOU: KINTAMA!" Zoro then started to spin very quickly with his swords spread out, and headed straight to Wario like a missile. Wario couldn't dodge it, so he ran to Zoro, trying to shoulder barge him. Zoro and Wario then collided with eachother, causing a big explosion.

Zoro and Wario flew crashed to the ground after the explosion they caused. They then got up and started to charge eachother again. Zoro was rapidly slashing at Wario, while Wario was punching Zoro rapidly. Their attacks started to become a blur, as everything around them either got slashed or shattered to pieces, But Zoro and Wario didn't even seem to notice.

Zoro and Wario continue to attack eachother like crazy. Wario was able to land a few punches on Zoro's face, while Zoro was able to slash Wario a bit. Wario was getting exhausted of punching as he was starting to slow down, while Zoro's swords started to catch on fire. As Wario slowed down, he then got a barrage of cuts around his body. Zoro then stopped slashing and went into a crouching position.

"YAKI ONI GIRI!" Zoro slashed through Wario with blades on fire. Wario cuts then got on fire.

"HOTHOTHOTHOTHOTHOTHOTHOT!" Wario screams as he was running around in circles. He then jumped on the ground and started to roll over uncontrollably, until the fire died down. Wario then got up and looked furiously at Zoro. "THAT'S IT!! I HAVE HAD ENOUGH OF YOU! NOW ITS TIME FOR YOU TO SEE WHAT I AM TRULY CAPABLE OF!"

Wario then turned around and started to hold his breath. His stomach then started to make some noises and it also started to inflate. Zoro didn't know what he was doing, until he saw a little light coming from Wario's behind.

"He is not serious, is he?" Zoro asked, as the light started to get brighter. Wario then aimed at Zoro with his behind, as he was about to fire.

"WARIO WAFT!!" Wario let out a huge stream of his gas out if his behind.

Wario's gas was so stinky, it was clearly visible. The stream of gas hit Zoro head on, as the gas continued to spread around a 5 foot radius. Wario's pants now has a big hole due to that attack, but Wario didn't care, as he watched his gas spreading everywhere in front of him. "WAH HA HA HA HA! Like I said before, you mess with Wario, then you mess with his gas! WAH HA HA HA HA… HUH?" Wario stopped laughing to see his gas starting to get blown away by something.

"-cough-, -cough-… Whoa!!" Wario gasped as the gas was blowing by him. As the gas completely flew past Wario, he then could see Zoro propelling his swords at an incredible rate. Zoro pupils were rolled at the back of his head, as he looked at Wario furiously while continuing to propel his swords.

"SANTORYU…" Zoro said with a very pissed off voice.

"What the… that is not possible!!" Wario gasped, as he started to get afraid of Zoro.

"SANSEN SEKAI!!" Zoro stopped propelling his swords and slashed through Wario faster than the speed the light.

"WAAAA AAAA AAAA AAAAAH!!!" Wario cried in pain as he got hit and flew higher than the size of the castle and straight back at the ground. "Eh… you… win." Wario said before he lost consciousness. Zoro took off the bandana on his head and strapped it back around his left arm.

"-sigh-… You fought well." Zoro said, as he put his swords away and ran back to the castle.

Mario Pt 9

So how about that update of Super Smash Bros Brawl now getting daily updates? It's pretty something right? Anyway, here is the next chapter, enjoy.

Rescuing people isn't easy. The Strawhats and the Mario Bros went to Bowser's castle to rescue Nami and Peach. Luffy hit a bomb-ulk that made everyone separate from eachother. Everyone were facing battles that seemed to be impossible to survive from, but they manage to stay alive. Zoro went looking for Bowser only to get out of the castle. Zoro then encountered with the man that he bought his new sword from, Wario. After an argument, Zoro and Wario fought in a tremendous battle. Despite Wario using his "Deadliest Weapon", Zoro was able to survive it and defeated Wario afterwards. The Strawhats and the Mario Bros seemed to be handling things pretty well, but can they keep it up?

Chapter 10: Rescuing Nami and Peach, Bowser's strongest force

Bowser was sitting in his throne impatiently as a huge ruckus was going on outside. "The heck is going on out there?" Bowser asked, as he got up and was about to go outside until Kammy came in the room.

"Your filthyness, the Mario Bros and those pirates were able to get in the castle." Kammy said. Bowser simply laughed after hearing that.

"What are you so worried about? I am prepared this time. Besides, I have a stronger fleet this time around." Bowser said as he sat back down on his chair.

"Well sir, I am sorry for me to say this, but I received a message that Grubba has been defeated by Luigi and the guy with the long nose."

Kammy said, as a koopa could be seen flying away from the windows. Bowser then got angry.

"Pinocchio is still alive!? Hmm… these guys are stronger than I thought. Well no matter; its not like that they know were to find Peach and the crazy orange head girl anyway, so there is still nothing to worry about." Bowser said as he started to relax again.

"About that sir, I have received another report that a blonde man with a curly eyebrow and a woman with a very hot smexy looking body are heading towards the room were Peach and the crazy orange head girl are being held." Kammy said, as an explosion happened outside, but Bowser and Kammy didn't care.

"ALREADY!? Man, these guys are fast. Well that doesn't matter anyway since… Wait a minute, did you just say smexy?" Bowser asked curiously.

"I know sir, it's the reporter who writes these things down. Its hard to find good writers these days." Kammy said, as another explosion occurred, but once again, Bowser and Kammy didnt care.

"He does this for free, so I am okay with it." Bowser said, as another guy started to fly off. "Anyway, even if they did get to them, they will have to get through my new pet that I got from Mt. Lavalava, and it won't be easy getting through him. Gwa ha ha ha ha!" Bowser laughed as yet another explosion happened, only this time, Bowser and Kammy noticed it. "-sigh-… I told you that putting a bob-omb storage under the throne room was a bad idea, now its starting to annoy me. I can't imagine what would happen if an explosion were to happen here. After this is over, you are to change that room from bombs to Peach merchandise, got it?" Bowser asked, as Kammy nodded after that. She then was about to leave until she remembered something.

"Should I also put those unofficial adult rated pictures of Peach in there too?" Kammy asked.

"KAMMY! DON'T MENTION THAT OUTLOUD AND GET OUT OF HERE ALREADY!" Bowser exclaimed as Kammy left the room.

Meanwhile… back with Franky and Chopper…

"LETS-A GO!" Franky exclaimed as he jumps on Tubba's head. Tubba Blubba tried to run from Franky, but Franky still continues to jump on Tubba's head.

"Wow, I never thought Franky would be this energetic from drinking something that isn't cola. I should probably get another bottle just in case." Chopper said as he opened the fridge again and randomly picks another bottle, only this time it was one with pink mushroom label on it.

Franky stopped jumping on Tubba's head and landed on the floor. He then grabbed Tubba Blubba's tail and then started to spin. "Time for-a you to fly-a!" Franky released Tubba's tail, which made Tubba Blubba crash into the wall. Tubba Blubba slowly got up, feeling a little scared of Franky now. "Mama mia, you dont-a give up-a, do you?" Franky asked as he was walking towards Tubba Blubba.

"Now its-a time to-a finish you. FRANKY GROUND POUND!" Franky jumps high in the air until he was over Tubba Blubba. Tubba Blubba then crouched down, while putting his hands on his head, ready for impact. Franky then did a 360 flip while in the air, and went straight down like comet, intending to smash Tubba Blubba with his rear. Unfortunately for Franky, he landed on one of Tubba Blubba's spikes and since he landed with his rear…

"GWAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AHHH!!!!!" Franky cried, as he was went flying in the air while holding his rear as he crashed to the ceiling. He then fell down back to the ground. As he got up, his hair was back down again. He then looked at Chopper angrily. "YOU STUPID FURRY!!" yells Franky as he threw the bottle that was in him at Chopper, which almost hit him.

"GYAAAAAAAH!" Chopper cried as the bottle shattered to pieces. Franky's eyes then popped out of his head.

"DO I LOOK LIKE A GUY THAT SAYS 'MAMA MIA' ALL THE TIME!?!? GIVE ME SOME COLA!!" Franky yelled uncontrollably.

"It's not my fault! All the bottles look the same. Here try these." Chopper said as he tossed the bottles with the pink mushroom labels on them.

"Thanks!" Franky yelled as he jumped and grabbed the bottles.

He then put them in his stomach. "Yuu uuu uuu uuu uuu uuu umm… OH DEAR, THAT WAS SOOO DELICIOUS!!!" Franky exclaimed while extending both of his pinkies as pink steam came out of him. He then landed on the ground and turned to Chopper and Tubba Blubba with the same exaggerated smile, only the hair is now long like Peach's hair. He also hold a pink parasol with a happy face on it, which came out of nowhere.

"My my, what a beautiful day, I could just take nice walk in the park without a single care in the world." Franky said as some of the background behind him turned to a field of flowers. Chopper was snickering through the whole thing, while Tubba Blubba, who was now standing up, heading straight to Franky. "What are you doing, you foul creature you, get away from me!" Franky said, as he was running away from Tubba Blubba like a sissy.

As soon as Tubba Blubba was able to lay a finger on Franky. Franky then turned around Immediately. "YOU PERVERT!" He yelled as he hit Tubba Blubba in the face with the parasol. Tubba Blubba felt a little dazed, but soon recovered as he went to chase Franky again. Franky then started to cry "WHY DON'T YOU LEAVE ME ALONE!? WAAAAAAAAAAAAAAH!!!" Franky cried, as huge streams of tears came out of his eyes.

The tears poured out so much, that the room started to flood. Tubba Blubba got showered by Franky's tears, the current was so strong, he was washed back to the wall. Franky then stopped crying and started to feel relieved that Tubba Blubba was at the end of the room. He then looked at the floor, which was completely covered by Franky's tears. "Oh my, I guess I overdid it." Franky said.

After seeing what Franky did, Chopper then started to laugh uncontrollably. Franky then looked at Chopper and did a gentle smile. "Tee hee, what is so funny?" Franky asked. Chopper then stopped laughing and looked at Franky.

"Franky, are you feeling okay?" Chopper asked, now a little freaked out of Franky's mood.

"Why of course little one, why wouldn't I be?" asks Franky as he got closer to Chopper. "I mean, why wouldn't I feel okay knowing that you are still… ALIVE!!!" yells Franky as he was now back to normal self. He then threw the bottles that were in him and threw him to Chopper, almost hitting him again.

"GYAAAAAAAAH!" Chopper cried as the bottles shattered to pieces. Franky's eyes then popped out if his head again.

"YOU ARE SO DEAD AFTER THIS GORILLA!!" Franky yelled as he was shaking the parasol. He then looked at the parasol he was holding and threw it away. "This is your last chance!! Give me three bottles of cola, or you are really going to get it!!!" Franky exclaimed, before Tubba Blubba hit him across the face. Tubba Blubba then gave Franky a body slam. "AAAAAAAAHHHHH!"

"Oh no, I got to find the cola bottles this time, or he's finished." Chopper said before he opened the fridge and grabbed three bottles with a green mushroom label on it. "FRANKY!" Chopper exclaimed before he tossed the bottles to Franky. Franky shoved Tubba Blubba off of him and looked at the bottles coming to him.

"Those better be cola this time!" Franky said before jumping in the air and catching the bottles with his left hand. As Franky was in the air, Tubba Blubba grabbed him with his tongue and threw him across the room.

"FRANKY!" Chopper cried after Franky got thrown away by Tubba Blubba.

As the dust cleared, Franky was seen holding his stomach."Mmmm mmm mmm mmm mmm MMM MMM MMM… SUUUUUUUUUPAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAA!" Franky exclaimed as his hair went back to his usual style. He then looked at Tubba Blubba while raising his fists in front of his face. "Bring it!" Franky said before Tubba Blubba lashed his tongue at Franky. Franky caught it and pulled it back, which caused Tubba to forcefully fly forward.

Franky then punched Tubba at his face, knocking him straight into the ground. Franky then picked him up and got into his boxing position. "FRANKY BOXING!" Franky punches Tubba Blubba's face repeatedly. He then winded up his right arm very quickly. "STRONG HAMMER!" Franky gave a devastating right uppercut to Tubba's chin, which caused him to fly through the ceiling and into the sky.

Franky's left arm then opened up and he started to aim at Tubba in the air. "WEAPONS LEFT!" Franky shot numerous missiles at Tubba Blubba. As soon as the missiles made impact to Tubba Blubba, it caused a huge explosion. After a few seconds, Tubba Blubba crashed back at to the ground, burned to crisp. Franky then put his hand back where it belongs as Chopper ran to him.

"You did it Franky! You beat him!" Chopper said happily.

"I knew I would." Franky said while putting his skin back at his right hand. "Anyway we should probably get going." Franky said as he and Chopper were about to leave the room, until Franky looked at Chopper. "And one more thing, the whole girly thing that happened earlier… NEVER HAPPENED!!" Franky yelled, as he looked at Chopper threateningly.

"WOAH! OKAY!" Chopper said nervously as he and Franky left the kitchen.

Meanwhile… back with Sanji and Robin…

"NAMI-SWWWWAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAN!!! PEACH-SAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAN!!!" Sanji exclaimed happily as he and Robin ran into the room were Nami and Peach were being held. Nami looked out of the cage to see Sanji tap dancing with joy and Robin who was still in her usual mood.

"Sanji-kun! Robin!" Nami said, relieved that she and Peach are finally getting rescued. Peach also looked at them and was also relieved that they were here as well.

"Sanji! Robin! Thank goodness you are okay." Peach said, as he saw Sanji's visible eye turn into a big heart.

"PEACH-SAN, YOU AND NAMI-SAN LOOK SO VERY BEAUTIFUL WHEN YOU ARE TRAPPED IN A CAGE THAT IS IN ANOTHER CAGE WHICH IS IN ANOTHER CAGE THAT IS HANGING FROM THE CEILING FROM THE POOL OF LAVA THAT IS DOWN BELOW YOU." Sanji said joyfully.

"Shut up, and get us down from here already!!!" Nami yelled.

Sanji then stopped tap dancing and looked at his surroundings. "Hmm… even if we do know how to get them out of the cage, it would be hard just trying to get them over here." Sanji said, as he looked at the pool of lava. Robin then noticed a lever at the other end of the room. "Perhaps if we pull that lever, it could make the cage go to solid ground." Robin said, while pointing at it.

"Oh, Robin-chwan, you are so beautiful when you tell me what we should do!" Sanji said, joyfully before he heard a laughter behind him.

"Nyeah heh heh heh, so you thought you could save Peach and the crazy orange head girl did you? Well that won't happen as long as I am here." said a mysterious figure as she flew past Robin and Sanji and went right next to the cage.

"Kammy!" Peach gasped.

Nami then started to get really angry. "You are the old hag that stopped me from killing that coin destroying loser!! Give me back my Perfect Clima Tact, so I can hit you with it!" Nami yelled as she was shaking the cage furiously, while Peach was looking at Nami nervously.

"Nyeah heh heh heh heh! Anyway you people should just leave while you still have the chance." Kammy said, while Sanji was taking out a cigarette.

Sanji then lit the cigarette and put it in his mouth. "As a man, I should always put my life on the line to save the ones that are in danger. And it will bring me great pride and honor to save two beautiful women that are trapped in a cage that is in another cage which is in another cage that is hanging from the ceiling from the pool of lava that is below them." Sanji said, with pure determination in his eyes.

"Keep dreaming, because you will never save Peach and the crazy orange head girl from the cage that is in another cage which is in another cage that is hanging from the ceiling from the pool of lava that is below them, as you will have to get past through Bowser's little pet. Come out, Lava Piranha!" Kammy yelled, as the pool of Lava started to bubble. A big flower with nothing but a big mouth emerged out of the lava with two smaller flowers with tinier mouths.

"You don't have to yell, I could hear you just fine." said the big piranha plant.

"Whatever, anyway allow me to introduce you to Lava Piranha, Bowser's new pet." Kammy said.

"For the last time, I am not a pet. I am the new guard of the cage that is in another cage which is in another cage that is hanging from the ceiling from the pool of lava below it." Lava Piranha said. Kammy then got angry.

"I don't care who you are, just do your job and get rid of these guys!" Kammy said while pointing at Sanji and Robin.

Robin observed Lava Piranha, not really amazed. Sanji then took a first step towards Lava Piranha. "I don't care how big or monstrous you are, I will defeat you, and rescue Nami-swan and Peach-san from the cage that is in another cage which is in another cage that is hanging from the ceiling from the pool of lava below it." Sanji said, while looking at Lava Piranha threateningly.

"Ha ha ha ha ha! I admire your courage and stupid attempts to defeat me, as you will now suffer from the new guard of the cage that is in another cage which is in…"

"WILL YOU TWO JUST SHUT UP AND FIGHT ALREADY!!!!" Nami yelled, as she was now annoyed by the running gag that was going on.

"Grr… fine then, time for you two to get burned!!" Lava Piranha exclaimed as the two tiny piranhas next to him lunged at Sanji and Robin.

Sanji and Robin dodged the incoming piranhas as the piranhas crashed to the floor, making a small crack on it. Sanji then kicked the tiny piranha to Lava Piranha's face, while Robin started to observe the fight. "Ow!" Lava Piranha cried as he got hit in the face by the tiny piranha. He then looked at Sanji and spat a fireball at him, but Sanji backflipped to avoid it. He then ran straight to the lever, but a big yellow block with eyes fell down out of nowhere and blocked the way to the lever.

"Nyeh heh heh heh! Do you think I was just going to let you do what you want?" Kammy asked as she cast a thunderbolt at Sanji, but he was able to dodge it on time. Sanji then tried to run to the side of the room that wasn't blocked, only for Lava Piranha to spit out a big fireball at the corner of the room that Sanji was heading. Sanji was now trapped between the wall of fire and the big yellow block as Lava Piranha lunged at Sanji.

Sanji jumped on Lava Piranha's head and the jumped to the cage. "DON'T WORRY NAMI-SWAN AND PEACH-SAN! AS SOON AS I DEFEAT THAT STUPID FLOWER, I WILL GET YOU OUT OF HERE!" Sanji yelled, joyfully before he jumped back to the ground to face Lava Piranha again. Lava Piranha dove in on Sanji again as Sanji ran to him. "COLLIER SHOOT!!" Sanji thrusted his right foot sideways at Lava Piranha's chin.

"GAAAAAAAAAH!" Lava Piranha cried in agony as the force of the kick made him go back into the pool of lava along with the two other tiny piranhas. Sanji then threw his cigarette in the lava as a sign of disrespect.

"That will teach you not to mess with the prince." Sanji said as he walked to the lever, until he saw Kammy laughing.

"Nyeh heh heh heh heh! You think its over?" Kammy asked before the pool of lava started to bubble again.

Lava Piranha and his little piranhas came out again, only that their heads are on fire. "NOW THINGS ARE GOING TO GET A LITTLE HOTTER AROUND HERE!! HA HA HA HA HA!!!" Lava Piranha laughed, insanely as Sanji was not intimidated.

"Guess this will take a while." Sanji said before going straight to Lava Piranha.

Meanwhile… Back with Usopp and Luigi…

"RUUUUUUUUUUUUUUUUUUUUUUUUUN!!!" Usopp and Luigi screamed at the same time as they were running away from a group of dry bones. "HOW IN THE WORLD DO SKELETONS WALK!?" Usopp asked as he ducked under a bone that dry bone threw.

"ME AND MY BROTHER ALWAYS ENCOUNTERED THESE GUYS, BUT WE NEVER KNEW THE ANSWER TO THAT QUESTION!" Luigi yelled in response to Usopp's question as he also ducked under a bone.

After they defeated Grubba in the training room, Usopp and Luigi were running around the whole castle from things that aren't even that scary. They finally went into the room in front of them, and grabbed a huge pile of planks nearby, and nailed then to the door less than five seconds. "Phew… finally some piece and quiet." Usopp said as he and Luigi sat on the ground, exhausted of running all over the place.

"Oh boy… this place is more guarded than the last time I got here." Luigi said while grabbing his hat and waved it at his face.

"Hey Luigi, how many times did Peach get captured anyway?" Usopp asked while panting.

"Hmmm… probably about…" before Luigi could answer, he could see something moving on the ceiling. It then went straight down to smash Usopp and Luigi, only for them to barely dodge it.

They looked to see what attacked them. It appeared to be a squared block with spikes all over it, and also had a big grumpy face on it. "WHA-WHAT IS THAT!?" Usopp asked. After he asked that there was another one coming down at them, but they jumped out of the way as well.

"LETS GET OUT OF HERE!" Luigi cried as more of them started to fall down at them. Usopp and Luigi ran through the nearest door and closing it quickly.

"That was close." Usopp said before he looked at his surroundings. They seem to be at a long, narrow hallway that seemed endless.

"Great, now we have to walk through this place." Usopp said, before he and Luigi started to walk through the long hallway. At the end of the hallway, their was koopa with binoculars looking at Usopp and Luigi heading his way.

"Captain, the intruders are heading this way." said the koopa with binoculars.

"Excellent, bring out the cannons." The captain said, before two soldiers brought two cannons at the hallway.

"You seem to have experience in doing these kinds of things." Luigi said.

"Well of course I do. I am a pirate after all. I was also known as the daredevil, the man that can do anything." Usopp said while doing a heroic. "Yes, I am the man that always be known as CAAPTAAAAAAAAAAIIIIIIIINNNNN…"

"LOOK OUT!" Luigi yelled.

"Look out? That's not my… NAME!" Usopp gasped as he saw a bullet with eyes and arms called bullet bill coming straight at him. Usopp then moved his hips to the right, as the bullet went passed him. "Where did that come from!?" Usopp asked before he saw another bullet bill coming at him, which he jumped over to avoid.

"There must be someone at the end of this hallway shooting at us." Luigi said as he dodged another bullet bill.

Usopp and Luigi continued to dodge the bullet bills as the captain started to get frustrated. "This is getting nowhere. Bring out the orange cannons." the captain said as the soldiers put away the regular cannons and took out two orange cannons. "FIRE!" The captain yelled as cannons fired orange bullet bills at Usopp and Luigi.

"Huh? OH NO!" Luigi cried as he and Usopp dodged them.

"What? What is so different about those bullets." Usopp asked, as he thought they were just regular bullets only in a different color.

"HURRY, RUN AWAY!" Luigi yelled as he grabbed Usopp's hand and started to run.

"Wait, what is the big deal?" Usopp asked.

"Those bullets won't explode until they hit their target, so they will keep bouncing off of walls until they do." Luigi said, while continue to run.

"Oh, so they bounce back at--OH SHIT!!" Usopp cried as he turned around to see the orange bullet bills that were shot earlier bouncing on every wall they hit as they pursued Usopp and Luigi. They then turned in front of the to see two more orange bullet bills coming straight at them. "HISSATSU BOSHI!" Usopp fired multiple pellets at the the orange bullet bills coming at them, which only made them to bounce in another direction.

They started to get closer to the end of the hallway. "Hmm.. those guys are good, but they wont survive the next one. Let's move out, men!" The captain said as he and his soldiers left the hallway in a hurry. The orange bullet bills were starting to get closer to Usopp and Luigi.

"We're almost there…" Usopp said before he and Luigi jumped through the opened door and closed it.

They then ran away from the door as fast as they could, before a big explosion erupted behind them. "Phew… we made it out on time." Luigi said before he looked at the spiral staircase in front of him.

"Well, it looks like we have to go up. Let's go!" Usopp said as he and Luigi went up the spiral staircase. As they finally reached the end of staircase, they went through a door, which led them outside on the east gate.

"Okay, Peach and Nami should be at the dungeon, which should be right there." Luigi said while pointing at the door far off on the first floor to his right.

"Yosh, how do we get there?" Usopp asked. He then heard laughter in front of him.

"You two survived our onslaught of bullet bills, but can you dodge this one?" The captain with a megaphone said as he pointed to a really big cannon behind him. "Prepare to witness the power of the Banzai Bill. FIRE!!" The captain yelled as a humongous bullet bill came flying out of the cannon. It didn't have arms, but it did have a nasty grin on it. It was ten times bigger than a regular one and it was so wide that it barely covers the whole road of the east gate. Usopp's eyes popped out and his mouth was hanging upon seeing such a big bullet.

"THERE IS NO WAY WE COULD DODGE THAT!! WE'RE DOOMED!!" Luigi yelled as he crouched down while covering his eyes with his hat. Usopp then got back to his senses and looked around to see if there was a way to escape. He then saw a flagpole with Bowser's face that is hanging on another wall on it.

"Luigi, I got an idea!" Usopp said before he pulled out what appears to be a belt with a hole in it, he then put it on and aimed at the flagpole.

"USOPP AAAA aaaa AAAA aaaa AAAA! a grappling hook came out of Usopp's belt and it hooked to the flagpole. "Hold on Luigi!" Usopp said as Luigi grabbed hold on his back. "Here goes… AAAA aaaa AAAA aaaa AAAA!" Usopp screamed while he jumped of the gate and swung across the field as the banzai bill made a huge explosion upon hitting the wall it was heading to.

"WOAWOAWOAWOAWOAWOAWOA!" Luigi cried in fear as he was holding on Usopp for dear life.

"YES, WE MADE IT!!" Usopp exclaimed happily as he and Luigi were heading to the west gate.

"YES, WE ARE ALIVE!!" Luigi exclaimed happily as the swing finally ended, but something was wrong.

"Oh no, I still forgot to put the detaching system in this thing!" Usopp said, as he was trying to take his belt off, but it was stuck. Luigi then from a cheerful mood to a confused look.

"Wha?" Luigi blinked before they automatically started to swing all the back.

"Aaa aaa aaa aaa aaa aaa aaa aaa aaa aah!" Usopp and Luigi screamed at the same time as they were being swung back to the east gate. As soon as they got back there, the captain and his soldiers were about to lung at them.

"GET THEM!" yelled the captain and his soldiers as they pounced on Usopp and Luigi, only for them to swing back at the west gate, which the captain and his soldiers fall down to the ground.

The rope of the belt then broke as Usopp and Luigi flew right through the door, and crashed into the dungeon. "Oh boy, what a day…" Usopp said before passing out.

"Mama mia…" Luigi said before passing out as well.

Meanwhile… back with Luffy and Mario…

Luffy and Mario were battling through a huge group of soldiers as they were getting closer to Bowser's throne. Mario was jumping on them, while Luffy was punching them like crazy. The soldiers then started to surround them. "Looks-a like we are-a trapped." Mario said.

"Then let's finish them off in one big blow." Luffy said while cracking his knuckles. Luffy then stomped his feet to the ground so hard, his feet got in it.

He then started to twist his body numerous times. Mario's hands started to catch on fire before Luffy grabbed him around his waist. "You-a ready, Luffy?" Mario asked.

"You bet!" Luffy said before he started to spin uncontrollably while holding Mario. "GOMU GOMU NO FIREBALL SPRINKLER!!" While Luffy was spinning, Mario let out a wave of humongous fireballs in front of him, and since Luffy was spinning him, the fireballs flew everywhere.

All the soldiers got hit by Mario's fireballs and were burned to crisp. As Mario and Luffy finally got rid of the soldiers, Luffy stopped spinning and let go of Mario, who was very dizzy. "Ohhhhhhh… Lets-a hope that-a we don't have to use that-a move again." Mario said before his dizziness wears off. He then looked at Luffy, who was trying to get his feet off the ground.

"Mario, I'm stuck. Help me out!" Luffy whined.

Mario just sighed and went to help Luffy out of the floor, until… "We meet again Mario!" yelled an unknown figure. Mario turned around to see a big blob of paint went straight for him, luckily he dodged it, but Luffy got hit instead.

"Bleagh! What the hell was that!?" Luffy gasped as he tries to get the taste of paint out of his mouth. Mario looked at the attacker. It looked like Bowser, only he was smaller. He had a red bandana around his neck and he was holding some sort of a paintbrush.

"Bowser Jr.!" Mario gasped as he recognized him.

"I knew you would try to steal my future mama from my dad again, but I will not let you do that, because today I will make my dad proud by beating you." Bowser Jr. said as he prepared to fight, until Luffy punched the floor around his feet to get out.

"You want to mess with us? COME ON!" Luffy yelled before Mario stopped him.

"Wait-a minute Luffy, I will-a handle him." Mario said.

"What? But Mario…" Luffy started to say before Mario stopped him again.

"Listen Luffy, I will-a handle Junior by myself-a. Besides, you-a the one who wants to beat-a Bowser badly, right? I have-a already beat him many-a times before, so go ahead, I will-a catch up later." Mario said while not keeping his eyes off of Junior. Luffy then smiled.

"Thanks Mario, you really are the greatest." Luffy said.

"Thank-a you, now hurry!" Mario said. Luffy begin to ran to the throne room before looking back at Mario, who just gave the thumbs up to Luffy. Luffy responded by giving him the thumbs up, before rushing to the throne room. Mario then looked back at Bowser Jr.

"Lets-a go!" Mario said before he charged at Bowser Jr.

"You are going to lose this time!" Bowser Jr. said before he charged at Mario.

Luffy ran through the hallways that had portraits of Bowser on the wall and statues of Bowser next to the paintings.

"BOWSER!" Luffy yelled before kicking through the door of the throne room.

TO BE CONTINUED…

Luffy VS Bowser and the revelation of the secret weapon will be at the next chapter. It will probably be a big one, so don't expect it so soon. Hope you enjoyed this chapter and review it on the way out.

Mario Pt 10

Well this is it. The moment you all been waiting for; the battle between Luffy and Bowser, and the revelation of the secret weapon. This chapter will also feature some of the plot to this story, so make sure you read the whole thing. Have fun.

A grand battle draws near. The Strawhats and the Mario Bros use all their potential to rescue Nami and Peach from the hands of Bowser. They endured walking skeletons, oversized blocks, enormous cannons, and different kinds of beverages. Luffy and Mario were getting closer to Bowser, until his son, Bowser Bowser Jr., stopped them. Mario insisted that Luffy should go on and fight Bowser, while he will fight with Bowser Jr.. Luffy rushed on as Mario started to battle with Bowser Jr.. The time for the climax of this rescue has finally come. Will Luffy defeat Bowser? And will Nami and Peach would ever be rescued?

Chapter 11: Secret Weapon? Luffy VS Bowser

"BOO OOW WWS EEE EEE EEE EEE ERR RRR RR RR!!" Luffy yelled as he kicks through the door of the throne room. Bowser looked in front of him and got up angrily.

"Huh!? How dare you barge in hear like you own the place Ma… huh? You are not Mario." Bowser said, while looking at Luffy from his feet to his face. "Well this is completey new to me. Usually, It's Mario that comes here and luckily beats me in battle, but now its a kid with a straw hat? What has the world gone into these days?"

"You are Bowser, huh? Well get ready, cause I am here to kick your ass!" Luffy said, while cracking his knuckles. Bowser then started to giggle which then bursted into laughter.

"Gwa ha ha ha ha ha! Now that is funny. What makes you think that a skinny dip like you can beat me?" Bowser asked. Luffy then smiled confidently.

"Because people like you are always the one losing, I know because I can tell by just looking at you." Luffy said.

This made Bowser angry and jumped right in front of Luffy. "You got a big mouth in that small, stupid head of yours! I'll show you why they call me the king of koopas." Bowser before he threw a right fist at Luffy before Luffy ducked and punched Bowser in the gut, which didn't really seem to affect Bowser much. "Is that all?" Bowser asked as he threw a punch to Luffy's face, only this time it hit him.

"GUAH!" Luffy cried in pain as he crashed back to a wall the door he busted through, leaving a trail of dust upon impact.

"Gwa ha ha ha ha! Is this the best you can do? I had stronger blows from that crazy orange head girl that time while I was kidnapping her and Peach, which by the way, I didn't use force on her because she was a lady, and since I am a gentleman, I couldn't hit her. So why don't you get lost, because the only loser I see here is…" Before Bowser could finish his sentence, he got hit in the face by Luffy's stretched punches, "Grgh!?"

Bowser slid across the floor and crashed into his chair. Luffy then came out of the dust while massaging his right shoulder.

"You talk to much." Luffy said. Bowser got up, confused on what just happened.

"What the heck did you just do!?" Bowser asked furiously. Luffy then put his finger in his mouth and extended it.

"I am a rubber man." Luffy said while stretching his mouth.

"A rubber man? What kind of circus are you from, kid?" Bowser asked.

"I am not from a circus; I am a pirate! And I am here to rescue Nami and Peach away from you." Luffy said, while pointing at Bowser.

"Oh, so you are with that crazy orange head girl. Well you can have her if you want, because I can't keep that lunatic in here. She is disrupting my honeymoon with my wife, Peach." Bowser said. Luffy then got stunned after hearing that.

"What!? You already married Peach!? That was fast." Luffy said, amazed.

"What did you expect? I am good looking after all." Bowser said while holding his chin in glory. He then looked at Luffy angrily. "Enough talk! Time for you to get some of this." Bowser said, as he charged at Luffy, only for Luffy to jump over him. Bowser turned around and took a deep breath, he then breathed out a stream of fire at Luffy. Luffy didn't expected that and jumped over it, only for his rear to catch on fire.

"GYA AAA AAA AH! HOO OOO OOO OOT!" Luffy yelled, before he hit the fire on his rear numerous of times before it died down. Luffy then looked at Bowser and ran straight to him. "GOMU GOMU NO PISTOL!" Luffy stretched his right fist at Bowser only for Bowser to dodge it and grab it.

"That won't get me twice!" Bowser said before he started to spin Luffy around in circles with one hand above hm. He then tossed Luffy at the end of the room.

While Luffy was getting up, Bowser charged at him. Luffy dodged him as Bowser went through the wall. Bowser then rushed back in while charging at Luffy again, only with his right hand in the air. "KOOPA KLAW!" Bowser lowered his right hand so quickly, a stream of cutting waves towards Luffy. Luffy barely dodged them as one of the waves hit Luffy at the right side of his left knee.

"OW!" Luffy cried before going straight to Bowser. "GOMU GOMU NO GATLING GUN!" Luffy rapidly punches at Bowser, and since Bowser is to slow to dodge, he received all the blows his body. After Luffy stopped punching, Bowser grabbed both of Luffy's arms and pulled Luffy towards himself. As Luffy got close to Bowser, Bowser gave him a devastating headbutt onto Luffy's head. Luffy fell to the ground, grabbing his head in pain.

Bowser then jumped in the air over Luffy. "BOWSER BOMB!" Bowser went full speed down and landed on Luffy with great force.

"GUA AAA AAA AAA HHH!" Luffy cried as he was being crushed by Bowser's massive weight.

"Gwa ha ha ha ha, any last words before… woah!" Luffy gets up while holding Bowser in the air. He then tossed Bowser across the room and through a door.

"COME ON, BOWSER!! I AM JUST WARMING UP!!" Luffy yelled, before he heard a sound coming from the door that Bowser crashed through. Bowser then came out while riding his Koopa clown car.

"Take this!" Bowser yelled as he threw a bob-omb at Luffy, but Luffy jumped straight at it.

"GOMU GOMU NO FUUSEN!" Luffy inflated his stomach into a ballon. Once the bomb-omb made impact to Luffy's stomach, it bounced back to Bowser.

Bowser flew to the right in order to dodge it. He then pressed a red button on his control panel that made two cannons come out from each side of the vehicle. "Try this then!" Bowser yelled before pressing another button that made the cannons fire bomb-ombs at Luffy.

"GOMU GOMU NO FUUSEN! Luffy inflated his stomach again before the bomb-ombs made impact on it, but before the bomb-ombs bounce back again, Bowser fired another pair of bomb-ombs at the bomb-ombs that Luffy were about to bounce and exploded upon impact.

Luffy weakly got up after the explosion and saw Bowser flying straight at him. "GOMU GOMU NO BAZOOKA!!" Luffy hits Bowser's Koopa clown car with both of his palms. Bowser went flying back, but was able to regain balance of the Koopa clown car. But before he tried to attack Luffy again, he saw Luffy's right leg stretched right through the ceiling. He then looked at Luffy, who had pure anger in his eyes.

"GOMU GOMU NO ONO!" Luffy lowered his leg down with great force on top of Bowser's head. Bowser crashed to the ground, while his Koopa clown was completely destroyed from the crash. Bowser got up, with his head now starting to bleed.

"Bleh… was that all?" Bowser asked with a grin. Luffy then looked at Bowser with an angry face.

"I am not done with you until I send you flying!" Luffy said before he charges at Bowser again.

Meanwhile…

Mario was dodging the incoming blobs of paint thrown at him by Bowser Jr, "Come on, Mario! You can't avoid me forever!" Bowser Jr. said before using his paintbrush to throw a blob of paint at Mario. Mario dodged it again and when he landed, he ran straight to Bowser Jr.. Mario threw a fist at Bowser Jr., only for Bowser Jr. to counter with a vertical swing of his paintbrush. Mario did a backflip to avoid it.

Mario then threw a fireball at Bowser Jr., which missed by a long shot. "Were are you aiming Mario?" Bowser Jr. asked before Mario throws another fireball that wasn't even close to Bowser Jr., "Grrr… I don't if you are blind or just stupid! I will end this now!" He exclaimed as he was about to charge at Mario, until a firewall came out in front of him. "What the?" Bowser Jr. said as he was surrounded by a wall of fire.

"How did this… WAIT! I get it now. He didn't wanted to fire at me, but at the paint that was scattered on the floor. I was too careless." Bowser Jr. said as he was now trapped in the ring of fire. "But this wont stop me, I'll just do this." Bowser Jr. said before he covered his mouth with the bandana that was around his neck. He then turned blue and transformed into something else, or in this case, somebody else.

He turned into none other than Mario, only he was aquatic blue and his eyes were pure red. Bowser Jr. then jumped high enough to get over the firewall. "Heh Heh! Now where are you Mario?" Bowser Jr. asked while in midair. He then looked down to see Mario jumping straight at him.

"SUPER JUMP PUNCH!" Mario did a flying uppercut at Bowser Jr.. While the fist was impacting Bowser Jr.'s chin, numerous of coins were coming out of Bowser Jr.'s head at a fast rate.

As soon as Mario finished giving the uppercut to Bowser Jr., he landed back on the ground, while Bowser Jr. landed hard on his back. Bowser Jr. then got up and rushed to Mario before swinging his paintbrush at Mario. Mario dodged it and counter by delivering a right fist at Bowser Jr.. Before Bowser Jr. could fall to the ground, Mario jumped in the air and started to spin at a fast rate. Once he was over Bowser Jr., he went down at him like a missile.

Bowser Jr. was able to retaliate by landing on his hands and doing back flip to avoid the Mario's spinning assault. Mario made a huge crack on the floor as he landed. He then faced at Bowser Jr., who grabbed a turtle shell from out of nowhere and threw it at Mario. Mario took out a yellow cape and swung it at the Koopa shell, which made it go back to Bowser Jr.. Bowser Jr. smacked the Koopa shell away, but he didn't realized that Mario was right in front of him.

Mario gave a strong right punch at Bowser Jr., which cause Bowser Jr. to fly back. But before Bowser Jr. could fly back, Mario grabbed Bowser Jr.'s feet and started to spin him around and around. He then let go of Bowser Jr., causing him to fly straight to a wall, but Bowser

Jr. retaliated by landing to the wall with his feet and jumped straight to Mario. "TRY THIS ON FOR SIZE!! PAINT CANNON!" Bowser Jr. swings his brush in front of him while in midair.

The brush spinned so fast, the paint from the brush completely covered Bowser Jr. as he continued to fly straight at Mario, and ram into him. "Owww!" Mario cried as he was hit by the blow. He then landed on the ground and started to get up weakily.

"Now feel my strongest attack yet! RAINBOW HURRICANE!!" Bowser Jr. started to spin with arms extended. The paint from the brush started to spill so much paint, it turned into a hurricane.

Bowser Jr. then went straight at Mario while spinning uncontrollably. Mario then looked at the firewall next to him and came up with an idea. "MARIO TORNADO!" Mario started to spin uncontrollably as well, only the fire next to him started to gather around Mario and created a tornado of fire. Mario and Bowser Jr. collided with their devastating moves as they tried to take down at one another.

Mario's fire started to burn the hurricane of Bowser Jr.'s paint. This caused Bowser Jr. to lose control of his attack and stopped spinning. He then got hit by Mario's tornado as he went flying to the air in flames and falling back down to the ground with burn marks covering his body. "No… I lost again…" Bowser Jr. said before passing out. Mario grabbed his hat and waved it in front of his face.

"Mama mia, that was-a tough battle." Mario said as he was about to leave, but he was still hurt from the blow he received earlier. "Ow, guess I have to-a rest for a while-a." Mario said before he laid on his back, taking a nap.

Back to Luffy…

Bowser threw a right punch at Luffy, but Luffy avoided it, and went to Bowser's back. Luffy grabbed Bowser around his waist, and lifted his body back which made Bowser fall right at the back of his head. Luffy got up and jumped right over Bowser. "GOMU GOMU NO YARI!" Luffy thrusted both of his feet at Bowser, but Bowser rolled out of the way to avoid it. Bowser withdrew into his shell, and started to spin straight at Luffy.

"WHIRLING FORTRESS!!" Bowser span at Luffy, only for Luffy to dodge it. As soon as Bowser hit the wall, he bounced off of it and went straight to Luffy again.

"GOMU GOMU NO FUUSEN!" Luffy inflated himself before receiving the impact of Bowser's shell. Luffy went flying to the back and bounced off the wall behind him. He then let the air out and ran at Bowser while stretching both of his arms backwards.

"GOMU GOMU NO BAZOOKA!!" Luffy thrusted both of his palms straight at Bowser, hitting him in the gut. Bowser went flying back through a wall, which he then landed on a big balcony. Bowser got out of his shell and saw Luffy, who about to hit him. "GOMU GOMU NO PISTOL!" Luffy threw a punch at Bowser, but Bowser countered by opening his mouth and bit Luffy's hand whole. "AAA AAH HH HH!" Luffy cried before Bowser let go of Luffy, and punched him in the face.

Luffy went crashing back to the throne room, holding his hand in pain. While Bowser breath out a stream of fire at him. As soon as Bowser stopped breathing fire, he then looked in front of him and saw no sign of Luffy. He then went in the throne room to get a better look, only to get hit at the side of his face by Luffy. As Bowser tried to regain his focus, Luffy did a front flip over Bowser.

While in midair, Luffy grabbed Bowser by the horns, and as soon as he landed back to the ground, he threw Bowser overhead, and straight at the hallway. Luffy then ran at Bowser, only to suddenly dodge one of Bowser's fireballs once Bowser managed to land on his feet. Right after Luffy dodged the fireball, Bowser lifted his claw in the air "KOOPA KLAW!!" Bowser swung his claw down at Luffy, only this time he grabbed him and started to bite Luffy's shoulder.

"GYA AAA AAH!" Luffy cried as Bowser's teeth were deep into his skin. Luffy then went to grab Bowser's mouth from biting Luffy's shoulder again and then he stretched his leg backwards. "GOMU GOMU NO STAMP!" Luffy thrusted his foot at Bowser's gut causing him to let go of Luffy and holding his stomach in pain. As Bowser was holding his stomach, Luffy stretched his right hand backwards while twisting it. "GOMU GOMU NO RIFLE!" Luffy thrusted his twisted fist at Bowser, which made him to propel right back at his throne room. Luffy ran back at the throne room to see Bowser getting up again.

"I got to hand it to you, kid. You can pack quite a punch, but don't think that will be enough to defeat me." Bowser said, while doing an evil grin. Luffy then grinned at Bowser.

"Just pay attention on how you are going to lose this time." Luffy said.

Bowser then ran and threw a punch at Luffy while Luffy did the same with Bowser. Their fists made impact at one another as it made bright light that soon engulfed the room.

Meanwhile… back with Chopper and Franky…

Chopper was in his Heavy point, while punching every soldier that he came across with, while Franky was doing the same at the soldiers who were throwing hammers at him. Chopper transformed to his walk point and gored at fat Koopa, which made him crash to some soldiers behind him. Chopper then transformed back to his heavy point and lifted a big rock and tossed it to the group soldiers that were charging in front of him.

Franky confronted with two cannons that were right in front of him. "FRANKY TRIANGLE JACKER!" Franky threw his sideburns at the cannons like shurikens and slashed the cannons in two, while a new pair of sideburns grew back on Franky. Franky then noticed that he was surrounded by soldier, so he removed his the skin on his right hand and started to aim at one of them. "STRONG…" Franky launched his right hand and started to maneuver it right next to a soldier's face.

"SLAP!" Franky moved his arm to the right to make his hand slap all the soldiers that were around him, knocking them out in the process. Franky's hand then went back to his arm and he started to run straight to an armored Koopa. "STRONG HAMMER!" Franky punched the armored Koopa with his fist of steel, causing the armored Koopa to fly straight through a wall. Franky then put on the skin back on his right hand, and went to back up Chopper.

Chopper spinned with his arms spread out knocking out anybody that was near him. He was about to get hit from behind until Franky punched attacking soldier out. He and Chopper faced back to back.

"Do we even know were are we supposed to go?" Franky asked before punching another soldier again.

"I don't know, but we have to fight these guys for now." Chopper said before a punches a soldier in the gut.

"Well that's fine by me then!" Franky said, before he and Chopper went charging at the soldiers in front of them.

Back with Luffy…

"GOMU GOMU NO GATLING GUN!" Luffy repeatedly punches Bowser at his face. Luffy then stopped punching, only for Bowser to grab Luffy arms and toss him to the other side of the room. As Luffy was in midair, Bowser breath out three fireballs at Luffy. Luffy couldn't dodge in midair, so he got hit by the fireballs. The flames around Luffy died down as Luffy crashed to the ground.

As Luffy was getting up, he saw Bowser in the air trying to body slam Luffy. Luffy dodged him as Bowser landed on the ground while leaving a huge crack on the floor. Bowser got up and turned to Luffy, only to get punched in the face again. As Luffy's arms were still stretched, Bowser grabbed Luffy and pulled him towards himself. He then grabbed Luffy by wrapping his arms around his body, and started to squeeze the life out of Luffy.

Bowser then started to breath in a lot of air, while Luffy stretched his neck as back as he could. "GOMU GOMU NO BELL!" Luffy thrusted his head forward, hitting Bowser's chin in the process. This caused Bowser to choke on the fire he was about to breath out, and released Luffy in the process. Luffy then grabbed a pillar next to him, and stretch his arms as he was backing up while holding the pillar.

"GOMU GOMU NO ROCKET!" Luffy then jumped, and let his arms spring him straight towards Bowser as fast as a rocket. Bowser got hit in the gut as he, along with Luffy, went right through another wall, which led them to another big balcony. Luffy got up and was about to hit Bowser while he was on the ground until Bowser hit Luffy with the back of his hand while getting up. Bowser then jumped in the air, before hiding in his shell and turning around while his spikes are heading straight at Luffy.

Luffy jumped out of the way while Bowser's spikes hits the ground, making holes with no cracks in it. Bowser then got out of his shell and ran straight to Luffy with a great speed while swinging his arms in a circular motion. Luffy didn't see that coming, so he received the blow as he and Bowser went crashing back at the throne room. Bowser stopped swinging his arms and lifted Luffy up, before giving him a headbutt.

Luffy fell down to the ground while his hat came off of his head. "Huh? My hat!" Luffy gasped as he was crawling as fast as he could to retrieve hat while Bowser jumped above Luffy.

"PAY ATTENTION WILL YA!? BOWSER BOMB!!" Bowser went crashing down on Luffy while also making a bigger crack on the floor. Due to the force of Bowser's attack, the ground then crumbled into pieces as Luffy and Bowser fell down to another area below.

Meanwhile… back with Sanji and Robin…

Sanji was dodging Lava Piranha's fireballs, while Robin was still observing the battle. Sanji tried to kick Lava Piranha, but once he did, his foot was caught on fire. Not that Sanji has any problem with that, is just that after ha gave Lava Piranha a kick, Kammy would summon a big yellow block over Sanji, which he barely dodges. As he landed on the ground, he shook his foot in order for the fire to die down.

"Damn it, I can't fight properly if that hag is going to keep on interfering." Sanji said before avoiding one of Lava Piranha's fireballs. Robin then noticed a rope hanging from the ceiling.

"I wonder what is that rope for?" Robin asked, as she cross her limbs, sprouting arms right next to the rope. The hand pulled the rope which made small part of the ceiling open. Then a little stream of water then came pouring right on top Lava Piranha's head.

"GAA AAA AAH HH HH!! Not water…" Lava Piranha cried as the fire on his head along with his other two piranha's, started to die down. Lava Piranha then became paralyzed, which Kammy didnt find amusing.

"What are you doing?! This isn't the time to take a nap!!" Kammy exclaimed, before a pair of arms sprouted out of the broomstick that she was riding on. "What the?!" was all that Kammy could say before the hands forced Kammy to lose balance of her broomstick.

Kammy couldn't maneuver her broomstick like this, so she crashed into a wall, losing consciousness in the process. "Alright, Cook-san, you may continue." Robin said. Sanji then turned to her with a big heart at his visible eye.

"THANK YOU, ROBIN-CHWAN!!" Sanji said, before turning back at Lava Piranha with anger in his eye. "Now stand still." Sanji said before jumping over Lava Piranha. "BASSES-COTES!" Sanji did a downward roundhouse kick at Lava Piranha.

"UUAAAHH!" Lava Piranha cried before Sanji landed on one of the tiny piranha's heads, and jumped right back at Lava Piranha, before kicking him in the head again. The force of Sanji's kicks was forcing Lava Piranha to get closer to the wall as Sanji landed on the ground, right in front of Lava Piranha.

"MOUTON SHOT!" Sanji did a powerful roundhouse kick at Lava Piranha, which completely made Lava Piranha unconscious, but it somehow remained standing. "And now for the coup de grace." Sanji said before jumping in the air while doing multiple front flips. "CONCASSE!" Sanji then swung his leg down at Lava Piranha's head with huge force, causing Lava Piranha, along with his two tiny piranha's, to sink back into the lava, only this time, it didn't get back up.

"It's about time you finished him." Nami said, not really impressed, while Peach on the other hand was completely amazed.

Kammy couldn't believe it either. "That's impossible! How can someone like you can defeat Lava Piranha!?" Kammy said before she confronted Sanji.

"When there is an obstacle between a man and a woman, the man must do whatever it takes to get through it. That is the ordeal of Love." Sanji said, with great honor, while the rest only looked at him weird.

"Is he REALLY always like that?" Peach asked.

"Sadly, yes." Nami said.

"Ordeal of Love? What are you, an idiot? I'll show you not to mess with the forces of King Bowser." Kammy said before she tried to cast a spell, but a pair of hands sprouted from her body.

"SEIS FLEUR, CLUTCH!" The arms forced Kammy to break her back, causing her to grab her back in pain.

"Good work, Robin-chwan! Now to get rid of that block." Sanji said before Kammy got up furiously again.

"DON'T THINK THIS IS OVER!!" Kammy exclaimed before flying off with her broomstick.

Sanji ignored her as he went to the block that was blocking the lever of the cage that was in a cage which… well, you know which cage I am talking about. Sanji then kicked the block to pieces and pulled the lever. All of sudden, a monitor with a face appears next to the lever. "Thank you for using cage's r us. Your request to lower the cage on solid ground will take about 15 minutes. Please enjoy some music in the meantime." The monitor said as music started to play in the room.

Back with Luffy… again…

Luffy and Bowser fell down to the Bomb-omb storage room. The bomb-ombs were behind glass that was so thick, it would take more than one bullet bill to shatter it. Bowser got up, now really pissed off at Luffy. "I have had enough of you, Straw hat. You have really gone through my last nerve." Bowser said as he took one step forward, stepping on something in the process. Bowser looked down to see what he has stepped on and it turned out to be Luffy's hat. "Ha, I found your stupid hat, Straw hat!" Bowser said as he picked up the hat.

"DON'T TOUCH MY HAT!!" Luffy exclaimed as he came out of nowhere, trying to get his hat back, only for Bowser to move out of the way.

"What's with that attitude? Don't you know how to share?" Bowser said as he put on Luffy's hat. Luffy got infuriated after seeing Bowser putting on his hat.

"KEEP YOUR FILTHY CLAWS OFF OF MY TREASURE!!" Luffy exclaimed.

"Treasure? This? Gwa ha ha ha ha ha! How can this stupid hat be your treasure? Treasure are like cash and diamonds and that sort of stuff, not a hat that you can find in a used hat store." Bowser said as he took of Luffy's hat and started to look at it.

"SHUT UP! I MADE A PROMISE TO SOMEONE THAT I WOULD BRING THAT HAT BACK TO HIM, SO GIVE IT BACK!!" Luffy exclaimed as he tried to punch Bowser again, but Bowser dodged it again.

"Heh, well how are you going to do that if its going to be in such a bad condition?" Bowser asked, before dropping the hat to the ground and stomping it with his big foot. Luffy just stood their emotionless, as he saw Bowser stomping on his most valuable treasure. He then looked at Bowser with great anger.

"I AM GOING TO KICK YOUR ASS!!" Luffy yelled as he charged at Bowser, faster than usual.

Bowser couldn't avoid him, and got hit in the face really hard, and crashed to the glass wall, leaving a little crack on it behind. Luffy then picked up his hat and put it back on his head. He then cracked his knuckles and ran to Bowser again. Bowser got up only to see Luffy running straight at him "GOMU GOMU NO GATLING GUN!!" Luffy repeatedly punches Bowser at a faster rate than normal.

As Luffy was punching Bowser repeatedly, Bowser was able to grab both of Luffy's hands and swing him ahead of him. Luffy landed on the ground and went to Bowser while stretching his fist back "GOMU GOMU NO PISTOL!" Luffy thrusted his fist at Bowser, only for him to dodge it and hit the glass wall instead, which made the crack on it a little bigger.

"ARE YOU CRAZY!? YOU COULD OF KILLED US BOTH, ESPECIALLY ME!!" Bowser said before avoiding another punch from Luffy. "WHIRLING FORTRESS!!" Bowser withdrew into his shell and spun towards Luffy. Luffy caught Bowser, but Bowser was still spinning. Luffy's hands started to bleed as he continued to grab hold

Bowser. Luffy finally was able to stop Bowser from spinning and tossed him into the glass wall again, making a bigger crack on it. Luffy then tossed Bowser at the opposite direction of the glass wall, but Bowser came out of his shell and looked at Luffy.

"I don't know exactly who you are or why are you doing this, BUT I WILL NOT LET YOU GET THE BETTER OF ME!!" Bowser exclaimed so loud that it shook the castle. Luffy then went to his fighting position once more.

"I am Luffy, and I will be the Pirate King!!" Luffy yelled. Bowser was confused at first, but then started to laugh.

"GWA HA HA HA HA HA HA! Pirate King? What kind of stupid this is that?" Bowser asked.

"Don't you know that pirates are always the ones that die sooner than everyone else? They do the stupidest things like pursuing their dreams or trying prove something that they can never do. Pirates are nothing but of waste of life. It's much better being a real king; those are the people that can get whatever they want without lifting a finger. Such as myself for example. Once I am finished with you, I will become the king of not only the Mushroom Kingdom, but the entire world as well. GWA HA HA HA HA HA HA!!" Bowser laughed in glory, while Luffy wasn't amused.

"I pity you…" Luffy said, while Bowser stopped laughing.

"What was that?" Bowser asked.

"I pity you. You are nothing but garbage. You think that being king is just about getting whatever you want? I am going to achieve something that not any person can normally do! I will be the Pirate King! And you are in my way!" Luffy exclaimed, before running at Bowser with full speed, while Bowser did the same.

Bowser punched Luffy at his face, but Luffy didn't even flinch, and countered by punching Bowser at his face, which did cause Bowser to fly back a bit. Luffy then stretched his hands and grabbed Bowser by his shoulders, and vertically spun towards him "GOMU GOMU NO…" Luffy then got closer while continuing to do multiple spins "MARUNOKO!" Luffy then delivered a powerful headbutt at Bowser, making him to fall to the ground.

Bowser weakly got up, and withdrew into his shell while starting to spin "BLAZING FORTRESS!" While spinning, Bowser let out a stream of fire from within his shell, and started to hit everywhere around the room.

"WHA AAA AAA!" Luffy cried, as he couldn't avoid the flames as it hit everywhere. As Bowser stopped breathing out fire, he came out of his shell and and looked at the chaos he made. The walls were now completely covered in flames, as well as the glass wall that was still intact.

He then saw Luffy laying on the ground, burned to crisp. Bowser walked to him and lifted him in the air with one hand.

"I told you that pirates die sooner than everyone else, but did you listen to me? No, instead you gave me a stupid lecture about pirate kings and dreams and all that stupid stuff. Was all that true or just for show, because the way I see it, you are nothing but a joke to me!" Bowser as he walked to the glass wall that was currently on fire.

"Don't worry, I will end your life as slowly and painfully as I can." Bowser said before trying to plant Luffy's head at the very hot wall, but Luffy was sprung back to life, and stopped Bowser from what he was doing.

"I WON'T GO DOWN THAT EASILY!!" Luffy exclaimed as he grabbed Bowser's arm and started to squeeze it, forcing Bowser to let go of him. Luffy then grabbed Bowser by the neck and tossed towards the burning glass, which this time, it did shatter into pieces.

The Bob-ombs in it started to come out of the glass, but have not yet exploded. Luffy then grabbed Bowser again and tossed him to to the very big group of Bob-ombs on the floor, which caused a very big explosion, causing the Bowser and Luffy to fly straight the castle's ceiling, and high up into the sky. Bowser was barely conscious after that as he continued to fly upward.

"This kid is definitely in a whole different level." Bowser thought as he finally started to fall back down. "I can't see him anywhere. He must of died in the explosion. What a relief…" Bowser said as continued to fall down until he saw something above him.

"BOO OOO WWW WWW SSS SSS EEE EEE EER RRR RRR!!!" Luffy exclaimed as he was heading straight towards Bowser from above.

"No way…" Bowser said as he saw Luffy, who was still alive.

"I AM GOING TO KICK YOUR ASS!!! GOMU GOMU NOOOOOO…" Luffy started to punch rapidly at Bowser, but none of the blows were hitting him.

"This kid has lost it, he is not even hitting me." Bowser said as he continued to see Luffy punching rapidly. Luffy's hands then started to grow red with every second that passed by. Luffy then got really close to Bowser and his punches then started to get closer to eachother.

"… CANNON!" Luffy thrusted his palms at Bowser so hard, he went falling down faster than a comet. Bowser then crashed back to his castle, causing a huge pile of dust upon impact.

Luffy's hands then went back to his original color as he continued to fall down to the ground as well. "GOMU GOMU NO FUUSEN!" Luffy then inflated himself before landing on the castle. He then let go of his breath to let the air out and looked at Bowser, who couldn't move a muscle.

"Curses… first, I lose to a plumber, now I lose to a stupid kid. ITS NOT FAIR!" Bowser yelled in agony.

Luffy just looked at him with a plain look, and sat next to him. "Maybe you should do something easier like picking flowers from a garden, or making cheese cakes or something." Luffy suggested.

"Cheese cakes? Shut up, kid, this isn't over between you and me. You just got lucky, that's all." Bowser said, while Luffy was just smiling. Kammy then came in the room, horrified at what she was seeing.

"YOUR EVILNESS, WHAT HAS HE DONE TO YOU!?" asked a worried Kammy.

"Calm down, I can still fight." Bowser said as he was trying to move, but he was to exhausted to.

"Don't move, Your Hideousness, I will take him down by using the secret weapon." Kammy said before heading to a lever behind a painting.

"Secret Weapon… SECRET WEAPON!? WAIT A MINUTE, KAMMY!!" Bowser exclaimed as he suddenly got up and tried to stop Kammy from pulling the lever, but it was to late.

"Nyeh heh heh, Now that boy will pay." Kammy said before she saw Bowser with a freaked out look.

"WHAT HAVE YOU DONE, YOU CRAZY OLD HAG!?" Bowser asked with great fear in his tone.

"Why are you angry your foulness? The secret weapon will surely destroy that boy in an instant." Kammy said while pointing at the confused Luffy.

"That's not the only thing that is going to be destroyed!!!" Bowser exclaimed as the castle started to shake all of a sudden.

"What do you mean, Your Stinkiness?" Kammy asked, now a little afraid on what is going to happen.

"That lever is for self destruction purposes only! You just pulled the lever that's going to cover the castle with lava in 5 minutes!!" Bowser yelled as Luffy and Kammy realized the situation they are in.

"WHAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAT!!" Luffy and Kammy gasped at the same time.

"I don't get it. I thought the secret weapon was just a name for a super strong weapon, but I didn't thought it would blow up the castle." Kammy said in fear.

"THAT'S WHY IT WAS CALLED A SECRET WEAPON, SO NOBODY WOULD EVER USE IT!!" Bowser exclaimed.

"OI, LETS GET OUT OF HERE!!" Luffy yelled as he and Bowser and Kammy started to run for their lives. As they ran out of the throne room, a pillar of lava emerges behind them. They ran outside to see Mario and Bowser Jr. sleeping on the ground. "MARIOOOOOOO!" Mario yawns and gets up.

"Mama mia, why are you-a so-a… LOUD!!" Mario gasped as he saw Luffy, Bowser, and Kammy running from the lava.

"RUN MARIO, RUN!" Luffy screamed as Mario started to run as fast as they could. Bowser picked up the unconscious son, Bowser Jr., from the ground, and carried him with his shoulder before running again.

Back with Sanji and Robin… a couple of minutes earlier…

The cage softly landed on solid ground before Sanji kicked the triple cage door opened and let Nami and Peach out. "Thank you, Mr. Sanji, I am most grateful." Peach said kindly to Sanji. Sanji then started to dance.

"IT WAS NO PROBLEM PEACH-SAN!" Sanji said, joyfully.

"Yeah, yeah whatever, I still don't have my perfect clima tact back." Nami said.

"Is this what you were looking for?" asks Robin as she was holding Nami's perfect clima tact.

"You found it! Thank you Robin-san." Nami said, as she hugged her tact.

"Well now that you two are safe, we should make our leave." Robin said before the pool of lava started to rise.

"What the? That flower just won't give up." Sanji said as he expected Lava Piranha to come out, but the pool of lava continued to rise, making everyone worry. "We can't stay here! We must leave now!!" Sanji said as he and the rest proceeded to run as fast as they could out of the dungeon, as the lava continued to spread.

Usopp and Luigi were conscious again as they ran through the big halls of the dungeon. "Man, this place is huge! Let's just hope Nami and Peach are in here." Usopp said, while running.

"Don't worry, Bowser always keeps his hostages in here." Luigi said as he and Usopp saw a door in front of them.

"Yosh, I bet they will be delighted to see me when I open this door." Usopp said before he opened the door to see Sanji, Robin, Nami and Peach running from a big wave of lava.

"USOPP!!" Nami yelled, as she saw Usopp with a petrified smile. Usopp then quickly closed the door.

"THOSE SHITTY IDIOTS!" Sanji before kicking through the door and continued to run.

"RUN, RUN, RUN, RUN, RUN!!" Usopp screamed as he, and Luigi as they ran faster than a roadrunner. Everyone got out of the dungeon to see Chopper and Franky seeing a huge explosion on top of the castle. "CHOPPER! FRANKY!"

"Huh? Oh, it's you guys!" Franky said.

"Peach, Nami, you're are okay!" Chopper said with excitement.

"What the hell is going on?" Sanji asked as he saw Bowser's soldiers running around in circles with fear.

"How should I know!? First, we were beating up these guys, then the whole castle started to shake." Franky said as lava started to get out of the dungeon.

"We can't stay here much longer! Where is Luffy?" Robin asked. She then got her answer as she and the rest saw Luffy, Mario, Bowser and Kammy running as fast as they could.

"OOO OOO III III III III II, GUU UUU UUU UUY YYY YYY YYS!!" Luffy screamed while running at his crew at full speed.

"LUFFY!!" Everyone gasped with their eyes popping out of their sockets, except for Robin.

"GYAAAAAH! IT'S BOWSER!!! RUN FOR YOUR LIVES!!" Usopp cried as he and everyone else started to head out to the front gate as fast as they could.

Zoro went outside the castle for the 4th time, as he still tried to figure out how to get in the castle without getting out again. "I'm not going to get anywhere if this keeps up." Zoro said as he was about to go in the castle again, but stopped as he saw his crew, the Mario Bros, and Bowser with his son Bowser Jr. on his shoulder, and Kammy running at his direction.

"Run away, Zoro!" Luffy yelled as Zoro could then see what Luffy, and the others were running away from.

"What the!?" Zoro said before he turned around and ran as fast as he could. At the same time, Wario was regaining consciousness.

"Ow, that move hurt." Wario said, before he saw Zoro running towards him. "Eh, you want some more!?" yells Wario before Zoro zipped past him, causing Wario to lose balance. "Hey where are you going? Meh, what the heck is going… WAAAAH!!" Wario gasped as he saw everyone running from the lava that was gaining on them.

"NONONONONONONONONO!" Wario cried as he too began to run away from the lava as fast as he could. Everyone ran to in the warp pipe before the lava completely destroys the castle and everything around it. Everyone came flying out of the warp pipe and landed on the soft grass, as they looked back to the mountain to see a huge black smoke behind the mountain.

"MY CASTLE!!" Bowser cried, as he dropped to his knees and pulled his hair in agony.

"Calm down, Your Greatness, this has happened plenty times before." Kammy said, trying to relax Bowser, only to get a glare from him.

"Oh sure, but not by an old hag before!" Bowser replied before he looked at the Strawhats and the Mario bros and Peach. "You guys think this is funny, don't you!? Well let me tell you this, I will be the one laughing at the end as it will be me dominating all over your faces!" He yelled as he took one step forward, only to step on a bob-omb that came out of nowhere. "Oh cr.." was all that Bowser had to say before Bowser, Bowser Jr. and Kammy were sent flying off after the explosion.

"GUU UUU UAA AAA AAA AAA HHH HH!" yelled the three has they went flying until nobody could see them anymore.

"Wow, they flew far." Luffy said, amazed. He then looks at Nami and Peach. "Hey, you two are okay." Luffy said.

"No thanks to you, stupid! What on earth did you do to cause that eruption?" Nami asked.

"Nothing, the old hag was the one that pulled the lever, not me." Luffy said, before he saw two figures running towards them.

"Princess Peach, thank goodness you are safe!" Toadsworth said while rushing to the princess as fast as he could.

"Merlon! Toadsworth! What are you doing here?" Peach asked

"I heard the explosion all the way from the castle. I was so worried that I had to rush over here to save you personally." Toadsworth said, while catching his breath.

"Haha, your cool mushroom-ossan." Luffy said, as Merlon came to the group.

"I am glad that you were able to bring the princess back safely." Merlon said.

"Hey, your the magician weeny from before." Franky said.

"FOR THE LAST TIME, I AM NOT A… -sigh-, nevermind." Merlon said, almost losing his temper. Wario then got furious all of a sudden.

"WILL EVERYONE JUST SHUT UP!! First I get beaten by this green octopus head, and now I almost lose my life because of you weirdos. That's it! I am out of here." Wario said for no reason as he walked off in a bad mood.

"Okaaaaaaay… anyway, Luffy you have ran off without me telling you about the other method of getting back to your world." Merlon said, as the Strawhats paid attention to him.

"Oh yeah, what's the other method?" Luffy asked.

"Well, you know about the Master door, right? Well there was a door before that one was created. The reason Master Hand made another is that his first door was to big and sturdy to use. Not that it was a bad thing, but the bills from using that door was just too much for Master Hand to handle." Merlon said, remembering how pissed Master Hand was after looking at his bill.

"So, we just have to use that door, and we can go back home?" Chopper asked.

"I am afraid that is not possible. You see, in order for that door to work properly, eight hearts are needed in order to go at any destination the user wishes to go." Merlon said.

"Hearts? Oh I see, so we must pull our hearts out of our bodies so we can use that door." Luffy said.

"I don't think he is talking about our hearts, you moron!" Usopp said, chilling at the thought at what Luffy said.

"Not human hearts, but hearts created by Master Hand. They are like keys in order to use the door. Master hand has placed the hearts in a safe location where it is difficult to find. Each of the hearts now reside to a specific planet, and one of them is here." Merlon said.

"Okay, so all we have to do is find the heart, and we can go to the next world." Luffy said.

"You say it like if it was easy. We are in a planet, it could take us weeks or months just to find it." Zoro said.

"Yeah, Luffy, its not like its going to fall right in front of you." Usopp said, until a sudden explosion was heard behind a mountain, as a glittering object suddenly fell from that mountain, and landed right in front of Luffy. It was a red heart with a happy face on it, as Usopp looked at it in disbelief, "Let me guess, that's one of the hearts right?" Usopp asked, while Merlon nodded. Luffy picked it up and looked at it funny.

"Ha ha, It has a happy face on it." Luffy said.

"Master Hand tried to be creative in giving the hearts a special look for each planet, so don't go looking for something that looks like that." Merlon said.

"Don't worry, we won't." Franky said while looking at the smiling heart. Luffy then lifted the heart in the air.

"Alright, we found our first heart!" Luffy yelled excitedly as he and Chopper jumped with joy as they and the rest of the crew went back to Peach's castle.

TO BE CONTINUED…

I am going to take a week off to catch up on some things. I hope enjoyed this chapter. And I should atleast inform you that this story is not even near finished, so expect alot more later on.

P.S.: Should I put this story in the Super Smash Bros. section? Just asking.

I decided to leave this story in the One Piece section. It just wouldn't feel right If I put this in the Smash Bros section. Anyway, this chapter will lead the Strawhats into a new world. Enjoy!

Victory goes to the good guys. Luffy has confronted with the king of koopas, Bowser. Despite the differences in size and strength, Luffy has become victorious. After the victory though, Bowser's assistant Kammy has pulled down a lever that she thought it would a weapon that would destroy Luffy. Instead, it turned out to be a self-destruct mechanism, which would destroy everything in the castle. Everyone including Bowser, ran away from the castle as fast as they could before Bowser's castle turned into nothing but a memory. Bowser wanted to unleash his anger towards the strawhats, but he, his son Junior and Kammy went flying after Bowser stepped on a bob-omb on accident. After that awkward moment, Merlon has mentioned that their is another door that could bring the Strawhats back to their world, but in order to use it, they need eight hearts created by Master hand, which each of them are now on other plants. Now that the Strawhats got one of them, will they be able to get the rest?

Chapter 12: Bye Mushroom Kingdom, Hello Hyrule.

Everyone was walking back to Peach's castle as they were talking about the events that occurred so far. "Geez, who would've thought that the heart thing we were supposed to look for suddenly landed right in front of us." Usopp said in disbelief, while looking at the happy red heart Luffy was holding.

"Well, as long as we have it, then its okay with me." Zoro said, while looking at a golden flower that winked at him before running off.

Luffy was crying as he was still holding the heart. "What's the matter Luffy?" Chopper asked.

"My hat. Bowser stomped on it before I kicked his ass." Luffy cried. Nami just rolled her eyes, and grabbed Luffy's hat from his head.

"Quit whining, I'll fix it for you." Nami said. Luffy then looked at Nami with sparks coming out of his eyes.

"Thank you, Nam!" Luffy cried with joy.

"Yeah, yeah. But if this happens again, you are going to have to pay up for my services." Nami said greedily.

"This was indeed quite an experience for us, We have encountered so many things that we have never thought to be ever possible." Robin said, remembering the events that she and the rest have encountered.

"Oh yeah, this place is sooooooooooooo fascinating." Franky said sarcastically.

"Shut up, you piece of trash! Robin-chwan is always right, so don't you dare say anything that will offend her statement!!" Sanji yelled at Franky's ear.

"You want a piece of me, cook!?" Franky yelled as he and Sanji started to fight while creating a cloud of dust around them.

"Mama mia, those-a guys fight alot-a." Mario said while observing Sanji and Franky fighting eachother.

"Its a good thing that we don't have to deal with that all the time." Luigi said before he saw Sanji and Franky rolling towards him. "OH NO!" Luigi tried to run away, but got caught by them as they started to roll down a hill.

"So anyway, who is this Master Hand you guys are talking about?" Nami asked, ignoring the fact that Sanji, Franky and Luigi were rolling down the hill.

"Well, Merlon said it was some big hand that makes cool tournaments at his planet." Luffy said.

"Just a big hand? Is that even possible?" Usopp asked.

"It's not that strange; he is just a floating right hand with a white glove on, nothing weird about that." Merlon said. Usopp only narrowed his eyes

"Well that is certainly not weird at all." Usopp said sarcastically.

Ignoring Usopp, Nami wanted to find out more about the hearts they need to collect. "What about the hearts? How are we supposed to go to different planets If we don't even know how to get there in the first place."

"Simple, you just use that heart that Luffy is holding, and it will lead you to another world that has one of the hearts. I like to call them, 'The great hearts for the great door of destiny'." Merlon said, while putting his right hand in the air in glory.

Luffy only nodded his head in response. "So, it's a mystery heart." Luffy said, simply.

"Uhh yes, if you like to call them that way." Merlon said, not really amused with Luffy's way of calling them.

"I see. Ohhh, I can't believe we have to encounter more things like this." Nami said while putting her head down.

"Don't worry, Nami, we will get back to our planet safe and sound as long as we meet the ten foot, bug eye people." Luffy said while patting on Nami's shoulder.

Nami looked curiously at Luffy. "What does ten foot bug eye people have to do with this situation?" Nami asked.

"They have to do with everything, duh." Luffy said while doing his usual grin. Nami only put her head down again, wondering what kind of situations that she and the rest will encounter next, but more importantly, she was more concerned about what was going to happen to her during this journey.

"Dont-a worry Nami, I know some-a people that-a live on the planets you people are-a heading. They will-a surely help-a you to find the mystery hearts your looking for." Mario said, trying to lighten Nami's mood.

"Did you meet them from the tournaments you were in?" Luffy asked excitedly.

"Yes of course-a, They are-a just as good as I am-a." Mario said while pointing to himself. Luffy, Usopp and Chopper's eyes started to spark with joy.

"Oh man, this is going to be such a cool adventure!" Luffy said joyfully while dancing with Usopp and Chopper.

"This is kinda of good thing that is happening to us. I can finally travel to different worlds, so I can teach the toughest warriors my unsurpassable skills." Usopp said while doing a heroic pose.

"REALLY!?" Luffy and Chopper ased in unison. Peach giggled at the sight of their amusement.

"They really don't seemed that intimidated by the situation they are in, are they?" Toadsworth asked as he saw Luffy and Chopper laughing at Usopp, who tripped over a pebble after his heroic pose.

"Tee hee! I guess they are used to handle these kinds of things." Peach said as she and the others were almost at the entrance of the toad village. As they got in, they saw Sanji, Franky and Luigi tangled with one another.

"Huh, You guys look like a pretzel." Zoro said, which made Luffy laugh.

"Shut up, Marimo! Just get us out of here." Sanji said. Chopper transformed into his heavy point and started to untangle them as painlessly as possible.

"OW, that hurt, Gorilla!" Franky yelled in pain. As soon as they got untangled, they lied on the ground while holding their backs in pain.

"Ohhhhohohhohhoooo." Luigi groaned.

Chopper went to Luigi and grabbed Luigi shoulder and started to pull until he heard a snapping noise. "Ohhhhhh, that feels alot better. Thank you Chopper." Luigi said while rubbing his back. After hearing that Chopper went back to his usual look and started to do his happy dance.

"Idiot, don't think I will be happy just because you said that to me, YOU BIG STUPID IDIOT! ASSHOLE, ASSHOLE, ASSHOLE, ASSHOLE…" Chopper said repeatedly while being in a happy mood.

"You look happy to me." Luigi simply said, before he and the rest continued to head back to the castle. As they reached, Peach's guards were towards the princess with joy.

"Princess Peach, You are okay." said one of the guards as he and the rest started to cry with joy.

"You guys are so nice, you don't have to do that every time I get captured. I know that Mario will be the one that will always rescue me from danger." Peach said before giving Mario a kiss, which caused him to blush.

Sanji was dumbfounded after seeing that. "Um, Peach-san, I saved you too. Where is my kiss?" Sanji asked as he closed his eyes and puckered his lips towards Peach, only for Nami to hit him behind his head.

"How about we celebrate in my castle, there will be more food this time." Peach said to the Strawhats, which caused Luffy to run straight to the castle.

Everyone else soon got in the castle as a mysterious figure from a far distance was observing them from afar.

"It looks like they have one of the hearts. No matter, they wont be able to get the rest." said the mysterious figure before he disappeared in the darkness.

Everyone got in the dining room, which has a plastic cover that is covering up the broken wall, to see Luffy sitting on one of the chairs with a fork and a knife. "What took you guys so long? Hurry up and sit down so we can eat already!" Luffy said excitedly, while pounding at the table. Everyone simply sighed and proceeded to sit down and waited for the chefs to arrive. the doors bursted open as the main chef, Cheferino and his assistants entered while holding plates that contained delicious meals on them.

"Bonjour Princess, It is good to see you back, enjoy this lovely…" Cheferino stops talking as he saw Luffy with a big grin on his face. "Oh no, not him again…" Cheferino cried bitterly as his assistants placed the meals on the table including a turkey. Luffy then stretched his hand and grabbed the turkey before swallowing it whole, including the bones. Cheferino grabbed his hat and stomped on it repeatedly before leaving the room while saying a bunch of stuff in french.

They then enjoyed the whole night celebrating their victory over Bowser. Zoro drank more beer then he should, and landed fast asleep on Chopper. Usopp had a megaphone and started to sing about himself, he was currently on his #137 song. Sanji was gazing at Nami, Robin and Peach romantically as hearts started to come out of his visible eye. Mario was telling Luffy about his previous adventures, Which made Luffy even more excited about what world he was going to next.

The celebration lasted for hours until they finally got tired and started to sleep throughout the whole night.

The next morning, The Strawhats were right next to their ship as Peach's soldiers were getting in while carrying big boxes with them. "Thanks princess for the supply of that green mushroom head colas. those will definitely be useful for the ship." Franky said.

"I don't know how it will be useful to your ship, but you are very welcome." Peach said kindly.

"Man, I wish we didn't have to leave this place, its so cool." Luffy said, while looking at Peach's castle from afar.

"Idiot. If we stay here, then you will never be the pirate king and more importantly, I will never be rich." Nami said.

"The only way you can get rich is that if you worked as a rich man's sextoy for the rest of your life." Zoro said. Nami then hit at the back of Zoro's head so hard that not only it made a huge bump, but it also made him bleed.

"Nami, I just stitched his head yesterday! You opened his wound again!" Chopper said as he started to stitch Zoro's wound. Nami then faced at Princess Peach, who had Luigi hiding behind her in fear.

"Thank you for everything Peach, even for the gold coins that I couldn't keep thanks to that stupid retard." Nami said while tears were pouring out of her eyes.

"It was no problem, Its what I do for friends." Peach said.

"Oh Peach-san, you are so nice, I could just kiss you!" Sanji yelled joyfully before getting hit in the face by Nami.

"Well, I guess that we have to get going now." Nami said as she went aboard the Thousand Sunny, until she saw some fat guy coming.

"WAIT JUST A FREAKING SECOND!" yelled the guy as he ran to the docks while his body was covered in bandages. Zoro got up after Chopper finished stitching his wound and looked at the guy.

"Not you again." Zoro said as it was Wario who was the one covered in bandages. "How many times are you going to whine to me about the sword I got from you?"

"Shut up! I don't care if you defeated me last time, I will follow you until you completely pay for that sword you bought from me!!" Wario yelled while pointing at Zoro furiously. Nami happened to overhear their conversation, so she got of the ship and started to walk to them.

Zoro looked back to see Nami walking towards him. He then got a little nervous and quickly looked at Wario. "Can you keep it down, I don't want her to hear." Zoro whispered at Wario while pointing at Nami behind him.

"WHY ARE YOU WHISPERING TO ME!? THIS ISN'T SOME STUPID LIBRARY, YOU KNOW!" Wario yelled louder than usual before Nami got next to Zoro.

"What's this about you buying some sword from him, Zoro?" Nami asked, who gazed at Zoro.

"Nothing, this guy is just crazy that's all." Zoro lied, which didn't work one bit. Nami only sighed and looked at the angry Wario.

"How much does he owe you?" Nami asked.

"If you are his lawyer, then you came just in time. This green head octopus owes me 999,999,949 coins, and he doesn't want to pay me." Wario said.

"Hmm, lets make a deal; how about in exchange for the sword, we give you this advanced medicine." Nami said while holding one of Chopper's rumble balls.

"Hey, thats my…" Chopper said before Nami covered his mouth. Wario looked at it curiously.

"Advanced medicine huh? What does it do?" Wario asked.

"Well, this medicine will not only make you feel better, but it will also make your body turn from fat grease into pure muscle. Observe." Nami said as she opened Chopper's mouth and forced him to swallow the rumble ball. Wario waited to see what would happen, but Chopper looked the same.

"Ha, that thing doesn't even work." Wario said.

"Don't worry, any moment now, his ARMS will grow tenfold." Nami said, while making gestures at Chopper. Chopper finally did what Nami wanted him to do, so he transformed into his arm point, which made Chopper taller and his arms incredibly bulkier.

"WHAT THE!?" Wario gasped as his eyes popped out of his sockets while looking at Chopper's enormous arms. "Okay you have a deal! Now give me one of those balls." Wario said before Nami gave him one. "Wah ha ha ha ha ha ha! Do you see this Mario? This medicine ball thing is going to make all the girls love me instead of you." Wario said, showing of the rumble ball at Mario.

"Whatever you-a say, Wario." Mario said carelessly.

"Wah ha ha ha, I can smell your jealousy all the way over here. So long, suckers!" Wario yelled as he ran off to try of his new item.

"Let me guess, you are going to talk about the debt I owe you again?" Zoro asked.

"Yep, you now owe me an extra 50,000 berri for the fifty coins you took from me without asking me." Nami said, while Zoro looked at her angrily.

"50,000 Berri!? Are you nuts woman!?!" Zoro asked.

"That is the cheapest I could make, do you want me to raise the amount?" Nami asked threateningly. Zoro gave and stomped his way back to the ship.

"When we reach to a hellish world, I am going to leave you there." Zoro said furiously.

"Yeah, I will be waiting for that." Nami said as she waved to Zoro once he got on the ship.

"Hey, there he is!" shouted some koopas that turned out to be the NPA, and they were heading towards Franky.

"Eh, what do you guys want?" Franky asked.

"We are sorry to disturb you, but we would like to thank you for helping us no-pants to stand up to those pant wearing guys." said the leader of the NPA. "Since you are leaving, we made a present for you." The leader gave Franky a box with ribbon on it. Franky then opened the box to see a cake with his face on it, with some words that say 'The man who defies wearing pants.' next to it. Franky took off his sunglasses and looked at the gang in front of him.

"This is so nice. I didn't expect such a nice present from my fans." Franky said as he was starting to cry."Damnit, why did you guys have to give me such a present. YOU IDIOTS, WAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAH!" Franky cried in joy, as the members of the NPA started to cry as well. "DUMBASSES! I AM NOT CRYING!!" Franky yelled as he and the NPA continued to cry.

"There you are, my handsome knight." said a female voice as Luffy turned to see it was Lady Bow, accompanied by her butler, Bootler.

"Oh, hi green ghost girl." Luffy said as he waved to her.

Sanji then looked at who Luffy was talking too, and saw Lady Bow. Sanji's visible eye then turned into a heart. "As soon as I heard you were leaving, I just had to rush over here to… huh?" Lady Bow said as she saw Sanji kneeling down before her.

"Your a good reason why their is a lot of spirits around the universe, it is for them to be with you for all eternity. Accept this flower as token of your prettiness." Sanji said, smoothly as he gave her the rose.

Lady Bow wasn't impressed, so she threw the flower away. "You are in my way, so stand aside." Lady Bow said, rudely. This caused Sanji's heart to break and made him curl into a fetal position. Lady then floated right in front of Luffy. "Its so nice to see you again, my handsome knight." Lady Bow said while looking at Luffy's eyes romantically.

"Yeah, its nice that you came to see us off." Luffy said while doing his usual grin.

Sanji saw the conversation between Luffy and Lady Bow, so he ruhed right at them. "SHE is the one who likes you, Luffy!?" Sanji asked in a crazy fashion. Before Luffy could nod, Lady Bow suddenly appeared right at Sanji's face.

"HOW DARE YOU YELL AT MY SWEETY PIE LIKE THAT, YOU CURLY BROW FREAK!?" Lady Bow asked.

"Bu-But I just simply dont understand that some moron like him could get someone such beautiful as you." Sanji said, which actually caused Lady Bow to relax.

"You really mean that? Well I guess you do deserve something for that remark then. Cover your eyes and you will get a big surprise." Lady Bow said, tauntingly. Sanji then started to get excited, So he closed his eyes waiting for the big kiss. Lady Bow then slowly got closer to Sanji's face, until she got angry and lifted her right hand and started to slap at Sanji's face repeatedly. Usopp was watching the whole thing and couldnt believe it.

"Wow, I never saw Sanji getting slapped by a female like THAT before." Usopp said as he continued to see Lady Bow slapping at Sanji with no mercy. As Lady Bow finished slapping Sanji, Sanji's face had more bruises then the ones he gives to Luffy and Usopp combined. Sanji then fainted happily while Luffy was completely amazed.

"Wow, you sure can kick ass, you are so cool." Luffy said, joyfully. Lady Bow then blushed so much, that her whole body turned red.

"Well, its no big deal, really." Lady Bow said happily until she saw Robin.

"Hello, Ms. Bow. I didn't expect to see you here." Robin said.

"What's that supposed to mean? You don't want me here? Well you can just go ahead and say it, so I can do the same thing to you as I did this to Curly brow freak." Lady Bow said, while pointing at the unconscious Sanji.

"No, I just simply didn't expect you to come here, that is all." Robin said, plainfully.

"Yeah you better have said that." Lady Bow said threatingly, while Robin just giggled.

Bootler then appeared right next Lady Bow. "My Lady, remember that you have to go back to the mansion in 15 minutes about the rearrangements you wanted me to organize for you." Bootler said. Lady Bow then calmed down and looked at Luffy.

"I hope I get to see you again my lovely prince, until next time." Lady Bow said before she kissed Luffy at his cheek before flying off with Bootler sadly.

Luffy scratched his head in confusion before Mario and Luigi came to him. "I hope-a you are able to get-a back to your-a world, Luffy." Mario said.

"Yes, thanks for helping us on defeating Bowser. Sure we could've done it without you, but thanks anyway." Luigi said. Luffy simply smiled at them.

"No problem, It was a pleasure kicking his ass." Luffy said, before Merlon spoke from the docks.

"Now then, are you all ready to leave?" Merlon asked as the rest of the Strawhats started to get on board.

"Yeah we are ready to go." Luffy said as Mario and Luigi started to get off the ship.

"Splendid, now get the great heart for the great door of destiny or the mystery heart as you like to call it in the air." Merlon said before Luffy got out the Happy red heart out of a box or the Mystery box for the mystery hearts which Luffy called it.

"Now lift the heart in the air and say these magic words: GREAT DOOR OF DESTINY THAT WILL LEAD YOU TO OTHER WORLDS FOR THE SAKE OF MANKIND FOR ALL ETERNITY, OPEN!!" Merlon said.

"THATS TOO LONG FOR A MAGIC WORD!!" Usopp yelled in disbelief as Luffy lifted the heart in the air and said

"Mystery Door, open!" Luffy yelled, as Merlon fell down in disbelief.

"THAT'S NOT THE MAGIC WORD! IT'S… huh?" Merlon said as the heart started to glow.

The heart then let out a red beam in front of Luffy. The beam then spreads out in five direction as a portal of some sorts was formed in between the rays. The portal then was replaced by a humongous, white, double door with 4 sockets in shape of hearts on the left side and 4 more sockets in the other. The heart then shot another red beam at the socket at the top left side, filling it up with red energy. which made the door open, revealing an image of another planet was shown inside.

"Confound it! How come they always change the magic word." Merlon said, as the Strawhats were amazed at what they were seeing.

"That door is bigger than the last one." Usopp said amazed at the sight of the great door.

"Its a Myster door, so of course it's bigger." Luffy said while looking at door as well.

"Remember, as you enter the door, you will instantly appear on any part of that world. So make sure you are prepared for anything." Merlon said.

"Be careful you guys, and good luck." Peach said. Peach's voice caused Sanji to sprung back to life. "DONT BWORRY ABUT USH, PECH-SANN, BWE BWELL BE OKAYLLTH." Sanji said joyfully, as his face was still bruised up from earlier.

"Good-a Luck-a!!" Mario said as the Strawhats were now heading in the door.

"Take care! Bye, bye!" Luigi said. Luffy put the mystery heart back to the mystery box and waved back to Mario and Luigi.

"Bye guys, we won't forget you!" Luffy exclaimed as he and everyone else were waving to them before they entered through the door. The door then closed, and disappeared in thin air.

"Well, they are-a gone." Mario said.

"Yes they are." Peach replied.

"Well I guess its time to relax now, lets go back home Mario." Luigi said as he was heading back to his home.

"Okey-dokey." Mario replied as he was about to walk to his house until he heard someone groaning.

He went to check to see who it was, and it turned out to be Wario holding his stomach in pain. "That stupid orange head girl is going to pay for this." Wario said before another sound from his stomach made hold his stomach in agony.

"Mama mia." Mario said before he walked away.

Meanwhile…

The Strawhats were now traveling through a passage filled with streams of light. "Woah, this place is amazing." Nami said as she observed streams of light passing right through her.

"Oi, look at that." Franky said while pointing straight in front of him. There was an image of a planet that was getting bigger as the Strawhats were getting closer.

"It looks that one of the mystery hearts are in that planet." Robin said.

"Yosh! Let's go to that planet! FULL SPEED AHEAD!" Luffy yelled as they went through the image of the planet as light blinded the Strawhats. As the light faded away, the Strawhats opened their eyes to see a great plain ahead, and they could also see castle bigger castle Peach's. They also saw a small town right in front of it. They were somehow seeing from above as they thought they were on a mountain or something.

"Woah, that castle is just as wide as that town!" Chopper said while standing at the rail of the ship.

"Yeah, it's so cool from up here!" Luffy said happily.

"This place is so beautiful, yet I have trouble breathing here." Nami said as she was breathing more than usual.

"Nami-san, are you alright?" Sanji said, with his face now back to normal, while rushing to Nami's side.

"This kinda feels like we are in Skypiea or something." Zoro said, as he was having trouble breathing as well.

"Maybe we are on some big mountain." Usopp said before walking to the edge of the ship and looked down. As soon as he stopped looking down, he faced back to his companions with his mouth completely opened.

"What's wrong, Usopp?" Chopper asked.

"W-W-We-We-We-We are-are-are…" Usopp stuttered while his body completely shook in fear.

"What was that? Speak english, will ya?" Franky said as he saw Usopp losing his balance.

"F-F-F-F-FLOATING IN THE AIR!! WE ARE FLOATING IN THE AIR!!" Usopp yelled as he realized that they were not on mountain, but in the air. Chopper then looked down and jumped back with fear as he went to Luffy and hid behind his leg, but was actually leaning against it instead.

"WE ARE IN THE SKY!!" Chopper exclaimed in fear as he was holding on Luffy's leg.

"That doesn't make any sense, how in the world are we floating in the air?" Nami asked as she went to see for herself.

After seeing that they were floating in the air, Nami simply hold on to something very calmly. "WE ARE GOING TO DIE!!" Nami exclaimed as the ship finally started to fall down at full speed. Everyone's eyes, except for Robins, completely popped out of their heads as they were falling with the ship; even the Thousand Sunny's eyes were popping out of his head. Luckily enough for the Strawhats, they landed on a crazy river.

"Gah! Everyone, get to your positions!" Nami yelled before they stumbled on to something which caused Chopper to fly off the ship.

"CHOPPER!" Luffy exclaimed as he stretched his arm and grabbed Chopper by the antlers. Before he can pull him back in though, the ship stumbled again, which this time caused Luffy to fall off the ship as well.

"LUFFY!" Zoro yelled as he tried to grab Luffy, but couldn't save him in time.

Luffy and Chopper drifted to a different current while the others continued to go along with theirs. "DAMN IT!" Sanji yelled as the ship was getting faster. They then saw a huge lake in front of them.

"Hang on!" Nami shouted before the ship landed on the calm lake with great force. Everyone then calmed down and looked at their surroundings.

"When that weeny said that we would appear in any part of the world, he wasn't joking." Franky said while rubbing the back of his head.

"Forget about that for now, we just lost Luffy and Chopper back there." Usopp shouted.

"Great, how the hell are we going to find them in this place?" Franky asked, while looking at his surroundings.

"We have to worry about that later, right now we have to find out how to get out of this lake." Zoro said, as he saw nothing that could get them out of there.

Meanwhile…

Luffy and Chopper were unconscious as they continued to drift through the river. They finally drifted to a small pond in a forest. Just as they reached the pond, a mysterious figure riding a horse came to them. The figure got off the horse, grabbed Luffy and Chopper and put them on his horse. He then got back on his horse and started to head out of the forest.

TO BE CONTINUED…

I suppose you all know who that was right? Hope you enjoyed it.

Zelda Pt 1

In case you guys (or girls) are wondering, This is the Zelda from Twilight Princess. Enjoy!

Different world, same surprises. The Strawhats have used the mystery heart to use the great door of destiny, or 'Mystery door' as Luffy likes to call it, to travel to their next world. They went in the door, which led them into a great plain with an enormous castle in the middle of it. The view of the castle was so good it seemed that they were floating in the sky, which was actually the case. They somehow were floating in the air, until Nami screamed so loud that it made the ship fall down to a river. Luffy and Chopper accidentally fell off the ship and were drifted to another current. The Strawhats couldn't get to them due to the flow of the river and landed on a big lake that doesnt seem to have an exit. Luffy and Chopper drifted to a pond unconsciously due to the effects of their devil fruits, and were soon taken away by a man riding a red horse. "Who is this man and what are his attentions.

Chapter 13: Heading to the castle, The attack of the Bulbins

"Okay, let's anchor over there." Nami said while pointing at the land near a big cave. The paws of the Thousand sunny then went down at the water and soon anchored. Zoro put down the rope ladder before everyone else got off the ship.

"Now make sure nothing happens to the ship, or you'll be sorry." Franky said while shaking his fist at Zoro.

"Whatever." Zoro replied as he laid on the ground and started to take a nap.

"So, where do we go?" Usopp asked.

"There is some sort of house over there, maybe we should ask the owner for directions." Robin said while pointing at a small house that was on the water.

"Okay, let's get this over with. This world has gotten on my nerves already." Nami said as she, Robin, Usopp, Sanji, and Franky started to walk through a wooden deck. When they got to real ground they saw a cannon with two legs that was aiming at the sky.

"Wow, what kind of cannon is this?" Usopp asked, amazed while looking at the cannon.

"It looks like a cannon with feet, but where the hell is the fuse?" Franky asked as he was trying to look for the fuse, but only hexagon panel with a red dot in the middle. Robin wasn't that impressed at the cannons features, but was more impressed at her surroundings. Robin looked up to see an enormous bridge that is so big, that it anybody could just walk through the entire lake, and the land around it with no problem at all.

"This place is quite fascinating." Robin said. Nami waited for them to finish their sight seeing, until she smelled something familiar.

"What is that smell?" Nami asked she began to look for the source of the smell. The scent started to get stronger as Nami saw that it came from some grass. Nami then leaped to the grass, and started to pull all of it out of the ground until she saw what she was looking.

"JEWELS!!" Nami exclaimed as she grabbed a couple of green jewels off the ground and started to hug them with happiness. Sanji saw the cheerfulness of Nami and his visible eye turn into a big heart.

"Nami-san is so beautiful when she is hugging a couple of green jewels that came from the ground." Sanji said, happily. The rest of the crew came to Nami.

"Why were a couple of jewels doing there?" Usopp asked while rubbing his chin.

"Who cares? I found them, so they are mine." Nami said while still hugging the green jewels.

"Yeah, whatever, lets just get to that house already." Franky said, as he went to house ahead of him. As soon as he got there, he saw a small clown that seemed to be depressed. The clown looked at the Strawhats, but continues with the same sad expression.

"Well now, I haven't seen you people around here before. Did you came from a distant land of some sort?" The sad clown asked.

"Uh, yeah you could say that. Hey, do you know where we are?" Nami asked. The sad clown then looked confused.

"Where you are? You mean you don't have any idea what this place is?" The sad clown asked.

"Well yeah, I believe that is the definition for that question." Usopp replied rudely before Nami elbowed him.

"I guess you guys are really not from around here after all. Well, you guys are now at Lake Hylia, the biggest lake in Hyrule." The sad clown said.

"Hyrule?" Sanji said. The sad clown was then shocked after hearing that.

"Don't tell me you travelers don't know anything about Hyrule?" The sad clown asked. The Strawhats simply shook their heads in response. "Well I guess not all people in this world knows about anything, do they?" The sad clown then started to explain about the land called Hryule. "According to the legends, Hyrule was formed by the three goddesses Din, Naryu and Farore." the sad clown said, as the story got Sanji's attention after hearing the word 'goddesses'.

"Din created the physical geography of the realm, Farore the flora and fauna, and Nayru gave the laws of physics and magic. Once they finished their tasks, they left for the heavens and left behind three golden triangles. With these triangles they can have the power to control everything; which is called the triforce. Nobody knows were they currently reside now, but it has been quite peaceful since that month." the sad clown explained, trying not to remember about the incident that happened in the past. "Well, that is pretty much the basic of this land. Anyway, my name is Fyer. I am one of the two people that run the Watertop Land of Fantastication." Fyer said while showing off his house.

"My name is Nami, and this Sanji, Robin, Usopp and Franky. Do you happen to know how do we get out of this lake?" Nami asked.

"Why, yes, of course. For a merely amount of eight rupees, I can get you out of this lake in no time." Fyer said.

"Rupees?" Usopp said.

"The green jewels that Nami is holding." Fyer said, while pointing at the jewels that happened to be rupees that Nami were holding.

"What? No, I just got these." Nami whined as Robin grabbed the rupees from her and gave them to fyer, while Nami started to weep in despair.

"Thank you, now please get inside the house." Fyer said as he stood aside and let the Strawhats in the house.

The door of the house soon closed afterwards as Fyer then went some sort of a machine that had colorful blowhorns in front of it and on top were wooden cutouts of chickens with human heads. Fyer grabbed the crane on the right side of the machine and started to turn it. As he was turning it, the house started to turn to the house that was hanging from the mountain's side. The roof of the house then opened and a cannon came out of it.

The cannon then fired the Strawhats to the house as Usopp, Nami and Franky's eyes were popping out in fear, except for Sanji and Robin. The Strawhats perfectly landed on the balcony that had red target symbol on the floor, except for Usopp who landed on his chin. "What kind of transportation system was that!?" Usopp yelled while rubbing his chin.

"That was kind of primitive, but it was kinda fun." Robin said.

"You crazy, aren't you?" Usopp asked before getting kicked on the head by Sanji.

"The only thing that bothers me right now is that I don't have my precious rupees anymore." Nami said as she continues to cry in despair. Sanji then quickly rushed to her side.

"Don't worry Nami-san, I will find one of those precious rupees for you even if it takes my whole life searching for them." Sanji said with great determination in his visible eye.

"Isn't that one of those rupee things right over there?" Franky asked while pointing at a green rupee at the corner of the balcony.

Sanji quickly ran to get the rupee and quickly ran back to Nami. "Here you go, Nami-san! It took me couple of seconds to find it, but it was worth it." Sanji said, happily. Nami's despair soon turned to joy.

"Thank you Sanji-kun." Nami said happily as she snatched the rupee from Sanji's hand and started to look at it with her eyes turned into berri signs.

"I am glad that you are happy, now if you could just do…" Sanji said before Nami interrupted.

"No thanks, get away from me." Nami said happily while still looking at the rupee.

Nami's response caused Sanji to go to a fetal position and weep silently. "Idiot." Usopp and Franky said simultaneously.

"I am glad that you are happy Miss Navigator, but we should probably continue to look for the captain and the doctor." Robin said.

"I guess your right. Let's go, Sanji-kun." Nami said as she was heading to a door in front of her. Sanji's great depression completely faded away as he heard Nami's voice calling him.

"YES, NAMI-SAN!" Sanji said, happily as he followed Nami through the door, while Usopp, Robin and Franky followed afterwards. As they went inside, they went down a ladder inside, and headed out to another door. They were now outside again and they started to walk through the great plains.

"Man, this place is enormous. How are we going to find Luffy and Chopper here in this place?" Usopp asked.

"Their was a town near that big castle we saw earlier. Maybe if we head there, we could probably get some directions." Sanji said.

"How do you expect us to get to that castle on foot? It will probably take hours for us to get there." Usopp said.

"Quit whining, Long nose, You will never get to be as strong as I am if you are going to act like that." Franky said while flexing his muscles.

"Since when did I ever say that I want to be strong as you? Better question, When did I ever say that I want to be like you?" Usopp asked, which caused Franky to give him an angry glare.

"Will you two just shut up for a minute I think we have company." Sanji said while looking at his surroundings as he felt he was being watched.

"What the heck are you talking about? There is nobody here except for me, you, Nami, Robin, Franky, and that weird looking green guy that is on top on that rock who is about to fire at us with a flaming arrow-WHAT THE HELL!?" yells Usopp as he ducked under an incoming arrow with the tip coated in flames.

Usopp got back up with his feet trembling as he saw the attacker. "Why the hell did that guy try to kill me for!?" Usopp whimpered as he then saw more of the green guys coming out of nowhere and started to attack the Strawhats.

"Looks like they are looking for trouble. Come on!" Sanji said as he ran at one and kicked one of them in the face.

Franky looks the guy at the rock and twists his left arm inwards without moving his left hand and exposes four small holes in his wrist "BEANS LEFT!" Franky rapidly fires multiple explosive pellets at the archer and kills him instantly. His left arm went back to normal as he ran to a couple of green guys and started to punch them repeatedly. He then grabbed one of the green guy's face and tossed him to other green guys.

Robin saw more archers on the cliffs that were about to fire at her. "TREINTA SEIS FLEUR…" hands grew on each of the archers on the cliff and grabbed hold of them "CLUTCH!" the hands then broke the spines of the archers, as they died afterwards. Robin then noticed a couple more of them trying to attack her from behind. "DIEZISEIS FLEUR, TWIST!" arms grew out of the attackers and twisted their bodies so much that their bones snapped into pieces.

Usopp was in complete fear as he saw a group of green guys charging straight at him. "GYAAAHH!" Usopp screamed as he dodged one of the guys attacks. After he dodged, Usopp grabbed his slingshot and aimed at the attackers. "HISSATSU KOUSHOU BOSHI!" Usopp fires a pellet which when it made impact to his attackers, it caused an explosion of pepper around them. The attackers were either blind or were sneezing continuously before Usopp ran to them with his hammer.

"USOPP HAMMER!, USOPP HAMMER!, USOPP HAMMER!, USOPP WAGUMO!, USOPP HAMMER!" Usopp hit his attackers four times with his hammer and one time with a rubberband. The attackers had big bruises on their heads as they were completely knocked out. "That's right! Don't mess with me punk. I am the bravest warrior of the sea and should never be messed with." Usopp said bravely, unaware that one of the green guys was about to hit him from behind, until Nami stopped him by hitting him with her Perfect clima tact.

"Hey brave warrior of the sea. Try to pay attention to your surroundings next time." Nami said as Usopp nodded in fear before firing at the rest of the attackers. Nami then looked at the ones coming at her. "The hell are these guys? THUNDER CHARGE.." the tip of Nami's PCT started to get covered by electricity and then it started to get lose. Nami then started to swing that end like a flail and went straight to her attackers. "SWING ARM!" Nami swung her PCT at her attackers, electrifying them to death at the process.

Sanji did a horizontal kick at a group of attackers in front of him. He then saw two of them trying to do a horizontal slash at him "COLLIER…" Sanji dodged the blows and landed on his hands "… FLIP!" Sanji then thrusted both of his feet to the attackers chin, which caused them to fly in the air and land back on the ground dead. Sanji then spread out his legs and started to spin at a fast rate, hitting anybody around him.

Despite the Strawhats getting the upperhand, there were still more attackers that would attack them. "How many of these guys are their?" Franky asked while punching one of them.

"At this rate, will never find Luffy and Chopper." Nami said before hitting one of them with her PCT. All of a sudden, there was a sound from a horn that could be heard from a distance. The attackers stopped and then started to run away from the Strawhats.

"Huh? What just happened?" Usopp asked as he looked at the attackers running away.

"It must be the sound we heard just now, but where did it come from?" Robin asked.

"Let's forget about that for now, there is a town right over there." Nami said while pointing at a gate.

"Well, we shouldn't be out here any longer, so lets get in there quickly." Usopp said, as he dashed right in the gates, as the rest simply walked through.

Meanwhile…

South of the Hyrule fields lays a small village called the Ordon village. There was a house around a big tree, right next to it was a small store. There was a skinny looking man that was throwing rocks at a humongous bee hive that was hanging from the tree. As he threw a rock to the bee hive, the bees came out and started to chase the man, until he jumped in the water. At the end of the village was a ranch with a bunch of blue looking goats walking around it. There was a tall man trying to get the goats in the cabin, but they refuse to listen to him.

Just near the entrance to the ranch was a big house. Inside there were multiple pots and there was also a sumo wrestling arena at the end of the house. There were two beds, one was behind a staircase and another one was on the second floor. What is so important about this place was Luffy was sleeping on the bed on the second floor while Chopper was sleeping at the bed at the first floor. A fat old man with a small white mustache went upstairs to check on Luffy.

"This boy sure can sleep." said the man while looking at Luffy, who was snoring loudly. A girl about Luffy's age then came up the stairs with plate with meat.

"How is he, father?" asked the girl.

"He seems to be okay, Ilia. But he doesn't seem to be getting up anytime soon. I'm starting to get worried" said the man. He then looks at her daughter. "I see you made dinner. What's the occasion?"

"I didn't made it for you, I made it for him so he can recover faster." Ilia said.

"Well he has to wake up first. He can't eat while he is sleeping." the man said until he saw Luffy sit up with his eyes closed and turned to the both of them. Luffy then turned to the plate that Ilia was holding and snatched it out of her hands and ate the whole thing, before giving the plate back to Ilia. He then laid back at the bed and resumed to snore again. The man and Ilia looked at eachother in confusion. "Gee, this guy can eat while sleeping. Now I have seen everything." the man said.

Luffy then quickly sat up in fear. "HOLY COW, I'M DROWNING!!" Luffy yelled, as he scared Ilia and the man. Luffy then calmed down and looked at his surroundings. "Huh? I am not drowning anymore." Luffy said before he looked at Ilia and the man. Luffy got out of the bed and stood up at them. "Who are you guys?" he asked plainly, as the man was trying to recover his composure after the scare Luffy gave him.

"Ahem, It seems that you have recovered. What a relief. Allow me to introduce myself, my name is Bo, I am the mayor of the Ordon village." Bo said. "And this is my lovely daughter Ilia." Bo said, while showing Luffy her daughter.

"Hi, nice to meet you." Ilia said, nicely.

"You should be thankful to her since she was the one that brought you here." Bo said. Ilia then looked at her father angrily.

"I am not the one who should receive all the credit, it was him that brought him here." Ilia said as she starts to remember what happen earlier.

FLASHBACK

Ilia was having a nice walk out of the village as she was heading to a house just outside it. She looks at the house sadly, as there used to be someone living there. "When will you come back?" Lilia asked before going back to the village until she heard steps that would come from a horse. She turned around to see a man riding a red horse that had Luffy and Chopper unconscious on it. "Epona?" Ilia said as she then looked at the man on her.

"Li.." before she could finish on what she was about to say, the man got off the horse and grabbed Luffy and Chopper. He then put them on the ground in front of Ilia. Ilia looked at them curiously, before she looked back at the man, who suddenly got back on his horse and rushed off. Ilia didn't understand why he would leave some strangers to her, but she didn't had time to think about that as she rushed back to the village to get some help.

END OF FLASHBACK

"And so she came to me, and I helped you, and that weird looking raccoon back here at our house." Bo said. Luffy then quickly remembered about something.

"Oh yeah, Chopper. Where is Chopper?" Luffy asked.

"Chopper? Do you mean the one that was with you? He is downstairs taking a nap." Ilia said, before Luffy rushed past her and went down the stairs. He then looked at Chopper who was vastly asleep. Bo and Ilia then went downstairs as well.

"He is an odd looking animal. I have never seen his kind of species before." Bo said, before Luffy walked up to Chopper and started to slap his face lightly.

"Oi, Chopper. Get up." Luffy said as he continue to slap Chopper lightly.

"Um, are you sure you should be doing that?" Ilia asked as Luffy was now slapping Chopper even harder. Chopper woke up furiously and transformed to his Heavy point.

"STOP SLAPPING ME!" Chopper screamed as Ilia and Bo were shocked at what they saw except for Luffy.

"Oi, Chopper. You are finally up." Luffy said as Chopper calmed down and turned back to his normal self.

"Oh, its you Luffy. Where are we?" Chopper asked.

"Were at a bald head-ossan's house. They are the ones who helped us get better." Luffy said as he points to Bo and Ilia, who were still in shock at what happened earlier.

"That racoon can transform into a muscle man and it can also talk." Bo said amazed while looking at Chopper.

"I am not a raccoon, I am a reindeer." Chopper said.

"Leave him alone, dad, you obviously have no respect for animals." Ilia said as she knelt down and looked at Chopper happily. "You are very cute, you remind me of Epona." Ilia said while gently rubbing Chopper's right cheek.

"Cute?" said Chopper as he started to blush immensely before jumping back and started to do his happy dance. "Stupid, I am not happy because you called me cute, YOU STUPID HUMAN! Asshole, asshole, asshole, asshole…" Chopper said happily as he continued to do his happy dance.

"You see, dad? He is very happy with me." Ilia said, while Bo just simply scratched his head.

"Anyway, since you two are new around here, you two should probably get to know the people in the village. Lets head outside shall we?" Bo said as he opened the door and went outside along with Ilia.

"Luffy, should we trust these people?" Chopper asked.

"Of course we can, if they helped us, then there is nothing to worry about." Luffy said as he and Chopper were going outside.

As they got outside, they heard a shout from the ranch. "HEEEEYYY, ONE GOT LOOSE! GET IT!!" the guy said as a blue looking goat was running out of the ranch and was heading to a couple of children. Luffy jumped in front of the children and confronted the rampaging goat. Luffy grabbed the goat by its horns and tossed the goat to the left as it landed on the ground. The goat then got up and slowly went back to the ranch.

"WOW!" yelled two of the children, amazed at Luffy's strength, while the other two just looked shock.

"Well, well, it looks like you are quite the strong man." Bo said, pretty impressed with Luffy's strength.

"You are so cool mister." said one of the kids as he went up to Luffy. One was boy with a shirt with no sleeves, another one was a smaller looking boy with a weird hairdo, and has a grumpy expression; A girl taller than the two boys that is looking at Luffy romantically; and there was a blonde hair child, that seems a little shy.

The boy with no sleeves than looked at his friends. "Did you guys see how he flipped that goat like if it was so easy?" The boy with no sleeves said.

"It was okay, I guess… I've seen better though." said the kid with the weird hairdo.

"Oh, Malo, why do you have to be so negative? That was cool and you know it." the girl said, while Malo just simply looked the other way. "Ignore Malo, he is always like that. My name is Beth. And that is Talo and the one over there is Colin." Beth said while pointing at the excited one and the shy one.

"My name is Luffy, and that over there is Chopper." Luffy said while pointing to Chopper. Talo quickly rushed over to Chopper and started to look at Chopper excitedly.

"Wow, its a funny looking reindeer that is walking on two legs!" Talo said, while Chopper was a little freaked out. As Talo was observing Chopper, Colin went up to Luffy.

"That was really cool what you did, mister Luffy." Colin said. Luffy simply laughed.

"It was no problem, I took down bigger and stronger guys then that goat." Luffy said.

"Wow, really?" Talo said as he stopped observing Chopper and looked at Luffy happily. The kids were talking about him and Chopper so much, that it caught the attention of a blonde hair man that was swinging his sword nearby. The man than walked to the kids.

"Whats going on?" The man asked.

"Oh, hello Rusl. The ones unconscious earlier are now awake, and the kids are just talking about how this young man took down a goat earlier." Bo said.

"Is that so?" Rusl asked. He then walked up to Luffy. "My name is Rusl, I am Colin's father. You two must have had a rough time earlier."

"No, we deal with this kind of stuff all the time." Chopper said. Rusl then looked at Chopper.

"A talking reindeer? Hmm…" Rusl said while putting his right hand around his chin. "Well anyway, what brings you lads all the way to Ordon village?"

"Well it all started as we opened the mystery door. Then we went in and we were like floating in the sky for some reason. The we landed on this crazy river, and Chopper fell of the ship, so I stretched my hand to grab Chopper, but then I fell off the ship and then we got separated from our crew and then we woke up and we were right here." Luffy said. Everyone just looked at him strangely and pretty confused.

"Ignore him, he has a little bit of mental illness." Chopper said, while Luffy was confused at the confused looks he got.

"You mentioned about a crew. Did you get separated from your friends?" Ilia asked.

"Yeah, and we don't know much about this place, except that it doesn't seem to have any ten foot bug eye people." Luffy said while everyone else looked confused at him again.

"Can you help us find our friends?" Chopper asked. Rusl was thinking about it and started to look for something in his pocket. He then pulled out a map.

"You said that you landed on a river. All the rivers lead to this lake right here." Rusl said as he points to a big lake on the map. "And were we are right now is all the way down here." Rusl said as he points to small plain that is way far from the lake.

"That far? How are we supposed to get all the way over there?" Luffy asked.

"Tell you what, since you entertained the kids, I will give you this map as a thanks." Rusl said.

"Okay, thanks." Luffy said as Rusl gave him the map.

"Now you are here, you go north through the bridge, you then go through the cave near the pond and then after you get out, you go to your left. You then head straight forward into the fields. Once you are in the fields, you head to the right and until you find a bridge. You go through the bridge and head to the right to see a house. You go in and tell the guy to get you to the lake." Rusl explained as he took out a couple of rupees. "You'll need these in order to use his services.

And one more thing, be careful with the bulbins, they attack anyone they see." Rusl said as Chopper felt a little scared.

"I don't know what those are, but if they mess with me, then I'll just kick their asses." Luffy said confidently.

"Do you really have to go now?" Colin asked, as he and his friends started to look sad.

"Yeah, don't worry, we will probably visit you guys again after I become the pirate king." Luffy said as the children felt happy again.

"Well good luck finding your friends." Bo said.

"Thanks, Bald head-ossan. Lets go, Chopper." Luffy said as he and Chopper were about to leave, until Ilia ran up to them.

"Luffy, if you happen to see a man riding a red horse, could you say hi to him for me?" Ilia asked.

"Okay, sure." Luffy said.

"Thank you. Bye." Ilia said before leaving Luffy and Chopper alone. Luffy and Chopper left the village while walking past a house. They then walked through a big bridge. Chopper was holding on Luffy's head as he was to scared to walk through it. Luffy didn't mind so he walked through the bridge and went to the other side. Chopper got off of Luffy's head and started to walk on his own.

They then saw a gate that was blocking there way. "He didn't mention this… oh well, GOMU GOMU NO PISTOL!" Luffy punched the gate and smashed it to pieces. Luffy and Chopper went through and saw a pond that was right next to a cave. They went in the cave and once they got out, they went to the left to see an old shack. They walked to the shack and read a sign that was next to the door that said "On vacation with my sisters." Luffy and Chopper then looked at eachother in confusion, wondering what that meant, but they soon shrugged it off as they started to head to the plains of Hyrule.

They reached to the plains and saw the huge castle in front of them. "Maaaan, that castle looks good even from this distance." Luffy said, while putting his hand over his face to block the rays of the sun.

"It sure does look nice." Chopper said as he looked at the castle as well, until he then noticed something in front of his view. He couldn't tell what it was, but it was getting closer. "Hey Luffy, what is that?" Chopper asked while pointing at the thing. Luffy stopped looking at the castle and looked what was in front of him.

"Hmm… It looks like some fat green guy riding a pig." Luffy said as the creature was getting closer to them.

Those who have played Twilight Princess should know who that guy was. Leave your review and till we meet again in the next update.

Zelda Pt 2

This chapter is kinda short, but its all I can think of right now. Enjoy!

Bulblin showdown. After they lost track of Luffy and Chopper, the rest of the Strawhat crew, except for Zoro, have started to explore the land called Hyrule and look for them. They came across objects that are interesting, while some other things arent that pleasant. Nami, Usopp, Sanji, Robin and Franky had confronted with a group of green people called the bulblins. The became victorious after a sound of a horn. After the battle, they found a gate that led to a town and went in to continue the search. Aside from them, Luffy and Chopper woke in a small village called Ordon Village. A man name Rusl, gave them instructions to find their crew, and they soon departed afterwards. After they finally got to the plains, then saw an unknown figure approaching them quickly. Who is this man? A friend or foe?

Chapter 14: The great chase, The hero of twilight

"Hmm… It looks like some fat green guy riding a pig." Luffy said as the creature was getting closer to them. The creature could now be seen in clear view. He had two broken horns, his left one being slightly longer than his right one. He was armored on his upper torso, leaving his stomach exposed. He also has ragged brown pants. His eyes didn't have any pupils and they were completely yellow. He was riding a very big, blue, furred pig that had two horns on each side of his head and two horns over its nose. Just like his owner, it has armor, only its on his face.

They continued to head straight towards Luffy and Chopper at great speed. "Luffy, I don't think that guy is friendly." Chopper said, as he was getting a little scared.

"Chopper! Get out of the way!" Luffy yelled as he pushed Chopper out of the way of the creatures path before the creature crashed into a tree. The tree then fell down as the the creature started to face towards Luffy and Chopper.

"What does he want, Luffy?" Chopper asked, as he was leaning on Luffy's leg instead of hiding behind it.

"This guy wants a piece of us! Well, lets give him one!" Luffy said as he cracks his knuckles. Luffy then stretched his arm backwards "GOMU GOMU NO PISTOL!" Luffy thrusted his stretched arm towards the creature. The creature didn't expected that kind of move, so he got hit in the face, but was still on his pig. Luffy's hand went back to its normal position as the creature was regaining his balance. He then looks at Luffy curiously before trying to run him over. Luffy jumped out of the way and grabbed a nearby tree, and walked back while holding it.

As the creature turned around, he saw Luffy's arms stretching as Luffy himself was at a far distance. "GOMU GOMU NO ROCKET!" Luffy jumped as the force of his hands went back to normal as he sprung towards the creature, and rammed his head into the creature's stomach. The force of the blow was so hard, that it caused the creature to fall off his pig. The creature got up, only to see Chopper in his walk point running straight at him. When he was close, Chopper jumped in the air and transformed in his Heavy point, and as soon as he landed, he punched the creature in the face.

The creature went sliding across the ground, until he did a back roll, and landed on his feet. He saw Chopper running straight at him, trying to punch him in the face again, only for the creature to block it, and counter by punching Chopper on the chest. "GAH!" Chopper cried before the creature grabbed hold of his right arm, and turned around to flip Chopper over his shoulder. After Chopper landed on the ground, The creature was about to hit Chopper at his face, but failed to notice that Luffy was above him.

"GOMU GOMU NO YARI!" Luffy stretched both of his feet straight at the back of the creature's head, which caused the creature land on the ground face first. "You okay, Chopper?" Luffy asked as he was helping Chopper to get up on his feet.

"Yeah.." Chopper said before he saw the creatures pig running straight behind Luffy. "Luffy, look out!" Chopper exclaimed as he shoved Luffy out of the way, before he grabbed the pig by the horns, and tried to flip him over. As Chopper was holding the pig back, Luffy got up to see the creature brushing of the dirt of his face.

Luffy rushed to the creature, only to get hit by the creature's backhand slap. As Luffy was regaining balance, the creature started to rush at him. Luffy then saw him coming, so he grabbed the creature's shoulders, and started to spin his body like a hedgehog. "GOMU GOMU NO MARUNOKO!" Luffy stopped spinning and gave a devastating headbutt at the creatures head. The creature started to lose consciousness, but then he quickly regained it as he smashed Luffy's head like a sandwich. Since Luffy was a rubbermanhe survived the blow, but he fell to the ground in pain.

The creature then raised his fist in the air until Luffy lifted his right foot and hit the creature's chin in the process. The creature grunted in pain as Luffy's foot was still going up in the air. "GOMU GOMU NO ONO!" Luffy then lowers his foot, and stomps the creature on the head with great force. The creature went face first at the ground once again, only this time he didn't get up. Luffy was breathing heavily as he saw Chopper still pushing the pig back. Chopper then lifted the pig's head up, and lets go of the horns in order to grab its neck.

Chopper then lifted the pig, and wrapped his arms around the pig's stomach. He then he flips the pig over with a suplex, as the pig landed on the ground with great force. Chopper got up, and looked at the unconscious pig. He then looked at Luffy, and rushed over to him. "I think we got them." Chopper said exhausted.

"Man, what was that guy's problem?" Luffy asked, as he was looking at the unconcious creature.

"I think it was one of those bulblins that Rusl talked about earlier. I think that bulbin must be the leader." Chopper said.

Luffy then started to think about something. "Hmm… Lets call him King Bulblin." Luffy said, happily. Chopper then looked at Luffy curiously.

"Why?" Chopper asked.

"Because he seems to be like the strongest of the bulbin thingies, since he can take alot of blows. Besides, fat people are usually the kings." Luffy said.

"Really? Why?" Chopper asked.

"Because, they can eat everything they want, and they also eat like six meals a day. Thats why they are so fat." Luffy said, as Chopper was believing everything that Luffy was saying.

"Wow, but what if the king was so fat, that he couldnt walk." Chopper asked, which made Luffy to think about that until he knew the answer.

"That is a good question. You see, they will probably make a thing called cars, which will be like train carts, only for the ground. It can go anywhere and it will be probably be driven by big snails or something." Luffy said as he continues to talk about kings and cars to Chopper, who was getting excited by the stories of Luffy.

While they were talking, they failed to notice that the creature, or King Bulbin which he was called, started to get up and look at the talking pair. He then got a wooden horn and started blow it. The sound echoed through the whole plain as Luffy and Chopper stopped talking to wonder where that sound came from. "What was that?" Luffy asked, until he noticed King Bulbin standing up.

"Oh no, King Bulbin is still alive!" Chopper said as he was pointing to King Bulblin. King Bulblin then started to laugh as more bulblins were starting to show up behind him.

"Woah, there are more of him this time, only they are smaller." Chopper said, as he turned into his walk point.

"Hee hee, then will just kick all of their asses." Luffy said before he and Chopper charging at the group of Bulblins, while King Bulblin rushed to his unconscious pig. "GOMU GOMU NO GATLING GUN!" Luffy repeatedly punches every Bulblin in sight, knocking them out in the process. He then saw couple of bulblin archers that was about to fire at Luffy. "GOMU GOMU NO WHIP!" Luffy then stretches his leg and does a horizontal kick at the archers.

As they got hit, they accidentally fired the arrows in the air. The arrows then started to rain down at Luffy, who was able to dodge every single one of them. Luffy then ran to a couple of more bulblins and started to beat every single one of them. Chopper went running through the group of bulblins in front of him. He then saw two of them riding a pig smaller than King Bulblins; Chopper went running straight at them and jumped right at them, giving them a nasty headbutt. As Luffy and Chopper were finishing them off, King Bulblin was able to help his pig regain consciousness and he got on it afterwards.

King Bulblin then proceeded to charge straight at Luffy. "Luffy, Watch out!" yells Chopper, but it was too late. Luffy turned around only to get run over by King Bulblin's pig. As Luffy fell to the ground, his hat also came flying off of his head, and King Bulblin caught it before it landed on the ground.

"Hey, give me back my hat!" Luffy yelled angrily as he got up. King Bulblin took a moment to look at Luffy's hat, and then started to laugh. King Bulblin then started to rush off to the opposite direction that Luffy and Chopper were supposed to go. "COME BACK, YOU BASTARD!!" Luffy then began to chase King Bulblin.

"Wait Luffy, the lake is this way!" Chopper yelled, but Luffy didn't hear him as he continued to chase King Bulblin. Chopper looked at the way he and Luffy were supposed to go before he started to follow Luffy in his walk point. Unknown to him was that there was someone watching them from afar. That someone then began to follow Chopper.

Meanwhile…

Nami, Usopp, Sanji, Robin, and Franky entered to some sort of a medievil town. There was alot of people walking all over the place, not only humans, but big brown orcish men and blueish female fish ladies, which caught Sanji's attention.

"So they are real." Sanji said happily as he somehow started to float towards the fish ladies, until Nami grabbed him by the ear.

"Alright, were are going to split up and get some information. We'll meet back there in that big water fountain in one hour." Nami said, before they started to head in different directions.

Nami started to walk towards the big fountain, until a priest caught her attention.

"Excuse me, but for the sake of peace in Hyrule… would you please make a donation? We are trying to make a fund raising for the people who lost hope." said the priest kindly. Nami started to think about it. She hates giving away money, but since she is not from this planet, she reconsidered it.

"Sure, here you go." Nami said as she gave the rupees she had to the priest.

"Thank you. May the spirit of love descend upon you." The Priest said kindly, while Nami nodded before walking off.

Usopp and Franky walked by a tent, which caught a cheerful man's attention. "Excuse you me you two." said the man. Usopp and Franky turned around to see a happy and weird dressed man. "Yes, you two. How would you like to participate in a fun game for free?"

"Game? What kind of game?" Usopp asked.

"The objective of this game is to collect all the spheres of light in a certain amount of time. The winner will receive 100 rupees." the man said happily, as he took out an orange rupee.

"Is that all? Well, why not? I'll give it a shot." Franky said, confidently.

"Splendid, please follow me into the tent." said the man as he, Usopp and Franky went in the tent to see a big cage that had multiple spheres of different bright colors that were floating in the air. Franky then entered the cage, while three girls started to watch him play. "Now you have only 3 minutes to get all these or you will lose. Don't worry. It's impossible for anybody to lose in this game." said the man until he started to giggle. "Yeah right…" muttered the man quietly, as the countdown for the game started to begin.

"5… 4… 3… 2… 1… BEGIN!" Franky started to get all the spheres at the ground. As he got them all, he started to look at the ones out of his reach. "It looks like those are out of your reach sir, but don't worry, you'll find a way… in a million years." muttered the man again.

"Come on, Franky, finish this already." Usopp said impatiently.

"Fine already, STRONG RIGHT!" Franky launched his right hand to the higher part of the cage wall and grabbed hold. He then sprung in the air as he connected his hand back to his arm.

The man's eyes popped out of his head in shock at what he was seeing. The girls that were watching Franky started to cheer for him. Franky then repeated the process as he collected the rest of the spheres with only ten seconds to spare. The girls then jumped for joy as Franky got out of the cage while doing his victory dance. "Ow! That's how I roll baby!" Franky said as he continue to do his victory dance, while the man was still dumbfounded at what just happen. He then got back to reality and looked at Franky happily.

"Congratulations sir, you were able to collect all the spheres in time, here is your prize." the man said as he tried to give Franky the orange rupee, but he was still dancing.

"I'll take that for him." Usopp said as took the orange Rupee.

"I hope you two enjoyed the game… please don't come back." the man said as Usopp was about to leave, until he saw Franky still doing his victory dance.

"Lets go Franky." Usopp said.

"You go on ahead, I will catch up." Franky said as he was dancing. Usopp then decided to leave Franky do his natural thing.

Usopp started to walk through a narrow alley until he saw a little girl who accidently dropped her stuff. "Oh, let me help you with that." Usopp said as he picked up the girls things.

"Thank you so much, It is good to see someone nice around here for a change." said the girl.

"It was no problem for the great captain Usopp." Usopp said bravely.

"Your a captain? That is interesting. My name is Agitha, I like to collect bugs." the girl named Agitha said.

"You collect bugs huh? That's a nice hobby." Usopp said.

"Its not my hobby, it is my desire." Agitha said, which made Usopp wonder what she meant. "You see, bugs are the future. They will soon takeover all of mankind and be the new dominant species of Hyrule. Sadly, that will take centuries until that day that happens. Right now I wish I was a bug and I could probably cuddle with them or maybe something even deeper…" Agitha then closed her eyes and started to groan with pleasure, which made Usopp completey freaked out right now.

"OK… I am going over there will you stay right here." Usopp said, before he started to run away from her as fast as possible.

"Ok, It was nice talking to you." Agitha said, happily as she started to head in another direction. Usopp went running past Sanji, who was trying to charm one of the ladies.

"And so that is why we must marry and have 24 children." Sanji said romantically to the woman in front of him, only to get laughed at by her.

"Here is 10 rupees. Go find someone else." the woman said crudely, before walking off, leaving Sanji to moan in depression. Sanji started to walk with his head down until he noticed a sign near a door.

"Get your fortune told at Fanadi's." Sanji read the sign sadly. Sanji's depression quickly turned to happiness as he rushed in, leaving a trail of dust behind. Sanji goes in the door to see a room that was kinda dark to see. What Sanji was able to see was a fat lady sitting down behind a table that had a fancy crystal ball. Sanji walked up to her kindly. "I read the sign outside and I was wondering if you could read my fortune." Sanji said.

"Ah yes, I foresaw your arrival. I am Fanadi, your foooortune teller for the evening." the woman named Fanadi said, "Now what would yoooou like to know: your future career, or your future love?"

"LOVE!" yells Sanji joyfully.

"Great, but first you'll need to pay 10 rupees for my services." Fanadi said before Sanji gave her the rupees. "Now I will shoooow you the shape of love that you haven't eveeen recognized." Fanadi said before she started to concentrate. "Elihwa sekat gnidaol… tiaw… I SEE!" Fanadi yelled. Sanji was holding his hands with excitement. "I see the throne room of Hyrule castle, and Princess Zelda is there."

Fanadi said as she saw a big throne room with a beautiful woman about Sanji's age sitting on her throne.

"Princess… Zelda…" Sanji said before he started to dance with nothing but pure joyness.

"Now go to that place I just mentioned and do… something…" Fanadi said, only to see that Sanji left a long time ago. Sanji was running to the castle as fast as he could, even faster than Usopp when he is scared.

"MELLORINE, MELLORINE, MELLORINE, MELLO-huh?" Sanji stopped dead at his tracks to see Nami impatiently waiting. "NAMI-SWAAAAAAAAAAN!!" Sanji yelled happily as he rushed over to Nami, only to get run over Usopp who was still running for his life, until he stopped in front of Nami.

"This place is full of weirdos." Usopp said while catching his breath.

"Whatever! were you able to get some information?" Nami asked.

"No, I was too busy trying to run for my life." Usopp said.

"-sigh-… I guess the idiot over there doesn't have any info either." Nami said while looking at the unconscious Sanji. Franky then could be seen blowing kisses to his fans.

"Ow! I love this place. I feel so wanted." Franky said as he approached Nami and Usopp.

"You guys are so useless when it comes to getting info." Nami said, before Robin walked up to them with a man with long black hair.

"I think I found someone who might be able to help us. This is Renado, he is the Chief Shaman of the Kakariko village." Robin said.

"I have heard you lost your friends, so I would like to help you on your search. I know someone from my village that could find them for you." Renado said.

"Finally, Robin you are the only one I can trust. Not like those buffoons over there." Nami said happily.

"Oi, Oi, Oi." Usopp and Franky say while Sanji was still unconscious.

"Anyway, how are we going to get to this village?" Usopp asked.

"I have a carriage just outside the west gate. I'll be happy to take you there." Renado said.

"Huh, well alright lets go to this place already." Franky said, as he grabbed the unconscious Sanji as he and the rest of the Strawhats followed Renado to the west gate.

Meanwhile…

It was already sunset, as Luffy and Chopper was still chasing King Bulblin at the west part of Hyrule. "GET BACK HERE!!" Luffy yelled while chasing King Bulblin. King Bulblin looked back angrily before blowing his horn again. After he blew his horn, a couple of bulblins riding their big pigs came out of nowhere and started to attack Luffy and Chopper. "GET OUT OF MY WAY!!" Luffy punched one of the bulblin's pig in the face, which then made the pig to fall down with the bulblins on it.

Another Bulblin tried to shoot Luffy down, but Chopper then hit the attacking bulblins pig at the rear, which caused the pig to yelp in pain and run faster than usual. The speed caused the attacking bulbin to lose its balance, and fell off his pig before accidentally firing an arrow in the air. The arrow then went down and it almost landed on King Bulblin's pig face. The pig got scared and fell down, causing King Bulblin to fall down as well.

King Bulblin grabbed some dirt from the ground, and put it in his pocket before getting up. He then looked at Luffy and started to wave Luffy's hat to him. Luffy went running straight to King Bulblin while trying to punch him in the face, only for King Bulblin to dodge and counter with an elbow at the back of Luffy's head. "GUAH!" Luffy cried, before King Bulblin grabbed Luffy, and tossed him back to Chopper. Chopper quickly turned to his Heavy point and caught Luffy. As Chopper helped Luffy to stand up, King Bulblin got back on his pig, and started to head to a big bridge.

"DON'T LEAVE, YOU COWARD!!" Luffy yelled as he chased King Bulblin to the bridge. Chopper then followed Luffy only to see some bulblin block the entry of the bridge with giant, spiked blockade of lumber. The Bulblins then shot an arrow that was on fire to the blockade, and it got caught on fire soon afterwards.

"RAAAAWWWWWRRRRR!!" Chopper roared as he grabbed the two bulblins by the neck and smashed their heads with eachother. Chopper then tried to look through at the blazing wooden spike blockade. "Luffy!" Chopper yelled, as Luffy then looked back to see that he was trapped.

"Damn it!" Luffy yelled before looking at King Bulblin, who was at the other side of the bridge, which was pretty far. King Bulblin then started to charge at Luffy, while Luffy does the same thing with him. They then collided with eachother as Luffy was pushing pig back by its horns. The pig then started to push harder as Luffy was forcefully moving back. "GYAAAAAAH!" Luffy screamed as he too started push even harder, as the pig was now forcefully moving back. Seeing that Luffy was winning, King Bulblin got the dirt he got earlier out of his pocket and threw it to Luffy's eyes.

"AAAHHH, MY EYES!" Luffy cried as let go of the pig to rub his eyes, only for the pig to crash into him, which caused Luffy to fly in the air.

"LUFFY!" Chopper gasped, before heard a sound behind him. Chopper turned around to see a teenager wearing a green tunic that was riding a red horse, and was galloping at Chopper's direction. "WAH!" Chopper gasped as he ducked in fear, only he jumped over the blazing blockade. Luffy began to fall of the bridge to the endless pit below, before the teenager got out some sort of claw. He then shot the claw to Luffy, and pulled him back to the bridge.

King Bulblin recognized the teenager on the red horse, and started to laugh as his pig took a few steps back and charged at Luffy savior.

"HIYAH!" yelled the teenager as he started to charge at King Bulblin as he took grabbed his sword and lifted it in the air. He then started to spin his sword in the air as he got closer to King Bulblin. "HYAA!" yells the teenager as he did spin slash at King Bulblin, which caused King Bulblin to fly off of his pig and into the endless pit below.

"WOAH!" Chopper gasped as he jumped out of the way as the pig went through the blazing blockade and continued to run ahead.

The teenager then lifted his sword in victory as his horse lifted its front hooves in the air. "Cool…" Luffy said before falling asleep.

Meanwhile…

Zoro was quietly taking a nap like he usually does, until he felt a presence nearby. Zoro opened his eyes and got up as he took out his swords. "Who's there?" Zoro asked as he looked around the Thousand Sunny for the intruder. He then turned around to see a golden wolf standing on the roof of the cabin. "A wolf?" Zoro said before the wolf started to get ferocious. The wolf then leaped at Zoro as a bright light started to emerge around the area.

Zelda Pt 3

I kinda didn't like how the last chapter went, since it was to short. That is why I made a big one this time. Enjoy!

Captains need help from heroes sometimes. As Luffy and Chopper were in the fields of Hyrule, they were attacked by a strong Bulblin named King Bulblin. Luffy and Chopper have tried their best to defeat him, but every time King Bulblin falls down, he just gets back up again. King Bulblin took Luffy's hat and lured him to a bridge. It seemed that all was lost for Luffy as King Bulblin tossed him out of the bridge when all of a sudden, a teenager with a green tunic saved Luffy and defeated King Bulblin afterwards. Meanwhile, The rest of the strawhats met a man named Renado, who apparently knows someone who knows how to find Luffy and Chopper. He invites the strawhats to his village of Kakariko. When all of this was happening, Zoro went face to face with a golden wolf. What has happen to Zoro after the face off? And who is the teenager in the green tunic?

Chapter 15: To Lake Hylia, Battle with the ancient warrior

Nami, Usopp, Sanji, Robin, and Franky followed Renado through the east gate, and saw a fancy red carriage with two black horses in front of it outside. "Here it is. Lets go in, shall we?" Renado said as he opened the door of the carriage as the Strawhats entered afterwards, except for Franky.

"Sorry, Franky, there is no room for you, I guess you have to share a seat with the driver." Usopp said, while smiling as he slammed the door afterwards.

"That's racism I tell you." Franky mumbled to himself as he sat right next to what appears to be a small child, only he was covered in a robe

He looked at Franky for a while, before he whipped at the horses which caused the horses to start moving towards Kakariko village. "So, Robin told me you are from another planet." Renado said, as Nami was shocked after hearing that.

"Well, we are not from another planet, we are just from another land…" Nami said, trying to cover her identities.

"Its alright, I already am aware that their are other planets out there besides this one." Renado said kindly.

"How is that?" Usopp asked.

"Not long ago, there was a someone that claimed to be from another planet, and invited Link to be in his special tournament. I vaguely remember if it was like that, however, but I'm certain it did happen." Renado said.

"Link?" Nami said.

"Oh yes, I forgot to mention about him." Renado said as he was about to explain who Link was. "As you might know, Hyrule is one of the most peaceful lands that has ever existed. It is govern by our majesty, Princess Zelda." Renado said, which then caught Sanji's attention.

"I heard that name from the fortune teller, she said that Zelda is my future love." Sanji said, while looking back at the castle joyfully.

"Every pretty girl you see is always your future love, but they always reject you at the end." Usopp said while Sanji glared at him.

"Anyway, everyone in Hyrule loves the ways that Zelda governs Hyrule. Those were the peaceful times, until that day." Renado said, as he put his hand around his chin. "Seven months ago, terrible creatures emerged from the darkness and attacked Hyrule castle. Despite Hyrule having the most skilled swordsman, they were easily defeated by the creatures. They soon took over the throne of Hyrule, as the beautiful land soon turned into a land of twilight. Everyone lived in fear as the creatures took over everything in, there was one man that would save us all." Renado said as he then looked out the window.

"An ordinary teenager named Link, stood up and defeated the creatures from the twilight as he was the chosen from the goddesses. He went to Hyrule castle and defeated the leader, which caused the dreaded Twilight to disappear forever." Renado said happily, but then turned into a confused expression. "But it seems that something evil is about to rise once more." Renado said.

"What do you mean?" asks Robin.

"The creatures of this world started to act violent with eachother. Bulblins would now attack anyone they happen to see." Renado said, which made Usopp get scared. "Their also has been some terrible storms recently, which happens every three days or so." Renado said as he looked outside to see some dead bulblins as they pass through. Usopp was grossed out just by looking at them. "Well, you shouldn't worry about this dilemma, I am sure that it would soon go away. Right now, we should be at Kakariko village." Renado said, as the carriage was now heading into a mountain area.

The Strawhats then saw a small village, that looked like a came out of a western film. Their were a couple of big brown ogreish looking people that were called Gorons around the buildings. There was also a big pond at the end of the village. The carriage stopped as they got out of the carriage to look at their surroundings. Franky got of the driver seat as the kid that was driving suddenly jumped off of the drivers seat and started to run away. "What is that kid's problem?" Franky asked.

"Oh, he comes every now and then. He likes to do silly things in the village all the time." Renado said, as a moderate fat man with red hair at the back of his head with a welding helmet, approached Renado.

"You finally came back, Renado. And I also see you brought company with you." said the red hair man.

"Oh, it is you, Barnes. I brought these people here in order to help them with their problem. Have you seen the postman?" Renado asked.

"Yea, he still it at the inn, still counting the letters he has." the man named Barnes said.

"Thank you, Barnes." Renado said, before facing towards the Strawhats.

"Please follow me." said Renado, as he lead the Strawhats to a big inn. They entered the inn, which had tables at the first floor and a counter in the right corner. They then saw a man with a red hat and white clothing looking at some letters.

"Okay, This one is for Masahiro Sakurai for a demand to include Sonic the Hedgehog in some game, and here is one for Jack Thompson on how much he sucks.." The man mumbled to himself as Renado and the Strawhats came up to him.

"Excuse me, Mr. Postman. We are in need of your assistance." Renado said. The man referred to as the postman got up and looked at Renado.

"Yes sir, how may I help you?" asked the Postman.

"The people here have lost their friends and they need help on finding them." Renado said, before the Postman got out a sketch book and walked towards the Strawhats.

"Okay, If you be so kind to give me their descriptions, I will draw them in this sketch book." the postman said as he took out a pencil.

"Well okay, One is like about my height, has a straw hat, wears blue trouser and a red vest and a pair of sandals. He also has a scar under his left eye and has black hair. He is also the most stupidest person ever, so dont forget ot right that down." Usopp said as the postman was drawing what he was hearing.

"The other one is a gorilla." Franky said.

"He is not a gorilla, you idiot." Usopp said.

"Allow me to describe Chopper; he is a small humanoid reindeer who wears a pink hat with a white X on it, he has a metal plate around his left antler and he also has a blue nose." Robin explained as the Postman continued to draw.

"Okay, are these them?" asked the postman as he show the strawhats the drawings of Luffy and Chopper, which turned out exactly as they were described.

"Wow, that is too good of a drawing." Usopp complimented. As Usopp was complimenting the postman's drawing, Nami was writing a letter. After she finished writing the letter, she gave it to the postman.

"Once you find them, give them this." Nami said as she hands the letter to the postman.

"Understood, madam, I will be right back." the Postman said as he than out of the inn with incredible speed.

"Huh, that was quick." Sanji said as sat down on chair near a table.

"While we are waiting, why don't you try take a tour in the village." Renado said.

"Meh, why not? Better than sitting down all day." Franky said as he went outside. He went outside and smiled at his surroundings, He then took a deep breath of fresh air, before coughing of some dust he inhaled as well. "Blah, Were can you get a shower around here? I'm stumped." Franky said grumpily.

"Why don't you take a bath at the hot springs?" A goron said while walking up to him.

"Hot springs, huh? Where is it?" Franky asked.

"It is just right above us, brother. I could get you there faster if you want?" The goron asked.

"Sure, why not?" Franky said.

"Good, now get on my back." the Gordon said. Franky took off his sunglasses and looked at the goron, weirdly.

"Get on your back? Listen, just so you know, I don't do that kind of stuff unless if your were some hot female, then I'll do otherwise." Franky said.

"No, I mean get on back so I can launch you towards the hot spring." the Goron explained as he curled into a ball.

"Okay, but you better not do any funny business or I'll hit you." threatens Franky as he got on the goron. The goron then started to shake and after a couple of seconds, he opened up to his normal stance, which the force caused Franky to fly in the air. "WWOOOOOOOOOOAAAAAHHH!" screamed Franky while he was in midair until he landed near the hot springs. He then saw a nice hot spring with a couple of gorons resting in it.

"Ahh, would you like to join us, brother?" asked one of the gorons. Franky just took his time looking at all the gorons and no female in sight.

"Whatever." Franky said before taking off his hawaian T-shirt and dived in the hot springs. His head then popped out of the water and then he started to relax. "Well, this isnt so bad. Despite showering with big brown men with nipples that are rock solid, this is totally relaxing." Franky said as he began to sleep. Usopp came out of the inn and started to look around the place as well.

"I wonder if they have any stores around here?" Usopp asked to himself as he then saw a sign with a bomb on it.

"Hmm, this place looks like a bomb shop." Usopp said before going inside the bomb shop. The place was nothing big, but it did have various kinds of bombs behind the counter.

"Oh hey, you where one of the folks who came with Renado earlier." the man behind the counter said, that turned out to be Barnes.

"Hi, I was wondering what kind of bombs do you have?" asks Usopp.

"Interested in explosives aren't ya? Well, you came to the right place. Here we have standard bombs." Barnes shows an ordinary bomb. "A water bomb, which can be used underwater." Barnes shows a bomb that looks like a fish holding a bomb in its mouth."And we have a bombling, which can walk on the ground for a while before it explodes." Barnes shows some sort of insect curled into a ball.

"A bomb that could walk on its own? Amazing." Usopp said as he was about to touch a bombling, but the bombling almost bit him before curling back into a ball.

"Yeah, I forgot to mention that it bites. Anyway, which one would you like to buy?" Barnes asked. Usopp takes out the orange rupee out his bag.

"How much can I get with this?" asks Usopp. Barnes eyeballs popped out of his head as he saw the orange rupee.

"Well now lets see.." Barnes said joyfully as he made some calculations.

During the same time, Robin got out of the inn and started to walk around the village. She noticed a very big pond at the end of the village, so she walked up to it and sat down near shore. "This pond… is quite refreshing in some way…" Robin said, as she then notices the boy who rode the carriage earlier, sitting right next to her.

"Oh hello, what is your name?" Robin asked, as the caped boy slowly looked at Robin. The caped boy then gave robin some sort of ocarina, before running out of the village.

Robin saw the boy leave before she looked at the ocarina the boy gave her. "What an odd child. I wonder why he gave me this for?" Robin asked before putting the ocarina away. As that happened, Usopp came out of Barnes bomb shop, with a bag full of different kind of bombs.

"Now there will be no man that would dare to face me now." Usopp said while having a big grin on his face as he walked back to the inn until he noticed something flying in the clouds. "What was that?" Usopp asked, as the creature in the sky flew away. Usopp simply shrugged it off before heading back to the inn.

Back at the inn, Sanji and Nami were discussing to Renado about their adventures.

"Interesting. And you survived through all of that? Its quite impressive." Renado said.

"Yeah when your are the one not doing all that, then it is impressive." Nami said, trying not to remember the things that happened to her during her journey with her crew.

"We have confronted lots of situations that seemed impossible to face at first, but we manage to pull them off at the end. Thanks to the captain, of course." Sanji said.

"I see, Well you have certainly come a long wa…" Renado looked outside as the sky was now getting and could barely see some lightning in the clouds. "Not again… Its best that we stay inside for a while. You should call your friends to come back inside." Renado said.

"No problem, I'll get them." Nami said, as she got up and went out of the inn. "Oi, get your butts back in here, there is a storm coming!"

Nami yelled, as Usopp went walking inside the inn, follow by Robin. Franky got out of the hot springs and put on his hawaiian shirt.

"I was just enjoying this thing, damn storm." Franky muttered to himself, as he walked back to the inn while a noise of a thunder could be heard.

Meanwhile…

It was daytime once again as the storm was finally over. At the northern parts of Hyrule, there was an abandon village, that were infested with cats and one chicken. There were broken windows and everything looked disordered, but it didn't bother the cats. The only place that was still in good condition was a small house at the end of the village. Inside was Luffy, who was unconscious after his gruesome fight with King Bulblin. Chopper was putting bandages at the back of Luffy's head.

"Man, that guy can sure hit Luffy hard." Chopper said, as he continues to put bandages on Luffy's wound. Luffy then started to slowly wake up. "Luffy, you shouldn't get up yet." Chopper said, worriedly.

"Its okay, I am fine." Luffy said while rubbing at the back of his head. Luffy the looked at his surroundings to see a room filled with cats. "Where are we?" Luffy asked as one of the cats jumped on Luffy's lap.

"We are in a hidden village. nobody is going to attack us here." Chopper said. Luffy continued to rub the back of his head, until he remembered something.

"Oh yeah, what happen to that elf guy that took down King Bulblin?" Luffy asked as he looked around the room to see no sign of him.

"Elf guy? Oh, you mean Link. He is outside feeding his horse." Chopper said. Luffy got out of bed and went outside to see a teenager with green tunic, with a sword and sheild on at his back, feeding his horse that is red and has white hair. The teenager heard a sound of a door opening as he turned around to see Luffy coming out of the house.

"Ah, I see you are awake." said the teenager.

"Your that elf guy that took down King Bulblin on that bridge." Luffy said as he points at the teenager.

"Elf? Why, yes I did defeat king Bulbin back at the bridge, but I am not an elf." The teenager said as he finished feeding his horse. As the teenager did that, Chopper came out of the house.

"Luffy, I am not done healing you." Chopper said before looking at Link, "Oh hi, Link. I guess you already met Luffy." Chopper said.

"Yes I, have." resplied the teenager named Link before looking at Luffy.

"I am kinda surprised to see someone take on King Bulblin besides me. My name is Link. Your friend Chopper has told me a lot about you and your travels." Link said.

"Ha ha, yeah, We have fun doing that, right Chopper?" Luffy asked.

"Yeah, fun…" Chopper said, as remembers the bad things that happened to him during those travels.

"Anyway, Chopper has told me that you lost your crew." Link said.

Luffy nodded in response, "We were heading to where our crew was, but that stupid King Bulblin came out of nowhere and attacked us." Luffy said angrily.

"He then took Luffy's hat and we had to chase him in the opposite direction we were supposed to go. Luffy could of died, but thanks to you Link, you saved him." Chopper said.

"It was no problem at all, I like to help others in need." Link said said with a smile, "By the way, I don't suppose you were heading towards Lake Hylia, were you?"

"Lake Hylia? I think so, why?" Chopper asked.

"I know where it is. If you guys want, I can take you there." Link said.

"Really? Cool, you are a nice elf." Luffy said, while doing his usual smile.

"No problem at all, and I am not an elf." Link said before getting on his horse. "We should get there by sunset. You have been sleeping all night yesterday, are you sure you want to go now?"

"No problem, I can… WHAT!? I WAS ASLEEP ALL NIGHT!?" Luffy gasped. Luffy then looked around the whole village until he found a couple of eggs on the ground. "Don't worry, I found some food." Luffy said before eating all of them in one gulp. Link was dumbfounded to see Luffy eat that fast. "Well, I'm ready. Lets get going." Luffy said happily, before he started to walk out of the village.

"His appetite is incredible. Does he always eat like that?" Link asked.

"Yes. When it comes to food, there is no stopping him." Chopper said before he and Link started to follow Luffy out of the village. As they got out of the village, and they saw three bulblins aiming at them with their arrows.

"Alright, you guys stand back while I--HUH!?" Link gasped as he saw Luffy's arm stretching.

"GOMU GOMU NO PISTOL!" Luffy punches one of the Bulbins so hard, that it went flying off the edge of the mountain ground. Chopper transformed into his heavy point and punched one of the bulbins at its head. Link was still in shock, but soon got back to his senses as he got his bow and fired an arrow at the last bulblin at its chest, which made it die afterwards. Link put his bow away as Chopper transformed to his walk point.

"If I may ask… How did you stretch your hand like that?" Link asked curiously.

"Oh, I ate a devil fruit that turned me into a rubber man." Luffy said while pulling his cheek.

"Devil fruit? I don't know what those are, but I'll ask later. Come on, lets get going." Link said as he, Luffy and Chopper started to walk through the mountain road. A couple of minutes later, They were out of the mountains to see the beautiful field of Hyrule, also with the view of the backside of Hyrule castle. After the sight seeing, they started to walk in the fields. "So, what exactly brings you and your crew here anyway?"

"We came from another world, but this door with a shape of a hand on it took us to another planet. Then we met with these cool plumbers named Mario and Luigi, and then I defeated this big turtle named Bowser. Then this guy Merlon, who Franky calls a weeny, told us to find these hearts that can help us get to our planet. We found one and then we went here and…" Luffy explained, before Chopper stopped him.

"Luffy, he doesn't know what you are talking about, so there is no use on getting further." Chopper said.

"I completely understand." Link said.

"You see, He didn't.. say what?" Chopper asked.

"I understand, I know who Mario, Luigi and Bowser are. They use to be competitors at the tournament that Master Hand always take hold." Link said as they went through a small bridge.

"You do? How do you know that?" asks Luffy.

"I use to be a competitor myself." Link said, while Luffy and Chopper eyes started to spark with joy.

"You use to be a competitor? No wonder you are so strong." Luffy said while Chopper got out his autograph book and a pen.

"Can I have your autograph, please?" Chopper asked. Link grabbed the pen and signed his name under Mario's signature, he then gave the book back to Chopper, as Chopper looked at the Link's signature with joy.

"Master Hand told me that my descendant use to be a competitor himself. He has competed in that tournament twice in a row. Master Hand told me that he picked me to take his place." Link said as he they were now at the east side of Hyrule fields, "I have made a lot of friends during that tournament. There was a yellow mouse, a driver with great abilities, and Bowser was their as well." Link said, as it surprised Luffy and Chopper.

"I didn't expect that guy was in that tournaments too." Luffy said, surprised.

"Aww, and I didn't get his autograph." Chopper said sadly.

"I heard from Master hand said that I was going to participate again in a few weeks, but it was months since he said that. I wonder what is going? Link asked as they now reached to the shed near lake Hylia.

Link got off of his horse. "Alright, Epona, I'll be back in a while. Just hang out around here for now." Link said, as his horse, Epona, nodded happily before strotting away in the fields.

"She said that you should take your time." Chopper said. Link turned to Chopper with confused look.

"You can understand her?" Link asked.

"Yeah, I can understand what other animals are saying." Chopper said.

"Interesting, no wonder Luffy picked you to be a part of your crew, you have a nice talent." Link said kindly, before Chopper began to do his happy dance.

"Idiot, I am not happy because you said that to me, YOU STUPID ELF!! ASSHOLE, ASSHOLE, ASSHOLE, ASSHOLE…" Chopper repeatedly said while dancing with joy.

"You seem happy to me and once again, I am not an elf." Link said before he opened the door of the small house and going inside while Luffy and Chopper did the same. They entered to see a ladder right in front of them, but instead they went by the ladder and went to a tall, happy looking clown.

"Well, if it isn't the hero of Hyrule, Link. What a pleasant surprise." said the tall clown, happily of course.

"Hello Falbi, how is business?" Link asked.

"Same as usual, So did you come here to talk or did you wanted to try the 'Flight-by-fowl' challenge?" Falbi asked.

"I'm here to take my friends to the lake, so yes, were here for that challenge." Link said.

"Splendid, next up for fantastication… TWO BIG GUYS!!… and a little one." Falbi said, while Chopper was hanging on Luffy's head with fear due to the yell that Falbi did earlier. "Okay, since this is Link we are talking about, the ride will be free of charge for you three. Now just grab a cucco of any color and have fun landing." Falbi said as Luffy looked behind him to see cuccos walking around.

"Those aren't cuccos, those are chickens." Luffy said before grabbing the brown cucco, while Link got a white one.

"Now since this is your first time, I will show you what to do. You simply hold the cucco above your head, and jump off while the cucco will do all the flying. Have fun." Falbi said before stepping aside.

"Sounds easy. Lets go, Chopper." Luffy said, while Chopper was still hanging on his head.

"Ok…" Chopper said, fearfully as Luffy was now at the edge of the house.

"Lets fly!" Luffy exclaimed as he jumped off the ledge as the cucco began to flap its wings like crazy.

"WOAH!" Chopper screamed as he closed his during flight. Luffy on the other hand was having the time of his life, until he noticed his ship in a distance.

"Look Chopper, there is our ship!" Luffy exclaimed while Chopper opened his eyes to see for himself.

"I see it. We finally found our crew!" Chopper exclaimed before closing his eyes afterwards.

"Yahoo! Thousand Sunny, here we come!" Luffy yelled, as they flew towards the sunny. At the same time, Zoro was looking at his sword, the Wado Ichimonji, as he was laying on his back.

"To take down the opponent's spirit, huh?" Zoro said as he starts to remember what happened yesterday.

FLASHBACK

Zoro woke up, and slowly got up to see that he was at a different place. The ground was covered with fog, and there were different kinds of buildings and locations in the are. "That damn wolf, Where am I?" Zoro asked before he felt a presence behind him. Zoro quickly turned around to see the same golden wolf that attacked him earlier. Zoro took out his swords before a light blinded him for a second. After Zoro regained vision, he saw that the golden wolf was now big armored skeleton with a red glowing eye on the right side of his face.

"Who are you!?" Zoro asked furiously, as he got ready to attack, but the skeletal warrior stood at the same place.

"Do not be alarmed. I wont hurt you." said the warrior, but Zoro didn't lose his guard. "I am one of the ancient warriors of a distant past that would challenge the strongest swordsman I come face to face." the warrior said, as Zoro let down his guard.

"Strong swordsman, huh? I like what I'm hearing." Zoro said.

"You have come from a distant world, and I could sense you have fought tremendous battles in the past. As a hero's spirit, allow me to test your abilities, young swordsman." the warrior said known as the Hero's spirit before unsheathing his sword.

"Heh, I've got no problem with that. Lets go!" Zoro yelled before leaping at the Hero's spirit. Zoro did a vertical slash at the spirit, but the warrior simply blocked it with his shield. The warrior then pushed Zoro with his shield before he swung his sword horizontally, but Zoro did a back flip to avoid it. As Zoro landed on his feet, he tried to slash the warrior again, only this time the warrior swung his sword in order to clash blades with Zoro. Zoro and the warrior stared at one another as they pushed with their swords with great force.

They then jumped back, and Zoro took the opportunity to slash the warrior at his legs, but the warrior jumped over the slash and countered with a jump attack. Zoro quickly roll out of the way before slashing the warrior at his back. "GUH!" cried the spirit, before he hits Zoro with his shield.

"GAH!" Zoro cried, before he was able to land on the ground with his hands, and then landed back on his feet. The warrior then charged at Zoro while holding his sword in the air, as Zoro waited for him to get closer.

"TORA GARI!" Zoro does a powerful downward slash at the spirit, but the warrior somehow roll out of the way, and appeared behind Zoro's back. The spirit then lifted his sword in the air and swung it down at Zoro, only for Zoro to lift his swords in the air in order to block it. Zoro then pushed the warrior away, "TATSU MAKI!" Zoro then spin, causing a tornado of cutting waves around him. After he performed the move, he looked around to see that the warrior was nowhere in sight.

Zoro then heard the sound of someone running at him from behind him. Zoro quickly swung his sword behind him, only for his wrist to get caught by the warrior. The spirit then used his shield to hit Zoro in the face. "GYA!" Zoro cried as he was knocked in midair. After the blow, The warrior then lifted his sword and was about to slash at Zoro, but Zoro used his foot to hit the warrior at his chin, which caused the warrior to lose his focus. As the warrior was regaining his senses, Zoro put one of his swords away and hold his swords in a parallel position.

"NITORYU NIGIRI…" Zoro charges at his opponent "TOUROU!" Zoro jumps and does an upward slash at the warrior's head, but the warrior kept his balance. "OUTOUROU!" Zoro then slashes at the warrior's head again, but the warrior still hasn't lost his balance. "HIRAMEKI!" Zoro once again slashed the warrior's head, only this time the warrior started to lose his footing. "SAMON!" Zoro does one more powerful slash at the warrior's head, as the warrior finally fell down to the ground. Zoro then took heavy breaths after doing that devastating combo.

Zoro then was surprised to see the warrior standing up. The warrior then split up into four clones of himself. "Oh great…" Zoro said as he took out his third sword and held it with his teeth while the five warriors started to charge at Zoro. One of the warriors slashed at Zoro, who blocked it with his sword. He then noticed another warrior trying to attack him from behind, but was able to block him with his other sword.

Zoro then saw another warrior in front of him trying to cut Zoro in half, but Zoro tilted his head so he can block the blow with the sword that he was holding with his teeth. Zoro was now trapped as he could not move due to him blocking the attacks of the clone warriors. "Where are the other two?" Zoro asked, before he realized that the two clones were in midair, with their swords facing right at Zoro. Zoro then used all his strength to push the clones out the way before jumping to the warriors that were in midair.

Zoro then did an upward slash at one of them and then kicked the other one at his torso. The warriors that were in midair landed on the ground roughly as Zoro landed easily before he put two of his swords in his sheathe. He then looked back to see the five warriors charging at him. Zoro then grabbed the sword that he was holding with his teeth and took out his sheathe. He then put the sword in the sheath as he went into a crouching position.

"ITTORYU LAI…" Zoro then put his sheathed sword on right hand and grabbed the hilt of the sword as the warriors got closer. "SHISHI SONSON!" Zoro then unsheathed his sword so fast that it went right through the warriors, but the warriors didn't seem to be injured. Zoro slowly sheath his sword before the warriors scream in pain as four of the warriors vanished into thin air. The real warrior then landed on his knees as his shield was then cut in half.

The spirit looked at the sky for some time until he got up and looked at Zoro. "Excellent, your are indeed capable of being the strongest swordsman that has ever existed." the Hero's spirit said, which made Zoro smirk. "But right now, you are not capable of defeating anyone stronger than me."

"What makes you say that?" Zoro asked.

"It was impressive that you were able to cut my shield, but it will take more than just cutting material objects to defeat your opponent." the Hero's spirit said. "You see, in order to insure your victory, you must cut something that no ordinary swordsman can cut and that is the spirit."

END OF FLASHBACK

"Hmm, cutting the spirit seems like an interesting task. I guess I'll try it on a strong opponent someday." Zoro said as he put his sword, the Wado Ichimonji, back into it's sheathe, as he was about to sleep until…

"ZOO OOO OOO OOO OOO OOO OOO OOO RRO OOO OOO OOO OOO OOO!"

Zoro opened his eyes and got up to see Luffy and Chopper flying towards the ship. "Luffy?" Zoro said as the cucco Luffy was holding was getting tired, as Luffy and Chopper flew down towards Zoro with great speed. "WAIT LUFFY, NOT HERE!" Zoro yelled, but Luffy crashed right at him as explosion of dust happened soon afterwards. After the dust cleared off, Luffy could be seen laughing as Chopper and Zoro were knocked out.

"Zoro, we finally found you. Are you happy to see us?" Luffy asked, while Zoro got up looking at Luffy angrily.

"What the hell, Luffy!?" Zoro asked, as Chopper was regained consciousness.

Meanwhile, back at the house, Link saw Luffy arguing with Zoro. "It looks like he made it. I'll see you later, Falbi." Link said before he lifted his cucco in the air and started to fly where Luffy is at.

"Anytime, come visit again." Falbi said as Link was now getting closer to the Luffy's ship.

"Why do I always have to suffer the things you carelessly do all the time!?" Zoro asked as he saw Link land right behind him.

Luffy turned around and saw Link. "Oi Link, I would like for you to meet my first mate, Zoro." Luffy said happily. Zoro looked at Link curiously.

"Um, yes?" Link asked as he was uncomfortable being looked like if he was some sort of freak.

"Luffy, who is the elf?" Zoro asked simply, which then caused Link to fall down in surprise.

"I am not an elf." Link said as he got back up.

"This is Link, he used to be one of the competitors at the tournament Master hand held." Luffy said.

"Yeah, you should of seen him, Zoro. He took down a big fat goblin with one hit. He is like the best swordsman…" Chopper stopped talking as Zoro was giving him a nasty glare. "Uh, the second best swordsman ever. Heh heh." Chopper said, as he was little scared of Zoro. Luffy then started to look around the ship, but to saw nobody else.

"Oi Zoro, where is everyone?" Luffy asked.

"They went to look for you guys after you fell off the ship. It looks like that was a stupid decision after all." Zoro said.

"Hmm, it will be boring to find those guys. Why don't we start to look for that mystery heart that we are supposed to find." Luffy said.

"But what about the others?" Chopper asked. Luffy then put his hand around his chin and started to think deeply.

"I got it, how about if we yell really loud that they would come rushing back here?" Luffy said, as his brilliant idea did not impress anyone.

"How about we just leave a note?" Zoro asked, as he got out piece of paper and wrote some stuff down.

"That was a good idea Zoro. You sure are smart." Luffy said while doing his usual grin.

"Its not that I'm smart, It's just that your stupid." Zoro said rudely.

"But where do we look first? This place is huge." Chopper said.

"If I make a suggestion, I may know some people that might help you." Link said, as he got everyone's attention. Link then points to the other side of the lake. "There is place called the mirror chamber just right up there. There are some sages that might know of the whereabouts of the object you speak of." Link said as Luffy then got excited.

"Yosh, lets head to that place now. Let's go guys." Luffy said as he, Zoro, Chopper and Link got off the ship and started to walk through the wooden plain.

Meanwhile…

Back at the big bridge, King Bulblin's pig went walking straight to the edge of the field as he heard someone climbing. He then saw King Bulblin pulling himself back to the field. King Bulblin got up and started to pick up a scent, he then smirked and got out two big shields that were attached to his pig, he then wrapped the shields around his arms and got on his pig, before heading straight to Kakariko village.

TO BE CONTINUED…

Looks like Zoro didn't learn a hidden skill afterall… or did he? Leave your review, please.

Zelda Pt 4

Here is a sort of a shocking chapter. Enjoy!

The search for the heart has begun. Luffy and Chopper met a young hylian named Link, that helped them to defeat Kinb Bulblin. Link then helped them by escorting them to Lake Hylia, where Zoro currently resides. In the meantime, Zoro has faced a strong warrior from a distant past. Zoro and the warrior then fought a tremendous battle with each other with Zoro becoming the victor. The spirit explains that if he wanted to defeat stronger opponents, then he has to learn how to cut the spirit of the swordsman. As Zoro was in deep of thought, Luffy and Chopper were able to reunite with him by crashing into him. Link then pinpoints to a place where they might be able to find the mystery heart. As this was happening, the dreaded King Bulblin somehow survived and began to go to Kakariko village. Will the Strawhats in Kakariko be able to take down whats coming to them? And what will Luffy and the gang will encounter in the mirror chamber?

Chapter 16: Kakariko village under attack, Evil rises once more.

Luffy, Zoro, Chopper, and Link went walking to Fyer's house, until Luffy came across with the cannon with legs. "Ohhhh, what is this thing? It looks so cool." Luffy said in amazement.

"That's a cannon that launched me into the city in the sky." Link said. Luffy and Chopper looked at Link with big sparkling eyes.

"City in the sky!? And you used this cannon to get there? That must have been fun!" Luffy said in excitement. While Luffy and Chopper were admiring Link, Zoro saw something shiny in the grass.

"Oi Luffy, look what I found." Zoro said as he picked up a rupee.

"Wow, a crystal. What is that doing out here?" Chopper asked while looking at the rupee.

"That is a rupee. It is the currency of this land. You can find them just around anywhere here in Hyrule." Link said as he walked up to them. Luffy snatched it out Zoro's hand to get a better look at it.

"Man, its shiny. I'll keep it." Luffy said as he put the rupee in his pocket.

"That's fine, we should get going anyway." Link said as they went to Fyer's house.

"Oh, if it isn't Link and some more strangers." Fyer said. Luffy looked at the sad clown curiously.

"I can't tell if he said that in a happy or a sad way." Luffy whispered to Chopper.

"Hello Fyer, we are heading to the Gerudo desert. Do you mind getting us a lift?" Link asked.

"Ha ha, no problem, Link. That will be ten rupees for the ride." Fyer said. Link got out a yellow rupee out of his pocket and gave it to Fyer.

"How is this depressed clown going to help us?" Zoro asked.

"You'll find out." Link replied.

"Okay fellas, step on in and I'll get you to Gerudo desert in no time." Fyer said as he stepped out of the way to let Link and Strawhats in. The gate then immediately closed as Fyer went to the lever of the musical box and started to crank it as music started to play. The house then started to move as the roof opened up to let out a big cannon that was aiming at the desert. The cannon then fired as Luffy, Zoro, Chopper and Link went flying at a great speed.

"YAAAAAAHHHHHHHOOOOOOOO!!" Luffy exclaimed with joy, as Chopper and Zoro were hanging on to him for dear life.

"WAAAAAAAH!" Chopper cried as they were now getting close to the desert. Link somehow was able to land on the sand at ease while the others landed so hard that their upper bodies got in the sand. Luffy then quickly got out of the sand and started to laugh.

"Ha ha ha ha ha! That was so fun! Right guys?" Luffy asked as he saw Chopper and Zoro getting out of the sand. Zoro was at the least of being happy as he spat out some sand that was in his mouth.

"Would it kill it to make a flight of stairs instead of using a cannon?" Zoro said grumpily as Link was quickly looking at his surroundings.

"What's the matter, Link?" Chopper asked.

"We have to keep going. We don't know when those will show up." Link said as he started to run.

"Hmm? What will show up?" Luffy asked as then he saw some sort of creature popping out of the sand and flew straight to Luffy before Zoro slashed it in half.

"Leevers! Run!" Link exclaimed as they now started to run in the desert. A couple of Leevers popped up behind them, but Zoro took care of them by slashing them with one sword.

"Gah! Run away, run away!" Chopper cried in fear as he running in the desert as fast as he could while in his walk point, but he failed to notice that a Leever was trying to attack him from behind.

"GOMU GOMU NO PISTOL!" Luffy punched the leever, killing it in the process.

"Hurry, head to that gate!" Link yelled while pointing at a wooden gate.

Zoro went ahead, and slashed right through the gate, as everyone else got through. "They won't follow us here. We can continue without delays." Link said.

"Phew… That was a scary desert." Chopper said until he noticed that he couldn't see Luffy anywhere. "Hey, where is Luffy?" Chopper asked until he saw Luffy running around like crazy.

"GYYYYAAAAAAAAAAAHHHHHHH!!!" Luffy screamed as he was running around in circles.

"Whats wrong with him?" Link asked.

"He must have gone crazy due to the heat again." Zoro said as he was seeing Luffy punching the sand repeatedly.

"But we have been only out here for a couple of seconds." Link said as he saw Luffy swinging his arms in the air.

"I think it has to do with him punching that Leever from before." Chopper said as Luffy was yelling at the sand.

"He punched a Leever? Those have spikes around them. Who knows what kind of diseases you can get just by touching them." Link said, astonished to see someone to actually punch a leever.

"You are going to get use to his antics later on." Zoro said as he then started to walk towards to Luffy. Luffy now has foam coming from his mouth as Zoro got closer. "Chopper, get ready to give him a shot." Zoro said as Chopper got out a shot with a big needle out of his backpack. "Oi Luffy, come here." Zoro said. Luffy turned around viciously at Zoro, who thought he was a giant riceball with tiny legs and arms.

"RICE BALL HEAD! I AM GOING TO EAT YOU!!" Luffy stated as he started to run towards Zoro.

"Riceball? Wait Luffy!" Zoro said as he dodged Luffy, who was trying to bite Zoro's head off.

"COME BACK HERE YOU GIANT TALKING RICE BALL!!" Luffy exclaimed as he charged at Zoro again.

"Damn, I guess I have to beat you out of it." Zoro said as he put up his fists. Luffy threw a punch at Zoro, who dodged it and countered by trying to hit Luffy's face, but Luffy tilted his head and then tryed to bite Zoro's hand, which Zoro quickly retrieved it before that could happen.

"TAKE ME TO YOUR CURRY GOD, OR I AM GOING TO SWALLOW YOU WHOLE!" Luffy exclaimed as Link was about to help Zoro.

"Back off, elf boy. I can take him." Zoro before dodging one of Luffy's punches.

"Is that guy always that grumpy." Link asked.

"Yeah, he is a grumpy swordsman who can't tell which way is right or left. But, he is very useful against fights… atleast…" Chopper said.

"GOMU GOMU NO BAKU BAKU!" Luffy leaped at Zoro while opening his mouth in a tremendous size. Zoro barely leapt out of the way of Luffy's gigantic mouth.

Luffy accidentally swallowed some sand on the ground and started to spit it all out. "Now, Chopper!" Zoro yelled as Chopper went running to Luffy while holding the shot. Luffy turned around to Chopper while drooling.

"A WALKING TURKEY LEG? PREPARE TO GO IN MY--zzzzzz.." Chopper was able to give Luffy the shot, who was now taking relaxing nap.

"Injection complete." Chopper said proudly while putting the shot away.

"Wow, you guys are the oddest group I have met yet." Link said.

"Whatever, Is that the place?" Zoro asked while looking at what appeared to be some sort of coliseum.

"Yeah, that's it. We should get going while its still daytime." Link said as he and Chopper started to head towards the place, as Zoro held Luffy by his shoulders before catching up to them.

Meanwhile…

Back in Kakariko, in the inn, Renado was showing the map of Hyrule to Nami, as she was taking notes of it, while Sanji was looking at her, romantically. Franky was back at the hot springs, relaxing in it as usual. Usopp was at Barnes bomb shop, talking to Barnes about different kinds of explosives. Robin went to the cemetery that was next to Renado's house, and started to observe the ocarina the caped boy gave her the other day. "I can feel some sort of power in it, I just cant figure it out though." Robin said to herself as she continued to wonder around the cemetery.

Back at the inn, Nami had finished taking notes of the Hyrule map. "This place has a nice land. I should explore around when I have the time." Nami said before Sanji started to dance in front of her.

"I think you should explore me as well, Nami-san!" Sanji said joyfully, but Nami didn't pay attention to him.

"I am glad that I was able to help you out. Too bad I can't help you to find your friends though." Renado said.

"Don't worry about that. We'll meet up with them later on." Nami said as she looks at the map. Sanji then relaxed, and sat down on a chair.

"I wonder if that postman guy could find them. The sooner he finds them, the sooner I can go to Hyrule castle and meet with my true love, Princess Zelda." Sanji said while daydreaming about him and Zelda together.

"Don't forget the other reason why we are here. We are supposed to find the second heart of that stupid door." Nami said, while still looking at the map.

"I know, Nami-san, but I also need to meet her just one time at least, then my life will be complete." Sanji said, until he heard noise of a stampede outside.

"What is that?" Renado asked as he went outside to see what was going on. "Oh no…" Renado said as Nami and Sanji got out of the inn as well.

"What is going on?" Nami asked as she then looked at what Renado was looking at. It happen to be none other than King Bulblin with two big shields wrapped in each of his arms.

"Who is that?" Sanji asked.

"King Bulblin. The leader of the bulblins." Renado said as King Bulblin was looking at his surroundings. He then saw Usopp coming out of the bomb shop.

"Well, it was nice talking to you, Barnes. I'll be back la… ter?" Usopp stopped dead at his tracks as he saw King Bulblin. Barnes got outside to see that King Bulblin has once again came back to the village.

"Oh no..not again." Barnes said before Barnes got back to his shop and locked the door.

Usopp was able to regain his senses and try to get inside the shop, but the door was lock. "OI, BARNES. LET ME IN!" yells Usopp as he was hitting the door while Barnes was pushing the door back.

"Mi no hablo espanol." Barnes said.

"I AM NOT TALKING TO YOU IN SPANISH, JUST LET ME IN!!" Usopp yelled before Barnes quickly opened the door and pulled Usopp in before locking the door again. King Bulblin laughed at the sight he saw before a couple of Gorons confronted him.

"This isn't the place for the likes of you. Lets get him, Brothers." yelled a goron before they all dogpiled him.

King Bulblin somehow was able to lift up the entire group of Bulblins before tossing them at Nami, before Sanji grabbed her and jumped out of the way as the gorons landed on the big pond nearby. "This guy is strong! Renado, get to a safe place. We will handle this guy." Sanji said, before putting Nami down.

"Try not to get hurt and good luck." Renado said before he ran to his house and locked the door.

"Nami-san, you sure you want to face him? He is not a pushover." Sanji said, while Nami got out PCT.

"I'll keep my distance. You go, and finish him off." Nami said as King Bulblin then started to charge at them.

"You picked the wrong to mess with." Sanji said as he several front flips before jumping in the air and tried to kick King Bulblin, but he blocked it with his shield. Sanji jumped back and looked at King Bulblin's shield."That shield is as hard as steel. I have to find an opening." He said while avoiding King Bulbin.

"What the hell is going on down there?" Franky asked as he got out of the hot springs to see Sanji fighting with King Bulblin. "Its a fat one this time and the cook is not doing anything against it. Guess I have to be the one to save the day." Franky said as he put on his palm tree shirt and jumped down while aiming at King Bulblin. "BEANS LEFT!" Franky shot multiple pellets at a fast rate at King Bulbin, who got hit by some before he guarded the rest with his shield. Franky landed right next to Sanji. "Who the hell is this guy?

"It appears to be the leader of the rest of those shitty ogres we fought yesterday." Sanji said as King Bulblin got off his pig, and demanded it to leave.

"Eh? It seems that it wants to take us on by himself this time." Franky said.

"Franky, try to distract him somehow, I'll sneak up behind him and finish him off." Sanji said as he started to run towards King bulblin. "MUTTON SHOT!" Sanji did a powerful roundhouse kick at King Bulblin, only for it to be blocked by one of his shields.

As he blocked it, he saw Franky's wrist open up. "WEAPONS LEFT!" Franky fires a missile at King Bulblin, who blocked it with his other shield. The smoke of the blast made King Bulblin get blind for a couple of seconds as Sanji rolled around him, and delivered a hard kick at his back. As King Bulbin staggered forward from the blow, he saw Franky running towards him while taking off the skin of his right hand. "STRONG HAMMER!" Franky threw a deadly right punch at King Bublin's face, as he went flying back to Sanji.

"BASSES…" Sanji jumped in midair over King Bulblin "… COTES!" Sanji does a downward roundhouse kick at King Bulblin as he crashed right at the floor while Sanji regrouped with Franky.

"Is it dead?" Franky asked as it was to hard to see through the dust. All of a sudden, the ground started to shake as it was starting to get numerous of cracks on the ground. Sanji and Franky were trying to keep their balance but they fail to notice that King Bulblin was heading right towards them. As Sanji and Franky saw him coming, they suddenly got knocked over at the same time as King Bulblin clotheslines them both.

"GUAH!" Sanji and Franky cried as they landed on the ground while holding their necks in pain.

"Sanji-kun! Franky!" Nami yelled worryingly as they then got up afterwards, and faced King Bulblin again. While that was happening, Usopp and Barnes were fearfully watching the fight through the window of the second floor.

"That big guy is so strong! If there is was only a way to get rid of those shields." Usopp said as he suddenly got an idea. "Barnes, is there a way to get on a higher ground here?"

"Yeah, just get out of through this window and then go up until you see a long building. You go in and climb the ladder inside and you will be at the highest point of Kakariko village." Barnes said.

"Yosh, It is time for captain Usopp to help his crew!" Usopp yelled confidently before going through the window and then started to go up the mountain hill.

"FRANKY BOXING!" Franky repeatedly punches King Bulblin at certain points of his body, but Bulblin was able block some of the blows. Sanji went around and try to kick King Bulblin at his back again, only King Bulblin moved out of the way and Sanji accidentally kicked Franky instead.

King Bulblin was about to hit Sanji until "THUNDER BALL!" Nami threw a thunder ball at one of King Bulblin's shield, which then electrocuted King Bulblin afterwards. Sanji then took the opportunity, and kicked King Bulblin at the side of his ribs, which made him lose his balance. Franky got up and aimed at King Bulblin with his right hand

"STRONG RIGHT!" Franky launched his right arm at King Bulblin, who caught it afterwards. He then pulled Franky towards him before punching him across the face.

"Why you…" Sanji said as he rushed to King Bulblin, who grabbed Sanji by the neck and lifted him in the air, and choke slammed him into the ground.

"CYCLONE TEMPO!" Nami dismantles two parts of her PCT and tosses it towards King bulblin like a bommerang. King bulblin was able to catch it and toss it to the ground before he slowly started to walk towards Nami. "Oi, wait a minute. Cant you take a joke?" Nami asked with a weak laugh as King Bulblin raised his fist, and was about to lower it on her.

"HISSATSU KATAKI BOSHI!" an explosive pellet was fired at King Bulblin's back as Nami got away from him.

King then faced at the attacker that turned out to be Usopp, who was at the roof of the tall storage building. Franky and Sanji weakly got up to see Usopp up their posing like a hero. "How the hell did he get up there?" Franky asked.

"Doesn't matter, it will keep that fat ogre busy." Sanji said, as he Franky observed Usopp.

"Ha ha ha, that's right! I am the one who shot at you. What are you going to do from all the way over there?" Usopp said as he continues to laugh, unaware that King Bulblin was taking off the shield that was on his right arm.

He then grabbed the shield with two hands, and spun in circles with it. "Hmm? What is he doing?" Usopp asked as he was seeing King Bulbin spin. Sanji then realized on what he was planning.

"USOPP! GET OUT OF THERE, HE IS GOING TO TOSS HIS SHIELD AT YOU!" Sanji yelled, but it was to late. King Bulblin then let go of the shield which flew straight at the building that Usopp was on and crashed right through it.

"Yikes, woah!" Usopp gasped as the building was now falling apart. The building then completely fell to pieces as Usopp now began to fall down.

"USOPP!" Nami cried as Usopp was falling down, until a pair of arms that sprouted from the mountain wall grabbed him by the legs, saving him as he was only one centimeter from the ground.

"I made it just in time." Robin said as it was her that saved Usopp. She then gently let go of Usopp, who almost had a heart attack from earlier. "Robin, your finally here." Nami said while getting the rest of her PCT.

"Sorry I am late, I was doing a little archeology work." Robin said as she then looked at King Bulblin.

"Robin-chwan, can you get rid of the shield that he has wrapped around his left arm?" Sanji asked while pointing at the shield.

"No problem cook-san. CUATRO FLEUR." Four arms then sprouted out of King Bulblin's left arm and unwrapped the shield that he had.

"Great, now he is defenseless. Lets get rid of him." Franky said as he was about to attack, until Sanji stopped him.

"Wait a minute, that will be pointless. It seems that the more we hit him, the stronger he gets. We need to finish him off in one blow." Sanji said.

"I remember seeing a couple of unstable rocks on the way here. If we can lure him there, then we could those rocks to defeat him." Robin said.

"We only need someone brave enough to lure him there." Nami said until she saw Usopp getting up.

"OI! YOU STUPID FAT HEAD!" Usopp yelled as he caught King Bulbin's attention. Usopp then got out two pairs of oranges and was able to put them in his mouth. "Look at me, I am an ugly green fat guy like you, only I am not that ugly. Weehh!" Usopp mocked as this infuriated King Bulblin and started to charge at Usopp. "Catch me if you can!" Usopp yelled as he spat out the oranges, and headed out of the northern exit of Kakariko village.

"That idiot can be useful sometimes." Franky said before he and the rest started to follow. Usopp was now at the exit of Kakariko village as he saw King Bulbin gaining on him. Usopp then tripped over a pebble, and saw King Bulblin that was about to hit him.

"CUATRO FLEUR FLIP!" A pair of arms grabbed King Bublin's legs causing him to trip. As he landed on the ground, more started to sprout out of the ground as they bind King Bulblin in place.

Everyone was able to catch up as Usopp quickly got up, and ran right through his crew before Franky's wrist opened up. "WEAPONS LEFT!" Franky fired at an unstable rock, which then fell down towards King Bulblin after the hands on him disappeared. Soon more rocks fell down over the rocks that fell on King Bulblin as the northern exit was now completely blocked off. Usopp then folded his arms, and laughed victoriously.

"I know I was able to defeat that monster." Usopp said as his legs were shaking in fear.

"I have to admit, he was annoying to take down." Sanji said.

"Well, its over now. Lets get beck to the village to see if everyone is okay." Nami said as they went back to the village unaware that they were watched by the caped boy that was on the cliff.

Meanwhile…

Back at the Gerudo desert, Link, Chopper and Zoro, who was carrying Luffy by his shoulders, have now reached into some ruins. "Okay, we are about to enter the Bulblins hideout, So be prepared." Link said as he rested his back on a wall and peeked back to see any Bulblins. Luffy finally got up and saw everyone being quiet.

"OI, WHY ARE YOU GUYS ALL QUIET!" Luffy asked loudly for some reason as the bulblins were now alert. The bulblins then immediately surrounded the crew.

"I sorta expected this would happen." Zoro said as he got up and unsheathed his swords.

"There was really no way to get through undetected anyway." Link said as he got out his Master sword, and Hyrule shield. Chopper transformed to his Heavy point, and looked at the bulblins angrily. Luffy cracked his muscles, and looked at the bulblins.

"Come here so I can kick your ass!" Luffy yelled as he and everyone else charged at the bulblins.

"GOMU GOMU NO GATLING GUN!" Luffy repeatedly punches the bulblins in front of him. Luffy then picked up a crate, and tossed it towards the same bulblins. "GOMU GOMU NO STAMP!" Luffy stretched his leg towards them, which made them fly off the ground upon impact. Luffy then ran to another group and then started to beat them up, unaware that an archer was about to shoot at him. But the archer then got shot by Link with his bow and arrow.

Link then saw a bulblin with an axe coming right at him. Link quickly put away his bow away, and waited until the bulblin got close enough. "MORTAL DRAW!" Link quickly unsheathe his sword and slashed right through the bulblin. He then saw more groups of bublins that were charging at him as Link grabbed the sword with both hands. "JUMP STRIKE!" Link jumped as he slashed through couple of bulblins as he then slashed the ground causing a shockwave that killed the rest of them.

Chopper was hitting every bulblin in sight as he then jumped in the air. "CHOPPER BOMB!" Chopper did his own maneuver of a ground pound, and created a shockwave that caused every bulblin to fly straight through a wall. Chopper got up and started to spin with his arms extended. "CHOPPER TORNADO!" while Chopper spin as he hit every bulblin around him. He stopped spinning as Zoro slashed a bulblin that was behind Chopper.

"Why are you copying the plumbers attacks?" Zoro asked while slashing another bulblin.

"It looked so cool, I wanted to try it." Chopper said before he clasped his hands together, and swung them at bulblin, knocking it out at the process.

"Whatever, just don't lose your focus." Zoro said as he and Chopper split up to continue battling. Zoro did several slashes to a couple of bulblins before he saw a big row of bulbins coming right at him. "ONI GIRI!" Zoro slashed all of the bulbins that were right in front before they died.

No matter how much they defeat, bulblins would still come out of nowhere. As Link finished one of them off, he saw the entrance to the coliseum. "Guys! This way!" Link yelled as he went towards the entrance followed by Chopper.

"I can still kick their asses! Just let me go!" Luffy yelled as Zoro was forcefully holding him by his shoulders.

"You can do that later! Lets just get out of here!" Zoro yelled as he catched up to Link and Chopper while dragging Luffy along.

"Hurry! Get in!" Link yelled as Zoro went right past them. Link somehow then closed the entrance of the coliseum as the bulblins were enraged as they couldnt kill them. "Okay, were safe in here." Link said.

"Where is the mirror chamber?" Chopper asked as he looked at his surroundings to see nothing but sand ahead of him.

"It's up ahead. Lets get going." Link said as he and the rest walked until they came across the pile of sand. "Careful, this is quicksand. One wrong step, and you wont be able to get out." Link said as he then saw Luffy getting sucked in by the sand.

"Ahh, help me. I can get out!" Luffy cried as he was getting sucked in before Link got out his clawshot, and pulled him out of there with ease.

"Didn't you hear me?" Link asked while he saw Luffy getting up.

"I thought if I ran as fast as I can, I could get through the other side in no time." Luffy said plainly, as everyone else sweatdropped after hearing that.

"Ok… just hold on to me." Link said as Luffy and Chopper hold on to him as Link shot his clawshot at a metallic part of a wall and then reeled them into another part of the solid ground while Zoro just leapt to it. "Alright, now we just jump on those platforms over there and we can get to the other side." Link said as they jumped on the platforms until they have reached the other side. They went through the door as they are now in room that was too dark to see. Link got out his lantern and lit it to see tiny skeletons that began to attack Link.

"Woah! Tiny skeletons." Luffy said as he points at the tiny skeletons. Link quickly unsheathe his sword and jumped in the middle of the group of skeletons.

"SPIN SLASH!" Link does a 360 degree slash that destroyed all of the skeletons as Chopper was amazed Link's strength.

"You are not bad. We should probably have a duel sometime." Zoro said.

"That will be okay with me. But now, lets get to the mirror chamber." Link said as they went to another room which had 4 torches at the middle and a cauldron at the top. They went through that room as they are now in a bigger room with a huge pillar at the end that some sort of rails spiraling around it.

"How are we going to get up there?" Luffy asked as Link got out his spinner and got on.

"Hop on, this thing will get us up there." Link said.

"Looks like fun!" Luffy said as he, Chopper and Zoro got on the spinner with Link, as the spinner now moved along the rails. As the the spinner connected the rails, it immediately started to move as the spinner started to go upwards until the rail ended and landed on the pillar. Everyone got off of the spinner as Link put it away. They then went through a really big door which led to a very big room.

"I fought with a humongous living skeleton, and I had to use the spinner to defeat it." Link said as they were walking through the room.

"A living skeleton? Wow!" Chopper said with his big sparkling eyes.

"Skeleton, huh? Maybe I could find one here, and make it part of my crew." Luffy said while smiling.

"Yeah, right. Like that would ever happen." Zoro said as they got out of the room and were once again outside to see that it was already night.

They went up the stairs, jumping through a couple of platforms in the process. As the stairs ended, they were now in a big circular arena that has big black square at the end of it. There was also some stairs that leads to a broken mirror. "So, where are the guys that are going to help us?" Luffy asked as he saw nobody else.

"They should be up there." Link said as he points at the columns that have different symbols. Suddenly, five figures with three halos floating on their heads emerged from a blind light, and each of them landed on their own column.

"Yikes! Who are they?" Chopper asked fearfully.

"Those are the sages. They know almost everything about Hyrule." Link said as the sages gently landed on the ground.

"Travelers, welcome to the mirror chamber. I suppose you came hear for the heart of the first master door." one of the sages said.

"How did you know about that? Can you guys read our minds or something?" Luffy asked while scratching his head.

"No, we simply foresaw the events that occured since you have arrived. We are grateful that you came along way to find the heart, but unfortunately, we have no idea of the whereabouts of the object you seek." The same sage said.

"That's great." Zoro said sarcastically.

"I am afraid there are other drastic matters to attend to right now." Another age said.

"What do you mean?" Link asked.

"Hero of Hyrule, a great evil has bestowed upon this land once again." one of the sages said.

"It began with all the dreaded storms that have been occurring every night." Another sage said.

"Hmm, there has been some nasty storms as of late." Link said as he put his hand around his chin.

"This evil is so powerful, It can awaken the most black hearted villains that has ever existed." the sage said which caught Link's attention.

"Wait, you don't mean…" Link said hopefully if it wasnt what he was thinking.

"I am afraid so… Ganondorf will return." the sage said as Link was in shock, while the Strawhats were confused.

Meanwhile…

At the east part of Hyrule, the caped boy was sitting down at the edge of the mountain cliff as he watched a thunderous storm was going on. A big black orb then came out of a black cloud as it gently landed on the ground. The orb then got bigger as a figure could be seen from within. The black orb then faded away as the figure landed roughly on the floor. "Ow…" said the creature as he got up. He had a dark colored robe and his skin was blue. He has no nose and his eyes were completely yellow.

The creature then looked at his hands curiously. "I'm… alive?" said the creature as he started to laugh maniacally. "YES, THE GREAT EMPEROR ZANT IS ALIVE!! YA HA HA HA HA!" Zant laughed as he was jumping around in an erratic fashion. He then stops and looks at the dark sky. "I wonder how I got back to life though. I couldn't possibly come back what happened… no matter, now I can go back to the twilight realm, and destroy every single one of them there, especially that so called princess!" Zant snarled while clenching his fists in anger.

He then stopped as he saw a black orb bigger than the one he got out of coming from above, and it was heading towards a tomb that belonged to an evil villain we all know very well. The orb got in the tomb, and after a couple a seconds, a hand came out of the ground as the rest of its body came out afterwards. "Oh no…" Zant said in fear, as he knew who it was. The revived figure was a tall, dark man with orange hair that were connected to his eyebrows. He also has an orange beard, and has black colored armor all over his body except for his head.

He has a sword that glowed brightly in its sheathe, and he also a dark reddish cape at his back, and lastly, he has a glowing light crack coming from his chest. The man looked at the castle in front of him, and then smirked. "Heh heh heh heh ha ha ha ha ha! HEH HEH HA HA HA HA HA HA HA HA!!"

Oh no, Ganondorf is alive! How could that happen!? Wait a minute, I already know the answer to that, I am just not going to reveal it till the futuristic chapters. Hope you enjoyed this chapter, please leave your review on the way out.

Zelda Pt 5

I would like to thank Masahiro Sakurai for revealing the details of Link's Final Smash. Here is the next chapter. Enjoy!

Back from the dead. King Bulblin somehow survived and attacked the Strawhats in Kakariko village. Despite his tremendous strength, he was defeated as an rocky avalanche buried him alive. Meanwhile, Luffy, Chopper, Zoro and Link have reached their destination, as they now arrived at the mirror chamber were the sages reside. Unfortunately, they did not know the location of the heart, Instead they know that there was an evil beyond Hyrule. They explained to Link that an evil man named Ganondorf will be resurrected due to this evil. They were right as Ganondorf was indeed alive, once again; along with his new servant Zant. What will Link do? And how will this affect the Strawhats?

Chapter 17: Ganondorf strikes!, The rush to Hyrule castle.

The terrible storm has suddenly come to a halt as Ganondorf along with his servant Zant was slowly walking towards the east gate of Castle town until Ganondorf stopped walking and looked at Hyrule castle. "It was fate that brought me back to life. The gods know that I am the true ruler of Hyrule, not Zelda." Ganondorf said. Zant wasn't paying attention to him, due to him being a servant again, which he didn't find amusing.

"Yeah yeah, when are you gonna stop looking at it, and actually do what you are planning to do already?" Zant asked rudely.

"You don't seem that enthustiastic about this. Is there something on your mind?" Ganondorf asked not really caring.

"Oh no, Your Majesty. I was just thinking about the times when I did all the hard work, while you did nothing and took all the credit for it!"

Zant yelled before Ganondorf glared at him.

"Don't blame me for your losses. If you would've killed your former princess when you had the chance, then we wouldn't be in this situation." Ganondorf said, as Zant calmed down. "It doesn't matter anyway. Hyrule will be mine very soon, but we are going to need some soldiers."

Ganondorf raises his hand in the air as the sky have turned from black to twilight. Bulblins around the Hyrule field have started to change. They were now blueish and even more uglier than before. The birds flying in the air were transformed into some sort of demonic monsters. From the skies emerged a black, armored dragon known as Argorok as it was now flying around Hyrule castle.

The town was now under attack, as the citizens of Castle town were now evacuating while a big knight swinging a ball with a chain attached to it chased after them. Flying lizards known as Aeralfos were breaking the windows of the houses they pass by.

A heavily black armored knight walk through the streets as the civilians were running away from him. The once beautiful, peaceful land of Hyrule was now the land of turmoil and despair as Ganondorf and Zant slowly entered Castle town.

Meanwhile…

Luffy, Link, Chopper and Zoro watched the skies as it was now covered in twilight. "What is going on? Why does the sky look strange?" Chopper asked.

"Ganondorf…" Link said as he immediately looked at the sages. "How did this happen!? How could Ganondorf be alive again!?"

"Like we said before, an evil so powerful has overcome Hyrule and managed to revive not only Ganondorf, but Zant as well." The sage said which made Link even more angrier.

"You guys knew this was coming and didn't do anything about it!? What were you thinking!?" Link yelled furiously, but Luffy stopped him. "Let go of me, Luffy!" Link yelled before he looked at Luffy, who had a stern face.

"Nothing good will come out if you are going to let out your anger on them. They surely couldn't do anything to prevent this." Luffy said, as Link started to calm down. "I don't know what is going on, or who this Ganondorf guy is, but letting your anger out on these guys is very stupid." Luffy said as Link looked at the ground, now back to his normal self.

"Your right, Luffy, I shouldn't have done that… I'm sorry. Thank you, Luffy." Link said as Luffy then smiled.

"Well, what are we going to do now? It will take a long time just to get out of here." Zoro said.

"Our power is limited by this darkness, but we will use all of it to teleport you close to Hyrule castle as we can." The sage said as he and the rest of his followers lifted their arms in the air as a bright light surrounded our heroes as they suddenly vanished into thin air.

They suddenly reappeared back at the entrance of Falbi's house as Link got out his horse whistle and played as it made Epona come to him. Link then got atop of Epona and got out his sword.

"We must hurry to Hyrule castle! Princess Zelda is in danger!" Link said as everyone nodded as they began to follow Link to Castle town.

Meanwhile…

"Everyone, wake up! Something is going on outside." Nami said as she was in the inn waking up her crew. Usopp got up groggily and rubbed his eyes.

"What is it? Is it morning already?" Usopp asked before Nami hit him in the face.

"Shut up, and come outside! It's urgent!" Nami said as she quickly got outside again. Robin simply wakes up and follows Nami outside while Franky got up tired.

"This better be good, I was having a nice dream about me." Franky said as he and Usopp saw Sanji kissing his pillow.

"Oh Nami-san, you are so soft and warm." Sanji said as he was dreaming about something that I will not give detail due to this being a teen rated fic.

"Get up ero-cook, Nami is calling us." Franky said as Sanji immediately got up and ran outside, only because he heard the name Nami. Franky and Usopp walked down the stairs and got outside to see that the sky was now in twilight.

"W-What is this? What is going on?" Usopp asked nervously.

"A strange phenomenon… perhaps this is a storm that will wipe out this land." Robin said plainly.

"Oi, don't give out statements like that." Usopp said even more nervously.

"I am afraid it is a much worse than that." Renado said as Barnes was crouching down in fear.

"What do you mean?" asks Sanji.

"This is the same sort of events that happened seven months ago, where the creatures from the darkness would come out of the shadows and take control once again." Renado said as he saw a couple of aeralfos flying by.

"Where those things headed towards the castle?" Franky asked, as Sanji then got angry.

"The castle!? Princess Zelda is there. We must save her!" yells Sanji as he points towards the exit.

"What are you talking about!? We can't go out there with this weird thing going on. What if those monsters are stronger then that big fat guy we faced today?" Usopp asked.

"I don't care! My future love is in danger, and I will not just stay here and do nothing about it while those monsters are destroying her kingdom!" Sanji yelled.

"Calm down, you guys! I know that is rather unusual, but we can't just go, and attack those flying things! We are not super heroes!" Nami exclaimed.

"Actually, Miss Navigator, if we stay here, there is a likely chance that those creatures would come here, and attack us as well." Robin said.

"Bah, this week has been giving nothing but trouble all over the place. Are we going over to Castle town or what?" Franky asked. Nami took some time to think it over until she finally made her decision.

"I guess we have no choice, but to go there and see what we can do." Nami said, which Usopp did not like at all.

"B-B-B-But Nami, there is that Link guy we heard Renado talk about the other day. I am sure he can handle this situation like he did last time." Usopp said, as he was trying to convince Nami to change her decision.

"Shut up! Nami-san has made her decision. We are going to castle town and were going to show those shitty monsters to not mess with my future love!" Sanji yelled as he then ran out of the village at top speed only to come running back a few moments later. "What are we waiting for!? Lets go already!" Sanji yelled, anxiously waiting to leave already.

"Hold your horses, Casanova! Since we can't use the entrance we came through earlier, we will get lost as soon as we get out there." Nami said.

"You can all use my carriage to get there!" Renado said as he points to his carriage that was near the south exit.

"Where the hell did that come from?" Usopp asked as he suddenly saw the caped boy getting on the drivers seat.

"Are you sure that you guys are going to be okay with all this going on?" Nami asked.

"Don't worry, I have a shelter back at my house. We will be safe there there." Renado said.

"Okay. Well, thanks for everything, and sorry that we kinda messed up your village." Nami said.

"Its alright, just be careful out there and good luck. Let's go, Barnes." Renado said as Barnes ran into Renado's home before Renado got in himself.

Franky sat next to the caped boy as the rest of the Strawhats got inside the carriage before the caped whipped at the horses so they can get moving. They headed out of the village as the Strawhats saw the dreadful sight what Hyrule has now become. "I just hope this is a temporary weather condition and not some evil warlock doing all this." Usopp said as he trembles in fear.

"I doubt that. The things that happened back at the mushroom kingdom made me believe that almost anything can happen." Robin said.

"You are not easing my pain, Robin." Usopp said as tears came of his eyes.

"It doesn't matter what kind of thing this is, as long as I can protect Zelda-san, than that is find with me, no matter if Usopp dies or not." Sanji said as he looks out the window while Usopp was now in a fetal position.

"Why is everybody being so calm about this? Luffy and Chopper are still out there being scared as we know it." Usopp said fearfully.

"Knowing Luffy, he would probably head to the castle as well, so don't get all scared, will ya?" Sanji said.

Before Usopp could answer, Franky opened the window of the carriage. "Guys, we got company, so hold on!" yells Franky as a couple of Aerolfos were following the carriage.

"Damn it! At a time like this!" Sanji yelled as he opened the door, and got on the roof of the carriage while Usopp quickly closed it.

"D-D-Don't worry ladies, Captain Usopp is here to protect you." Usopp said almost in a confident way as his legs were still shaking.

One aerolfos was about to strike the caped boy but Franky stopped it by punching it in the face. Franky's wrist then opened as Franky aimed at the flying aerolfos "WEAPONS LEFT!" Franky fired at multiple aerolfos, but there was still to many of them. One of them came flying right at the door and opened only to see Nami quickly kicking it in the face. Another one was about to go in, but Usopp popped out of nowhere and confidently looked at the aerolfos

"USOPP WAGUMO!" Usopp fired a rubberband at the aerolfos eye which made it fall to the ground, breaking every bone in its body."And they say this was a useless weapon." Usopp said before he quickly closed the door. A couple of aerolfos were flying right ahead of the carriage as it was misleading the horses. Sanji noticed that and quickly jumped off the carriage and ran to an upper plain as fast as he could. As he got close to the aerolfos that were misleading the carriage's horses, He quickly jumped right at them.

"SHISHINAMI SHOOT!!" Sanji did a powerful midair kick to the aerolfos as they flew out of sight while Sanji did a perfect landing on the carriage as he continued to fend off of the rest of the aerolfos.

Bulblins riding their pigs started to appear behind the carriage as they started to fire arrows at it. "Hit the deck!" Usopp yelled as he, Nami and Robin crouched down to avoid the arrows. Usopp got up and looked out of the window to see the bulblins getting closer. "Geez, these guys are always attacking us." Usopp said as he got out his slingshot and aimed at one of the bulblins. "HISSATSU TAMAGO BOSHI!" Usopp fires a rotten egg right at the bulblin's face that was maneuvering his pig as it went out of control and crashed right into a tree.

Robin decided that it was time that she started helping out as she crossed her limbs. Two bulblins were aiming at the carriage when a pair of hands grabbed them. "CLUTCH!" The arms broke their spines as they fell to the ground dead afterwards. Robin then noticed a few aerolfos gaining on the carriage. She crossed her limbs again and a couple of hands grew at the aerolfos back and then grabbed their wings. "SNAP!" The hands then torn off the wings of the aerolfos as they then flew straight at some rocks, dying afterwards.

While Robin and Usopp were taking care of things at their side of the carriage, while Nami then noticed another bulbin out of the window as it was about to attack, only for Nami to hit him with her PCT. "Don't think I am just for looks." Nami said as she separated her PCT in half as fire balls and cool balls were coming out of it. "MIST TEMPO!" as the balls collided with eachother, it created a very dense mist around the bulblin. The bulblin couldn't see where he was going as he accidentally crashed to a cliff as the carriage was now in near the front gate of Hyrule castle.

The carriage stopped in front of the entrance as the caped boy jumped off and ran straight towards it before the Strawhats got out of the carriage. "Why the hell is that kid going over there for? He is certainly a hyper one." Franky said as he then noticed a bunch of people camping outside.

"Looks like everyone is safe. I wonder what is happening in there?" Nami asked.

"We got out as fast as we could when we saw that big meanie." one of the citizens said as it turned out to be Agitha, which freaked out Usopp upon seeing her.

"What big meanie?" Nami asked.

"Some big guy with ugly orange hair was walking around like some god and then some crazy weirdo was yelling out 'all hail king Ganondork' or something like that." Agitha said.

"Orange hair? Oh no, not another one." Franky said before he got hit in the face by Nami.

"He must be the one who is behind all this. I will not let him succeed. Come on, we got no time to lose!" Sanji said as he and the Strawhats were running towards the front entrance.

"Good luck mister eyebrow, bug headed man." Agitha shouted kindly as she was waving goodbye.

As the strawhats were getting castle town, they saw that every building in castle town was now in complete ruin, except for the water fountain that was still intact. "They destroyed everything in town. How heartless…" Robin said.

"These guys are just begging to get their smelly ass whooped." Franky said as hits his palm furiously.

"Where the hell are the guys that did this?" Sanji asked as he saw that nobody was in sight.

"They must have been aware that I was coming, So they quickly ran off for protection." Usopp said proudly.

He then saw something move right next to him as Usopp quickly hid behind Franky for protection. It was none other than the caped boy popping his head out of the rubble that was on the ground. "Freaky little kid, isnt he?" Franky asked as Nami bent down to the boy's level.

"You should get out of here, this place is dangerous." Nami said as the boy simply tilted his head sideways. Usopp stopped hiding behind Franky and looked at the caped boy angrily.

"Listen you! You have been nothing but weird ever since we met you, now stop being weird and take off that cape!" Usopp yelled as he took of boy's cape.

The boy had yellow eyes with red pupils, and wore raggish, brown clothing, and he also had a big, brown, pointy hat. He also appeared to be a mixture of a skeleton and a scarecrow. He smiled at the Strawhats as Usopp was once again hiding behind Franky. "What the hell is he!?" Usopp yelled as Franky shoved him away from the boy. The boy then looked at the water fountain as he saw armored humanoid lizards which are called Lizalfos running straight at the Strawhats while the boy ran away. "GYAAAAAAAHHH, HUMAN SIZED LIZARDS!!!"

"Like those things are going to stop us. Come on, Franky!" Sanji yelled as he charged at the lizalfos followed by Franky. Sanji knocked one of them out by giving it a horizontal kick, followed by a vertical kick to the one beside it. One sneaked up on him, but Sanji stood with his hands and did a mule kick to the sneaky lizalfos as it flew right through a wall behind it. As he still stood with his hands, he then bended his knees as he then launched himself forward as he kicked another one as fast as a missile.

While Sanji was taking care of the lizalfos on his side, Franky was also doing a good job getting rid of the ones at his side as well. "FRANKY BOXING!" Franky repeatedly punches every lizalfo that was right in front of him. Franky then quickly turned around and then aimed at the ones that were about to attack him "STRONG RIGHT!" Franky launches his hand forward as it hit one of the lizalfos right at his gut as it went crashing back along with the companions behind him. One of them jumped at him at his left side as Franky aimed at him with his left hand "OUCH FINGER!" the tip of Franky's left finger opened and then fired a bullet at the lizalfo's head, killing it afterwards.

A couple of Lizalfos were slowly walking towards Usopp, Nami and Robin as Usopp got out his slingshot and aimed at them. "HISSATSU KAENBOSHI!" Usopp fires an exploding pellet at one of their faces, but they still continue to walk slowly towards him.

"Robin, the manly Usopp needs help, do you mind?" Nami said as she got a quick glare from Usopp while Robin giggled.

"No problem. DOCE FLEUR TWIST!" a pair of arms grew on the lizalfos as they then grabbed them and twisted their bodies sideways, making a snapping noise in the process.

Their were a couple of lizalfos that were sneaking up behind Nami as one of them quickly swung her sword at her, only that she somehow faded away afterwards, leaving the lizalfos with confused expressions. "Tee hee, mirage tempo. Can be very useful to avoid attacks." Nami said as she was actually behind them while she was holding her PCT which the tip was currently on fire. "HEAT BALL!" Nami swung her PCT which a made a couple of heat balls fly out of her staff and right at the lizalfos who were burned to crisp.

They continued to battle until the lizalfos stopped moving all a sudden. Then all of the lizalfos quickly bowed down towards the east side of the town. "What is going on? Why are they all bowing down to?" Nami asked as she was looking at the lizalfos. She could then see Ganondorf walking towards the main plaza, along with Zant, who then noticed the Strawhats along with a couple of dead lizalfos on the ground.

"Ganondorf, looks like these people took down a few of your men." Zant said with a little joy.

Ganondorf then looked at the Strawhats with a stern face as Usopp gasped in fear. "You dare try to stop me from becoming king once more? Quite reckless of you people." Ganondorf said as Sanji stood up to him.

"Are you the shitty man that dares to harm Zelda and her kingdom!?" Sanji yelled while Ganondorf simply smirked.

"That language of yours will lead you and your friends to their demise." Ganondorf said.

"SANJI, SHUT UP WILL YA!?" Usopp exclaimed as he was shaking in fear.

"Heh ha ha ha ha! It seems like he is the only smart one here. I am Ganondorf, your future ruler of this land." Ganondorf said while Sanji lit up his cigarette he had in his pocket.

"The only thing you should look up to is the future royal beating we are going to give you." Sanji said as he placed the cigarette on his lip.

"Is that so?" Ganondorf said as he then looked at Zant. "I'll let you take care of things, I will stay here and do a little exercise." Ganondorf said as he looked back at the strawhats as he began walking towards them.

"Oh good, that way I can feel more grateful about myself for forcefully serving you… bleh…" Zant mumbled to himself as he went through the front gates along with a couple of soldiers.

"I will let you attack me for 3 minutes. When that time comes, you will all die." Ganondorf said as he folded his arms.

"Don't you mock us!!" Sanji yelled as he kicked Ganondorf at the side of his head, but it didn't seemed to affect him. "What?" Sanji brought back his foot and kicked Ganondorf at his ribs, but it still seemed that it didn't affect him at all.

"Are you quite done?" Ganondorf asked as he then saw Franky running at him.

"You are going to be sorry you met us after you felt this! STRONG HAMMER!" Franky punches Ganondorf with his steel fist, but that didn't make Ganondorf flinch at all.

"You are right, I do feel sorry for you fools now." Ganondorf said as Franky and Sanji backed off from him.

"They are hitting him with powerful blows, but its not affecting him. Is he using tekkai or something?" Nami asked dumbfounded by Ganondorf's endurance.

"I don't think so. Cook-san, and Mr. Shipwright shoul" Robin said.

"This is bad, there is only 2 minutes left and if he doesn't die until then, he is going to kill us all!" Usopp said very fearfully. Sanji and Franky discussed about a plan before he looked at Ganondorf.

"This time you are going down!" Franky yelled as he ran straight to Ganondorf while raising his fist. It seemed that Franky was about to hit Ganondorf, but instead he rolled right behind him as Sanji went running straight to him. "TENDRON…"

"STRONG…"

"… SHOOT!"

"… HAMMER!" Sanji thrusted his right foot at Ganondorf's neck while Franky punched him with his steel fist at the back of his head.

"Hey, don't over do it." Nami said, but then gasped as she saw Ganondorf was still unharmed.

"Your time is nearly up." Ganondorf said.

Sanji and Franky jumped away from Ganondorf as they looked at him in surprise. "What is this guy? Nothing works on him!" Franky said shockingly.

"That should of least broken his skull. I can't believe he is just standing there like nothing happened." Sanji said surpisingly. Ganondorf then let out a sigh as he unfolded his arms, while Sanji and Franky backed away from him.

"Your time is up. It is time that you fools visit the afterlife." Ganondorf said as he then saw Sanji and Franky went charging at him again. Ganondorf then extended his arms, and shot electrical orbs that electrocuted them at a high voltage.

"SANJI! FRANKY!" Usopp yelled as Sanji and Franky lost conciousness and fell down to the ground.

"Now who is next?" Ganondorf asked as he walked up to Nami. Nami was paralyzed as Ganondorf walked up to her before he noticed that Usopp and Robin weren't there with her.

"OI, YOU!" Ganondorf turns around to see Usopp standing on a barrel from a safe distance. "You have messed with m-my comrades. Now you will pay!!" Usopp stated as he then clasped his hands together. "USOPP SPELL!" Usopp extended his arms apart as he looked at Ganondorf angrily. A couple of seconds passed before Usopp started to speak. "You have just swallowed a bag full of thumbtacks, GUUUAAAAHH!!" Usopp yelled as he pretended to be in pain while holding his throat

"Gya! It creeps me out just thinking about that." Nami said as she shivered in fear.

"Idiot! Get Sanji and Franky out of here while I distract him." Usopp yelled before he looked back at Ganondorf again, who does not look intimidated. "Your manhood was cut in half by a pair of scissors! GUUUUUUOOOOOOO!!" Usopp cried as he was holding his manhood, pretending to be pain. Ganondorf was now bored as he slowly walked to Usopp. "YOU DRANK A GALLON OF OVER EXPIRED MILK!" Usopp cried even louder as Ganondorf was getting closer to him. Ganondorf then noticed a couple of arms that sprouted around him as they then bind him in place.

"What sorcery is this?" Ganondorf asked before he noticed Robin crossing her limbs.

"Long nose-kun, are you alright?" Robin asked as Ganondorf couldn't move. She then felt pain as Ganondorf was starting to break free from the hand's grip.

He was able to let one of his arms free as then started to squeeze one of the limbs as Robin felt the pain. "GAH!" Robin cried as the arms disappeared from Ganondorf's body.

"That was quite interesting what you did, woman. I deal with you after I get rid of this buffoon." Ganondorf said as he was about to kill Usopp, who crouched in fear, until Ganondorf barely dodged an arrow that was about to go through his head. He then looked at the attacker as it was Link who then got out his sword and ran straight to him.

Ganondorf quickly unsheathed his sword and clashed blades with Link's master sword. "We meet again, boy. I see that you haven't changed much." Ganondorf said as he tried push Link to the ground.

"I'll make sure that you will stay dead this time!" Link yelled while pushing Ganondorf back.

"USOPP!" Usopp turns around to see Luffy, Chopper and Zoro rushing to his side.

"LUFFY! CHOPPER! YOU GUYS ARE OKAY!!" Usopp said as he quickly hugged them while crying with joy.

"What? You are not happy to see me too?" Zoro. asked

"ZORO, YOU DUMBASS, WHAT TOOK YOU SO LONG TO GET HERE!?" Nami yelled while dragging the unconscious Sanji and Franky.

Zoro ignored her while he saw Link and Ganondorf trying to push eachother down. Usopp stopped hugging Luffy and Chopper as he saw the battle going on. "Who is the elf fighting with Ganondorf?" Usopp asked.

"That's Link, he use to be a competitor for that master tournament." Luffy said as Usopp was in shock.

"Link!? He is the guy that defeated the monsters back then. We are saved." Usopp said cheerfully.

"I don't think so Long nose-kun, look." Robin said as she saw Ganondorf now pushing Link right to his knees.

"What is the matter boy? You weren't this weak as I remembered." Ganondorf said as Link then jumped back as he started to breath heavily.

"I am just warming up." Link panted with one eye open. Ganondorf then looked at Zoro, who looked back. Ganondorf then smirked and looked back at Link.

"You have grown so weak, that you now need more help from people. This is not like you. I wont kill any of you for now." Ganondorf said as he turned around and went straight to the castle before he looked back over his shoulder. "One more thing, I am invincible. Nobody can destroy my spirit." Ganondorf said as he walked on to the castle.

"DONT YOU DARE RUN AWAY!" Luffy yelled as he went to chase Ganondorf, but was caught by Link's clawshot.

"Wait Luffy… you musnt go… yet…" Link said before he passed out.

"Oi, What happened to him!? He just passed out!" Nami said as she and Chopper went to check on him while Zoro looked at the way

Ganondorf went.

"Invincible, huh?"

In Hyrule Castle…

The guards were easily getting defeated by Ganondorf's men as they now reached the throne room where Princess Zelda resides. She has a light pink dress and she has beautiful blond hair. She currently holding a sword as she saw none other than Zant walking towards her. "We meet again, princess. Now I suppose you know the drill; Surrender to us now or there will be casualties among you." Zant said as one of the lizalfos hold its blade next to a guards neck.

Zelda had no choice. She dropped her sword as Ganondorf entered the throne room, which shocked Zelda. "It is not possible…" Zelda said as Ganondorf approached her.

"Hello princess."

I have nothing much to say right now, just enjoy this chapter.

Welcome to the twilight. The Strawhats that were in Kakariko village witnessed how Hyrule turned from light into twilight. Sanji was worried about his so called future love Princess Zelda, so he and his crew hurried to castle town as fast as they could. They had to go through a few obstacles in order to get there, but it proved to be no challenge for them at all as they have reached castle town. Once they entered castle, the caped boy revealed himself to be some sort of scarecrow and ran off as soon as the Strawhats fought with some lizalfos. The lizalfos were nothing compared to what they faced next as Ganondorf was their next opponent. Despite being outnumbered, Ganondorf easily defeated Sanji and Franky with one blow. Fortunately for the rest of the Strawhats, Link came to the rescue as he confronted Ganondorf, but somehow was easily defeated as he fainted afterwards. Now that Ganondorf has once again conquered Hyrule, What will the Strawhats do to defeat him now?

Chapter 18: Strawhat's counterattack, Skull kid's intentions

Zelda was surprised to see Ganondorf alive. "I dont know how you were able to come back, but you are not going to get away with this." Zelda said as Ganondorf walked to her.

"Heh heh ha ha ha ha! What good would it do to lie to yourself right now?" Ganondorf asked as he raised his hand towards Zelda's face. A dark aura then came out of his hand which caused the princess to lose consciousness, and fell down towards Ganondorf, who caught her instantly. "Sleep well, princess. I will take over things from here on." Ganondorf said as he carried Zelda and gave her to one of his knights.

"Take the princess to her room and make sure that she doesn't get out." Ganondorf said as the knight nodded and left the throne room. Ganondorf then looked at the seat that was underneath statue that resembled three women that were around three triangles that were put together. "The only thing I need now is the triforce of courage, and then this whole world will be mine." Ganondorf said as he sat down on the chair, while Zant just scoffed.

"I heard that the kid is still in town. Why don't you kill him already?" Zant asked.

"I'll kill him when the time comes. Right now, I need to let everyone in Hyrule know that I am their new ruler. They will bow down to me within my presence, and those who defy me will suffer dire consequences along with their families." Ganondorf said as he looked at the back of his right hand, where the triforce of power resides.

"What about those weirdos that attempted to kill you earlier? What are you planning to do to them?" Zant asked. Ganondorf stopped looking at his hand and looked at Zant.

"I will let them try to stop me. I want to see the looks on their faces when they lose all hope, and die before my knees. Besides, they are just some kids. What can they possibly do to me?"

Meanwhile…

Chopper was checking Link's temperature as he was now laying on a table in a bar in town. After the Strawhats had failed to defeat Ganondorf, they had no choice but to hide in one of the buildings that wasn't destroyed yet. Chopper finished taking Link's temperature and looked at his companions. "He will be okay, he just needs to rest for a while." Chopper said while everyone else sighed in relief.

"That's good. What about Sanji and Franky?" Nami asked, as Sanji and Franky were still unconscious, and were laying on another table.

"I am afraid that they wont be getting up anytime soon. They suffered severe wounds from all over their bodies. It was sheer luck that they are still alive right now." Chopper said as Luffy hit the wall angrily.

"Damn, If only we were here sooner." Luffy said.

"Even if you guys did got here sooner, there was still no way to defeat him." Usopp said as he shivers at what happened earlier.

"Take it easy honey, have a drink." said the bartender who happens to be the owner of the bar. She had long red hair and was kinda old looking.

"Thanks, Telma." Usopp said as he took the drink the bartender named Telma offered him.

"Thanks for letting us use your bar as a hideout, Telma." Nami said.

"It was no problem. Any friend of Link's is friend of mine." Telma said as she starts to wash the dishes behind the counter.

"Okay, now what do we do?" Nami asked.

"I know, lets go to were Ganondork went, and kick his ass." Luffy said as he raised his arms confidently.

"That's easier said than done. Sanji and Franky didn't even leave a scratch on him. He is like some sort of god." Nami said, while Zoro was in deep of thought.

"You should of seen him, Luffy! Sanji and Franky were hitting him with all they had and it didn't hurt him at all, not even my powerful spell could wear him down!" Usopp said as he shook in fear.

"Wah, Really?!" Chopper asked as he was amazed that one of Usopp's attacks didnt affect Ganondorf at all.

"So what if he is some sort of god, I defeated one before and I could it again." Luffy said.

"He is not Eneru, Luffy. He is a terrifying monster and I am not going to confront him again." Usopp said as he folds his arms.

"There is always a way to take down someone." Zoro said as everyone paid attention to him.

"Mr. Swordsman is right, If we can find his weakness, then we can surely defeat him and return Hyrule as it was." Robin said.

"That is not the only problem though, The castle is now filled with guards. Their is no way to get in their unnoticed." Nami said.

"Actually, there is a way." Telma said as she stopped washing the dishes. She then took out a paper that was under the counter and unfolded it to reveal a map of Hyrule castle. "This map will show you all the possible entrances to get in Hyrule castle."

"Excellent, now we just need to think of a plan." Nami said as she was about to think of a plan, until Usopp interfered.

"Hold on a second, you mean you actually want to go in there?" Usopp asked in disbelief.

"If we don't, then this world is going to be ruled by that jerk forever." Luffy said.

"You do realize that this is not like facing against Bowser, this guy we are dealing with is more powerful, and more scary." Usopp said fearfully.

"If we don't do anything, then we might be stuck in this world and never get back to ours again." Robin said as Usopp was now losing the conversation again.

"My I-cannot-fight-against-the-evil-warlock disease is acting up again." Usopp said as he holds his stomach, pretending to be ill.

"Well anyway, here is the plan." Nami said as she and her crew gathered around the map. "Since that we don't know which path is the safest, we are going to split up into groups." Nami said as she points to the front gate entrance of Hyrule castle. "Luffy, Zoro, Robin, and I will go through the front entrance, and take down the unnecessary guards around this garden." Nami said as she got out a pencil and drew an arrow towards the entrance of the castle and another arrow heading towards the western garden. "As soon as we get in, Luffy and Zoro will head towards the western garden, and climb their way up towards the throne." Nami said as draws another arrow pointing right towards the throne. "Robin and me will enter the castle and see what we can do to hold off the guards from getting in the throne room." Nami said as Luffy, Zoro and Robin nodded. Nami then point with her pencil towards a big house right next to the eastern wall gate of the castle. "Usopp and Chopper will get on this house and get over the wall and take care of the archers."

"Oi, wait a second. How are we going to get there?" Usopp asked.

"You figure it out." Nami replied as Chopper nodded bravely while Usopp started to cry with fear. Nami then looks at Telma. "If the elf boy gets up, make sure you tell him to get to Hyrule castle as fast as he can and protect Robin and me only." Nami said.

"Oi, Oi." Usopp said while waving his hand in disbelief.

Nami then began to write something on a piece of paper and gave it Telma. "When Sanji and Franky get up, make sure you give them this. These are the directions that I gave them." Nami said.

"No problem, honey, I'll make sure that they get it." Telma said as she put the letter in her pocket. Luffy then cracked his knuckles and was about to leave.

"Now that the boring talk is over, we can finally kick that Ganondork's ass. Lets go to Hyrule castle!" Luffy exclaimed as the rest followed him and went outside.

Usopp peeked beside a wall to see if the coast was cleared. He then signalled the rest as everyone else headed towards the main plaza.

"Okay, this is were we split up. Are you guys ready?" asks Nami as everyone else nodded while Usopp was still shaking. "Yosh, then lets move out." Nami said as she, Luffy, Zoro and Robin headed to the front gate entrance of Hyrule castle while Chopper and Usopp headed around the castle gate.

As they finally saw the big house next to the big gate, Usopp put on some springboards that had purple feet at the end.

"Get on, Chopper, we are going over that wall." Usopp said as Chopper held on his back. "Here we go! USOPP HOPPING!" Usopp then jumped in the air higher than he usual would landed on a house. He then continued to jump on every house until he finally landed on the big house next to the gate wall. "HYAAAA!" Usopp yelled as he crouched down and jumped even higher in the air as they were now over the wall. "Yes, we made it!" Usopp exclaimed victoriously, but he soon realized that he jumped a little too high as he was almost at the clouds.

"HOLY CRAAAAAAAAAAAP!" Usopp cried as he and Chopper screamed as they were falling down. They were falling down so fast that fire was starting to envelope around them, like if they were a meteorite for instance. They finally landed on the gate as Chopper opened his eyes to see that they he was still alive.

"I am still alive, thank goodness." Chopper said relieved, until he noticed that Usopp was nowhere in sight. "USOPP, WHERE ARE YOU!?" Chopper yelled as he feared that Usopp died.

"I am right here, Chopper." Usopp said as it turned out that Chopper was sitting on him.

"Usopp, you are alive!" Chopper cried joyfully as he jumped in joy, hitting Usopp stomach for every bounce he made.

"Chopper, do me a favor, and get off of me." Usopp said as Chopper then rubbed the back of his head ashamedly, and got off of him. Usopp got up and slowly quickly looked at his surroundings. "Good, looks like nobody is here. Let's get moving." Usopp said as he and Chopper tiptoed on the gate.

Meanwhile…

Two lizalfos were guarding the front gate entrance until they saw Nami waving her hand towards her face. "Oh dear, It is so hot out here. Maybe if I take off my clothes slowly, I can cool myself up a bit." Nami said as the lizalfos looked at eachother in surprise before looking at Nami again. She grabbed her shirt and slowly started to take it off, as the lizalfos were starting to get a little horny. What they failed to notice is that a pair of arms sprouted out of the door behind them.

"CHOKE!" the hands grabbed the horny lizalfos by their necks, and choked them until they suffocated.

As the hands disappeared, Luffy, Zoro and Robin got out of hiding an ran beside Nami, who was putting on her shirt. "You sure you don't want to consider to be a slut for a rich person?" Zoro asked who only received a nasty glare from Nami.

"I wont hit you this time due to the circumstances we are in, but remind me to hit you later." Nami said as she walked towards the door and peeked inside. There was nothing but a huge garden and there were three triangles at the north, east and west side of the front garden. There were six towers that were connected around the castle.

"There doesn't seem to be anybody here, something is going on." Nami said as she went in the garden along with Luffy, Zoro and Robin.

"Oi, where is everybody?" Luffy said as he looked around the garden to see nobody in sight.

"Either they might be in the castle or they simply expected us to show up." Robin said as she looks at the castle.

"This guy is is toying with us. Big mistake." Zoro said.

"Well, lets just get going already. You guys already know where to go right?" Nami asked.

"Yeah, we are going that way, while you girls go that way." Luffy said.

"So you actually did pay attention to me afterall. Anyway, we'll meet up later. Make sure you finish that guy off, Luffy." Nami said as Luffy just smiled confidently while Zoro wasn't too sure that will happen. Luffy and Zoro headed towards the western garden, while Nami and Robin headed inside the the castle. As they got in, they saw a huge room with a couple of cauldrons that were hanging on the ceiling, also a couple of balconies at the upper part of the room, but there seemed to be no staircase in sight.

"How are we suppose to go up there?" Nami asked as arms then sprouted at the end of the room and reached towards the balcony.

"Shall we continue, Miss navigator?" Robin asked as she climbed the arms like if it was a ladder.

"This is why I respect you the most, Robin-san." Nami said happily as she climbed up the arms as well. As they were done climbing, Nami saw a big chest and opened it to see a silver rupee in it. Nami's eyes then turned into berri signs as she quickly snatched the silver rupee and put it in her pocket.

"I love this place." Nami said joyfully as Robin giggled as they entered through the door to see a heavily black armored knight known as Darknut in the middle of the room. Darknut looked behind his shoulder, and turned around while he got out his broad sword and a huge shield. "I hate this place." Nami said bitterly as she hid behind Robin. Darknut got in a defensive position as he slowly walked towards them.

Robin crossed her limbs "OCHO FLEUR…" arms sprouted out of Darknut and hold him in place, but not for long as Darknut was too strong to hold.

Robin fell on her knees as the arms around Darknut disappeared. The Darknut then vertically swung his sword, as Robin and Nami barely dodged him. Nami got out her PCT, and thrusted it at Darknut. "THUNDER BALL!" the tip of the PCT let out a thunder ball at the knight, who got shocked momentarily. Despite that he was completely covered in metal, he was still standing as if he wasn't hurt at all. "That doesn't seem good." Nami said as she ducked under a horizontal slash from Darknut. She then back rolled away from Darknut, and awaited until he striked again.

"COOL CHARGE!" Nami slowly swung her PCT in front of Darknut while letting out a cold breeze from the tip of it. Darknut then swung his sword at Nami, which actually went right through her and she faded afterwards. The real Nami was behind her as she ran towards darknut with her PCT that was enveloped in electricity. "SWING ARM!" Nami swung her PCT at Darknut, receiving a shock much more deadlier than the one he received before, but somehow was still standing afterwards.

Darknut then began running towards Nami while Nami separated her PCT as heat and cool balls were coming out, forming a dark cloud over Darknut. "THUNDERBOLT TEMPO!" Nami then throws a thunder ball at the cloud before rolling out of the way of Darknut's blade, as he then saw the cloud that immediately struck him with a powerful lighting bolt. Darknut finally landed on his knees as Nami separated her PCT. "HEAT BALL!" Nami tossed numerous heat balls at Darknut, as he started to catch on fire. Darknut immediately got up, and swung his sword horizontally as Nami jumped out of the way to avoid it.

Even though that Darknut was still on fire, he continues to fight as if nothing happened to him. "Is this guy human?" Nami asked as she barely avoids Darknut yet again. "COOL BALL!" Nami throws numerous of cool balls at Darknut's legs. Darknut was about to move until he realized that his lower armor was starting to break apart. Nami grinned as she saw that most of Darknut's lower armor was starting to cripple. "Now for the upper part." Nami said as she connects her PCT together and aimed it towards the air.

"CLOUDY TEMPO!" A black cloud then came out of PCT as it started to completely covered the upper area of the room. "RAIN TEMPO!" Nami throws a cool ball at the cloud and moments later, the cloud then started to rain in the room. The water poured as the Darknut's upper armor was now getting rusty, making the Darknut hard to move around. The tip of Nami's PCT got lose as Nami now ran towards him. "SWING ARM!" Nami swung her PCT as it hit the Darknut's helmet. The helmet then fell into pieces along with the rest of the armor.

Nami thought she had won, but was wrong as Darknut got up and threw his broadsword right at Nami. "HYAAAAA!" yells Nami as she barely dodged the incoming blade as Darknut unsheathed a thinner and longer sword that was around his waist. Darknut then ran at Nami alot more faster than before and thrusted his sword at her. Nami couldn't believe how fast he was now, so she got stabbed at her left arm. "AAAHHH!" Nami cried in pain as Darknut retrieved his sword, and was about to stab Nami again until an arm sprouted out of the wall that Nami was leaning back, and punched Darknut at his face.

Darknut was momentarily stunned as Robin rushed over Nami's side. "Miss Navigator, are you alright!?" Robin asked, while Nami slowly nodded.

"I'm okay, he didn't stabbed me that deep." Nami said as she hold her wound in pain. Robin then angrily looks at Darknut, who now regained his senses.

"I will not let you live any longer." Robin said as Darknut charged at her. Robin dodged as Darknut accidentally stabbed through the wall, he then used all of his strength to pull his sword out while Robin crossed her limbs.

"NUEVE FLEUR, SPIKE!" Darknut was suddenly hit all over his upper body as nine arms sprouted out of the wall, and hit him directly. Darknut staggered for a few moments as he dazily walked in the middle of the room. "VEINTICINCO FLUER, EARTHQUAKE!" numerous of arms sprouted out of the floor like spikes, and more were starting to sprout more closer to the dazed Darknut. As Darknut regained consciousness, he got hit in the chin by the arms, and continued to get hit as he was now caught in the route of where the sprouting arms, getting hit multiple times until he crashed into a wall behind him, creating a huge pile of dust around him upon impact.

Before the dust cleared, Darknut quickly ran from it, and pulled his sword out of the wall. He then face Robin, and started to run towards her. "You must pay for your sins." Robin said as she crossed her limbs once more as Darknut was about to stab her face. "CINCO FLEUR…" arms sprouted out of Darknut's arms just in time to stop his attack. The arms then forced Darknut to move the tip of his sword towards his stomach as Darknut started to feel fear for once as Robin turned away. "… SACRIFICE!" The arms then forced Darknut to stab his own stomach as he on his knees lifeless.

Robin then sighed and rushed over Nami's side again. "Looks like he did stab you deeply." Robin said as more blood started to come out of Nami's wound.

"Ah!! Its okay. I'll live…" Nami said as she tries to get up, but Robin stopped her.

"You shouldn't move much. Let me help you with that wound." Robin said as she tries to heal Nami. Unaware to them was that Darknut was slowly getting up, and pulled out his sword that was through his stomach. He then looked at Nami and Robin angrily, and charged right at them.

"ROBIN! LOOK OUT!" Nami gasped as Robin quickly turned around to see the Darknut them was about to slash them in half until..

"SPIN SLASH!" Darknut got slashed from behind as he fell backwards before he disappeared in the darkness. Nami and Robin looked at the one killed Darknut.

"You are that elf boy." Nami said as it was Link who saved them. Link sheathed his sword and looked at them.

"You must be a part of Luffy's crew. I am glad I made it on time." Link said until he noticed Nami's wound. "You're hurt." Links said as he took out a bottle filled with purple liquid. He then crouched down and poured the liquid on Nami's wound. "This will make you recover instantly." Link said as the wound was now gone. Nami was surprised to see that her pain vanished so quickly with just some liquid. "You can thank me right after we take care of Ganondorf. Come on." Link said as he was about to walk until he weakly landed on his knees.

"Hey, are you okay?" Nami asked as she and Robin rushed to Link side.

"I am alright, I am just exhausted, that's all." Link said as he breaths heavily. He then noticed somebody on the higher platform. Link's eyes widened as he realized who it was. "Skull kid? What is he doing here?" Link asked as Nami and Robin looked at Skull kid.

"That's the child that gave me this ocarina." Robin said as she pulled out the ocarina that was in her pocket. As the Skull kid saw Link, he got really angry and started to stomp on the ground so much that it shook the castle. He then got out his horn, and started to play a tune.

When he started to play the tune, the ocarina that Robin was holding started to grow brightly as it began to float towards the middle of the room. "Wha… What is going on?" Nami asked as the ocarina started to glow even brighter. As the light faded, Link was in shock at what he was looking at.

"That cant be…" Link said as it the ocarina was no longer there, but instead it was a blonde boy with the same green tunic as Link's. "This isn't possible… he is my younger self." Link said as Nami was in shock.

"What do you mean your younger self? There is no way that could be you." Nami said in disbelief.

"It does look like younger version of himself. But somehow looks kinda different in some sort of way." Robin said.

"What do you mean, Robin?" Nami asked.

"Either that is his younger self or maybe its someone else from a distant past." Robin said which made Link surprised.

"I see, that isn't my younger self. It's my ancestor." Link said as the young Link pulled out a white mask out of nowhere. "A mask?" Link said before the younger Link put it on and then started to scream.

The young Link then started to grow two times bigger than Link and his tunic was changing from green to white armor. His pupils were no longer at his eyes, and has red marks around his eyes, and blue marks on his forehead. His hair was now completely white, his sword have turned into a big two bladed helix, with one blade green and the other one blue. The young Link was now referred to as Fierce Deity Link.

TO BE CONTINUED…

I guess it will be Link VS Fierce Deity Link in the next chapter. The next chapter should be fun.

Zelda Pt 7

Looks like my last Chapter amused alot of people. I would like to thank those who reviewed, favorited and alerted this story; It made me finish this chapter faster. Here is the next chapter.

Confronting your past. Ganondorf have took over Princess Zelda's throne, and is currently the ruler of Hyrule. But that might not be for long, as the Strawhats have begun their task to stop him. Luffy, Zoro, Nami and Robin headed towards the front entrance while Usopp and Chopper headed over the eastern gates. As Luffy, Zoro, Nami and Robin have reached the front garden, they separated to their locations as Luffy and Zoro headed to the west garden, while Nami and Robin went inside the castle. After going in the second room of the castle, they encountered a powerful knight known as a Darknut. Nami and Robin barely defeated it as Link gave him the final blow. After the battle, they confronted with skull kid and he played some sort of tune that made the ocarina that he gave to Robin, transform into Link's ancestor. The ancestor then put on a mask that transformed him into Fierce Deity Link. What will Link do now that he has come face to face with his ancestor?

Chapter 19: Link VS Fierce Deity Link, The Bulblin that never dies

Fierce Deity Link rested his helix sword over his shoulder as he looks at Link, who was nervous and confused at the same time. "What is this?" Link asked as he couldn't believe what he is looking at.

"What kind of freaky black magic is this? This is unbelievable!" Nami said as she was petrified with fear.

"It seems that the mask he put on made him transform into some sort of demon." Robin said as Nami started to shiver.

"D-Demon!? What the hell are you saying, Robin?" Nami asked fearfully.

"That mask must have some sort of power behind it. I could be wrong, but whatever the case is, this is nothing we should be careless about." Robin said before she looked at Skull kid. "That boy over there must be controlling him somehow. If we can get to him, then this being here might vanish" Robin said before Link got up.

"Wait, that wont be necessary." Link said as he got out his master sword.

"Are you sure, young swordsman?" Robin asked.

"I'm sure. I have been facing so many things before except for myself. It is time that I do just that." Link said as he had a confident look in his eyes. Fierce Deity Link then lowered his sword onto the ground, leaving a humongous crack on the entire floor.

"Well good luck, elf boy. Well just be here, safe and sound, while you take care of that monster." Nami said with a weak laugh as she was hiding behind an empty suit of armor.

Fierce Deity Link swung his sword, creating a semi-huge wave that flew at Link. Link blocked it with his shield but he went flying out of the room and landed right in the middle of the room with a lot of balconies. Fierce Deity Link then ran into the room Link went, and jumped of the balcony with his sword facing straight at Link. Link rolled out of the way just in time, as Fierce Deity Link plunged his sword right into the ground, creating a shockwave that caused Link to crash into a wall.

Fierce Deity Link pulled out his sword, and swung his sword at Link, letting out cutting waves with each slash. Link got up and rolled out of the way, taking out his bow in the process. Link then got out a bomb, and strapped it into one of his arrows and then aimed at Fierce Deity Link before firing the arrow at him. The arrow hits with Fierce Deity Link as it made an explosion in the process.

"Did I get him?" Link asked before he saw another cutting wave coming straight at him. Link ducked under the wave as he put his bow away, and took out his master sword before charging at Fierce Deity Link.

As Link got close, he clashed his sword with his doppelganger as it created a tremendous explosion afterwards, with Link being the only one flying back. Link regained his focus, and perfectly landed on the ground as he looks at Fierce Deity Link, who isn't even breaking a sweat. "There is got to be a way to defeat him!" Link said as he avoids another cutting wave. Link then runs at him and swings his sword vertically, but Fierce Deity Link dodged it, and was about to counter, only for Link to hit him with his shield to knock Fierce Deity Link out of balance.

"HEAD SPLITTER!" Link jumps over Fierce Deity Link, and slashes him across his skull before landing back at the ground. Fierce Deity Link held his head in pain before he quickly swings his sword at Link, who quickly blocks it with his shield, before sliding back a few feet. Fierce Deity Link then swings his sword vertically as Link blocked it creating a explosion afterwards, only this time Link didn't fly back. Fierce Deity Link jumped back and then noticed that Link had his Iron boots on. Fierce Deity Link then looked at Link who now held a huge ball connected to a chain.

Link spun the ball with the chain before he successfully hit Fierce Deity Link with it. The doppelganger fell to the ground after the impact. Link put away his ball with the chain, and tossed a bomb at Fierce Deity Link, who rolled out of the way as the bomb exploded upon hitting the ground. Fierce Deity Link then got out his own bow, and fired an arrow at Link, who couldn't avoid due to the weight of his iron boots, so he blocked it with his shield, but slid back due to the force of the arrow. Link quickly took off his iron boots, and charged Fierce Deity Link once again and clashed their swords with eachother, as the clash created a bright light between them.

Meanwhile…

Usopp and Chopper peeked over the wall to see a vast garden filled with archers. "I didn't expect to be this many." Usopp said as he gulped.

"What do we do, Usopp?" Chopper asked. Usopp looked around to see if there was anything to use against the archers, until he then came up with an idea.

"Ok, here is the plan." Usopp said as he whispers the plan to Chopper who nodded bravely afterwards before running off somewhere. Usopp then stood up and took a deep breath. "OI, YOU STUPID MONSTERS! UP HERE!" Usopp yelled as the archers quickly looked at him.

Usopp then points to the sky. "The time has come for you all to suffer the might of the great, Captain Usopp! For I have 8000 soldiers ready to destroy you all!" Usopp exclaimed as the archers looked at their surroundings.

"Oh yeah? Then where are they?" asked one of the archers, as Usopp almost stumbled due to the fact that he now knows that the archers could talk.

"You ask where they are? I'll tell you where they are! They are everywhere!!" Usopp stated as he started to point at various locations.

"They are in the sky, they are underground, they are billion kilometers away aiming right at your heads with their deadly weapons! They are even in your grandmother's house eating your cookies as we speak." Usopp said as one of the guards got angry.

"Not my Grandma's cookies!" yelled one chubby archer.

"I am afraid so. Now that you know that what my men are capable of, what are you going to do now?" Usopp asked as he cockily folded his arms. The archers looked at eachother until one of them spoke.

"Wait, so if his soldiers are like super powerful and all, then that means their captain is the weakest one, right?" asked one of the archers as Usopp quickly opened his eyes in surprise.

"Yeah, that makes sense. If we kill that guy, then those soldiers would probably run for their lives or something like that." another archer said as Usopp then got scared.

"What are we waiting for then? Let's kill him!" one archer said as he and the rest were aiming right at Usopp.

"Anytime now, Chopper!" Usopp said as he was shaking in fear.

Chopper were putting some bombs behind the archers who were still aiming at Usopp. Chopper then gave the signal to Usopp who nodded quickly afterwards before Chopper ran behind a crate. "You dare to question me? You fools." Usopp said as he took out his slingshot and aimed at for the bombs. The archers then laughed at Usopp.

"That guy wants to attack us with his sissy slingshot." Laughed one of the archers pointed out as Usopp carefully aimed at the bomb.

"HISSATSU KAEN BOSHI!" Usopp fires an exploding pellet right at the bombs which made a huge explosion, killing most of the archers.

The archers that didn't die slowly got up, and looked at Usopp angrily. "Why you… DIE!" yelled an archer before shooting an arrow at Usopp, who quickly jumped over it. The archer was about to shoot at Usopp again, but was hit at the back of his head by Chopper's fist.

"Usopp! There aren't that many anymore! We can take them down!" Chopper yelled while Usopp pretended to be wounded.

"I can't fight in this condition! You have to take care of them by yourself!" Usopp said as then pretends to be unconcious afterwards.

"Usopp!" Chopper yelled, before he noticed the archers aiming their bows at him. "Damn!" Chopper said before he quickly turned to his walk point, and dodged the arrows that the archers shot at him. Chopper then quickly rams his head at an archer's stomach, and knocked him through a couple of crates. Chopper then transforms into his normal point as he got out test tube from his backpack and tossed it at an archer that was standing on a couple of barrels, which exploded upon impact. Chopper then transforms to his Heavy point and punches an archer in the face.

Chopper then saw a couple of archers around him and started to aim at him. "CHOPPER SHOCKWAVE!" Chopper clasps his hands together and hits the ground which a shockwave so powerful that it caused the ground to crumble. The shockwave took down all of the archers that were around Chopper, as Chopper fell to his knees. "That move took too much out of me." Chopper said as he got up to see bulblins coming in eastern garden. "Oh no." Chopper said as one of the bulblins then got shot in the face. Chopper turned around to see Usopp standing again.

"I have fully recovered, Chopper! Now I will assist you in battle!" Usopp yelled as he jumps on a crate, but then slips on a banana peel and fell on his head.

Meanwhile…

Link was groggily getting up as well as Fierce Deity Link after the big explosion they caused earlier as they looked at eachother angrily, while Robin and Nami were watching the battle from the balcony. "They are both so powerful. If this continues, the castle might collapse." Nami said amazed.

"The demon has more power and stamina than the young swordsman, but the young swordsman has more pride and determination, so they are both equally matched." Robin said.

"All I know is that the elf boy better win. We can't go safely through the castle without him protecting us." Nami said.

Link was breathing heavily as he charges at Fierce Deity Link again, and swings his sword horizontally, while Fierce Deity Link back flipped to avoid it. Fierce Deity Link thrusted his sword towards Link, who dodged and countered by doing another horizontal slash at him, which this time it was able to cut Fierce Deity Link's cheek, which started to bleed a little. Fierce Deity Link touched the cut on his cheek and saw the blood that was on his fingers.

"GRAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAHHHHHH!!" Fierce Deity Link yelled as he swung his sword, which let out numerous of cutting waves towards Link.

"GAAAAAAAAHH!" Link cried as all the cutting waves went right through him and destroyed the balcony behind him. There were several cuts all over Link's body as he fell to his knees in pain. "Damn it, he is more powerful than he was before. There has to be an easier way…" Link said until he noticed something shiny on Nami's waist. He then realized it was a silver rupee, this is when he came up with a plan. "Miss, can you give me that silver rupee you have there?" He asked as Nami blinked for a second.

"What do you want it for? Don't tell me you are going to bribe him." Nami said who took out the silver rupee from her pocket.

"If you don't, then I cant guarantee your safety." Link said as he dodges another cutting wave.

"Ohhhh, but…" Nami didn't wanted Link, but she also didn't wanted to give up the rupee either. "Ok, fine! Here!" she yelled as she tossed to Link, who caught it with his clawshot.

"Now I'm ready." Link said as his tunic then started to change from a green tunic to a brown sparkling armor.

"I only have two minutes." Link said as he charges Fierce Deity Link faster than usual. Link slashes at Fierce Deity Link, who barely dodged it but failed to notice that a sparkling cutting wave was coming right at him. Fierce Deity Link did a cutting wave of his own in order to block it, but he still flew back after the explosion the cutting waves caused after they collided with eachother. As Fierce Deity Link was in midair, Link caught up to him, and jumped right at him "SPIN SLASH!" Link did a midair spinslash at Fierce Deity Link as he crashed right to a wall, leaving it a huge crack afterwards.

Fierce Deity Link quickly got up and slashed at Link across his chest, but Link didn't even flinch. "As long as I have this armor on, you cannot hurt me." Link said as he quickly rolled behind him "BACK SLASH!" Link slashes his sword upwards, leaving a huge scar on Fierce Deity Link's back. Link then got out his bow, and strapped all of his bombs to all of his arrows and shot them in the air. Link then got out his clawshots and shot them at one of the cauldrons as soon as the arrows were now going straight down.

"BOMB ESCAPADE!" Link reeled himself towards the cauldron as the bombed arrows impacted towards Fierce Deity Link as they all made a large explosion that covered the whole room with smoke shortly afterwards. Nami and Robin were knocked back to the other room where the Darknut was as they got up and looked at the carnage Link caused.

"That must've killed it." Nami said as she tries to look through the smoke, but couldn't see anything. As the smoke died down, she could see that Fierce Deity Link was on his knees, but wasn't moving.

"I think he is finished." Robin said until they saw Skull kid appear to the balcony beside them. Skull kid then started to laugh while looking at Fierce Deity Link.

"Why is he laughing? His puppet lost." Nami said until she saw Fierce Deity Link slowly getting up. "Th-That is not possible." Nami said, disbelieved at what she was seeing. Link landed back on the ground and looked at his opponent getting up.

"Its unbelievable." Link said until he got back to reality and started to charge at Fierce Deity Link again.

He was about to strike him until his armor lost it's color, and Link could barely move in it. "No, not now!" Link said as Fierce Deity Link struck Link with the broadside of his sword. Link landed on his back, and groggily got up as he saw Fierce Deity Link started to spin with his sword extended. Robin knew what he was planning and quickly grabbed Nami by the hand to lead her out of the room. Link stood up and was prepared to receive the blow as he dropped his sword and shield.

"SPIN SLASH!" Fierce Deity Link yelled in a low, dark voice as he created a tremendous 360 degree cutting wave, and it was heading straight at Link.

Meanwhile…

Sanji was riding a unicorn that was galloping on a rainbow and they were heading towards a tower where Princess Zelda was on the balcony waving to him. "Sanji my prince, please come to me. I need you." Zelda said as Sanji was getting closer.

"Don't not worry, my princess, I am on my way, as I can see your beautiful face in my view." Sanji said. The unicorn then stopped as Sanji got off and started to happily run towards Zelda as she was doing the same to him. "You are my soulmate!!" Sanji said as he jumps towards Zelda.

"You are my soulmate…" Sanji groggily said as he was actually dreaming the whole thing while waving his arms. Telma got close to Sanji wondering what is wrong with him.

"What kind of silly dream is he having?" Telma asked when all of a sudden Sanji hugged her.

"Oh Zelda-san, you feel so warm and you are hugging me so hard, you pressing onto my chest.." Sanji said, happily.

"Well I wouldn't be doing that if you weren't hugging me so hard." Telma replied. Sanji then opened his eyes and then looked at Telma, who winked at him.

"GAAA AAAA AAA AAAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AHH HHH HHH HHH!" Sanji screamed as he collapsed through the table he was on earlier while he was shivering in the process.

"You okay, honey?" Telma asked as Sanji was able to regain his composure.

"Y-Yes I am fine, thank you for asking." Sanji said as Franky got up while rubbing the back of his head.

"Meh, what the hell is with all that ruckus?" Franky asked as he then looks at Telma. "Well, that is nice. First thing I see when I wake up is an old, busty lady in front of me." Franky said rudely.

"You guys alright? That was a heck of a beating you guys received out there." Telma said as Sanji then remembered what happened.

"Oh yeah, that shitty warlock was the one that knocked me out! He is going to regret the day he has met me!" Sanji growled as he had a red aura of determination around him.

"Hold it, bro. We couldn't even lay a scratch on him. How do you suppose we fight him?" Franky asked.

"We can't just attack him head on. We first must rescue my precious Zelda-san from him, and then we can figure out how to defeat him." Sanji said as Telma took out a letter from her pocket.

"Your orange hair friend asked me to give this to you when you woke up." Telma said as the aroma of the letter quickly got Sanji's attention. He then snatched the letter from Telma's hands and begins to read it.

"Sanji and Franky, if you guys happened to wake up, then I want you to do the following: Sanji, there is an opening at the bar where you are at. I want you to go in there and it should lead you towards your so called future love." Sanji read as hearts began to come out of his visible eye. "Franky, I want you to take care of the dragon that is flying around the castle. The dragon might be trouble for us later on, so make you sure you take care of it. Now you guys better not mess this up, or I will hurt you." Sanji read as he was done reading the letter.

"Haaaahhh, I love it how Nami-swan threatens me with a note." Sanji said joyfully.

"Whatever, lets just do this thing." Franky as he hits his palm. Sanji then sees the opening that Nami was talking about and started to remove the bandages around him.

"It is time that I make my daring rescue! HERE I COME, ZELDA-SAAAAAAAAAAN!" Sanji exclaimed as he dives in the opening.

"That idiot with his ways of rescuing people. See you later, busty lady." Franky said as he leaves the bar. Franky then walkes towards the streets to see nobody in sight. "This place is still empty." Franky said until he heard galloping sound getting louder with each step. Franky immediately turned around to see a big pig with a big guy on it that was about to run over Franky, who rolled out of the way as they ran by.

They were still going and they were heading towards the castle. "Wasn't that the… no nevermind. Now where is that big mosquito that I have to squish?" Franky asked, unaware that it was coming right behind him. "What the!?" was all that Franky could say before the dragon grabbed Franky by his shoulders and started to fly towards the castle.

Meanwhile…

The room that Link is in was now completely destroyed. The balconies were now a wreck, the floor had numerous cracks and holes in it, some of the cauldrons were now at the ground destroyed. Fierce Deity Link was looking at Link, who was still standing after that powerful spinslash, but now was bleeding almost everywhere. Link's armor then turned to pieces as Link was still standing. He then looked at Fierce Deity Link with a scary glare coming out of his eyes.

"I… wont… lose…" Link said as he groggily picks up his sword and shield. "I have done everything in my power to stop the evil that was on Hyrule seven months ago. I will not let someone like you take everything I love away!!!" Link yelled furiously as the triforce symbol started to glow on his left hand. Link then crouched down as the triforce started to grow even brighter. Fierce Deity Link then charged as Link opened his eyes. "TRIFORCE SLASH!!" Link put his shield in front of him and leaped towards Fierce Deity Link.

Link then rammed into Fierce Deity Link with his shield, which it then let out a triforce symbols around him. Link then tosses his shield away, and started to slash repeatedly at Fierce Deity Link, letting out colorful waves within each slash. "GYAAAAA!" Link screamed as he continues to slash Fierce Deity Link with no mercy. Nami and Robin were astonished by Link's power as Fierce Deity Link was losing consciousness. "TIME TO FINISH YOU OFF! HYAAAAAAAAA!!!" Link does a powerful finishing blow that destroyed the triforce that was around Fierce Deity Link as he went flying through the wall, and into the sky as he disintegrated.

Skull kid was completely shocked as he failed to notice Nami and Robin behind him. "Now then, I think you owe someone an apology." Nami said as Skull kid turns around to see Nami's scary face, which obviously scared him. Skull kid then jumped in the air, and teleported away. Nami and Robin then rushed at Link's side, who was now unconscious after his powerful move. "I am not surprised that he was knocked out, That move must have been a killer to do." Nami said as Robin checks Link's wounds.

"It seems that he used up all his stamina. He wont be getting for a while." Robin said, much to Nami's dismay.

"Great, now we have to stay here and hide until the battle is over. I am not fighting another armored guy again." Nami said while Robin giggled.

So many meanwhile's… anyway, Meanwhile…

Usopp and Chopper breathed heavily as they were able to defeat every bulblin that they just confronted. "Daaaaaaaaaang, I never thought there would be so many of them." Usopp said.

"It was cool when you pretended to run away from them, only you lead them to some exploding barrels, and was able to get out of there alive after one of them accidentally made one explode." Chopper said with his sparkling with joy.

"Yeah, I am a genius at these things, arent I?" Usopp blushed as he actually didn't pretend during that event.

Usopp slowly got up and started to head out of the eastern garden. "Well, we got rid of all of the archers. Let's go catch up with Nami and Robin." Usopp as he faces toward the entrance of the other half of the eastern garden that suddenly busted opened as a familiar big guy riding a familiar big pig was charging towards Usopp. "GYAAAAAAHH!" Usopp cried as he leaped out of the way as the pig then stopped. The big guy then got off his pig, and looked at Usopp and Chopper while smiling evilly. Usopp and Chopper couldn't believe who it was.

"K-K-K-K-K-K-K-K-K-K-KING BULBLIN!!!!"

TO BE CONTINUED…

Luffy and Zoro didn't appear in this chapter, but they will in the next one. Usopp and Chopper VS King Bulblin at the next chapter.

Zelda Pt 8

I finally have more reviews than my chapters… I know, its sad. Ahem anyway, I have recieved a constructive criticism from game2002 about my grammar and structure issues, so I tried to make this chapter a little different than the previous ones. So here is the new style of the new chapter.

To face your inner demons. Link has fought bravely against his ancestor, Fierce Deity Link. They destroyed every single thing that was in their path just so they can leave one scratch on eachother. At the end, it was Link who was the victor as he used all of his strength to send his ancestor back to his grave. Meanwhile, Sanji and Franky regained consciousness after their defeat from Ganondorf and began their mission to safe Princess Zelda away from him. Sanji went to an opening on a bar while Franky went to pursue a dragon Argorok, which caught him by his shoulders and took him to Hyrule castle. Will Franky defeat Argorok? And what about Usopp and Chopper? Will they be able to defeat Kink Bulblin alone?

Chapter 20: Cyborgs and Dragons, Sanji's ultimate goal

"OII III III III! LET ME, GO YOU STUPID MOSQUITO!!!" Franky yelled as Agorok was still holding on to him as Argorok was now over the roof of Hyrule castle. "You are not going to put me down, huh?" Then I'll make you put me down." Franky then aimed towards Argorok's body with his left hand.

"BEANS LEFT!" Franky fires multiple bullets at Argorok as it was now starting to lose control of itself. Argorok then started to fly even higher as Franky's wrist opened up. "WEAPONS LEFT!" Franky fires a big bullet towards Argorok, who released Franky after receiving the impact.

"That was a bad ideea aaa aaa aaa aaa aaa aaa aaa aaa aa aa!!" Franky screamed as he fell a long way down towards the roof of Hyrule castle.

Franky then crashed on the roof, creating a dent in the shape of his figure. Franky got up, and rubbed the back of his head as he looked at his surroundings. "Damn mosquito, dropping me like that. Now where is he?" Franky asked as he saw no sign of Argorok. Franky then saw it flying around a tower. "I bet that place is where the princess is in. I guess I have to get rid of that mosquito first."

Franky then took a deep breath "MASTER NAIL!" Franky spews out numerous of nails towards Argorok, but some of them bounced off of it. Argorok then paid attention to Franky as it was now flying towards him.

"That's i!. Come here, you filthy bug." Franky said as he then saw Argorok breath out a stream of fire at him.

Franky rolled out of the way as Argorok flew by him, before Franky aimed at Argorok again. "WEAPONS LEFT!" Franky fires at Argorok, but couldn't hit it as it was dodging the blast that came to it.

"I guess I have to hit you directly." Franky said as he aims at Argorok with his right hand as it was getting closer.

"STRONG RIGHT!" Franky fires his right arms towards Argorok's tail, and grabs it. Franky then starts to reel himself towards Argorok as it was trying to shake him off, but to no avail. As Franky connected himself back to his arm, he started to climb up Argorok's back. Franky then takes off the skin of his right hand, and lifts it in the air. "STRONG HAMMER!" Franky punches Argorok with his steel fist as Argorok crashed towards a wall after Franky jumped off of it.

Argorok then flew off again as Franky waited for him to attack again. Argorok flew, and tried to bite Franky's head off, but he ducked as he then grabbed it's tail again, only with two hands this time. Argorok tried to break free, but couldn't as Franky was holding with great strength.

"You can't run away from me. Take this!" Franky yelled as he hurls Argorok to another tower that was beside him. As Argorok hit the tower, some of its armor started to come off. Argorok then started to fly off as Franky started to chase it.

"I ain't finished with you, yet!" yells Franky as he hopped to other roofs of the castle until Argorok quickly turned around and started to spiral towards him.

Franky did not see that coming as Argorok grabbed him with its mouth, and started to fly in the air. "OUCH FINGER!" the tip of Franky's left finger opened up and fired a bullet at Argorok's left eye as it was starting to lose its grip over Franky. Franky then forced Argorok's mouth to open as he slid out and grabbed onto it's wing. Argorok then lost control, and started to fly towards the ground.

Before it hits the ground, Franky aims at a flagpole "STRONG RIGHT!" Franky launches his right arm and successfully grabs the flagpole as he reeled himself there before Argorok crashed to the ground. "That should take care of you." Franky said as he was about to walk away, until he heard a monstrous roar behind him as Argorok quickly flew upwards and started to breath a stream of fire at Franky again. "FRESH…" Franky takes a deep breath "… FIRE!" Franky breathes out his own stream of fire as they both collided and created a huge wall of fire afterwards.

Argorok then went through the fire wall, and grabbed Franky by the shoulders as he flew up in the air again. Argorok then let go of Franky as he then started to fall down. Argorok then started to fly down at Franky with great speed. "HOSHI SHIELD!" Franky's left arm turned into a shield and protected himself as Argorok rammed right into him and made him crash on the roof hard. Franky slowly got up as Argorok was about to grab him again until he aimed at it with his right arm "FRANKY…" Franky launches his right arm and it went around Argorok before grabbing hold of him by its right wing.

"… TWISTER!" Franky pulls back his right arm as he let go of Argorok midway of retrieving his arm, which made Argorok spin uncontrollably. As Argorok was trying to regain his balance, Franky lowers his shirt as there were holes at each of his shoulders, "FRANKY DESTROYER HOU!" Franky's shoulders then raised up as Franky grunted in pain. "Ow! I dislocate my shoulders everytime I use this!" Franky gritted as the pain went away and looked at Argorok evilly. "Now you will get a taste of what I am made of! CHASER BULLETS!" Franky fired one missile from each of his shoulders as it exploded upon hitting Argorok.

Argorok then came flying off the smoke from the explosion as it was flying away from Franky while some of its armor came off. "No use on trying to escape from me, these missiles will follow you everywhere you go, because these are homing missiles!" Franky exclaimed as he then started to sprint towards Argorok.

"CHASER BULLETS!" Franky fires more missiles at Argorok, but he was able to fly out of the way as the missiles continued to fly straight as it proved that they were not homing missiles afterall. "COME BACK HERE!" He yelled as he was the one actually homing towards Argorok while firing at it with his missiles.

Argorok had enough, so he quickly did a U-turn and flew straight towards Franky. Franky's shoulders went back to their normal as Franky quickly jumped in the air, and grabbed Argorok by the neck. Argorok tried to break loose but Franky just wouldn't let go. Argorok then spiraled up in the air which caused Franky to get dizzy. Franky eventually lets go, and Argorok whipped its tail at him as he went flying down to the ground.

"You won't get rid of me that easily! 1.0 cola hou!" Franky yelled as his butt started to inflate alot bigger than a balloon. "COUP DE BOO!" Franky did a powerful fart as he went flying straight at Argorok. "STRONG HAMMER!" Franky punches Argorok at its face as it destroyed its armor around its head. Argorok quickly counters by breathing out a stream of fire at Franky as he crashed to the ground burned. A few moments past as Franky finally got up and grinned at Argorok.

"Hah! this has been a darn special week for me! It is time that I show you how I feel!" Franky said as he crouches down.

"Hen Tai!" Franky yelled as he extended his arms as he completely stood up as the front of his legs were starting to split vertically away from Franky. "FRANKY KENTAROUS!" Franky now looked like a centaur, only that his body is on the back, and not on the front like it was suppose to. Argorok spiraled at Franky one more time as Franky crouched down, waiting for it to get closer. Franky then jumped as he was able to land on Argorok's chest and clamped onto him with his centaur legs. Argorok continued to spiral up in the air, but Franky then aimed at the opposite direction that Argorok was spiraling with his hands.

"70mm Koukei 0.2 cola hou, COUP DE VENT!" Franky fires a minimum version of coup de vent of the opposite direction that Argorok was spiraling, which made him to stop spinning and was now slowly falling down. "Ha ha ha ha ha! Now you are mine!" Franky yelled as he aims his hands at Argorok. "70mm Koukei 1.5 Max cola power, COUP DE VENT!" Franky fires the maximum version of coup de vent as the pressure made Argorok and Franky rocket right through the roof, and into the balcony room where Link, Nami and Robin are.

"What the?" Nami said as Argorok and Franky went right through the ground making a 20 foot hole in the process.

Nami and Robin looked down at the hole to see Franky's legs going back to normal as Argorok faded in the dark. Franky got up with his head as it appears that he was about to scream something.

"SUU UUU UUU UUU UUU UUU UUU UUP AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AA!!!" Franky yelled as he lifts his fists in victory.

Meanwhile…

Usopp and Chopper stood in fear as King Bulblin, who was suppose to be dead, was now looking at them. "I don't believe it. How can be alive? Link killed him back at the bridge!" Chopper said nervously.

"W-What are you talking about? He got crushed by boulders back at Kakariko village." Usopp said nervously. Usopp then was able to relax and looked at Chopper seriously. "Listen, this isn't a big deal. We can take this guy down. Besides, he doesn't have any we-- WHERE THE HELL DID HE GOT THAT GIANT AXE FROM!?" He asked as King Bulblin was now holding a huge battle axe, which came out of nowhere. King Bulblin laughs as he slowly walked towards Usopp and Chopper while they were slowly backing away from him.

"What do we do, Usopp!?" Chopper asked nervously as he then realized that Usopp was no longer next to him. "Usopp!?" Chopper yelled until he saw Usopp hiding behind the entrance of the northern eastern garden.

"Good luck, Chopper! I'll let you handle things from here on out!" Usopp said while giving the thumbs at Chopper, who was now completely scared.

Chopper looked behind him to see King Bulblin, who was about to lower his axe down at Chopper. Chopper rolled out of the way, and got out a testube from his backpack before tossing it at King Bulblin as it exploded on his face. After the explosion, Chopper could see King Bulblin rubbing his face, so he quickly transformed to his Heavy point, and punched King Bulblin at his stomach. King Bulblin countered by back slapping Chopper as he slid across the ground. Chopper groggily got up, and saw King Bulblin in midair and was about to land on Chopper.

Chopper rolled out of the way as King Bulblin made the ground tremble upon landing. Chopper transformed to his Walking point, and charges at King Bulblin from behind. Chopper gores King Bulblin at his rear, which made his head hit the wall afterwards. King Bulblin got his head out of the wall, and looked at Chopper angrily, before swinging his axe horizontally at him. Chopper dodged, but failed to notice that King Bulblin wasn't finished as he was actually spinning with his axe, hitting Chopper in the process upon the second swing.

"AHHH!!" Chopper cried as he fell to the ground while holding his wound. Luckily for Chopper, the cut wasn't that deep, but if he was any closer during the time, he would have been cut in half. "This guy is strong. Where is Usopp?" asks Chopper as King Bulblin was slowly walking towards him.

"Stop right there, you fiend!" yelled a voice that came out of nowhere. Chopper looks at his surroundings as he recognized that is was Usopp who was talking. "Ha ha ha, do you think I actually ran away? Well think again, because I would never leave one of my trusty companions alone when they are in danger. For I am Captain Usopp, the brave warrior of the seas." Usopp said as King Bulblin was looking at his surroundings, but saw no sign of him. "Now you will see why I am called The lord of destruction!!!"

King Bulblin looked up to see Usopp falling down straight at him with a huge hammer that has the words "5 ton" imprinted on it. "USOPP POUND!" Usopp lowered his 5 ton hammer on King Bulblin, who somehow was able to dodge it as it hit the ground creating a huge blue shockwave all around the eastern garden, but didn't destroy anything. Usopp then could be seen relaxing his hammer on his shoulders as he looked King Bulblin seriously. Chopper was amazed to see Usopp again if with his 5 ton hammer, which we all know that it actually weighs 2 kilograms.

"COO OOO OOO OOO OO LLL!!!!" Chopper exclaimed joyfully as his eyes sparked in joy. But he soon got worried as he remembered the hammer being a fake. "Usopp, you can't defeat him with that. He is to strong!" Chopper said while Usopp simply smirked.

"Don't worry, this isn't exactly like the last one. I made a couple of upgrades with this one and trust me, It is alot heavier than before." Usopp said confidently as Chopper smiled with joy. Usopp then looked angrily at King Bulblin, who just simply tilts his head in boredom. "I will make sure that you don't mess with us again!" Usopp yelled as he charges at King Bulblin with his hammer in the air. "USOPP POUND!" Usopp lowers his 5-ton hammer at King Bulblin, who blocked it with his axe, but went flying back as the hammer created the same shockwave as before.

"USOPP POUND, USOPP POUND, USOPP POUND, USOPP POUND, USOPP POUND, USOPP POUND, USOPP WAGUMO, USOPP POUND, USOPP POUND!!" Usopp tries to hit King Bulblin with his hammer, but failed as he only hit him with his rubberband. Usopp then spins his hammer in the air as he then grabbed the end of the hilt of his hammer and started to spin with it. "USOPP MERRY-GO-ROUND!!" As Usopp spinned in circles, a blue aura covered around the 5-ton hammer as he was getting closer to King Bulblin. King Bulblin could only block as he got hit hard, and went crashing to a wall.

Usopp stopped spinning as he was completely dizzy as Chopper ran to his side. "You did it, Usopp!! You defeated King Bulblin by yourself!" Chopper said happily. Usopp didn't felt dizzy anymore, and made a heroic pose afterwards.

"Now you don't have to say that. I couldnt have defeated him without you softing him up for me." Usopp said as Chopper immediately did his happy dance.

"Stupid, I am not happy just because you said that to me, YOU FREAKING DUMBASS!" Chopper said happily as he was break dancing. Usopp and Chopper failed to notice that King Bulblin was getting up and started to walk towards them while dragging his axe behind him. Chopper stopped dancing as he was now shaking in fear as he saw King Bulblin walking closer to Usopp. "U-U-Usopp." Chopper said as he was too scared to talk. Usopp turned around to see King Bulblin, but instead of being scared, he actually smirked with confidence.

"You want to try to hurt me again? Fine, I'll let you fight me again, but be warned that I don't get scared that easily." Usopp said as he points his 5-ton towards King Bulblin. King Bulblin then punches Usopp's hammer with his free hand as the hammer then popped like a balloon. Usopp stood emotionless as his hammer was easily destroyed like the last time. King Bulblin then laughed at Usopp's misery as he was about to punch him in the face but Chopper pushed him out of the way as King Bulblin missed.

"Usopp! What happened to your hammer!? I thought you improved it!" Chopper asked as Usopp was still emotionless.

Chopper slapped him numerous of times until he finally got back to his senses, and sat up nervously. "I did improve it. It didn't weigh 2 kilograms as before, but now 3 kilograms. It also had jet dials in it to make those impressive shockwaves I did before." Usopp explained as Chopper couldn't believe it.

"Why didn't you told me that before!? We could've thought of a plan instead of wasting time!" Chopper exclaimed angrily which made Usopp angry himself.

"I wasn't wasting time, I was trying to save you because you couldn't do things by yourself as usual!" Usopp yelled.

"I can do things by myself! Its just that you are so distracting sometimes!" Chopper yelled back.

"How the hell am I distracting!?" Usopp asked.

Usopp and Chopper continued to argue with eachother while King Bulblin took a few steps back before jumping in the air while holding his axe with both of his hands above his head. Usopp and Chopper stopped arguing, and jumped out of the way King Bulblin landed on the ground, cutting the castle gate wall in half. Usopp's eyes popped out of his head in shock while his mouth was hung open as big as his body as he saw the gate almost collapsing after that strike. King Bulblin then turned around and looked at them again with an evil grin.

Meanwhile…

Sanji ended up in a house filled with gold coins as it scared a fat owner sitting on his chair. "W-What do you want? If you want money, then take it all just spare my life." the fat man pleaded until Sanji grabbed him by shirt collar.

"I don't want your filthy money, you fool! I want to get to the castle as soon as possible, so I can save my beloved my princess!!" Sanji yelled as he shakes the man angrily before shoving him back to his seat.

"Is that all? Then all you have to do is open that treasure chest and go in it." The fat owner said as he points to a treasure chest behind Sanji. Sanji quickly turned around, and opened the treasure chest and got in leaving the fat owner by himself again. Sanji fell and slid threw a watery slope until he went through a hole and landed on the ground. He was now at some sort of subterranean area, but he didn't care as he ran around the pool until he saw a lever near some bars. Sanji jumped and pulled the lever as the bars open letting Sanji go and let the water drift him towards his next location.

Sanji then fell down from a waterfall, and reached to some ground. Sanji got out of the water and ran up the stairs to see two huge spiders in front of him. "Get out of my way, you shitty parasites of humanity!" Sanji yelled as he did a downward kick at one of the spiders, squishing it's head in the process. Sanji the faced to the other spider and did a powerful horizontal kick which made it fly through the spider web that was blocking the way. Sanji continued to run through the passage as he saw a couple of bats trying to bite him.

Sanji ignored them, and went to his left to see another web blocking his way. Sanji just jumped right through it as some of the web was now stuck to his suit. Sanji saw a bulblin near an entrance and did a flying kick to his face as he ran off afterwards. Sanji saw another Bulblin, and kicked him out of the way to see a hole in the ground. Sanji jumped in the hole and ran through a narrow hallway there, until he got out, and saw a spiral staircase at his left. Sanji then went up the spiral staircase, jumping through obstacles, beating up some bulblins, and balancing on ropes in the process.

As Sanji finally reached the end of the staircase, he saw one empty armor facing at the exit while another facing at the opposite direction. Sanji walked to the door, but it was locked. Suddenly a pair of bars blocked the entrance of the door as well as the entry of the spiral staircase.

Sanji sighs as he took out a cigarette and lit up with his lighter. "If you are going to fight me, then show yourself already." Sanji said as he places the cigarette on his lips.

The empty armor behind him got destroyed as the one behind was now alive. The armor was now kinda fat, and it held a flail much bigger than Link's. This guy was known as Darkhammer; Darkhammer starts to spin his flail around himself as he was getting closer to Sanji. Sanji jumped to the wall behind and jumped again right over Darkhammer's back as Darkhammer threw his flail at Sanji, who dodged it and kicked at Darkhammer's head, but did no damage. "What!?" Sanji gasped before he jumped back as Darkhammer spun his flail again.

Sanji slid under Darkhammer's feet, and kicked him at the back of his head, but he didn't even make him flinch. Darkhammer quickly turned around and hit Sanji at his chest with his flail as Sanji crashed into the wall behind him. "Damn it! My kicks aren't hurting him." Sanji gritted as he rolls out of the way to avoid another flail attack from Darkhammer. Sanji then realized that Darkhammer had a tail, and quickly came up with an idea. "Here goes nothing!" Sanji said as he cartwheels towards Darkhammer's back, and lowered his right foot over Darkhammer's tail as he growled with pain.

Sanji then backflipped out of the way as Darkhammer tried to hit him again. Sanji then jumped, and landed on Darkhammer's head with his hands before jumping off again as he thrusted both of his feet down at its tail, as Darkhammer growled even louder. Darkhammer tossed his flail at the wall which bounced off to another wall until it finally hit Sanji at his back. As Sanji was hit, Darkhammer extended his right arm and gave a backhand slap at Sanji's face as Sanji crashed face first to the wall. Sanji groggily got up, and looked at Darkhammer angrily.

"You think a couple of blows from a stupid knight like you is going to stop me?" Sanji asked. "I will not let someone like you who doesn't even know how it feels to love someone beat me! I for one am going to rescue the one I love, and will live happily after that. I WILL ACHIEVE THAT GOAL AFTER I DEFEAT YOU!!" Sanji yelled as big wall of fire enveloped around him as Darkhammer only sweatdropped in confusion.

Sanji did several front flips and jumps over Darkhammer, giving him a hard kick at the back of his head. The force of the blow almost caused Darkhammer to trip, as Sanji landed on the ground, and kicks Darkhammer's tail repeatedly. Darkhammer growled as he tried to hit Sanji, but missed as Sanji jumped over his arm, and did a horizontal kick at Darkhammer's face before landing on the ground, and doing a scissors kick at its tail again. Darkhammer cried in pain instead of growling like usual as he held his tail while Sanji got some distance before running at him.

"MUTTON SHOT!" Sanji did a powerful horizontal kick at Darkhammer, who flew right through the door before he disintegrated to pieces of twilight. Sanji then threw away the cigarrete he had and ran out the door.

Meanwhile…

Luffy and Zoro defeated all of the bulblins that were in the western area, as they now looked above them. "The guy should be up there, but we won't be able to get to him at this rate." Zoro said until he saw stretch his arms towards an bridge between a tower, and the castle.

"Hold on, Zoro! We are going to fly up." Luffy said as Zoro simply shrugged, and held on Luffy's back. "GOMU GOMU NO ROCKET!"

Luffy springs upwards as they landed on the western bridge. They then ran out of the and headed up a slope before going through a door. Went they got in, they saw that some of the floor was missing as they walked on. "Hmm?" Luffy blinked as he then saw a ghost in front of him while pointing at where Luffy and Zoro where looking at.

"I think he is saying that we should go where he is pointing at." Zoro said as they went where the ghost pointed to, only to find another ghost pointing at another direction. They jumped to the other side to see another ghost pointing at another direction. They finally reached to the stairs, which looked liked a dump. They climbed up the stairs to see two armored lizalfos. Zoro took out his swords and charged at the lizalfos. "ONI GIRI!" Zoro slashed right through the Lizalfos, killing them in the process.

Luffy and Zoro were about to go up again, but there was no staircase this time, only a bottomless pit. Luffy stretched his arms all the way to the upper levels, and grabbed the edges of the wall. Zoro grabbed on to his back again as they were now ready to go. "GOMU GOMU NO ROCK-ooo" Luffy accidentally let go of one of the wall's as his left hand went right back, and slapped Luffy's face. The other arm however made Luffy and Zoro spring upwards, but due to the lack of balance, they repeatedly bounce of the walls as they got closer to the upper level.

When they got to the upper level, they saw two more lizalfos as they groggily got up. "GOMU GOMU NO BAZOOKA!" Luffy thrusted both of his stretched palms at both of the lizalfos as they fell down to the pit behind them. Luffy and Zoro saw one rail at each wall of another destroyed staircase. The rails had two mechanized spikes moving back and forward and it seemed impossible for them to cross. "Come on Luffy." Zoro said as Luffy held on to him and let Zoro do the leading this time. Zoro jumps on one and balances on it till he jumped on another one until he finally reached the final floor.

Luffy got off of Zoro and they ran through the hallway until they saw a golden armored Darknut blocking a door. "We don't have time to deal with this guy. Let's finish him off with one hit, Zoro!" Luffy said.

"Fine then!" Zoro said as he and Luffy prepared to attack as the golden Darknut charged at them.

"GOMU GOMU NO…" Luffy throws his fists repeatedly at the Darknut, but wasn't hitting him.

"SANBYAKU POUND HOU…" Zoro positions himself in a cutting wave position as Darknut got closer.

"CANNON!" Luffy and Zoro attacked the Darknut at the same time, creating a huge wave of energy that made the Darknut vanished into dust as the wave also went through a wall, making a huge hole in the process. Luffy and Zoro then rushed to the door as Luffy cracked his knuckles. "Are you ready, Luffy?" Zoro asked, showing no fear in his eyes.

"You bet! Let's go kick Ganondorf's ass!" Luffy yelled as he breaks through the door.

TO BE CONTINUED…

I don't know if I did this right, but I guess it looks okay. Let me know what you guys think. Usopp and Chopper VS King Bulblin continues, and ??? VS Ganondorf at the next chapter.

Zelda Pt 9

I have been told that I overuse offensive words, so from now on I am censoring the BIG bad words, not the ones like Damn, Idiot or stupid. Its not like you need swearing to make a good story right? Anyway, this chapter holds two major battles and this is a very long chapter. Enjoy!

The twilight era must end. Franky has finished his task to get rid of the Twilit dragon, Argorok, as Sanji is now close to save his future love, Zelda, from captivity. Meanwhile, Usopp and Chopper were battling against King Bulblin, as it proved that it will take alot more than a 3 kilogram hammer to defeat him. Luffy and Zoro have just reached their destination as they were now close to get Ganondorf and stop his evil reign, once and for all. Will Luffy and Zoro be able to defeat Ganondorf?

Chapter 21: Luffy VS Ganondorf?, The strong warrior

Luffy and Zoro busted through the door to see that they were outside again. The clouds were black and yellow at the same time, and the sound of thunder could be heard all over the place. Luffy and Zoro ran around the balcony, and went up the stairs and entered the throne room, where Ganondorf and Zant reside. Ganondorf looked at them and smirked as he got up from his seat while Luffy was cracking his hands. "So, you decided to come here, and face me, hoping you would defeat me, and restore Hyrule the way it was. Unfortunately, that won't happen." Ganondorf said.

"You say that, while I say that will happen. Because I will be the one that will defeat you." Luffy exclaimed while Zoro just glared

"Heh heh ha ha ha ha! You amuse me, boy, but I am afraid that won't save you now." Ganondorf said as he walked forward.

"GOMU GOMU NO PISTOL!" Luffy thrusted his stretched arm towards Ganondorf's face as it made impact, but Ganondorf didn't feel any pain, but was curious at what Luffy just did.

"You people are quite interesting. First, a woman that can grow hands almost anywhere, and then you that could stretch your body." Ganondorf said amused. "Although that will not de-"

"GOMU GOMU NO STAMP!" Luffy stretched his leg into Ganondorf's face, interrupting him in the process. "'Although that will not de-?' What are you trying to say, you idiot?" Luffy asked. Ganondorf then got angry while Zant just laughed in amusement.

"He got you there. Ha ha." Zant laughed as Ganondorf was completely ignoring him while looking at Luffy angrily, but soon calmed down, and grinned.

"At first, I thought you came here with bravery, and hope to defeat me, but now I realise that your are some fool looking for a good way to die." Ganondorf said as he looked back at the triforce statue. He then looked back at Luffy. "As the last time, I will give you a couple of minutes to lay a scratch on me. After that, I will kill you and your partner." Ganondorf said as Zoro narrowed his eyes.

"Don't underestimate me! GOMU GOMU NO PISTOL!" Luffy punches Ganondorf at his face again, but no damage was caused. Luffy then rolled around Ganondorf, and punched the back of his head, but still no damage. "GOMU GOMU NO GATLING GUN!!" Luffy repeatedly punches Ganondorf, but he didn't even flinch. Luffy jumped over Ganondorf, and grabs his head as his feet stretched back. "GOMU GOMU NO YARI!" Luffy thrusted both his feet at Ganondorf's gut, which this time it actually damaged him a bit.

"Grr!" Ganondorf grunted as Luffy jumped away from him. "I have to admit, that somehow injured me. But don't think it will happen ag-"Ganondorf said until he saw Luffy running towards him with both of his arms stretched back.

"GOMU GOMU NO BAZOOKA!" Luffy thrusted his palms at Ganondorf's gut again, which caused alot of damage to Ganondorf.

"GUH!" Ganondorf cried as he fell to the ground in pain. He then sits up while holding his stomach as he looked at Luffy surprisingly. "What is going on!? How come he can hurt me!? The triforce of power should make me invincible. Unless…"

"GOMU GOMU NO STAMP!" Luffy stretched his leg at Ganondorf's face, which made him slid across the floor. Luffy jumped in the air and pointed his legs towards Ganodorf "GOMU GOMU NO YARI!" Luffy stretched his legs towards Ganondorf, but he rolled out of the way as Luffy created a little hole in the floor. Ganondorf gets up, and see Luffy running towards him. "GOMU GOMU NO GATLING GUN!" Luffy repeatedly punches Ganondorf as he was forced to lean on a wall, while Luffy stopped punching him and ran at him. "GOMU GOMU NO…"

"WARLOCK PUNCH!" Ganondorf counters as his fist was covered in a dark flame and punched Luffy across the throne. Ganondorf breaths heavily as Luffy got up weakly. "Even though you can hurt me, doesn't mean that you can easily defeat me!" Ganondorf yelled.

"I thought you were going to give me a couple of minutes? Looks like your not that tough afterall." Luffy said as it made Ganondorf even more angrier.

"Hmm… someone else is here." Zoro said as he looked at his surroundings.

Meanwhile…

Usopp was paralyzed in fear as he still couldn't believe that King Bulblin was able to cut the gate wall in half. Chopper ran to his side, trying to help Usopp regain his senses. "Usopp, wake up!" Chopper yelled as he was shaking Usopp by his suspenders.

"Bulblin scary… Bulblin scary… Bulblin scary… Bulblin scary…" Usopp repeated as King Bulblin laughed at his fear. King Bulblin then started to walk to him as Chopper then shook Usopp even more.

"USOPP!" Chopper cried as King Bulblin got closer to him. Chopper then shoved Usopp out of the way, and took out a rumble ball, and ate it. "JUMPING POINT!" Chopper transformed to his to a tall and skinny version of himself, and grabbed Usopp as he jumped out of the way of King Bulblin's fist that hit the ground. Chopper then put Usopp down, and looked at King Bulblin angrily.

"I will make sure that you don't come back to life again!" Chopper said as he changed to his walk point, and charged at King Bulblin. King Bublin swung his axe horizontally at Chopper, who jumped over it, and gave a headbutt to King Bulblin's face.

Chopper transformed to his heavy point while in midair and punched King Bulbin at his face as he fell to the ground hard. Chopper got some distance as King Bulblin got up angrily, and quickly charged at Chopper as he threw a fist at him, but Chopper transformed to his normal point, and put an explosive testube around King Bulblin's waist. Chopper then ran away as the testube exploded a few seconds later. "BRAIN POINT, SCOPE!" Chopper puts his hooves in front of his face as he looks for King Bulblin's weakness.

"Come on, Come on, Where is his weakness?" Chopper asked frustatedly, as King Bulblin went running towards him.

Chopper immediately transformed to his Jumping point, and jumped out of the way as King Bulblin vertically swung his axe downwards, causing the earth in front of it to shake. King Bulblin then swung his axe horizontally, as Chopper couldn't dodge it. "GUARD POINT!" Chopper transformed into a puffball, and received the blow as he crashed straight to a wall. Chopper automatically transformed to his normal self as he weakly got up as he was bleeding from his forehead.

"Even with Guard point, it still felt like if I was hit by a cannon." Chopper said as King Bulblin walked towards him. "SCOPE!" Chopper scans King Bulblin once more as he swung his axe downwards at Chopper as it made a huge explosion afterwards. As the dust cleared, Chopper could be seen almost unconscious on the ground as King Bulblin was about to finish him off until…

"HISSATSU KATAKI BOSHI!" Usopp fires an exploding pellet at King Bulblin's, making the bulblin lose his balance. King Bulblin looked at Usopp, who didn't look happy. "You didn't think that I would be out of the picture, did you?" Usopp asked as King Bulblin then ran to him. "HISSATSU TAMAGOBOSHI!" Usopp fired a rotten egg at King Bulblin's eye, blinding him in the instant. Usopp then placed a bomb at the ground, and ran out of the way as King Bulblin ran into it. "HISSATSU KAEN BOSHI!" Usopp fires a fire pellet towards the bomb as it exploded as King Bulblin went rolling towards a wall behind him.

King Bulblin groggily got up as Usopp took out three exploding pellets out of his bag. "SANREN KATAKI BOSHI!" Usopp fires the three explosive pellets at King Bulblin, creating a huge explosion upon impact. Usopp then was able to relax as he ran to Chopper's side.

"Chopper! Are you okay?!" Usopp asked, unaware that King Bulblin came out of the smoke, and rushed towards him. Usopp turned around, and readied his slingshot "HISSATSU KEMARI BOSHI!" Usopp fires a smoke bomb, thus creating a huge smokescreen around themselves.

As the smoke cleared, Usopp and Chopper were no longer there. King Bulblin looked around for them until he stepped on some cactus needles Usopp left on the ground. King Bulblin grunted as he took out the needle that was impaled on his foot, until he saw Usopp on the ground, who seems to be covered in blood. King Bulblin smirked as he walked towards Usopp while avoiding the needles on the ground. Usopp then sat up suddenly, and got out a dial from his bag

"FLASH DIAL!" the dial created a very bright light as it blinded King Bulblin, which made him accidentally fell on the cactus needles.

As King Bulblin cried in pain, Usopp got up while laughing victoriously. "I used ketchup to make it look like blood. This is what happens when you mess with Captain Usopp, and his comrades." Usopp said, unaware that King Bulblin was getting up normally, despite having a bunch of cactus needles deep into his back.

"Yes sir, What do you attend to… do?" Usopp asked as King Bulblin was now standing in front of him. King Bulblin then threw a right fist across Usopp's face as he crashed into a into a pile of crates.

Usopp groggily got up as King Bulblin shoulder barged him right through the crates and into the wall. King Bulblin then grabbed Usopp and tossed him right towards the pile of cactus needles that he left on the ground earlier. "GYAAAAAAHHH!!" Usopp cried in pain as the needles were impaling his back. When that was happening, King Bulblin grabbed his axe, and ran towards Usopp. When Usopp saw him coming, he got hit across the face from the broadside of the axe as he flew up in the air before landing roughly on the ground.

Chopper was able to regain consciousness as he then saw Usopp covered in real blood this time. "USOPP!!" Chopper cried as he ran to his side to checkup on him. "He is still alive, just barely breathing." Chopper said as he then looked at King Bulblin, and noticed some of Usopp's blood on his axe. "I still got some minutes left, I have to make up for that time." Chopper then charges at King Bulblin. "HORN POINT!" Chopper transforms to his horn point and hangs his head low as he ran towards King Bulblin.

"ROSEO COLLONADE!" Chopper uses his antlers to grab King Bulblin, and lifts his head up, launching King Bulblin really high in the air. "JUMPING POINT!" Chopper transforms to his jumping point, and jumps high in the air as he was now over King Bulblin. "ARM POINT!" Chopper transforms to his arm point as he puts his hoove close to eachother. "ROSEO CROSS!" Chopper thrusted both of his hooves into King Bulblin's gut, leaving a huge wound with a shape of an X behind. Chopper perfectly landed on the ground while King Bulblin landed roughly on his back.

Chopper breathed heavily as he returned to his normal point. "That should of took care of him, and only one minute to spare. Now I have to check on Usopp." Chopper said as he was about to check on Usopp, but saw a shadow that wasn't his in front of him. Chopper quickly turned around only to get hit across the face by King Bulblin as Chopper slid across the floor. Chopper weakly opened his eyes as King Bulblin was about to hit him again, until he saw something unbelievable. What King Bulblin was looking at was none other that Usopp, who had a broken nose and stood up weakly.

"USOPP!" Chopper cried with joy as Usopp weakly walked towards King Bulblin.

"You may have… -cough-… made me bleed, you.. may have broken every bone in my body, but you wont destroy me!" Usopp said as he coughs up some blood. "I.. will become… the bravest warrior of the sea… AND THERE IS NOTHING YOU CAN DO TO STOP ME!!"

King Bulbin run towards Usopp, and was about to hit him across the face as Usopp got out a green pellet. "HISSATSU SAKIRETSU SAROTESOBOSHI!" Usopp fired the green pellet as it impacted on King Bulblin's fist. Upon impact, the pellet exploded numerous of needles all over King Bulblin as he growled in pain. "CHOPPER!! SCAN HIS WEAKPOINT!!" Usopp yelled as Chopper nodded nervously.

"SCOPE!" Chopper searched for King Bulblin's weakpoint, until he finally found it. "Usopp! His weakpoint is right at his stomach!!" Chopper yelled as he pointed to King Bulblin's stomach, which still had the X that Chopper left on him earlier.

"X marks the spot, huh? Okay, Chopper, get over here!" Usopp yelled as Chopper ran to his side. King Bulblin got out the spikes as he wandered where Usopp and Chopper were. "Hey! Over here!" Usopp yelled as he got King Bulblin's attention. He could see that Chopper was at his Horn point and had a huge rubberband around his antlers. "Look behind you." Usopp said as King Bulblin looked behind to see a huge pile of bombs that Usopp bought from Barnes bomb shop. Usopp then stretched the rubberband back as he placed the hammer on it.

"Now you will see the true potential of teamwork!! HISSATSU USOCHO HAMMERSUSEI!!" Usopp lets go of the hammer as the rubberband springs the hammer towards King Bulblin, who couldn't dodge it in time. The hammer impacted on King Bulbin's stomach as he along with the hammer crashed into the pile of bombs, making a humongous explosion afterwards. Usopp then breathed heavily as he almost collapsed until Chopper grabbed while he was in his heavy point.

"Usopp!!" Chopper cried as Usopp slowly raised his hand in the air.

"I feel like my life is passing through my eyes. Chopper be sure to tell the crew it was nice knowing them…" Usopp saidd as he fainted.

"No, Usopp!! Don't die!" Chopper panicked as he quickly began to heal Usopp by giving him multiple shots, stitching up open wounds, and putting bandages all over him. Usopp was now completely healed, and stood up like nothing happen.

"I knew if I pretended to be ill, I would get healed faster." Usopp stated as Chopper admired him. Usopp's then became very scared as he saw King Bulblin weakly getting up after he suffered from that big explosion. "N-No way… there is no way to beat this guy.." Usopp whimpered as King Bulblin looked at the ground in defeat.

"That is enough." King Bulblin said as it Usopp and Chopper were shocked that he could talk. "I only follow the ones that are stronger than me, and you guys proved to be those kind of people." King Bulblin then whistled to his pig as it came to him. King Bulblin then got on his pig, "I wish you luck on your journey. May we meet again someday." King Bulblin said before he left, leaving Usopp and Chopper in complete shock.

"Chopper…" Usopp said.

"Yes, Usopp?" Chopper asked.

"That guy… he talked…" Usopp said in disbelief.

Meanwhile…

"Gah, I am almost out of cola." Franky said as he noticed his hair losing its normal look while he was climbing out of hole he created earlier.

"Franky." Nami said as Franky climbed out of the hole.

"Oh, orange head girl. Your here." Franky said as he got up.

"What just happened, Mister Shipwright?" Robin asked.

"I got rid of that mosquito the orange head wanted me to get rid off. The cook is on his way to save the princess as we speak." Franky said as he also noticed Link, who was still unconscious. "Who is the elf?"

"That's the hero, Link. Renado spoke of him during the time." Nami said as she checks upon Link.

"This is the so called hero? We are doing all the hard work while he is just sleeping like a baby." Franky said as he got close to Link.

"He isn't sleeping. He just exhausted after fighting that demon earlier. I am surprised how strong this guy is. Its like he is-WHAT ARE YOU DOING!?!?" Nami yelled as Franky was about to punch him Link in the face, until Nami yelled at him.

"I am about to wake this elf up. I don't care if he is a hero or not, he can't be sleeping when all of this is going on!" Franky stated as Link was regaining consciousness, but Franky failed to realize that.

"Ah… that was a hard… battle? WAH!" Link asked as he barely dodged Franky's fist that was going to hit his face. "What in the world were you trying to do!?… And why don't you have any pants on?"

"Are you judging my appearance? I am not the one wearing a skirt, you lazy elf." Franky said.

"First of all, This is not a skirt, It is a tunic. And second of all, I am not an elf!!" Link yelled as he and Franky looked at eachother angrily, until Nami shoved them away.

"Will you guys stop? This isn't the time to be arguing about silly things. We have to get that Zelda girl out of here." Nami said, which caught Link's attention.

"Zelda! I almost forgot about her! Come on, Lets go!" Link said as he got out his clawshot, and aimed at the door above. "Now I can only carry one person with me at a time, so this is going to take-awhile?" Link said as Franky shot his right arm towards the entrance and reeled himself in while a pair of arms sprouted from the wall, and helped Nami and Robin getting to the entrance leaving a baffled Link behind.

"Let's go Mister hero, The princess awaits us." Robin said kindly as Link reeled himself in.

"This has been an odd day." Link said before he and the rest started to run towards the halls.

Meanwhile…

Sanji was running on the roof of the castle as he could clearly see Princess Zelda's tower. "I can smell her beautiness from that tower! She must be in there!" Sanji said joyfully as he ran in the tower and ran up the stairs. Sanji tried to open the door, but it was locked. Sanji kicked the door open with his eyes closed as he felt great joy all over his body.

"My princess, I have finally came to rescue you." Sanji said as he got in the room with his eyes still closed.

"You may not know who I am, but I know very well who you are. You see, it was destiny which made us be perfect for eachother. I have traveled through many obstacles, defeating various of monsters, and kept alot of patience just to meet you. And now that we are together, we can-she is not here?!?!" Sanji yelled as the room was completely empty.

"I don't understand this. If she is not here, then where is she!?"

Back to Luffy…

Luffy and Ganondorf punched eachother rapidly as the throne room was almost a wreck. Luffy punches Ganondorf in the stomach, but Ganondorf counters by grabbing Luffy's head and rammed it with his knee. "WIZARDS FOOT!" Ganondorf jumps as his feet were covered in purple flames, as he did a flying kick towards Luffy. Luffy was able to dodge the foot, but couldn't avoid the flame as part of his vest got caught on fire.

"AHH, FIRE!" Luffy cried as he dropped on the ground and started to roll around the floor until the fire died down. Luffy got up and looked Ganondorf, who was starting to laugh.

"Heh heh ha ha ha ha! Is this how you fight your enemies? I must say this is quite humorous, but I still dont see how you are going to win this fight." Ganondorf said as he noticed the triforce in his right hand glow a bit.

"Can you stop asking me on how I am going to defeat you already? It is getting annoying!" Luffy said.

"Hmph, very well then. Prepare to-GAA AAA AAA AAA HHH HHH HHH HHH HHH!!!" Ganondorf cried in pain as an electrical current was enveloping around his body. Ganondorf looked at the person responsible, which turned out to be Zelda with her bow. "You.. how did you get here?!" Ganondorf yelled angrily.

"I used a secret passage from my room in order to get here. You will not take over my kingdom again." Zelda said as she readied her bow again, but Zant blocked her way.

"I don't think so, princess." Zant said, while Luffy rushed to Ganondorf, stretching his arm all the way back.

"GOMU GOMU NO…" Luffy runs at Ganondorf, who couldn't move at all, as he could only watch as Luffy was about to hit him. "BULLET!" Luffy punches Ganondorf right across his face as he flew right towards the throne, and crashed into it, destroying it in the process. Ganondorf got up as the electrical current faded away. "You wont go down, huh? I'll finish you off right now!" Luffy said as he punches the ground "GEAR…"

"Oh no, you don't!" Zant yelled as he opened a portal behind Luffy and pushed him inside along with himself

"LUFFY!" Zoro yelled as the portal disappeared. Ganondorf then gets up, and looks at Zelda. "You were the reason that my Triforce of Power didn't work just recently, weren't you?" Ganondorf asked as he grabbed Zelda by her wrist.

"I have found a way to stop your power by using my Triforce of Wisdom. Your are not the only one that knows how to use the Triforce, Ganondorf." Zelda said, which made Ganondorf a little unhappy.

"Well, it wont be for long as I will put you to sleep." Ganondorf said as he knocked out Zelda by slapping her. Zelda fell on her back unconscious, as Ganondorf then felt at ease, and walked to the middle of the throne room, and looked at Zoro, who was angry. "It appears that it is just you and me. Since I feel merciful today, I will let you live for now." Ganondorf said while Zoro removed the bandana around his left forearm.

"Oh, You wish to challange me as well? Do you think you can face a god by yourself?" Ganondorf asked. Zoro wrapped the bandana around his head and looked at Ganondorf with an evil smirk.

"Sorry, but I don't believe in god."

Meanwhile… where Luffy went to…

Luffy got up groggily and saw his surroundings. He was on a big, round platform that was floating in the sky over thousands of feet over a small town below. The skies had a mixture of black and white and there were no clouds in sight. Luffy got while rubbing his head wondering where he is. "Where am I? And how I did I get here?" Luffy asked until he saw Zant appear right in front of him.

"Welcome to my world, kid. Where Light does not exist and darkness rules over all." Zant said proudly.

"Why did you stop me from fighting Ganondorf?" Luffy asked.

"Don't get me wrong, kid. As much as I enjoyed watching you somehow beating up my so called master, I just couldn't let you kill him yet. You see, if he dies, then everything would go back to normal and when everything gets back to normal, that annoying princess down there will kill me again." Zant said as he points down. Luffy ran to the edge and looked down to see a big dark looking castle.

"Whoa, We are pretty high up!" Luffy yelled in amazement.

"I know this might sound weird to you, but if you could just stay here until Ganondorf kills all your friends and family, I will take you back and kill you later, what do you say?" Zant said in a kindly way, But Luffy didn't like that.

"No way! I wont let you or Ganondorf harm my friends, you big lemon head!" Luffy yelled. The words 'lemon head' echoed through Zant's mind as he was completely furious.

"Le-Le-Le-Le-Le-LE-LE-LE-LE-LEMON HEAD!?!? HOW DARE YOU BRING BACK THAT HORRIBLE WORD THAT TORTURED ME FROM KINDERGARTEN THROUGH COLLEGE!? I AM GOING TO MAKE SURE THAT YOU SUFFER THE SLOWEST AND PAINFULLEST DEATH OF ALL TIME!!!" Zant yelled as he teleported away, and reappeared floating over a distance. A helmet then appeared over Zant's head, which looked like some sort of chameleon with its tongue sticking out and had triangle shaped head. Luffy bursted with laughter as he saw Zant's new headgear. "Wh-What is so dang funny!?" Zant asked.

"Your head. First it was shaped like a lemon and now it looks like a carrot with eyeballs. Ha ha ha ha!" Luffy said as Zant was so angry, that his face was completely red, only Luffy didn't notice due to the helmet.

"YOU WONT BE LAUGHING AFTER I FINISH YOU OFF! DIE!!" Zant yelled as he fires purple blasts towards Luffy, who dodged it and looked at Zant seriously. "Oh ho ho ho ho ho. What are you going to do, just curse at me all da-GYAH!" Zant cried as he was punched across the face. "I forgot that you were a freak, but that doesn't give you an advantage over me!" He yelled as he fires more blasts.

Luffy stretched his arm towards Zant, and grabbed him by his robe. "GOMU GOMU NO…" Luffy pulls Zant towards himself "… PISTOL!" Luffy punches Zant as he quickly teleports away from him. Zant fires more purple blasts as Luffy dodges them while running towards him. "GOMU GOMU NO MUCHI!" Luffy does a stretched horizontal kick at Zant, and knocked him over as Zant teleported in the middle of the room.

"SHOWER OF DOOM!" Zant raises his hands in the air and fires numerous of purple blasts in the air as all of them came falling down straight to Luffy. Luffy backflipped, dodge rolled, and ran away from the blasts as he charged towards Zant. "GOMU GOMU NO GATLING GUN!" Luffy repeatedly punches Zant.

"GAH, GOH, GYAH, FOO, EIK, GOH, GRR, DOH!" Zant cried as he was hit repeatedly. Zant then teleports at the edge of the platform and started to jump. Each times he lands on the ground, the whole platform shakes tremendously as Luffy was bouncing to the edge of it. Zant stopped jumping and teleported to Luffy. "TAKE THIS!" Zant yelled as he fires purple blasts as Luffy dodged, and kicked Zant in the face. "GUOH!" Zant cried as he teleported to the edge again, and jumped to shake the platform again.

Luffy tries to keep his balance, but couldn't as he fell off the platform. Zant laughs as he teleported to the edge of the platform where Luffy fell of from only to see Luffy hanging on. "Say hi to the princess down there on your way down." Zant said as he was about to step on Luffy's fingers, until he saw that Luffy was stretching all the way down while stilling holding on. "GOMU GOMU NO ROCKET!" Luffy springs towards Zant and tackles Zant as he went flying high in the air and landed on his head while Luffy landed perfectly on the ground. Zant quickly teleports and was about to jump again until… "GOMU GOMU NO STAMP!" Luffy thrusts his foot towards Zant's gut as he went flying back before teleporting back to the platform while breathing heavily.

"Gah, I'll show you the meaning of power!!" Zant yelled as he disappeared, as Luffy looked around to see where he went. The ground then started to shake as something huge emerged from the ground. It turned out to be Zant's helmet and it now stood in the middle of the platform and looked down at Luffy.

"Yo-Your a giant!?" Luffy asked.

"Yes, and now I will destroy you with my gigantic power." Zant said as steam came out of the helmet's nose as the mouth opened up to reveal the actual Zant inside. Luffy eyes popped out in disbelieve.

"Ehhhh!? You are not a giant, you big ripoff!!" Luffy yelled as Zant almost stumbled due to that remark.

"Shut up! You don't know anything! Take this!!" Zant yelled as he fires purple blasts at Luffy, who only dodged and stretched his arm at Zant and pulls him out of the big helmet and tosses him to the ground.

"GOMU GOMU NO YARI!" Luffy thrusts both of his feet towards Zant's back and almost breaks him in half.

"OWW!" Zant cried as he teleported back to his big helmet as the mouth closed while sinking back in the ground faster than it emerged. The ground started to shake again as 6 big helmets emerged from the edges of the ground and they were all looking towards the center, where Luffy currently is. All the heads let out steam from their noses as their mouths opened up to see Zant was inside one while the rest are empty. "I GOT YOU!" Zant yelled as he was behind Luffy while firing purple blasts at him.

Luffy ducked and stood on his hands as he stretched his feet around Zant's arm. "GOMU GOMU NO SLINGSHOT!" Luffy pulls his feet back, and lets go of Zant as he crashed to one of the big helmets. Zant fell limplessly as the helmets sinked back to the ground. Zant quickly got up, and raised his hands in the air.

"PILLARDOME!" 7 pillars fell from the sky as one of them landed on the center while the other 6 landed around it. Zant teleported to one of the pillars and started to hop on each of them like a monkey. Luffy tried to grab hold of him, but Zant wouldn't stand still as he was too fast. Zant stopped hopping and began to fire more purple blasts towards Luffy. Luffy ran at him, but wasn't paying attention to where he was going, so he accidentally crashed to the pillar that Zant was on. Zant almost lost balance because of this. and quickly jumped on another pillar.

Luffy then got an idea and ran towards the pillar that Zant was on, and crashed to it as Zant fell off, and landed on the ground as his head was stuck to the ground. Luffy charged at Zant and kicked him like a soccerball as Zant flew away before teleporting back to one of the pillars. "Maybe if I shoot him and jump at each pillar at the same time, he wont be able to hit me." Zant wanders out loud as he jumped to each pillar while shooting purple blasts at Luffy, who dodges them.

"I can't hit him if he is going to do that. Wait, I got an idea!" Luffy said excitedly as he stopped and ran to one of the pillars.

"Give it up, you loser! You wont be able to defeat me like this." Zant said until he noticed that Luffy somehow was able to lift the pillar and held it like if it was a baseball bat. "Except if you do that." Zant blinked until as he tries to run away as Luffy was about to swing the pillar "GOMU GOMU NO HOMERUN!" Luffy hit Zant with the pillar as it shattered to pieces while Zant flew away in pain once again before teleporting back to the platform yet again.

"Dont you get tired of teleporting?" Luffy asked.

"Laugh all you want, but you wont be after I do this!" Zant yelled as he jumps in the air and started to grow large. Luffy eyes popped out as Zant jumped in the air and intends to land on Luffy. Luffy got back to his senses and dodged just in time as Zant landed on the ground. Zant then took large steps towards Luffy as he was running away for his life. "Oh ho ho ho! What are you going to do now?" Zant asked while still chasing Luffy. Luffy turned around and jumped towards Zants head.

Luffy grabbed hold of Zant's head as Zant tried to get him off. "GET OFF ME!" Zant yelled as he intends to punch Luffy off, but hits himself instead. Luffy then went into Zant's robe, and crawled as Zant was laughing in pain. "STOP THAT! YOUR TICKLING ME!" Zant cried happily as Luffy got out of Zant's robe and landed right next to his foot.

"GOMU GOMU NO ONO!" Luffy stretches his foot up in the air and slams it down on Zant's foot.

"OW, OW, OW, OW, OW, OW, OW!!" Zant cried in pain as he shrinks to a size of a rat while holding his foot in pain. As Zant was hopping around in pain, Luffy charges at him with both of his arms stretched back.

"GOMU GOMU NO BAZOOKA!" Luffy thrusted his palms at Zant and made him sent flying off the platform for like the 5th time and teleported for back to the platform for who knows how many times.

"I HAVE HAD ENOUGH YOU AND YOUR MONKEY BUSINESS!! I AM GOING TO CUT YOU UP!!" Zant yelled as two blades came out his sleeves, and ran towards Luffy while swinging like a madman. Luffy received some small cuts, but managed to get away, and punches Zant across his helmet before he teleported behind and started to spin crazily. Luffy couldn't avoid him and got hit as he fell to the ground. Zant was still spinning towards Luffy, who this time rolled out of the way as Zant was heading toward the edge.

Zant quickly teleported behind Luffy and continue to spin to him. Luffy jumped out of the way as Zant finally slowed down as he felt completely dizzy. "GOMU GOMU NO GATLING GUN!" Luffy repeatedly punches at Zant who got hit all over his body. Zant teleported behind Luffy afterwards and was about to the a vertical slash until Luffy did a backhand slap at Zant's head. Zant whined as he teleported away from him in order to spin crazily towards Luffy again.

"There is only one way to dodge that." Luffy said as he took a deep breath. "GOMU GOMU NO… BOHH…" Luffy's brain turned off as he stood still like a statue. Zant got closer as he tried to crash into Luffy, who easily dodges it. Zant stopped spinning and started to slash at Luffy, who was still dodging every swing. Zant got tired as he took a break while Luffy's brain immediately turned on and punches Zant in the gut. Zant crouched down in pain as he was holding his stomach before jumping away from Luffy.

"If I am going down, then you are going down with me!! DESTRUCTO SLASHER!!" Zant slashes in every single direction as cutting waves came out of his blades and were heading everywhere. The platform started to crumble as it was starting to fall down. "OH

HO HO HO HO!! WHAT DO YOU THINK OF THAT, STRAWHAT!?" Zant yelled, unaware that Luffy went running at him, as Luffy kicked Zant in the air. Luffy then breathed in alot of air as he was now in shape of a balloon. He then twisted his body before letting out the air, and flew straight up at Zant.

"GOMU GOMU NO STORM!" Luffy repeatedly punches Zant in midair was now losing consciousness. "GRAAAAAAHHHHH!!" Luffy screamed as he continues to punch Zant as the platform below completely crumbled into pieces. Zant's helmet also went to pieces as Luffy gave the final blow to Zant as they fell down to the pit below. Luffy fell unconscious after doing that move as Zant was slowly disintegrating from his feet to his head.

"Atleast… he won't live… to tell about it." Zant said weakly.

He then noticed a huge orange hand coming from the castle as it caught Luffy while Zant continue to fall down. Zant was in shock and in anger as he recognized who caught Luffy. "You… You dare to save him!? I will come back one day Mi…" was all that Zant said before he completed disintegrated. The hand then put Luffy to the castle's balcony as the hand got smaller, and turned into red hair. A blue female with an elegant dress walked to Luffy, who was sleeping like a baby.

"This kid defeated Zant with his own hands. Who would've known?"

I bet you didn't see that coming. Zoro VS Ganondorf next chapter

Zelda Pt 10

It looks like everyone knew that the Zoro VS Ganondorf was coming, good thing I didn't really bet with anything. Well this is it, the battle you all been waiting for. Have fun!

Fate draws near. Luffy fought Ganondorf, hoping to defeat him. But Zant interfered, and took him to his world. Ganondorf realized that Zelda was somehow disturbing the triforce of power as Ganondorf knocked her out in order to stop her from going on. Meanwhile, Luffy have defeated Zant and was saved by a unknown female as Zant disintegrated to death. The only for Hyrule now lies in Zoro's as he will now face Ganondorf to the battle of death. Will Zoro defeat Ganondorf and free Hyrule from the dreaded Twilight, or will Ganondorf remain supreme for all eternity?

Chapter 22: The secret hidden skill, Zoro VS Ganondorf

The throne room was completely quiet as Zoro and Ganondorf glared at eachother. Zoro slowly took out his swords while Ganondorf just simply folded his arms as he smirked at him. "I am the last person you should be underestimating." Zoro said as he held one of his swords with his teeth.

"Who says I was underestimating you? I am just simply curious about your sword style. This is the first time that I will kill a swordsman that uses three swords at the same time." Ganondorf said.

"Hmph… what you really meant to say was that this will be your first, and last time you will see a swordsman like this." Zoro said as he went to a battle stance.

"Heh heh ha ha ha! Quite confident, are you? Let's just see how confident you are when fighting with someone else." Ganondorf said.

He then changed into some sort of dark spirit, and went straight into Zelda's body. Zelda's eyes then opened up as they no longer had any pupils. Zelda then took out her sword, and floated right in front of Zoro.

"Wh-What is this?" Zoro asked as Zelda then smirked.

"I just simply took possession of the princess's body. I hope this doesn't affect our battle in some sort of way." Ganondorf said as he spoke with a combination of his, and Zelda's voice. "Now let us begin!" Ganondorf said as Zelda floats in the air and points Zelda's sword towards Zoro. She then flew straight at Zoro as he dodged out of the way as Zelda then did a horizontal slash at Zoro, who blocked it instantly. Zelda did multiple swings as Zoro blocked them all until he was backed to a wall. Zelda thrusted her sword at Zoro, but quickly rolled out of the way as Ganondorf pierced through the wall instead.

"What's the matter, boy? Can't hit a girl?" Ganondorf asked as Zelda swung at Zoro again, but Zoro backflips in order to avoid it. Zoro then saw Zelda was about to strike him again, so he blocked her sword with two of his blades. They both tried to push eachother off as a great sphere of light was now forming between the blades. Ganondorf couldnt withstand the light as Zelda floated away from it while blocking the light from her view. After the sphere of light disappeared, he noticed that Zoro was no longer there.

"Where are you, boy?" Ganondorf asked as Zelda flies around the throne room looking for Zoro, who was hiding behind one of the pillars.

"I can't fight like this. I have to find a way to get him out of that body." Zoro thought, until he remembered what happened earlier. "The way he backed away from that light… maybe if I can…"

"There you are." Ganondorf said as he found Zoro behind the pillar. Zelda then swung at Zoro, who rolled out of the way before he saw Zelda emitting a bright yellow light from her hand. "Let's see if you can avoid this." Ganondorf said as Zelda threw a sphere of light towards Zoro. Zoro quickly raised his swords as he pushed the sphere of light back to Zelda. Zelda quickly flew out of the way before flying straight to Zoro with her sword aiming right at him. Zoro jumped, but Zelda managed to leave a cut on Zoro's leg.

Zoro landed on the ground, ignoring the scratch on his leg as he saw Zelda emitting another sphere of light. Zelda then threw the sphere at Zoro, who was prepared this time. Zoro swung his sword at the sphere as it went right back to Zelda, electrocuting her, and Ganondorf's spirit within him, "GRAAAAAHHHH! Ganondorf cried in pain as he then looked at Zoro furiously before Zelda flew towards him. She repeatedly swings at Zoro, who dodges, and parries every single slash. Zoro the jumps to a pillar, and jumps off of it as he faces Zelda again, who threw another sphere of light at him.

Zoro swings his sword at the sphere as it went back to Zelda, but this time Zelda swung the sphere back at Zoro, who swings back at Zelda again. It seems that they were now playing tennis with the sphere as it was now moving faster with each swing it received. Ganondorf then does a powerful swing at the sphere as it was too fast for Zoro to swing back as it hit him. "GUOH!" Zoro cried in pain as the electrical current around him lasted for a few seconds before he fell on his knees in exhaustion.

Zoro then saw the triforce symbol on the ground as it was starting to glow even brighter. He quickly got out of the triforce area as the area within it exploded with light before the triforce symbol faded away. As Zoro got up, he realized that his swords had a little sparkle after hitting that sphere from earlier. He then jumped out of the way as Zelda pierced her sword through the floor. She then pulled her sword out of the floor, and went flying straight to Zoro again, who quickly ducked under her and knocked Zelda's sword out of her hands.

The sword fell on the ground as Zelda created a bright light at Zoro's face before he went to get Zelda's sword. Zelda then created a bright cutting wave towards Zoro as he dodged while it destroyed the window behind him. Ganondorf began to send more cutting waves as Zoro was running away from while it was destroying most of the eastern wall. Zoro jumped to a pillar, and jumped straight to Ganondorf, and knocked the sword away again. Zoro then landed on the ground and took a few steps back as he saw Zelda smirk evilly.

"You won't win if you are just going to knock the sword out of my new hands all day." Ganondorf said as he quickly retrieved Zelda's sword from the ground. "I knew your were weak, but I didn't knew you were this weak. You should just let me kill you now so you can avoid further humiliation."

"I haven't even started to break a sweat, so don't judge me yet." Zoro said.

"Hmph.. instead of sweating, you will be BLEEDING!" Ganondorf yelled as Zelda throws another sphere of light towards Zoro, who quickly hits it back to Zelda. They were now playing tennis with the sphere again as Zoro swords were starting to sparkle even more. Zoro gets closer to Zelda while swinging the sphere back to him as Ganondorf was having a hard time swinging it back again. "Grr.. this woman is starting to regain consciousness. Its harder for me to move this way." Ganondorf thought as the sphere hits Zelda, causing another electrical current around her, and Ganondorf's spirit again.

"GAAAHHHH!" Ganondorf cried in pain as he was now furious. "Enough with this game! It is time that I sent you to your next life!" Zelda lifted his sword in the air as multiple spheres of light started to form around her. "GODDESSES TEARS!" Ganondorf swings Zelda's sword forward as all of the sphere's of light went right towards Zoro. Zoro took a defensive position, and swung at every sphere of light as some of them faded away while the rest of them went back at Zelda. Zelda swung the sphere's back to Zoro as they faded when Zoro swung at them.

When all of the sphere's faded, Zoro swords were now emitting a huge electrical current as Zoro was almost amused. "Huh.. this is new." Zoro said as he looked at Ganondorf. Zoro lifted his swords and aimed at Ganondorf "HYAKU-HACHI POUNDOU HOU!" Zoro swung all his three swords as they made a huge, electrical cutting wave towards Zelda. The wave went right through Zelda's body as Ganondorf's spirit came out of it as Zelda fell unconsciously to the ground. Ganondorf's body then could be seen as he was holding his stomach furiously on one knee.

Ganondorf then started to transform into something very big and ugly. "This is also new to me…" Zoro said as he looks at what Ganondorf has become.

Meanwhile…

"UUU UUU UUU UUO OOO OOO OOO OOO OO OOO OOO OOO OOO OOO OOO OOO OOO OOO OAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AHH HHH HHH HHH HHH HH!!! THAT WAS THE SADDEST STORY I EVER HEARD!!!!" Franky cried after hearing Link's tale while running through the hallways.

"Stop crying! Your are going to alarm the entire castle!" Nami yelled.

"Who the heck said I was crying!? I am not crying!!" Franky cried in denial, as he was wiping the tears out of his face.

"So you never saw her afterwards?" Robin asked.

"No, we haven't seen eachother after that. Things wouldn't be as the way they were before if it wasn't for her. I wonder what she is doing now?" Link asked.

"I BET SHE MISSES YOU LIKE CRAZY, MAN! I HAVE SO MUCH RESPECT FOR YOU NOW, YOU SKIRT WEARING ELF!" Franky yelled as he continues to cry.

"For the 3rd time, this is not a skirt, this a tunic. And I am not an elf!" Link yelled frustratingly, as he opened the door to see 2 darknuts at the end of the hall.

"Oh no, of all the people in this world, we encounter these kind of guys." Nami said worryingly as she hid behind Robin.

Franky got out 3 bottles of cola out of nowhere, and replaced them with the empty ones he had in his stomach. "SUUUPAAAAA!" Franky yelled as white steam came out of him. "Ow, now these guys are going to get a taste of what I am made of!" Franky yelled as he faces the darknuts, as well as Link. "FRANKY BOXING!" Franky repeatedly punches both of the darknuts as they staggered a bit. Link quickly ran infront of Franky, and slashed all of the darknut's armor off. The Darknut's dropped their broad swords, and unsheathed their long swords as they charged at Link and Franky.

Link jumped on Franky's shoulders as he took out his clawshots, and shot them at the darknuts. He then jumped backwards as he reeled them towards Franky. "FRANKY CLOTHESLINE!" Franky extends both of his arms out as he ran through the darknut's heads. Before the Darknuts could fall down, Link reeled them towards the roof as their heads crashed right through it. "WEAPONS LEFT!" Franky fires a missile at the darknuts as they fell limpless to the ground before they disintegrated. Franky did a victory pose as Link put his clawshots away.

"It took us a long time just to get rid of one, and you guys only took a couple of seconds to defeat two!?" Nami asked. Robin giggles as Link and Franky looked at eachother in confusion. "Uh, nevermind. Lets just get going already." Nami said as she stomps off.

"Did we do something to offend her?" Link asked.

"Nah, she is always like that. She gets real pissed off for no reason." Franky said before he got hit in the face by Nami's PCT. Link and Robin helped Franky get up and then catched up to the furious Nami.

Back to Zoro…

Zoro was unfazed as Ganondorf transformed into a big pig with huge tusks, black fur, long red hair and has a bright scar on its stomach area; Ganondorf was now Ganon. Ganon ran at Zoro, who rolled out of the way as Ganon ran into a portal, leaving Zoro to wonder where he went. Zoro then saw multiple red portals that keep appearing, and disappearing every second. The last portal to appear turned blue as Ganon came rushing out, and charged at Zoro. Zoro slid under Ganon as he slashed across his scar, causing the beast to fall down.

Ganon got up, and started to run all over the throne room before he went through another portal again. Zoro waited for Ganon to come out as more red portals appeared, and disappeared again. The portals stopped appearing, and there was no sign of Ganon anywhere. Zoro then noticed that there was a huge shadow under him that was getting bigger by the second. Zoro looked up to see Ganon intending to fall on him. Zoro jumped out of the way as Ganon left a big crack on the floor before he started to run around the throne room again.

Ganon stopped running, and faced towards Zoro as he began to run straight at him. "SANTORYU HYOU…" Zoro took a stance of a panther as Ganon got closer to him. "… KINTAMA!" Zoro jumps right at Ganon as he spins with his swords extended as he slashed almost every part of Ganon's body. Ganon collapses as Zoro then runs towards his scar, and begins to slash it repeatedly before Ganon quickly got on its feet, and started to run to another portal again. Zoro waited for him to appear only to get ran over by Ganon unexpectedly.

"GAH!" Zoro cried as he rolls around the ground in pain before he gets back up to see that Ganon has once again went through another portal.

Zoro closed his eyes, and concentrated before Ganon came out of a portal, and ran straight at Zoro. Zoro rolled out of the way as he slashed at one of Ganon's legs. Ganon roared in pain as he looked at Zoro furiously. Ganon then raised his upper feet, and let them hit the ground as it caused the throne room to shake as parts from the room were starting to fall down at Zoro.

Zoro dodged and slashed through one of the rubble as he saw that Ganon was no longer in the room again. "How long is he going to keep on doing that?" Zoro asked frustratingly as he cut a couple of more rubble falling from the roof.

He failed to notice that a portal was under his feet as Ganon jumped out of it, knocking Zoro out of the way in the process. As Zoro was in midair, Ganon opened his mouth as Zoro was about to fall in it. "SANJUU-ROKU POUNDOU HOU!" Zoro swung one of his swords as it created a regular cutting wave that went straight in Ganon's mouth.

Ganon's mouth then started to bleed as he quickly fled into another portal in pain. Zoro landed and raised two of his swords as he waits for Ganon to come out again. Ganon came out of the portal that was over Zoro as it was about to crush him. "NANAJUU-NI POUNDOU HOU!" Zoro swung both of his swords at Ganon as it let out a stronger cutting wave through it before getting crushed by its weight. A few moments passed, as Ganon was suddenly being lifted in the air by Zoro's incredible strength.

Zoro then tossed Ganon to the other side of the throne room as it landed on its back. Zoro grabbed his swords and ran straight to Ganon for once "KARASU MA-GARI!" Zoro jumps at Ganon and slashes it, leaving numerous of cuts all over its body. Ganon got up, and roared louder than before as he opened it's mouth, and started to emit a big dark aura. Ganon then fires the aura into the air as it then exploded into numerous of dark sphere came falling right to the floor. "Damn it!" Zoro yelled as he couldnt avoid the dark spheres as they exploded upon impacting him.

After the smoke cleared, Zoro could be seen with a couple of burned marks around his body as Ganon ran towards him once again while Zoro did the same. "GYUUKI YUZUME!" Zoro dodges Ganon, and does a powerful slash at it as it collapsed on the ground. Zoro took a few moments to get some air as Ganon was weakly getting up. Zoro quickly faced it as he puts two of his swords in an outward-bent L-shape. He then started to spin them in circles as he looked at Ganon already on its feet.

"SANSEN SEKAI!" Zoro then slashed right through Ganon as it went crashing to the roof before it fell to ground unconsciously. Ganon then started to turn back into Ganondorf as it got up while having a scary grin on his face.

"Impressive. You have defeated me in two different forms. But I am afraid that these childish games are now over. For you see, I have the triforce of power." Ganondorf said as he shows Zoro the back of his right hand where the triforce of power currently resides. "With this in my possession, there is no way can defeat me."

"-sigh-… Like I said before, I am the last person you should be underestimating." Zoro said.

Meanwhile…

Sanji was outside again as he ran through the roofs with great anger. "Where could my beloved princess be!?" Sanji asked angrily, until he stopped running and relaxed for a bit.

"There is no need to act so rough, Sanji. Just keep your cool and you will find what you are looking for." Sanji said to himself as he looks at his surroundings. From Sanji's point of view, there was a radar with a robotic voice saying 'Mellorine' every second until Sanji looked at the throne room. His vision somehow zoomed in as the word 'Mellorine' could be heard more frequently.

He couldn't see through the wall so he went to his X-ray vision mode and saw Zelda unconscious on the floor. "THERE SHE IS!!" Sanji yelled happily until he saw Zoro and Ganondorf. "It's Marimo and that warlock! He can't beat him by himself! Only a true prince such as myself can save the princess!" Sanji yelled as he ran towards an entry.

"I WILL SAVE YOU, ZELDA-SAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAN NN!!!"

Back to Zoro…

Ganondorf took out his sword which was completely white and it glowed brightly as a great thunderstorm was occurring outside. "Since you have made it this far, I will let you make the first move." Ganondorf said while Zoro wasnt amused. Zoro then ran to Ganondorf and slashed him across the chest, but it didn't do anything to him. "Oh please…" Ganondorf swung his sword at Zoro, who ducked under it, and backflipped away from Ganondorf afterwards. "No matter how many times you attack me, I won't feel a thing."

"I'm just warming up, don't get so cocky." Zoro said as he charges at Ganondorf again. Zoro rapidly slashes at Ganondorf, who just parries it with his sword effortlessly. Ganondorf then pushes him off balance and did a spin slash at Zoro, who barely dodged it. Zoro then placed his swords near his head "USHI BARI!" Zoro charges at Ganondorf like a bull as he slashes repeatedly at every part of Ganondorf's body, but still no damage was caused. Ganondorf grabbed one of Zoro's swords with his free hand as he then kicked Zoro in the face.

Ganondorf then raised his sword in the air "GERUDO'S PRIDE!" Ganondorf lowered his sword on the ground as it created a tremor, and a very big cutting wave at the same time. Zoro avoided the tremor, but couldn't avoid the wave as he crashed into the wall behind him. Zoro got off the wall only to see Ganondorf in midair, and was about to cut Zoro in half, but he was able to roll out of the way as Ganondorf left a huge cut on the wall. Ganondorf turned around only to slashed across the face by Zoro, but he was still unharmed.

Ganondorf grabbed Zoro's head, and slammed it to the ground before he got kicked in the gut by Zoro, who didn't felt anything but still moved back due to the force of the blow. Zoro got up as the his head started to bleed, while Ganondorf smirked at his futile attempts. "ONI GIRI!" Zoro was about to slash right through Ganondorf, but he raised his foot in order to block it. He then shoved Zoro back as his fist was covered with dark flames.

"WARLOCK PUNCH!" Ganondorf attempted to punch Zoro, who only rolled out of the way as Ganondorf destroyed the pillar in front of him. Zoro then stabbed right through Ganondorf's back as it also went through his stomach. A few moments passed until Ganondorf laughed as he hit Zoro with a backhand before pulling the sword out of him, and tossing it back to Zoro. As Zoro was getting up, he noticed that the wound he gave Ganondorf earlier was starting to heal itself completely. "Do you now realize the true potential of my power? You should give up now!" Ganondorf yelled as he lowered his fist towards Zoro.

Zoro blocked with his forearm as he slid back to a pillar behind him. Zoro's forearm also started to bleed as he got up, and glared at Ganondorf. "Everyone has a weakness… and I'll soon find yours." Zoro said as he ran to Ganondorf again. Ganondorf simply laughed as he now clashed blades with Zoro's as they were pushing eachother off. Despite being invincible, Ganondorf was losing due to Zoro's straight and determination. Zoro shoved Ganondorf off as he thrusted one of his swords through Ganondorf's glowing scar, which kinda affected Ganondorf.

Ganondorf got frustrated as he shoved Zoro away before pulling the sword out of him, and went charging at Zoro afterwards. Ganondorf tried to slash Zoro with his own sword, but Zoro quickly knocked it out of his hands as he jumped on Ganondorf's shoulders and jumped off of them as he grabbed his sword in midair. Ganondorf jumped towards Zoro while he was in midair as Zoro quickly faced him "TOU ROU NAGASHI!" Zoro dodges Ganondorf's slash as he repeatedly slashes Ganondorf all over his abdomen before landing perfectly on the ground.

Despite all that, Ganondorf landed on the ground, and quickly ran at Zoro with his sword held in the air. Ganondorf jumped in the air as he faced his sword to Zoro. "GERUDO'S JUDGEMENT!" Zoro rolled out of the way as Ganondorf impaled the ground, causing a dark colored trifroce to appear on the floor as it also trapped Zoro. The Triforce then glew darker as it made the gravity in it increase gradually. The floor started to crumble as Zoro was barely withstanding the pressure. The triforce then disappeared as Ganondorf pulled out his sword from the ground.

Zoro was panting heavily as he groggily got up while Ganondorf walked towards him. Ganondorf kicked Zoro while he was at the ground as he rolled around as Ganondorf was now toying with him. "No matter how many swords you have…" Ganondorf began to say before he kicked Zoro again. "… No matter how much stronger you may get…" Ganondorf kicked Zoro again. "… No matter how big your ambition is…" Ganondorf then rested his foot on Zoro's head. "There is nothing you can do to defeat me, you little brat!"

Zoro's eyes widened as he quickly got up as he almost knocked off balance as Zoro looked at his swords. "The power to cut spirit… I think I get it now." Zoro said as he then looked at Ganondorf. "I will cut your spirit." Zoro said as he points one of his swords at Ganondorf, who simply laughed.

"Heh heh ha ha ha ha ha! Cut my spirit, you say? I would like to see that happen." Ganondorf said before Zoro quickly got close to him, and slashed him across his chest, as it did hurt him this time. "GUU UUU UUA AAA AAA AAA HHH HHH HH!!!" Ganondorf cried in pain as he was now bleeding from his chest. Ganondorf wiped his chest and looked at his hand that was covered in blood as he trembled in surprise. "What is this!? How could this happen!?" yells Ganondorf until a thought occurred to him. "Zelda! Is she awake!?" yells Ganondorf as he looked back at Zelda, who was still unconscious.

"No, she is still unconscious. Then how did he…" was all that Ganondorf could say before he saw Zoro running towards him. "TORA GARI!" Zoro did a powerful downward slash as it made a huge cut on Ganondorf's shoulders.

"GYY YYA AAA AAA AAH HH HH!" Ganondorf cried in pain as he crouched in agony. Zoro looked at Ganondorf over his shoulder, and saw how he changed from a fearless warrior into a coward.

"I think you should know the name of the swordsman that will defeat you. My name is Roronoa Zoro, and I will become the strongest swordsman." Zoro said as Ganondorf got up weakly.

"Zoro, eh? Hmph…" Ganondorf said until he smirked evilly. "Well Zoro, it doesnt matter if you are able to injure me, there is still no way for you to kill me!" yells Ganondorf as he charged at Zoro again.

Meanwhile…

Luffy was now sleeping on a queen sized bed that looked nice yet gloomy at the same time. The room that he is in had a dark blueish color with a couple of green insignias all over it. There was also a huge mirror at the side of the room. The entrance of the room then opened up at the same woman that rescued him from before walked in to see Luffy still sleeping on her bed. "This idiot is still sleeping?" asked the female as she sat on the bed right next to Luffy.

"I still cant believe that this guy could defeat Zant. I wonder how he got back to life anyway?" asked the woman until she remembered about something. "Maybe it has something to do with that thing that happened a while ago. Could it be that…" was all that the woman could say before Luffy quickly sat up, which almost startled the woman. Luffy was half asleep as he looked at his surroundings until he saw the woman next to him.

"A blue lady? Cool…" Luffy said as he was still half asleep. The woman calmed down as she scooted closer to Luffy.

"You know what would really help me right now?" asks the woman kindly while Luffy just tilted his head sideways. "GET OFF OF MY BED!" yelled the woman suddenly as her hair transformed into a giant orange hand as it grabbed Luffy and piledrived to the ground. Luffy head was now stuck as his neck stretched while he got on his feet. It took a few minutes for Luffy to pull his head out of the ground as he looked angrily at the woman.

"Why did you do that for!?" Luffy asked while holding his head in pain.

"Is that the way you treat people after they saved your life?" asked the woman as her hair went back to normal. Luffy then relaxed as he was now wondering where he is.

"Where am I, blue lady?" Luffy asked, before the woman hit him across the head.

"Where are you manners? You will refer to me as Princess Midna, you little peasant." said the woman named Midna.

As Luffy held his head in pain, he quickly remembered something. "The lemon head! Where is he?!" Luffy asked quickly looking at his surroundings.

"Calm down, he is already dead." Midna said as she walks towards the big mirror. "Come here, you might want to see this." Luffy got close to the mirror as it then showed Zoro and Ganondorf battling eachother.

"Zoro!" Luffy gasped before he turned to Midna. "You must take me there!" He yelled, only to get a glare from Midna.

"I would If I could, but Ganondorf did something to block this world to that world, So your stuck here until he is dead." Midna said as Luffy then looked angrily at battle between Zoro and Ganondorf. "Anyway, as long as your here, don't touch anything if you value your life, and would you like some refreshments?" Midna asked as Luffy looked at her happily.

"Yeah, do you have any me…" was all that Luffy said before Midna started to talk again.

"On second thought, you can just starve to death. I don't have the need to give you anything after I saved your life." Midna said cruelly as Luffy whined.

"You are a mean princess." Luffy whined as Midna smirked.

"Thank you." Midna said as she looks at the battle. "By the way, if your friend defeats Ganondorf, make sure that you do not tell anybody that you met me, especially Link." Midna said as Luffy was confused at first, but accepted the request.

"Ok, if that is what you want." Luffy said.

"Thanks." Midna said.

"Can I have meat now?" Luffy asked joyfully.

"No." Midna replied as Luffy began to whine again.

Back to Zoro…

Zoro slashes at Ganondorf, who parries it, and counters by trying to kick Zoro in the face. Zoro ducks as he did an upward slash at Ganondorf, who barely dodged it as he received a little cut on his nose. Ganondorf gave Zoro an uppercut as Zoro went flying in midair. Zoro retaliated as he faced down at Ganondorf "SANJUU-ROKO POUNDOU HOU!" Zoro swung one of his swords as it made a cutting wave that right towards Ganondorf, who sidesteps out of the way before leaping towards Zoro. Ganondorf swung his sword as Zoro landed on the broad side of it before jumping over Ganondorf, and landed on the ground.

Zoro charges at Ganondorf, who also landed on the ground, as Ganondorf quickly swings his sword back at Zoro, who jumped over it, and counters by trying to cut Ganondorf's head off, but failed as Ganondorf lowered his head, and gave Zoro another uppercut. Zoro landed on the ground, and quickly got out of the way as Ganondorf almost impaled him, but pierced the floor instead. As Ganondorf was pulling his sword out of the ground, Zoro did a vertical slash at Ganondorf's back. Ganondorf ignored the pain as he elbowed Zoro in the face.

Zoro slid back as his nose started to bleed while Ganondorf emitted a grey aura from his left hand. "CURSE OF THE KNIGHTS!" Ganondorf thrusted his hand forward as ghostly horsemen came out of it as they were galloping towards Zoro. Zoro dodged the horsemen, but failed to dodge Ganondorf's running knee as he hit Zoro's stomach. Zoro went flying back to a pillar behind him as Ganondorf went running towards Zoro with his sword facing at him. Zoro tilted his head sideways as Ganondorf's sword pierced through the pillar.

Zoro quickly slashed at Ganondorf's abdomen, causing him to stagger back. Ganondorf then realized that Zoro was already next to him as one of his swords were over his head while the other one was under it. "GAZAMI DORI!" Zoro clamps Ganondorf's head like a crab with his blades as Ganondorf quickly backflipped away from him. Ganondorf then quickly leaped at Zoro as he first shoved him off balance with his free hand, and doing a spin slash afterwards. Zoro fell back as he backrolled out of the way of Ganondorf's thrust.

Ganondorf then jumped in the air as he landed right next to Zoro before doing another spin slash, but Zoro jumped out of the way and raised two of his swords in the air. "NANAJUU-NII POUNDOU HOU!" Zoro does two cutting waves as Ganondorf was able to dodge the first one, but barely was able to dodge the second one as it was able to hit his ankle. Ganondorf does a vertical slash at Zoro, who blocked it with all his three swords as Ganondorf had a very angry look on his face. This time, Zoro was the one losing as he was getting pushed closer to the floor.

Ganondorf then shoved Zoro's swords out of the way as his free hand started to emit a purple flame around it. "WARLOCK PUNCH!" Ganondorf punches Zoro as he flew back to a wall while being covered in a purple flame. The fire died down as Zoro weakly got up before charging at Ganondorf again. Zoro ducks under Ganondorf's horizontal swing as Zoro was starting to spin with his blades extended.

"TATSU MAKI!" Zoro created a tornado of cutting waves as Ganondorf went flying upwards as Zoro quickly stopped "HYAKU-HACHI POUNDOU HOU!" Zoro sends three cutting waves at Ganondorf as they all impacted on him. Ganondorf almost lost consciousness, but quickly recovered as he created another grey aura from his left hand. "CURSE OF THE DRAGON!" instead of horsemen, it was a big grey dragon as it was heading towards Zoro. Zoro tried to run away from it, but couldn't as the dragon went right through him, causing him alot of pain in the process.

Zoro weakly got up while breathing heavily as Ganondorf was now coming down at him with his facing up. Ganondorf then lowered his sword at the same time Zoro raised his swords as they collided, thus creating a huge explosion. Both Zoro and Ganondorf fell back after the explosion as they weakly got and looked at eachother angrily. Ganondorf raised his sword in the air "GERUDO'S PRIDE!" Ganondorf lowered his sword as it created a huge cutting wave and a powerful tremor at the same time.

"Not this time…" Zoro said as he took a stance of panther. "SANTORYU HYOU: KINTAMA!" Zoro leaped towards Ganondorf as he dodged the wave and the tremor at the same time before he span right through Ganondorf, cutting him almost everywhere.

"GRRR!" Ganondorf grunted as he could now barely stand. He then looked behind to see Zoro, who now has a silhouette of demon behind as his swords were now bending.

"EBIMA YONEZU…" The silhouette behind Zoro disappeared as he leapt toward Ganondorf "… ONI GIRI!" Zoro slashes right through Ganondorf as he also left a trail of blue flames behind him. Ganondorf fell limplessly to his knees. Things got quiet for a few minutes until Ganondorf suddenly smirked.

"Heh heh ha ha ha ha ha ha ha ha, heh heh ha ha ha ha ha ha ha ha, HEH HEH HA HA HA HA HA HA HA HA!!!" laughs Ganondorf as he got up and looked at Zoro with great big evil smile on his face.

"What is so funny?" Zoro asked, as he was unfazed by Ganondorf's laughter.

"-sigh-… It is kinda funny, don't you think? How I suddenly come back to life, and start destroying everything again. I couldn't believe it myself at first, but I soon realized that there is someone out there that believes in my way of doing things around here. So he or she gave me another chance to finish what I have started so long ago. At this very moment, that person is watching us as we battle eachother to death like some filthy rats fighting for their food." Ganondorf said as he looked up. "You see, they know that my destiny is to be the ruler of Hyrule. But I can't be a ruler without the perfect army, isnt the right, Zoro?"

"What do you mean?" Zoro asked.

Meanwhile…

Chopper was in his heavy point while carrying the injured Usopp as they were barely getting to the front garden of the castle. "Come on, Usopp! We are almost there!" Chopper said while he was running.

"You can say that. You are the one that can walk, while I just simply broke every bone in my body due to that monster." Usopp said as he tried to forget about the battle earlier with King Bulblin.

"He is gone, Usopp. Don't let it bother you anymore." Chopper said.

"I can't help it! What kind of person would try to kill you just because he wants to know if you're strong or not? That is so stupid. It's inhumane!" Usopp said as he was scared just thinking about it.

"Well don't worry, Usopp. He is our friend now, he wont bother us anymore." Chopper said happily.

"Like I want to be his friend after all the things he did!?" Usopp yelled fearfully. Chopper shrugged it off as he ran to the front entrance of the castle until he felt a slight tremor beneath his feet. Chopper was confused at first until the ground started to shake again. The skies then got darker as the ground wouldn't stop shaking.

"Wha-What is going on now?" Usopp asks fearfully. He then saw some sort of boney hand coming right out of the ground as Usopp's mouth was now wide open. "CH-CH-CH-CH-CH-CH-CH-CHOP-P-P-P-P-PER…" Usopp began to say as big semi-armored skeletons came right out of the ground, and looked at Usopp and Chopper evilly.

"AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA HHH HHH HHH HHH HHH HHH HHH HHH HHH HHH HHH HH HH HH HH HHH!!!!!!" Usopp and Chopper screamed at the same time as Usopp stood up by himself as he quickly ran in the castle, followed by Chopper as they closed the door and locked it. There were now more skeletons coming out of the ground as they started to force the door open while Usopp and Chopper were trying to find another exit, but there was no where else to go. "What do we do, Usopp!?" Chopper asked as he was now crying in fear.

"There is only one thing to do… and that is to fight with all our strength, because they know that they can not lay a finger on the great CAPTAIN USOPP!!!" Usopp said as huge amount of tears came out of his eyes as he was aiming at the door while Chopper leaned on Usopp's leg in fear.

Back to Zoro…

"You must be joking." Zoro said angrily.

"This is no joke. My army of stalfos should be starting to make their move right about now. They will go to every area in this world and destroy everything that these people love so much. You see, things like family, dreams, happiness, friendship, should seize to exist. Those feelings make people weak and they die sooner than they would expect. What is the point in having those silly emotions like dreams if you know you can't accomplish them in the first place?" Ganondorf asked, which only made Zoro angrier.

"You disgust me." Zoro said.

"Eh?" Ganondorf asked.

"At first, I thought that you were just some desperate fool that wants attention. But now I see that you have no intelligence whatsoever. This probably explains why you didnt succeed the first time you did this." Zoro said, which didn't amuse Ganondorf one bit.

"That foul mouth of yours will be the exact thing that will end you!" Ganondorf yelled as he charges at Zoro. Ganondorf does a vertical slash at Zoro, who dodged it and countered it with a horizontal slash, which Ganondorf blocked with his forearm. Ganondorf delivered a backhanded fist at Zoro as it almost knocked him out of balance. As Zoro was trying to regain his balance, Ganondorf shoulder barged him to the wall as he then grabbed his head, and rammed it right through the window next to him.

Zoro hit Ganondorf across the face with the hilt of his blade as he rolled behind him before slashing his back. Ganondorf then turned to Zoro only to get slashed across his chest again. Ganondorf took a few steps back before he stopped Zoro from slashing at him again by blocking his sword with his foot. Ganondorf then shoved Zoro back as he then thrusted his blade to one of Zoro's ribs.

"GUAH!" Zoro cried in pain as Ganondorf pulled his sword out before trying to stab him again. Zoro moved out of the way and hit Ganondorf at the back of his head with his hilt again.

Ganondorf did a huge backflip that he landed right behind Zoro, and intended to do a vertical slash on him, only that Zoro parried it with all of his three swords as they were now pushing eachother with all their strength. An electrical current started to form around them as it was destroying everything close to them. They both stopped as they backed away from eachother before charging at eachother once again. "ONI GIRI!" Zoro slashed right through Ganondorf at the same time Ganondorf did a spin slash through Zoro.

Both of him fell to the ground at the same time as Zelda was now regaining consciousness. "Mmm… What is going on?" Zelda asked as she then saw Zoro and Ganondorf slowly getting up. "Ganondorf!" Zelda yelled as she then got out her bow and aimed at Ganondorf before firing a light arrow at him. The arrow was about to hit him, until Zoro got in the way and got hit by the arrow as he was paralyzed. "Wha!?" Zelda asked as she was shocked that Zoro received the hit.

"DON'T INTERFERE!" Zoro yelled before he got hit across the face by Ganondorf.

"Heh heh ha ha ha ha ha ha! You should thank the boy, Zelda. If he wouldn't have blocked that arrow, you would of been dead by now." Ganondorf said as Zelda now realized at what she has done. If the arrow would have hit Ganondorf, there might have been a slight chance that he would kill Zelda afterwards. Ganondorf then took the opportunity to beat up Zoro while he was paralyzed as he started to punches Zoro's face repeatedly. "You are not so tough now, are you, boy!?" Ganondorf yelled as blood spurted out of Zoro's mouth.

Ganondorf then kicked Zoro to a pillar as Ganondorf started to envelope a humongous dark aura around him. "NOW YOU DIE!!" Ganondorf yelled as he made a huge stream of dark flames that went right through Zoro and destroyed everything behind him. Zoro was now unconscious as the pillar behind him crumbled to pieces as all the pieces fell over Zoro and buried him alive. "HEH HEH HA HA HA HA HA HA HA! YOU FOOL!!! I TOLD THAT YOU COULD NEVER DEFEAT ME!! HEH HEH HA HA HA HA HA HA HA!!!!" Ganondorf laughed as Zelda was now horrified as she looks where Zoro was crushed.

Underneath the rubble, Zoro was barely breathing as he couldn't keep his eyes open. His shirt now has several stains of blood, he had multiple bruises all over his body, and most of his bones are broken as well. It seems like he couldn't fight anymore. "I guess I have to use that…" Zoro said as he closed his eyes.

FLASHBACK

"Many people like you can cut strong materials such as steel, but almost nobody can cut the spirit of their opponents." The Hero's spirit explained, "It's an ability that takes more concentration and focus that is almost impossible to learn. Only the ones with strong wills can do this maneuver. But doing this could damage yourself as well."

"Why is that?" Zoro asked.

"Since it takes alot of mental ability in order to do this, it will absorb most of your Ki and you could lose consciousness at any time during battle. Use it for emergencies only." The Hero's spirit said.

"Is that all you have to say to me?" Zoro asked.

"Actually, no. There is one more thing I need to teach you. I never revealed this move to anyone else as it is the most deadliest hidden skill that ever existed. You must only use this move when you are about to reach your limit. In order to use this move you need to gather the energy around you and form it around your sword. The less Ki you have, the more energy you will gather." The Hero's spirit explained.

"Although this could be fatal, If you do one single error while gathering the energy, the energy you gathered will explode upon you and everything around it. Now watch closely as I demonstrate it." The Hero's spirit unsheathed his sword and held it vertically in front of him. "This move is called…"

END OF FLASHBACK

"Now that I have finished him off, I think that is time that I extract the Triforce of Wisdom out of you." Ganondorf said as he walks towards Zelda, who stepping away from him. Ganondorf stopped as he frowned upon sensing a presence behind him. Ganondorf looked behind him as he saw Zoro, who looks pretty messed up, standing up while facing at the ground with his eyes closed. "Impossible…" Ganondorf snarled, as he was completely amazed that after all the beating he gave to Zoro, he still wouldn't give up.

"Just how desperate do you want to win?" Ganondorf asked as Zoro opened his eyes as he then looked at Zelda.

"You… get out of here… I am going to destroy him along with everything else in here." Zoro said as Zelda nodded nervously before running out of the throne room. Zoro noticed that one of his swords was missing. "Where is Kuina's sword?" Zoro asked to himself as he lifted a huge rubble of the crumbled pillar with one hand as he saw the Wado Ichimonji on the ground. Zoro grabbed the sword as he shoved the rubble away before walking towards the middle of the room, and faced Ganondorf. "I will end this battle with only this sword, and with only one skill."

The twilighted sky started to get darker as a great thunderstorm began outside. Ganondorf looks at Zoro before smiling evilly at him.

"You're pathetic. You are too weak to go on. I could just finish you off just by shoving you to the ground." Ganondorf said as he then noticed that twilight was starting to envelope over Zoro's body. Zoro then places his sword vertically in front of him as the twilight around got bigger. "What is this?" Ganondorf asked as Zoro's eyes turned into a twilight color.

"ITTORYU…" The twilighted thunderstorm clouds from the outside came rushing in right through the windows as it started to envelope all over Zoro. The clouds then formed an electrical twilight dragon behind Zoro as all the aura around him then gathered around his sword. Zoro then leaned back as he pointed his sword at Ganondorf. "… TOWAIRAITO TATSU!!" Zoro lunges towards Ganondorf as the dragon followed him. Ganondorf was now shocked, but regain his senses as a big dark aura formed around him.

"YOU THINK THAT WILL KILL ME?! YOU INSOLENT PEST!! I WON'T DIE AGAIN!!! TRIFORCE OF OBLIVION!!!!" Ganondorf raises his hand in the air as the triforce of power at the back of his hand created a huge triforce symboy all over Ganondorf as he floated in the center as Zoro got closer.

"DIIIIIIIIIIEEEEEEEEEEEE!!!!!" Ganondorf's fires an enormous dark blast from the center of his triforce symbol as it went right through Zoro, and straight outside the throne room. Zelda crouched down as the blast continued to come out of the throne room. "HEH HEH HA HA HA HA HA HA HA!!! NOW DO YOU REGRET EVER FACING ME!?!?" Ganondorf yelled maniacally, until he noticed Zoro was going right through the blast unharmed.

"WHAT!?" Ganondorf gasped as Zoro went through the triforce around Ganondorf and impaled him through his chest as the dragon behind Zoro swallowed him and Ganondorf. The dragon then went right through ceiling and into the sky as the throne was completely destroyed as the smoke was starting to clear.

TO BE CONTINUED…

I had to experience numerous of writer's block just to finish this. I'm glad that I was able to succeed on finishing this chapter. I hope you liked it and the next chapter will end the Zelda arc. Till then!

Zelda Pt 11

This is the last chapter for this arc. This is kinda rushed, so I dont think its that good. Also, this is the chapter that Sanji finally meets Zelda. Enjoy!

The conclusion of the battle. Zoro and Ganondorf fought a eachother tremendously. No matter how many bones they break, bruises they obtain or open wounds they get, they wouldn't stop attacking eachother until their opponent is dead. It seemed that all hope was lost as Zoro seemed to be defeated, only he stood up once and attacked Ganondorf with his new move called Towairaito Tatsu (Twilight Dragon) and stabbed him right through Ganondorf's chest as the dragon seemed to have swallowed them both before flying off to the sky. Who is the one that emerged victorious? And where could that mystery heart be?

Chapter 23: Hyrule is saved, The chase begins

Zelda runs back into the place that used to be the throne room as it was too cloudy to see anything. "Who won?" Zelda asked as she the clouds started to clear. When it did, Ganondorf could be seen looking at the sky with his mouth hung opened. Zoro was right in front of him as his sword still impaled him through his chest. "He won!" Zelda exclaimed as she was relieved to see that Zoro was the one that won the battle. Zoro slowly pulled out his sword from Ganondorf's chest as Ganondorf continued to stand while still looking at the twilighted sky. Zoro then turned around as he slowly sheathed his sword.

"AAA AAA AAA

Ganondorf cried as a huge stream of twilight came out of his body as he fell to his knees. The skies then started to go back to its original color as Ganondorf was slowly being covered in a dark aura. "This isn't possible… I lost to some kid… how could this have happen?" Ganondorf asked as he still couldn't believe he lost.

Ganondorf started to get more darker as his feet was disintegrating little by little. "Looks like fate wasn't really with you as you thought." Zoro said as Ganondorf's legs completely vanished.

"Heh heh… maybe your right… at least it was fun while it lasted. Who knows… I could come back and try again…" Ganondorf said as his body was now starting to disintegrate.

"You might be lucky the next time. I wont be here when you come back." Zoro said as Ganondorf's body vanished.

"Hmm… I guess your… " was all that Ganondorf before he completely turned disintegrated as the piece of himself vanished in thin air. Zoro then fell to the ground in exhaustion as Zelda ran to his side.

"Are you alright?" Zelda asked.

"Just tired. You okay?" Zoro asked.

"I'm fine. I am sorry that I interfered before, I was just trying to…" Zelda said before Zoro interrupted her.

"Don't worry about it, It didn't hurt much for some arrow." Zoro said as he sat up, and crossed his legs.

"You shouldn't get up, you are injured all over your body." Zelda said worryingly.

"I'm fine, this isn't the first time I was injured badly before." Zoro said as Zelda looked around at her ex-throne room, with only the statue of the goddesses that are around the triforce still remains standing.

"Just wait here, I'll go get some first aid." Zelda said before she hurried behind the triforce statue to look for her bag of first aids. Zoro looked at the clear blue sky in peace before the ground started to shake.

"What is it this time?" Zoro asked before…

"SHISHINAMI SHOOT!" Sanji kicked right through the floor as he did several front flips in midair before landing on the ground perfectly. "I have finally made it! Don't worry my princess, help his here to-- WHA!?!?" Sanji gasped as he looked at Zoro. "Marimo! Don't tell me you just finished off that ugly warlock."

"Oh, it's you. Sorry, but I just finished that guy off." Zoro said as Sanji was dumbfounded.

"How could someone like you defeat him, and not someone like me!?" Sanji asked.

"Its your fault that you got lost on the way here." Zoro said as Sanji couldn't believe he said that.

"M-Me getting lost? Oh ho ho ho ho ho ho ho! I never knew YOU could say that to a smarter person." Sanji said as Zoro got a little angry.

"What are you trying to say to me, cook?" Zoro asked angrily.

"Me? I am not saying anything. I am just saying that I have a higher intelligence than some certain swordsman." Sanji said while making a grin.

"Are you saying that you are smarter than me?" Zoro asked even more angrier.

"Well, the way I see it, I came up with three conclusions. One, I am smarter than you; Two, I am smarter than you; and Three, I AM FREAKIN' SMARTER THAN YOU!!" Sanji yelled as Zoro then jumped right at him as they started to beat eachother up. Zelda came out where she was as she dragged a huge bag of first aid.

"Sorry I took so long, this bag is kinda heavy." Zelda said as she then noticed that fight between Zoro and Sanji. Sanji then stopped and looked at Zelda, who was kinda confused at the moment.

"Its… her…" Sanji said as he continue to look at Zelda, who felt a little uncomfortable being stared at. Sanji's visible eye then turned into a humongous heart as stared at Zelda, imagining a background filled with flowers, and bright sunlight. Music filled with joy and romance could be heard in the background, as Sanji then jumped towards Zelda with great joy.

"ZELDA-SAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA NNN!!!"

Zelda was about to get out of the way, until she saw someone else in her view. "Link!" Zelda said happily as she ran to him before Sanji crashed face first to the triforce statue.

"Zelda!" Link said happily as he hugged Zelda in relief.

"I am so glad you're here. I don't know what would of happen if you didn't showed up at all." Zelda said as tears of joy came out of her eyes.

"You don't have to give me all the credit. It was actually these guys that did most of the saving." Link said as Nami, Robin and Franky came into the ex-throne room. Zelda stopped hugging Link as she then walked in front of them.

"Thank you so much for saving my kingdom. If there is anything you would like, just name it and you will shall have it." Zelda said. This caused Nami's eyes to change into berri signs.

"Well, your majesty I was thinking maybe…" Nami said before Robin interrupted her.

"Do you happen to know where the heart created by Master hand would be?" Robin asked, as Nami lowered her head in misery.

"The heart created by Master hand? Hmm… I am sorry, but I am not sure where that is." Zelda said as Zoro got up.

"Well, no use in staying here then. Let's start are endless search for it." Zoro said.

"Wait a minute, bro. Where is Strawhat?" Franky asked. His question was answered as a big dark portal opened as it literally spat out Luffy as he bounced off the triforce statue that Sanji was still laying his head in, and back to the ground before the portal quickly closed.

"Luffy?" Nami said as Luffy was regaining his senses.

"Mah… that was kinda rough the way she threw me here." Luffy said as he got up while rubbing his head.

"Hey Luffy, where did you come from?" Zoro asked.

"Zoro! Your alive! Its a good thing too, someone as dumb as you could've died from fighting that guy." Luffy said bluntly.

"Dumb?! Why you… nevermind, what happened to the guy that his head looked like a lemon?" Zoro asked.

"Oh, I finished him off before that lady…" Luffy said before he covered his mouth, almost breaking the promise he made to Midna.

"Lady? What lady, Strawhat?" Franky asked, quite curious of this lady Luffy spoke of. Link figured out who Luffy was referring to as he smiled upon him mentioning her.

"It doesn't matter now. Let's look for that heart you guys are looking for." Link said before Sanji pulled his head out of the triforce statue.

"WAIT A SECOND! I have something to do first." Sanji said as he pulled out a rose out of nowhere and crouched down to Zelda's presence. "I have waited countless years for this moment to come." Sanji said as he then looked at Zelda's eyes romantically.

"What are you talking about? You only knew about her 2 days ago." Franky said, before Sanji looked at him angrily.

"SHUT UP! LET ME DO MY THING!!" Sanji yelled furiously, before looking at Zelda romantically again. "You may not know who I am, but believe it or not, I am your long awaited soulmate. Don't you feel the great passion within you as you look at me with your beautiful eyes?" Sanji asked. Zelda was kinda confused and scared of Sanji at the same time.

"Umm… I am sorry, but I dont like you the way you like me." Zelda said. Sanji's romantic look was kept frozen until he spoke again.

"My apologies my beloved princess, but I didn't quite understand what you just said." Sanji said.

"She said she doesn't like you." Zoro said bluntly. Sanji's body then turned black and white as it then shattered into pieces, before he then pulled himself together again.

"Wait, You don't understand. The fortune teller told me that you are my future love. How come you don't want to accept me?" Sanji asked sadly.

"You are not referring to the fortune in castle town are you? She only gives locations to actual hearts. She doesn't really tell you your future love life." Link said as this made Sanji even more sad.

"Y-You mean all this time, Zelda and I werent really meant to be?" Sanji asked as Link nodded.

"NOO OOO OOO OOO OOO OOO!!!! I refuse to believe that! I went to the fortune teller, I wanted her to tell me about my love life, she said 'elihwa sekat gnidaol… tiaw..', and saw the throne room with Zelda-san there. She told me to go there, and do something, so I went running to the castle only then I saw Nami-san. So I went to her only to get knocked down by Usopp, and I was unconscious for a little while, and I woke up in a carriage that was heading to a village called kakadiko or something like that. I then faced this fat guy, and buried him alive, and then at night, the sky was all weird looking, and I thought the Zelda-san was in danger, so me, Nami-san, Robin-chwan and those other two guys used the carriage to go back to the castle as fast as we could while we took down these flying lizards. Then this little girl told us that some guy named Ganondork took over the town so we went to the town to give him a piece of my mind, only that he cheated to beat me and that idiotic cyborg. We woke up to see a big chested old lady that gave us a note that was written by Nami-san that told us to save Zelda-san or she'll hurt us badly, which sounded so hot when she wrote that. I went through a hole and found a rich fat guy that said that didn't wanted me to hurt him, and I said I didn't wanted to, and I told him that I only wanted to go the castle, and he said that I should go in the treasure chest. So I went in the chest, and I ended up in the sewers, I beat a couple of huge spiders and then I went up a spiral staircase and then I faced this knight with a tail. I beat him up, and I ran to the Zelda-san's room, only she wasn't there, so I got and ran to the throne, and then I found Zelda-san at last. NOW DON'T TELL ME THAT WAS ALL FOR NOTHING!!!!!!!!!" Sanji said at a very fast rate.

Everyone looked at the crazy Sanji as Luffy was laughing hysterically at Sanji's pain. "GRRRRRR, IF THIS IS TRUE, THEN WHY DID THAT STINKIN' FORTUNE TELLER SEND ME HERE FOR!?" Sanji yelled as he kicked the triforce statue behind him, which shook a bit. The center of the triforce then started to glow a green, bright light as everyone covered their eyes due to the brightness. As the bright light died down a bit, everyone opened their eyes to see a green crystallized heart floating down towards them (A twilight princess heart container, only that is green in the center instead of red).

"Could that be the heart?" Robin asked as Sanji picked the heart up.

"I guess it is, now we can finally go the next world." Nami said as Sanji looked angrily at the heart.

"This was the thing that Fortune teller meant this whole time?… If this thing had any eyeballs, I would poke it to death!!!" Sanji yelled as he was shaking the heart back and forth in distress.

"Yosh! We have found the second mystery heart!" Luffy exclaimed happily as Franky did his victory pose.

"Let's go find Usopp and Chopper. They should be downstairs or something." Nami said as she and her crew went all the way down the castle to find them, leaving Link and Zelda behind.

"Link.." Zelda said as she got Link's attention.

"Hm? What is it?" Link asked.

"Do you happen to know what brought Ganondorf back to life?" Zelda asked.

Link was in deep in thought as he didn't know either. "I don't know, but I think its more than just a coincidence. Something is going on here…" Link said as he looked at the sky. "Well, let's not think about that for now. Lets go catch up to everyone." Link said as he began to go where the Strawhats went earlier, as Zelda followed him.

Usopp and Chopper were still in the destroyed balcony room as they awaited for stalfos to barge in, only that they didn't know that all the stalfos turned to dust after Ganondorf was defeated. The door then started to open up slowly as Usopp quickly got to his feet and aimed at the door. "Here they come, Chopper. Get ready." Usopp said as Chopper nodded nervously. As soon as Usopp saw a figure enter the room, Usopp fired an exploding pellet at his face. "Take that, you Skeleton." Usopp said proudly until the figure got up and ran straight to Usopp.

"GYA, I'm sorry! Please dont hurt me!" Usopp cried as it was actually Franky running to him.

"You idiots! What do you think you were doing?" Franky asked as Usopp saw him as before he felt relieved.

"Oh, its just you. I thought you were some sort of skeleton." Usopp said as Luffy and the rest entered the room.

"Sanji! You found the heart!" Chopper said joyfully, until he saw Sanji's face, which was extremely pale. Sanji then got really close to Chopper's face, who was really scared.

"Don't.. ever.. mention.. about.. hearts.. again." Sanji said with a scary low voice as Chopper was paralyzed in fear.

"So… that means that you guys defeated Ganondorf?" Usopp asked as everyone else nodded. Usopp then felt really happy as tears came out of his eyes. "YES! Now we can finally get out of this scary place!" Usopp said as Link and Zelda got in the room.

"Ahem, I would like to thank you all by inviting all of you to the celebration party, where there would be plenty of food and refreshments." Zelda said kindly as Luffy started to drool hungrily upon hearing that.

"Now that is what I am talking about! Let's party!!" Luffy yelled excitedly as he ran out the room as everyone else followed him.

"Mister swordsman." Zelda said as she got Zoro's attention.

"Yeah?" Zoro asked.

"I forgot to thank you for saving me from earlier. So…"

"Say no more, I get it." Zoro said as he walked leaving Zelda and Link alone.

"He is always like that." Link said while putting his Zelda's shoulder. Zelda nodded happily as they both got out of the room.

A couple of hours later…

Everybody in town were now celebrating as Hyrule was no longer in control of Ganondorf as everyone was enjoying themselves. Usopp was atop on a pile of tables singing his 435th song about himself. Chopper was dancing with Agitha. Zoro was drinking barrels of alcohol, as his opponents passed out. Sanji was curled into a ball as he was still depressed about the whole Zelda thing. Nami was gambling with a goofy shopkeeper, who was losing. Robin was getting info about Hyrule's past from Renado, who came to town after the twilight was gone.

Franky was teaching some old folks how to dance, Franky style. Link and Zelda were at the same table, discussing about some things that aren't really interesting at the moment. And Luffy was eating every single piece of food that was on the table, swallowing a couple of turkeys as well. Everyone continued to party all night until they couldn't party no more.

Back at the thousand sunny…

A mysterious figure walked into the cabin of the Thousand Sunny. He noticed some wanted posters on the wall, and looked at Luffy's. "Monkey D. Luffy…" the person before he looked at the rest of the wanted posters. "Well, lets just see how long these people can last." said the person disappearing in the darkness of the night.

Meanwhile… in some other place…

In the great depths of a dried up volcano, There was a beautiful field of trees and flowers. There were no dark clouds in the sky as it was actually pretty clear and sunny. There were birds chirping happily has they flew through the fields. One of them landed on a branch of a tree as it continued to chirp happily. That would soon end as the bird got punched away by none other than the great Koopa King, Bowser. We are now back at the Mushroom Kingdom, seeing Bowser's minions reconstructing Bowser's castle.

"Make sure you build it exactly the same way as before, or you guys are going to get it!" yelled none other than Bowser's assistant, Kammy.

"Yes mam!" replied Bowser's minions as they continue to work.

"Uh, what a day this has been." Kammy sighed before she looked at Bowser, who was sitting on his chair that somehow from being burned to crisp 12 chapters ago. Kammy walks up to the grump Bowser while making a gentle smile.

"Hello, Your Lordness. How are you…" Kammy was about to say until Bowser got up furiously.

"I'M MAD!!!!" Bowser yelled before punching one of his men to the ground, knocking him out cold. "Every time I feel good about myself, that infuriating plumber would put me back into my bad mood!! Curse that Mario, and him always beating me!!" Bowser yelled as he stomps on the ground, causing the earth to shake.

"Don't feel bad, Your Toughness. Atleast this wasn't as bad as those other times you failed." Kammy said, hoping to cheer Bowser up.

"Oh sure, but none of those made this happen!" yells Bowser as he was referring to his scary volcano now being a delightful area for a picnic. "How am I suppose to rule this land with all this garbage all over my beautiful volcano!? Just looking at it makes me want to hit somebody!" Bowser yelled as he punched the same minion from before, knocking him out again.

"Don't worry, Your Grumpiness, I'll make sure that all of this will be gone after the castle has been rebuild." Kammy said.

"Meh, how long will that be?" Bowser asked.

"Well do to daylight savings and the expenses… I'd say about 6 months or so." Kammy said which made Bowser angrier.

"6 MONTHS!? HAVE SOME OF YOUR BRAIN CELLS HAPPEN TO COME OUT OF YOUR NOSE!? I AM NOT GOING TO WAIT THAT LONG!!" Bowser yelled as he picks up his unconscious minion he punched earlier, and tossed him to another group of minions. "Now that I think about it, this wasn't completely Mario's fault at all. It was that Straw hat, and his group of circus freaks that did all this!!"

"That is true. But I am afraid that you can't do anything about that. One of our spies said that they left to another world." Kammy said.

"Another world? You mean they weren't from here in the first place? That explains alot." Boswer said as he was starting to think deeply. "I guess there is no other choice. I will go find Straw hat and finish him off once and for all. Gwa ha ha ha ha ha ha ha!" Bowser laughed before facing Kammy. "You stay here, and make sure that construction is complete, I am go to visit the old weeny magician." Bowser said as he begins to laugh all the way to the warp pipe before entering it.

"Good luck, and come back safely, Your Revengefulness." Kammy says as Bowser no longer in sight. All the workers stopped working as they looked eachother plainly.

"PARTY!" yelled one of them as they all started to party like crazy as Kammy joined them.

Bowser came out of the warp pipe, and started to walk through the plains until he saw a several gangster koopas in front of him. "Yo holmes, how about giving is us all your cash before we beat you to a pulp?" asked the leader of the gang as Bowser only narrowed his eyes.

"Get lost, you brats. I don't have the time to deal with a bunch of posers. Besides, everyone knows that gangsters just do the talk, but can never do the walk by themselves." Bowser said as the leader got angry.

"Wh-What was that, esay!? I am going to make sure that you eat those words." The leader said as he and his gang was about to attack.

"Pff, this is going to be a waste of time." Bowser said as he took a deep breath and let out a stream of fire at the gangsters, burning all of them to crisp at the same time. "Now if you'll excuse me, I have goal to accomplish." Bowser said as he walked to toad town, leaving the gangsters to rot behind. Everyone was running away from Bowser as soon as he entered Toad town. "Haaaahh, the screams of wimps makes me feel a little better."

Bowser then barged right in Merlon's house as Merlon didn't even flinch. "Wel,l if it isn't Bowser. I have foresaw your arrival." Merlon said.

"Shut up! Just tell me how to get to other worlds, you weeny." Bowser said rudely. Merlon then fumed upon hearing the word 'weeny' again, but soon calmed down.

"If you want to go to other worlds, you could just use this item." Merlon said as he pulled out some sort of remote from the rug.

"Looks dumb, how does it work?" Bowser asked.

"You just simply put the coordinates of the world in this remote, and push the red button, which will open the portal to the world you wanted to go." Merlon said before Bowser snatched the remote from Merlon's hand. "This can be only used for one person only, so don't bring anybody else with you."

"Whatever, I am going to use this remote so I can finally get to Strawhat, and make him regret that he have ever met me." Bowser said evilly.

"Just to let you know, there is a little radar on the remote that will give you the exact location of Luffy and his crew, which will make the search much more easier." Merlon said.

"Gee, thanks. Wait, Why are you helping me?" Bowser asked curiously.

"The author of this story just simply wanted me to help you with your dilemma. You should be thankful to him." Merlon said.

"I don't know what you are talking about, but tell this author guy to buzz off. I don't need help from some idiotic loser." Bowser said as he got outside and pushed several buttons before pushing the red button as it created a portal in front of him. "Get ready, Straw hat. Bowser is coming to get ya!" Bowser laughed before he jumped through the portal before it closed.

Back to the Strawhats…

The Strawhats were back at their ship, the Thousand Sunny, as they were ready for departure. "Thank you for all you have done for us. We will never forget you." Zelda said as she was right near the ship along with Renado.

"Good bye, take care." Chopper said while waving to them. Sanji was still pale as he still couldn't get over the fact that Zelda is not his soulmate.

"Will you get over yourself. You'll eventually find someone else." Nami said not really caring about him.

"I know, Nami-san. Its just that I wont ever forget someone like Zelda-san in my entire life." Sanji said sadly.

"You will once you see another female. Now get ready, we are about to leave." Nami said rudely, leaving the depressed Sanji alone.

"Mister Sanji, are you there?" Zelda asked as Sanji's head perked up a bit. "I would especially like to thank you for caring about me the most. I wont ever forget your efforts." Zelda said, which caused Sanji's paleness to go away as he quickly stood up happily.

"IT WAS NO PROBLEM, ZELDA-SAN! I WILL NEVER FORGET YOU AS WELL!" Sanji yelled happily.

"He sure recovered fast." Robin said.

"Oi, where is Link?" Usopp asked.

"I think he was still sleeping back at castle town. That guy sure is lazy." Franky said while scratching his head. Luffy held the Hyrule heart in the air as it was starting to glow.

"MYSTERY DOOR, OPEN!" The heart then let out a green beam in front of Luffy. The beam then spreaded out in five direction as a portal was formed in between the rays. The portal then was replaced by the humongous double door with 7 empty slots shaped as hearts, while one of them was filled with red energy. The heart then shot another green beam at the slot under the red heart, filling it up with green energy, which made the door open and an image of another planet was shown inside.

"Remember young ones, there are sure to be more danger along your way, make sure you prepare yourselves for future battles." Renado said as Usopp was now trembling in fear.

"Oi, guys. I think my I-can't-go-to-this-world disease is acting up again." Usopp said as he was faking pain while holding his stomach. Luffy then noticed someone over the hills.

"Oi, look! Its Link!" Luffy yelled happily as Link was on his horse, Epona. Link unsheathed his sword as he raised it in the air as his horse raised her front hooves happily. "BYE LINK!! WE WONT FORGET YOU!!" Luffy exclaimed happily as Chopper started to jump excitedly while Franky cried happily.

"BYE ZELDA-SAN!!!" Sanji exclaimed with joy as they now entered through the portal which will lead them to their next world.

TO BE CONTINUED…

Well that ends the Zelda arc and Bowser should think twice before insulting me. I will be gone for a like a week, due to some things I have to do. Anyway, It is time to play "GUESS THAT ARC!" Here is how you play; You guess what the next world would be, the winner will get a rare imaginary cookie. The ones who didn't get it right will just get an ordinary imaginary cookie. I will give the imaginary cookies at the end of the next chapter. GOOD LUCK!

Pokemon Pt 1

December 3 will be the day that will change our lives forever… in other words, that is the official release date for Super Smash Bros Brawl, which is like 5 months away. Before you start reading, I would like to say something first. Its not that I don't care about requests, its just that I already planned the order of worlds the Strawhats will be going, So I cant accept those requests, sorry. Well, here is the next arc.

Two down, six to go. Zoro defeated Ganondorf has Hyrule was once again freed from his evil grasp. The Strawhats reunited once again as Sanji figured out that Zelda wasn't his soulmate afterall. Sanji took out his frustrations on the triforce, as it revealed that it held one of the mystery hearts that the Strawhats were searching for. They celebrated afterwards, unaware that Bowser is on his way to get them by using his new remote that can transport him to any other world (Or is he? Since he insulted me a couple of days ago, that might not happen.). The Strawhats are now on their way to the next world. "What kind of world is it?

Chapter 24: Prepare for trouble?, The world of Pokemon

The Strawhats were now drifting through streams of light as it was now have been days since their departure. But the Strawhats didn't mind much, since they are now kinda getting use to it. They are pretty much doing their same usual life routines just like they always do in their planet.

"Alright, you moron. Where is it?" Franky asked as he was looking at Luffy, who was sitting down on the grass floor, trying to avoid eye contact with Franky.

"I have no idea what you are talking about." Luffy said nervously.

"Don't give me that baloney! I know that you are the one that ate the cake that those turtles gave to me back at the mushroom head town." Franky said angrily.

"Well… what makes you so certain that I ate your cake?" Luffy asked.

"Because you have frostings all over your mouth, you dimwit!" Franky said as he was pointing at Luffy's mouth, which was covered in cake filling.

"So I have cake frostings all around my mouth, that doesn't prove that I ate your cake." Luffy said.

"Grrr, that cake was for me! Those turtle guys gave it to me as an appreciation of what I have done to change their lives from being a bunch of losers into great artists, like me." Franky said as he points himself.

"That was such an interesting story about you, too bad I wasn't paying attention." Luffy said plainly, which made Franky grunt.

"You go ahead and make fun of me, I don't care. As long as I feel proud of myself then I have--WAIT A MINUTE, DON'T CHANGE THE CONVERSATION!!" Franky yelled as he looks at Luffy angrily again.

"What are you guys arguing about this time?" Nami asked, who was now irritated of Luffy and Franky's argument.

"Can you tell this buffoon not to eat my stuff!? Everything I say to him flies right over his little monkey head." Franky said irritatingly.

"Oh is that all? Ok, let me handle this." Nami said as she then looked at Luffy. She then punched Luffy across the face as she knocked him out cold. "There you go, are you happy now?"

"I could have done that. Meh, oh well.." Franky said as he then left to do his own business. Zoro could be seen swinging a long pipe that had huge weights around it.

"I barely lost back there, I can not afford to let that happen again." Zoro said as he swings the huge weights vertically, which caught Chopper's attention.

"Zoro! What are you doing!? You are suppose to get some rest!" Chopper said worryingly.

"I feel fine, I am not that messed up as before." Zoro said plainly, while still swinging his weights.

"That is not the point! You are suppose to get some rest and not train yourself to death." Chopper said.

"I trust your skills, doc. If something happens to me, I know I can count on you to heal my back to normal again." Zoro said, which caused Chopper do his happy dance.

"You fool, I am not happy because of that remark, DUMMY!" Chopper yelled happily, as he dances away from Zoro.

"That took care of him." Zoro said as he continues to swing the weights.

Meanwhile, Sanji came out of the kitchen with a tray that has a fancy drink as he romantically walks towards Robin, who was sitting near a table while reading yet another book.

"Here you go, Robin-chwan. I made this just for you." Sanji said as he puts the fancy cup on the table.

"Thank you, Mister cook. You seem to be in a better mood." Robin says kindly.

"I am so glad that you noticed. I finally accepted the fact Zelda-san wasn't really my soulmate. Why bother being so depressed about it if there are alot more women that would absolutely adore me for who I am." Sanji said as he began to daydream.

"I am glad that are you able to get that confidence back." Robin said before she went back on reading her book again.

"She has a point there cook. But if you don't happen to find someone that likes you for who you are, you could always sleep with your mom." Zoro said while he was training. Sanji then stopped daydreaming and looked at Zoro furiously.

"What did you say, you pitiful excuse for a swordsman!?" Sanji yelled, as Zoro put his weights on the floor.

"I said that you could sleep with your mama, that's what I said!" Zoro yelled. They then started to beat eachother up, as it didn't disturb everyone else since they are use to it. During their brawlfest, Usopp was looking at the two mystery hearts he and his crew were able to obtain back at the previous worlds they were before.

"-sigh-… I guess their is only 6 more to go. And if any of those planets are just like the last one, I am going to hurl." Usopp said fearfully. Luffy regained consciousness, and overheard what Usopp said.

"Don't worry, Usopp. Things are just going to get better from here on out." Luffy said happily. Usopp then looked at Luffy and smiled hopefully.

"You really think so, Luffy?" Usopp asked.

"Sure." Luffy said. Usopp then calmed down and looked at the hearts.

"I feel better now. Thanks for cheering me up Lu…" Usopp said before Luffy did his usual silly grin.

"We are going to fight more stronger and uglier creatures than Ganondorf, so don't you worry about a thing, Usopp." Luffy said happily, which caused Usopp to curl into a ball, shaking in fear.

"My Going-to-the-next-scary-world-will-cause-pancreas-trouble disease is acting up again." Usopp said while pretending to be ill. Luffy continued to smile as he then saw Nami thinking deeply.

"What's up, Nami?" Luffy asked.

"You know, back in Hyrule, It got me thinking about something." Nami said as everyone stopped what they were doing as they paid attention to Nami. "I mean, the way it happened. It was so peaceful and all of sudden this Ganondorf guy comes out of nowhere and easily conquers Hyrule for a couple of hours."

"Back at Hyrule, some sage guy said that a bigger evil than Ganondorf has the power to revive the black-hearted ones from the dead, or something like that." Zoro said. As Usopp heard that, he became even more frightened then ever.

"W-Wait a second, if you are saying that there are actually more powerful people than Ganondorf out there? That is just crazy to believe. It is not possible!" Usopp said with disbelief.

"It can be quite possible, Long nose-kun. There are forces out there that might be powerful enough for us to not even comprehend." Robin said.

"So what happens if we face that evil during the heart search. Won't it kill us?" Chopper asked nervously.

"Don't be ridiculous, Chopper. For all we know, it could have been just a thing that was going on in Hyrule." Sanji said.

"Your right for once, cook. There are plenty of messed up things going on everywhere, but I can't imagine the same evil doing that to plenty of places at the same time." Franky said as he looks upwards.

"Well, If that evil ever shows up, I'll just kick it's ass." Luffy said as he hits his palm. Nami just shrugged as she then saw the image of the next world coming into view.

"Looks we finally made it, prepare for landing guys." Nami said as everyone took their positions. Luffy jumped on the Thousands Sunny's head as the image got closer.

"Yosh, It is now time to adventure to continue. Full speed ahead!" Luffy yelled excitedly as they went right through the image and into the next world. As before, a big lighted blinded them for a couple of seconds until it died down in order for them to see where they are now.

"Please don't tell me we that we are floating in the sky, again." Usopp said as he rushes over to the edge of the ship as he saw that they were on an ocean. "Oh good grief." Usopp says as he leans on the floor as he calmed himself afterwards.

"So what kind of a weird planet are we in this time?" Zoro asked as Luffy tried to get a better view in front of him.

"I think I see land ahead of us, but it is too far to see." Luffy said as he narrowed his eyes to getter a better view. Nami picked up some binoculars and looked through them as she saw a big town.

"It looks like a big town. A little strange-looking town, if you ask me." Nami said as everyone then looked at the town. "There is a dock right there. Let's anchor there for now."

The Thousand Sunny reached to the dock as its paws anchored to the ground. The Strawhats got out and saw big town full of people and a bunch of weird looking animals with them. "Woah, what kind of animals are those?" Luffy asked amazed as he looked at the animals.

"Looks like the gorilla's relatives or something." Franky said while Chopper glared at him. They walked around the place until they came across a fountain.

"Ok, we'll split up from here and get some info about the heart, see if there is anybody here that knows about it." Nami said as they were about to split up before she said something else. "One more thing I would like to say."

"What is it, Nami-san?" Sanji asked.

"Listen carefully, I have come up with a theory about these hearts." Nami says as everyone paid close attention. "The first heart we obtained in the Mushroom Kingdom had the same happy face just like all the other objects that were there. The one we obtained from Hyrule is a heart shaped rupee and rupees are pretty common in that world too. If we happen to find something in this world that is very common here, then we have to look something like that, only in shape of a heart." Nami explained.

"Ohh, that makes sense." Luffy said while scratching his head in confusion.

"We'll meet back here at this fountain in one hour. Make sure you don't goof off, and don't buy anything stupid, okay?" Nami said as she and Robin started to walk into town, followed by the happy, tap dancing Sanji. Chopper transformed to his walk point as he and Usopp started to wonder around another part of town.

"I guess its only the three of us. Lets go find that heart." Luffy said happily as he pointed randomly to the park. He then walked there as Zoro and Franky followed him. They noticed a weird looking small bear cub at the ground eating nuts, a blue thing swimming in a pond, a little dinosaur thing with a plant on his back, and several more odd creatures as Franky was now getting freaked out.

"Is this a zoo? There is a bunch of a weird animals in every single place around here." Franky said as he saw a purple monkey running past him.

"Who cares about them? They are probably like civilians in this world." Zoro said.

"Its not that this is bothering me, Its just that there are alot of them." Franky said as Luffy ran to something that looks like a cocoon.

"Hey guys, check this out. It a cocoon with eyeballs." Luffy said as he then noticed that the cocoon was opening up. "Aww, a butterfly is going to come out." A butterfly did not come out as a big bee with drills for arms came out and stared at Luffy. Franky and Zoro gulped as they never saw a bee that big. "A bee? Good thing that there are not more of them." More bees just like the big bee came out of nowhere as was now sweating in fear. Luffy then ran right through Zoro and Franky as the bees were now chasing him.

"RUN!" Luffy yelled as he, Zoro and Franky tried to run away from the bees as fast as possible.

"You moron! What were you thinking getting that close to a bee cocoon!?" Franky yelled as the bees were now gaining up on them. Without thinking, Luffy jumped in the pond as Zoro and Franky's eyes popped out.

"WHAT THE HELL IS HE DOING!?" Zoro yelled as he and Franky dived in the pool as the bees flew away. Zoro and Franky then got out of the pond while dragging Luffy out of the water. "What were you thinking in jumping in there?"

"I thought if I get in the water, the bees would go away. But I forgot that I can't swim." Luffy said drowsily.

"You are impossible to deal with, you know that? Come on, let's get going." Franky said as they walked back to the park again. "Just because that we are new to this place, doesn't mean you get to do whatever you want."

"I was just curious, that's all." Luffy whined.

"Just like how you were curious on how my cake tasted like, which I will remind you that I still haven't forgiven you for that." Franky said while crossing his arms.

"So just ask Sanji to bake you another cake." Luffy said while putting his hands behind his head as he was now kinda grumpy.

"Like that would be the same. Hey swordsman, did you hear what he just… swordsman?" Franky said as Zoro was no longer in sight.

In some other place…

Zoro somehow ended up in a forest, which is impossible because it was just outside of town. "I guess I shouldn't have taken that turn." Zoro said as he began to walk through the forest.

Meanwhile…

Nami, Sanji and Robin were walking through the streets of the town as they noticed numerous of posters of fancy gadgets and other stuff. What was more common that they keep seeing is a ball that opens up and lets one of those wierd creatures. "What the? An animal came out of that ball." Nami said in amazement.

"They are called Pokemon." Robin said as she read a booklet that was on the ground.

"Pokemon?" Sanji said curiously.

"It says here that people called Pokemon trainers capture wild pokemon and train them for competitions and such." Robin said, reading the booklet.

"So they are like pets?" Nami asked.

"Not really, They are more like companions. It seems that these are like the most common thing in this planet." Robin said.

"Well that totally ruined my theory. Every pokemon here looks completely different." Nami said.

"Maybe there are not that many. How many are there, Robin-chwan?" Sanji asked.

"Hmm… it doesn't say here. But by looking at all the pokemon in this town, I'd say there is alot of them." Robin said as Nami sighed sadly.

"Great, it looks like we are going to be here for a while. Lets continue looking around." Nami said.

"Yes, Nami-swan!" Sanji yelled happily as they continued to walk around town.

Meanwhile…

Usopp and Chopper were looking at huge poster with several pokemon on it. "Po.. ke.. mon." Usopp said as he could barely read the very small letter on the big poster. "I wonder if that is what these animals are called."

"They all look cool! I wonder what they can do?" Chopper asked as a pokemon trainer happen to overhear Chopper talk.

"Hey, that reindeer pokemon talked just now." The pokemon trainer as more of them started to gather around Chopper. Chopper was confused and scared at the same time as he his getting alot of attention.

"Yo dude! What pokemon is that?" asked an excited pokemon trainer. Usopp was confused at the moment until he came up with something. He then folded his arms as he looked at the pokemon trainers with a sly grin.

"I see that all of you people have a good eye when identifying pokemon." Usopp said as Chopper looked at him while his eyes popped out in surprise. "This isn't your ordinary pokemon you see everyday, this is a very ultra super mega rare pokemon we are talking about here." All the pokemon trainers then got excited as they wanted to hear more. "This pokemon is none other than the legendary Choppermon!"

Back to Luffy and Franky…

"That idiot! How can he got lost all of a sudden if he was walking with us!?" Franky asked as he could not believe that there is someone that has a really bad sense of direction.

"Well if you don't like it, then leave already." Luffy said grumpily.

"Why are you so angry? Look, if its about that cake thing, then I am over it, okay?" Franky said trying to be nice.

"I am not angry about that." Luffy said.

"Then what the heck are so you pissed off about?" Franky asked.

"We have been here for awhile, and I see no ten foot bug eye people anywhere." Luffy said even more angrier. Franky just slapped his forehead in response.

"You are still talking about that? What makes you think they exist?" Franky asked.

"They do exist! It is my destiny to meet them one day." Luffy said confidently while looking at the sky.

"I thought you wanted to become the pirate king." Franky said.

"That too." Luffy said plainly.

"Geez, it is like you are going to do every-AAAHHHH!" Franky yelled as soon as he and Luffy suddenly stepped over a thin layer spot of the ground, and fell to the bottom of a big hole. Franky rubbed his head as Luffy tried to get his out of the dirt. "First the bees, and now this. What other stupid thing will happen next I wonder out loud?"

"Ah ha ha ha ha ha ha!"

Luffy pulled his head out of the dirt before looking up at the three figures that were out of the hole. "Who is there!?" Luffy yelled.

"Perpare for trouble, you have fell into our trap." said a woman with long red hair.

"Make it double, You are now going to go flat." said a man with short blue hair.

"As evil as old as the galaxy."

"Sent here to fulfill our destiny."

A small looking cat with a gold oval coin embedded on his forehead popped out of nowhere in front of the duo. "With Meowth, that's me."

"To denounce the evils of truth and love."

"To extend our reach to the stars above."

"Jessie." the woman said elegantly- Jessie.

"James." the man said elegantly as well- James.

"With Meowth, that's my name." the cat creature named Meowth said as the scenario behind them turned into space with big red 'R' on a planet.

"Whenever there is peace in the universe…"

"… Team Rocket…"

"… will be there…"

"… TO MAKE EVERYTHING WORSE!" They say at the same time as blue thing with a zigzagged mouth popped out of nowhere.

"Wooobbuffet!" said the creature as then another creature popped out of nowhere, only it was smaller and it was pink and it also has a round red nose.

"Mime, mime." said the creature happily.

TO BE CONTINUED…

Thats right folks, Pokemon is the next arc. I would like to congratulate Hellscream89 for being the only one who guessed it right; Here is your rare imaginary cookie in shape of Pikachu's head. As for the rest, here is an ordinary imaginary cookie, better luck next time.

Pokemon Pt 2

Just to let you know that this pokemon arc is after battle frontier and before Diamond & Pearl. Enjoy!

Strawhat in trouble? The Strawhats have made their way into their third world, which has numerous types of animals called pokemon. The Strawhats split up to look for information about their third mystery heart. Luffy and Franky lost sight have Zoro, who ended up in a forest and is currently lost. As Luffy and Franky went on, they fell down a hole which was made by a strange group of people. Who are these guys and what do they want with Luffy and Franky?

Chapter 25: Team Rocket, the guys who can't catch a mouse

Luffy and Franky continued to stare at the duo, who are yet to figure out who are in the hole. "Ah ha ha ha ha ha! This trap must have been used a thousand times before, but it still works like a charm." Jessie said.

"I'll say. Not even in the smartest person could ever avoid such a trap." James said.

"Will you guys stop blabbering, we got work to do." Meowth said.

"Oh yeah, I almost forgot." Jessie said as she got close to the hole. "Well twerp, it looks you have once again fell for our trap. What do you have to say for… yourself?" Jessie then looked at Luffy and Franky in the hole. She then scratched her head in confusion. "This isn't the twerp, just a bunch of other twerps."

"Huh, well whaddya know. They are even more weird than everything else I have seen so far. Especially that blue haired freak right there." Meowth said as he was pointing to Franky.

"Who are you calling a freak, you little rat!?" Franky yelled, as Meowth became angry upon hearing that.

Jessie then looked at James angrily, "James! I thought you said that one of these guys was the twerp, but it turns out to be someone else! Care to explain?"

"Well I thought that we could chase someone else for a change. I mean, failing to capture Pikachu for the last 450 times could really lower you self-esteem." James said sadly. This also made Jessie kind of sad as well.

"You do have a point. But where is the twerp then?" Jessie asked.

"I think he was heading to some place called the Sinnoh region or something." James said as Jessie got furious upon hearing that.

"You idiot! He is all the way over there, while we are still here in Indigo Plateau! It'll take days for us to find him again!" Jessie yelled as fire came out of here eyes.

"Its not my fault that we're here. If it wasn't for that Electivire, we would still be were that twerp was." James said nervously. Meowth then looks angrily at the both of them.

"Well if you hadn't been so weak back then, we could have captured that Electivire when we had the chance. But since you weren't, we are here wasting our time." Meowth said angrily. They continued to argue as it was starting to annoy Franky.

"Its one clown after another. What do we do, Strawhat?" Franky asked as he saw Luffy looking at them with sparks of joy coming out of his eyes. Franky was confused as Luffy got up while continuing to stare at them.

"Those guys… are so cool!!!" Luffy yelled excitedly as Franky fell down in disbelief. Jessie, James and Meowth stopped arguing as soon as they heard that.

"Did you hear that, James?" Jessie asked.

"I heard it, but I don't believe it." James said while in shock.

"Someone actually thinks that we're cool." Meowth said also in shock. They then looked down the hole to see Luffy, who still had sparks coming out of his eyes.

"You guys are so cool! That was like the coolest motto I have ever heard in my life!" Luffy yelled excitedly.

"Please tell me you are bluffing." Franky said in annoyance. Jessie, James and Meowth then looked at eachother until they blushed.

"Well, I can't say that we have never been called cool before, so there is no doubt that he likes us." Jessie said while blushing happily.

"That straw hat twerp sure has a good eye for noticing cool people such as us." James said happily as well.

"You guys are only cool because I am with you all the time, you should thank me for that." Meowth said before he got stomped at the back of his by Jessie and James.

"-sigh-… I feel much better now, but now it's time to go back to work." Jessie said as she then looked at Luffy and Franky. "Since you obviously noticed how great we are, I think it is now time for you to please us by handing over all of your pokemon."

Luffy tilted his head sideways in confusion as a reply.

"Poke-a-what?" Franky asked while scratching the back of his head in confusion. Jessie then looked at them oddly.

"Don't play dumb with us. Give us all of your pokemon, or we are going to stay here until you do." Jessie demanded, till James began to whisper in her ear.

"We are not really going to stay here until they give us their pokemon, are we?" James asked before Jessie looked at him angrily.

"Shut up, James! Let me handle this." Jessie yelled as James backed away from her. Jessie then looks at Luffy and Franky again while she had an evil smirk across her face. "Here is how we are going to do things; Give us all your pokemon, and we'll bury you alive." James then began to whisper at Jessie's ear again.

"Dont you mean 'or'?" James asked as Jessie got infuriated before looking back to Luffy and Franky with alot of anger in her eyes.

"Give us all your pokemon OR will bury you alive." Jessie said angrily. Franky then got up, and looked at Jessie right at her eyes.

"Listen, I don't know what kind of poking you want us to give you, but we won't let you mess around with us!" Franky yelled while shaking his fist. Jessie was now so angry, that several veins started to popping out of her forehead.

"If that's the way you want it, then fine! We are going to bury you right here, right now!" Jessie yelled as she grabbed her shovel from the ground. She then furiously woke up Meowth, and gave him his shovel. "Stop slacking off and start burying!" James then looked at Jessie nervously.

"Jessie, dont you think that this is going a little to far?" James asked before Jessie hit him in the face with his own shovel.

"Less talking, more burying!" Jessie said as she plunged the shovel through a pile of dirt before putting it in the hole were Luffy and Franky are.

"Dont'cha know that we are going to go to jail for this?" Meowth asked as he was doing the same thing Jessie was doing.

"We are already criminals, so it doesn't matter." Jessie replied rudely. Jessie then noticed a pair of hands grabbing on the edge of the hole. She blinked as she looked down in the hole to see Luffy still down there, only that his arms were stretched. Jessie began to sweat in fear as she quickly backed away from the hole as James and Meowth looked at eachother in confusion before looking back at Jessie.

"Is something the matter, Jessie?" James asked curiously.

"He-He-He-He-He str-str-str-str-str-str-str…" Jessie stuttered as she was pointing at the hole. James didn't understand what was wrong so he peeked in the hole and…

"GOMU GOMU NO ROCKET!" Luffy springs out of the hole, almost hitting James as he flew up.

"EEEEEEEEEEEEEEEEEEK!" James cried like a little girl as Luffy landed on the ground. "Wha-Wha-Wha-What is he!?"

Meowth was surprised as he then saw Franky climbed out of the hole. "Gyah, these guys are like superfreaks or something!" Meowth said nervously. Jessie got back to her senses and got up while looking angrily at Luffy and Franky.

"Superfreaks or not, we are not going to run away! Get up you two, we're not going to lose against these guys!" Jessie yelled as James and Meowth hid behind her legs.

"Okay, Strawhat. You take care of the red one, while I take care of the blue one." Franky said while hitting his palm.

"Aww, I don't want to fight them." Luffy whined. "Oh well, here we go."

Meanwhile…

Usopp and Chopper were starting to get more attention as more pokemon trainers were starting to gather around them. "Dude, you like have the coolest pokemon in the whole world!" A pokemon trainer said as Usopp simply grinned cockingly.

"Ha ha ha, I know. This is the only pokemon worthy to be admired. But not as much as me though since I am the only one who has one." Usopp said as Chopper looked at him with big sparks coming out of his eyes.

"Wow, I didn't know Usopp could be so famous so suddenly." Chopper said actually believing what Usopp was saying, even though everyone is admiring him and not Usopp. There was so many pokemon trainers that it caught the attention of a man wearing an archaeologist suit.

"What is going on?" ased the man as he went through the crowd to see for himself. He then saw Usopp with his arms folded as Chopper lowered his head in shyness.

"Yes sir. Choppermon is one of the most legendary pokemon that ever existed." Usopp said proudly. "Of all the… the… hey old man, how many kind pokemon are there?" Usopp asked to a very old man with a big head.

"Hmm… I believe there are 493 pokemon, young lad." says the old man. Usopp was then shocked after hearing that.

"493!? That is… ahem, I mean of course there are 493 kinds of pokemon, how silly of me of not remembering that." Usopp said as he then faces back at the crowd. "As you all of you might know, there are currently 493 kinds of pokemon out there. But what you all of you don't know is… that Choppermon is the legendary 494th pokemon!!" Usopp yelled as he raised his arms in the air in glory as everyone was clearly amazed, except for the archaeologist man.

"NOOO!" Yelled the archeologist as Usopp and Chopper almost fell after being yelled at.

"Wha-What is the matter?" Usopp asked nervously.

"There is no such pokemon called Choppermon, nor it is ever legendary." said the archaeologist angrily.

"Hey, isnt that Brandon?" asked one of the trainers.

"One of the Frontier brains? I think so. But what is he doing here?" asked another trainer as the archaeologist known as Brandon looks at the crowd.

"Do not believe this man. He is just somebody that likes to make up stories, or in other terms, a liar!" Brandon yelled as he scared Usopp and Chopper again. All the pokemon trainers then got upset before walking away.

"Oi, why did you go and do that for?" Usopp asked.

"Young man, you should know better than to be telling lies to other people; it could lead you to your great demise some day." Brandon said before he walks off.

"Whoa, that guy is smart." Chopper said as Usopp got angry.

"Its thanks to him he took my glory away." Usopp said before Chopper looked at him sternly. "I mean, your glory." Chopper then smiled as Usopp and Chopper continued to walk around town.

In another part of town, Nami, Sanji, and Robin were now at a plaza where there are alot of pokemon trainers. "Looks like that all these guys do, nothing but train there pokemon all day." Nami said until she saw some sort of battle going on in front of here.

"What's that?" Sanji asked as they went to get a closer look as it appeared to be a pokemon battle.

"Alright, Rattata! Tackle attack!" A pokemon trainer yelled as a purple rat called Rattata went charging to his opponent's pokemon.

"Is that all it could do? Don't make me laugh. Machamp, focus punch!" yelled the other pokemon trainer as a muscular creature with four arms called Machamp gave a devastating punch to Rattata as Rattata was completely knocked out. "Yes, I have won again!" said the pokemon trainer as he took out a ball called a pokeball and faced towards his Machamp, which turned red, and beamed inside the ball.

"So its all about teamwork and working with your owner, huh? Quite fascinating." Robin said.

"Good thing I am not a pokemon. I would rather kill myself then follow orders from some nerd." Nami said.

"Hmm… I wonder if I can make a meal out of them?" Sanji asked as several pokemon trainers overheard him.

"Hey buddy! Who do you think you are, thinking of things like that!?" yelled an angry pokemon as more of them gathered around Sanji.

"You clearly have no respect for pokemon, you fiend!" yelled a female pokemon as Sanji felt that his heart was being broken.

"I-I-I am sorry miss, I didn't mean to.." Sanji was saying before she took out her pokeball and let out a pokemon that looked like a bigger pokeball, only that it has eyes.

"Now, Electrode! Self-destruct!" yells the female pokemon trainer.

"Electrode!" says Electrode as he turned before exploding right in front of Sanji as Sanji flew high up in the air before hitting the ground hard. Nami and Robin looked at him before looking at eachother.

"What to continue to look around?" Robin asked.

"Sure, just make sure to bring Sanji along as well." Nami said plainly as she began to walk around the plaza, while a pair of feet sprouted on Sanji's back as Robin walked ahead as the feet followed her. As Nami walked around the plaza, she noticed a stage that featured some sort of magic show. A bunch of children were at there seats as they were anxiously waiting for the magician to show up.

"Ladies and Gentlemen, boys and girls. Get ready to put your hands together for one of the greatest magicians of all time, which he'll appear in a couple of minutes." says the announcer as the kids were getting excited.

"A magic show? Hmm… I guess I can stay and watch." Nami said as she sat down at one of the empty chairs.

Meanwhile…

Zoro continued to wonder through the forest with no sign of any town anywhere. "Why would a huge forest such as this would be in the middle of the park?" Zoro asked while going through a couple of bushes. He then noticed a small yellow mouse with pink cheeks that was running away from one of those bees with drills for arms. "Not those things again. Oh well, its not chasing me, so its none of my concern." Zoro said as he was about to leave until the little mouse ran into a dead end as it then looked fearfully at the bee with drills which are known as Beedrills.

"Pichu…" said the mouse fearfully as the Beedrill was about to stab it. "PICHU!" cried the mouse as he lowered his head in fear, awaiting for the blow, but it never came. Pichu then looked up to see Zoro, who blocked Beedrill's drill with one of his swords. Zoro then hit the beedrill with the back of his sword as it was knocked out cold. Pichu was amazed until Zoro looked at him, which kinda scared him. "Pichu!" yelled the creature as it pointed a group of Beedrills behind Zoro.

"Hmm? More of them, huh?" Zoro asked as he unsheathed all of his swords out. "TATSU MAKI!" Zoro spun in a circle as a tornado of cutting waves sent all the Beedrills flying in a far distance. Zoro then sheathed his swords as he looked at the mouse again. "You should be more careful around here from now on. Me saving you won't probably happen again." Zoro said as he began to walk away from the mouse.

"Pichu?" said the creature as it then followed Zoro. Zoro noticed this and looked at the mouse.

"Look, you don't want to follow me. I am not the kind of guy who is good with animals." Zoro said as he walked off again, but the creature still followed him. Zoro got a little annoyed, and looked at the mouse again. "What did I just say? You must stay here, while I go elsewhere, okay?" Zoro said as the creature started to do a big puppy dog face. "Don't look at me like that!" Zoro yelled as the mouse the laid while still doing the cute face at Zoro. "Damn… okay fine, just stopping doing that." Zoro said as the mouse climbed up to Zoro's shoulders.

Zoro then started to walk through the forest while having the mouse on his shoulder. "So… do you have a name?" Zoro asked.

"Pichu." said the mouse happily.

"Pichu, huh? Well, Pichu, do you happen to know where the town is?" Zoro asked.

"Pichu." Pichu said while pointing to it's right.

"Good, lets go." Zoro said before going to the opposite direction that Pichu was pointing at, which wasn't for long as Pichu quickly turned Zoro's head the way he was suppose to go.

Back to Luffy and Franky…

Luffy was sadly cracking his knuckles as James and Meowth got out of hiding. "Jessie, why don't we run instead?" The fearful James asked.

"We are not running away! This could finally be our moment to shine, and I am not going to lose this opportunity to achieve it!" Jessie said as Meowth got up with great courage.

"Your right. I aint gonna let some freaks get the better of us!" Meowth said as his claws got bigger.

"Oh… okay, let's give it a shot." James said fearfully. Jessie then took out her pokeball.

"Go Seviper!" yells Jessie as he tosses her pokeball in the air as it opened up to reveal a large snake with big red fangs, stylized yellow textures around its body, and a swordlike tail.

"Seviper!" hissed the creature known as Seviper with a hissing sound as Luffy's eyes popped out of his head.

"Whoa! They can make snakes come out of those balls! Cool!" Luffy said excitedly as James nervously got out his pokeball.

"Come on out, Cacnea!" James yelled as he tosses his pokeball in the air as it opened up to reveal a some sort of round cactus with eyeballs and has a crown on its head and it also has thorny arms.

"Cacnea!" said the cactus before it quickly turned around, and hugged James around his face as its thorns were injuring him.

"Why must you do this every time I call you out!?" James cried in pain as he finally got Cacnea off of him. Cacnea and Seviper were now looking at Luffy and Franky fiercely as they were about to attack.

"A snake and a cactus, huh? I'll take care of the cactus while you take care of the snake, Strawhat." Franky said.

"Ok…" Luffy said depressingly. Seviper then charged at Luffy as Luffy charged at it. Seviper opened its mouth in order to bite Luffy, who dodged it as he then stretched his leg back. "GOMU GOMU NO STAMP!" Luffy thrusts his stretched leg towards Seviper's head as it slid across the ground.

"Seviper, use poison tail!" Jessie commanded as Seviper got up, and rushed towards Luffy as its tail was glowing purple. As Seviper got close, it swung it's tail towards Luffy, who dodged as Seviper bit a tree instead, which melted afterwards.

"Alright, Cacnea, use pin missile!" James commanded as Cacnea then shot numerous of needles to Franky. Franky then takes a deep breath as the needles are getting closer.

"MASTER NAIL!" Franky spits out numerous of his own needles as they all hit Cacnea's needles, thus canceling both of their moves. James mouth was hung after what he just saw.

"D-Did he just spit out needles?" James asked as he then saw Franky raising his right fist.

"STRONG RIGHT!" Franky launched his right fist as it hit Cacnea in the face as it went flying to James face which made fell down in pain. Jessie and Meowth were in complete shock as they then looked at Franky.

"That guy is some sort of cyborg!" Meowth said in fear as Jessie looked at Luffy.

"It will take more than a rubberband man and a cyborg to beat us! Seviper, use Haze!" Jessie commanded as Seviper let out a huge stream of black smoke from its mouth.

"Gah, cant… see…" Luffy coughed as he was covering his nose, and mouth due to the horrible odor.

"Now Seviper, use headbutt!" Jessie commanded as Seviper delivered a headbutt directly into Luffy's head as Luffy was about to fall down, but quickly regained his balance, and grabbed Seviper by the neck.

"GOMU GOMU NO…" Luffy stretched his neck as back as he could "… KANE!" Luffy does a headbutt of his own as Seviper fell to ground in pain as the black smoke started to clear. As Seviper got up, He saw Luffy stretching his leg again "GOMU GOMU NO MUCHI!" Luffy does a stretched horizontal kick at Seviper who got hit directly as he slid near Jessie.

"Grr… come on out, Dustox!" Jessie yelled as she took out another pokeball and tossed it in the air as it opened up to reveal a poison moth. "Dustox, use gust!" Jessie commanded as Dustox was flapping it's wings at a fast rate, creating a gust of wind. Luffy tries to keep his balance as the gust was almost making him fall. "Seviper, use poison fang!" Jessie commanded as Seviper lunged at Luffy with its mouth wide open.

"GOMU GOMU NO PISTOL!" Luffy punched Seviper across the face as it was now knocked out. When this was happening, Cacnea was facing Franky again.

"Cacnea, use needle arm!" James commanded as Cacnea swings his huge thorn arm at Franky.

"HOSHI SHIELD!" Franky left arm turned into a shield as he blocked Cacnea's needle arm. Franky then punched Cacnea across the face as it slid across the ground. Franky felt a little pain after hitting cactus pokemon, but he ignored it as he aimed at Cacnea with his left arm "WEAPONS LEFT!" Franky fires a missle towards Cacnea as it exploded upon impact. As the smoke cleared, Meowth came flying straight to Franky.

"Take this!" Meowth yelled as he slashed right through Franky's face, destroying his sunglasses in the process. Before Meowth could land, Franky quickly grabbed Meowth by his head.

"You slashed my face!" Franky yelled before throwing Meowth straight into the semi-unconcious Cacnea, who was now unconscious after being hit.

"Dustox, use stun spore!" Jessie commanded as Dustox let out a multiple spores as it was starting to paralyze Luffy.

"Tsk, I have to use this." Franky said as he connects his forearms to a tube "70mm koukei 0.2 Cola hou…" the tube then started to inhale all the spores Dustox released "COUP DE VENT!" Franky fires the pores right into Jessie and James and Meowth as well as their pokemon.

"Can't… move…" Jessie grunted as Luffy was no longer paralyzed, and then started to swing his left arm in circles as Franky aims at them. Luffy's arm then glowed red while Franky's right arm glowed blue.

"We're… done… for…" James says as Luffy and Franky were about to attack.

"STRONG PISTOL!" Luffy thrusted his left red fist at them at the same time as Franky launched his right fist. The fists then hit the ground below his opponents as it created a huge explosion of red and blue colors, as Jessie, James and Meowth along with their pokemon started to fly away.

"I told you we shouldn't have faced them in the first place." James cried while flying in the air.

"I thought we could beat them, but it was too good to be true." Jessie said sadly.

"I guess it doesn't matter since we have experience on failing anyway." Meowth said as Jessie and James nodded.

"Looks like Team Rocket is blasting off agaaain!" They shouted before they are no longer in sight. Franky grabs a pair of sunglasses out of his Hawaiian shirt and puts them on, while Luffy was kinda sad.

"Aww man, those guys were cool. Too bad they were evil." Luffy said.

"If evil means being a bunch of losers, then yeah, they're evil." Franky said as he then noticed an audience. The audience were now giving them a round of applause as Franky then started to pose victoriously to them. Luffy then did his smile as then a female officer with blue hair then walked up to them.

"Would you two come with me, please?" said the officer as Luffy and exchanged looks before looking back at the officer.

"What did we do?" Luffy asked.

"We cannot discuss about that here, you have to follow me to the station in order to know." said the officer as she obliged Luffy and Franky to follow her. Luffy decided to follow her as Franky took a moment to be adored by the crowd before following the officer to town.

TO BE CONTINUED…

Okie-dokie I have nothing much to say right now. Except that I don't think that motto was the best except for the original one. Hope you enjoyed this chapter.

Pokemon Pt 3

Not much of a chapter if you ask me, but its all I can think of right now. Enjoy!

Double trouble. Luffy and Franky confronted a group known as Team Rocket. They defeated them by blasting them off in the sky. After the they celebrated their victory, an officer wanted to talk to them in private about something as she led them to town. What could she want with Luffy and Franky?

Chapter 26: A secret mission?, The charming magician

Luffy and Franky were now at a police station and were currently in the interrogation room. "What do you think they want?" Luffy asked.

"Like I know. Just keep your cool when they come in. I don't want to be sitting next to a cry baby." Franky said.

"I thought you are the crybaby." Luffy said.

"Shut up." Franky said. They didn't know that one of the mirrors were transparent as the officer that brought them there were looking at them along with antoher officer that looks exactly like her.

"Alright, let me know if he comes here. I am going to talk with them in the mean time." said the officer as the other officer nodded. The officer went inside the interrogation room and looked at Luffy and Franky.

"That's him, officer! He is the guy who ate my cake!" Franky yelled while pointing at the baffled Luffy.

"WHAT!?" Luffy gasped in surprise as his eyes popped out of his head.

"You guys are not here to get arrested. I just need to get a few questions answered." The officer said. "My name is officer Jenny, and I would like for you to answer the following."

"Okay, ask me anything." Luffy said.

"What do you guys know about Team Rocket?" Jenny asked.

"Team Rocket? Was that what those guys were called? Huh.." Franky said while scratching his head. "Sorry lady, but we don't know anything about those guys, except that they are losers."

"Not to mention that they know how to say their mottos." Luffy added.

"Hmm… okay, can you explain your actions on what you did to Team Rocket earlier?" Jenny asked. Luffy didn't quite understand on what she just said so he tilted his head sideways in response. Franky shook his head before facing Jenny.

"They messed with us, they they could beat us, and their rat slashed right through my face, so we sent them flying away, is that what you wanted to know?" Franky asked, as officer Jenny was getting a little frustrated.

"That is not really the answer I was looking for, I was referring of your supernatural abilities. I am quite curious on how you did that." Jenny said.

"What are you guys, the military? He is a rubberband man, and I am a cyborg, what is so weird about that?" Franky asked arrogantly.

"You know, I think it is kinda weird if you think about it." Luffy said while doing his natural grin.

"You are not supporting me right now, Straw hat. So be quiet." Franky said while slapping at the back of Luffy's head.

"Well, it doesn't matter how you did it. What I really want to know is that if you guys could do a favor for us?" Jenny asked as Franky raised an eyebrow, before smirking.

"Oh, I see. I don't know about him, but I can surely give you what you want." Franky said pervertedly before getting slapped so hard that he fell off his chair. As soon as that happened, An officer that looks exactly like Jenny came in the room. "Officer Jenny, he is here." said the officer.

"Thanks officer Jenny, bring him in here." Officer Jenny said as the officer that was also called officer Jenny left the room.

"Hey, was that your twin sister or something?" Luffy asked.

"No, she is my cousin." responds Jenny while Luffy nodded in response. A man then came in the interrogation room as Franky got back to his seat. "I would like you two to meet one of the Frontier brains, Brandon. Brandon, these two have defeated two members of Team Rocket with no pokemon, whatsoever."

"Is that so? What a relief. I came here to help as soon as I've heard about this situation. I couldn't stand by, and allow something like this go on. I was afraid that our resources may not be enough to resolve this issue, but you two might become very useful for our task." Brandon said while having his hand around his chin.

"Task?" Luffy asked.

"Yes. You see, there has been an announcement that there is going to be a tournament that is going to take place in the stadium tomorrow. But for some reason, nobody knows who was the one sponsoring it. And what is even weirder, that there have been several occasions where Team Rocket would appear in towns more than usual. We don't have many leads, but we think that they are related to this tournament." Jenny said.

"So wait, who exactly are these Team Rocket you guys are talking about so much?" Franky asked.

"They are a corporation that would steal Pokemon from either there habitats or from their owners to get them do what they want. They are led by a cruel man named Giovanni, a man who cares about nothing else but his accomplishments. We believe that this tournament is being run by him, and he might pull something drastic at the end." Jenny said.

"So why don't you guys find him or something?" Luffy asked.

"That is out of the question. By the time we know of his whereabouts, the tournament would have been already over." Brandon said. "Besides, he has more hideouts than every other criminal in this world. He goes to another base every week or less."

"Then what do you guys want us to do about it?" Franky asked.

"We are not asking much, but can you guys help us by participating in the tournament? We might think that one of Giovanni's goons will participate in order to capture pokemon without anybody noticing. If we're right, we can put a stop to them before they would blink. What do you say?" Jenny asked. Luffy and Franky looked at eachother for a second, before looking back at Jenny and Brandon.

"Ok, we'll do it for you." Luffy said as Franky just nodded.

"Excellent. Brandon will be participating as well. You guys can register at the stadium, which is in the plaza. This is an important mission, so don't screw up. If you succeed, we're forever in your debt." Jenny said.

"A secret mission? Cool, I can't wait to tell the others about this." Luffy said excitedly.

"NOOO!" Brandon yelled, which made Luffy and Franky fall of their seats.

"Why are you yelling at us, man!?" Franky yelled.

"You must not tell anybody about this. If someone working for Giovanni hears you, then this whole mission will be ruined." Brandon said. "I will you meet you guys at the stadium; we will not communicate until that time. You can leave."

Luffy got up as he and Franky left the station and stopped to think for a moment. "Orange girl is not going to be amused when she hears about this, you do know that, right?" Franky asked.

"It's no problem. As soon as we beat up all of Giovanni's guys, then we can go back with the mystery heart search. What can go wrong?" Luffy asked as he and Franky headed back to the park.

Meanwhile…

Robin walked around the plaza till she saw Nami sitting an a chair. Robin walked up to her while the feet that were on Sanji's back followed her. "What is going on, Miss Navigator?" Robin asked. Nami looked behind her shoulder to see Robin.

"Nothing much, just felt like watching a couple of mirror tracks." Nami said as the children in front of her couldn't wait any longer.

"Hurry up! I want to see some magic!" yelled one of the children. All of a sudden, colorful spotlights started to to point at the stage curtain.

"Wait no longer, the magic show is about to begin!" The announcer said. The children screamed happily as Robin sat right next to Nami. Sanji was regaining consciousness as the feet from his back disappeared. He then got up to see a stage in front of him.

"What is going on?" asks Sanji.

"Some sort of magic show or something. I thought we could just take a break for awhile." Nami said, as she was waiting for the magician to show up already. Sanji then took a seat right next to Robin as the spotlights started to move around the curtain and a drum roll could be heard.

"And now, the moment you all been waiting for! He is known as the most charming magicians that ever existed, not to mention the most talented of them all. Please give a warm welcome to the one and only, Dimentio!" said the announcer excitedly as a puff a smoke came out of nowhere that covered the entired stage.

The puff of smoke then cleared as it revealed a jester of some sorts. He had a purple and white striped robe all over his black clothing. One side of his face is white while the other side is black. He has a yellow eye in his black side while he has a black eye in his white side. He had black gloves and black shoes, he has a jester hat that has purple and white strips. He has a cheerful expression across his face as the children clapped their hands upon his arrival. "Ah ha ha ha! Thank you, my friends, it is so good to be here." The jester said happily- Dimentio.

"Do a magic trick, do a magic trick!" said one of the children excitedly. All the children then started to say the same thing as Dimentio laughed happily.

"Now, now, be patient. There is plenty of tricks that are under my sleeve. There is no need to rush." Dimentio said as then lifted his finger in the air. He then started to move it around in circles as a little orb was forming above. Dimentio stopped as he then snapped his fingers as the orb was then formed into a flock of pidgeys.

"Yay!" Cheered the children happily as the pidgeys flew away.

"That was quite of a trick." Robin said.

"Meh, It was just a bunch of mirrors." Nami said, not impressed at all.

Dimentio then took out a tennis ball and pointed his finger at it as the tennis ball started to clone itself, making more tennis ball in the process. Dimentio waved his hand at the tennis balls as they then floated in the air. The tennis balls swirled around in circles until they went up in the air and exploded as they made bright and fancy lights, like fireworks.

The children stood amazed as Dimentio raised his palm which made all the lights went form over it. He lifted his free hand near his hand with the lights and snapped his fingers. The lights then turned into 3 big scoops of ice-cream on a cone as Dimentio then gave it to a little girl, who was delighted. Dimentio then appeared that he was about to sneeze. He faced toward the sky and sneezed out an flock of Butterfrees in the air. The children went 'ooo' as they saw the butterfrees flying away.

Dimentio snapped his fingers as three empty cardboard boxes appeared out of nowhere. The boxes then went atop of eachother as it then formed a big box. Dimentio tapped the box a couple of times before lifting up the boxes to reveal a very beautiful lady that happen to appear inside. The children clapped their hands as Sanji was about to run to the stage until Nami forcefully pulled him back to his seat.

"I love magic shows!" Sanji yelled happily, while Nami just scoffed, still not impressed. Dimentio then put the big box over the beautiful lady, and grabbed a couple of swords from a table that was beside him. "Wha-Wha is he doing?" Sanji asked as Dimentio then plunged a sword through a box. "WHAT THE HELL!?" Sanji was about to run to the stage to hurt Dimentio, but Nami stopped him again by forcefully pulling him back to his chair again.

"Will you take it easy? It's all fake. That woman must have went through the trap door before the clown plunged through the box she was in." Nami said, as Sanji was a little shaky.

"O-Okay Nami-swan. If that's what you believe, then I have no right to question your theory." Sanji said as he nervously wonders what Dimentio would do next.

Dimentio then grabbed another kind of sword and plunged right through the box which made Sanji squeal. Dimentio took out a bomb and put it through the hole over the box before it exploded, causing the box to disfigure a little. "OI, YOU SON OF A…" Sanji yelled before Nami covered his mouth as he then calmed down.

Dimentio then grabbed a box full of cockroaches and let them loose in the box, which made Sanji feel ill. Dimentio grabbed a pair of sunglasses as he put them on before pulling out a flamethrower. "AAAHHHH!!" Sanji cried as Dimentio's flamethrower poured a stream of flames in the hole over the box. Black smoke started to come out of the box as Sanji was biting his fingernails nervously.

Dimentio put the flamethrower back behind the curtain before pulling out a chainsaw. Sanji's eyes got really big as his pupils were dilated in fear before Dimentio started to cut the box in half. Sanji stood their paralyzed as Dimentio put the chainsaw away as well of his sunglasses before the box fell to reveal the woman was still there, unharmed and unfazed. Everyone cheered as Sanji fainted with relief as Nami continued to scoff.

"I bet she used a trapdoor to get back in the box before it fell apart." Nami said as the beautiful woman grabbed the destroyed boxes before getting of the stage.

"And now for the big finale! For this act, I will need a volunteer from the audience." Dimentio said as everyone raised their hands, eagerly wanting to participate. "Now let's see… no, not him… not that one… ahh, she'll do just fine. How about that lovely orange hair female all the way over there?" Dimentio said pointing at Nami.

"Who me?" Nami asked, as Sanji woke up infuriatingly.

"Oh no, you don't! I am not going to let you do your sick tricks on Nami-san!" Sanji yelled as she then saw Nami walk to the stage. "Nami-san! What are you doing!?" Sanji asked nervously, as Nami looked at Sanji over her shoulder.

"I am going to participate. Don't worry, everyone knows that magic is fake, and I'll prove that once I get over there." Nami says before walking to the stage, leaving Sanji to weep in fear. Nami got on stage, and grumpily looks at Dimentio, who put his hands together in a delightful way.

"Hello, my beloved volunteer. What is your name?" Dimentio asked happily.

"Nami, and I am not your beloved." Nami said rudely as Sanji had fire in his eyes after hearing Dimentio say 'beloved' to Nami.

"Ah ha ha ha ha! You have a nice temper, like an orange boiling up during a sunny day." Dimentio said happily, which made Nami even more grumpy.

"Whatever, just get this over with so I can get back to my life." Nami said rudely.

"Whatever makes you happy." Dimentio said as he then faced the crowd. "I will do something that has never been done before in the history of magic. I will cut Nami to pieces, and put them back together again." Dimentio said as everyone didn't seemed to impressed as Nami sighed in boredom.

"That is like the oldest big finale ever. Cant you be a little more original?" Nami asked as Dimentio didn't appeared to be finished talking.

"And I will do that without boxes and covers so everyone could see for themselves." Dimentio said as everyone stood shock, especially Nami and Sanji.

"What?" Nami asked kinda nervously.

"WHAT!?" Sanji yelled furiously as steam blew out of his ears.

"That is original." Robin said plainly, as a plain table appeared in the middle of the stage.

"Now please lay here and relax." Dimentio instructed as Nami rested herself on the table. Dimentio then strapped Nami onto the table in order for her not to move at all. "Just for safety precautions." Dimentio said happily, which made Nami gulp. Dimentio then brought a table with numerous of cutting objects near Nami. "Now this may be little gruesome to some of you folks, so If you are not use to gore, then I recommend not watching at all." Dimentio said, as nobody covered their eyes as they were excited to see how this act will turn.

"Oh, it looks like everyone likes to see some gore. What video games from overrated consoles do to children these days." Dimentio chuckled to himself as he then looks at Nami. "Now do not worry, this wont hurt… much."

Sanji overheard that and quickly ran to the stage and looked at Dimentio furiously. "Okay, you! Show is over!!" Sanji yelled as he frees Nami from the table.

"Oh dear, I was just kidding. This is a harmless trick, like a little mosquito sucking blood from a giant." Dimentio said, but Sanji didn't listen to him.

"I don't care! If I see fear in Nami-san's beautiful eyes, then I know that she is not able to go through with your so called magic trick! I will be taking Nami-san out of here, thank you very much." Sanji said as he carries Nami-san out of the stage as everyone groaned sadly. "Are you alright, Nami-swan?" Did that tricky, stinkin', freakin', smilin' clown scare you?"

"I'll admit I was a little afraid, but I'm okay now. Thanks, Sanji-kun." Nami said as a big heart came out of Sanji's visible eye. Nami then stood up while Sanji was tap dancing with joy. "I am not going to another magic show again as long as I live."

"Atleast it was fun while it lasted." Robin said kindly.

"Yeah, glad that you enjoyed it. Let's get back to the park. The rest might be waiting for us." Nami said as they started to walk out of the plaza.

"Well I am sorry to say, but the show is now over, folks. Hope you enjoyed the show!" said the announcer as everyone began to leave as, Dimentio also left the stage as well.

"Hmm… that didn't quite worked out as I planned, but atleast it was something. Now that I remember, he did mention somebody with orange hair and a guy with a curly eyebrow going world to world by collecting the hearts Master hand made. Hmm… I wonder if they will participate in the tournament? Heh, this can be quite an interesting day." Dimentio said happily as he walked to a stadium.

Meanwhile…

Usopp and Chopper were walking back to the plaza until something caught Usopp attention. "What is this?" Usopp asked as he looked at a poster, advertising about a tournament being held in a stadium.

"What is that, Usopp?" Chopper asked.

"It says that there is a tournament coming up." Usopp said. Usopp then came up with an idea and smirked evilly at Chopper.

"Why are you looking at me like that?" Chopper asked nervously.

"We are going to enter this tournament and win." Usopp said while rubbing his hands evilly.

"What!? But we can't enter it. We are not that strong enough." Chopper said.

"Who said anything about we?" Usopp asked as Chopper got even more nervous.

Meanwhile…

In a far distance from Indigo Plateau, there was a boy with a red hat walking through the road with a yellow mouse with red cheeks on his shoulder. "It looks like we are getting closer to the docks, Pikachu. We are almost on our way to the Sinnoh region." said the boy.

"Pikachu." said the cute yellow mouse- Pikachu.

Before they could head further though, a motorcycle blocked their way as officer Jenny was the one riding the motorcycle.

"Ash Ketchum?" Officer Jenny asked.

"Uh, yeah. Is their a problem, officer Jenny?" asked the boy- Ash Ketchum.

"We are in need of your assistance. Please get on." Jenny said.

"Pika?" Pikachu said in confusion.

TO BE CONTINUED…

I have a gut feeling that this arc would be a little longer than the rest, but what do I know. Dimentio is from Super Paper Mario by the way. That's all for now.

Pokemon Pt 4

This chapter is mostly about talking and I was kinda tired when doing this, but it should be okay. Enjoy!

Magicians are so charming sometimes. Nami, Sanji, and Robin decided to take a break and watch a magic show. A happy magician known as Dimentio astounded the crowd with his tricks, except for Nami. Dimentio selected Nami as a volunteer in order to do his big finale. But Sanji interrupted his big finale and carried Nami out of the stage, thus finishing Dimentio's show early. Meanwhile, Luffy and Franky were informed that a tournament was being held and it may have something to do with an evil group called Team Rocket. Luffy and Franky accepted their secret mission officer Jenny gave him and where now heading back to the park, where their comrades are suppose to be. Will Luffy and Franky stop Team Rocket's plan and how will Nami react to Luffy and Franky's decision?

Chapter 27: To the stadium, Giovanni's evil scheme

Luffy and Franky were on their way back to the park as Luffy was introducing himself to everyone for no reason. "Hi! I am Luffy, and we are in a seeecret mission." Luffy said happily while the guy he was talking to just walked off. "Hi! I'm Luffy and we are in a seeecret mission." Luffy said again as he talking to a guy snoozing on a bench.

"What are you doing?" Franky asked.

"What? I am just saying hello to everyone." Luffy said while looking at every direction.

"But why is it that you are saying hello to everyone?" Franky asked.

"I just wanted to let them know that we are in a seeecret mission. That way, they don't get suspicious of us." Luffy explained while nodding his head.

"They are already suspicious of us, even if you hadn't say anything to them. So stop talking to random people, okay?" Franky said.

"Aww, but then they are not going to know that we are in a seeecret mission." Luffy whined.

"You moron. Nobody is suppose to know about the seeecret… I mean, the secret mission that we are now in thanks to…" Franky said before Luffy quickly covered his mouth. Luffy then began to whisper in Franky in a soft tone…

"FRANKY! WE ARE NOT SUPPOSE TO TALK ABOUT THE SEEECRET MISSION THAT WE ARE IN UNTIL THE TOURNAMENT BEGINS!!!" Luffy yelled very loudly as Franky almost fainted. Franky then got up and rubbed his ear.

"Thanks a lot, now I can't hear anything." Franky said while rubbing his ear.

"Serves you right for talking about talking about the seeecret mission. You know that we are not suppose to talk about that between us." Luffy said as Franky regained his hearing.

"What about you, huh? You are the one who was talking about it to every random person you meet." Franky sids.

"The archaeologist guy said that WE can't talk about it if Team Rocketheads are around. But he never said that we could talk about if they aren't around." Luffy said happily.

"You think that those guys are going to be wearing the same clothing here in the open? Come on, I know they're stupid, but not that stupid. Listen, When we tell this to the others, make sure you say it in a nice and constructive matter. If you do that, the less the orange head would be angry with us. You get what I am saying here, Strawhat?" Franky asked.

"Ohhhhh, so what you are saying, that we should say it seeecretive way. Got ya." Luffy said while winking at Franky, who rolled his eyes in response.

"I don't believe you, but what the heck." Franky said while shrugging as they continued to walk through town.

"Hey, you two. Come here."

Luffy and Franky looked at their left to see a man behind a table with fancy stuff on it. "How would you like to purchase one of the most rarest artifacts that this world has yet to discover?" The man asked.

"Artifacts? Are they tasty?" asks Luffy as drool came out of his mouth.

"Tasty, delicious, you can call whatever you like. Be the first to look at the rarest pokeball of all time." the man said as he then went under the table to look for something.

"Poke-a-ball? What is with these names!?" Franky asked. The man then put a fancy orange pokeball on the table as Luffy's eyes went got big by amazement.

"This is one of the most legendary pokeballs that has ever existed, and I happen to be the only one who has it." The man said as Franky calmed now that he knows that the man wasn't referring to what he was thinking.

"Ohhh, it looks fancy." Luffy said.

"Fancy my grandmother's panties! I bet this guy is trying to rip us off." Franky says as Luffy and the man looked at him oddly.

"Okay… you might think this is a ripoff. But I guarantee that this is not a ripoff. You can tell by reading my card." the man says as he handed Luffy his card.

"'Mr. salesperson, the guy who sells things that are worth your time and they are not ripoffs." Luffy read as he nodded positively.

"Now that you know that this isn't ripoff, how about you buy this artifact while have the chance?'" The salesman said while Luffy searched in his pockets. He then pulled out a rupee he got back from Hyrule and showed it to the man.

"How much will this cover?" Luffy asked as the man suddenly snatched the rupee out of Luffy's hand.

"This is just the same amount that it costs. Enjoy your artifact!" The salesman said before he somehow packed everything including the table in his suitcase before he started to run off. A couple of seconds later, the man quickly ran back to them. "I forgot to tell you that the pokeball can not open no matter what. Bye!" The salesman said before he ran off for good.

"Now you can't tell me that guy wasnt ripping us off." Franky said while Luffy was looking at the orange pokeball. "I cant believe you bought that thing. We are not going to need it."

"But it looks so important. Like it was destiny that we would meet or something." Luffy said as he puts the pokeball inside his pants between his legs. Franky looked at Luffy awkwardly

"Okay… why did you put it there?" Franky asked nervously.

"Down where?" Luffy asked while tilting his head sideways in confusion.

"You know what, forget about it. Let's just get to the park already." Franky said irritatingly as he, and Luffy walked to the park. They were now at the fountain, where Sanji, Robin and the grumpy Nami were.

"Where the hell have you guys been? You were suppose to be here 5 minutes ago." Nami said.

"Great, she is already mad… we are outlaws, so we can show up anytime we want to." Franky said cockingly before Nami punched him in the face.

"Well anyway, did you guys happen to get any info about the heart?" Nami asked.

"Nope." Luffy said happily as Franky got up. Nami then let out sigh and looked at the fountain beside her.

"We didn't get any info either. The only thing we found out is that all these creatures are called pokemon." Nami said.

"Not to mention that your experience with that magician back at the magic show." Robin said which made Nami shiver in disgust.

"Wasn't Marimo with you guys?" Sanji asked.

"Ahh, don't get me started with him. He got lost as soon as we looked away from him." Franky said as Nami smacked her forehead in disbelief.

"Jeez, we have only been here for a couple of hours and we already having problems. I don't know how much I can take." Nami whined. Just as soon as she said that, Usopp and Chopper was now in view.

"Why do we have to participate in that tournament? You are not pokemon trainer nor I am a pokemon." Chopper said while Usopp shook his head.

"Chopper, you must understand. If we win, then we can prove to everyone that we are the best team ever." Usopp said confidently, while Chopper wasn't to sure.

"Why are you so confident all of a sudden? You are usually so scared of everything until now." Chopper said as Usopp looks up in the clear blue sky.

"-sigh-… I just have good feeling that nothing bad would ever happen in this world. From now, everything good will happen to me and you." Usopp said proudly as Chopper had sparks of joy coming out of his eyes.

"Really!?" Chopper asked excitedly. Usopp stops and looks at Chopper with great pride.

"You can count on it, my friend." Usopp said before he saw Nami and the others near the fountain. "Come on, Choppermon. Let us go to our friends." Usopp said happily.

"Okay, but stop calling me that." Chopper said as he and Usopp walked up to his crew.

"Any luck with you guys?" Nami asked.

"No, we didn't get any info." Chopper said as Nami looked at the ground angrily. "But Usopp and I are planning to participate in a tournament that is going to take place in a couple of hours." Chopper said as Usopp quickly got scared, as he forgot to tell Chopper not to mention about that to Nami, or she will freak out.

Usopp looked at Nami, who seemed unfazed after what she just heard. "Participating in a tournament, you say?" Nami asked rather calmly.

"Uhh, yeah. We thought that we could have a little fun while searching for the heart thing. You don't mine, do you? DON'T HURT ME!" Usopp cried as he prepares for the worst to happen. Strangely though, Nami seems completely calm about this, which is kinda creeping everybody else, including me.

"It's okay. You can go have fun while we do all the heavy work for you. No problem at all." Nami said kindly as Usopp got out of his defensive position.

"A-Are you sure about this?" Usopp asked kinda nervously. Nami nodded kindly as Luffy happily put his hands around his waist.

"Well since you feel good about this, I guess I can tell you that me and Franky are going to participate in the tournament too." Luffy said as Nami then started to blush while smiling in a calm way.

"You… both are going to participate? Why is that?" Nami asked in a kinder way.

"Okay, I know that you are going to burst right now, but I might as well tell you that we are in some sort of a secret mission or whatever, and we have to participate in this tournament in order to accomplish it." Franky said as Nami tilted her head in a kind way.

"Secret mission? What secret mi…" was all that Usopp said before Luffy quickly covered his mouth, also injuring him in the process.

"SSSSHHHHHH, we cant tell you. It is a seeecret." Luffy whispered as he let go of Usopp's mouth.

"Ow.." Usopp groaned while rubbing his mouth in pain.

"Well, you guys have fun with the tournament and whatever secret mission you plan to do. You can leave the rest to us." Nami said happily.

"Really?" Chopper asked as sparks of joy came out of his eyes.

"NO, NOT REALLY!! WHAT DO YOU TAKE ME FOR, YOU LITTLE RACCOON!?" Nami yelled so loud that Luffy, Usopp, Chopper, Franky, including everybody that happened to be in front of her fell down, including a palm tree. "WE ARE NOT HERE TO BEAT PEOPLE UP FOR NO STINKIN REASON!! WE ARE HERE SO WE CAN GET SOME STUPID HEART AND GET OUT OF THIS WORLD ALREADY!!! DID ANY OF THAT GET THROUGH YOUR THICK HEADS!?" Nami yelled as everyone in front of her got up.

"Yes, we do. We are very sorry." Luffy, Usopp, Chopper and Franky say at the same time as they bowed down to Nami, who was calming down a bit.

"Hah, Nami-san is so beautiful when she screams her guts out." Sanji said happily.

While they were still talking, they were unaware that they were being watched from behind some bushes. It was none other than our favorite trio, Jessie, James and Meowth, who were done spying on the Strawhats.

"Did you hear that?" Jessie asked excitedly.

"The better question is, who didn't?" James said.

"Those guys are from another world." Meowth said as he saw Nami yelling at Luffy's face for no reason.

"To think that those guys are from another world. That pretty much explains their abilities." Jessie said.

"Please don't tell me we are going to try to get them. That last blow was horrific. I prefer an electric shock." James whimpered.

"We don't have to." Meowth said while folding his arms. Jessie and James then looked at the oddly.

"What do you mean, Meowth?" James asked.

"Don't you get it? Those guys are finding some heart, right? Well, if we tell them where it is, then they have to thank us back." Meowth said.

"But we don't know where that heart is. How are we suppose to tell them if we don't have a clue on what it looks like?" James asked.

"You are so slow, James. Meowth is saying that we tell them where the heart is, then they will go to that location. That is when we put a trap there and catch them and force them to do our bidding." Jessie said.

"Not quite." Meowth said, which made Jessie confuse. "You see, what do you need in order to find something?"

"Hmm… a compass?" James said.

"No, you idiot. Money." Meowth said which made Jessie and James nod in response. "When you want to travel to places, you need money to get there."

"So they need money. We don't have any money to give them, Meowth." Jessie said which made Meowth shook his head in response.

"But we do know who does." Meowth said with an evil grin.

"Oh no, Meowth. Please don't tell me you are referring to…" James said.

"That's right. Our boss can give them the money they need." Meowth said, which made James shiver in fear.

"Are you mad? That is like asking permission to die. We are already in bad terms with him anyway." James said nervously.

"Hear me out. We are not going to ask the boss for money. Instead, they are going to ask him for what they need." Meowth said as he then imagined an 40 year old man with an orange suit sitting on a chair behind his desk, looking very angry. "Imagine the boss in his office, seeing alot of his men unable to get any pokemon."

"Grr, you all are worthless. How can I get any pokemon if none of you cant even catch a Weedle!?" yelled the imaginary man with Meowth's voice as all of his men cried afterwards. "Gah! There is no point on going on with this. I might as well quit and turn myself to the authorities."

"I dont think our boss is that emotional, so your story doesn't work for me." James said.

"Quiet! I am not done yet!" Meowth yelled as resumed with his imagination. "Then all of a sudden, those guys from another world will show up and decide to work for him in order to get that heart." Meowth said as he imagined the Strawhats with Team Rocket uniforms, not to mention that they look evil. The man jumps in joy as he saw them. Meowth then imagines the Strawhats destroying everything in sight, and collecting huge pile of different kinds of pokemon as the man was laughing happily.

"The boss will be so happy, he will say: 'I am so glad that Meowth and his friends were able to find these strong people for me. I will give them a promotion so big, that they will be set for life!'" the imaginary man said as Meowth stopped imagining it while he was so happy along with Jessie and James.

"That is the best plan you have ever come up with, Meowth." Jessie said excitedly.

"Of course it is. I was the one who came up with it." Meowth said cockingly.

"This time, Team Rocket will be the ones who will have the last laugh." James said, happily as they all held hands.

"Big promotion, here we come! Wooo!" said the trio will laughing happily on the ground.

"Excuse me."

Jessie, James, and Meowth stopped laughing and looked at the person who called them, who turned out to be Zoro along with Pichu on his shoulder. "Sorry to disturb your… happy fest, but do you happen to know where the park is?" Zoro asked while Team Rocket looked at him oddly.

"Uh, yeah. Its.. right over there." James said as he points to where to the fountain, where the Strawhats are.

"Oh, there they are. Thanks." Zoro said as he walks off to his comrades, leaving Jessie, James and Meowth alone.

"Is he with them?" Jessie asked.

"I think so. That means…" James said.

"… Our plan is ruined." Meowth said as he, Jessie and James sighed sadly. Zoro walked to the fountain as Sanji then looked at him.

"Oi, it took you awhile to get here." Sanji says.

"Shut up, I was just exploring the place a bit." Zoro lied.

"Yeah right, you got lost again, you idiot!" Franky yelled while raising his left hand in the air. Sanji then noticed Pichu hiding behind Zoro's head. Sanji tried to getter look at it, but Pichu kept moving so it wouldn't get seen.

"Who is that, Zoro?" Luffy asked while pointing at Pichu, who then quickly hid in Zoro's shirt.

"Get out of there!" Zoro yelled as he pulls Pichu out of his shirt, and puts him on his shoulder. "-sigh-… this is Pichu. A couple of bees were attacking him, so I saved him." Zoro said as Pichu waved shyly.

"Aww, Marimo has a little friend." Sanji teased as Pichu then licked Zoro's cheek.

"Shut up, at least I have one." Zoro said while Pichu was rubbing his cheek to Zoro's.

"Will you guys knock it off? I am still trying to convince these idiots not to participate in the tournament." Nami said while looking at Luffy angrily.

"Tournament? What tournament?" Zoro asked.

"These idiots want to participate in some idiotic tournament. They said that it is needed to accomplish their stupid secret mission or something." Nami said as Luffy quickly covered her mouth.

"Ohh… good, I'll join too." Zoro said while Pichu tilted his head sideways. Nami shoved Luffy off as soon as she heard that.

"Great, another idiot. I give up, If you want to waste time, then be my guest!" Nami said before she began to stomp off to town. "What are you standing there for!? The sooner you guys win this tournament, the better!" Nami yelled before stomping off again.

"Okay! Where are heading to the tournament!" Luffy said excitedly as everyone followed the grumpy Nami.

"Pichu?" Pichu said.

"If your asking that if she is always like that, then yes. I told you that hanging around with me wasn't a good idea." Zoro said which made Pichu tilt his head sideways as they continue to follow their crew. They made it to the plaza, where the stadium currently is. "Is that the place?"

"I believe so." Robin said.

Luffy, Usopp and Chopper then ran as fast as they could to the stadium, and went inside, as they then saw the place was filled with people.

"Yaaaaah, this place is filled with people." Luffy said as the rest of the crew catched up with them. "I wonder where do you sign up?"

"There it is, but there is a huge line. Atleast it's moving fast." Sanji said. As they communicated, a person walking by happen to recognize those voices. He turned to see Nami and Sanji, who he clearly remembered from his magic show. The person then started to walk to them.

"Salutations, my friends." said none other than Dimentio. As soon as Nami looked at him, she felt disgust all over her body, while Sanji was infuriated.

"YOU!! HAVE YOU COME HERE TO FINISH WHAT YOU HAVE STARTED!?" Sanji yelled furiously while Dimentio simply laughed.

"Ah ha ha ha ha! Settle down, my blonde friend. I am not in business hours, so you don't need to worry about that anymore. Besides, it was just a harmless trick." Dimentio said happily.

"JUST A HARMLESS TRICK!? YOU WANTED TO CUT HER OPEN, YOU MANIAC!" Sanji yelled.

"Oh, well then a quadrillion pardons I send to you and my former beloved volunteer." Dimentio said, which made Nami angry.

"I am not your beloved, you happy moron!" Nami stated as Dimentio laughed.

"I understand. Oh, but how rude of me not to introduce myself to your friends." Dimentio said as he faced towards Luffy. "My name is Dimentio, the charming magician at your service."

"Woah, you are a magician? Can you do a magic trick?" Luffy asked while sparks of joy came out of his eyes, as well as Chopper's.

"Why certainly." Dimentio said as he took out a deck of cards. "Pick a card." Dimentio said as Luffy picked the one that had Dimentio's happy face on it. Luffy then placed it back at the deck as Dimentio then snapped his fingers as it made a beautiful lady appear next to him. Dimentio then gave the deck to the lady as she then placed it in a huge cannon that just happened to be there.

"Was that cannon there when we got in?" Franky asked as the lady was holding a torch.

"FIRE!" Dimentio yelled as the lady lit the fuse with the torch as the cannon then fired the deck of cards right at his face. Everyone except for Luffy and Chopper sweatdropped as Dimentio swiped the cards off of his face.

"Now I would like for you to look under your hat." Dimentio said as Luffy was confused at first, until he took off his hat to see the card with Dimentio's face on it. Luffy's and Chopper's eyes popped out of their heads as soon as they saw that.

"Holy cow! How did that get here? Man, you are the greatest magician I ever seen!" Luffy said excitedly.

"If it was under his hat, then what was the whole point on using the cannon?" Usopp asked baffled.

"To make it look interesting, of course. It wouldn't be a special trick without the cannon, would it?" Dimentio asked, leaving the baffled Usopp to think for himself.

"You are really cool! Do you want to be a part of my crew?" Luffy asked.

"WHAT!?" yelled everyone except for Chopper and Robin as Dimentio simply laughed.

"That would be splendid. But sadly, I cannot accept your invitation. I am more of a person that does things in his own way, like a kitty cat searching for his own food." Dimentio said as Luffy understood.

"Wow, that sounded so smart. I guess I will have to live with that." Luffy said sadly.

"By the way, are you guys going to participate in the tournament?" Dimentio asked.

"Yes, we are going to participate." Luffy said before he started to whisper to Dimentio. "We are on a seeecret mission." he whispered as Franky slapped his forehead.

"A secret mission? My, my, do tell." Dimentio said until Nami grabbed Luffy by the cheek.

"Enough talking, just sign up already." Nami said as she tossed Luffy to the counter.

"Well then, I guess I will see you later then. Ciao." Dimentio said before he left to do his own business. Franky took one last look at him before he left.

"Oi, Strawhat. Don't you think that guy was rather suspicious?" Franky asked.

"What do you mean?" Luffy asked.

"What do you mean what do you mean? That guy could be working for those Team Rocket guys." Franky said.

"What makes you say that?" Luffy asked.

"Well, first of all, that smile of his. No person is that happy." Franky said which made Luffy laugh.

"Ha ha ha ha! You worry too much. Don't worry, I'll know who exactly is the suspicious guy once I get one look at him. And I bet it will be the next person that comes right through that door." Luffy said while pointing back at the entrance of the stadium.

Meanwhile…

Officer Jenny, along with Ash and Pikachu were riding to the stadium. "So you think Team Rocket is hosting the tournament?" Ash asked.

"Positive, and since you are the only one I know who happens to confront them everyday, I thought that you would be the perfect choice to face them." Jenny said as they parked in front of the stadium Ash got off the motorcycle. "Register inside, I will meet up with you later." Jenny said before driving off. Ash then walked in front of the entrance, looking rather confident.

"Okay, Pikachu. Are you ready?" Ash asked.

"Pika!" Pikachu said happily.

"Great, let's go." Ash said as he was about to enter.

In some other location…

In the mountains near Indigo Plateau, there lied a very tall building. And not just any building, this building was none other than Team Rocket's. In the top floor, there was a huge office with huge windows for walls. At the end of the room was a small desk and man with an orange suit was sitting behind it. He was petting his pokemon that looked like Meowth, only that it is bigger, and has a red gem instead of an oval coin on its forehead.

The door opened as an old man with no hair on his head except for the back entered the room. "Sir Giovanni, your tournament is about to begin in a couple of minutes." The old man said as the man known as Giovanni smirked evilly.

"Good. Anything else, Professor Nanba?" Giovanni asked to the old man known as Nanba.

"Ah yes, we were able to get a DNA sample from the pokemon that attacked La Rousse city a couple of years ago. We should be able to make an exact clone of it in no time." Professor Nanba said.

"Excellent. This will be Team Rocket's greatest achievement yet. Isn't that right, Persian?" Giovanni asked as his pokeman called Persian purred in response. Giovanni then got up, and looked outside to see the whole city of Indigo Plateau through his huge window. "It is only a matter of time until we strike. When that happens, all the pokemon from all over the world will be mine to control. Isn't that right, my equal?" Giovanni asked as he faced towards a pokemon hidden the shadows.

The pokemon got out of the shadows to reveal himself to be some sort of creature with a purple tail. He had armor almost all over his body, including his head. His eyes then glowed blue right through his helmet's visor.

TO BE CONTINUED…

This chapter was kinda sloppy if you ask me, but oh well. Tournament battles, Next Chapter.

Pokemon Pt 5

We all know who are going to participate, but would there be more? Yes, and their quite random, but their the best people I can think of. Enjoy!

Heart search delayed. Luffy and Franky told Nami that they were going to participate in tournament as well as Usopp, Chopper, and Zoro. Despite being fiercely yelled at by Nami, they decided to participate anyway. They went to the stadium and encountered Dimentio, who disgusted Nami and Sanji upon sight. Dimentio impressed some of the Strawhats by doing an unusual card trick. As that was happening, The leader of Team Rocket, Giovanni, is officially the one hosting the tournament. Just what evil scheme is he planning? And how will this affect the Strawhats?

Chapter 28: Tournament begins, The unexpected contestants

Luffy was anxiously waiting for the first person that would come in through the door of the stadium. The door the slowly opened as Luffy was about to pounce until Zoro grabbed his shoulder. "We don't have time for you idiotic ways right now. Lets just sign up before the positions are filled." Zoro said as Luffy shrugged and ran to the counter, followed by Zoro. As they lined up, Ash got inside and looked at his surroundings.

"Now, where do we sign up?" Ash asked as Pikachu stood on his head and looked all over the place. Pikachu then saw a counter with a sign that read 'registrations' on it.

"Pika!" Pikachu said while pointing at the counter.

"Oh, there it is. Lets get in line." Ash said as he takes his place in line right behind Zoro. Luffy and Franky where up next as they were greeted by a pink haired nurse.

"Hello, I am nurse Joy. Would you like to participate for the tournament?" asks the nurse known as Nurse Joy.

"Yeah, we both want to participate as a team." Luffy said before he started to whisper to Nurse Joy. "We are in a seeecret mission."

"WILL YOU PLEASE STOP SAYING THAT!?" Franky yelled as Luffy got startled.

"Oh my…" Nurse joy said as she too was got startled by Franky's screaming. "Well anyway, what style will you two be using?"

"Style?" Luffy said.

"You see, normally there would be tournaments that would only allow pokemon to battle against eachother, but for this tournament, you can either with, without or alongside your pokemon." Nurse Joy said.

"Ohhh… we will be fighting without the pokemon." Luffy said as Nurse Joys types something.

"Very well. What are you names?" Nurse Joy asked.

"My name is Luffy." Luffy said.

"And I am Frrranky." Franky said while doing his pose. Nurse Joy typed their names down to her computer and two cards popped out of her desk.

"These will be your identifications. You give these to the security guarding the locker room on your right." Nurse Joy said as she gives Luffy the cards.

"Thanks. Come on, Franky." Luffy said as he and Franky walked towards the direction of the locker room. Usopp and Chopper were next in line and gave their names to Nurse Joy.

"What style would you be using?" Nurse Joy.

"My pokemon, Choppermon, will be the one doing all the fighting." Usopp said as Chopper got surpised upon hearing that.

"Ehh!? I thought you were going to fight alongside me." Chopper whined.

"I am, just going to be in a safe distance and give you orders while you do all the hard stuff." Usopp said as Chopper put his head down in misery. Usopp got his and Chopper's card and headed towards the locker room while Zoro, along with Pichu on his shoulder was next to register.

"I'll be fighting alone." Zoro said, which made Pichu nudge Zoro's cheek. "What?"

"Pichu, Pi Pichu." Pichu said.

"Are you saying you want to fight alongside with me?" Zoro said.

"Pichu." Pichu said happily. Zoro sighed before looking at Nurse Joy.

"I will be fighting alongside with Pichu." Zoro said as Pichu jumped with joy. Nurse Joy handed them the cards and they left for the Locker room as Nami, Sanji and Robin looked at eachother.

"Shall we go find seats?" Robin asked.

"I guess, what else can we do?" Nami asked.

"You beautiful ladies go on ahead. I'll go get the popcorn." Sanji said as he rushes to the popcorn stand while Nami and Robin went to look for some seats. They went up some stairs and saw a huge arena that was filling up with people. In the middle, there was an arena so big, that the contestants were free to cause much damage as they like. Nami looked around the place to see any place available and saw four seats just a couple of stairs down.

"Let sit over there." Nami said as she and Robin walked to the empty seats and sat on them. "Lets just hope they finish this fast. We ain't got all day."

Meanwhile, it was Ash's turn to register.

"Hi, Nurse Joy." Ash said.

"Oh, hello Ash. It is good to see you again. Have you come to participate in this tournament?" Nurse Joy asked.

"Yep, and Pikachu will battle, right Pikachu?" Ash asked with Pikachu replying with a happy nod.

"Now that is good to hear. Most of these competitors would rather fight with their fists instead of using their pokemon, which in my opinion, doesn't seem right to me." Nurse Joy said, kinda in a sad way.

"By the way Nurse Joy, do you happen to know who is hosting this tournament?" Ash asked

"I am sorry, but I have no idea. I was just called here to register people for the tournament, but I was never told who was hosting it. But there are rumors that said Team Rocket might have something to do with this. Lets just hope that isn't true." Nurse Joy said as Ash confidently raises his fist in the air.

"Don't worry, Nurse Joy. If Team Rocket is behind this, then I will stop them for sure." Ash said confidently.

"Pikachu!" Pikachu said, bravely as well. Nurse Joy then felt happy again.

"Well if that is the case, I will be rooting for you till the end. Now here are your identification cards and the locker room is just to your right. Good luck." Nurse Joy said while giving the cards to Ash.

"Thanks, Nurse Joy." Ash said as he rushes towards the locker while passing by a rather large, green bush. The Green bush then started to shake as Jessie, James and Meowth popped their heads out of it.

"Well look who's here." Jessie said while smirking evilly.

"Its the twerp and his Pikachu." James said.

"Those guys are here afterall." Meowth said as he then looked at his companions.

"This is our big chance to capture Pikachu, and hand it over to the boss." Jessie said happily.

"Forget those people that came from another world, Pikachu is more valuable." James said.

"And when we hand it to da boss, we will live happily ever after." Meowth said as Jessie's Wobbuffet popped out of nowhere.

"Wooooobuffet!" Wobbuffet said before Jessie put him back to his pokeball.

"Come on! Lets catch up with him." Jessie said as she, James and Meowth hid back in the bush and popped out their feet as they went were Ash was heading. At the outside of the Locker room was this really big guy with really big muscles with really big sunglasses guarding the door as Luffy and Franky walked up to him.

"We are the participants." Luffy said as he showed the big guy his and Franky's card. The big guy took the cards and let Luffy and Franky through as the big guy guarded the door again. Usopp and Chopper got to him as Usopp nervously lifted his and Chopper's card to him. He took those and let them in, as Usopp and Chopper zipped right in before the big guy guarded the door again. As Zoro got close to the guard, Pichu hid in Zoro's shirt upon seeing the guard. The guard smirked before Zoro gave his and Pichu's card to him as he then let them in.

A couple of moments passed as Ash walked up to the guard, which somehow made him feel very happy. "Are you Ash Ketchum from Pallet town?" asked the guard, revealing that he has a very squeaky voice.

"Uh, yeah. That's me." Ash said.

"Wow, you are like the greatest pokemon trainer I have ever heard of. Can you give me your autograph?" asked the big squeaky guard before pulling out his own autograph book out of his big pocket. Ash rubbed the back of his head in confusion before signing his name in one of the pages in the autograph book before giving it back to the big squeaky guard, who was very happy. "Oh joy. I cant wait to show this to my mom!"

"Um… okay." Ash said as a he and Pikachu sweatdropped at the same time before Ash gave the cards to the big squeaky guard. He let them both in before the guard once again guarded the door. Team Rocket were sneaking up to the guard slowly, hoping that he didnt realize that the bush was moving.

"Does he know that were in here?" James asked before Jessie and Meowth covered his mouth. Luckily, the guard seemed to have not notice.

"Shut up, you almost blew are cover!" Jessie hissed before letting go of James mouth.

"He already did." said the big squeaky guard, as Team Rocket got startled and started to walk away slowly before the guard lifted them up and threw them right threw the wall and into a bench.

"Guuooooooohhhhh…" groans Team Rocket before passing out. Back at the locker room, Luffy was looking at all the competitors with a magnifying glass.

"Where were you in 1922?" Luffy asked to some random pokemon trainer.

"Uh… I wasn't born yet?" said the pokemon trainer as Zoro pulled Luffy away from him.

"What the hell are you doing?" Zoro asked while pulling Pichu out of his shirt again.

"One of these guys must be a bad guy, so I am looking for him with this magnifying glass." Luffy said while holding the magnifying glass in the air. Zoro and Franky slapped their forehead as Luffy continued to search. "Lets see, who in this room looks very suspicious?" Luffy looks at several other people that look quite suspicious.

One of them had a sinister look on his face and was holding a bazooka. Another one had an angry look on his face and was holding a huge sword that looks rusty. Another one that had an arrogant look while holding a bucket filled with acid. Another one that had multiple scars all over his body and was holding a grenade. To say the least, the room was almost filled with suspicious people. "AHA, ITS YOU!" yells Luffy while pointing at an ordinary old lady with a lunchbox.

"Who me?" asks the old lady.

"Yes you! What is in that lunchbox? Some explosives, perhaps?" Luffy asked while walking up to the old lady.

"Why no, young lad. It is just my lunch." The old lady said as she opened her lunchbox to reveal an a sandwhich, an apple and a juicebox inside.

"Hmm… It does look like an ordinary meal, but I better make sure." Luffy said as he ate the whole thing and positively nodded his head afterwards. "Yep, It was just an ordinary lunch afterall." Luffy said before he saw a food table. "FOOD!" Luffy runs to the food table as the old lady left the locker room angrily. As Luffy was eating everything, Usopp was looking for something in his bag while Chopper had a worried look on his face.

"Usopp, All these people look tough. Are you sure we can win?" Chopper asked. Usopp giggled as he took out something that looked like a cape.

"Don't worry, Chopper. I got it all figured out." Usopp said while holding the cape.

While they were discussing their battle plan, Ash was walking around the room while looking at the competitors. "Wow, there sure are tough looking people in here." Ash said before he accidentally bumped to Zoro. "Oh, excuse me." Ash said as Zoro turned around to look at him.

"No problem." Zoro said as Pikachu saw Pichu on his shoulder.

"Pika!" Pikachu said happily.

"Pichu!" Pichu said happily as well. Ash saw Pichu and smiled.

"Hey, you got a Pichu. Are you a pokemon trainer?" Ash asked.

"No, this thing just likes to hang around with me. He'll be fighting alongside me." Zoro said.

"Oh, so are you going to fight using those swords there? Which one are you going to use?" Ash asked.

"I use all of them." Zoro said as Ash was impressed, as well as Pikachu.

While they were communicating, Luffy was still eating everything until Brandon walked up to them. "I see you have decided to accept your mission. That's good." Brandon said as Luffy looked at him while having a turkey in his mouth. Luffy swallowed the turkey and saluted Brandon.

"Yes sir, we are here to fulfill our seeecret mission." Luffy said happily.

"NOOO!" Brandon yelled as Luffy fell down to the ground. "You must never talk about that. Remember, we are here as normal competitors. We cannot let anybody else know about what we are planning, is that clear?" Brandon asked. Franky then helps Luffy get up from the ground.

"I think that is a little too late for that." Franky said as everyone clearly overheard their conversation. Then somebody spoke from the intercom.

"All of the participants, please head to the arena. The tournament is about to begin." the person from the intercom said as every participant started to walk out of the locker and into the arena. They got out and was applaud by a montage of people around the stadium.

"Awwwwsssssssoooooommmmee!" Luffy exclaimed excitedly as Usopp and Chopper were baffled to see how many people there were.

"Whoa, there is a lot of people here." Chopper said amazed. Fireworks were launched in the air and exploded with fancy colors as the announcer that I cannot identify, but I will say that is none other than me, Specter24.

"Welcome, to the one and only tournament! Where not just pokemon can battle, but as well as people and other sorts of creatures as well!!" I yelled as everyone cheered excitedly.

"Hmm… I think I punched that guy before." Nami said as figure walked up to her and Robin from the side.

"Salutations once again my friends." Dimentio said as Nami got irritated.

"What do you want this time?" Nami asked.

"I am sorry to bother you at a time like this, but I just cant find any seat available. Would you mind if I sit here next to your friend?"

Dimentio asked.

"Go away!" Nami yelled as Robin looked at her.

"I don't mind if he sits here, Miss Navigator. There is one extra seat for the cook-san anyway." Robin said, as Nami scoffed at the idea while Dimentio delightfully sat next to Robin. Sanji came into the outer arena with bag of popcorn and looked for Nami and Robin.

"Where are they?" Sanji said until he noticed Robin from afar. "Oh, there they are!" Sanji romantically sits down in the row where Nami and Robin were sitting, unaware that he was sitting right next to Dimentio. "Here you go, I hope you enjoy I got for you." Sanji said with his eyes closed.

"Why thank you, you are so kind." Dimentio said as he took a small amount of popcorn and ate it. Sanji didnt expected that kind of voice and immediately opened his eyes to see Dimentio waving at him.

"AHHHH, you again!? What are you doing here!?" Sanji yelled by surprise.

"Ah ha ha ha ha! Pardon me for my rudeness, but I just couldn't find a seat, so I asked them if I could sit next to them and she said I could." Dimentio said.

"I hope you don't mind, cook-san." Robin said as Sanji was doing a fake smile.

"No, I don't mind, Robin-chwan. I can sit here next to him all day." Sanji said as deep inside of him was angry as heck. Back down at the arena, I was about to introduce the competitors to the crowd.

"And now let's meet the competitors!" I said as I walked up to Luffy and Franky. "You two seem like a couple of strong guys. What are your names?" I asked

"I am Luffy, and I am going to be the Pirate King!" Luffy yelled excitedly as everyone cheered for him.

"Ow! I am the unstoppable, Frrranky!" Franky said as everyone cheered for him while he did his pose.

"You guys seem like you can beat up a couple of undead guys! Your fans will be rooting for you till the end! Now, lets look at over here." I said as I walked up to Zoro. "You seem like one of those cocky, yet unbeatable kinds." I said while Zoro looked down at me.

"Your point?" Zoro asked.

"Uh, nevermind. Let's look at over here." I said I walked up to Usopp and Chopper. "So this is one of the legendary pokemon that can talk, I presume. He looks he can beat a Golem! Not to mention that, what do the fangirls call him? Ah yes, Kawaii!" I yelled as Chopper did his happy dance while in his walk point. "Usopp, is it? Tell me what kind of abilities this pokemon can do."

"Well, Mr. Announcer guy, You will just have to find out when it is our turn to battle." Usopp said, with great confidence in his tone.

"I see. This pokemon will either defeat every opponent he comes across with or badly beaten to a pulp thanks to you." I say as Chopper got really scared. "Now lets look over here!" I said as Chopper was whining to Usopp about what I just said. I walked up to Ash, along with his Pikachu.

"You must be Ash from Pallet town. You must have come a long way to get here." I said.

"Well yeah, It is good to be here." Ash said.

"Has anyone ever told you that you take so much time to be the pokemon master, that they are already become adults?" I asked, as Pikachu tilted his head in confusion. "I thought so, now moving on." I said as I leave Ash thinking deeply.

I walk up to this fat, yellow guy, who seems to be confused right now. He is also with his son with a red shirt and blue shorts. "And who might you be?"

"I am Bart, and this is my dad, Homer." the boy named Bart said as Homer was looking at his surroundings.

"Heeey, this isn't the Donut stadium. Bart, where are we?" The man asked named Homer.

"I didn't say Donut stadium. I said Pokemon stadium." Bart said.

"Awwww, then you dragged me here for nothing?" Homer whined.

"Its not my fault that you were drunk at the time I asked you to come here. Even if you weren't drunk, I'd still trick you to come here anyway." Bart said.

"Hmmm… that makes sense-Wait a minute! Why you little!!" Homer yelled as he began to choke Bart while I sweatdropped.

"Oookaayy… let's look over here." I said as I left Homer choking Bart alone. I walked up to a very big guy that was leaning back to a wall and was also hidden in the shadows, which was hard for me to identify him. He was also along with some sort of red dog. "And… uh… who are you?" I asked, kinda nervously.

"…" was all that he said as his dog growled at me.

"O-Okay, maybe another time then." I said as I rushed over to Brandon. "Ah, it looks like one of the frontier brains have participated in this tournament. Tell me, Brandon, why are you here?"

"Just for the sport, that's all." Brandon said plainly.

"O rly? Well enjoy your so called 'sport'." I say as I clearly know what he was up to since I am the author of this story afterall.

I then walked up to a big and old man with a bandana on his head that said 'Hulkamania'. "Dude! Your Hulk Hogan!" I yelled excitedly.

"That's right, brother. How are you doing?" Hulk Hogan asked.

"Man, what are you doing here? Aren't you, like, retired, and a little old to be here?" I asked.

"Well, brother, I'm trying to do something different than fighting with wrestlers for a change. And I only one thing to say to the rest of my opponents…" Hulk Hogan said as everyone waited quietly, waiting for him what he has to say. "Watcha gonna do brothers, when Hulkamania runs wild on yooouuuu!?" Hogan said as the crowd cheered excitedly as well as Luffy.

"That amuses me everytime. Good luck, Hogan." I said before I walked to a team of two. One is a man wearing a green shirt, and was wearing sunglasses and a fake-looking mustache. The other one was a woman with dark yellowish long hair, and was wearing the same shirt and sunglasses as her partner, and was also wearing a hat. "Its a little early for Halloween, dont'cha think? Who are you guys?"

"We are super talented pokemon trainers. My name is Cassenia, and this is Buff." the woman named Cassenia said as Buff got angry.

"It's Bu… I mean, yeah. My name is Buff." Buff said.

"May I recommend that if you guys are going to disguise into something, make it look more convincing. Now onto the next one." I sid as I walk up to humanoid eagle with big muscles. "Another tough guy, Your name is…" I said before he snatched the mic out of my hand.

"Nobody wants to hear you talk anymore. I'll take over from here." The humanoid eagle said as he faces to the crowd. "I come from the glitz pits, a place where true warriors are born. I am happen to be the greatest one of them all. I am none other than Rawk Haaa aaw www www wkk!!!" yelled the guy named Rawk Hawk, but everyone stayed quiet. "I know you people are at a lost of words by beholding my presence, but I will only say this. People who messes with me are going to get RAWKED!"

"Give me that!" I yelled as I snatched my microphone away from his hand. "Ahem… there are alot more competitors, but since they are merely background characters, I will not waste my time introducing them." I said as the background characters puts their heads down in misery. "Now that are introductions are over, It is time to reveal what they get if they win. 1. A lifetime supply of meat.

"YES!" Luffy yelled excitedly.

"2. A valuable sword collection." I said as Zoro smirked. "3. The latest issues of medical and historical books." This made Chopper and Robin happy. "4. Advanced tools for ship building and repairment." This made Usopp and Franky happy. "5. A vacation to an island filled with beautiful women, which they will grant your every wish." This made Sanji tap dance with extreme joy.

"Pffft, that's all a bunch of junk." Nami said.

"And last but not least, a prize of 1,000,000,000,000 Berri!!" I yelled.

"YOU GUYS BETTER WIN!!!" Nami yelled all of a sudden as Dimentio laughed.

"And now that all the prizes have been announced, it is time to see who is worthy of obtaining them all. Let the tournament begin!!!!" I yelled as the crowd cheered excitedly.

TO BE CONTINUED…

There are ten competitors here, the question is, who will win. Till the Next Chapter…

Pokemon Pt 6

Well, here is the next chapter. Enjoy!

The tournament finally begins. Luffy, Zoro, Usopp, Chopper and Franky signed up for the tournament and were now ready to battle their way to victory. Their seems to be only 7 adversaries they should worry about; Ash Ketchum, Brandon, Homer & Bart Simpson, Hulk Hogan, Rawk Hawk, Cassenia and Buff, and a scary mystery guy. Who will advance and who will lose?

Chapter 29: The first three battles, We meet again…

All the participants were back at their locker rooms, waiting for their matches to be announced. Rawk Hawk was flexing his muscles. Hulk Hogan was putting on his wrestling gear. Homer was discussing about why french fries cant be used as a pencil to Bart, who snoozed off. Brandon was looking at Cassenia and Buff curiously. Ash was discussing his battle plans to Pikachu, along with his friend Pichu, who decided to leave Zoro with his companions for a minute.

"Can you believe it? Their are so many prizes!" Luffy said excitedly.

"Ow! And we are going to be rich once we win. This week is finally getting to the good stuff." Franky said.

"The question is, which one of us is going to get the prize? It will obviously be me of course, since I have great skills of a pokemon trainer." Usopp said, as Chopper looked at him happily.

"When was that? Like today?" Zoro asked, as Usopp folded his arms angrily. "Anyway, Luffy dont you think something is wrong here?"

"What makes you said that?" Luffy asked.

"All of those prizes mentioned before are the exact same things that we all like. It's too good to be just a coincidence." Zoro said.

"Or maybe someone out there likes us. Get a grip, swordsman." Franky said. "Nothing bad is going to happen. Even if it does, We can take it on just like our past encounters."

"You weren't with us long enough to said that. Even if nothing is going to happen, we should be alert just in case." Zoro said.

"So, there is really something bad that is going to happen?" Chopper asked.

"Lets not think about that right now, Chopper. We should be thinking about the tournament." Luffy said. "I mean this is going to be so awesome! I mean there is a wrestler, an eagle guy, two people wearing disguises, the guy that yells 'NO!' all the time, A funny fat guy and his son. Not to mention that kid right there with his yellow mouse."

"I wonder if he is Pichu's cousin or something. They seem to know eachother well." Zoro said while looking at Pikachu and Pichu talking to eachother.

"Heh heh heh, you care about your little friend." Usopp teased, while Zoro looked at him angrily.

"Hey, isn't their one guy missing?" Chopper asked. Everyone looked at their surroundings to see that their was one participant short. "Maybe it was that big scary guy that was hiding in the shadows."

"Lets just hope we don't face him. That dog of his looked very scary." Usopp said while shivering in fear.

"It doesn't matter. One of us is going to win and we will have enough money to buy a bronze statue." Luffy said, happily while everybody looked at him wierdly. Then a voice from the intercom could be heard.

"Attention all participants, We now have your matches scheduled. Please look at the monitor to view them." said the voice from the intercom as the monitor above on the wall of the locker room turned on and showed who was facing who.

The first match appeared to be Zoro and Pichu VS Hulk Hogan, The second match is Cassenia and Buff VS the mystery guy, The third match is Luffy and Franky VS Rawk Hawk, The fourth match is Homer & Bart Simpson VS background characters, The fifth match is Chopper, along with Usopp, VS Brandon, And the last one is Pikachu, along with Ash, VS another background character.

"Woohoo! We are going to face against some losers." Homer yelled excitedly. Rawk Hawk smirked and walked towards Luffy and Franky.

"You punks better be ready when it is our turn to fight. Cause when you face the Rawk, you will never feel the same again!" Rawk said cockingly as he walked away from Luffy and Franky, who didn't seem intimidated.

"So I am facing the guy who revealed to everyone that I wasnt a pokemon?" Chopper asked.

"I guess so." Usopp said. "But don't worry, Chopper. We are going to get are revenge!" yelled Usopp as Brandon simply looked at him. Cassenia and Buff looked at eachother before smiling evilly.

"We will now begin our first match. Will Zoro, Pichu, and Hulk Hogan head to the arena." the voice from the intercom said as Zoro and Hogan looked at eachother for a split second before headed to the arena while having a red and orange feathery scarf around his neck.

"Come on, Pichu." Zoro said as he walked towards the exit as Pichu caught up with him and climbed up his shoulder.

"Good luck." Ash said as Zoro lifted scratched his head in response before leaving the room. In the arena, Their was me with the mic, awaiting for the participants to come out.

"Alright, ladies and nonladies, our first match is about begin." I said as the crowd cheered.

The titantron over the entrance to the arena started to show a montage of Hulk Hogan with his theme song entitled 'Real American' started to play from the speakers. The crowd cheered wildly as Hulk Hogan appeared and was walking smoothly to the middle of the arena. When he got there, he took off his sunglasses and threw away his feathered scarf before grabbing the collar of his shirt and started to rip it in half.

The crowd cheered wildly while he did that and started to take pictures of him while he started to flex a bit. "He seems to be pretty popular." Robin said.

"What a showoff. Just because he has big muscles, doesn't mean he is perfect." Sanji said.

"You must be jealous because every girl loves him and not you." Dimentio said which made Sanji really angry, but started to calm down afterwards.

"And now for his opponent." I said as Zoro was walking into the arena and gave a nasty glare to the camera, which was showing his face on the titantron, which kinda scared everybody.

"Pichu." Pichu said while popping out of nowhere, which made the crowd go 'Awwww'.

"Awwww, doesn't that little Pichu on his shoulder makes you want to think that the guy beside him is no threat at all?" I said while Zoro was angrily muttering to some stuff to himself as he walked in front of Hogan.

"YOU BETTER WIN!" yells Nami from the stands as I walked up between Zoro and Hogan.

"Ok, in this side, weighing in 275 lb. He is one of the greatest legends of all time, Huuuulk Hoooogaaaaan!" I said as the crowd cheered. "And in this side is Zoro and with one of the coolest pokemon of all, Piiiiichuuuuu!" I said as the crowd started to cheer for Pichu.

"How come they get a proper introduction, and I don't?" Zoro asked, while I ignored him.

"Now since Zoro use swords and not Hogan, you folks might be wondering how this match is going to turn out." I said as the crowd was quite curious. "Well, we have a fancy mechanism from the Sma--I mean, a machine we used a lot of money to make, that will create an invisible barrier around the arena, where the challengers may attack eachother with full force without making any fatal injuries."

The titantron the showed a picture of Hulk Hogan on one side and a picture of Zoro and Pichu on the other. There is a percentage under them as well. "The percentages under your pictures is your damage count. When it reaches 100, you are done." I said as a squared platform formed around Hogan, Zoro, Pichu and me. "Since you guys don't need that much space, this special platform will be you fighting arena. If you fall off this platform, you lose as well." I said as I then faced to Hogan.

"Now Hulk, are you sure you want to go on with this? Because, I think that you are too old to…" I was said until he grabbed my wrist and pulled it towards himself.

"Let me tell you something, Brother. I may be old, but I still have the guts any guy that come through my way." Hogan said as he then let go off my wrist.

"I am sorry for doubting you, I will not do it again." I said before I faced Zoro. "Zoro, how are you and Pichu plan to defeat Hulk Hogan?"

"Usually, when it comes to facing one man, I fight alone. But I'll make an exception today. Pichu and I will do our best, right Pichu?" Zoro asked as he then saw Pichu, who was now sleeping. "YOU'RE ASLEEP!?" Zoro yelled while his eyes were popping out of his head, while the crowd went 'Awww' again.

"Looks like your partner is asleep. What are you going to do?" I asked. Zoro then walked to the corner of the platform and put Pichu there to let him rest. Zoro then walked up to Hogan, who smirked.

"Don't worry. I wont lay a finger on that little creature. This is just a battle between you and me." Hogan said as Zoro unsheathed his swords. I quickly run out of the platform and look at the duo, who were ready to fight.

"Okay, it is now time to begin the battle. 3… 2… 1… GO!" I said excitedly as Zoro and Hogan charged at eachother.

Zoro tried to the a horizontal slash at Hogan, but Hogan blocked Zoro's arm from moving with one arm, and punched Zoro across his face with the other. Zoro staggered a couple of steps as the percentage under his picture went up. Zoro then saw Hogan attempting to clothesline him, but Zoro ducked and did another horizontal slash at Hogan's knee. Hogan felt inner pain as the percentage under his picture went up a bit.

Hogan did a backhand on Zoro, who backflipped and charged at Hogan afterwards. Zoro does a vertical slash with both of his swords at Hogan, who was able to grab Zoro's shoulders before he could lower his swords down and push him all the way to the edge of the platform. Zoro regained his balance and jumped towards Hogan "KARASU MA-GARI!" Zoro swings his swords forward, damaging Hogan, badly as he landed on the ground while Hogan's percentage went up to 15. Zoro turned around only to get clotheslined by Hogan, giving him the total of 15 as well.

Zoro groggily opened his eyes as he then saw Hogan trying to land his elbow on him. Zoro rolled out of the way as Hogan's elbow hit the ground, causing the floor to crack a bit. Zoro got up and positioned himself to a cutting wave stance "SANJUU-ROKU POUNDOU HOU!" Zoro swings one of his swords, creating a cutting wave as it impacted on Hogan as it did hurt him, but it didn't make him budge. Hogan then saw Zoro jumping towards him again, only this time, Hogan caught him and tossed him to the ground.

"A scoop slam from Hulk Hogan. That has gotta hurt." I said as Zoro's percentage went up to 25, while Hogan was at 20. Zoro quickly got up and does a X slash at Hogan's chest, now giving him a total of 30. Hogan countered by giving Zoro an uppercut. Hogan then caught Zoro, and drived his back to his knee before doing another scoop slam to him again. Zoro pushes Hogan back with his foot and gets up while putting his swords near his head. "USHI BARI!" Zoro charges at Hogan while slashing every frontal part of his body.

During the attack, Hogan managed to grab Zoro's wrist, and then elbowing his face afterwards. He then lifted Zoro's body up and walked began to walk towards the edge of the platform, until Zoro shook off and jumped away from Hogan. "NANAJUU-NI POUNDOU HOU!" Zoro swings both of his swords, creating a more powerful cutting wave then before, as it impacted on Hogan, making him slide a few feet back. Hogan then charged at Zoro and does a running knee attack, only that Zoro rolled out of the way and slashed across his back.

"Grr.." Hogan grunted in pain as he does a backhand slap across Zoro's head as he flew across the platform, almost falling out of it. Hogan now had a 70 damage while Zoro only has 50. "I'll admit. You are one tough guy. But just because you have a lower percentage than I do, doesn't mean you have the advantage." Hogan said as Zoro got up.

"True, but I am just getting warmed up." Zoro replied as he charges at Hogan again. Zoro does a vertical slash at Hogan, who sidestepped out of the way and counters with a fist. Zoro dodges, only to get grabbed by Hogan's free hand and immediately get a headbutt on the head afterwards. Zoro staggered a bit as Hogan put his arm around Zoro's neck and lifted him in the air.

"Hogan is now going for a supplex. Oh… wait a minute." I said as Zoro breaks free and lands behind Hogan and slashes at the back of Hogan's knees. Hogan landed on his knees as Zoro rolled on front of him and was about to do a vertical slash, only Hogan pushed him away a couple of feet. Hogan got back to his feet, and does running kick across Zoro's head. Zoro landed hard on the ground as his percentage was now at 60 as Hogan was only 75. Hogan picks up Zoro and does another scoop slam to him, raising his percentage to 65.

Hogan lifted Zoro again, only Zoro quickly got free, and does a horizontal slash with all of his three swords. Hogan landed on his knees in pain as Zoro then did a vertical slash across Hogan's shoulder, only it didn't seem to affect Hogan that much as Hogan looked at Zoro with a wild look in his eyes. Zoro then does another vertical slash at the same shoulder, but Hogan instantly got up and dared him to slash again. Zoro was sorta troubled as Zoro did one more slash at Hogan, as he then seem to be full of energy.

"Hogan is now pumped up! There is no stopping him now!" I yelled as Hogan then looked at Zoro and pointed his finger at him. Zoro then tried to do a horizontal slash, but Hogan blocked it his arm, and punched Zoro across his face. He forced Zoro to get up and started to give him left and right punches to his face. Hogan then winded up his right arm before giving Zoro a nasty right punch to his face, as it made Zoro stagger back, but quickly recovered as he charged at Hogan, who seem to have expected that.

Hogan wraps his arm over Zoro's head and forces him down to the ground. "The Axe Bomber! Hogan has performed the Axe Bomber!" I yelled excitedly as Hogan lifted the groggily Zoro up, grabbed his arm, and springs him to one side before pulling him back and giving Zoro a big boot to the face. The crowd cheered as Hogan put his hand around his ear in order for the crowd to cheer louder. Hogan then took a few steps back and slowly ran at Zoro. "Prepare yourselves, folks! He is going to do the Hogan Legdrop!"

Hogan jumped over Zoro while having his legs that were about to land on Zoro. Zoro opened his eyes as he quickly rolled out of the way as Hogan landed on the ground, creating a huge crack on the floor. Hogan felt a little pain on his back after performing his finishing move, as Zoro ran to him. "TOU ROU NAGASHI!" Zoro does multiple slashes across Hogan's abdomen as Hogan fell to his knees while having a total of 90 of damage while Zoro has 95. "HYAKU-HACHI POUNDOU HOU!" Zoro swings all of his swords creating a very strong cutting wave, as it impacted on Hogan, making him fly off the platform and into the ground.

"And Hogan is out of here! The winner is Zoro and one of the cutest pokemon of all, Piiiichuuuu!!!" I yell, excitedly as everyone cheered for Zoro and Pichu, who just got up after taking his nap.

"How come he gets a proper victory fanfare while I don't?" Zoro asked while I ignored him again. Hogan then walks up to Zoro and let out his hand.

"You have a great fighting ability. I am sure you will become the best someday." Hogan said as Zoro shakes Hogan's hand.

"Thanks, you are not too bad yourself." Zoro said as Hogan then raises Zoro's arm up in the air as the crowd cheered happily.

"Marimo won afterall." Sanji said while eating some of his popcorn.

"Good, he would suffer dire consequences if he didn't." Nami said, still thinking about the prize money. Hogan left the arena as Pichu climbed up to Zoro's shoulder.

"I did all the hard work, and yet you get all the credit. I will never understand you." Zoro said as Pichu smiled happily.

"What a stupendous battle that was folks, now let's move to our second match! And just to let you know, the percentages wont count will be removed due to that cutting wave that hit the device earlier. Now on to the next match!" I yelled as I take out a notecard with the participants names. Cassenia and Buff came into the arena with a little bit of applause from the crowd as they went to the platform. "Introducing first, The team of Cassenia and Buff."

"The next time you introduce us, make it sound professional, not like some amateur." Cassenia said as Buff smirked evilly.

"Fine then, 'Cassenia'." I said with a fake smile before looking at the crowd. "And now for their opponent! He is… wait a darn second, where did that blossom tree come from?" I said surprised, as there was a blossom tree just right near the entrance.

The blossoms from the tree flew around the arena as the big mystery guy appears out of the exit. He has a combination of red and orange, along with a cape. He is tall and was wearing one of those big, round oval straw hats.

He was also wearing dense sandals and he appears some sort of red mask and he also had big curls. He was along with his red dog, that looks like one of those dog statues from china. They step into the platform while passing by Zoro, who was on his way back to the locker until he got a closer look of that man. "I kinda preferred you when you where hiding. Okay ladies and gentleman, please give a warm welcome to Yojimbo!" I yelled as everyone cheered.

"That guy is big." Sanji said.

"He looks like one of those old samurai guys." Nami said.

"He is one of course." Dimentio said. "I happen to hear rumors of him. They said that he is one deadly swordsman. He can cut through a 100 foot anaconda with a knife."

"He sure has alot time in hands." Robin said.

"I have also heard that he is one greedy man." Dimentio said. "Somebody said that he saw him walking on the sidewalk and an old lady kindly asked him to help her cross the street. Yojimbo wouldn't help her unless she pays him about $100,000 gold coins."

"Huh, getting money from old people. Never thought of that before." Nami said.

Cassenia and Buff looked at Yojimbo, who seemed emotionless. "Our second match will now begin!" I said as I got off the platform and landed right next to Zoro. "You still here?" I asked before he gave me a nasty look. "I'll take that as a yes. Okay now. 3… 2… 1… GO!"

"Alright, lets show this freak what we are made of. Go, Sableye!" Cassenia yelled as she threw her pokeball in the air and it opened up to let a dark creature with crystals for eyes and it also had red, round jewel on its chest.

"Will teach this guy who is the real threat. Go, Hitmontop!" Buff yelled as he throws his pokeball in the air and it opened up to let out a little creature with brown hair and has a little spike on his head and has round hands. "Now, Hitmontop, use triple kick!"

"Hitmontop!" replieed the creature as he charges at Yojimbo and kicks him three times, but Yojimbo didn't even felt it.

"Sableye! Use fury swipes!" Cassenia commanded, as Sableye jumped towards Yojimbo's face and started to slash his face repeatedly with its nails. Yojimbo stood still as if nothing happened, as Cassenia and Buff were getting frustrated.

"He seems to be uninjured." Robin said.

"That guy must have the same power as that warlock from Hyrule." Sanji said.

"Or maybe he is just too thickheaded to realize he is getting injured." Nami said rudely.

"Grrr… You think you can mess with us? Sableye, use Shadow ball!" Cassenia commanded, as Sableye formed a shadow ball and blasts it towards Yojimbo, who continues to stand still. The shadow ball impacted to Yojimbo and made a huge explosion. The smoke cleared to reveal that Yojimbo was still at the same spot, with no scratch on him. "How he is he still there!?"

Yojimbo then waved his hand as his dog ran at Hitmontop and headbutted him out of the platform and into a wall. The dog then quickly appeared behind Sableye and bit his leg before tossing him right into Cassenia and Buff, making them fly off the platform and into a wall. "And they are out of here! The winner is Yooojiiimmmbooo!" I yelled as the crowd cheered as Yojimbo left the arena.

"Hmm…" Zoro said as he too left the arena and back to the locker room. As soon as he got in, Zoro got greeted by his comrades.

"Zoro, you were awesome back there!" Chopper yelled happily.

"It was alright, I guess. Although, I would've preferred a swordsman, but it was still good." Zoro said as Pichu got of his shoulder and greeted his friend, Pikachu. "Speaking of swordsman, where is that big one?"

"He didn't come back here. He must be out somewhere." Franky said before a voice from the intercom could be heard.

"Will Luffy, Franky and Rawk Hawk come to the arena, the third match is about to begin." said the voice from the intercom as Luffy ran out of the locker room excitedly followed by Franky. They were now at the arena as Luffy waved to everyone while he and Franky was getting on the platform.

"And now for our third match! Here we have the odd, yet powerful duo, Luuuffyyyy and Frrranky!!!" I yell as Luffy was jumping in joy while Franky was blowing kisses to everyone. "And now for their opponent, who is currently late." I said as Rawk Hawk then appeared from the entrance while flexing his muscles.

"Rawk Hawk is in the house! Are you two ready to get RAWKED!?" Rawk yelled. Nobody cheered, not even a cricket could be heard during the silence. Rawk Hawk just smirked as he head his way to the platform, unaware that something was rushing to him from behind, something big and fat.

"STRR RRR RRR AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AWW WWW WWW HHH HHH HAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA ATT TTT TTT TTT TTT!!!!!!"

"What the!?" Rawk Hawk yelled as he turned around, only to get flattened by a big fat guy and then was hurled away so far, he flew out of out of the arena and into a bush that was right next to the bench Jessie, James, and Meowth were lying unconsciously on.

The big fat guy then looked at the platform and walked towards it as the Strawhats surprised. "Huh!?" Luffy yelled in surprise.

"Ehh?" Franky said.

"AHH!!" Usopp and Chopper cried while hugging eachother in fear while looking at the monitor.

"Him…" Zoro said.

"OH MY GOD!!" Sanji exclaimed angrily.

"THAT'S…" Nami gasped.

"Oh my.." Robin said, not that surprised.

"Ah ha ha ha ha, what a pleasant surprise." Dimentio said.

"Pika!" Pikachu yelled in surprise.

The big and fat person was none other than Bowser himself. "GWA HA HA HA HA HA HA! I have finally found you, Strawhat! This time it will be me who gets the last laugh." Bowser said as Luffy gulped.

TO BE CONTINUED…

I was wondering when Bowser would show up. The next chapter should be interesting. And Yojimbo is a hidden aeon from Final Fantasy X, just in case you didn't know.

Pokemon Pt 7

OK, here is the next may not be that long and this fight may not be as good as the first one, but I did the best I can do right now. Enjoy!

The King of Koopas has arrived. The tournament has begun and Zoro won his first match by defeating the legendary Hulk Hogan. As well as the mysterious swordsman known as Yojimbo, who defeated Cassenia and Buff without even warming up. Luffy and Franky's match against Rawk Hawk was about to begin, only it seems that Rawk Hawk wasn't able to make it, as Bowser came out of nowhere and easily destroyed Rawk Hawk and hurled him out of the arena. It has been quite some time since Luffy has faced Bowser. Will he be able to defeat him again? Or will it be Bowser that will actually have the last laugh?

Chapter 30: Luffy VS Bowser, Round 2

Everyone stood shocked as Bowser was on the platform, looking at Luffy with a big evil smirk across his face. "I have waited so long for this moment, I am finally going to get my revenge!" Bowser laughed as Luffy had a plain look on his face. Everyone from the locker room rushed to the arena and looked at Bowser.

"Its Bowser! He has come to kill us all!!" Usopp cried in fear.

"Really!?" Chopper asked nervously.

"Jumpin' Jelly beans of Guadalajara! Its Bow-Uh I mean, Its a really big turtle guy that I have never seen before in my entire life." I said.

"That's the s#&&# turtle that kidnapped Peach-san!" Sanji yelled with pure rage coming out of his heart.

"How did he get here!?" Nami asked in complete shock. Dimentio was trying not to giggle. Robin noticed him giggling, but didn't said anything about it. Luffy and Bowser were looking at eachother, until Luffy finally said something.

"Franky, leave him to me." Luffy said. Franky looked at Luffy at him for a moment until he started to get out of the platform.

"Just don't die on us, Strawhat." Franky said as Luffy was cracking his fists.

"I am a little curious about something." Luffy began to say until Bowser interrupted him.

"If you are wondering how I got to this wreck of a world, then the answer would be this." Bowser said as he takes out the device that Merlin gave him. "This little thing can transport me to any world I want, and thanks to this, I was able to find you. Does that answer your question?"

"Kinda. But that wasn't what I was going to ask you." Luffy said as Bowser raised an eyebrow. "How come you didn't try to make cheese cakes like I asked you to back at Mushroom Kingdom?" Luffy asked as everyone, except for Robin and Dimentio, fell down in disbelief.

"You're still going on about that!?" Bowser asked furiously. "I was never going to do that, you moron! I told you before that it wasn't over between you and me! Today will be the day that I will finish you off, and I'll do that in front of all these people, including your freaky comrades!"

I looked at both of them and started to speak. "Well, since you literally destroyed Rawk Hawk, and ruined the match, I suppose that you could take his place, and fight Luffy instead." I said.

"Shut it, weirdo. I am going to turn straw hat into pieces with or without your permission." Bowser said angrily. I stood out of the arena, and stood close to the other participants.

"Pikachu, where are you going?" Ash asked as Pikachu got off of Ash's shoulder, and ran close to the platform.

"Pika, Pikachu!" Pikachu yelled as Bowser looked behind his shoulder to look at Pikachu.

"Its you. What do you want?" Bowser asked.

"Piiika, pika!" Pikachu said.

"You want me to leave? Stay out of this, would ya?" Bowser asked as Pikachu got frustrated and walked back to Ash. "Enough talk! Let's finish this once and for all!"

Bowser then charges at Luffy. Bowser swings his right fist at Luffy, who dodges and kicks Bowser at his chin. Bowser quickly countered by grabbing Luffy's foot and hurled him to the ground. Bowser was about to flatten him, but Luffy kicked Bowser at his gut, causing Bowser to let go of his foot. Luffy got up as Bowser spat out a fireball at Luffy, who barely dodged out of the way, and began to run towards Bowser.

"GOMU GOMU NO MUCHI!" Luffy does a stretched horizontal kick at Bowser, who jumped over it and headed straight to Luffy.

"WHIRLING FORTRESS!" Bowser withdrew in his shell, and span in circles while he was still heading towards Luffy. Luffy jumped over him, but Bowser came out of his shell, and grabbed Luffy's arm and pulled him towards himself while having his mouth wide open. Luffy stops himself by landing on Bowser's lips and pushed away before landing on the ground. Luffy then forcefully pulled his arm which Bowser was holding and slammed Bowser to the ground, making Bowser to let go of Luffy's arm. Luffy then raised his foot and stretched it in the air as far as he could.

"GOMU GOMU NO ONO!" Luffy lowered his foot at Bowser, but he was able to roll out of the way as Luffy made a huge crack on the floor. Everyone was shocked to see Luffy stretch his body parts.

"Ho-How does he do that?" Ash asked as he and Pikachu was amazed as well.

"He is a rubberman." Zoro said while folding his arms.

"A rubberman? I don't get it. How-?" Ash asked.

"Lets just say he ate a fruit that changed his life forever. I don't feel like getting into details right now." Zoro said as Ash continue to watch the battle.

Bowser took a deep breath and let out a huge stream of fire as Luffy was running in circles, trying to avoid the flames. Bowser stopped breathing fire, and dug his nails through the floor before he grabbed a huge chunk of the floor, and tossed right at Luffy. Luffy punches the chunk of the floor in pieces, but then saw Bowser right in front of him.

"KOOPA CLAW!" Bowser swings his claw, and almost cuts Luffy's head in pieces, but Luffy ducked, and stretched his arm back.

"GOMU GOMU NO BULLET!" Luffy punches Bowser in the gut as Bowser skids across the floor while still standing. Luffy then ran at Bowser with both of his arms stretching back "GOMU GOMU NO BAZOOKA!" Luffy thrusts his palms forward as Bowser quickly withdrew in his shell, and received the blow, making him fly towards the wall. Instead of crashing into it, he bounced off the wall, and started to do this repeatedly as he got faster with each bounce. Luffy couldn't keep his eyes on him and soon got rammed by him as Luffy rolled around the ground in pain.

Bowser came out of his shell a little dazed as Luffy groggily got up. Bowser then proceeded to run at Luffy with two of claws shining brightly. "DOUBLE KOOPA KLAW!" Bowser swings both of his claws at Luffy, creating numerous of cutting waves. Luffy dodged all of them by jumping in the air as the cutting waves penetrated through the wall of the arena and into the unconscious Rawk Hawk as It made him to fly very far away. As Luffy was in midair, he couldn't see Bowser anywhere.

"Up here, Straw hat!" Luffy looks up to see Bowser was over him. "BOWSER BOMB!" Bowser raised his feet and went full speed down at Luffy and crushed him to the ground while also destroying the platform.

"GAAAHHHH!" Luffy cried in pain as Bowser jumps in the air again.

"BOWSER BOMB!" Bowser once again goes down at full speed towards Luffy, but this time, Luffy raised his feet and pulled them back as Bowser got closer.

"GOMU GOMU NO YARI!" Luffy stretched both of his legs at Bowser, and hits him in the rear, causing Bowser to hold his rear in pain, and land face-first on the ground. As Bowser was rubbing off the dirt on is face, he was unaware that Luffy was running towards him with his arm stretched and twisted all the way back. "GOMU GOMU NO RIFLE!" Luffy punches Bowser across the face as his arm was starting to untwist itself, which caused Bowser to propel to a wall and crash into it. Before the dust could clear, fireballs came flying out of it as Luffy was dodging them.

The fireballs stopped coming as the dust cleared to reveal Bowser, who was facing the wall while hiding in his shell. "KOOPA ROCKET!" Bowser breaths out a huge stream of fire that caused to him fly in the opposite direction that he was facing, and straight to Luffy. Luffy couldn't dodge it as he realized that there was his comrades right behind him. With no other choice, Luffy decides to block Bowser's move.

"GOMU GOMU NO FUUSEN!" Luffy inflates himself as Bowser hit him dead on. The force of the blow let Luffy to let all his air out as he and Bowser crashed right into a wall.

"LUFFY!" Chopper cried as a few moments passed until Luffy came flying out of the wall he crashed into and fell limplessly to the ground.

Bowser walked out of the wall, and walked slowly towards Luffy.

"Zoro, we must do something! Luffy is going to get killed at this rate!!" Usopp panicked while shaking Zoro. Zoro shoved Usopp off of him and folded his arms again.

"This is a man's fight. We cant interfere." Zoro said, while Usopp was completely worried. At the crowd, Nami and Robin were looking at Luffy worryingly while Sanji was in a bad mood.

"That damn turtle! After Luffy finishes him off, I will make soup out of him!" Sanji growled. Back at the arena, Luffy slowly got up as Bowser grabbed him by the neck.

"I am going to bite your head off!" Bowser said as he opened his mouth wide enough to bite Luffy's head. He was unaware that Luffy had his leg stretching back. Luffy then opened his eyes and looks at Bowser furiously.

"GOMU GOMU NO STAMP!" Luffy thrusts his foot at Bowser's chest, causing Bowser to let go of Luffy. Luffy then holds on to Bowser's shoulders and stretches his head backwards. "GOMU GOMU NO KANE!" Luffy gives a headbutt to Bowser's head. Bowser staggered a few steps back as Luffy charged at him. "GOMU GOMU NO GATLING GUN!" Luffy repeatedly punches at almost every part of Bowser's body. As Luffy was about to retrieve his arms, Bowser caught them just in time and pulled Luffy towards himself. Bowser then gives a headbutt of his own as Luffy fell back to the ground.

Luffy's head was now bleeding as Bowser jumped in the air and faced his spiky back down at him. Luffy rolled out of the way as Bowser impaled through the ground, causing him to get stuck for a couple of moments. This made Luffy get the chance to attack Bowser, so he stood clenched his fists and stretched them all the way up in the air. "GOMU GOMU NO HAMMER!" Luffy then hits Bowser with his clenched fists as some blood came out of Bowser's mouth. Bowser hid in shell and somehow span as his spikes were destroying the ground below him.

"KOOPA INCINERATOR!" Bowser then went right towards Luffy while still spinning upside down, and destroying most of the ground as he went by. Luffy then jumped in the air as he was now over Bowser.

"GOMU GOMU NO YARI!" Luffy thrusts his legs towards Bowser. But Bowser stopped spinning, and grabbed Luffy's legs just before they could touch him. Bowser repeatedly swings Luffy to the floor, slamming him harder into the ground upon each swing. Before Bowser could swing Luffy to the ground again, Luffy was able to land with his hands, and forcefully pulled his legs back to him as it made Bowser fly into the crowd. The crowd got out of the way just before Bowser could crash right into the seats. Bowser got up, and jumped back to the arena while Luffy charged at him.

Luffy kicked Bowser while he was still in midair as Bowser spiraled up in the air. Luffy took a deep breath and let it out on the ground as he flew past Bowser and even higher in the air. Luffy then faced down at Bowser and clenches his fists. "GOMU GOMU NO…" Luffy was repeatedly punching right at Bowser, but wasn't hitting him. As he continues to deliver punches in front of Bowser, his arms started to glow red. "CAN…"

"NOT THIS TIME!" Bowser yelled as he withdrew in his shell, and and blows out a stream of fire downward, causing him to fly upwards towards Luffy. As Bowser got close, he quickly got out of his shell and grabbed Luffy by his head. Bowser then did multiple headbutts before at Luffy's head before throwing him to the ground, and spitting out a huge fireball. The fireball engulfed around Luffy just before he hit the ground.

"Gwa ha ha ha ha ha! You didn't think that I would fall for that one again, did you!?" Bowser yelled before he noticed someone familiar in the crowd.

His eyes opened wide in surprise to see Dimentio sitting there along with Luffy's crew. Dimentio kindly waved to him as Bowser was heading down to the ground. "GOMU GOMU NO PISTOL!" Bowser faced back at Luffy, only to get hit across the face, making him land on the ground. Luffy had several burn marks all over his body, but still has enough energy to fight on as he charges at Bowser, only that Bowser got up just in time, and punched Luffy away.

"Was that…" Bowser said as he was about to look at Dimentio, but decided to shrug it off. "Forget it. The most important thing right now is to get rid of Strawhat."

Luffy groggily got up and looked at Bowser with an angry look in his eyes. Bowser smirked upon seeing that. "What's up, Straw hat? The last time I remembered, you were the one kicking my ass. But now it looks like things have changed since the last time we met."

"Sorry. I was just thinking of a new way to beat you this time." Luffy said while warming himself up. Bowser raised an eyebrow in confusion before Luffy smirked confidently at him. "I am going to break you in pieces." Luffy said while hitting his palm.

"Gwa ha ha ha ha ha! Break me in pieces? That is probably going to take a while with your puny strength." Bowser said. "But that would be interesting to see. Too bad that will never HAPPEN!" Bowser charges at Luffy, who at the same time charges at Bowser. "KOOPA KLAW!" Bowser swings his claw at Luffy, who backflipped to avoid it and landed on Bowser's claw afterwards. Bowser lifted his claw the one Luffy was standing and got kicked in the face. Luffy landed behind Bowser and grabbed his head and rammed it to the ground.

Bowser then spat out a huge fireball in the air and then spat out a little that made the big fireball to explode into tiny ones that were headed across the entire stadium. Everyone was running for their lives avoiding the fireballs as well as Sanji was kicking the fireballs away from Nami and Robin. "Is he crazy? He is going to destroy this place." Sanji said while kicking another fireball away. Luffy was doing his best to avoid every fireball that came flying to him as Bowser was groggily getting up.

As Luffy dodged the last fireball, Bowser charged at him, and shoulder barged Luffy, causing him to fly limplessly in the air. "WHIRLING FORTRESS!" Bowser jumps in the air, and withdrew into his shell before spinning in a fast rate towards Luffy. Luffy retaliated by entangling his fingers together "GOMU GOMU NO NET!" Luffy stretched his entangled fingers apart, and formed a huge net, catching Bowser. Bowser was still spinning as Luffy was using all of his strength to push Bowser back. Bowser slowly decelerated as Luffy used his entangled fingers to throw him away in a far distance.

Bowser came out of his shell, and landed perfectly on the ground. "GOMU GOMU NO GATLING GUN!" Luffy repeatedly punches Bowser before Bowser could grab his wrists. This time, Luffy was twisting his body numerous of times as it became harder for Bowser to hold on. "GOMU GOMU NO TORNADO!" Luffy let his body untangle itself as he swinging Bowser in circles. When Luffy's body was already back to the way it was, Luffy started to spin even faster, causing an actual tornado to occur. Luffy then tossed Bowser right into the titantron, and shattered it to pieces.

"What a powerful young man." Brandon said in amazement. Luffy was so dazed that he repeatedly falls down on the ground and getting back again. As Luffy senses got back, Bowser could be seen coming out of the broken titantron, and looks at Luffy furiously.

"Not again… I am not going to lose again!" Bowser growled as he launches himself out of the titantron, and straight at Luffy. Bowser did a 180 degree flip in midair as he faced his spiky back to Luffy.

Luffy jumped and faced his legs towards Bowser. "GOMU GOMU NO YARI!" Luffy thrusts his feet right on Bowser's head and send him to the ground. Bowser quickly got up, and slashed Luffy at his back with his claws. Luffy fell to the ground in the pain as Bowser stood still until he let himself fall and flattened Luffy with his massive weight.

Luffy used his hands to lift Bowser off of him and tossed him in the air so he can stand up. "BOWSER BOMB!" As Bowser was in midair, he lifted his legs up and went full speed down at Luffy, who somehow was able to catch him and piledrive him through the ground. Bowser furiously punched Luffy before getting up and giving another headbutt. Luffy was almost losing consciousness as Bowser had yellowish aura forming around him. "THAT'S IT! I AM GOING TO FINISH YOU OFF RIGHT HERE, RIGHT NOW!!" Bowser yelled as the aura around him got bigger.

Just before Bowser could do anything else, Luffy did a handstand and kicked Bowser with both feet, launching Bowser high in the air. Luffy then stretched his arms, and grabbed Bowser's shoulders as he as well was flying along with Bowser. Luffy was twisting his legs around eachother, and pointed his feet towards Bowser. "GOMU GOMU NOOOO…" Luffy got really close to Bowser "… DRILL!" Luffy's feet made impact onto Bowser's stomach, and started to untwist themselves at a fast rate, making it look like a drill.

Bowser was losing consciousness within every second as he felt that he was going to break into pieces. Luffy then let go of Bowser's shoulders as Bowser flew down to the floor as hie remote for going into other world fell off of his shell. When he landed, he completely disfigured the ground around him as Luffy landed near his comrades.

"Are you okay, Luffy?" Chopper asked worryingly as Luffy could barely stand.

"Whoa man, that was like the coolest thing ever!" Bart said excitedly.

"I could said that I have a seen better, but apparently I have no motivation on doing so." Homer said while rubbing his chin. While they were making sure that Luffy was okay, Bowser was semi-consciously getting up and looked at Luffy with his eyes that were almost closed.

"This.. is.. still.. not.. over!" Bowser yelled. The remote then fell right in front of him and started to make a sparking noise. Sparks then came out of the remote and automatically opened a portal in front of Bowser. "Huh!?" Bowser gasped as the portal was starting to suck in Bowser along with the remote. Bowser used whatever strength he had left to get away, but the portal managed to suck him in followed by the remote before the portal closed. The arena was now quiet as everyone was at a lost of words. The crowd then cheered wildly than before as I finally came out of hiding.

"That was a stupendous match I have seen so far here at the pokemon stadium!! Let us all give a round of applause to the winner of this match, Monkey D. Luuuuffffffffyyyyyyyyyyyyy!!!" I yelled excitedly as Luffy finally passed out.

TO BE CONTINUED…

I am going to take my break now, so expect an update around the weekend or on monday. Hope you enjoyed this chapter.

Pokemon Pt 8

Here is the rest of the battles before the semifinals. Enjoy!

Luffy won again. Bowser turned out to be the replacement for Rawk Hawk after he destroyed him. Luffy and Bowser fought eachother with all of their strength, destroying everything around them. Luffy used his new move to defeat Bowser and send him away to another world when the remote broke. Luffy lost consciousness after Bowser disappeared, and he and Franky were now a step closer to winning the prize. Now that Zoro, Luffy and Franky managed to win their first matches. Will Usopp and Chopper do the same?

Chapter 31: The legendary Choppermon, The power of Pikachu

"Hey folks, welcome back!" I said excitedly as the crowd cheered. "We are having a few technical difficulties due to Luffy's and The-big-turtle-guy-that-I-have-never-seen-before-in-my-entire-life's match. But do not worry folks, we are fixing everything as we speak, and the next match should begin in 15 minutes." I said as I then sit on the bench and curse Bowser under my breath.

Sanji was rearranging the seats that Nami and Robin were sitting on, except for Dimentio's.

"Ah ha ha ha ha, That was quite of a battle, like two monkeys fighting over a banana." Dimentio said, happily.

"Speak for yourself. Just seeing that coin destroying turtle again makes me want to puke at his face." Nami said crankily. Sanji was done rearranging the seats and looked at Nami and Robin.

"I am done rearranging your chairs, ladies. You can sit down now." Sanji said as Nami went to sit down except for Robin.

"Mr. Magician, do you mind if I ask you a question?" Robin asked.

"Why, of course not. What would you like to ask me?" Dimentio asked.

"The way that Bowser looked at you. He seems to know you. Have you met him before?" Robin asked.

"Oh, you can say that." Dimentio said. "We crossed paths once, never thought I would see him again. But life is sure filled with surprises." Dimentio sat down on his chair before Robin sat on hers. Robin was now getting suspicious of Dimentio, but decided not to think about that until later.

Meanwhile, Cassenia and Buff were groggily getting up from their battle with Yojimbo that happened quite some time ago. I walked up to them with a fake smile.

"Good news, you guys!" I said excitedly. "You managed to not get yourselves killed." Cassenia and Buff looked at me angrily. "But the bad news is that you lost and I no longer need you around here anymore." I said as the big, squeaky guard showed up behind them. "SO GET LOST!" I yelled as the big squeaky grabbed them both and tossed them right through the stadium's wall and right into a couch that was in the hallway.

"Arrgh! This is all your fault!" Cassenia yelled at Buff.

"Me!? What did I do!?" asked the baffled Buff.

"I was the one that did the most of the hard work! You barely did anything!" Cassenia yelled. "The boss is not going to approve of this!"

"Well, it's not like we it is the end of the world or anything like that. All we have to do is tell the boss that we failed in a nice and gentle manner, and maybe he would let us off the hook." Buff said. Cassenia sighed in response, and took out a minimonitor from her pocket.

"You ready?" Cassenia asked as Buff nodded. Cassenia pushed the red button on the minimonitor, and it turned on to reveal professor Nanba, who looked quite grumpy in the moment.

"Ah, its you two." Professor Nanba said. "What is your report?"

"Well you see professor, we kinda lost our match." Buff said.

"Hmm… I expected as much." Nanba said unamused. "Proceed to Plan B. We cannot afford to make any more mistakes, is that clear?"

"Yes, sir!" Cassenia and Buff said as the minimonitor turned off my itself. Cassenia put her minimonitor away and looked at Buff. They both nodded at eachother before they ran out of the stadium.

Meanwhile…

Back at the Team Rocket base, Nanba entered in Giovanni's room and looked at Giovanni, who was looking at the town through his windows. "I have just been informed that they lost their match and our now proceeding with plan B, Sir Giovanni." Nanba said. Giovanni smirked and looked at Nanba.

"Good. Things are going according to plan, just like I have imagined." Giovanni said while petting his Persian. " Not that it really matters, but is there anything or anybody that I should worry about ruining my plan?"

"Not at the moment, sir Giovanni." Nanba said. "Only the officers from town are the only ones investigating, but they don't posses the power stop you." Giovanni nodded as Nanba was about to leave, but something was troubling him. "Sir, forgive me, but how is it that you were able to get so much power in such short time?"

Giovanni raised an eyebrow before smirking. "Heh heh, let's just said someone gave me a little encouragement to make this all possible. If it wasn't for him, I wouldn't be able to control Mewtwo again." Giovanni said as he looks at the pokemon with the armor on.

"Yes, that armor is able to make any pokemon to follow your every command without any hesitation." Nanba said. "But it almost took a decade to create such a thing. Not to mention that cloning device, any pokemon created by that device will follow your orders until they die."

"Ha ha ha ha. And that is just only the beginning." Giovanni said. "As soon as the tournament has fulfilled its purpose, there will be nothing that will stand in my way! Ha ha ha ha ha ha ha!

Back at the Locker room…

Luffy was resting on a bench in the locker room with a couple of bandages around him. "Man, I never thought that turtle would show up here." Franky said.

"He said he came here with that remote thing." Zoro said. "I saw it break before it sent Bowser into some portal. We won't be seeing him again for some time." Zoro then looks around the locker room to see somebody missing. "Oi, where is Usopp and Chopper?"

"They said they were getting ready with their match against the 'NO!' guy." Franky said as Ash walked up to the unconscious Luffy.

"I never seen anyone like him before." Ash said, in amazement. "Hey Pikachu, did you happen to meet someone like him when you were in the smash tournament?" Ash asked, catching Zoro's and Franky's attention.

"Piiikaa." Pikachu said.

"Hey, kid." Zoro said, catching Ash's attention. "What was that about a smash tournament?"

"Oh, Pikachu used to be one of the contestants in the tournaments Master Hand always holds." Ash said as Luffy quickly regained consciousness and looked at Pikachu with sparks of joy coming out of his eyes.

"You mean to said that this little guy is from that kind of tournament!?" Luffy said excitedly, making Ash nod nervously. Luffy then grabbed Pikachu from Ash's shoulder and looked at it, happily. "Cooool! This thing is so awesome! How does he fight?" Luffy asked while shaking Pikachu back and forth.

"Whoa! Dont do that! He is going to…" Ash said until electricity came out of Pikachu's cheeks.

"PIKACHUUU!" Pikachu yelled as an electrical current came out of him, and shocked everybody around him, except for Luffy, since electricity can not harm him. Pikachu was shocked to see Luffy still intact, while Luffy was confused at what just happened.

"Oi, what did he just do?" Luffy asked as he then saw Zoro, Franky and Ash burned up. "Hey, how come you guys are burned up? Did you guys catch a sunburn or something?"

"WE GOT SHOCKED BECAUSE OF YOU, IDIOT!!!" Zoro and Franky yelled at the same time.

"But wait a minute, how did the gerbil did that just now?" Franky asked.

"Don't you guys know? Pikachu is an electric type pokemon." Ash said. Zoro and Franky were confused, especially Luffy, since he barely understands anything. "So you guys really don't know? Well, how should I explain this?" asks Ash before he came up with something.

"You see, there are many different kinds of pokemon and they all have different elements." Ash said. "For example, Pikachu is an electric type pokemon and can take easily take down a Squirtle, which is a water type pokemon. And a Squirtle can take down a Charmander, which is a fire type pokemon. And so on.." Ash said as Luffy nodded while still holding Pikachu.

"So it's a mystery kind." Luffy said.

"Um, yeah." Ash asked. "Oh I forgot. My name is Ash Ketchum and that is my friend, Pikachu."

"Pick-a-who? What is with these people and putting weird names to things?" Franky asked while scratching his head. Luffy smiles, and puts Pikachu on Ash's head.

"My name is Luffy, and this is Zoro, and Franky. We are here to find a mystery heart." Luffy said.

"Pika?" Pikachu tilted his head sideways.

"What is a mystery heart?" Ash asked.

"Well, they look like a heart, only that they look different." Luffy said as Franky and Zoro sweatdropped.

"What he means is that it is a heart, only it has a different background. You didn't happen to see something like that, did you?" Zoro asked. Ash and Pikachu shook their heads sideways.

"Sorry, we havent seen anything that like a heart." Ash said sadly.

"Its okay, Ash. Well find it after we win our bronze statue." Luffy said happily.

"The bronze statue is not one of the prizes, you moron." Zoro said. A voice from the intercom could now be heard.

"Attention, would Homer & Bart Simpson come to the arena. Their match is about to begin." the voice from the intercom said as Bart got up from another bench.

"That's us, Homer. Lets go." Bart said, only to see that Homer was sleeping with a hamburger in his mouth. Bart then grabbed his skateboard and swung it at Homer's stomach.

"AHH! What the!?" Homer yelled while the hamburger came out of his mouth. "Why you little!" Homer yelled as he started to chase Bart out of the locker room and into the arena. In the arena, their was a pokemon trainer with his Machamp awaiting for his opponent to arrive.

"Hello folks! We are done with the repairs as you can clearly see." I said as everything was fixed and it was back to its original state. "We are now ready to begin our 4th match of the day. Please welcome to the guy that is the next to me, He is just some random pokemon trainer with his ordinary Machamp." I said as barely anybody cheered.

"Hey I have a name just so you know." the pokemon trainer said.

"I know, but since you are not important, I don't care." I said, happily. "Now since it doesn't seem fair to be two against one, one of the Simpsons have to face this random guy's Machamp alone. And now without further ado, please welcome Homer & Bart Simpsoooonnnn!" I yelled excitedly as the Simpson's theme could be heard from the speakers. Bart entered the arena while riding on his skateboard, followed by Homer, who was still chasing Bart. Everyone cheered excitedly as Bart stopped and tripped Homer as he fell in front of me.

"Why would those guys enter in something like this? They almost look like ordinary people." Nami said.

"Who knows?" Sanji asked. Homer got up and angrily looked at Bart.

"Why you little! I'll teach you not to trip me when I am not looking where I am going!" Homer yelled while shaking his fist at Bart.

"So Homer, are you going to face Machamp?" I asked.

"Huh?" Homer asked before he looked at the muscular Machamp. "AHHH! A steroided, four arm freak!" Homer yelled before he angrily looked at Bart again. "Why you little!" Homer said as Bart laughed at his misery.

"Excellent, now we can start the match." I said before Homer angrily looked at me.

"Why you little!" He said to me.

"Please stop saying that." I said before I got out of Homer and Machamp's way. "3..2..1..GO!" I yelled as Machamp was charging at Homer.

"AHH!" Homer yelled as he was running away from Machamp. Homer kept running until Machamp grabbed him from behind, and tossed him across the arena. Homer was screaming while he was flying in the air before he crashed to the ground. Homer got up a little angry before Machamp turned him around and did multiple punches across Homer's face. "DOI, DEH, GAH, OOH, BUU!" Homer cries in pain within every hit he gets, making him a little more angrier. Homer finally counters by swinging his fist across Machamp's face.

"Nobody leaves bruises on me except for myself! YAAAGGHHH!" Homer yelled as he charges at Machamp. Homer gave a double uppercut to Machamp before jumping in the air and swung both of his fists downwards on Machamp's head, causing Machamp to fall limplessly to the ground.

"Get up, Machamp, and do a focus punch!" The pokemon trainer asked as Machamp got up while his fist was covered in a white aura as then punched Homer in the gut, making him fly towards a wall.

"Great, now I must use the secret weapon." Bart said as he looks for something in his pocket. Homer dazedly got up as Machamp walked up to him. "Hey Homer, look at this." Bart said as he takes out his slingshot, and fires cactus needles towards Homer.

"Oh no, Cacti! Ow, Dee, gah, geh!" Homer cried in pain within every needle that hit him. This caused Homer to get a little angry. Bart then takes out something small and stinky as he fires at Homer. "Oh no, a small used diaper!" Homer yelled as the diaper hit him at his forehead, which made Homer a little more angrier. Everyone was confused at what was happening as Bart took out a green paintball and fired it at Homer, which covered him in green paint upon impact.

"Grrr. RAAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAAA AAA AAG GG GGHH HHH HHH!!!!!" yells Homer as he rips his shirt apart.

"Holy Camoli! Homer has turned into the Incredible Hulk!" I yelled.

"Phew, he kept his pants on." Bart said.

"DAAAAAAAAAAAAAHHHHHHHHHH!!" Homer yelled as he stomps towards Machamp. Machamp swings his fist horizontally, but Homer ducked under it and gave an uppercut to Machamp, who went flying upwards. "HOMER MAD!!" Homer yelled before he jumped upwards to Machamp. "HOMER SMASH!" Homer yelled before grabbing onto Machamp. "HOMER MUST GET REVENGE ON WORLD!" Homer yelled as he piledrives Machamp through the ground. Homer pulled Machamp out of the ground and spun him numerous of times before letting go of Machamp, who flew right towards his owner and crashed right through the same place that Cassenia and Buff went into earlier.

"And Machamp is out of here! The winner is Hoooommeeeeerrrrr Siiiiiimmmmmmppppssssooonnnn!" I yelled excitedly as Homer was still yelling his lungs out. Bart walked up to Homer and showed him a hamburger.

"You're done, Homer. Here is your prize." Bart said.

"DAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AHH--Oh goodie." Homer said as he took that Hamburger and started eating it. "Mmmmm… burger." Homer said as he and Bart went out of the arena.

"An odd, yet outstanding match has occurred folks. Now let us begin our 5th match!" I yelled as Brandon came into the arena, receiving a huge applause upon entering. "Hello Brandon, how are 'things' going on?" I asked.

"Nothing much, young lad." Brandon said. "But I am ready to face whatever the opponent throws at me." Brandon said.

"How good for you." I said. "Now lets hear it for his opponent." I said as the entrance got foggy all of a sudden. Chopper came out of the fog in his walk point while wearing a red cape on his back. Usopp followed him while wearing the coaching outfit back at the Davy back arc. Everyone went "ooo" as they walked towards the middle of the arena. "Wow, you guys look very confident."

"Of course, we are." Usopp said with a confident voice. "I am one of the greatest pokemon trainers with the strongest pokemon afterall."

"Well isn't that the truth?" I said before facing the crowd. "This is a pokemon battle, the owner may not physically help their pokemon. They can only give them commands and such. Now it is time to begin." I said as I get away from them. "3..2..1..GO!"

Usopp looked at Brandon with great confidence in his eyes. "We meet again you!" Usopp said while pointing at Brandon. "I will teach you not to be a snitch in front of other people. You will regret the day that you have messed with Captain Usopp!"

"Who are you?" Brandon asked, as Usopp and Chopper fell down.

"YOU DON'T REMEMBER US!? WE MET BACK AT TOWN A COUPLE OF HOURS AGO!" yells Usopp as his eyes popped out of his head.

"Oh yes, I remember you now." Brandon said. "You are that man that lied about that creature being a pokemon. What are you doing here?"

"What do you mean what I am doing here!?" yells Usopp. "I am here to prove everyone that me and my pokemon, Choppermon, that we are the best duo that ever existed!"

"Hmph… let us see if that really is the case then." Brandon said as he took out his pokeball. "Come on out, Dusclops!" Brandon throws his pokeball in the air and it opened to let out some sort of ghost pokemon. It has one red eye, a gray body, and has light grayish hands. Chopper gulped upon seeing it, but soon felt a little better, knowing that Usopp would be there to lead him in the right direction. "Alright, Dusclops. Do a shadow punch!" commands Brandon as Dusclops throw an image of his fist towards Chopper.

"Are you ready, Choppermon?" Usopp asked as Chopper nodded bravely. "Okay Choppermon, use your swiftness from the holy gods!!" Usopp commanded, only Chopper didn't know what he meant by that. "DODGE IT!" Usopp yelled as Chopper understood, and dodged Dusclops shadow punch. "Now Choppermon, use your powerful headbutt from the devil!!" Usopp commanded as Chopper charged at Dusclops with his head hung low, only Chopper went right through him. "Wha-What?"

"You can't harm Dusclops with normal attacks. I thought the greatest pokemon trainer would know that." Brandon said. "Dusclops, use Will-o-wisp!" Brandon commanded as Dusclops created a blue fireball, and fired it at Chopper, who manages to dodge out of the way before the fireball would explode.

"Grr.. I cant harm it with normal attacks, there must be another way to harm." Usopp said as he looks around the arena and sees a big rock right next to Chopper. "That's it! Choppermon, transform into Chopperkonga!" He commanded as Chopper was confused at first, but then realized what Usopp was talking about as he transformed into his Heavy point. The crowd was shocked to see Chopper transform all of a sudden.

"He evolved!?" asks Brandon in surprise.

"Now, Chopperkonga, grab that boulder next to you and toss it Dusclops!" Usopp commanded as Chopper looked at the boulder before picking up, and tossing it at Dusclops.

"Dusclops, destroy that boulder using shadow punch!" Brandon commanded as Dusclops punches the boulder, shattering it to pieces. After Dusclops destroyed the boulder, Dusclops could not see Chopper anywhere. "Where did he go?" Brandon asked as Chopper then appeared in front of Dusclops while raising his fists in the air. "Dusclops, dodge, and use shadow punch!" Brandon commanded as Dusclops jumps back, and does a shadow punch at Chopper, sending him flying back a couple of feet. Chopper got to his feet as Usopp pointed at Dusclops.

"Chopperkonga, transform back into Choppermon, and charge at Dusclops using your headbutt of the goddesses!" Usopp commanded, as Chopper got back to his walk point and charged at Dusclops with his head hung low.

"It is useless, you cannot harm Dusclops with that technique whatsoever." Brandon said. Dusclops simply stood their until Chopper could get closer.

"Now Choppermon, transform into Choppermini!" Usopp commanded as Chopper transformed to his normal look and got behind Dusclops. Chopper got out a testube and tossed right into Dusclop's eye. Dusclops was now blind as Chopper placed several exploding testubes around Dusclops. Chopper ran away as Dusclops accidentally stepped on one of the explosive testubes, causing it to explode afterwards.

"Dusclops!" Brandon yelled as Dusclops flew up in the sky.

"Now Choppermini, transform back into Chopperkonga, and throw another boulder at Dusclops!" Usopp commanded as Chopper quickly transformed into his heavy point and threw another boulder at Dusclops. The boulder hit Dusclops as he then fell limplessly down to the ground. The dust cleared to reveal Dusclops was now unconscious.

"Whoa, Dusclops got owned! The winner of this match is the kawaii reindeer, Chooopperrmoooonnnn!" I yelled excitedly as Chopper immediately transformed to his normal point and started to do his happy dance.

"Shut up! I am not cute, you moron!" Chopper said happily.

"We won?" Usopp asked in disbelief. "I mean, yes. Of course, we won! We are the deadliest duo of all time!" Usopp said as he folded his arms and laughs cockingly. Brandon then puts Dusclops back into his pokeball and walks up to Usopp.

"You may be a liar, and not a pokemon trainer, but you are a powerful man." Brandon said as he laid out his hand. Usopp shook Brandon's hand as the crowd cheered. Brandon then went back to the locker room along with Usopp and Chopper.

"He actually won his match with that kind of battle tactic." Sanji said.

"I didnt expect that idiot to win. But, I guess its okay." Nami said.

"And now ladies and nonladies, it is time for our final match of the day." I said excitedly as the crowd cheered. "Now lets get this over with, this chapter is kinda bo-I mean, the sooner the better folks!" I said as some background character came into the arena. "No time for introducing you, lets get the opponent out here already!" I yelled as Ash Ketchum, along with his Pikachu on his shoulder, came into the arena while everyone cheered for him. "Ash Ketchum folks, I am sure he will be using Pikachu for this match like all his other matches. 3, 2, 1, GO!"

"Hey, don't I atleast get a…" the Pokemon trainer said until I angrily looked at him.

"JUST GO!!" I yelled before I ran into a safe distance.

"Geez, come on out, Blastoise!" the pokemon trainer said as he tossed his pokemon in the air and it opened to let out a huge, blue turtle with two cannons coming out of his shell.

"Pikachu, I choose you!" Ash said as Pikachu jumped from Ash's shoulder and in front of Blastoise. "Pikachu, use quick attack!" Ash commands as Pikachu dashed at Blastoise while zipping from place to place.

"Blastoise, use Hydro pump!" The pokemon trainer commands as Blastoise fires a stream of water from it's cannons.

"Dodge and use skull bash!" Ash commands as Pikachu dodges Blastoise's Hydro pump and rams his head towards Blastoise's gut. Blastoise slid back a couple of feet as Pikachu charged at him again.

"Tackle him, Blastoise!" The pokemon trainer commands as Blastoise charges at Pikachu.

"Jump on his head, and use Thunderbolt!" Ash commands as Pikachu jumps on Blastoise's head.

"Pikaaachuuuuuuuuuuu!" Pikachu let out a thunder current all over Blastoise's body, and easily knocked it out. I came out of hiding and looked at the pokemon trainer.

"Either your blastoise doesn't like electricity, or you simply didnt raised it right, you noob!" I yell as the pokemon trainer started to cry and put his blastoise back into his pokeball before running away in misery. I then happily looked at Ash and Pikachu. "Congratulations, you are now in the semifinals." I said excitedly as the crowd cheered.

"Alright!" Ash said happily.

"Well it is now sunset folks, the semifinals will begin tomorrow. Hope you enjoyed the show. Till tomorrow!" I said as everyone started to leave.

TO BE CONTINUED…

This feels like a filler chapter, but its something. The semifinals, Next chapter.

Pokemon Pt 9

Sorry for the delay, just that I have been sorta distracted lately. I made this super chapter as an apology. Enjoy!

The end of the tournament is near. Luffy found out that Pikachu use to be one of the competitors of the smash tournaments that Master Hand always hold. Usopp and Chopper were able to defeat Brandon and make their ways to the semifinals, As well as Homer & Bart Simpson and Ash & Pikachu. The only competitors left are Luffy & Franky, Zoro & Pichu, Usopp & Chopper, Ash & Pikachu, Homer & Bart, and the mysterious Yojimbo along with his red dog. Meanwhile, it seems that Cassenia and Buff are working for Team Rocket and now are about to start plan B. What is Plan B? And who will win this tournament?

Chapter 32: The tough semifinals, Plan B begins

It was now sunset and the crowd was now leaving the stadium, anticipated for the semifinals that are about to take place tomorrow. Sanji, Dimentio, Robin and Nami were now at the hallways, awaiting for Luffy and the others to show up. "Well, the semifinals are tomorrow, shall we rest back on the ship, Nami-san?" Sanji asked.

"No, its a long walk from here to the ship." Nami said. "We'll have to find some other place to stay for the night."

"Why don't you go to the pokemon center? That place is like a hotel." Dimentio said.

"Pokemon center? Where is that?" Nami asked.

"Its just right there. Right past that bench where those guys are unconscious." Dimentio said as he referred to Jessie, James, and Meowth, who were still unconscious.

"Oh, well thanks. Maybe your not such a bad guy afterall." Nami said as Dimentio happily laughed.

"It was no problem at all." Dimentio said. "Sadly, it is now the time for me to depart, like a flock of ducks heading south for the winter. Ciao." Dimentio then leaves while kindly waving to them. Robin was suspiciously looking at Dimentio before he was no longer in sight.

"Is something wrong, Robin-chwan?" Sanji asked.

"No, its nothing." Robin said.

Back at the locker room, Usopp and Chopper were changing back into their usual clothing, while Luffy and the others were waiting for him outside. "That was so exciting, Usopp!" Chopper said excitedly. "I never thought that we could win our match."

"Heh, of course we won our match. It was because of my great intellect that we are able to get to the top." Usopp said while while put on his usual brown suspenders. Chopper took off his red cape and looks at Usopp.

"I wonder who we are going to face in our next match." Chopper said.

"Don't worry about that." Usopp said. "It could be one of our comrades, or that crazy yellow… or that electrifying mouse… or… gulp… that big guy with the scary dog." Usopp was now completely afraid just thinking about who will he and Chopper face next.

"Are you okay, Usopp?" Chopper asked.

"Just… fine." Usopp said as he grabbed a bottle of water from the table and opened while he was shaking in fear. The water was coming out of the bottle just as Usopp was shaking.

"Hey."

"DON'T HURT ME!" Usopp cried as he threw the bottle of water up in the air and landed on his head. It turned out that Ash was the one who called to Usopp.

"I saw your match against Brandon, and I never seen with such skill before. You just be a really good pokemon trainer." Ash said as Usopp was getting calm.

"Uh, y-y-yeah. You can say that. I have trained across the world to be the best there is." Usopp said while putting his hands around his hips.

"That is so cool. My name is Ash Ketchum, and this is Pikachu." Ash said as Pikachu happily looked at Usopp and Chopper.

"I am Captain Usopp, and this is my loyal and strongest pokemon, Choppermon." Usopp said as Chopper began his happy dance.

"Moron, I am not happy because you said that." Chopper said, happily. Ash and Pikachu were surprised to see Chopper talk.

"Whoa, your pokemon can talk. That is amazing!" Ash said excitedly. Pikachu jumped off of Ash's shoulder and got a closer look at Chopper.

"Pika!" Pika said happily.

"Uh, hi." Chopper responded. Pikachu was talking as Chopper could understand him, since he can understand animal talk. While they were talking, Homer and Bart were getting ready to leave.

"So Homer, who do you think we will be fighting next?" Bart asked.

"Who cares, they are all weird looking and most of them are tough." Homer said.

"That's true. If only they could go break into pieces after one punch." Bart said. Homer shook his head and sat right next to Bart.

"Now son, there is only one thing that will break easily without even laying a finger on it." Homer said. "And that would be an Xbox360. Luckily, I bought this Xbox360 elite which is suppose to be better than the original." Homer then pulled out an Xbox360 from its bag and connected to a TV that appeared out of nowhere. Homer put a game called Halo in the Xbox360 and began to play it. After one minute has passed, their were three red lights around the 'on' button and the game froze.

"Why this lousy piece of C$#!" yells Homer as he picked up a sledgehammer and smashed the Xbox360 elite into pieces. He also smashed the screen of the TV, which was a really bad idea since the TV was still on. "Daaablbllllbllllblblblblbl!!!" Homer cried as he was getting electrocuted. The TV exploded as Homer flew across the locker room and crashed right into some lockers. Bart ran up to Homer to see if he was not dead.

"You alright, Homer?" Bart asked.

"Ooohhhh, curse american products for cruddy, yet addicting merchandise!" Homer said before passing out. Bart shrugs and leaves him there. Usopp and Ash were kinda shocked and confused upon witnessing all that.

"That was… something." Ash said.

"That was by far the weirdest thing I have seen yet." Usopp said. While they were looking at the unconscious Homer, Chopper's eyes went wide open after what Pikachu said to him.

"You use to be from the smash tournament!?" Chopper asked excitedly. Pikachu nodded as Chopper got even more excited. Usopp overheard that and turned around to look at Pikachu.

"What!? This little guy was one of the participants in the smash tournament!?" Usopp asked.

"Oh yeah. Master Hand showed up one day and said that he wanted Pikachu to be in his tournament." Ash said. "I wasn't sure if I could trust him since I have never seen a floating glove before, but Pikachu wanted to go. Pikachu seemed to have enjoyed himself when he came back to me. How do you guys know about the smash tournament?"

"Uh, we heard about it somewhere." Usopp said.

"Hey Pikachu, can I have your autograph?" Chopper asked as he already has his autograph book and pen out.

"Pika!" Pikachu said, happily as he grabbed the back side of the pen with his mouth and sloppily wrote his name under Link's signature. Chopper happily looks at Pikachu's sloppy signature before putting his autograph book back in his backpack. Pikachu then climbed up back on Ash's shoulder.

"Well I gotta go now, I'll see you back here tomorrow." Ash said as he was headed out the door.

"Sure, see ya later." Usopp said as Ash left. Outside the locker room, Luffy, Zoro, Pichu and Franky were waiting for Usopp and Chopper to come out of the locker room.

"What is taking that idiot so long?" Franky asked, who was waiting impatiently.

"Who knows." Zoro said while his arms were folded. Pichu, who was on Zoro's shoulder, imitated Zoro by folding his little arms as well. Luffy then saw Ash coming out of the locker room.

"Oi, Ash!" Luffy said while waving to Ash.

"Hmm? Oh hello, Luffy." Ash said while walking up to him.

"Your Pikachu was so awesome when he defeated that big turtle thing early." Luffy said as Pikachu blushed while rubbing the back of his head.

"Yeah, that gerbil of yours is quite something." Franky said.

"He is a mouse." Ash said. "So where are you guys are going to stay for the night?"

"We have a ship back at the docks." Zoro said.

"At the docks? That is kinda far." Ash said. "Why don't you sleep in the pokemon center?"

"What's that?" Luffy asked.

"Its a place for where they heal pokemon, and sort of a hotel for people." Ash said. "There is one just outside of this place. I can take you there if you want."

"Sure, why not?" Luffy asked. Zoro just shrugged until he felt a presence somewhere. Zoro looked at his surroundings, but saw nobody else. By the time that happened, Usopp and Chopper got out of the locker room.

"Its about time." Franky said.

"Don't get mad at us. Its not like we are in a rush." Usopp said as he then saw Ash. "Ash, your still here?"

"Yeah, I am going to take these guys to the nearest pokemon center." Ash said.

"It looks like you guys already met. Come on, lets get back to Nami and the others." Luffy said as he and the rest of his crew, including Ash and Pikachu, walked through the hallways. They were unaware though that the mysterious Yojimbo was watching them while he was leaning on an outside wall right next to a window. The Strawhats and Ash were then walking right up to Nami, Sanji and Robin, who were waiting near the exit.

"What took you guys? Was Marimo leading the way or something?" Sanji asked as Zoro angrily glared at him.

"Guys, I would like you to meet Ash and Pikachu. Pikachu was in the smash tournament." Luffy said. Nami and Sanji were kinda surprised while Robin wasn't as surprised as they were.

"First a plumber, then an elf, now a mouse. This Master Hand guy picked some random creatures." Nami said.

"Not that I am complaining or anything, but when are we going to meet a female competitor?" Sanji asked.

"Why do you want to know? If we happen to meet one, she is bound to reject you." Zoro said. Sanji and Zoro then started to angrily glare at eachother while Pichu was hiding under Zoro's shirt.

"Eh heh, why don't we go to the pokemon center already?" Ash asked while Sanji and Zoro still glared at eachother. Ash then went out of the stadium first followed by the Strawhats, and were passing by the bench, where Jessie, James, and Meowth were no longer there. They walked up to a building with a big 'P' sign on top of it. They entered through an automatic door, which made most of the Strawhats wonder how the door opened by itself in the first place, since I am pretty sure that automatic doors don't exist in their world.

As soon as they walked in front of the counter, Sanji's visible eye turned into a heart upon seeing Nurse Joy behind the counter. "Welcome to the pokemon center. Would you like to stay for the night?" Nurse Joy asked as all of a sudden, a rose appeared in front of her face. It was Sanji the one who was holding the rose and looked at Nurse Joy with romantic eyes.

"The first time I looked at you, I asked myself, Where have you been in my entire li-uffff!!" Sanji was saiding until Nami pulled his cheek and slammed his face to the ground.

"Wow, that kinda reminded me of Brock, only the way he gets treated afterwards is less painful." Ash said while looking at the injured Sanji.

"Pikachu." Pikachu said while nodding. Ash then looked at Nurse Joy.

"We would like to stay for the night." Ash said as Sanji was groggily getting up as Luffy laughed at him.

"Okay, will all of you be sharing the same room?" Nurse Joy asked. Sanji was about to said something until Nami covered his mouth without even looking back.

"One room for Robin and me, the rest in another room." Nami said as she uncovered Sanji's mouth. Sanji was upset that he couldn't sleep with Nami or Robin, instead he has to sleep with those guys, which is what Sanji calls them.

"Here are the keys to your rooms." Nurse Joy said while giving Nami and Ash there room keys. "Have a pleasant stay."

Everyone headed to their rooms and slept through the night.

The next morning…

It was now a bright sunny day and we are now back at the stadium where everybody seemed to be back at their seats from yesterday, except for Dimentio, which made Sanji happy now that he can sit next to Robin.

"I wonder where is the magician." Robin said while looking at the arena.

"Who cares about him? I am glad that maniac isnt here." Nami said while folding here arms.

"As do I, Nami-san. As do I." Sanji said while romantically staring at Robin. As they were talking, There were three characters selling peanuts to the crowd. These three characters are none other than Jessie, James, and Meowth wearing one of those suits that people wear when they sell peanuts at stadiums.

"Jessie, why are we doing this kind of job again? I don't feel comfortable doing this." James said.

"Quit yer whining, Pikachu and those pirate guys are here and we cannot let them out of our sight." Meowth said while shaking a bag of peanuts in front of James face.

"Besides, when it is the twerps turn to fight, we will snatch his Pikachu just at the right moment." Jessie said while smiling evilly.

"Sure, whatever you guys said." James said in a depressed way.

Back at the locker room, every competitor still in the tournament, except for Yojimbo, where awaiting for their matches to be announced. Homer was still knocked out after that incident last night and Bart was at a five star hotel at the previous night.

"Every second that goes by, I get more excited!" Luffy said, excitedly. "Come on, show the matches already."

A voice from the intercom could then be heard. "Hello competitors, your semifinal matches have been decided. Please look at the monitor." the voice from the intercom said as the monitor attached to a wall turned on and showed who is fighting who. Luffy and Franky VS Homer and Bart Simpson, Choppermon VS Pikachu, and Zoro VS Yojimbo.

"Yay, we are fighting the funny guys!" Luffy said while repeatedly jumping in the air. Usopp and Ash walked up to eachother and shook hands.

"May the best man win." Ash said as Pikachu and Chopper gave a confident look at eachother. Zoro was pleased, but didn't show that much enthusiasm like the rest.

"The first match is about to begin, may the competitors for the first match please step into the arena." The voice from the intercom said as Bart tried waking Homer up. Luffy and Franky went to the arena first and the crowd cheered wildly for them as they then saw something new to the arena.

"Whoa, what is this?" Luffy asked.

There was numerous of weapons everywhere, including a pool of acid. There were spikes on the walls that are covered in poison. The floor was also covered with several landmines, to said the least, the arena looks more like a war ground.

"Hey, those are the pirate guys that beat us up yesterday." James said while pointing at Luffy and Franky.

"Grr.. I hope they lose." Jessie said angrily while squishing a bag of peanuts to pieces. I came out of nowhere with the mic and faced the crowd.

"Hello once again folks, it is now time to begin our semifinals!" I yelled excitedly as the crowd cheered. "Now you might be wondering, what in the world is all of this for? Well, I'll tell ya, this match is what I like to call a battle to the death match!" The crowd then seemed kinda worried. "Don't worry, folks. Nobody is going to die, atleast I think." This made the crowd even more worried. "Heh heh, well anyway, lets meet our contestants!" I said as I walk up to Luffy and Franky.

"Now Luffy, you are facing Homer and Bart Simpson. How do you feel about facing them?" I asked as I pointed my mic towards Luffy's mouth.

"Well I…"

"That is very fascinating! What do you think, Franky?" I asked as I pointed my mic towards his mouth.

"I see what you are doing, but I am not going to fall for it! Because I…"

"How astonishing that was! Let's bring out there opponents!" I yelled as Franky muttered something to himself. The Simpsons theme could be heard from the speakers as Bart came into the arena while riding his skateboard and Homer who just simply walked in.

"Homer, I heard that you destroyed some cheap product yesterday, how do you feel?" I asked.

"I feel better than ever, and the electric pain is starting to wear off." Homer said before an electrical current shocked him for a couple of seconds.

"Well Homer, this time you and Bart are going to face this odd, yet powerful duo, what do you have to said about that?" I asked. Homer then took a quick look at Luffy and Franky before looking at me again.

"I don't know." Homer said, either that he doesnt know, or just simply didnt wanted to answer that.

"Okay! How about you Bart?" I asked.

"I got one thing to say." Bart said as he looks at Luffy and Franky. "Eat my shorts."

Franky was pissed, unlike Luffy who seemed quite confused whether Bart's shorts were tasty or not. "Well with that said, I guess it is about time to start this match already!" I said as I got into a safe distance. "3… 2… 1… GO!"

"Okay boy, you fight the big guy while I take care of this kid." Homer said while cracking his fists.

"Okay-hey wait a minute, Why do I have to face the big guy?" Bart asked.

"Teh! I cant fight that guy. He is wearing a Hawaiin shirt and you know what I said about guys wearing Hawaiin shirts, right?" Homer asked.

"Either that their gay or that they are big, fat party animals?" Bart said as Franky got angry.

"Exactly. Now good luck Bart!" Homer said before he raised his fists towards Luffy, who did the same to him. Bart watched as Franky go closer to him.

"Listen kid, You can simply walk away. I am not interested in fighting you anyway." Franky said.

"Heh, that's too bad. Because I really wanted to see your special move." Bart said.

"Special move? What special move?" Franky asked. Bart seemed hesitant upon hearing that.

"Your special move 'I have a small wiener.'." Bart said.

"I have a small wiener?" Franky said while scratching his head. Bart laughed as well as the crowd when he heard Franky said that. It took a couple of moments for Franky to realize what was so funny and got so angry, steam came out of his ears. "You little brat! I am going to smash you in pieces!" Franky yelled as he chased Bart, who was riding his skateboard in order to runaway faster. Meanwhile, Luffy and Homer still haven't fought eachother.

" Okay, Homer. Just think of a battle strategy and you'll be just fine ." Homer thinks to himself. "Now you will see why they call me Homer J. Simpson!" Homer yelled as he charges at Luffy.

"GOMU GOMU NO GATLING GUN!" Luffy repeatedly delivers multiple punches at Homer, rolled across the ground in pain. Homer got up and charged at Luffy again. As Homer got close, he leaped in the air and was about to land on Luffy, who jumped up as Homer landed on the ground. "GOMU GOMU NO YARI!" Luffy thrusted his feet to Homer, but instead of hurting Homer, his feet sank in Homer's blubbery skin. "Geh!" screams Luffy in surprise as his feet bounced off of Homer's back and right into Luffy's chin.

"Heh heh heh! All of my blubber skin will make your attacks bounce off of me. Don't think that I was born lazy in accident." Homer said as he charges at Luffy. Luffy rolled out of the way and punched Homer across the face. "DEH!" Homer cried in pain as he then countered by swinging his fist across Luffy's face. Luffy staggered a couple of inches back as Homer continued to punch him. Luffy then ducked under one of Homer's fist and grabbed Homer by his shirt collar, and threw Homer to a pile of garbage.

Homer came out of the pile of garbage carrying a baseball bat and swung the bat at Luffy, who blocked it by catching it. Homer used all of his strength to recover his baseball bat, but his fingers slipped off the hilt of the bat making Homer fall back to the ground and accidentally land on a landmine. The landmine exploded as Homer was sent flying upward. "GYYYAAAAAHHH!!" Homer yelled as he flew up before falling back down, where Luffy was waiting for him.

"GOMU GOMU NO STAMP!" Luffy thrusts his stretched leg towards Homer and kicks him, sending him flying across the arena and into another landmine, which made him fly back to Luffy, who kicked him again sending Homer once again to another landmine. This procedure continues to go on for a couple of minutes.

Franky was chasing Bart while avoiding a pellet that Bart fires at him. "Come back here so I can hit you!!" Franky yelled while shaking his fist in the air. Bart smirks as he took out a couple firecrackers from his pocket and fires them at Franky with his slingshot. Franky jumps over the firecrackers and was now getting close to Bart.

"Eat this, DIAPER BOMB!" Bart fires a little diaper at Franky's face and exploded upon impact. Franky fell to the ground as the explosion also let out a horrible smell. "Heh heh ha ha ha ha!" Bart laughed as he stops for a minute to look at Franky, who was getting up and feeling a little dazed at the same time. Bart then fired an ordinary pellet to Franky's head, but Franky didn't seem to feel anything when the pellet hit his head. Franky angrily looks at Bart and aims with his left hand as his wrist opens.

"WEAPONS LEFT!" Franky fires a blast from his wrist as Bart manages to get out of the way, but the explosion did sent Bart fly off from the ground. While in midair, Bart manages to fire another pellet at Franky, who simply knocked the pellet away with his own arm. Franky then aims at Bart with his right arm "STRONG RIGHT!" Franky fires his right arm at Bart and catches him. Franky quickly reeled Bart to himself, only that Bart managed to get one of his arms free and was now holding a water gun.

Bart fired some sort of liquid at Franky's face, but Franky didn't reacted to it, since he thought it was just water. Franky then felt very sleepy as he drowsily let of Bart, who run to get his skateboard. "Wha-What is this stuff. I can barely keep my eyes open." Franky said, trying to stay awake.

"Ha ha ha, What's the matter? A little sleeping medicine affecting a big strong guy like you?" Bart asked as he took out a blue pellet out of his pocket. "THUNDER CRACKER!" Bart fires the blue pellet as it exploded blue electricity upon impacting with Franky. The electricity also destroyed several of the landmines as Homer finally crashed to the ground without any of the landmines making him fly back up again.

"Phew, that's finally over." Homer said as Luffy came charging at him out of nowhere. "You have injured me for the last time." Homer said as he then got hit in the face after saiding that. Homer groggily got up while looking at Luffy with his eyes half open. "Okay… THAT was the last time you will injure me!" Homer said as he then screams for no reason before he started to land numerous of punches and kicks at Luffy. Homer ended his combo by jumping on Luffy and flattening him to the ground. Homer picked Luffy up and started to choke and shake him at the same time.

In the meantime, the smoke from the explosion that Bart made started to wear off and Franky was nowhere in sight. "Where did he go?" Bart asked as he didn't realized that Franky was right above him with his steel fist.

"STRONG…" Bart looked up to see Franky, but didn't have time to avoid nor counter "… HAMMER!" Franky hits the ground near Bart, which made him unconsciously fly towards Homer's head, which made him loosen his grip around Luffy's neck. Luffy the grabbed Homer's wrist as he stretched his foot back.

"GOMU GOMU NO STAMP!" Luffy kicks Homer that sent him flying towards the pool of acid. Good news is that Homer landed on the end of a diving board, bad news is that diving board is slowly going down due to Homer's weight.

"Oh no, I am going to die." Homer said with fear as Luffy walked up to him. "Oh boy, push the diving board down, that way I can crawl back to land." Luffy was about to do what Homer instructed him to do, but stopped for a minute.

"Wait a minute, what are you going to do if I help you out?" Luffy asked. Homer then smiled at Luffy.

"I'll be your new best friend." Homer said as Luffy got happy and pushed the board down. As soon as he did, Homer got really angry. "I'LL KILL YOU! I'LL KILL YOU AND YOUR WHOLE FAMILY!!" Homer yelled as Luffy slightly raised the board up, which made Homer feel bad scared again. "Kidding, I'm kidding. That's what friends do. Don't take it so personally." Luffy lowers the board. "I AM GOING TO DOUBLE KILL YOU AND PUT YOU INTO A SHALLOW GRAVE, THEN I'LL DIG YOU UP AND KILL YOU AGAIN! THAT'S THE BEAUTY OF A SHALLOW GRAVE!" Luffy raises the board "You sweet little boy, ooo-… Luffy lowers the board -ohh I AM GOING TO BITE YOUR HEAD OFF AND SPIT OUT YOUR… Luffy raises the board… adorable little neck and then I will… Luffy lowers the board… RIP YOUR ORGANS OUT AND SELL THEM TO A BUTCHER!!" Luffy raises the board. ″ Which then I will buy off from the butcher and put them back into your body with ducktape and then we can go on a fishing trip." Luffy lowers the board. "BUT FIRST I AM GOING TO PUT YOU IN A STRETCHER AND PUNCH YOUR FACE OUT!! YEAH, THAT'S WHAT I AM GOING TO DO!!!"

I came out of hiding and walked up right next to Luffy. "Homer, would you like to forfeit?" I asked.

"DROP DEAD!" Homer yelled.

"I'll take that as a yes." I said as I then faced at the crowd. "And the winners of this match are Luffy and Franky!!!" Everyone cheered as guards with jetpacks grabbed Homer and got him safely next to his unconscious son. Luffy jumped in joy while Franky was wiping his face as they were heading back to the locker rooms. The guards then were about to throw Homer and Bart through the same hole Cassenia and Buff went through.

"Hold on a minute, I can do this myself thank you very much." Homer said as he grabbed Bart and kicked himself with his own heel that somehow made him fly through the hole, which made the guards confused. A couple of minutes later, the arena was now clean of any dangerous objects and their was a new squared platform in the middle of it.

"Alright folks, it is time to start our second match of the day." I said as Ash Ketchum, along with his Pikachu came into the arena as the crowd cheered for him. As he walked into the platform, a fog came out of the arena and out came Chopper back into his red cape and Usopp back into his clothes that he had yesterday.

"Now in this corner. From Pallet town, Ash Ketchum and his Pikachu!" I yelled as Ash waved to the crowd while crowd cheered at him. "And in this corner, we have the strongest pokemon trainer along with the strongest pokemon in all existence, Usopp and his Choppermon!!" I yelled as Usopp did a confident pose as Chopper was ready to battle. "Now let us begin our match." I said as I got out of the platform. "3… 2… 1… GO!"

"Ok, Choppermon. Lets show these people why we are the best!" Usopp exclaimed as Chopper nodded before charging at Pikachu.

"Pikachu, use quick attack!" Ash commands as Pikachu charged at Chopper while zipping through place to place in a fast rate. Chopper lowers his head as Pikachu got closer, only Pikachu jumped over him. "Pikachu, use Iron tail!" Ash commands as Pikachu's tail glow white.

"Counter it with a headbutt of doom, Choppermon!" Usopp commands as Chopper quickly turned around and leaps right in front of Pikachu with his head hung low, as Pikachu swung his tail on Chopper's head. When they hit eachother at the same time, it created an explosion that sended them flying backwards. They both got up and charged at eachother again. "Now Choppermon, transform into Chopperkonga!" Usopp commands as Chopper transformed into his heavy point and raised his arms at Pikachu.

"Pikachu, dodge it and use skull bash!" commands Ash as Pikachu went under Chopper's legs just before Chopper would lower his clenched fists down at the down. Pikachu then turned around and did a skull bash right at Chopper's butt.

"Uooohhh!!" Chopper cried while holding his butt in pain as sparks were coming out of Pikachu's cheeks.

"Pikachu, use thunderbolt!" Ash commands.

"Piikaaaa…"

"Chopperkonga, transform back into Choppermon and absorb the attack with your antlers." Usopp commands.

"Are you crazy!?" Chopper asked as he seemed to have no other choice as he transformed back into his walk point and awaited Pikachu to attack.

"… chuuuuuu!!!" Pikachu created a thunderbolt towards Chopper as the electricity impacted on Chopper's antlers. Doing this inflicted damage on Chopper, but now has an electrical current surrounding his antlers. Chopper then charged at Pikachu with his head hung low "THUNDER COLLONADE!" Chopper raised his head as he went right through Pikachu, leaving an electric cut across Pikachu's body. Pikachu limplessly fell to the ground, but got back up, not yet ready to give up.

"Choppermon sure is a strong pokemon. But that wont stop us, right Pikachu?" Ash asked.

"Pikachu." Pikachu said while nodding.

"This is going to be a little tougher than I thought." Usopp said while rubbing his chin. "It is time to do what I do best. Ash!"

"Huh?" Ash said.

"Did I ever tell you how many pokemon I have captured up to this point?" Usopp asked, which made Ash kinda curious. "Heh, I have captured… OVER 8000 POKEMON!!!"

"WHAT!?" Ash said in surprise as Pikachu was also in shock.

"WHAAAAATT!?!?" Chopper yelled in surprise. Nami slapped her forehead as Robin giggled upon hearing that.

"Now Choppermon! Attack!!" Usopp commands as Chopper decided to ask Usopp on how he captured 8000 pokemon later and attack Pikachu. Chopper gored Pikachu as Pikachu almost flew out of the platform.

"Pikachu, get up!" Ash yelled as Pikachu groggily got up. "I have no choice but to use this. Pikachu, use Volt Tackle!" Pikachu charged at Chopper while a huge amount of electrical aura around his body.

"Wha-What is that!? Choppermon attack him with all of your strength!!" Usopp yelled fearfully as Chopper charged at Pikachu with a pink aura surrounding him.

"ROSEO CHARGE!" blossom petals came out of Chopper's pink aura as he and Pikachu were about to collide. Once they did, an explosion mixed with electricity and blossoms occurred right between them and sent both of them flying out of the platform and landed on the ground on the same time. I was stunned by seeing such an attack, until I finally regained my senses.

"It looks like both Choppermon and Pikachu fell off of the platform at the same time, so what do you think, Judge?" I asked to a judge with a very long and grim face. He gave me two thumbs down. "Ohh, it looks like the judge does not approve, like usual. In this case, the match between Choppermon and Pikachu is a draw. However, this means that they also lost their privileges to go to the final round."

"Huh!?" Usopp and Ash said at the same time.

"So you guys are no longer needed. I am afraid I have to ask you to leave." I said as big guards and were charging at Usopp and Chopper and not Ash and Pikachu for some reason.

"GET AWAY!" Usopp yelled as he ran out of the arena while carrying Chopper on his back. Ash simply carried Pikachu and happily looked at him as he walked out of the arena. Jessie, James and Meowth were amazed to see such a battle.

"That was so entertaining, I didn't feel like doing anything." James said.

"It was a good battle." Jessie said. She then remembered something extremely important. "We forgot to capture Pikachu after the battle!"

"Oh yeah, how can I forget about that? I am the smart one of the trio afterall." Meowth said before Jessie and James hit Meowth at the back of his head.

"And now it is now time for our third match to begin." I said as Zoro, along with Pichu on his shoulder, came into the platform while everyone was going 'aww' while looking at Pichu. When Zoro got on the platform, I looked at the entrance again to see that same blossom tree that came out of nowhere again. Some of the petals flew out of the tree as Yojimbo, along with his dog, came out of the entrance in a mysterious way. They walked in the middle of the platform as he and Zoro glared at eachother.

"Where does that tree keep coming from?" I asked to myself. "Anyway, allow me to introduce…"

"Shut up!" Zoro said as he glared at me for one second before glaring back at Yojimbo.

"Ah! Uh, okay." I said as I rushed out of the platform much faster than usual. "3… 2… 1… GO!" After that I said 'GO' They were still glaring at eachother.

"Pichu…" Zoro said, catching Pichu's attention. "Leave the platform, I am going to take care of this guy by myself." Pichu was surprised to hear that, but didn't argue as he jumped off of Zoro's shoulders and got out of the platform. Yojimbo signaled his dog to leave the platform as well. When the dog left, Zoro and Yojimbo jumped away from eachother and were about to battle. Zoro took off the bandana around his left arm and wrapped it around his head, while Yojimbo crouched down a bit, revealing the hilt of his sword.

Before they could do anything else, the stadium started to shake. "What the!? What is going on!?" I yelled as the ground somehow exploded in dirt as something big emerged from it. The crowd then ran away for their lives, except for Sanji, Nami and Robin, who were wondering what was going on and Jessie, James, and Meowth, who were hugging eachother in fear. Luffy, Usopp, Chopper, Franky, Ash and Pikachu came rushing into the arena to see what was going on. Yojimbo and Zoro didn't seem to notice as they were still glaring at eachother.

"What is that?" Luffy yelled as he was pointing to the big thing that caused this tremor as the dust around it started to clear.

TO BE CONTINUED…

Hmm… It looks like the tournament is finally over. The plot of this arc will be revealed in the next chapter. And I would like to apologize for the Xbox360 thing. It was nothing personal, just a Simpsons thing.

OFF-TOPIC: Ike is in Brawl and the adventure mode looks awesome!! Hurray!!

Pokemon Pt 10

I was suggested that I should do a preview. Well I decided to do a preview, One piece style, at the end of this chapter. Let me know if its okay or not. Anyway, enjoy the new chapter.

Interruption. Luffy and Usopp were able to defeat Homer & Bart Simpson and were now in the finals. Usopp and Ash's match turned out to be a draw and were both out of the tournament. The only semifinal match left was the Santoryu user, Zoro, verses the mysterious swordsman, Yojimbo. Before they could begin their battle, there was a huge tremor in the stadium that caused everyone to evacuate. The cause for the tremor is yet to be revealed as Luffy and the others were about to face something big. What could it be?

Chapter 33: Tournament cancelled?, The Team Rocket era

The arena was now complete mess except for the platform that Zoro and Yojimbo are on. The one who caused all this turned out to be a giant, black robot with a big 'R' on its chest. "What the heck is that thing?" Franky asked as the shoulders of the robot opened and out came two people that were none other than Cassenia and Buff.

"Hey, those are the guys that lost against the mystery sword guy." Luffy said while pointing at them.

"Why are they destroying the arena?" Chopper asked.

"Wait a minute… they look like.." Ash said as Cassenia and Buff started to laugh.

"Prepare for trouble." Cassenia said.

"And make it double." Buff said.

"To infect the world with devastation."

"To blite all people within every nation."

"To denounce the goodness of truth and love."

"To extend our wrath to the stars above."

"Cassidy." Cassenia said as she took off her disguise and now has the same uniform as Jessie has, only that its black instead of white.

"Butch." Buff said while taking off his disguise and showing the same uniform as James, only it's also black.

"We're Team Rocket, circling earth all day and night." Cassidy said while folding her arms.

"Surrender to us now or you'll surely lose the fight." Butch said while folding his arms. Everyone was quiet after their motto was spoken.

"Its Cassidy and Bambi." Ash said in surprise.

"My name is Butch, not Bambi!" yelled Ba-I mean Butch. Jessie, James, and Meowth were not amused to see Cassidy and Butch in the arena, especially Jessie.

"What are they doing here!?" Jessie yelled.

"I-It looks like they came to do our job for us." James said while crouching in fear.

"That it ain't good. That was supposed to be us with the giant robot, not them." Meowth said while angrily shaking his paw. They didn't know that they were right next Sanji, who happened to overhear everything they said, but decided not to say anything yet.

"Those guys are wearing the same uniform like those other morons that we fought yesterday. What do we do, Strawhat?" Franky asked as he looked at Luffy, who had his head facing down. Luffy then looked at Cassidy and Butch.

"YOU GUYS SUCK!" Luffy yelled, which made Cassidy and Butch almost fall off their robot.

"How dare you talk to us like that!?" Cassidy yelled while getting up.

"Yeah, who do you think you are!?" Butch yelled while getting up.

"WHERE ARE THE OTHER GUYS I SAW YESTERDAY!? THEY WERE COOL, YOU GUYS SUCK!!" Luffy yelled, which made Jessie, James and Meowth feel good about themselves.

"What are you guys want this time!?" Ash yelled as Cassidy and Butch started to laugh.

"Ha, we don't have the rights to tell you anything. In fact, why not you hear it from our boss." Cassidy said as she took out her minimonitor. "Alright sir, you can begin."

The titantron of the arena then turned on and showed Giovanni sitting on his chair while petting his Persian. "Greetings citizens of Indigo Plateau." Giovanni said. "I am Giovanni, the president of the Team Rocket industry and the host of this tournament."

"Team Rocket!? What is that, and why is all of this happening!?" Usopp asked in fear.

"You might be wondering how a great man such as myself was able to host such a big tournament in such a short notice." Giovanni said. "Well, the answer is quite simple. It is something that you people are dying to achieve… money." This made Nami kinda angry. "With my vast amount of money, I hosted this tournament, hoping that the strongest pokemon trainers would compete in it. But I was not interested in seeing 2nd rated pokemon fight eachother to death, this tournament was simply a distraction in order to create the mechanism that will achieve my goal."

The screen then showed a big machine with a big 'R' on it. "What you are seeing now is a mind control device that it is so powerful, it will make every pokemon around the world to follow my commands." Giovanni said. "It works by giving radar frequencies to Team Rocket's satellites, which will spread the frequencies around the world, brainwashing every pokemon to do nothing but follow me. You might think that something like this is rather impossible, but nothing is impossible if you have the right pokemon. Come on out, Mewtwo!"

A cat like creature wearing armor known as Mewtwo appeared over the titantron while folding its arms as his eyes glowing out of his visor.

"Wh-Wh-What is that!?" Usopp yelled as he was pointing at Mewtwo.

"Mewtwo!? But how?" Ash said in surprise as the titantron then showed Giovanni again.

"This pokemon is the key to my success." Giovanni began to say. "In just 6 hours, It will activate the mechanism and the Team Rocket era will soon begin. I have to admit that I wouldn't have succeeded if it wasn't for this tournament nonsense. To just think that announcing that their will be prizes will get someone's attention. Too bad that they were fake in the first place."

When Giovanni said fake, Nami's nerves began to drastically increase. "Now that I have revealed my purpose, I cannot let any of you live. Mewtwo, de-"

"CYCLONE TEMPO!" The titantron was smashed to pieces due to part of Nami's PCT as it came back to Nami, attaching itself back to were it suppose to. Jessie, James, and Meowth were hugging eachother in fear upon seeing Nami's angry face for the first time. "The word 'fake' and 'prizes' do NOT mix." Nami said in an angry yet calm tone. "When a person announces that they are going to giveaway prizes for somebody doing something, that means that person must give that somebody their prizes. If they don't, then that person will surely die out of that somebody's RAGE!!"

Fire then enveloped all over Nami's body as Jessie, James and Meowth were shaking even more. "Hah, Nami-san is beautiful when she is so much angrier then she use to be." Sanji said, happily as hearts came out of his visible eye. He then calmed down and looked at Mewtwo. "That thing doesn't look like a pushover. If it has the power to do something like that, then we better watch ourselves."

"We should not think about that right now, Cook-san." Robin said. "Our crew is in danger."

Back at the arena, Cassidy and Butch had their mouths wide open after seeing Nami destroy the titantron while Giovanni was talking.

"How dare that girl interrupts our leader while he was talking! Buck, lets get rid of these people!" yells Cassidy as she got back in the robot.

"My name is Butch!" Butch yelled as he got back in the robot. The robot then turned on and swung his massive arms in around the air.

"That's it! I am outta here!" I yelled as I got out of the arena as fast as I could and locked the entrance behind me. Usopp saw the entrance close and tried to barge in the entrance with all of his strength, which is not much by the way.

"We're trapped! There is no way out of here!" Usopp yelled in fear as Chopper was running around in circles, not knowing what to do.

"That orange suit guy!" Luffy yelled angrily. "He is going to pay for this!"

"Oi, Zoro! Quit looking at that guy like a moron and destroy that robot already!" Franky yelled as Zoro and Yojimbo were still looking at eachother, still not knowing what was going on. The robot then started to walk right towards them.

"There is that guy who humiliated us earlier. Lets show him we mean business." Cassidy said as she pushed a red button that opened the chest of the robot, revealing a huge cannon inside. The cannon then started to gather energy as their was now an orb of energy forming at the tip of the cannon. Luffy gulped upon seeing that.

"A-A beam! They are going to shoot out a beam!!" Luffy yelled.

"No kidding, Dumbass!" Sanji yelled as he was yelling from the stands. Luffy then angrily looks at Sanji.

"Shut up, man!" Luffy yelled. "It's gonna be a beam! No matter what, its a beam! A beam! Beam!!"

"We can all see its a beam! I wasn't denying it!" Sanji yelled.

"I know that, I am just saying its going to be a beam, you idiot!" Luffy yelled.

"Well if you are so smart, what kind of beam is it!?" Sanji yelled.

"THIS IS NOT THE TIME TO ARGUE ABOUT SOME BEAM!! WE HAVE TO GET OUT OF HERE OR THAT BEAM WILL KILLS US ALL!!!" Usopp yelled even louder than Luffy and Sanji's yelling combine. The orb of energy got a seconds went by. Cassidy and Butch were evilly smirking while looking at an energy gauge that was going up.

"Once that gauge is full, will destroy every single one of them on target." Cassidy said.

"This might destroy most of the town in front of us, but it will be worth it. Just 20 seconds left until we are ready to fire." Butch said while the gauge was going up. Meanwhile, The gaze between Zoro and Yojimbo finally stopped as Zoro was going to say something.

"I sense a huge amount of Ki in you, but so far I haven't seen you do anything but using your dog as a weapon, and you spying on us last night." Zoro said. "Are you proud to be so strong, you are to lazy to show it?"

Yojimbo didn't faze at all upon hearing that remark. He then pulled out a knife that was half as long as Zoro's blades as the orb in front of the robot was now at its full potential. "The beam is now at it's full power. We are now ready to fire." Butch said.

"Good, now lets finish them off!" Cassidy yelled as she lifted her finger and pressed the red button, which made the orb form into a beam. Everyone stood their emotionless, awaiting for the worst. That is until Yojimbo threw his long knife at the beam. The knife cuts the beam in half and went right through the robot as it impaled to a wall behind it. The two halves of the beam went upwards and collided with eachother, creating a humongous explosion in the air. Everybody, except for Zoro and Robin, had their eyes popping out of their heads and their mouths were so wide open, they hit the ground.

"Th-Th-Th-Th-Th-The beam… was cut in half…" Cassidy said as she was very pale.

"Wait a minute… that knife went right through us." Butch said. "So, why aren't we…"

The robot then had thousands of cuts all over its body and exploded several moments later as Cassidy and Butch went flying up in the sky.

"Okay, from now on, we do not mess with mysterious swordsman like him again." Cassidy cried.

"I totally agree." Butch whined.

"Team Rocket is blasting off again…" They yelled until they could no longer be seen. Everyone was still shocked at what just happened.

"He… cut the robot… with a knife… THAT WAS SO COOL!!" Luffy yelled excitedly.

"To think that cutting ships was possible… now this…" Usopp said while still in shock.

"I never saw anything like that before in my entire life." Ash said in amazement as Pikachu nodded in agreement. Zoro looked at where the robot use to be and was looking at the knife impaled to wall. Zoro then looked at Yojimbo, who was no longer there, as well as his dog.

"He's gone." Zoro said, quietly. Pichu walked beside Zoro and looked at him, seeing a scared and an excited look in his eyes. "If I happen to meet him again, I will defeat him." Zoro then smirked as Pichu climbed up to his shoulder and happily looked at him. Luffy then calmed himself as he then looked at Mewtwo on the titantron. They gazed at eachother for a couple of moments before Mewtwo teleported away.

"The cat thing is the key to their success, huh?" Luffy asked to himself. The Strawhats and could then hear screaming coming from outside of the stadium.

"What is going on now?" Chopper asked. Sanji runs up to the stadium walls and looks at the town. He didnt like what he was seeing and took out a cigarette and lits it up before putting it on his lips.

"He wasn't kidding about the whole era thing…" Sanji said. What Sanji was seeing was an army of Team Rocket scourging through the streets as the citizens were hiding in their houses or in local shops. Most of the members were headed straight to the stadium. Sanji then went walking downstairs, where the rest of his crew were. "There is alot of those Team Rocket guys all over town. Most of them are heading right here."

"Oh great. To think things could not get any worse." Usopp said.

"So what? We can just beat them up." Luffy said, plainly.

"We cant just face an whole army by ourselves, that's almost impossible." Ash said.

"Kid, the word 'impossible' doesn't mean much to us anymore. Besides, there is no other way out of here." Zoro said.

"So, we're stuck here?" Chopper asked.

"It looks like it." Robin said.

"Eh, not like it matters if we are stuck here or not. In 6 hours, all the animals will be under control by that fancy-pants guy." Franky said while folding his arms.

"We got to do something! We can't let him do what he wants!" yells Ash.

"What do you want us to do, kid? There isn't enough time to find this guy and stop him. By the time we get rid of all these losers, the guy would've already have control over the animals." Franky said, little annoyed with Ash's yelling. The only person who was quiet was Luffy as he was looking at the ground with his strawhat blocking the view.

"Luffy…" Nami said. The Strawhats and Ash then saw something above them. It was a huge helicopter flying above the Strawhats as Brandon came opened the door and lowered a rope ladder to them.

"Get on!" Brandon exclaimed as Usopp and Chopper quickly climbed up the rope ladder and into the helicopter. Everyone else got in as soon as the stadium started to flood with members of Team Rocket. The helicopter just left before the members could do anything to stop them. Luffy looked out of the window to see the street filled with members Team Rocket. It is like the town belongs to them now.

"Is everyone alright?" Brandon asked. Everyone nodded as almost everyone was kinda curious on what they were riding on.

"What is this thing? How can it fly?" Usopp asked curiously.

"This ain't the time to admire something we haven't seen before." Sanji said. "Right now we must figure out what we must do."

"What are you saying? That we should just let Giovanni get away with this? I cant let that happen!" Ash yelled.

"Calm down! I wasn't talking about that." Sanji said as Ash calmed down. "What I am saying is what shall we do to find this guy."

"Like we know where he is. How do you suppose that we answer that?" Usopp asked.

"I wasn't really referring to you guys, but those three hiding behind those bags." Sanji said while pointing at Jessie, James, and Meowth, who were hiding behind some bags, hoping to not get noticed. Franky gets up and pushes the bags out of the way to see the shocked trio again.

"Oh, it's you guys." Franky said while looking at the trio.

"Oh no, its the cyborg." James said in fear.

"What do we do, Jessie?" Meowth asked. Jessie shook in fear until she bravely stood up.

"Perpare for trou-"

"I heard your suckish motto already, you don't need to repeat it." Franky said rudely. Jessie stumbled backwards as Sanji decided to look at the trio. His visible eye was turned into a big heart when he saw Jessie.

"Who is the beautiful lady with the long red hair?" Sanji asked as he was tap dancing with joy.

"Huh?" Jessie when she looked at the happy Sanji. She then blushed like crazy. "Well I can't say that I have never been called beautiful before, ah ha ha ha ha." Jessie said, unaware that she was hitting James in the back numerous of times.

"I thought you said that we didn't have time to be admiring things." Usopp said while narrowing his eyes.

"Shut up! This isnt a thing, it's a person." Sanji said before tap dancing in joy again. Ash then angrily walks in front of Team Rocket.

"What are you guys doing here? Are you trying to keep on eye on us?" Ash asked angrily.

"Hey we are just as surprised as you guys are. We had nothing to do with this, we swear!" James said.

"Yeah, if we had something to do with this, then we wouldn't be here, flapping our yaps." Meowth said.

"Then I suppose you know where this Giovanni is." Robin said as the trio got scared.

"What do you mean? We don't know anything." Jessie lied.

"Yeah, we don't know that the boss is in a big building in the middle of the mountains north of town." James said. Jessie and Meowth then punched James across the face, knocking him out afterwards.

"A building in the middle of the mountains, huh?" Brandon said as he got up. "Then we no choice but to attack them as quickly as possible. We are going to need your assistance."

Ash nodded, accepting to help, but everyone else just didn't say anything. "Its not really up to us to decide whether to help you guys or not." Zoro said. "Our captain is the only one who can answer."

Everyone looked at Luffy, who was still looking out of the window. "Luffy… what are you.." Nami said before Luffy got up.

"We'll fight…" Luffy said. "This world is very fun to be in and all the people here are peaceful and kind. They do not deserve this kind of thing that is happening right now. We are going right where that orange suit guy is and beat up every single men he has. And once I find this orange suit guy, I am going to shove his face down to the ground where it belongs."

Everyone started to feel happy and more encouraged upon hearing Luffy's words. "Heh, you always say this kind of stuff just when we are about to face something big." Nami said while standing up. "When you decide something, you will always follow it till the end. I guess we have no choice but to agree."

"They better have strong opponents there." Zoro said while resting on the ground.

"Ow! Guess its time to turn my freak on those losers." Franky said while Robin giggled.

"If Nami-san and Robin-chwan are going, then so am I." Sanji said.

"I'll fight too." Chopper said.

"I don't feel like making up a lie right now, since it's obviously pointless. So, I guess the great Usopp will have to save the day once again." Usopp said with a depressed look. Ash, Pikachu and Brandon were happy to hear this. Jessie and Meowth were confused to see such people with great determination. Luffy then did his usual smile and pointed where the helicopter was going.

"Yosh, then we all know what we must do. We shall attack the orange suit guy at morning!" Luffy yelled excitedly.

"We only have 6 hours until deadline, you moron. We only have until sunset." Nami said.

Meanwhile…

Members of Team Rocket were walking through the streets like an army. Right next to the stadium was none other than Dimentio, who was amused at his surroundings. "Ah ha ha ha ha! The town is now infested with members of Team Rocket, like a pack of wild cheetahs ganging up on a reindeer." Dimentio said in a amused manner. "Although, it looks like kinda pale to me. I cannot even imagine what this town would look like in a couple of years or so."

A figure was then walking up to Dimentio from behind. Dimentio smiled and turned around to Yojimbo with his dog by his side. "Well if it isn't my good friend, Yojimbo. You showed no mercy to that duo the other day. I must say, I couldn't have done it better myself." Dimentio said.

Yojimbo remained silent, as he merely stared at Dimentio.

"You seem rather disappointed at something. Let me guess, you have found out that the prize money was fake, right?" Dimentio asked. Yojimbo nodded in response. "I should've known. I am deeply sorry for not telling you about this, but if I did, you wouldn't have come here with me in the first place. How about if we go to Mr. Giovanni's place right now and you can ask him for some money for your efforts in the tournament, how does that sound?"

"…"

"I'll take that as a yes. Now let us go to Mr. Giovanni's place, like a pair of construction workers heading to their boss for a raise." Dimentio said as he and Yojimbo were walking to where Giovanni is.

That was my best One Piece preview I can do. It was obviously Luffy who was announcing it. Later!

Pokemon Pt 11

Sorry about the delay again, is just that I have been busy yesterday and I didn't have time to update. Anyway, enjoy!

6 hours until deadline. It was now known that Giovanni was planning to control pokemon all over the world, using Mewtwo as his source. Cassidy and Butch were about to destroy the Strawhats, until Yojimbo sent them away with his sheer power. While this was happening, the streets were starting to get filled with members of Team Rocket. Most of them were barging in the stadium, intending to get rid of anybody who happened to be there. Luckily, the Strawhats were able to get away thanks to Brandon and his helicopter that transported them out of the stadium. Luffy has decided that he will stop Giovanni's cruel plan and will personally attack Team Rocket's headquarters. Will Luffy and the gang stop Giovanni before the time runs out?

Chapter 34: The attack in Team Rocket's base, The clone pokemon

The helicopter where Luffy and the rest are in were heading towards a secret base, hidden in the mountains. The helicopter landed on one of the landing areas before the Strawhats, Ash, Pikachu, and Brandon came out of it. Team Rocket on the other hand were tied up at the moment, unable for them to escape. The base didn't look pretty fancy, but it was told that it was the most secretive base that ever existed.

"So this is the secret base." Usopp said while looking at some people walking around and a huge tent in the middle of them.

"This place is so cool! No wonder it's a seeecret." Luffy said.

"Please don't start with the 'seeecret' thing again." Franky said in a grumpy manner. They walked inside the huge tent and saw a huge crowd inside. What was special about this crowd is that all of them were officer Jennys. This made Sanji jump in joy.

"Twins! Triplets! Quadruplets!! Fiveniblets!!" Sanji yelled in joy.

"That last one wasn't even a word." Usopp said while backslapping the air in front of Sanji.

"Who cares!? I am in heaven!" Sanji said while tap dancing. Most of the officer Jennys were around a square table with a map on it. They were discussing a plan on how to infiltrate Giovanni's base. Unfortunately, they don't seem to be doing good job.

"That wont work! There will be severe casualties if we go with that plan!" Officer Jenny yeled.

"Do you have any better ideas?" Another Officer Jenny asked. Nami sighs, and looks at the map at the table. As soon as she memorizes the map, she went back to her crew to talk about their own plan.

"They call themselves officers, but they don't even know how to work with eachother." Franky commented.

"As long as they are beautiful, that doesn't bother me." Sanji said while looking at one of the officer Jennys.

"We don't have time to make comments. Since they are going to make their own plan, it is best that we make our own." Nami said. "Now I have memorized the map of that fake prize giver's building. It seems to have atleast 100 floors."

"100 floors!? We'll never get all the way up there in time." Usopp said.

"Not all of us are going to go up there. Only Luffy has the advantage to do that." Nami said.

"Me? Why?" Luffy asked. Nami rolled her eyes, and narrowed at Luffy.

"Do I even have to explain it to you? You can simply stretch your body, and spring jump all the way up to the top floor."

"It's 100 floors. Our captain cant spring that far as much I know." Zoro said. "And he can't just go through every floor. I know he is made of rubber, but even he can't do that in less than 6 hours."

"I know that. But there is a staircase room that only goes up and no floors that will stop Luffy. If he uses that, then he can get there with no problem at all." Nami said.

"But what about that cat-looking pokemon? What if he shows up?" Chopper asked.

"Mewtwo won't attack unless Giovanni commands him to." Ash said while folding his arms. "That armor on him must be some sort of brainwashing device. I don't know how Giovanni was able to do that, but I am pretty certain that is the case."

"I cant imagine what that cat thing is capable of. If he has the power to control pokemon all over the world, then he must be really powerful. Even powerful than the CP9." Usopp said while trembling in fear.

"Really!?" Chopper asked in fear.

"I have noticed that creature can teleport. Maybe it concentrates more on mental attacks than physical." Robin said.

"If that's the case, then Luffy doesn't stand a chance." Zoro said as Luffy tilted his head sideways in confusion.

"Hmm? Why dont I stand a chance?" Luffy asked as everyone sighed.

"Anyway, when Luffy goes to attack the fake prize giver, we need to take down most of his men as much as we can." Nami said. "Sanji, Robin, and Franky will get rid of the elite unit in the first floor, and Zoro, Usopp, and Chopper will destroy the power supply." Pichu made a grumpy face at Nami for not mentioning his name. "-sigh-… And the little mouse will help them too." Pichu then got happy again.

"What are you going to do, Nami-san?" Sanji asked.

"I am going to use this thing called 'a private elevator' and get to the top floor and beat the heck out of the fake prize giver as soon as Luffy softens him up for me." Nami said while angrily shaking her fist.

"So you basically going to take all the credit when you defeat an evil man after Luffy softens him up for you?" Usopp asked while narrowing his eyes.

"Yes. Do you have a problem with that?" Nami asked.

"No, not at all." Usopp said.

"What do I do?" Ash asked.

"You do what you do best. Sorry, but I dont want to waste my time planning for people that I just met yesterday." Nami said.

"Lazy, cheap girl." Zoro, Usopp, and Franky said simultaneously before Nami hits them on the head.

"Pikachu…" Pikachu said while shaking his head.

"Now that we finally got the plan out of the picture. When do we leave?" Sanji asked. Brandon then came up to the group.

"We are now ready to leave. Are you guys ready?" Brandon asked. Everyone looked at at Luffy, who was positively smiling.

"Yeah, we are ready to go." Luffy said.

"Good, now let's get into the vehicles." Brandon said. The Strawhats got out of the tent to see a huge, yellow car waiting to leave.

"Woah, its a car!" LUffy said, excitedly.

"You know what those things are?" Usopp asked.

"Yeah, those are cars that I heard so much about." Luffy said.

"Hey Luffy, back at Hyrule, you did say something about snails driving these cars." Chopper said while looking at the car.

"Oh yeah! There must be one in there right now!" Luffy yelled excitedly as he ran to the car and opened a door to just see an ordinary driver inside. "Aww… nevermind, Chopper. Its just some random guy." Luffy then got in the car all depressed, as well as Chopper. Everyone else got in the car as the driver drove them to Team Rocket's headquarters. As they left, One of the officer Jennys went into the helicopter to check on our Team Rocket trio.

"Alright you three, time to…" officer Jenny said before she then saw that the trio was no longer there except for the rope they were tied up with. "Where did they go?" she asked to herself. The answer to that question was in the trunk of the yellow car the Strawhats are in. They were able to sneak inside the trunk without anybody noticing them, which wasn't really a good idea since they were a rocky roadway, making them bounce all over the trunk. Anyway, The car has now reached towards the Team Rocket's headquarters as the driver parked behind a rock in order avoid unnecessary confrontations.

"Okay, first we watch them for any suspicious activity. And when our backup arrives, we attack. Any questions?" Brandon asked.

"Yeah, how about we just attack them right now?" Nami asked.

"Why?" Brandon asked.

"Because Luffy and the mouse boy already left." Nami said while pointing Luffy and Ash, who were charging at the entrance guards.

"Hm?" said one of the guards as he saw Luffy and Ash charging at him. "Hey kids, this ain't no playground. So get lo-"

"GOMU GOMU NO PISTOL!" Luffy punches the guard across his face as he flew right into the building before passing out. A couple saw what happened and went to attack them, only Pikachu stood in front of him.

"Pikachu, use Thunderbolt!" Ash commands.

"Pikachuuuuuuuuu!" Pikachu creates a thunderbolt around him and shocks the guards out cold. The alarm then went off as huge amount of guards came out of the building and charged at Luffy.

"GOMU GOMU NO MUCHI!" Luffy does a stretched horizontal kick at all of those guards, making them crash into a boulder. The Strawhats quickly got out of the car as soon as Luffy and Ash went charging into the building. They quickly ran through multiple guards, since they didn't have the time to deal with them. They went inside the staircase room and locked the door behind them in order to avoid any confrontations. They looked up and could see nothing but stairs.

"Okay Ash. Hold on to me." Luffy said as Ash nodded before he held on Luffy's back. Luffy then stretched his arms into one of the stair rails and crouched down. "GOMU GOMU NO ROCKET!" Luffy springs upwards, going up as high as he could.

Meanwhile, the rest of the Strawhats got in the building and saw more of guards. Zoro and Sanji charged in first and took care of most of them while Franky and Robin took care of the rest.

"Good work you guys." Usopp said while he, and Chopper were leaning on a wall while giving the thumbs up to their crew.

"Okay, this is where we split up. You guys know what to do. Now lets go!" Nami said as everyone went into different paths. Little did they know as Jessie, James, and Meowth got in the building and decided to go where Zoro, Usopp and Chopper went.

"Okay, Chopper. All we have to do is find the electric supply and destroy it." Usopp said while running through the hallways. "The sooner we destroy it, the sooner we can get out of here."

"But what if we encounter bad guys along the way." Chopper asked, who was in his walk point, running besides Usopp.

"Don't worry about that." Usopp said. "We got Zoro by our side, remember? He can take out any guy that we happen to face. Right, Zoro?" Usopp turned around, only to see nobody behind him. Usopp and Chopper stopped running for a second, and saw that Zoro was no longer with them. "WHERE DID HE GO!?"

In the basement…

"Now, how did we get here again?" Zoro asked as he and Pichu were now in some sort of maze. Pichu was very confused on how they were able to get here without even knowing how it happened. "Bah, it doesn't matter. All we have do is find some stairs and we can get out of here." Zoro then proceeded to run into some random direction, and since we all know how long this will take, we come back to him later.

In Giovanni's office…

Giovanni was looking outside his window until a monitor next to his telephone turned on, revealing an ordinary guy in it. "Sir, we have intruders. They are defeating most of the guards in the front entrance as we speak." said the guard. Giovanni chuckled and looked at the guard in the monitor.

"I expected this to happen." Giovanni said. "Do not fear, soldier. I have multiple units all over this building, not to mention my elite unit and the clone pokemon that professor Nanba is creating. By the time they get here, time would already be up."

"But sir, one of them seems to be heading to the private elevator. You are in danger." the guard said.

"That elevator would only allow one person to get in. What is one person going to do to me? I personally would like to have a little fun before the deadline begins." Giovanni said.

"Okay. But sir, I think you should know that these people are…"

"You are excused, soldier." Giovanni said before pushing a button that turned off the monitor. He then sat down on his chair and awaited his visitor to attack.

In the lobby…

Sanji, Robin, and Franky were beating up every guard they happen to come across with. "OCHO FLEUR, CLUTCH!" Robin broke several spines of some guards before entering a big, fancy room.

"For a guy with a bad taste of color for his suit, he knows how to keep a base fancy." Franky said.

"According to Nami-san, their elite unit is suppose to be right here." Sanji said while looking at his surroundings to see nobody else in the room. That is until the floor shook a bit and out came some sort of pokemon made out of rocks. It makes robotic sound and his eyes light up for every couple of seconds (Regirock). Another one came out of the hole, only this is in shape of a big lightbulb, it has a grey color on its sides and in the middle has a black color (Registeel). Another came out of the hole and it looked like a floating iceburg with arms and legs (Regice).

"What are these things?" Franky asked.

"Regice, Re-Regice. RRREEEEGGIIICCEEEE!" Regice fires an ice beam at Franky, who rolls out of the way as the beam froze a plant.

"I believe they are the elite unit." Robin said while crossing her limbs.

"Hmm… If that one can shoot ice, then those other might fire something in their own element." Sanji said. "Like that rock one must use rock attacks and that lightbulb must use… well, something."

"Well aren't you the observant one." Franky said.

"We cant just attack all of them at the same time. We need to split them up individually so we can finish them off quicker. If that doesn't work too well, then we weaken them, and regroup ourselves so we can finish them off in one hit." Sanji said.

"I usually don't agree with you, but I guess I can go with your plan." Franky said as he got into his fighting pose. Regice then started to charge up with another ice beam.

"Why don't we save the talking for later and finish these creatures first?" suggested Robin as Regice fires an ice beam at Franky.

"HOSHI SHIELD!" Franky's left arm turned into a shield, and blocked the beam, only that it frozen Franky's left arm. This didn't seem to bother Franky as he charged towards Regice, and swung his frozen arm across Regice's body. Regice flew back a couple of inches before firing another multiple ice beams at Franky, who dodged most of them, but couldn't avoid the last on as his legs got caught in one of the beams, and were now frozen to the ground. "BEANS LEFT!" Franky fires multiple pellets at Regice, but it didn't seem to affect him much as he began to let out an icy wind at Franky, slowing freezing his legs to his head.

At the same time, Robin was avoiding rocks being thrown by Regirock. "CUATRO FLEUR!" two arms sprouted on each of Regirock's arms and stopped him from throwing anymore more rocks. The hands then forced Regirock to let go of the rock he was somehow holding and let it drop on his head, which dazed it a bit. "OCHO FLEUR, CLUTCH!" arms sprouted out of Regirock, and forced it to break himself in half as its body crumbled to pieces. Surprisingly, Regirock's body formed back together again and started dig underneath the ground, leaving Robin in an alert position. The ground underneath her started as Robin looked down, only for Regirock to crash into her as he came out out of the ground. "Uh!" Robin cried as she fell on the ground in pain.

Sanji was doing multiple kicks at Registeel, who didn't seem to feel much since he obviously made of steel. Registeel swung his steel claw at Sanji who backflipped, and jumped into a wall. He jumped off the wall and did a flying roundhouse kick at Registeel, who spun in circles before crashing into a wall. Before the dust cleared, Registeel came flying out and rammed himself at Sanji to a wall. Sanji managed to lower his pain by raising his foot to Registeel before it could ram to him. Sanji shoved Registeel and jumped towards it, giving Registeel a thrust kick on its torso. Although, this made Registeel to counter with a headbutt to Sanji's head.

Regice continued to do icy wind on Franky, who was now half frozen. Franky noticed a pipe hanging from the ceiling, thus he came up with an idea. "STRONG RIGHT!" Franky launches his right arm to the pipe and grabs hold of it. He then quickly reeled himself out of the frozen state, making him fly across the room, and headed straight to Regice while he was taking skin off his right hand. "STRONG HAMMER!" Franky punches Regice with his steel fist, sending Regice to crash into a wall behind him. Franky then launches his right arm at Regice's body and grabs hold of it. He then throws Regice into a drinking fountain, making water spew out of it after Regice crashed into it.

Robin groggily got up as Regirock was about to smash her with its bulgy arms. Robin rolled out of the way as Regirock smashed the ground instead. Robin got up as Regirock pulled a boulder out of the ground and threw it at Robin. Robin crouched down as the boulder went over her, crashing into another drinking fountain, which made water spew all over the place, wetting Robin and Regirock in the process. Regirock was barely moving due to the water around him as hands grew out of him and the floor to form a catapult. "TREINTA FLEUR, CATAPULT!" the arms launched Regirock into the destroyed drinking fountain, and crashed as Regirock's body was slowly turning into mud.

Sanji was backflipping every beam that Registeel was firing at him. Sanji then jumped on a table and then jumped to a pipe. He span a couple of times before launching himself towards Registeel with both of his feet facing it. Sanji double kicked at Registeel's eyes, causing Registeel to be blind for a couple of minutes. "COLLIER FLIP!" Sanji got on his hands and kicked Registeel underneath its body. Registeel went flying in midair as Sanji jumped after it. Sanji jumped towards Registeel and was now over him. "BASSES-COTES!" Sanji does a downward roundhouse kick that sent Registeel crashing to the ground. While in midair, Sanji started to spin with his feet facing at Registeel "BROCHETTE!" Sanji made a hard impact on Registeel's body before he slowly stopped spinning.

Regice slowly got up as the water around it froze completely. The ice then came off of Regice's body and formed pointy spikes before they were thrown at Franky. Franky charged at Regice while punching away every icy spikes that were being thrown at him. "FRANKY BOXING!" When Franky got close to Regice, he started to punch all over Regice's body. Franky then crouched down and grabbed Regice's body. "FRANKY SUPPLEX!" Franky jumped backwards along with Regice and smashed its head on the ground. Franky then rolls out of the way and raised his right fist back. "FRANKY HOOK!" Franky a delivers a devestating right punch at Regice, causing it to bounce off at every wall before he landed semi-consciously in the middle of the room.

Regirock was able to turn its body from being muddy, and back into solid rock as hands grew out of its head and blocked its eye vision. "DOCE FLEUR…" twelve more hands appeared from the wall next to Regirock as they grew out from every palm until the last one grabbed Regirock around the thighs. "… SPIN!" The arms quickly pulled Regirock's thigh before letting go, causing Regirock to spin uncontrollably. Regirock span so fast that he was levitating in midair. "TRECE FLEUR…" arms sprouted out of the ceiling, and grabbed Regirock's bulky legs "… POUND!" the arms then sent Regirock to slam against a hard wall before the s let go of it, making him land next to Regice.

"PARAGE SHOOT!" Sanji does multiple kicks at Registeel's body, until Registeel shoved him out of the way before charging up a hyperbeam. But Registeel couldn't as Sanji kicked him, making Registeel to fire on itself. The blast sent Registeel flying upward as Sanji jumped after it. "ANTI-MANNER KICK COURSE!" Sanji does a powerful upward kick that sent Registeel right through a couple of ceilings before crashing back down right next to Regirock. Sanji landed right next Robin as Franky ran beside him. "Okay, let's finish them off!" Sanji yelled as he and Franky charged at the elite unit.

"TREINTA FLEUR…" ten arms appeared on each of the Regi pokemon and held them in place. Franky jumped over them while Sanji jumped right at them.

"OEIL SHOOT!" Sanji does a roundhouse kick at the Regi pokemon's eyes, it was so quick that Sanji went right through them.

"SUPAAA HAMMER!" Franky clenches his steel fist with his left hand and lowers on the Regi pokemon, making the ground beneath them crumble in piece.

"… BREAK!" the arms around the Regi pokemon started to squeeze the life out of them until their were no longer flashing. The arms disappeared as the Regi pokemon were now unconscious. "I guess they are finished."

"Phew… that took longer than expected." Franky said while looking at the ground.

"Now that they are out of the picture, lets get rid of those idiots." Sanji said as he, Robin, and Franky ran out of the room and went through the hallways again.

Back to Usopp and Chopper…

Usopp and Chopper tiptoed through the hallways, unaware that Jessie, James and Meowth were following them. Usopp and Chopper then saw a door with a sign of a lightning bolt on it. "That must be the room where the power supply is." Usopp said before opening the door and saw a big room with a big machine that said 'Do not touch, electrical supply' on it. "This is it, Chopper. This is the thing we must destroy!"

"How do we destroy it?" Chopper asked.

Usopp pulled out his slingshot from his bag and aimed at the supply. "With just one hit, I can probably…"

"Not so fast!"

Usopp turned around to see Cassidy and Butch with bandages covering their bodies as they came out from hiding behind the power supply. "We won't let you or anybody stop our leader's wishes." Cassidy said while pointing at Usopp.

"Gya! Those are the guys that attacked us with the big robot!" Chopper yelled in fear.

"Y-Yeah. I think that one was called Cassidy, and the other one called Bucko." Usopp said while shaking in fear.

"MY NAME IS BUTCH! GET IT THROUGH YOUR THICK HEADS!! MY NAME IS BUTCH!!" yelled Buck-I mean Butch angrily.

"Anyway, it doesn't matter if you know who we are or not. You wont live long to remember us." Cassidy said while taking out her pokeball. "Go, Charizard!" Cassidy throw the pokeball in the air and lets out a big red dragon with its tail on fire.

"Go, Aggron!" Butch yelled as he threw his pokeball in the air and lets out a pokemon that looks like a dinosaur but has a body made of steel. Usopp and Chopper took a few steps back after looking at them for a couple of seconds.

"Wh-Wh-What are those? I didn't see you guys use those at the tournament!" Usopp said while shaking in fear.

"They are only gifts that our leader gave us, since we are his favorites after all." Cassidy said. "Now you will see the great power of Team Rocket. Charizard, go!" Cassidy commands as Charizard was about to attack until smoke started to come out of nowhere. "What the? What is this?"

"Ah ha ha ha ha."

Cassidy recognizes that laughter and looks at the entrance to see that it was none other than Jessie, James and Meowth standing just near the entrance.

"Prepare for trouble, you are going to face with the real thing." Jessie said.

"Make it double, we are going to finish you off in a fast pace." James said.

"As evil as old as the Galaxy."

"Sent here to fulfill our destiny."

"With Meowth, that's me." Meowth said while jumping in joy.

"To protect the evils of truth and love."

"To extend our reach to the stars above."

"Jessie."

"James."

"And Meowth, that's my name."

"Whenever there is peace in the universe…"

"… Team Rocket…"

"… Will be there…"

"… TO MAKE EVERYTHING WORSE!" said the trio while a big red 'R' was behind them. Cassidy and Butch angrily looked at the trio, while they angrily looked back. Usopp and Chopper on the other were now more worried than before.

"Oh no, now we have more trouble to deal with." Usopp said.

"Zip it, twerp. We are not here to get you." Jessie said.

"That's right, we are here to show these two who the original Team Rocket are." James said bravely.

"And we are gonna make sure that they remember us for this." Meowth said while revealing his claws.

"You traitors! How dare you rebel against your superiors!?" Cassidy asked furiously.

"Hmph! Who ever said that we are rebelling? The only thing we are doing is teaching you guys not to steal our spotlight." Jessie said.

"Yeah! We'll teach you not to take the glory in this fic!" James said, obviously breaking the 4th wall like he and his pals always do.

Meowth than points at Usopp and Chopper. "You guys do what you have to do, just don't bother us while we beat up these posers."

"Posers!?" Cassidy got very angry upon hearing that. "I'll teach you who are the posers around here! Charizard attack!" Cassidy commands as Charizard let out a stream of fire towards our favorite Team Rocket trio.

Back to Zoro and Pichu…

"Pichu! Pichu!" Pichu yelled who was pointing at the opposite direction where Zoro was going.

"I know where I am going! You don't need to tell me!" yells Zoro while running around the maze, even though he doesn't really know where he is going. There were even signs on the wall that show where to go, but even if Zoro looked at them, he get lost again.

"Piichu, pichu pi!" Pichu yelled while trying to force Zoro's head to face in another direction, but with no luck. Zoro then saw a door in front of him.

"I bet that is the way out." Zoro said as he unsheathes his swords and cuts right through the door. Zoro and Pichu were now in a laboratory. The most notable thing about the labatory was that there are many cages filled with different kinds of pokemon. "What is this place?" Zoro asked while Pichu looks at his surrounding.

"Pichu!" Pichu yelled while pointing at some sort big round machine and there seems to be something in it. Zoro was about to take a closer look until professor Nanba came out of nowhere and surprisingly looked at Zoro and Pichu.

"You! How did you two manage to find this place?" Nanba asked.

"Hmm? Who are you?" Zoro asked.

"Don't change the subject! I don't how you two manage to find this place, but it is clear to me that you must have a great sense of direction." Nanba said as Pichu negatively waved his little paw in front of his face. "It doesn't matter on how you found this place or not. In fact, I am glad that someone came here. That way I can show you my greatest creation yet, the clone machine!" Nanba said while showing off his big and round machine that appeared to be a cloning machine.

"Cloning machine?" Zoro asked.

"Yes, this machine will make clones out of original pokemons. And I have just finished cloning one of the strongest pokemon that was never born in this planet." Nanba said as the doors of the machine opened and out came a pokemon with blue and red tentacles for arms, has pointy, red legs and his face his blue, has no mouth and has a purple gem in its red chest. "I introduce to you, the alien pokemon, Deoxys!"

Zoro looked at Deoxys, who was floating in midair. "Pichu, find a way to get all of these pokemon out of here. I am going to have a little fun for a while." Zoro said as Pichu nodded before jumping off of Zoro's shoulder and ran to some pokemon cages. Zoro unwrapped the bandana on his left arm and wrapped it around his head as he looked at Deoxys with an evil face.

"Let's play…"

Meanwhile…

Nami was destroying everything in her path as she finally got to the private elevator. "I finally found it." Nami said as she got in the elevator and pushed a button, allowing the button to go up to the top floor. "This thing is rather fast, but the sooner I get to the top, the better. I can only what Luffy did to him. I cant wait until it is my turn to beat him up." The elevator then reached the top floor as elevator doors opened up letting Nami out. Nami then swung her PCT and smashed it on the ground, with a brave look on her eye.

"Alright you piece of trash. It is my turn to give you some… pain?" Nami said as she nobody but Giovanni, sitting on his chair while petting his Persian like nothing was happening. Nami had such a surprised look on her face, her pupils were no longer in her eyes.

"Oh… it looks I have a visitor." Giovanni said.

"WHERE IS LUFFY!?!?"

Meanwhile…

Luffy had a dumb look on his face as he and Ash were now at the rooftop of the building. "Heeey, this isn't the last floor, this is the rooftop." Luffy said, pointing out the obvious.

"I thought we would be at the top floor. How did we get here?" Ash asked.

"Well, it doesn't really matter. All I have to do is to break through this floor and we will be right there in no time." Luffy said as he punches the floor. But it the only thing that did was to injure Luffy's hand. "Ow, Ow, Ow, Ow, Ow!" Luffy cried while shaking his fist.

"I guess that wont work here." Ash said while letting out a sweatdrop.

"Pikachu.." Pikachu while also sweatdropping.

"Maybe if we go back, we can can find another way in." Ash said as he was about to go back into the staircase room only that the door closed itself.

"Huh?" Luffy said before he turned around to see Mewtwo floating on the other side of the rooftop. Luffy then looked at Mewtwo with a plain face. "Ash…"

"Yeah?" Ash asked.

"You said that this cat thing is controlled by that armor, right?" Luffy asked. "Well I am about to break that armor even if I have to kick his a#$!" Luffy cracks his muscles, and got into his fighting position as Mewtwo narrowed his eyes.

TO BE CONTINUED…

Preview: I got up the stairs like Nami said I should do, but instead I end up fighting with the cat thing. And its kinda funny to hear that Nami is going to fight the orange suit guy instead, ha ha. But their time running out, I have to stop the orange suit guy or… Next time on One Piece: A Smash Adventure; Chapter 35: Time is running out!, Zoro VS Deoxys. I am gonna be the pirate king!

I think there is about like 2 or 3 more chapters left before this arc is over, so dont try to rush me, a story is never good if its rushed afterall. Later.

Pokemon Pt 12

Ok, just a little more before this arc is over. Anyway, here is the next chapter. Enjoy!

---

2 hours until deadline. The Strawhats and Ash invaded Team Rocket's base. Sanji, Robin, and Franky have confronted with Regirock, Regice, and Registeel, who were Team Rocket's elite unit and successfully defeated them. Meanwhile, Nami was able to get to the top floor, only that Luffy wasnt there as she expected him to be. He was instead on the roof and was now about to face with the psychic pokemon, Mewtwo. At the same time, Zoro and Pichu got lost (No surprise there) in the basement and ended up in professor Nanba's laboratory. Professor Nanba's clone machine made an exact copy of Deoxys and plans to use it in battle against Zoro. Will Zoro defeat Deoxys?

Chapter 35: Time is running out!, Zoro VS Deoxys

Nami still has the same shocked expression from the last chapter as Giovanni got up from his chair and put his hands on his back. "Now, why would they send a beautiful, yet someone who has a thing for keeping that facial expression for the last couple of minutes here to stop me from accomplishing my goal?" Giovanni asked as Nami was finally able to regain her senses.

"Damn that Luffy. When I get out of this, I am going to…" Nami said to herself while a vain popped out of her head until she looked at Giovanni. "Don't underestimate me. You are going to regret the day you decided to giveaway prizes that you never attended to giveaway to anybody in the first place."

"Oh? So you prefer to get revenge for that instead of the me ruling every pokemon?" Giovanni asked.

"That too, only my crew can do all that hard stuff. The only thing I will be doing for them is kicking your ass!!" Nami yelled while pointing her PCT at Giovanni.

"Hmm… you seem pretty determined upon this." Giovanni said as he sat down on his chair again. "But I am afraid your wish will never happen. For you see, I have something that nobody in this world has."

"And what would that be?" Nami asked.

"Power." Giovanni said. Nami only narrowed her eyes. "People live for power, that is why they do their best to get as much power as they want. The only thing that is standing in their way is their lack of intelligence. Duo to that, they stay in their houses and dream about the things they wish they can do. But we all know that dreams are simply imaginations created by your thoughts. Such nonsense will never come true to those simple people. Only people like me can be the only ones who can get what they want."

"You know something? You are kinda have a point." Nami said with her head hung low.

"Of course I have a point. Now about your…"

"But there is one thing you forgot to mention." Nami said which caught Giovanni's attention. "It's true that there are people who rather dream about their future lives rather than accomplishing them. But for those who work hard for their dreams, even though the odds are greatly against them, they can surely achieve them and live a good life afterwards."

"Hmph… that is something only some simpleton like you would say." Giovanni said.

"I am not surprised to hear that from you… some spoiled, piece of garbage like yourself will never understand." Nami said, which made Giovanni frown.

"It is true that I do not understand about the simple peoples ways, but what I do understand is that they need a ruler. And that ruler will be me. And nobody, including you, will be able to stop me!" Giovanni yelled as a pushes a button on his desk that created a force field around him. "Persian, I know it has been years since we fought together, but it is now time to serve your master once again."

Persian purred with delight as he came out of Giovanni's barrier and faced towards Nami. "You are going to use your pet to fight me?" Nami asked in disbelief.

"Do not be fooled, young lady." Giovanni said. "My Persian is quite unique from all the other kinds. This Persian has the ability to perform almost every pokemon move there is in existence. Normally, I would never use Persian in situations like this, but in this case, It will be your honor to suffer under it's paws!!" As soon as Giovanni said that, Persian charged at Nami, who got into a defensive position.

Meanwhile…

Deoxys swung his tentacles at Zoro, who blocked them with his swords. Zoro shoved Deoxys back and swung at it, only it flew upwards to avoid it. "Come on, it must know more than flying!" Zoro yelled while jumping towards Deoxys and does a vertical slash with both swords, only that Deoxys flew sideways to avoid that move as Zoro landed on the ground. Zoro then jumped on wall to wall to get closer to Deoxys, who seemed to change form. Deoxys now has triangle shaped ears and his legs got pointer, so did his tentacles. "Huh?" Zoro said as Deoxys formed an energy orb and fired at Zoro, sending him to crash into a machine.

"Ha ha ha, you have just witnessed Deoxys attack form. You didn't think you can defeat it that easily, did you?" Nanba asked as Zoro got up from the destroyed machine.

"Actually… that would be a bad thing for me." Zoro said. "I would be pretty upset if this match does not turn out as exciting as I hoped."

"Grr.. you think you are so tough!? Deoxys, attack!" Nanba commands as Deoxys flew towards Zoro. Zoro ducked, and slashed at Deoxys abdomen as Deoxys flew out of control, and crashed into a wall. Deoxys emerged from the wall as Zoro noticed that Deoxys abdomen was healing itself. "Did I forget to mention that I was able to make Deoxys so powerful, it can regenerate itself. No matter how many times you cut it, it will always grow back."

"Can you do me a favor, and shut up." Zoro said while pointing one of his swords at Nanba, who was frightened. "I pretty much want to win this battle without you, flapping your gum at me all the time."

"Ah… f-fine! Deoxys doesn't need me here anyway. It can destroy you by itself." Nanba said as he went into a transparent room that is nearly impenetrable. "Deoxys, don't just stand there! Destroy him already!"

Deoxys levitated upwards, and fired another energy orb at Zoro, who dodged out of the way before jumping into a wall, and jumped right to Deoxys. Before Zoro could slash it, Deoxys began to change form again as he got even more skinnier, and now has one tentacle for each side of his body. The back of Deoxys head is elongated and ends with a sharp point. Deoxys dodged Zoro's attack so quickly, he turned into a blur. Zoro landed on the ground and looked at his surroundings for any sight of Deoxys.

"He is faster now… I guess that is its speed form." Zoro said while staying alert.

Deoxys then appeared behind Zoro as Zoro quickly backslashed Deoxys, who quickly got back into his attack form, and blocked the blades with his tentacles. Zoro swings his swords repeatedly with every step forward he took, as Deoxys keeps blocking every strike. Zoro did an upward strike that made Deoxys lose its balance as Zoro then did a thrust before Deoxys, yet again, changed into another form, which made his skin thicker. The blade bounced off of Deoxys instead of impaling as Deoyxs then swung his broad tentacle at Zoro, as the force of the blow sent Zoro flying into a wall. Zoro then came flying out of the wall, and jumped right at Deoxys.

"SANTORYU HYOU: KINTAMA!" Zoro spins with his swords extended, and went right through Deoxys, with several cuts all over its body. Zoro flipped forward in midair, and jumped off a wall, and did a vertical slash over Deoxys' shoulders as Zoro landed on the ground in front of it. Only it wasn't much, as Deoxys completely healed himself again, and the cuts were no longer there. Zoro looks behind his shoulder to see Deoxys raising his broad tentacles over Zoro, and was about smash Zoro with them, until Zoro jumped away, and saw Deoxys transform back into his speed form. Deoxys flies through the laboratory, trying to make Zoro dizzy, which wasn't working.

Zoro closed his eyes, and awaited for Deoxys to strike. He then opened his eyes, and quickly turned around to block Deoxys tentacle. Deoxys repeats this procedure several times, but Zoro quickly blocks Deoxys every attempt to hit him. Deoxys then transforms into his attack form, and fires an energy orb at Zoro in close range, which wasn't a big deal for Deoxys, since he can regenerate itself anyway. Zoro rolls across the ground before getting up, only to get headbutted by Deoxys while it was in his defense form. Zoro's head was now bleeding, but Zoro didn't care as he raises both of his swords in the air while his back was still on the ground.

"NANAJUU-NI POUNDOU HOU!" Zoro swings both of his swords, creating a mid size cutting wave at Deoxys, which made it fly back a couple of feet before regaining its balance. Zoro then gets up, and takes a deep breath, "ICHI GORILLA" his right muscle got bigger "NI GORILLA" his left muscle got bigger. Deoxys went into his speed form, and flew at great speeds towards Zoro. While charging at him, Deoxys transforms to his defensive form, and points his head at Zoro, who raised his arms. "SANTORYU…" Zoro jumps as Deoxys flew even closer "… NIGGORI ZAKE!" Zoro swung all of his swords at Deoxys. The force of their blows created a big light between them as Zoro completed his swing, sending Deoxys straight to a wall.

Before the dust could clear, multiple energy orbs came flying out of the direction where Deoxys crashed into as Zoro swung most of them away with his sword while some of them went by him. After the last energy orb was fired, Deoxys was already behind Zoro in his speed form. Zoro backflipped over Deoxys before Deoxys could hit him with his tentacle. Zoro lowered his swords at Deoxys, who just barely dodged as his pointy foot got cut. This made Deoxys move slow enough for Zoro to see him. Zoro charged at Deoxys, and sliced it's head off as the body limplessly rolled across the ground. Zoro looked at the body to see that the head regenerated on Deoxys has it begin to levitate again.

"I guess cutting the head off wont do any good either." Zoro said before he started to block multiple tentacle swings by Deoxys. The crystal in Deoxys chest started to glow as it formed a dark barrier around it, causing Zoro to lose his guard. Deoxys tentacles then formed into hands and punched Zoro in the gut. Zoro staggered a bit as Deoxys went into his attack form, and fired an energy orb at Zoro, exploding upon impact. As Zoro was on the ground, he saw Deoxys flying straight at him. Zoro rolled out of the way as Deoxys impaled the ground with his tentacles. Deoxys then used his free tentacle to try to stab Zoro again, but Zoro kicked it in the face, causing it to back off.

Zoro rolls forward and does an upward slash at Deoxys body, which quickly regenerates afterwards. Zoro then jumped in the air and tries to slash Deoxys head off again, but Deoxys blocks his attack and counters by letting out an electrical ray at Zoro. After the attack, Zoro was completely paralyzed as Deoxys went into his neutral form and started to form another orb of energy until he was zapped with electricity from behind. Deoxys turned around to see Pichu, who was breathing heavily after performing a thunderbolt. Deoxys was about to fire the orb at him, until Zoro slashed the back of its knees, causing it to fire the roof, which some of the debris fell on Deoxys.

Zoro gets up, and angrily looks at Pichu. "Do not interfere! Just get those pokemon things out of those cages!" Zoro yelled while Pichu nodded nervously before trying to find a way to free the caged pokemon. Just as that happened, Deoxys quickly got out of the rubble and charged at Zoro, who angrily looked back and got into his fighting stance. "GYUUKI YUZUME!" Zoro dodges Deoxys attack and quickly slashes right through Deoxys, separating his legs from its body. However, the legs reattached to the body soon afterwards as Deoxys then formed another dark barrier around itself, and was slowly closing in on Zoro, who was getting away from it.

"SANTORYU…" Zoro stopped running and plunged his swords at the dark barrier. He then pulls the swords out as the blades were now covered in darkness "… YAMI ZAKE! (Dark slash)" Zoro did a cross slash with his swords, which made a dark wave go right through Deoxys' dark barrier, and covered Deoxys with a dark flame before it went crashing into a wall. Zoro then ran at where Deoxys crashed, and thrusted sword through the dust. The dust cleared, and Deoxys wasn't even there. Instead, he was behind Zoro, and slashed him across his back. "GAH!" Zoro cried in pain before he pulls his sword out and does a horizontal slash at Deoxys, who moves back to avoid, and then counters by swinging his tentacles vertically at Zoro, who blocks them with his swords.

Zoro and Deoxys push eachother with great force as electric sparks were coming from between them. The sparks were slowly blinding Deoxys, making it to lower his force towards Zoro. Zoro was able to push Deoxys back and slashed it, but Deoxys went into his defense mode, making the blade bounce off of it, causing Zoro to lose his balance. Deoxys quickly transforms his tentacles into arms, and grabs Zoro's face, and rams his head into a wall. Deoxys was about to do that again, until Zoro stabbed it in the gut. Deoxys staggered a few feet back rolled behind it, and slashed it across the thighs. Zoro quickly jumped in front of Deoxys, and does a downward slash at Deoxys.

Deoxys now has big cuts in the front and the back of its body, as Zoro raised his swords in the air. "HYAKU-HACHI POUNDOU HOU!" Zoro swings all his swords, creating a large cutting wave that impacted on Deoxys, creating an explosion. The dust cleared and there was the crystal, which was in Deoxys chest, was floating in the air as Deoxys' body formed once again. Deoxys spread out his tentacles and made clones of himself, only they purple instead of red. "Well this is kinda fun." Zoro said before he charges at Deoxys again.

Meanwhile…

We are now back at the power supply where Jessie and James were fighting Charizard and Aggron with their Seviper and Cacnea. "Come on, Cacnea! Use pin missile!" James commands as Cacnea fires multiple needles at Aggron, but didnt do much as most of the needles bounced off of it.

"Aggron, use earthquake!" Butch commands as Aggron jumps in the air, and lands on the ground, creating an earthquake that made Cacnea lose its balance. Aggron then punches Cacnea, causing to fly right into James' face, which was really painful for him.

"Seviper, use poison tail!" commands Jessie as Seviper leapt in front of Charizard, and swung it's tail at it.

"Charizard, dodge it and use flamethrower!" Cassidy commands as Charizard jumped back to avoid Seviper's poison tail, and countered by breathing out a fire at it, almost burning it into crisp. Charizard stopped breathing out fire, and used its tail to whack Seviper right into Jessie, crashing to a wall afterwards.

"I'll teach you who the tough pokemon is!" yells Meowth while charging at Aggron and Charizard, who were just standing there. They just simply kicked Meowth right next to the semi-concious Jessie and James. At the same time, Usopp was placing something to the power supply while Chopper was worried for Jessie, James, and Meowth.

"Usopp, I am worried about those guys. Are they going to be okay?" Chopper asked worryingly.

"Don't worry about them, Chopper." Usopp said while unscrewing something out of the power supply. "As long as they can distract them, then we should be fine."

Jessie, James and Meowth groggily got up, as well as their pokemon, while Cassidy and Butch just laughed at them. "Come on now, Jessie. What makes you think you and your loser team can beat us?" Cassidy asked. "Your pokemon are so weak, they couldn't even defeat a caterpie if they wanted to."

"Yeah, you can even make a Lugia weak with your kind of training skills. The only thing you guys can do is make a new Team Rocket member look good." Butch said. Butch and Cassidy then laughed at them again as James angrily looks at them.

"SHUT UP!" James yelled which made Cassidy and Butch silent and startled. "We may not be one of the greatest Team Rocket members that ever existed, nor we may not be the strongest. But we have something that none other Team Rocket member has, and that is the guts to try and try again!"

"James…" Jessie said, kinda shocked to see James with such determination.

"We have our pride and dignity thrown away too many times already." James said while tears came out of his eyes. "This would make any other Team Rocket member quit, but not us! We will continue to reach our goals even if we have to die to achieve it!!"

Chopper stood amaze at James' speech and Usopp felt the same, only he tried hard not to show it and continued to work on the power supply. Cassidy and Butch however, were not amused by this, they were angry instead.

"Do you actually think that is true!? I'll just end you and your loser team's life to end your pathetic misery once and for all! Charizard, use Flamethrower!" Cassidy commands as Charizard took a deep breath.

"That's it! I cant just sit here, and watch this anymore!" Chopper yelled while taking out a rumble ball. "RUMBLE BALL!" Chopper ate the rumble and transformed into his walk point before charging into battle. Charizard breathed out a stream of fire to the trio as they hugged eachother for dear life. "GUARD POINT!" Chopper's fur grew all over his body, and was now a big furball as he stood in front of the Team Rocket trio, and blocked the fire with his fur.

"What!?" Cassidy yelled in surprise as Charizard stopped breathing out of fire to see Chopper was still intact. "JUMP POINT!" Chopper transformed into his jumping point, and grabbed the Team Rocket trio, jumping into a safe place. "Are you guys okay." Chopper asked to the very confused and scared Team Rocket.

"Uh… yeah." Jessie said.

"Thanks… for the help." James said.

"We… appreciate it." Meowth said. Chopper nodded kindly before jumping back down, where Charizard and Aggron where at. "These guys just continue to surprise me with their freakish abilities."

"Hey James, where did that burst of courage came from? That wasn't like you back there." Jessie said.

"Um… why, I don't know. I just got really mad all of a sudden. I didn't really know what I was thinking at all." James said.

"Figures." Meowth as he looks down to look down where Chopper is at.

"Just what kind of a pokemon is this?" Cassidy asked. "Is this thing even a pokemon at all? Grr… who cares right now!? Charizard, attack!" commands Cassidy as Charizard flew towards Chopper.

"ARM POINT!" Chopper's muscles got huge and stopped Charizard in midair. Chopper moved his right hoove back before thrusting it at Charizard's face, making Charizard fly right through a wall next to the power supply.

"Woah!? What the heck was that!?" Butch gasped. "Aggron, get him!" Butch commands as Aggron charged at Chopper. Aggron pushes Chopper with his claw while Chopper pushes it back with his hooves. Just as Aggron was using all of his strength, Chopper immediately turned into his normal point, making Aggron lose his balance, and fell down after Chopper ran from under its feet. Chopper transforms into his heavy point and grabs Aggron's tail. He spun Aggron a couple of times before letting him fly right into Charizard.

"BRAIN POINT, SCOPE!" Chopper transforms into his normal point, and puts hooves together while looking at the drowzy Aggron and Charizard.

"Grr… I'll teach that little freak not to mess with our pokemon!" Butch yelled as he was about to take out a stun gun until…

"HISSATSU TAMAGOBOSHI!" Butch got hit in the face by a rotten egg as the egg cracked open by impact.

"Ahh!! What is this!? I cant breath!!" Butch yelled while trying to get the egg yolk out of his face. Cassidy then looks at the one who fired that rotten egg, which turned out to be Usopp.

"You have to get through me if you want to injure my pokemon!!" Usopp yelled. "Choppermon, you deal with those super strong pokemon while I handle these weak guys!!" Chopper nodded as Usopp aimed at Cassidy and Butch.

Back to Zoro…

Zoro was slashing at every replicate that came out of Deoxys, while the real Deoxys was in a far distance from him. "Get over here and fight!" Zoro yelled while slashing the last replicate. Deoxys went into his Attack form, and flew at Zoro. He began swinging his sharp tentacles at Zoro, who was blocking every slash. Deoxys then levitates away from Zoro, and fires another energy orb, which Zoro cuts in half before it exploded to a wall behind him. Deoxys then appeared and thrusted all his tentacles at Zoro, who managed to block with two of his swords. The force of the attack made Zoro slid back a few feet while still standing.

Deoxys quickly appeared behind Zoro, and grabbed him underneath his shoulders. He then created a dark barrier around itself again and damages Zoro continuously. "GAAAHHHHH!!!" Zoro cried in pain until he manages to break free from Deoxys' hold and slash at it, but Deoxys quickly dodged it. Zoro quickly backflips as Deoxys appeared in front of him. Deoxys didn't realize that Zoro backflipped as Deoxys turned around only for Zoro to slash at it. While Deoxys was at a groggy state, Zoro jumps to the ceiling, and spirals himself downwards at Deoxys, making an explosion of dust upon impacting the ground.

The dust cleared, revealing Zoro crouching on the ground while breathing at a heavy rate. "Damn, no matter what I do to it, its just going to recover itself. There must be a way to defeat it." Zoro said while getting on his feet. Zoro then looks behind him to see Deoxys with 3 energy orbs at each side of his body. Deoxys fired the orbs at Zoro, who jumps right between them before they caused an explosion. While in midair, Zoro slashes at Deoxys with all of his swords, but Deoxys blocks them with his tentacles before shoving Zoro back. Zoro then realizes something important about Deoxys.

"I think I figured it out. The only time when you block is when I attack your chest. Which means that your weak point is that crystal." Zoro said while pointing at the purple crystal in Deoxys' chest. Professor Nanba, who was still inside the transparent room, was now worried.

"Curses, he already figured it out!" Nanba said in frustration. "Deoxys, I dont care if you destroy the lab, finish him off now!"

Deoxys then pointed his tentacles in front of itself and started to form a Hyper Beam as the orb in front of it started to form. The pokemon in the cages all started to cry and scream as Pichu tried to to calm them down. "Hmph… one more strike and that would finish this." Zoro said while putting two of his swords away. "Now I must focus the energy within me to take you down."

Zoro then started to concentrate, but it was really hard due to all noise the pokemon were making. This Zoro angry little by little as a vain popped out of his forhead. A couple of seconds passed and another vain popped out of his forehead as Zoro very angrily looks at the caged pokemon.

"SHHUUUUUUUUUTTTTTTTTTTT UUUUPPPPPPPPP!!!!!!" Zoro yelled so loud, it made everyone in the room quiet. Zoro took a deep breath and pointed his sword at Deoxys. He crouched down as Deoxys' orb was getting bigger. "ITTORYU…"

"Now, Deoxys! FIRE!" yells Nanba.

"… BUGIN HOU! (Silver mist cannon)" Before Deoxys could fire its Hyper Beam, Zoro quickly appeared in front of it and thrusted his sword right through Deoxys' crystal. The force of the thrust also destroyed everything behind Deoxys, which was only machinery and such. Nanba had his eyes popping out of his head as the transparent room he was in was destroyed as well. Deoxys stood their emotionless as Zoro pulled his sword out of it. Deoxys then started to disperse before the crystal shattered in pieces. Nanba stood on his knees, unwilling to believe at what just happened.

"This… is impossible." Nanba said until he realized that Pichu was in front of him. "Huh?"

"PICHUUUUUUUUU!" Pichu did a thunderbolt at Nanba, shocking him intensely before he passed out. "Pichu." Pichu said happily.

Pichu then heard a thump as he turned to see Zoro on his back exhausted. Pichu ran to Zoro's side to see if he is okay.

"I'm okay, just tired." Zoro said. Pichu smiled and licked Zoro's cheek. "Uh… did you find the way to get these pokemon out of their cages?" Zoro asked. Pichu looks around to see a red lever on a wall that was still intact. Pichu jumps to the lever, and pushes the lever down as all the pokemon cages opened at the same. Many cute and tiny pokemon like Pichu came out of their cages and looked at Zoro. "Oh please don't tell me you guys are going to…" Zoro said before all the pokemon went to Zoro got on top of him, cuddling him as they were unaware that their combined weight was crushing Zoro.

"Gah… GET OFF!" Zoro yelled, but the pokemon didn't pay attention to him. There was no pokemon left that wasn't hugging him, and that was a Snorlax. "AHHHH!!!" Zoro cried as his eyes popped out of his head as the Snorlax joins the pokemon by jumping up in the air, and smashing them with his enormous weight, crushing the pokemon, not to mention Zoro, who passed out.

"Pichu." Pichu said while tilting his head sideways, and sicking his tongue out.

At the rooftop…

The staredown between Luffy and Mewtwo continued as Ash decided to say something. "Luffy, do you have any ideas on how to take that armor off of Mewtwo?"

"Well I guess it won't let us near it." Luffy said. "So I suppose we have to knock him out cold."

"Luffy, Mewtwo is not like any other pokemon." Ash said. "It's psychic, it can move things and people with his mind. It will not be an easy task."

"So? I will still beat him up." Luffy said. Luffy then charges at Mewtwo, who is not even moving around. "GOMU GOMU NO…"

Luffy stretches his fist back "PISTOL!"

TO BE CONTINUED…

Preview: There is not much time left. I must finish this cat thing right now if I want to save this world from chaos. Wait a minute, isnt that… what is he doing here? Next time on One Piece: A Smash Adventure; Gotta fight'em all!, Luffy VS Mewtwo. I am gonna be the Pirate King!

Well the main arc battle will happen in the next chapter, so like usual, it will take me long to update. Later.

OFF-TOPIC: Of all the random things, Sakurai included a pokemon trainer from the pokemon video games in Brawl. Now I believe that anybody can be in Brawl now.

Pokemon Pt 13

When I said this will take me some time to finish, I meant it. Anyway, The battle between between Luffy and Mewtwo has finally arrived. This is the longest chapter I have ever typed. Have fun!

---

1 hour left till deadline. Zoro faced a powerful pokemon known as Deoxys. Despite the ability to regenerate itself, Zoro found its weakpoint and defeated it, releasing the caged pokemon as well. Meanwhile, Luffy and Nami are just about to face the two keys that can take control of the world. Will they be able to stop them before time runs out?

Chapter 36: Gotta Fight'em all!, Luffy VS Mewtwo

"GOMU GOMU NO…" Luffy run towards Mewtwo while stretching his arm backwards "… PISTOL!" Luffy thrusts his arm at Mewtwo, but Mewtwo simply tilted his head sideways to avoid it. Luffy's arm went back to its normal position as Luffy did a roundhouse kick at Mewtwo, who simply lowered his head to avoid it. Luffy then grabbed Mewtwo by the shoulders, only for Mewtwo to create a dark aura around it, causing Luffy to let go. Luffy angrily looks at Mewtwo and charges at him again. "GOMU GOMU NO GATLING GUN!" Luffy repeatedly punches at Mewtwo, but Mewtwo simply moves its body around, avoiding every punch Luffy delivers.

When Luffy was finished punching, Mewtwo's eyes glowed blue as small, dark pillars came from the ground and were heading straight to Luffy. Luffy rolled out of the way as the dark pillars disappear. "GOMU GOMU NO MUCHI!" Luffy does a stretched horizontal kick at Mewtwo, who teleported out of the way and reappeared at the same spot after Luffy finished his attack. Luffy was now getting frustrated as he stretches his arm back. "GOMU GOMU NO PISTOL!" Luffy punches right at Mewtwo, only Mewtwo waved his hand to stop Luffy's punch in midair. "What!?" Luffy gasped as Mewtwo waved his hand in different directions, forcing Luffy's hand to make a knot around his own arm.

"AHH!!" Luffy gasped as Mewtwo waved his hand once more, sending Luffy's knotted arm right into his face. Luffy fell to the ground as Ash and Pikachu ran to his side.

"Luffy! Are you alright?" Ash asked worryingly.

"Nyaaah! He made a knot out of my own arm." Luffy whined as he was trying to untangle the knot. When he did, he stood up and looked at Mewtwo, who was has even moved from that spot since the battle began. "How am I suppose to hit this guy if he doesn't let me?

"That is what I was telling you before." Ash said. "Just attacking him head on wont work that well, we need to come up with a plan."

"There is no time for a plan! YAAAAAAAARGGHHH!" Luffy yelled as he charges at Mewtwo again. "GOMU GOMU NO STAMP!" Luffy thrusts his stretched leg at Mewtwo, who disappears to avoid it. Mewtwo then reappears in front Luffy and gives him a glare, which made Luffy dizzy. Mewtwo then used telekinesis grabs Luffy and throws him forward while firing small shadow balls at him. Luffy took the first 3 hits, but was able to dodge the last one before he perfectly landed. Luffy then rushes at Mewtwo and quickly rolls behind it. "GOMU GOMU NO UPPERCUT!" Luffy was about to do an uppercut, but Mewtwo blocked it by creating an invisible barrier behind itself as Luffy's fist bounced off of it.

"GOMU GOMU NO PISTOL!" Luffy uses the same fist to punch Mewtwo, but Mewtwo once again used telekinesis stopped his fist. Mewtwo then forced Luffy to hit himself with his own fist as Luffy rolled across the floor and almost fell off the roof. Luffy got up and jumped above right at Mewtwo. "GOMU GOMU NO GATLING GUN!" Luffy repeatedly punches at Mewtwo, but Mewtwo teleported behind Luffy, grabbed him telekinetically, and spiraled him around itself before throwing him up in the air. "Woah!" Luffy yelled while spiraling upwards in the air before he started to fall down. Before Luffy could have a rough landing, Mewtwo quickly appeared next to him and knocked him away with it's tail.

"Luffy!" Ash yelled as Luffy was now falling off of the building. Luffy then quickly stretches his arm, and grabs the edge of the roof.

"GOMU GOMU NO ROCKET!" Luffy springs himself upwards and was able to get above the building. Unfortunately, Mewtwo appeared above Luffy and knocked him down by swinging his tail vertically at him. Luffy crashed to the floor, creating screen of dust around him. It didn't take long for Luffy to attack again as his arms quickly stretched out of the dust screen and grabs Mewtwo by its shoulders. "GOMU GOMU NO MARUNOKO!" Luffy then came out of the dust screen, doing several front flips as he was getting closer to Mewtwo.

As Luffy was about to give Mewtwo a devastating headbutt, Mewtwo simply teleports just before Luffy could hit him. Luffy then spirals uncontrollably in the air as Mewtwo appears on the ground as it started to charge up a shadow ball. "Pikachu, Thunderbolt!" Mewtwo turns around to see Pikachu was about to fire an electrical charge at it. Mewtwo stops charging his shadow ball and forms a barrier around itself in order to block it. As Mewtwo's barrier disappeared, Mewtwo failed to notice that Luffy was flying straight towards it.

"GOMU GOMU NO PISTOL!" Luffy was now able to punch the distracted Mewtwo as the force of the punch sended Mewtwo face-first to the floor. Luffy perfectly landed on the ground and panted as Mewtwo slowly got up and looked at Luffy, with his helmet that seems to have not been damaged at all. "Maaan, his helmet is strong." Luffy said as Ash and Pikachu ran to his side.

"I guess it is going to take alot more than punches to break his armor." Ash said. "Maybe if we work together, we can destroy it."

"Heh, I guess your right. Nothing beats teamwork." Luffy said while cracking his fists. "Okay yellow mouse, lets go!"

"Pikachu!" replies Pikachu as he and Luffy went charging at Mewtwo.

Nami dodged as Persian hit the window with its head, causing the whole room to shake. Nami was surprised to see the whole room shake by the power of Persian and to see the window not to have a scratch. "How is it that such a strong pokemon such as this cannot destroy a window?" Nami asked.

"Ha ha ha! Did you think that my office is made out of carboard and plastic?" Giovanni asked. "This entire room is just as durable as steel. You can attack as much as you like, you will not ruin my office."

"Steel, huh? What a waste. I know an idiot that can cut this room in half. But the only thing that matters right now is to get rid of your stupid cat!" Nami yelled as she swings her PCT at Persian, who jumps back to avoid it.

"You must be daydreaming, because such nonsense will never happen! Persian, use thunderbolt!" Giovanni commands as Persian emitted an electrical current around itself before firing a thunderbolt at Nami.

"Wha!?" Nami gasped before she barely dodges the thunderbolt. She then gets up and looks at Persian. "That is the same move that mouse can do. How can it…?"

"I wasn't bluffing when I said that my persian could do almost every pokemon move there is." Giovanni said. "It is all thanks to my researchers, who trained and forced Persian to master them in order to become the strongest pokemon that ever existed within Team Rocket."

"I kinda figured that. And to think that I ALMOST thought that you were some professional pokemon trainer. But now that you revealed your way of training, I can now say that you are nothing more but a mere sell out!"

Giovanni frowned once again and pointed at Nami. "What do you know!? Persian, use thunderbolt again!" Giovanni commands as Persian fired another thunderbolt at Nami, only this time, she was ready.

"THUNDER BALL!" Nami swings her PCT, creating a thunder ball that cancelled with Persian's thunderbolt upon impact.

"Hmm… looks like your weapon is the only thing that is stopping me from beating you." Giovanni said. "Too bad that wont be for long." Giovanni said as Nami and Persian got ready to attack eachother again.

"Pikaaachuuuuuuuu!!" Pikachu fires a thunderbolt at Mewtwo, who levitates backwards to avoid it. Mewtwo then turned around to see Luffy was about to attack, only Mewtwo teleported away just in time as Luffy hit the floor, which injured Luffy as his hand got swollen. Mewtwo appeared as Pikachu charged at Mewtwo with great speed and jumps above it. Pikachu's tail then glowed white as he swung its tail at Mewtwo, who moves out of the way as Pikachu hit the floor, making a really small crack. Mewtwo knocks away Pikachu with his tail. Pikachu recovered in midair and fires another thunderbolt at Mewtwo, who blocks with his barrier before firing a shadow ball at Pikachu.

"GOMU GOMU NO FUUSEN!" Luffy jumps between the shadow ball, and Pikachu before inflating himself, making the shadow ball bounce off of him and right towards Mewtwo, who made the ball disappear with a flick of its wrist. Even though he managed to bounce the ball away, it still damages Luffy, but Luffy ignored the pain as he charges at Mewtwo. Luffy does a right horizontal punch, which Mewtwo dodges, followed by a left horizontal punch, which Mewtwo dodges again, and ends his combo with a kick, but once again, Mewtwo dodges it. Mewtwo telekinetically grabs Luffy and pushes to the ground beneath itself before slamming its tail on his body.

After the attack, Mewtwo sees Pikachu at it again. Mewtwo fires multiple shadow balls at Pikachu, who zips through place to place to dodge while still running towards Mewtwo. Pikachu then jumps at Mewtwo's face, delivering a skull bash to it's head. Mewtwo quickly countered by telekinetically grabbing Pikachu and was about to let it fall of the building.

"Pikachu!" Ash yelled as Luffy grabs Mewtwo's tail while he was still laying on the ground and started to squeeze it with all of his strength. The pain caused Mewtwo to slam Pikachu on Luffy. Mewtwo's hand was then covered with a dark flame as he lowered it at Luffy and Pikachu, causing a small, dark explosion that sent both of them flying backwards.

After they landed hard on the floor, they groggily got up and looked at eachother. They then nodded as they charged at Mewtwo at same time. Pikachu fires a thunderbolt at Mewtwo, who teleports and reappears in the sky. Mewtwo then noticed Luffy was jumping straight towards it. Mewtwo stops him in midair and telekinetically pushes him down as Pikachu jumps on Luffy and then jumps towards Mewtwo before firing another thunderbolt at it. Mewtwo teleports out of the way, but suddenly got hit across the face by Luffy's fist. Mewtwo was a little dazed as Luffy grabs on to a standing pole behind it as Pikachu jumped on Luffy's stretched arm and begins to run at Mewtwo while running on it.

"GOMU GOMU NO ROCKET!" Pikachu jumps in the air as Luffy springs himself at Mewtwo without letting go of the pole as Mewtwo flew upwards to avoid him. It then saw Pikachu above itself as Pikachu swung its tail down at Mewtwo, who blocked with his barrier. Mewtwo then telekinetically grabs Pikachu, but before it could do anything else, he got tackled from behind by Luffy, who used the pole from earlier in order to get to it. As Mewtwo spiraled upwards, Pikachu jumps and grabs hold of one of Luffy's wrist as Luffy jumps off the building and grabs the pole again and springs himself above Mewtwo.

"GOMU GOMU NO THUNDER PISTOL!" Luffy stretches his arm, which Pikachu was still holding as Luffy punches Mewtwo at the same time Pikachu let out a thunderbolt at him, thus creating a thunder punch. Mewtwo then fell limplessly at the ground as Luffy and Pikachu landed perfectly on it instead. The dust cleared to see Mewtwo with a dark flame surrounding it's right hand. Mewtwo then flies at Luffy and then points his palms at him, creating a dark flame in front of it. Luffy jumps over it, but Mewtwo quickly stops and telekinetically grabs Luffy. Pikachu was about to stop Mewtwo, until Pikachu slapped Pikachu away with it's tail. Mewtwo then throws Luffy at the opposite direction it was facing, which was somehow alot more powerful then his other throws.

Luffy then grabs a pole at the corner of the roof while in midair and swings himself back to the roof. Luffy then lets go of the pole and goes flying straight to Mewtwo, who flies up and slams Luffy down with its tail. Mewtwo failed to notice that Pikachu was flying down at Mewtwo, with its head hung low. Pikachu then gave a downward headbutt at the back of Mewtwo's head, which made a visible shockwave that went all over the roof. Luffy then grabs Mewtwo by the neck and gets up before stretching his leg back. "GOMU GOMU NO STAMP!" Luffy kicks Mewtwo in the gut as it appeared to be losing consciousness, but somehow maintained its focus as he telekinetically forced Luffy to let go.

He then held Luffy telekinetically in the air as it then did a shadow punch across Luffy's face. "GYAAAHH!" Luffy cried in pain as a dark flame covered his face. Mewtwo was about to do another shadow punch until Pikachu intended to attack Mewtwo with its tail. Mewtwo let's go of Luffy and blocks Pikachu's tail and fires a small shadow ball at Pikachu afterwards. Mewtwo then looks back at Luffy, who entangled his arms and legs all around Mewtwo's body, unable for it to move. "GOMU GOMU NO…" Luffy stretches his neck back "…

KANE!" Luffy then was about to give Mewtwo a headbutt, but Mewtwo teleported away, making Luffy headbutt the floor instead.

"OOOOWWWWWWWW!!!" Luffy cried while holding his head in pain. Mewtwo then appeared behind him, and was about to do a shadow punch at the back of his head, only Pikachu stopped it by ramming its head into it. Mewtwo stumbled a couple of inches back as Pikachu ran around its back and does a thunderbolt at Mewtwo's tail. Mewtwo stumbles in pain as Luffy angrily got up, and gave Mewtwo an uppercut across it's jaw, which sended Mewtwo flying up in midair. Pikachu then jumped on Luffy's back as Luffy jumps at Mewtwo and entangled his arms and legs all around Mewtwo's body again. "GOMU GOMU NO…" Luffy stretches his neck back as sparks started to come out of Pikachu's cheeks.

"… THUNDER KANE!" Luffy delivers a headbutt at Mewtwo's head at the same time Pikachu let out a thunderbolt. Mewtwo fell paralyzed to the ground as a couple of sparks were coming out of his armor. Pikachu then landed on Mewtwo as Luffy charged at it with both of his arms stretched back. Pikachu let out a thunderbolt which made Mewtwo get up as Luffy got closer to it. "GOMU GOMU NO BAZOOKA!" Luffy hits Mewtwo with both of his palms as Mewtwo rolled across the ground in pain. The dust cleared to see Mewtwo still standing.

Mewtwo then raised its arms in the air to form dark spikes out of thin air. Mewtwo then swung its arms forwards as the spikes were launched at Luffy and Pikachu. Luffy and Pikachu had no choice but to jump in order to avoid them as the spikes impaled the ground. Mewtwo then appeared in front of them while they were still in midair and telekinetically grabbed them both at the same time. It then started to ram Luffy and Pikachu into eachother several times before they were spiraled around Mewtwo and then launched in up in the air. Mewtwo then teleported above Luffy and Pikachu and covered itself with a dark aura before he tackled them, making them crash down to the floor as fast as a rocket.

"No!" Ash yelled as he then angrily looks at Mewtwo. "Mewtwo, snap out of it! Don't you remember who I am?" Ash asked. Mewtwo then looked at him and threw a shadow ball at Ash. Pikachu groggily got up and saw that Mewtwo's shadow ball was about to hit Ash. Pikachu ran as fast as it could and was able to jump in between the shadow ball and Ash.

"Pikaaaaa!!!" Pikachu cried in pain as the shadow ball exploded on its back upon impact. The force of the explosion made Pikachu crash into Ash and rolled them over to the corner of the rooftop. Luffy groggily got up and saw that Pikachu and Ash were unconscious. This made Luffy very angry as he angrily looked at Mewtwo.

Sanji, Robin, and Franky were getting rid of members of Team Rocket, but no matter how many they beat, more of them would just show up. "Damn it! They just keep coming." Sanji said while kicking one of the members out cold.

"Take it easy, bro. No matter how many they are, we can still take them down." Franky said while firing a missile at a Team Rocket group.

"That is the problem. We don't have much time left until that man in the orange suit takes over every pokemon in existence. We do not have the time to fight these people." Robin said while breaking several spines.

"Tsk… then lets just attack right through them!" yells Franky as then a huge group of Officer Jennys stormed in the building and started to beat up every team rocket member upon sight. This made Sanji so happy as one of the Officer Jennys came up Sanji, Robin, and Franky and saluted them.

"We will take care of things from here. You guys go and stop Giovanni." said the officer Jenny as Sanji's visible eye catched on fire.

"YOSH! LETS GO!" Sanji yelled as he, Robin, and Franky ran through the hallways. They then saw the private elevator that Nami got on a couple of chapters earlier, only that there was no elevator as Sanji kicked through the glass door.

"What do you think you are doing? Why dont we just go up the staircase?" Franky asked as Sanji angrily looked at him.

"WE DONT HAVE TIME FOR THAT! THIS PLACE IS THE ONLY WAY TO GET TO WHERE NAMI-SAN IS AT!!" Sanji yelled as he then happily looked at Robin. "Robin-chwan, will you please do the honors?"

"Of course." Robin said, kindly as she crossed her limbs. "DOSCIENTOS FLEUR!" a ladder of arms came out of the wall and more of them started to grow towards the top. Sanji quickly, yet carefully went up the ladder of hands as well as Robin.

"Oi! We can just push this elevator button so that the elevator would come down and take us up instead!" yells Franky, but Sanji ignored him as he went further up. "What an idiot." Franky said as he didn't want to climb the hands, so he decided to climb up the wall instead, which kinda takes longer.

Luffy tries to punch Mewtwo, but Mewtwo continues to dodge his attacks. Mewtwo the delivers a shadow punch at Luffy's face again, only this didn't make Luffy stumble, it actually made him angrier than before.

"You call that a PUNCH!?" Luffy yelled as he delivered a nasty right punch across Mewtwo's face. This made Mewtwo stumble a bit, but quickly giving another shadow punch at Luffy. Luffy and Mewtwo then started punch eachother rapidly, showing no sign of getting tired whatsoever. Luffy gets even more angrier upon every hit he receives as he started to punch Mewtwo even harder. Mewtwo couldn't keep up with Luffy as it was now getting punch repeatedly.

"GOMU GOMU NO GATLING GUN!" Luffy accelerated his punches, punching Mewtwo even faster now. Luffy stopped and jumped away from Mewtwo, who was too daze to do anything at the moment. "GOMU GOMU NO MUCHI!" Luffy does a stretched horizontal kick and kicked Mewtwo's neck. Mewtwo went flying across the roof and crashed on to the floor. Even though Mewtwo was damaged all over his body, including its neck that somehow was still intact, Mewtwo groggily got up and faced towards Luffy. Mewtwo was then covered by a light green aura that somehow recovers every wound it received throughout this entire battle. "Hey! That's cheating!" Luffy yelled as Mewtwo charges at him.

Mewtwo swings its tail horizontally at Luffy, who backflips and counters with a punch, but Mewtwo ducks under it and thrusts it's hands at Luffy's gut, creating an orb of dark fire as well. Luffy stumbled a few feet back while getting the dark fire off of his vest while Mewtwo was charging up a shadow ball. Once it was finished, Mewtwo fires the shadow ball at Luffy, who barely dodges it as the shadow ball destroyed a tip of a mountain. "YAAAAHHH!" Luffy screamed as his eyes popped out of his head while seeing a tip of a mountain destroyed. Luffy then looks at Mewtwo, who suddenly appeared in front of Luffy and smacked him away with it's tail.

Luffy rolled around the floor as Mewtwo quickly appeared next to him and intended to do slam him with his tail, but Luffy kicked the tail away and stood on his hands. "GOMU GOMU NO YARI!" Luffy thrusts both of his feet at Mewtwo, who moves out of the way before firing a dark flame at Luffy's face. Luffy fell but managed to roll back onto his feet and charge at Mewtwo, who fired a shadow ball, which Luffy rolled out of the way and went at Mewtwo's back. "GOMU GOMU NO…" Luffy entangled his arms and legs at the back of Mewtwo's body. "… MIKATA ROBOT." Luffy was now holding Mewtwo, who cant move an inch.

"MIKATA ROBOT SELF-DESTRUCT!" Luffy then squeezes Mewtwo's body as Mewtwo struggled to break free. Mewtwo then let out an electrical current form around itself which also included Luffy. Since Luffy is made of rubber, he didn't feel a thing. Mewtwo stopped letting out an electrical current and teleported away. Luffy lands on his feet and runs towards a certain direction. Mewtwo then appeared in that direction and was immediately punched to the ground. As Mewtwo was getting up, Luffy jumped off the building and grabbed on to the standing post on the corner of the rooftop. "GOMU GOMU NO ROCKET!" Luffy springs himself at Mewtwo, who teleports just in time as Luffy slid across the ground.

Mewtwo appeared levitating over the pole as Luffy charged at it. Mewtwo raised its hands and created dark spikes all around itself. Mewtwo then fires the spikes at Luffy, who was backflipping in order to avoid them. The spikes didn't disappear however, They instead levitated back into the air and started to fire small dark beams from their tips. Luffy jumps and destroys one of the spikes with his own fists and repeats this process until all of the spikes have been destroyed. The shards of the spikes then stayed afloat as Mewtwo created a shadow ball between them. The shards then went into the shadow ball and materialized into one big ball covered in spikes.

"Uh oh!" Luffy yelled as he began to run away from the spiky ball, as it was following Luffy wherever he went. Luffy turns around and punches the spiky ball away, only for the spiky ball to chase it again. Luffy then jumps over the spike and quickly comes up with a plan. The spiky ball turned around and saw Luffy holding a sign that said 'I am not your opponent'. The spike ball than started to go away until it realized he was fooled by a moron. The spike ball turns around and saw that Luffy was no longer there. The only thing that was there was the sign. Luffy turned out to be above the ball while aiming his feet at it.

"GOMU GOMU NO YARI!" Luffy thrusts his feet at the top of the spike ball, making it unconscious, which is kind of odd since spiky balls are not so suppose to be concious, nor are they even suppose to be angry when being tricked, but since this is my story, I don't care.

Luffy landed on the spiky ball and awaited Mewtwo to attack him. Mewtwo appeared in front of Luffy and glared at him, making Luffy dizzy. Mewtwo then telepathically grabs Luffy and spirals him around itself before tossing him into the air. As Luffy fell down, Mewtwo swung horizontally swung his tail at him.

Luffy rolled around the floor before he was able to stop himself with his feet as Mewtwo fired another shadow ball at him. Luffy dodged and stretches his arm at Mewtwo, who dodges, and teleports above Luffy. Luffy looked up to see Mewtwo charging a shadow ball, but before Mewtwo could use it, Luffy jumped towards Mewtwo and kicked the shadow ball, causing it to explode. Luffy crashed to the floor while Mewtwo was spiraling upwards. Mewtwo then started to fall down as Luffy got up and stretched his leg upwards. "GOMU GOMU NO ONO!" Luffy slams his foot on the back of Mewtwo's head while it was still in midair, causing a tremendous force that made Mewtwo fall down faster than before.

Mewtwo crashed as Luffy still had his foot on him, creating a bigger crack than Mewtwo did earlier. Ash and Pikachu were starting to regain consciousness as they then saw Luffy stepping on Mewtwo's head. "Luffy, did you beat it!?" Ash asked. Luffy turned around and was relieved to see Ash and Pikachu okay. Although the distraction made Mewtwo teleport and reappear behind Luffy.

"Luffy! Watch out!" Ash yelled as Luffy turned around only for Mewtwo to deliver a shadow punch right at his face, slamming his head onto the ground. "Luffy! Grr… Pikachu, go!"

"Pikaaaa!!" yells Pikachu as it charged at Mewtwo.

"I'll show you not to meddle into Team Rocket's affairs!" Butch yelled as he charges at Usopp.

"HISSATSU TABASCOBOSHI!" Usopp fires a pellet filled with hot sauce into Butch's mouth.

"AAA AAA AAA AAA HHH HHH HHH HHH HHH HHH HH!!!! MY MOUTH IS ON FIRE!!!" Butch cried while fire was coming out of Butch's mouth. Cassidy got angry and calls out her Sableye from her pokeball.

"Sableye, attack!" Cassidy commands as Sableye charges at Usopp. Sableye swings its claws at Usopp, who jumped really high to avoid it. Unfortunately, Usopp jumped so high, he hit the ceiling. Usopp then fell unconsciously to the ground. Sableye then took a closer look at Usopp to see that blood was coming out of his head. Sableye then backed away as Cassidy put Sableye backed into its pokeball. "I guess that takes care of him. Now the only one left is that raccoon pokemon."

Chopper's rumble ball lost its effect along time ago as Chopper was in his heavy point, fighting off Charizard and Aggron at the same time. Chopper shoves Aggron back before he saw Usopp. "USOPP!" Chopper cried before he got hit by Aggron. Chopper stumbled a few feet back before he angrily looked at Aggron. "You will pay for this!" Chopper yelled as he charges at Aggron. Charizard then appeared in front of Chopper and breathed out a stream of fire at him. Chopper quickly changed into his normal point and threw a testube over Charizard's head. Charizard looked up as the testube exploded black dust all over its face. Charizard was now blind as it was now breathing out streams of fire in random directions.

"Charizard, what are you doing!? The enemy is right there!" Cassidy yelled angrily. Meanwhile, Chopper was avoiding Aggron's claws as they impaling the ground in front of Chopper every time he jumps back. Chopper then throws another of his testubes at Aggron as it exploded with pink dust this time. The dust seemed to make Aggron fall asleep as he limplessly fell down, and started to snooze.

"Yes! I defeated them!" Chopper said happily. Chopper was unaware that Cassidy was right behind him. Chopper stopped celebrating and nervously looked back of his shoulder to see a very angry Cassidy.

"YOU… YOU RUINED EVERYTHING!!!" Cassidy yelled as she was about to strangle Chopper until Jessie came out of nowhere and kicked Cassidy so hard she flew right into the power supply, that was still functioning.

"I waited a long time to do that!" Jessie said while James and Meowth were hugging eachother in fear.

Butch was still running around the room with his mouth still on fire. "WILL SOMEBODY PLEASE GET RID OF THIS INTENSE HEAT!!" Butch yelled before he noticed somebody was standing behind him.

"USOPP HAMMER!" Usopp swung his hammer at Butch, which made him crash right into Cassidy. "Ketchup boshi. I placed it under my hat just in case for emergencies." Usopp said while wiping the ketchup off of his head while Chopper admired his tactics. Charizard was still blind until he accidentally tripped over the sleeping Aggron and accidentally breathed out a stream of fire at Cassidy and Butch, frying them until they completely burned. Cassidy breathed out a black puff of smoke as she shoves the unconscious Butch out of the way before smirking.

"You may have… defeated us. But you will never destroy the power supply, for it is durable as steel!" Cassidy yelled as she then pointed at Usopp. "And you! Don't think that you can just dismantle it, because that will take hours to do! There is no way you can stop Team Rocket now! Ha ha ha ha ha ha!"

"Grr… you may be right about that. But there is one thing you have forgotten…" Usopp said while lowering his head. Chopper and the Team Rocket trio were confused at what he meant as Usopp then looked at Cassidy with brave look in his eyes. "… I HAVE 8000 POKEMON READY TO AMBUSH THIS ROOM AND TAKE DOWN THAT POWER SUPPLY WITH FULL FORCE!!!!"

"WHAT!?!?" Chopper and James yelled in surprise while Jessie and Meowth slapped their foreheads.

"You moron! Do you actually want me to believe that you have 8000 pokemon!?" Cassidy yelled. The ground then started to shake tremendously as the center of the room was suddenly destroyed by a tornado of cutting waves. Everyone was surprised until they heard some sort of sound coming from the hole. Cassidy peeked inside to see a stampede of pokemon coming out. "YAAAHH!" Cassidy cried as she and the unconscious Butch were taken away by the stampede of pokemon.

Usopp and Chopper's eyes popped out of their heads as they saw even more pokemon coming out of the hole, including a Snorlax. The stampede then ran right through the power supply, destroying it instantly and right through the wall, leading outside. Cassidy and Butch were no longer seen as the stampede were now heading full speed out of the building. The barrage of pokemon finally ended as a little blue, penguin pokemon popped his head out of the hole.

"Piplup?" the pokemon said before it got out of the hole and catches up with his other fellow pokemon outside. Now that it was quiet, Chopper then looked at Usopp while jumping in joy.

"Usopp! Your pokemon came out of the hole and destroyed the power supply! You are so cool!!" Chopper said, excitedly while sparks of joy came out of his eyes.

"My… pokemon?" Usopp asked, still in shock on what just happened. "I mean… yes! Like I said, my 8000 pokemon would ambush this room and destroy the power supply with full force. You didn't think I made that up, did you? Ha ha ha ha!" Usopp said which made Chopper even more happy. They then saw Zoro and Pichu climbing out of the hole.

"Hmm? Oh, so this is where you guys were." Zoro said

"ZORO! Where have you been!?" Usopp asked. "Uh, you know what? Nevermind."

Zoro looks around the room he is in to see that it was a big mess. "What happened here?"

"Usopp called his 8000 pokemon here and destroyed the power supply. You should of seen it, Zoro. It was so cool!" Chopper said, excitedly.

"His 8000 pokemon, huh? Whatever." Zoro said as then noticed the Team Rocket trio. "Hey, aren't those the guys that work for the orange suit guy?"

"EEEk! He noticed us! what shall we do?" James asked nervously.

"Pipe down! He might go away if we ignore him." Meowth said while he and his companions looked the other way.

"Bah… anyway, we should go up and find that orange suit guy." Zoro said, which made Usopp feel nervous.

"Wait a minute, Zoro! Nami said the only thing we should do is to destroy the power supply, and that's it." Usopp said.

"I don't care what that woman said. We are going up there." Zoro said while looking at the ceiling.

"How do we do that? We wont make up there by just going up the stairs." Usopp said. Zoro then unsheathed his swords, making Usopp and Chopper even more nervous.

"Who said anything about going up the stairs?" Zoro asked as he faces his swords from the front to the back of the blades. Pichu then holds Zoro's shirt tighly as Zoro was about to do something. "TATSU…"

"ZORO, ARE YOU CRAZY!?"

"… MAKI!" Zoro created a tornado cutting waves, but since Zoro created it with the back of his blades, then the waves didn't cut anything. Instead, the force of the tornado destroyed multiple ceilings above him. It also sent Usopp, Chopper, Jessie, James and Meowth flying upwards.

"GYAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AHH HHH HH HHHH HHHH HHH HHH HHH HHH HHHH!!!!!" Usopp and Chopper yelled as they were flying upwards.

"GAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAH HHH HHH HHH HHH HHH HHH HHH HH!!" The Team Rocket trio yelled as they flying right next Usopp and Chopper. Zoro stopped spinning and looked at Pichu.

"You ready?" Zoro asked.

"Pichu!" Pichu said.

"Okay, here we go!" Zoro jumps upwards and catches up with his crew.

Pikachu was heavily breathing as it has several wounds all over it's body. Mewtwo on the other hand, does not have any wounds due to his ability to recover, although he doesn't have the power to heal its armor, which looks worn out right now. "Come on, Pikachu! Don't give up!" Ash said. "We are doing this for Mewtwo and for all the pokemon in the world! We can't afford to lose!"

"Pi… ka.. Pikachu!" Pikachu said, ready to battle. Pikachu then charges at Mewtwo, who creates a shadow ball and throws at Pikachu, who jumps over it and lets out a thunderbolt. Mewtwo teleported to avoid it and appeared behind Pikachu, who then swings its tail at Mewtwo, who counters by creating a barrier around himself, sending Pikachu flying backwards. Mewtwo then telepathically holds Pikachu in midair and then throws it down with great force.

"Pikachu!" Ash yelled as he runs were Pikachu was about to land and catches it in midair. Ash landed roughly on his back and looked at Pikachu. "Eh… are you okay, Pikachu?" Ash asked groggily. Pikachu nodded as it then saw Mewtwo appear in front of them. Ash looked behind him and angrily looked at Mewtwo. "If you want to hurt Pikachu, then you must get through me first!" Ash yelled. Mewtwo narrowed his eyes as he was about to attack until Luffy quickly appeared in front of it and punched Mewtwo away from Ash. Luffy breathed heavily as Ash got up.

"How much… time is there… left?" Luffy asked while panting.

"Not much." Ash said.

"Heh… then I must… beat it now. You guys take break… I'll handle the rest from here." Luffy said as he walks towards Mewtwo. Mewtwo then telekinetically holds Luffy in place. Mewtwo was then about to throw him off the building, but Luffy seemed to be resisting. Mewtwo tried to move Luffy again, But Luffy just wont budge. By using all of his strength, Luffy was able to break free of Mewtwo telepathic hold as he then charged at Mewtwo and punched it, sending Mewtwo flying. Mewtwo stopped in midair and looked at Luffy with a surprised look under it's helmet. Mewtwo tries to telepathically hold Luffy again, but Luffy broke its grip faster than last time as Luffy stretches his hand and grabs Mewtwo by the neck.

Luffy then pulls Mewtwo to himself and punches Mewtwo with his free hand. Before Mewtwo could fall, Luffy grabbed it by it's neck again and punches it once more. Luffy then kicks Mewtwo, making it roll across the ground. Luffy then charges at Mewtwo while stretching both of his arms back. "GOMU GOMU NO…" Mewtwo gets up and forms a barrier around itself "… BAZOOKA!" Luffy thrusted his palms at Mewtwo, destroying the barrier and right into Mewtwo's gut. Mewtwo went flying back before it used all of his mental ability to stop itself and levitate in the air.

Mewtwo then crossed it's limbs and spreaded them out as a ring of shadow balls formed around Luffy. "What is this?" Luffy asked.

Mewtwo then slammed his hands together, making the ring of shadow balls close in on Luffy. Luffy jumped upwards to avoid them, which made Mewtwo narrow its eyes. Mewtwo raised its hands which made the shadow balls collide and fire a dark beam at Luffy. "AAAAAAAHHHHHHHH!!" Luffy cried in pain as he fell to ground while covered in dark flames. The beam disappeared as Mewtwo teleported in front Luffy, who appeared to be unconscious. Mewtwo was about to grab Luffy, until he punched Mewtwo across the jaw.

Mewtwo stumbled back as Luffy got up and ran at Mewtwo. "GOMU GOMU NO GATLING GUN!" Luffy repeatedly punches Mewtwo. Mewtwo quickly teleports away and fires a shadow ball on the floor, making it turn dark. Mewtwo stood in the middle of the rooftop and raised it's hand upwards, making the darkness on the floor spiral all above it, thus creating some sort of an magnetic orb. The orb was now pulling in Luffy, Ash, and Pikachu. "Ahhh… cant keep my balance." Luffy said while the orb was pulling him closer.

"Eh… Pikachu, thunderbolt!" commands Ash.

"Pikaaachuuuuuuuu!" Pikachu lets out a thunderbolt at the orb, causing it to explode with bright light. As the light dimmed, Mewtwo was nowhere in sight.

"Where did it go?" Luffy asked. They then realized something odd with the sky. The clouds started to turn black and completely covered the sky. Dark lightning passed scorched through the clouds as Mewtwo appeared at the rooftop out of nowhere.

"Mewtwo must have done something to the clouds. But for what reason?" Ash asked.

"Who cares!? I'll stop it just before it can do anything else! GOMU GOMU NO PISTOL!" Luffy stretches his arm at Mewtwo, who dodged it by tilting its head sideways sideways before he flew towards Luffy and swung its tail at him, who blocked with his foot before shoving Mewtwo back. "GOMU GOMU NO STAMP!" LUffy thrusts his foot at Mewtwo, who telekinetically stops it in midair.

Mewtwo then threw Luffy behind itself as Pikachu jumped at Mewtwo's head, blocking it's vision. Pikachu then lets out a thunderbolt, electrifying Mewtwo.

Mewtwo surrounds itself with an electrical current, forcing Pikachu to get off. Mewtwo then creates two shadow balls and changed their shape to make them look like a pair of swords. Using its telekinetic ability, the swords perfectly handled themselves, as Mewtwo swings one of his swords at Pikachu, who barely dodges as it landed roughly on the floor. Mewtwo was about to impale Pikachu as Luffy jumped towards Mewtwo from behind. One of Mewtwo's swords quickly turned into a shield and blocked Luffy's fist as Mewtwo looked at him before he slashed Luffy across the chest.

"Guah!" Luffy cried while holding his chest in pain as fell to the ground. Mewtwo quickly faces back at Pikachu, only to get skullbashed in the face, causing the visor of Mewtwo's helmet cracked a bit. Mewtwo stumbles as Luffy quickly got up and punched Mewtwo in the gut. Mewtwo then stabs one of his swords at Luffy's back. "Gah!" Luffy cried in pain as Mewtwo then smacks him away with its tail. Luffy groggily got on his knees and forcefully pulls the sword out of his back as Mewtwo quickly retrieves its sword while Luffy was still holding it.

Luffy lets go of the sword, and rolls right in front of Mewtwo before delivering a headbutt, which made the crack on its visor bigger. Mewtwo now seemed to be quite angry as its swords started to propel at a fast rate around itself. Mewtwo flies at Luffy, who rolls away from Mewtwo as Pikachu came out of nowhere and swung its tail at Mewtwo's face at the same time Luffy kicks Mewtwo's feet. This made Mewtwo lose its concentration as the swords have evaporated from sight as Luffy stretches his hand back more than usual. "GOMU GOMU NO BULLET!" Luffy's fist quickly punches Mewtwo's armor with great force as Mewtwo teleported to the sky afterwards.

Mewtwo's armor was almost destroyed as sparks were coming out of it. Mewtwo then its right hand up as the electricity coming from the clouds started to form something big.

"Persian, use flamethrower!" Persian let breathed out a stream of fire at Nami, who aimed with her PCT.

"COOL CHARGE!" Nami lets out a cool breeze out of her PCT as Persian's fire connected impacted on it. This caused a hug mist to occur as Persian was having a hard time trying to see. "THUNDER BALL!" Persian turns around and sees a barrage of thunder balls coming towards it.

"Persian, cancel that attack with you thunderbolt!" commands Giovanni as Persian let out a thunderbolt, cancelling the thunder balls that Nami created. Persian then charges at where the thunder balls came from as the fog started to clear, revealing that Persian was heading straight to Nami. "There she is! Persian, use Fury swipes!" Persian's claws got big as it then slashed right through Nami's head. Giovanni grinned, but not for long as the Nami Persian slashed disappeared.

"Man, your cat is so stupid to tell the difference between me and a mirage." Nami said as she appeared to be walking around the room.

"A mirage? From that close? Impossible. Persian, use Hydro pump!" Giovanni commands as Persian let out a stream of water from it's mouth. Nami was grossed out at first, but quickly aimed her PCT towards the ceiling.

"CLOUDY TEMPO!" Nami creates a cloud with her PCT and forms it all above Giovanni's office. Nami then ran from Persian's Hydro pump as it hit the window. The water then spreaded all over the office, which amused Nami. Nami jumps to a wall and jumps while heading towards Persian. "ICE TEMPO!" Nami throws a cool ball at Persian, as it then froze it, including the wet floor. Nami intended to land perfectly on the floor, but slipped and landed on her rear due to the ice. "Oww…" Nami said while rubbing her rear as she then grins at Giovanni. "Looks like your pussy cat didn't stand a chance against me."

"Heh heh heh…" Giovanni laughed.

"What's so funny?" Nami asked.

"You pathetic little girl. Don't think that you have won just by freezing my Persian." Giovanni said. Nami then looked at Persian as the ice around it started to thaw.

"Wh-What?" Nami said as Persian was now revived as well as the ice on the floor, which is now water.

"Now Persian, use Tidal wave!" Giovanni commands as Persian formed a ball of water from its mouth and slammed it on the floor, creating an enormous tidal wave.

"Not good…" Nami separates her PCT and forms a boomerang before she aims at the wave. "CYCLONE TEMPO!" Nami throws her PCT boomerang and destroys the center of the wave. Nami then started towards the hole.

"I expected this! Persian, use Giga impact!" Persian charges at Nami as a big aura formed around it and tackles Nami. "AHH!" Nami cried in pain as the force sended her into a window, as the wave from before smashed her as well. "Ha ha ha ha, silly girl, you thought you could defeat me? The only thing you did was to entertain me until I belong the ruler of this pathetic planet. It's over." Giovanni said while grinning evilly. That soon stopped as Nami groggily gets up and grinned back at Giovanni.

"Actually… you just lost." Nami said while looking at the clouds she created earlier. "Why don't you look beneath your feet."

"Hmm?" Giovanni looks and was completely shocked. "The water! It's gone. But how?" Giovanni then looks up and sees the clouds

Nami created that are completely black. "The clouds absorbed it!? But it's impossible for that to happen so quickly!"

"Let's just say that I have a way to control mother nature's power. With these clouds, I can create an ice age that will engulf this entire room of yours." Nami said while grinning.

"Hmph… are you going to try and freeze Persian again? Your are clearly not that wise as I thought you were." Giovanni said.

"Who said that I am going to freeze your cat again?" Nami asked. Giovanni made a confused look as the clouds in the sky disappeared, revealing humongous icicles formed on the ceiling.

"What is this!?" Giovanni asked.

"Today's forecast will have icicles falling on fake prize giver's head!" Nami yelled as she was about to hit the window.

"Are you demented!? You kill all of us!" Giovanni yelled.

"ICE LANCE TEMPO!" Nami hits the window as the sound of the attack echoed throughout the entire office. The icicles then started to shake a bit as they began falling down at full force.

"My barrier can't withstand this kind of attack! EEAAHH!!" Giovanni screamed as he hid under his desk. Persian had nowhere to go as the icicles impacted it and the entire room. After the ice carnage was over, the office was now filled shards of ice. Nami popped her out of the shards and pulled herself out.

"Sheesh… that was a little too wild for me. I have to remind myself to not do that again." Nami said while brushing some shards off of her hair. Giovanni groggily pulls himself out of the shards and looks around his office.

"My office is ruined… where is Persian!?" Giovanni asked. He then saw Persian covered with shards as it was now unconscious.

Giovanni angrily lowers his head as Nami point her PCT at him.

"It's over." Nami said. "I witnessed earlier that the lights in this room automatically turned off. I sended a part of my crew to destroy your power supply. Now you wont be able to control those pokemon creatures without electricity."

"Heh heh heh heh heh heh. Heh heh heh ha ha ha ha ha!" Giovanni laughed, making Nami concern. "You fool! I don't need electrical power for my plan to work! Mewtwo has enough power to do that by itself! You see, in case of anything happens to my power supply, Mewtwo will automatically receive orders to fire it's most powerful blast at one of the satellites just above this room, thus sending a variety of radar waves to my satellites orbiting this planet, and you know what happens next."

"Errgh…"

"As you can clearly see outside, Mewtwo has already begun. It is now over!"

"That is… incredible power." Ash said as Mewtwo had a humongous shadow ball that was big enough to cover an entire city. Mewtwo then lowers its hand as the shadow ball slowly started to head over to a satellite on the entrance to the staircase.

Luffy simply stood still until he started to speak. "Ash…"

"What?" Ash asked.

"Did the yellow perform its strongest move yet?" Luffy asked.

"Well no, but Pikachu might die if he does that!" Ash yelled.

"Do you rather see the orange suit guy take over everything!?" Luffy yelled. Ash didn't know what to do until Pikachu nodded at him.

"Pikachu… are you sure?" Ash asked worryingly.

"Pika!" Pikachu replied bravely.

"Eh… okay, I'll know that you wont die, Pikachu. Go stop Mewtwo!" Ash said before Pikachu nodded happily before he jumped off of Ash's shoulder and landed on Luffy's back.

"Yosh… lets finish this!" Luffy yelled.

(1 minute left)

"Okay Pikachu! Volt tackle, Maximum power!" Ash commands.

"Piiikaaaaaaaaaaaaaaa!!!!" Pikachu created a big sphere of electricity around itself and Luffy. Luffy crouches down and jumps right towards Mewtwo's shadow ball.

The force between Pikachu's electric power between Mewtwo's shadow was overwhelming. But it seems that the shadow ball is still heading towards the satellite.
"YYYAAAAAAAAAAAAAHHHHHHHHH!!!" Luffy screamed as he and Pikachu started to push the shadow ball back. Mewtwo used its mental power to push the shadow ball back, making it push back Luffy and Pikachu.

(30 seconds left)

Luffy and Pikachu pushed so hard, that they actually went inside shadow ball. "Luffy! Pikachu!" Ash yelled as Luffy then to punch and kick everywhere inside the shadow ball, but it seemed that has no effect on the shadow as it was now a couple of feet away from the satellite.

(20 seconds left)

Luffy then started to spin as fast as he could, hoping that would slow down the shadow ball, but still nothing happened. "GAAHHH!! WE MUST ATTACK THE CAT THING TO STOP THIS!!!" Luffy yelled as Pikachu made the sphere around themselves bigger.

(10 seconds left)

Luffy arms stretched right out of the shadow ball and grabbed Mewtwo by the shoulders. Mewtwo couldn't teleport due to the electricity that is coursing through its body.

(5 seconds left)

Luffy, along with Pikachu, then came flying out of the shadow ball as his feet were twisted around eachother while he pointed his feet at Mewtwo. "GOMU GOMU NOOOOOOO…"

(2 seconds left)

"… ATOMIC DRILL!!" Luffy thrusts his feet at Mewtwo and lets his legs untwist themselves at a very fast rate, making then drill Mewtwo's body, with a bonus of Pikachu's electric power. The pressure of the attack was completely destroying Mewtwo's armor as Luffy and Pikachu were now falling right at the ground, while the shadow ball was a few inches away…

(Time's up)

"IT'S OVER! I AM NOW THE RULER OF THIS WORLD!!!!" Giovanni yelled excitedly while looking at his ceiling. A few moments pass and nothing happened. Giovanni then looks through his window to see that the sky was clearing. "I don't believe this was suppose to happen."

Then the whole ceiling shattered into pieces as Luffy was still drilling Mewtwo's body while he fell to Giovanni's office. Ash landed on roughly on the ground as Mewtwo landed on the floor as soon as Luffy stops his attack. Mewtwo armor completely shattered into pieces as it was now unconscious. Pikachu fainted and fell off of Luffy's back as Ash groggily ran to see if its okay. Giovanni was completely surprised as Luffy got up.

"Maaan, I'm hungry."

TO BE CONTINUED…

Preview: I think I stopped the orange suit from conquering the world. I guess I can finally take a break now. And yet, I feel like I have been watched this entire time, but who would… Next time on One Piece: A Smash Adventure; Team Rocket defeated, The new world. I am gonna be the Pirate King!

As Shikamaru from Naruto would say, this was troublesome to finish. The next chapter is very important, it will answer some questions to this story's plot. Till then!

Pokemon Pt 14

Before we start this chapter, I would like to say something. It is not like its important or anything, but I just have to say it… I HAVE THE LONGEST STORY IN THE ONE PIECE SECTION. Okay now that is out of the way, let us begin our chapter.

Giovanni's plan failed. Luffy, along with Pikachu, has defeated Mewtwo and stopped Giovanni's plan to control all the pokemon all over the world. The Strawhats could not relax and continue their journey to find their 3rd mystery heart. Just where could this mystery heart be? Could it be a thousands of miles away or right under their noses?

Chapter 37: Team Rocket defeated, The new world

Giovanni trembled in fear, seeing Mewtwo defeated by some mere boy, which he believed he was. Luffy drowzily patted his stomach as Nami walked to him. "Where the hell have you been!? You were suppose to be here beating this guy up, but instead, I had to do that myself!"

"Dont yell at me so loud." Luffy whined. "I was up on the roof fighting this cat thing. Why don't you blame him instead of me?"

"Because yelling at you seems more appropriate!!" Nami yelled before hitting Luffy at the back of his head.

Pikachu was starting to regain its consciousness as Ash started to feel relieved. "Pikachu, are you okay?" Ash asked.

"Pii… kachu." Pikachu said, feeling very exhausted at the moment. Nami then looked up and looked at the sky, thanks to the rooftop that was destroyed earlier. She could see that the sun was setting and smiled.

"We managed to stop a madman's desire yet again. No matter how many times we do this, I can never get use to this." Nami said as she then looks at Luffy, who has bump on his head that Nami gave him earlier. "Now that we are done, we can finally start our search for our 3rd heart. Before that, we need to find our idiotic crew."

"Don't worry, Nami." Luffy said. "I am pretty sure that they are heading here right now."

The ground then shook as part of the floor was destroyed by a tornado as Usopp, Chopper, Jessie, James, and Meowth came flying out of it and landed on the pile of ice shards that were still on the room. A couple of them fell through the hole as Zoro and Pichu climbed out of it.

"Tornadoes are scary… Tornadoes are scary… Tornadoes are scary…" Usopp said while shivering. Chopper pulled his head out of the shards and looked at his surroundings.

"Woah… what happened here?" Chopper asked. He then turned the other way and saw the unconcious Mewtwo right next to him. "GAAAAAAAHHHH!!" Chopper cried in fear as his hat, along with his antlers, flew from his from his head before falling back on him again. Chopper then ran to Luffy and leaned on Luffy's leg rather than hiding behind it.

"OOOOoooOOOOooohhh… we have been blasted off so many times before, but not like this." Jessie said while her eyes were rolling around, uncontrollably.

"Next time… let's just stay away from guys with green hair." James said, almost unconcious.

"Agreed." Meowth said before they passed out.

Zoro walks to the middle of the room, with his usual look on his face. "It looks like we missed all the fun. Your fault for not leading me into the right direction." Zoro said to Pichu. Pichu scoffed and looked angrily looked the other way, knowing that he actually was giving Zoro the right directions, but Zoro always go the opposite way.

The elevator then got destroyed as Sanji came right through it. He did several flips in midair and landed perfectly on the floor. "Perfect… I clearly know that I am here before-MARIMO!?" Sanji yelled in surprise as Robin climbed out of the elevator.

"Oi, you are kinda late." Zoro said while Sanji got angry.

"How is it that you keep getting into places before I do!? This clearly denies reality to me!" Sanji yelled right at Zoro's face.

"Maybe if you stop daydreaming about flirting with women that you will never sleep with, maybe you can get here before I do, you Idiotic cook!" Zoro yelled back. Franky then pulled himself out of the elevator door and looks at the duo fighting eachother.

"Oh no… why help an important person such as myself when you guys can simply make kissy faces at eachother." Franky said while getting up.

"WHAT!?" Both Zoro and Sanji yelled as they then attacked Franky, creating a dust screen around them. Nami's eye twitches as she then looks at Luffy behind her shoulder.

"Every time you say something, it always comes true." Nami said with a grumpy voice.

"Then you believe that we can actually meet the ten foot bug eye people?!" Luffy asked excitedly.

"That I highly doubt." Nami said, which made Luffy lower his head in depression, making a dark aura appear around him. Robin then walks to Nami.

"It would seem that we have won." Robin said while looking at the unconscious Mewtwo.

"Yeah… but I just hope that we don't have to do this when we get to the next world. It's giving me a headache." Nami said while rubbing her head as Robin giggled. Besides Usopp, Giovanni was the only person in the room who is confused and afraid of the power of the Strawhat crew.

"Who are these people? How can they be so positive? I have never seen such filth like this before." Giovanni said, quietly to himself. Luffy depressingly tilts his head and looks at Giovanni. It took a few seconds for Luffy to get rid of the dark aura around him and proceeded to be in a very angry mood.

"YOOOOOOOOUUUUUUUUU!!!" Luffy yelled while pointing at Giovanni. Everyone stopped what they were doing and looked at Luffy. "You are the evil orange suit guy!! I am going to kick your ass!!"

"Wha!?" Giovanni yelled in surprise as Luffy charged at him with full speed.

"GOMU GOMU NO…"

"Wait! Stop!!" Giovanni pleaded.

"… PISTOL!!!" Luffy punches Giovanni across the face.

"Guuuoooohhhh!!" Giovanni cried in pain as he flew right towards the window and crashed into it. Giovanni fell forward on the floor as all the windows in the office shattered into pieces. Giovanni groggily got into his elbows and knees as he started to bleed from the mouth.

"Incredible…" Ash said while Pikachu nodded in response.

"Oi Luffy, don't go overboard. We already stopped him." Zoro said.

"I know. I just had a need to do that." Luffy say while walking back to his crew.

"Ooooh, what a relief." Usopp said while getting up from the pile of ice shards that started to fly out the broken windows. "Now all we have to do is to get officials here and arrest that guy and then we can finally relax."

"Ah ha ha ha ha ha! Don't be too sure of yourself, my little long nose friend."

Usopp then got the chills as he, including everyone else, were in their alert postitions. "Wh-Wh-Wh-Who said that!?"

"More importantly, where did it come from?" Franky said while looking at his surrondings.

"That stupid laugh… I could've sworn that I have heard it somewhere." Nami said.

"Eh? You don't mean…?" Sanji said as then a outlined, transperent square appeared in midair out of nowhere. The square then disappeared and revealed Dimentio, happily levitating in the air in front of the Strawhat crew.

"Hello my good friends, it is so good to see you again." Dimentio said as everyone was surprised to see Dimentio in front of them.

"What the!? What are you doing here?" Nami asked.

"And how can you float like that!? That is so cool!!" Luffy said while sparks of joy formed in his eyes.

"Ahh yes, that was the question I expected to hear from you." Dimentio said happily.

"DONT YOU DARE CHANGE THE SUBJECT!! YOU CAME HERE TO CUT NAMI-SAN IN HALF! AM I RIGHT, YOU SHITTY MAGICIAN!?" Sanji yelled uncontrollably while flames anger covered his body.

"And THAT is what I expected to hear from you." Dimentio said. "As much I would like to cut people in half, I am afraid that I dont have the time to enjoy that sort of thing right now. The only reason why I am here is to check on one of my clients." Dimentio then looks behind his shoulder to see the beaten Giovanni. "-sigh-… And it seems you did quite a work on him."

"Client? What do you mean by that?" Franky asked. Dimentio then looks back at the Strawhats, covering his mouth with his palm.

"Oops, maybe I said a little too much. Just ignore that please." Dimentio said while slightly waving his hand.

"Are you saying that you helped Giovanni in his plans?" Robin asked. Everyone then looks at Robin in surprise.

"Wha-Wha do you mean, Robin?" Chopper asked nervously.

"It took a while, but I managed to figure out something about him." Robin said. "Yesterday, when he performed his show, he called Miss Navigator to the stage and wanted to perform something no other magician has done before. The reason why nobody did is because this person actually wanted to cut Miss Navigator in half."

"I KNEW IT!!" Sanji yelled.

"And back at the stadium, he asked if he could sit next to us back at tournament because he said that there wasnt any other seats available. This was untrue as I noticed that when we entered the stadium, there were plenty of seats just near the entrance. He could've sit there, but instead wanted to go all the way to us."

"So? Maybe he just wanted to be next the only people he knows." Franky said while scratching the back of his head.

"True… but this is the part I began to suspect him. When Bowser was fighting Luffy, I noticed that Bowser looked at Dimentio. Not a happy expression, more of a surprised and fearful expression. I asked Dimentio if he knows him, but he said that he didnt, even after he waved to him as if he did know him. Then the next day, he didnt show up. I figured at first that he must've sat somewhere else, but I didnt see him in the crowd."

"Maybe he was performing his show." Ash said.

"Most likely, yes. But I didn't see his stage where it use to be that day. He also said that people rumored about the mysterious swordsman, Yojimbo, about how powerful and greedy he is. But after the first rounds that day, I overheard that everyone said it was their first time seeing somebody like him. Then when we were riding on the helicopter, I noticed the magician was walking around the streets and there were Team Rocket members saluting him as they went by him."

Luffy's joyful expression faded away as he then look at Robin. "So… you are saying he's…"

"Yes, this magician was helping Team Rocket accomplish their goals." Robin said. Everyone was completely shocked as Dimentio laughed.

"Ah ha ha ha. My, you are very observant, like noticing a dog taking credit for getting a duck that a hunter already shot. You should be a detective." Dimentio said.

"There is one thing I don't quite understand; what is your objective?" Robin asked

"My objective, you say?" Dimentio asked. "Well I can't really say, but what I can say is that I like to help people that are in need of help. I came to Giovanni here and offered him tools for his goal. I captured Mewtwo for him; I helped him create cloning machines; I hypnotised the mayor to make him allow the tournament Giovanni was hosting; and I made sure that nobody would stand in his way by permanently getting rid of meddlesome fools."

Luffy then angrily looks at Dimentio. "You are more likely helping the bad guys to win!"

"Control your temper, my straw hat friend." Dimentio said happily. "I was just merely making someone feel happy to be alive for once. But it seems that you have destroyed all my hard work, and now this fool will be lost in the darkness forever."

"Damn you, Dimentio."

Dimentio looks behind his shoulder and sees Giovanni groggily getting up. "We had a deal! You would help me get the power I needed to conquer this world and yet I have lost!!" Giovanni yelled.

"I gave you the power for that, I didn't say nobody would stop you." Dimentio said.

"You also said that you would give me more power after this!" Giovanni said.

"No, I said that IF you were able to succeed, then I would've given you that power." Dimentio said happily.

"That isn't what you said!!" Giovanni yelled. "You said that I would become part of the rulers for the new world!!!"

"New world?" Luffy asked.

"Tsk, tsk, tsk. Now Giovanni, how am I suppose to do that if you are going to blab it out in front of others?" Dimentio asked. After he said that, Persian came out of nowhere and charged at Dimentio. Dimentio smiled as he dodged Persian, as it landed right next to his owner. "And now I bid you a good day." Dimentio formed a crystal like projectile over him and fired it at Giovanni and Persian.

"!!!" Giovanni screamed as the projectile exploded in front of him and Persian as they flew out of the 100th floor building. Luffy was now angrier then before.

"YOU MONSTER! GOMU GOMU NO PISTOL!" Luffy sends his fist at Dimentio, who quickly turns around and dodges it. He then flew higher in the air.

"Now, now, let's not be violent. We are friends afterall." Dimentio said happily.

"We are not friends!" Luffy yelled. "I thought that you were a cool magician guy that only wanted to make good people happy. But now I know that you are nothing but a fat lie!!"

"I knew that magicians were nothing but frauds. But now I know you are the worst of them all!" Nami yelled while swinging her PCT.

"I agree with Nami-san! People who uses beautiful women as objects for shows dont deserve to be acknowledged!" Sanji yelled.

"Is that the only reason why you hate him?" Usopp asked while slapping the air.

"When I saw you for the first time, you looked like a suspicious freak to me." Franky said. "But now I know you are superfreak!"

Everyone angrily looked at Dimentio, who started to feel sad. "Now this brings a tear to my eye." Dimentio said depressingly. But that went away as soon as he talked again. "But since I don't have any tears, nor sad feelings, I don't feel bad at all. Ah ha ha ha ha ha!"

Dimentio then looks at the strawhats again. "Well since I already finished what I came here for, I will now depart. Do have a nice fall. Ciao." Dimentio said before the transperent square appeared around him, sending him away before disappearing as well.

"He's gone." Chopper said. Luffy angrily looks at the ground as Usopp gulped in fear.

"Okay, I know that something is going to happen if I ask this question, but this needs to be answered." Usopp said fearfully.

"What did he mean by have a nice fall?"

The building then shook and started to fall sideways. "What is happening!?" Ash asked.

"The building is coming down! Somebody must off planted explosives and blowed them up in the first floor!!" Nami yelled.

"No! It was not explosives!" Zoro yelled.

"How the hell the you know!?" Franky yelled.

"I just know! I have a big feeling that it wasn't explosives!!" Zoro yelled.

Back at the first floor, all of the officer Jenny's were running out of the building as Brandon had a complete shock on his face.

"That man… he sliced the building in half." Brandon said. He was referring to Yojimbo, who was walking away from the Team Rocket building which he diagonally cutted in half. He then stopped and looked up, where everyone else was at. He then walked away, along with his dog. The building was now starting to fall as everyone was in complete fear.

"THERE IS NO WAY OUT OF HERE!! WE ARE GOING TO DIE!!" Usopp yelled uncontrollably.

"EEEEK! ZORO JUMP DOWN THERE SO I CAN LAND ON YOU!" Nami yelled while keeping her balance.

"WHY SHOULD I DO THAT!?!?" Zoro replied.

"NOOOO, WE ARE GOING TO FALL!!" Chopper yelled as he then jumped on Zoro's head and hung on for dear life.

"PICHU!!" Pichu cried as he did the same thing as Chopper as hung on to the other side of Zoro's head.

"WHAT AM I, A CUSHION!? GET OFF OF ME!!" Zoro yelled.

"Oi! My feet is separating from the ground!!" Franky yelled, as everyone was now starting to fall off the building. Luffy looks down and was in shock.

"Woah! We are so high up! We could die!" Luffy yelled.

"YOU THINK!?!?" everyone yelled, except for Robin. They were now falling down with the building as most of them had their eyeballs completing getting out of their heads in complete fear, as well as their teeth.

"IT'S HOPELESS!!" Usopp cried while closing his eyes in fear. Then the strangest thing happened. They were no longer falling down, but were now levitating in the air.

"What? What? What? What is this?" Nami asked, very confused at the moment. Everyone looks around and they only saw the building crashing to the ground. Usopp screamed like crazy, unaware that he was levitating. Ash and Pikachu turns around and saw Mewtwo, who was now concious, and is the one making everyone levitate in the air.

"Mewtwo." Ash said, happily. Luffy turns around and looks at Mewtwo, who looks back. Mewtwo safely lowers Ash, Pikachu, the unconscious Team Rocket trio and the Strawhats to the ground next to the destroyed building, which made Usopp shriek.

"We landed!! We are dead!! I can no longer find out why mushrooms can make people so big!" Usopp said while in a crouching position. He then opened his eyes and saw that he was not dead, nor his crew. He then sighed in relief. "Oh good, we are not dead." Usopp then looked at Mewtwo. "OH NO!! WE ARE NOW DEAD THIS TIME!!!"

Mewtwo ignores Usopp and looks at Luffy. "Your name is Luffy, correct?"

Everyone stood shocked. "He can talk!?" Everyone yelled except for Luffy, Robin, Ash, and Pikachu.

"It appears he is also telepathic." Robin said.

"Hmm? Yeah, That is my name." Luffy said while tilting his head sideways.

"I thank you for freeing me from Giovanni's mind control armor." Mewtwo said. "In helping me, I will tell you where the object you are looking for is."

"Really? Where is it?" Luffy asked.

"You currently have it." Mewtwo replied. Everyone was confused on what he meant.

"What do you mean we have it? We don't have it." Nami said.

"Now I must leave. Good luck on your journey." Mewtwo said before he teleports away.

"Wait, Mewtwo." Ash said, but Mewtwo was already gone.

"So much for his help. We don't have the heart with us." Nami said.

"Hmm… maybe he was referring to…" Franky said until something really odd started to happen. Luffy's pants started to glow out an orange color. What was even weirder that the source was coming from where Luffy's manhood is. Nami and the others were freaked out at what is happening.

"Luffy, why is your manhood glowing!?" Usopp asked.

"I don't know. This is very weird." Luffy said while looking at his pants.

"If this is your way of getting through puberty, then I am glad that I went through mine." Sanji said.

"Wait, I don't think it's his wiener." Franky said as he walks up to Luffy. "Strawhat, do you still have that poke a ball thing in your pants?"

"Oh!" Luffy said. He then put his hands inside his pants.

"Luffy! Dont touch your parts in front of us, you perv!" Nami yelled. Luffy then pulled out the orange pokeball he bought from the salesman a day ago.

"What is that?" Chopper asked. Then the pokeball opened up as an orange light came out of it. The light then formed into an orange heart, with similarities of a pokeball as well, appearing like an orange pokeball in shape of a heart. The heart slowly landed on the ground as Luffy ran to it and picked it up with his right hand.

"Okay, we got the heart now. What I don't understand is how it got inside of Luffy's pants." Zoro said.

"Yesterday, there was this salesman selling junk and Luffy bought that poke a ball thing from him." Franky explained. "The salesman said that the pokeball will never open no matter how hard you try."

"If it can't open, then how did it just now?" asks Sanji.

"I think it was when we fell with the building. I kinda pee'd myself." Luffy said with a happy expression on his face. Everyone made a grossed out look on their faces.

"Luffy, don't tell that kind of stuff to us again." Usopp said.

"Yeah, we don't need to know about your daily wastes." Nami said.

"Sorry. Hey can you hold this pokeball? The mystery heart is falling off of my arm." Luffy said while showing Nami the pokeball that was in his pants close to her face.

"GET THAT THING OUT OF MY FACE!!" Nami yelled as she punched the pokeball away so hard, that it was no longer seen.

Meanwhile…

We are now at the Sinnoh region, with the magikarp salesman happily walking through the fields. "Haaah, I wonder how are those kids back at the town are doing. They must be pretty mad about the artifact by now. Heh heh, too bad they cant do anything about since I am all the way over here."

Then the pokeball that Nami punched earlier, impacted on the salesman's head. "Ow…" Was all he said before passing out.

Back to the strawhats…

A couple of cars were heading to where the Strawhats are. The cars stopped as Brandon got out and ran to the Strawhats. "Are you kids okay!?" Brandon asked.

"Hey ossan, we are just fine." Luffy said.

"Hey man, did you happen to see the orange suit guy fall off the building?" Franky asked.

"Yes, but one of his helicopters came and saved him and his Persian just before they could hit the ground. We were about to stop them until this big guy comes out of nowhere, and cuts the building in half." Brandon said. Zoro smirked upon hearing this.

"I knew it was him." Zoro growled.

"Well we may not have captured Giovanni, but we have greatly lowered his technological and man power. We thank for your cooperation." Brandon said.

"Does that mean that our seeecret mission is a success?" Luffy asked. Brandon nodded as Luffy then started to jump in joy.

"Woohoo! We finished our seeecret mission, and we found the 3rd mystery heart!" Luffy said excitedly as he and Chopper jumped in joy.

"Come on, We'll drive you back to town." Brandon said. Everyone got inside the cars and drove away. One of the officer Jenny's were about to get the team Rocket trio, but they were no longer there.

Meanwhile…

A helicopter with a big red 'R' on it landed on a helicopter port on one of the buildings in the sinnoh region. One of the members of Team Rocket were there and welcomed Giovanni, who was groggily getting out of the helicopter. "Welcome sir, did you have a pleasant voyage?" asked a member. Giovanni didn't reply as he walked by him. "Sir, are you injured? You look like someone punched you hard."

Giovanni quickly turned around and grabbed the member by his neck. "Don't ever talk to me like that again." Giovanni said threateningly.

"Y-Yes sir." replied the member as Giovanni lets go of him. Giovanni then looks at the sky.

"Curse that, Dimentio. Let's just hope he suffers a horrible fate."

Meanwhile… In some other planet…

Dimentio and Yojimbo walked through a dark hallway and entered into a big, circular room. There was a fancy round table and a staind-glass window at the end room. There were also six people that are standing around the table and it was too dark to identify them. "So it seems that Giovanni has failed." Mystery person No. 1 said.

"It appears so. Such a sad time, like watching snake swallowing a rabbit whole." Dimentio said rather happily.

"Will you shut up!" Mystery person No. 2 yelled. "Who cares if he failed? Its not important anyway!"

"Oh, but it is." said the Mystery person No. 3. "We need more rulers for the new world. If not, then there will be chaos."

"I agree, but why do we need humans to do that? It seems rather idiotic." The Mystery person No. 4 said.

"Heh heh heh, It's always funny how a human, such as myself, can do so many 'idiotic' things just like you said???" said the Mystery person No. 5.

"I hate to admit it, but I agree with ???." said the Mystery person No. 6. "Besides, without rules, then the people would go crazy and kill eachother quickly. I rather to slowly slit their throats myself."

"Ahh, the usual killing method for you, eh, ????" Dimentio asked. "This is why I enjoy your company."

"Oh, shut up!" MPNo.2 yelled. "Listen, the only reason why I am here is so I can rule again! This does not mean I will give affections to others."

"Like we need affection from a weak-minded fool such as yourself." MPNo.3 said.

"WHAT DID YOU SAY!?" MPNo.2 asked.

"That is quite enough." MPNo.1 said. "We all have our own objectives here. We don't have to be friends. The only thing we need to wait till the time comes."

"I see. But what about those Strawhat pirates you talked about the other day. You said you saw them when they defeated Bowser, and then they defeated Ganondorf. And now they defeated Giovanni. It is only a matter of time before they come here." MPNo.5 said.

"True. I looked at their posters when they were in Hyrule. They have big bounties on their heads, making them powerful rebels. But that wont be enough to stop us." MPNo.1 then walks in front of the staind-glass window and looks through it. "So close, yet so far. It is only a matter of time before the new world is complete." Outside in the dark depths of the night, there is a black star.

Meanwhile… in another planet…

"Grr… where am I?"

We are back at the Hyrule Kingdom and Bowser was regaining consciousness. "Err… oh! Strawhat, where is he!?" Bowser yelled to no one. He was currently on the front entrance of Hyrule castle. "Now I remember, I landed on the remote. Wait, where is it!?" Bowser looks around and see's the remote on the ground. Bowser picked it up and saw that it was half broken. "Now that is just great. I don't suppose I can find the geek who made this thing here. I might as well get it working again.

As Bowser was pushing several button of the remote. Link, riding on Epona, galloped around the fields and saw Bowser. "Hmm? Is that Bowser?" Link asked. He then got off of Epona and walked towards Bowser. "Bowser, is that you?"

Bowser turned around and saw Link. "Eh? Oh, it's you. The elf boy." Bowser said.

"I am not an elf." Link said. "How did you get here?"

"I accidentally broke this thing, and now I am stuck here until I get it working again." Bowser said. "Is all because of that stupid Strawhat!"

"Strawhat? Wait, are you referring to Luffy?" Link asked. Bowser stopped what he was doing and looked at Link.

"How do you know about Strawhat?" Bowser asked curiously.

"He was here some time ago. He helped me defeat Ganondorf." Link said.

"WHAT!? That kid and his circus freaks defeated a god!?" Bowser asked. "Grr… now that just pisses me off!"

"What is your deal against Luffy anyway?" Link asked, which made Bowser even angrier.

"None of your business, you little elf!" Bowser yelled.

"For the last time, I am not an elf!!" Link yelled back. Bowser then grabs Link by his tunic collar.

"You don't talk to me like that, kid. I fried your ancestor in the previous tournaments and I can fry you as much as I did to him." Bowser said threateningly.

"Hey, you!"

Bowser turns around and saw King Bulblin, with a horde of bulblins behind him. "What do you want!?"

"If you want to pick on him, you have to get through us." King Bulblin said.

"Heh, fine then. Bring it on, nancy!" Bowser said while shoving Link away. He then noticed the bulblins fire arrows up in the air. "Pfft, oh please." Bowser jumps back and avoids the arrows that falled down. "Is this all you got?" Bowser continues to jump back, but didn't realize that there was a hole behind him. "Gwa ha ha ha ha-woah!" Bowser trips and falls down to a river. Link sighed in relief as King Bulblin and his horde of Bulblins left.

"Man, this was random." Link said. He then saw the postman running around in circles, still trying to find Luffy and Chopper that Nami requested a long time ago.

SPLASH

The current was too strong for Bowser to swim over as the current led him through Hyrule. "GUU, GAH, GEE, DOH!" Bowser cried every time that he hits a boulder in the way. The current was now getting stronger as Bowser was now heading to lake Hylia. "Huh!?" Bowser yelled as he noticed that his remote starting to flash. The remote then created a portal, and sended Bowser to another world just before he arrived at the lake.

Back to the strawhats… (The next day)

The Strawhats were now back at the port where they anchored there ship at, saying there goodbyes before go. "Well I guess I see ya then, huh?" Ash said.

"Yeah, but don't worry. We might visit again if we have the time." Luffy said.

"Good luck on being the Pirate King." Ash said.

"Good luck on being the Pokemon master." Luffy said. They then shook hands as Pikachu smiled.

"Piichuuu…" Pichu said sadly.

"Now dont give me that look. I cant take you with me. You belong here in your world." Zoro said. Pichu then gave the same look back at when they first met. "Sorry, I am not going to change my mind." Pichu then lowered his ears sadly as Zoro then sighed. He took out a green cloth from his pocket and wrapped it around Pichu's head.

"Pichu?"

"That is my gift to you. Don't lose it." Zoro said.

"Pichu!" Pichu said, happily before he licked Zoro in the face.

"Well, I must admit that you two make a fine team." Brandon said to Usopp and Chopper.

"Ahh, so you now know that we are the greatest pokemon team that ever existed." Usopp said cockingly.

"NOOO!" Brandon yelled, causing Usopp and Chopper to fall down. "I said team. I never said pokemon team. Anyway, don't ever lose that team spirit, it's what defeated me back in the tournament." Usopp and Chopper got up and smiled at eachother. They didn't notice that the team Rocket trio was spying on them behind some bushes.

"It looks like they are leaving." James said.

"Well, I guess its okay. Things are more peaceful without them." Meowth said.

"That is true." Jessie said.

The Strawhats then boarded on the ship as Robin handed Luffy the 3rd Mystery heart. "Are you ready, captain?" Robin asked. Luffy happily nodded as he then went in front of the ship and raised the heart into the air.

"MYSTERY DOOR, OPEN! The heart then let out an orange beam in front of Luffy. The beam then spreaded out in five direction as a portal was formed in between the rays. The portal then was replaced by the humongous double door with 6 empty slots shaped as hearts, while one of them was filled with red energy and the other was filled with green energy. The heart then shot another orange beam at the slot under the green heart, filling it up with orange energy, which made the door open and an image of another planet was shown inside. The Thousand Sunny was now heading inside.

"Bye! We wont forget you!" Ash said while waving to them.

"Pika, Pi!" Pikachu said while also waving. Luffy runs to the back of his ship and waves back.

"Bye guys, take care!" Luffy said as the thousand sunny entered through the door as it closed before disappearing into thin air. Pichu was happy as he then ran to town.

"Well boy, I guess you can now head for the sinnoh region." Brandon said.

"Oh yeah, I almost forgot. Let's go, Pikachu." Ash said as they started to ran to a ship that was about to leave to the Sinnoh region. Team Rocket then quickly aboarded the ship without anybody noticing as the ship started to leave.

"Heh heh, now we can go back on getting Pikachu for the boss." Jessie said.

"He'll surely promote us once we do." James said.

"Well, I guess than…"

"Team Rocket is going to try and catch Pikachu, again." The trio said at the same time.

TO BE CONTINUED…

Okay, seems like there is evil going around about some new world, and Bowser is still chasing strawhat even though his remote his broken. Well, now it is time to play our favorite game "GUESS THAT ARC!". Now this time I am going to give you guys hint, to make this game a little easier. Here is the hint: ITS NOT METROID, sorry. I will be out doing research for my next PLANNED world. See ya.

F Zero Pt 1

Maaaaan, I have school this monday. But that wont stop me from finishing this story! Now let us begin our next arc!

---

3 down, 5 to go. It has been known that their is group that are gathering evil people to help them rule what they call the new world. Not much else is known about this group, but it seems that the Strawhats have caught their attention. Now the Strawhats not only have to worry about getting home, but now have to deal with this evil group in the future. Will the Strawhats be able to get home without dealing with them?

Chapter 38: The ride of their lives!, Arrival at Port town

It has been a couple of days since the Strawhats left the pokemon world, but they didnt care about that right now. Zoro was taking a nap as usual, Sanji was making an elegant drink for Robin, who was reading a book. Luffy and Chopper were relaxing and gazing upon the streams of light that were in the skies. Nami was organizing the mystery hearts, which are in a box. Yep, everything seems to be relaxed, except for one person. Usopp was shaking in his boots, remembering what happened back at the pokemon world, where he and his crew fell off a building.

"Gee… If there are monstrous people that could cut buildings in half, I can't imagine what other kinds of people we would meet." Usopp said to himself.

"Quit whimpering." Franky said as he walked towards Usopp. "We have been facing alot of weirdoes lately and defeated them all. If we happen to encounter another weirdo, we just beat'em up and thats it."

"You say that like its so simple." Usopp said. "Everytime we go to a different world, there is always a bad guy ready to get us!"

"Yeah, but their is a good guy that helps us out." Luffy said while getting up.

"Well yeah, but still…" Usopp said until Sanji patted him on his shoulder.

"Lighten up, already." Sanji said, while holding an elegant drink. "You always freak out over nothing. It is always important to keep your calm no matter what kind of situation you are in." Sanji then looks at Robin and started to tap dance in joy. "Robin-chwan! Here is a delicious drink I made just for you!!" Sanji rushes to her side while Usopp just narrowed his eyes.

"And that was coming from him." Usopp said.

"Atleast he has a point, Longnose. Sometimes you gotta cool off." Franky said before he leaves. Usopp then looked at the streams as Nami closed the box with the mystery hearts in it.

"3 down, 5 to go." Nami said. "The sooner we get out of this predicament, the better."

"Aww, Nami, don't say that." Luffy said. "We are like the first pirates that have ever gone world traveling before."

"Really?" Chopper asked.

"Yeah. Or maybe not. There could be like space pirates or something." Luffy said while Nami just glared at him.

"Again with your imagination? There is no such thing as space pirates." Nami said.

"But if ten foot bug eye people exist, then there are surely to be space pirates." Luffy said.

"How do you know that your bug eye weirdos exist? I don't see any, and I surely know that we will never encounter them." Nami said which made Luffy kinda angry.

"They do exist! What makes you think that snails can drive cars in the first place?" Luffy asked.

"They don't! And what does that have to do with anything!?" Nami asked.

"It has to do with everything, Nami!" Luffy exclaimed. The ruckous they were making caused Zoro to wake up.

"Oi, can you keep it down?" Zoro asked. Luffy then looks at him and rushes to his side.

"Zoro, you believe that ten foot bug eye people exist, do you?" Luffy asked with big puppy eyes.

"Huh? Yeah, whatever, just let me go back to sleep." Zoro said as he closes his eyes again.

"You see, Nami? If Zoro said that ten foot bug eye people exist, then it must be true." Luffy said while pointing at Zoro, who was already asleep.

"So what if he does believe they exist? He can't even tell where north is even if he had a compass." Nami said, which made Zoro immediately wake up.

"What did you say about me!?" Zoro yelled in response.

"None of your business, so shut up and go back to sleep." responds Nami while turning away. Zoro angrily growled, but shrugged it off as he went back to sleep.

"You know what, Luffy? You can just believe what you want. The odds that we encounter your bug eye people are a billion to one." Nami said.

"Oh yeah? Well your wrong, because we will see the ten foot bug eye people." Luffy said while pointing at Nami. Nami then looked behind her shoulder and there was a little gleam out of her eyes.

"I see… would you like to make a bet on that?" Nami asked. This made Zoro immediately waking up, Chopper with his mouth wide open in fear, Usopp to trip over nothing, Franky to lift his sunglasses, Sanji to come out of the kitchen, and the most surprisingly of all, Robin to stop reading her book. "Here is how the bet will work, If we dont happen to come across with the bug eye people in any of the next five planets, you are going to go on a diet! But if we do, then I will wear nothing but bra and panties for one entire day."

This made Sanji to jump in joy as Luffy then nodded, confidently. "I will take that bet!" Luffy and Nami then shook hands as everyone, except for Robin, stood surprise.

"This is rather to much for me to handle." Zoro said in surprise.

"Haaaaaaahhhh, I am so excited to meet the ten foot bug eye people!!! Mellorine… Mellorine… Mellorine…" Sanji yelled with complete joy. Nami walks away and sits right next to Robin.

"Are you sure you know what you are doing?" Robin asked. "Since we have encountered with different kinds of species throughout this journey, there is a slight chance that we might meet these ten foot bug eye people."

"Bah… dont worry about it. I am a specialist when it comes to this sort of thing. There is no chance Luffy can win." Nami said while putting her hands behind her head and relaxed afterwards.

"Luffy, are sure you know what you are doing?" Usopp asked nervously.

"Yes, I do. We will meet the ten foot bug eye people even if we have to go to the underworld!" Luffy exclaimed with a confident looked, as Chopper and Usopp got scared when he said that. Zoro lazily got up from his resting place and walks in front of Luffy.

"Oi Luffy, putting the bug people aside for a moment, do you think that we will see that magician in the world we are going to?" Zoro asked. Luffy then got serious, so did everyone else. "Not that he seems to be after us, but there is a slight chance that we might meet him again."

"Really? Oh no, that guy is so scary." Chopper said fearfully.

"Not to mention he wanted to cut Nami-san open!" Sanji said angrily.

"I prefer to not remember him. If I see him again, I'll be the one to cut him open." Nami said grumpily.

"Don't forget that freaky swordsman guy." Franky said. "He must be working for him."

"Most likely." Robin said. "But there is something that troubles me."

"What would that be, Robin-chwan?" asks Sanji.

"Giovanni said something about being a ruler for the new world. What did he mean by the new world?" Robin asked.

"The heck we know. It must be something big." Franky said.

"It probably is a world for villains." Zoro said.

"Really!?" Chopper asked.

"If that is true, then there is no way I will step foot on that world." Usopp said while negatively shaking his head.

"Wow, if it is a villain world, then I can't imagine the world's parents." Luffy said. Everyone then looked at Luffy oddly.

"What do you mean by parents?" asks Chopper.

"Well, if it is a new world, then I suppose it was born after it's parents did sex." Luffy said while scratching his head. Everyone, except for Robin, looked at Luffy with a grossed look on their faces.

"Are you serious? How do you think planets are created, you moron?" Franky asked.

"Well isn't that true? I mean, people do sex and get babies. Animals do it too, so I suppose planets do that as well." Luffy said while thinking deeply. "Woah!? That pretty much explains why there are earthquakes! You see, the reason is when a male planet…"

"SHUT UP ALREADY!!!" everyone yelled, except for Robin.

"By the way, doesnt everyone else think that the magician has something to do with the door that got us in the mushroom kingdom?" Sanji asked. Everyone then started to think about it.

"Huh, never thought of that. Quite a miracle you were able to think about that by yourself." Zoro said.

"Heh, maybe it is just that I am quite smarter then certain swordsman." Sanji said, which made Zoro glare at him.

"Ohh, so he was the one who broke the second door thingy." Luffy said with a plain face.

"If that is so, then why did he got us into all this world going mess?" Franky asked.

"I don't know, but there is not much we can do about that right now." Zoro said. The image of the world they were heading to was now getting bigger, meaning that they are now closer.

"We are almost there!" Luffy said excitedly.

"Oh great, let's just hope it is a world with no villians or my I-cant-fight-with-another-bad-guy disease will act up again." Usopp said.

"Ah, lets get this over with." Franky said as the thousand sunny was getting closer.

"Yosh! World number 4 here we come!" Luffy yelled excitedly as the thousand went inside the image. A bright light blinded for a couple a seconds after getting inside. The light then dimmed down as the Strawhats opened their eyes and saw what was in front of them.

"Wooaaaaaaahhhhh!!!!" Luffy yelled excitedly.

"Wow." Zoro said in amazement.

"A-Amazing!" Nami said, shockingly.

"Wooooooooowwwwww!" Usopp and Chopper say at the same time.

"Heh, what a huge place." Sanji said.

"Truly fascinating." Robin said in amazement.

"I like what I'm seeing." Franky said while being very impressed. What the Strawhats were seeing was a huge city, filled with skyscrapers and pyramid-shape office buildings and is bordered by mountains. There were also chains of islands connected to the town.

"Wow! This place is so cool! It's like a place for like… a BUNCH of people!" Luffy said while looking at the town excitedly.

"I never seen so many buildings in one town before." Usopp said. He then noticed a rather huge shadow over the ocean they are on. Usopp looked up and saw something unbelievable. "Oh my god!! What is that?!"

Everyone looks up and saw a ship that was flying in the air. There was also some sort of race track that was somehow staying afloat.

"COOOOOOLLLL!!! THAT IS SO COOL!!" yells Luffy, more excitedly than ever.

"What is that thing!? And how are those ships flying!?" Nami asked bewilderingly.

"This place is like the future of mankind. I could live here." Franky said.

"They sorta look like race tracks. Look, you can see something moving on them." Zoro said while pointing at the vehicles on the race track racing eachother. One of them fell of the race track and exploded into pieces. Usopp was in complete fear after seeing that.

"Okay, now I know that we should never get on one of those." Usopp said fearfully.

"-sigh-… We look around this place later. Lets just find a place to dock first." Nami said. The Thousand Sunny started to move towards the docks, but it appeared to be full with ships.

"It looks like there is no room." Chopper said.

"Yeah, by a bunch of other ships that aren't even touching the water." Sanji said, noticing all the docked ships that were levitating above the water.

"Damn, now where are we suppose to anchor now?" Franky asked.

"Hey, you guys!"

The Strawhats looked at the person who called at them. It was a man that was sitting on his chair, fishing and was right next to an empty dock. "You guys can anchor at my dock!" the man yelled so the Strawhats could here.

"Thanks, man! Come on, guys. Lets get over there." Luffy said as the Thousand Sunny heads towards the dock next to the fisherman. The ship's paws lowered and anchored as the Strawhats walked off their ship while the fisherman got up from his chair. He has brown hair, tall and quite muscular. He appeared to be on his 30's. "Thanks for lending us your dock, ossan." Luffy said to the fisherman.

"It was no problem at all. Besides, This is the first time I have actually see a sea ship in this world." the fisherman said while looking at the Thousand Sunny.

"You have been to other worlds?" Chopper asked.

"Of course, havent you?" The fisherman asked. The Strawhats looked at eachother, wondering how to answer that. "I guess I'll take that as a yes. Pretty obvious since you came out of the first master door." This caught the Strawhats attention.

"You know about the Master Door thing? Are you one of the smash participants?" Luffy asked excitedly.

"Oh no, not me. But I have friend that does. He is one of the top veterans there." The fisherman said. "Anyway, what brings you guys here in port town?"

"We are here to look for a mystery heart." Luffy said. The fisherman then got a serious look on his face, but quickly went back into his happy expression.

"Luffy, do you have to say that to everyone?" Nami asked before facing at the fisherman, "Ignore the idiot, he always said stupid things."

"No problem, I have heard weirder stuff anyway." the Fisherman said.

"Well it was pleasure that you helped us mister…?

"Douglas; Douglas J. Falcon." The Fisherman known as Douglas said.

"Thank you, Douglas, for the help. C'mon Luffy, lets look around the place." Nami said as she and her crew were about to leave.

"Oh wait, I have something to tell you." Douglas said.

"What is it now?" Zoro asked.

"Since it appears that you youngsters are new to this world, I might as well inform you that there are many kinds of species living in this planet." Douglas said, which made Usopp shiver in fear.

"Really!? Are there ten foot BUG EYE-oof!" Nami punches Luffy at the back of his head.

"Anyway, I think the object you are looking for is in Mute City." Douglas said.

"Mute City?" Sanji asked.

"It is a city much more populated than this one." Douglas said. "It is this world's most important town. I am sure you can find the object you are looking for there."

"But if it is so big as you say it is, then how are we suppose to find it?" Usopp asked.

"The Internova police force might help you. They can search the whole town faster than a road runner." Douglas said.

"That sounds great. How do we get there?" Luffy asked.

"Do you see that bus right there?" Douglas asked as he was pointing to a levitating bus behind the Strawhats. "Just give this card to the driver and he will automatically drive you to Mute city. Don't worry about your ship, I'll take good care of it."

"You better, or I'll come back here and send you flyin'." Franky threatens while shaking his fist at Douglas. The Strawhats then proceeded to walk off the docks as Luffy looked back at Douglas.

"Thanks, Doug-ossan. You really helped us out. We'll come back later, okay?" Luffy said as he then catches up to his crew.

"You kids have a safe journey." Douglas replied. As the Strawhats headed for the bus, Douglas then looked at their ship. "Hmm… what would they want with one of Master Hand's hearts for the first door? It seems that something has happened to him. And by the looks of their flag, I say that they are pirates." Douglas said while looking at the Strawhat's pirate flag. "But, I don't feel like catching any bounties, I am on vacation anyway." Douglas then sits down on his chair and resumes fishing.

"That guy was awfully nice to help us out." Luffy said.

"Yeah, but he was kind of suspicious looking if you ask me." Usopp said.

"Who cares, lets just get in this bus or whatever it's called." Nami said. The Strawhats walked up to do bus driver, who was standing just outside the bus. Luffy gave the bus driver the card that Douglas gave him earlier.

"Oh, its from him." The bus driver said. "Alright, get on. I'll take you to Mute city."

The Strawhats entered the bus as the bus driver sat on the driver's seat and closed the door of the bus. He then started to drive the Strawhats out of Port town.

"This is quite a vehicle." Robin said. "It is pretty fast, yet very smooth at the same time.

"I am very fast and smooth at the same time too, Robin-chwan." Sanji said joyfully. A couple of minutes passed and a view of a new town could be seen. Luffy, Usopp, and Chopper stick their heads out of the windows to get a better look.

"WOAAH!! SO COOOOOOOLL!!" They say at the same time as they have arrived to the biggest city of the world-- Mute city.

Preview: This place is Huuuuumongous!!! I cant wait to look at everything in it. There are tall buildings, human animals, and did I say that there are tall buildings!? This place is great… Hey, what's with this cyclops? Next time on One Piece: A Smash Adventure; Chapter 39: The Mute city tour, A new rivalry? I am gonna be the Pirate King!

Aww… nobody won. But I'll give imaginary cookies that are in shape of Captain Falcon's helmet to the ones who reviewed, even if they didnt guess what the next arc was. Later!

F Zero Pt 2

I have 100 reviews at last! I would like to thank all who supported me and reviewed this story, I appreciate it alot. Well this is the last chapter before school starts for me, so let me end this summer with a bang. Enjoy!

A world where every kind of species live. The Strawhats have arrived in a world where technology is at its best and where every kind of species live on. The Strawhats have met a man named Douglas, who helped them by letting them anchor on his dock. Douglas helps the Strawhats in their search for the 4th mystery heart by giving them a card that will lead them to the biggest city of the world known as Mute City. What will the Strawhats encounter in this vast city?

Chapter 39: The Mute city tour, A new rivalry?

The Bus that the Strawhats were in got in the town of Mute City. There were holographic signs, different creatures, advanced vehicles, tall buildings. But mostly, there was alot of vehicles. Luffy, Usopp, and Chopper were astounded by the sights of Mute city, seeing many things that they have never seen before in their entire lives. The bus headed to the bus station, where the Strawhats got out.

"Okay, folks. Have a nice stay at Mute City." The bus driver said before he left.

"Coooool! this place is bigger than the last town." Luffy said astoundingly.

"Quite fascinating how technology is so advanced here." Robin said also impressed.

"Meh, I guess it's okay." Zoro said, not really that impressed with the view.

"We are not here for sightseeing, we are here to look for the stupid heart." Nami said. "The faster we find it, the more probable chance that we don't have to encounter with anybody that plans to kill us for no reason."

"Don't worry, Nami-san." Sanji said, happily. "If anybody dares to harm you, I will protect you even if I die."

"Yeah, whatever. Now, lets start looking for this Internova police force that Douglas guy talked about a while ago." Nami said sternly.

"Aww, cant we not do that now and look around this cool town first?" Luffy asked.

"Are you crazy? You want us to fool around and wait until something bad happens?" Nami asked. Luffy thought about that for a moment until he happily nodded. "-sigh-… You are so idiotic."

"Come on, Nami. The only thing I want to do is look around town to find the ten foot bug eye people. Or maybe you are just scared to lose our bet?" Luffy said, with a happy face.

"What!?" Nami gasped.

"Ah, don't pick on her, Luffy." Usopp said. "She is obviously just scared to go around looking at different kinds of creatures here, or maybe she is just scared to lose the bet."

"That's coming from someone like you! By the time you look at somebody here, you will go running all the way back to the ship!" yells Nami right at Usopp's face.

"Ha ha ha." Usopp laughed in a fancy way. "That may be true, but atleast I confront my fears before running away from them."

"Ohh? And what would you fears be? A girl?" Nami asked.

"Oh please, what makes you think that…" Usopp turns around and sees Nami with a very angry look on her face. "AAAHHHH!!!" screams out Usopp before hiding behind Chopper.

"As I figured. You scared of everything." Nami said bluntly.

"I am not!" yells Usopp while still hiding behind Chopper. "And even if I was, I would still have the guts to lose a bet!"

"Grr… FINE!! Let's look around the place for the stupid, ten foot bug eye people then!" Nami yelled angrily.

"Then it's settled. We will look around this town for a while and then come back here in 2 months!" Luffy said, excitedly while pointing upwards.

"Why 2 months?" Franky asked.

"It's a BIG town. And it will take forever to look at everybody here." Luffy said while doing his grin. Everyone sighed, except for Robin. They then began to walk around and they happened to see a tour bus, with a happy man as a tour guide.

"Citizens of Mute city, have you ever wanted to be on a tour, but couldn't because it is too expensive? Well, today is your lucky day, cause the greatest tour guide in the universe, which is me, will give you the greatest tour of this great city known as Mute city. Come inside my tour bus and I will show the greatest features of this town. Better hurry and get in, because this offer is only for today!" said the happy tour guide, happily as some residents were getting inside his bus.

"Woah! A free tour! Nami, lets go!" Luffy said, excitedly as he ran at the bus.

"Tsk, fine." Nami said as she catches up with Luffy.

"Wait, I want to come too!" Usopp said as he then looked at his crew. "Are you guys coming?"

"I don't want a tour. I prefer looking around the place myself." Zoro said.

"We'll be fine, Longnose-kun. You three have fun." Robin said kindly.

"Heh, if you insist." Usopp said before he catched up to Nami and Luffy. The Strawhats that didn't get on the bus then looked at eachother.

"So, what do we do?" Chopper asked.

"We might as well look around. I am kinda interested on what the ladies would look like here." Sanji said.

"You do that. I am going to look for some fellow shipwrights, and ask them how they make their ships." Franky said.

"I will go with you. We might find a sword shop around here." Zoro said.

"I thought you said that you wanted look around the place by yourself." Sanji said.

"I can change my mind, can't I?" Zoro asked.

"Heh, Marimo is just afraid of being lost again." Sanji said to Chopper as they giggled while Zoro angrily looked at them.

"I would also like to go with them. I want to find out how they can create such interesting things." Robin said.

"Guh!? Then I should come along too, so I can protect Robin-chwan." Sanji said worringly.

"We don't need all of us to go together. Why don't you stay with Chopper, and look for things that might help you mentally?" Zoro asked. Sanji looked at him angrily looked at Zoro until he cooled off and straightened his tie.

"Fine, but I will be looking for stuff that will help you instead. Come on, Chopper." Sanji said as he and Chopper walked away.

"Bah, let's go already." Zoro said as he, Robin, and Franky walked away as well.

Meanwhile…

Luffy, Nami, and Usopp were in line with other residents of Mute city as they were getting inside the tour bus. "Hello, and welcome to my glorious tour bus. You will be number 40, and you young lady will be number 41, and you will be number 42." The happy tour guide said while putting stickers on them with their numbers on it. "Now please take a seat and we will be leaving shortly."

They then sat on the right side of the bus, sitting on the same seats as the bus was slowly getting full with people. "This is so exciting. I cant wait until we go." Luffy said excitedly.

"This is a tour. What the heck is it so exciting about?" Nami asked.

"Ah Nami, we may be the only ones from our world to explore such things from other worlds. Don't you feel at least bit excited?" Usopp asked.

"I'll feel excited when we get back to our world." Nami said. The bus was now filled with people and the tour guide was now ready.

"Is everyone ready to leave? Okay, let's us begin our tour of the millennium." The tour guide said as he began to drive through the streets. "Now if you look at your right…" Everyone that was sitting on the left side of the bus, ran out of their seats and peered through the windows to the right, almost squishing everyone that was sitting on the right side of the bus. "There is a holographic sign that changes color every ten seconds." Luffy and the crowd went 'oooo' at this.

"Now if you look to your left…" Everyone, including Luffy, ran to the left side and peered through the window. "You can see a crazy lady laughing her head off." Everyone went 'aaaa' at this.

"This is the lamest tour I have ever been on." Nami muttered to herself.

Meanwhile…

Zoro, Robin, and Franky have arrived to what appeared to be a workshop, where many engineers were working on different kinds of vehicles. "Jackpot! This is the place I was looking for." Franky said as he looks around the workshop. Robin went to follow him, but noticed that Zoro was heading to another direction.

"Mr. Swordsman, we are heading this way." Robin said.

"I know, I just saw weapon store. I am going look around there, I'll come back later." Zoro said before he walks off. Robin then catched up to Franky, who was now inside the workshop, amazed at how things were constructed.

"This place is like heaven." Franky said. He then saw a man working on his vehicle. He has a straight face, dark brown hair, and wears a flashy yellow jumpsuit, accented by his blue boots and gloves. Franky then walks up to this man. "Yo, bro. Can I ask you something?"

"Hmm?" the man turns around and looks at Franky. "What is it?"

"These things that these people are making, what are they called?" Franky asked. The man then oddly looks at Franky.

"Are you kidding? Don't tell me you have never heard of F-Zero vehicles before?" The man asked in surprise.

"F-Zero vehicles?" Robin asked, who walked up to them.

"Hmm… It seems that not everybody knows about F-Zero races afterall. Well first, allow me to introduce myself. I am Dr. Stewart. I am a medical doctor, surgeon, and F-Zero racer." the man named Dr. Stewart said.

"My name is Robin and this is Franky. We are new to this town, so we don't know much about it." Robin said.

"So I see. Well then, you have come to the right person to ask." Dr. Stewart said before he started to explain about Mute city. "Centuries ago, this world has been receiving several contacts with aliens. It took quite some time for the people of this world to civilize with the aliens. Years has passed and now this world has become a source for intergalactic trade. We help our neighboring planets by food, supplies, and mostly power."

"Heh, that must be tough for all of you. That is like something workaholics would do." Franky said.

"It is. But thanks to an association of wealth merchants, there is now a F-Zero grand prix, which is the main source of excitement to our lives." Dr. Stewart then points at a floating race track outside. "You see that out there? That is a racing circuit. There are many of them across this world. It is where the racers race through countless of laps, trying to obtain 1st place."

"It doesn't even look like a race track, there is a bunch of gaps and ramps all over it." Franky said.

"How does it stay afloat?" Robin asked.

"They contain anti-gravitational guide beams on both sides of the course that keep them in place. And the reason for why it has so many gaps, is to make things more challenging for the racers."

"Quite a story, Doc. Have you ever won one of those races?" Franky asked.

"Well, sometimes. As long as 'he' doesn't race." Dr. Stewart said.

"Who is 'he'?" Robin asked.

Meanwhile…

Zoro walks into a weapon shop and sees multiple kinds of weapons. "Hmm… there doesn't seem to be anything here I would use." Zoro said. He then saw a couple of old swords on the wall. He walked up to them and unsheathed one of them. The blade was very rusty and used. He sheathed the sword and placed it back on the wall. "Bah… a futuristic place, yet nothing that interests me." Zoro continued to look around as an argument was going on at the counter.

"What kind of weapon salesman would sell rusty swords!?" yelled a man at the shop owner behind the counter. He was fat, yet muscular. He is wearing a sleeveless white shirt with a japanese symbol on it. Over the shirt is a brown vest and he has dark blue pants tied with a yellow belt. He has bandages covering his limbs and is wearing a helmet a symbol of the red sun on it. He has a katana on his left hip and lastly, he has a pair of small, round sunglasses.

"Look, I didn't say those swords are made for attacking purposes. They can be used for opening stuff or something like that." the shop owner said.

"How dare you use Katanas for something so basic!? Here I was, trying to be patient and kind to you, but seeing you selling rusty swords is a disgrace to me and my pride." said the man.

"If you don't like it, then you can just leave." The shop owner said.

"Fine, I will! I will tell everyone I happen to meet not to come here!" yelled the man before he went to leave. "Such disgrace, I have never been on such a…" the man then saw Zoro, who didn't notice that the man was looking at him. The man was particularly looking at Zoro's swords. "I can feel a great amount of power coming from those blades." the man then walks up to Zoro. "Excuse me, may I please take a look at your swords?"

Zoro turns around and sees the man, who was waiting for an answer. "Okay, but I'll knock you out if you intend to do something funny." Zoro said as he pulls one of his swords out of his waist and hand it to the man.

"Don't worry, I just want to take a look." the man said while looking at the sword's sheathe. He unsheathed it and stood astounded by the looks of the blade. "Amazing. Blades like this are very rare to find. Such a work of art." the man said. He then sheathes the sword and hands it back to Zoro. "I will give you all the credits I have for your blades."

"Sorry, it's not for sale." Zoro said while placing the sword back around his hip.

"C'mon, dont be like that! How about we trade?" asked the man.

"These swords are a part of me. I will not trade them for anything else." Zoro said.

"Ok, you make a hard bargain. How about you just give me the swords?" asked the man.

"Sure, no prob-Oi!! That is even worse than trading!" Zoro asked.

"Darn, I was so close." the man said while snapping his fingers. "You do realize who I am, right? For you not to give me your swords will cause a great sin for you."

"Sorry, I don't know who you are." Zoro said. This shocked the man, but quickly regained grinned.

"Heh heh heh! Then I guess I should tell you who I am." the man said as then the lights of the shop turned off. Then a spotlight appeared over the man, who was crouching down. "I am one of the deadliest samurai warriors.." Japanese symbols then came out of nowhere "… I am also one of the greatest bounty hunters alive… My motto is to steal, but not to kill… I am the boss of one the greatest renegade bandits that reside in the red canyon…" He then started to hop on one foot "People fear me when they see me in the streets! I am…" Then he slams his foot on the floor and moves his around for a while before stopping. "… Samurai Goroh!!!" The background behind then turned into the symbol of the rising sun.

"… Never heard of you." Zoro said.

"GABEEN!?" yelled the man--Samurai Goroh, as the cardboard background behind him fell backwards. "How dare you not know who I am!?"

"Like it makes any difference that I know you or not. I am not giving up my swords." Zoro said.

"Grr… how about a little challenge then?" Goroh asked. He then takes out a piece of paper. He then throw the paper in the air. "YAAAAHHHHH!!" Goroh screamed as he quickly unsheathes his sword and started to slash everywhere. As soon as he was done, the paper was slashed into a shape of a human body. Goroh catches the paper and laughs.

"Ha ha ha! now let me see you can do that." Goroh said as he gives Zoro a piece of paper. Zoro lets out a sigh and throw the paper in the air. He unsheathes one of his swords and simply swings it once.

"Ha ha ha ha ha! What was that?" Goroh laughed. But then, the paper quickly was cut into several tiny pieces, shaped into a human body shapes. Goroh was stunned as Zoro sheathed his sword and leaves the shop. "Grr… we will meet again, green haired swordsman." Goroh said with confidence.

"YYYYeaahhhhh, in the meantime, why don't you clean up this mess you made?" asked the shop owner as Goroh looks around, seeing alot of paper on the floor. Goroh mutters angrily as he began to clean up the shop.

Meanwhile…

Sanji and Chopper were walking through the streets, do nothing but talking to eachother. "Wow, this place is bigger than I thought. And there are alot of different creatures here too." Chopper said.

"Eh, I guess." Sanji said in bored way.

"What's the matter, Sanji? I thought you would be impressed with all of this." Chopper said.

"It's not that I am not impressed, its just that I want to see the ladies here. And so far, I have not seen one." Sanji said while looking at his surroundings.

"Why do you want to find girls?" Chopper asked.

"For many reasons, Chopper. On being on a world filled with different kinds of humanoid female species, a man such as I must investigate them and rate there beautiness." Sanji said.

"And how are you going to rate them?" Chopper asked.

"Well… it depends on what kind of humanoid. There could be octopus ladies, bunny ladies… cat ladies… fox ladies…" Sanji then started to drool and moan out loud. He quickly stopped as he noticed Chopper was looking at him funny. "What I mean to say is that when I see a beautiful lady, I will tell how much worth she is."

"Oh… hey, how about that lady?" Chopper asked while pointing to a lady.

"Chopper, I don't think you have a good eye for-HOLY FISHPASTE!!!" Sanji yelled as he sees a very beautiful cat lady. Sanji quickly goes to a flower shop and quickly comes out with a rose on his hand. He then stands on one knee in front of the cat lady, showing her his rose. "I am so sorry to disturb you, but I must say that you are the most beautiful feline that I have ever seen."

"Will you please be mine?" Sanji and another loved person said at the same time.

Sanji and the person next to him then looked at eachother. The person turned out to be a humanoid panther. He has a white scar under his right eye, and is wearing a fancy pilot suit. "Get lost, child. Let the grownups have their discussion." the humanoid panther said.

"Eh? I don't see your name on her." Sanji said, rather rudely. The humanoid then got up and looked down at Sanji.

"You be wise enough not to deal with your superiors." the humanoid panther said.

"That's true. Too bad I don't see any superiors around here." Sanji said as he got to the humanoid panther's level.

"Quite a foul language you have there. It's not surprising to hear that from the likes of you." the humanoid panther said.

"Oh? Well that doesn't mean much since it's coming from you." Sanji said.

"Grr… I don't want to waste my time talking to you. I have business to intend to." the humanoid then looks at where the cat lady was, but she was no longer there. "Look what you did, you imbecile! You scared her off!"

"Why are you blaming me? She was obviously trying to get away from you!" Sanji yelled. Chopper walks up to Sanji to see if he is okay.

"Sanji, I think we should…"

"Back off! This moron wants a piece of me!" Sanji yelled as Chopper backed away. Sanji then angrily looks back at the humanoid panther again, who angrily looked back.

Meanwhile…

"And here is where I take a bathroom break, so if you excuse me." the tour guide said as he ran out of his bus and goes into the bathroom.

"Uhhh, this is the most boring tour I have been on. How long until it's over?" Nami asked.

"I don't know, I guess there is still more on the way." Usopp said, bored out of his mind.

"This is all your fault, Luffy. It was because of you we are in here." Nami said as Luffy seemed to ignore her. "Luffy?"

"Aaaaahhhh, I am hunngrrrrrrrryyyy." Luffy whined.

"That's your fault too." Nami said while crossing her arms. Luffy then started to smell something.

"Hey, something smells good." Luffy said as he then looks through the window. He then stands up and pulls the window down.

"Luffy, what are you doing?" Nami asked.

"Meat… I must eat meat!" Luffy said as he then jumps out the window.

"Luffy!" Nami yelled as she chases Luffy out the window.

"Oi, you guys! I don't think you were suppose to leave!" Usopp yelled out the window. He then sits back down on his seat. "The tour guide seems nice, I am sure that he would understand."

The tour guide then got inside and faced his passengers. "Okay folks, we are ready to… wait a minute, there is somebody missing.

Number 40 and 41 are not here. Number 42, where is number 40 and 41?" The tour guide asked.

"Oh, well you see, they kinda left because they were a little bored, but they said they had a great time here." Usopp lied.

"They left?" asked the tour guide, in an upset way.

"Well, yeah. But I don't think it is a big deal." Usopp said.

"Wait, wait, wait, wait. Are you saying they just lifted there filthy butts and left just like that?" asked the tour guide, rather angrily.

"Uh… yeah. Are you…"

"No, just shut up for one stinking second, okay?" the tour guide said, now in a foul mood that startled Usopp. "I have been working my butt off to give a tour to these miserable people all my life. My father was the greatest tour guide that ever existed and so was my grandfather. They never lost a single passenger in their entire freakin' lives. I intended to follow there footsteps by doing the same thing, and now I hear that number 40 and 41 left because they were bored!?"

"Uh-huh… yeah, I guess." Usopp said nervously.

"Ohhhh, well freaking doodle doo to you!! You know that this is going into my personal business record that I worked so hard for the last 30 years!? That's right, I dropped out of high school so I can follow my father's steps. And I worked so damn hard and now I am going to lose all my hard work just because somebody that I will not mention, but there numbers are 40 and 41, decided to have a little freakin' trip on their own, instead of somebody like me giving them a tour for them!! This is really going to mess my life, number 42!!!" the tour guide then notices Usopp trying to get out through the window.

"NUMBER 42!?!?"

"Yipes!" Usopp screamed as he accidentally falls of the window. The tour guide then peered his head right through a closed window, making his head bleed as he looked at Usopp, who was now running away.

"WHERE DO YOU THINK YOU ARE GOING, NUMBER 42!?!? NUMBER 42!?!?!?"

Meanwhile…

Luffy runs as the scent started to smell even better. "MEAT!!!" Luffy yelled as Nami was trying to catch up with him.

"Where is this moron going?" Nami asked herself as Luffy quickly stopped, making Nami to almost crash on him. "Why are you stopping?"

"Look at that." Luffy said as he was looking at a bar. "The smell of meat is coming from there. Let's go!" Luffy yelled excitedly as he rushes to the automatic side doors. The side doors automatically opened as Luffy and Nami went inside the bar. There was a humanoid dinosaur, drinking a lot of beer, A robot, who was paying attention to himself, and several other creatures.

"Errgh, Luffy, why don't we go somewhere else. It wasn't pretty the last time we were in a bar." Nami said worryingly.

"Ahh, Nami, you worry to much." Luffy said. Luffy and Nami then sat in front of the bar counter. Behind it was a fat man with metallic arms on his back. He is wearing a yellow engineer suit and was wearing sunglasses.

"Hey there, kids. What will you have?" The man asked.

"Okay, I want every meat you have, ossan." Luffy said.

"Idiot, we don't have money to pay for it." Nami said.

"Oh don't worry about it. We are having an anniversary of this bar, so the food here is free." the man said as he places a plate of meat in front of Luffy.

"Awesome!!" Luffy yelled as he ate the whole thing in a matter of seconds. "More please."

"Wow, I have never seen such an appetite before. You eat faster than Biorex! Ha ha!" The man laughed, who was referring to the humanoid dinosaur that was drinking. "Come to think of it, I have never seen you kids around here before. Just passing by?"

"Yeah, you can say that." Nami said.

"Well great. My name is Dr. Clash. Part time Barkeeper, and part time engineer." the man known as Dr. Clash. "So what are you kids here for?"

"Do you happen to know where the Internova police force is?" Nami asked. Everyone in the bar then got quiet and looked at the Strawhats.

"Eh, you guys shouldn't be talking about that here. People here don't have a good relationship with them." Dr. Clash said.

"Shut up, old man. Let the kids get their ass kicked if they want." a humanoid wolf sitting next to Luffy said. Dr. Clash just looks at the wolf for a couple before he started to clean some cups. Luffy then looks at humanoid wolf. He has gray fur, a mechanic lens on his left eye, a dark blue pilot suit armor, shoulder pads with spikes on them and black pants and boots.

"What makes you think that I'll get my ass kicked?" Luffy asked sternly.

"Kinda obvious if you ask me. A puny boy as yourself doesn't really stand a chance against a real man." the humanoid wolf said.

"Ha ha! That's telling them." said the guy next to him. He is a humanoid chameloen, with a purple suit and gray gloves and boots.

"And what the hell makes you think that I am not a real man?" Luffy asked a little angry.

"Don't make me repeat myself, boy." The humanoid wolf replied.

"You want to take this outside!?" Luffy yelled as Nami then hit him at the back of his head.

"Why are you fighting against someone else's opinion!?" Nami yelled as she then looked at the humanoid wolf. "Sorry about him, he is a little idiotic."

"It's okay. I don't feel like talking to a nobody anyway." the humanoid wolf said. Luffy then angrily looked at the wolf.

"You insult me again and I am going to rip your skull out of your head, you stupid… cyclops!" Luffy yelled angrily. The humanoid then got angry as well and got up.

"We'll see who rips the skull out of who." the humanoid wolf said as he and Luffy were about to battle.

TO BE CONTINUED…

Preview: Damn, what is this cyclops' problem? Telling me that I am not a man! I am going to kick his ass!!! Huh? What is that in the air, a falcon? Next time on One Piece:A Smash Adventure; Chapter 40: Show me your moves, the heroic Captain Falcon. I am gonna be the Pirate King!

For those who recognized who those humanoids were, then good for you. They are from the same universe, so I put them there. Well, I got school tomorrow, so see ya later.

F Zero Pt 3

Sorry about the delay, is just that it was my first week of school and it was nothing but work for me. Not to mention that I have a copy of Metroid Prime: Corruption, which slowed me down even more. Well, lets get this chapter started. Enjoy!

Meeting new people isn't always a good thing. The Strawhats went to explore around Mute city before they could go find the internova police force for the location of the 4th Mystery heart. Luffy and Nami went into a bar and decided to be there for a while, although not everyone there was pleased. A humanoid wolf became antagonistic with Luffy after he heard Nami asking Dr. Clash where was the internova police located. Luffy insulted the wolf by calling him a cyclops, due to the mechanic lens he has on his left eye. The wolf then got angry and was now ready to brawl with Luffy. What will be the outcome of this battle?

Chapter 40: Show me your moves, The heroic Captain Falcon.

Luffy jumped off of his seat and got some distance between himself and the humanoid wolf, who awaits Luffy to strike. "Luffy, stop it! We are not here to cause any problems!" Nami yelled.

"I can't just let this cyclops say that kind of stuff to me! I'll show him when I kick his ass!" Luffy yelled, angrily while not letting the humanoid wolf out of his sight.

"Heh, talking is cheap. Why don't you just prove it to me already, boy." the humanoid wolf said. Nami nervously looked at the both of them before quickly looking back at Dr. Clash.

"You are the bartender, do something about this!" Nami said desperately.

"Don't worry, I'll handle this." Dr. Clash said as he then slams his palm on the counter, trying to get Luffy's and the humanoid wolf's attention, but to no avail. "If you two are going to fight, then do that outside! I don't want you guys messing up my bar."

"That's your way of handling things!?" Nami asked.

"I'm sorry, but I cant mess with that guy. He is one of deadliest people I know." Dr. Clash said. Nami then looked at the humanoid Wolf, who was starting to get into his battle position.

"Damn! I wish something else would happen here right now." Nami said fearfully. Then the automatic doors opened and in came a couple people that chains with them. They cleared the entry as a black, muscular man came into the bar. He is bald, has sunglasses, a sleeveless shirt and dark green pants, and also has a chain around his neck.

"Ah, it's been awhile since I last came here." said the man as Dr. Clash recognized him.

"What are you doing here, Michael!? You are not allowed in here!" Dr. Clash said seriously.

"I am not allowed to be in any place, doc. But I go to them anyway." the man known as Michael said as his men chuckled evilly. "Just give me the usual and I'll probably be on my way." Michael walks right through between Luffy and the humanoid wolf and sits at the humanoid's seat. He placed his feet on the counter and began to relax.

"Hey, you." the humanoid wolf said to Michael while not letting his eyes off of Luffy. "That is my seat."

"Was your seat. I just sat here and I intend to stay on it." Michael replied as the humanoid wolf glared at him. Michael then had a gun pointing at the right side of his face. Michael simply looks at the guy aiming at him, which turned out to be the humanoid chameleon. "Heh! What do you think you are doing?"

"I plan to blow your brains out if you don't get out of our sight." the humanoid chameleon said threateningly. Michael's gang were then aiming there weapons at the humanoid chameleon, but he didn't seem to mind.

"Eh, all of you people are boring as always." Michael said as he then noticed Nami. "You know what? You can have your seat back. I can smell your furry odor on this seat anyway." Michael got up and walked up to Nami, who seemed rather uncomfortable near him. "Hey baby, why don't you and me go out tonight. I'll buy anything you want."

"No thanks." Nami said.

"Ohh, don't be like that, baby. I only want to give you the time of your life, not to mention the ride that you would never forget." Michael said as he slid his fingers across Nami's chin, which made Nami even more uncomfortable.

"Look buddy, I already said no." Nami said angrily.

"Ooh, being a little feisty, aren't we? I like my girls that way." Michael said as he was about to put his arm around Nami, only for Nami to get up and go next to Luffy.

"You touch me like that again, and I am going to make HIM hurt you." Nami said as he hid behind the confused.

"Wha? This puny wimp hurt me? Ha ha ha ha ha!" Michael laughed as his men also laughed with him. Michael looked down at Luffy. "Someone like you would break their bones just by touching me." Michael then softly shoves Luffy back.

"Bones? I don't have bones anymore. But even if I did, I don't think that means I should touch a smelly man like you." Luffy said with a plain face. Everyone in the bar then got quieter as Michael moved his head to the right, making a snapping sound.

"Smelly, huh? Heh heh, this pipsqueak is kinda funny." Michael said, while making a grin. "But you know…" Micheal then takes Luffy's hat and places it on his head. "This hat of yours is quite nice. I'll think I'll keep it from now on."

Luffy then got serious and looks at the ground. "Give me my hat…"

"What's that? You want me to give you your hat? I don't have it anymore. The only thing that I have is this nice straw hat on my head." Michael said, mockingly.

"That hat is my treasure. Give it back…" Luffy said in an angry, yet calm voice. The humanoid wolf raised an eyebrow as Michael just laughed at him.

"Ha ha, this hat is your treasure? Man, your are as stupid as you look, kid." Michael said as he takes Luffy's hat off his head and looks at it. "What imbecile would call this stupid, used, cruddy, and not to mention, piece of garbage of a hat a treasure?"

Luffy then angrily looks at Michael, who smirked upon noticing Luffy's angry face. "Aww, is the baby angry? Tell you what, I'll let you do the first move." Michael said as he then lowered his chin in front of Luffy. "Come on, give me your best shot!"

Luffy cracked his fists as Michael awaited for him to attack while he had his eyes closed. "What are you waiting for, you piece of…"

"GOMU GOMU NO…" Luffy stretches his arm back, which shocked everybody "… PISTOL!" Luffy delivers a strong punch across Micheal's face. The humanoid wolf jumps out of the way as Michael went flying to a wall behind him.

"D-D-D-DID HIS ARM JUST STRETCHED!?" yelled one of the guys in the bar in surprise.

"What the hell is he?" asked the humanoid chameleon.

"Wow… I honestly didn't see that coming." the humanoid wolf said as Luffy picks up his hat from the ground and placed it on his head.

"Luffy, what do you think you are doing!?" Nami asked.

"Nobody touches my treasure. I had to tell him that." Luffy said while brushing the dust off his vest.

"Couldn't you do that some other time!? Now we are definitely in trouble now!" Nami yelled as Micheal's men started to swing their chains.

"Yo, freak. You are going to regret the day you messed with the leader of the Bloody chain clan." one of Michael's men said.

"Bloody chain clan?" Luffy asked.

"They are one of the most known clans in this galaxy." Dr. Clash said. "Michael is their leader, and he also owns three planets. I pretty much know now that you can take them, but you wont be able to withstand his crew of nearly 10,000 men. If I were you, I'd be running away right now."

"Don't worry, we plan to leave already. LUFFY, LET'S GO!!" Nami yelled as she tries to pull Luffy from his spot, but to no avail.

"We can't leave… until I kick that guy's as." Luffy said while pointing at the humanoid wolf.

"WE DONT HAVE TIME FOR THAT!!!! LET'S GET OUT OF HERE NOW!!" yells Nami with a very mean look on her face.

"Hya!" one of Michael's crew charged at Luffy and swung his chain at him. Luffy blocked it, however the chain wrapped around Luffy's arm. The guy then tried to pull Luffy as his partner snuck behind him, and was about to lower his chain on him.

BANG

The guy that snuck behind Luffy got knocked out by Nami with her PCT. "Oh no, whoa!" the guy that was holding the chain to pull Luffy with lost his grip and got kicked in the gut by Luffy as he was then knocked out.

"Hmm… looks like the boy has some skills afterall." The humanoid wolf said. Luffy then looked at him again, and got angry all of a sudden.

"You! Don't think that I forgot you! I am going to kick your-Ahh!!" Luffy got hit by Nami so hard, a huge bump formed on his head.

"LET'S GO NOW!!" Nami yelled as she pulls on Luffy's ear, forcing him to get out of the bar. As she pulled Luffy out, she noticed alot of people with chains. She gulped nervously as one of them started to look at her. "Okay, Luffy. Let's just go away nice and slowly…"

The automatic door behind them immediately opened as Michael groggily got out of the bar and look down at Luffy and Nami from behind. "How dare you harm my face! Crew, get rid of these two spoiled brats!" Michael commands as his crew started to walk towards them while swinging their chains.

"These guys wont stop me! GOMU GOMU NO GATLING GUN!" Luffy repeatedly punches all Micheal's crew in front of him, clearing the way.

"Luffy, wait!" Nami said as Micheal then grabbed both of her arms.

"Ladies that don't worship me will end up dead!" Michael said angrily. Nami sighs angrily as she swings her heel back right at Michael's manhood. "OOOOOOHHHHHHHHH!!!!!" Micheal lets go of Nami and collapses while holding his fruits in sheer pain. Nami then swings her PCT and joins Luffy on beating up Michael's crew.

Meanwhile…

There was now a huge crowd around Sanji and the humanoid panther, who were still arguing with eachother about several things that doesn't make any sense. "You smell so stupid, that is why you didn't go to college!!" see what I mean?

"Hmph, I smell perfectly fine. As well as my breath, that does not smell like overused cigarettes." The humanoid Panther said.

"I prefer to smell like smoke than the perfume your wearing." Sanji replied.

"How dare you!? This is cologne, It's what men in my category use to smell great. That is why you don't have any!" the humanoid panther said.

"I don't have any because I am beyond that. I can get women with or without that perfume." Sanji said.

"Oh please, you cant even attract your own mother." the humanoid panther said.

"Eh!? Don't go there!!" Sanji yelled.

"Oh, I'm sorry. It was awfully impolite of me to talk about one's mother that raised… you." the humanoid panther said while looking at Sanji's feet to his face, not impressed at all.

"I am the least of your worries, you pussy cat." Sanji said. The humanoid panther got angry upon hearing that.

"You have guts and stupidity to say that to me. Most of my kind would of killed you by now if they would've heard that." the humanoid panther said.

"Ohh? Well I hope they aren't like you, because then I would be surprised to see more pussy cats in front of me." Sanji said.

"I would cut your tongue here and now, but I'd be afraid to have your ugliness attach to me." the humanoid panther said.

"The only thing that will be ugly here is when I'm done mopping the floor with your face!" Sanji yelled. The crowd then started to cheer as Chopper was now a little worried.

"Sanji, can we please go now? I think you already proved your point." Chopper said nervously.

"Silence you! Don't interfere!" Sanji yelled as Chopper shivered in fear. "Now as I was saying, I…" Sanji then felt a great disturbance in a place not to far from where he is. "My Nami-san senses are tingling… Nami-san is in trouble!!! Chopper, let's go!!" Sanji exclaimed as he rushes to where Nami is in a fast pace.

"Wait for me, Sanji!" Chopper yelled as he transforms into his walk point and goes to catch up with Sanji.

"Hey, I am not done with you yet!" yelled the humanoid panther angrily as he could no longer can see Sanji in sight.

Meanwhile…

In the streets of Port town, We see Douglas J. Falcon walking on the sidewalk with his fishing rod on his shoulder. "Not one single bite today." Douglas said with a sigh. "Ehh, what do you expect from such a town?" Douglas continues to walk until he noticed he saw a television screen behind a window of a store. There was a reporter that was reporting something.

"I am Montoya de la rosa, reporting live from Mute City as we see a devastating battle occurring just outside a bar." the reporter said. "We can tell that Micheal Chain, the leader of the Bloody chain clan, along with his gruesome crew is attacking some citizens as we speak."

"Err, Michael. You just never learn." Douglas said.

"We identified the two citizens. One of them is a young man wearing a straw hat and the other is a young lady that appears to be yelling at the young man while they fight off Micheal's crew." the reporter said as the screen then shows Luffy and Nami fighting with Michael's crew.

"Uh!? It's the kids that came from the first Master Door! They are in trouble! I must rescue them!" Douglas yelled bravely as he then rushes into an alley and faces to wall that has plaque of a falcon on it. The falcon's eyes grew red and scanned Douglas' face. The wall then opened by itself as Douglas rushed inside, passing through a steel corridor. He then arrived at a room with a F-Zero vehicle. He ran into a double door cabinet and opened it up and took a red helmet out of it.

Meanwhile…

"Captain Falcon?" Robin asked.

"Yes, he is the No. 1 racer in all the galaxy, not to mention he is an excellent bounty hunter." Dr. Stewart said while adjusting his engine of his F-Zero vehicle.

"Bounty hunter, eh? It's best not to confront any bounty hunters here. Who knows what they could do." Franky said.

"Hmm? Why is that?" Dr. Stewart asked.

"Uh, eh, nothing. Just forget I said that, Doc." Franky said.

"We should be heading back now. The others might be waiting for us." Robin said as she started to leave.

"Fine." Franky said as he then looks at Dr. Stewart. "Thanks for the info, Doc."

"Of course. Come back anytime." Dr. Stewart said as he waves goodbye to Robin and Franky. They left the workshop and looked around for Zoro.

"No surprise that idiot is lost again." Franky said while putting his hands on his hips. "Swordsman, where are you!?"

"Why are you yelling? I'm right here." Zoro said as he was behind Franky.

"Whoa! Where did you come from?" Franky asked.

"I said I'd be back, didn't I? Why are so surprised?" Zoro asked.

"You actually came back on your own? Now that is freaky." Franky said. "Anyway, lets get going already."

BOOM

From another part of town, an explosion occurred as Zoro, Robin, and Franky saw the smoke going up in the skies. "What is going on?" Franky asked.

"There must have been an accident." Robin said.

"No wait, that didn't seem like any accident…" Zoro said while looking at the smoke in the sky. "I can also smell something nearby."

"Hmm… it smell likes meat." Robin said. They then looked at eachother with a worried look on their face.

"If there is an accident with the smell of meat nearby, then I believe Luffy has something to do with it." Zoro said.

"Oh come on, what did he do this time?" Franky asked.

"Let's get over there and find out." Robin said as she, Zoro and Franky started to head where that explosion came from.

Meanwhile…

"AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAAA HHH HHH HHH HHH HHH HHH HHH HH HHHH HH HHH HHH HH HHH HH HHH HHH!!!!"

Usopp was running away for dear life as the happy tour guide, who was now a ferocious tour guide, was chasing Usopp all across the streets with his bus still filled with passengers. Usopp looked back and saw the tour guide with huge, frustrated eyes and foam coming out of his mouth.

"Now if you look in front you, you could see me trying to run over number 42!!!" yelled the tour guide like a madman as the passengers took pictures of Usopp while he was still running away.

"LUFFY!! NAMI!! WHERE ARE YOU!?!?"

Back to Luffy and Nami…

Luffy and Nami were still fighting with Michael's crew, taking them down at a fast rate. GOMU GOMU NO MUCHI!" Luffy does a stretched horizontal kick at all of the Michael's crew that were in front of him and slammed them into a pole. Luffy's leg then went all around, trapping them into the pole. As they were trying to get free, Nami let out a couple of fire and cool balls in the air, making them form into a dark cloud.

"THUNDERBOLT TEMPO!" Nami threw a thunderball into the dark cloud as it then let out a thunderbolt that hit the tip of the pole, electrocuting Michael's crew in the process. Luffy leg unwrapped itself off the pole, as Michael's crew fell down, unconsciously. "Phew… that was the last of them. Come on, Luffy. Let's get out of here." Nami said as Luffy didn't seem to agree with her.

"It can't be over that quickly. Someone as stupid as that Michael guy must have more crewmembers." Luffy said while looking to his left and his right, repeatedly.

"Eh heh heh, you're right."

Luffy and Nami looked at the man who said that, which turned out to be Michael, who was groggily getting up after his experience from earlier. "You think that those guys were my entire crew? Oh no, that is just the 10 of them. I'll show you the rest of them!!" Michael yelled as he whistles so hard, it echoed through the whole town. After a few moments, There were a large amount of people holding chains that came out of various places and surrounded Luffy and Nami.

"Whoa! There is alot of them!" Luffy said in surprise.

"Wasn't this what you wanted, you idiot!?" Nami asked furiously.

"I am going to destroy you both!! Get them!" Michael commands as his entire crew was about to charge at them only something behind them started to make some of them fly away.

"ANTI-MANNER KICK COURSE!" It was Sanji, who was standing on his hands and kicking everyone at the same time, as the crewmembers he kicks were sent flying away. Sanji then jumps in the air and several front flips before he perfectly landed in front of Luffy and Nami.

"Sanji-kun! Your here!" Nami said happily.

"I came here as soon as I knew you were in trouble. But what made me happy just now was that YOU CARED THAT I CAME!!" Sanji yelled as he then started to tap dance in joy. Chopper also appeared as he punched one of Michael's men in the face while he rushed towards Luffy side.

"Luffy, are you ok!?" Chopper asked.

"I'm fine. You just came in time to help me beat these guys up." Luffy said as he cracks his fists.

"Damn it, Luffy. It was you who got Nami-san in trouble, wasnt it!?" Sanji yelled while getting into Luffy's face.

"You can beat him up later. Let's just get out of here first!" Nami yelled as one of Michael's men charged at her, only she sidestepped out of the way, making him crash into a car. There was another one that charged at Nami as well, only he got kicked in the gut by Sanji and then got kicked in the face, breaking his nose in the process. Sanji then kicks the guy again, sending him flying right into his comrades.

Chopper transformed into his walk point and charged at a group of Michael's crew. When he got close enough, he quickly changed into his Heavy point and shoulder barged the group right into a building. As Chopper started to back away from the group he barged into, there were three of Michael's men that was about to strike him from behind.

"TATSU MAKI!" a big tornado of cutting waves sended them flying as Chopper turned around and saw Zoro, along with Robin, and Franky.

"What did Luffy do this time?" Zoro asked.

"I don't know. I just got here and everything was already out of control." Chopper said.

"Bah, who cares about that now? These losers are just begging to get slapped like crazy." Franky said as he aims his right fist at a group of Michael's crew. "STRONG RIGHT!" Franky launches his right arm and knocks the group out. Franky then reattaches his arm as Robin noticed somebody was missing.

"Where is Long nose-kun?" Robin asked.

"HELP MEEEEEEEEEEEEEEEEEEEEEEEEEE!!!!"

They turned around to see Usopp running down a slope. "Usopp! Why are you running?" Chopper asked. His question was soon answered as he then saw a bus flying off from a ramp and was heading down towards Usopp.

"YOU ARE NOW DEAD, NUMBER 42!!" yelled the tour guide from the bus.

"AAAAAAAAAHHHHHHHHHHH!!!!" cried Usopp, Chopper, and Franky while having their eyes popping out of their heads. Zoro jumps past Usopp and slices the bus in half, making the the passengers fly away and land on a soft cushion while the tour guide landed face-first on the street.

"Ohhh, thank you, Zoro. You are my hero!" Usopp said, with great relief as he started to kiss Zoro's feet.

"Save the kissing for later. We have bigger problems to deal with right now." Zoro said as there were still many of Michael's crew to deal with.

"You may have your freaky friends to help you, but that wont be enough to take on all of us!" Michael yelled as all of his men started to swing their chains.

"Give me your best shot!!" Luffy yelled. Michael's men slowly walked towards the Strawhat crew while smirking evilly.

"Heh heh, they are going down this time." said one of Michael's men. He then heard a sound of an engine behind him. He turned around and saw a very fast F-Zero vehicle, which was blue. The man then looked very afraid as he rushed to Michael's side. "Boss! It's the Blue falcon!"

"What! If the Blue falcon is here, then that must mean…" Michael said with fear as the F-Zero vehicle went to a screeching halt.

The cockpit of the blue falcon opened as someone came flying out of it. He did several kinds of flips in the air before he perfectly landed in front of the Strawhats. He has a brash and flashy appearance, he is tall, his outfit is a combination of a flight suit and body armor. It consists of blue pants, blue form-fitting armor and a red helmet with a golden falcon on it, including a visor that shows his white eyes. He also has a shoulder pad on his right shoulder, yellow boots with figures of falcon's on them, and has a holster on his right hip.

Luffy, Usopp, and Chopper were dumbfounded, and amazed at the sight of this man as he got up and faced the bloody chain clan. "You kids stay here, I will handle the rest." said the man in a heroic fashion as he charged at the bloody chain clan. One of them horizontally swung his chain at him, but the man ducked and uppercuts his attacker across his jaw. He then stood on his hands and mule kicked at the man behind him. He flipped forward and did a roundhouse kick at another attacker. He then saw Michael, who had an angry look on his face.

"Captain Falcon! How dare you come here and interfere something that does not concern you!?" Michael asked angrily.

"When you disrupt the peace of these innocent bystanders, then it does concern me, Michael." said the heroic man-- Captain Falcon.

"Grr… I will make you regret this! Attack!" Michael commands. All of his men were scared, but went to follow orders as they charged at Captain Falcon.

"Show me your moves!" yelled out Captain Falcon as he charges at them. "FALCON KICK!" Falcon does a mid jump in the air and does a blazing kick that went right through most of the bloody chain clan, catching them on fire before they fell unconsciously to the ground. Falcon jumped in the air once more and landed on a two heads of the Michael's crew. Captain Falcon then backflipped, sending the two of them to fall face first on the street. Falcon landed his hands and spreaded his legs as he spun around, kicking everyone around him.

Captain Falcon then landed on his feet and stood saw a rather large man with a huge chain in front of him. Captain Falcon ran at him and delivered an electrifying knee to the face, which sended the big guy flying away. Captain Falcon then saw a muscular man that was about to lower his chain on him. Fortunately, Captain Falcon dodged and charged at the muscular man. "RAPTOR BOOST!" Captain Falcon delivers a blazing uppercut that send the muscular man upwards. Captain Falcon then jumped after him and grabbed him in mid air.

"FALCON DIVE!" Falcon kicks the muscular man down, sending him ablaze to the floor. Falcon then stomps on an attacker's head before he landed on perfectly on the ground as he then charged to another attacker and elbowed him, sending to crash into a wall. In shorter words, Captain Falcon was already defeating all of his opponents without receiving a single hit. Luffy, Usopp, and Chopper were petrified in amazement at watching Captain Falcon fight, as they then saw Michael with an very angry look on his face.

"Blast you, Falcon! This time, you have to deal with me!" Michael then swung his long chain in a professional style as he charged at Captain Falcon from his behind.

"Hey, look out!" Chopper yelled worryingly. Captain Falcon turns around and sees Michael charging at him, but does nothing, but wait. When Michael got closer, Captain Falcon got into his battle position and pulls his fist back.

"FALCON…" His fist then started to catch on fire "… PUNCH!" Captain Falcon punches Michael, as a blazing image of a falcon formed around his arm.

"GUU UUU UUU UUU UUO OOO OOO OOO OOO OOO OOO OOO HHH HHH HHH HHH HHH HHH HHH HHH HHH HHH!!!!!"

Michael went crashing right into a parking lot, also crashing into multiple vehicles, making them explode afterwards. The smoke cleared as Michael was now completely unconscious. There was only word that Luffy, Usopp, and Chopper could say upon witnessing that.

"COO OOO OOO OOO OOO OOO OOO OOO OOO OOO OOO OOO OLL LLL LLL LLL LLL LLL LL!!!!"

Preview: Wow! First we get into this big town and now I get to meet a superhero, only with no cape! Man, this world is so cool, I cant wait to explore some more! Next time on One Piece: A Smash Adventure; Chapter 41: Meeting with the internova police force, the reserruction of evil. I am gonna be the Pirate King!

Nothing like to end a chapter with a good ol' Falcon punch. Okay, now that I have Metroid Prime: Corruption, I'll be probably updating less frequently, but not that much I hope. See ya later!

F Zero Pt 4

Retro studios sure know how to make boss battles fun and difficult. Anyway, I forgot to mention that this takes place several months after the F-Zero GX storyline. Enjoy!

Saved by a superhero. Luffy and the humanoid wolf were about to fight eachother, until a man known as Michael, sort of intervened as he flirted with Nami and insulted Luffy by taking his hat. Luffy punched Michael, making his men attack him and Nami. They then battled against Michael's crew for a while as all of Luffy's crew came later on to assist them. Despite them getting the upper hand, there were countless more to defeat. That was no longer a problem as powerful man known as Captain Falcon assisted the Strawhat crew by defeating all of Michael's crew, including Michael. Is this man a friend or foe?

Chapter 41: Meeting with the internova police force, The resurrection of evil

The street next to Dr. Clash's bar was a mess. Not that it was filled with garbage or anything, instead it was filled with unconscious men from the Bloody chain clan. The internova police force came and arrested all of them before putting them into their vehicles. They had to put alot of chains around Michael so that he couldn't get away that easily. They placed him into a prison transportation vehicle and was drove away. While that was happening, Luffy, Usopp, and Chopper were still shocked at what just happened.

"C-C-C-Captain Falcon!?" said the three of them at the same time while looking at Captain Falcon with their sparkling eyes.

"That's right. My name is Captain Falcon. The No. 1 racer and professional bounty hunter. It is pleasure to meet you all." Captain Falcon said while having his hands on his hips.

"Wow, a superhero! I can tell he is a superhero because of his helmet and the heroic accent he has." Luffy said in amazement.

"I see, so superheroes always have helmets and heroic accents?" Chopper asked while not letting his eyes off of Captain Falcon.

"Yeah. He'd be more powerful if only he had a cape on." Luffy said.

"Capes make you powerful?" Chopper asked.

"Of course. That is why mantled baboons are very strong." Luffy said.

"Wow! I didn't know that." Chopper said in amazement.

"Nice to meet you, Mr. Falcon." Luffy said while putting his hand forward.

"Same here, lad." replies Captain Falcon as he shook Luffy's hand.

"Hey Captain Falcon, how did you knew that we were in trouble." Usopp asked.

"Let's just say that I know when these things happen. Good thing I came here just in time to save you all." Captain Falcon said. Luffy, Usopp, and Chopper continued to admire Captain Falcon, while the others seemed to have discovered something about him.

"Isn't that the fisherman?" Franky asked.

"Same height, same muscles, same voice… I'm pretty sure it is." Zoro said.

"This must be the 'friend' the Douglas guy was talking about. Somehow, I knew he was talking about himself." Nami said.

"He looks like a cheap superhero that came out of a comic book." Sanji said.

"It seems he is quite famous. No wonder he lives near the coast in the previous town." Robin said. While they continued to chat among themselves, Luffy started to ask a couple of questions to Captain Falcon.

"Why don't you have a cape? You would look more heroic." Luffy said.

"Oh boy, dont you know that 95 percent of global accidents is caused by capes?" Captain Falcon asked. "I remember Super Arrow got close to a ceiling fan. The fan was moving so fast, the cape got caught by the air and entangled around the fan, making Super Arrow go in circles before flying straight into a closed window. He was in the hospital for weeks thanks to that."

"Whoa! Capes are dangerous then." Chopper said.

"Sometimes yes." Captain Falcon said. "Besides, I am not much of a superhero. I just like to help people when they are in danger. People keep calling me a superhero for that."

"Now he is just being cocky." Sanji said while sweatdrop formed on his head.

"I am also one of the smash participants for the tournaments that Master hand always hold." Captain Falcon said. This shocked Luffy, Usopp, and Chopper completely.

"I figured he would say that." Zoro said, as he and everyone else wasnt that surprised.

"Can I have your autograph?" Chopper asked while holding his autograph book that appeared out of nowhere.

"Why, certainly." Captain Falcon replied, kindly as he took out a pen, with an emblem of a falcon on it, and wrote his signature at the bottom of Pikachu's lousy signature. "There you go. I hope you enjoy it."

"Shut up, that doesn't make me happy when you say that to me." Chopper said happily while doing his happy dance. Chopper placed his autograph book back into his backpack as Luffy started to introduce himself.

"My name is Luffy. And this is Usopp and Chopper. And them over there is the rest of my crew, but they are not important right now." Luffy said with his usual happy smile.

"WHAT!?" yelled the rest of the Strawhats in disbelief, except for Robin.

"Ahh, yes. My friend, Douglas, has told me about you guys that came through the first Master Door." Captain Falcon said while rubbing his chin. "He is great fisherman, you know."

"Oh I am sure your 'friend' can do many things." Nami said, with sarcasm.

"Anyway, he told me that you are looking for this so called mystery heart." Captain Falcon said. "I don't remember that they were called that way, but they do ring a bell."

"You know where it is?" Usopp asked.

"Not exactly." Captain Falcon said. "I do remember that Master hand placed a heart here in this world, but I just don't know precisely where though." Captain Falcon said while he lays his back on his Blue falcon.

"Figured you would say that." Nami said. "Anyway, do you know where we could find this Internova police force that your 'friend' suggested we should go to?"

"You don't need to worry about that. They are sure to be on their way here." Captain Falcon said. After he said that, there were a couple of F-Zero vehicles that parked in behind where the Strawhat crew were standing. A man came out of his vehicle first. He has dark brown hair, a blue and white jumpsuit, and headphones with a tiny speaker. He noticed Captain Falcon and walked up to him.

"Why are you here again? Cant you let the police do their job for once?" asks the man.

"Sorry, John." Captain Falcon said. "I was just passing by and I happened to encounter with Michael and his bloody chain clan causing havoc to these citizens here. So, I stopped them before they could do any further damage."

"What a likely story, Falcon. I'm watching you." the man known as John said. The cockpit of another vehicle opened and out came a woman. She has long, dark brown hair, a pinkish, bikini like suit and small shoulder pads. Sanji jumped in joy upon seeing her.

"Ohhh, what a beautiful lady!" Sanji exclaimed while tapdancing in joy as the woman walked up to Captain Falcon.

"Captain, we thank you for helping us on capturing Michael and his clan. We couldn't have done it without you." the woman said, while John scoffed at this.

"It was no problem, Jody. I was willing to take away part of my vacation time in order to help the innocent from great danger." Captain Falcon said, proudly as John got angry all of a sudden.

"What vacation? Every time there is something bad going on, you show up and stop it instead of the police. I mean, even if you are on vacation, you still do your job!" John yelled.

"Tanaka, there is no need for you to yell. If Captain Falcon wants to help us out during his vacation, then he is more than welcome to." the woman known as Jody said. John folded his arms angrily and looked the other way.

"Oh Jody, there is a favor I need from you." Captain Falcon said.

"Hmm? What is it?" Jody asked.

"These kids here need help to find an object created by Master hand." Captain Falcon said.

"Master hand? What do they need it for?" Jody asked.

"They are not from this world, nor they come from a world that advanced like this." Captain Falcon whispered to Jody. "I was wondering if you could help them find this object using your resources."

"Hmm… normally, I wouldn't bring unknown civilians to the base, but since you want to help them, then I guess it's okay." Jody said while looking at the Strawhat crew.

"Excellent, Jody." Captain Falcon said before he looked at Luffy. "It's all set. You kids can now go with them and I am sure that they will find the mystery heart in no time.'

"That's a relief. We can get the next heart without any lunatics trying to kill us for a change." Nami said as she then sighs in relief.

"You don't know that for sure." Zoro said. "There could be some lunatic planning on capturing one of us and demanding something in return right about now."

"Oi, Marimo. You just jinxed us." Sanji said angrily.

"If something bad does happen, then I'll blame you for it." Nami said while narrowing her eyes at Zoro.

"Whatever." Zoro said. Jody and John then walked up to the Strawhat crew.

"My name is Jody Summers and this here is John Tanaka. We are from the Galactic Space Federation, who also assists the Internova police force with their duties." Jody said.

"Can I just say you are the most beautiful thing that has come to my eyes!?" Sanji yelled happily.

"Hey, you! Dont flirt with Jody!" John yelled. Sanji then frowns at him.

"I dont need your permission to do the things that I want to do!" Sanji yelled angrily while glaring at John.

"Just what I needed. Another Tanaka." Jody said with sarcasm. "You guys need help on finding the heart, am I correct?"

"Yes ma'am, just tell us what to do to find the stinkin heart and we will be on our way." Nami said happily.

"She sure is happy all of a sudden." Franky said.

"Well first, we need to go back to the base. We'll give you a ride." Jody said.

"On what? Those vehicles of yours seem to be only for one person." Usopp said.

"You can ride at the transport vehicles right there." Jody said while pointing at a big vehicle that appeared out of nowhere. "We will leave when you are ready."

"Mr. Falcon, are you coming with us?" Chopper asked.

"Hmm… Well it will interfere with my vacation time, but I'll gladly assist you in your quest." Captain Falcon said. "I can give you a tour around this place if you like."

"Oh please, do not ever mention the word tour in front of me again." Usopp said while shivering in fear. The Strawhat crew then went inside the huge vehicle until there were no longer seats left and Nami and Robin were still outside.

"It seems that there are no longer any seats left." Robin said.

"Allow me to resolve that." Captain Falcon said as he takes out a remote from his pocket and pushed the red button as his blue falcon started to get a little bigger and leaner. The only difference of the Blue Falcon was that there were now two seats behind the driver's seat. "Now we can leave."

"Err, I don't know." Nami said, quite not sure she wants to go with him or with the rest of her crew. She looks back at the bus and sees Zoro and Sanji yelling at eachother for no reason, Franky dancing, Usopp yelling at Luffy about how he ate the last turkey back in the ship and Chopper, who was apparently just sitting there. "Okay, let's go with the superhero, Robin."

"Alright then." Robin said as she and Nami walked to the blue falcon and sat at the backseats while Captain Falcon dramatically jumped into his seat and closed the cockpit.

"Are you ready, ladies?" Captain Falcon asked.

"Yeah, yeah, we're ready." Nami said, not all that excited.

"Great, let's go!" Captain Falcon said, bravely as he drove with great speed to the base.

The vehicle the rest of the Strawhat crew are in followed them, also followed by Jody and John. Meanwhile the entrance of the bar opened up and out came the humanoid wolf, with a curious look on his face.

"So that boy came from a semi-primitive world? Hmm…" the Humanoid wolf said as the humanoid chameleon walked to his side.

"So what if he did? It's none of our business." the humanoid chameleon said.

"It isn't, but the boy has gotten my attention." the humanoid wolf said. "The way he could stretch his body, not to mention he is looking for something that Master hand created. Makes you wonder what that boy is up to."

"What are you planning to do?" The humanoid chameleon asked.

"Err… nothing right now. Let's go find Panther and tell him about this. We'll come up with something later on." the humanoid wolf said as they then walked off to a different direction.

After they left, a trashcan started to shake a bit as man popped his head out of it. It turned out to be Samurai Goroh who was hiding a in a stinky trashcan.

"So, the green headed warrior has teamed up with Falcon. Well it doesn't matter anyhow, I will get those swords from him even if its the last thing I do." Samurai Goroh said before hiding himself back in the trashcan.

Back at the vehicle where most of the Strawhats were in, Luffy was whining about something.

"Aww, why can they ride with Captain Falcon, and we don't?" Luffy asked.

"Don't ask me. You were the one who wanted to ride in this." Zoro said while putting his hands on the back of his head.

"But that was before I knew he could change his thingy into a bigger thingy. Why does Nami always have to good stuff?" Luffy asked.

"Because she is perfect and better than you are." Sanji replied. Luffy crossed his arms angrily as the skies started to get a little darker. Back with Captain Falcon, Nami was quite curious that is what getting darker all of a sudden.

"That's strange. The sun is not setting and we see thunderous clouds that came out of nowhere." Nami said.

"This is because we are entering the lightning area." Captain Falcon said.

"Lightning area?" Nami said.

"Due to heavy pollution, the skies around here are always black, triggering massive thunderstorms." Captain Falcon said. "However, we managed to find a method that would harness the power of these consuming clouds. We built many power stations to capture these energies. We gathered so much energy, that we sent them to other planets in need."

"So basically, this world already has perfect living conditions." Nami said.

"Not all the time. There used to be an evil lord that would like to take over Mute City and rebuild it in his own vision. But that's another story." Captain Falcon said while he did a sharp turn to the left.

"Hey, can you slow it down a bit? We are going kind of a fast." Nami said.

"This is fast? Ha ha! This speed doesn't even compare to a turtle's speed in my opinion." Captain Falcon said. "Now if you want real speed, I can show…"

"No thanks. This speed is fine." Nami said.

"Hmm? Is that the base?" Robin asked as she could see a big building in the middle of nowhere.

"Yep, this is it." Captain Falcon said as he parks his Blue Falcon in the parking lot before the bus parked as well. Jody and John parked beside them and got out of their vehicles. The Strawhat got out of theirs and walked up to Jody and John.

"Now, if you please follow me." Jody said as she leads the Strawhat crew in the base. Once they entered, they saw a huge room filled with people and humongous monitors that show either graphs or towns.

"Wow, how very fancyyyy!" Luffy said with excitement.

"This place is amazing!" Usopp said with excitement as well.

"Thank you. Now please walk over here." Jody said as she lead them to a big monitor. "Now I would like to know what this heart looks like. That way we can find it more quicker."

"We are not sure. Every world we been on, we get hearts that look completely different." Nami said.

"Hmm… then I guess we have to look for it the hard way." Jody said as she walks up to a man working on his computer. "Sir, I would like for you to make a scan all over this world. We are looking for an abnormal shaped heart. Report to me once you have located it."

"Yes, ma'am." said the man as he started to type quickly.

"It will take a while before scanning is complete. In the meantime, I'll give you passes to look around the base, except for the ones that restricted." Jody said as she hands the Strawhat crew identifications that said 'guest' on them.

"Cool!" Luffy said as Captain Falcon entered the building and walked up to the Strawhat crew.

"Well, any luck?" Captain Falcon asked.

"They said they were scanning the whole world, which is kind of weird for me." Usopp said. "They also said that we can look around the base."

"Excellent! Then would you like to follow me to a room that would bring excitement to your lives?" Captain Falcon asked.

"Yeah!" Luffy and Chopper replied excitedly.

"I don't know if I could handle it, but okay." Usopp said, not that excited.

"Splendid, now follow me." Captain Falcon said as Luffy, Usopp, and Chopper followed Captain Falcon out of the room. They walked through the hallways and entered in a white room, with nothing but a F-Zero vehicle in the middle of it. "Welcome to the simulation room, where you can test your driving skills without getting harmed."

"Cool! I want to go first!" Luffy yelled as he jumped into the vehicle. Everything started to turn on and in front of the driving wheel, there was a holographic screen. Captain Falcon walked beside the vehicle and placed the driving difficulty to level E.

"Now your boosters are here and the brakes are right here. Have a fun time." Captain Falcon said as he then pushed a red button that made the room create a simulated circuit, which startled Usopp and Chopper.

"Whoa! How did we get here?" Chopper asked.

"Relax, it is merely a hologram. None of it is real." Captain Falcon said as Luffy was ready to drive.

"Yosh, here I go!" Luffy yelled as he started to drive.

Meanwhile… In a dark room somewhere…

In another place of the F-Zero world, this is a place that no soul would dare to go and come back alive. A huge base that floated in the clouds, lies great evil. Inside one of the rooms of the base was an empty room, except for a big pod, which someone is in. It was difficult to tell who or what is inside, but that was soon to be discovered as somebody entered the room along with some minions.

"At long last, he will be awaken." A weird looking man said. He has violet skin, violet pants, red and black armor. He also appeared to have a leather tube that goes from out of his head, under his right shoulder, and into his chest. The left side of his face also appeared to be made of metal. His minions began to type something in the monitor while an other minion approached the weird looking man.

"Master Zoda, we are ready to release him." said the minion.

"Excellent." said the weird man known as Zoda. "After finally finding him in the dark depths of this galaxy and spending countless of days trying to resurrect him, the time for his awakening has finally come. Open the pod!" Zoda commands as one of the minions pulled a lever that caused steam to come out of the pod before opening completely.

The steam cleared as out came a big man, much more muscular than Captain Falcon. He is wearing a black costume that went from his feet to his head. He has pupiless eyes and has huge bull horns on his head. He has a huge dark purple cape on his back. This evil man looked at Zoda and smiled evilly.

"Welcome back, Black Shadow." Zoda said. The man known as Black Shadow then started to laugh evilly as his laughter echoed throughout the whole base.

Preview: The longer I am here, the better this place is. I think that this place doesn't have any bad things. Huh? That is a weird looking man. Next time on One Piece: A Smash Adventure; Chapter 42: Mystery heart found!, The evilness of Black Shadow. I am gonna be the Pirate King!

And so the evil part has begun. I might update Saturday, due to schoolwork. I gotta go back on playing Metroid Prime: Corruption, so see ya later!

F Zero Pt 5

School has definitely slowed me down. This slow update procedure is going to last a while. Anyway, here is the next chapter. Enjoy!

Evilness has bloomed. The Strawhat crew were rescued by the courageous Captain Falcon from the malicious hands Michael Chain and his Bloody chain clan. Jody Summers and John Tanaka, members of the galactic federation that also assists the Internova police force, came to the scene and thanked Falcon for efforts, except for John. Captain Falcon then asked if she could find the 4th mystery heart for the Strawhat crew. She agreed and took them to her base. Meanwhile, it seems that a weird looking man named Zoda has somehow revived Black Shadow from his banishment. What will Black Shadow do to interfere with the Strawhats?

Chapter 42: Mystery heart found!, The evilness of Black Shadow

Five minutes have passed since Captain Falcon led Luffy, Usopp, and Chopper into the simulation room to try out a simulated race and Luffy was still in the F-Zero vehicle, but apparently, he has already driven. Several times as a matter of fact.

"By god, son." Captain Falcon said with amazement in his voice. "It has been five minutes since you started this simulation and you have crashed at the same spot for every five seconds."

"Luffy, why don't you just turn the steering wheel to turn?" That's what they are for." Usopp said, rather annoyed with Luffy right now.

"I'm sorry, is just that this place looks so real. I can't let my eyes out of it." Luffy said while looking at the simulated circuit.

"We know. You have been saying that every time you've crashed!" Usopp yelled.

"Ohh. Well, this time I won't crash." Luffy said while starting the engine again.

"No, I want to try it this time." Chopper said while running to the vehicle's side as well as Usopp.

"Yeah Luffy, let someone else ride this thing already." Usopp said.

"Wait! I am sure I am not going to crash this time!" Luffy yelled while trying to push Chopper and Usopp back. Usopp and Chopper began to use all of their strength to pull Luffy out of the drivers seat. Captain Falcon smiled while looking at them, not advancing at all.

"They may be pirates from another world, but… they seem to have no bad attentions. I guess helping them was the right decision after all." Falcon said to himself while Usopp was stretching one of Luffy's cheeks. A voice could then be heard from the intercom.

"Attention, will Captain Falcon and the guests report to the main hall, please. The object has been located." the voice from the intercom said.

"Did you hear that, kids? The Mystery heart has been located!" Captain Falcon said while Usopp and Chopper were still stretching several parts of Luffy's body.

"Theyfe fwound ithh!?" Luffy asked while his cheeks were being stretched apart. "Ohth Boyth, leth gooff!!" Luffy jumps out of the vehicle and runs to the main hall, taking Usopp and Chopper, who were still holding on to him, with him. Captain Falcon turned off the holographic circuit and followed them to the main hall. As Luffy reached the main hall, he completely stopped, sending Usopp and Chopper flying ahead into a janitor.

CRASH

They impacted on the janitor, leaving him unconscious. "What took you so long to get here?" asks Nami, impatiently. "I have been waiting exactly ten seconds for you to arrive."

"Sorry, Nami. I was just trying to learn how to drive. I think I am pretty good at it." Luffy said.

"No, he's not." Usopp and Chopper said at the same time while groggily getting up. Captain Falcon then arrives and walks up to Jody.

"Jody, is it true you already found the heart?" Captain Falcon asked.

"Yes, we did." Jody said. "But for some reason, we couldn't scan it at the present time, we had to scan where it was an hour ago." Jody continued to explain, while Sanji and John were gazing upon her beauty.

"Hah, she is so beautiful. She brings joy to my heart." Sanji said in a relax and happy mood.

"I know. This is better than looking at a magazine with her in it." John said, feeling the same as Sanji.

"Any living thing is better than some picture. I can just look at her all day." Sanji said.

"Me too. Everything about her is perfect." John said.

"You said it. She has beautiful, long hair…"

"Beautiful face…"

"Beautiful suit…"

"It makes you want to jump in it and adore it all night." Sanji and John then sighed happily. Although, this didn't last long as they both realized what they just said. Upon realizing this, they angrily looked at eachother.

"Oi, you! How dare you think of Jody-san that way!?" Sanji yelled angrily.

"Me!? You were the one drooling all over the floor just by thinking about that!" John yelled.

"That doesn't matter! I wont let some perverted idiot like yourself say things like that!!" Sanji yelled while getting up from a bench.

"What a coincidence! I was just about to say the same thing to you!!" John yelled. They then started to fight with eachother, creating a dust screen around themselves.

"To think that another person like that idiotic cook exists." Zoro said while rolling his eyes the other way. While they were brawling, the others paid attention to the monitor.

"Now as I explained before." Jody began to explain. "We couldn't locate the mystery heart in the present time, so we had to scan an hour earlier in order to find it. We found out that it is right here." Jody pointed at the monitor that showed Mute City. The monitor then showed an area next to the bar.

"Hey, we were just there an hour ago." Franky said.

"How ironic." Robin said.

"So the mystery heart is there?" asks Luffy.

"They just said that it is, you idiot." Usopp said.

"Well then, let us not waste any more time. Let's go!" Captain Falcon said, courageously while Chopper looked at him with joy upon his courage. Sanji and John were still fighting eachother until a pair of arms appeared next to Sanji.

"YAH!" John cried while quickly crawling away from the hand. Sanji looked at the hand as it pointed to the exit, where the rest of his crew were going.

"Ohh, wait for me, Nami-san and Robin-chan!" Sanji said, joyfully as he catches up with his crew while the hand disappeared.

"Jody, we will go and get the heart. We will inform you once we obtain it." Captain Falcon said before he left.

"Good luck, Captain Falcon." Jody said while seeing Captain Falcon leave. Jody sighed happily as John whimpered in fear.

"That was freaky." John whimpered. Both of them then started to do other police things as a security camera was watching them. Little did they know, somebody else was watching them.

Meanwhile..

At a humongous dark room, There was Black Shadow sitting down at his chair while Zoda was standing right beside him as they just viewed everything that happened in the main hall. "So…" Black Shadow began to say, "This is what has been occurring during my absence. It seems that Falcon has now degraded himself into a little servant, helping every pitiful fool he sees in the streets."

"Ha ha ha ha ha! That idiot is such a goody-too shoes." Zoda commented.

"However, this mystery heart they speak of has gotten my attention." Black Shadow said as he pushed a button that caused the monitor to turn off. He then got up from his chair and began to walk around his room. "Just what could this mystery heart be any use to those fools?"

"I just happened to know what it is for, Black Shadow." Zoda said as he looked at a minimonitor next to the big monitor, depicting the Strawhats arriving into Port Town from the Master door. "Earlier today, one of our cameras spotted these pirates coming into Port Town using that strange-looking door. From what we could gather, they can travel to other worlds using that door, and if my analysis is correct, they need these 'hearts' in order to use it."

"Interesting…" Black Shadow said while stroking his chin, and smirked. "Perhaps these 'hearts' could be of use to us."

"You have a plan?" Zoda asked.

"Of course I do." Black Shadow asked. "If these objects were to power up this door, capable of transporting anyone to other worlds, imagine what I could gain from them if I were to use them for my own ideals.."

"Ahh, I see." Zoda said intrigued, "If we were to gain such a mystical power…"

"This whole world will have no choice but to bow down before me!" Black Shadow finished with a big smirk. "That mystery heart Falcon and those fools talked about earlier… If I can get my hands on that, and the rest of them, not even Falcon will be able to stop me! Mwa ha ha ha ha ha ha ha ha!"

"Ha ha ha! That's brilliant, but I have to ask; how do you suggest we start off your plan?" Zoda said as Black Shadow quickly faced the big monitor and turned it on.

"We don't have to do much. All we need to know is where the heart is located." Black Shadow said as he then hacks into another security camera that was outside the I.P.F. Base and it viewed Luffy whining again on how he cant ride with Captain Falcon again as Nami and Robin sat at the backseats of the Blue Falcon again. "And these fools will bring it to me."

"What are talking about? I don't know about those pirates, but you know that Falcon never does any malicious things even if his life was at stake." Zoda said.

"Oh I know that he doesn't, but I know 'he' does." Black Shadow said as he referring to someone that stood in the shadows of the room.

Meanwhile…

The male Strawhats were back in the bus, which was heading towards Mute city while the females are once again in Captain Falcon's Blue Falcon.

"Hey, you are going a little faster than last time. Slow it down a bit." Nami said.

"No can do, Nami-san. The faster we get to Mute City, the faster we locate the mystery heart." Captain Falcon said. "Besides, this isn't half of what the Blue Falcon could do. If you want, I could…"

"Like I said before," Nami interrupted. "I am not interested in going superfast. As long as we don't crash into anything, then this speed is just fine."

"As you wish." Captain Falcon said as they finally reached the borders of Mute City. They parked in a parking lot near the bar as well as the bus. The Strawhat crew and Captain Falcon got out of the vehicles they were in and grouped up.

"Okay, so where do we look?" Franky asked.

"The lady said that it is somewhere around here right? Then I suppose we should look around here first." Zoro said.

"But that might take a while if we all look in the same place." Usopp said.

"Then it's settled! We will split up in groups of three and search around town for the heart." Captain Falcon said.

"Yosh! Everyone, do what Captain Falcon said from now on!" Luffy said excitedly.

"Okay!" Usopp and Chopper exclaimed at the same time excitedly. The others, except for Robin, had a sweatdrop coming down from their heads.

Group 1 was the team of Luffy, Robin, and Franky. Group 2 was the team of Zoro, Nami, and Sanji. And the last group was the team of Captain Falcon, Usopp, and Chopper. They all began to go in their ways, as a trashcan nearby started to shake a bit. It was Samurai Goroh, still in the trashcan from the last chapter as he peeked outside of it and watched Zoro walking away with Nami and Sanji.

"Ah, so you have returned, green haired warrior." Samurai Goroh whispered. "Now that you have separated from Falcon, it is time that I make my move on you."

CLACK

"What!?" Samurai Goroh gasped as there was a garbage truck that appeared out of nowhere that used its giant pincers to grab the trashcan Samurai Goroh is in. "Oi, put me down!" Samurai Goroh yelled as the pincers raised the trashcan and dumped Goroh in to the pile of stinky trash at the back of truck before the hatch closed. "It smells like garbage in here! Let me out!!" The Garbage truck then drove away.

Zoro turned around suspiciously, believing that he heard someone yelling. Sanji noticed this and walks back to Zoro. "Oi Marimo, why are you just standing there?"

"Hmm… nothing. I just thought I heard something." Zoro said.

"Oi, you guys!" Nami yelled in far distance from Zoro and Sanji. "Get your filthy butts over here, or else I make you get over here!"

"Yes, Nami-swan! I am on my way!" Sanji yelled joyfully while tapdancing to Nami. Zoro sighed grumpily, and went to where Nami was. Back with group 1, Luffy, Robin, and Franky were looking through an empty street, which was surprising since Mute city is always filled with people.

"Mystery heart, are you down there?" Luffy asked while peering his head through a hole in the middle of the street that leads to the sewer.

"Mystery heart, are you down there?" Luffy's words echoing in the sewers as that was all that could be heard from the sewers.

Luffy didn't know that was just an echo, so he asked again. "Hey, is there a mystery heart down there?"

"No." replied the echo from the sewer, which freaked out Franky.

Luffy popped his head out of the hole and looked at Franky, who had a puzzled look on his face. "Mystery heart is not down there."

"Of course it wasn't! Did you think that it was going to answer you back?" asks Franky. "More importantly, how the heck did that happened?"

"How did what happened?" Luffy asked.

"Errgh… Nevermind." Franky said grumpily.

"Strange… there is nobody here." Robin said, as a piece of paper flew by the empty streets.

"Heh, now that you mentioned it, it is really quiet around here. And places that are really quiet are not good for my week." Franky said.

"Maybe this is the street where the ten foot bug eye people live. It must be sacred or something." Luffy said.

"Screw that! A town this huge could not be this quiet even if your stupid bug people exist around here." Franky said. "Every time there is to much quiet, there is always something bad going to happen."

"Ohh. How do you know that, Franky?" Luffy asked.

"Did you forget, already? It's just like in every big town. Every time you go to a dark alley at night, there will be a group of thugs trying to get you." Franky said while looking at every direction.

"But we are not in an alley. We are in the street." Robin said.

"I know. That means we are going to have a huge brawlfest here. SHOW YOURSELVES YOU COWARDS!!!" Franky yelled as his battle cry echoed through the empty streets. A couple of moments passed and nothing has happened.

"Heeey, nothing happened. You really are stupid for not knowing what is going to happen." Luffy said as Franky angrily looked at him.

"Well, if there is nothing here, we might as well move on then." Robin said. They then start to walk away as Franky mutters angrily to himself.

"I ain't stupid. I am the greatest shipwright there is, not to mention to most handsome." Franky muttered as they walked ahead into the empty streets. Although, they weren't aware of a dark group that were coming out of the alleys behind them.

Meanwhile…

"Where do you think you are going, Marimo!?" Sanji yelled. "We are suppose to look in this direction!"

"Eh!? Who made you the boss of me? If I want to look over there, then I'll look over there." Zoro said rudely.

"You idiot! There is nothing over there! Look under there!" Sanji yelled, pointing to a huge F-Zero vehicle.

"How the hell am I supposed to look under there!?" Zoro asked.

"Use your stupid strength to lift it up, moron!" Sanji yelled.

"Why should I waste my time doing that!? There is obviously nothing under there!" Zoro yelled.

"It is better than looking over there!" Sanji yelled

"That's ridiculous! Over there has many things, while under there has nothing!" Zoro yelled, pointing at the huge F-Zero vehicle.

"Don't you remember the last time we found a heart!? It was in a place that was clearly unexpected, so it should be under this piece of junk!" Sanji yelled.

"Yeah, but that doesn't mean that every heart is in place that is unexpected to be in!" Zoro yelled. "Besides, you expect that under there is where the heart is, meaning that it is not unexpected place at all!!"

"True, but atleast it is much more of an unexpected place than the one over there!" Sanji yelled, pointing over there.

"Aha! You see!? You unexpected that over there is where the dang heart is, which means that the heart is really there!" Zoro yelled.

"No it's not! It's under there, because it is more of an unexpected place than over there!" Sanji yelled.

"Shut up! It's really over there!" Zoro yelled.

"No! It's under there!" Sanji yelled.

"Over there!"

"Under there!"

"Over there!"

"Under there!"

"OVER THERE!!"

"UNDER THERE!!"

The two of them angrily glared at eachother, creating a huge aura of fire around them. Nami sighed and narrowed her eyes at them.

"'Over there', 'Under there'; when are they going to make up their minds already!?" Nami yelled. She then charged at Zoro and Sanji, and smashed their faces against eachother, causing them to hold their faces in pain. "Why don't you stooges just look around there!?"

"Yes, Nami-san!" Sanji said, happily while ignoring the pain in his face as he tap danced with joy around there.

"Bah, whatever." Zoro said as he went around there as well.

Nami slapped her forehead with grief. "Why must I be grouped with these idiots?" Nami asked as she joined Zoro and Sanji around there while a dark group were spying on them.

Meanwhile…

"Alright, troops. The mystery heart you are searching for is clearly around this area." Captain Falcon said. There was actually a huge sign that said 'Mystery heart around here' behind Captain Falcon, but he didn't seem to have notice that yet. "So use all of your special abilities to find it."

"Yes, sir." Usopp and Chopper said excitedly. Chopper then transformed into his Heavy point, which almost startled Captain Falcon.

"Amazing, you have the ability of a heroic transformer. You could become a fine warrior like myself one day, Chopper-kun." Captian Falcon said.

This caused Chopper to turn back into his normal point and start to do his happy dance. "Dummy, I am not happy that you said that to me. Nope, I am not happy at all!!" Chopper said in a very happy mood while breakdancing in joy. While that was going on, Usopp looked at the sign, curiously.

"Am I the only one who thinks that this sign is kind of suspicious? I mean, it's like someone is trying to lure us into a trap." Usopp said.

He then turns around to see Captain Falcon and Chopper were not paying attention to him. "Oh well, maybe it is just my imagination."

Usopp walks away from the sign, unaware that there was someone hiding under the huge sign. It was to dark to see who it was, but it clearly has the same shape and figure as Captain Falcon.

TO BE CONTINUED…

Preview: Finding the heart is fun, but I kind of feel we are being watched. Eh!? Where did all of these guys come from? And why are they attacking us? Next time on One Piece: A Smash Adventure; Chapter 43: Ambush!, The tricky clone. I am gonna be the Pirate King!

This didn't seem much, but this is the best I could think of while doing all that school work I had to do. All I can say about the next chapter is that there are battles. See ya!

F Zero Pt 6

Like I promised in the last chapter, this one will have battles and some other thing that I am not proud to mention. Enjoy!

Located, but not found. The Strawhat crew, along with Captain Falcon, have found out that the 4th Mystery heart was located in Mute City about an hour ago. They went back there and started to look for it. Even though they have split up into groups, they haven't found it yet. But at the same time, they were unaware that somebody or something were spying on them, not to mention hundreds of others like him as well. What are their intentions?

Chapter 43: Ambush!, The tricky clone

Captain Falcon, Usopp, and Chopper were still looking for the mystery heart. It has been like 30 minutes since the search has began. Usopp was looking around the mysterious sign, still feeling suspicious about it. He walked behind it and saw that nothing was there. He shrugged and continued to search somewhere else. Chopper, who was in his heavy point, just happened to confront numerous of statues that were displayed outside a store.

"Maybe the heart is in one of those statues." Chopper said to himself as he walked to one of them. It was one of those statues that you can remove it's head, and place it back the way it was. Chopper got behind one of those statues and remove it's head to look inside. "Nope, not in here." Chopper places the head back where it was and looks into another one. "Nope, not in here either." He then got behind at what he thought was a statue, but was actually Captain Falcon, who was just standing there.

Chopper removed his helmet, only to see that he has another helmet on. Chopper removed that helmet and saw another helmet on him. Chopper got frustrated and started to remove numerous and numerous of helmets at a quick pace, making some of them fly away into another area, but no matter how many helmets he removes, Captain Falcon still has his helmet on. Captain Falcon then looked back, which startled Chopper.

"When I say secret identity, I MEAN secret identity." Falcon said while tapping his helmet. Chopper laughed weakily before looking at his surroundings.

"Hey, is this town always this quiet?" Chopper asked. Just like in Luffy's area, there was not a single person, nor living creature in the streets.

"Hmm… In a big town such as this, I highly doubt that. Something is afoot." Captain Falcon said while putting his hand around his chin.

"A foot. I think this place is a lot bigger than that." Chopper said.

"I didn't mean it like that. I mean that there is something wrong here." Captain Falcon said.

"Ohh." Chopper said.

Usopp walked up to them as he sighs, tiredly. "Ughh, I can't find anything here. Are you sure that lady was right about the heart being here?"

"She did say that it was here an hour ago. Unless…" Captain Falcon said.

"Unless what?" Chopper asked.

"Somebody must have hacked into the security cameras of the Internova Police Force and saw everything about your crewmates objective." Captain Falcon said, imagining the Strawhat crew and himself in chibi forms, being watched by an evil chibi person. "So, that person must have set up an ambush here and intends to get rid of every single aspect of you and your crewmates lives just for the heck of it!" He then imagined the Strawhat chibis getting beaten up by a huge group of chibi people with their sticks.

"Wh-Why say that!?" Usopp asked, baffled just thinking about that.

"I apologize for thinking such cruel things. But nonetheless, There is still something wrong here." Captian Falcon said. All of sudden, his communicator started to ring. He then answered it and saw Jody on the little monitor.

"Captain, we have a problem." Jody said through the communicator.

"Yes, Jody. What is it?" Captain Falcon asked while Usopp and Chopper looked at the monitor over Captain Falcon's shoulders.

"It appears that all vacancy in the area you are in is completey empty. All of the citizens seemed to have been evacuated for some reason."

"That explains this." Captain Falcon said, while looking at the empty streets.

"That's not all. Take a look at this footage." The monitor then showed an area in Mute City, were there are several people walking by. The monitor then shows Zoda, tiptoeing through the crowd, who looked at him oddly.

"Oh, I am going to plan something evil." Zoda said, with bad voice acting. "I do hope nobody in particular stops me from doing this evil plan I am about to do that it is so evil, that everybody will cry in despair."

"Zoda…" Captain Falcon muttered to himself as the monitor showed Jody again.

"I would like for you to delay your search and find out what Zoda is up to. Over and out." Jody said before the communicator turned off.

Captain Falcon put away his communicator and looked at Usopp and Chopper, who had confused looks.

"Who was that? And why is he such a bad actor?" Usopp asked.

"That was Zoda. One of the sinister criminals in Mute City." Captain Falcon said. "He is one crazed maniac. That fiend likes to grow flowers."

"Flowers? That doesn't seem scary." Chopper said.

"Flowers… THAT KILL PEOPLE!!!" Captain Falcon said with a scary voice.

"WAAAAAAAAAAAAAAHHHHHHHH!!!!" Chopper screamed in fear as he jumps on to Usopp. Since he was still on his heavy point, he accidentally crushed Usopp. Chopper went into his normal point before Usopp groggily got up.

"Wh-Why did you have to say that with that kind of voice?" Usopp asked while holding his back in pain.

"I apologize once again. I was merely caught up in the mood." Captain Falcon said while Usopp sweatdropped. "Anyway, the fact that Zoda is here means that my theory was correct."

"Wait, wait, wait." Usopp interrupted while almost stumbling in fear. "Just because that some lunatic is tiptoeing around the streets, doesn't mean that we are going to get ambushed."

By the time he said that, battle cries could be heard around them. Then evil minions started come out of various places. One came out of a window, the sewers, a toilet, and a buffet, one of them having a hot dog in his mouth. They then grouped with eachother, completely surrounding Captain Falcon and the scared duo of Usopp and Chopper.

"Now do you believe I am right?" Captain Falcon asked while in his battle stance.

"Uh-huh…" Usopp replied in fear.

Meanwhile…

In another empty streets of Mute City, walks a man. He has the same helmet as Captain Falcon's, only something was very different about this man. "What are you doing, you moron!?" Franky asked while slapping the back of the man's head. It turned out to be none other than Luffy, who was wearing Captain Falcon's helmet that was tossed away a while ago.

"I was just trying to break this window so I can look inside." Luffy said while rubbing his head.

"Dont mess with stuff that arent yours. And where the hell did you get that thing?" Franky asked, referring to the helmet on Luffy's helmet.

"Oh, this thing fell on my head a while ago, and I realized it's the same one Captain Falcon was wearing, so I put it on to make me a superhero." Luffy said, posing like a superhero would naturally do.

"Where is your Strawhat?" Franky asked.

"Oh, it's in my helmet." Luffy said plainly.

"How did it fi… bah, nevermind." Franky said. "Let's go back to the others. There is nothing here."

"Wait…" Robin said, shifting her eyes left and right.

"Eh? What is it?" Franky asked.

Robin was then alarmed by something. "Quickly, move out of the way!"

Minions then came out of various places and surrounded the trio. This completely shocked Luffy. "DAAAHH! Evil henchmen!! I know that they are evil henchmen because they look evil!!!"

"What do these guys want!?" Franky asked. No sooner after he said that, the minions began to attack.

Meanwhile…

Back with the trio of Zoro, Nami, and Sanji, they were looking around the area that Nami suggested in the last chapter, only to find nothing. "There is nothing around here. We should have looked over there." Zoro said.

"Yeah right, it was obviously under there." Sanji said.

"Will you two shut up about the over there and the under there thing!?" Nami asked. "It was pretty stupid, not to mention that it was really random, even for me."

"Sorry." Zoro and Sanji both said simultaneously.

Nami sighs and looks away. "It is clear to me that the heart is not here. And to think that I was so ready to leave."

"Don't worry, Nami-san. We'll find it sooner or later." Sanji said while putting his arm around Nami's shoulder. Sanji then felt as he was in heaven due to doing that.

"What makes you so sure? It may take longer than you think." Zoro said.

"You jinxed us again, Marimo!" Sanji yelled. Nami sighs again as she then noticed an odd number of shadows.

"Guys, we are the only ones here, right?" Nami asked nervously.

"Hmm? Yes, Nami-san. Why?" Sanji asked.

Zoro then felt a presence that came from above. "Look out!"

Everyone looked up and saw a couple of minions that were about to land on Nami. Nami held her head low as Sanji and Zoro quickly got rid of them by a horizontal kick and slash. Zoro, Nami, and Sanji then got back to back as they could see that they were surrounded by evil minions.

"Wh-Who are these guys?" Nami asked nervously.

"I don't know, but they are asking for a beating." Sanji said.

"Heh, finally. Something interesting happens." Zoro said with a smirk as he and Sanji began to charge at the minions, while Nami just hid behind a trashcan.

Meanwhile…

Captain Falcon was still in his battle stance, while Usopp and Chopper were hiding, Chopper's way of hiding of course. The minions laughed cruelly as they slowly walked to them. "Th-Th-Th-Th-They are getting closer." Chopper whimpered.

"Captain Falcon, do something!" Usopp cried.

"Do not worry, kids. I will stop these fiends." Captain Falcon said bravely. "You go hi-"

"You don't have to say it! We are already on schedule!" Usopp yelled from afar, hiding behind the big sign, along with Chopper.

"Wow, there hiding abilities are incredible." Captain Falcon said. He then looks back at the minions. "It is time that you, the sins of world peace, to meet your maker. Show me your moves!" Captain Falcon charges at the minions.

One of the minions swung his wooden bat at Falcon, who breaked it with his fist before grabbing the minion by his shoulder and throw him into some statues. Another minion started to swing several fists at Falcon, who dodges all of them and counters with an uppercut that sent the guy flying upward.

A minion then tried to attack Captain Falcon from behind, but he quickly noticed this and stood on his hands, delivering a strong mule kick to his attacker's gut, knocking him out instantly. Captain Falcon then did a front flip, avoiding a minion's axe that hit the floor. Captain Falcon then kicked the axe out of the minion's hand and then did a thrust kick right at the minion's face. The minion that was sent flying upwards earlier finally started to fall down. Captain Falcon looked at him and did a roundhouse kick to his back just before he could crash to the ground. Captain Falcon then jumped and placed his feet around a minion's head. Captain Falcon then did a front flip in midair, letting go of the minion, sending him flying into his comrades.

Another minion then came running at Captain Falcon with his spear. Before he could do anything though, Captain Falcon did an overhead roundhouse kick down at the spear, completely destroying it. The tip of the spear spiraled in the air as Captain Falcon catched it with one hand and threw it to one of the minion's capes, trapping him to a wall. The minion with the broken spear attempted to attack again, only this time, Falcon shoulder barged him, sending the minion ablaze into a wall. Captain Falcon then took a moment to breath, until he then saw 3 minions with whips. "Hmm, quite confident are we?" Captain Falcon then jumped in the air, avoiding a whip snap from a minion.

While Captain Falcon was still in midair, one of the other minion snapped his whip around Captain Falcon's leg. "Drat!" The minion then pulled his whip, causing Falcon to land hard on the ground. While that minion was still holding him, his companions started to snap their whips repeatedly on Falcon, who shielded his face with his arms. At the right moment, Captain Falcon faced himself to the floor and did a quick front roll, sending the minion holding him to fly in front of him and land hard on the ground. Falcon loosened the whip around his ankle, as the minions behind him snapped their whips around his forearms. They then started to pull Falcon towards themselves, while Falcon was using his incredible strength to pull back.

Captain Falcon then got up and lets out a battle cry as he overpowered the minion's strength by turning around and giving a strong pull on their whips, sending them flying towards him. "FALCON…" Falcon jumps in midair towards the minions "… DOUBLE DIVE!" Captain Falcon grabs both of them, before kicking them down, sending then ablaze before they hit the ground. Captain Falcon perfectly landed on the ground and ran to another group of minions. Falcon swung his fist across one of the minion's face and then did a backhanded fist to another minion beside him. He then stood on his hands and span with his legs extended, kicking every minion around him, sending all of them flying back several feet.

More minion started to show up, and one of them had a bazooka. The minion fired his bazooka at Falcon, who for some reason, was waiting for it to get closer. As soon as it got close enough, Falcon ducked and did a soft, yet powerful kick at the rocket, sending it to go off course. The rocket flew up before it went down at a group of minions.

KABOOM

The explosion sent the group of minions flying into several directions, crashing into various places. Captain Falcon then faced off with a rather huge minion. The huge minion raised his huge hands, before slamming them down at Falcon. The huge minion grinned cruelly upon this, but that didn't last long as Captain Falcon was pushing back. Falcon's then started to get hot, making the huge minion to stop pushing down on him.

The huge minion blew at his hot hands, until he then saw Falcon midjumped in the air with his hot clenched fists and lowered them down at his head, taking him down afterwards. Captain Falcon landed on the ground in front of him and then caught him before he could fall down. Captain Falcon then saw a vehicle with more minions inside. Captain Falcon then threw the huge minion at the vehicle, crushing the vehicle along with the minions inside. Some of them managed to budge out of the crushed vehicle, but one of them couldn't do anything else as Captain Falcon gave one of them a devastating knee to the face, sending the poor minion to fly away in far distance.

A gorilla arm minion then intended to flatten Falcon with his massive gorilla arms. Falcon backflipped, making the minion to slam the street, causing the ground to shake a bit. Captain Falcon then jumped above the gorilla arm minion and thrusted his feet down at the back of his head, smashing his face to the ground as well. By the time he finished him off, minions riding motorcycles started to drive around Captain Falcon. They all had different kinds of weapons, one of them fired their machine gun at Falcon, who did several flips in order to dodge, which made the minion shoot his own comrades instead.

Another of the motorcycle minions started to swing their chain around. The minion then swung his chain as Captain Falcon, who caught it and extended it, knocking one of the minions out of him motorcycle when they went by it. He then pulled the chain, causing the minion holding it fall off his motorcycle. Another minion riding on a motorcycle then drove at Falcon, firing streams of fire out of his flamethrower. Captain Falcon swung the chain he obtained in a professional way before swinging it right through the stream of fire and into the minion's face. The minion cried in agony as he accidentally burned most of his comrades before falling off his motorcycle.

Captain Falcon then dropped the chain and saw a man with a jetpack that was flying around Falcon while firing his machine gun at him. Captain Falcon avoided the bullets and ran to a wall. He jumped to it and then jumped off of it and grabbed onto a horizontal pole from the wall. Falcon spun several times before letting go of the pipe and was now above the minion with the jetpack. "FALCON KICK!" Captain Falcon kicked the minion with his ablazed foot, sending the minion to crash into the ground. Falcon then landed perfectly and then saw more minions charging at him.

"Hmm, this will take more time than expected." Captain Falcon said before he charged at the minions, unaware that there was someone who was snickering in the shadows as he watched him fight.

Meanwhile…

"GOMU GOMU NO STAMP!" Luffy thrusts his stretched foot right into a minion's gut, sending him flying to his comrades. He then pulled his foot back back to the way it was and delivered a strong fist across another minion's face. Luffy then jumped in the air and did a horizontal roundhouse kick down at another minion's head, knocking him out instantly. Luffy landed on the ground and faced towards a huge group of minions. "GOMU GOMU NO GATLING GUN!" Luffy repeatedly punches every single minion in front of him, sending most of them through a wall. The ones that didn't went through the wall, got out their bazooka and fired a shell at Luffy.

"STRONG RIGHT!" Franky launches his right arm through the shells, making them explode before he punched a minion out cold. Franky retrieved his fist and opened his left wrist. "WEAPONS LEFT!" Franky fires a missile at a group of minions, creating an explosion upon impacting them. Franky then saw several minions that started to fire their machine guns at him. "MASTER NAIL!" Franky spits out numerous of pointy nails that cancelled the bullets. After the minions have ran out of ammunition, Franky took this opportunity to charge at them and give them a nasty left punch to most of them. Franky then delivered a right fist to another minion and an uppercut to the last one in front of him.

Robin crossed her limbs while a group of minions were charging at her. "CINCUENTA FLEUR, FLIP!" hands appeared out of the ground beneath every minion and grabbed their feet, causing them to trip and fall face first to the ground. Then out of nowhere, A minion with daggers jumped to Robin from behind. "CLUTCH!" hands appeared around the minions body and snapped his spine when he was still in midair. The minion fell limplessly, while Robin looked at the group she tripped earlier that were starting to get back up. "VEINTICINCO FLEUR, PULL!" hands appeared out of the group's forehead. The hands inserted their fingers inside their nose and started to pull their nose hairs, causing tremendous pain.

Luffy was fighting even more minions, but that didn't seem to bother him as he was finishing off one of them. He then turned around to see this really fat minion, who laughed cruelly at Luffy.

"I am going to turn you into tiny sprinkles." the fat minion said before he tried to grab Luffy by the shoulders.

However, Luffy jumped before he could that as Luffy stretched his foot back. "GOMU GOMU NO MUCHI!" Luffy does a stretched horizontal kick at the fat minion's head, spiraling him into one of his comrades' vehicles. Luffy pulled his foot back and stretched his arms into a pole on the wall. He then inflated himself and started to swing at a big minion. "GOMU GOMU NO WRECKING BALL!" Luffy impacted with the big minion, sending him, along with himself, to a steel wall. Luffy flattened the big minion as deflated himself and continued to attack more minions.

Franky jumped upwards, taking a deep breath. "FRESH FIRE!" Franky breaths out a stream of fire to a group of minions, burning them to ashes. One of them came out with a fireproofed, battle armor around his body and fired a missile from his shoulders. "HOSHI SHIELD!" Franky's left arm turned into a shield and blocked the missile, although the impact did sent Franky to fly back a couple of feet. Franky then noticed a rail behind the armored minion as he then aimed with his right arm. "STRONG RIGHT!" Franky launches right arm to the rail and grabs hold of it. Franky quickly reels himself in and tackles the armored minion, destroying his armor as well.

Robin's arms were still pulling out nose hairs from her group of minions, who were in complete agony right now. Robin looked behind her shoulder to see a skinny minion with two swords. The minion unsheathed his swords and started to swing them like a maniac while walking slowly to Robin, who positioned herself in front of him. The maniac then swung his sword at Robin, who dodged by simply sidestepping away. The minion then did a horizontal, which made Robin to duck to avoid again. He then ended his combo by swinging both of his swords down at her, but she rolled behind him and began to cross her limbs again. "CUATRO FLEUR, SPLIT!" arms grew out of the floor and forced the minion's legs to extend, causing him to fall on his nuts.

The minion cried in sheer pain before he fainted. Apparently, that was the last one they had to deal with. Luffy, Robin, and Franky then regrouped. "That takes care of them." Luffy said.

"But why did they attack us in the first place?" Franky asked.

"Hmm… we must head back to the others. They might be in danger as well." Robin said. They nodded and then started to run away while the minions that had their nose hairs pulled finally started to calm down.

Meanwhile…

Sanji was kicking every minion there was in his sight. He was clearly in a bad mood as he literally kicked a minion's face right through a wall. Sanji did several front flips and jumped in the air. Before he landed, he did an 180 degree turn and kicked a minion in the face. He then landed on his hands and thrusted both of his feet to another minion's jaw, causing some teeth to fall out. He then flipped back on his feet and did a horizontal kick across a minions head and then flipped forward to another minion before thrusting his foot to the minion's gut, sending him flying to a pile of garbage. Sanji then stood their until he kicked a minion behind him with his heel.

Zoro already had his swords out and was either cutting or causing minions to fly off into something. Zoro turned his head, leaving a cross slash across a big minion's body with his sword on his mouth. Zoro then jumps to a minion that was in midair, and slashed right through him, causing the minion to fall limblessly to the ground. A fat minion with a huge battle axe then appeared behind Zoro and was about to lower it on his head, but Zoro puts his blades behind his head, blocking the attack. Zoro pushes the axe back and does a backroll underneath the minion's legs. Zoro then quickly got up and slashed across the minion's back, knocking him out.

"Go Zoro! Go Sanji! Beat them up!" Nami yelled as she was still hiding behind a trashcan. She was unaware that a minion was tiptoeing behind her. The minion touched Nami's shoulder, causing Nami to flinch.

POW!!

"Don't you dare touch me again!!" Nami yelled, instantly knocking out that minion with just a single punch. She then got afraid as she noticed several other minion charging at her. Nami quickly kicked the trashcan, knocking down the minions. Before they could get up, they got hit at the back of their heads by Nami's PCT, knocking them unconscious. Nami felt proud of herself as the same minion that she punched earlier started to get up, groggily. Nami didn't notice, but she placed her PCT on her shoulder that accidentally hit the minion's head, knocking him out for good.

Sanji and Zoro got rid of the last of them, or so they thought. What stood in front of them now were two odd looking minions. One of them has a skinny body, while his legs were really bulky. The other one actually has four arms and was holding four arabian swords. Zoro and Sanji were not intimated as those minion started to charge at them. Zoro ended up fighting with the bulky leg minion while Sanji ended up fighting with the four arm minion. Nami simply just watched and hid in a safe spot in the meantime.

Zoro slashed at bulky legs, who stopped Zoro's attack with his foot. Bulky legs then shoved Zoro backwards and did a quick running kick to Zoro, who blocked, but staggered a few feet back. Bulky legs then ran at Zoro with incredible speed and thrusted his foot at him again, only Zoro jumped in the air to dodge it and attempted to slash bulky legs across the chest, but bulky legs quickly raised his other foot, leaving a cut on that instead. Zoro landed on his feet, while bulky legs simply ran to the wall and jumped off of it, heading straight to Zoro again. "TATSU MAKI!" Zoro did a 360 spin with his swords, creating a tornado of cutting waves, sending the bulky legs flying upwards.

Sanji was dodging every slash four arms intended to do on him, but it was getting difficult to avoid as he was getting lead into a wall. As Sanji was close to the wall, four arms thrusted his swords at Sanji, who jumped just in time as four arms impaled the wall instead. Sanji then landed on the broad side of four arms's swords as four arms pulled one of them out and thrusted at Sanji, who jumped and landed on the broad side of that sword. Four arms then started to repeat this process, until he realized that he was actually scaling up a wall. Sanji grinned and jumped in the air. "BROCHETTE!" Sanji spinned and impacted his feet on four arms' face, sending him to land hard on the ground while Sanji still drilled his face.

Bulky legs then retaliated Zoro's attack and started to spin with his legs extended in midair. Bulky legs then began to fall down at Zoro, who retrieved his swords. "NANAJUU-NI POUNDOU HOU!" Zoro swings both of his swords, impacting upon Bulky legs, causing him to stop spinning. Before bulky legs could fall to the ground, Zoro jumps to a wall and ran up to where bulky legs is at. "SANTORYU HYOU: KINTAMA!" Zoro jumped off the wall and spun with his with his swords, cutting bulky legs everywhere. Zoro stopped spinning and jumped off another wall and was now above bulky legs. "TORA GARI!" Zoro lowered his swords at bulky legs and quickly landed on the ground. It turned out bulky legs was a robot and exploded immediately after Zoro sheathed his swords.

Four arms angrily got up, almost knocking Sanji down. It turns out that four arms is also a robot as his upper torso spinned at an incredible rate as his feet began to charge at Sanji. Sanji began to run away from four arms as he was cutting everything that happened to be near him. Sanji then jumped backwards and was now above four arms. "BASSES-COTES!" Sanji does a downward roundhouse kick that impacted on four arms' head, making him lose his balance. While four arms tried to regain his balance, Sanji ran to him. "COLLIER SHOOT!" Sanji thrusts his foot foward, knocking four arms back, decelerating his spin at the same time. Sanji then finished him off with a roundhouse kick to the head, that went flying next to Nami.

"Ahh!" Nami cried, as she hits the head repeatedly with her PCT. She then sighs in relieve as Sanji helped her up.

"Are you alright, Nami-san?" Sanji asked.

"Yeah, I'm okay." Nami said as Zoro walked up to them.

"We should get going, the others might be in danger as well." Zoro said.

"Okay, but we better go ahead first. You leading us might be risky." Sanji said. Zoro frowned as he quickly followed Sanji and Nami, who were running back to their allies.

Back with Captain Falcon…

Captain Falcon was still fighting with some minions as Usopp and Chopper peaked out of the edge of the big sign to see how Captain Falcon was holding up. "Wow! Mr. Falcon are beating them all by himself! He is so cool!" Chopper said joyfully.

"Yeah… but I don't how long he can last." Usopp whimpered while biting his nails. While Captain Falcon was busy trying to beat up a minion, there was a minion with a rifle that was aiming right at Captain Falcon's head. "Oh no!!" Usopp yelled as he quickly pulls out his slingshot and aims at the minion with the rifle. "HISSATSU KATAKI BOSHI!" Usopp fires an explosive at the minion, exploding upon impacting on his face. Captain Falcon finished one of the minions off with a headbutt and looks at the unconscious rifle minion.

"Dont worry, Captain Falcon!" Usopp exclaimed while his feet were shaking in fear. "I, the great Captain Usopp, will stop all of these fiends with my powerful skills!" Usopp then comes out of hiding from behind the huge sign and started to fire pellets at every minion far from him.

"Very well, Captain Usopp. You handle them while I handle with these fiends!" Captain Falcon yelled while charging at a group of minions.

"Ohh… I want to help too!" Chopper said, bravely as he changed to his heavy point and started to take down a couple of minions himself.

While this was happening, a shadowy figure leaned himself behind the huge sign. "Heh heh heh. It's time that to begin." the shadowy figure said as he then started to push the sign. Captain Falcon then punched the last minion as Usopp shot down another one.

"Hey great work, Captain!" Usopp said amazed. Captain Falcon looks where he is and notices that the sign behind him was about to fall on him.

"Usopp, look out!" Captain Falcon yelled as he ran towards Usopp.

"TIMBER!" yelled the shadowy figure as he manages to push the sign. Usopp noticed the shadow in front of him getting bigger. He nervously looked back and saw the sign was about to smash him. Usopp was to nervous to move and thought that this was the end for him. That is, until Captain Falcon lunged at him and pushed him away from danger. After that, the sign collapsed on Captain Falcon.

"Mr. Falcon!!" Chopper cried. Usopp couldnt believe at what just happened. He slowly gets up and checks to see if Captain Falcon was alright.

"Captain Falcon, are you okay!?" Usopp asked as he tried to look for Captain Falcon under the collapsed sign.

"Ha ha ha, look who we have here."

Usopp turns around and whimpers in fear to see several minions in front of them while they were cracking their knuckles. "This guy looks like the weakest of the bunch. Let's end this guy's life." one of the evil minions said.

"Uh! Oo, wait!!" Usopp yelled, but they didn't listen. They started to beat up Usopp with no mercy. Punching him, kicking him, all kinds of stuff that would greatly injure someone.

"Usopp!!" Chopper yelled as he then charged at the minions. "Leave Usopp alone!!!" Then out of nowhere, a huge group of minions jumped on Chopper and began to form a dogpile on him, making Chopper unable to move. "Stop!! Get off of me!! Usopp!!!" Usopp was now brutally injured, having several bruises around his body, not to mention that he was now bleeding from his head. Chopper then went back to his normal point and started to cry in agony "SOMEONE HELP US!!!"

"Do not worry young lad! I'll save you!"

Chopper looked the other way and saw none other that Captain Falcon to the rescue, but there is something odd and different about him. It seems that he has blue paint all over his jumpsuit, poorly painted since you can see some red on it. He has spiky shoulder pad on his right shoulder for some reason, He has a poorly drawn sticker of a falcon on his poorly painted helmet. On his chest, there was also a little sign that said 'I am not an evil person.'. Obviously, this man was an imposter, but since Chopper was so gullible, he didn't notice the difference.

"Captain Falcon! You are okay!" Chopper cried joyfully. The imposter ignored him and smiled cruelly at the minions.

"Okay you evil guys. It is time to… how does he say it? Oh yeah… show me your moves!" the imposter said as he pulled out his disintegrater gun out of his holster. He then fires his gun, disintegrating every minion on Chopper. He then disintegrated the minions that were beating on Usopp, who was unconscious and heavily injured. The imposter puts his gun away as Chopper runs to his side with great joy.

"You defeated all of them, Captain Falcon!" Chopper said joyfully.

"Yes… I did. Because I am Captain Falcon." The imposter said. "Mwa ha ha ha ha ha ha ha ha ha ha ha!"

"C-C-C-Captain Falcon. Why was your laughter so scary?" Chopper asked nervously.

"Deh! Um… uh… it was because of, um… my everlasting sickness." the imposter said. "Yes, that's right! My Every-time-I-fight-with-bad-guys-I-feel-very-ill-and-start-to-feel-like-an-evil-person-which-will-make-me-laugh-like-a-complete-maniac-over-and-over-again disease. It's a permanent sickness, I can never get rid of it."

"Oh, okay." Chopper said. "Oh my gosh! I almost forgot about Usopp!" yells Chopper as he was about to run to where Usopp was, until he suddenly got shocked from behind. "Ah… wha?" Chopper said before he fell unconsciously. It turned out that the imposter shocked him out cold with his stun gun.

"Mwa ha ha! This is so easy, I could just laugh again. Mwa ha ha ha ha ha!" laughed the imposter as he grabbed Chopper with one arm and began to walk towards his vehicle. The real Captain Falcon groggily comes out under the collapsed sign and sees the imposter taking Chopper away.

"No… must help… him." Captain Falcon said before he passed out.

Preview: Man, looks like evil people wants to kill us for no reason again. Eh!? What happened here!? And where is Usopp and Chopper!? Next time on One Piece: A Smash Adventure; Chapter 44: Chopper captured!, He returns once again. I am gonna be the Pirate King.

Now don't get me wrong, I like Usopp, but stories like this needs these kinds of dramatic things, so it couldnt be helped. I even felt sad when I typed this. Anyway, I'll probably update saturday or sooner. Later!

F Zero Pt 7

I felt sick for a couple of days, but I feel okay for the moment. Here is the next chapter of this arc. Enjoy!

Captured. The Strawhat crew and Captain Falcon have encountered with evil minions. Despite being unnumbered, The Strawhat crew and Captain Falcon were able to defeat their enemies. However, that all came with a great price. While Usopp was congratulating Falcon over his victory, the huge sign behind him started to collapse. Captain Falcon risked himself by pushing Usopp out of the way, making the sign collapse on Falcon instead of him. Even though he saved him, Usopp was still injured by a couple of minions. A Captain Falcon imposter then came to the scene and defeated the remaining minions, as well as kidnapping Chopper. How will the Strawhat crew react to this?

Chapter 44: Chopper captured!, He has returned…

The empty streets of Mute City was now covered with unconscious minions. It was truly a mess to behold, seeing several unconscious minions hanging around almost everywhere. But let us not worry about that right now. Zoro, Nami, and Sanji were walking back to the meeting point, trying to ignore the sights before them. "Just what did these guys want with us?" Nami asked, walking over an unconscious minion.

"Who knows." Zoro asked. "They must have a grudge with people."

"Or maybe they wanted something." Sanji included. They then reached back to the meeting point, but it was to foggy to see anything.

"Eh, I cant see anything through this fog." Nami said while trying to see what lies in front of her. She then heard the sound of footsteps behind her. She got a little nervous as she took out her PCT and awaited for the person behind her to get closer. "HIYAA!" Nami turns around, and swings her PCT down at someone's head.

POW

"Oww! That made me dizzy."

Nami opens her eyes and realizes that it was just Luffy, who was still wearing Captain Falcon's extra helmet, that was behind her.

"Luffy? What took you so long to get here? And why are you wearing that?" Nami asked in disgust.

Luffy eyes were rolling around in circles, but Luffy managed to stop them by hitting himself in the head. "Well we were fighting these evil minions, and I used this helmet to get extra power in order to defeat them."

"You are such a moron." Nami said while frowning. Robin and Franky then walked up to them, trying their best to see through the fog.

"Oi, did you guys get attacked too?" Franky asked.

"Yeah. The same thing must have happened to Falcon and the others." Zoro said.

"I wonder if they are alright." Robin said.

"I am sure that they are okay." Luffy said. "Besides, Captain Falcon is with them. There is no way anything bad could have happened to them."

The fog has almost started to clear up and something has just caught Sanji's attention. Sanji lits up a cigarette and places on his lips. "I don't think that is deal around here."

Everyone looked at Sanji, who was looking at a particular direction. Luffy and the rest looked at that direction and was shocked at what they saw. "CAPTAIN FALCON!" yells Luffy, as he saw Captain Falcon, unconscious while the collapsed sign was on his legs. Luffy and his crew rushed to his side and pulled Captain Falcon out of the sign. Franky then picked him up and lied him on his F-Zero vehicle. "Captain Falcon, what happened to you!? Captain Falcon!!"

"He is unconscious, Luffy. And I can tell it has been a while since that happened by the looks of him." Zoro said.

"I hate to admit it, but I thought that this guy was super strong. How did he end up like this?" Nami asked.

"Perhaps he tried to save someone." Robin said.

Nami then looked at her curiously. "What do you mean by that?"

"The way we found him under that sign. He wouldn't just stand there and let the sign fall on him." Robin said while looking at the collapsed sign. "Either that somebody was holding him down, or maybe he risked himself to try and save someone."

Everyone then thought of Usopp and Chopper, mostly Usopp. "That explains most things, but where is Longnose and Gorilla?" Franky asked.

"Their is a high probability that they either got captured or that they were slaughtered to death." Robin said with a straight face.

"Robin, don't say those kinds of things." Nami said worryingly. " Look, we know that they are scared of almost everything, so that means that they must have run away in a safe place."

"Or get captured." Zoro included.

"Marimo, your starting to piss me off with you jinxing us." Sanji said.

Zoro ignored him and looked up at the orange sky. "Even if they didn't get captured, they probably wont come back after what happened."

"For once, you have a point." Franky said. "I don't see them coming back for a while."

"Will you guys stop? Sure, Usopp and Chopper are not exactly brave, but that doesn't mean we could say such things about them, no matter how pathetic they are." Nami said, trying to be defensive for Usopp and Chopper.

"I cant really tell if you tried to defend them or insult them." Franky said, while sweatdropping.

Captain Falcon was then starting regain his conscious, slowly sitting up. "Captain Falcon, are you alright!?" Luffy asked worryingly.

"Yes… a little dazed, but I'll be alright." Captain Falcon said, rubbing his head subconsciously.

"What happened to you? And where is Usopp and Chopper?" Sanji asked.

Captain was now immediately conscious, quickly getting off his F-Zero vehicle and looking at his surroundings. "I almost forgot! Chopper-kun was kidnapped!"

"What!?" Luffy gasped. "But how? You were with him and Usopp."

"I remembered that Usopp was in peril, so I risked my life in order to save his." Captain Falcon said, punching the ground in defeat.

"Where is Usopp?" Nami asked.

Captain Falcon then looked at her oddly. "What do you mean? Wasn't he just…" Captain Falcon looks behind his shoulder and saw where Usopp used to be, but the only thing that was there was his blood stains. "No! He is gone too!"

"That… is where Usopp was? Why was there…" Nami looked at the blood stains, hoping that nothing had really happen to Usopp.

Luffy frowned at this and clenched his fists in anger. "Chopper got kidnapped… Usopp got hurt. Whoever did this is going to pay!!"

Captain Falcon nodded and got up to his feet. "Luffy-kun, I feel responsible for their kidnaps. I will help you on rescuing them. And I just might know who is behind this."

"Eh ha ha ha ha! Still doing chores for the inferior kinds, Captain Falcon? Eh ha ha ha ha!"

Everyone looked at who just said that, and it happened to be none other than the evil Zoda, standing on a building close to them. "AHHH!! An evil assistant! I can tell he is an evil assistant by that leather tube coming out of his head!" Luffy yelled fearfully while pointing at Zoda.

"How does that make him an evil assistant?" Franky asked.

"Zoda! It was you who planned all this!" Captain Falcon said angrily.

"Eh ha ha ha ha ha! Oh Falcon, you are just as clueless as ever!" Zoda replied with a cruel smile. "Did you really think that you could just help stupid people in need without any obstacles in your path? You underestimate me, Falcon!"

"Grr…" Captain Falcon muttered.

"Besides, why bothering on helping people that looks absolutely ridiculous? That eyebrow guru there obviously proves what I am trying to say." Zoda said.

Sanji got angry upon hearing that. "Eyebrow guru!? I am going to rip that tube out of that shitty head of yours!!"

"Wh-What did you just say about my head!? I'll make you and your friends suffer for that!!" Zoda said, shaking his fist back in forth, angrily. "But unfortunately, I don't have the time to do that right now. I must go and begin phase 2 of my master's evil plan."

Captain Falcon was then surprised. "Master? You don't mean… !?"

"Oh yes, Falcon. I am referring about 'him'." Zoda said, with an even crueler smile.

"That is not possible! He was banished!" Captain Falcon said frustratingly.

"What? What is it?" Luffy asked.

"It is a long story, I will tell you about it later." Captain Falcon said. "Right now, we must take down Zoda!"

"You must catch me first! Eh ha ha ha ha ha!" Zoda then started to run away, jumping from buildings to other buildings.

Captain Falcon then rushed forward and looked at the Strawhat crew behind his shoulder. "Quickly, we must capture Zoda! He might be the only one who knows the location of your friends!"

"Okay! Come on, Guys! Let's get the evil assistant!" Luffy yelled while raising his arms, chasing to where Zoda was going as well.

"Eh!? Cant we just let Mr. hero do all the hard work?" Nami asked whining.

"The captain made his decision, so we must follow orders." Robin said. Nami sighed as then she started to go along with the chase, as well with the others.

Meanwhile…

Back at Black Shadow's lair, known as the Dark Maximillion, Black Shadow sat on his chair, viewing his huge monitor that showed more about Mute City's weaknesses and designs. "Let's see, if I attack directly at this section here, the city would be wide open long enough for me to take it over. This is going to be easier than I thought." Black shadow chuckled.

He then could here footsteps behind. He turned around with the chair and saw the Captain Falcon imposter holding the unconscious Chopper on his shoulders, going down a huge set of spiraled stairs. Black Shadow made a cruel smirk as the imposter finally made it down. He then collapsed from exhaustion just from going down the stairs, putting Chopper down on the ground. "Augh… Master, how do you manage to get up and down these stairs without getting tired?" The imposter asked, panting heavily.

"Simple, I use the elevator." Black Shadow said, pointing at the elevator next to the spiraled staircase. "But let us change the topic, Blood Falcon. What did you bring before me?"

"Nghh." the imposter named Blood Falcon got up while picking Chopper up by his pants. "This raccoon was with Falcon, so I kidnapped him and brought him here."

"Ahh, excellent." Black Shadow said, rubbing his hands with great and cruel joy. "Everything is going according to plan!"

"Should we kill him now?" Blood Falcon asked.

"No! We need him alive." Black Shadow said. Chopper was then starting to wake up, but Blood Falcon and Black Shadow didn't notice.

"Mmm… where am I?" Chopper asked, while his eyes were half open. He then looked back, and saw Blood Falcon. "Captain Falcon?" He then looked in front of him and saw the big and scary Black Shadow. "AAAAHHHHHHHHH!!!!" Chopper cried in fear. Black Shadow and Blood Falcon got startled upon his awakening, and Chopper was so scared, he accidentally moved his upper body forward, causing him to fall out of his pants and hit the ground, butt naked.

"It looks like he is awake." Blood Falcon said, while still holding Chopper's pants. Black Shadow smirked and walked closer to Chopper, who was slowly starting to get up.

"Welcome to my lair, the Dark Maximillion." Black Shadow said. Chopper looks up towards Black Shadow, and was scared again.

"Ahh!! Who are you!? And what am I doing here!?" Chopper said while getting on his back and moving backwards. He then just realized that he was completely exposed, so he covered himself while blushing ashamedly.

"I am the evil lord, Black Shadow, and you are here as my hostage." Black Shadow said.

Chopper then looked at Blood Falcon, who was grinning evilly. "Captain Falcon, please help me!" Chopper cried.

"Mwa ha ha ha ha ha! You still don't understand? He is not Captain Falcon." Black Shadow said.

"He is right. I am not Captain Falcon." Blood Falcon said. He then started to spin with great speed and then stopped, now wearing a new outfit. He now has the same helmet as Falcon's only that it is blue and has skull instead of a falcon on it. "I am Blood Falcon, Captain Falcon's clone!"

"Blood… you messed up again." Black Shadow said irritatedly.

"Huh?" asks Blood Falcon. He then looks down and sees that he is wearing a ballerina outfit. "Dang it! Why does that have to happen!? Just a sec…" Blood started to spin again and then stopped, now wearing his actual outfit. He has red jumpsuit, a spiky shoulder pad on his right shoulder, and white boots and gloves. "Much better."

"E-Evil clone?" Chopper asked nervously.

"Yes. 4 years ago, I made an exact clone out of Falcon. The only difference is that he is evil!" Black Shadow said.

"Yeah, that makes me better than falcon, cause… well I don't really know why. I think it was because of I.Q. or something." Blood Falcon said, being very confused at the moment.

"Unfortunately, he has a mind of a 4 year old." Black Shadow said. Chopper was then tried to run away, but the staircase was immediately blocked by Blood Falcon. "Where do you think your going? You are my hostage, meaning that I will not let you leave."

"I don't care! I am leaving!" Chopper said, angrily while transforming into his heavy point. "RAAARGHH!!" Chopper leaps to Black Shadow, who simply smirked. Black Shadow then shot out white electricity from his eyes, immobilizing Chopper in midair. "Ahhh!!" Chopper cried in pain, as he was quickly changed back into his normal point. Black Shadow then stopped his attack, letting Chopper fall down. Black Shadow then snapped his fingers, making a small cage fall on Chopper. Then a part of the platform below Chopper rose up to Black Shadow's height, while Chopper tried to retain consciousness.

"You fool. This is my lair. You cannot defeat me." Black Shadow said. "By the way, that cage can withstand anything from the inside, so don't bother on trying to get out." Black Shadow then sat on his chair, while Blood Falcon walked up to him.

"So, what do we do now?" Blood Falcon asked.

"We will continue our plan once Zoda has arrived from his duties." Black Shadow said.

"Somebody save me!" Chopper cried.

Meanwhile…

At some other streets of Mute City, we could see Usopp, who was sitting on the sidewalk. He has multiple bruises around his body, not to mention that he was bleeding on some of those bruises. He groggily opened his purse-like bag and got out some bandages. He wrapped it around on his bruises, meaning that he wrapped his entire body. He already has wrapped some bandages on his chest under his overalls. He was then completely silent, frowning while looking down at the ground. He then moves his head back, making it hit the wall behind him on purpose.

"Nothing has changed…" Usopp said to himself. He was thinking about the time he left the crew due to his former ship, The Going Merry. At that time, he believed Luffy was lying about the ship that it could no longer sail and fought him for it. He lost, but Luffy lets him keep the ship. Usopp knew deep down that the Merry couldn't go on any longer, but he couldn't admit it. That ship was a part of him, but that soon died when CP9 seemed to have cast it down on a stormy night on Water 7.

He then disguised himself as Sogeking, the man from sniper island, in order to join Luffy and his crew to rescue Robin from a terrible fate. Despite them rescuing her, there was no way to escape from Enies Lobby. That is until, The Going Merry appeared out of nowhere and used the last of it's strength to save it's family. In order for Merry to rest in peace, the crew had to burn it, reducing it to dust. Some time later, Usopp apologized to Luffy, reuniting with the crew once again and continuing on with their journey.

But now, it seems that fate has struck again. He blames himself for what happened to Captain Falcon earlier and for the kidnapping of Chopper. He would fear that his own crew would blame him and kick him out. So there he lies, sitting on the sidewalk, hoping not to be found. "I always have been a bother." Usopp said, depressingly. "I can't keep up with everyone else. They all have special qualities, but what do I have?" Usopp then gets up and looks up in the sky. "I am a nuisance to them. Perhaps it's better this way."

Usopp then began to walk on the sidewalk, hands in his pockets and looking down. He then noticed a screen over an entry, seeing news about attacks going on the street. Usopp sighed looking at that. An old man then stood next to him, watching the news as well.

"That is quite a mess." commented the old man.

"Um, yeah, I guess." Usopp said.

"Atleast there is someone that this town can rely on in order to avoid further messes like that." said the old man.

"Yeah, but he is just one person. You can't always rely on him forever." Usopp said.

"That's true. That is why other people like him come and participate in order to have a peaceful world." said the old man.

Usopp then looked at the man. He has a blue shirt, brown pants, and a pair of sunglasses. "But why bother? Wouldn't those people just be in the way?"

"You are never in the way when you are trying to help others in need." replied the old man. "Sometimes it is better to try and help someone rather then to not help at all."

"Oh. That makes sense…" Usopp said.

The old man then looks at him. "My name is Stan Lee."

"Usopp…" Usopp said.

"Nice to meet you, Usopp." said the old man named Stan Lee. "Tell me, why you do you look so upset?"

"Well, no offense, but I don't think that rather concerns you." Usopp said, in a nice way. "But, I feel that I have been a outcast to my friends."

"Oh? How is that?" Stan asked.

"Well, lets say that they have super powers. Like, being able to fly and defeat their enemies in any kind of situation." Usopp said. "But I feel like I am the only one without powers."

"You say that people with super powers have the ability to face their fears?" Stan asked. "Well, that does seem rather true, but not in its entirety."

Usopp then gave a confused look to Stan. "What do you mean by that?"

"It takes courage to stand up against your enemies, but it takes even more courage to defend the ones you care about, even if you know that you stand no chance of winning." Stan said. "Super powers do not give the person to protect others, but the person itself does. If that person has the courage to stand up against all odds, then that person has the full potential to be a hero."

"But if they know that they can't win, then what is the point?" Usopp asked.

"-sigh-… Sometimes, you must risk yourself to protect others in need, so they can live on and do the same for you." Stan said. These words were starting to build something inside of Usopp, something courageous and powerful. "Now, if you excuse me, I have go back to my store. Take care, Usopp. I hope I helped you with your concerns."

"Yeah… Yeah! Thank you, Stan." Usopp said. Stan nodded happily and then left. Usopp looked at his hands, feeling something new inside him. The screen next to him then showed the Strawhat crew and Captain Falcon, chasing Zoda from building to building. "The others…" Usopp said. He then clenched his fists with courage and proceeded to run where they are now. While he was running he grabbed something out of his purse-like bag, which appeared to be some sort of mask.

Meanwhile…

"Come back here, Zoda!" Captain Falcon yelled from the streets, chasing Zoda.

"Nya nya, you cant catch me, Falcon!" Zoda yelled from atop of the buildings.

Luffy then ran ahead of Captain Falcon and jumped. "GOMU GOMU NO FUUSEN!" Luffy inflated himself as Falcon understood what he tried to do. Captain Falcon then jumps on Luffy and bounces off, landing on a building next to where Zoda was.

"Grr… you still wont catch me!" yells Zoda while continueing to run away. Zoda then jumps to another building, but as soon as he landed, Zoro was there waiting for him.

"ONI GIRI!" Zoro dashes at Zoda, but Zoda quickly jumps over Zoro before he could do anything else. While in midair, he suddenly noticed Sanji above him, ready to lower his heel on him. Unfortunately, Zoda raised his feet and blocked Sanji's heel, but the force did send Zoda falling down faster than usual. At the same time, Franky, who was on the streets, was aiming at Zoda with his left wrist.

"WEAPONS LEFT!" Franky fires a missile at Zoda and exploded on his back.

"GAH!" Zoda cried in pain before he quickly recovered by landing on his feet and jumped on to another building.

Robin saw this and crossed her limbs. "DOS FLEUR!" two armss appeared under Zoda and grabbed his feet, causing him to trip. Before Zoda could get up, Captain Falcon appeared above him and thrusted both of his feet on his back, causing further pain to Zoda's back. "GRR!!" Zoda grunted as he took out a couple of marbles from his suit and threw them to the ground below Falcon. Falcon lost his balance upon landing on one of them and landed hard on his back. He then took off his boots in order to get out of the hand's grip, making him run barefoot across the buildings.

He then looked back to see the angry Sanji getting close on his tail. "VEAU SHOOT!" Sanji does a flying kick at the back of Zoda's head.

"GUO!!!" Zoda cried as he instantly fell off the building he was in and landed on a pole out of a wall and then landed on a pile of garbage. He quickly popped out of the pile of garbage and limps his way to his F-Zero vehicle, which was still far away. "Whoa!" He then slipped on a trail of ice which was created by Nami, who smirked. But her smirk quickly vanished as Zoda used that trail of ice to slip right ahead. When the trail of ice ended, he quickly got back to his feet and limped once again, but his path was quickly blocked by Luffy, who stood in front of him.

"You are going down, you evil assistant guy!" Luffy said while cracking his knuckles.

"Grr… LOOK AT THAT!" Zoda yelled, pointing behind Luffy.

"Huh!?" Luffy looks behind him, but saw nothing.

"YYAAAAARGHH!!!" Zoda picks up a wooden mallet and hits Luffy's head so hard, the helmet he has on got stuck.

"Ahh! I cant see anything." Luffy said while panicking, trying to pull the helmet off of his head. Zoda drops the mallet and limps past Luffy, getting closer and closer to his vehicle.

"I am going to make it, I am going to make it, I am going TO MAKE IT!!!" Zoda yelled maniacally with every limped step he takes. "YES, VICTORY IS MINE!!!"

"METALLIC STAR!"

Out of nowhere, an iron pellet hits Zoda at the back of his head. "GA… WHA!?" Zoda cried out before his face went right through his windshield, shattering it to pieces. Everyone stopped running as Luffy was able to put his helmet back the way it was.

"Hmm? What happened?" Luffy asked.

"Something hit him." Zoro said.

Franky then walks up near Zoda, who was barely conscious. He then noticed a pellet on the ground and picked it up. "Yo, Cook. Doesnt this remind you something." Franky asked.

Sanji then tosses his cigarette in a trashcan and looks at the pellet. "Eh… looks like he is back."

"What do you mean?" Nami asked. "Oh wait, you mean…"

"It appears so. Look." Robin said while pointing behind them. They saw a man with a yellow and blue-striped mask with shape of sun rays at the sides except the bottom. His eyes were behind goggles like the ones Usopp wears. He has a long nose as Usopp has, the same brown overalls as Usopp has, and the dark long hair as Usopp has. He has a red mantle on his back and his body was covered in bandages under his clothing. He also has a slingshot that kinda looks like the one Usopp has, only that it is much longer and has much more detail.

Luffy was completely shocked as he completely recognized who that man was. Everyone else also seemed to have recognized him, only they weren't shocked. Captain Falcon was the only one who doesn't recognize him.

"I have traveled through far places before." the man said with a voice that sounds exactly like Usopp, but it sounded heroic. "But I have never been through to such far places, like going to other worlds before. I came here as soon as I heard the news about Chopper-kun. Let me join you in your quest to save him!" He then stood tall, where everybody could see him. "I am the man from sniper island… Sogeking!!!"

Preview: This is a complete surprise! I didn't expect Sogeking to come and help us. Now we have 2 superheroes that will help rescue Chopper! Once we rescue him, we will find the man behind this and kick his ass! Next time on One Piece: A Smash Adventure; Chapter 45: Sogeking has arrived!, The rescue begins! I am gonna be the Pirate King!

Hmm? What's that you say? You thought that… oh no. I wasn't referring to him, but I was referring to Sogeking instead. Who else would be perfect for this arc instead of him? Oh, and I don't own Stan Lee, the great superhero maker. Well, see you in the next chapter!

OFF-TOPIC: I never expected Ice Climbers to actually make it in Brawl. To me, they seem underrated, but I dont hate them. Who knows, maybe Game&Watch would make it as well.

F Zero Pt 8

This is has been a quick update. I want to let you know that this chapter is not that important, so dont take it so seriously. I tried to do my best in this one, but I guess it didn't turn out that well as I expected, so don't criticize me for this, because this is not my best work. This chapter is just only to get rid of the introductions, talking about an attack, etc. Although, there is something important at the end, so make sure you look at that. Well, that's it. Enjoy!

The man from Sniper Island has arrived. The Strawhat crew and Captain Falcon has confronted with Zoda, who informed them about his master's plan. While they chased him all over Mute City, Usopp was feeling rather depressed about himself, but that didn't last long thanks to a man named Stan Lee, telling him about courage and that stuff. The Strawhat crew and Captain Falcon used their strength to capture, but no matter how hard they tried, Zoda would still be able to get away. But that wasn't the case as he was stopped by a mysterious hero known as Sogeking! Who is this hero that came out of nowhere? And where is Usopp?

There he stood with his arms folded, the man known as Sogeking. The great warrior from sniper island. Luffy had sparks of joy coming out of his eyes, while everyone else just grumbled. "So-Sogeking! You are here!" Luffy said excitedly.

"It is nice to see you again, Luffy-kun. We haven't seen eachother in quite some time." Sogeking said.

"Wow, I cant believe you are really here! But how did you get to this world?" Luffy asked.

"Well it is quite simple, Luffy-kun." Sogeking said. "I have the ability to travel to other worlds, using my multidimensional powers to help people across the galaxy."

"Whoa!? I didn't know you can do that!" Luffy said, even more excited.

"Neither did I-I mean, yes. It has been traditional skill passed down through my family centuries and centuries ago." Sogeking said, almost blowing his cover. While they were communicating amongst themselves, the rest were not that surprised to see him again.

"I guess he believes that it was his fault for Chopper getting kidnapped." Zoro said while scratching his head.

"Idiot. He didn't had to go this far." Nami said.

"It's not like it was a big deal or anything. We can rescue Chopper anyway." Sanji said.

"Wait, are you saying that is Usopp?" Captain Falcon asked.

"You can tell just by the looks of him, Falcon." Nami said bluntly.

"Hmm… well, I guess this brings him pride, so I might as well play along." Captain Falcon said.

"Just like we are doing with you?" Franky asked.

"I have no idea what you are talking about." Captain Falcon said before he began to walk towards Sogeking. "Sogeking, I presume? I am Captain Falcon, it is an honor to meet you."

"Uh, y-yeah. It is an honor to meet you as well, Captain Falcon." Sogeking said, shaking Captain Falcon's hand with gratitude.

"Hee hee, this is so great! Now we have 2 great heroes on our side." Luffy said while patting Captain Falcon and Sogeking on their backs. "Man, if only Usopp and the fisherman guy could see this."

"But they are right next to you." Franky muttered while backslapping the air in front of Luffy.

"We might as well to skip these introductions." Robin said. "The more time we are here, the more Doctor-san will be closer to his painful death."

Nami shivered at that thought. "I hate to admit it, but she is right. Luffy, we cant just stay here and do nothing. We must get back to the police station and figure out what to do."

Luffy then got a serious look on his face and nodded. "Yosh, let's go rescue Chopper."

"Before we do that, why don't we talk with our friend here?" Sanji asked, referring to Zoda, who was regaining concious.

"I'll handle him." Captain Falcon said, with a serious look. As Zoda pulled his head out of his windshield, Captain Falcon grabbed him by the shoulders and turned him around to face him. He then grabbed Zoda by his collar. "Alright, Zoda. Tell me where is Chopper being held!"

"Er… You will get nothing out of me, Falcon." Zoda said, trying to look away. Captain Falcon then dragged Zoda to a side of the road and held him over the edge, where lies nothing but a huge fall for Zoda. "Okay! Okay! I'll talk!" Captain Falcon then tossed Zoda back at the road. Zoda then stood on his knees. "He is at my master's lair, the Dark maximillion. H-He has the raccoon kid there, I swear."

"What does he want with Chopper?" Luffy asked.

"I don't know, the only thing I know is that he wants the mystery heart." Zoda said.

"Mystery heart!? What does he want it for?" Nami asked.

"Hmm… it looks like Black Shadow wants them for something. But what could it be?" Captain Falcon asked.

"Black Shadow? Well, whoever this guy is, he is messing with the wrong people." Sanji said.

"Will worry about that for later. Right now we have to take Zoda to…" Captain Falcon then looked at where Zoda it, but he was no longer there. Captain Falcon then looked at where his vehicle was, but that was gone too.

"Whoa! He left in a hurry." Sogeking said in surprise.

"Quickly, let us get back to the base!" Captain Falcon said as he then whistled, making the transportation vehicle quickly appear in front of him. The male Strawhat crew quickly got on, while Captain Falcon quickly got on his. "Let's go, ladies!"

"Yeah, yeah, we know." Nami said as she and Robin got on the Blue Falcon.

Let us skip the details on how they arrived back on the base since it is unnecessary. They arrived at the base and got inside. Sogeking seemed to be impressed by the look of the place.

"This place is marvelous. A great place for every kind of person that seeks peace in mankind." Sogeking said.

"You should check out the simulatey thingy. I am an excellent driver." Luffy said.

"Oh, I'm sure you are." Sogeking said, a little hesitant in his accent.

As soon as Jody saw them coming in, she quickly walks up to Captain Falcon. "Captain, are you okay? We heard that you got injured."

"I am fine, Jody. Do not worry about me." Captain Falcon said.

"I am fine too, Jody-swan!" Sanji said, trying to get her attention, but it didn't work.

"Anyway, Jody. Do you know the whereabouts of the dark maximillion?" Captain Falcon asked.

Jody was confused upon hearing that. "Well, yeah. It has always been on the same as it always been. Why do you ask?"

"Black Shadow has returned." Captain Falcon said sternly. This caused everyone working in their posts to stop, making them have a terrified look on their face.

"B-B-B-Black Shadow!? That is not possible!" John whimpered in fear.

"Hey, I forgot to ask. Who is Black Shadow?" Luffy asked.

"He is the most sinister person that has ever existed. He believes that he is the greatest of all, destroying everything that seems unfit for him. The last I saw of him is when he was banished by a much more sinister person than he is, but that is another story." Captain Falcon explained.

"So he is like a super villain?" Luffy asked.

"If you put it that way, yes." Captain Falcon said.

Luffy then put his hand around his chin and started to think about Black Shadow, wondering how he looks like.

"So where is this dark maximillion place?" Franky asked.

"It is base that floats in the clouds." Jodys said. "Here, I'll show you." Jody then signaled at one of her teammates near his terminal. He nodded and pushed a button that made the big screen showed Black Shadow's lair, the Dark maximillion, floating near the clouds.

"Eh!? How is it floating like that!?" Sogeking asked.

"Black Shadow has many technicians with him. Most of the merchandise he gets are illegal are not permitted to use." Jody said.

"Heh, fancy guy." Franky said.

"So, how do we get there?" Zoro asked.

"There are roads that leads you there. Although, I don't think Black Shadow will allow such thing." Jody said.

"Eh, great. To think all of this happened on the same day we arrived here. What could be any worse?" Nami asked.

"Oh, I think I can answer that, young lady."

Everyone were then shocked to hear that. "W-Who said that?" Sogeking asked.

"It didn't sound like anybody from in here." Robin said.

"That voice… could it be?" Captain Falcon asked.

"Oh yes, Falcon. It is me." The screen then showed none other than Black Shadow, sitting on his revolving chair, having a cruel smile across his face.

"Black Shadow!" Captain Falcon said angrily.

"AHH!! A super villain!! He is a super villain because he has a black cape! He must be really powerful!" Luffy yelled.

"Spandam had a cape, so did that make him a supervillain?" Franky asked.

"He doesn't count because he was a dork. But this guy is the real deal!" Luffy said, fearfully looking at Black Shadow.

"What do you want, Black Shadow?" Captain Falcon asked angrily.

"Oh, Falcon. Is that your way of talking to other people?" Black Shadow asked with a smirk. "I just wanted to say hi and inform that I have your little friend right here." The screen then showed Chopper, still in the small cage.

"Chopper!" Luffy yelled.

"Luffy, help me!" cried Chopper. The screen then showed Black Shadow again, who cruelly laughed.

"What do you intend to do, Black Shadow?" Captain Falcon asked.

"Calm down, Falcon. I do not intend to do anything with him, yet. I only wish to make a deal with you." Black Shadow said, which made Captain Falcon raise an eyebrow. "Here is how it is going to work. If you do not hand over the Mystery heart, I will conquer Mute city and kill this creature. If you do, then I will hand you the body of this creature and still conquer Mute city."

"How is that a reasonable deal!?" snapped Sogeking.

"Forget it, Black Shadow! How do you know about the mystery hearts anyway?" Captain Falcon asked.

"Quite simple, It is all thanks to those cameras around the base. It was so simple to hack in and view what you are doing." Black Shadow said. "Anyway, if you do not get in answer from you in 2 hours, then I will unleash a full attack on Mute city and conquer its resources. Then I will conquer this world for all eternity. Mwa ha ha ha ha ha!"

"Booooring."

Black Shadow stopped laughing and looked at the one who said that, which turned out to be Luffy, picking his nose. "What did you just say?" Black Shadow asked with a frown on his face.

"I mean, your plan has already been done by other people before. Every world we went so far, we faced this bad guy that wants to take over the world. It's like they have nothing else to do, but to come up with a plan to take over the world. I thought that you might be different since you have a cape, but I guess not. You are just unoriginal." Luffy said while pulling his finger out of his nose.

"L-Luffy-kun. I dont think you should you make him angry." Sogeking pleaded.

"So I am unoriginal. Fine, how about I use a bomb to blow up the city and recreate it in my own vision instead? Yes, I'll go with that." Black Shadow said, feeling satisfied with his new plan.

"Idiot!" Nami yelled, hitting Luffy at the back of his head.

"You won't succeed, Black Shadow! We will stop you!" Captain Falcon yelled.

"We will see about that, Captain Falcon. Till then!" Black Shadow before the screen turned off. Captain Falcon clenched his fists and looks at the Strawhat crew and Sogeking.

"We must leave now. Are you guys ready?" Captain Falcon asked.

Luffy hits his palm, ready for action. "Yeah, we're ready!"

"Of course we are, because the great Sogeking will protect everyone from danger!" cried out Sogeking.

"Heh, I would like to see that." Sanji said.

"Great, then let us get going!" Captain Falcon and the others then left the base and went outside.

Meanwhile…

The underworld. A place filled with lava and rocks. Only the cruelest of people would go there. The place is also has a racing circuit, but almost nobody woud dare to ride on it. At a particular area, with pool of lava, there was something coming from above. A dark sphere, just like the one that revived Ganondorf back in Hyrule, went inside the pool of lava. The pool then started to emit a reddish color for a couple of seconds. When that was over, a red robotic hand came out of the pool of lava.

Preview: We are now going to save Chopper from that super villain guy, but how are we going to get there? Whoa! What kind of vehicle is that!? Next time on One Piece: A Smash Adventure; Chapter 46: The assault on Dark Maximillion, Nami's wild ride. I am gonna be the Pirate King!

Like I said before, don't take this chapter so seriously. The next chapter however, will be the actiony part. And game2002, please be gentle. Bye!

F Zero Pt 9

Now THIS will make up for the last chapter. I have been told that this arc is kinda silly, but I am trying my best work to keep it going great. Enjoy!

To the rescue! Sogeking has rejoined the Strawhat crew once again to rescue Chopper from Black Shadow's hands. They went back to the base along with Captain Falcon to think of plan of assault. But before they could do that, Black Shadow has showed himself, not personally, but through screen communication. Black Shadow plans to blow up Mute City and recreate it in his own vision. The Strawhat crew only have 2 hours before that could happen. Will they be able to stop Black Shadow in time?

Chapter 46: The assault on Dark Maximillion, Nami's wild ride

The Strawhat crew and Captain got outside the base as Captain Falcon was taking something out of his pocket. "So, how do we get there again?" Franky asked.

"The Dark Maximillion is an enormous fortress filled with Black shadow's men. There are even traps along the way there." Captain Falcon said, still looking for something in his pocket.

"So you mean that we are not taking any ordinary trip there?" Sanji asked.

"You can say that." Captain Falcon then takes out what appears to be a remote control. "Watch this." Captain Falcon then pushes a red button on the remote, but the Strawhat crew saw nothing.

"Hmm? What happened?" Luffy asked, looking to his right and left to see if there was anything happening.

"Oi, I hear something." Zoro said while folding his arms. A mid-sized star cruiser then came at a speed of light and instantly parked in front of the base. The sides were pointy and blue, while the center looked a beak of a falcon, and it was also yellow. The crew was amazed to see how it got in front of them so fast, especially Luffy.

"Whoa!? Cool! That is so cool! Awesome! Cool!" Luffy kept on saying by just looking at it.

Captain Falcon grinned and walked in front of this star cruiser. "This is the Falcon Flyer. It is a highly advanced vehicle that no other vehicle has. For instance, it has an onboard computer, meaning that this cruiser can drive by itself. It can also be controlled by this remote control. Normally, I use this to find criminals across the galaxy, but this will be an exception."

"That looks great and all, but it doesn't look like everyone can fit in it." Franky said by observation.

"5 passengers is the maximimum quantity for this cruiser. 2 of you most be left behind." Captain Falcon said. Nami then felt happy upon hearing that. For once, she doesn't have to go to a dangerous place. She never thought that something like this would ever come true.

"Well, if it is only for 5 passengers, then I am willing to risk my life to not enter…" Sogeking was saying until Nami shoved him inside.

"You guys have fun. Robin and I will be save here." Nami said delightfully while waving her hand to the males.

"I have already set the coordinates in the computer. It will take you directly to Dark Maximillion." Captain Falcon said, putting his remote control away.

"You are not coming?" Zoro asked.

"I will catch up with you in my Blue falcon." Captain Falcon said. "There are sure to be one of Black Shadow's goons during the way, so be careful."

"Don't worry, we will save Chopper no matter what!" Luffy said confidently.

"Alright then, good luck!" the rest of the male Strawhat crew got inside. Luffy sat on the center of the back seat while Sanji and Zoro sat on the left side while Sogeking and Franky sat on the right side. The doors of the Falcon Flyer then closed tightly before the engines started to turn on. Holographic screens appeared around them, one of them saying that it is clear to drive. Then a wheel appeared in front of them that also had a screen, which turned on.

"Please fasten your seat belts." the computer voice of the Falcon Flyer said. "We will be heading to the destined location shortly."

"This place is quite fascinating. I have never such seen such advanced mechanisms before." Sogeking said. "Have you ever seen such things, Luffy-kun?" There was no answer from Luffy. "Luffy-kun?"

Luffy had his eyes set on the wheel, not letting it out of his sight. "If this thing could drive on its own, then why does it have a wheel?" Luffy asked monotonously. Sogeking felt a little afraid of Luffy with that kind of voice, so he looked away from him.

"When is this thing going to go already?" Franky asked impatiently.

"Will you relax?" Zoro asked. "It's not like it wont…"

VRROOOOOOOMMMM!!!!!

In a matter of nanoseconds, the Falcon Flyer left in great speed, leaving nothing behind. Nami had her mouth hanged open upon seeing that. "It's a good thing I didn't ride that." Nami said, with an awe while Robin giggled.

Jody then got out of the base and walked up to Captain Falcon. "Captain, it appears that the mystery heart has changed its location, but the screen is acting up again. Can you get back in here and fix it?"

"Yes of course. I'll be right back ladies." Captain Falcon said to Nami and Robin as he went back inside the base with Jody.

"I guess we have nothing else to do." Robin said.

"I know. Isnt it great?" asks Nami, excitedly. "I finally don't have to go to a place where I might die. I can finally relax and let those guys do all the dirty work like they are suppose to."

"But wont they need your assistance?" Robin asked.

"Who cares about what they need? The thing that matters right now is that I am free for the day!" Nami then closed her eyes and happily sighed. All of a sudden, an orange blur just went right by them in a hurry, leaving them utterly confused. "What the heck was that just now?" Nami asked bewildered.

That question was left unanswered as Captain Falcon started to come out of the base. "I will look at that thing later, Jody. I must leave right now." Captain Falcon said before he completely got out of the base, looking at Nami and Robin. "Well, I guess it is about time that we get moving."

Nami was surprised and confused upon hearing that. "We? What do you mean by 'we'? When you mean 'we' you mean 'you', right?"

"No, I actually mean that the three of us will go to Black Shadow's lair." Captain Falcon said.

"What!? Why do we have to go? It's not like you need us anyway." Nami said rather angrily.

"Of course not. But Luffy said that he wanted to you and Miss Robin to come along and not miss the adventure." Captain Falcon said.

"When did he say that!?" Nami snapped.

"He didn't actually say it, but by the looks of his face in the Falcon Flyer, I suppose he wanted you two to come along as well." Captain Falcon said.

"Since when does the look of his face mean anything!? I cant believe this!" Nami yelled angrily. "Ok, fine! Lets get this over with!" Nami stomps towards the Blue Falcon and angrily opens the cockpit, getting into the backseat afterwards. "Why are you standing there for!? Let's go!"

"Okay. Quick Robin, to the batmobile-I mean, the Blue Falcon!" Captain Falcon said, excitedly as he cartwheeled to the Blue Falcon and jumped to his seat in a dramatic and cool fashion. Robin simply walks to it and sits in the backseat next to Nami.

"Can you believe this, Robin?" Nami asked grumpily. "We have to go the dangerous place because of Luffy's face."

"I don't mind this at all, miss Navigator." Robin said kindly. "In fact, you should read a book to calm your nerves." Robin then takes out a book and starts to read it.

"I don't need a book to keep me calm. I can do that myself." Nami said. Captain Falcon then started the engines and slowly drove out of the parking lot and into the street.

"Alright, ladies. You will now experience the full potential of what the Blue Falcon can really do." Captain Falcon said with a grin.

The boosters then started to ignite, causing Nami to flinch a bit. "Um… I know that you want to get there in a hurry, but since this thing is fast as it is, maybe we should just keep it at…"

"GO!" The Blue Falcon then went as fast as a certain blue hedgehog, maybe faster. Nami began to scream her lungs out, while Robin didn't seem to notice as she was still reading her book. The Blue Falcon went off like a flash as Jody came out of the base and slaps her forehead upon the trail of fire left by it.

"I forgot to tell him to not to use his boosters around here. I guess I should clean up the mess." Jody said as a couple of robots started to extinguish the fire. John then quickly comes out of the base, panting heavily.

"Is… -pants-… Falcon gone?" John asked.

"Yes, he is? What is the problem?" asks Jody.

John then took in a deep breath and calms down. "We fixed the monitor and we saw the location of the heart. But it was weird."

"What do you mean?" Jody asked curiously.

"It showed that the heart was right in front of this base." John said, which surprised Jody.

"What!? But how can that be?" Jody asked. "Wait a minute, I think I get it now." John was curious on what she was thinking.

"Come on, John. We must secure the town just in case something happens." Jody said as she rushed back to the base.

"Y-Yeah! Wait for me!" John said as he catches up to her.

Meanwhile…

Back at the Dark Maximillion, Black Shadow sits in his chair, having a frown on his face. Blood Falcon was standing next to him, still holding Chopper's pants. Chopper was still in the small cage, looking at his surroundings to see if there was a way out. "Just where is Zoda?" Black Shadow asked impatiently.

"Maybe he got caught." Blood Falcon said.

"If he did, then he will surely regret it." Black Shadow said, clenching his fist angrily. The door of the room then opened as Blood Falcon and Black Shadow turned around to see Zoda, who got on the rails of the long spiraled staircase and went all the way down to the floor. "You better have a good excuse for being late, Zoda." Black Shadow said, with a frown.

"My apologies, Sir Black Shadow. But I had to deal with Falcon and his group of circus freaks." Zoda said. "Those guys are tougher then we expected. They have supernatural powers that any person would have."

"I expected as much." Black Shadow said while getting up from his chair. "By seeing this creature transform into a something else, I would presume that the rest would be like him."

"You are not going to get away with this!" Chopper yelled angrily. "Luffy will come here and rescue me!"

"Rescue you? Mwa ha ha ha ha! Dont be ridiculous, child. Him and the rest of your friends will be dead by the time they get here." Black Shadow said cruelly.

Chopper growled at this as Black Shadow looked back to his men. "They are sure to be on there way here. Zoda, tell me about there abilities."

"Of course." Zoda said. "One of them can stretch his body, one can use three swords at the same time, one can create slippery floors, the other has a freaky eyebrow and has powerful kicks, this one lady can grow hands out of places, and a guy with no pants can shoot stuff out of his wrist."

Black Shadow raised an eyebrow, he never heard of such people like that before. "Is there anything else?"

"Well there is this one guy, but I got knocked out by him, so I don't know what he really does." Zoda said.

"Hmm… I guess that will suffice for now." Black Shadows said as he looks away. "Let us begin our arrangements for the big day I have in store for the people in Mute City." Black Shadow was about to go to his chair, until he heard a noise from behind.

"It seems that you are still alive, Shadow."

Black Shadow frowned and turns around. "Who dares to barge into my… uh!? It cant be!" Black Shadow said in fear. Blood Falcon and Zoda were on their backs, moving away from the intruder, standing in the shadows. He slowly walked out of the shadows, causing more fear to Black Shadow and his men.

"W-W-Who is that!?" Chopper whimpered upon looking at the intruder. He is almost as tall as Black Shadow, only that he looks more threatening. He appears to be a half human, half robot kind of person. He has a red and black robotic body and roundish yellow and black shoulders with green orbs in the center, not to mention a big cape on his back. His eyes are as yellow as the sun, his face completely red, and is breathing through some kind of gas mask. The creepy thing about him is that instead of having a regular robotic head, he has see-through glass, showing his actual brain inside.

"What are the odds that I find you alive, Shadow?" The intruder asked with a low and sinister voice.

"M-Master Deathborn." Black Shadow said, backing away in fear. "I-I-I didn't expect you to be here, since I was told that you were dead."

"Have you forgotten that I am immortal, Shadow?" asked the sinister man known as Deathborn. "Did you really expected that Falcon could get rid of me so easily? You underestimated me."

"N-No, I didn't mean it like that." Black Shadow said, walking backwards away from Deathborn, then standing next to Chopper in his cage. "I meant that in a good way. I would never insult…"

"SILENCE!" Deathborn yelled so loud, that stroke fear into Chopper and Black Shadow, along with his men. "It has taken quite some time for me to come back and yet I still see that this pitiful town has not changed one bit. I could still feel the wretched joyness in peoples' hearts and it dissatisfies me ever so."

"I-I know how you feel about that, sir Deathborn. That is why I plan to destroy Mute City by releasing a bomb I created into its core." Black Shadow said, hoped that he amused Deathborn. That wasn't the case here as Deathborn grabbed Black Shadow by the neck and lifted him several inches up in the air.

"Do you honestly think that just by destroying one town would satisfy me!?" Deathborn asked as Black Shadow couldn't breathe. "I don't only want that town along with the people there destroyed, I want this whole galaxy to go down with it!!"

"Ack… Yes, of course… -cough-. Please… just give me some time.. and I'll surely fulfill your request.." Black Shadow grunted out as best as he could. Deathborn then lets go of him, making Black Shadow to fall on his knees, breathing heavily.

Chopper was stunned with fear upon witnessing this. " Unbelievable… He is so cruel. He scares Black Shadow like he was nothing ." Chopper thought. Deathborn then notices Chopper there. " Oh no! He is looking at me! What do I do!?"

Deathborn then started to walk away, making Chopper a little calm. He walked right by Blood Falcon and Zoda, who instantly got away as he got close. "I will head back to the underworld and await for the destruction of this galaxy by nightfall." Deathborn then looks back at Black Shadow over his shoulder. "You better succeed, Shadow, or I'll make you sure you'll never be found again!" Deathborn then teleports away, leaving Black Shadow and his men be.

Black Shadow gritted his teeth before he stands up and angrily looks at his men. "Zoda! Strengthen the bomb's capacity. I want it be as powerful enough to destroy everything!"

"Y-Yes sir." Zoda said, as he quickly leaves.

"Blood! If Falcon and the creature's friends shows up, I want you to give them a welcome they never forget!" Black Shadow yelled.

"Yes, Master!" Blood Falcon said as he left as well. Black Shadow then sits on his chair and turns on the monitor, showing his F-Zero vehicle, The Black Bull.

"If a big explosion is what Master Deathborn wants, then a big explosion is what he will get!"

Meanwhile…

"EEE EEE EEE EYY YYY YYY YYY YAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AHH HHH HHH HHH HHH HHH HHH HHH HHH!!!"

The Blue Falcon was going through the streets like a rocket, making sharp turns when needed to and going up and down some slopes. Nami was in complete fear. Tears pouring out of her eyes like a waterfall, and her screaming could shatter glass. "WE'RE GOING TOO FAST!! WE'RE GOING TOO FAST!! WE'RE GOING TOO FAST!!!! WE'RE GOING TO FAAAAaaaaAAAAaaassSST!!!"

Captain Falcon then made a sharp turn to the right, making Nami hit her head. Nami was too busy screaming she didn't felt the pain. Robin, on the other hand, was calmly reading her book, as if nothing was really happening. "FALCON! SLOW DOWN!!"

"It is impossible to stop now!" Captain Falcon replied. "Besides, we must rescue Chopper as soon as possible!"

"But can't you atleast slow down a teensy bit!? I don't know how long I can take this!" Nami shouted even more.

"This is nothing compared to what it will be like once we enter Black Shadow's territory." Captain Falcon said. "Besides, Luffy and the others went the long way there. We will be taking the shortest and safest way."

"Well… I guess that does seem better." Nami said, trying to keep her calm. They then were heading straight into the fork of the street. The left direction was closed, having multiple signs that said 'Do not enter' or 'Under Construction'. Despite those warnings, Captain Falcon drove right past them. Nami frantically looked back and forward from the side window, wondering why Captain Falcon just did that. "What are you doing!? That sign said to not enter!"

"That was just Black Shadow's way to prevent any intruders." Captain Falcon said. "We have now entered his territory. Get ready, ladies."

Captain Falcon then drove up a slope. At the end of the upper slope, Nami could see various of gaps down below. Below this dangerous road was nothing but clouds. Nami was completely petrified, as the Captain Falcon drove down the slope in full speed.

"!!!!!" Nami screamed as Captain Falcon drove over the gaps, landing hard with every landing. Once that ended, the road was starting to get thinner the more Captain Falcon drove. Nami closed her eyes as Falcon quickly saw another road to his left. He did a sharp turn to his left, moving his Blue Falcon of course and was now in midair. The Blue Falcon managed to land on the road and continued on.

"How can you drive like this!? This is insane!" Nami yelled.

"You are talking to the No. 1 racer. There is no such thing to intense for me." Captain Falcon said. Nami rolled her eyes and then noticed that they were being followed by red vehicles. "It looks we are being followed. Hold no, ladies!" a red vehicle drove next to Blue Falcon and tries to knock the Blue Falcon over. Captain Falcon grunted as the vehicle hits him. Before it could do that again, Falcon drove away from it, causing the driver to almost lose his maneuvering. Captain Falcon then took the opportunity to ram him, causing the enemy driver to completely lose his maneuvering and fly out of course, sending him to fall to his death.

Two more vehicles then showed up around the Blue Falcon's side. They tried to smash the Blue Falcon like a sandwich. This tremendously damaged the Blue Falcon as the vehicles backed away and tried to smash it again. Falcon however, did a strong brake, making the vehicles go ahead and accidentally smashed eachother, sending them flying off course afterwards.

Three more vehicles showed up behind the Blue Falcon, only this time, There were thugs ready to jump on Falcon. Falcon noticed this and opened the cockpit while the Blue Falcon was still going. "Nami, get on the wheel! I'll take care of them."

"WHAT!?" Nami yelled as Falcon got on his vehicle. Nami quickly went ahead and grabbed the steering wheel. One of the thugs jumped towards Falcon, who grabbed him and tossed him right through his partner's windshield, making them crash. Nami tried her best to keep going straight, but she keeps snaking the vehicle left and right, repeatedly. Falcon had no trouble keeping his balance as two other thugs jumped on his vehicle and charged at Falcon. Captain Falcon ducked under a thug's right fist, before lifting him up and throwing him back to the road.

The other thug swung his left fist at Falcon, who ducked and stood at the opposite end of his vehicle. Captain Falcon then got startled upon something in his view and quickly jumped. The thug got curious and turned around, only for his face to get hit by an unattached lead pipe that was hanging from a damaged road from above. The thug went flying off of the Blue Falcon before Captain Falcon perfectly landed on it. Nami quickly got back to her seat as Falcon took control of his vehicle again.

"Man… how much further?" Nami asked, exhausted from yelling.

"We are almost there now." Captain Falcon replied. He then noticed a blockade that was strong enough to hold the Blue Falcon back. Captain Falcon grinned and placed his hand on a sliding lever. "BOOST FIRE!" Captain Falcon pulls the lever, causing the Blue Falcon to spin in a fast rate, creating a blue fire around it. The Blue Falcon went right through the blockade, leaving a huge hole in it. The Blue Falcon stopped spinning and continued on forward.

Nami was semiconscious after experiencing that. Robin however, was still reading her book, not noticing anything. "Luffy will pay dearly for this…" Nami said, almost out of air.

"There it is, ladies. The Dark Maximillion." Captain Falcon said as Black Shadow's base was in clear view.

"Oh, thank Enel." Nami sighed in relief. But Captain Falcon wasn't decelerating. "Why aren't we stopping?"

"There is no other choice but to barge in there with full force." Captain Falcon said, keeping a straight face.

"That is absurd!!" Nami yelled. She then noticed a ramp that was facing to the lair. "You gotta be kidding me!! Please, tell me you are kidding!"

"Here we go!" Captain Falcon yelled as he went up the ramp and flew right towards the lair.

"EEE EEE EEE EEE EEE EEE EEE AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA HHH HHH HHH HH HH HH HH HH!!!"

CRASH

The Blue Falcon went right through the wall of the lair, crashing through other walls inside. The Blue Falcon then went to a complete stop, ending up in the middle of the hall. The cockpit opened as Nami quickly got out and kissed the ground with great relief. Captain

Falcon got out of his vehicle and placed his hands on his hips. "Well, that turned out better than I expected. I thought it would be more dangerous, but everything turned out alright, ha ha."

KAPOW

Captain Falcon crashed to the ground face-first with his butt facing up after getting hit really hard by the furious Nami. "No it was not!! I thought I was going to die!! You stupid extremist! I told you to slow down!" Nami yelled furiously. Captain Falcon groggily gets up, rearranging his helmet after that devastating blow. Robin, who was done reading her book, got out of the Blue Falcon and walked up to them.

"It seems that we are already here." Robin said.

"You just noticed that now!? Uh… I got a headache." Nami said while massaging her forehead.

"We…" Captain Falcon began to say, only that he almost lost his balance from the punch earlier. "We should get moving now. Black Shadow already knows we are here."

They began to run through the halls, until a sound could be heard. "What was that?" Nami asked.

"It sounded like a trigger of some sort of trap just activated." Captain Falcons said while putting his hand around his chin.

"Oh great, it better not-AHH!!"

"What is it!?" Captain Falcon asked as he turned around, only to see Nami and Robin were no longer there. "Nami! Robin! Where are you!?"

"Down here…"

Captain Falcon looks down and saw that Nami and Robin have fallen in a hole. They were only half way in though, due to their chests touching eachother, keeping them from going down. "This is the WORST day of my life." Nami exclaimed.

"How did you two get stuck like that?" Captain Falcon asked.

"Who cares!? Get us out!" Nami asked, blushing with embarrassment, while Robin didnt seem to mind.

"Hold on, I'll get you out of there." Captain Falcon said.

"Not so fast, Falcon!"

Captain Falcon turns around and saw Blood Falcon, standing on the second floor of the hall. "Blood Falcon! You did this!"

"Of course I did, who else?" Blood Falcon asked. "Although, that was meant for you, but I like this so much better." Blood Falcon was staring at Nami's and Robin's predicament, grinning with delight.

Nami could only blush more. "Blood, you are the one who kidnapped Chopper and I'll make you pay for it!" Captain Falcon said.

"Ha ha ha ha! Words don't mean anything to me! If you want to fight, then come and get me, Falcon!" Blood then runs away. Captain Falcon leaped up to the second floor and chases after him.

"HEY, WHERE DO YOU THINK YOUR GOING!?" Nami yelled uncontrollably. "YOU NEED TO GET US OUT OF HERE FIRST!!! OI, ARE YOU LISTENING TO ME!? COME BACK HERE OR I'LL MAKE YOU REGRET!!! OI!!!! COME BACK!!!

Preview: This place is so weird looking. I wonder how it looks on the inside? I wish can drive again… Next time on One Piece: A Smash Adventure; Chapter 47: A clumsy assault, Falcon vs Falcon. I am gonna be the Pirate King!

There you have it, the actiony part has begun. Those two will be stuck for a while, but I dont know for how long. Hope you liked that part, game2002. See ya!

F Zero Pt 10

Sorry I took so long. I have this irritating report I had to do in English class and I really hate those. Oh well. I dont know if this battle turned out okay, but I did what I could. Enjoy!

What a ride. Captain Falcon has called his Falcon Flyer to take the male Strawhat crew to Black Shadow's lair. The females however, went to travel with Captain Falcon instead. Captain Falcon used his superb driving skills to get to Black Shadow's lair as fast and safest as possible. Despite all that, Nami almost suffered a heart attack and blames Captain Falcon for it. That wasn't the end of her troubles though as she, including Robin, fell midway down a hole and are now stuck. Blood Falcon then appeared, provoking Captain Falcon to chase him, leaving Nami and Robin stuck. Will they get free? And will the rest be able to get to the lair as well?

Chapter 47: The clumsy assualt, Falcon vs Falcon

The Falcon Flyer were passing through some sort of canyon at a fast rate, but it had no trouble getting past a couple of boulders and such. Zoro, Sogeking, Sanji, and Franky were just awaiting until they arrive at Black Shadow's lair. Luffy, on the other hand, still has his eyes locked on to the steering wheel.

"Are we there yet?" Franky asked.

"Does it look like we are there yet?" Sanji asked bluntly. "Just be patient, we'll get there eventually."

"Of course, Sanji-kun." Sogeking said. "Once we arrive, we will rescue Chopper-kun from that evil man that I have no attention of fighting with."

"No surprise there." Franky said.

Sogeking stumbled and looked at Franky with a stern face behind his mask. "Franky-kun, your insults will not affect me in any way. I can defeat anyone with just a single touch of my palm, but I refuse to use such great power against someone due to my heroic ways."

"Whatever." Franky said.

"Oi, Sogeking." Zoro said while looking out the window. "Do you really need to do this now?"

"Hmm? What do you mean?" asks Sogeking.

"The fact you are doing this because of the incident with Chopper." Zoro said. Sogeking was sort of shocked at first, but didn't say anything about it. "Look, we know that it was just an accident and Usopp had nothing to do with it. So suck it up already."

"Whuh? I am not upset. What makes you think I am upset?" Sogeking asked, pretending to be cheerful. "Usopp-san has no remorse for what has happened. He just simply needs time for himself, that's all."

Zoro didn't say much after hearing that. For some reason, Sogeking, or Usopp felt rather upset about what happened to Chopper, but he knows that he must save him no matter what. Sogeking then tried to cheer everyone else up by changing the topic.

"Ahem… would you like to hear about my weapon 'Kabuto' special techniques?" Sogeking asked with sparks of heroicness around his face. "You see it is quite simple really, It has the power to…"

"Not really interested right now, so be quiet." Sanji said, smoking a cigarette. Sogeking then folded his arms and stayed quiet. While this was all going on, there was something following them. It was an orange F-Zero vehicle with green zigzagged lines at the sides. The one driving this F-Zero vehicle was none other than Samurai Goroh.

"Green headed warrior, your time with those blades are nearly up." Goroh said with a straight face, making sure that the Falcon Flyer is not aware of his presence. A couple of minutes have passed and the male Strawhat crew were still not there yet.

"Bro… this thing may be fast, but we are still not there yet." Franky said.

"We'll get there sooner or later. Quit whining." Zoro said.

"I am not whining. Men like me don't whine." Franky said.

"In denial, aren't we?" Sanji asked.

"You stay quiet, bro. I know how much pain you are in deep inside for orange head and Robin not being here with you." Franky said, pointing at Sanji.

"Bah, you don't know anything." Sanji said. He was actually daydreaming about Nami and Robin in bikinis, resting with Sanji in a soft bed. Sanji was having so much fun imagining it, he was puffing out heart shaped smokes, but almost choked afterwards. "Ahem… anyway, maybe we should talk about something else to pass the time."

"What should we talk about?" Sogeking asked.

"I don't know… maybe about that magic trick that irritating magician" Sanji said. While they were communicating about that, Luffy still had his eyes on the wheel, ignoring everything his crew have said. Luffy could only hear the heart beats from his chest. His hands started to sweat moderately, his eyes were getting a little red, his mouth drooling with excitement. Luffy grasped his knees with great anxiety, wanting to drive again, just like back in the simulation room.

"He did that kind of stuff!? That guy is crazy." Franky said.

"I know. I would never forgive that man for such crucial acts with those pretty ladies." Sanji said, remembering the magic show back in the pokemon world.

"Amazing on such things maniacs can do, right Luffy-kun?" Sogeking asked. Luffy did not reply. His eyes were hidden beneath the shadows among the helmet he still has on. "Luffy-kun?"

"Oi, Luffy. What is wrong with you?" Sanji asked.

"I…"

"Hmm?" Zoro said, looking at Luffy.

"I… must…"

"Eh? What are you trying to say, Strawhat?" Franky asked.

"I… must… d…"

"D? Just say it, man." Sanji said.

"L-Luffy-kun? Are you feeling okay?" Sogeking asked, a little nervous the way Luffy was acting. During that, Black Shadow's lair is finally coming up to view. Zoro, Sanji, and Franky got aware, while Sogeking was still worried about Luffy.

"It looks like we are finally here." Zoro said.

"Good, now we can save the emergency food supply from danger." Sanji said, straightening his tie.

"Ow! I am gonna go supaaa on all of their faces!" Franky said excitedly.

"D… d… d…"

They looked back and saw that Luffy now has foam coming out of his mouth like a mad animal. Sogeking backed away as Luffy then got up with his hands in the air.

"I MUST DRIVE!!!!!" Luffy exclaimed. He leaps to the steering wheel, passing his surprised crew. Once he grabbed the steering wheel, he repeatedly turns right and left, snaking the Flyer to the lair.

"Automatic pilot has been disabled. Manual overdrive is online." said the computer of the Falcon Flyer.

"Give me the wheel, Luffy! Give me the wheel!!" Sanji yelled trying to pull Luffy's hands off the wheel, but to no avail. Zoro and Franky helped out, but still didn't make much of a difference. The Falcon Flyer was moving out of control, bringing confusion to Goroh.

"What in blazes is going on in there?" Goroh asked. The Falcon Flyer then reached to the roads where nothing but clouds lie below. Sogeking was at the back, afraid of getting near to Luffy, who was completely insane at the moment. Franky grabs Luffy around his hips and pulls Luffy back. Franky looks back and sees that even though he managed to pull Luffy back, his hands were still on the wheel.

"Come on, Marimo! Pull!" Sanji yelled, trying to pull Luffy's hands off the wheel, as well as Zoro.

"Don't tell me what to do!" Zoro replied. Sogeking then turned completely blue, seeing some in the road that he wished it wasn't there.

"L-l-l-l-l-l-l-l-l-loop!!! Big loop ahead!!" Sogeking yelled, pointing forward. Sanji and Zoro stopped pulling, and saw that the road has an enormous loop. Everyone, except for Luffy, had their eyes popping out of their heads as the Falcon Flyer went up the loop. "YAAAAAAAAAAHHHHHHHHH!!!!" Sogeking cried, jumping to Franky in fear, causing Franky to let go of Luffy's body making it snap back the way it was. Zoro and Sanji fell all the way to the back with Sogeking and Franky were, while Luffy managed to keep driving.

Once they have reached the midpoint of the loop, they started to go down fast. This caused Zoro, Sanji, Sogeking and Franky to fall forward to the windshield, crashing face-first on it. The loop finally ended, making them land on their seats and Luffy to drive insanely again. Luffy was so focused on this, he didn't realize that he stepped on a red button on the floor.

"Emergency seat ejection has been activated." the computer voice said as the roof of the Falcon Flyer opened up.

"Oh you gotta be kidding me…" Sogeking whimpered.

"Have a nice flight." the computer voice said before the rockets under there seats blasted them up in the air. They all flew in different directions, with only Zoro flying back to the canyon.

"Hmm!? Don't you think you can escape from me!" Goroh yelled as he did a u-turn, and chases Zoro there.

"Oi, how do you control this crazy thing!?" Franky asked.

"Just hold on! We are going to crash!!" Sanji yelled as they were headed to the lair and crashed right through the windows.

"AAA AAA AAA AHH HHH HHH HHH!!!" Sogeking cried as he crashed through an upper floor on the lair instead of where Sanji and Franky landed. Two of some of Black Shadow's soldiers heard the crashes.

"What was that?" asked one of the soldiers.

"I don't know. But we better set the alarm." said another soldier as he ran to a wall and flipped a switch, causing an alerted siren go through the whole lair. The noise caused Luffy to snap back into reality.

"Huh? What happened? And where is everyone?" Luffy asked. He then realized he was driving and then saw a 'dead end' sign at the end of the road. "Uh oh! Um, let's see, how do I do this again?" Before Luffy could do anything else, the Falcon Flyer went through the sign and started to fall down.

"AAAAHHHHHHHH!!!" shouted Luffy as he went down through the clouds.

Meanwhile…

Blood Falcon ran through a dark hallway, being chased by Captain Falcon at the same time. "This chase is meaningless, Blood!" yells Captain Falcon. "Come back here and fight me like a true man!"

"Ha ha ha ha! You make it sound so noble, Falcon!" Blood Falcon yelled. "Besides, this place is not up to my standards. I am taking you to the perfect place where I can destroy you as slowly and painfully as possible!"

Captain Falcon grunted and then saw Blood Falcon enter through a light at the end of the hallway. Captain Falcon entered through the light and was now outside of the Dark Maximillion. He appears to be on a balcony, only there was a roof over one half of the thing. Blood Falcon was at the opposite end of the balcony, already in his battle pose.

"What do you think, Falcon? This place is perfect for creating chaos." Blood Falcon said.

"For once, I agree with you, Blood." Captain Falcon replied. "However, the only thing that will leave unharmed will be me."

"Quit daydreaming and die already!" Blood Falcon lunges at Captain Falcon. Captain Falcon jumps in the air too once Blood got close, and did a roundhouse kick. Blood Falcon did a handstand, and kicked Falcon's foot away, causing Captain Falcon to lose his midair balance. Captain Falcon quickly puts his hand on the ground, and backflips away from Blood, who almost smashed his Falcon's face with his fist. Blood Falcon then used his other hand to try, and hit Captain Falcon, but Falcon used his backhand to move it out of the way, and counter with a vertical kick across the Blood's jaw. "GUH!" Blood Falcon stumbled back as Captain Falcon jumped in the air above his opposite and raised his fist.

"RAPTOR BOOST!" Captain Falcon lowered his blazed fist down at Blood Falcon, who could only block with his forearms, but that didnt do much as he still fell hard to the ground. Blood Falcon quikly rolled back into his feet, and leaps to Captain Falcon, who was still in midair.

"BLOODY DIVE!" Blood Falcon grabs Captain Falcon in midair and then kicks him down, sending him ablaze, with fire that has a darker color than Captain Falcon's fire, to the ground. Captain Falcon groggily tries to get up, only Blood Falcon kicked him across the face while he was still down. Captain Falcon rolled across the floor before he finally managed to get on his knees.

Captain Falcon then charged at Blood Falcon, and delivered a right fist to Blood Falcon's face, who took the pain and countered with a right fist of his own, staggering Captain Falcon for a couple of nanoseconds before he counters with a left fist on Blood's shoulder. Blood Falcon grabbed his shoulder in pain as he then ducked, and tripped Captain Falcon to the ground with his leg. Blood Falcon spiraled up in air above Falcon and intended to smash him with his feet. Falcon rolled out of the way, making Blood to smash the floor, leaving a huge crack, as Captain Falcon then got up and ran at his clone. "FALCON KICK!" Falcon does a running blazed kick at Blood, sending him flying to a wall.

"Grr… not bad, Falcon. But I am just warming up! YAAHHH!!" Blood Falcon comes out of the wall and charges at his opposite. Blood Falcon swung his fist at Captain Falcon, who tried to block, but was surprised to see Blood miss on purpose, and received a knee to the gut.

"AH!" Captain Falcon fell to his knees as Blood Falcon then punched him to the ground. Blood Falcon raised his foot and tried to stomp on Captain Falcon, who grabbed Blood's foot inches away from his face. Captain Falcon then got up, and flips Blood onto his back. He then grabbed the other foot with his arm and arches his back, launching Blood face-first to a wall.

Blood staggered a few steps back from the wall, as Falcon gets to his feet, and does a double kick to Blood Falcon, sending him flying back. Blood Falcon managed to roll back to his knees as Captain Falcon leaped in the air above him and tries to attack him. "BLOODY BOOST!" Blood Falcon made his own version of Captain Falcon's Raptor boost and uppercuts Falcon across the chin. Captain Falcon spiraled upwards as Blood Falcon jumped towards him. He tried to grab Falcon, but Falcon quickly retaliated by grabbing Blood Falcon instead.

"FALCON DIVE!" Falcon kicks Blood Falcon down, sending him ablaze to the ground. As Blood Falcon was getting on his knees, Captain Falcon landed and gave a running knee to Blood's face, spiraling him to edge of the balcony.

"That is how you are suppose to attack with your knee!" Captain Falcon exclaimed.

Blood Falcon stood up after that devastating hit, and panted heavily. He then charged at Falcon, and shoulder barged him. Falcon rolled back, but managed to get on his feet, only to get shoulder barged again into a wall behind him. Blood Falcon backed away, and intended to do another shoulder barge, but Captain Falcon jumped over him, and kicked Blood upside his head with his heel before landing behind. Blood Falcon stopped himself from hitting the wall with his hands as he then turned around, and barely dodged his Falcon's fist.

Captain Falcon then punched at Blood again, who rolled out of the way, and got behind his opposite. Blood Falcon then tried to punch Captain Falcon, only he turned around just in time, and avoided the fist before doing a somersault across Blood's chin. Blood Falcon went flying up in the air as Captain Falcon jumped right in front of him. "FALCON KICK!" Falcon does a blazed kick at Blood, who somehow managed to dodge in midair. Captain Falcon landed and turned back to Blood, who has falling right towards him.

"WRETCHED KICK!" Blood Falcon kicks the floor near his opposite, creating a red shockwave across the balcony floor.

"AAAHHHH!!" Captain Falcon flew right out of the edge of the balcony, but managed to hold on to the ledge with both of his hands. Blood Falcon smiled cruelly as he walked up to his opposite, and stomps on his left hand. Captain Falcon hisses in pain as Blood was about to do that again, only he intentionally loses the grip on the edge of his left hand, making Blood to almost slip off the edge. Captain Falcon took the opportunity to grab the ledge with his left hand again and then kicks the bottom of the ledge, giving him the momentum to flip right in front of Blood, bringing him down. Blood kicks Falcon away and leaps at him, only Falcon jumped above him and stomped at Blood's back.

Falcon then jumped off of Blood, who got up and was now completely furious. "YOU DIE NOW!" Blood exclaimed before he repeatedly punches at Falcon. Falcon manages to block all of his punches, but Blood suddenly stops punching and kicks Falcon at his hip, bringing down his guard. Blood resumed his repeated punches at Falcon, only this time they were connecting to every upper parts of Falcon's body. Falcon stops Blood by ducking and uppercutting to Blood's gut. Blood keeled over while Falcon brought back his fist.

"FALCON…"

"Oh no you don't!" Blood Falcon takes out his stun gun and stuns Falcon's right shoulder, causing him to cancel his attack. Captain Falcon fell on one knee while holding his right shoulder in pain, while Blood Falcon stood up, and brought back his fist. "BLOOD PUNCH!" Blood does a devastating punch to Falcon, creating a fiery skull upon impact. Captain Falcon went flying back into a wall, creating a huge dust screen upon crashing onto it. The dust cleared and it showed Falcon, semi-consciously on the floor. Blood Falcon laughed upon seeing this.

"Ha ha ha ha ha ha! I knew you couldn't beat me." Blood Falcon mocked. His enjoyment was put to a halt when Captain Falcon stood up. "You still want to fight? How pathetic…"

"Even though that you may have the upper hand for the moment, it does not mean you will triumph." Captain Falcon said.

"Heh!" Blood then charged at Falcon at swung his fist at Falcon, who dodged and countered with a shoulder barge. Blood stumbled back as Falcon jumped and did a midair roundhouse kick at Blood. Blood went flying away as Falcon went running past him, and kicked blood with his heel while he was still in midair. Blood tumbled across the floor, but was able to roll back into his feet, and charge at Falcon while retrieving his fist back. Captain charged at Blood, retrieving his fist as well. When they got close, they punched eachother's fists, creating a huge blind light.

Meanwhile…

Nami and Robin were still stuck in the hole, unable to get out. "I completely hate this day." Nami said bluntly. "I hate this town, I hate this lair, I hate the fact that the STUPID FALCON LEFT US HERE TO ROT!!!!"

"You don't need to worry, Miss Navigator." Robin said. "I am sure that he will come back and free us from this predicament."

"I don't understand you! How can you be so calm at a time like this!?" Nami asked.

"We have been in more awkward situations before. This is no different." Robin replied.

"This is NOTHING like those situations!!" Nami yelled. "This one is the one I hate the most!!" Nami then tried to be calm, thinking of nice things like money and her friends, but mostly about money. "Okay, If we can stay calm, we can find the way out ourselves."

"What do you suggest we do?" Robin asked.

Nami looks around, but sees nothing but the dark hall. She then tried to move her feet and realized that the hole beneath her wasn't that thin. "If we can just budge inside a little bit, we might get unstuck and probably get out."

"But wont that make us fall down?" Robin asked.

"I prefer falling down then being stuck like this." Nami said. "Okay, ready? Go!" Nami and Robin budged a bit, smooshing their chests a little bit. They were slowly starting to get unstuck as Nami was almost starting to let her arm free. "Almost there…" Nami then successfully frees her right arm out of the hole. "Yes! Now the only thing left is…"

KABOOOOOOOM!

A huge blinding light came from out of nowhere, blinding Nami and Robin for the moment. This distraction caused them to fall down the hole.

"AAA AAAA AAA AAA AHH HHH HHH HHH!!!!" Nami cried as she was falling down the hole.

Robin was keeping her cool as she then saw a light at the end of the hall. "Oh no!" Robin crossed her limbs as Nami tried to see what was at the end of the hole. When they went through, there was nothing below but a bunch of clouds.

"AAAAAAHHHHHHH!!!" Nami yelled as she closed her eyes in fear.

"CUATRO FLUER!" hands appeared around the edge of the exiting hole, grabbing Robin and Nami by the feet. Robin sighed in relief and looked at Nami, who still had her eyes covered. "We are okay now, Miss Navigator. You can open your eyes now."

Nami opened uncovered her eyes, but obviously did not feel any better. "OH, THIS IS JUST GREAT!! FIRST WE WERE STUCK IN A GROSS WAY, NOW WE ARE UPSIDE DOWN!!! WHERE THE HELL ARE YOU, FALCON!?!?"

Back with Captain Falcon…

Blood does a horizontal kick at Falcon, who ducks and counters with an uppercut, but Blood evaded it, and countered with a horizontal chop, which Falcon blocked with his forearm. Falcon shoved Blood back, and does a somersault, but Blood backflipped in order to avoid it. Blood then tried to take out his disintegrater gun, but Falcon ran up to him and kicked the gun away from his hands, and uses his other foot to kick Blood. Blood staggered, but quickly jumped at Falcon. "WRETCHED KI-" Blood intended to kick Falcon, but Falcon stopped him by jumping above Blood.

"FALCON KICK!" Falcon kicks Blood, sending him ablaze. Blood somehow managed to land on his feet, even though he was on fire as he jumped to Falcon while he was still in midair.

"BLOOD BOOST!" Blood lowers his fist down at Falcon, causing him to crash to the floor in an instant. "WRETCHED KICK!" Blood then goes straight down at Falcon with his foot facing at him. Falcon rolled back to his feet and jumped in the air as Blood created another dreadful shockwave across the floor upon landing. Luckily, Falcon landed on Blood's face and jumped off of it, avoiding the shockwave's range. Blood landed on the floor with the back of his head, while Falcon quickly landed on his feet,and rushed towards Blood while he was still down. However, Blood raised his feet and kicked Falcon away, getting the chance to get up and punch Falcon while he had the chance.

Falcon stumbled backwards, almost unaware that Blood charged at him while holding his stungun. Falcon caught Blood's arm that had the stungun, using all of his strength to push back. Blood however, had a better leverage, pushing Falcon to the edge of the balcony. Falcon then got to his back, and threw Blood over his head, sending him flying off the balcony. Falcon got up and peered out the edge of the balcony, but couldn't see Blood. He was then taken by surprise as Blood appeared out of nowhere, and kicks Falcon in the chin. Falcon fell down as Blood landed on his feet back on the balcony, having his usual cruel smile on his face.

"H-How did you do that?" Captain Falcon asked.

"Oh Falcon, I just love that surprised look on your face." Blood Falcon chuckled. "Out there has a floating mechanism that allows anybody to bounce right back up here. You should try it, it's quite fun."

Captain Falcon gets up, not amused at all. "I don't have time for your foolishness, Blood. Where is Chopper?"

"Who? Oh, you mean that raccoon thing. Here is a part of him." Blood Falcon then takes out Chopper's pants, which made Captain Falcon angry.

"Where is he?" Captain Falcon asked sternly.

"He is with my master. He might be alive at the moment, but I don't know for how long." Blood Falcon said. "The only thing that worries me is that how I am going to make you watch him suffer as painfully as possible before you die with him. Ha ha ha ha ha ha!"

"Enough with this…" Captain Falcon then gave Blood a stern look. "I must finish you here and now!" Falcon charges at Blood, who thrusts his stungun at Falcon. Falcon dodged before grabbing Blood's arm, and throwing him at the opposite direction that Falcon was facing. Blood managed to recover by landing on his feet, and then turning around, only to see Falcon that raised his foot over him. Falcon lowered his foot on Blood's arm, destroying the stungun. Falcon then stood on his hands, and span with his legs extended, hitting Blood across the jaw. Blood recovered by landing on his hand, and back to his feet, avoiding a punch by Falcon, and countering by hitting Falcon's jaw with his foot.

Falcon staggered back, but quickly recovered by blocking an attack from Blood, and charged up his fist. "RAPTOR BOOST!" Falcon does a blazing uppercut, but he missed after Blood sidestepped away, and then elbowed Falcon in the face. Blood then tripped Falcon, and turned around to kick him in the face with his heel. Falcon recovered by landing on his hands, and flipping forward on his feet. Falcon then blocks a kick from Blood with his forearm and then counters with a kick of his own, but Blood blocked it as well. Blood grabs Falcon's foot, but before he could do anything else, Falcon swung his foot back while Blood was still holding it, swinging Blood off the balcony.

"Ha! No problem." Blood said as he suddenly jumped off of something that wasn't visible, causing Blood to go upward.

"I see it now." Captain Falcon said. "Those are anti-gravitational boosters. They are invisible to the naked eye. They prevent you from falling down any further. Those belong to the federation! I should have known you would steal some!"

"Quit yapping and get over here!" Blood said, jumping up and down on the devices. Falcon leaped for him as they then clashed their feet together. They then started to deliver punches and kicks at eachother, bouncing off the anti-gravitational boosters at the same time. Blood then jumps off one of them that was on vertical stance and leaped towards Falcon. Falcon air-dodged Blood, who jumps off another one and tackles Falcon from behind. Falcon spiraled to anti-device and bounces off, while Blood jumped off one that was on top and thrusts his feet on Falcon's gut. Blood smirked and finished his combo by bouncing off an anti-device below him and gave a devastating uppercut across Falcon's jaw.

"Guh!!" Falcon went flying right back into the balcony, crashing to the floor. Blood landed back on the balcony with his feet and folds his arms, enjoying the pain Falcon is feeling.

"Ha ha! It's useless! I know all of your moves, Falcon! You will never defeat me!" Blood laughed.

Falcon groggily stands up and looks at Blood while panting heavily. "You may know all my moves. But you have yet to see the technique that will take you down."

"Hmm?" Blood was almost curious on what Falcon had in mind.

Captain Falcon then crossed his limbs and crouches half way down, charging all the energy around him into his body. Falcon does a battle cry, creating a blazing aura around him. "FALCON SPIRIT!" Falcon was now covered in transparent flames, but no heat was coming out, nor vapor.

"So you can create an imaginary fire around yourself. Big deal." Blood Falcon said.

"I have yet to use this technique's full potential." Captain Falcon said before he pointed at Blood. "And when I do show it, you have already lost!"

Blood frowned as he then charged at Falcon, who stood still. Blood swings his fist, but Falcon ducks it, and delivers a vertical elbow to Blood. Falcon then delivered a fist to Blood's gut and then started to punch Blood repeatedly with his left hand. Blood staggers back with every punch he received until he rolled out of the way, and did a roundhouse kick at the back of Falcon's head. Blood smirked, but gasps as he realized that Falcon didn't even flinch upon receiving that kick. Falcon then knocks Blood off balance and charges at him. "RAPTOR BOOST!" Falcon delivers a blazing uppercut to Blood, sending him ablaze in the air.

Falcon then jumps above Blood. "FALCON KICK!" Falcon kicks Blood with his blazing foot down at the edge of the balcony. As soon as Blood used the devices to bounce back on the solid ground, Falcon landed on his feet and gave Blood a running knee to the face, sending him flying off the balcony. Luckily for Blood, the anti-device bounced him up back up, but this didn't put Blood at ease.

"What is going on? His moves are completely the same. So what is that imaginary fire for?" Blood asked himself. He then saw Falcon leaping right at him and couldnt avoid the double kick from him. Blood flew away and then was bounced back by the anti-device, quickly recovering and charging at Falcon, while charging his fist. "You may have survived this the first time, but the second time will be your last! BLOOD PUNCH!!!" Blood swings his fist at Falcon, with the image of a red skull being formed around it.

Falcon then grinned and concentrated the blazing aura around him into his feet. After he did that, he quickly dodged Blood's fist in midair. "WHAT!?" Blood was surprised that Falcon was able to dodge his most powerful move. Falcon then reappeared behind Blood jumping off the anti-device and tackling Blood to the balcony floor.

"Eh…" Blood stood up, and watches Falcon bouncing off the device, awaiting for Blood to attack him. "I think I get it now. That imaginary fire of yours increases the stats of the body parts you choose. By moving that fire into your feet, you were able to jump off the air and get behind me in a blink of an eye. But I suppose there is a catch to this, isn't it?"

Falcon keeps a straight, stern face at Blood, who laughed. "Ha ha ha! I can tell by that face of yours. In order for you to do something like that, you need to sacrifice some of your energy in order to increase a certain body part's stats. Meaning that a little fly can easily give you bruise. And I also suppose that spirit of yours doesn't last forever. Any moment now, you will be a lifeless puppet. Heh heh, What a waste of time and energy." Blood then makes a serious and angry expression. "Now I can squish you like the bug you are!" Blood leaps of the balcony and into Falcon.

Falcon concentrates his aura into his chest before getting tackled by Blood. Blood then punches at Falcon shoulder, causing him to cry in sheer pain. "ERRGH!!" Falcon counters by grabbing Blood by the shoulder, and throws him down to an anti-device. Falcon then concentrates his aura into his arms and legs as Blood bounced right back to him. Falcon thrusted both of his feet down at Blood, sending him down again while Falcon went up. "FALCON…" Falcon aims his feet at the anti-device with his feet "… BREAK!" Falcon bounces down at Blood, fast as a regular Falcon, crashing his forearms into Blood's gut. Falcon repeated this by bouncing of the same anti-device and crashing his forearms into Blood's gut. This procedure repeated about 3 more times.

"Grr… THAT'S IT!" Before Falcon could continue his assault, Blood kicks him away, cancelling Falcon's move. "I AM THROUGH PLAYING GAMES!" Blood then charges up his own body, creating a red aura around him. He bounced off the anti-device beneath him and headed straight to Falcon. "SEE YA LATER, FOOL!!! BLOOD EXPLOSION!" Blood crashes into Falcon, creating an enormous red explosion. The both of them were sent flying upward, with Falcon higher up. Blood almost felt unconscious, but was glad that he could defeat Falcon. "I did it!! I finally killed Falcon!!!"

"Not.. so.. fast!!"

Blood then looks at Falcon, who concentrated all of his aura into his right fist. "N-N-N-No! That is not possible!!" Blood exclaimed.

"It's now time to end this, Blood! And this will do the trick!" Captain Falcon retrieves his blazing fist, heading straight down to Blood.

"No! I cant lose! I never lose to anyone!!!" Blood yelled.

"FALCON…" The force of the wind blowing up his face, caused the helmet he has on to fly off his head "… PUUNNNCCCHHHH!!!! Captain Falcon delivers a heavy and very powerful Falcon punch to Blood's face.

"UUU UUU UUU UAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAH HHH HHH HHH HHH HHH HHH HHH HHH HHH HHH!!!!!!!"

KAA AA AAB OOO OO OOO OOO OOO OOO OO OOO OOO OOO OOO OOO OOO OOO OOO OOO OOO OOO OOO OOO OOO MMM

The explosion of the fist created a blazing Falcon that was 10x bigger than Black Shadow's lair as it spread it's wings in glory before fading away. As the explosion died down, Blood could be seen completely unconscious on the shattered ground, completely charred from head to toe. Captain Falcon picked up his helmet, and placed it back on his head. He then took Chopper's pants and grips on them tightly. "Chopper… I will save you!" Falcon then fell on one knee and rested.

Preview: Whuh? That was a really weird dream I had. I dreamt that I was some maniac driving like crazy, but I know that will never happen. Oh well… Next time on One Piece: A Smash Adventure; Chapter 48: A warrior's pride, Dont mess with the eyebrow. I am gonna be the Pirate King!

I completely made up the Anti-device thing just to let you know. I hope this battle turned out okay. Later!

OFF-TOPIC: I saw a little clip of the new One Piece Dub and I think it turned out pretty good. Cant wait till this Saturday!

F Zero Pt 11

Sorry I took so long, blame my school for that. This chapter should make up for my delayed time. Enjoy.

Falcon Punched! The male Strawhat crew were about to arrive at Black Shadow's lair, but unfortunately, Luffy went on a rampage and drove the Falcon Flyer out of control. Due to that, his crew was sent flying away to the base, except for Zoro, who flew back to a canyon. Meanwhile, Captain Falcon and his clone, Blood Falcon, dueled in the balcony. Using all of his strength, Captain Falcon won by giving Blood one of the most deadliest Falcon punches that ever existed, completely knocking him out. With Blood out of the picture, will rescuing Chopper be easier?

Chapter 48: The warrior's pride, Don't mess with the eyebrow

We are in the underworld once again, seeing that nothing much has changed since last time. The only thing different about it was that there was cruiser, with the front part being right through the ground. This cruiser is actually the Falcon Flyer, after the great fall it had earlier thanks to Luffy. Speaking of Luffy, he was knocked out somewhere near it. His body was on the rocky ground while his head was underneath a pile of boulders, which looks odd.

"Mmmmm… MM!?" Luffy regained consciousness, but when he realized that he was stuck, he began to frantically move his arms and legs. "MMMM!!! MM!!! MMMM!!!" Luffy then pushes the boulders off of his head and began to breath deeply. "Ah! Ack! Phew… I got out. Maaan, I thought my head would of been completely squished." Luffy then noticed that the Falcon helmet he was wearing was gone. "EEH!? My helmet! Where is it!?" He then saw the helmet, smooshed to piece due to the boulders. If it wasn't for that helmet, Luffy's head would've really been squished.

"Aww… it's ruined. Oh well." Luffy shrugs it off and gets up. He adjusts his hat on his head and then noticed the place he was in. "Hmm? Where am I anyway?" Luffy notices rocky cliffs and pools of lava almost everywhere. He looks up and sees the sky through a small hole. He figured that he must have crashed through there. The hole was the only thing that showed the sky; the rest were spiky lava rocks. The only thing advanced around this place was a racing circuit that was just in front of Luffy's view.

"Well, I cant just stay here. I might as well look for a way to get out of here." Luffy said as he then walked around the underworld. He walked through some stable boulders, until he got really close to the racing circuit. Luffy stretched his arms to the edge of the circuit and sprung himself up. Luffy landed on the circuit with his feet and looked at his surroundings once more. "If you want to go to the right way, then go right." Luffy said to himself as he then went to the right.

While he was happily walking through the circuit, a figure was watching walk by from above a big boulder, an evil figure. To be more precise, It was Deathborn, and he was not pleased to see someone in his territory.

Meanwhile…

"UUU UUU UUUW AAA AAA AAA AAA AAH HHH HHH HHH HHH!!!!!"

Zoro screamed as he then crashed to the red canyon, creating a dust screen. The dust screen faded, showing Zoro crashed face-first into a cliff. He pulled his face out of the cliff and angrily gets out of his chair. "That idiot! Acting like a complete maniac back there…" Zoro brushes the dust off of his clothing and realizes that he is back at the red canyon. "Great… now I have to walk all the way there. I guess I should get go…" Zoro then heard a sound a vehicle nearby.

He turned around and saw one heading straight for him. Zoro rolled out of the way just in time as the vehicle made a sharp turn and stopped in place. Zoro frowned and awaited for his attacker to come out. The cockpit of the vehicle opened up, but it was still to dark to see inside. "We meet again, Green headed warrior."

"Hmm?" Zoro said.

"You are highly skilled to make it this far. I admire you for that." The driver of the vehicle then came stood up. "However, you have reached into a territory you will find hard to escape from." The driver then leaped out of his vehicle and landed on one knee in front of Zoro. "This place.. is where I came to existence. This place.. is where everything I desire, comes here. This place.. is where you will meet your demise! Then the sunlight revealed that the driver was really Samurai Goroh. Goroh then started to hop on one foot, and then smashed his other foot down on the ground, moving his head in a circular movement.

"I, Samurai Goroh, will show you why I am greatly feared across the galaxy!!" Samurai Goroh exclaimed with great pride.

"…"

"…"

"…"

"…"

"…"

"… Who are you?" Zoro asked.

"GAH!?!?" Goroh was surprised to find out that Zoro has already forgotten who Goroh was. "How could you forget who I am!? We just met several hours ago!!"

"Oh, yeah. Now I remember you. Your the paper cutting man from the shop." Zoro said, scratching his head at the same time. "What brings you here?"

"Well, I thought I could just chill out and go to the beach or-NO!! What I really mean is that I came here to get those swords of yours!!" Goroh yelled, pointing at Zoro's swords.

"Eh? You are still with that? I told you before, they are not for sale." Zoro said.

"Heh heh heh! I am not planning to buy them from you anymore." Goroh said as he pointed at the sky. "The reason is, why should I buy them from you, if I can just simply win them from you?"

Zoro was kind of curious on what he meant.

"You see, this whole canyon here is my turf." Goroh began to explain. "And the rules are that once you step foot on my red canyon, you must race against me or I'll take your vehicle."

"I don't have one in case you didn't know." Zoro replied.

"Oh ho ho! I do know that, but I now declare that if anyone comes to the red canyon with swords that I am interested in, then that person must duel me. The loser must hand their blades to the winner." Goroh said, with a gleam coming out of his round sunglasses. "With that explained, I challenge you to a duel. The loser loses his swords. You will accept, right? Or are you chicken to face me?"

Zoro didn't say anything. Instead he unwrapped the bandana off of his left arm and wrapped on his head. "I don't back down from a challenge. If a fight is what you want, then a fight is what you will get." Zoro unsheathes one of his swords and held it with his teeth before unsheathing his two other swords.

"What is this? You use all of your swords at the same time? How unique.. but still not enough to defeat me." Goroh said as he unsheathes his sword and points at Zoro with it. "Consider yourself lucky that I don't like to kill off my opponents. Although, you should say goodbye to your pride while you still have the time."

"Why should I care about pride? I am a pirate afterall." Zoro replied with a grin.

Goroh grinned as well as he then charged at Zoro, and clashed swords with him.

Meanwhile…

CRASH!!

Sanji and Franky crashed right into the base, sliding across the floor. Thanks to the friction of the floor, they stopped, making them able to get out of their seats. "The next time we ride one of those things, Luffy must not be conscious."

"Deal." replied Franky. "Where are we this time?"

Sanji and Franky seemed to be in some sort of laboratory. There were different kinds of capsules, which are all empty, tables with viles, bunsen burners, and all that chemistry stuff at the other side of the laboratory. Lastly, there are some flowers near the exit.

"This place looks like where scientific geeks do their geeky research." Franky said, looking at an empty capsule.

"Shh.. something is not right here." Sanji said, looking at his surroundings.

"Wha? What's up?" Franky asked.

"This place is too quiet." Sanji said. "Keep your guard up." Sanji started to walk around the laboratory, while Franky continued to look at the capsules. Sanji slowly walks around, only hearing the sound of the steps he takes. Sanji's eyes widened all of a sudden and quickly looks up at the ceiling behind him, but there was nothing up there but pitch darkness. Sanji shrugged and continued to walk around. He noticed a door and opened it, revealing an empty bathroom. Sanji closes the door and walks away.

Unknown to him, there was somebody crouching on top of one of the ceiling pipes, grinning with great mischief. The figure turned out to be Zoda, awaiting for the perfect time to strike. Sanji walked up to a table, with several equipment. A report has got his attention. "'It took quite some time, but we were able to resurrect Black Shadow from his banishment that Deathborn caused.' Deathborn? The names people come up with these days."

Sanji turned the page and saw a picture of Deathborn. "Geh. Ugly fellow." Sanji commented before he noticed a sticky note next to the photo. "'Today we planned to bomb Mute City, but there has been a change of plans. Black Shadow ordered me to strengthen the bomb. It wasn't easy, but I managed to expand its proportions, making it strong enough to blow up the entire galaxy.' What the hell is this!?"

"YYAAAAAAAARRRRRGHHHHHHHH!!!"

Zoda leaps at Sanji from behind. Sanji eyes widened and quickly swung his foot at a 180 degrees, blocking Zoda's attack. Zoda jumps off of his Sanji's foot and backflips to his feet on the ground. Franky rushes to where Sanji was at and notices Zoda.

"You again!?" Franky asked.

"Eh ha ha ha! Welcome to my laboratory, you ingrates!" Zoda said, with a cruel smile.

"I thought I smelled a rat." Sanji said. "We haven't finished from what we have started back at the town."

"Ah, Mr. Dartbrow. Haven't seen you since you kicked me from behind. How cowardly of you." Zoda said, which made Sanji frown even more. "It's good thing you guys showed up. I was running out of guinea pigs for my experiments. You two will suffice perfectly."

"Drop dead, rat! Where is gorilla boy!?" Franky asked.

"Gorilla boy? If it is that reindeer you are talking about, then he is not here. And you wont be seeing him anytime soon. Eh ha ha ha ha!" Zoda laughed, which didn't amuse Sanji nor Franky. "Although, I can make you see him again. The only thing I have to do is kill you both!"

Sanji didn't like that remark and started to straighten his tie. "Franky.. go on ahead and look for Chopper. I'll deal with this rat."

Franky stared at Sanji, knowing what he has in mind. "Fine, but don't take to long, cook." Franky said before he rushed out of the laboratory, leaving Sanji and Zoda alone.

"Oooooh. Trying to be the tough guy now, aren't we?" Zoda asked.

"I'll teach you not to mess with me. I will rip you apart, and I will rescue Chopper." Sanji said, getting into his battle pose.

"Heh.." Zoda charges at Sanji, who jumped over him, making him cut the table in front of him with his own hands. "RAAGH!!" Zoda turns around, and started to thrust his finger tips at Sanji, who was avoiding every single one of them. Sanji swings his foot upwards at Zoda, who backflipped to avoid it and counter by throwing several objects at Sanji.

"EPALAGE!" Sanji jumps, and swings his feet so quickly, he literally cuts through the objects thrown at him. Sanji lands on his feet and does a horizontal kick at Zoda, who stood on his hands and blocks it with his knee. Zoda then started to get closer to Sanji by walking with his hands, swinging his feet at every direction at the same time. Sanji dodges, and blocks Zoda's attacks with his legs.

Zoda got back to his feet, and did a karate chop at Sanji, who ducked, and thrusted his foot at Zoda's face. "ARRGH!" Zoda stumbled back as Sanji was about to kick him again, but Zoda quickly recovered, and did a karate chop on Sanji's shoulder.

"Ahh!" Sanji grabbed his shoulder in pain while Zoda jumped in the air, and curled himself into a ball. Sanji rolled out of the way as Zoda landed on the floor, creating a shockwave. Sanji avoided the shockwave by running up a wall, and then jumping off of it, heading straight to Zoda. "QUEVE!" Sanji does a kick to Zoda's chest, sending him rolling back to a wall. Zoda got back up to his feet, and avoids another kick by Sanji. Zoda rolls forward and jumps to one of his flowers and throws one of them at Sanji.

"Eat this, Eyebrow!" Zoda yelled as the flower then opened it's mouth, and intended to bite Sanji. Sanji just kicked the flower away, but after he did that, Zoda quickly leaped at him. "DRILL-IZER!" Zoda started to spin sideways, turning himself into a living drill. Sanji barely avoided him, as the side of his ribs got caught by his attack, leaving a moderate sized cut. Zoda stopped spinning and slid on the floor before stopping completely. He then jumped to the ceiling, and leaped down at Sanji. Sanji looked up, and gave a harsh kick across Zoda's face. "Goooohhh!" Zoda flew right into a wall on his left, creating a small dust screen.

The dust screen cleared, showing Zoda getting up and running into a wall and then leaped into Sanji, who jumped away as Zoda punched the ground. Zoda zipped through the laboratory right and left, heading straight to Sanji, who charged at Zoda. "CUISSEAU SHOOT!" Sanji crouches down, and does a lower roundhouse kick at Zoda, who jumped to avoid it. Sanji then quickly jumps right up to Zoda, who swung his leg at Sanji, but Sanji blocked it with his foot. "COLLIER…" Sanji uses the same foot to kick Zoda, flipping him upside down in midair. Sanji then grabs a ceiling pipe and swings right to Zoda. "… MENTON!" Sanji does a devastating downward kick at Zoda's chin.

"Gyeh!!" Zoda crashed straight down to the ground.

Sanji landed on one of the capsules near where Zoda crashed, getting out a cigarette from his pocket. "You aren't worth my time. Just tell me where Chopper is,and then I'll leave you here in one piece." Before Sanji could place the cigarette on his lips, Zoda leaped out of the place he crashed into and tackled Sanji off the capsule. After Zoda pinned Sanji to the ground, he took out a knife, and intended to stab Sanji. Sanji quickly kicks Zoda at the back of his head, knocking him forward, and off of Sanji. Sanji flips up to his feet, and turns around to kick Zoda, knocking the knife off of his hand. Zoda got angry and quickly throw some marbles in front of Sanji, causing Sanji to lose his balance.

While Sanji was trying his best not to fall, while Zoda quickly runs to a box. He opens the box and pulls out a hilt. He pushes the button on it and a electronic whip came out of the tip of the hilt. Zoda grinned cruelly as he charged at Sanji. "Eat this!" Zoda swings his whip at Sanji, who barely dodges by jumping back.

"Dance, puppet, dance!!" Zoda repeatedly swings his electronic whip at Sanji's feet, making him jump back with every swing. Sanji was forced to a wall behind, getting Zoda a perfect chance to strike. Zoda diagonally swings his whip, which Sanji dodged before jumping towards Zoda. Unfortunately, Zoda somehow managed to tangle his whip around Sanji's leg, electrifying him in the process. Zoda then whipped Sanji right into a empty capsule, shattering the glass before he crashed inside. "Eh ha ha ha! Now I kill you!" Zoda retrieved his whip, but it did not bring back Sanji. Zoda got confused, and was about to check inside the capsule, but quickly stopped as broken glass from the capsule came flying right to Zoda.

Zoda quickly runs out of the way, but failed to realize that Sanji quickly outran him, and was now in front of him. "MUTTON SHOT!" Sanji does a powerful horizontal kick at Zoda's gut, forcing him to land on his hands and knees. Zoda angrily tried to swing his whip, but Sanji steps on his wrist, forcing him to let go. Sanji kicks the whip as Zoda took the chance to roll away from him, and throw another mutated flower at him. Sanji kicked the flower away, but as soon as he did, Zoda was no longer in his sight. "Come out, coward! You cant hide from me forever!"

"Eh ha ha ha ha ha! I am the least of your worries at the moment, Dartbrow." replied Zoda as his voice echoed through the entire laboratory. "Do you remember my precious flowers you have been kicking lately? Those were simply the babies. I would like for you to meet their parents!"

The ground shook, startling Sanji. "W-What the!?" An unblossomed flower came right out of the ground, and right infront of Sanji. As soon as that one popped out, another popped up behind Sanji. Sanji glared at the one in front of him as it started to blossom, although, there is a big mouth in the middle of it's pettles. The one behind Sanji also did the same as the both of them drooled with hunger. "This is no big deal. I have already faced off against a big flower before."

Meanwhile…

Zoro parried Goroh's attacks with his swords. Goroh managed to back Zoro into a boulder and intended to slash down at him, only Zoro jumped over him, making Goroh to slash the boulder in half. As Zoro landed on his feet, Goroh immediately turns around, and sends a horizontal cutting wave at Zoro, who jumped over it, and charged at Goroh by swinging his sword at him. Despite being moderately fat, Goroh backflips in order to avoid the attack and then lands on his feet in order to thrust his sword at Zoro, who parried with his sword on his mouth. Goroh continued to do multiple thrusts at Zoro, until Zoro slashed the ground in front of Goroh, creating a dust screen that caused Goroh to stop.

"How pathetic. Using such an attack in order to stop me. When I was your age, I had better methods of defense!" Goroh scoffed. Goroh expected a response from Zoro, but he didn't hear anything. As the dust screen started to clear, Goroh could barely see Zoro in front of him.

"ONI GIRI!" Goroh's eyes widened as he saw Zoro leaping straight at him. Goroh faces his sword in front of him, stopping Zoro's Oni giri move. Zoro and Goroh pushed eachother with their swords, not showing any sign of fear. They were pushing so hard, the floor they were standing on started to crumble. Finally, Zoro and Goroh released their holds, jumping away from eachother.

"I have to admit, you are a lot better than I thought." Zoro said, almost panting. "You were nothing like this back in the shop."

"Ha ha! I never show my true skills to anyone I just met." Goroh said. "The paper thing back at the shop was a fluke. I can actually make a paper lady if I want to."

"I don't really care about that." replied Zoro, catching Goroh off guard.

"W-What did you just say!? I'll teach you not to make a fool out of me!" Goroh charged at Zoro, swinging his sword vertically at him.

Zoro rolled out of the way, but Goroh quickly swings his sword horizontally at him. Zoro managed to push himself off the ground before Goroh could slash him. Zoro then landed on his feet, and quickly slashes at Goroh, who dodges by doing a spiraled backflip. Goroh landed on his feet, and retrieved his sword while still aiming his sword at Zoro. "RED SUN THRUSTER!" Goroh repeatedly thrusts his sword at Zoro, creating blurs of himself within every attack. Zoro did his best to parry every thrust delivered at him, but couldn't avoid the last one as he was sent flying straight into a boulder behind him.

Zoro grunted as he then saw Goroh intended to thrust at his face. Zoro quickly gets out of the way as Goroh impaled through the boulder, leaving a small hole with no cracks. Zoro took the chance to swing all his swords at Goroh, but Goroh quickly pulls his sword out of the boulder, and quickly blocks Zoro's attack. Goroh pushed Zoro back so hard, he went up a couple of inches in the air. Goroh grinned, but that quickly faded as Zoro retrieved both of his swords. "NANAJUU-NI POUNDOU HOU!" Zoro swings both of his swords, creating a moderate spiraled cutting wave at Goroh. Goroh didn't have time to dodge, so he took the hit head on.

"Errrgh!" Goroh slid across the the ground in pain, but that wasn't enough to take him down as he got right back on his feet. Zoro landed on his feet and was about to charge at Goroh, but Goroh took a stance by raising his sword over his head. "WAVES OF FURY!" Goroh lowers his sword, creating a cutting wave, which Zoro dodged. Goroh took one step forward and did another cutting wave at Zoro, only it was horizontal this time, but Zoro dodged it anyway. This process continued on as Zoro jumped from floor to floor, boulder to boulder, dodging Goroh's waves completely until he finally managed to get close enough in order to clash swords with him.

"USHI BARI!" Zoro repeatedly slashes at Goroh, who used his agility to dodge and block at the same time. Zoro ended his attack with a cross slash, making Goroh to lose his defensive position, leaving him wide open for an attack. "TORA… !" before Zoro could attack, Goroh used his left palm to push Zoro back. It didn't injure Zoro, but the force of his palm sended Zoro skidding back. Goroh turned his sword upside down before jumping above Zoro, facing his blade down at him.

"SUNSET PEAK!" Goroh goes straight down at Zoro like a rocket as he did a downward thrust at Zoro, who managed to parry it with his swords. The attack didnt end there however as Goroh landed on Zoro's limbs and jumped up in the air before repeating his attack again. This went on until Goroh did one last jump off of Zoro's limbs, jumping higher up than usual. Goroh then faces his legs up and points his sword right side up again and pointed at Zoro as he was heading straight down at him.

"TATSU MAKI!" Zoro created a tornado of cutting waves, which only lowered Goroh's velocity as he crashed right into Zoro, creating an explosion. As the dust cleared out, Zoro could be seen that he was on one knee, panting heavily. Goroh had his hands on his knees, panting heavily as well. They both got back into their fighting positions and struck at eachother again. Zoro does a combination of a vertical slash and then a horizontal slash at Goroh, who blocked the first attack and backflipped the second one. Goroh then spreaded his legs apart, and raised his sword up high with one hand, emitting a blue aura around himself.

"MOONLIGHT SLASHER!" Goroh charges at Zoro, swinging his sword at every direction at such a fast pace, you could barely see his moving arm. Zoro jumped above Goroh and retrieved his swords.

"TOU ROU NAGASHI!" Somehow, Zoro was able to get right through Goroh's slashing and leave several cuts around Goroh's abdomen.

"AHH!!" Goroh fell on one knee, holding his abdomen as it started to bleed a little. Goroh then angrily looks at Zoro, who looked behind his shoulder to look at him. "Eaahh… huh… err… fine. I guess I have no choice but to use that." Goroh said before getting up on his feet. "You will be the first to see my devastating and forbidden technique."

Zoro turned his body to face Goroh. "Heh. Well, then show it to me then!" Zoro yelled as he charged at Goroh without any second thought. Goroh simply stood there as he pointed his sword at the ground. With a flick of a wrist, Goroh's sword was then covered with fire, almost catching Zoro off guard.

"FIRE STINGRAY!" Goroh leaped at Zoro. The blade's fire then flew ahead of Goroh, creating a very dense firewall in front of him, which alarmed Zoro.

"I can't dodge that!" Zoro said before Goroh's blade impaled his shoulder. "GUAAAAHHH!!" The force of the thrust sended Zoro ablazed back into a back small boulder, shattering it to pieces. The dust cleared and it showed Zoro with several burn marks on his skin, especially on the wound Goroh gave him. "Ahh! My wound feels like if it was on fire. What the hell was that just now!?"

The fire wall Goroh created got smaller, and went back around Goroh's blade. "Ha ha ha ha ha! I am not surprised that you couldn't have dodged that." Goroh said while raising his sword in the air. "My sword is made out of a special mineral that could never be burned. So I developed a technique that allows me to use fire as a special asset in my battles. However, this attack is so devastating, it could ruin the atmosphere around me. But thanks to the Red Canyon's invulnerability to flames, I am willing to use this technique as much as I please."

Zoro grunts in pain as he tried to get up as Goroh raised his index finger. "Also, the name of this attack, 'the Fire Stingray', is also the name of my F-Zero vehicle." Goroh said proudly while pointing at his vehicle.

"I DONT CARE!" Zoro yelled angrily, which caught Goroh off guard again.

"Y-You!! I'll make you pay for saying that! FIRE STINGRAY!" Goroh created the firewall again, as Zoro prepared for impact.

Meanwhile…

Sanji leaped back as the carnivore flower slams it's head on the floor that Sanji was on. Sanji then leapt forward, avoiding the carnivore plant behind him as he then landed on the carnivore's, in front of him, head. The flower growled angrily as he tried to shake Sanji off of itself. It's partner tried to help by trying to bite Sanji, but Sanji jumped out of the way as it accidental bit his partner's head instead.

"What are you doing, you two!?" Zoda yelled. "Quit fooling around and eat him up!!!"

Sanji landed on a ceiling pipe, watching the flower, that bit his partner, removing it's mouth from it's partner head. The flower that got bitten angrily growled at it's partner before facing back at Sanji and lunging at him afterwards. Sanji jumped above it and kicked the flower on it's head, giving it a huge bump on it's head upon impact. After Sanji kicked the flower, he noticed the other flower lunged at him. Sanji jumped right at it's mouth and used both of his feet to prevent it from closing it on him. Sanji spreaded his legs so much, the flower's jaw was starting to feel like it was about to be torn apart. That didn't happen as Sanji noticed some saliva, coming from the flower's mouth, started to flow to Sanji. Some of it touched a part of Sanji's pants, which was completely burned upon touch. Sanji quickly got out of the mouth and lands on the ground with his feet. Sanji looks back and saw that the flower spat it's saliva on him. Sanji backflipped as the saliva melted through the floor. Sanji was so distracted with that flower, he completely forgot about the one he kicked earlier. He turned around only to be gobbled whole.

"Eh ha ha ha ha haaaa! Excellent! Now he is dead for sure!" Zoda said, excitedly. His cruel enjoyment faded away however as the flower seemed to be having trouble swallowing him. "What is the matter with you!? Swallow him now!!"

The flower then started to feel sheer pain inside it's mouth and it was forced to open it, letting Sanji to jump out of it. The flower's teeth were then starting to fall out of his mouth as well.

"He kicked it's teeth out!? It's teeth is supposed to be durable as steel. How can that happen!?" Zoda yelled maniacally, revealing that he was hiding under a table.

Sanji glared back at the toothless flower and jumped towards it's neck. "VEAU SHOOT!" Sanji does a deadly jumping kick that made the flower bleed from it's mouth. Sanji then backflipped and jumped towards it's chin. "ANTI-MANNER KICK COURSE!" Sanji does a powerful upper kick at it's chin, knocking it's head back. While it was on the back of it's head, Sanji ran up to it's neck and jumps above it. "BROCHETTE!" Sanji does a drill kick that literally drilled right through the flower's neck, killing it for good.

"AHHH!! NOOOOO!!!" Zoda yelled.

Sanji then looked at the other flower, who was gurgling some of it's saliva in it's mouth before spitting some at Sanji. Sanji sidestepped away from the flower's spit as he charged at the spitting flower. The Flower then spat out one big, bubbling chunk of saliva at Sanji, who was unfazed as he jumped up to a ceiling pipe as it impacted all over the floor. Zoda got on the table, as he pushed a button that opened some drain pipes and drained the saliva away. The flower had a dried mouth after doing that as Sanji leaped at it's head. "POWER SHOT!" Sanji delivers one powerful kick at it's mouth, sending the whole creature flying out through the hole Sanji and Franky crashed through earlier.

Zoda couldn't believe it as he frantically jumps off his table while Sanji landed in front of him. "My babies! How could you do this to my precious babies!? This is now personal, Stupidbrow!" Zoda yelled angrily.

"It was already personal when you made fun of my eyebrow. I'll make sure I finish you off before you use that explosive device of yours!" Sanji said with a stern face.

"Explosion? You want an explosion!? I'll give YOU an explosion!!" Zoda turns around and runs to a lever on the wall. He pulls the lever down, causing a siren to turn on. Zoda looked back at Sanji, having a nasty grin on his face. "Now you will see one of my greatest inventions of all time. You will see true art created by a genius!"

Sanji was unfazed as he awaited for something to happen.

Meanwhile…

We are back with Nami and Robin, who were still hanging upside down due to that explosion that happened a chapter ago. "I can feel all the blood rushing to my head." Nami said, trying her best not to look down.

"Try to look at the bright side, Miss Navigator." Robin began to say. "Atleast we aren't falling to our undeniable doom."

"WHY MUST YOU ALWAYS SAY THINGS LIKE THAT!?" Nami asked. Before she could get her answer, the siren could be heard, alarming the both of them. "What!? What is going on now!?"

The hole next to them then started to inhale a lot of air. The force sended Nami and Robin flying right back in.

"YYY YYY YAAA AAA AAA AAH HHH HHH HHHH!!! NOT AGAIN!!" Nami yelled as the force of the air then stopped, but they were still going up, they then reached back to the hole that they were stuck in two chapters ago, and it seemed that they were about to fly out, only they suddenly came to a stop. Deja vu seems to be happening again, only this time, their lower bodies are the ones that are out of the hole and their upper bodies are inside the hole, with their chests pushing in on eachother, keeping them from falling down like last time.

"It looks like we are stuck again." Robin said with a calm tone.

"WHY IS THIS HAPPENING TO ME!?! IT'S LIKE SOMEBODY PLANNED THIS STUPID THING!!! WHERE ARE YOU, FALCON!?!?" Nami exclaimed with great hatred.

Back with Sanji…

"Eh ha ha ha! Sorry this is taking so long. It's just that it needed some ventilation in order for it to get working." Zoda said as the wall behind him started to open up. Sanji had a surprised look on his face as he saw a very, very, very, VERY BIG cannon in front of him. The cannon included a gatling gun, a flamethrower, a grenade launcher, a laser, a missile launcher, a rail gun and a little water gun around it.

"Wh-What is that thing?" Sanji asked.

"Allow me to introduce my greatest weapon of all time; It is called the Super Powerful Aionic Neutronic Kilomatic Mega Exilerator!!

"S.P.A.N.K.M.E.? Can you be serious for once?" Sanji asked.

"I am very serious, Dartbrow. In fact, this thing is powerful enough to destroy a portion of a planet." Zoda said. "Of course, it will be crazy to use this, but since I am crazy, I see no excuse not to!" Zoda ran to the lever next to the cannon and pushed it down. "EH HA HA HA HA! YOU ARE NOW DEAD! EH HA HA HA HA HA!

Nothing happened.

Zoda had a confused look on his face and pulled the lever again, only to end up in the same results. "Come on! What's wrong with this piece of junk!?" Zoda frantically moves the lever up and down, expecting something to happen, but nothing did. Zoda angrily looked at the cannon and sort of figured out the problem. He opened up a plastic coverage next to an electric sign, and saw 2 double AA batteries. He had a dumb, and shocked look on his face as the batteries landed on his palm. "Batteries are dead…"

"What kind of a cannon runs with regular batteries!?" Sanji asked, backslapping the air.

"ERR!! Don't change the subject! I will still kill you with or without my cannon!" Zoda yelled as he leaned on the floor and grabbed hold of his ankles. "Prepare for the ride of your life! ZO-DESTROYER!" Zoda then started to spin in circles, creating a purple blur around himself. Sanji jumped out of the way as Zoda tried to crash into him. Zoda bounced off the wall he hit and went right to Sanji again, who jumped out of the way again. Zoda was now a living pinball, bouncing from every object he hits.

"Eh.. damn! I don't know how long I can keep this up." Sanji said, dodging Zoda yet again. "I'll have to wait for the right moment."

"Eh ha ha ha ha ha! It is useless! DIE!" Zoda bounced off from the ceiling and was heading straight for Sanji, who raised his right foot up. When Zoda got really close, Sanji thrusted his foot right between Zoda and his leather tube that was attached to him. "HUH!?" Sanji swung his foot up, whipping Zoda limplessly up in the air.

Sanji did several front flips before jumping right to Zoda from behind. "UN…" Sanji kicks Zoda at the back, sending him fly up even higher. Sanji jumped at the top of an empty capsule and jumped towards Zoda again. "… DEUX…" Sanji kicks Zoda's back with his other foot, sending him higher up. Sanji jumps to a ceiling pipe and then jumps to Zoda's back again. "… TROIS…" Sanji kicks Zoda's back with both of his feet, sending Zoda really close to the ceiling. Zoda could barely feel his back anymore as he started to fall down, while Sanji grabbed on to an horizontal ceiling pipe and started to swing several times before jumping right down at Zoda for the final time. "… OS' DONNER!" Sanji lowers his foot down at Zoda's stomach.

The force of the kick caused Zoda's spine to have several reactions, causing damage to all the bones in Zoda's body.

"GUUU UUU UUU UUU UUU UUU AAA AAA HHH!!!!" Zoda crashed right into a trash can, with his arms and legs hanging out. Zoda was semiconscious as he saw Sanji land on his feet. "Owww… that hurt sooooo much! Don't think you won the war! Black Shadow will destroy everything!"

"I don't care about what you think. The only thing you should be worried about now is that how you are going to spend your time in jail." Sanji said coldly while straightening his tie.

"You… PIGHEAD!! Uh…" Was the only thing Zoda said before he passed out in his trash can.

"Pighead, huh? Hmph… I guess you finally understood." Sanji said as he turned the other way. "Don't mess with my eyebrow." Sanji then walked out of the laboratory.

Meanwhile…

"Come on! I think I saw him go this way!"

Black Shadow's guards were running around the top floor, looking for the intruder that crashed right in. "I don't see him anywhere." said one of the guards. "Maybe he must have gone to the lower floors."

"Hmm… we might as well check downstairs. Men! We are leaving!" The captain of the guards said as they ran to the elevators and went to the lower floor. After they left, Sogeking peered his head out of a female bathroom.

"Why bother to have a women's bathroom if there aren't any women around here?" Sogeking asked. "Beh… I shouldn't worry about that now. I have to find Chopper and get out of here as quick as possible."

Sogeking tiptoed through the floor, even though that there was nobody there. Sogeking noticed a big door and went to check it out. Sogeking grabbed the handle of the door and opened it before closing it afterwards in a couple of nanoseconds. "phew.. nobody in there. Sogeking went to the door to his right and did the same thing, seeing nobody there too.

"Man.. such a big place, yet this place almost seem like it is deserted. Oh! I know now. They must have sensed my great power upon my arrival and fled as quickly as possible." Sogeking said to himself, giggling with joy. "Hee hee hee, they pretended to be looking for me when they are actually running away from me. I don't blame them of course, I am that famous across the galaxy." Sogeking's laughter then became weak. Telling himself these things wasn't really helping.

"I-I shouldn't think about such obvious facts right now. I must rescue Chopper." Sogeking bravely walked into a big, doubled door. He quickly opens the door and gets half way in. "Ha ha ha! Prepare to feel the great power of-OH MY GOSH!!" Sogeking entered Black Shadow's room. He noticed down the spiral staircase was Black Shadow, sitting on his chair and Chopper, who was still in his cage. Sogeking frozed upon seeing this.

"Hmm?" As Black Shadow turned around to see who it was, the door slammed shut, with no sign of Sogeking anywhere. "Huh.. I must be hearing things."

Back at the hallway, Sogeking was sitting on the floor while leaning on the door, panting heavily. "Man! That guy looks so much bigger in person. I can't face somebody like that; he'll crush me like an ant!." Sogeking continued to breath heavily until he realized something.

"But… If I don't go in there… Chopper might die…" Sogeking gripped his long slingshot tightly. Sogeking then looked back at the door.

Back inside Black Shadow's room, Black Shadow looked at the monitor, showing a gauge that was starting to fill up. "This is taking too long. Deathborn will kill me by the time this finishes. I must think of another way to destroy this galaxy."

"You wont get away with this!" Chopper yelled from his cage. "You'll see! Mr. Falcon and my crew are going to come here and kick your butt!"

"Kick my butt? Don't you realize that is out of the question. It is clearly obvious that your pathetic friends and that wretched Falcon have already died by the hands of my minions." Black Shadow said, getting up from his chair.

"NO! You're wrong! They wont die that easily!" Chopper yelled. "They are really strong, and they will always risk their lives to take down bad people like you!"

Black Shadow then frowned, causing Chopper to whimper a bit. "I have just realized how much of an annoyance you have been ever since you got here. Perhaps it is now time that I relieve you from your misery once and for all." Black Shadow walks towards Chopper, who shook in fear.

"N-No! Stay back! Somebody help me, please!" Chopper covered his eyes, expecting the worst.

"Stop right there, you fiend!"

The doors of Black Shadow's room bursted open, causing Black Shadow to turn around. "What!? Who goes there!?" Black Shadow asked angrily. Chopper opened his eyes and saw somebody he would have never expected to see again.

"SOGEKIIIIIINNNNNNNNNGGG!!!" yelled Chopper with tears of joy coming out of his eyes. Sogeking stood at the entrance, with his theme being heard in the background. Not to mention a bright light emitting behind, making it look like a flashy entrance.

"Who is this clown?" Black Shadow asked, angrily looking at Sogeking.

" Tee hee hee hee, the flash dials are emitting the light behind me. I bet this entrance completely scared the heck out of that guy ." Sogeking thought to himself before he cleared his throat, starting to speak. "Prepare to face justice at the hands of the man from sniper island, Soooooogeeeeekiiii-AAAAAHHHHHH!!!" As Sogeking took a step forward, he accidentally stepped on his mantle, causing him to trip. This caused his background theme to die down as he started to tumble down the long, spiraled staircase.

Preview: I don't remember ending up in some weird cave. Somebody must have left me here or something. Wh… what the!? Who is that guy!? Next time on One Piece: A Smash Adventure; Chapter 49: The battle of good and evil, Sogeking vs Black Shadow. I am gonna be the Pirate King!

Okay, I have a four-day weekend, so I might be able to update a little quicker next time. And I hope that is the way you wanted them to get stuck, game2002. Well, I'll see ya later!

OFF-TOPIC: Snake is funny. Also, Fox's landmaster is so HUGE!!

F Zero Pt 12

The power of fanboyism strikes again as Sonic has been confirmed for Brawl! Now I dont people to get their hopes up to see Sonic in this fic, so I am going to say this now. Sonic will not appear in this fic. I apologize, but I actually didnt expect Sonic to show up in Brawl and I already had this fic planned for a long time, so I really don't want to change anything. I hope you guys understand, but hey, if I happen to make a sequel of this fic, I will definetly put Sonic in it. Now that I informed you about that, lets get on with the battle between Sogeking and Black Shadow. Have fun!

Dont irritate the chef. Sanji and Franky crashed into Zoda's laboratory, with Zoda there himself. Sanji asked Franky to leave him so he can handle Zoda alone. Despite facing a maniac, his carnivorous flowers and his odd named cannons, Sanji defeated Zoda without breaking a sweat. Meanwhile, Sogeking found Chopper being held hostage by Black Shadow. With all the courage he had within him, he confronted Black Shadow by making a glamorous entrance, which didn't last that long after he fell down the stairs. Will Sogeking defeat Black Shadow and save Chopper?

Chapter 49: The battle of good and evil, Sogeking vs Black Shadow

We are back in the underworld, where is calmly walking on the racing circuit while singing 'the island' song. "Nyeeaahhhh.. The islands in the south are warm, Paina purupuru, Their heads get really hot, And they're all idiots!" Luffy sang happily, with not a care in the world. He then heard a sound from behind him. He looked behind his shoulder and saw nothing.

"Hmm? I thought I heard something.. oh well." Luffy shrugs it off and continues to walk on. Unaware to him was that Deathborn was keeping in eye on him. The more he looked at Luffy, the more it disgusted him.

"This boy… how did he get here? Bah… It doesn't matter. I'll just dispose of him." Deathborn said to himself as he teleported somewhere closer to Luffy, but made sure that he doesnt notice him yet.

"Second verse! The islands in the north are cold, Hyakkoi-koikoi, their heads shiver all around, And they're all idiots!" Luffy sang as he started to head into a tunnel. He then heard a sound of rocks shattering. He immediately turned around, but nothing seemed to be different. "That's.. weird." Luffy shrugged it off once again and continued to walk on. "Third verse! The islands in the east…"

Before Luffy could finish that verse, a violet orb came out of nowhere, exploding upon impacting on the ground a few feet behind Luffy. "AHHH!!!" Luffy got startled and fell face-first on the floor. "Owie… my nose.. what happened?" Luffy looks behind him and saw a stream of fire created by that orb a second ago. "This place is so weird. I gotta get out of here before something like that happens to me."

"I wont allow such thing."

Luffy got startled and looked at his surroundings to see who spoke. "Who is there? Are you a ghost?" asks Luffy.

"The only ghost around here will be you after I am through with you." Deathborn came out of the fire unscathed, completely shocking Luffy.

"O-O-O-Oh my gosh… you! It.. can't be possible..!" Luffy said with great fear.

"It seems you have heard of me by reputation." Deathborn said as he raised his hands. "Yes, I am Deathborn. I am the one who brings fear and chaos to all of those who are innocent and soft. Not to mention the worthless scum that only works for me who are not able to complete their tasks."

Luffy gulped in fear as Deathborn went on. "My purpose of existence is to wipe out all existence. And I will not rest until I put people like you through eternal hell. I don't know how you got here, but just by looking at you makes me sick. I will end your life the slowest and painful way I can…"

"YOUR BRAIN!!!" Luffy yelled out all of a sudden.

"What!?" Deathborn yelled, almost startled by Luffy's screaming.

"Your brain!! I can see your brain!!!" Luffy said while pointing at Deathborn's visible brain. "It's all gooey and icky! I have never seen an actual brain before in my life!! This is like the most scariest thing I have ever seen!!"

"Err… are you quite finished?" Deathborn asked. "Don't you realize the situation you are…"

"You must be an Arch-Nemesis!!" Luffy interrupted again. "Arch-Nemesis' always show their body parts to show how greatly evil they are! Of all the evil people out there, you must be the king! This is like the most exciting, yet my most scariest moment yet!"

Deathborn was getting irritated, but kept his cool as he tried to speak to Luffy again. "I can tell that you don't have much of a mental capacity, so I'll speak to you in words you may under…"

"Oh man! I am having so many mixed emotions right now, I think I am going to have a heart attack!" Luffy said, interrupting Deathborn yet again. "Oooooo, I can't wait to tell everyone about this! They think I'll be lying, but I pretty sure Usopp and Chopper will believe me. They will freak once I tell them about the crackhead-looking brainman I just met!

Deathborn was now furious. "YOU INSOLENT LITTLE PEST!!" Deathborn raised his right fist in anger, somehow causing the fire behind him to get bigger.

"AAAHHHHHH!!!" Luffy cried.

"I WILL PEEL OF YOUR SKIN, BREAK YOUR BONES ONE BY ONE, AND BANISH YOU TO THE DARK DEPTHS OF THIS PITIFUL GALAXY!!!" Deathborn yelled.

"That is something an Arch-Nemesis would say!! You are truly evil!!" Luffy yelled.

"ENOUGH!! DIE!" Deathborn lowers his fist down at Luffy, who rolled out of the way as Deathborn made a big crack on the floor.

"WOAH!! He is really strong!" Luffy said, shocked by Deathborn's strength.

"Stand still!!" Deathborn yelled before charging at Luffy.

Meanwhile…

"Oh! EEK! Ow! Oof! Dah! Guh! Yack!"

Sogeking was still tumbling down the long spiraled stairs. Chopper got worried, while Black Shadow was getting a little impatient.

"This is exactly why I had those stairs made. But this is rather taking too long." Black Shadow said while folding his arms. Sogeking then landed face-first to the ground. He then lifted his head up, with a bended nose and imaginary stars going in circles around his head.

"And remember kids, always be careful when going down the stairs. You might hurt yourself." Sogeking said drowzingly before he got back to reality. "Ow… Captain Falcon was right. Capes really do cause major accidents."

"Mwa ha ha ha ha ha! That was quite a show." Black Shadow said, grinning cruelly.

Sogeking straightened his nose before looking at Black Shadow, which startled him. "Dang! He is much bigger up close!" Sogeking thought out loud.

"Hmph… if you are here to die, you might want wait a couple a seconds. I just need to finish this one off first." Black Shadow said as he turned back at Chopper, who whimpered.

Sogeking then took a bravely stance. "I didn't come here to be one of your innocent victims, you fiendish scum! I came here to relinquish your foul ways and turn you in the name of what is right!

Black Shadow looked at Sogeking behind his shoulder, with a frown on his face. "Is that so? Tell me, how are you going to do that?"

"Isn't it obvious. I will defeat you in your very lair." Sogeking said.

"Mwa ha ha ha ha ha! You humor me with your silly antics. However, I don't have the time to for you, so maybe I should finish you off first." Black Shadow slowly walked towards, who was shaking in fear.

"O-O-Okay, Sogeking. Be brave and don't give up." Sogeking said to himself. "Besides, I have an ability that never failed me."

"Goodbye, fool!" Black Shadow raised his massive arm and began to lower it on Sogeking.

"SOGEKING…" Sogeking quickly squats down "… CHICKEN LEGS!" at a blink of an eye, Sogeking ran past Black Shadow before he could lower his arm at him.

"What!? He is fast…" Black Shadow looks behind his shoulder as he saw Sogeking running up to Chopper.

"Sogeking! How did you know I was in trouble?" Chopper asked.

"Whenever a friend is in need, I'll be there to help." Sogeking said bravely. "Now I got to get you out of here."

"Sogeking, watch out!" Chopper warned as he pointed at Black Shadow who speed walking towards Sogeking from behind.

"OH NO!" Sogeking quickly grabs the cage Chopper is in, and makes a run for it as Black Shadow destroyed the pillar the cage was on with his fist.

"It is useless to get away from me!" Black Shadow then started to chase Sogeking all over the room. Sogeking was running away from Black Shadow with his right arm around the cage Chopper is in. Chopper looked back and his eyes popped out of his head went he saw that Black Shadow was catching up to them.

"Sogeking! Do something! He is gaining on us!" Chopper cried in fear.

Sogeking barely heard that as tears were pouring right out of his goggles. "Come on! Please let me have something handy for this situation!" Sogeking looked into his bag and pulled something out. "Yes! Exactly what I was looking for!" Sogeking stopped running and turned around. "SOOOGEEKINNNNNNNNGGG…" Sogeking arches his back backwards in a dramatic fashion "… SMOKE STAR!" Sogeking drops a small explosive on the floor, creating a pink smoke screen to cover up the entire room.

"-cough-… That rascal!" Black Shadow said as he squinted his eyes to try and see through the smoke. While he was doing that, Sogeking placed the cage on the floor and grabbed his hammer from his bag. He then started to pound the cage open with the hammer, but it did nothing to it.

"I cant break this open. I need a key." Sogeking said.

"I think I saw that guy having it around his waist." Chopper said pointing to Black Shadow. Sogeking gulped, and turned around to see Black Shadow, who indeed has the key around his waist.

"Why must this happen to me…" Sogeking goes inside the smoke screen and slowly walks up to Black Shadow from behind. "I am right here!!" Sogeking yelled before quickly getting out of the way. Black Shadow turned around and punched where Sogeking's voice came from, but he only hit the floor. Sogeking quickly snatches the key from Black Shadow's waist and makes a run for it. Black Shadow had enough of the smoke and manages to find his desk.

He grabs a remote and pushes one of the buttons that caused the air vents to suck up all the smoke in the room. Black Shadow then saw Sogeking opening Chopper's cage, setting him free.

"Sogeking! Thank you!" Chopper leaped to Sogeking and hugged him with joy.

"Yes, yes, no problem. Now get off me, your naked." Sogeking said while putting Chopper back on the ground. "Alright, Chopper-kun. You go and save yourself. I will deal with this demon!"

"Sogeking, are you sure?" Chopper asked, worringly.

"I-I am definitely sure." Sogeking said, with his legs shaking in fear. "Now go!"

Chopper didn't want to at first, but he must do what Sogeking said. "Be careful." Chopper runs to the elevator and gets inside.

"Where do you think you are going!?" Black Shadow asked as he was about to charge at Chopper.

"SOGEKING GUNPOWDER STAR!" Sogeking fires an explosive pellet at Black Shadow's feet, making him jump back to avoid it. The elevator Chopper went in closed and started to go down to the lower floors, which greatly displeased Black Shadow.

"Grr… do you realize what you have just done? I intended to be merciful with you by killing you painlessly, now I must make you suffer for your treason." Black Shadow said, gripping his fist tightly.

"I-I-I-I don't care what you want to do with me!" Sogeking yelled, trying his best not to be scared. "I am the brave warrior from sniper island! I will do everything in my power to stop people like you from hurting others!!"

Black Shadow snarls at Sogeking's words, but quickly regains his composure. "Who is this brave warrior from sniper island you speak of? The only person I see here is a puny, idiotic, coward!

Sogeking lowered his head. He know that Black Shadow was mostly right. "I… I may not be as strong like everyone else, nor I may be that bright. I am probably the most scared person out there. But when it comes to situations such as this, I am willing to put those negative thoughts aside and fight what is right!

"Ergh! Enough of the words coming out of your putrid mouth! You will now feel the might of the Emperor of Brutality, Black Shadow!" Black Shadow charges at Sogeking, making the ground tremor with every step he takes.

"SOGEKING GUNPOWDER STAR!" Sogeking fires an explosive pellet at Black Shadow, who raised his arm in front of his face to block it as it exploded upon impact. Black Shadow smirked as the explosive didn't even leave a scratch on him.

"Is this all you can do?" Black Shadow asked before he tried to punch Sogeking. Sogeking jumped out of the way and aimed at Black Shadow while in midair.

"SOGEKING FIRE STAR!" Sogeking fired a fire pellet at Black Shadow, who used his shoulder to block. The pellet ignited Black Shadow's shoulder, but that didn't seem to bother as he simply swiped the fire off of his shoulder. Sogeking then runs away as Black Shadow started to chase him again. Sogeking quickly started to grab something from his bag as Black Shadow's eyes started to illuminate.

"FREEZE!" Black Shadow fires a ray from his eyes that immobilized Sogeking. Black Shadow raised his head as the rays made Sogeking go up in the air. "Not so tough without moving around, aren't ya?"

Sogeking barely felt his fingers as he used all of his strength to let go what he was holding. The object he purposely dropped were flash bombs as they impacted on the floor, creating a bright light that blinded Black Shadow.

"Arrgh! My eyes!" Black Shadow covered his eyes in pain, forcing to let go of Sogeking of immobilization. Sogeking quickly lands on his feet and runs towards Black Shadow with his hammer held up high.

"SOGEKING HAMMER!" Sogeking runs past Black Shadow, hitting him with his hammer as he ran by.

"Ah!" Black Shadow cried, feeling some pain on his shoulder. Black Shadow managed to regain his eyesight and faces where Sogeking is. Black Shadow was not happy as he impaled his fingers through the floor and started to pull the ground underneath Sogeking. "DARK FLIP!" Black Shadow raises the floor and flips it over, flipping Sogeking to his back as the ground raised up was about to collapse on him. Sogeking managed to leap out of the way, but his mantle got caught by the collapsed ground. Black Shadow grabbed his remote, and pushed another button that made a new floor replace the collapsed floor. After that happened, Black Shadow slowly walked towards the struggling Sogeking.

"Come on, come on, come on, come on, come on, COME ON!!!" Sogeking was pulling on his mantle, trying his best get free. Black Shadow raised his arm and lowers it on Sogeking, who barely gets away as Black Shadow karate chopped his mantle instead, setting him free as well. Sogeking rolled away from Black Shadow before aiming at him with his long slingshot. "SOGEKING METALLIC STAR!" Sogeking fires a metallic pellet at Black Shadow, who caught it with his mouth. Black Shadow then shattered it to pieces with his own teeth and spits the shards back at Sogeking, who got startled and ran out of the way as the shards made holes through a wall.

"Holy shrimp paste! What kind of a dentist do you go to!?" Sogeking asked, but did not get an answer Black Shadow charged at him again. Black Shadow then felt pain on his feet, as he realized he stepped on a pile of pointy tacks. Sogeking took the opportunity to aim at Black Shadow while he was tacks off of his feet. "SOGEKING TRIPLE GUNPOWDER STAR!" Sogeking fires three explosive pellets at the same time, exploding on Black Shadow's torso one by one. This however, did not make Black Shadow to fall on his back, but just made him more angry. Black Shadow grabbed a couple of tacks and throws them at Sogeking at the sides of his clothing, which impaled to the wall.

"I got you now!" Black Shadow finally lands a punch on Sogeking.

"GAH!" Sogeking cried as a some of his blood came dripping out of his mouth. Sogeking pushes himself off the wall before Black Shadow could do any further damage to him. Sogeking tried to run, but the blow he received from earlier was affecting his movements, making him to quickly crawl away instead.

"Mwa ha ha ha ha! I only punched you once,and you are already on the floor." Black Shadow said with a cruel smile. As Black Shadow took one step forward, the ground below him exploded, staggering him a couple feet back. "What was that!?"

"I placed an explosive on the floor when you weren't looking. You shouldn't underestimate me, or you'll probably regret it." Sogeking said while looking at Black Shadow behind his shoulder.

"How dare you say those words to me!" Black Shadow charged at Sogeking, who got on his back and aimed at him.

"SOGEKING PEPPER STAR!" Sogeking fires a pepper pellet at Black Shadow's face, creating a pepper screen upon impact. Black Shadow started to sneeze uncontrollably, staggering back to a wall Sogeking was on a few moments ago. "I placed an explosive there as well." Black Shadow's eyes widened as he accidentally bumped to the wall behind, which exploded that caused Black Shadow to stagger forward. Sogeking rolled sideways, away from Black Shadow. He stopped rolling and aimed at him again. "SOGEKING GUNPOWDER STAR!" Sogeking fires another explosive pellet at the side of Black Shadow's face. Upon explosion, it staggered Black Shadow even more, but he somehow managed to stay on his feet.

"How is he still standing after all of that!?" Sogeking asked in disbelief.

Black Shadow angrily looks at Sogeking as he clenches both of his fists. "NEGATIVE WAVE!" Black Shadow slams his fists at the ground, creating a small, but semi-wide wave at Sogeking. Sogeking manages to get up and move out of the way. However, the wave was homing to Sogeking, which surprised him as he started to run away for his life.

Sogeking jumped to a pillar held onto it as the wave exploded on it, causing the pillar to fall down. With an act of bravery, Sogeking jumps off the pillar and aims at Black Shadow while in midair. "SOGEKING TRIPLE GUNPOWDER STAR!" Sogeking fires three explosive pellets at Black Shadow, who managed to swipe the first two away, but couldn't avoid the last one as it exploded on his face, causing him to stagger back a bit. Sogeking then made some impressive and heroic flips in the air, but the landing was terrible as he landed on the ground with his chin. Sogeking rubbed his chin in pain until he then noticed that Black Shadow lifted his chair and tossed it at Sogeking.

"YAAAHHHH!!" Sogeking leaped out of the way as the chair crashed to a wall. Sogeking got up and started to run away again as Black Shadow started to throw several big objects at him. Sogeking avoided all of them by either running, jumping, or even leaping in order to not get hit.

When Black Shadow ran out of big stuff to throw, he looked at his palm, which started to emit a dark aura. "UNHOLY CLAW!" Black Shadow thrusts his palm forward as the dark aura came out of his palm, that started to form a big hand with sharp claws that headed straight for Sogeking.

"EEEYYAAAAHH!!" Sogeking leaped as the claw exploded upon impacting with a wall. The explosion caught up with Sogeking, almost burning him to crisp. Sogeking limplessly crashed to the ground, almost burned to a crisp. This pleased Black Shadow as he slowly walked towards Sogeking.

"You fool. Did it really occurred to you that you can really defeat me?" Black Shadow asked as he was now close to Sogeking.

"Ah… actually, no… but now… I DO!" Sogeking yelled as he pulled out his hammer. "SOGEKING HAMMER!" Sogeking swung his hammer at Black Shadow's knee.

"Argh!" Black Shadow grunted as the hammer hits his knee. Sogeking then quickly gets on his knees, facing towards Black Shadow.

"Prepare to suffer! SOGEKING RUBBERBAND!" Sogeking takes out an ordinary and stretches it towards Black Shadow, who covered his face with his arms, awaiting for impact.

"Wait a second… rubberband?" Black Shadow opens his eyes and looks at Sogeking, only he was no longer where he was. "Why that clown!! How dare he makes a fool out of me!?" Black Shadow yelled angrily.

Sogeking was hiding behind the collapsed pillar, panting rather heavily. "Phew… I am safe now. Okay, so far, I have been shooting explosives, flash bombs, and hitting him with my hammer, and yet, he has not even fallen to his knees. I must come with a stronger attack. I can always use the firebird, but I need to do that in the right moment."

Sogeking then realized that his shadow got bigger and could also not feel some of the collapsed pillar behind him. Sogeking gulps as he looked up to see the grinning Black Shadow, holding up some of the collapsed pillar with both of his hands. "I found you!" Black Shadow said as Sogeking screamed before jumping out of the way as Black Shadow almost hits him with the pillar.

Meanwhile…

Zoro ran and hid behind a pointy pillar while Goroh tried to find him while his sword was on fire. "Come on out, green haired warrior! Do not tell me that you have lost your dignity by facing me, because that will not slow me down from defeating you!" Goroh yelled, looking back and forth for Zoro.

"Geh… his 'fire stingray' is to wide for me to avoid, and I cant block it since it will burn me to crisp the second I touch it. If only there was some way…" Zoro said as he begins to think. He then came up with something. "Hey… maybe If I can use… yeah! I am sure it will work this time." Zoro said as he took out a pair of goggles and comes out of hiding. "Oi, that fire stingray of yours is very impressive."

"Hmm?" Goroh turns around and sees Zoro just standing there with some goggles on his forehead.

"However, that attack will no longer take me down." Zoro said as he places the goggles on his eyes. "These goggles have a special charm that will not make me burn to crisp, no matter what I touch. Your strongest attack will no longer have any effect on me anymore!"

"Those look like normal goggles if you ask me." Goroh said, not intimated.

Zoro then looked behind his shoulder with a completely shocked look on his face. "DAMMIT! BUSTED AGAIN!"

"You are so desperate to win, you lie about your accessories? How pathetic!" Goroh said. "Back when I was your age…"

"I DONT CARE!" Zoro yelled out all of a sudden, catching Goroh off guard yet again.

"Grr.. I have enough of you always not caring about the things I did! Prepare to lose!" Goroh charges at Zoro with his sword still on fire. He swings his sword horizontally at Zoro, who jumped back to avoid, but was surprised that Goroh actually made a fire cutting wave at Zoro.

"NANAJUU-NI POUNDOU HOU!" Zoro swings both of his swords, creating a cutting wave of his own as it collided with Goroh's wave, creating an explosion of fire. The explosion sends Zoro back to a boulder. Goroh, on the other hand, impaled his sword through the ground and held on, in order to not be sent back.

Zoro got back to his feet, and quickly charged at Goroh by lowering one of his swords down at him. Goroh counters by kicking Zoro's hilt to get him off balance. Goroh took the chance to pull his sword off the ground and do a 360 degree slash at Zoro, who parried it with his other sword. Goroh swung right and left, taking one step forward with every slash he does, making Zoro to move back. Goroh then does a thrust at Zoro, which he evaded by moving his head sideways and then countering by swinging one of his swords up at Goroh's sword, causing Goroh to get unbalanced. "SANJUU-ROKO POUNDOU HOU!" Zoro swings one of his swords, creating a cutting wave that impacted on Goroh.

"OOOF!" Goroh flies back, but manages to land back on his feet. Goroh does several front flips towards Zoro, before jumping up in the air, with his sword raised above his head.

Zoro takes a defensive stance and waits until Goroh gets closer. "GYUUKI YUZUME!" Zoro dodges Goroh's jumping slash and counters with a powerful slash at Goroh.

"AHH!" Goroh landed hard on the ground, grabbing his stomach in pain. Goroh then got up and looks at Zoro, furiously. "I will now end this battle in my favor! FIRE STINGRAY!" Goroh leaped at Zoro with his sword on fire, that created a fire wall that headed straight to Zoro.

Zoro jumps forward and attempted to cut the fire wall, but it was no use. "GUAH!" Zoro was engulfed in fire as he was sent flying right through a boulder, shattering it to pieces.

"Ha ha ha ha ha! Victory is mine!" Goroh said, satisfied as he rests his sword on his shoulder after the fire around it died down. Goroh's celebration came to halt as he then saw Zoro getting back up to his feet. "Heh… I admire your will to go on, but there are times when great warriors must stand down and accept their defeat."

"Pfft.. I am not like that. It takes a stronger warrior to fight on until the end." Zoro said, brushing the dust off of his shoulder.

"Even though that may be true, you still don't stand a chance against me. Trust me, I prefer to end this battle without causing any casualties, but you are acting as this is a matter of life and death. The only thing I want is your swords, not your life." Goroh said.

"My swords are a part of me." Zoro said while sheathing his swords. "I prefer to die rather than to lose my swords."

Goroh felt like he met his match. He has never met someone with such integrity before. "I honor your commitment of winning this battle, but I am afraid that will not happen." Goroh lits his sword on fire again. "The next move will determine this battle, and I'll assure you, that I will be the victor.

"Sadly, that's your opinion, so it doesn't count." Zoro said crouching down. They both gave eachother a stare, not blinking once. The sound of the wind passing by could only be heard. A little rock on a boulder started to fall off. As soon as landed on the ground, that gave the signal for them to attack.

"Prepare to suffer defeat with the might of my Fire Stingray!" Goroh yelled as he thrusted his sword forward, creating a firewall that headed straight to Zoro.

Zoro dashed forward to the fire wall. He ran so fast, he went right through it, unscathed. "What!? How is that possible!?" Goroh asked in surprise.

"You fought well!! NITTORYU IAI: RASHOMON!" Zoro unsheathed two of his swords at such a quick rate the same time Goroh defended himself by thrusting his sword at Zoro. It was quiet… with both of them not moving an inch. After a couple of seconds of not moving, they slowly started to sheathe their swords. Once Zoro sheathed his swords, he felt tremendous pain on his shoulder. Once Goroh sheathed his, he felt tremendous pain in every part of his body.

"AAAAAAAAAAAHHHHHHHHHH!!!" Goroh cried in pain as the force of Zoro's attack started to take effect, sending Goroh flying right back into his vehicle's seat. He crashed so hard, there was sound of something breaking, but both them didn't notice that.

Zoro stood up and walked up to Goroh, who was panting in exhaustion. "You turned out to be a worthy challenge. I'm sorta glad we met back at the shop." Zoro said.

"Heh… I should say the same. You are a rival I can respect, not like that Captain Falcon; he always cheats." Goroh said. Goroh then sighed sadly as he removed his sword around his waist. "You are the victor of this battle. You can now take my sword."

"I don't have the right." Zoro said.

"No! Take it! Be a proud man of my generation, and take my pride away!" Goroh said with a stern face. Zoro just looked at him, but instead of taking the sword, he turned the other way.

"I am not from your generation, ossan. I don't need to take your pity. I am damaged enough as it is. So, you can keep it." Zoro said bluntly.

It took a few moments for Goroh to accept Zoro's request. As he did, he adjusted himself properly on his seat. "I will take your pity instead, you cheapskate. I can handle someone's pity with no problem, since I am so used to it." Zoro smirked as Goroh turned on his vehicle. "Do you need a ride?"

"Nah, I can get to the base myself." Zoro said.

"Suit yourself." Goroh said as he pushed another button on the vehicle. The vehicle then started to make some noises. "That's odd…" The vehicle then went automatic and drov by itself. "WHAT IS GOING ON!?"

"Huh?" Zoro turns around and saw Goroh, alongside with his vehicle, going straight at him. "AAHH!!" Zoro tried to runaway, but the vehicle caught him and took him along with Goroh. "OI! WHAT DO YOU THINK YOU ARE DOING!?"

"I am not doing anything! This contraption must be acting up again!" Goroh yelled.

"Well stop this thing then!" Zoro yelled.

"I cant! The brakes aren't working!" Goroh yelled as he stepped on the brakes, but nothing was happening. They screamed in despair as they were now heading towards Black Shadow's lair.

Meanwhile…

Sogeking ran as fast as he could avoiding Black Shadow, who picked up his big desk and started to use it as a club. "Come back here so I can kill you!" Black Shadow yelled as he swung his desk vertically at Sogeking, who leaped incredibly fast in order to dodge. Black Shadow raised the desk up and this time, he swung his desk horizontally. Sogeking jumped up to avoid it, but he jumped so high, he grabbed hold on one of the balance beams. Black Shadow adjusted his desk on both of his hands and throw the desk up at the ceiling, where Sogeking was at. Sogeking let's go of the balance beam before the desk crashed into the ceiling, shattering it to pieces.

As Sogeking was falling all the way down to the ground, he takes out a pair of springboards attached to some wooden, purple feet. He wrapped the springboards around his feet as he was about to land. "SOGEKING HOPPING!" As Sogeking landed his feet on the ground, he bounced right back up again. He started to bounce up and down, which irritated Black Shadow, so he stood right next to where Sogeking was about to land next. Just when Sogeking landed, Black Shadow spreaded his arms apart, and intended to wrap them around Sogeking. Sogeking quickly ducks as Black Shadow misses him. Sogeking quickly pulls out his hammer as he was about to bounce up.

"SOGEKING HAMMERUKEN!" Sogeking bounces up, swinging his hammer upwards through Black Shadow's jaw. Black Shadow felt sheer pain in his jaw as Sogeking was going up. Before Sogeking could get any higher though, Black Shadow grabs his right ankle with one hand. Sogeking was now being held upside down, with Black Shadow grinning evilly right at his face. He then lifted Sogeking higher up and started to spin him in circles. "YAAAAH!!!" Sogeking cried in fear before Black Shadow throw him to wall. Sogeking crashed to the wall with his frontal body, and slowly fell landed on the ground afterwards.

"Mwa ha ha ha ha ha! This is more easier than I expected." Black Shadow said with cruel delight. "I might as well finish you now with my…" Black Shadow intended to grab the remote around his waist, but it was no longer there.

"Looking for this?" Sogeking said, struggling on getting up as he revealed that he has the remote being held on his hand.

Black Shadow got infuriated. "You fool! Return that to me at once!"

"I don't think so! I noticed from earlier that you fixed the floor using this! This thing might also help me defeat you!" Sogeking yelled bravely.

"Grr… If you don't return that to me, I am going to take it along with your arms!" Black Shadow charges at Sogeking, who got afraid and started to look at the remote.

"Okay, which is the attack button!?" Sogeking cried as Black Shadow actually leaped towards him. "THIS ONE!" Sogeking hesitated and randomly pushed a button that caused some of the floor in front of him to rise up. Black Shadow crashes face-first of the raised platform while Sogeking sighed in relief. After Black Shadow removed himself from the platform, he literally destroyed it with his own fist, shocking Sogeking. Sogeking then started to run away, with Black Shadow chasing him furiously. Sogeking pushed another button that made some of the ceiling open up to drop a big boulder on Black Shadow. Black Shadow saw this coming and quickly catches the falling boulder.

Sogeking stops running and faces back at Black Shadow, holding the boulder up, as he pushed another button that made cannon come out of the ground. Black Shadow's eyes widened as the cannon fired on him, making him to roll back, but was somehow able to land back on his feet. Sogeking puts the remote around his waist, and climbs up the boulder, so he can get a clear aim at Black Shadow. "SOGEKING LOOP-DEE-LOOP GUNPOWDER STAR!" Sogeking fires an explosive pellet that was somehow going in loops while still going towards Black Shadow. Black Shadow swung his fist at the pellet, but missed as the pellet exploded on his thighs. Black Shadow grunted in pain as he charged for the boulder Sogeking was on.

Black Shadow grabs the boulder, and uses his strength to throw it up in the air, with Sogeking screaming for his life. Sogeking quickly pushes a button on the remote around his waist to make the room anti-gravitational, causing everything and everyone in the room to float around. Sogeking was relieved and amazed to be floating around, but that didn't last long as he then saw Black Shadow floating towards him. "LASER VISION!" Black Shadow fired a laser beam out of his eyes at Sogeking, who got scared and barely dodged it. Black Shadow started to continue firing laser beams out of his eyes as Sogeking started to swim through the air in order to get away.

Sogeking hid behind the big boulder from earlier, but Black Shadow destroyed it with his laser vision, completely exposing Sogeking, who seemed to have expected that as he was already aiming at Black Shadow. "SOGEKING FLASH STAR!" Sogeking fired a flash pellet at Black Shadow, created a bright light that momentarily blinded Black Shadow. Sogeking swims in the air under Black Shadow, until he got behind him. He then turned and faced Black Shadow, aiming at him again. "SOGEKING CACTUS NEEDLE STAR!" Sogeking fired a green pellet that exploded into needles halfway to Black Shadow.

"GAAHHHH!!!" Black Shadow cried in pain as most of the needles impaled to his butt. Black Shadow then started to growl in anger as he flexed all his body in order to make the needles pop out of him like bullets.

"EEEEEK!" Sogeking screamed as he did several dodging poses in order to dodge the needles. After he did managed to do that, Sogeking then saw Black Shadow heading right towards him. Sogeking tried to aim at him, but Black Shadow knocked his slingshot out of his hands. Sogeking yelped as he quickly pushed a random button that made all the room gravitational again, with everything crashing down to the floor and him landing on his butt while Black Shadow on his feet.

"Hand over the remote! I need that in order to detonate the bomb that will destroy everything!" Black Shadow yelled furiously.

"Destroy everything!? No way!" Sogeking yelled as he grabbed the remote from his waist and held it tightly.

"Very well then!!" Black Shadow fired a laser from his eyes at Sogeking. Sogeking shielded himself with the remote, causing Black Shadow to stop his laser midway and went back into his eyes. Black Shadow then tried to snatch the remote by grabbing it.

"NO! Give it back!" Sogeking yelled as he pulled the remote with all of his might from Black Shadow, but it wasn't even budging. Sogeking then placed his foot on Black Shadow's chest and tried to push him away at the same time pulling the remote away from his hands, but Black Shadow still didn't budge. Black Shadow wasn't even using any of his strength to pull away. He is just amusing himself on seeing how Sogeking is trying to pull the remote away.

"Mwa ha ha ha ha! You are too weak to overpower me." Black Shadow said as he simply moved his arms to the right, trying to shake Sogeking off, but that didn't work. Black Shadow frowned as he swung Sogeking in a 180 degree turn, but that still didn't make to let go of the remote. "LET GO!" Black Shadow got furious and started to spin in circles, along with Sogeking, but no matter how fast he span, Sogeking just wouldn't let go of the remote. Sogeking tried to keep his focus on the remote as he pushed a button with his thumb, that made a platform below Black Shadow, and him to rise up next to a big and plain chandelier. Sogeking could no longer hold on as his fingers slipped off the remote and flew right into the middle of the chandelier.

"Yes! The remote has returned to my hands! And now that you don't have that slingshot anymore, It'll be easier for me to get rid of you!" Black Shadow said as he walks to Sogeking.

Meanwhile…

Sanji was running through the hallways, kicking any guard he sees along the way. "Damn! This place is too big to find Chopper. Where did Franky go anyway?" Sanji asked while still running through the halls. Sanji then went to a complete halt as he noticed a rather large hole on the wall. "What happened here?" Sanji walks inside the hole and saw another hole on another wall. Soon, he started to walk through numerous of holes until he finally reached another hallway.

"Oh? That's the fisherman's vehicle thing." Sanji said as he noticed Captain Falcon's Blue Falcon. "If this thing is here, then where is he?"

"Hmm? Sanji-kun is that you?"

Sanji heard the voice from the other side of the empty hallway. "Nami-san? Is that you?"

"Sanji-kun! Oh thank goodness its you!" Nami said from afar.

"Nami-san, where are you!? I can hear you, but I cant see you!" Sanji yelled, looking around the hallway, frantically.

"I am over here with Robin! We are stuck! Help us get out of here!" Nami yelled.

"Robin is here too!? Don't worry, I will save you both!" Sanji said as he rushes heroically to the other side of the hallway. He reached at the other side of the hallway, but saw nobody. "Nami-san! Robin-chan! Where are you!?"

"We are down here! We are stuck in this stupid hole!" Nami yelled.

"Down here? Where is… that?" Sanji lowers his head a bit and notices Nami's and Robin's legs, dangling up in front of Sanji. "N-N-Nami-san? R-Robin-chwan? A-Are you two down there…?"

"Yeah! We are stuck, and we cant push ourselves out." Nami said, flailing her legs back and forth. Sanji didnt hear what she said, he was too distracted looking at her legs, as well as Robin's.

"Mister cook, would you be so kind to pull us out?" Robin asked calmly. Sanji drooled by looking at such beauty, but then got back to reality as he realized what he just heard.

"P-P-P-P-P-P-Pull you two out?" Sanji asked nervously.

"Yeah, just grab us by our legs, and let us out already." Nami said.

Sanji started to sweat, his body was getting very warm, and his face was completely red. "Um… O-Okay…" Sanji slowly gets near Nami's legs. He gulped in fear, due to that he has never been in this kind of situation before. Sanji could hear nothing else but the sound of his heart beats, that are starting to get frequent by the minute. He got in front of Nami's legs, as he slowly wrapped his right arm around Nami's right leg and left arm around her left leg. When he did this, he felt such a great sensation flowing through his veins. He was so excited, his heart beat was as frequent as a gatling gun firing away what stood in front of it.

"This is so amazing… !" Sanji said excitedly as he didn't realize that the heat from his body was almost burning Nami's legs.

"Ahh!! Sanji-kun, you are too hot!! I can't stand it!" Nami yelled.

Sanji got the wrong idea when she said that. "OH, NAMI-SAN!! I AM SO HAPPY THAT I PLEASED YOU!!!" Sanji yelled with great delight. He was so happy, blood started to pour out of his nose like a rocket heading out of orbit. The pressure sends Sanji flying right into the ceiling, crashing with his head, that instantly knocked him out. He softly landed on the floor, with a big heart formed in his visible eye.

"Sanji-kun, what just happened!? Are you still there?" Nami asked as Sanji's blood was starting to flow down in the hole. "EEEEEK! BLOOD!! GET IT OFF ME!! SANJI-KUN, WHAT THE HELL HAPPENED!? EWW!!"

"I guess Mister cook was knocked out. We might as well wait for someone else to come." Robin commented as Nami was still yelling her lungs out.

Meanwhile..

Sogeking was able to get back up to his feet and proceeded to run on the plain chandelier. Black Shadow jumped off the platform he was on and landed hard on the chandelier with his feet, causing it to shake. Sogeking lost his balance and almost fell off the chandelier, but was able to get on his feet and proceed to run away again. Black Shadow jumped up in the air again, and landed on the chandelier once more, to make it more unbalanced. This time, Sogeking rolled right out of the chandelier. Black Shadow grinned as he rushed to the ledge where Sogeking fell, but did not see Sogeking falling to his doom. Sogeking was actually holding on the crystalized strings leading to the candles at the corners of the chandelier.

Sogeking sighed in relief, but that didn't last long as Black Shadow's fist went right through some the plain structure of the chandelier that almost hit's Sogeking. Sogeking then grabs into another crystalized string and into another as Black Shadow's fists were punching through the chandelier floor, almost hitting Sogeking again. When Sogeking reached to another string, it snapped in half. Sogeking quickly hangs on the dangle string as Black Shadow appeared above him. He grabs the string that was attached to the chandelier and yanks it loose. Black Shadow then raises Sogeking to his level, grinning cruelly at him.

"Anything you like to say before you die?" Black Shadow asked.

"Yes, I do… BOMBS AWAY!" Sogeking yelled before he lets go of the string and falls all the way down to the floor. Black Shadow got confused until all of a sudden, the floor under the chandelier exploded.

"What!? That fool must have planted bombs under here!" Black Shadow exclaimed as the explosion caused the chandelier to fall down, including with Black Shadow.

Sogeking quickly pulls out a belt with a hole in the middle and wraps it around his waist as he was almost to the ground. "SOGEKING AAAA aa AAAA aaaa AAAA!" a hook shot out of the hole from the belt and hooks to an upper wall. Sogeking swings down as the chandelier crashed to the ground.

"Yes, that should've taken him down!" Sogeking exclaimed.

BAM!

"Guh!" Sogeking got distracted by the chandelier that he crashed a wall. Sogeking cuts the rope of his hook and puts his belt away before rubbing his nose in pain. "Maybe I should pay attention where I am going next time." While Sogeking was rubbing his nose, some parts of the chandelier. Sogeking turned around as the parts were lifted up in the air by none other than Black Shadow. Sogeking yelped as Black Shadow threw the chandelier part at him. Sogeking got to his feet and leaped out of the way, making the part shatter into the wall.

"I am through playing games with you! If are going to destroy my base, I might as well use my whole strength to crush you!" Black Shadow yelled.

"You were playing-I mean, It doesnt matter if you use your whole strength against me." Sogeking began to say. "From the power of the gods from sniper island, I will defeat black-hearted demon that stands before me!"

"Quit talking stupid, and die!" Black Shadow yelled as he started to charge at Sogeking a little faster than before. Before Sogeking would even try to scream, he had to duck under a swing of Black Shadow's fist. Sogeking quickly crawls underneath Black Shadow's legs and runs for his slingshot 'Kabuto'. He rolls forward, grabbing his slingshot at the same time. He then got to his feet and turned around to aim at Black Shadow, who was charging at Sogeking again.

"SOGEKING METALLIC STAR!" Sogeking fired a pellet at Black Shadow.

"Ha! That thing again!?" Black Shadow opened his mouth and caught the pellet with his teeth. He sooned had a surprised look on his face as his mouth was starting to burn. "AAAAAAAHHHHHH!!! IT'S HOT!"

"Ha ha! I lied! It wasnt a metallic star I shot at you, but a tabasco star instead. Feel the burn!" Sogeking yelled.

"Why you… AAHH!" Black Shadow's mouth was so hot, streams of fire were coming out, causing him to hold his neck in agony.

"Now is my chance! SOGEKING DOUBLE GUNPOWDER STAR!" Sogeking fires two explosive at each of Black Shadow's knees.

"GAH!" the pellets exploded upon impacting on his knees. Before Black Shadow could land on his knees, Sogeking aimed at him again.

"SOGEKING GLUE STAR!" Sogeking fires white pellets at Black Shadow's knees, gluing his knees to the floor. Black Shadow landed on his knees and tried to get back up to his feet, but the glue was stronger than he thought. "SOGEKING GLUE & GUNPOWDER COMBO!" Sogeking first fires explosive pellets at Black Shadow's palms and then firing at his palms again with more glue pellets. Black Shadow cried in pain as he accidentally placed his hands on the floor, causing him to get stuck there too. Sogeking eyes gleamed with the delight as he took the chance to charge at Black Shadow with his hammer held up high.

"SOGEKING HAMMER!"

BONK!

"Ow!"

"SOGEKING HAMMER!"

BONK!

"Oof!"

"SOGEKING HAMMER!"

BONK!

"Grr!"

"SOGEKING RUBBERBAND!"

SNAP!

"…"

"SOGEKING HAMMER!"

BONK!

"ENOUGH!" Black Shadow yelled furiously as he overpowered the glue's strength and pulled his hand free. He then used his free hand to punch Sogeking in the gut, sending him flying straight back into a wall. Black Shadow then freed the rest of his body from the glue and stood tall with a very angry look on his eye.

"Eh…" Sogeking was barely keeping his eyes open. Black Shadow had merciless look in his eyes and walked towards the injured Sogeking. "I… -cough-… cant beat this guy. No matter how many times I hit him, he doesn't go down. Not to mention he already took me down with a couple of punches. I don't know what to do… wait! I can use the impact dial! Why haven't I thought of that before!?"

Sogeking puts his hand in his bag and tries to look for the impact dial as he was looking at Black Shadow, who was getting closer. "Found it!" Sogeking pulls out what he believes to be the impact dial and faces it inches away from Black Shadow's gut. "Prepare to face my deadly wrath!"

"Huh!?" Black Shadow looked at the dial, expecting something bad to happen.

"IMPA AAA AAA AAA AAA ACC CCC CCC CCC CCT TTT TTT TTT!!"

CLICK!

" This fine-tempered snake? "

Unfortunately, Sogeking grabbed the tone dial by mistake, which still has the recording from Skypiea a long time ago.

"Ummmmmm… wrong dial?"

BAM!"

"GUOH!" Sogeking was backslapped by Black Shadow and was sent flying all the way to the other side of the room. Black Shadow walked up to him and punched Sogeking in the gut.

"I told you before…" Black Shadow said as he punched Sogeking again. "You are nothing but a puny…" Black Shadow kicks Sogeking "… Idiotic…" Black Shadow grabs Sogeking by the ankles. "… COWARD!!!" Black Shadow swings Sogeking like a club and rams his body on the wall, making a very big crack on it. "Heh…" Black Shadow then started to walk away, satisfied at what he just done.

"Wait…"

Black Shadow stops and looks behind his shoulder to see Sogeking was getting on his knees. This infuriated Black Shadow as he faced at Sogeking. "You fool! Have you not realized yet that you stand no chance against me. Sure, you may have left a couple of bruises on me, but that is not even close on defeating me!"

Black Shadow yelled while Sogeking glared at him.

"Don't you understand that only people such as I are only capable on handling important and hard tasks. People like you, on the other hand, only exist so they can worship people like me! They can never handle what the big boys do. Even if they are my allies, if they get in my way in something, I will kill them with no remorse!

Sogeking continued to glare at Black Shadow, while he took out the real impact dial from his bag. "I will defeat you…"

"Eh? You are still with that!? What did I just say!? If you are not strong enough to do something, then quit already! There is no point in living if you intend to try and get rid of your superiors! Cant you understand in that idiotic head of yours!?" Black Shadow asked.

"I do understand…" Sogeking said while getting up to his feet. "I already know how it is to get in the way. I suffered great consequences of it some time ago. I know how it is like to be just a mere outcast of a group, that will support you anyway. But… today, I learned… that no matter how weak and cowardly you are… you can still help your friends from any kind of danger!!"

The room stood silent for a couple of moments until Black Shadow bursted with laughter. "Mwa ha ha ha ha! How ridiculous! Even though any kind of person can still help their friends from danger, the situation wont change for the helper. That little creature you rescued earlier must have been one of your friends, am I right? I bet you were the reason that he got kidnapped in the first place. He will obviously despise you after you left him all alone just so you can save yourself. I don't blame you of course, why bother saving someone else if the only thing that matters is yourself?"

"… You are wrong." Sogeking said with an angry tone. Black Shadow raised an eyebrow, curious on what Sogeking had to say. "I didn't left him alone, I was ambushed… and that wouldn't have happen If I only backed away. I wasn't the biggest coward during that time the kidnapping happened. The only cowards I saw were your men ganging up on us! I can tell that they were trained to be like that from there master! I don't care if the odds are against me right now! I will defeat you since YOU are the biggest coward in this room!"

Black Shadow frowned angrily as a dark aura started to form around his horns. "So I am a coward? Well, this I clearly find as a lie. You did well on keeping yourself alive up until this moment. But I am afraid that you will die now!!" Black Shadow yelled as his horns grew darker. "BLACK BULL!" Black Shadow lowers his head and rushes at Sogeking like as fast as a bull.

"-pants-… I only have one shot at this." Sogeking said as he awaited Black Shadow to get really close.

"DIE!!" Black Shadow yelled as he was a few feet away from Sogeking. Sogeking quickly puts his impact dial in front of Black Shadow's head, stopping him and absorbing the damage that Black Shadow intended to inflict. "Huh!?"

"TAKE THIS! IMPACT!" Sogeking uses his left hand to raise Black Shadow's head in order to use the impact dial on his face.

CLICK!

BOOOOOOOOOOOOOOM!

"AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AHH HHH HHH HHHH!!!" The force of the impact dial sends Black Shadow flying to his monitor, completely shattering the screen to pieces just before the gauge could get to 100. After that explosion, Black Shadow groggily gets up and looks at his shattered screen. "No…" Black Shadow then looks at his remote around his waist, that was also destroyed too. "NOOOOOOOOO!!!"

"I am not done with you yet…"

Black Shadow looks back at Sogeking, who was aiming at Black Shadow with a fierce look on his eye. "This will end you! SOGEKING FIREBIRD STAR!" Sogeking fires a humongous image of an eagle of fire. The eagle went through flying across the room, scourging it on fire as it went by. The eagle then impacted on Black Shadow.

"EEE EEE EEE EEE EEE EEE EEE EEE EEE EEE AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AHH HHH HHH HHH HHH HHH HHH HHH HHH HH!!!!"

KAB OOO OOO OOO OOO OOO OOO OOO OOO OOO OOO OOO OOO OOO OOO OOO OOO OOO OO OOM!!

The eagle of fire exploded afterwards, exploding everything in the room. "YYAAAAAAAHHH!!" The explosion sends Sogeking flying right through the ceiling and out of the base. He soon crashed to the road leading out of the lair. "Ohh… what the heck just happened? Huh!? Wait a minute, I just defeated somebody much more stronger than me! I did it! I actually did it! Yes! Nothing can take me down now! Ha ha ha!"

"SOGEKING!"

"Huh?" Sogeking looks behind his shoulder and sees Zoro hanging on the driver's seat along with Goroh, who just trying to stop his vehicle that was heading straight to Sogeking. "Kaaaaaaaahh!?" Sogeking tried to run away, but was caught by the vehicle and was taken along with the ride. "Zoro-kun! What is going on!?"

"No time to explain! Just hold on!" Zoro yelled as they, including Goroh, screamed while they uncontrollably heading out of the Black Shadow's base.

TO BE CONTINUED…

Preview: AAAHHHH!! The brain guy is attacking me, and I don't know what to do to defeat him. He keeps getting to every place so quick, I cant keep up. I felt a big explosion earlier… and I feel something else is going to happen. Next time on One Piece: A Smash Adventure; Chapter 50: Deathborn's cruel wish, I am not the outcast anymore. I am gonna be the Pirate King!

I hope that battle turned out okay, because it kinda looked funny to me. Now I have a question for you guys. Do you want me to end this arc in the next chapter, or the chapter after that? Be in mind that if you want me to end it next chapter, it will take longer for me to update. The next chapter lies in your hands now. See ya!

OFF-TOPIC: It has been known that Brawl will be released at Feb. 10, 2008. Now that is kinda long, but I hope Sakurai knows what he is doing.

F Zero Pt 13

This updating procedure is getting to be a habit. Anyway, here is the next chapter. I have something to notify you at the end of the chapter, so make sure you read that too. Have fun… again.

Sogeking overcomes his odds. Sogeking saved Chopper from a horrible death by the hands of Black Shadow. He later then faced Black Shadow in a deadly battle. Despite the odds, Sogeking became triumphant over Black Shadow, by destroying him, including the upper section of his lair. He took little to celebrate as he was accidentally taken for a ride by Goroh's vehicle, with Zoro and Goroh in it. Meanwhile, Luffy has recently encountered with the mastermind behind the galactic bombing, Deathborn. Deathborn has gone irritated by Luffy's mental ways and now intends to kill him. Will survive from the evil hands of Deathborn?

Chapter 50: Deathborn's wish, I am not an outcast anymore

Luffy staggers back into a corner before he quickly gets out of the way as Deathborn almost hits him, but makes a crack on the wall instead. "I said hold still!" Deathborn yelled as he threw another fist at Luffy, who rolled out of the way in order to dodge. After Luffy rolled out of the way, Deathborn was no longer in his sight.

"Huh? Where did he go?" Luffy asked, looking left and right repeatedly. Before he knew it, Deathborn was somehow behind him. Luffy looked behind his shoulder, only to get backslapped in the face by Deathborn. Luffy flew across the road, but quickly retaliated by landing on his feet. "Oww… how did he get behind me so quickly?"

He didn't get an answer as Deathborn suddenly appeared right in front of him. Deathborn swings his fist at Luffy, who ducked to dodge and then rolled backwards to get some distance. Luffy then stood on his feet and stretched his arm back. "GOMU GOMU NO PISTOL!"

Luffy stretches his fist at Deathborn, who was surprised to see Luffy stretch his arm. Deathborn instantly vanishes to avoid Luffy's fist and reappears at the same spot after Luffy's fist went back.

"What kind of freak are you?" Deathborn asked cruelly.

"Hmph!" Luffy stood straight and glared at Deathborn. "I am Luffy! And I will become the Pirate King!"

Deathborn stared at Luffy, wondering how he can be so confident. "How irritating. The biggest thing I hate about you people is that you believe that you can actually achieve everything!" Deathborn raised his hand up in the air, forming a purple orb. Deathborn then threw the orb at Luffy, who jumped out of the way to avoid. Instead of making an explosion, it made an implosion instead, completely disintegrating some of the road that it touched.

"Ahh! What did you do!?" Luffy asked in surprise.

"I simply banished part of the road to one of the dark depths of this pitiful galaxy." Deathborn replied.

"Banished?" Luffy asked curiously.

"You see, I have the power to make anything go where I please." Deathborn said. "If I want a simple apple to go to the opposite side of a planet, then I can simply do that by a touch of a finger. Or better put, If I want to make a certain boy with a straw hat go into a planet filled with lava, then I simply just lay a hand on him, and he will appear into his greatest demise, where he will burn to death."

"A straw hat boy…" Luffy said, thinking about who Deathborn was referring to. This took a couple of seconds for him to figure it out. "… DAAAHH!! YOU MEAN ME!! THAT'S CRUEL!!"

"Hmm… I don't know why you came here in the first place, but it is clear to me that you don't have much of an intellectual capacity." Deathborn said, looking at Luffy's shocked expression. "So there is clearly no reason for you to live any longer. I will save you the trouble by getting rid of you myself. Now come here!"

Deathborn fires another purple orb from his plam, which Luffy dodged and countered with a stretched arm, which Deathborn evaded by teleporting away. Deathborn reappeared right next to Luffy and intended to do a backslap, but Luffy backflipped and places his right foot on Deathborn's attacking fist while in midair. Luffy lands, crushing Deathborn's fist in the road before delivering Deathborn an uppercut. "GAH!" Deathborn grunted before he countered by using his left fist to punch Luffy in the gut, staggering him back a couple of feet. Deathborn pulled out his right fist off the road, and charges Luffy by raising his big foot onto his face.

Luffy dodges Deathborn's foot, and quickly grabs Deathborn's ankle with both of his arms. Luffy swung at an 180 degree throw, sending Deathborn flying out of the road. That didn't stop Deahtborn as he quickly teleported before he could crash. Luffy gasped, and looked at his surrounding, wondering where Deathborn went. He then noticed that his shadow got a little bigger. Luffy looked up and saw Deathborn, falling down towards Luffy. Luffy jumps back as Deathborn lands on the ground, making the road shake. Luffy landed on his hands, and aimed at Deathborn with his feet. "GOMU GOMU NO YARI!" Luffy stretches his feet towards Deathborn, who teleported away before Luffy's feet could connect to him.

Luffy flips back to his feet as Deathborn reappeared a few feet behind him. "BANISHED TOMB!" Deathborn fires a thick beam at Luffy, who just barely got out of the way as the beam disintegrated some boulders in front of him. The beam then got thinner until it completely disappears as Luffy charged at Deathborn from his left side.

"GOMU GOMU NO STAMP!" Luffy thrusts his stretched foot at Deathborn, who caught it with his right hand. Deathborn then narrowed his eyes as banished Luffy. Luffy reappeared in the same place, however, he was really high up and was above a pool of lava. "AAHHH!" Luffy quickly stretches his arms towards one of the spikes formed on the ceiling. "GOMU GOMU NO ROCKET!" Luffy springs himself all the way back to the racing circuit, where Deathborn awaits him. "GOMU GOMU NO GATLING GUN!" Luffy repeatedly sends multiple punches at Deathborn, who just stood there, but was teleporting and reappearing at the same spot withing almost every punch Luffy sends him.

When Luffy got close, Deathborn catches Luffy's right fist with his right hand and grabs Luffy's neck with his left. Deathborn stretches Luffy's fist he was holding and lets it go, automatically making Luffy hit himself with his own hand. Deathborn then slams Luffy down to the road, still holding his neck afterwards. Luffy spits in Deathborn's eye, temporarily blinding as he then took the chance to swing his right fist across Deathborn's face. This caused Deathborn to let go of Luffy, who took another opportunity to kick Deathborn's jaw. This caused Deathborn to stagger back a bit as Luffy stretched his fist back.

"GOMU GOMU NO PISTOL!" Luffy thrusts his stretched arm at Deathborn, who quickly teleports out of the way.

Deathborn reappeared on top of a boulder and formed a four purple spears above himself. "BANISHED THRUST!" The spears then homed right towards Luffy. Luffy avoided the first three, but he couldn't avoid the fourth, so he punched the spear by it's side. This wasn't a good idea as it banished Luffy somewhere else in the underworld.

"What the!?" Luffy was still on the racing circuit, but was now inside a cave, with part of the roads being covered in lava. Deathborn appeared behind Luffy and was about to hit him, until Luffy does a 180 degree kick at Deathborn, who teleported to dodge.

Deathborn appears above Luffy and formed an orb with both of his palms. "ATOMIC TREMOR!" Deathborn throw the orb down at Luffy, who jumps out of the way as the orb made a shockwave that spreaded to almost all over the circuit.

Luckily, Luffy grabbed on to one of the spikes on the ceiling, which saved him from the getting hit by the shockwave. Deathborn then teleported under where Luffy is, and jumped right at him. When Deathborn got to his level, he swung his fist at Luffy, who lets go of the spike to avoid as Deathborn destroyed the spike instead. As Luffy headed down, He thrusted his stretched fist at Deathborn, who teleported to avoid and reappeared behind Luffy. Deathborn intended to wrap his arms around Luffy, but couldn't as Luffy grabbed his wrists. Luffy then jumps off of the Deathborn while still holding on to his wrists, stretching as far away as he could.

"GOMU GOMU NO ROCKET!" Luffy springs back to Deathborn, ramming into his stomach.

"GUOH!" Deathborn and Luffy crashed right back to the road, causing a huge dust screen. Before the dust screen could fade, Luffy jumped right out of it, before he faced back at it.

"GOMU GOMU NO GATLING GUN!" Luffy repeatedly punches inside the dust screen, hoping he was hitting Deathborn. While Luffy was continuing his attack, Deathborn teleported right behind him, raising his fist up in anger. Luffy stopped his attack and quickly looks behind him only to get his face smashed by Deathborn's fist.

Deathborn raised his fist and intended to punch Luffy again, only Luffy blocks with his feet, placing them around Deathborn's wrist. Luffy then stretched his hands around Deathborn's neck and started to squeeze the life out of him. Deathborn used his other hand to grab Luffy's right wrist and banished him over a big part of the road which was covered in lava. Luffy stretched his arms to a horizontal spike on the cave wall. Instead of springing back to safety, he swung himself back to where Deathborn, and did a 360 degree midair kick at him. Deathborn blocked Luffy's kick with his limb, but he realized that Luffy's other leg was stretching back.

"GOMU GOMU NO STAMP!" Luffy thrusts his stretched foot at Deathborn, who teleported just in time to avoid. Luffy landed on his feet and quickly looks right and left, being at full alert for Deathborn's reappearance. All of a sudden, Deathborn's hands went right up the road, underneath where Luffy is and pulled him straight down, pulling his lower body beneath the road. "GAH! I'm stuck!" Luffy trys to pull his lower body out, but to no avail as Deathborn appeared right in front of him. Deathborn did not hesistate to deliver a horizontal kick across Luffy's head. "AAHH!!" Luffy cried in pain as Deathborn was about to punch Luffy, but Luffy blocked by catching his fist with both of his hands.

Deathborn then used his free hand to try and punch Luffy's face again, only Luffy stretched his neck backwards, causing Deathborn to miss. "GOMU GOMU NO KANE!" Luffy's head went right back into Deathborn's, staggering him back a couple of feet. While Deathborn was regaining his focus, Luffy pushed the road as hard as he could and managed to get his lower body unstuck. Luffy got to his feet and charged at the dazed Deathborn. "GOMU GOMU NO…"

"RRAAAAAGGHHH!" Deathborn quickly counters by uppercutting across Luffy's jaw, sending him flying up to the cave ceiling. Luffy's face crashed to the ceiling before he limplessly started to fall down on a part of a road, covered in lava.

Before Luffy could actually fall into it though, Deathborn actually fired a purple orb at him, banishing him a few inches away from the lava, making Luffy to land hard on the road instead. Luffy rubbed his head in pain as he looked at Deathborn with a confused look. "Why did you just save me?"

"I prefer to end your life with you feeling great despair in your heart. You didn't expect that I would simply let you die in such a quick pace, did you?" Deathborn asked cruelly.

"What?! I am not going to let you kill me! I'll be the one who is going to kick your ass!" Luffy yelled before he charged at Deathborn once again. "GOMU GOMU NO MUCHI!" Luffy stretches his leg, and does a horizontal kick at Deathborn, who teleported to dodge and reappeared in midair above the spot he was just on. As Luffy's leg started to unstretch, he did a 360 degree turn and stretched his arm back. "GOMU GOMU NO PISTOL!" Luffy thrusts his stretched fist at Deathborn, who teleported to avoid and reappear behind Luffy. Luffy quickly unstretches his fist and back punches Deathborn in the face, staggering him a couple of inches back.

Luffy then flipped back and landed on his hands. "GOMU GOMU NO YARI!" Luffy thrusts both of his legs at Deathborn, hitting his stomach which caused him to skid back on his feet. Deatborn grunted a bit as he wrapped his arms around Luffy's ankles. Deathborn whipped Luffy to the cave wall. Deathborn then pulled back, causing Luffy to spring right at him. Deathborn lets go of Luffy's legs and swung his arm at him, but Luffy quickly wrapped himself around Deathborn's arm. Deathborn got angry as he was about to smash Luffy into a wall, but Luffy quickly gets off of Deathborn's arm and gives a mule kick to his face.

Deathborn staggers as Luffy flips to the wall and jumps off of it, heading straight back to Deathborn. Luffy swung his fist at Deathborn while in midair, but Deathborn ducked under the attack and countered by doing an upper kick at Luffy, sending him flying to the cave ceiling and straight back down. Before Luffy could land though, Deathborn delivered a nasty right punch into Luffy's stomach. "GAH!" Luffy cried in pain as some of his blood came out of his mouth while he was sent flying all the way out of the cave. Luffy was now out of the cave and there were a couple of holograms, circling around the racing circuit, but Luffy did not pay to much attention to those as he was getting up to his feet.

As soon as Luffy did got up to his feet, multiple purple orbs were coming out of the cave, homing in on Luffy. Luffy ran away from them as best as they could as some of the started to do small implosions while impacting on several parts of the circuit Luffy was just near. Suddenly, Deathborn appeared right in front of Luffy, who glared at him before he avoided his fist and jumped to a spike to a boulder out of the circuit. The last of the purple orbs were heading straight to him as it impacted on the boulder just right after Luffy leaped off of it. The boulder vanished as Luffy was flying straight towards Deathborn, swinging his fist in circles before he attacked.

Meanwhile…

On the balcony of Black Shadow's lair, Captain Falcon was just getting up from his rest after he defeated his evil clone, Blood Falcon. "Errmm…" Captain Falcon stretched before feeling okay again. "Ha… I feel much better. That battle sure has taken a lot out of me. I think I am starting to get a little old for this." Captain Falcon then looked up at the sky with a serious look on his face. "That explosion from earlier came from the upper levels." Captain Falcon then looks at Chopper's pants. "I must get going!" Captain Falcon then dashes to the exit.

Unaware for him, Blood Falcon was starting to regain concious as well. Before Blood Falcon could say anything, he saw his desintegrater gun in front of him. He smiled wickedly as he grabbed his gun and aimed at his counterpart while getting on one knee. Captain Falcon stopped running and sensed that something was moving behind him.

"DIE, FALCON!" Blood Falcon yelled as Captain Falcon turned around and saw that his evil counterpart was about to shoot at him. All of a sudden, a part of the ceiling opened up a squared hole. "Huh?" Blood Falcon looks up and out of the hole came out an elevator. Before Blood could say or do anything else, the elevator flattens him, knocking him unconscious again. Captain Falcon tilted his head in confusion as the elevator doors opened up to reveal Chopper, who was dazed after riding the elevator.

"Chopper!" Captain Falcon exclaimed.

"Huh?" Chopper started to feel normal again as he saw Captain Falcon in front of him. "MR. FALCON!" Chopper runs to Captain Falcon, with tears of joy coming out of his eyes. "Oh, Mr. Falcon! I am so happy to see you!"

"It is good to know that you are safe, Chopper!" Captain Falcon said happily. "Here, I think these belong to you."

"My pants!" Chopper said with a happy expression as he quickly snatches his pants from Captain Falcon's hands and puts them on. "Ahh… it feels good to have my dignity back." Chopper sighed happily.

"Chopper, where did you just come from?" Captain Falcon asked.

"Hm? Oh yeah! Sogeking saved me and is probably fighting with Black Shadow right now! We must help him!" Chopper exclaimed.

"Sogeking fighting Black Shadow!? This seems bad… Chopper, let's go back him up!" Captain Falcon said heroically.

"Okay!" Chopper said as he runs with Captain Falcon while in his walk point. "By the way, is everyone else here?"

"Of course they are! They wouldn't leave you here to die!" Captain Falcon said, running through the hallways.

"What about Usopp? Is he okay?" Chopper asked, worryingly.

"Do not worry about Usopp, Chopper. He is perfectly fine." Captain Falcon said. He then remembered something and stopped running in the process.

"What is the matter, Mr. Falcon?" Chopper asked.

"I almost forgotten about Nami and Robin." Captain Falcon said while rubbing his chin. "They were stuck in a predicament the last time I saw them."

"Oh no! We must help them!" Chopper exclaimed.

"Wait a minute, there is no need for that." Captain Falcon said as he smiled. "Those girls look tough enough to withstand there for a couple of more minutes. I am sure they don't mind if we help them later."

"Um… I don't know. Nami might get really angry." Chopper said, trying his best not to think about her when she is angry.

"Oh, I am sure Nami will be reasonable. Now come on! We must help Sogeking!" Captain Falcon exclaimed as he and Chopper ran through the hallways.

Meanwhile…

Deathborn jumps back, avoiding Luffy's stretched punch as it hit road beneath. Luffy landed on his feet and rushed at Deathborn. "GOMU GOMU NO GATLING GUN!" Luffy repeatedly punches at Deathborn, taking a step forward within every punch he delivers. Deathborn teleported to avoid Luffy's punches and reappeared to behind Luffy. Luffy expected this to happen as he jumped forward in order to avoid Deathborn's attack from behind. "GOMU GOMU NO YARI!" Luffy lands on his hands and stretches his feet back at Deathborn, who sidesteps to avoid. Before Luffy's legs would unstretch, Deathborn created a purple orb with both of his palms.

"I'll cut your legs off!" Deathborn yelled as the orb then turned into an arabian sword. Luffy gasped as he unstretches his legs before Deathborn could cut them with his sword. Luffy quickly gets up to his feet as Deathborn charged at him with his sword held high. He swung his diagonally at Luffy, who jumps back to avoid. Deathborn then did a combo, starting with a vertical slash, then a horizontal slash, and then an over-the-shoulder slash, which Luffy evaded by sidestepping the first slash, jumping over the second and then stretching his hands to grab a big mechanical ring around the road to avoid the last attack.

Deathborn's sword then turned into a spear and threw it right were Luffy was hanging. Luffy raised his legs up high as the spear went right by him, almost impaling him to death. The spear disappeared as Deathborn created various purple spears that aimed at Luffy.

Luffy jumped as soon as the spears homed right to him. Luffy did a couple of dodges in midair and as he avoided the last one, he stretched his foot up high as he was falling down to Deathborn. "GOMU GOMU NO ONO!" When Luffy got close enough, he lowered his stretched foot down at Deathborn, hitting his shoulder with great force.

"AAHHH!!" Deathborn cried in pain as he retaliated by punching Luffy back while he was still in midair.

Deathborn furiously created a purple orb with both of his palms, putting more energy in it than ever. "ETERNAL PAIN!" Deathborn leaps at Luffy as the orb turned into a spear and thrusts it down at Luffy, who managed to dodge by jumping back. As soon as Luffy landed on his feet, Deathborn's spear then turned into a sword as he quickly does a 360 degree slash on Luffy, who ducks to avoid. The sword then turned into a big hammer as Deathborn lifts it over his shoulder and lowers it down at Luffy, who crawls back to avoid the hammer, but couldn't avoid the shockwave that it gave all over the road. Luffy was sent flying back a couple feet until and charge back at Deathborn while stretching and twisting his arm back.

"GOMU GOMU NO RIFLE!" Luffy thrusts his stretched and twisted fist at Deathborn, who quickly changes his hammer into a shield that protected him from Luffy's attack. The attack however, did skidded Deathborn a couple of feet, not to mention that the punch was powerful enough to destroy Deathborn's shield.

"Hmph!" Deathborn teleported right in front of Luffy, who quickly tried to punch him, but missed as Deathborn teleported behind him. Luffy turns around and tries to punch Deathborn, but Deathborn once again teleported behind him once again. Luffy jumps up and does a 180 degree kick at Deathborn, who blocks with his limb before grabbing Luffy's arm and shoulder. Deathborn then throws Luffy out of the road and over a pool of lava and then throws his fist forward, making a purple shaped fist come flying out and right towards Luffy. Luffy couldn't avoid it so he stretched his arms and legs to the spikes close to him, making himself look like a huge net.

"GOAH!!" Deathborn's purple shaped fist impacts on Luffy's stomach, not only inflicting damage to him, but also banishing him back on the road. Deathborn slowly walks towards Luffy while he was struggling to get up and lifts him up to his level by his vest collar. Deathborn tried to swing his fist at Luffy, but Luffy blocked him by catching his arm with both of his hands. Luffy then upper kicked across Deathborn's jaw, making Deathborn to let go of him. Luffy flipped back on Deathborn's forearm and quickly jumps over him, kicking him at the back of his head with his heel in the process. Deathborn staggered forward as Luffy quickly turns around and stretches his leg.

"GOMU GOMU NO MUCHI!" Luffy does a stretched horizontal kick at Deathborn, hitting his ribs before he was sent flying out of the road. Luffy unstretches his leg and quickly goes to where Deathborn fell off, only to see that he was nowhere in sight. Knowing that Deathborn might appear behind him, Luffy quickly sends a 180 degree punch, hitting nothing but the air.

"Up here!"

Luffy looks up to see Deathborn falling right down at him. Deathborn was going down so fast, that it was nearly impossible to dodge away. "GOMU GOMU NO FUUSEN!" Luffy inflates himself to soften Deathborn's attack, which didnt work since Deathborn almost squashed him like a pancake. "GUOH!" Luffy felt sheer pain all over his body as Deathborn grabs him by the neck and starts to choke him with no mercy. Luffy struggled as he then grabbed on to Deathborn's limb and started to hold it tightly. So tightly, in fact, that it was crushing Deathborn, causing electrical sparks to come out of his arm. Deathborn had no choice but to let go of Luffy, letting him fall limplessly on the road.

Luffy got on his back and stretched his arms to grab Deathborn's shoulders. "GOMU GOMU NO…" Luffy jumps back while still holding on to Deathborn, stretching his arms as far as he could before doing multiple front flips. "… MARUNOKO!" Luffy unstretched his arms, heading straight to Deathborn while spinning like a buzzsaw. Luffy then delivered a devastating headbutt to Deathborn's forehead, almost knocking him out cold.

"ERRGH!!" Deathborn staggers back a few feet as Luffy unwraps himself off of him and then charges straight at him while stretching both of his arms back.

"GOMU GOMU NO BAZOOKA!" Luffy thrusts both of his palms at Deathborn's gut, sending him flying back a couple of feet and crash landed on the road. Despite that, Deathborn got up to one knee, with a few electric coming out of his body.

"I must admit…" Deathborn began to say. "Your brawn clearly replaces your intellectual. I guess life is not always filled with pathetic fools."

Luffy cracks his fists while glaring at Deathborn.

"However, you are in the underworld. And that happens to be MY territory! I wont allow such imbecile to embarrass me in my own land!" Deathborn exclaimed.

"Huh? Underworld?" Luffy asked. "DAAHHH! I'M DEAD!? Oh my gosh! When I meant that I'd go to the underworld to find the ten foot bug eye people, I didn't actually thought I would really go there! Oh man…" Luffy whimpered, thinking that he was actually, when he really wasn't.

"You fool. You are not dead yet." Deathborn said, which relaxed Luffy a bit. "You are currently alive… now. But you will see how death feels like after I kill you. But don't worry, you wont be alone. A trillions of more people will soon be joining you."

Luffy raised an eyebrow in confusion. "What do you mean by more people joining me?" Luffy asked in a monotone voice.

"I guess you haven't heard. My followers are creating a bomb that will destroy the entire galaxy, along with all the living aspects with it!"

Deathborn exclaimed.

This shocked Luffy, making him angry. "What are you talking about!? Why would you want to do something as horrible as that!?"

"Don't you know? Humanity, along with it's creations, are a sin in my heart! It brings me such hatred to see people with their happiness and joy they spread amongst their families and others. I see no logic explanation why they must be so happy when there is never any reason to be! It sickens me so, and that is why everything must be destroyed! That way, they can finally express their true emotions."

"ARE YOU CRAZY!?!? People don't deserve to be treated the way you want them to!" Luffy yelled. "If they want to be happy, then they can be happy! There is no reason for you to get into their lives and mess them up!"

"What nonsense do you speak of now? The only thing you should know that I am right about this." Deathborn said, calmly while Luffy angrily glared at him. "Now then, where were we?"

Deathborn teleports, but as he instantly reappeared, he got punched across the jaw. "GRR!!" Before Deathborn could stagger, Luffy quickly gets behind him and kicks him at the back of his spine. Luffy then grabs the back of Deathborn's head and rams his skull down to the ground. Deathborn teleports far away from Luffy and reappears behind a boulder outside the racing circuit, panting heavily from receiving so much damage. The next thing he knew it, Luffy was already above him.

"GOMU GOMU NO YARI!" Luffy thrusts his feet down at Deathborn, who rolled out of the way as Luffy actually impaled his feet through solid rock. Deathborn then charges at Luffy, who instantly punched Deathborn, staggering him back. Luffy pulls his feet out of the ground and grabs the boulder next to him. He lifted a few inches from the ground and swung at Deathborn, who teleported up the sky to dodge. Luffy then lifts the boulder over his head and throws the boulder to Deathborn, who destroys it by firing a purple orb with his palm. After Deathborn destroyed the boulder, Luffy came flying right towards Deathborn, stretching his arm way back than usual.

"GOMU GOMU NO BULLET!" Luffy's arm unstretches, and quickly delivers a nasty jab to Deathborn, who went flying right up to ceiling of the underworld. Deathborn crashed to the ceiling and was now limblessly falling straight down.

Deathborn immediately recovers and was about to form an purple until he noticed Luffy was nowhere in sight. "GOMU GOMU NO" Deathborn looks to his right to see Luffy was on the racing circuit, stretching his arms while holding on to the mechanical ring around the road. "… ROCKET!" Luffy springs to Deathborn, and tackles him right in the stomach, sending him flying to a waterfall, only it was lava instead of water. Luffy quickly stretches his right to a column and swings back to land as Deathborn did the same by teleporting there before he could crash to the lava. Deathborn reappeared floating in the air, and formed thirteen purple orbs that circled around himself.

"13 ORBS OF CORRUPTION!" The orbs then formed into thirteen kinds of weapons, with their tips pointing away from him while circling around him. Luffy clenches his fist tightly as Deathborn charged down at Luffy, with his weapons swinging wildly at him. Luffy ducked under a sword, sidestepped away from a spear, backflipped away from an arrow fired by a bow, and jumps over a hammer that hits the ground.

"GOMU GOMU NO NET!" Luffy entangles his fingers with eachother and stretches them out, forming a net with fingers that covered Deathborn's body. Luffy then landed closed to Deathborn as all of his weapons were about to impale him. Luffy then gets out of the way as the weapons accidentally impaled Deathborn instead.

"AAAAAAAAAHHHH!!" The weapons disappeared as the Deathborn growls in pain. He furiously gets up and catches Luffy's fist. He then caught Luffy's other fist and countered with a headbutt to Luffy's face. Luffy staggered back as Deathborn uppercuts Luffy's gut before grabbing his foot and whipping him to the ground. Deathborn then places his big foot on the back of Luffy's head, making him unable to breath. "THIS.. ENDS.. NOW!!!"

Meanwhile…

"WEAPONS LEFT!"

KABOOOOOOOOOOMMMM!!

"AAHHHHHHHH!!" A couple of soldiers cried as they were blown away by Franky. Franky then ran out of the room he was in and ran across the empty hallways.

"This place is like a maze!" Franky yelled. "No matter how far I go, it's like I keep ending back where I started! I hope that cook has beaten the hell out of that weirdo!"

Franky continued to run through the halls until he noticed something in front of him. He stopped running and noticed the Blue Falcon, with nobody in it. "How did this get in here?" Franky asked until he noticed a huge hole in the wall, along with the other holes in the wall inside. "Maaan… this Captain Falcon guy sure is extreme. Atleast I know that Strawhat isn't the only lunatic out there."

"Franky, is that you out there?"

"Huh? Is that you, Orange head?" Franky asked, looking left and right to see where Nami's face came from.

"Franky! Finally… get over here and help us! Robin and I are stuck!" Nami yelled from across the hall.

"Stuck? What do you mean by stuck?" Franky asked.

"Just get over here, you idiot!" Nami yelled angrily.

"Bah… fine then!" Franky ran to the end of the hallway. "Huh?" Once Franky have gotten there, he saw Nami and Robin's legs flailing up.

Not to mention that he saw a bloody nose Sanji, happily unconscious. "What in the world?"

"Franky! Get us out of here! I am sick of being stuck!" Nami yelled.

"Ow! Nice curves." Franky said, giving them the thumbs up.

"GET US OUT!!!" Nami yelled even louder than before.

"Ha ha… okay, I'm coming." Franky walks up to Nami and Robin's legs and puts one arm around each of their legs. He easily pulled them out and softly placed them on the floor.

"How wonderful. We are already out." Robin said, calmly.

"Ha ha ha! You two sure have seemed to have enjoyed yourselves down there." Franky said while laughing.

BAM!!

"I will remind you that I don't like to be messed with. So dont piss me off next time, got it!?" Nami yelled with a vain popping out of her forehead and her eyes as angry as ever. Franky got hit at the back of his head by Nami, now bleeding as we speak.

"Y-Yeah… I gotcha." Franky stuttered as he was struggling to get on his feet. Nami cooled off a bit, but still felt really angry.

"I cant believe that we were stuck in that stupid hole for such a long time!" Nami yelled as she then looked at the hole she was in. "I am no longer in your possession! What are you going to do about it now, huh!?"

"She is so pissed, she is yelling at a hole." Franky commented as sweatdropped went down his forehead.

"Miss Navigator, if you are quite finished, we should probably help out our comrades." Robin said.

Nami cooled down a bit and started to stomp off to a different direction. "Franky, get Sanji-kun. We are finding this Black Shadow and rescuing Chopper ourselves."

Franky, not wanting to disobey Nami, lifted Sanji up on his shoulders. Robin and Franky then followed Nami to the upper floor.

Meanwhile…

Deathborn continued to crush Luffy's face between the his foot and the ground, giving him no chance to recover. "You should have surrendered and died peacefully when you had the chance! Now I will kill you under my boot!" Deathborn yelled. Luffy is doing his best to get himself free, but Deathborn was overpowering him by the second.

"I.. wont.. LOSE!" Luffy stretches both of his leg and wraps them around Deathborn's neck, surprising him the instant it happened. "GOMU GOMU NO…" Luffy manages to get Deathborn's foot off of his head and started to twist his upper torso. After doing that multiple of times, he impaled his fingers to the ground. "… WHIPLASH!" Luffy then lets his upper torso to untwist himself, taking Deathborn for a ride as he span, along with Luffy's legs, in circles. As Luffy's upper torso completely untwists itself, he instantly unwrapped his legs off of Deathborn, sending him flying right through a line of boulders, destroying them instantly as he crashed through.

Luffy pulls his fingers out and breathes heavily while putting his hands on his knees. He stood up and wondered if he defeated Deathborn or not. He quickly got his answer as Deathborn appeared right in front of Luffy and kicked him back. Luffy staggers a couple of feet, almost falling to a pool of lava behind him as Deathborn raised his fist and lowers it down at Luffy, who knocks his fist out of the way, and counters with a punch in the face. The punch dazed Deatborn a bit as Luffy started to punch him with same fist over and over again. "GOMU GOMU NO PISTOL!" Luffy ends his combo by stretching his fist right into Deathborn's face, taking him down on one knee.

Luffy then stretches his foot up as high as he could, ready to lower it on Deathborn. "GOMU GOMU NO…

"YAAHHH!" Before Luffy could lower his foot, Deathborn quickly gets on his feet and swings his forearm right through Luffy's head, knocking him down. Luffy stretched leg accidentally wrapped around a spike on the ceiling as it started to unstretch, taking Luffy to it.

Luffy crashed into the spike as his leg unwrapped itself. Luffy then holds on to the spike as their was a pool of lava below him. Luffy gasped as he then saw Deathborn charging up another purple orb. Luffy quickly looks right and left, hoping that there is another ceiling spike close to him, but there was none as Deathborn finished charging up. "DIE!" Deathborn thrusts both of his palms forward, shooting out five purple orbs at Luffy at the same time. Luffy noticed that the orbs spreaded a bit after they were fired, so he took the opportunity to jump off the spike and stretch his arms at Deathborn's shoulder, and spring himself back to him.

Luffy manages to go right by the orbs before they could unspread and collide with eachother, making a massive explosive that caused Deathborn skid back a bit. After the explosion was over, Deathborn then saw Luffy heading right towards him with his feet facing at him. Luffy lands on Deathborn's face, staggering him back before jumping off. Luffy backflips to get some distance before he charged at Deathborn while stretching both of his arms back. "GOMU GOMU NO BAZOOKA!" Luffy thrusts both of his palms at Deathborn's gut, making him cry in pain. Before Deathborn even had the chance to land on his knees, Luffy kicks up in the air.

As Deathborn spiraled up in the sky, Luffy took a deep breath, inflating himself like an oversized balloon. He then twists his upper body multiple times before facing down and letting all the air out, making him fly right to Deathborn. "GOMU GOMU NO STORM!!" Luffy then sends a barrage of punches to Deathborn, forcing him back into the ceiling. "OOO OOO OOA AAA HHH HHH HHH!!!" Within every nanosecond, Luffy delivers a punch to Deathborn, not giving him the chance to recover at all. The ceiling then started to crack, and it got bigger and bigger until it was completely destroyed, with Luffy delivering the last punch to Deathborn's face, sending him flying outside of the underworld.

Luffy was now exhausted, now falling down to the ground, knowing that he defeated Deathborn. "Uh… I did it." Luffy whispered in exhaustion. He noticed Deathborn coming to his view, falling down faster than he was. Deathborn seemed to be unconscious, which made Luffy feel relieved.

"… WHH HHH YYYY YYY YY YOO OOO OUU UUU UU UU!!!!!"

To Luffy's surprise, Deathborn was still conscious, even after all of that. "I WILL TEAR YOU APART!!!" Deathborn yelled furiously as he clenched both of his fists together and raised them up high as he was falling straight down to Luffy. Luffy could barely move a single muscle and cant do anything to protect himself. Deathborn lowered his clenched fists down at Luffy, who coughed out some blood before crashing straight down to the ground like a meteorite. Deathborn teleported to his side, and started to punch Luffy repeatedly, giving him multiple bruises all over his body. Deathborn then kicks Luffy close to a pool of lava, with his hat falling off of his head.

Deathborn, who is almost losing conscious, slowly limps to Luffy, with multiple sparks coming out of some of his body parts. He got closed to Luffy, who seems to be unconscious, and lifts him up by grabbing his face. He then hangs Luffy over a pool of lava, glaring him with great hatred.

"I BANISH YOU!!!!"

Meanwhile…

Captain Falcon and Chopper are now at the upper floors, running through them as we speak. "If memory serves, Black Shadow's room should be right here." Captain Falcon said.

"Yeah, your right. I can smell his scent around here." Chopper said.

They eventually reached to the double doors that led to Black Shadow's room. "There it is!" Captain Falcon yelled as he did a running kick at the door, opening the double door in an instant. Captain Falcon gasped when he saw inside the room.

"What? What is it?" Chopper asked before entering the room. "Oh wow…" Chopper gasped as he too saw inside Black Shadow's room. It was completely burned to crisp, with the smell of fire flowing around the room. The spiraled stairs were destroyed, multiple pillars were a wreck, not to mention that there is no longer a ceiling, and there was also a smashed monitor at the end of the room. "Wh-What happened here? This isn't how the place looked like when I escaped."

Captain Falcon did not say anything and jumped down to the room below. Chopper did the same, but landed on a pile of rubble. Captain Falcon walked around, looking at the mess before him. Chopper popped his head out of the rubble as he remembered something. "Oh no! What happened to Sogeking!? What if he is dead!?"

"We can't tell by the looks of this place, Chopper. I highly doubt that Sogeking would die, but let's look around just in case." Captain Falcon said, while looking around. Chopper gulped in fear and started to search all over the room, hoping to not find Sogeking's corpse. Captain Falcon walked up to smashed monitor and noticed a big part of it on the floor. Captain Falcon raised part of the monitor and looks what was underneath it.

Nothing.

Captain Falcon raised an eyebrow as he puts down the big part of the monitor, gently. He started to walk away, until he stepped on a piece of paper that caught his attention. He picked it up and read it. "This can't be…"

"Hm?" Chopper walks up to him, wondering what he is reading. "What is that?"

"This is a journal that Black Shadow wrote. It said that Deathborn has returned…" Captain Falcon said. His eyes widened when read further.

"What? What did he write?" Chopper asked. Captain Falcon did not answer as he ran through a door. Chopper was confused and worried, so he followed Captain Falcon. Captain Falcon and Chopper were now inside an empty hanger, with the main doors open.

"We are too late!" Captain Falcon yelled. "Chopper! We must find the others! We are going back to Mute City!" Captain Falcon yelled as he ran out of the hanger.

"Why!? Did something happen!?" Chopper asked while chasing after Falcon.

Meanwhile…

"YYY YYY YYY YYY YYY YYY YYA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAH HHH HHH HHH HHH HHH HHH HHH HHH HHH!!!!!"

Sogeking, Zoro, and Goroh were heading full speed straight to Mute City, with Goroh's vehicle still going out of control. "WE MUST STOP!! WE ARE GOING TO CRASH!!" Sogeking yelled while tears were coming out of his goggles.

"What does it look like I am doing!? I am working on this thing as fast as I can!!" Goroh yelled, pushing several buttons on his steering wheel.

"Do it faster, guy that I dont know!!" Sogeking yelled.

"Hold on, we are going to crash!!" Zoro yelled, as they were getting really close to Mute City.

"I FOUND THE PROBLEM!!" Goroh yelled as pushed a certain button on the steering wheel. He then stepped on the brakes with full force, causing his vehicle to stop completely.

"WOAAAHHH!!!" Since all three of them didn't had their seatbelts on, they were sent flying straight out of the vehicle and into the road in front of them. Zoro landed on his feet, Sogeking on his face, and Goroh inside a trashcan.

"Ohh…" Goroh got dizzy after landing inside the trashcan. "Atleast it's finally over."

CLANK!

"Huh?… OH NO, NOT AGAIN!!" Metal clanks from a garbage truck grabbed to the trashcan Goroh was in and throws him in the back with the rest of the garbage. "Get me out of here! I do not deserve to be in this predicament again!" Goroh yelled as the garbage truck drove away.

Zoro brushes the dust off of his pants and looks where the garbage truck went. "It looks like I wont be seeing him later." Zoro commented as Sogeking got to his knees and rubbed his nose in pain. "Oi, Sogeking. You feelin' okay?

"I have been better." Sogeking said, getting up to his feet. "Ah!" Sogeking then fell on one knee as he felt sheer pain on his shoulder.

"What's wrong?" Zoro asked.

"Eh… nothing. I just used a impact dial on Black Shadow. He wont be messing with anybody anymore." Sogeking said, massaging his shoulder.

Zoro raised an eyebrow. "Wait… you defeated that Black Shadow guy?" Zoro asked.

This infuriated Sogeking. "O-Of course I did! What did you expect!? That I'd probably lose against him? Noooo! I won!" Sogeking said. "I rescued Chopper, and I defeated Black Shadow all by myself!"

"Ohh… wow." Zoro said.

"Wow? Is that all you have to say?" Sogeking asked.

"Yeah, pretty much. Although… that was really quite something. Never knew you had it in you." Zoro said, proud of Sogeking.

"Ah… there is no need to be proud. It is something that always happen to the great Sogeking. Ha ha ha!" Sogeking posed like a superhero, hoping that it will amuse Zoro, but it didn't.

"By the way, where is Chopper?" Zoro asked.

"Eh? Oh no! He is still back in the base!" Sogeking yelled out. "We gotta go rescue him again!"

"Hold on, there is no need for that." Zoro said, stopping Sogeking in his tracks. "If you say that you defeated Black Shadow, then I am sure that the rest will help him get out of there easily. Besides, It will be too long for us to get all the way back there. Just relax now."

Sogeking took Zoro's word and sat on the road, sighing in relief. Zoro smiled and looked at the sky. The sun was now starting to set, almost making it night. "Hmm?" Zoro hears something and looks in front of the road. He squints his eyes and could barely see something big and fast coming to Mute City. "Sogeking… are you sure you took care of Black Shadow?"

"Hmm? Yeah, why do you ask?" Sogeking asked. Zoro points to where he is looking at. Sogeking looks at where Zoro is pointing and gasped in surprise. "Wha-Wha-Wha-Wha-What is that!?"

The big and fast thing heading to Mute City turned out to be a big F-Zero vehicle. It was black and has a huge engine inside. The most shocking thing is that the person riding it is none other than Black Shadow, with dried Blood on his face he got after fighting with Sogeking.

"If I must sacrifice myself to destroy the entire galaxy, then I shall do just that!! I grabbed the bomb and installed it to my vehicle's engine! Once I crash into a building, the whole galaxy will be destroyed!!! Mwa ha ha ha ha ha!!" Black Shadow laughed as inside the engine was a tiny bomb, that is actually the bomb that can destroy the entire galaxy.

"He is still alive! But how?!" Sogeking asked.

"Dammit! He is not going to stop!" Zoro said as he unsheathed his swords. "Stand back, Sogeking! I'll handle him!"

Black Shadow squinted his eyes and saw Sogeking and some other person he didn't recognize. "SOGEKING!! I will destroy you along with everyone else!! I will teach you once and for all that people like you will never win against people like me!"

Sogeking looked on. Black Shadow was coming in fast and Zoro was the only one there doing something to stop him. He cant afford to back down at a time like this. "Wait, Zoro. Let me handle him…"

"Eh!?" Zoro looked behind his shoulder. "Are you crazy!? What can you possibly do stop him, Soge… huh?"

Zoro looks at Sogeking, who was taking off his mask. Usopp had a stern look on his face as he then walked past Zoro, with his slingshot, Kabuto, in his hand.

"Usopp…" Zoro stared at Usopp, who stood there, awaiting Black Shadow.

"I finally understood what Stan meant to say…" Usopp said, remembering the conversation he had with Stan Lee a multiple hours ago. "He didn't meant that I should be someone else so I can protect people, he meant that I should confront my fears and do my best to save my friends, no matter how hard it might be." Usopp faces his slingshot at Black Shadow's incoming vehicle. "I have always been said that I was too weak to do anything… I was always told… that I should back down and let the big guys handle things… but not anymore…"

"THAT'S IT! STAY THERE SO I CAN RUN YOU OVER!!!" Black Shadow yelled, but it didn't intimidate Usopp.

"It has always been said that everyone should face their demons… I guess… the time for me to face my demons is now."

"DIE, YOU WORM!" Black Shadow yelled, as he was within 200 feet away from Usopp.

Usopp aims at Black Shadow's vehicle without any hesitation. "I have always been told that I was an outcast, but… I AM NOT AN OUTCAST ANYMORE!!!!! HISSATSU…"

A big blinding light was starting to form in front of Usopp. "It is useless!! I wont die! I will never die!!" Black Shadow yelled.

"SOGEKAMA BOSHI!!!" Usopp fires something small light at Black Shadow's vehicle. The light then got bigger, and started to change into something.

"What is that!?!" Black Shadow asked as what he saw in front of him was some sort of a god with a sword in hand. The god figure than charged at Black Shadow's vehicle and lowers it humongous sword down at him.

"NNN NNN NNN NNN NN YYYY YY YYY YYY YYY YYYY YYYY YYYY YYYY YYY YAAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AHH HHH HHH HHH HHH HHH HHH HHH HHH HHH HHH HHH HHH!!!!!!"

The figure's sword created a blind light around him and sended Black Shadow, along with his vehicle, flying out of orbit.

KABO OOO OOO OOO OOO OOO OOO OOO OOO OOO OOO OOO OOO OOO OOO OOO OO OOO OOO OOO OOO OOO OOO OOO OOO OOO OOO OOO OOO OMMM MMMM MMM MMM MMM MMM MM!!

A big explosion happened right in space and it could have gotten bigger if it weren't for the orb of light surrounding it. The explosion was so bright, it lits up the whole galaxy for a couple of seconds.

"WHOA!!" Usopp cried in surprise as he fell to his behind. "Did… did I just do that?"

"I-Incredible." Zoro commented as the light faded away, as well as the god figure Usopp created.

"Whoa…" Usopp then fainted.

Preview: This guy is harder to beat than I thought. But I need to beat him, or everyone is going to suffer. Next time on One Piece: A Smash Adventure; Chapter 51: Target acquired, set sail to the next world. I am gonna be the Pirate King!

Back at Chapter 1, It said something about Usopp beating a demon. Now that is what I call foreshadowing! Okay, I have a big test on Wednesday, so updating before then will be unlikely. The next chapter will end the Luffy vs Deathborn battle and it will also be the last chapter for this arc. See ya next time!

F Zero Pt 14

I went all out with this one. The final chapter of this arc has finally come. Please enjoy!

The day has been saved… most of it anyway. Luffy has begun a brawltastic battle against Deathborn. Normally, the hero would come out on top, but it appears that Deathborn seems to be the one winning, despite being brutally injured by Luffy. Meanwhile, it turns that Sogeking was none other than Usopp. He showed bravery and courage as he stopped Black Shadow in his assault towards Mute City. The city has now been saved, but evil still lurks. Will Luffy defeat Deathborn? And where is the Mystery heart?

Chapter 51: Target acquired, Set sail to the next world

"What was that explosion just now!?" Chopper asked, who felt an explosion earlier while running through the halls.

Captain Falcon stopped dead on his tracks, and looks out a window, seeing that everything still looks the same. "Something is not right. Chopper, let's get back to Mute City and see what happened!" Captain Falcon said before resuming his run through the halls.

"That bomb you talked about earlier… you don't think that…?" Chopper began to say.

"That bomb should have destroyed this world including the rest of this galaxy according to that report I found earlier, Chopper. But let us not worry about that now, we must get out of here first." Captain Falcon said. He then noticed somebody in front of them. "Isn't that your friends?"

"Hmm?" Chopper squinted his eyes and saw Nami, Robin, And Franky, who was carrying the unconcious Sanji on his shoulder, running right towards him. "Nami! Robin! Franky!"

"Eh? Isn't that Gorilla and fisherman over there?" Franky asked while running.

Nami looks ahead and sees Captain Falcon and Chopper. "Chopper! Oh, thank goodness you are safe… and Falcon." Nami then dashes right towards Falcon, feeling nothing but pure rage going through her veins.

"Huh?" Captain Falcon then saw Nami jump up in the air and raises her foot up.

KAPOW!!!

Captain Falcon got kicked at the back of the head by Nami, and was now lying face-first on the ground, with his butt facing up. Franky and Chopper's eyes popped out of their heads after seeing such monstrosity.

"GAAAAAAHHH!! Nami, why did you hit Mr. Falcon!?" Chopper asked, making sure that Captain Falcon was okay.

"I felt like it, that's why!!" Nami barked, while glaring down at Captain Falcon. "The nerve of this extremist just leaving Robin and I in that stupid hole for who knows how long! I should ram this guy's face to the wall repeatedly, but that would make me wanted for murder!!!"

Chopper and Franky backed away from her in fear, as Captain Falcon was slowly getting on his feet. "We.." Captain Falcon began to say until he almost lost his balance due to the blow he received. "We must put aside our differences and get to Mute City. That explosion from earlier must have been Black Shadow's bomb!"

Nami, who was still angry, started to cool down. "What explosion? I didn't feel anything."

"That was because you were cursing all the way over here." Franky said.

"What was that!?" Nami asked.

"N-Nothing." Franky said, ignoring eye contact with Nami.

"I felt that explosion from earlier… but it didn't seem to come from the ground." Robin said.

"That is why we must go back to Mute City to find out where it did came from! Let's go!" Captain Falcon said, as he and everyone else ran down the hallways. "By the way, where is Luffy?"

Meanwhile… 10 minutes ago…

"I BANISH YOU!"

With a tight grip, Luffy disappeared, leaving no trace behind except for his hat that was on the ground. "Err…" Deathborn fell on one knee, feeling sheer pain all over his body after fighting with Luffy. "Confound that boy… giving me such injuries." Deathborn hissed as he was struggling to get up on his feet. Electric sparks were coming out of his body within every 25 seconds as he slowly tries to walk away.

"Errgh?" Deathborn looks up as the ground trembles a bit, seeing a huge blinding light in the sky. The light faded as Deathborn could then see it was getting dark.

"It's past sunset… and yet I hear no cries of pain, nor do I feel anything different. Meaning… Black Shadow failed me! This Galaxy is still alive! Black Shadow will pay dearly for this!" Deathborn said with a anger, clenching his fist with rage.

While Deathborn was in anger, something or someone made a landing noise. Deathborn raises his head and looks behind his shoulder.

It was Luffy, standing at the same spot where Deathborn grabbed him. Luffy had an angry and stern look on his face, an expression that could easily scare a tough man. Deathborn's eyes widened in anger as he completely faced towards Luffy.

"That is impossible… how are you still here!?" Deathborn asked. "Unless… !"

Deathborn places his palm on his stomach, which made him feel even more angry. "You fool! Do you realized what you have done!? You damaged the device inside of me that allows me to teleport people and objects into other places of this galaxy! Now that you have damaged it, there is no telling what would happen to us, and this very place as well!"

Luffy stood silent, slowly picking up his hat from the ground and brushing the dust off of it. "I don't care what happens to us…" Luffy said as he places his hat on his head. "I will kick your ass no matter what!"

Deathborn glares at Luffy. "You insolence! I will force you to submit your doom!!"

Deathborn charges at Luffy as he swung his fist at him. Luffy blocks with his limb and counters with a left uppercut across Deathborn's jaw. "AHH!" Deathborn stood on his ground and swung his fist at Luffy again, only this time, Luffy effortlessly catches his fist. Luffy then started to squeeze it, causing Deathborn to cry out in agony. Deathborn grabs Luffy by the neck, but Luffy didn't even seem to flinch when that happened as he used his other hand to squeeze Deathborn's limb. Deathborn couldn't bare the pain as he was forced to go down on his knees while Luffy stretched his leg back.

"GOMU GOMU NO…" Luffy jumps in the air while still holding on to Deathborn, stretching back as his legs twisted a bit. "… BATTERING RAM!" Luffy springs back to Deatborn with his feet impacting on Deathborn's chest and untwisting his legs at the same time.

"GWUH!!" Deathborn cried out in pain as the instant Luffy lets go of him, he was sent flying back and then skidding across the floor. Deathborn, now feeling more pain than ever, raises his arm, creating a big purple orb. Before Deathborn could throw it however, sparks were coming out of his body parts, forcing him to fall on one knee, and accidentally throwing the orb up. To save himself, Deathborn shot a tiny orb at the big orb, making it scatter into multiple pieces that flew everywhere. Luffy couldn't avoid such tiny particles as he got hit, and suddenly disappeared.

"Ha…" Deathborn sighed in relief. His relief came to a halt, as he noticed the shadow below him got bigger. He looks up and sees Luffy going straight down at him. "GOMU GOMU NO GATLING GUN!" Luffy repeatedly thrusts his stretched arms down at Deathborn, who was too weak to dodge as he received every single blow. Deathborn raises his hand and catches Luffy's fist before whipping him away from him. Luffy landed on his feet as Deathborn struggled to get on his.

"I don't understand you… why do you bother risking your life for people you don't even know?" Deathborn asked. "I don't comprehend the slightest on why you even bother on helping such unnecessary life forms! They are meaningless! They don't care about anyone else but themselves! Most of the time, they cannot handle life and commit suicide just to end their everlasting pain! That is why I was chosen to destroy all existence from living on; to end their pathetic lives!"

"Shut up!" Luffy yelled angrily. "I dont care about what you think about everyone else! You cant just say they are meaningless, because they aren'!. It's true that they arent perfect, but they push themselves to become stronger and live better lives! You are just one of those people that have failed to do that! And I see no reason why anybody should even believe in you!"

Luffy charges at Deathborn, who creates a purple shield in front of him, but it faded soon afterwards as Luffy punched him in the face. Luffy used his other fist to punch Deathborn in the face again, staggering him back. Luffy continued to repeat this punching procedure until Deathborn counters with a fist of his own, but misses as Luffy jumps back and stretches his leg. "GOMU GOMU NO MUCHI!" Luffy does a stretched horizontal kick right across Deathborn's head. The force of the blow sends Deathborn right into a boulder, shattering it to pieces and creating a dust screen.

As the dust screen faded, Luffy could see Deathborn standing still with his head facing down. Luffy charged at Deathborn and swings his fist at him, only it seemed to have went right through him, not to mention that Deathborn faded away like some mirage. Luffy knew that Deathborn must have teleported somewhere else and began to search for him. Deathborn wasn't far; he was hiding behind a boulder, trying to recover.

"Gah! I don't know how long I can take this. I need to get out of here!" Deathborn said. The boulder he was leaning on then started to move. Deathborn looks behind his shoulder to see that Luffy was holding the boulder with both of his arms.

"I got you now!" Luffy yelled as he then did a slow, but a powerful 360 degree swing with the boulder, hitting Deathborn that sends him flying above a pool of lava. Luffy tosses the boulder in the pool of lava and used it as a platform for him to walk on. He stretches right past where Deathborn was and grabs on to one of the spikes from the ceiling. "GOMU GOMU NO ROCKET!" Luffy springs past Deathborn and was now above him. Luffy lets go of the spike and begins to fall down towards Deathborn.

As he was falling down, Luffy grabbed his right elbow and started to swing his limb around like a flail. "GOMU GOMU NO FLAIL!" Luffy stops spinning his limb in circles and then gives a powerful punch to Deathborn's face. The punch was so powerful, it left a crack on Deathborn's glassed skull.

"GUU AAAA AAA AHH HHH HH!!!" Deathborn cried in pain as he fell directly into the pool of lava.

Luffy quickly stretches his arm to a column and pulls himself to safety by landing on solid ground. Luffy then looks back at the pool of lava where Deathborn has fallen into, where multiple bubbles were starting to pop out repeatedly. All of a sudden, Deathborn emerged out of the pool of lava, flailing his arms left and right in sheer agony.

"AAA AAA AAA AAA HHH HHH HHH HHH HHH HHH HHH HHH HH!!!!!!" Deathborn cried as he then glared at Luffy, who just looked at him dying. "DO NOT BELIEVE THAT THIS WILL GET RID OF ME!! I AM DEATHBORN!! NO MATTER HOW MANY TIMES I DIE, I WILL ALWAYS COME BACK TO LIFE AND ACHIEVE WHAT I MUST DO!!! I WILL DESTROY THIS GALAXY!!"

Luffy stared at Deathborn, with an emotionless look on his face. "Idiot… no matter how many times you come back, you will never win…"

Deathborn's eyes widened in anger as his whole body almost started melt. "IF I DIE, I WILL TAKE YOU WITH ME!!! RAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AGG GGG GGG GHHH HHH HHH HHH HHH HHH HHH HHH HHH HHH HH!!!!!!"

Deathborn's body grew purple and it was getting brighter by the second.

"Wh-What!?" Luffy noticed that a purple orb was slowly starting to envelope around him, making him vanish into dust. "He killed himself?! W-Wait a minute… !" Luffy notices that the orb was still getting bigger and it was taking everything it touches into banishment. "I gotta get out of here!" Luffy starts to run away from the orb as fast as he could. He stretches his arm to the mechanical ring around the racing circuit and pulls himself on the road. He then quickly gets inside the cave and runs for his life. Luffy quickly looks behind him and saw that the expansion of the orb was gaining up on him. Luffy finally gets out of the cave and sees the Falcon Flyer. "That is my only chance!"

Luffy jumps in the Falcon Flyer and quickly presses all the buttons, but nothing was happening. "Come on! Work! Come on!" Luffy panicked as he could then see the orb was getting closer to him. "Whoa!!" Luffy crouches and pulls his hat down as the orb covered him and the Falcon Flyer.

Meanwhile… present time…

"Okay, now this ridiculous!"

Captain Falcon was riding on his Blue Falcon all the way back to Mute City, With Nami and Robin at the passenger's seat along with Chopper, who was sitting on Robin's lap, and Franky, who was on top of the Blue Falcon, holding on to it along with the unconscious Sanji. "Why did I have to be on top!?"

"Because your too big to fit inside here!" Nami yelled.

"I am aware of that! But why must I carry the cook with me also!?" Franky asked.

"I don't want him on me like Chopper is on Robin. Quit whining and deal with it. We'll be in town in no time." Nami said with her arms folded and her legs crossed. Franky scoffed as Nami paid attention to the view in front of her. "Oi, Falcon! Are we there yet? If we aren't, then dont go super quick, or you'll regret it." Nami threatened.

"Do not worry, Nami. We are at the speed you requested." Captain Falcon said. "But I am worried about the town, shouldn't I atleast go a little fa-"

"Don't ask me questions and keep going!" Nami yelled.

"As you wish." Captain Falcon said. The town could then be seen in their view, not to mention that Captain Falcon could also see Zoro and Usopp on the road. "Thank goodness he is okay. Look, Zoro and Usopp are right in front of us, safe and sound."

"Really! Hurry, Mr. Falcon, get there quickly!" Chopper said.

Zoro was seeing Usopp, still unconscious after what he did to save the galaxy. "Heh.. Idiot… you didn't have to go that far." Zoro said. "Hmm?" Zoro looks to his right to see the Blue Falcon coming into a halt. The cockpit of the Blue Falcon opened as Chopper quickly gets out and rushes to Usopp's side.

"Usopp!" Chopper cried out as he placed his hooves on Usopp's chest. "Usopp, get up! Usopp!"

Everyone else were starting to get out of the Blue Falcon as Captain Falcon walked up to Zoro. "What happened here?"

"You wont believe it if I told you, but I might as well as explain it." Zoro said. While Zoro was explaining what happened to his crew and Captain Falcon, Chopper was still checking out how Usopp is.

"Mmmm…"

"Huh?" Chopper noticed that Usopp was opening his eyes. "Usopp!"

"Wha? Chopper!" Usopp yelled with surprise, happy to see him.

"Usopp, I am so happy you are okay!" Chopper said as he hugs Usopp.

"Chopper… I am sorry." Usopp said sadly.

"Hmm? What do you mean?" Chopper asked.

"I am sorry I couldn't help you back when you where in trouble." Usopp began to say. "I wasn't strong enough and-"

"It's okay, Usopp." Chopper said. "I am just glad that nothing bad has happened to you."

"Chopper…" Usopp then felt happy. "Well, of course nothing bad happened to me, silly. To tell you the truth, I let those guys beat me up, because I felt a little sorry for them working for a bad guy.

"Really!?" Chopper asked as Usopp got up cockingly.

"Of course." Usopp replied. "But I was so distracted letting them beat me up, I didn't notice you got kidnapped. I apologize for that once again."

While Usopp was telling his usual made up stories to Chopper, the others couldn't believe what Zoro was saying.

"Wait a minute, so are you saying that Usopp saved the day?" Nami asked.

"Hard for me to believe too, but yeah." Zoro said.

"How interesting. Long nose-kun has really made a name for himself." Robin commented.

"Dang… never thought he would have the guts to do something like that." Franky said while scratching his head in disbelief.

"I knew Usopp had it in him, he just needed some time to show it." Captain Falcon said with a smirk.

"Wow, this day could not get any weirder." Nami said.

BOO OOO OOO OOO OOO OOO OOM MMM MMM MMM MM

The group was startled by a big explosion nearby. "What the hell was that!?" Usopp asked.

"Earthquake!" Chopper cried, while running around in circles.

"No wait! Look at that!" Franky yelled.

He pointed right towards the clouds beneath the road, a couple of miles away. They could see a big purple orb coming out of the clouds.

"Wh-What is that!?" Nami asked.

The purple orb then faded, vanishing every single surrounding it touched, including the clouds. "What just happened!? That looked like some sort of explosion!" Usopp yelled.

"No… it wasn't an explosion. It looked more like an implosion." Captain Falcon said. "I only know one person that could do something like that… where is Luffy!?"

Before they knew it, something was falling from the sky. "AAAAAAAAHHHHHHHH!!" It was Luffy, holding on to a seat on the Falcon Flyer, which was falling straight down at the Strawhat crew and Captain Falcon.

"YAAAAAAAHHHH!!!" Everyones eyes, except for Robin and Captain Falcon, popped out of their heads as the Falcon Flyer was about to crush them. Captain Falcon quickly gets out the remote control for the Falcon Flyer and pushes a button that immediately turns on the Falcon Flyer, making it to stop in midair and then float gently on the road.

"Luffy!" Nami rushes inside the Falcon Flyer and sees Luffy, almost unconcious. "Luffy, get up!" Nami yelled as Luffy suddenly sits up.

"Whoa! That was crazy! I thought I was dead!" Luffy said while panting.

"Luffy, where did you just come from?" Nami asked.

"Nami! You wouldn't believe what just happened! Where are the others?" Luffy quickly gets out of the Falcon Flyer and walks. "Chopper! Usopp!"

"Luffy!" Usopp and Chopper rushes to Luffy's side. "Luffy, what happened to you?"

"You won't believe this! I just fought with this guy, that has a glass skull, and you can see his brain!" Luffy yelled, which shocked Usopp.

"You saw him too! I saw him, creeping out Black Shadow. He was so scary." Chopper whimpered.

"Yeah, I know… wait a minute. Chopper, you are safe!" Luffy said, just barely noticing that Chopper was rescued. "Oh, Usopp. You are here too." Luffy said while also noticing Usopp.

Usopp narrowed his eyes. "You just realized that?"

"Yeah, why?" Luffy asked.

"Nevermind." Usopp said.

Luffy then looked at his right and left, noticing that somebody was missing. "Oi, where did Sogeking go?"

Usopp flinched as Chopper began to wonder that too. "Yeah, where did Sogeking go? I want to thank him for rescuing me." Chopper said.

"Ah.. um.. he left." Usopp said. "He said that his work here is done and is off to help more people in need."

"Aww… he could have hanged out here a little while longer." Luffy whined.

"But.. you have been hanging out with him this whole time." Franky said to himself.

Captain Falcon then walks up to Luffy. "Luffy, what happened to the person you faced with?"

"Hm? Well… he was be burned alive while in a pool of lava and then did this BIG orb thingy that sends me back here, I think." Luffy said while tilting his head.

"Oh good. Then it is save to say that he wont be showing up for quite some time." Captain Falcon said while looking up in the sky, which was night time.

Sanji then started to regain conscious. "Ohh… what happened?" Sanji asked. He then noticed he was on Franky's shoulder. "Let go of me!" Sanji gets off of Franky and lands on his feet.

"You're welcome." Franky snarled as Sanji then noticed Nami and Robin.

"Nami-swan! Robin-chwan!" Sanji yelled happily as he was tapdancing with joy to them. "I just had the most beautiful dream where I was saving you both from danger!"

"Uh-huh… couldn't care less right now." Nami said. Sanji seemed to have not paid attention or just simply cared when she said that as he was still happy. "Anyway… now that this whole stupid situation is over, can we now go find the heart so we can get out of here?"

"Ah, yes." Captain Falcon said. "The heart you require to move to your next location. Do not worry, I am sure it is around here somewhere."

"Hmm? Look, isn't that the police force?" Robin asked as the internova police force vehicle, with their sirens on, drove right up to them. Sanji's eyes turned into hearts as he saw Jody coming out her vehicle. She rushed to Captain Falcon along with John, who was right behind her.

"Captain, are you alright?" Jody asked.

"Yes, Jody. We are alright. Not to mention that Usopp defeated Black Shadow and destroyed his bomb as well." Captain Falcon said.

"Wha!? Usopp did that!?" Luffy asked as he and Chopper looked at him in surprise.

"Um… yeah! I actually did. I defeated Black Shadow." Usopp said, telling the truth this time.

"COOL!" Luffy and Chopper said at the same time as sparks of joy were around their eyes.

"Anyway, Jody. We would like to continue the search for the heart, if it isn't too much trouble." Captain Falcon said.

"About that… back at the base, it showed that it was at Black Shadow's lair an hour ago." This shocked everyone, including Captain Falcon.

"How is that possible? It showed it was here in town, didn't it?" Nami asked.

"Yeah, but then when you guys left, it showed that it was in our base, and it wasn't." John said.

"How odd… maybe it has the mobility to move on its own. Let me get my tracker from the Blue Falcon, and see if it works." Captain Falcon said as he walks to his vehicle. "Let's see. I always place it near the engine." Captain Falcon opens the engine hatch and was surprised to see what was inside. "Hello, what do we have here?"

Captain Falcon pulls out something from the engine, and shows it to everyone else, which shocked them completely.

"You gotta be kidding, right?" Franky asked.

"Can it be in such an easy place to find?" Zoro asked.

Captain Falcon was holding the 4th Mystery heart. It was brown shaped heart, and around it contained an emblem of a falcon spreading it's wings. "Of course! Now I remember!" Captain Falcon began to say. "Master Hand asked me to hide this heart in a place nobody would find. I placed it inside the Blue Falcon so I would never lose it. And I also placed a device on it that so it cannot be scanned during a present time. It must have been so long, that I have forgotten it's whereabouts. Ha ha ha ha!"

KAPOW, SMACK, BANG, BOOM!!!

"YOU STUPID RACER!!! I AM GOING TO KILL YOU!!!" Nami said, with her eyes glowing red and vapor coming out of her body, already hitting Captain Falcon on the head four times. Captain Falcon was once again face-first on the floor while on his knees, with multiple bumps going through his helmet. Nami could have inflicted more damage, but was being held back by Zoro, Sanji, and Franky.

Usopp and Chopper were holding eachother in fear, while Jody and John took a couple steps back away from Nami. Luffy acted like nothing happened and walks up to the heart Captain Falcon dropped and picks it up. "Yosh! We have found our 4th Mystery heart! Let's celebrate by eating tons of meat!"

"Okay!" Usopp and Chopper quickly agreed, leaving everyone else, including the angry Nami, alone.

Meanwhile…

Back at the unknown world, where the Mysterious people, including Dimentio, Where around the same round table just like last time. "Well then, Dimentio. What do you have to report?" MPNo. 1 asked.

"As surprising as it sounds, it seems that we have been receiving several declines from other planets. They seem to think that we are making some sort of joke. Ah ha ha ha! I find that so humorous, like a humanoid squid losing all of his hair at once." Dimentio said joyfully.

"What is so dang funny about it!?" MPNo. 2 asked cruelly. "I dont see no reason to laugh about this! In fact, I dont see any reason why should we even gather some second-rated villains in the first place. I alone, took over a world with no hesitation whatsoever and this new one wont be any different."

"Oh, but there is a difference, ???." MPNo. 5 said. "Milleniums ago, worlds were born into great things. This one, however, is taking it's time to form perfectly. I cannot wait until I make some valuable research on it."

"A world is simply a territory." MPNo. 3 said. "What matters are the creatures living on it. If they do not pass my expectations, they have no need to live."

"Heh, I like the way you think, ???." MPNo. 6 said. "If they turn out to be some weaklings, then it would be alright to just kill them nice and slow. Just like I did in the good ol' days."

"Tsk… you are so foolish. Why kill someone if you can just have somebody else do it for you instead?" MPNo. 2 asked. "Speaking of foolish looking people, where is, ??? (MPNo.4)?

"He is with a client. Apparently, he found a liking into helping out this client, since he, or 'it' if you might say, has a dislike for other species as well." MPNo. 1 said.

Yojimbo then entered the room and walked up to Dimentio. "Oh, hello my good friend. How are you?" Dimentio asked, kindly.

"…"

"Oh, you don't say. My, how fortunate for them." Dimentio said as he faces his group. "It appears our joyful group of pirates have already found the 4th heart."

"What!? They are still alive!? How long are they intending to go on with this!?" MPNo. 2 asked.

"It appears that they are quite organized these primitive pirates. It would be quite a surprise if they did get all the hearts." MPNo. 3 said.

"Who cares about that!?" MPNo. 2 asked as he faces at MPNo. 1. "Why dont we just kill them now, so they dont get to be such a bother later?"

"There is no need for such tasks." MPNo. 1 said as he got up from his chair. "It appears that the next location of the next heart is right where ??? (MPNo. 4) is. He will take care of the pirates." MPNo. 1 then walks up to the staind-glass window, and looks through it to see the black star in the sky. He then faced back at his group with his arms spreaded. "Pirates or no pirates, the time for the new and permanent era will soon be at hand."

Meanwhile…

We are in a vast and green forest and just outside of it lies some campers. We are back in the Pokemon world, where Ash and Pikachu were camping on the plains, along with two other people.

"Hey Brock, is lunch almost ready?" Ash asked as he was talking to a guy with dark spiky hair and dark green vest and pants.

"Just a minute, Ash. I'm almost done." said the spikey haired guy known as Brock, putting some spices in a bowl with food.

"Mmmm… that smells good, Brock. I cant wait to have a taste." said a girl with Ash and Brock. She has long blue hair, light reddish skirt, a dark colored blouse, a watch with a monitor around her wrist and has a white beanie on her head with a pink colored pokeball figure in front of it.

"Wow, Pikachu. It's fine day for a picnic, don't you agree?" Ash asked.

"Pikachu." Pikachu replied happily.

"I wonder how Luffy and the others are doing? I hope they made it to their world in one piece." Ash said, looking up in the bright and clear sky, as it was cleary day time in his world.

"Ash, food is ready!" the long blue haired girl said as a Piplup was eating it's pokemon food.

"I'll be right there, Dawn." Ash said as he is getting up. "Come on, Pikachu." Ash said as he walks towards his friends.

"Pika." Pikachu said as he was about to follow Ash. Pikachu's ears then perked up, hearing something crash in the forest. Pikachu turned around and faced where that crash came from. Pikachu seemed to be the only one who heard, since nobody else seemed to have notice anything. Pikachu then decided to go in the forest and see what was the source of that crash. It ran through a couple of bushes and trees until he finally found the source.

"Pika…" Pikachu saw none other than Bowser, who was dazed after suffering such a crash landing.

"Ohh, my head. For now on, I will stay clear from any holes." Bowser said while getting up.

"Pikachu!"

"Huh?" Bowser looks behind his shoulder and sees Pikachu. "Oh, it's you again. Am I back in the pokemon world already?"

"Pika." Pikachu said while nodding it's head.

"Great, now I can finish off what I have started. Where is Straw hat?" Bowser asked.

"Pika, Pikachu."

"What!? They already left a couple days ago!? Man… why cant they just stay still?" Bowser asked while folding his arms. "Bah… I guess it doesn't matter. I can still catch up to them using this remote." Bowser takes out his remote that allows to go to other worlds, which was still broken.

"Pika?"

"How does it work? Well, it used to be by just pressing a button, but now it doesn't to seem to work as before." Bowser pushing all the buttons. "Wait a minute, I got it! Hey, you little rat, why don't you use your stupid electric shock to power this thing up?"

"Pika?" Pikachu got a little offended by being called a rat as electric were coming out of his red cheeks.

"Yeah, that's it! Power it up!" Bowser said, facing the remote towards Pikachu.

"PIKA AAA ACH UUU UUU UUU UUU UUU UUU UUU!!!!!" Pikachu did a powerful electric shock, not only powering up the remote, but also shocking Bowser, almost burning him to a crisp.

Bowser let out a puff of smoke out of his mouth before angrily looking at Pikachu. "Why you little rat! I am going to devour you!"

Before Bowser and Pikachu could engage into battle, they could hear an odd sound. "Huh?" Bowser turns around to see a swarm of Beedrills, popping out of nowhere. "WAAAAHHHH!!!" Bowser then started to run for his life as the Beedrills started to chase him mercilessly. Pikachu, on the other hand, just stood there as the Beedrills flew past it. Pikachu waved happily to Bowser as he left in a hurry away from the Beedrills.

"Pikachu, where are you?" Ash asked from afar.

"Pika!" Pikachu responded as he went back to his owner.

Bowser continued to run until he almost fell into a lake. "Wait a minute! What am I doing!?" Bowser turns around and faces the Beedrills. "COME GET SOME!" Bowser took a deep breath and was about to breath out a stream of fire, but the Beedrills were quick and stung him, causing him to choke on his own fire. "GAAHH!!" The Beedrills continued to sting him until he finally falls into the lake. After he did, his remote quickly opens up a portal sucks him in, and disappeared.

Meanwhile…

Back at Mute City, it was already midnight, with a few people walking around the streets. The most noticeable ones were the three humanoids walking together. The Wolf and Chameleon humanoid back at the bar where they had an argument with Luffy and Nami and the panther humanoid, who had an argument with Sanji. "So, what do we do now?" the chameleon humanoid asked.

"Not much right now. I prefer not to go back to the Lylat system, due to that pup flying around." the wolf humanoid snarled.

"Oh Krystal… why did you had to leave…" the panther humanoid said sadly.

"Bah… come on. Let's get out of this dump." They walked past a store with a TV behind a window, that was showing the news.

"Just earlier today, The high known criminal 'Black Shadow' has been stopped by the great efforts of Captain Falcon and another captain of a pirate crew from another planet." said a local reporter in the TV.

"Pirate crew?" the wolf humanoid stopped and went back to look at the TV.

"It is unknown who these pirates are, but we managed to get a little information from their leader. Here is a clip that was taken earlier today." The TV then shows a reporter walking up to Luffy, who was eating ton of meat. "Sir, you and your crew has saved Mute City, what do you have to say?"

"I LIKE MEAT!" Luffy responded as he ate more meat.

The TV then showed the reporter in present time. "Well, whoever they may be, they will be remembered for their heroism. Now in other news…"

The wolf humanoid then smirked as his companions walked up to him. "It looks like the boy has been busy. To think that a kid with such determination could go only that far. But taking down a well known criminal is a little too much…"

"So, what is the plan?" the chameleon humanoid asked.

"Heh heh heh… we found ourselves a new target. It is about time that I settle things with that boy. Ha ha ha ha ha!" The humanoid wolf said, better known as one of the biggest criminals in the Lylat system- Wolf O' Donnel.

"About time. I was bored by messing with a bunch of weaklings." the chameleon humanoid said, better known as the merciless being- Leon Powalski.

"Such ridiculous ambitions you two have. I pity myself just being with you two." the panther humanoid said, better known as quite the ladies man- Panther Caruso.

They then continued their walk through the streets. This trio is the most dangerous team in the Lylat system. They are known as 'Starwolf'.

8 hours later…

It was already sunrise, as the Strawhat crew were at the bus station, saying their goodbyes to Captain Falcon, Jody, and John. "Are you sure you want to leave now? The next F-Zero grand prix is about to start in a week. You can stay and watch me race against the other competitors."

"Really!?" Luffy asked. "That sounds gre-"

"No thank you. We must leave now." Nami interrupted, causing Luffy to whine.

"That's too bad. Anyway, I wish you and your crew luck for gathering the rest of the hearts." Captain Falcon said.

"Thanks, Captain Falcon." Luffy said as he shook Falcon's hand in gratitude.

"Will we ever see you again, Mr. Falcon?" Chopper asked.

"Why of course, Chopper." Captain Falcon replied. "I am sure that our paths will cross again someday. And Usopp, you take care of your friends."

"Yes sir! I won't let you down." Usopp said, saluting like some soldier.

"Jody-swan! I will never forget your beautiful appearance!" Sanji said while tapdancing in joy.

"Um… thank you?" Jody said, a little creeped out.

"Why can't this guy get his own girl?" John scoffed.

"What an idiot." Zoro said.

"All aboard to Port town!" said the bus driver as everyone started to get in. The Strawhat crew got inside as Luffy, Usopp and Chopper peered their heads out of an open window.

"Bye, Captain Falcon!" Luffy said as the bus started to head back to port town. Captain Falcon smirked and quickly faces Jody and John.

"Well, I'm off. I will now return to my vacation. I'll see you two later!" Captain Falcon quickly gets on his blue falcon and drives away the same direction the bus went.

"Vacation, huh? He still believes that?" John asked.

"Leave him be, John." Jody said. "Let's get back to work."

"Yes ma'am." John replied as he follows Jody back to base.

To make a long story short, The Strawhat crew made it back to Port town and stepped out of the bus they were on. "Well, we finally are going to get out of here." Franky said while walking to the docks.

"I am so relieved. I just cant stand to be here any longer." Nami said.

"Hey, there is Douglas. Douglas!" Luffy said as he rushes to Douglas, who was in the same fishing as before.

"Hmm? Oh, hello again. Back so soon?" Douglas asked.

"How in the world did he get back here before us?" Zoro asked.

"You guys have turned out to be quite the popular folks. You were all over the news last night." Douglas said while getting up from his fishing spot.

"Hey, what happened to you? Your head looks a bit swollen." Chopper said, noticing multiple bumps on Douglas' head.

"Oh, that was from a small incident. It was no big deal." Douglas said.

"No big deal!?" Nami yelled all of a sudden, but quickly cooled down.

"Well, anyway… thanks for watching the ship for us. We will be heading back now." Luffy said as he and his crew got on their ship.

"You ready, Luffy?" Sanji asked.

"Yeah, I'm ready." Luffy said. He went in front of the ship and raised the 4th Mystery heart up in the air. "MYSTERY DOOR, OPEN! The heart then let out an brown beam in front of Luffy. The beam then spreaded out in five direction as a portal was formed in between the rays. The portal then was replaced by the humongous double door with 5 empty slots shaped as hearts, while one of them was filled with red energy, and the other filled with green energy, and the last one filled with orange energy. The heart then shot another brown beam at the slot under the orange heart, filling it up with brown energy which made the door open, and an image of another planet was shown inside.

"Alright, now let's get going!" Luffy said, unaware that a laser beam was heading right at him from behind.

"Luffy!" Zoro quickly intercepts and cuts the beam in two, sending them flying down to the water.

"Wh-Where did that come from!?" Usopp asked.

"Up there!" Robin pointed and saw three flying aircrafts passing right by, which Douglas recognized instantly.

"Starwolf! Luffy! Hurry and get out of here!" Douglas yelled as the anchors of the Thousand Sunny unanchored and began to go to the door as fast as it could.

"What are those things!? Nami asked.

Luffy squinted his eyes and could see somebody inside the aircraft. "AH! It's the Cyclops guy!"

"What!?" Nami yelled.

"Hey, boy. Long time no see." Wolf said through a speaker of his aircraft known as the wolfen. "You didn't think I let you out of my sight that easily, did you!?"

"Who is that guy?" Franky asked.

"No time to explain! Sanji, get us out of here!" Nami yelled.

"Okay!" Sanji said while manuevering the helm, taking the Thousand Sunny closer to the door.

"Leave them to me, guys. I'll make sure that they don't get away." Wolf said as the front of his Wolfen started to form a beam.

"He is going to shoot at us!" Usopp yelled while Chopper was hiding in fear.

"Damn!" Franky loads something in his left arm and aims it towards the Wolfen. "FRANKY FIREWORKS!" Franky fires something at the wolfen and exploded at half way, creating multiple fireworks.

"Grr!" Wolf couldn't control his Wolfen while it charging up a blast, so he cancelled it and tried to fly away from the fireworks. Meanwhile, Panther saw somebody familiar on the ship.

"YOU!" Panther immediately recognizes Sanji and dives his Wolfen towards him.

"Huh… YOU!" Sanji noticed Panther and quickly jumps right towards him, kicking his Wolfen to unbalance it. Panther had no choice but to fly up as the Thousand Sunny was now halfway through the door.

"Phew… we are going to make it." Usopp said while his back on a wooden wall. Luffy took one last look at Wolf, who took one last look back at him before the door closed, and disappearing into thin air.

"Drats! They are gone!" Leon said.

"Not to worry… we'll meet them again someday." Wolf said as he smirked. "Ha ha.. we'll definitely meet them again someday! Let's go!" Wolf ordered as he and his men flew right out to orbit.

Douglas stood there, with his arms folded. "Luffy, do be careful out there." Douglas said, not noticing that his fishing rod caught a fish for once.

Meanwhile…

The Thousand Sunny was right back into the streams of light, heading to it's next world. Luffy was still looking back, knowing that he made a rivalry with Wolf.

"Luffy…" Nami began to say. "I know you wanted to take care of him back in the bar, but we just don't have the time to.."

"Don't worry, Nami." Luffy said. "We will see them again."

Nami blinked as Sanji could then see something ahead. "Oi, I think I see the next world!"

"Already? How quick." Robin commented.

Luffy quickly gets in front of the ship, eagerly awaiting to get to the next world. "Yosh! World number 5 here we come!" Luffy yelled excitedly as the ship went inside the image.

A bright light blinded them for a couple of seconds after getting inside. The light dimmed down as the Strawhats could see.. nothing but a dense fog.

"Is this the next world?" Luffy asked.

"It is. It's only foggy." Nami said.

"I wonder what's here." Sanji said as the Thousand Sunny ventured through the fog. Unaware to them that there was a blue firefly of some sort behind them.

TO BE CONTINUED…

There you have it. Now I told you before, but I am going to say it again. I have a big test on Wednesday, so don't expect any updates before then. Now that I cleared that, It is time to play our favorite game, 'GUESS THAT ARC!'. I already shown you a glimpse of the next arc, so don't say I didn't give you any hints. Good luck and I'll see you guys later! Ciao!

Metroid Pt 1

Hello Ladies and Gentlemen! I am back ready to start with the next arc! I think I did somewhat good on my important test. Lets just hope that I passed. Anyway, it is now time to reveal the next awaited arc. The next arc is…

And so the journey continues. Deathborn sacrificed his own life to eliminate Luffy from existence, but the only thing he did was to transport him back to Mute city, due to his device being not fully functional. It also turns out that Falcon had the 4th Mystery heart in his Blue Falcon, which did not amuse Nami at all. Before the Strawhat crew could leave to the next world, they were attacked by a deadly trio known as Starwolf. The Strawhat crew managed to get away at a nick of time, leaving the battle with Starwolf unsettled. The Strawhat crew immediately got to the next world, but there is no clue on where they are yet. What kind of creatures does this world have?

Chapter 52: A mysterious attacker, the world where light shines upon us

The Thousand Sunny was continue to drift along the waters, trying to get out of the fog that surrounds it, but to no avail. Everyone else didn't seem to mind as much as most of them were being relaxed, while Nami was trying to figure out where this fog came from. Sanji was maneuvering the Thousand Sunny straight forward, even though he couldn't see anything in front of him. The others were on the lawn deck, doing their usual things.

"It is true, I have heard the whole story from him." Usopp said while folding his arms and having a grin on his face. He was talking to Luffy and Chopper, who were sitting down on the lawn deck, hearing Usopp's story on how Sogeking defeated Black Shadow. "Are you guys interested on how Sogeking defeated Black Shadow before I did?"

"Yeah, tell us!" Luffy and Chopper yelled, filled with pure enjoyment while awaiting anxiously on Usopp's story.

"Ho ho! Very well then. I will tell you Sogeking's amazing story exactly as he told me." Usopp said before he got a serious and determined look on his face. "He went inside the dreadful lair that belonged to Black Shadow. He flawlessly defeated over 8000 of Black Shadow's men before he could get to Black Shadow himself."

"Oooooh!!" Luffy and Chopper cried out at the same time.

"He dramatically enters Black Shadow's room, and saw Black Shadow trying to kill Chopper." Usopp continued as Chopper tried not to remember that event. "Sogeking was about to go down the long spiraled staircase, but was unaware on what Black Shadow had in mind for him. Just before Sogeking could go down the stairs, a HUGE invisible man over 800 pounds pushed Sogeking forward, causing him to tumble down the stairs to make it look like some sort of idiotic accident!"

"Oh! So that's why Sogeking fell down the stairs like that." Chopper said, "I thought he might have accidentally tripped on his mantle, but I guess I was wrong.

"Anyway…" Usopp continued, "Sogeking quickly gets up after he tumbled down the stairs, and quickly dashes right through Black Shadow, and grabs the cage Chopper was in, and made a run for it! Sogeking manages to grab the keys to the cage from Black Shadow, and quickly frees Chopper, and puts him to safety as he ordered Chopper to go down the elevator."

"I didn't like going down that elevator; it wasn't safe." Chopper added.

"Now here is the part where Sogeking gets very heroic." Usopp said before going on with his story. "After Chopper got away, Sogeking stood tall as Black Shadow growled at him angrily like some rabid bull dog. 'I am going to kill you!' he barked, 'I cannot stand seeing such a person as handsome and powerful as you are!'. Sogeking simply laughed and said 'I am not afraid of the likes of you, because people who are the servants of the cruel darkness never wins against the people who stands for justice!'. 'I will show you justice, you swine!' Black Shadow yelled as he lunged at Sogeking and repeatedly punches him in the face!"

"Oh no!" Luffy and Chopper cried out in worry.

"But fear not!" Usopp exclaimed, "The punches that were delivered to Sogeking did not even make him flinch, as it didn't hurt him at all."

"Wow!" Luffy and Chopper yelled excitedly.

"Sogeking simply yawned as Black Shadow was starting to get tired on punching Sogeking's face." Usopp said, "Sogeking then took the opportune moment to grab Black Shadow's wrist, and use his incredible strength to squeeze it effortlessly. 'Ahhhh! Your incredible strength is making me fall on my knees!' Black Shadow cried as he was forced to get on his knees. Not to mention that he started to cry like a little girl and begged for mercy. Sogeking then stopped squeezing Black Shadow's wrist, and then lifts him up over his head with both hands. Sogeking spun Black Shadow in circles, causing Black Shadow to get all dizzy. 'It is time that were you sent flying, you heathen!' Sogeking yelled as he threw Black Shadow into a monitor, shattering it to pieces."

"Wow, I didn't know that Sogeking had super strength." Luffy said, clearly surprised.

"Of course he has super strength." Usopp said, "Anyway, Sogeking then added a final blow by sending his famous Firebird star right into Black Shadow, taking him down! 'GUAAAAAHHH!!" Black Shadow cried as a big explosion occurred afterwards. Sogeking quickly flies out of the lair in a heroic fashion and took one last look at the lair before using his teleporter device to transport himself to whoever is in dire need of help."

"Yaaaaayy!" Luffy and Chopper yelled excitedly as they clapped with joy.

"But it wasn't over." Usopp said with a stern tone, "Black Shadow somehow survived, and intended to blow up the galaxy with his bomb of his by crashing into me. Of course, It was no trouble beating him as well as I simply stopped him by summoning a great god that sended Black Shadow right out of orbit and defeating him for good."

"Hurraaaaayy for Usopp!" Luffy and Chopper said as Usopp laughs while being very proud of himself.

"Man Usopp, I never knew you had it in you. You are really cool." Luffy said, doing his usual happy grin.

"Ha ha ha! I know I am. I was born cool in the first place. Ha ha ha ha!" Usopp laughed as Luffy and Chopper continued to praise him. Franky overheard the conversation and could only tilt his head in confusion.

"Okay, I know he made up the Sogeking part, but it is still hard to believe that somebody like Longnose to actually beat such a big villain." Franky said while scratching his head.

"But he did." Zoro said, as he was right next to Franky, but was sitting on the lawn deck, trying to take a nap. "Now that I have seen Usopp doing something like that, I now believe that just about anything could happen to us."

"Heh… I just wish we can get out of this fog already. It's bumming me out." Franky said as he started to walk away. Zoro then started to snore as he was now clearly asleep. Meanwhile, Nami was still trying to figure out how long the irritating fog will last.

"We have been here for hours and this fog is still here. I am getting sick of this." Nami said irritatingly.

"Don't worry about it, Nami-san." Sanji said, "I am sure you will come up with a great idea that get us out of this place."

"I know that, it's just that it is odd that this fog would be this dense." Nami said, "It's like weather that nobody has ever experienced before."

"We are in another world, Orange sis." Franky said while walking up to Sanji and Nami. "Besides, what could be here that is more freakier than the other things we have seen in the last worlds we been on so far?"

"Huh… you do have a point there." Nami said as she continues to try and look through the fog, "But still… there is something about this atmosphere that worries me."

Another hour has gone by and still nothing was different. Everyone was doing the same thing, except for Luffy, Usopp, and Chopper, who starting to re-enact the battle scene between Sogeking and Black Shadow, but that is not important right now. Robin was on her beach chair, reading a book as she usual does.

"Hmm?" Something has just flew in front of her vision. It turned out to be some sort of blue firefly, as it flew around the Thousand Sunny.

"I am going to get you!" Luffy yelled evilly as he pretending to be Black Shadow while chasing Chopper all over the deck.

"No! Get away!" Chopper laughed as he was running away. He then accidentally tripped and fell on the lawn deck. "Ohh… huh?" Chopper noticed the blue firefly, gently touching Chopper's nose before flying away. "Hey! That is a weird looking firefly."

"Wow! Let's catch it!" Luffy said excitedly as he already was holding a butterfly net, and started to chase the firefly while flailing at it.

"Luffy! There is another one over here too!" Chopper said while pointing at another blue firefly that was above Zoro's head.

"Wait a minute, Chopper! I'll go get my net and help!" Usopp said as he quickly gets inside his men quarters and comes out with his butterfly net.

While those three were trying to catch the blue fireflies, Nami was getting more irritated by the second. "This fog is now completely getting on my last nerve…" Nami then angrily looks at the happy trio, "Luffy! Can you stay quiet just for one second!? I am trying to figure out how to get out of this fog!"

"Nami! Come help us catch these fireflies!" Luffy said while flailing his butterfly net, "These things are so cool!"

"Oi, Luffy! There are some coming from over there!" Usopp said while pointing to three more blue fireflies coming out of nowhere.

"Get it, Usopp!" Luffy yelled.

"Yosh! Here I go!" Usopp said confidently while charging at a blue firefly. "HIYAAA!" Usopp leaps to the blue firefly and lowers his net on it, but it seemed to have went right through it. "Huh? I missed? That's odd… I thought I had it."

"You missed it!? Hurry up and try again!" Luffy said excitedly as he went to help out.

"Fireflies… I don't see anything interesting about these fireflies." Nami said as she was about to walk away, until she saw another blue firefly in front of her. "What is with these fireflies? They are all over the place."

"There is some over here too." Sanji said, noticing some fireflies in front of his view as well. Little by little, more of these blue fireflies started to show up. Some of them started to fly around Zoro's head, waking him up.

"Eh? What is going on?" Zoro said as he rubs his eyes tiredly.

Luffy was swinging his butterfly right at all the fireflies in front of him, but his net just keeps going right through them. "Hmm? Is this thing broken?" Luffy asked as he was scratching his head in confusion.

Before they all knew it, the Thousand Sunny was completely covered with tons of blue fireflies.

"O-Oi… there is something really fishy about all these fireflies. I have a bad feeling about this." Usopp said while trembling in fear.

"These aren't fireflies…" Robin said while standing up.

"Huh? What do you mean, Robin?" Nami asked.

"Just look." Robin waves her hand at a blue firefly, and it went right through it. "You can usually touch a firefly, no matter how small they are. But these however, you can't feel them at all. Not to mention they are still glowing. Fireflies usually don't light their tales for such a long time."

Chopper gulped as walked backwards and ended up next to the frightened Usopp. "So… if they aren't fireflies, then what are they?"

"This is kinda weird, bro." Franky said, "Something like this could mean only trouble."

"Hey, if there not fireflies, then how about we just cook them up and see how they taste like?" Luffy asked.

This caused all of those blue firefly looking creatures to stop, freaking out Usopp and Chopper.

"Luffy! Why did you have to go and say that!? Now they are on to us!" Usopp yelled angrily.

"Luffy, I think Usopp is right for once." Nami said worryingly, "Maybe these things have a mind of their own and can understand what we are talking about. I normally wouldn't believe this myself, but after seeing many weird things in my life, I now do!"

"Oh, Nami. You always think of silly things." Luffy said, causing Nami to get angry at him, "There is no way that these things have a mind of their own. They are food and nothing else."

The fireflies then slowly started to gather in the center of the deck. "Oh no! Oh no! They are going to do something!" Usopp cried while holding Chopper in fear.

"Cool! What are they gonna do?" Luffy asked while staring at the gathering fireflies. Luffy's happy expression slowly faded as more fireflies started to gather more quickly than before. "Umm… I don't think this might be a good thing."

"Thanks for clearing that out for all of us, Einstien!" Usopp barked sarcastically.

The fireflies then appeared to have combined into one big looking blue light. This caused almost everyone to back away and for Zoro to immediately stand up and puts his swords back around his waist. "I sense something big in there. Get ready for anything!"

The light then formed into some sort of creature. It appears that it was wearing a dark blue armor that covered its entire body with a dark blueish aura surrounding it, a light and thin blueish visor, and has a dark looking midsized cannon for a right arm. The creature levitated a couple of inches from the ground as everybody had a shocked look on their faces.

"AAAAHHHHHH!!! IT'S A MONSTER!!" Usopp cried out in great fear. The creature slowly looked at it's surroundings, seeing the Strawhat crew, who were looking back at it.

"Wha-What is that thing!? Some sort of alien?" Nami asked as Sanji stops maneuvering the Thousand Sunny, and went to where the commotion is.

"Oi, what is going-What the!?" Sanji cried out as he saw the dark blue creature in the middle of the lawn deck.

"Wh-Wh-Wh-Wh-What do you think it wants?" Chopper asked while covering his eyes with his hooves.

"Don't make a sound!" Usopp hissed quietly, "It may not attack if you don't make any sudden moves. Just stay quiet and it might go away in peace…"

The dark blue creature noticed Usopp and Chopper, being the only ones who were shaking in fear. Usopp and Chopper stayed at a petrified state while the creature looked at them. The creature then raised it right arm cannon at them.

"YYYAAAHHHHHHH!! IT'S GOING TO SHOOT AT US!!" Usopp and Chopper cried out at the same time.

"Oi, stop it!" Luffy yelled angrily as he then charged at the dark creature. "GOMU GOMU NO PISTOL!" Luffy stretches his arm towards the dark creature and punches it in the face. "AAHHHH!" Luffy suddenly felt huge recoil damage just by hitting it as he landed on his rear while holding his wrist in pain. The dark creature regained it's balance, and then shoots a small light blueish blast at Luffy, sending him flying right back into a wall, and then landing hard on the lawn floor.

"LUFFY!" Zoro yelled as he charged at the dark creature while unsheathing his swords. Zoro swung one of his swords at the creature, who blocked it with it's left arm. "Geh!" Zoro felt weak all of a sudden as it caused him to lower his guard, giving the creature a chance to kick him in the gut, sending him flying right next to the semi-unconscious Luffy. The creature aimed it's cannon at both of them, but suddenly saw Usopp aiming at it with his slingshot.

"HISSATSU KATAKI BOSHI!" Usopp fires an exploding pellet at the creature, but it seemed to have disintegrated just as it got close to it. "Wh-What!?" the creature then aimed at Usopp and Chopper and fired another small blast, But Usopp dodged by grabbing Chopper and leaping out of the way as the blast made a small burn mark on the floor.

"OI! DONT ATTACK MY SHIP!" Franky yelled angrily as he removed the skin off of his right arm and jumped down to the creature. "STRONG HAMMER!" Franky swings his steel fist down, but the dark creature levitated out of the way as Franky hit the lawn deck instead. The dark creature then levitated beside Franky and swung it's arm cannon up across Franky's chin. "GUOH!" Franky went flying up for a couple of seconds before he went back down to the lawn floor. Before he could crash, the dark creature swung it's arm cannon horizontally, sending him flying right into Luffy and Zoro, crashing hard into them.

"Wha… What is going on!? Why are you guys on the ground!? Get up and fight it!" Nami yelled nervously.

The dark creature then turned it's head towards Nami, who got frightened just be looked at.

"Wait! What are you intending to do!?" Nami asked nervously as the dark creature then aimed it's arm cannon at her.

"Tsk…" Robin quickly crosses her limbs. "CUATRO FLEUR!" Hands grew out of the dark creature's body. "AAHHH!!" Robin cried out all of a sudden as the hands around the dark creature quickly burned into blue flames, almost causing Robin to be out cold as she landed on her hands and knees in pain.

"Robin-chan!" Sanji cried out as he then looked at the dark creature furiously, "DAMN YOU!" Sanji jumps high up and does multiple front flips while being curled into a ball in midair. "CONCASSE!" Sanji goes down to the dark creature and lowers his heel down at the dark creature's head. "Grrr…" Surprisingly, this caused more damage to Sanji then it did to the dark creature as he fell down to the lawn floor in pain. The dark creature shakes it's head before it kicked Sanji up from the ground. "AHH!" Sanji cried in pain as he then received an uppercut across the jaw, and then a thrust to the gut by the dark creature's arm cannon, sending Sanji flying straight back into a wooden wall, almost going through it.

"Sanji-kun!" Nami cried as she then noticed the dark creature was once again staring at her. Before the dark creature could do anything else, it looked behind his shoulder to see Luffy, who was barely trying to stand while holding his injured gut.

"I won't let you beat us… ! I am going to kick your ass for what you have done!" Luffy yelled angrily while panting heavily.

The dark creature didnt seem to care as it then faced towards Luffy completely then aimed its arm cannon at him. They both stood still, not making any moves. The dark creature was about to attack, until it looked to it's left.

"Huh?" Luffy had a confused expression as the dark creature lowered it's arm cannon down while still looking at it's left. It then looked back at Luffy for a couple of seconds before it jumped in the air and did multiple front flips while being curled into a ball. It then literally turns into a big dark blueish ball as it then went flying out of Luffy's view. "Whoa…"

"I-Is it over?" Chopper asked while uncovering his eyes in fear. Everyone else started to groggily get up, except for Sanji for receiving the bigger beating. Nami fumed and walked down the stairs to confront her crew.

"What the hell was that just now!?" Nami yelled, "Just one or two hits and you guys are already down! What gives!?"

"You wouldn't be questioning us if you actually did something to it! I felt like I was punching a pool of acid!" Franky yelled as he was rubbing his chin in pain.

"Y-Yeah…" Zoro said groggily, "Whatever that thing was, it has a hazardous from head to toe. I couldn't focus properly even just by being close to it."

"Not to mention that my explosives disintegrated just before it could touch it." Usopp said nervously.

"It was… probably more than that…" Robin said as she struggles to get up.

"What do you mean, Robin?" Nami asked as Robin manages to stand up.

"That creature has some sort of deadly radiation…" Robin said with a stern look, "I'm afraid… that we may not survive if we encounter it again."

"Oh man… this world is probably the most scariest one we have gone so far." Usopp whimpered, "What if there are more of those things out there!? We can't stay here any longer, we gotta get out of here!!"

"What do you suggest we go!?" Nami asked, "We are stuck in this world until we find the 5th heart!"

"You're the navigator! Lead us out of here!" Usopp yelled.

"I would if this stupid fog would clear up already!" Nami yelled back.

Luffy was still looking at the same direction where that dark creature flew off. "That thing… turned into a ball." Luffy said to himself. "Hmm?" Luffy then noticed that the fog was starting to go thin. "Oi! The fog is starting to clear!"

"Huh?" Nami looked at the direction was looking at and could see that the fog was indeed starting to clear little by little. "Finally. Chopper, heal everyone while I maneuver the ship. We need to be ready…"

"Y-Yeah…" Chopper said as everyone who fought with the dark creature started to head to the infirmary. Chopper got into his heavy point and carries the unconscious Sanji with both of his arms and then heads to the infirmary with everyone else.

Usopp, who didn't get injured by the dark creature, sat on a corner, starting to shake in fear again. "To think I can relax after all what just happened back at the previous world. My I-cant-handle-fighting-another-big-thing-after-defeating-the-previous-big-thing disease is acting up again…" Nami sighs as she maneuvers the ship, trying to forget what happened earlier.

Meanwhile, in the infirmary, everyone who got injured by the dark creature were getting healed by Chopper. Sanji was on the bed, thinking about what just happened.

"I couldn't do anything to help…" Sanji muttered as Chopper finished putting his medicine bottles away.

"Okay, you guys are good to go." Chopper said, "Try not to attack that scary thing again."

"Thanks, Chopper. Don't know what we'll do without you." Luffy said with a happy face.

This caused Chopper to do his happy dance. "You stupid head! I am not happy just because you said that you big meany! MEANY!" Chopper yelled out happily while dancing.

"Okay, now that I am all fixed up, I am going to repair the ship. Later." Franky said as he left the infirmary. Everyone else then left the ship, leaving Chopper and Sanji alone.

"Are you feeling okay, Sanji?" Chopper asked, "If not, I got some medicinal herbs that could do the…"

"No, Chopper. I am okay." Sanji said as he sat up. "Although… that thing hurt Robin-chan, and I couldn't do anything about it."

"She is alright now. You don't have to worry about her anymore." Chopper said.

"It's not that… It's just…" Sanji began to say as Chopper tilted his head in confusion.

"Oi, you guys! Come out here and see this!" Luffy yelled from outside the infirmary, getting Sanji's and Chopper's attention.

"Well, let's go and see what the captain wants us to see." Sanji said all of a sudden, getting up from his bed and going out the infirmary door.

"Okay…" Chopper said as he followed Sanji. As they both got outside, there eyes widened at what they are then seeing. "Whoa! What is that!?"

What the Strawhat crew were looking at appeared to be a very large mountain. But there doesn't seem to be any way to get up there though.

"That is one cool looking mountain!" Luffy yelled happily.

"So are we suppose to go up there or what?" Franky asked.

"It's not like we can. There doesn't seem to be anything that would lead us up there." Nami said.

"Hey, how about that thing?" Zoro said while pointing to something. Just near a small shore, there appears to be a black circular platform that was being held down by some clamps. There was also some sort of monitor next to it.

"I believe that is our way up." Robin said.

"W-Wait a minute. What if that thing is up there!?" Usopp asked nervously.

"We won't know until we go there. Besides, it's not like we have any other choice." Zoro said as he lowers the stairway that leads down to the shore. The Thousand Sunny lowered it's paws down to through the waters, anchoring in place as the Strawhat crew were getting off, except for Franky.

"Oi, Franky! Hurry and get down here." Sanji said.

"Hold up, cook bro. I am almost done here." Franky said as he quickly cleaned and fixed any damages that was caused by the dark creature. Franky then gets off the Thousand Sunny and catches up with his crew, who were looking around the circular platform.

"What do you think this is?" Usopp asked.

"It kinda looks like a pancake." Luffy replied.

"Eh? How does this platform remind you of a pancake?" Usopp asked.

"Because it is round and pancakes are always round." Luffy said as Usopp sighed.

"Who cares what it looks like? What is important right is how does it work?" Nami asked.

"Perhaps this will turn it on." Robin said while walking up to the small monitor next to the platform. She smiled and places her palm on the monitor, which made a hologram of the mountain top to appear in the center of the platform. "It appears I was right afterall."

"Oh, Robin-chwan! You are so good on how to figure out these things!" Sanji said joyfully with a heart on his visible eye.

"So… what do we do now?" Zoro asked.

"Let's touch it!" Luffy said as he extended his finger towards the hologram.

"Wait, Luffy! We don't know what that will… !" Nami yelled before Luffy touched the hologram, which then disappeared.

"Huh?" The clamps on the platform then automatically unattached themselves as the platform started to shake.

"Wh-What is going on!?" Usopp asked. Underneath the platform was a rocket booster that started to light up

BOO OOO OOO OOO OOO OOO OOO OOO OOO OOO OOO OOO OOO OOO OOM

"AAA AAA AAA AAH HHH HHH HHH HHH HHH HHH HHH HHH HHH HHHH!!!!!" The platform then went straight up like a rocket, with everyone, except for Robin, to scream for their lives.

"WE ARE GOING TO DIE! AHHHH!!" Usopp cried.

"NOOOOOOOOOOO!!" Chopper cried out as the platform reached towards the destination, making a sudden stop. Almost everyone was dazed in fear as Luffy was laughing.

"Hiya ha ha ha ha ha! That was so fun! We must do that again!" Luffy yelled out in excitement.

BAM, KAPOW, SMACK, BANG, POW, KABAM!!!

"DONT TOUCH ANYTHING ELSE AGAIN!!!" Yelled everyone, except for Chopper and Robin, after they hit Luffy on the head.

"S-Sorry…" Luffy said with multiple bumps on his head.

They calmed down and saw what stood before them.

"What is that…?" Chopper asked. What stood before them appeared to be some sort of an abandoned ship. Not a pirate ship, but some intergalactic space ship that was severely damage and was beyond repair.

"Now that looks quite fancy." Franky said while raising his sunglasses for a moment. Luffy took no time to stare at it and quickly looks inside.

"Oooooo! CooooOOOLL!" Luffy said as Usopp and Chopper got inside to look for themselves. There was nothing much but a row of seats and there was also a huge hole on the ship wall that led to outside again.

"Who do you think owns this thing?" Sanji said from looking at the ship outside.

"I think it belonged to them." Zoro said. He looked at a cemetery, with names of people in one big holographic tombstone. Nami shivers at the sight of this.

"You guys come out of that ship! We are moving on now!" Nami yelled, which made Luffy, Usopp, and Chopper to get out of the ship.

"Which way do we go, Miss Navigator?" Robin asked.

"We'll trying going this way." Nami said pointing between some rocky cliffs. The Strawhat crew walked through the cliffs, seeing advanced and unknown machinery. They then entered a cave and at the end lies some kind of blue hexagon door.

"Is this some kind of door?" Franky asked, "How do we open it?"

"Punch it and see what happens." Luffy said. Franky took Luffy's advice and punches the door. The door lost it's blue color before opening completely.

"Wow, Luffy was right." Chopper said as Luffy grins.

"-sighs-… Come on." Nami said as they all entered through the door. The door closed and regained it's blue light once after everybody went through. They walked through a corridor and noticed a broken gate on the floor, but they didn't pay to much attention to that. "EEEK! Bugs!" Nami cried as she saw some strange looking bugs that were kinda big.

"I'll save you, Nami-swan!" Sanji said as he heroically jumps towards the bugs and kicks them dead. "You are now safe my beloved Nami-swan!" Sanji yelled victoriously.

Nobody replied, but instead they continued to move on, almost leaving Sanji behind. "Wait for me!" Sanji said as he caught up with his crew. The corridor got a little narrower as they were passing through spider webs until they have come across another hexagon door. Franky punched it, causing it to open. The Strawhat crew went through it and were now walking out of the cave and into outdoors again. They saw some things like big boxes with red circles in the middle and a huge satellite just outside the cave.

They couldn't do much with those though as they saw more of those hideous bugs on the floor. Zoro cuts them up into pieces before they could venture on as they headed into another hexagon door. Franky sighed and punched the door, causing it to open. They went through it and saw some small gates open. They went underneath a small and short cave that was filled with moths and spider webs until they reached to yet another hexagon door.

"Let me do it this time." Luffy said as he punched the hexagon door, but accidentally broke it in pieces.

"You didn't had to hit it that hard." Franky said as they then reached into a vast and open space. There were a couple of cargo supplies around the floor. They were on a higher platform, so they had to go down. Some jumped down, while others had climbed down. When they all got down, they could see a really big structure from afar to their right. They couldn't tell what it is due to being so high up.

"This place is very big… yet it is very quiet at the same time." Usopp said.

"Hey, I wonder if the ten foot bug eye people are here?" Luffy asked excitedly.

"Oh come on, not that again!" Nami said, "We didn't see anything that looked like ten foot bug eye people back in the previous world, so there are definitely none of those things here in this world."

"I know they are here! I can feel it!" Luffy said with great determination.

"You really want to see these bug eye people, don't you?" Zoro said.

"Yes! It is one of my greatest wishes!" Luffy said.

"Oh, Luffy. You never learn." Usopp said with his head lowered.

"What do you mean, Usopp?" Chopper asked.

Usopp walked just right in front of an open gate that lead to another hexagon door and faced back to his crew. "Don't you think it's obvious by now that there is no ten foot bug eye people? We have been to worlds that contained things beyond our imagination and yet, we have never encountered with them. Face it Luffy, we are never going to see them."

"You're wrong! They are here!" Luffy yelled.

"Now, I know that you don't want to admit it, but face the facts already. I don't want this to end up being an argument. Just accept it Luffy." Usopp said, trying his best not to sound harsh.

"Mmmm…" Luffy whined.

"Now see? Doesn't that feel better? Now let's get going." Usopp said. Before he could turn around, something grabbed it's shoulder from behind, something with three long and skinny fingers. Usopp simply laughed at this. "Nice try, Luffy, but I won't get scared this easily."

But it wasn't Luffy who tried to play pranks with Usopp as he was still standing on the same spot, only he has a very happy expression on his face. Everyone else however, have a frightened and surprised look on their faces.

"Umm… okay." Usopp said calmly, "Let's see… if all my crew is right in front of me, then what is behind…?" Usopp gulps in fea,r and slowly looks behind his shoulder. He could see the long and skinny fingers that was holding his shoulder. Usopp started to sweat in fear as he slowly started to look on the thing that's holding him.

This creature had very long and skinny legs, including it's arms, and was also incredibly tall, probably more than ten feet. Some of it's body had light red strips glowing around it's body. It has white fur only on it's chest and also has wings that only a harmless fly would have. Usopp then looked at it's face, that appeared to have a buggish-looking feature, with it's bugged and pink eyes looking down at Usopp. The bug eyed person tilted his head as Usopp had his mouth hung open in fear.

communicate with them! Next time on One Piece: A Smash Adventure; Chapter 53: Welcome to Aether, The planet of the Luminoths. I am gonna be the Pirate King!

After countless of chapters and so much patience, the Metroid arc has finally begun! Not to mention that you guys finally know which ten foot bug eye people I was talking about this whole time. Anyway, I have noticed that some reviewers guessed like two or three times, which is cheating by the way.

I am only going to accept your first guesses, so the winner of 'GUESS THAT ARC!' goes to Morph, for him guessing Metroid first. Congratulations Morph and here is your imaginary cookie in shape of Samus' helmet. The rest of you who reviewed gets an ordinary imaginary cookie just for your efforts. Hope you enjoyed this chapter!

Metroid Pt 2

Sorry this took so long, but I was busy. This chapter is pure talk, so I dont know if you will enjoy it or not. Enjoy it anyway!

One of Luffy's wishes has finally come true. The Strawhat crew have arrived on a world that seemed to be almost abandoned. Before they could do any further travel on it, they had a brief encounter with a mysterious dark creature in armor. Despite being outnumbered, the dark creature easily defeated almost every single crew member with no hesitation. The dark creature left after it's short victory, leaving the Strawhat crew completely baffled. They soon made it to land and explored around a mountain top, seeing several advanced and ancient machinery. What took them off by surprise was that they actually met a ten foot bug-eyed person, unintentionally scaring the heck out of Usopp. Is this ten foot bug-eye person a friend or foe?

Chapter 53: Welcome to Aether, The planet of the Luminoths

The Strawhat crew, except for Luffy, were stunned. They would have never imagined that they would see a creature that Luffy would think of. And since we all know how Luffy thinks, this was quite a shocker for everyone else. Usopp seemed to be either have fainted or being completely petrified in fear as he was still standing in the same spot where he saw the ten foot bug-eye person for the first time.

The ten foot bug-eye person takes it's hand off of Usopp's shoulder, which didn't even make Usopp flinch, as it this looked towards the rest of the Strawhat crew.

"This… is impossible. How can…?" Nami said, with a surprised and scared look on her face.

"Never thought… I'd see the day that Strawhat was right about something." Franky said while raising his sunglasses with a shock expression.

"YES!!" Luffy yelled excitedly as he jumped in joy, "We finally meet a ten foot bug-eye person! Oh yes! Yes! Yes!"

"I-I-I-I am scared…" Chopper said while shaking in fear, putting his hooves on Robin's leg rather than hiding behind it.

"Such a fascinating looking creature." Robin said as she was not as shocked as everyone else, "I wonder what kind of species it is."

"R-Robin! How can you think about that right now!?" Nami asked, "Usopp is probably dead! And what's worse, I am probably the next victim!"

Sanji quickly steps in front of Nami and shields her. "Do not worry, Nami-san!" Sanji said confidently, "I will defeat this foul monster and save you from it's dreaded claws!"

"Sanji-kun…" Nami began to say.

"I have do not know what would have happen if that dark thing from earlier would have attacked you. I would have never forgiven myself if I would allow such thing to happen!" Sanji said with pure confidence in his words.

Nami blinked as Zoro unsheathed his swords. "You are full of it, Cook. I will handle this thing." Zoro said.

Luffy quickly gets right in front of Zoro and stops him from going any further. "No! I wont let you do that!" Luffy yelled.

Almost everyone was surprised on what Luffy has just said. "Eh!? Luffy, what are you…?" Zoro began to say until he noticed an angry glare from Luffy.

"As your captain, I wont allow you to attack the ten foot bug-eye person! You will have to kill me first!" Luffy yelled.

"Wha!? Luffy, have you completely lost your mind this time!?" Nami asked.

"I have not lost my mind!" Luffy yelled while looking at Nami, "The ten foot bug-eye people are peaceful and they are really important to us all! Killing just one of them could easily destroy a balance!"

"What balance!?" Nami asked while shoving Sanji out of the way, "In case you haven't realized, that thing could have killed Usopp. I mean, come on! Just look at him!"

Nami pointed straight at Usopp, who was still petrified from earlier. Luffy looked at him for a second before looking straight back to Nami. "He is not dead!" Luffy yelled, "He is just so happy to see a ten foot bug-eye person, he's standing there like a scared person!"

"So when Longnose screamed like something not even a little girl can do, he was actually happy? Wow… he must be happy all the time." Franky commented.

"Who cares if Usopp was happy or not!? The point is that thing over there wants to eat us!" Nami yelled while pushing Luffy's head back with her forehead.

"He doesn't want to eat us! He just wants to say 'hi'!" Luffy yelled back while pushing Nami's head back with his forehead.

"Why do you call it a he? It can be only called a 'he' if it can talk like a human being! But it doesn't, doesn't it!? Besides, what kind of unidentified creature would just come up to you and say hi!?" Nami yelled.

"Really nice unidentified creatures, thats who!" Luffy replied.

They continued to argue, while Usopp seems to be regaining conciousness. "Oh… my head. Where am-I!!!!" Usopp looks up and sees the same ten foot bug-eye person that scared him a while ago. Usopp lunges away from it and hides right behind Chopper.

"Usopp! Are you…?" Chopper asked before Usopp started to speak.

"An alien!! It's a horrific alien that wants to eat us!!" Usopp yelled out while tears were pouring right out of his eyes.

Luffy and Nami stopped their arguing and looked at the ten foot bug-eye person. "Luffy, kick it's ass!" Nami demanded.

"No! I wont fight him!" Luffy responded, getting a nasty glare from Nami afterwards.

The ten foot bug-eye person tilted it's head sideways and started to levitate a little closer to the Strawhat crew.

"Heads up, bros." Franky said while getting on his battle position, "This thing is going to do something!"

Everyone got to their battle positions, except for Luffy who stood in front of his crew. "Stop it, guys! He doesn't want to hurt anybody!" Luffy said.

"Out of the way, Luffy. We dont know what this thing is capable of." Sanji said with a stern face.

"Y-Yeah, Luffy. Step aside and let us handle it." Usopp said as he stomps right past Luffy and glares right up at the ten foot bug-eye person's face. Usopp had a clear stern expression, showing nothing but fearless and angry face that would make a baby cry, while the ten foot bug-eye person still had the same look on it's face while looking down at Usopp. A couple of seconds have passed, and Usopp was starting to sweat as he was getting tired by the second he holds his stern look, while the ten foot bug-eye person didn't even flinch. "Eh… ah… OHH!! I CANT HANDLE THIS! IT DOES NOT RESPOND TO FACIAL EXPRESSIONS!!"

Usopp fell back to his rear, panting heavily while massaging his face. The ten foot bug-eye person then slowly lowered his claw at Usopp.

"Ahh! Help me!" Usopp closed his eyes, expecting the worst to happen.

"Do you need help getting up?"

"Eh?" Usopp opened his eyes and realized that the ten foot bug-eye person was the one who just talked. "Whoa! It talks!" Usopp quickly crawls all the way back to his crew, who were shocked to know that it can talk.

"It can talk!?" Nami asked with her mouth wide open.

"I knew it! I told you he was a he!" Luffy exclaimed, more excitedly than before.

Zoro got to his battle position as he glared at the ten foot bug-eye person. "Oi, we are the wrong people to snack on, so don't you dare try anything funny."

The ten foot bug-eye person stood straight, looking down at Zoro and the rest of the Strawhat crew. "Please do not be alarmed, humans. I come to you in peace. I mean you no harm."

Chopper felt a little calmer as Usopp angrily gets up. "Yeah right! That's what all of you guys say! You get us all calm and then the next thing we know it is that we are suddenly strapped down to a table, where you cut us open with a scalpel! A SCALPEL!!!"

"A scalpel!? That's scary!" Chopper said while shaking in fear.

"Oh, but that's not all you will do to us!" Usopp yelled, "You will then pull out our organs and start devouring them while we are still alive! You will probably then rape the girls and poor old Chopper while you are at it!!!"

"Rape me!? NOOOO!!!" Chopper crouches down and pulls down his hat over his face.

"How dare you try to do such things to Nami-swan and Robin-chwan, you monster! I will beat the hell out of you!" Sanji yelled as Franky held him back.

"Easy, bro. It's just Longnose saying silly things again." Franky said.

"Oh my. I do not have intentions of doing those drastic things you just mentioned." the ten foot bug-eye person said.

"Oh suuurrrrrre you don't. But let me tell you something. I… Luffy!" Usopp yelled as he noticed Luffy walking past him, "Luffy, what are doing getting closer to that thing! He is going to use a scalpel on you! A scalpel, Luffy!!"

Luffy simply looks at Usopp behind his shoulder and gives him a grin. "Don't worry, Usopp. He is our friend." Luffy said as he then resumed walking towards the ten foot bug-eye person.

"No, Luffy! Dont go!" Usopp cried as he got on his knees.

Luffy got close to the ten foot bug-eye person and looked at his face. "I am Luffy… and we are your humble servants." Luffy said while bowing down to the ten foot bug-eye person.

"WHAT ARE YOU DOING!?" Yelled everybody else, except for Robin.

"Oh… well, I suppose I should feel honored by this, but please do get up." the ten foot bug-eye person said, "Besides, I did not come here to eat any of you. I was simply curious on who or what have arrived here. I guess it turned out to be a group of humans."

"How did you know we were here?" Robin asked.

"From the view of the Great Temple, I saw some kind of wooden ship from afar." the ten foot bug-eye person said, showing the a huge structure behind him. "Tell me, was that your ship?"

"Yeah, that's our ship. We came a long way to get here and meet your kind for the first time. I am so glad that this whole trip finally paid off." Luffy said while feeling really happy.

"A long trip, you say? And just so you can see meet my species?" the ten foot bug-eye person asked.

"Yeah! That was our whole purpose for this world-hopping adventure to begin with." Luffy said.

"Since when did we have that purpose?" Zoro asked.

"How fascinating. Oh! How rude of me, I forgot to introduce myself. My name is U-mos, the current sentinel of my species. Welcome to the planet Aether." the sentinel of the ten foot bug-eye person said--U-mos.

"Aether?" Chopper asked.

"Yes. This is a peaceful planet where we, the Luminoths, live in peace and harmony." U-mos said.

"Huh… that sounds a little boring if you ask me." Zoro said as he sheathes his swords.

"It has been quite some time since we had a visit from humans, not to mention the fact that you somehow got here by a wooden ship." U-mos said.

"It's a long story, bug headed bro." Franky said.

"I see." U-mos said, "I am quite interested on how you got here. How about we talk it over in my temple?"

"Yosh! Let's go!" Luffy said all of a sudden.

"What!? Luffy, you can't be serious!" Usopp yelled.

"Come on, Usopp. Aren't you excited that we are getting rare treatment from one of the ten foot bug-eye people?" Luffy asked with his usual grin.

"Just because he is inviting us to his so called temple, doesn't mean he is not going to do anything bad to us!" Usopp barked at Luffy's face.

"Luffy, we need to know for sure that this U-mos guy can be trusted." Nami said.

"Um… I can hear what you are saying about me." U-mos said as he was only a few inches from Nami.

"Buzz off, bug head!" Nami barked at U-mos, who moved back a little.

"Will you relax, Nami?" Zoro said bluntly, "It's not like you can do anything about it. If the captain wants to go with this bug guy, we might as well go with him too."

"Huh!? But…" Nami began to say before everyone else started to agree.

"There aint nothin' you can do, sis. Let's just get this over with." Franky said.

"But… !" Nami began to say, but there was no denying it. Luffy is her captain and must do what he said. "Ughh… fine. Do what you guys want."

"YAHOO!" Luffy cried out as he jumps up and down with joy.

"Ohh… my I-cant-go-with-this-ten-foot-bug-eye-person-who-is-called-U-mos-to-his-temple disease is acting up again." Usopp said as he pretends to feel ill while crouching on the floor.

"-sigh-… this day can't get any worse." Nami said while massaging her temples.

"Actually, this is quite a surprise. Not to mention the fact that you lost." Robin said.

Nami widened her eyes and nervously looked at Robin. "I am afraid to ask, but… what do you mean?" Nami asked.

"The bet that you and the captain made about meeting bug-eye people along the way our search for the hearts." Robin said, "If I recall correctly, you said that you would strip down to your undergarments if we indeed meet with these ten foot bug-eye people that the captain keeps mentioning about."

"WHA!?!?" Nami has completely forgotten about that bet and was now petrified in shock and literally shattered into little pieces for dramatic effect.

"OH YES!!!" Sanji said as a big heart formed at his visible eye.

"Yipee! We meet the ten foot bug-eye people and I won the bet! We are all happy!" Luffy said as he danced with Sanji with great joy.

"I know!" Sanji said happily, "I love the ten foot bug-eye people and now we get to see Nami's beautiful-"

BAM!

"Don't dare get any further than that, you perv!" Nami yelled after hitting Sanji on the head.

"Still, sis. You gotta show us the goods." Franky said pervertedly.

"In your dreams!" Nami barked, "I said that I would strip down to my bra and panties, but I didnt say when I would do that, you stupid pervert!" Nami barked before she stomped right past U-mos, "Well, come on! Let's get going already!"

"Has my presence offended her?" U-mos asked.

"Nah, she is always like that to everyone." Zoro said.

"I see. Anyway, we should get going. Follow me please." U-mos said as he levitated towards a hexagon door while the Strawhat crew followed him.

"Keep a sharp eye on him, Chopper. We dont know what that thing is capable of." Usopp whispered while Chopper was near him.

"Okay." Chopper responded as U-mos simply touched the hexagon door, causing it to open automatically. The Strawhat crew went inside and saw another round platform being held down by clamps.

"Oh you got to be kidding." Nami whined as the Strawhat crew walked on the platform. With U-mos just raising one finger, the platform started to activate as the boosters beneath it started to light up.

"Here we go…" Usopp whimpered as the platform then went flying up with great speed. Unlike the last time, the Strawhat were not as frightened as before when riding on the platform the first time. A couple of seconds past as the platform then reached to its destination as the clamps on that floor locked the platform in place.

"This way please." U-mos said as showed the Strawhat crew into another hexagon door. U-mos opened it before he and everyone else went through, leading them to a hallway. It was a mechanized hall, with some sort of light orbs floating around the place. Luffy and Chopper were amazed at the light orbs, but soon quickly caught up with their crew as they were almost left behind. They have arrived to another hexagon door as U-mos opened it.

"WHOA!"

What lied past that hexagon door was a big and round room. The floor was made of transparent and very thick glass that seems impenetrable. The walls were also one a one big window, as you can clearly see almost everything on the mountain top from here. There were also three other hexagon doors in the room, one of them in the west, the other in the east, and the other in the north.

What impressed Luffy the most was that there were a couple of Luminoths in the room, minding their own business. The Luminoths in the room stopped what they were doing as they quickly stared at the Strawhat crew.

"CooooOOOLL! There are so many of them! And they all look so cool!" Luffy said as sparks of joy came out of his eyes.

"Oh my gosh… this is too much for me to handle." Usopp said as he was in complete fear of the Luminoths.

U-mos stood in front of the Strawhat crew and faced his species. "My fellow brethren." U-mos said, "We have visitors that have come from a distant land. Please make them feel welcome here."

The Luminoth around the room looked at eachother at first, until they then bowed down to the Strawhat crew. "Heh, I kinda like being worshipped." Franky said with a grin.

"Thank you for worshipping us." Luffy said as he bows down to the bowed Luminoths.

"Luffy! Get up already!" Nami yelled as Luffy then got up.

"Now then… allow me to take you to my quarters. This way please." U-mos said as he then floats right by his species as the Strawhat crew followed him. Usopp was at high alert when he passed by the other luminoths as U-mos opened another hexagon door. They went inside and got into a small hallway, with at the end having another round platform, only it doesn't have clamps on it.

They got on the platform as U-mos touched the hologram in the center of it, making the platform go up slowly. They only went up one floor from the ground as they then walked on another hallway that lead to another hexagon door. U-mos opened before he and the Strawhat crew went through.

The room they are now in was about twice as narrower then the room they were in before, only this time, it doesnt have a glass floor, but a regular one instead. There was a big, black and round machine in the middle of the room that seems to be gathering rays of light getting through three different lenses above the room.

"Wow, so this place is your room." Chopper asked.

"You may call it that." U-mos replied, "But I find it more of the heart of this world."

"Heart?" Nami asked, "What do you mean by 'heart' exactly?"

"This room is where the Light of Aether gathers. Without this device, our planet would be an open target." U-mos said looking at the machine in the middle of the room.

"How come?" Sanji asked.

"Well, you see… this world is made out of pure light that protects our planet." U-mos began to say, "To keep the light from vanishing, this device here allows us to manipulate the light, making sure that the dreaded darkness would never return to this world."

"Darkness? Bro, I am pretty sure that this world isn't always daytime." Franky said.

"That was not the darkness I was referring to…" U-mos said as he sadly sighs. There was an awkward silence until Robin began to say something

"If you don't mind, Sir U-mos. But I would like to learn about some historic deeds about your species and this world as well. If that is okay to you." Robin said kindly.

"You are quite a bright specimen. I'll be glad to tell you about my species' past." U-mos said as he looks up at the clear bright sky.

"Story time!" Luffy said as he sits down at the ground, along with Usopp and Chopper.

U-mos sighed a bit before beginning to explain about his past. "A long time ago, we, the Luminoths, didn't have a place of our own. We would search every piece of land to make it our home, but there was no such luck. Until we managed to find this world." U-mos then raised his claw as a hologram of Aether formed over his palm, which amazed Luffy and the others.

"This world was was perfect for us. There were plenty of food, there was a nice atmosphere, not to mention that this place could be the home we were searching for all this time. We lived peacefully for centuries, it seemed that it would never end. However… that wasn't the case." The hologram above U-mos' palm then showed some sort of comet heading straight down to Aether. "A leviathan appeared out of the dark depths of space and crashed into our planet."

The hologram showed the comet, also known as a leviathan, crashing into Aether's orbit. Most of the Strawhat crew were surprised to see something like that hit a planet.

"The leviathan didn't cause much damage to Aether's atmosphere, but it began to do so after it crashed." The hologram then changed into some sort of dark looking creature with one eyeball and 4 spiky legs.

"Ah! What is that!?" Usopp asked in fear.

"This is called the Ing, a race of darkness." U-mos said, "They know nothing but hatred and rage. And their presence ended our peaceful era, and brought us to war." The hologram then showed Aether again, only it was changing from light and dark at the same time. "The leviathan created another dimension within our world, a dimension where everything is exactly the opposite Aether called 'Dark Aether'. Nothing but darkness lies in that dimension, it was only a place for the Ing to exist."

"So what if those stupid things messed up your home?" Luffy asked, "I am pretty sure that you guys have the beaten the hell out of them, right?"

"I thank you, Luffy, for believing that we can take on the dreadful Ings, but that didn't happen." U-mos said sadly, "The Ing had an ability that we didnt have, and that is manipulation. The Ing can posses the bodies of the living, the dead, including the artificially intelligent kind. No matter what if we attacked with full force, no matter how much technology we created to protect ourselves, they would be the ones to overpower us at the end.

Luffy, Usopp, and Chopper were starting to feel sad, especially Franky, who sadly raised his sunglasses from his eyes.

"They then started to steal the light of Aether little by little. My race was significantly decreasing due to their attacks. We were starting to lose all hope and we began to await for our demise."

"UUU UUW WAA AAA AAA AAA HHH HHH!!! Franky cried as tears were pouring out of his eyes.

"Nooooo! The ten foot bug-eye people are dead!" Luffy cried as tears were coming out of his eyes as well.

"They were such great creatures trying to protect their home! I feel so bad about the things I said about them! I am sorry!" Usopp cried.

"Waaaaaahh! I don't want the Luminoths to be dead!" Chopper cried.

"They were so cool! Why did they have to die!?" Luffy cried in agony. Luffy, Usopp, Chopper, and Franky grouped hug while letting out all their tears of sorrow.

"Why are you guys crying? Don't you realize that he and the rest of his species are still here?" Nami asked, while her eyes are narrowed.

They stopped crying upon realizing that and stopped hugging eachother afterwards. "I wasn't crying, by the way." Franky said while wiping some tear, "There was just something in my eye, that's all."

"Whatever." Nami replied.

"So, how did you guys survive the Ing?" Zoro asked.

"Oh… the Light of Aether shined upon us once our savior came to our aid." U-mos said with a happy tone, "A bounty hunter helped us reclaim the light of Aether and destroyed Dark Aether, along with the rest of the Ings."

"Bounty hunter?" Sanji asked.

"The bounty hunter's name is Samus." U-mos said, "And she will always be remembered as the hero of Aether."

Meanwhile…

In the dark depths of space, humongous flying ships could be seen. Inside the big ship, there were multiple hideous creatures that seemed to be working on something. At the main bridge of the ship, lies one creature in particular. It was a combination of a pterodactyl and a dragon. It has scaly wings and has arms, legs, and a long tail. It also seems that part of it's body is robotic. This big creature seems to be the leader of the hideous creatures as he was looking at space through a big window.

"So… will you be a part of the new era?"

The big creature wasn't alone in the room. There was a man, covered in a brown robe. He was pretty big, but not as big as the pterodactyl/dragon creature. Not much can be told about this man, but the only thing can be known is that he has dark purplish vertical scars over both of his pupiless eyes. This man is none other than MPNo.4.

Preview: A bounty hunter saved all the ten foot bug-eye people from doom? Wow, I kinda what to meet her. I wonder what she looks like. Next tome on One Piece: A Smash Adventure; Chapter 54: Deal or no deal?, The arrival of the bounty hunter. I am gonna be the Pirate King.

I might as well say that MPNo.4 will be revealed in this arc, but I wont say in what chapter though. If you guys did happen to find out who MPNo.4 is, then I ask you to please to not mention his name in your review until he is officially revealed. See ya!

Metroid Pt 3

Okay, in this chapter, I will be revealing a lot of important info on who MPNo.4 is. If you happen to figure out who it is, then I ask you to please not to say who he is in your review. Anyway, Enjoy!

A peaceful planet. The Strawhat crew have encountered one of the ten foot bug-eye people known as the Luminoth. The Strawhat crew were about to take it down, but Luffy stopped them from harming it. It turns that it can also talk and is also a peaceful creature. He was named U-mos and he invited the Strawhat crew to the sky temple. The Strawhat crew some more Luminoths on the way, which delighted Luffy even more. After they arrived in U-mos' room, U-mos told the Strawhat crew a story about he and the rest of his species went through a tragic event, and were rescued by someone named Samus. Meanwhile, at a big ship, MPNo.4 seems to be doing some business with a client. Just who is this client?

Chapter 54: Deal or no deal?, the arrival of the bounty hunter

The pterodactyl creature just continued to stare out the window, not responding what MPNo.4 have asked him. "I know it might seem unbelievable at first, but it is quite true. This might be a once-in-a-lifetime offer. This new world will be ours to control and there is nobody that can prevent it from happening." MPNo.4 said, trying to sound nice to the pterodactyl creature.

It still continued to look out the window, which made MPNo.4 to frown a bit. "If I was lying, then all the things I have helped you achieve wouldn't have happened." MPNo.4 said, "I helped you upgrade your ships' weaponry. I have enhanced the strength of your soldiers with my advanced technology. I even helped you capture three of the most powerful bounty hunters there is. With one of my viruses brainwashing them at this precise moment, they will you be your elite companions, always doing what you order them to do. You must admit, this is quite a gift anyone can receive, is it not?"

The pterodactyl continued to stay quiet.

"Let's not forget who helped you be alive once again. I equipped you with the finest artillery that man has yet to discover. You are a walking death machine! Anyone that stands in your way, you can simply get rid of him with a poke of your claw!" MPNo.4 said with an evil grin on his face.

The pterodactyl just lowered it's head, while MPNo.4 seems to be a little frustrated.

"I know you can speak." MPNo.4 said bluntly, "I have installed an internal communicator inside you. You should be able to respond to what I am-"

"I heard what you said." the pterodactyl interrupted, speaking for once in this entire conversation. "You gave me and my crew such power that we can take down a planet. And I could not be more satisfied than this. I thank you for what you have done for us."

"Oh?" MPNo.4 said with a grin. "I am glad that you are grateful, Ridley. That's your name, is it?"

The pterodactyl --Ridley-- didn't respond, but just turned to face MPNo.4 instead.

"I must say, Ridley. We are alot a like. We take no prisoners and we destroy for whoever dare questions our authority." MPNo.4 said, "I am sure you are proud in your work of destruction."

"No, I am not completely satisfied." Ridley said.

"Hmm?" MPNo.4 had a confused look on his face upon hearing that.

"I am never satisfied until I kill the one who keeps interfering with my duties. I won't be satisfied until that woman is dead!" Ridley yelled in anger.

"Ah, you are referring to that bounty hunter." MPNo.4 said, "She has quite a hatred for your kind. Since she hunts down space pirates, its no wonder that she always comes after you."

"That is until now." Ridley said, "She won't be the one chasing me this time, but instead, I will be the one to chase after her! And I'll make sure that she suffers for what she done to me, over and over again!"

"Quite a commitment you have. I do not doubt of your words, she is merely a human after all. There is no possible way she can win this time." MPNo.4 said.

"Yeah. First, I'll make her fight her bounty hunter companions. She will probably hold back, thus making her lose in an instant. The only thing they should do is to weaken her until she can fight no more, then that will be the time that I will give her the final strike. My claws are eager to be covered with her blood." Ridley said while clenching his claws.

"How brutal. You space pirates know how to live up by your reputation on being the strongest pirates that ever existed in this universe. I am glad that you decided to join me and the others to rule the new world." MPNo.4 said as he laughed cruelly.

"Who ever said that I'd accept your invitation?" Ridley asked.

MPNo.4 stopped laughing and looked at Ridley with a frown. "You accepted my invitation once I helped you with your crew."

"The only thing I accepted from you was help. I never said that I would accept becoming one the new rulers of this new world you came babbling on about." Ridley said as he once again faced the window behind him.

"Why, how dare you use me!" MPNo.4 said as he was about to take out something, but was quickly aimed at by tons of Ridley's men. MPNo.4 did not flinch as he was quickly surrounded, being aimed with laser guns, cannons, etc.

"Did you really think that you could convince us to join some group we haven't even heard of?" Ridley asked, "You should have realized that we don't work with anyone else, especially that it has something to do with ruling a world. Our objective is to eliminate the species in every planet we come across and take the planet as our own. If the planet turns out to be worthless or if it has lived out it's usefulness, then we destroy it and search for another one. By joining you and your companions, it would greatly disgrace our pride as pirates, not to mention that it will also degrade us to your stature."

"Grr…"

"I never doubted that you were making up this 'new world' story. I find it quite unbelievable to hear that it can have such qualities. But I am not interested in it. In fact, after we finish off our next world, we might as well come to this new world and conquer it for ourselves. I don't care how strong you and your companions are; we'll take you down. And it doesn't matter if you manage to kill me or not, I always come back to finish the job." Ridley said with a threatening tone.

"Do you think that you are the only one that has been revived several times before!?" MPNo.4 asked, "I was known as the 'sentient virus'! No matter how many times my enemies would kill me, I always come back to life! Though… I couldn't revive myself for the 9th time, due to certain circumstances. But this new world… has somehow brought me back to life. You are making a big mistake, Ridley. You do not know the opportunity you are rejecting!"

"I couldn't care less about that opportunity!" Ridley yelled, "I would kill you at this instant, but since you took the trouble on helping us, I will give you one minute to leave."

MPNo.4 glared at Ridley before he started to walk out the door. "You will regret this day. I will make sure of it!" MPNo.4 said before he went out the door.

Ridley narrowed his eyes and looked out the window once more. "Why is she taking so long over there!?" Ridley asked himself as one of his soldiers came up to him.

"Sir, we are almost at our destination." said the soldier.

"Good. Get a couple of battleships ready for departure. We are going to Aether." Ridley said.

"Yes, sir!"

The soldier went running off while Ridley left the bridge and headed to the hallways. He walked into a hanger, which had mini-battleships inside. The gates of the hanger opened up as some of the mini-battleships took off into outer space. Ridley spreads his wings and flew out of the hanger, passing in front of his battleships. "Aether… you will soon go down!"

Back in the ship, MPNo.4 walked past the hallways of Ridley's main ship, being watched by Ridley's men. "This has become a nuisance." he said, "I don't see why we need more people for this world. The companions I have now are sufficient as they are. I must head back and tell them how ridiculous this recruitment is."

Just then, his communicator started to beep. He takes his communicator out of his brown robe and puts it on the side of his face. "Yes, what is it?" MPNo.4 asked. His eyes widened as he heard some interesting news. "Aether? Are you certain? Very well, I'll take care of it."

MPNo.4 puts his communicator away as he did a devious grin. "So… the primitive pirates that have been world hopping are now in Aether, eh? I might as well go to Aether and pay them a little visit. Gha ha ha ha ha ha! Gha ha ha ha ha ha ha!"

With a blink of an eye, MPNo.4 teleported away, not leaving any trace behind.

Meanwhile…

"Samus?" Luffy asked.

"Yes." U-mos replied, "If it wasn't for her, we wouldn't be here right now. It was thanks to her that the Ing don't longer exist."

"You mentioned a 'she'… just what kind of species are we talking about here?" Sanji asked.

"She is a human. Why do you ask?" U-mos asked.

Sanji's visible eye then turned into a big heart. "IS SHE PRETTY!?"

"Um… I am not sure. To tell you the truth, I don't know what she really looks like." U-mos said while having curious gesture.

"Eh?" Sanji had a confused look on what U-mos meant.

"Hey, do you think that she may be one of the Smash competitors?" Chopper asked.

"That would be pretty cool! It would be so ironic if we met her today!" Luffy said excitedly.

"I am surprised that you even know what 'ironic' means." Usopp said with his eyes narrowed.

"She must be pretty strong to take down an entire species of darkness. I wouldn't be surprised if we did meet up with her." Zoro said.

"Eh? What do you mean, Zoro?" Chopper asked.

"Well so far, we have been meeting with Smash competitors within every world we go. There might be a chance that we might meet her here." Zoro explained.

"Heh… you seem like you want to meet with this Samus person really badly." Nami said with a teasing look. "What would you think about me being one of the Smash competitors?" Nami asked.

"I think that this Master hand guy would have a bad taste on choosing competitors?" Zoro asked.

POW

"Right… wrong answer." Zoro said, having a bump on his head after Nami punched him.

"Well then, I believe that I already told my side of the story. Would you mind telling yours?" U-mos asked.

"No problem!" Luffy said excitedly, "You see… we came through this door and we got into this other world. Then we were… um… what happened again?"

Nami slaps her forehead in grief. "Long story short, we were in our planet when all of a sudden, this big door came out of nowhere and took us to another world. We then realized that we need these odd looking hearts so we can go back to our world. We have four of them now, we just need four more left, so we can go back to our homeworld."

"I see…" U-mos said as he nods.

"Now the only thing we have to do now is to find out where 5th one is. And I don't want to look around in this freaky place. No offense." Nami said as U-mos didn't seem to mind.

"The hearts we have found so far have been in places that we have not expected to look into." Robin said, "Perhaps the 5th heart is in here."

"That could work. Maybe its in that weird looking ship we saw out there." Franky said.

"There was nothing in there." Usopp said, "Luffy was so excited to be in a ship like that, he almost destroyed the interior just so he can find something interesting."

"It wasn't my fault that! I liked how it looked, that's all." Luffy said.

"Look, I know you guys think that it might be in some unexpected place, but this time, I am pretty sure that the next heart would be in somewhere hard to find." Nami said.

"I have it." U-mos said all of a sudden.

"It has to be somewhere where we can go, but it has to be really hard to get to. Like up another mountain or a inside some big and ancient dungeon. Finding it in places like right in front of you, in some statue, in a dirty ball, and inside an engine are not suitable for hiding that kind of stuff-You have it!?" Nami asked, realizing what U-mos just said earlier.

"Yes. We are in possession of this heart you speak of." U-mos said, "Some time ago, we had a visitor from Master Hand. He asked me if I can hide one of his hearts he made here in Aether. At first, I was curious why he would ask me to hide it in the first place, but I decided not to question him. I gladly accepted his wish on hiding his created heart."

"So, where is it?" Franky asked.

"It is right here, in this device that keeps our planet at it's brightest." U-mos said. He then realized that were was one person missing from his view. He looked behind his shoulder and his bugged eyes popped out of his head as he saw Nami hitting the round device.

"Come on out, you stupid heart!" Nami barked while hitting it.

"What was that about finding it in harder locations?" Zoro asked.

"Shut up! It's right here, I might as well get it!" Nami yelled as she continued to hit the device.

"Ah! Oh… please don't do that! The device is quite sensitive!" U-mos said in a panicked tone.

Robin walks up to Nami and pats her on the shoulder. This made Nami to calm down and back away from the device.

"I will get the heart out of this device for you… If I can that is, since it might be broken from all the damage it took." U-mos said as he started to push some buttons on the device.

Nami sighed in relief while Luffy didn't seem all that happy. "I am so glad we will be able to get out here quickly."

"To be quite honest, I wanted to explore around this place a little while longer. There may be some interesting artifacts that we can take with us." Robin said.

"Yeah! I don't want to go! I want to stay here." Luffy said with a sad face.

"Yeah, let's stay here!" Chopper said.

"Are you forgetting what we came here for in the first place!?" Nami asked, "We can't afford to be around here any longer! We shouldn't even be in different worlds in the first place. The longer we are not in our world, the more likely chance their is that you wont become the Pirate king! Now do you want that!?"

"No…" Luffy muttered.

Luffy just lowered his head grumpily as U-mos seemed to be having trouble opening the big round device. "That's strange…"

"Is there something wrong?" Robin asked.

"Not really." U-mos replied, "It's still in perfect condition after receiving such blows, but for some reason, it doesn't want to open."

"Huh? Why?" Nami asked.

"There seems to be some sort of malfunction in the system. We will have to wait until it gets over this problem." U-mos said.

"And how long will that take?" Usopp asked.

"About a couple of hours." U-mos replied.

Nami didn't like that while Luffy felt happy again. "Yay! We can stay here longer now!" Luffy exclaimed excitedly.

"I will try to see if I can fix the problem." U-mos said while facing back at the Strawhat crew. "In the meantime, why don't you take a look around our world? I am sure you will find things that you may find interesting. Just please exit through the doors you came; the other areas are not as safe as the places you were on before."

"Yosh! Come on, guys! Let's go and have fun!" Luffy said as he lightly punches a hexagon door and quickly goes through it.

"How is walking around an alien planet fun?" Franky asked as he and the rest followed Luffy. Robin stopped at her tracks and looked back at U-mos.

"Excuse me, but… do you happen to know a dark looking creature roaming around here?" Robin asked.

"Hmm… I don't recall something like that here." U-mos said, "But I have heard stories about it lately. All I know is that it is the exact opposite of Samus."

"You don't say." Robin said with sort of a shocked expression.

"Why is it that you ask?" U-mos asked.

Robin didn't wanted to alarm U-mos, so she told a little lie. "Nothing… I was just curious."

"Robin! Hurry up or we are leaving you behind!" Luffy yelled from afar.

Robin turned around and started to walk away till she got close to the hexagon door. "Thank you for your help, Mr. U-mos. We appreciate your kindness."

"Not at all. May the light of Aether shine upon you." U-mos said kindly.

Robin opened the hexagon door and caught up with her crew that were on the round platform. She noticed Luffy having several bumps on his head by Sanji, who got infuriated when Luffy said that he was going to leave Robin alone.

"What took you so long" Zoro asked.

"My apologies. I simply forgot something." Robin said kindly.

The platform they were on started to slowly go down to the lower floor. At the instant it got there, Luffy quickly dashed right through the hexagon door in front of him, and greeted all the Luminoth in the next room.

"Hellooooooooo, ten foot bug-eye people! I am Luffy, and I am your humble servant!" Luffy said as he bows to the Luminoth. Nami simply grabbed Luffy's ear and dragged him to the hallways. As the Strawhat crew left the Luminoth alone, they looked at eachother with a confused look.

"I never knew that humans had such odd ways of greeting you." one of the Luminoth said.

Back with the Strawhat crew, they walked through the hallways were some light orbs were floating around and stepped on the platform.

Usopp and Chopper were a little nervous as Luffy simply touched the hologram in the center, causing the clamps that are holding the platform to get off, making it to go all the way down like a rocket. They got to the lower floor as the clamps on it immediately clamped on the platform.

Luffy goes running out of the room and outside, feeling completely excited as his crew walked up to him.

"Oh right! This is going to be so cool! Will split up and look for something that looks really cool!" Luffy said happily.

"Like what?" Chopper asked.

"Like um… anything you can find! Something like a bronze statue of the ten foot bug-eye people! That would be interesting to see!" Luffy exclaimed with pure joy.

"Why bronze?" Franky asked.

"Because it's cool. Duh." Luffy responded. "Okay! Usopp and Chopper will go with me, while you guys try to find something that looks like a ball. Alright, lets go!" Luffy, Usopp, and Chopper faced the other way and were about to run in that direction.

"HOLD IT, YOU TWO!" Nami yelled, causing Luffy, Usopp, and Chopper to fall down. "First of all, I am not going to look for anything around here to take with us. And second of all, I am having a bad feeling about this."

"What do you mean, Nami-san?" Sanji asked.

"Well don't you think that it is a little strange that this U-mos character is being a little too nice with us?" Nami asked, "I mean, these are aliens we are talking about here! For all I know, U-mos could be setting us up."

"But… what about that sad story he told us earlier?" Chopper asked.

"He obviously made that up so we can feel sorry for him and his species." Nami replied, "I must admit, that was really good acting on his part, but he didn't fool me. He probably wants to eat us just like Usopp said they would."

"They said that this world is peaceful." Zoro began to say, "I highly question that since we were attacked by that dark thing before we got here."

"What do you guys know!?" Franky asked in rage, "Bug-eyed bro spoke those words from the soul. I felt his sorrow and pain when he told that story. He couldn't have been making it up."

"Although…" Usopp said while having his hand around his chin, "Aliens do intend to lie with physical and spiritual body parts. They can manipulate their well-being. I know, because I learned there secrets after facing them in a deadly war a long time ago."

"Really!?" Chopper asked, believing in Usopp's lie.

"So what if they did lie. That doesn't mean we can do anything about, Miss Navigator." Robin said. "We are here to find the 5th heart in this world. We have no other choice but to believe in U-mos' words for now."

"I guess…" Nami sighs, "But the fact that they cant be trusted still remains. They're humongous bugs! Who would trust big and hairy bugs?" Nami said as she shivers in fear.

"You do have a likely point there, Nami-san." Sanji said, as you may recall that he is also a bug-hater.

"Will you guys stop?" Luffy asked, "The ten foot bug-eye people are our friends. They wouldn't do anything bad, especially lying. Only dumb people do that."

"Oi!" Usopp said while backslapping the air in front of Luffy.

"They are really nice to us, and you have to be so hard on them, Nami." Luffy said with a serious look, "Why don't you just relax and take it easy on them for once?"

"I will be relaxed when I get out of here!" Nami yelled all of a sudden. "You know what, forget it. I am going back to the ship where it is safe and sound, while guys can just go and get eaten. See if I care!"

Nami stomps away as Sanji tried to catch up to her. "Nami-san! Maybe you can be a little more caring for us, especially me and Robin-chan."

"Shut up." Nami replied without looking back. Sanji just stood there as Nami tried to get on the cargo so she could get to the hexagon door in front of her.

"Eaten… wait, Nami! I'll go with you!" Usopp said as he joins Nami on going back to the Thousand Sunny.

"Hey, wait!" Luffy said as he was about to go after them, but Zoro stopped him.

"Forget about it, Luffy. Besides, we will be heading back soon, so there is no point in stopping them." Zoro said.

"Oh… okay." Luffy said sadly. He then got back to his happy expression. "Yosh, now lets get going on finding those bronze statues!"

"He sure got over it quickly." Franky commented as Robin giggled a bit.

"Nami-san…" Sanji sighed sadly as he then rejoined his crew and followed Luffy to look around the area. Zoro was about to do the same until he looked up at a cliff.

"What is wrong, Zoro?" Chopper asked.

"No… nothing." Zoro responded as he then resumed where he was about to go. Chopper followed him as he and the rest of his crew were unaware that they were being spied by two alien like creatures wearing odd armor that were hiding above a cliff that Zoro was looking at before.

Meanwhile…

Back in space, you can see the beautiful view of the planet Aether, with it's illuminating and peaceful view brighting up the place. All of a sudden, there was some kind of orange ship that just came out of hyper speed. It had a green windshield that looks like a visor of an advanced helmet. The ship was only big enough for one person as it was heading to Aether's orbit.

It got a little bumpy while trying to get through, but it managed to do so as the person inside could clearly see the view of the sky temple from afar. The ship went through a hole in the mountain and made a soft and delicate landing upon getting inside. A hole on top of the ship opened up, allowing someone on a tiny platform to rise out of it. It looked like the same dark creature that attacked the Strawhat crew a couple of chapters ago, but it looked different.

It appeared to be wearing some sort cybernetic power suit, with a red color on it's torso and the rest being orange. It has round shaped shoulders, an arm cannon on it's right arm that looked different from the dark creature's, and a green visor that has a thicker shape than the dark creature's. It also has tiny boosters on her back, allowing it to jump twice. This creature looked at it's surroundings, seeing nothing unusual. It jumped out of it's ship and jumped to a box platform and up to a hexagon door ahead.

It moved through a small path before heading into another hexagon door, which it got shot by the creature, allowing it to open. It got into a hallway, with several face structures of the Luminoth's ancestors on the wall. It walked past the hall until she got to another hexagon door. It opened the door and went through it. It was now in a vast area, being several miles below from the Sky temple. There were four statues out of the wall that represented the past sentinels of the Luminoth that surrounded the vast area.

It didn't pay to much attention to the surroundings though. What it was looking at was something that it caused it to get angry. What lied in front of it was none other than the dark creature that attacked the Strawhat crew. The dark creature was focusing on the center of the vast area. It seems that there is something there it wanted, but couldn't get it for some reason. The dark creature lifted it's head up as it realized that the red creature behind it was charging it's arm cannon.

The Dark creature strife out of the way as the red creature shot the center of the area. The dark creature gazed at the red creature. The red creature was about to aim at the dark creature again, but it suddenly separated into a dark blueish lights. The lights vanished from the red creature's sight as the red creature angrily lowered it's arm cannon.

TO BE CONTINUED…

Preview: Why can't Nami just be friends with the ten foot bug-eye people? They are actually really nice just like I said before. I guess she is too silly to understand these things. Eh!? That's a funny looking ship! Next time on One Piece: A Smash Adventure; Chapter 55: Space pirate invasion!, The attack of the red armor guy. I am gonna be the Pirate King!

Yeah, the red creature is 'her'. Like I said before, If you know who MPNo.4 is, don't say it in your review, I would like to keep it as a surprise for the people who don't know who he is yet. See ya!

Metroid Pt 4

Many of you guys are wondering who these Mystery people are, so I am just going to say that they all do not belong to Nintendo. That is the only clue I am going to give you at this moment. Well, here is the chapter were the Strawhat crew meet Samus. Enjoy!

Two armoured creatures? The 5th Mystery heart was in U-mos' device that helps keep the planet, Aether, in keeping it bright as ever. But for some reason, the device would not open. U-mos explained to the Strawhat crew that it may take some time for the device to function again, so he suggests that they should take a look around his planet. The Strawhat crew took his word and left the Sky temple to begin their little venture around Aether. Nami believes that U-mos was lying, and decides to go back to the ship were it was safe and sound. Usopp agreed with her as he also went back to the ship as well. Meanwhile, some kind of a red Doppleganger of the dark creature attacked the dark creature itself, but it got away. Is this creature an ally or foe?

Chapter 55: Space Pirate invasion!, The battle with the red armor guy

"Hey guys! I found something!" Luffy yelled out to his crew while he was in a tiny cave. Chopper and Franky went where Luffy was at and saw Luffy looking at a purple shard.

"Is that some kind of crystal?" Franky asked.

"I don't know, but it looks so cool. The ten foot bug-eye people sure have great stuff." Luffys said while holding the shard. "But it's too bad that it is not what I was looking for, so i'll just throw it away."

Luffy throws the purple shard away, which then hit a wall and landed next to Chopper.

"Hmm? Maybe we can probably use this for something important." Chopper said while analysing the shard.

"What do you mean?" Luffy asked.

"I don't know, I just feel like this can probably be useful somehow. I'll just keep it so I can do some research on it later." Chopper said as he puts the shard under his hat for safe keeping.

"You know, for weird world such as this, there aren't many things to see around here." Franky commented while looking at his surroundings.

"That is probably because of the damage it took from the Ing U-mos have spoken to us about." Robin said while walking up to him.

"That… and that thing that attacked us earlier might have something to do with this as well." Sanji said, "I don't think it was a good idea to let Nami and Usopp go back on their own. We should go back with them."

"Calm down, Sanji. I am sure that they will be okay." Luffy said with a grin. "Besides, the ten foot bug-eye people have that thing-a-ma-jig protecting this world from bad things."

"Strawhat is right, bro." Franky said, "You need to chill for once. Orange head and Longnose are strong enough to survive on their own."

"Yeah! Usopp will protect Nami from harm with his super powers." Chopper said, "Once, he told me he can defeat a powerful warlock with the power of his slingshot. Not to mention that he once said that he can call his 8000 enforcers instantly with it."

"Wha? Man, this guy can sure come up with stupid stuff." Franky said while rubbing his head.

"Even so…" Sanji begins to say, "They should be careful on the way back. That dark creature thing from earlier was simply toying with us. We must keep a sharp eye for it's presence."

"But what can we do to stop it?" Chopper asked, "It almost killed us the last time we faced it."

"As much as it pains me to say this, we must get away from it as fast as we possibly can. There is no way we can face it unless we can get rid of that strange aura around it." Sanji said as he lits up a cigarette and places it on his lips.

"Perhaps something around here could help us get rid of that strange radiation." Robin said, "Maybe if we ask U-mos, he would surely come up with a solution since he has more knowledge about the creatures around here than us."

"That still wont be enough." Franky said while folding his arms, "The way it almost burned part of the Thousand Sunny with it's cannon, means that it is still dangerous with or without that aura it has. I am sure it was some of kind of a beam since Strawhat couldn't deflect it."

"I remember that it shot me with something, and when I got hit, I felt like I was on fire!" Luffy said with a shocked look on his face just by remembering that event.

"The thing is, until we find out how to get rid of it, we must stay away from it in the meantime." Sanji said, letting out a puff of smoke from his mouth.

"So… what do we do now?" Chopper asked.

"Ah, you guys don't have to be so worried. If that thing just shows up again, we'll just kick it's ass this time. Now let's continue our search for the bronze statue!" Luffy exclaimed as he then got out of the little cave and resumed his scavenger hunt.

"Didn't he pay one single attention to what we just said?" Franky asked.

"Who knows? I didn't expect him to listen to us through the whole thing anyway." Sanji as he then rubbed his eye in exhaustion. "Well… lets continue with the Captain's scavenger hunt."

"Whatever." Franky replied as he and Sanji then walked towards were Luffy was.

"Shall we get going, Doctor-san?" Robin asked kindly.

"Sure! Let's go!" Chopper said excitedly as the both of them started to continue their search for something interesting. Chopper then realized something and looked behind his shoulder to notice Zoro, who has not spoken ever since Nami and Usopp left. "What's wrong, Zoro."

"Nothing, just stay away from the cliff under the hexagon door Nami and Usopp left earlier." Zoro said with a blunt look on his face.

"Huh? Why?" Chopper asked in confusion.

"Just do what I say for now, okay?" Zoro said with a calm tone.

"Um… okay." Chopper said as he then catches up with Robin and the others.

Zoro narrowed his eyes, awaiting for the presence he felt on the cliff behind him to strike. "Come on, if you plan to attack, then do it already." Zoro muttered to himself as he uses his thumb to unsheathe part of his blade from the hilt.

On the cliff above the hexagon door Nami and Usopp went through, there were indeed two stalkers observing the Strawhat crew. One of them had an odd black armor, with what red crystal on the right side of it's chest. This creature also has a pincer for a right arm and a blade for a left arm.

The other was a thinner looking creature with mid-sized broad arms and long claws. It eithers has a stomach or no stomach at all since you can probably see it's spinal cord.

"I didn't know there were humans in this world." The creature with the claws said.

"There aren't supposed to be any." said the one with the pincers and the blade for arms. "They are probably from the Galactic Federation."

"Are you serious!?" hissed the creature with claws, "How could they have figured out what we were planning so quickly!?"

"Just because that they brought a couple of their men to Aether, doesn't mean that they know what we are planning." replied the creature with the pincer and sword for arms, "Besides, our captain, Ridley, made sure that this plan would go successfully, whether the Galactic Federation would interfere or not."

It turns out that these two are working for Ridley, making them space pirates.

"So what do we do? Should we kill them?" asked the creature with claws (Space pirate No. 2).

"No, it is to risky to make our move so quickly, that would probably ruin our captain's plan." the creature with a blade and a pincer for arms said (Space pirate No. 1), "Besides, I think the one with the green hair knows we are here."

"How can that be? We made a silent approach when we got here. There is no way that guy could know we are here." Space pirate No. 2 said.

"I know its hard to believe, but just look at him. He just standing there ready to use those swords on us." Space pirate No. 1 said, "He must be pretty strong to able to sense us."

"So what do we do about it?" Space pirate No. 2 asked.

"Nothing, we will do nothing. Although…" Space pirate No. 1 said as he looks behind his shoulder.

"What? What is it?" Space pirate No. 2 asked.

"That human female that just left with that guy with the long nose earlier. I think that might be Samus." Space pirate No. 1 said.

"What!?" Space pirate No. 2 hissed as quietly as he could. "You mean THE legendary Samus!? The only one that could defeat our captain numerous and numerous of times!?"

"The same one." Space pirate No. 1 said.

"But how can that be possible? She is not even wearing her armor. I really doubt that she would come here without her armor if she knew that our Captain would show up here. As of matter of fact, I doubt that she would even come to a planet without her armor at all!" Space pirate No. 2 hissed.

"I know that. She is just making up a trap." Space pirate No. 1 said.

"A trap? What do you mean? Space pirate No. 2 asked.

"The fact that she is not wearing her armor is that she could act as somebody else, that way she can trick us in believing that she is not Samus, which in reality, she is." Space pirate No. 1 explained.

"So she is tricking us by pretending to be someone else? But why would she do something that lame in order to get our Captain?" Space pirate No. 2 asked.

"I don't know, I am no mind reader!" Space pirate No. 1 hissed. "But still… her without her armor could only mean trouble for us."

"So how do we stop her?" Space pirate No. 2 asked.

"She looked completely defenseless when she left. We could probably capture her and take her to our boss. We could probably be promoted to lieutenants or maybe even a better promotion!" Space pirate No. 1 whispered excitedly.

"Yeah, that would be awesome!" Space pirate No. 2 whispered excitedly, "But wait… what if she really isn't Samus at all?"

"It has to be her." Space pirate No. 1 said, "There is only one bounty hunter that is strong and intelligent enough to pull a stunt like this, except for the one that was captured along with those other two guys."

"What about that guy with the long nose that was with her?" Space pirate No. 2 asked.

"He looks weak, but we will take precautions just in case. Now come on, let's get them before those guys come and help." Space pirate No. a said as he crawl away from the cliff and away from the Strawhat's view.

As they both got as back as they could, they stood up and activated their jet packs. They then flew away and were heading to where Nami and Usopp were going.

Zoro lifted his head, not feeling their presence any longer. "They left? They must have been afraid to attack. Or maybe…"

"Look at the size of that hive! There are no bees, but it looks so huge." Luffy said while looking at a big hive on a wall.

"I have never seen something so big and orange before." Chopper said.

"Orange…?! Oi, guys! We have to go!" Zoro yelled out all of a sudden, which startled his crew.

"Huh!? What's wrong with you?" Franky asked.

"There were two guys that were stalking us just now and I thought they would attack us, but they left instead!" Zoro explained.

"Somebody was stalking us?" Luffy asked, "Why would one of the ten foot bug-eye people would want to stalk us?"

"It wasn't one of them. It was something else…" Zoro said.

"If you said that they wanted to attack us, then why did they just leave?" Chopper asked.

"Perhaps we are not the ones they are searching for." Robin said with a blunt look.

Sanji's eyes widened as he angrily looks at everyone. "They are after Nami-swan! We have to go save her!"

"What!? Oh my gosh! Let's go!" Luffy yelled as he started to run to a hexagon door.

"That's the wrong door, Strawhat!" Franky yelled angrily as Luffy then quickly turns around and goes running right past his crew.

Everyone else sooned follow as they got on a cargo and climbed up a ledge in order to get to the hexagon door in front of them.

"Dammit, Marimo! You should have signaled us that we were being watched!" Sanji yelled while they went through the broken hexagon door Luffy broke earlier.

"How the hell was I supposed to know they wouldn't attack us!?" Zoro yelled while slashing through the bugs in the cave they were in. "Just shut up and relax! We will save them in no time!"

"Yosh! I will teach those stupid stalkers not to get Nami-san!" Sanji yelled with pride.

"Hey, what about Usopp!?" Chopper asked while running in his walk point.

"Who cares!? Just keep running!" Sanji yelled as Luffy literally punches through another hexagon door, completely breaking it open.

Meanwhile… a couple of seconds earlier…

"Ew! I just hate these little bugs!" Nami said with anger as she kicks a big bug away. She was at the area where the big satellite was, along with Usopp.

"N-Nami, do you think it was good idea to leave them back there?" Usopp said while shivering in fear.

"Of course it was good idea!" Nami replied, "If they want to get eaten by those Luminoth freaks, then be my guest! I am not willing to put my life on the line for them."

"B-B-B-But now it's just you and me. We are completely stranded in this world. How are we supposed to survive?" Usopp asked.

"I prefer to fall off a cliff and land on a spike with my face then to get eaten by those aliens." Nami said, "That U-mos guy was obviously looking at me the most. He might have wanted to ask me if I wanted to get eaten dead or alive." Nami then stops walking as a tear comes out of her eye. "I don't blame him though. I am obviously the perfect human to eat alive, since I am the most gentle and not to mention, the smartest person in the group. They will also try to strip me naked and eat me raw for their pleasure. I couldn't just stay put let that happen. So I was willing to sacrifice my crew to safe myself."

"None of that seems to be right." Usopp said while putting his hand around his chin. "Are you on crack?"

KAPOW!!

"What I am saying is that we should just go back to the ship and find a dark cave so we can hide in until we die. I don't think there is going to be any problem with that now, is there?" Nami asked, glaring at Usopp, who has a battered face.

"Nothe, I hadth nothe brovlem wip vat." Usopp said with his swollen lips.

"Good. Now lets get back to the ship. The sooner we get out of her, the better." Nami as she started to walk away again.

"Oiv, waift foth meth!" Usopp said as he catched up with Nami.

They got out of the area where the satellite was and where back in cave. They walked through it and went through a hexagon door by touching it. They were now back at the area where that big ship was and started to head towards the round platform to get off the mountain.

"Finally, now we can get back to our ship with ease." Nami said with a happy expression.

"Even though I feel kinda bad leaving my friends back there, I am glad that we are now safe." Usopp said while being sure of himself.

"There you are, Samus!"

Nami and Usopp stopped dead in their tracks and looked behind their shoulders to see the two space pirates that were spying on Luffy and the others a couple of seconds ago. They were ontop of a small cliff, looking down at Nami and Usopp, who didn't seem to have much of a reaction upon their presence.

"Surrender now, Samus! Or prepare to face the consequences!" Space pirate No. 1 said while snapping his pincers threateningly.

"Yeah! We'll teach you and your comrade not to mess with the likes of us!" Space pirate No. 2 declared.

Nami and Usopp still had no reaction to their presence, which worried the space pirate duo.

"Do you think they expected us to follow them?" Space pirate No. 2 asked.

"I am not sure, but just keep your guard up for anything suspicious they might do." Space pirate No. 1 said as he awaited for Nami and Usopp to make a reaction.

"AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AHH HHH HHH HHH HHH HHH HHH HHH HHHH!!! MONSTERS!!!!"

Nami and Usopp started to panic, and ran around in circles while tears were pouring out of their eyes in fear.

"Is… this part of their trap?" Space pirate No. 2 asked in confusion.

"No, it seems that they are actually in fear beyond witnessing our presence." Space pirate No. 1 said with a gleam in his eye. "Let's take this chance and get Samus."

The Space pirate duo jumped off the small cliff and started to walk towards the frightened Nami and Usopp. They stopped running around in circles and stood still as the Space pirate duo were approaching them.

"Do you think they are from the Luminoth or something!?" Usopp asked in fear.

"I-I don't think so! they don't appear to be from the same species!" Nami said as the space pirate duo were now a couple of inches to them.

"So, Samus…" Space pirate No. 1 began to say as he raises his blade arm in front of Nami's frightened face, "Your plan to capture us has failed and now you are completely defenseless against us! Surrender now and you'll die quickly!"

"S-Samus? What are you talking about!? I am not Samus!" Nami yelled.

"Nice try, Samus!" Space pirate No. 2 said cruelly, "You can't fool us! We know that you and your companions would try to make a trap to capture us all, but too bad that didn't work! Now we are going to take you to our Captain, Ridley! He will be very pleased when he rips you apart!"

"Wait a minute! I am not Samus! I don't even know who you are talking about!" Nami barked.

"Hey, didn't U-mos say that a bounty hunter named Samus being the one that saved this world from the Ing?" Usopp asked nervously.

"Huh? Now that I remember, yeah." Nami said before looking back at the Space pirate duo. "Look, I am not Samus! I am not that much of a fighter! I am just a poor, defenseless girl not wanting any trouble! You got to believe me!"

"Your lies wont work on us, Samus!" Space pirate No. 1 said, "Now hold still while we take you to our Captain!"

"What!? No! Get away!" Nami said as she backs away from Space pirate No. 1.

"HISSATSU KATAKI BOSHI!" Usopp fires a an explosive pellet at Space pirate No. 1's face.

"GUAH!" Space pirate No.1 flew a few inches back before crashing into the ground in pain.

"I won't let you take Nami away! Behold my powerful slingshot, Kabuto; The exact same one that Sogeking uses! Prepare to suffer from it's might!" Usopp said with pride while holding his Slingshot 'kabuto' on his shoulder.

"Why you little!" Space pirate No. 2 was about to take out his laser gun, but Usopp aimed at his face.

"HISSATSU KAEN BOSHI!" Usopp fires a flaming pellet at Space pirate No. 2's claw.

"YEOUCH!" Space pirate No. 2 grabs his claw in pain as Usopp aims at him again.

"That's right! Suffer from the hands of Cap taa aaa aaa aaa aai nnn nn Uso-"

Before Usopp could finish his speech, Space pirate No. 1 appears out of nowhere and shoulder barges Usopp to a wall. "OOF!" After Usopp hits the wall, he immediately turns around as Space Pirate No. 1 thrusts his open pincers right around Usopp's face.

"Usopp!" Nami cried as Usopp was sweating in fear due to the pincers that are about to crush his face.

"Get Samus so we can get out of here!" Space pirate No. 1 yelled while keeping his eyes locked on to Usopp.

"Roger!" Space pirate No. 2 said as he then got behind Nami and grabbed her arms.

"Hey! Let go of me!" Nami yelled as Space pirate No. 2 activated his jet pack and started to fly away. Space pirate No. 1 removes his pincers around Usopp's face and knocks Usopp down to the ground with the broad side of his arm blade.

"I'll let you live in remorse for now! Be grateful since we Space pirates aren't merciful to our enemies. Good luck on living the rest of your life in misery! Ha ha ha ha ha! Oh and don't bother trying to rescue her, I already called in a ship to take care of you in my place. See ya, loser!" Space pirate No. 1 activated his jet pack and flew at the same direction where his partner went.

"Nami!" Usopp gets up from the ground and looks at the Space pirate duo, who were doing their best to hold Nami since she was struggling to break free like a crazy person. "Oh man! What do I do!?

What do I do!? I have to go back and tell the others! No wait! I'll lose track of them! Ohh…" Usopp hits himself in the head numerous of times so he can make up his decision. He then opened his eyes and confidently looks where they have taken Nami.

"Dont worry, Nami!! I will save you!" Usopp grabs his slingshot from the ground and quickly rushes to the small cliff. He struggled to climb up ontop of the cliff. When he got to the top, he panted heavily before he once again stood in a courageous way. "Now I will definetly save you!" Usopp runs up the cliff and into a hexagon door. He touches the hexagon door before he rushes through it.

After the hexagon door he went through have closed, the rest of the Strawhat crew have just entered in the area.

"NAMI-SAN! NAMI-SAN!!" Sanji yelled as loud as he could, but got no answer. He ran to the ledge of the mountain and looked down to see if Nami and Usopp were down there. "Nami-san! Are you down there! Nami-san!"

"I think we are too late." Robin said.

"Dammit!" Sanji kicks the ground in frustration.

"Where do you think they went now?" Chopper asked.

"We can try looking inside there." Franky suggested while pointing to a cave that lead to a hexagon door.

"Nami-san! Please be okay!" Sanji rushes inside the cave while everyone else followed him. Sanji kicked through the door and ran past by what appears to be a couple of wiggly urchins. Sanji stopped on his track when he have reached to the end of the cave. "Wha… what is this?"

Everyone else caught up and saw something that they have never seen before.

"Wha!? What is that!?" Chopper asked.

"It's… huge!" Luffy said while his eyes sparked with joy.

What they are looking at was the ship that the red creature got out of. Luffy gets closer to it, adoring it's presence.

"Ooooooo! How coo ooo oOO OLLL!" Luffy said while looking at the ship.

"What is this thing?" Zoro asked while walking up to it.

"It looks like one of those odd looking vehicles that we saw outside. Only this one looks different." Robin said just by observing the ship.

"How do we get inside?" Luffy said as he was already ontop of the ship.

"Oi, Strawhat! Get off of there! You don't know what that thing will do!" Franky said.

"Calm down, Franky. This thing is cool to stand on. I can see tons of things from up here." Luffy said while looking at his surroundings.

At the same time, the hexagon door on the second on the higher part of the cave opened up as the same red creature that attacked the dark creature from came in. When it realized that there was somebody on it's ship, it quickly hid behind a steel crate.

"We shouldn't be wasting our time here! Nami-san and that other guy is in danger!" Sanji yelled angrily.

"What do you suggest we do? We don't know anything about this place and yet you still expect us to find them that quickly?" Franky asked with an angry tone.

"If that is the case, then yes!" Sanji yelled angrily.

"I dont think that this is the proper time to be fighting." Robin said as she then looks at Luffy, who was still on the ship. "Captain, I suggest that we should continue finding Miss Navigator and Longnose-san. The longer we stay here, the more probable chance that they might die."

"What!?" Chopper asked nervously.

"Don't worry, Robin. They will be just fine." Luffy said with a happy grin. "The important thing right now is to find out how to get inside this thingy." Luffy then starts to jump on it, hoping to get inside.

The red creature peered it's head sideways from the boulder to get a better look at the Strawhat crew. It touched the side of it's helmet, which made a couple of holographic screens to appear right in front of it. It appeared to be in some sort of scanning mode as it started to scan Luffy.

"Data recieved."

Species: Human

Abilities: Elasticity

Intelligence: -10?

The red creature was a little confused on the data it received from Luffy, who was now trying to bite his way inside the ship. Zoro blinked upon realizing it's presence behind the boulder, but began to wait for the right moment to strike.

"Luffy, maybe we should leave that thing alone." Chopper said worryingly.

"But I just want to see what's inside." Luffy whined.

"Will you just get down there already! Let's go now!" Franky said.

Luffy moaned sadly as the red creature got out of scan mode. When Zoro got a good look on it, he quickly unsheathed one of his swords and released a cutting wave at the red creature. It noticed his attack and quickly jumps out of the as the cutting wave cuts through the steel crate. The red creature landed on the same floor the Strawhat crew was on and looked at the Strawhat crew, who were surprised to see who it was.

"AAAHHHH!!! IT'S THE MONSTER THAT ATTACKED US ON THE SHIP!" Chopper cried in fear.

"That thing again! It probably wants to get rid of us this time!" Sanji said while looking at it angrily.

"T-That doesn't look like the same one! It has a different color and a different kind of armor!" Franky said as he got into his battle position.

"Who cares if it looks different!? Just attack it!" Zoro yelled as he charged at the red creature. The red creature quickly raises it's arm cannon and fires a couple of blasts at Zoro, who dodges by jumping over the red creature. The red creature quickly turns around and blocks Zoro's slash with it's regular arm. "TATSU MAKI!" Zoro does a 360 degree spin with his swords, creating a tornado of cutting waves that sends the red creature flying upward. The red creature however regained it's balance in midair, and fires a missile from it's arm cannon at Zoro. Zoro jumps up towards the red creature while cutting the missile in half.

Zoro did a horizontal slash at the red creature, who arched it's back backwards to avoid. The red creature then places it's feet on the wall as the boosters from it's back started to lit up. Once they did, the red creature curled into a ball, doing multiple downward rolls while being covered by it's boosters fire in midair. "GUAH!" Zoro got hit repeatedly by it's rolling attack. The red creature then stops rolling forward and lowers it's arm cannon down at Zoro's chest, causing him to crash straight down to the ground.

"ZORO!" Chopper cried in fear as the red creature landed.

"Wah! That red armor guy is really strong!" Luffy said as his eyes were popping right out of his head.

Franky then noticed something different about the creature. "Oi! For some reason, it doesn't have that radiation from before!"

"So it's okay to hit it then!? Yosh!" Luffy jumps of the ship and charges at the red creature. "GOMU GOMU NO PISTOL!" Luffy thrusts his fist at the red creature. The red creature was caught by surprise before it barely dodged Luffy's fist by rolling out of the way. The red creature then fires a couple of blasts at Luffy, who backflipped to dodge before running around the creature's sides. Luffy then jumped to a wall and started to run across it, heading closer to the red creature by the second. Luffy then jumps off the wall and swings his right arm at the creature, who ducks to dodge before countering by creating a small blast near the ground Luffy was on, sending him flying right next to Franky.

"You won't make a fool out of me this time! BEANS LEFT!" Franky fires multiple pellets from his left arm at the red creature, who started to run sideways to avoid. While running, the red creature fires couple of energy blasts at Franky, who dodge rolls out of the way as he then got on to one knee while opening his left wrist. "WEAPONS LEFT!" Franky fires a missile of his own at the red creature, who jumped forward as Franky blew up a part of the cave instead. The red creature then aimed it's cannon at Franky, who quickly guards himself by raising his left arm. "HOSHI SHIELD!" Franky's left arm turned into a shield as he expected a blast to come.

It didnt however, as the red creature immediately thrusts it's regular arm forward, creating an electrical whip that hooked on Franky's shield. "What the!?" The red creature landed on it's feet and then tossed Franky to the other side of the cave with the whip, making him to land face-first on the ground in the process.

"Damn you!" Sanji charges at the red creature with a fierce look. "QUEVE!" Sanji jumps and does a kick at the red creature's chest in midair. The red creature rolled back upon receiving the hit, but it quickly got back to it's feet and fires multiple blasts at Sanji. Sanji was zipping right and left as he then did a horizontal kick at the red creature, who jumped back and quickly counters by swinging it's arm cannon at the side of Sanji's face. "GOH!" Sanji went crashing into a wall next to him as Luffy appeared out of nowhere and punched the red creature in the face.

"GOMU GOMU NO GATLING GUN!" Luffy repeatedly sends multiple fists at the red creature, who was taking every blow. The red creature then morphed into an orange ball, which surprised Luffy. "DAH! Look out! The guy turned into a ball!" Luffy cried out as it started to glow with yellow energy before it dashed right into Luffy's stomach. "Gyah!" Luffy landed in the ground in pain as the red creature bounced off of him and into a wall. It then bounced off the wall and was now heading straight to Chopper.

"AHH!" Chopper crouches down in panic as Robin quickly crosses her limbs.

"VEINTE FLEUR, RAMP!" Hands grew out of the floor and the wall to make a formation of a ramp. The red creature rode up the ramp and headed straight to a wall. The red creature then turned back to it's normal figure as it landed on the wall with it's feet. It then realized that Zoro was heading right down at it.

"HYOU KINTAMA!" Zoro span in circles with his swords as he went straight down to the red creature like a rocket. The red creature had no choice but to shoot a missile at a close range, that stopped and injured Zoro, but also the creature itself. They both landed hard on the ground as the red creature got up while greyish orbs were starting to form right at the tip of it's arm cannon. It then shot 5 missiles simultaneously in the air that headed towards Luffy, Zoro, Sanji, Chopper, and Franky individually.

Luffy groggily gets up and notices a missile coming towards him. "GOMU GOMU NO FUUSEN!" Luffy inflates himself, hoping to bounce the missile away, but that didn't work as the missile exploded upon impacting him. "Guah!" Luffy landed subconsciously on the ground, having his body filled charred.

The second and fifth missile headed straight to Zoro and Franky. Franky quickly pulls his head off the ground and immediately shoots the incoming missile down. Zoro gets up with a blunt look and cuts the missile down with one sword as the cut missile went past him and created an explosion behind him.

The third and fourth missile headed straight to Sanji and Chopper. Sanji barely got up and kicks the missile up through the hole above the cave and exploded a few seconds afterwards. Chopper shivered in fear as he jumped when the missile was only a few inches away from him. The missile behind him exploded, sending Chopper landing next to Robin, who had her hand around her chin.

"You know… there is something odd about this." Robin said with a blunt look.

"Robin! How can you just sit there while that monster is attacking us!?" Chopper asked while getting up.

"I think that this creature was not the same one that attacked us earlier. In fact, I don't that this 'creature' is our enemy." Robin said. Chopper was confused on what she meant as Luffy, Zoro, and Franky regrouped while breathing heavily.

"This guy is really strong. If it is going to use that ball thing again, we are doomed." Luffy panted.

"It's not only that ball thing. This thing has great skill, but for some reason, it's presence doesn't feel the same like the last time we fought it." Zoro said while panting heavily as well.

"Who cares about the presence? We need to attack it at the same time if we want to defeat it." Franky said while aiming at it.

"OUT OF MY WAY!" Sanji ran right past them, making them to fall down on the ground. "You shi& piece of trash! I'll turn you into mince meat!" Sanji yelled before he lunged at the red creature. "ANTI-MANNER KICK COURSE!" Sanji landed on his hands and starts to spin with his legs spread out. The red creature barely dodged as Sanji then thrusted himself to the red creature, crashing his feet into the the red creature's abdomen. The red creature landed hard on the wall behind it as it then dodged another kick by Sanji. It seems that it is now charging up a powerful as the inside of the arm cannon started to glow brightly.

Sanji jumps in the air with his foot raised up high as the red creature immediately turns around and fires a fully-charged blast at him, creating an explosion that sends Sanji crashing back into a wall, making a huge crack on it.

"SANJI!" Chopper cried as Sanji was barely standing.

"That's… IT!!" Sanji's eyes opened and dashed at the red creature faster than before. Before the red creature can react, Sanji kicked it in it's arm cannon, leaving it completely defenseless. "OEIL!" Sanji kicks the creature in the visor, "NEZ!" Sanji kicks another part of the creature's visor, "JOUE!" Sanji kicks the side of the creature's head, "BOUCHE!" Sanji kicks the creature under it's visor, "DENTA!" Sanji kicks the creature in the same spot again, "MENTON!" Sanji kicks at the creature's chin, "COLLIER SHOOT!" Sanji ends his painful combo with a powerful thrust kick at the chin that sends the creature right into a wall.

"Whoa… he is definitely pissed off." Franky said with a shocked look on his face.

Sanji got on to his knees and panted heavily, believing that he finished it off. "I… -cough-… beat it. I beat it." Sanji said exhausted. His eyes widened as he then saw the red creature groggily getting out of the dust screen, barely able to stay on it's legs. "You… dammit!"

Before anything else could happen, an odd looking ship appeared above the hole of the cave.

"Ah! What is that!?" Chopper asked in fear as it was now starting to shoot the Strawhat crew, including the red creature.

"What in the world!? Why is that thing shooting us!?" Franky asked while dodging the ships' blasts.

"I don't know, but I am getting sick of it!" Luffy said angrily as he grabs his shoulder. "GOMU GOMU NO PI-ACK!" Luffy got knocked out of the way by the red creature as it then aimed at the attacking ship. "Hey! What is the big idea!?"

"Wait, Luffy! I think it's going to attack the ship!" Zoro said by observation. The red creature's arm cannon then started to charge up more energy than before as parts of the cannon came off, and started to rotate around it. The creature then shot out a humongous beam that enveloped the ship before disintegrating it completely. The Strawhat crew were completely amazed the creature's power as it was now starting to emit electricity all over its body.

"That was so cooooool!!! The red armor guy is so awesome!" Luffy cried in amazement.

"Be careful, I think it's going to attack again!" Zoro said as he prepares to fight again.

"I'll shoot it down!" Franky said as he opens his wrist at the red creature, which still had electricity all over it's body.

"Wait!" Robin said, "Look at that!"

The Strawhat crew gave confused looks to Robin before looking back at the red creature. The electricity around it disappeared as the armor around it fell off. Everyone looked at the armor-less body, with only the mens' eyes popping out of their heads and their jaws hitting the floor.

"HUH!?" Luffy screamed.

"WHAT!?" Zoro yelled.

"WHAT THE HELL IS THIS!?" Franky asked.

"OH MY GOSH!!" Chopper yelled.

"W-W-W-W-W-W-W-W-W-W-W-W-WHAT IS THIS!? WHAT IS GOING ON AROUND HERE!? THIS CAN'T BE POSSIBLE!!!" Sanji yelled out the most.

"I knew it." Robin said with a calm tone.

What stood in front of them was no longer red armored guy, in fact, it's not even a guy at all. What stood in front of them was a beautiful woman wearing a blue jumpsuit. She has long blonde hair and some kind gadget around her waist. She glared at the Strawhat crew as she took the gadget from her waist. The gadget then created a long, electric whip from it's tip as she then swung professionally. The crew, however, were still to shocked to notice the whip, or even the gadget for that matter as they were still surprised that they were fighting a human female this whole time.

"Now that is what I call a babe." Franky said while he drooled in amazement.

"H-He was a 'she' this whole time!? I didn't see that coming." Zoro said in shock.

"I never knew that we were fighting a girl." Chopper said in shock as well.

Sanji was the person that was shocked the most. "She is so… so… BEAUTIFUL!!!" Sanji's visible eye turned into a big heart. "I THOUGHT THAT I WOULD NEVER SEE THE DAY THAT I WOULD MEET SUCH A BEAUTIFUL WOMAN IN A PLACE LIKE THIS!!!! MELLORINE, MELLORINE, MELLORINE, MELLORINE, MELLO-…

!" Sanji's visible eye turned back to normal upon realizing something. "Wait a minute… so this whole time I was fighting a woman? Then all the attacks and the cruelty I have just gave her… did that really…"

Sanji stood paralyzed as the woman swung her whip to the ground, almost hitting the Strawhat crew. "What's the matter?" the woman asked, "Have you decided to give up?"

"Please wait a moment." Robin said, "Is your name Samus?"

The woman narrowed her eyes more. "So what if it is?"

"Please accept our apology for attacking you. We mistook you for someone else. We mean you no harm." Robin said, "We are not your enemies. We were just looking for our friends that were captured by some fiends. If you may please put that away so I can explain to you our story."

The woman slowly got out of her battle position and turns off her gadget before putting it away. "If you guys are trying to trick me, you will regret it. And yes… my name is Samus."

Robin kindly smiled as everyone else was still in shock. Sanji was still figuring out what he has just done. "Let's see… I kicked her armor, but not her… so I didn't really kick her… but I still kicked her… then that really does mean…" Sanji eyes widened in fear and despair as he places his hands on his head in agony. "OH NO!!! I KICKED A WOMAN!!! MY PRIDE AS A MAN IS DESTROYED!!! AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA HHH HHH HHH HHH HHH HHH HHH HHHH!!!!!!!" Sanji then fell on his back, not being able to take the pressure.

The only one who hasnt said anything was Luffy, who just still couldnt believe what he just saw.

"A… transexual?"

Preview: This has a been a weird day. First, Nami and Usopp get kidnapped and now we meet a powerful transexual. I wonder what it feels like to be a woman. Next time on One Piece: A Smash Adventure; Chapter 56: The one known as Dark Samus, Usopp vs Ridley. I am gonna be the Pirate King!

The chapter 57 is where I have trouble coming up with. I going to need some time to come up with a good theme for that one. But the next chapter I have already planned, so dont worry about that for now. Oh, and that ship that attacked Luffy and the others were from the space pirates by the way. See ya!

Metroid Pt 5

Sorry I took so long again, but like everyone else in this world, I had other things to do. So, here is the next chapter you have been waiting for. Enjoy!

A girl!? Two Space pirates believed that Nami was her archenemy, Samus. They took down Usopp and kidnapped Nami to take to their boss, Ridley. Usopp had no other choice but to try and rescue Nami by himself. Meanwhile, the rest of the Strawhat crew were too late to help Nami, and started to search around Aether to find her. What they found instead was a ship in a big cave, which interested Luffy, but attracted other attention. Zoro realized a red creature was spying on him and his crew, so he made the first strike before it did. The Strawhat crew and the red creature fought tremendously until an unknown ship and attacked them. The red creature immediately disposed the ship with all it's power, causing it's armor to fall off. It is now known that it is a she, better yet, she is Samus, which surprised the heck out of the Strawhat crew. Will she help them save Nami?

Chapter 56: The one known as Dark Samus, Usopp vs Ridley

The sun was now starting to set as the Strawhat crew and Samus were sitting down in a circle, except for Sanji, who was crouching in a corner feeling very, very, VERY depressed. He was so depressed, that half of the cave was very gloomy and depressing. It would probably make a happy person sad.

"So what you are saying is that you guys are pirates and where caught by the second Master door," Samus began to say after Robin explained her everything, "Then in order for you guys to go back to your world, you need 8 hearts created by Master hand to use it?"

"Yes. It has been quite some time since that happened, and we only need 4 more hearts to collect in order to go back home." Robin said.

"Hmph… never knew that something like that would happen before." Samus said with a cold look on her face. "But I find that story hard to believe since it came from pirates."

"Oi, now. Just because we are pirates, doesn't mean we don't tell the truth once and a while." Franky said, "Besides, we are the toughest and the most respectable pirates there is."

"I didn't say that you guys were making it up. I just said that it is hard to believe." Samus said, "Why would Master hand take you guys into another world for no reason?"

"We don't know." Chopper said, "We were never told why we were in this situation in the first place. I think that something bad must have happened to Master hand.

"That's odd. There is a high chance that somebody must have attacked him." Samus said while having her hand around her chin, "But it's not likely for him to get captured so easily, since he has a tight security where he lives. And that certain brother he has…"

"Brother? What brother?" Franky asked.

"Nevermind. I don't like to talk about him." Samus said as she sounded a bit irritated when she said 'him'.

"Well anyway, what's a tough and hot babe like yourself doing here? I thought that you already saved the Luminoth from the Ing things." Franky said.

"I am here on a mission to find some people that have not been seen in couple of weeks." Samus said. "They are three bounty hunters that have been newly recruited to the Galactic federation. They were assigned to their first mission to find and destroy phazon in this world, but we have not heard of them ever since.

"Do you think that they are safe?" Chopper asked.

"I am pretty sure that they are okay. They are pretty strong, and it would take like an army of thousands to take them down." Samus said, "But to not hear from them for a couple of weeks is bugging me…"

"Ah, don't worry about it, hunter sis. I am sure you'll find your bounty hunter buddies in no time, right, Cook?" Franky asked as he looked behind his shoulder to see the depressed Sanji.

"What is life?" Sanji asked in a monotone voice, "Is it something that you must cherish, or is it something that will eventually hit you in the face really hard? The fact that I vowed to never kick a woman in my entire life has made me a better person up to this day. Now the forces of nature dare to hurt me by making me break my own vow. It doesn't make any sense; what is the point to ruin something so important to someone just for the heck of it? Was it a coincidence? Was it staged? Or maybe it's just nothing. How could it be nothing? Everything must happen for a reason, so how can it happen just for nothing? DO ANY OF THESE QUESTIONS HAVE SOME SORT OF CONNECTION WITH EACHOTHER, OR IS JUST SOME CRUEL WAY OF LIFE THAT SOME IDIOT MADE UP TO MESS WITH MY HEAD!?!?"

Franky and everyone else just stared at Sanji as he then calmly sits on the floor again.

"I don't know what to do anymore. Maybe I should stay here until I rot to death." Sanji said depressingly as he then got quiet again.

"Oooooooookay… It seems that you need some time for yourself." Franky said as he looks away.

"What's wrong with him?" Samus asked.

"He is just out of the weather at the moment." Robin replied, "Quite frankly, we are just sort of surprised to meet a famous bounty hunter in our presence."

Luffy then slams his palms on the ground in front of Samus, and gives her a serious look.

"You must join my crew!" Luffy exclaimed, "We can really use a transexual as powerful as you are!"

"We do?" Zoro asked.

Samus then looks at Luffy. "Your name is Luffy, right?"

"Uh, yeah." Luffy replied.

"Did you just call me a transexual?" Samus asked in a calm tone.

"Um… yeah, I believe I did." Luffy said.

KAP OOO OOO OOO OOO WWW WWW!!!

"UOAH!!!" Luffy got hit in the face by Samus, and was sent flying right across the cave floor. His upper body then went right through a cave wall as Chopper and Franky had their eyes popping out of their heads upon witnessing that.

"Wow! She is very strong!" Chopper cried out.

"And she punched Strawhat with that calm look!" Franky said as he noticed that Samus seemed to be very calm, "Not even Orange-head sis could do that!"

"So, anyway…" Zoro began to say intending to change the topic, "How is it that you know Master hand? Are you one of his Smash participants?"

"Yes, I am. It's quite of a long story, but to put it simple, I was asked to join when there was no trouble going on for months." Samus said.

"Um… can I have your autograph?" Chopper asked timidly while holding his autograph book. She didn't answer, but instead wrote her name in the second page due to the last one not having any space. She gave it back to Chopper, who was happy to get her autograph.

"Most of the time, I don't hang out with the other Smashers. But I was well known for being one of the toughest Smash participants that ever existed." Samus said.

"That is why you must join my crew!" Luffy exclaimed, appearing right out of nowhere, which freaked out Chopper and Franky. "To have a transexual as powerful as you are around will be so awesome!"

"Do you like getting hit in the face or what?" Samus asked while clenching her fist.

"If you could just avoid hitting him for now, I would like to ask you for a favor." Robin said as she got Samus' attention, "You see, two of our crewmates seem to have been abducted by unknown figures, and since you know the habit and areas of this planet, would you mind helping us rescue them?"

Samus didn't reply instantly, the only thing she did was to stand up with a stern look.

"Lets get one thing clear." Samus said with a cold look, "I never help out pirates. They are the sin of the universe, and they only cause trouble for everyone else. I don't care how ridiculous or kind you guys are, you cannot count on me to help you with anything."

Chopper had a scared look on his face, while everyone else didn't seem that intimated, except for Luffy, who just has a plain look instead.

"Now if you excuse me, I need to get some supplies from my ship." Samus said as she then was about to her ship, but stopped as she saw Sanji bowing down to her.

"I just want to let you know that I am really sorry about what I did to you." Sanji said with a sad look, "If I would have known that you are a woman inside that thing you were in, I would have never laid a foot on you. I am not asking for your forgiveness, I just wanted to let you know that I am truly sorry."

Samus looked down at him, who looked back with a puppy eye face. She sighs depressingly at this. "Well…"

"Yes?" Sanji said with a little hope in his spirit.

"You have some strong kicks." Samus said as she then walked past him.

"Noooooo! Don't tell me that my kicks are strong! Then I'll believe that I have really injured you. NooooOOoooo…" Sanji hits the ground multiple times in agony as Samus jumps on her ship.

"What kind of supplies are you going to take out?" Luffy asked curiously.

"Just a little gadget and my armor, which I will put back on right now." Samus said as she gets on a tiny platform on the ship.

"Please! Stop with the torture! I don't know if my heart can take it!" Sanji cried as he obviously didn't wanted Samus back in her armor, which would cover her beautiness.

The platform took her inside the ship. Seconds later, their was a glowing green light from inside. Then a couple of more seconds later, Samus got out of her ship, wearing the exact same armor she had on before.

"Hey, look! He turned back into a man again." Luffy said while pointing at Samus as she was getting off her ship.

"Luffy, shut up." Zoro said coldly.

"This is what I needed to get." Samus said while holding some kind of battery. "Now all I need to do is go back where I was and use it there."

"Can we go with you?" Luffy asked.

"Oi, Strawhat. Did you forget that Orange-head and Longnose have been kidnapped?" Franky asked while lightly tapping on Luffy's head.

"They are strong, so they can handle themselves." Luffy said as she then looks at Samus, "Can we go with you and see what you do for a living, please?"

"Bah… whatever. Just don't get in my way." Samus said rudely as she jumped up to the upper level of the cave.

"Yosh! Let's go!" Luffy said excitedly as he and Chopper happily follows Samus to the next area.

"Just one simple thing always get him curious. That is going to kill him someday." Franky said.

"Yeah, but until that happens, we have to do what he says." Zoro said as Robin giggles at that remark, "Oi, dumb cook. We are leaving."

"Coming…" Sanji said as he walks ahead of Zoro while looking down with the same depressed look.

"Man, you are really messed up today." Zoro commented as they got to upper level and went through the hexagon door. Luffy was astounded to see head shaped statues of the Luminoth while walking through the hallway as Samus then shot an energy blast to a hexagon door in front of her, causing it to open. Her and the Strawhat crew entered into the vast area that Samus was on before.

"WUUAAAAHHH!!! AWESOME!!" Luffy and Chopper's eyes popped out of their heads in sheer amazement as they the noticed 4 humongous statues of the Luminoth species. "Now those are the kind of statues I am talking about! We must take one of those back to our ship!"

"There is no way we are taking one of those!" Franky exclaimed. "Besides, it's not going to fit in our ship."

Luffy moaned sadly as Samus walked to the middle of the area. She installed the battery she got from her ship into her arm cannon. The tip of her cannon got smaller as a little, but sharp, flame formed out of it. She then got on one knee and started to make a little cut on the floor.

"Oi, Samus. There is something that has been bugging me lately." Zoro began to say while Samus was focus cutting part of the floor, "We have encountered somebody or something that has the same armor as you have, only it's dark instead of orange. Do you happen to know what that thing is?"

The sharp flame from the tip of Samus' arm cannon turned off as Samus slowly gets up to her feet. "I do know her… or 'it' to be more precise." The Strawhat crew then started to pay close attention to her. "She is known as Dark Samus. And I am the cause for it's existence."

"What do you mean you created her?" Chopper asked.

"A long time ago, there was a creature known as Metroid Prime. Metroids are capable of siphoning an undetectable life energy from any animal, generally causing the death of the victim in the process."

"Huh?" Luffy said while tilting his head in confusion.

"They suck the life out of you." Franky said in simple words.

"Oh! So it's a mystery animal." Luffy said while hitting his palm.

"Anyway, Metroid prime was one of the biggest and powerful metroids that ever existed. On the planet Tallon IV, I fought it and defeated it in battle, but with a price." Samus then clenches her fist in anger, which Sanji noticed. "A part of it sucked the phazon out of my suit. Then a couple of weeks later, that thing reformed itself into what it is now."

"Dark Samus…" Sanji muttered.

"What is phazon?" Franky asked.

Samus kicked the floor where she have been cutting with her arm cannon seconds ago. She then took a couple of steps back as something that looks like a blue shard came out of the floor.

"That is Phazon. That is what Dark Samus is mostly made of." Samus said while glaring at the Phazon.

"Oooo. It looks shiny." Luffy said as he was about to touch it. Samus quickly gets in front of Luffy and kicks him away from the Phazon shard. "Ow! What did I do!?"

"The pain you are feeling right now will not even compare to what this shard cand do to you!" Samus exclaimed angrily, "Phazon is a highly radioactive and muganetic, semi-sentinent element! Just by touching this shard could end your life!"

Chopper backed away from the shard in fear after hearing that.

"Phazon can slowly replace a planet's ecosystem with one that is Phazon based. This causes the planet's flora and fauna to die or mutate, sometimes becoming hostile. Machines can also be corrupted by Phazon, causing them to shut down or run rampant. It is an element that I intend to erase from existence!" Samus said with determination.

"But that won't be a problem anymore. You already found the Phazon here in this world." Chopper said.

"I know that, but getting rid of it is the problem. This shard here is not even 1 percent of what this world contains. It will take a while to get the whole thing out of here. And to do that, I am going to need help from U-mos." Samus said while looking all the way up the Sky temple.

"Yosh! We will help you get rid of the phazon thingy!" Luffy said with his arms held up high.

"I prefer that you didn't, but I guess I can't stop you." Samus said as she then started to walk out of the vast area.

"Yosh! Let us help the transexual get help from the ten foot bug-eye people!" Luffy said excitedly as he and the rest of his crew started followed Samus out of the area.

"But wait. What about Nami and Usopp?" Chopper asked

Meanwhile…

"Nami!"

Usopp went running through a road, trying to catch up with Nami's kidnappers. "They headed over here! They cannot avoid the great and powerful Usopp! Here I go!" Usopp went through a hexagon door and was now in another part of the temple grounds. Usopp saw something in from afar and decided to stay low in order to not be seen. "Huh… what is that?"

In front of his view lies an odd machine that was floating in midair. There were big gaps that were impossible to cross by foot that have tiny cannons facing to the other side of the plane. The only thing noticeable about this place was that there was a ship that looks like the ship that attacked Luffy and the others in the previous chapter. Around that ship, were a couple of space pirates, standing by for further orders.

"How long are we suppose to wait here?" One of the space pirates asked.

"Until our leader gives us any orders, we are stuck here like rocks." The other space pirate said.

"I know that, but… hey! Isn't that one of our guys?"

The space pirates around the ship saw two of their species, trying to hold on someone that turned out to be Nami. "LET GO OF ME, YOU PIECE OF SMELLY GARBAGE!" Nami yelled as she manages to free her arm and punch Space pirate No. 2 in the face.

"Ow! Don't try to break free from our grip, Samus! Besides, it's a long way down from here." Space pirate No. 2 said while trying to stay conscious.

Nami didnt pay attention to him as she continued to punch Space pirate No. 2 in the face. Space pirate No. 1 then grabbed Nami by her leg tightly. "Look, Samus. We dont want to hurt you just yet, but you are making it very difficult for us to-"

"Shut your mouth, you pig!" Nami barked as she used her free leg to kick Space pirate No. 1 under the chin.

The Space pirate duo were doing their best to land safely while trying to hold Nami down. The other Space pirates were confused on what was going on.

"Everyone stand back! I think they are about to crash!"

The Space pirate duo made a lousy landing as Nami landed on top of them. "N-Nami!" Usopp hissed as quietly as he could as Space pirate No. 2 then grabbed Nami and puts her hands on her back before handcuffing them tightly.

"Hey! What do you think you are doing to me!?" Nami yelled.

"Those handcuffs are strong enough to hold a tyrant. Don't bother to get free from them, Samus." Space pirate No. 2 said with a cruel tone.

"For the last time, I am not Samus! My name is Nami! I am just an intelligent Navigator of a crew that has the most idiotic captain that has ever existed!" Nami barked while flailing her legs left and right.

"Yeah, yeah. Save the lies until our leader gets here." Space pirate No. 1 said as some of his other fellow pirates walked up to him.

"Where were you guys? And what is this creature you have here?" one of the space pirates asked.

"Ho ho! This happens to be the thorn in our spines. This is none other than Samus without her armor." Space pirate No. 2 declared.

The other space pirates were in shocked to hear that kind of news. "A-Are you serious!? This is the legendary Samus that has been foiling our plans up to this day!?"

"Yeah, man. This is the same creature that has been messing with us. Ain't that right, Samus" Space pirate No. 2 asked. Nami lunged at Space pirate No. 2 and bit his head. "AAAHHH! GET HER OFF ME! GET HER OFF ME!" Space pirate No. 2 cried out while running in circles while Nami was biting his head harder by the second.

"So where is our leader? I want to tell him the good news." Space pirate No. 1 said while ignoring the cries of his partner.

"He hasn't arrived yet. But he'll sure to be here any second now." The other Space pirate said.

"Oh, I just cant wait until he shows up. I can already smell the promotion already." Space pirate No. 1 said as his partner has finally passed out as Nami lets go of his head, and started to spit out the disgust after biting his head.

"Look, there he is!"

One of the Space pirates pointed to the sky as they can see Ridley coming from afar.

"Hmm? What is that? Some sort of bird?" Usopp asked as he puts his goggles over his lens to get a better view. His eyes then went through the lens when he saw Ridley in a clear view. "Wh-What is that thing!? Some sort of pterodactyl!?"

"Huh?" Nami looks up up notices Ridley landing perfectly on the ground. "EEEEEEK! WHAT THE HELL IS THAT!?"

"Welcome, Captain Ridley. I hope your voyage was pleasant upon arriving." Space pirate No. 1 said with a kind tone.

"No. Arriving this planet just ruined the whole trip for me." Ridley responded cruelly, "How are preparations coming along?"

"Everything is just fine, just like you ordered, Captain." Space pirate No. 1 said, "Also, I have a very special present for you."

Ridley narrowed his eyes in confusion as Space pirate No. 1 walked up to Nami. "I have managed to capture Samus, your worst enemy of all time!"

Ridley tilted his head even more confused as he then glared Space pirate No. 1. "Is this some kind of stupid joke?"

"Huh? What do you mean, sir?" Space pirate No. 1 asked.

"This creature here is not Samus! It's just some other detestable human!" Ridley yelled as Space pirate No. 1 shivered in fear and in confusion.

"A-Are you sure? Because Samus is a woman. And correct me if I am wrong, but I believe that this human is also a woma-"

"Shut up!" Ridley yelled as his anger scared his men and Nami. "Samus is a blonde female. Does this ugly thing look like a blonde to you!?"

"Um, no. You see, I could've thought that she may have dyed her hair or-"

"Just get rid of this human." Ridley said with an annoyed tone, "No wait, on second thought, let me talk to her." Ridley shoves Space pirate No. 1 out of the way as he walks close to Nami, who gulped in fear. "Where did you come from, human? From what I know, humans don't live in this world." .

"Well, I, uh… you see… um… I come from a total different place. A place where the likes of me and the likes of… who are you guys?" Nami asked calmly with a weak smile.

"Space pirates." Ridley replied.

"Oh, yeah. Where the likes of me and Space pirates… SPACE PIRATES! DO YOU MEAN TO TELL ME THAT SPACE PIRATES EXIST!?" Nami yelled out in surprise.

"Space pirates!? I never thought that Luffy was actually right about that too." Usopp hissed as Nami seems to be petrified in surprise afterwards.

"… This filth is as stupid as the rest of her race." Ridley said before looking back at Space pirate No. 1. "Are there any more humans around here?"

"Um… my partner and I did see more of them, including a raccoon. They didn't look that very strong, in my opinion." Space pirate No. 1 said with a nervous tone.

"Hmm… I guess it doesn't matter where they came from. We must as well kill this one just for fun." Ridley said before he looked back at Nami, who was still petrified in surprise.

"I cannot believe that Luffy was right about something yet again. I am the smart one in the crew. I dont understand how an idiot like him can be able to come up with such things that actually exist. Life itself must be coming to an end…" Nami said in a surprised tone.

"Stop mumbling to yourself, and let me see the look on your face before I kill you!" Ridley said as he took one step closer to Nami.

"Wh-What!? Are you mad!? What for!? I didn't do anything!" Nami yelled as she tried to get away, but it almost fell of the ledge of the floor.

"I cannot let you go after what you just seen here. Besides, seeing you in sheer pain my lighten my mood a bit." Ridley said as he raises his claw.

"No! Stay back!" Nami cried as she closed her eyes in fear.

"HISSATSU KEMURI BOSHI!"

A pellet came out of nowhere and struck in the ground beneath Ridley's feet, causing a huge smoke screen to envelop the entire area. "What is this!?" Ridley asked.

The space pirate crew were then coughing uncontrollably as their vision was also getting quite blurry.

"Aaaaaaaahhh!!!"

BOOOOOM

They heard a sound of a cannon exploding somewhere and then later, heard a crash near them.

"Search the area!" Ridley yelled as his men started to look around as the smoke started to clear a bit.

It turned out that Usopp was the one that got shot out of a cannon at the other side of the gap, and was now hiding ontop of the ship in fear.

"I can't see anything. Everyone, increase the volume settings in your helmet. We should be able to hear anything that moves that way." Space pirate No. 1 commanded.

"Volume settings?" Usopp asked himself. He then came up with a good idea as he then stood up while looking for something in his bag.

"Hey! You're-!"

"USOPP…" Usopp takes out a tiny chalkboard and places the tip of his nails on it "… NOO OOO OII SSS SEE!!!!"

SCR EEE EEE EEE EEE EEE EEE EEE EEE EEE EEE EECH

"AAAAAAAAAAAAHHHHH!!!!!"

The space pirates cried in agony as the volume settings in their helmets increased the sheer noise they are hearing tenfold. It was so loud, the visors from their helmets shattered into pieces as the space pirates were knocked out. Ridley irritatingly grabs his head as Nami took the advantage to get away from him.

"Huh? Usopp?" Nami said as the smoke cleared to see Usopp, who frozed.

"Did I do it?" Usopp asked as he then saw numerous of unconscious space pirates on the ground. "Oh! I did do it! Yes! The great Captain Usopp has triumphed over evil once again! Ha ha ha ha!" Usopp said proudly as he raises his slingshot in victory.

"Usopp! How did you get here!? Where are the others!?" Nami asked.

"I didn't had time to go back to them, so I decided to follow you here and rescue you myself!" Usopp replied.

"Are you insane!? What do you think that will happen to you if you tried and do this sort of thing just to rescue me!?" Nami asked irritatingly.

"Do not worry, Nami! I have the skills to defeat the likes of your kidnappers!" Usopp said proudly.

"I am not talking about that! What I mean is that if you happen to die now, who the hell is going to tell the strong people where I am!?" Nami asked.

This caused Usopp to fall down, anime style. "Wh-What do you mean by that!? I am strong enough to save you!"

"You are not even strong enough to open a jar of pickles!" Nami barked.

"What!? I so can open a jar of pickles!" Usopp said, "… Okay, I cant really open a jar of pickles with ease, but I least can try, right!?"

While Nami and Usopp were argueing, Ridley was rubbing his head after Usopp's attack. Ridley opened his eyes and angrily looks at Usopp.

"Who are you!?" Ridley asked in a low and threatening tone.

Usopp looks at Ridley and immediately falls on his rear upon witnessing him. "Wh-Wh-Wh-What is he still doing up!? I thought my attack knocked everyone out." Usopp said in surprise.

"Did you actually think that your so called attack can take that monster down!?" Nami asked.

"I said who are you!?" Ridley asked even crueler than before.

"Oh, um… um… I am your maker!" Usopp said bravely as he gets up on his feet, "I am Captain Usopp! And I am here to rescue Nami from your evil and disgusting clutches!"

"What are you doing!? Dont piss him off!" Nami barked.

"Captain? So you are this human's leader?" Ridley asked.

"Yes, I am!" Usopp replied, "You better not lay a single claw on Nami, or I will…"

"Please don't say 8000 enforcers, please don't say 8000 enforcers, please don't say 8000 enforcers…" Nami pleaded silently.

"I will send my 8000 enforcers to come out of hiding and strike you down like the pathetic oversized insect you are!" Usopp said with pride as Nami slaps her forehead.

"… 8000 enforcers?" Ridley asked.

"Yeah, that's what I said! What are you gonna do about that, huh? Are you going to fly away in fear? I won't blame you, my 8000 enforcers are indeed one of the toughest armies that ever existed, since they were trained by me of course." Usopp said with a cocky tone.

"Then why don't you call them?" Ridley asked.

"To be quite honest, they are not as strong as I am. But atleast it is something worthy to appre…" Usopp was saying until he realized what Ridley just said, "Excuse me? Did you say that you wanted me to call them?"

"Yes. You can go ahead and call your enforcers if you like. I'll gut them alive." Ridley said emotionless as Usopp got scared again.

"Ah! Um… you know what? I think that their help wont be necessary. My strength is sufficient enough to tame you!" Usopp said as he lifted his slingshot bravely.

"Go ahead, I dare you." Ridley snarled. Usopp was scared again as he realized that his lies aren't working against Ridley at all. He began to think of another brilliant method to take down Ridley.

"Prepare to feel fear in you soul! USOPP STARE!" Usopp widened his eyes as big as he could as he glared at Ridley. His glare was a tremendous sight of something to be afraid of, as even Nami had troubling looking at him in the eye.

"If this could scare the heck out of me, then it can possibly work on that monster." Nami said as she then looks at Ridley. "Huh!?"

Ridley seems to be taking no affect in Usopp's glare, not even in a single reaction when Usopp's glare started. Usopp was getting by the second upon holding that scary face as he soon then collapsed on the ship.

"I cant do it! Why are aliens so hard to intimidate with facial expressions!?" Usopp whined.

"Can this get any worse?" Nami asked. She then noticed that Ridley raised his metallic tail. "Usopp, watch out!"

"Huh?" Usopp said before he notices Ridley about to swing his tail down at him. "WHOAAAA!!" Usopp jumps of the ship as Ridley completely destroyed it with just a swing of his tail.

"He's… powerful." Nami commented shockingly as Usopp was trying to get back up on his feet.

"I have never met such a captain as pathetic and weak as you are." Ridley said cruelly, "The thought of you."

"Grr… I don't think so!" Usopp yelled as he aimed his slingshot at Ridley, "USOPP GLUE BOSHI!" Usopp fires pellets at Ridley's feet as they then exploded into a strong and sticky substance, making it look impossible for Ridley to move from the spot he is on. "Now take this! HISSATSU KATAKI BOSHI!" Usopp fires an explosive pellet at Ridley's face, exploding upon impact. "Yes! That should teach you not to mess with the great Usopp!" Usopp said proudly as the smoke screen then started to clear. "Wh-What!?" Ridley was still standing, not even a scratch on him as he folded his arms.

"You're pissing me off…" Ridley said as Usopp frowned frustratingly.

"That was nothing! SANREN KATAKIBOSHI!" Usopp fires three explosive pellets at the same time, all exploding on Ridley's body. When the smoke cleared however, it showed that Ridley was still standing in the same spot completely unharmed. "What are you!? Are you some kind of unbeatable cyborg!?"

"Now there is something you actually you got right." Ridley said, "I am Ridley; The captain of the Space pirates. And there is no way that some pathetic lifeform as you can possibly defeat me!"

"You are the captain of these guys!?" Usopp asked nervously, "No wonder this battle is so hard for me!"

"You'd still had trouble fighting him even if he was a rookie!" Nami barked as Usopp glared at her for a second.

"Tsk… It doesn't matter if you are the captain or not, I will take you down either way!" Usopp said as he takes out a red pellet, "If I cant hurt you from the outside, then I will you hurt you from the inside instead! HISSATSU TABASCO BOSHI!" Usopp fires a spicy pellet right into Ridley's mouth. "Ah-ha! Feel the burn!"

"This is nothing, idiot." Ridley said, chewing the pellets before swallowing them.

"Huh!? There is no such person or monster that has ever endured one of those! I guess I have to go hardcore on you!" Usopp said as he takes out a string of shurikens out of his bag. "Since you are unable to move, then this attack will surely hurt you! HISSATSU SHURIKEN REENSEIGAN!" Usopp fires the string of shurikens at Ridley as they separated from eachother in midair. Ridley expanded his wings and does an ordinary flap that almost sends Usopp off his feet. "Whoa!" Usopp managed to keep his balance as he then noticed that the shurikens that were sent to Ridley were now flying straight back at him. "AAHHH!" Usopp arches his back and avoids the shurikens as they went flying by (Imagine the Matrix).

Unfortunately for Usopp, he fell on his back after doing that athletic movement as one of the shurikens hit his slingshot and was sent flying next to the nearest hexagon door.

"You have lost your weapon, 'Captain'." Ridley chuckled.

"Grr… I may no longer have my slingshot, but I do have this!" Usopp said as he took out his hammer. "YYYYAAAAAHHHH!!" Usopp charges at Ridley with his helmet held up high. "USOPP…" Usopp jumps in the air and was heading down to Ridley, "HAMMER!" Usopp lowers his hammer down at Ridley's shoulder with great force. Usopp backed away immediately after the attack as he panted heavily. He then noticed that his hammer felt lighter as he then took a look at it. "OH SHIT!!" Usopp's hammer was broken as Usopp was only holding half of the hilt, with no hammer at the end.

"Usopp, look out!" Nami yelled.

"Huh?" Usopp looked at Ridley and quickly screams as he jumps back while avoiding Ridley's claw. Usopp crawled from Ridley in a great distance before getting back up again. "That was too close…"

"Can you do something that might actually be worthy of time? This is the first time I'm toying with my prey this long, and I'm starting to regret it." Ridley said.

"Oh… you are bored? You have seen nothing yet!" Usopp said as he then started to do multiple front flips and cartwheels towards Ridley, who was a little surprised to see Usopp that athletic.

"What the? I never knew Usopp was that athletic." Nami commented as Usopp got closer to Ridley.

"USOPP DRILL KICK!!" Usopp pushed the ground hard and was heading straight towards Ridley with his feet aiming at his chest. Just when Usopp made contact with Ridley's chest, he felt tremendous recoil damage. "DAAAAAAAHHHH!!! THAT HURT!" Usopp cried as he then landed on the floor. As he sat up, he felt something snapping on his back. "AAAHHH!! A CRAMP! I GOT A CRAMP! OWWWWW!!"

"YOU IDIOT! WHAT KIND OF AN ENDING TO AN ATTACK WAS THAT!?" Nami barked louder than before.

"I didn't-ow! I didn't even know I could do something like that! It must have been part of a moment." Usopp said as he was getting back up.

"Well don't just stand there! Do something before he kills you!" Nami yelled.

"What can he do? He is stuck on the floor." Usopp said.

Ridley then raises his foot off the ground, despite having it glued on the floor, and gave Usopp a glare

"KAAAAAHH!! HE REMOVED HIS LEGS OFF THE GROUND THAT EASILY!?" Usopp asked while his eyes popped out of his head.

"Of course he did! He is overpowering your attacks and maneuvers of fighting so far, it's no surprise he did that!" Nami yelled.

"Damn!" Usopp then grabs something from his bag before charging at Ridley. "I have flash bombs on my hand. The instant he dodges my fist, I will throw the bombs at his face, blinding him for a couple of moments. I will take the time to get Nami and get her out of here as fast as possible." Usopp thought to himself as he raised his fist with the bombs. "USOPP PUNCH!" Usopp thrusts his fist at Ridley, but instead of dodging it, he took it head on. Usopp then felt tremendous pain upon hitting Ridley's chest. "DAAAAAAAHH! MY HAND!" Usopp cried as he lets go of the bombs and exploded right under Usopp's face. "DAAAAAH! MY EYES!"

"IF THAT ATHLETIC KICK OF YOURS DIDN'T WORK, WHAT MAKES YOU THINK THAT A SIMPLE PUNCH COULD DO BETTER!?" Nami barked as she then noticed a clear opening to a hexagon door where Usopp's slingshot. "Sorry, Usopp. But I am not taking any chances by staying here." Nami said as she then dashed to the door.

"Hmm?" Ridley noticed Nami running to the door, but just stood in the same place.

"I am almost there! I am going to make it!" Nami said until something went right past her and crashed to the ground right in front of her. "Wh-What!? Did that monster caught up to me already?" Nami asked as it was Ridley's tip of the tail that crashed in front of her. "But how did… WHAT!?" Nami noticed that Ridley was still standing in the same spot, but has his tail extended to a long reach that it could hit a bird flying a couple of meters away. "The metal joints of his tail. They extended!"

The joints of Ridley's tail then unextended, turning back to it's original length. "Have you forgotten that I have robotic parts inside me? Like I said before, I won't let you escape after witnessing my presence here. I will take care of you after I deal with your friend." Ridley said as he looks back at where Usopp was, but was no longer there.

"HIYAAAAAAHH!" Usopp landed behind Ridley's shoulders out of nowhere. "Didn't expected this now, did you!? Prepare to gasp and plead for air! USOPP CHOKEHOLD!" Usopp jumps off of Ridley's shoulders and quickly wraps his arms around Ridley's neck. Usopp then started to squeeze Ridley's neck with all his might, but all he was actually doing was hanging on to Ridley, who was not feeling a single squeeze. Ridley growled, and grabbed Usopp with one claw, and threw him right next to Nami.

"Ohh… I don't think I can beat this guy." Usopp said while dazed.

"Now you are giving up!? I cannot afford to be killed by this monster! So hurry up and save me!" Nami yelled.

"Save you? How can I possibly do that if I cannot even leave a scratch on him?" Usopp said as he was happy all of a sudden.

"Oh yeah. Heh heh." Nami said while also be quite happy as she and Usopp giggled the thought of actually beating Ridley.

BOOOOOOOM!

"AAA AAA AAA AHH HHH HHH!!" Nami and Usopp leaped away as they avoided a big fire ball that Ridley created from inside his beak.

"Playtime is over… It's time for you two to bleed." Ridley said as he was charging up for another blast.

Nami had a frightened look until she realized that her handcuffs were destroyed in the explosion. She then quickly gets out one of her PCT. "COOL BALL!" Nami swings part of her PCT, creating a cool ball that went into Ridley's mouth while he was still charging up his blast.

"Guaaaahh!" Ridley cried as the combination of his heat and Nami's cool ball created a mist out of his mouth, also giving him a sore throat.

"Run, Usopp!" Nami yelled as Usopp retrieves his slingshot and runs with Nami out the door.

"Grr! I won't let you escape!" Ridley threatened as he spreaded his wings and started to fly up in the sky, chasing Nami and Usopp afterwards.

Preview: So this Phazon thing makes planets go sick? I never knew that something like that could happen. I have much to learn in order to find out everything about space things. Hey, what happened to the light? Next time on One Piece: A Smash Adventure; Chapter 57:

Strawhat regroups, The light of Aether vanishes. I am gonna be the Pirate King!

Like I said in the previous chapter, I need to think up how Chapter 57 is going to turn out, so the title might change or not. Anyway, I hope you enjoyed Usopp's attempt at saving Nami. See ya!

Metroid Pt 6

I got a Super Mario Galaxy and it so rocks! That is pretty much one of the reasons I haven't updated as of late and it will also be an excuse that I will be updating slower than I usually would. The good news is that I am on vacation and I wont be going back to school until this coming Monday, so I should be able to make another quick update if I don't get too attached to Mario Galaxy, if that is possible. Anyway, this chapter is not much of a deal, but I did the best I could for now. Enjoy!

Rescued? The Strawhat crew explained to Samus about everything that has happened to them so far. Despite that explanation, Samus does not fully trust them due to them being pirates. Later on, she showed them an deadly element known as Phazon, a radioactive element that can 'corrupt' a planet, including the inhabitants that live on it. Meanwhile, Usopp used all of his might to try and rescue Nami from the Space pirates. Despite him defeating some of the Space pirate crew, he could not defeat their leader, Ridley. Nami uses her strength to momentarily stun Ridley and escape with Usopp as far away as they could. Will they be able to get back to their crew safely?

Chapter 57: Strawhat regroups, The light of Aether vanishes

"Come on, can I try it on?"

"No."

The Strawhat crew and Samus were on their way back to the Sky temple. Sanji was still feeling vastly depressed as he was walking with his head lowered and his visible eye half opened. Luffy was being himself as usual as he was asking Samus if he can try on Samus' armor, which he believes to be her 'skin'.

"Can I try on your man skin, please?" Luffy asked nicely.

"No." Samus replied.

"Please? I just want to try it on for a couple of seconds. Then you can have it back and be a man again." Luffy said.

"The answer is still no." Samus said again.

"I am going to keep asking you until you let me put it on." Luffy threatened, but in a kind way.

"Go ahead." Samus said plainly, "I have been trained to endure almost every kind of torture there is."

"Hmmmm…" Luffy frowned before he took a deep breath, "Can I put it on now?"

"No." Samus replied.

"How about now?"

"No."

"How about now?"

"No."

"How about now?"

"No."

"How about now?"

"No."

"Can you say anything else but no?" Luffy asked rather irritated.

"Try asking again and see what happens." Samus said.

"Can I try it on now?" Luffy asked almost excitedly.

"No." Samus said.

"Ohhh…" Luffy was starting to whine, "Can I try it on no-"

"Oh for crying out loud, Strawhat! Shut up already!" Franky barked at Luffy's face, "If she doesn't want you to put on her armor, then she won't! Get it through your elastic head!"

"Aww… but I just want to know how it feels to be inside another guys' skin. Is that really a problem?" Luffy asked.

"For the last time, this is not skin. This is a Power suit, an armor created by the Chozos. This is one of the most advanced suits that exist out here in this universe. Only a few people are able to wear it." Samus said as she fires a little blast to a hexagon door in order for it to open.

"Samus-swan is so beautiful when she explains stuff." Sanji said, but in a very depressed tone as he everyone else went through the door.

"So that suit gives you powers?" Chopper asked.

"The suit does give you some strength, but it wouldn't be of any use if the user doesn't know how to use it properly." Samus explained.

"Like that ball thingy you did back there. How did you do that?" Luffy asked curiously.

"The Morph ball? It's just one the few things this suit can do. Not any other suit has that same kind of ability." Samus said.

Luffy then started to get deep in thought about that ball mode as they headed through another hexagon that lead them to the area where the big satellite is.

"So, Samus. Is there any particular reason why you are a bounty hunter?" Robin asked.

"That is none of your business, is it?" Samus asked rudely.

"Well no, but I guess we should get to know eachother more on our way to the Sky temple." Robin said kindly, "Besides, we already told our side of the story. It will be somewhat interesting to hear yours. That way, we can trust eachother more, don't you think?"

"Hmph…" Samus replied, "The only thing I could say is that I was born on one planet, then raised in another, with completely different species. They infused me with their blood, and eventually, I was given this suit."

"The suit? You mean to tell us that you were raised by those Chozo guys you mentioned earlier?" Franky asked.

"Yes." Samus replied, "Eventually, I became a bounty hunter. I have become a famed and one of the most capable bounty hunters over the years, but I didnt care much about that. What I really care about is that I get rid of the creatures I despise the most."

"Which is?" Zoro asked.

"Space pirates." Samus replied. This answer completely surprised Luffy as his eyes sparked with joy.

"Space pirates? Those actually exist around here?" Franky asked.

"I knew they were real! I can't wait to tell Nami when she comes back." Luffy said excitedly.

"That odd looking ship that attacked us in the cave…" Zoro began to say, "Was that…?"

"Yeah, those were one of the Space pirate vessels." Samus replied sternly, "I don't know why are they here in Aether, but I bet it has something to do with the Phazon here. They will probably use to destroy this world."

Hearing this made Luffy frown and have a serious look on his face. "So they want to kill this world along with the ten foot bug-eye people?"

"Ten foot bug-eye people?" Samus asked.

"He is referring to the Luminoths." Robin said.

"Oh. Yeah, they find it accomplishing to kill other creatures, and taking over their world afterwards. When they don't have any use for the planet they conquered, they simply destroy it." Samus said while clenching her fist angrily.

"Oi, Oi, wait a minute. They are that powerful that they can destroy a world? What a bunch of lunatics." Franky commented.

"That is why it is my job to get rid of them. And I will not rest until they are all dead." Samus said as they now entered into the area before the entry to the great temple is.

"Gee… let's hope that we don't confront one of the Space pirates. Just thinking about them makes me feel scared." Chopper whimpered all of a sudden.

"Don't get your hopes up. Maybe one of those Space pirates are the ones that were spying on us, and were also the ones that kidnapped Nami and Usopp." Zoro said with a blunt look as usual.

Sanji was about to say something, but he was too depressed to talk as he and everyone else got inside a room where the circular platform that leads to the Sky temple is.

"It is not like the Space pirates to take any prisoners." Samus said as she and everyone else got on the platform, "Your comrades are surely dead by now."

"That may be possible." Robin said as Chopper and Franky had shocked look on their faces upon hearing that, "But their might be a chance that they have escaped. They are both known to be quite fast when it comes to saving themselves."

"Even if they are fast, they cannot escape their leader." Samus said before she touched the hologram in the center of the platform that caused it to go up quickly, "Their leader, Ridley, is one of the fastest and deadliest airborne creature known throughout the universe. If it wasn't for me stopping his goals, life itself would be more limited than it is now."

"He is the captain, huh?" Franky asked, "Looks like you have a rival, Strawhat."

"Hmph… it doesn't matter. If I see him trying to do anything bad, I will kick his ass!" Luffy said with confidence.

"Wait a minute, you are the captain of these guys?" Samus asked with a mid-shocked tone.

"Kind of a shocker, isnt it?" Zoro asked.

Samus then looked the other way as she then sighed in distress. "Now I have seen everything this existence has to offer." Samus said as Luffy laughs for no reason.

Meanwhile…

Nami and Usopp ran out of the hexagon door and started to run straight without paying attention to the view in front of them. "Nice going, hero! What a way to save me!" Nami barked with sarcasm.

"Shut up!" Usopp barked back, "That really doesn't matter anymore! We are safe now, aren't we!?"

"That's not the point! The point is-STOP!" Nami yelled as she and Usopp stopped in their tracks as they almost fell of a ledge. They were stuck; They were now at a side of a huge gap and the opposite end is very far to jump over. "Oh great!? Now what do we do, Hero!?"

"Stop calling me that and let me think!" Usopp yelled. He then took a deep breath and then released it as he then looked at his surroundings. "There doesn't seem to be anything useful." Usopp said before something caught his attention. It was a cannon that is aiming towards the opposite end of the gap. "We could use that cannon to get to the other side."

"Are you out of your idiotic mind!?" Nami asked, "There is no way I am going to be shot out of a cannon like that!"

"Do you prefer to get killed by that monster chasing us!?" Usopp asked.

"As a matter of fact, yes! Yes, I would prefer to get killed by that monster then getting inside that!" Nami barked.

A couple of seconds passed as Ridley came flying right over them and started to fly a great distance. "There he is! Nami, come on!" Usopp said as he tried to force Nami in the cannon, but with no luck.

"No! I won't go!" Nami yelled as Ridley did a U-turn and started to head straight towards her and Usopp.

"I will turn you maggots into ashes!" Ridley yelled as he then fired fireballs from his mouth.

"GAH! Okay, okay! Let me in the cannon!" Nami cried as she stuffed herself inside the cannon with Usopp. The fireballs were getting closer by the second as the cannon was charging up, causing Nami and Usopp to shiver in fear.

BOOM!

"WAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA HHH HHH HHH HHH HHH HHH HHH HHH HHH HHH HHH!!!!"

Nami and Usopp went flying right out of the cannon and went right by the fireballs as they completely exploded into flames upon impacting the side Nami and Usopp were on.

"Tsk!" Ridley continued to fly straight ahead as Nami and Usopp were about to crash into a wall.

"Ahhh!! We are going to crash!" Nami cried as she then grabs Usopp in midair and puts him in front of her.

"What are you doing!?" Usopp asked before he crashed into the wall while Nami crashed to him. "Guoh…" Usopp groaned as he and Nami fell off the wall and landed on the floor.

"Phew… that was a close one." Nami said while wiping the sweat off her forehead. "Usopp, are you okay?" Nami asked as she looked at Usopp, who looked unconscious. "I guess not. It doesn't really matter anyway; that pterodactyl monster is nowhere in sight."

Nami spoke too soon unfortunately, as she could then see Ridley coming back at them. "Ahhh!! Usopp, wake up! He is coming back again! Usopp!" Nami yelled as she slapped the semi-conscious Usopp in the face repeatedly.

"Can't move… my body is numb… I think I can see the light…" Usopp moaned in slight pain.

"NO! GET AWAY FROM THE LIGHT AND STAY HERE!" Nami yelled as grabbed Usopp by his suspenders and shook him back an forth. Nami quickly looks back at Ridley, who is getting closer by the second. Nami quickly gasped and grabs Usopp by his nose.

"Owww…" Usopp said with a nazal tone as Nami quickly throws to a hexagon door in front her, causing it to open. Usopp was now completely unconscious after hitting the door as Nami grabs him by the nose again and drags through the door. They were both now at an intersection, surrounded by red walls.

"Okay, Nami. Pick the right way and you will be home free." Nami said to herself while having trouble which way to go. Ridley then appeared and flew above them. "AAHHH! Okay, I'll go left!" Nami guessed as she quickly runs to the left, dragging Usopp at the same time.

Ridley breathed out a stream of fire down to the duo as some of the flames almost burns Usopp to a crisp. Nami dashes as fast as she could as she then noticed a square box next to a higher floor.

"Oh, why does there have to obstacles?" Nami whined as she then threw Usopp over the higher and floor and to the other side. Nami quickly jumps as she avoids a fireball, which was created by Ridley, that bursted into flames behind her. Nami quickly jumps to the higher floor and then jumps down to where Usopp is. She grabs him by the nose again and runs quickly as possible as before.

Nami frowned as she saw another big box next to a higher floor in front of her again. She repeated the procedure like last time by throwing Usopp over it again. Before Nami could advance, Ridley breathed out a stream of fire in front of Nami, blocking her path.

"No!" Nami cried as Ridley landed on the floor in front of her, glaring at her with anger.

"I don't think you realize who you are trying to get away from! No matter how far you try to get away from me, I will always catch up and make sure that you suffer a cruel death as slowly and bloody as possible!" Ridley said with a cruel tone as Nami shivers when getting out her PCT.

"D… Don't be too sure. I am not just for looks you know!" Nami yelled before she raised her PCT in the air. "COOL CHARGE!" Nami swings her PCT, letting out a cool air from it's tip.

"And what do you think that will do to me!?" Ridley asked as he charged at Nami, swinging his claw at the process.

"Ahh!!" Nami cried as Ridley's claws went right through her.

"Huh!?" Ridley then noticed that Nami was fading like a mirage.

"COOL BALL!" Ridley looks behind his shoulder angrily as Nami throws a couple of cool balls at the wall of fire Ridley created. The wall of fire died down as Nami then pulled herself above the big box and jumps on the higher floor. Ridley turns around to face her and breaths out a stream of fire at Nami, who quickly avoids by jumping down to the other side. Nami then quickly dashes, grabbing the unconscious Usopp in the way. She then noticed a hexagon door in front of her. She then throws Usopp to the hexagon door, making his crash right into it. The door opened as Nami grabs Usopp by the nose again and goes through.

Nami panted heavily as Usopp was starting to regained consciousness. "Oww… where am I? Ow!" Usopp cried as Nami was still holding on to his nose. "Oi, Nami! What are you doing!?" Usopp asked in a nazal tone.

"Shut up! I am saving you!" Nami yelled as she panted afterwards.

"Saving me!? It's suppose to be the other way around. I am the one who is suppose to be saving you!" Usopp replied before Nami tightened her grip around Usopp's nose, causing him to cry in pain.

"Well your not! By the way, you are a bad rescuer!" Nami commented cruelly until she noticed a shadow that came out of nowhere. Nami gulps and looks back to see Ridley, who is on a cliff over the hexagon door Nami went through just now.

"You two are a nuisance! I wont let you go any further!" Ridley yelled as he started to gather some heat in his mouth.

"RAAAAAAAAHHH! NAMI, SAVE ME!" Usopp cried in fear.

"Now you want me to save you!? Geez…" Nami yelled angrily before she noticed that a big fireball was forming out of Ridley's mouth. "OH

NO!" Nami runs to a ledge while dragging Usopp before Ridley fires his huge fireball at them. Nami jumps along with Usopp as the fireball created a huge explosion that almost bursted the entire area with flames.

"WHH HHH HHO OOO OOO OOO OOO OAA AAA AAA AAA AAA!!!!" Nami and Usopp cried as the they landed hard on the ground. Usopp sat up while rubbing his nose in pain.

"Ohh… this really hurt in the morning." Usopp said until he noticed behind him that almost the entire area was engulfed with flames. "Whoa! That monster is really powerful!"

"There is no time to admire this! We have to get back to the others!" Nami yelled as she was about to grab Usopp by the nose again.

"Hey, hey! I can run by myself you know!" Usopp yelled as he gets on his feet and runs inside a small cave that at the end lies a hexagon door. "HISSATSU KAEN BOSHI!" Usopp fires an explosive pellet at the hexagon door, causing it to open upon impact. Usopp and Nami runs through it and then runs outside the small cave to get outside again. Ahead of them was a verted ramp made out of glass. Beyond that ramp lies an entry to the Great temple.

"Over there! Let's get inside!" Usopp yelled.

"No way! The monstrous Luminoth are in there!" Nami complained.

"Don't argue with me! It is better then to get killed by that monster chasing us! Now, come on!" Usopp yelled as he grabs Nami by the wrist and runs along with her to the hexagon door.

Ridley then lands on the cliff and glares at the duo running towards the Sky temple entry. "There is no way that you will escape from this attack!" Ridley yelled as he opens his mouth and breathes in a blue aura as he aimed for the Strawhat duo that were going between the verted ramp and were halfway to the entry.

Ridley was about to fire until he have realized something. It was so important, he canceled his own attack. "Wait a second, I cannot just attack them here. It is too close to the Great temple, and for me killing those two right now will cause unwanted attention. I don't want that irritating bounty hunter to try and hunt me down this soon. Besides, I wouldn't want to ruin my own plan." Ridley said to himself as Usopp and Nami reached towards the entry.

"We are safe!" Usopp said excitedly as he opened the door and went inside at a quick pace.

Nami was about to go inside, but turns around to look at Ridley. "Why is he just standing there? Did he changed his mind?" Nami asked.

"Who cares!? Just come inside!" Usopp yelled as he then grabbed Nami by her shirt collar and dragged her in. The hexagon door then closed as Ridley narrowed his eyes.

"They got away." Ridley said quietly to himself, "But I guess it doesnt matter right now. They are sure to be more of those humans around here. And once I gather all of them in one spot, they will see the true meaning of fear."

Ridley then looks up at the sky as it was getting dark. "The darkness is coming soon. My plan is starting to commence." Ridley said as he looks at the Great temple. "Enjoy your lives while you can, humans. Soon, you and the rest of the maggots in this world will soon turn to nothing but dust!"

Ridley then spreads his wings, and flew away as the sun has setted. It was now night time.

Meanwhile…

The other members of the Strawhat crew, along with Samus, were now at the Great temple as they went their way to meet up with U-mos. "This place looks darker than usual. It must be night time." Luffy said.

"Isn't that bad? How are we supposed to find Nami and Usopp now?" Chopper asked worryingly.

"Nami-swan…" Sanji said with his usual depressive tone.

"I don't mean to be rude, but like I said before, they are sure to be dead by now." Samus said as Sanji groaned with sorrow.

"They are not. I am sure that they are okay." Luffy said with a grin.

"What makes you sure?" Franky asked.

"Because I know. Hee hee." Luffy replied as Franky rolled his eyes in annoyance.

"Your Captain is too nice. I don't understand why you guys became part of his crew." Samus said as they went by some light orbs along the way.

"He may act childish, but he is quite useful at critical situations. Not to mention that he has inspired us to live on." Robin said with a smile.

"He will get serious when it is necessary. In the meantime, just deal with it." Zoro added as Samus scoffed at that remark.

"Whatever you guys say." Samus said as she opened a hexagon door in front of her. Once she and the Strawhat crew went through, the Luminoth inside the vast area noticed Samus' presence.

"It's the savior!"

"The savior has returned!"

"Welcome back, savior."

The Luminoth bowed down to Samus, showing her great respect. "Woohoo! The ten foot bug-eye people are bowing down! I must do this with them." Luffy said as he bows down to the Luminoth just for fun.

"Looks like you are a hero to them." Zoro said.

"I am." Samus replied as she then walks up to the Luminoths. "Thank you for your kindness, but I would want to speak with your sentinel right now if you please."

"Certainly. U-mos lies in his quarters." One of the Luminoth said as Samus then nodded before heading one of the hexagon doors in the room.

"Come on, Strawhat." Franky said as he grabs Luffy while he was still bowing down to the Luminoth.

They went through the hexagon door and walked up to the circular platform as Samus touched the hologram in the center of it. The platform then slowly went up and reached to the top floor. Samus, along with the Strawhat crew, opened the hexagon door in front of them and entered in U-mos' quarters, where U-mos is inside. U-mos turns around and was surprised to see Samus again.

"Samus! It is good to see the savior of Aether back in this world." U-mos said as he bowed down to Samus.

"It is good to see you again, U-mos." Samus said with a kind tone for once.

"U-mos! We are back!" Luffy said excitedly in front of U-mos.

"Ah, Luffy. It seems you and your crew have returned from your trip. How was that by the way?" U-mos asked.

"Samus… armor… me… KICKED HER!! Now… sad…" Sanji said depressingly.

"Oh… is he alright?" U-mos asked.

"We went through some situations when we met with this armor girl." Franky said while pointing at Samus.

"I see… I guess." U-mos said in confusion in what Franky ment, "Anyway, what brings the savior of Aether here in our world?"

"I don't mean to alarm you, but there is Phazon in an area underneath this temple. If I don't get rid of it soon, there is no telling what will happen." Samus said.

"Phazon here? That would explain the minor changes in the atmosphere…" U-mos said while remembering some plants dying a long time ago.

"There is too much Phazon to get rid off, so the tools I have now are completely useless. I was wondering if you have any mechanisms that I can borrow to remove the Phazon from this world." Samus said as U-mos seems to be hesitant.

"I would love to help you with that, but it seems that isn't the only problem we are having here at the moment." U-mos said.

"What do you mean?" Chopper asked.

"The device here is not responding." U-mos said while facing back at the device. "At first, I thought it was merely a glitch, but now I am starting to get worried."

"Orange head sis is not going to be happy when she hears this." Franky commented.

"What is wrong with it?" Zoro asked.

"I am not sure. Every time I insert a command, it refuses to confirm it." U-mos said, "I cannot recall that this has ever happened before."

Samus then had a shocked look from underneath her helmet. "Space pirates attacked us earlier. Maybe they have something to do with this!"

"What!? Space pirates are here!? But why?" U-mos asked.

"They probably want the Phazon. They might want it so they can take this world down with ease." Samus said with an angry tone.

Luffy didn't like what he was hearing as he then took a step forward. "Where are these Space pirates!? I will go to them and kick their asses right now!"

"Like I would know. But if this thing is not working properly, then they must be in the other three temples." Samus said, "But it is too far for me to go and check on every single one of them on foot, and going on air is too risky since their is a chance of an ambush."

"We can go with you and help." Chopper suggested kindly.

"I work alone." Samus replied, "Besides, I still don't trust you guys."

The room got quiet for a couple of seconds until U-mos broke the silence. "Pardon me for asking, but wasn't there a young woman with orange hair and a young man with a long nose with you?"

After he asked that question, they could here a large ruckus going on the floor beneath them. "Out of our way! Out of our way! Out of our way!" Someone yelled as the ruckus then stopped. All of a sudden, Nami and Usopp bursted in U-mos' quarters, startling the heck out of everybody, except for Robin, Samus, and U-mos. They both landed on their hands and knees as they panted heavily.

"Huh?" Sanji said as he noticed Nami-san, "Oh, it's Nami-san. She is safe. Hurray…" Sanji said with a depressed tone.

"Nami! Usopp! You are okay!" Chopper said as he rushed up to them, "What happened to you guys? Why are you two hurt?"

"We… almost got killed… by a monster…" Usopp panted.

"This place… is dangerous… we must leave now!" Nami panted, "I don't know when that pterodactyl will attack us again."

"Pterodactyl? Wait! Are you two talking about Ridley!?" Samus asked.

Nami and Usopp were unaware of that voice as they slowly look up from the ground and looked at Samus.

"AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA HH HHH HHH HHH HHH HHH HHH HHH HHH HHH HHH HHH HHH HHH HHH HHH HHH HHHH!!!!!"

Nami and Usopp quickly got on their feet and hid behind Franky. "It's the alien that wanted to kill us on the ship!" Usopp cried in fear.

"What is that thing doing here!? Is it with the Luminoth!? I knew they were nothing but trouble in the beginning!!" Nami yelled angrily.

"Hold up, you two. You got it all wrong." Franky said.

"Yeah. This is not the alien that attacked us on the ship. This is just a super powerful transexual." Luffy explained.

"Huh?" Nami and Usopp asked at the same time.

"Ahem… maybe I should explain." Robin said as she then was about to explain to Nami and Usopp about what has happened so far until…

"Hey, there is something going on with this thing." Zoro said as he was backing away from the device, that was starting to let out sparks. The light from on top of the device turned off and on as everyone else was starting to back away.

"Is it supposed to do that?" Franky asked.

"No… this cannot be possible." U-mos said in fear. The device then made more racket until it made no noise it made no noise at all. The light above it then completely faded away. The Strawhat crew were confused at what just happened, but Samus and U-mos were very shocked by this.

"The light of Aether… it's gone."

Preview: The light is gone? That sounds really bad. Those Space pirates have something to do with this! I just know it! Next time on One Piece: A Smash Adventure; Chapter 58: Get Ridley!, The cause lies in the darkness. I am gonna be the Pirate King!

Okay, I might update this saturday or not, depending how far I get into Mario Galaxy. Oh, and I like to thank Greymonkey for giving me some ideas. I appreciate it man, so here is an imaginary cookie (gives imaginary cookie to Greymonkey). Well that is it for today. See ya!

Metroid Pt 7

Here it is, and just in time too. I don't really have anything else to say, but that this chapter is a little scary. And on a side note, I only need 29 more stars to get all the stars in Super Mario Galaxy (Hurray!). Ahem, anyway, here is the next chapter. Enjoy!

The light has vanished. The Strawhat crew, along with Samus, got back to the Sky temple so they can meet up with U-mos. Samus asked U-mos if she can lend any mechanical resources that U-mos might possess in order to extract the Phazon from Aether. U-mos wanted to help, but was having problems of his own as he could not control the device that controls the light of Aether. Then all of a sudden, Nami and Usopp barged in the quarters after managing to escape from Ridley. Before they could explain in full detail on what happened to them, the device that controlled the light of Aether, the pride and source of living for the Luminoth, have vanished into thin air. What could of happened to the light?

Chapter 58: Get Ridley!, The cause lies in the darkness

It was truly a tragic moment for U-mos. The light of Aether that he and his species have protected and treasured throughout countless of years has now vanished into thin air. The Strawhat crew didn't know how to react.

"Um… Is this a bad thing?" Luffy asked while scratching his head.

"I believe it is." Robin said, "The light of Aether was the source of peace and harmony to the Luminoth. Without it, I guess this world wont be the same as it used to be."

"Why did the light vanish? Did something broke?" Chopper asked.

"Maybe something else was destroyed instead." Zoro said.

"W-Wait a second! I bet it was that Ridley monster! He might have something to do with the light vanishing!" Usopp exclaimed.

"Ridley? Was that the monster you guys were talking about earlier?" Franky asked.

"Yeah! He is BIG, mean, and ferocious! I couldn't do anything to harm him! He is unstoppable!" Usopp exclaimed while shivering in fear.

"We barely got away from that guy!" Nami added, "Luffy, this is why we must get the heart and get out of here as fast as we can! We don't know when that guy will show up again!"

Luffy didn't say anything. He only had a stern look as his hat shaded his eyes.

"Luffy, are you even paying attention to me!?" Nami asked while being irritated of Luffy's silence.

"I am." Luffy said with a blunt tone, "But I don't think we should be talking about how it happened. We should comforting the ten foot bug-eye person."

Nami blinked in confusion as she then looked at U-mos, who was on his knees, looking at his device with a hopeless look. Robin was worried and walked beside him.

"Sir U-mos, are you alright?" Robin asked kindly.

"Do not worry about me, I will be fine." U-mos said with a sad tone, "I am just worried how my brethren are going to respond to this. You see, we worked so hard to find the perfect home. A home where we can live peacefully, and to never worry about rebellions or murder of any kind. Our home was almost at it's peak of extinction, but if it wasn't for Samus' efforts, we would of been dead a long time ago. I thought that this nightmare was already over, but now I see it was too good to be true."

Franky started to have tears on his eyes as U-mos got up. "I guess I now realized that no matter where you are, you can never find peace. But that does not mean that I will lose all hope. I will work hard to maintain peace and harmony in this world. So what if the light vanished? My brethren and I will find a way to get it back!"

"Waaaaaaaaah! That is such a pure soul you got there, bug-eyed bro. I respect you, man! I respect you!" Franky said while wiping some tears out of his eyes.

Luffy then smiled, knowing that U-mos is feeling much better. "Yosh! Now that we got that out of the way, it is time to get the light back!" Luffy said excitedly.

"What!? Are you suggesting that we should go outside!? It's already dark out there!" Nami exclaimed.

"No problem. We will be just fine." Luffy said with his usual happy grin.

The only person who was not feeling any better was Samus. She angrily clenches her left fist and approaches Usopp from behind.

"WHOA!" Usopp cried out as he was pulled back by his suspenders and back into a wall as Samus then held him by his throat.

"Oi, What are you doing!?" Franky asked as everyone looked at Samus, who didn't seem to care about the reactions she is getting. Sanji depressingly looked at what Samus was doing, but he didnt seem to care as much as everyone else.

"H-Help me…" Usopp whimpered in fear as Samus aimed for his head.

"Samus! Please stop! You are hurting him!" Chopper cried out.

"Where is he!?" Samus asked Usopp with an angry tone.

"Wh-What?" Usopp replied. He then started to choke a bit as Samus tightened her grip around his neck.

"I am talking about Ridley! Where was the last place you saw him!?" Samus asked as she loosened her grip to let Usopp talk.

"We… We last saw him at the western side of this place. I swear!" Usopp cried in fear.

Samus then shoved Usopp aside and ran out through the hexagon door.

"Hey, wait!" Luffy yelled as he went to catch up with her. Samus ran to the circular platform as Luffy caught up with her. "We can help you on this! Just trust us! If this Ridley guy is such a bad person, I will make sure that he-"

Luffy was interrupted as Samus aims her arm cannon at his face.

"Don't follow me." Samus said with a stern tone as the platform she was on lowered her to the lower floor. Luffy just stood there, feeling rather upset and confused why Samus would not trust him or his crew.

The Strawhat crew inside the U-mos headquarters noticed the whole thing as Nami then scoffed. "Would someone please explain to me why that alien is with you guys!? That thing tried to kill us and you guys become friends with it? What is the matter with you people!?"

"Calm down, Nami. That wasn't the same person that attacked us on the ship." Zoro said as Usopp got up to his feet after that situation he was in.

"Well he certainly was as rough as before. I don't see how it isn't the same person." Usopp said while massaging his throat.

"It's not a he, it's a she. She is Samus, the one who saved this world from the Ing." Chopper explained.

"Samus!?" Nami and Usopp said in unison.

"You are telling me that was Samus just now?" Usopp asked.

"If that was Samus, then who attacked us on the ship!?" Nami asked.

"That was Dark Samus, her doppleganger." Franky explained.

Nami and Usopp were now completely confused about all of this.

"Perhaps it be best if I explained the whole thing." Robin suggested before she started to explain to Nami and Usopp what has happened so far.

Meanwhile…

It was dark. The shine of the moonlight was one of the few sources of Aether has at the moment. But even if there is moonlight, it wasnt enough to get rid of the fearful atmosphere it has during the darkness of the night. There was no activity anywhere, giving it more of a haunted and abandoned look. The only living creatures that were roaming around happened to be none other than two space pirates. But these aren't just any space pirates, these guys happen to be the same people who kidnapped Nami, who they thought was Samus to begin with.

"Damn! To think we were going to get promoted. But instead, we were demoted as bait! This is all your fault!" Space pirate No. 1 said to his partner.

"What!? But it was your idea! Don't blame this on me!" Space pirate No. 2 cried out.

"Well you could have talked me out of it!" Space pirate No. 1 yelled, "If it wasn't for you, we wouldn't have gotten scolded by our leader. Now he officially demoted us to bait."

"We are going to die, arent we?" Space pirate No. 2 whimpered.

"Shut up! If you keep saying that we are going to die, then we are going to die! But since I know that we aren't going to die, then it clearly logical that we are not going to die." Space pirate No. 1 explained.

"Oh… okay. If you say so." Space pirate No. 2 said while not being totally convinced by his partner's words.

They walked towards the area where the abandoned Galactic federation ship is. Space pirate No. 1 just scoffed as he walked by, while his partner was feeling a little nervous.

"Hey, man. Do you believe in ghosts?" Space pirate No. 2 asked.

"Huh? Why are you asking me that all of a sudden?" Space pirate No. 1 said without looking back.

"Is just that this place gives you that kind of feeling. Maybe we should head back." Space pirate No. 2 said.

"Are you kidding me? There is no such thing as ghosts." Space pirate No. 1 declared.

"I know. I am just saying this because I have a really bad feeling that something really bad is about to happen." Space pirate No. 2 said fearfully as he was at the ledge of the mountain.

"You and your feelings. Space pirates are not supposed to have any feelings. How do expect to become a great pirate someday if you have something useless like feelings?" Space pirate No. 1 asked.

For some reason, he didn't get a reply from his partner. Space pirate No. 1 just sighed, thinking that his partner is trying to scare him. "Listen, man. Don't try to intimidate me. Only our leader has the power to do that." He said, but he still get any sort of reply. "Yo! Are you listening to me?" He asked, but still got no reply. This made him worry as he turned around, expecting something. But he sighed in relief as he saw his partner just staring at the stars with a blank look.

"Okay, I confess, you almost scared me by not replying. What are you doing?"

"The stars looks nice today." Space pirate No. 2 said while continue to gaze at the stars.

"Stars?" Space pirate No. 1 asked as he too gazed at the stars. "I guess they look okay. But what does that do with anything?"

"Look at that star right there." Space pirate No. 2 while he pointed at a certain star "Doesn't that star look odd to you?"

Space pirate No. 1 narrowed his eyes, trying to look at the star his partner is pointing to. "What star? There is a lot of them."

"Right there. Next to those pale looking ones." Space pirate No. 2 said. His partner is having a little hard time finding it until he saw something odd.

"Is that it?" Space pirate No. 1 asked, pointing to the star his partner was talking about it. It was a black star, surrounded by a couple of pale stars. They were amazed by the looks of such a star. They have never seen anything like it before.

"That's a star? It looks more look like a black hole to me." Space pirate No. 1 said.

"No, I am sure it's a star." Space pirate No. 2 said, "It looks weird though. I have never seen a star like that before, have you?"

"No, I haven't. It must be some kind of distant planet." Space pirate No. 1 said, "But this is strange. I have never recalled that star being around this part of the galaxy before."

"Maybe it's a new one." Space pirate No. 2 said.

"How can it be a new one? Planets just don't appear in the middle of nowhere." Space pirates No. 1 said.

"Uh… yes they do. Space is like, what creates planets, right? It's not like planets can do sex to give birth to a new planet. Only a moron would come up with that theory." Space pirate No. 2 said while pretending to be a smartypants.

"I am not going to discuss about this since nobody really knows how planets were born in the first place." Space pirate No. 1 said, "Now let's get going. Staying here is starting to bug me." Space pirate No. 1 said as he turns around, only to bump into something, or in this case, someone. "Hey! Who are-GAAHHH!!" Space pirate No. 1 cried out as he got slashed across the chest by the person he bumped into.

"What the!? What's is going-GYAAAAAAAHHHH!!" Space pirate No. 2 cried out in pain as he too got slashed across the chest by the same person. The space pirate duo were now dead as green blood started to flow out of their huge wounds and flowed right under the attacker's feet.

"Ghaa ha ha ha! Such pathetic fools."

The attacker was none other than MPNo. 4 as he was holding a green laser sword. He pushed a button on the hilt that made the laser go inside the hilt as he walked up the bodies of the Space pirate duo.

"Your leader should have never insulted my intelligence." MPNo. 4 said with a cruel grin, "Do not worry, you two won't be alone. I will make sure that your leader, along with the rest of his lowlife crew, joins you in the afterlife."

MPNo. 4 then looks up to the black star. He then smiles with cruelty as he came up with an idea. "On second thought, perhaps you two can be quite useful to me afterall." MPNo. 4 said as he grabs both of the dead pirates by the back of their heads and lifts them up facing towards the black star. "The ones with hearts covered in complete darkness are truly capable to be revived. But the ones that aren't capable… well, lets not get into that right now. Ghaa ha ha ha ha ha ha!!"

Suddenly, two black orbs form out of thin air and slowly started to head towards the dead pirates. The orbs went inside their chests, thus covering the bodies with a dark aura. One of the bodies, which was Space pirate No. 1, opened his eyes to reveal that he no longer had any pupils. MPNo. 4 grinned upon seeing this.

Meanwhile…

"Oh, I see. So the original Samus was the one that just left and the one that attacked us was her doppelganger. That makes sense." Usopp said while rubbing his chin.

"That was an odd story. But for Luffy calling her a transexual is a little confusing." Nami said while tilting her head in confusion.

"It's Luffy we are talking about." Zoro said to Nami.

"Huh… now that you put it that way, I completely understand." Nami said, "But anyway, why did Samus just caused that whole scene earlier? Doesn't she trust us?"

"She said that she doesn't trust pirates, no matter how good or bad they are." Robin said.

"But we are not like any other pirates. We are nice." Chopper said.

"I do apologize for her behavior towards you all." U-mos said while levitating next to the crew. "She has suffered many losses against Space pirates when she was a child. That is why she doesn't trust most people."

"What made her be this way?" Franky asked.

"Samus… when she was very young, her parents were killed by Space pirates." U-mos said with a sad tone. Everyone got quiet, especially Sanji, who was also paying attention. "After her parents were killed, species known as the Chozo took her as one of her own. They raised to become as strong as she is now. But then… something terrible happened." U-mos opened his palm as a hologram of a planet formed on top of it. It then showed big explosions happening around it's orbit. "Space pirates invaded the planet, Zebes; where the Chozo inhabited. It is uncertain whether they are all dead or have escaped from the attack. But the fact that some of them are alive remains unknown to this day."

"Samus…" Sanji said depressingly.

"How cruel…" Robin said.

"So that is why she is always mean." Chopper said.

"She has been alone for a long time. There are a few people that she consider as a family, but that doesn't suffice her pain." U-mos said, "I may be asking for too much, but if you kind people would do something for her. I am sure she would feel grateful."

"It's not like we can change her ways." Zoro said, "We just met her today and you expect us to help her out?"

"Oi, bro. Don't be so rough. She already has enough hate as it is." Franky said.

"Still, Zoro is right." Nami said, "Why should we help her? The way she acted with us right now was completely unnecessary. If she doesn't want us to help her, then that is her decision."

Luffy, who was still at the same spot where Samus aimed at him, started to walk back to his crew, with his head hung low.

"Besides, we cannot go out there for two reasons. One, it is completely dark outside. And two, those Space pirates are out there. They can easily ambush us if they wanted to. And I do NOT want to see Ridley or whatever that monster is named after us again." Nami said as she finished explaining her excuses.

"We are going." Luffy said.

Nami, Usopp, and Chopper were shocked to hear Luffy say that, except for Zoro, Sanji, Robin, and Franky, who didn't seem to mind as much.

"Luffy, are you out of your mind!? It's dark as inside of a cave out there! You can't be serious!" Usopp complained.

"We are going out, no matter how dark it is outside!" Luffy said sternly.

"But Samus said that we should not follow her." Chopper said.

"I dont care what she said! This isn't about her anyway!" Luffy yelled, "The ten foot bug-eye people lost something very important to them, and the last thing I would want to see is for them to get upset! Once I find out who is responsible for the light vanishing, I will kick his ass out to orbit!"

Zoro and Franky grinned, while Robin giggled upon this. The others were not that convinced unfortunately.

"Hold on, Luffy. There is one little problem we have." Nami said, "It's dark out there, and we will get lost by the second we get out there."

"Y-Yeah, Luffy. We cannot just see through the dark. I guess we have to stay here and wait till daylight comes." Usopp said with a shrug.

"That is no problem at all. I have just the thing for you to venture through the dark." U-mos said as Nami and Usopp fell down in disbelief.

"Why? Why must you have the solution to everything?" Usopp asked in agony as U-mos went to a wall and touched it. The wall he touched then opened a bit, revealing at least eight small crystals filled with pure and bright light. Nami sprung up to her feet upon witnessing such crystals.

"What kind of jewelry is that?" Franky asked.

"These are light crystals." U-mos said while levitating to the crew with the crystals. "These were used during our war against the Ing. They were also used to protect us from Dark Aether's atmosphere. You can use these as your guide to enlighten some of the areas you are in."

Nami quickly jumps up and snatches the light crystals out of U-mos claws and then points to the exit. "Let's go outside and search for the cause of the light disappearance!"

"Ehh!? You want to go outside too!?" Chopper asked while his eyes popped out of his head.

Nami then looked at Chopper as her eyes turned into big crystals. "We have jewelry now. Tee hee."

"Her eyes turned into crystals…" Chopper thought to himself as a sweat went down his head.

"Oooh. This is so going to end wrong." Usopp whined as some tears were coming out of his eyes.

"Deal with it." Zoro replied.

"Okay! Now that we are prepared, we can no go outside! Let's go!" Luffy said excitedly as he marched out the door while his crew followed him.

"Good luck, humans. May the light of Aether shine upon your success." U-mos said while lifting his claws up in the air before they left.

They went on the circular platform as Nami was still holding on to the light crystals, rubbing her cheeks with it. They got to the lower floor and started to walk their way while passing by a couple of Luminoths. Two of them noticed them. They noticed Luffy and Nami, who really happy, Usopp and Sanji, who were really depressed, and everyone else, who were feeling neutral as they walked through a hexagon door.

"Like I said before, that group humans are such odd creatures." One of the Luminoth said as the one he was talking to nodded his head.

They went through the halls until they reached the circular platform at the end of the passage. They touched the hologram that made the platform to go down.

"Ok, Sanji-kun. Remember that you must protect me from anything no matter what, okay?" Nami said kindly.

"Uh-huh…" Sanji responded depressingly.

"Oh yeah, I forgot. You are still depressed about that kicking thing." Nami said as she looks away. "Looks like the rest of you guys are my only hope. Don't disappoint me."

"Uh-huh." Everyone else said in response.

"Oi, Orange head sis." Franky said, "I am little curious; why you were captured in the first place?"

"Oh, they thought that I was Samus." Nami replied, "Can't believe they were that stupid."

"Wha?" Franky said before he bursted into laughter, "Haaa ha ha ha ha ha ha! That was rich! Samus is a super-powerful babe that can do almost anything, and you are just…" Franky stopped right there as Nami was giving him a deadly glare, "… just better than she is. Yeah. No wonder they confused her with you."

Nami sighed as they finally reached down to mountain floor. They opened the hexagon door and got out see that the gates around them were giving off a little light, but it wasnt enough to shine the rest of the area. Usopp gulps in fear upon this.

"This is scarier than I imagined. I am feeling sick." Usopp said as he holds his stomach while pretending to be ill.

"This place looks cooler at night. Okay, lets get going." Luffy said as he was about to walk forward, but Zoro grabbed him by the shoulder, stopping him from going any further.

"Wait, Luffy. We need these crystals in order to know where we are going." Zoro said as he then looks at Nami, "Nami, if you may?"

"Aww… can I just hold on to these a little while longer?" Nami asked.

"Nami, you are holding eight crystals. We each need to hold one as a group so we can have a better look around the area." Zoro explained as Nami sighed.

"Fine…" Nami said as she then gave 1 light crystal to each of her comrades, leaving her with only one.

"So where do we go first?" Franky asked.

"We go east! Because it is more safer over there. And I am sure there is no Space pirates over there!" Usopp said while pointing east.

"Again? How many times have we been going over there?" Nami asked.

"I don't care. For all we know, that place isn't that dangerous as the rest of this mountain." Usopp said.

"Okay then. We will go back to that cool ship." Luffy said as he marched onward to the east. They got on a cargo and pulled themselves up a ledge and then walked through a hexagon door. They were now inside a cave and it was much more darker than outside.

"Ohh… this place is worse." Usopp whined.

"It was your idea to go over here, wasn't it? Don't blame us if you happen to pass out." Franky said as they started make their way through the dark cave, with their light crystals brightening up their passage. It was very quiet, not a single creature, nor object was making a sound, which made Usopp feel even worse. When they finally managed to get out of the cave, Usopp panted in relief.

"Come on, Usopp. We have another cave to go into." Zoro said. Usopp gulped in fear again and rushed besides Chopper for protection.

"Don't be afraid, Chopper. I am here to protect you." Usopp said as brave as he could.

"Really? Cool!" Chopper said happily as they walked ahead.

Nami sighed as she then noticed something odd. "Weren't their suppose be bugs here?" Nami asked.

"Maybe they are sleeping." Franky said.

"I don't know… what do you think, Luffy?" Nami asked, but got no answer. "Luffy?" Nami looks behind her shoulder to see Luffy, looking blankly at the stars.

He was not just looking at any star, he was looking at a black star. Luffy appeared to seem lifeless when looking at it as some drool were slowly coming out of his mouth and flowed down his chin. Luffy couldn't hear anything, couldn't feel anything, couldn't witness anything different in his surroundings. He is just gazing lifelessly to the black star. He didn't realize that his pupils started to fade away as he could then hear a sound. A sound that started to make him feel nothing but anger and hate towards all living things.

"Luffy!" Nami barked as he hit Luffy at the back of his head, completely getting him back to his senses.

"Huh? What? What is going on?" Luffy asked while rubbing his head as he was somewhat dazed.

"I don't know. You were suddenly daydreaming while looking at the stars, so I caused you some pain to snap you out of it." Nami said while she places her hands on her hips.

"Stars?" Luffy said as he looked up at the black star again. "Hey, Nami. Doesn't that look…"

"We don't have time for star-gazing, Luffy. Now let us keep going." Nami said as she then catches up with her crew. Luffy takes one quick look at the black star with a blank face before he rushed back to his crew. They went through the hexagon door and walked a couple a steps to see their crew waiting for them.

"Nami… I missed you… don't go away again…" Sanji said depressingly

"Where have you guys been? Don't you know it's dangerous out there?" Usopp asked.

"Blame Luffy. He was the one looking at some stars for no reason." Nami said.

"Luffy, how can you be star-gazing in a place like this? We can do that once we can get out of this world." Usopp said.

"Sure, whatever." Luffy said as he didn't really pay attention to Usopp.

"Should we keep on going?" Robin asked.

"Yeah, lets go." Zoro said as they then walked through the cave and walked through the hexagon door in front of them. They were now back at the area where the abandoned galactic federation ship is and looked around.

"Okay. So far, so good. Let's just hope it stays that way." Usopp said as he tiptoed through certain areas.

"Hey, you know what would be cool in a night like this?" Luffy asked with his happy expression, "That a bunch of zombies would come out of the ground and would try to eat our brains."

"Oi, what the hell!? Why are you saying that kind of stuff at a night like this!?" Usopp exclaimed as he and Chopper were scared out of their wits.

"Well, since this night is all spooky and everything, I thought it'd be a good idea for some zombies to show up." Luffy said.

"No way! I am not going to accept that!" Usopp yelled in anger, "This night is already scaring the heck out of me! I WOULD DIE OF SCREAMING IF I HAPPEN TO SEE A ZOMBIE IN THIS PLACE!!!"

"Will you guys shut up? This is an alien resort. I doubt that zombies are going to show up here." Franky said.

"Really? Oh good…" Chopper said as he began to calm down.

"Luffy, next time you have a suggestion, keep it to yourself!" Usopp said as Luffy laughed.

"Oi guys… come over here. There is something you need to see here." Zoro said as he was on one knee, looking at something. His comrades walked up to him from behind, wondering what Zoro was looking at.

"Eeek! What's that!" Usopp asked as he and his crew were looking at some green liquid.

"Is that puke?" Luffy asked.

"No. This doesn't look like puke." Zoro said as Robin takes a closer look at it.

"It's blood." Robin said. This surprised the whole crew. "Right, doctor?" Chopper took a closer look at the liquid. Moments later, his eyes widened in fear.

"I-I-I-It is blood!" Chopper cried out in fear as he backed away from the green blood.

"T-That cant be blood. It's green." Usopp said while trying his best not to cry in fear.

"It must have been from one of the creatures around here. I know this is blood. It's just in a different color!" Chopper said fearfully.

"Was there a murder here or what?" Franky asked while being a little hesitant.

"I am not sure if there was any murder. Look." Zoro said as he points to a trail of green blood heading towards a certain direction. "My guess is that whoever got injured must still be alive and is now heading towards a place where it can recover."

"Who would do something like this?" Robin asked to herself.

"I bet it was those Space pirates! They must have killed someone!" Usopp exclaimed in fear.

"But who? It cant be one of the Luminoth since they are all up in the temple. And I doubt that it was Samus." Franky said.

"I dont know! The point is that we should get back to the temple right now!" Usopp yelled.

"It's too late." Zoro said while getting up and grabbing and unsheathing one of his swords, "Something is here."

The crew were then at full alert. Wondering what could be spying on them. "Something is here!? Who!? Is it the Space pirates!?"

"I am not sure." Zoro replied, "But I can sense two of them.."

"Hmm?" Luffy looks behind his shoulder to look at the abandoned ship. He squinted his eyes as he could see something through the front windows. Then all of a sudden, the window shattered into pieces as two fast creatures were went out of the ship so fast, they were nothing but blurs. They landed on a higher mountain floor and turned around as the Strawhat crew were shocked by their presence.

"Nami… isn't that…" Usopp whimpered.

"I don't think so…" Nami replied as it turned out to be the Space pirate duo that kidnapped her during the day, only they dont look the same as they used to be. They had black spikes formed out of their backs, they are slightly taller than before, and they seem to be acting like ferocious animals.

"RRR RRR RRR RRR RRR RRR RRR OOO OOO OOO OOO OOO OOO OOO OOO OOO OOO OOO OOO AA AAA AAAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAAA AAA ARR RRR RRR RRR RRR RRR RRR RRR RRRR RRR RRR!!!!"

Preview: Ahhh!!! Monsters! Where did they come from!? This is so exciting and scary at the same time, I cant seem to get over this! Huh, now it's raining? Next time on One Piece: A Smash Adventure; Chapter 59: The rain of sorrow, the revival of an extinct race. I am gonna be the Pirate King!

Okay, that should do for today. Don't know when I will update again, but I am sure it is going to be around this week. And for the record, I did realized that Sanji hasn't talked much in this chapter, but can you blame him for being depressed? Anyway, I'll see ya next time!

Metroid Pt 8

What's up? For me, there is nothing much going on. I am just here to update the next chapter. It may not be much, but it will do. Beware that this chapter is a little scarier than the one before. Enjoy!

Creatures of the dark. The Strawhat crew decided to look for the cause for the light of Aether disappearing. Samus, who rejected Luffy's help, decided to hunt down Ridley by herself instead. Meanwhile, the Strawhat crew were venturing through Aether at night. Everything seemed to have been going well except for the fact that they have found something they wished they hadn't found. They found a trail of blood near the abandoned Galactic federation ship. Before they could figure what happened, two creatures that look like the same Space pirate duo that kidnapped Nami earlier, came out of hiding and are now about to attack the Strawhat crew. What happened to these guys?

Chapter 59: The rain of sorrow, The revival of an extinct race

The loud and thunderous roar of one of the the terrifying creatures echoed through the temple grounds, sending chills to the Strawhat crew, mostly Nami, Usopp, and Chopper. "Wha… What are those things!?" Chopper asked fearfully.

"I dont know! But they look so familiar somehow!" Usopp exclaimed.

"WHOA!! Monsters!! This is so cool!!!" Luffy said as sparks of joy came out of his eyes.

"This is not cool, Luffy! These things are here to kill us!!" Nami yelled while backslapping Luffy in the face.

"Such horrendous creatures… they seem like they have mutated into something." Robin said, not letting her eyes off the creatures.

"Mutated!? You mean that is not how they usually look?" Chopper asked.

"It is quite possible. You can see that they are slightly changing their figure." Robin said as the creatures started to have longer arms and legs. "I don't know what they are, but they are not sane!"

The two monsterous creatures jumped down to the Strawhat crew, who got out of the way as they landed on the ground with their feet.

"Ohh… monstrous people wants to kill us. Hurray…" Sanji said depressingly.

"'Hurray'!? Why are you saying such crazy thing!?" Usopp asked.

"Will you guys shut up!? We don't have the time to be arguing!" Zoro said as he then unsheathed all of his three swords. One of the creatures glared at Zoro as he takes a sword stance. "ONI GIRI!" Zoro dashed at the creatures and swung both of his swords at them, but the creatures were faster as they jumped over Zoro, and landed behind him. "They're fast!" Zoro quickly turns around and parries an arm blade from one of the creatures. While Zoro tried to push his opponent back, the other creature got out his laser gun and jumped over his partner and aimed at Zoro.

"Zoro, look out!" Usopp yelled as he quickly took out his regular slingshot. "HISSATSU KAEN BOSHI!" Usopp fired a pellet at the creature with the laser gun in the face, sending it's head ablaze upon impact. The creature growled in pain as he quickly lands on the ground behind Zoro and fires some shots at Usopp. "WHOA!" Usopp used his evasive maneuvers to avoid the lasers as Franky took the opportunity to aim at the creature with the laser gun with his right arm.

"STRONG RIGHT!" Franky launched his right fist towards the creature with the laser gun, hitting it with great force. The creature slid back, but managed to stay on it's feet as he then grabbed Franky's arm. "Huh!?" The creature then sharpened it's claws and started to impale his nails at Franky's right arm. "AHH!! Damn you!" Franky cried as he then retrieves his right arm, bringing back the creature holding it as well. "WEAPONS LEFT!" Franky immediately opened his left wrist and fires a blast at the creature, sending him flying straight into a cliff wall.

At the same time, Zoro managed to overpower the creature he was pushing back. "This thing is much stronger than I thought. What the hell is this thing?" Zoro asked himself as all of a sudden, the creature took a step back, causing Zoro to accidentally take a step forward. The creature then used the broadside of this pincer to knock Zoro back. "Grr!" Zoro took a few steps back as the creature then crouched underneath him, and did a horizontal slash at Zoro, who saved himself by moving his head back. Zoro backflipped and landed on his feet as the creature then lunged at him, but Zoro was ready for that.

"TATSU MAKI!" Zoro did a 360 degree spin with his swords, causing a tornado of cutting waves that sends that attacking creature to fly upward with several cuts around it's body. Meanwhile, the other creature jumped off the wall he got into and headed straight towards Nami.

"AHH! Get away!" Nami yelled as she got out her PCT and swung her horizontally across it's face, but it didn't even make it flinch. Nami gulped as she then landed on her rear while the creature opened it's mouth at her face. "Nooo!!" Nami cried as Chopper came to the rescue by transforming into his Heavy point and punching the creature at the side of it's face, sending him in midair.

"Leave Nami alone!" Chopper yelled angrily as hands then grew out of the creature.

"SEIS FLEUR!" The hands then grabbed on to the creature, "TWIST!" The hands then twisted the creature's body, completely destroying it's spinal cord. The creature seemed to be dead as he continued to fly in midair, and was also heading straight for the depressed Sanji.

"Oh… that monster is coming right at me…" Sanji said as he then lifted his foot a few inches off the ground. He then gave a death glare to the flying creature as Sanji jumped towards him. "MUTTON SHOT!!" Sanji did a horizontal kick at the creature's head, breaking it's skull afterwards. The kick also sended the creature flying right through a thick cliff wall and off the temple grounds, never to be seen or heard of again. Nami, Usopp, Chopper, and Franky were amazed to see such power from Sanji.

"Oi, Sanji. It looks like you are back to your old self." Usopp said. He was proved wrong as Sanji looked behind his shoulder, having the same depressed face as before.

"Old self? I wish I can be like that again… without kicking girls, that is…" Sanji said depressingly.

"I guess he is going to be like that a little while longer." Usopp said while sweat went down his head.

The other creature, who was still in midair after Zoro's attack, got angry upon seeing his partner go down and raised his blade arm while heading straight down to Zoro. "NITTORYU…" Zoro reversed one of his blades to the back side before raising it, "SHI.." Zoro swung the back of his sword forward at the creature's arm, knocking it back as it was now wide open, ".. SENSHI!" Zoro then thrusted his other sword right through the creature's chest.

"RAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AGG GGG GGG GGG GGH HHH HHH HHH HHH HHHH!!!" cried the creature in sheer pain as Zoro then finished him off by doing an upward slash, cutting the creature's upper body in half. Zoro then sheathed his swords quietly as the creature fell on the ground dead. Nami, Usopp, and Chopper were grossed out by seeing that as Zoro looked at once more.

"No blood?" Zoro asked curiously as the creature then disintegrated, leaving absolutely nothing behind. The Strawhat crew, except for Sanji, were still astonished at what just occurred. Nothing like that has happened to them before.

"Phew… good job, bro. You took that thing down good." Franky said while giving the thumbs to Zoro.

"What were they?" Nami asked, trying to be calm.

"Whatever they were, they were no pushovers." Zoro said while walking up to his crew, "It's best that we move on. Their might be more of those things roaming around here."

"And where do you suggest we go? This whole place can be infested with them as far as we know." Franky said while crossing his arms.

"Franky is right. Our best choice is to go back to the ship and wait until sunrise comes." Nami suggested.

"Um… guys. We have a problem." Chopper said, who was back at his normal point, looking at the circular platform that got them on the temple grounds. The platform was shooting out some electric sparks from the deep cuts it has on the surface. The monitor next to it also seems to have been cut in half by some type of blade. It was clearly obvious that the platform is broken, giving much dismay to Nami and Usopp.

"Oh no! Now we are trapped like rats!" Usopp cried out in fear.

"Ohh… this is not good." Nami shivered in fear, "Maybe we can hide in a cave or…"

"Hey, wait a minute. Isn't there someone missing here?" Franky asked. They realized that Luffy was nowhere in sight. "Where the Strawhat go?"

"I believe that he went inside the abandoned ship while we fought off the horrendous creatures earlier." Robin said as Nami then slapped her forehead in grief.

"Are you serious!? I cant believe that he would just leave us to fight off these monsters by ourselves! Oh wait until I get my hands on him!" Nami yelled angrily as she stomped inside the abandoned ship.

"She is going to kill him this time, isnt she?" Chopper asked.

"Come on, let's make sure that doesn't really happen." Zoro said as everyone else followed Nami inside the ship, except for Sanji, who wanted to stay outside alone.

"Okay, Luffy! Where are you!?" Nami asked as she angrily got inside the ship, looking for Luffy. She then spotted Luffy standing in front of an aisle of seats that was located on the right side of the ship. "Luffy! You better have a good explanation why you left… us?"

Nami noticed that Luffy was plainly staring at something that was on the ground in front of him. Nami was a little curious on what he was staring at as the rest of the crew walked up to her.

"What's wrong with Luffy?" Usopp asked.

"I don't know." Nami said worryingly, "Luffy?" Nami walked up to Luffy from behind and peered over his shoulder to see what he was looking at. Nami's eyes widened as she then fell back on her rear, shivering in what she just saw.

"Nami! What happened!?" Usopp asked. He got no reply as Nami was so shocked at what she just saw, she was shivering in fear. Zoro raised an eyebrow as he then walked up behind Luffy and peered over his shoulder to see what he was looking at.

"What the!?" Zoro yelled out as he took one step back.

"What is it?" Franky asked as he, Usopp, Chopper, and Robin decided to take a look for themselves.

"WHAAAA!!" Chopper cried out in fear upon seeing it. Usopp fainted as Franky lifted his sunglasses, showing that he is completely shocked.

"How… cruel." Robin said upon seeing the thing Luffy is seeing.

It was a corpse. Not just any corpse, the corpse has the same kind of armor that the Space pirates have, meaning that it must have been a Space pirate. It appeared that the corpse has been bitten several times all over it's body. There were chunks of his skin and it's organs laying around the floor next to him. There were several flies that were flying around the corpse due to the bad odor it was giving. Just by the sight of this corpse disturbed and frightened the Strawhat crew, even Luffy.

"What happened to him!?" Franky asked.

"It seems that he was killed." Robin said by observation, "By the looks of him, I say that something must have been eating through his skin and ripped out his organs with it's fangs. There is no doubt that those monsters we fought earlier are the culprits."

"AAHHHH!!! He was eaten alive!!" Chopper cried as he ran around in circles while his eyes popped out of his head.

"I can't believe it… I cant believe that all of this is happening…" Nami said as she was still shivering in fear.

"Strawhat, you alright?" Franky asked, a little worried about Luffy, who wasnt said anything upon seeing the corpse.

"I don't… believe it…" Luffy said. He then faced back to his crew with his sparking with joy. "This guy looks like he was eaten by zombies! I was right! There are zombies around here!"

Everyone, except for Robin, fell down to the floor, astounded what they just heard from Luffy. Usopp got up to his feet and angrily looks at Luffy in the eye.

"ARE YOU OUT OF YOUR LITTLE MIND!?!?" Usopp asked while his eyes popped out of his head in front of Luffy, who was smiling.

"Somebody over here just got eaten alive, and all you can say that you were right about some zombies being here!?"

"Ha ha! Yep!" Luffy replied happily.

"No! I refuse to believe that! I just won't!" Usopp yelled as he barged out of the ship and panted next to the depressed Sanji. "Sanji! Don't just stand there! Tell me that there is no zombies around here!"

"Okay… there are no zombies around here…" Sanji said, but it didn't seem that convincing to Usopp. Usopp then started to have some kind of panic attack as he was walking around in circles near a memorial grave as the rest of the Strawhat crew got outside.

"What are you doing now?" Zoro asked.

"I am trying to convince myself that there aren't any zombies around here, and they are just simply a part of Luffy's imagination." Usopp said while pacing back and forth.

"You are getting worked up over nothing. It was Luffy who said it, remember?" Nami asked.

"So!? He said that their are ten foot bug-eye people, and he was right! He also said that their were Space pirates, and he was right about that too! I think that everything he is saying is actually coming true!" Usopp said as then stood next to the memorial grave and began to shiver in fear.

"Now that you put it that way…" Nami began to say as she then looked at Luffy, "Luffy, I want you say that nothing bad will happen tonight!"

"Huh? Why?" Luffy asked.

"Just do it!" Nami barked.

Luffy was confused about why Nami wanted him to say something like that, but he shrugged as he was then about to say it. "Nothing bad will ever happen tonight." Nami and Usopp wiped their foreheads in relief. "I mean, what can possibly go wrong at a night like this?"

Suddenly, a sound of thunder could be heard from the dark, cloudy skies. The sound was so loud, that it made Chopper jump and held onto Zoro's head. It then started to rain, getting the Strawhat crew all wet. Nami had a grumpy look on her face.

"I know it was simply a coincidence." Nami said with grief. This actually calmed down Usopp for a bit, now knowing that Luffy may be wrong about the zombies.

"You know something? Even though that this rain here has made our situation even worse, it also proved that Luffy was wrong about nothing bad would happen." Usopp said with a very satisfying grin. Luffy tilted his head in confusion as Usopp danced in joy.

"There aren't any zombies here? Phew…" Chopper said in relief.

"So what if their aren't any zombies here? There are still other kinds of monsters lurking around this place." Franky said.

"Your words do not bother me, Franky. I am too happy to be negative at the moment." Usopp said while he was still jumping with joy.

"Yipee for you…" Sanji said depressingly.

Usopp seemed to be the most happiest person alive. He was so happy, he didn't notice a small black orb falling from the sky and landed gently on the ground. The orb then expanded a bit before it disappeared into thin air, leaving nothing but a black goo.

"There is something odd about this rain." Nami said while looking up at the sky, "I didn't even sense this coming."

"This place probably has the same effects as the Grand line." Zoro said, "You never know what just might happen."

Nami continued to question about the rain as the black goo that the black orb left behind earlier started to move by itself. Robin noticed the black goo as went inside the ground near the memorial grave of the dead Federation soldiers.

"Wooo… okay, I am done now. Let's get going." Usopp said as Robin's eyes widened.

"Longnose-kun, get out of there!" Robin warned Usopp, who got startled by Robin yelling at him.

Everyone else looked at Robin, wondering why she was yelling. "Robin, what's the matter!?" Nami asked.

"Something went in the ground there!" Robin said.

"Huh?" Usopp asked as he then looked at the ground, and saw nothing different. "Robin, are you sure that you weren't-AAHHH!!" Usopp cried out as something grabbed him by the ankle.

It was a hand that sticked out the ground. Then suddenly, more hands just like it came popping out of the ground. The Strawhat crew were alarmed as Usopp tried his best to get free. Usopp then stopped struggling and noticed a head, with a helmet, coming out of the ground.

"AAAAAAAAHHHHHHHHHHH!!!!" Usopp cried out as he managed to break free from the guy's grip and immediately regroups with his crew. The guy that was holding on to Usopp completely pulled himself out of the ground. He was wearing a darkish grey armor and a machine gun for a right arm. More people with the exact same armor came pulling themselves out of the ground slowly as Nami, Usopp, Chopper, and Franky had their eyes popping out of their heads.

"ZOMBIES!!!"

Meanwhile…

In the vast area below the Sky temple lies a couple of Space pirates, which are seem to be constructing something in the center of the area. Ridley was also there, viewing how preparations are coming along.

"Work faster! Samus will be here at any minute!" Ridley demanded as his Space pirates were working on the legs of the machine they are making. "There is nothing that can stop me this time, especially Samus. But I have already assigned for a hostage just in case that something goes wrong."

Ridley looks up at the Sky temple above him. He couldn't see the Luminoths from afar, but he could sense their fear they are having right now.

From inside the Sky temple, Luminoths were worried about the Space pirates beneath them. They were wondering why they weren't attacking them yet.

"What can they be constructing down there?" One of the Luminoths asked to another Luminoth.

"I dont know. But we must inform our sentinel about this at once."

Before any of the them could do anything else, the three hexagon doors leading outside exploded, surprising the Luminoth in the room. A group of Space pirates, followed by a well-armored commander, then entered the room and aimed their weapons at the Luminoth.

"Don't you even dare try to fight back. It's not worth it." the Space pirate Commander said as the Luminoth backed away. "Now show us where your leader is, or we just might have to blow your brains out."

"Wait!"

The commander looked at the one who said that, which turned out to be U-mos, coming out of the hexagon door that leads to his quarters.

"Heh… are you their leader?" asked the commander.

"Yes, I am. What do you want?" U-mos asked in a bitter tone.

"Come with us! Our leader wants to see you." the commander said. The rest of the Luminoth then got in front of U-mos, protecting him from the Space pirates. "Okay then." the commander said as he then fired his gun at beneath one a Luminoth's feet, knocking him off balance. The commander then fired a laser at the unbalanced Luminoth, but U-mos stood in front of him and bounced the laser away with his holographic shield.

"I will do as you please, just leave my brethren out of this!" U-mos said angrily. The rest of the Luminoth were now worried for their sentinel, fearing that he may never come back. "It is alright. I'll be fine. Just don't leave the temple no matter what, understand?"

The Luminoth nodded sadly as two Space pirates came up to U-mos and cuffed his wrists together. "Let's go. Our leader is waiting for you." the commander said as they shoved U-mos forward out of the room, leaving the worried Luminoths alone.

Meanwhile…

Zoro had his swords unsheathed again as the zombified Galactic federation soldiers were slowly limping towards the Strawhat crew.

"Zombies! I knew their were zombies here! Now the night is perfect!" Luffy exclaimed excitedly.

"Robin, what exactly did you see before this happened!?" Zoro asked while keeping his eyes on the zombie soldiers.

"It looked like some sort of black goo. I am not sure." Robin said.

"This is insane!" Usopp cried, "First we dealt with two flesh eating monsters, and now we are facing with the undead! I want this night to end already!"

One of the zombie soldiers raised their arm cannon and started to fire multiple rounds at the crew. Zoro stood in front of the attacking zombie and parried all the bullets.

"Luffy! Get them out of the way!" Zoro yelled.

"Right!" Luffy responded as he charged to the zombie soldiers in front of them. "GOMU GOMU NO GATLING GUN!" Luffy repeatedly thrusts his stretched arms forward, hitting every zombie in front of him multiple times. Luffy cleared the path in front of him as his crew started to make a run for the hexagon door inside a cave.

"I want to be eaten alive…" Sanji said depressingly as he was the only one who didn't go with his crew. Franky immediately turned around, and went back for Sanji.

"Come on!" Franky said as he picked up Sanji and carried him on his right shoulder.

"Hurry! Open the door!" Nami panicked as the zombies who got hit by Luffy were starting to get back up.

"I am trying to, but something is wrong with this thing!" Usopp said while hitting the hexagon door repeatedly, but it would not open. Suddenly, clamps appeared right in front of the door, forbidding it to open.

"Why is it closed!?" Chopper asked, who was still holding on to Zoro's head.

"I don't know!" Usopp said as he looks behind his shoulder to see the zombies getting closer to him and the crew. "There is a door just above that ledge over there! We just need to clear the way first!"

"Heads up, Chopper!" Zoro said as he raises his sword as Chopper lowered his head. "SANJU-ROKO POUNDOU HOU!" Zoro swings his sword forward, creating a cutting wave that scattered the zombies away in a distance. "Let's go!"

The Strawhat crew quickly ran to the ledge. Robin created a stairs of hands so they can get on the ledge easier. They then ran up to the hexagon door to the right and immediately ran through it. The Strawhat then felt a little relax, now knowing that they escaped from the soldier zombies.

"Oh man… what a rush." Usopp said while panting heavily.

"I so want to forget about this night." Nami said while panting heavily as well. Chopper got off of Zoro's head as Luffy then started to laugh.

"Hiya ha ha ha ha! I thought we were going to get eaten alive! Hiya ha ha ha ha!" Luffy laughed stupidly as most of his crew angrily glared at him. Nami then sighed and stood upright.

"I guess their is no turning back now. Let us find a safe place to hide." Nami suggested.

"Like where?" Franky asked.

"I do not think that hiding will help us in any way." Robin said.

"Robin is right. We have to fight our way to survive this night." Franky said while still carrying Sanji on his shoulder.

"Why do we have to do that? It's not like those zombies back there can follow us." Chopper said. Suddenly, the hexagon door they went through earlier opened up, revealing a soldier zombie that groaned lifelessly at the crew.

"Oh hey look. It's a zombie." Luffy said while pointing at the soldier zombie. Nami, Usopp, Chopper, and Franky had their jaws wide open for a couple of seconds before they started to run for their lives. "Hey, wait for me!" Luffy yelled as he and Robin went to catch up with their crew. Franky turns around as Luffy and Robin runs past them.

"I'll make sure that they dont follow us. WEAPONS LEFT!" Franky opened his left wrist and fired a blast at the cliff over the hexagon door, causing some boulders to blockade the entry. Franky then catched up with his crew, who were now in the same place where there is a triangle gap and in the middle lies a floating machine. The area was also the place where Usopp did his 'best' against fighting Ridley "Hold on! This is the exact same place where I fought Ridley! Let us go back!" Usopp said in fear as he about to run away, but Luffy pulled him back by his suspenders.

"We cant go back. I just blocked the way we went through earlier so those zombies cant follow us." Franky said.

"What!? Oh…" Usopp whined.

"How do we get across?" Zoro asked.

"Those cannons their got me across one time, but I don't think we can all fit in." Usopp said in a saddened tone. Luffy's eyes widened as he quickly went to the cannon.

"Oh boy! I have been waiting so long to fly out of a cannon again. Chopper, come on!" Luffy said as he wanted Chopper to go in the cannon with him.

"Um… I rather not." Chopper said timidly as he clearly didnt wanted to get in a cannon.

"Honestly, Luffy. There must be another way to get across this… place?" Nami said as she then noticed something in the sky. Luffy blinked confusedly as he then looked at what Nami was looking at.

"Huh!? What is that!?" Luffy asked as he noticed multiple black orbs falling down from the sky along with the rain.

"Everyone, get back over here!" Zoro yelled as everyone got under a metal hallway that shielded them from the incoming orbs. The orbs went right through the ground as they landed, leaving no trace behind. The orbs finally stopped showering down to the ground. The Strawhats then moved slowly back outside the metal hallway.

"Okay… any idea on what just happened?" Usopp asked.

"No idea. But I think we better get moving." Franky suggested.

Suddenly, the ground then started to shake, shocking the crew. The ground then started to ooze with black goo as the crew tried to get away from it as far as possible.

"That's the same black goo from earlier!" Robin said in surprise as something then started to come out; something really big.

A humongous worm came flying right out of the ground and went flying right to the other side of the gap. When the worm landed, it dug through the ground again.

"Whaaaaaaaa… WHAT WAS THAT THING!?" Usopp asked in complete shock.

He didnt get an answer as there are sounds coming from the hole the huge worm just created.

"Hmm?" Luffy peered into the hole, but then was knocked back as it appeared that the same worm came out of the hole.

"Luffy!" Chopper yelled as Luffy fell of the ledge of the temple grounds, but luckily, Robin quickly grew hands out of her palms, catching Luffy by his ankle. The worm growled down at the crew as it lunged towards Robin, but Zoro quickly slashed the worm, knocking it off balance. Despite this act, the worm crashed into the ground near Robin, knocking her off the ledge as well. "Robin!" Chopper transformed into his heavy point and grabbed Robin's hand. The worm growled angrily as Zoro was about to attack it again, but the worm barged into him, knocking back.

"Zoro!" Usopp cried as he then looked back at the worm, who was about to go towards Chopper. "Oh no you don't! HISSATSU KAEN BOSHI!" Usopp fired a pellet at the worm's face, burning some of it's skin. The worm shook itself in pain as it turned around, knocking Chopper off the ledge as well.

"Ahh!!" Chopper cried as Robin quickly grew hands out of the worm's rear end and grabs Chopper from falling any further. Zoro immediatly got up to his feet and plunged his swords right into the worm's skin. The worm cried in pain as it then retreated to the higher cliffs, taking Zoro, who still has his swords in it's skin, and Chopper, who was holding on to Robin, who was holding on to Luffy.

"Damn! That worm thing got away!" Franky said angrily.

"We have to follow it! Are crew is in danger!" Usopp cried.

"They are in danger!? What about us!?" Nami barked.

Then they got quiet as they could then hear something flying. They gulped as out of nowhere, came some sort of huge firefly with four wings flying out of the hole the worm created earlier.

"Eeeeeek!! A gigantic filthy bug!" Nami yelled in fear. The big firefly destroyed the floating object in the center of the area, giving it room to fly on. It then faced the frightened Nami, Usopp, and Franky, along with the depressed Sanji, as it growled towards them in anger.

Preview: What is going on around here!? First there were zombies, and now their are worms! What can happen next in this place? Next time on One Piece: A Smash Adventure; Chapter 60: The Ing returns, The battle with the former guardians. I am gonna be the Pirate King!

If you have played Metroid Prime 2 before, you would probably know those two creatures that were just mentioned. I didnt like this chapter that much, but I will guarantee that the next chapter will be exciting and filled with cool stuff. Hope that you enjoyed this. Till next time!

Metroid Pt 9

Sorry I took so long, I was working on a class report. Here is the chapter you have been waiting for a week. Enjoy!

Monstrous creatures have appeared! The Strawhat crew barely won the battle against a duo of monsters that looked like Space pirates. After that confrontation, It started to rain, adding more sorrow and despair to the night. What made the even more worse was that zombies came out of the ground and started to head towards the crew. They barely managed to escape from the zombies and head to a safer location. The danger didn't end their though, as a humongous worm took Luffy, Zoro, Chopper, and Robin away into another location, while Nami, Usopp, Sanji and Franky started to confront with a giant firefly. Will they be able to survive against these monsters?

Chapter 60: The Ing returns, The battle with the former guardians

It was still night time as the rain continued to pour down on Aether. In the vast area below the Sky temple, the Space pirates are halfway finished on constructing some sort of generator. It stands on three legs and there were several wires connecting to the ground. Ridley was there watching his generator getting complete.

"It's almost finished…" Ridley said to himself, "For years, the Space pirates have been defeated over and over by the same, irritable bounty hunter. But now, things will change. This will be the day were the Space pirates will show their true potential. I will make sure that we will not suffer defeat again!"

One of Ridley's crewmembers hurried to his side. "Sir, the commander and his troops have arrived with the sentinel of this planet."

Ridley didn't say anything as the Space pirate commander, along with his troops, walked up to Ridley, bringing U-mos to him. One of the Space pirates kicked U-mos from behind, forcing him to land on his knees.

"Sir, we have apprehended the Luminoth's sentinel, just like you ordered." The Commander said.

Ridley looks behind his shoulder and looks down at U-mos, who avoids eye contact by looking down at the ground. Ridley narrowed his eyes as he then looks back at the almost finished generator.

"I have heard that your species desire to live in peace." Ridley said, "That is quite a pathetic goal in life, isn't it?"

U-mos didn't respond as Ridley then continued.

"I can understand the way your species live. They intend to find a distant, yet peaceful world to escape from the reality of what life really is. You see, life is not about living in peace. It is about trying to withstand the hostility people give you. In order to survive such hostility, you need to conquer it! Become stronger and show no mercy towards the weak! Of course, you wouldn't understand something like that, would you?" Ridley asked as U-mos continued to stay silent.

"Hmph… I knew you would act like this." Ridley said, "You know that I am right, and that living peace is nothing but a sin, trying to infest your mind with such stupidity and taking you out of reality!"

"It is not a sin!" U-mos yelled back, "Living in peace is not a sin. My brethren and I may not be like the people you want us to be, but we are what we are! We do not intend to change just because someone wants us to!"

Ridley chuckled at that remark as he then faces towards U-mos.

"Such big words for such minor species." Ridley said. Ridley then grabbed U-mos and lifted him a few inches up in the air, glaring at his eyes. "Do you honestly think that your species have a purpose in life!? No! You and your species have no use for the reality that is out there! That is why you were destined to get killed by the Ing, but that meddlesome bounty hunter coincidentally happened to be there to save the day."

Ridley then tosses U-mos down at the at ground, landing hard on his back.

"The only thing she has done was to postpone your fate!" Ridley yelled cruelly, "You and the rest of your species will soon be extinct! Just like we did to the Chozo!"

U-mos' eyes widened with anger as the Space pirates around him started to laugh with cruelty.

"You have no right to talk about the Chozo like that!" U-mos yelled angrily while getting on his knees, "Besides, it is not known whether the Chozo are extinct or not! Despite your actions towards them, some of them may be still alive out there!"

"How cute." Ridley said, "You are trying to deny the fact that the Chozo are extinct with that pathetic excuse of yours. I guess the Luminoth have some skill in something afterall." Ridley then faced back at the generator.

"Believe in what you want, it doesn't make any difference!" U-mos said, "Samus will come here and defeat you!"

"Is she now? It is true that she was able to defeat us countless of times in the past, but this day will soon change all that. Behold!" Ridley said as waved his claw, showing U-mos the humongous generator behind him. "This is one of the few things that not even Samus can stop."

"What is it?" U-mos asked.

"This is the Phazonic generator. It is built for the purpose to extract the Phazon from a world as quickly as possible." Ridley explained, "Extracting Phazon isn't the only thing it does. It also turns Phazon into small particles and then shoots it out from the tip on top of the generator. The particles would then scatter around the surface of this entire planet, and would then take root inside this world's core. After that, this planet will be completely corrupted with Phazon, and will be also be a part of my property."

"That is outrageous! How could you do such a foul thing to this planet!?" U-mos asked angrily.

"The better question would be 'Why shouldn't I?'." Ridley replied while U-mos even angrier, "This world has so many qualities, and you didn't even took advantage of that! This world is the perfect place to set up tools of destruction like nobody has ever seen before. We will soon create a weapon so powerful, it can destroy a planet with just one blast! The Space pirates will be the rulers of all living things out there!"

"This is madness!" U-mos yelled angrily, "I will not allow you to do this!"

"What can you do to stop me!?" Ridley yelled as one of his Space pirates hits U-mos in the back, getting him to land on his face. "The only thing you and the rest of your species can do is to watch us destroy your planet's habitat! And once we have no more use for this planet, you all can die with it!"

U-mos grunted in pain as he slowly started to get back on his knees. Ridley then lowered his head towards U-mos' face.

"The light of Aether… that is what you call it, right?" Ridley asked, "Just so I can clarify you, WE were responsible for it's disappearance."

U-mos then glared at Ridley, who glared back. "We couldn't destroy the devices that control that wretched light in the other three temples, so we deactivated them. It turned out to be quite simple than we thought. We expected some sort of a good defense from you people, but all we had to deal with was some lousy barrier around the device that didn't stood a chance against our technology. It was so easy, it disappointed me."

"Grr…" U-mos growled angrily.

"Your species are so afraid to battle again, they decided to hide in that temple of yours, leaving your wretched light vulnerable to any intruder!" Ridley exclaimed, pointing at the Sky temple above him. "Even the Chozo has put up a much more difficult fight than your species have! You and your species are a disgrace to what we stand for!"

"We do not intend to support of what you Space pirates stand for!" U-mos yelled. "If you despise us so much, then why don't you just kill me already!?"

Ridley stood upright, crossing his arms while looking down at U-mos. "I would… but I have a better plan." Ridley said as he looks up at the temple above him. "Why not I just call out my aerial forces and blow up that temple of yours?"

U-mos' eyes widened with anger as he immediatly stood up. "Dont you dare do such thing!" U-mos yelled before he was forced to land on his knees by the Space pirates behind him.

"Why not? This rain here will go perfectly with the blood of your brethren falling with it." Ridley explained.

"They have nothing to do with this!" U-mos exclaimed with anger.

"It was mostly their fault for not protecting their light. I will force you to live so you can watch the rest of your species die in front of your eyes, and then I'll force you to watch how we destroy the habitat of your planet. Then it will be my pleasure to killing you at the very end. But for now…" Ridley said as the Space pirates behind U-mos then grabbed the back of U-mos' head and pushed his face towards the ground, "Why dont we relieve our boredom with a little torture? Cutting your useless wings should do for now. Commander!"

"Yes sir!" The Space pirate Commander agreed as he looked at one of his troops. "Ready your blade, cadet!"

"Yes sir!" One of the Commander's troops said as he brought his blade arm close to U-mos' wings. "Don't worry. This will only hurt alot! Ha ha ha ha!"

"No…" U-mos muttered as he closed his eyes, expecting some sheer pain.

BOOOOOMMMM

"GUAH!!" The Space pirate cadet that tried to cut U-mos' wings off got hit by a missile, and then landed dead on the ground near the generator. Everyone working on the generator stopped as they had shocked looks on their faces when they saw that. They then saw the person responsible for the cadet's death.

"O-Oh no! It's…"

Ridley raised his head and was glad to see the attacker. "Samus." Ridley said as he sees Samus just near an entrance. She kept her arm cannon aiming towards Ridley as she took a few steps closer.

"Samus!" U-mos cried out in relieve as a couple of Space pirates then charged at Samus. Samus released a charge shot towards the middle of the attacking group, sending them flying back before landing hard on the ground. The Space pirate Commander got angry and was about to attack, but Ridley held him back.

"Wait, I'll handle this." Ridley said.

The commander struggled to obey Ridley's order, but managed to succumb to it as he then stood down. Ridley grinned at Samus' presence.

"Samus. You came here rather early. I didn't expect that I have to gush out your eyeballs this soon." Ridley said in a kindly manner.

"I'll make sure that you stay dead this time!" Samus said bitterly.

"Oh? That's funny. Too bad that statements like that never come true!" Ridley said as he spreads out his wings.

"Samus! You must destroy that generator! They are going to use the Phazon to destroy this planet!" U-mos cried out to Samus.

"You have never taken any hostages before, Ridley. Have you gotten soft?" Samus asked.

"That is harsh, Samus." Ridley replied, "Actually, I just intended to kill my victims around your presence. It's more fun that way."

"Hostage or no hostage, you will still die here!" Samus yelled bitterly.

"I never said that keeping a hostage would slow you down or anything like that." Ridley said as he unspreaded his wings slowly, "You are cold-hearted bounty hunter after all. You wouldn't really care if this pest died here and now, would you?"

"If U-mos does die… you, along with your crew, will suffer for the rest of your days!" Samus yelled.

"Heh… I expected you to say that." Ridley said, "You were born to kill, not to save. Even though you are not a savior, you end up saving people by killing other people. Pretty ironic, don't you think?"

"What are you getting at?" Samus asked.

"What I am saying is that you are used to fight your enemies and save your allies. But what would happen if you combine those two hassles at the same time?" Ridley asked as Samus heard the hexagon door behind her opening. She immediately turned around and aimed her arm cannon at the people behind her, but was then shocked on who it turned out to be.

"You guys are…"

Meanwhile…

Zoro was doing his best to hold on to the humongous. Chopper was having harder time holding on to it as he was holding on to Robin, who was holding on to Luffy. "Where the hell is this thing taking us!?" Zoro asked frustratingly.

"We must do something, Zoro! I dont know how long I can keep this up!" Chopper cried out while holding on to the worm.

The worm was now traveling above the cliffs that are impossible to reach on foot. "Okay, I am going to stop this thing! You guys get ready to jump!"

"What!? We can't do that in this speed!" Chopper yelled.

"We have no other choice! Just jump when I say go!" Zoro yelled back. Zoro then pulled out one of his swords out of the worm's body and was ready to stab the worm again. "Okay, go!"

Chopper jumps off the worm while holding on to Robin and Luffy before Zoro stabbed the worm. The worm cried in pain as Zoro quickly jumps off as the worm dug through the ground. Luffy, Zoro, and Chopper had a rough landing when they reached the ground, except for Robin, who landed on Chopper accidentally. They got up to their feet, and looked at their surroundings.

"Man… that worm was fast." Luffy said while rubbing his head.

"I wonder it came from." Robin said while looking at her surroundings.

"Who cares? That thing only had the nerve to mess with us." Zoro said, "I'll finish it off once I see it again."

"Do we have to see it again? That worm was big and scary." Chopper whimpered.

"I actually hope that we see it again. That way, I can find out what it tastes like. I hope it tastes good." Luffy said excitedly.

"You actually want to eat it!? You might get sick!" Chopper exclaimed.

"Maybe. But if I do, I can count on you to cure me." Luffy said.

"What are you saying, Stupid!? I am not happy you said that! No, no, no!" Chopper said happily while doing his happy dance.

"We should get going. That worm might come back." Zoro suggested.

"Are you planning to lead the way, Mr. Swordsman?" Robin asked.

"Hmm? Sure. Why not?" Zoro asked. Their was an awkward silence that followed after asking that. "What? You guys don't trust me?"

"It is not that we don't trust you." Robin said, "It is just that…"

"You are a retard when it comes to going places." Luffy said with a little laughter.

"Retard!? Oi!" Zoro yelled angrily at Luffy.

"I could pick up the scent where everyone else was at." Chopper said, "Perhaps I could lead the way…"

"Forget it! I am leading the way, and that's final!" Zoro barked as he started to walk towards a certain direction.

"That's… the same way where the worm was going." Robin said.

"Hiya hya! Zoro is so funny." Luffy said happily as they then started to follow Zoro inside the hole the big worm made earlier. It was completely dark inside, but luckily for them, they had the Luminoth crystals with them that brightened the area.

"It's so dark in here…" Chopper said fearfully, "Zoro, are you sure we that going this way is a good idea."

"Call it an instinct. I am positive that this is the right way." Zoro said with a grumpy look.

"Hmm?" Luffy notices a little light at the end of the tunnel and rushes over to it. "Hey guys! Look at this!"

Luffy's crew went to where Luffy was, which was a wide and enormous part of the tunnel the big worm created. In the middle of the wide part of the cave lies a big, round object.

"What is this?" Chopper asked in amazement.

"I know what it is. It's a giant egg!" Luffy exclaimed excitedly, "We must eat it as soon as possible!"

"I am not eating that." Zoro declared. Zoro then widened his eyes in surprise as Zoro quickly unsheathed his swords. "Luffy! Get away from that!"

"Huh?" Luffy asked, but it was too late. Something came bursting right out of the ground, knocking Luffy to his back. It was the worm that attacked them earlier. It stood in front of the Strawhat crew, looking down at them with the multiple eyes it has.

"I-I-I-It's the big worm!" Chopper cried out in fear.

Just then, another worm that looks exactly like the big worm came out of the ground as well.

"Oh no! It is another big worm!" Chopper cried out in more fear.

Then another big worm appeared next to the other worms.

"THIS ISN'T HAPPENING! NOW THERE ARE THREE BIG WORMS!!" Chopper cried in utter fear.

"Awesome!! Now we can eat three worms at the same time!" Luffy said as sparks of joy came out of his eyes.

"This isn't the time for that, Luffy! I can sense that these things are not only for show!" Zoro yelled angrily while glaring at the worms.

These worms have one name. They are known as Amorbis.

Meanwhile…

The humongous firefly-like creature flapped it's wings over Nami, Usopp, Franky, and the depressed Sanji. This creature's name is Chykka. It raised it's round tail and lowered it down to the foursome, who jumped out of the way to avoid.

"I hate this world so much! Everything here is full of nasty bugs!" Nami yelled angrily while getting up.

"Quit nagging! We have to get rid of this thing!" Franky yelled while still carrying Sanji on his shoulder.

"How do you suggest we do that!? The only monstrous warrior here is Sanji, and he is clearly out of it!" Usopp barked as he noticed Sanji sucking his own thumb.

"You are forgetting that I am here, bro! Just distract the bug while I take care of him." Franky said as he dropped Sanji to the ground and aimed at Chykka with his left fist. "BEANS LEFT!" Franky fires multiple shots at Chykka, who cried in pain as it started to head towards Franky.

"HISSATSU KATAKI BOSHI!" Usopp fired an explosive pellet at Chykka's face, making it face towards Usopp. Usopp shrieked in fear as Franky got inside a cannon and fired himself towards the other side of the gap. While in midair, Franky opened his left wrist and aimed towards Chykka.

"WEAPONS LEFT!" Franky fired a big blast behind Chykka's head, causing it to stagger forward. Chykka turned around, and spits out purple acid to Franky, who jumped back as the acid melted some of the ground in front of him. Chykka then turned around and swung it's tail at the rocky cliff, causing some boulders to fall on Usopp. Usopp tried to get away, but the boulders managed to get his lower half of his body, making him unable to move out of the pile of rocks. Chykka then felt sheer pain on his back as Franky fired more multiple shots from it's behind. Chykka turned around and flew towards Franky and swunged it's round tail down at Franky, knocking him back.

"Sanji! Snap out of it! We are losing!" Nami yelled as she slapped Sanji repeatedly.

"Punish me more… I do not deserve anything in life…" Sanji replied depressingly.

Nami tossed Sanji aside and started to brainstorm an idea, while Usopp was trying to get out of the pile of boulders on him.

"Nami! Get me out of here!" Usopp yelled in pain.

"Shut up! Don't bother me when I am trying to think of a plan!" Nami yelled at Usopp without even looking at him.

Franky got up to his feet and rolled out of the way as Chykka almost spat acid at him. "STRONG RIGHT!" Franky launched his right arm at Chykka and punched it in the face, staggering it back a couple of feet. "BEANS LEFT!" Franky quickly retrieves his right arm and started to fire multiple shots at Chykka with his left arm. Chykka now started to get a little annoyed by Franky as it flew to a higher altitude and did a 360 degree spin, spitting acid everywhere. Franky had no choice but to use the cannon next to him to jump to the other side of the gap to avoid the acid. "MASTER NAIL!" Franky spat out multiple needles at Chykka while he was in midair, inflicting Chykka with more pain.

The acid Chykka created melted the boulders over Usopp's lower body, giving him the chance to get away before the acid could melt him. "Phew… that was close." Usopp panted as he then faced towards Chykka, who was lowering it's altitude. "I'll show it not to mess with the great Captain Usopp! HISSATSU KAEN BOSHI!" Usopp fired a pellet at Chykka, which bursted into flames upon impact. It didn't work as much as the fire died down a few seconds later.

"WEAPONS LEFT!" Franky fired a blast out of his left wrist, staggering Chykka back, but it managed to go on as it countered by thrusting it's tail near the ledge Usopp and Franky are, knocking them down to their backs.

Chykka then flew in a higher altitude while Usopp and Franky struggled to get up. "No matter how hard we hit it, it wont go down!" Franky exclaimed.

"There has got to be a way to beat it!" Usopp yelled as he then noticed Chykka doing something. "Now what?"

Chykka then spat out little creatures known as Chykklings, causing Usopp to cry in fear. The chykklings flew towards the duo as Franky got in front of Usopp. "FRESH FIRE!" Franky breathed out a stream of fire that burned down all the Chykklings in front of him. Before Franky can take any other action, he whacked away by Chykka, who horizontally swung his tail at him.

"Franky!" Usopp cried out as Franky crashed into the cliff wall. Usopp then fearfully aimed his slingshot towards Chykka. "HISSATSU KAEN-" Before Usopp could attack, Chykka spat acid at him. Usopp screamed as he jumped back as the acid melts the ground he was on. Usopp shivered in fear as he slipped backwards when he landed on his feet and landed his rear next to Nami, who was still brainstorming. "We're doomed. WE'RE DOOMED!"

Nami's eyes then widened with delight. "That's it! I got a good idea!"

Meanwhile…

The Amorbis' dug through the ground, leaving no trace behind as Luffy, Zoro, Chopper, and Robin were on their battle stances.

"Be on your guard! These worms can pop out of anywhere at any minute!" Zoro warned his companions while as they felt the earth beneath their feet shaking. Luffy then sees a part of the ground getting bigger and bigger. Then an Amorbis came flying from that part of the ground and headed straight down towards the crew.

"Look out!" Luffy yelled as they all got out of the way as the Amorbis tunneled through the ground they were on earlier. The place got silent as Chopper started to shake in fear while in his walk point. His then picked up a scent and looked towards his right.

"Guys! One of them is going to come out of that direction!" Chopper exclaimed.

"That way, huh? That's all I needed to know." Zoro said as he took a stance, awaiting for one of the Amorbis to come out. Suddenly, an Amorbis did came out at the direction Chopper predicted, and headed straight towards the group, which was exactly what Zoro wanted. "HYAKU-HACHI POUNDOU HOU!" Zoro swung three of his swords, creating a powerful cutting wave that was strong enough to send the attacking Amorbis flying back to the hole it came from. The same Amorbis emerged from the ground again and attached it's tail to the big round object. Amorbis raised it's body and slammed it down towards the crew, separating them from eachother.

"Damn you!" Luffy angrily got up and stretched his fist towards Amorbis, and punched one of it's eyes. Amorbis was temporarily blinded as Luffy then charged at it while stretching both of his arms back. "GOMU GOMU NO BAZOOKA! Luffy thrusted both of his palms at the Amorbis' face, sending him flying off the orb, and back into the ground. "Don't run, you coward!"

The ground shook slightly as two of the three Amorbis' came flying out of the ground. One of them headed towards the crew as Chopper quickly turned into his heavy point and ran while carrying Robin to a safe distance. Zoro was about to do another cutting wave, but Luffy ran in front of him and punched the Amorbis' at the side of it's face, knocking it to a wall.

The second tunneled through the ground and jumped out of it again as it was heading towards Chopper and Robin. Chopper cried in fear as Robin crossed her limbs. "TRES FLEUR!" Three hands grew next to the second Amorbis' eyes and poked them fiercely, causing the Amorbis to almost lose it's vision.

Chopper placed Robin on her feet before he got the courage to charge at the blind Amorbis' while it was still in midair. "HEAVY GONG!" Chopper jumped in front of the blind Amorbis and delivered a heavy punch to the face. The punch wasn't as strong does, but it was strong enough to push Amorbis back a few feet as it landed hard on the ground.

The two Amorbis' then attached their tails to the round object in the middle of the area. One of them lowered their faces toward Luffy and started to breath in so hard, It was sucking Luffy inside it's mouth. "Whoa, whoa, whoa!" Luffy yelled out as he tried to run away, but failed as he was sucked inside the Amorbis' mouth.

"Luffy!" Zoro cried out as the Amorbis tried to swallow Luffy, but was having a hard time doing so. From the inside of Amorbis' mouth was Luffy trying to hold on to it's disgusting tongue.

"This thing smells horrible! I must get out of here!" Luffy yelled as he then jumped off the tongue and twisted his body. "GOMU GOMU NO HANABI!" Luffy untwisted himself, punching at every direction upon the process. The pain was too much for the Amorbis as it immediately spat out Luffy to the ground and unattached it's tail from the round object so it can tunnel through the ground again.

The other Amorbis did the same thing the other Amorbis did by trying to suck in Chopper and Robin to it's mouth. Robin grew hands out of the cave wall, which wrapped around Robin so she wouldn't get sucked in. Chopper however, was trying to run away by turning into his walk point and galloped away as fast as he could, but he was still getting sucked in closer to Amorbis' mouth. Robin assisted Chopper by growing a string of hands towards Chopper. Chopper leaped towards the string of hands and turned into his heavy point hang on to them as his backpack opened up due to the force of the Amorbis' sucking. A full testube came flying out of Chopper's backpack and went right inside the Amorbis' mouth. The inside of the Amorbis' mouth exploded as the Amorbis unattached his tail from the round object and tunneled through the ground in pain.

"Oh… thank you, Robin." Chopper said while panting as the arms from the walls disappeared. Luffy and Zoro regrouped with them, feeling that they have won against the Amorbis.

"Those worms were the first huge monsters that we had a hard time beating. I'm glad its over." Luffy said with a grin.

"No… They aren't finished yet." Zoro said with narrowed eyes. "We only damaged two of them. Where is the last one?"

"He is right!" Chopper said as he picked up a scent. "I can smell all three of them underground."

"From where though?" Robin asked.

"I cant tell. They keep going around in circles." Chopper said frustratingly.

The ground then started to shake more than ever. "Whoa! I think they are coming back!" Luffy said as some of the ground started to get really big.

Meanwhile…

Nami stood on both of her feet as Usopp blinked at her confusedly. "You have an idea? Will it kill this bug?" Usopp asked.

"It has to!" Nami exclaimed, "This idea will fry that bug out the sky! But I am going to need some time in order to make a thunder cloud big enough to take it down."

Nami then took out her PCT and separated them into three parts. She puts one of them behind her waist and then started to make fire and cool balls with the other two. The balls then started to form a little cloud at the sky, but it wasn't big enough to take down Chykka.

"I need you and Franky to stall the bug until I am done here!" Nami exclaimed.

"What!? But what do you want us to do!?" Usopp asked.

"I don't know! Just do something!" Nami barked as Usopp fearfully looked at Chykka, who was lowering it's altitude down at the duo.

"Ok… here it goes." Usopp said fearfully as he ran near the edge and confronted Chykka. "Oi, you filthy bug! You wouldn't have the guts to harm me! For I, Captain Usopp, have a defeated a cockroach over 500 feet tall! You don't stand a chance against me!"

Usopp's lie was of no use as Chykka raised it's tail, while Usopp jumped out of the way before Chykka could lower it's tail down at him.

"Why are you telling it a lie!? It's not like it's going to understand you anyway!" Nami barked as the thunder cloud she was making was getting bigger by the second.

"Dont yell at me! I am at enough pressure as it is!" Usopp yelled back. He then noticed that Franky was nowhere in sight. "Hey, where did Franky go!"

"Charge!" Franky yelled as he came falling right on Chykka's head from out of nowhere. Franky grabbed on to Chykka's antennas as it was starting to shake Franky off. "That all you got!? Come on, you can shake harder than that!"

"Franky! Get at the back of his head when I give you the signal!" Nami said as the cloud she was forming was really big.

"Gotcha!" Franky replied as he continued to hold on to Chykka's antennas.

Nami looks up at the cloud, sensing that it is almost done. "Okay, I think that is enough. Usopp, put Sanji inside that cannon!" Nami said.

"Huh? What for?" Usopp asked.

"Just do it!" Nami barked. Usopp then grabbed Sanji and dragged him to the cannon. He then shoved him inside as the cannon then fired Sanji out.

"Whee eee eee eee eee eee eee eee eee eee eee eee eeee…" Sanji said depressingly as he caught Chykka's attention as he flew by it and landed limplessly to the other side of the gap. Chykka then faced towards it as Nami grabbed the third part of her PCT from her waist.

"Now, Franky! Jump off and burn it up!" Nami demanded.

"My pleasure!" Franky replied as he jumped off of the back of Chykka's head and took in a deep breath. "FRESH FIRE!" Franky breathed out a stream of fire at Chykka's back, burning the skin off it's skin. Chykka cried in pain as Usopp then aimed at it.

"ATLAS SUISEI!" Usopp fired one explosive pellet at each of Chykka's wings, exploding upon impact. Chykka lost it's control on it's wings as it crashed to the side where Sanji was.

"Now for the final touch! THUNDERBOLT TEMPO!" Nami threw a thunder ball at the humongous cloud she created. Nami, Usopp, and Franky then ran inside under a cliff for cover as the cloud let out a humongous thunderstorm over the entire area, inflicting tremendous damage to Chykka. It was so powerful, that the storm actually killed, leaving it to disintegrate afterwards. Sanji got hit by the lightning too, but he was too depressed to feel any damage. Nami and Usopp landed on their knees in exhaustion as Franky did his victory pose.

Meanwhile…

The ground beneath Luffy, Zoro, Chopper, and Robin's feet started to shake more than ever. "Hurry! Run to the center of the cave!" Zoro exclaimed as they then ran near the round object to be safe. Right after they did that, All three Amorbis' came flying right of different locations of the ground and started to fly to the other side of the direction they were going, looking down at the crew as they flew by. Just as they tunneled through the ground, they immediately popped out of another part of the ground, only this time, they landed closer to the crew. By the time they did this the third time, Luffy was ready for one of them.

"GOMU GOMU NO GATLING GUN!" Luffy repeatedly thrusts his fist towards the Amorbis in front of him, punching it hard enough to send it flying backwards and through the ground. Now there was only two of them as Zoro prepared himself for their reappearance. Two of the Amorbis came flying out of the ground from opposite directions and went heading straight down towards Zoro.

"TATSU MAKI!" Zoro span in a circle with his swords, creating a tornado of cutting waves that stopped the charging Amorbis' in midair. Multiple hands then grew out of the ground in front of one of the Amorbis, creating a staircase that allowed Chopper to run up on them and leap towards it.

"HEAVY GONG!" Chopper delivered a heavy punch to the Amorbis' face, sending it flying straight into the cave wall behind it before going through the ground beneath it. The Amorbis that was still in midair was starting to fall down as Luffy quickly ran under it.

"GOMU GOMU NO YARI!" Luffy did a handstand and stretched both of his feet towards the Amorbis' stomach area, knocking it higher up in the air before falling right next to Luffy. The Amorbis groggily attached it's tail on the round object as the two other Amorbis popped out of the ground and did the same thing. The Strawhat crew backed away as the three Amorbis arched their backs to face eachother to form dark energy above them.

"What is that?" Chopper asked nervously.

The energy then got bigger as both Zoro and Robin got a slight clue on what is going to happen next. "It's going to shoot out a beam! Run!" Zoro yelled.

The Amorbis then fired a dark beam at the crew, who were trying to get away, but the dark beam were following their steps.

"I think it's time to finish this creature off." Robin said while running.

"Fine by me! I'll cut those worms to pieces!" Zoro said as the Amorbis were starting to end their laser attack. "I'll just need them all to be airborne!"

"That wont be a problem for me." Robin replied as she then crossed her limbs just right after the Amorbis finished it's beam attack. "CIEN FLEUR!" multiple hands grew around the Amorbis and separated them from the round object. The arms then rolled then piled them up as Luffy ran through between the hands and under the Amorbis.

"GOMU GOMU NO KAZAN!" Luffy stretches his foot right up towards the Amorbis, kicking it so hard that it sends it, and the rest of the Amorbis on it flying upwards.

"Here you go, Zoro!" Chopper exclaimed as Zoro jumped on his arm. Chopper then threw Zoro above the flying Amorbis. "DAIBUTSU GIRI!" Zoro created a series of horizontal slashing with all of his three swords while going through the three Amorbis, cutting them all up into little pieces. They disintegrated into dust as Zoro landed perfectly on his feet.

"Phew… that was something else!" Luffy said happily.

"Can we go now, please? I don't like being in here." Chopper said as he turned into his normal self.

"Yeah, I'll lead the way again." Zoro suggested. Before they could get out of the cave, the round object in the center of the area started to crack open.

"Huh? The egg is hatching!" Luffy said excitedly.

"Oh great. What now?" Zoro asked irritatingly.

Pieces of the object started to get more cracks until it completely cracked open. What was inside of the object wasn't something the crew expected. What stood before them was a enormous dark creature with four spiky legs connected to it's head. The center of it's head emitted a orange aura from the inside as well. This creature roared at the crew, who backed away from from it's presence.

"Strange… that doesn't look like a chicken." Luffy said as the creature before him-- Emperor Ing.

TO BE CONTINUED…

Preview: Chickens in other worlds look so weird. Hey! That thing is making more chickens of itself, only tinier. They seem kinda hungry though. Next time on One Piece: A Smash Adventure; Chapter 61: Retreat!, Ridley's plan is delayed. I will be the Pirate King!

I do apoligize if the battles werent as you expected. They arent the main battles of this arc anyway. I'll try to update sooner next time.

See ya!

Metroid Pt 10

Hello! Here I am with the next chapter! By the way, you guys might have realized that I sort have changed the titles to my previous chapters, like Chapter 2 is replaced for Mario pt. 1 for example. That is there just in case if you guys want to re-look at an arc. I will do the same for this arc when I am done with it. Anyway, here is the next chapter. Enjoy!

The creatures of dark rise again. It is now known that Ridley wants to corrupt the planet Aether with Phazon. Before one of his men could torture U-mos, Samus confronted Ridley, but he wasn't the only one that wants a piece of her. Meanwhile, the Strawhat crew were fighting against The Amorbis and Chykka. They used teamwork in order to defeat those deadly creatures. Even though that they are now gone, something more dangerous than those two combined appeared. Can the Strawhat crew be able to escape from this monstrosity?

Chapter 61: Retreat!, Ridley's plan is delayed

Emperor Ing looked at it's surroundings, seeing nothing but Luffy, Zoro, Chopper, and Robin in front of itself. Chopper was petrified in fear upon looking at Emperor Ing, while Zoro and Robin kept their distance away from it. Luffy however, was both frightened and disgusted at Emperor Ing's appearance.

"Wh-What is that!?" Chopper asked.

"A new-born baby… I think." Zoro replied.

"What strange features this creatures has." Robin commented, "What do you think of it, Captain?"

"I think that… is the ugliest chicken I have ever seen in my entire life." Luffy said as Zoro slapped his own forehead in grief.

Emperor Ing took one step forward to the crew, who took one step back away from it.

"So do we attack it?" Chopper asked.

"Let's wait and see what it does first." Robin suggested.

"That's a waste of time! We cant afford to let this thing get the first move! I say we kill it right now!" Zoro said while angrily looking at Emperor Ing.

"Hmm… I wonder if this chicken's babies will be born that ugly?" Luffy asked himself.

Suddenly, Emperor Ing curled into a ball and rolled right through the crew, knocking them down to the floor as it went out of the tunnel.

"Hey! The ugly chicken is getting away!" Luffy exclaimed as he and everyone else got up.

"Why didn't it attack us?" Robin asked.

"Who knows? As long it didn't really caused us any trouble, then I guess it was okay to let it go." Zoro said while rubbing his head.

"Thank goodness. I didn't want to fight another monster so quickly." Chopper said in relief.

Outside, the water from the rain started to pour down to the area Luffy and the others were in.

"We should get out of here. This place will be completely flooded soon." Robin said.

"Fine by me. I'll lead you guys out of here." Zoro said as he went ahead.

"Hee hee. We are going to get lost." Luffy said with a happy expression.

"SHUT UP!" Zoro barked at Luffy while looking behind his shoulder. Zoro then noticed behind his companions. A couple of black goos were dripping right out of some cracks out of the cave wall and dripped down to water below. The black goos slimed their way to the higher floor where the water hasnt reached yet as it then started to transform into something. "Oi! There is something behind you guys!"

"Huh? What is it?" Luffy asked as he, Chopper, and Robin turned around to see the black goos getting bigger. Black creatures that almost look like Emperor Ing came out of the goo, which disappeared afterwards. They have three spiky legs instead of four legs like Emperor Ing has, and they also have a big, red, pupiless eye. These creatures are better known as the Ing.

"What are those!?" Chopper asked while falling on his rear while looking at the Ing.

"Oh my gosh! Those look like the ugly chicken babies of that big ugly chicken that was just here!" Luffy exclaimed as his eyes popped out of his head.

Suddenly, one of the Ing leaped towards Chopper, but was killed by Zoro, who slashed it in half. Another Ing tried to attack Zoro, but Luffy punched it so hard, it died instantly.

"It looks like these creatures do not hesitate upon attacking us." Robin said by observation.

"Damn… It's one thing after the other in this place." Zoro said angrily.

"Attack the ugly chicken babies!" Luffy exclaimed while raising his arms up high in the air. Luffy and Zoro then charged at the group of Ings in front of them, while Chopper leaned his hooves on Robin's leg instead of hiding behind her. "GOMU GOMU NO GATLING GUN!" Luffy repeatedly punches most of the Ings in front of him. The ones that arent getting hit, leaped towards Luffy, but was unaware that Zoro leaped towards them.

"TORA GARI!" Zoro lowers both of his swords with great force, cutting right through the leaping Ings. Zoro then killed another Ing by thrusting one of his swords into an Ing's eye, and then killed another one with a horizontal slash across the legs.

"Ahh! Get it off of me!" Luffy cried as one of them was on Luffy, trying to do something to him. The Ing on him started to change back into goo, but before it could do anything else, a hand grew out of the ground and impaled it's fingers through the Ing's eye, killing it instantly.

"Are you alright, Captain?" Robin asked with her limbs crossed.

"I think so… that ugly chicken wanted to get inside me or something." Luffy said while getting up on his feet.

"We should run away!" Chopper cried in fear.

"No way! We are doing just fine, right Zoro?" Luffy asked. He noticed Zoro was having hard time fighting the Ings off as more of them started to come out even faster than Zoro was to killing them.

"I hate to say it, but we have to get out of here!" Zoro said as he slashed right through another Ing before he then started to run away.

"What!? We can't run away now! We have to defeat their ugliness!" Luffy exclaimed.

Chopper transformed into his Heavy point and grabbed Luffy around the waist with one arm before running out of the cave as quickly as possible. Zoro and Robin ran with Chopper as the Ing behind them started to chase them. Once they made out of the cave, Zoro quickly turned around and raised one of his swords.

"SANJU-ROKO POUNDOU HOU!" Zoro created a cutting wave that hit the ledge of the tunnel, which made it collapse onto itself, burying the Ing inside alive. "I think that got them."

"Whoa! Good job, Zoro! You got rid of the ugly chickens." Luffy said happily.

Chopper lets go of Luffy and turns back to his normal point. "I wonder what were those things. And where did they came from?" Chopper asked.

"That big spider thing must have something to do with this." Zoro said while sheathing his swords.

"Spider? No, that thing was an ugly chicken. I bet that chicken is out there making more ugly babies right now." Luffy said with a frown, "We should go and kick that ugly chicken's ass before it continues to spread it's ugliness everywhere!"

"Perhaps… but we do not know of what that big creature is capable of." Robin said, "I suggest we should regroup with the others and see what we can do till then."

"That sounds like a good idea, Robin." Chopper said.

"Aww… I wanted to eat the ugly chicken now…" Luffy whined as Chopper looked at him in disbelief.

"Anyway, if we have to go back with the others, then we should do that as soon as possible." Zoro said, "I'll lead the way again. Now follow me."

"Yosh! Let us use Zoro to get us lost!" Luffy said excitedly.

"I ALREADY TOLD YOU TO SHUT UP!" Zoro barked as he led the way.

Meanwhile…

Back in the vast area below the Great temple, a huge battle has just occured. There were trails of ice along the wall, there were parts of the walls that were melting, and there were also electric shurikens impaled to the floor. Three unknown figures were sitting stood upright while panting lightly as Ridley was a little amused.

"It took you three long enough, but atleast you finished the job." Ridley said. He looked down at Samus, who was on the floor, barely concious. Her armor was severly damaged from recieving several Ice, Fire, and Electric attacks.

"Samus!" U-mos cried out worringly as Ridley walked up to Samus.

"What's the matter, Samus? I didnt expect you to lose this quickly. Having trouble facing your own comrades?" Ridley asked.

"You… what did you do to them!?" Samus asked angrily while on the ground.

"Nothing." Ridley replied, "Dont blame me that they were to weak enough to get captured. All I know is that they now work for me? Isnt that right, you three?"

"Ha ha ha! I never knew that you would go down this fast, Sammy. I should have known that the powerful cold-hearted bounty hunter was only a joke. Ha ha ha ha!" Laughed a female among three unknown figures. She has a human like face and her skin color has a mixture of violet and light blue, and it was also a little transperent, revealing her bone structre.

"This showed that working with Samus was a waste of time. Joining Ridley's crew was indeed brilliant." said a robotic male voice. It was a skinny robot with a grey plated body. His eyes are completely pupiless red.

The last one didnt say anything, but appeared to be male. He has long light blueish limbs and small torsoes. He is wearing light blueish armor. His head looks like a drop of water that is connected to the back of his armor, and his hands were made out of ice. Lastly, this guy is really cold when up close.

"What is wrong with you, Rundas?" Gandrayda asked uncaringly, "Don't feel like talking all of a sudden?"

"It must be because that he preferred working alone like always." Ghor said, "Such a crybaby that cant even work in a group for once in his life."

"That's enough out of you three." Ridley said with his narrowed, "You are no longer needed in my presence. Get outta my sight!"

"Hmph! Such rudeness." Gandrayda commented as she, Ghor, and Rundas left the area by going through the hexagon door behind them.

Samus grunted in pain as she then angrily looked at Ridley again. "I dont know how you did this, but you are going to suffer a much more horrific death than the ones you suffered so far!"

"How determined. Too bad that you wont be doing that to me." Ridley said as he then grabbed Samus' with his claw and raised her in front of his face. "I have been waiting so long for this day to come. I will finally get my revenge on you!"

Samus tried her best to break out of Ridley's grip, but she was too injured to do anything like that. Ridley raised his other claw and charged it up with great energy. The Space pirates watched with excitement as her arch-enemy was now going to die.

"Goodbye, Samus!" Ridley yelled as he was about to strike Samus, but one of his crewmembers got to his side nervously.

"Um… pardon me for interrupting you, Captain, but we have a big problem." said the nervous space pirate.

"Eh?" Ridley said as he then glared at the nervous pirate.

Meanwhile…

Nami, Usopp, and Franky were all at the other side of the gap, looking at Sanji, who survived Nami's thunderbolt attack from earlier.

"This guy is so out of it, he didn't even notice the lightning hitting him and the bug." Franky said while picking Sanji up from the ground.

"I have never seen him this depressed before. You okay, Sanji-kun?" Nami asked.

"The lightning that struck down on me felt very good… but too bad it didn't kill me…" Sanji said depressingly.

"If he keeps this up, I am going to feel depressed." Usopp said while a sweatdrop went down his forehead.

Nami sighed and looked at the corpse of Chykka. "Where did this bug came from? It was not like it was hiding from us during the day."

"Maybe it's one of those bugs that hate sunlight or something." Franky said as he carried Sanji over his shoulder.

"To be quite honest, I don't really care where this scary bug came from. I just want to get away from it as soon as possible." Usopp said nervously.

"I guess there is no point on being here any longer." Nami said, "Besides, we have to find the others and see if they are okay."

"That big worm took them somewhere to the west. We should probably look over there first." Franky suggested.

"Okay then. Let's get over there now. The farther away from this dead bug, the better." Nami said as she looked at Chykka's corpse with disgust.

The ground then shook hard for a minutre as it startled everyone except for Sanji.

"What was that!?" Usopp asked.

"I don't know. It didn't seem like an earthquake." Nami said while almost losing her balance.

Unknowing to them, there lied Emperor Ing, standing on the cliff near the hexagon door just near the Strawhat crew. Franky noticed a particular shadow on the floor that didnt belong to any of his crewmates. He turned around and had a surprised look when he first looked at Emperor Ing.

"Bros… we have another problem." Franky said while staring at Emperor Ing.

Nami and Usopp looked at where Franky was looking at and were not happy what stood over them.

"W-WHAT IS THAT!?" Usopp asked fearfully.

"Oh come on! We just killed this bug, and now we have to face that hideous spider monster!?" Nami asked fearfully as Emperor Ing then turned into a big puddle of black goo, and drooped down to the crew.

"Back away!" Franky yelled as he, Nami, and Usopp quickly backed away from Emperor Ing as it got to their level. Emperor Ing then slimed down into the gap, leaving chunks of black goo behind. Nami ran to the ledge and peered over it to see if Emperor Ing was gone or not. To her luck, Emperor Ing was no longer in sight.

"Phew… it's gone." Nami said with relief.

"Any idea what that thing was?" Franky asked.

"Why are we asking these kind of questions!? If they look like hideous and monsterous beasts, then they are obviously hideous and monsterous beasts that only wants to kill anything they see." Usopp declared.

"Let's get out of here before anything else shows up." Nami said as they then started to head towards the hexagon door. They then heard something from behind them.

Nami and Usopp gulped in fear at the same time as Franky looked behind his shoulder to see what was going on. "Oh great…" Franky said in dismay as the black chunks left by Emperor Ing earlier started to transform into Ings. Nami and Usopp turned around and gasped in fear upon seeing the Ing.

"More monsters!?" Nami asked.

"Those monsters look like miniature versions of the big one we saw earlier." Usopp whimpered while his feet shook with fear.

"I'll take care of them!" Franky said as he aimed at the Ings with his left arm. "WEAPONS LEFT!" Franky fired a missile out of his wrist and destroyed most of the Ing in front of him. As soon as the dust cleared, there were even more Ing than there were before. "Huh? Didnt I just…?"

"H-Hold on! I'll get them!" Usopp said as he bravely aimed at the Ings. "HISSATSU KATAKI BOSHI!" Usopp fired an explosive pellet at one of the Ing, creating an explosion upon impact. The smoke cleared and revealed that there were even more Ing than before.

"They are multiplying every time we take one of them down!" Nami exclaimed.

"Damn! I guess I'll end them all with one shot." Franky said as he was about to attack, but Nami held him back.

"There is no point on fighting them! We have to get out of here now!" Nami yelled. She and Franky, who still carried Sanji, ran to the hexagon door, while Usopp got out a hilt.

"Stay back, you fiends!" Usopp warned, "I have a hilt that used to have a hammer around it, and I am not afraid to use it!"

"Usopp, come on!" Nami yelled as Usopp then made a run for it. Nami, Usopp, and Franky went through the hexagon door and reached towards the area where lies a huge gap in front of them. "Ok, Usopp! Get in the cannon!"

"No way! You are going to use me as a sheild like last time!" Usopp yelled.

"You are still alive, arent you!? Besides, we dont have another choice to get across!" Nami exclaimed.

While they continued to argue, Franky was constructing something made out of wood. "Just give me a couple of more seconds and it will be finished!" Franky yelled from afar.

Nami and Usopp stopped argueing and looked at where Franky was. Their eyes popped out of their in surprise as sooned as they saw what he was constructing.

"HE MADE A BRIDGE!?!?" Nami and Usopp asked in unison as Franky was indeed working on a glamorous bridge made out of wood. The fact that he built a bridge a so quickly was the cause why Nami and Usoppw were surprised.

"What are you two just standing around there for!? Get over here!" Franky yelled. The hexagon door behind Nami and Usopp were starting to get covered with darkness. Knowing that the Ing might show up any minute, they dashed to the bridge and started to run as fast as they could to get to the other side. They ran past Franky, who was working on the last bit of detail to the bridge.

"Hurry up, Franky!" Usopp cried.

"Don't rush me! A Shipwright's job is never finished until they are done with their work of art!" Franky said as he just finished the last detail and then went to catch up with his crewmates.

"It is good to know that you can be useful in situations like this, but you don't have to give so much to detail to your work!" Usopp said while running.

"What!? How dare you speak so lowly of my title as a Shipwright!" Franky yelled angrily while running behind Usopp.

"Will you two shut up!? This isn't the time to argue about this! We must get back to the Great temple, where it's safe!" Nami yelled. They got to the other side of the huge gap and went through the hexagon door in front of them. They were now at the intersection were Nami escaped from Ridley during the day. "This way!" Nami said as they went to the left of the intersection. Franky jumped up to the higher floor and then proceeded to help Nami and Usopp to climb up to the floor he was on.

"Uh oh!" Franky yelled in surprise as the hexagon door they went through earlier bursted open by the Ings.

"Franky, hurry!" Usopp cried as Franky helped them up to the floor he was on. They then started to run away as they had to jump down to a lower floor in order to continue. They saw another higher floor as Franky grabbed Nami and Usopp around their wastes.

"What are you doing!?" Nami asked.

"Getting us out of here quicker!" Franky yelled as his butt started to inflate like a balloon. "1.0 COLA HOU COUP DE BOO!" Franky did a tremondous fart that sended him, along with Nami, Usopp, and Sanji, flying right over the higher floor in front of him, then a the lower floor, and lastly, over the last higher floor. Franky landed on his feet as Sanji flew out of his shoulder and into the hexagon door, which caused it to open.

"Oww…" Sanji said depressingly as Nami, Usopp, and Franky quickly went through the door while picking up Sanji along the way.

"We are almost there!" Nami said in relief. But to her dismay, the road in front of her and her crewmates was completely a mess. There were also several boulders that blocked the entrance. "This wasnt here before!"

"Ridley must have caused that after we escaped from him!" Usopp said he lands on his knees in fear. "We are trapped! It's all over for us now!"

"Not yet, it ain't! STRONG RIGHT!" Franky launched his right arm towards a ledge of the cliff above them. "Grab on, bros!" Franky said as Nami and Usopp held on to Franky and to Sanji at the same time. Franky then reeled himself, taking his crewmates, over at the top of the cliff. Just in time as well since the Ing just bursted into the area where they were. The Ing looked up to see Usopp and Franky aiming at them.

"WEAPONS LEFT!"

"HISSATSU KATAKI BOSHI!"

Usopp and Franky fired multiple rounds as quickly as they could, shooting every Ing, including the entire area below them. Nami helped as she created a thunder cloud above the lower area where the Ing are.

"THUNDERBOLT TEMPO!" Nami throws a thunder ball at the cloud, causing a huge thunderstorm that strucked down at all of the Ing in the lower area. Usopp and Franky stopped firing to see if they managed to kill the Ings. The smoke cleared, revealing no Ing in sight.

"Oh boy… that was so frightening." Usopp said as lands on his back, completely exhausted.

"I think that's the last of them. We are safe… for now." Franky said as Nami landed on her knees in exhaustion.

"Please let this night end. I dont know how long I can keep this up…" Nami whimpered before she rested her eyes by closing them gently.

Meanwhile…

"What!? What did you just say!?" Ridley asked angrily as he then dropped Samus to the floor and angrily looked at the angry messenger.

"I know it sounds unbelievable, but there are reports that vicious dark looking creatures are lurking around Temple grounds at this very moment! And according to our analysis, they appear to be the Ing!" said the nervous Space pirate.

"The Ing!? That cant be possible!" U-mos exclaimed in surprise.

"You are telling me that a dead race is now going all over this place!? What load of crap are you intending to pull!?" Ridley asked much more angrily than before.

"This is not a joke, Captain! A group of our kind were controlled by the Ing, and one of them were eaten alive by those two! Plus, there are also a group of dead federation soldiers limping around here. If the Ing arent controlling them, I don't know what are!" the nervous Space pirate exclaimed.

"What the hell is happening?" Ridley asked to himself, "How could an extinct race could possibly… !" Ridley eyes widened as he just remembered something. "Him! That man that offered me a position to his new world garbage is responsible for this! When I get my claws on him..!" Ridley then angrily looked down at Samus. "I will deal with you later! Commander!"

"Yes sir?" The Space pirate Commander asked.

"I will be looking around the Temple grounds to see the Ings myself!" Ridley said. He then pointed at U-mos. "If he does anything suspicious, kill him!"

"Yes sir!" The Commander said.

"And keep Samus secure! I don't want her messing up my plan after going this far!" Ridley declared.

"Of course, sir! We will make sure that Samus won't do anything that will ruin your plan!" The Commander said. Ridley then spreaded his wings and flew right out of the vast area and into the dark sky.

"Where is he!? I am sure that man is around here somewhere! I'll teach him not to mess with me!" Ridley yelled angrily while flew across the skies. He didnt realize that he was being targeted by something as it shot missiles at Ridley. "What's this!?" Ridley asked as he dodged the missiles. Ridley looked down and saw nobody down there. Ridley then saw something coming behind him. When he turned around, he saw a hundred foot, four-legged robot climbing up to the Temple grounds and onto the cliff. The robot was known as Quadraxis.

Quadraxis' eyes glew red at Ridley, who angrily glared at Quadraxis. "You picked the wrong day to mess with me! I will tear you apart here and now!" Ridley yelled as he flew straight towards Quadraxis' head.

TO BE CONTINUED…

Preview: Ha ha ha ha! We are so lost! Zoro is so good at this sort of thing! I wish I can get lost intentionally. What the… The ten foot bug eye people are in danger!? What is going on!? Next time on One Piece: A Smash Adventure; Chapter 62: Sea pirates vs Space pirates, The joke that you are. I am gonna be the Pirate King!

That's all for today. The next chapter should be pretty epic, I believe. See ya!

Metroid Pt 11

Sorry for the delay again. I made a really big chapter for you guys. Now that I look at it, this arc is going to be the longest one I have done so far. But I don't think it is a bad thing, so… here is the next chapter. Enjoy!

The creatures of the dark. Luffy, Zoro, Chopper, and Robin confronted Emperor Ing, but before they could do anything to it, it escaped. They decided not to think about that creature for now as they were about to leave, until the Ing showed up. No matter how many they defeat, more of them would show up and attack them. Luffy and the others had no choice but to run out of the tunnel and destroyed in order to get rid of the Ing. Nami, Usopp, Sanji, and Franky also encountered the same problem as they also tried to run away from the Ing themselves, which eventually they managed to achieve. Meanwhile, Ridley was informed that the Ing has returned, and decided to get rid of them himself, but now has a little robot problem of his own. Will the Strawhat crew ever regroup and stop Ridley's evil plan from succeeding?

Chapter 62: Sea pirates vs Space pirates, the joke that you are

The night was as dark as it can ever be, while the rain continued to shower down on Aether. Luffy and the others were walking towards who knows where as Zoro was leading the way. They eventually reached a place which was very familiar to them. To be more precise, they were back at the same place where Zoro caved in the tunnel where they fought Amorbis in. Chopper sighed as Zoro's right eye twitched a bit.

"This is the place we were just now…" Robin said plainly, "How odd that we ended up back here for the 5th time."

"Hiya hya hya hya! This is so fun!" Luffy laughed happily, "Come on, Zoro! Lead us to another direction that will take us back here again."

"I have the urge to kill you right now!" Zoro muttered angrily.

"I am tired…" Chopper said exhausted as he landed on his rear, "Can we please get back to the others now?"

"What do you think I was trying to do this whole time!?" Zoro asked as his yelling scared Chopper.

"Doctor-san is right." Robin said, "We shouldn't be wasting anymore time relying on someone with poor direction skills."

"Poor direction skills!? Oi!" Zoro yelled.

"Okay! We will now get serious, and go where we are suppose to go now." Luffy said as he got a little serious.

"I hate you people…" Zoro muttered to himself.

"So… where do we go this time?" Chopper asked.

"We should go where Mr. Swordsman hasn't led us to yet." Robin suggested, "For example, we should go over…" Robin looked at her surroundings. She then noticed a bright light coming from the area under the Great Temple. "Over there. We have not gone over there yet."

"Whoa! That is pretty far. I can barely see that light ahead of us." Luffy said as he squinted his eyes to see where Robin suggested to go.

"I will go anywhere but here again. I think we should go there." Chopper said.

"Tsk… whatever." Zoro grumbled.

"Yosh! Let us get going to that bright light!" Luffy said excitedly. They then started to go on their long walk towards the light underneath the Great Temple.

Meanwhile…

Ridley flew around Quadraxis, avoiding the missiles that were being shot at him. "Is this the best you can do!?" Ridley asked as he then flew right towards Quadraxis. Ridley fires fireballs from his mouth at Quadraxis' face, but it seemed that it didn't damage it that much. Ridley flew by Quadraxis, who took the opportunity to fire more missiles at him. Ridley was getting a little irritated with Quadraxis, and started to fly towards it again. Ridley fired his own missiles from his back, and sends them right into one of Quadraxis' knee. As it made impact, Quadraxis fell on that injured knee, giving Ridley enough time to attack it again.

Ridley cuts through a part of Quadraxis' head with his right wing as it flew by, causing sheer damage to Quadraxis' head. Quadraxis groggily got on it's legs as it then made a huge jump towards the air. It then landed hard on the floor, creating an enormous shockwave that sends Ridley flying back a few feet. "Grr… !" Ridley grunted as he regained his balance, and fired multiple fireballs at Quadraxis before flying past it with great speed. The fireballs impacted at every part of Quadraxis body. Quadraxis got the flames off it's figure by spinning with great force. The force it was creating was so strong, it's bringing Ridley toward itself.

"It will take alot more than this to kill me!?" Ridley yelled as he flapped his wings towards Quadraxis, making him able to get away from it. Quadraxis stopped spinning as Ridley then flew right towards it again. Ridley landed on one of Quadraxis' undamaged knees and used his claws to rip out the solid plate on it. Ridley then waited for Quadraxis to fire a missile at him. Once Quadraxis did, Ridley flew out of the way, making Quadraxis to accidentally fire on it's own knee. This caused Quadraxis to fall on it's injured knee. Before it could get back up, Ridley used the armor plate he pulled out Quadraxis knee to whack Quadraxis with it in the face.

Ridley continued to use the armor plate to whack Quadraxis as he broke one of Quadraxis' eyes. Quadraxis immediately got onto it's feet, and started to spin itself once again. Ridley couldn't escape from it's force due to being too close to it as he got hit by one of Quadraxis' knee. "Grr…" Ridley grunted as he limplessly started to fall down to the ground. Quadraxis stopped spinning, and fired a missile at Ridley while he was going down. Just when the missile was a few feet close to Ridley, Ridley regained his flight balance and whacked the missile away with his tail. Ridley then extended the joints of his tail to thrust it at one of Quadraxis' undamaged knees.

Ridley's tail went right through Quadraxis' armor plated knee, causing huge sparks to come out of it. Ridley pulled back his tail while unextending his tail joints as he then fired a fireball at the injured knee, causing Quadraxis to fall down again. Ridley then flew under Quadraxis and went right towards it's last undamaged knee. Ridley then used his jaws to completely destroy Quadraxis knee, leaving Quadraxis and it's former leg to fall down to the floor for good. Ridley spat out some parts that he ripped out of Quadraxis' former knee as it then looked down at Quadraxis, seeing him trying to get up, but to no avail.

"Pitiful…" Ridley scoffed as it was about to leave Quadraxis. But Ridley then got hit by from behind as he staggered a bit before regaining his balance. Ridley angrily looks behind his shoulder and sees that Quadraxis, even though that he cannot move, is still firing missiles. He then noticed that Quadraxis was charging up a beam from it's mouth. "You are becoming a great nuisance! I will destroy you now!" Ridley yelled angrily as he then started to charge up a blue aura from his mouth.

Meanwhile…

Nami, Usopp, and Franky were sitting on the floor, panting heavily after they successfully got away from the Ing. Sanji, on the other hand, was in a crouched position, holding his knees depressingly. "This is by far the worst world that we have been on so far." Usopp panted.

"We'll never make it through the night if this keeps up." Nami said while looking at the ground, "There has to be a safe way to regroup with the others."

"I don't think there is any safe way. That big spider is out there, creating miniature versions of itself all over the place." Franky said, "The only thing we can do is to fight our way back to our group."

"Can't we just run away from them instead? It would save all the energy we have left." Usopp said fearfully.

"I hate to say it, but… Franky has a point." Nami said as she looked at her crewmates, "We are going to have to fight our way to survive. So I am counting on you guys to lead the way."

"Oh sure, let us do all the hard work while you can take it easy." Usopp said while narrowing his eyes at Nami.

"I am glad that you see it my way." Nami said as Usopp lowered his head in defeat. "Now, let's get go-"

BOOOOOOOOOOOOOMMMMMMMMM!!!

A huge explosion happened far away from where Nami and the others were on. The explosion startled everyone except for the depressed Sanji.

"What was that!?" Usopp asked.

"That couldn't have been an earthquake." Nami said as she then noticed something from afar. "Look! There is a huge fire all the way over there!"

"What could've happened over there?" Franky asked.

"Let's not stay here to find out! Let's keep going to a safer place!" Usopp panicked frantically.

"Big light… there." Sanji said depressingly as he noticed a bright light under the Great temple. Everyone else looked at where Sanji was looking at and felt a little relieved upon seeing it.

"That's weird. It never occurred to me to go over there before." Franky said while scratching his head.

"I guess we have no choice but to go there. It will probably take some stress out of me anyway." Nami said as she began to walk towards the area under the Sky temple.

"I usually would disagree on going to places with bright lights, but I'll make an exception for today." Usopp said as he then followed Nami.

"Come on, cook." Franky said as he then carried the depressed Sanji on his shoulder. Their walk was long and unenjoyable, but they were able to get near the area under the Great temple.

"Finally… we are here." Usopp said exhausted.

"Hey, this was the place that armored babe showed us that Phazon thing." Franky said as he dropped Sanji to the floor. "But I don't remember this place being so dang noisy."

"What is going on down there? Is somebody building something?" Usopp asked while covering his ears.

"Let's find out." Nami said. They then crouched and crawled towards the ledge to see an army of Space pirates, who were still working on the generator in the center of the vast area.

"OH NO! IT'S THE SPA-!" Usopp cried out before Nami covered his mouth.

"Shut up! They'll hear us!" Nami hissed before letting go of Usopp's mouth. They both looked down at the area again, keeping their cool as they spied on the Space pirates.

"What are they doing? Why are there so many down there?" Usopp whispered.

"How should I know? They are probably up to something." Nami said irritatingly, "Look at what there making. What is that?"

"I bet it's something that will doom us all. Let's get out of here before they see us." Usopp said until he noticed Franky getting up.

"Okay, I'll take care of the losers." Franky said as he was about to attack the Space pirates, but Nami and Usopp pulled him down to the floor.

"Are you mad!? You can't take down all of those guys at once!" Usopp hissed.

"Sure, I can. Just one Coup de vent will do the trick." Franky said plainly.

"That's not the point! We can't afford to fight monsters like those!" Nami hissed.

"And besides, their boss is going to get really angry if he sees his men dead. Once that happens, he is going to hunt us down. And when he finds us, we are all going down!" Usopp hissed in fear.

"Tsk… then what are we suppose to do now? If we leave, we have to deal with those spiders out there. If we dont leave, we have to deal with those guys eventually."

"We can just jump down' and land on our faces. That way it will break our necks, allowing us to die quickly…" Sanji suggested depressingly.

"I admire your enthusiasm, Sanji. But I think we should atleast come up with something that doesn't involve suicide." Usopp said as a sweatdrop went down his forehead.

While they were talking, Luffy, Zoro, Chopper, and Robin got to the opposite side of where their crewmates were. "Hey, I think we have been here before." Luffy said happily.

"How come it's noisy?" Chopper asked.

"Take a look for yourselves." Zoro said with narrowed eyes as he was looking down at the vast area, where the Space pirates are working.

"I don't believe that was there before." Robin said while looking at the generator.

"Who are those guys? They look scary…" Chopper said fearfully.

"Probably some other aliens that live here or something." Zoro said.

Luffy then squinted his eyes towards the other side of the area, and noticed his crew there. "Hey, there is Nami and everyone else over there!" Luffy said excitedly.

"Really!? Oh, thank goodness that they are okay!" Chopper said excitedly.

"OI GUYS! WE ARE OVER HE-!" Luffy yelled until Zoro covered his mouth.

"Are you trying to blow our cover!?" Zoro hissed.

Nami, Usopp, and Franky heard Luffy's yelling and looked towards the other side of the vast area. "Hey, look! It's Luffy and the others!" Usopp said.

"It's about time they got here." Nami said grumpily.

"Should we go to them?" Franky asked.

"My legs are killing me. I prefer that they come over here." Nami said.

"Oi! Are you guys okay!? Is anyone injured over there!?" Usopp hissed so quietly, Nami barely heard him.

"Like they can here you, you moron." Nami said as Usopp then glared at her for a second.

From the other side of the area, Chopper tried to hear what Usopp tried to say. "I couldn't hear what Usopp was saying." Chopper said while looking back at his crewmates.

"Doesn't really matter what he had to say anyway." Zoro said, "The important thing right now is what to do with those guys down there."

"Are they bad guys or something?" Luffy asked.

"Possibly… they are wearing the same armor just like those monstrous creatures and that corpse we saw earlier this night. According to Longnose-san and Miss Navigator information, these creatures might be Space pirates." Robin said.

"Wha!? So these are the guys we have to beat up!?" Luffy asked.

"I could be wrong. So let us not take any sudden actions towards them just yet." Robin said.

They then started to spy down at the Space pirates quietly. At the other side of the area, Nami and the others were still trying to figure out what to do.

"I can't stand being here! Lets go regroup with the others!" Usopp hissed nervously.

"We can't take the chance on going around here. They might have see us for all we know." Nami whispered.

"How long are you two going to be in denial?" Franky asked, "You know that Strawhat is going to attack them any second now."

"We know that. But he doesn't know that they are Space pirates, so there is no danger… yet." Nami said as she looks back at the other side.

"I still say that we should beat them up, even if they aren't Space pirates. They look so evil to me." Luffy said with annoyance.

"Luffy, I don't think we need to attack them. They are not doing anything bad to anybody." Chopper said.

"Until now that is. Look." Zoro said bluntly. They peered over the ledge as they then saw some Space pirates dragging the barely conscious Samus to a wall.

"Wha!? They got the transexual!" Luffy yelled in surprise.

"Oh my gosh! What happened to her!?" Chopper asked.

"With that kind of damage her armor has, I'd say she lost against something." Robin said calmly.

"These guys… they might be Space pirates." Zoro said.

At the other side of the area, Nami and the others were as shocked as their crew were. "Samus! The Space pirates got Samus!" Usopp hissed in disbelief.

"I don't believe it. That babe is tough. How can she get caught by those losers?" Franky asked.

Samus looked down at the area, seeing Samus being unable to move. "Sa… mus?" Sanji said with a less depressing tone.

"That's it! I am going down there!" Franky exclaimed as he was about to get up, but Nami held him back.

"Wait! It's risky going down there! Now that they have a hostage, they can kill her at anytime!" Nami hissed.

"Well what the hell do we do to save her!?" Franky asked.

"Let's just wait, and see what happens. Then we'll make a move!" Nami hissed as she then looked down at Samus. "Luffy, what are you going to do?"

At the other side of the area, Luffy was angrily looking down at Samus, getting kicked several times by a couple of Space pirates.

"Guys, we have to go down there, and kick the living crap out of them!" Luffy yelled angrily at his crew.

"They have the advantage of winning right now! They'll kill her the instant we go down there." Zoro said. Luffy scoffed at Zoro and angrily looks back down.

Down at the area, The Space pirates that were kicking Samus earlier stopped as they then shoved her head to the floor. "You are lucky that we can't kill you right now, or else our boss would kill us for disobeying his orders." said one of the pirates.

"Where is that weak Luminoth?" asked another pirate.

"He is right over there, trying to rot himself to death."

"Bring him over here. Let's have a little fun with him."

A couple of Space pirates walked by the generator and forced U-mos on his feet. "Hey, it's U-mos!" Chopper said in surprise. The Space pirates around U-mos didn't like him levitating, so one of them kicked him to his knees before pulling on his wings, dragging him towards Samus. Luffy was getting more angry than before upon seeing U-mos getting mistreated so badly.

They shoved U-mos back into a wall, right next to Samus. "Look at them. Such a perfect sight for such a pathetic couple." One of the Space pirates said as he and his companions then started to laugh at them.

"Oi! They have the ten foot bug bro!" Franky hissed angrily.

"O-Oh no… everyone we know here is going to die." Usopp whimpered.

"If he is there… then that must mean that he isn't the bad guy afterall." Nami said in surprise.

"Of course he wasn't! You just realized that!?" Franky asked.

"Samus…" Sanji said with a slightly less depressing tone.

Back down at the area, the Space pirates continued to mock Samus and U-mos. "You two thought that you can defeat everybody, but look where you are now. It's over for you two!" mocked one of the pirates.

"Just because we are in our last breath… does not mean that we will lose against the likes of you." U-mos said as he glared at the mocking pirate.

"Are you threatening us? You want piece of us!? Huh!? Is that what you want!?" asked the pirate as he then grabbed U-mos around his neck and threw him behind himself. U-mos landed hard on the ground as the Space pirate that threw lifted his head and punched him across the face.

Luffy was very furious now. He was so angry, he was breaking part of the ledge he was holding on to. The Space pirate grabbed U-mos by the head and placed his arm blade close to his neck.

"Hey, what are you doing? We are only suppose to kill him if he does something suspicious." one of the Space pirates said.

"We will just tell our boss that he did do something suspicious, and we had no choice but to kill him. He is going to die anyway, so why not kill him now?" The space pirate as he then turned around to kill U-mos, but saw something that stopped him. He saw an arm stretching towards one of the generator's legs.

"STO OOO OOO OOO OOP PPP PPP PPPP III III III III III IIT TTT TTT TTT TTT!!!!"

All the Space pirates looked up towards a ledge of the area and saw Luffy, who was the one holding the generator's leg from all the way where he was. "GOMU GOMU NO KAMA!!" Luffy pulled himself towards the Space pirate that wanted to kill U-mos, and clotheslined right through his neck.

"GRUAAHH!!" cried the Space pirate in pain as he crashed onto the floor with the back of his head, instantly knocking him out. All the Space pirates in the area were shocked at what just happened. U-mos was surprised as well, but he was also relieved to see Luffy at his aid.

"Wh-What just happened!?" asked one of the Space pirates.

"Who is that!?"

Luffy stood up and angrily looked at the Space pirates. "I AM GOING TO BEAT YOU ALL UP!! UUU UUU UAA GGG GHH HHHH!!!" Luffy yelled furiously.

"That's our cue! Let's go!" Franky exclaimed.

"Um, maybe we should just stay here where it's sa-FFEE!?" Usopp cried out as Franky grabbed Usopp and then jumped down to the area with him.

"Jeez…" Nami whined as she lowered herself gently to the area by sliding down the curved wall. Sanji, who was slowly getting back to his usual self, pulled himself over the ledge, causing him to slide down the curved wall, and land on the floor with his head.

"He always does the first move." Zoro commented as he then jumped down to the area. Robin created a ladder of hands out of the wall.

"Let's get going, Doctor-san." Robin said kindly as she went down the ladder of hands first.

"Um… okay." Chopper said as he nervously went down the ladder without looking down. The Strawhat crew finally regrouped, and faced towards the Space pirates. Luffy cracks his knuckles as he looked at the pirates, ready to attack.

"So who is going down first?"

Meanwhile…

At the higher cliffs of Aether, Ridley sat on a huge piece of metal, panting lightly. "To think I had to use my strongest move against such a pathetic opponent. I really need to control myself next time." Ridley said in consideration. He was actually sitting on some parts that used to be a part of Quadraxis, which completely destroyed by Ridley.

"I don't have the time slack off. I need to head back, and kill Samus." Ridley said as he got up on his feet. He then noticed glowing behind him. He turned around and saw blue little dots floating around him. "Fireflies… no. It cant be!" Ridley yelled in surprise as the blue dots then headed towards the area underneath the Sky temple. "If 'she' gets over there, my plan is ruined!"

Ridley spreads his wings and chased after the blue dots.

Meanwhile…

"GOMU GOMU NO PISTOL!" Luffy stretched his arm and punches a regular Space pirate in the face, instantly knocking him out.

"Who are these guys!?" asked one of the Space pirates before he got slashed from behind by Zoro. Usopp was hiding behind one of the generator's legs, trying his best not to be seen. Franky wrapped his arm around a Space pirate's head and punched him repeatedly with the other arm. Chopper, who was in his Heavy point, lifted up a group of Space pirates, and threw them towards another group of pirates, knocking them down to the floor. Robin was simply standing on one spot, clutching any Space pirate's spine if any of them got too close to her.

"Sanji! Get up and help us already!" Nami yelled as she whacked a regular Space pirate with her PCT.

"I… don't know what to do…" Sanji said as he was still on his head.

"USHI BARI!" Zoro dashes through some Space pirates in front of him, slashing repeatedly as he past by. He took down all of the pirates that stood in his way and quickly runs towards U-mos' aid. Zoro did a vertical slash through U-mos' handcuffs, cutting them in half, allowing U-mos to be free.

"Thank you." U-mos said in gratitude.

"Thank me after this is over." Zoro said bluntly as he then went on to attack more Space pirates.

Usopp was shivering behind one of the generator's legs as he was unaware that a Space pirate was sneaking up behind him. Usopp could hear the footsteps behind and immediately turns around with his shut fear, accidentally hitting the sneaking Space pirate across the head. Usopp held his hand in pain as he then realized that the Space pirate he hit was now glaring at him angrily, with a big bump on the side of his head. "AAAHHHH!!" Usopp cried in feaer as he ran for his life, with the Space pirate chasing him everywhere. Then the Space pirate got hit across the face by Luffy, who was still furious.

"IS THIS ALL YOU GOT!?!?" Luffy asked as he then charged at a group of Space pirates. "GOMU GOMU NO GATLING GUN!" Luffy repeatedly punches every Space pirate in front of him, knocking them all down. He then stopped and stretched his leg while turning around. "GOMU GOMU NO MUCHI!" Luffy does a stretched horizontal kick at the group of Space pirates behind him, causing them to crash to a wall next to them. Luffy then got ambushed by more Space Pirates as they swung their arm blades at him, but Luffy had no problem dodging them. Luffy dodged a horizontal slash from a pirate before countering with an uppercut across the chin. He then jumped towards another Space pirate and kicked him in the face.

"What is wrong with this kid!?" asked a feared Space pirate, astonished with Luffy's strength. He was standing in front of Samus, who didn't move much since she received her injuries. It turns out that her was in a suspension state, meaning that it is recovering the damages it received slowly. Once her armor was fully replenished, she immediately got up and whacked the feared Space pirate in front of her with her arm cannon. She was a little angry upon seeing Luffy and the others, but decided to ignore that for now as she started shooting any Space pirates at her sight.

"Samus is up! What do we do now!?" asked a Space pirate in fear. Suddenly, the Pirate Commander warped into the area and saw the cause that was happening.

"What is going on here!?" asked the Commander.

"Commander! Thank goodness you are here! These guys came out of nowhere, and started to attack us for no reason!" said the Space pirate.

"Why didn't you contacted me earlier!?" asked the Commander.

"We couldnt! That kid over there is not giving us a chance to do anything!"

The Commander saw Luffy, beating up even more Space pirate by the second. "What in the name of… !? If this keeps up, then we will fail our leader. I cannot let that happen!" The Commander said as he touched a button on his helmet. "We need reinforcements! We have trouble down here!"

As he finished his call for help, Space pirate ships started to fly down towards the area. Some of the opened up their hatches to let out a couple of Space pirates inside, while other ships were targeting towards the Strawhat crew.

"Oh no! There are more of them!" Usopp cried in fear.

"Excellent! Now I can kick more asses! YYAAAAAAAAAGGGHHHH!!" Luffy yelled as he charged at the reinforcements. Franky finally lets go of the guy he was hitting and looks at his surroundings to see Space pirates, hovering around him with their jetpacks.

"You want to play, huh? That's fine with me!" Franky said as he aims at them with his left arm. "BEANS LEFT!" Franky fired multiple rounds at the hovering Space pirates, but they were hard to hit as they were evading Franky's shots with ease. One of them then fired a missile at Franky, who rolled forward to dodge it. "WEAPONS LEFT!" Franky fires a missile from his wrist, killing one of the hovering Space pirates. "Ha ha ha ha! Can't take me down, bro!" Franky mocked as he then started to fire more missiles from his wrist at other hovering Space pirates.

Usopp was screaming in fear as he was running away from a Space pirate ship, chasing him from above. Usopp was doing his best avoiding the projectiles it was firing to him. When Usopp got close to a wall in front of him, he jumped on it before doing a backflip off of it, making him face towards his enemy while being upside down. "ATLAS SUISEI!" Usopp fired four explosive pellets at the same time at the ship's core, causing it to explode upon impact. Usopp landed on his head while the parts of the ship fell everywhere. "Oww…" Usopp said as he got back up, and soon saw another ship going towards him. "Ahhh!! Not again!" cried Usopp as he ran away from his second ship.

"Hiyaaaaa!!" Chopper roared as he punched a Space pirate in the gut. Another Space pirate behind him was about to slash at him with his arm blade, but arms sprouted out of his body.

"CLUTCH!" The hands forced the Space pirate to arch his back until his spine was broken. Chopper looked behind his shoulder and thanked Robin for saving him by nodding. Chopper then angrily looked back at the group of Space pirates as he then transformed into his walk point and galloped towards them. When he got close enough, he leaped into the air while transforming into his Heavy point, allowing him to tackle the group of Space pirates in front of him.

A Space pirate threw a grenade at Zoro, who jumped over it as it exploded behind him. "TAKANAMI!" Zoro creates a gust of wind that knocked the Space pirate and his group off their feet. Zoro quickly lands on his feet and made a panther stance. "HYOU KIN DAMA!" Zoro jumped forward while spinning with his swords spread out, slashing every pirate that was in midair. Zoro landed on his feet once more as the Space pirates he attacked limplessly fell on the ground.

"GOMU GOMU NO…" Luffy stretched his arms and grabs onto each of the generator's legs, "… OGAMA!" Luffy springs himself foward as he went right underneath the generator. He then spreads his arms, and double clotheslined the Space pirates in front of him as he went by. Luffy then raised his feet and jumped off the wall in front of him before he could land on the ground with his feet. There was one Space pirate that appeared behind Luffy out of nowhere, and was about to cut him in half, until he got shot in the face by Samus.

"I told you to not follow me!" Samus yelled angrily at Luffy.

"I don't need your permission to do what I want! I will help the ten foot bug-eye people whether you like it or not!" Luffy yelled angrily.

"Tsk!" Samus scoffed as they then ran in opposite directions to fight off the rest of the Space pirates.

"How are they still winning!?" asked the Commander angrily as he pushed the communicator button at the side of his helmet. "Send in the Elite pirates! I don't care how many! Just send them here!"

Just as the Commander ordered, three ships appeared over the area with three big suspension capsules. Nami knocked away a Space pirate before she saw the ships coming down. "What are those!?" Nami asked as the ships then dropped the capsules on the floor. The ships then left as the capsules then shattered open, revealing three enormous and bulky Space pirates awakening from the slumber.

"Big monsters! Really big monsters!" Usopp cried in fear as the Elite pirates started to attack. One of them lowered his big arm blade down at Zoro, who parried by using all three swords.

"Too… heavy…" Zoro grunted as he was having a little trouble trying to push the Elite pirate back.

"Hold still, bro! I got him!" Franky yelled as he aimed at the Elite pirate with his left arm. "WEAPONS LEFT!" Franky fired a missile at the Elite pirate's head, but it didn't kill him. Even though it didn't kill him, it was enough to push him aside, allowing Zoro to push his blade away.

"TOU ROU NAGASHI!" Zoro jumps and spins, repeatedly slashing it's abdomen. The Elite pirate landed on his knees as Samus charged up her arm cannon.

"SUPER MISSILE!" Samus fired a Super missile at the back of the Elite pirate's head. This killed the Elite pirate as he went crashing down to the floor.

The second Elite pirate swung it's arm blade horizontally at Chopper, who changed into his normal point in order to dodge. Multiple arms then sprouted out of the Elite pirate, trying to hold him in place. "This one is too strong…" Robin said as she was loosing her grip on the Elite pirate.

"Don't worry. I'll help you!" Chopper said as he transformed into his Heavy point. "HEAVY GONG!" Chopper jumped and punched the Elite pirate in the face, causing him to lose balance.

"CLUTCH!" the hands arched the Elite pirate's back, breaking his spine as he fell dead on the floor.

The last Elite pirate glared at Usopp, who was on the platforms next to the generator. "HISSATSU KATAKI BOSHI!" Usopp fired an explosive pellet at the Elite pirate's face, but he didn't budge. "BOSHI! BOSHI! BOSHI! BOSHI! BOSHI! WAGUUUMO! BOSHI! BOSHI" Usopp repeatedly fired more explosives, and one rubberband, to the Elite pirate, but he was still standing.

"Dont attack him there, you fool!" yelled the pirate Commander, "We need to protect that generator from harm at all cost!"

"Generator? Oh, of course! I almost forgot!" U-mos said in surprise as he remembered something important, "Luffy! Destroy that generator! It's going to destroy this planet!"

"What!? I won't let that happen!" Luffy yelled as he charged to the generator, but was knocked back by the Commander, who appeared out of nowhere.

"I won't let you do that! You will have to go through me first!" The Commander said as he got into his battle position.

"We'll handle this, Luffy! You just focus on beating him up!" Franky said as he connected his arms to a small pipe.

"Okay!" Luffy yelled as he quickly charged at the Commander. Luffy threw a fist at him, but he warped himself behind Luffy to slash him, but Luffy quickly dodged by arching his back backwards before the Commander did a horizontal slash. Luffy then countered by raising his foot, and hitting the Commander in the face. The Commander staggered back a few feet as Luffy quickly got on his feet, and stretched his arm. "GOMU GOMU NO PISTOL!" Luffy stretches his arm at the Commander, but he dodged by doing multiple backflips. Once he did his final backflip, he threw a grenade at Luffy. "GOMU GOMU NO FUUSEN!" Luffy inflated himself as he bounced the grenade back to the Commander, who warped away before it exploded.

"THUNDERBOLT TEMPO!" Nami threw a thunder ball into a cloud she made over the Elite pirate during Luffy's battle as the cloud lets out a humongous thunderstorm, shocking the life out of the Elite pirate. Samus turned into her Morph ball mode as her armor started to glow yellow.

"BOOST BALL!" Samus rolled with great speed as she went up a ramp made out of arms Robin created, and went flying right through the Elite pirate's stomach. Samus changed back to her normal mode, and landed on her feet as the Elite pirate behind her landed on the floor dead. Usopp got off of the generator, and got out of way as Franky was ready to destroy the generator.

"GOMU GOMU NO PISTOL!" Luffy thrusts his arm and punched the Pirate Commander in the face.

"UAGH!" cried the Commander as he then crashed to the generator before falling on the floor. "I.. mustn't.. fail.." The Commander said as he groggily tried to get up, but sees Franky aiming at him.

"Tough luck, bro. 70MM KOUKEI 1.5 COLA POWER…" Franky's arms started to suck in huge amounts of air, "COUP DE VENT!" Franky fired a huge force of air towards the Commander and the generator. The force was so powerful, the structure of the generator started to crumble. The Commander however, was already sent crashing into a wall, and was now completely unconscious. Franky's attack severely damaged the generator, but it was somehow still standing. "What the!? Is the thing nailed to the floor or what?"

"Amazing power…" U-mos said astonished.

"You did good, Franky. I'll handle it from here." Nami said as she was about to form another cloud.

"Man, what a night this has been. What else can happen… next?" Usopp said as he saw something heading towards the generator. "LOOK OUT!"

Some sort of blue meteorite crashed right into the generator, destroying it completely. Everyone fell on their backs due to the force of the blow. Everyone groggily got on their feet, and saw what destroyed the generator.

"Huh? What just happened?" Luffy asked.

"Something destroyed the thing… but what?" Zoro asked. His eyes then widened as he saw something coming out of it.

"Dark Samus!" Samus yelled in surprise as she saw Dark Samus, walking out of the parts of the generator.

"It's the monster that attacked us on the ship!" Usopp cried in fear. Luffy angrily rushes towards it and tried to punch Dark Samus, but the Phazonic aura around her caused Luffy to back away in pain, giving Dark Samus the chance to shoot at him, knocking him down to the floor. Samus tried to fire at her, but Dark Samus knocked her down as well.

"LUFFY!" Chopper cried as Dark Samus quickly headed to Zoro, and kicked him away.

"Grr!" Zoro grunted as Dark Samus shot a charged shot near Franky's feet, knocking him down as well.

"Not again! THUNDER CHARGE!" Nami charged the tip of her PCT with thunder and was about to attack Dark Samus, but she already appeared in front of her. Nami gasped as Dark Samus then thrusted her arm cannon to Nami's stomach. "Gah..!"

Sanji saw what happened as his depressed look suddenly changed. "NAMI-SAN!" Yelled Sanji worryingly as he saw Nami landing on her back. Sanji then got really angry as he got on his feet, and charged at Dark Samus with fury. "DAMN YOU!!" Sanji yelled as he tried to kick Dark Samus, but she dodged and countered with a left fist across Sanji's face, and then an explosive blast to Sanji's body. "AHHH!!" Sanji cried in pain as he landed next to Nami. "Nami-san… are you okay!?"

"I'm… fine… eh!" Nami cried in pain as she couldn't get up. Dark Samus was about to fire at Sanji again, until she got hit by a fire ball. She looked up and saw Ridley, coming down at her. Dark Samus quickly got away by turning into a ball, and flying out of the area as fast as she could.

Ridley landed on the ground, and looked at his surroundings. He did not like what he was seeing. Most of his men were unconscious, while some were dead. His Commander was knocked out, his generator was destroyed, and most importantly, Samus was standing on her feet, which angered Ridley even more.

"WHAT IS GOING ON HERE!?!?" Ridley asked angrily. Usopp was petrified to see Ridley as he fell on his rear. Ridley noticed him and angrily looked at him. "YOU! You were that maggot from earlier! What have you done to my men!?"

"I-I-I-I…" Usopp whimpered as Luffy got on his feet.

"Oi! Who are you!? Why are you yelling at Usopp!?" Luffy asked with his hat lowered. Ridley looked at him with curiosity.

"Eh? And who dares to ask me that?" Ridley asked while glaring at Luffy.

"I am Luffy! The future Pirate King!!" Luffy yelled. The area got really quiet as Ridley didn't seem to understand what he just heard.

"Is this… some kind of joke?"

Preview: That blue attacked my crew again, and now this bird is making fun of what I stand for. I wont let him have the last laugh! I will be the Pirate king no matter what he said! Next time on One Piece: A Smash Adventure; Chapter 63: Mockery!, At sunrise we battle. I am gonna be the Pirate King!

There is still alot more of this arc to come. This arc might end a couple of chapters, but I am not sure how many. See ya!

Metroid Pt 12

I am so sorry for the delay, again! This whopper of a chapter will make up from all that time you waited. Now, remember when I said that this arc is going to be longer than the rest? Well, it is. I am going to try and cramp up most details as much as I can. But I dont want to hold you back any longer. Enjoy!

The encounter with the doppelganger. The Strawhat crew were able to regroup as they then fought with the Space pirate crew. No matter how many Space pirates there were, the Strawhat crew were victorious by destroying their Phazonic generator, and saving Samus and U-mos at the same time. But the Strawhat's victory came to a halt as Dark Samus confronted them once again and she has taken them down to their knees for the second time. After that happened, Ridley showed up and furious to see all his plans shattered by the people he did not expect to see in his life. What does he have to say to the Strawhat crew?

Chapter 63: Mockery!, At sunrise we battle

It was already daytime. The Strawhat crew were in the Sky temple in U-mos' quarters. Everyone was quiet after the events that happened in the area beneath them during the night. Chopper was bandaging Nami's wounds, Usopp is fixing his broken hammer with materials he found during the night with a frown on his face, Zoro was taking a nap with his arms crossed, Robin was with U-mos as he was checking some things in his Energy controller.

"This sucks…" Franky said grumpily while leaning his back on the wall with his arms crossed.

"He wasn't right, you know?" Zoro said while opening his eyes, "That Ridley guy will find that out, sooner or later."

"I know that bird wasn't right. It just that it pissed me off hearing him say that." Franky said.

Chopper finished putting bandages on Nami's wounds and soon joined the conversation. "Where is Sanji?" Chopper asked.

"He wanted to be alone. He seemed rather upset about something." Robin said while looking at Chopper behind her shoulder.

Next to the entrance of the big area underneath U-mos' quarters, Sanji was sitting down on the floor, next to a machine known as the save station. He was smoking in silence as the smoke was covering up the room he was in. Instead of being depressed, he was rather angry about Dark Samus' actions, but didn't seem to show it as his head was lowered.

Back with everyone else, the discussion about what happened last night still continued. "It's already sunrise. Why isn't Ridley attacking us like he said he would?" Chopper asked.

"He must be mocking us by letting us do the first move. It sickens me that every enemy we encounter keeps underestimating us." Zoro said.

"Hey, where is Strawhat anyway?" Franky asked.

"He is up there, keeping watch incase Ridley shows up." Nami said as she got up to her feet. "He should have gotten rid of Ridley when he had the chance."

"What good would that do?" Usopp asked with a frown. "He could have killed us if Luffy attacked him that night."

Nami had a confused expression on her face as she looked up where Luffy was. "Luffy…"

Luffy was on top of the temple, looking at the sun, rising up from the mountains. "Where is he…?" Luffy muttered, "Where is he…"

FLASHBACK

Luffy glared at Ridley for yelling at Usopp. Ridley however, had a confused look on his face. "So…" Ridley began to say, "You are telling me that you people are pirates?"

"Yeah, we are! You have a problem with that!?" Luffy asked angrily.

"And all of these people here… they are your crew?" Ridley asked curiously.

"How many times do I have to tell you, you ugly pigeon!? We are pirates!" Luffy yelled angrily.

"O-Oi, Luffy. I don't think it is a good idea to yell at him. He might kill us…" Usopp whimpered while shaking in fear.

"So you are all pirates? Huh… interesting. I thought that you were soldiers from the Galactic federation since of your foul appearances, but I guess I was wrong." Ridley said as he turned to face Samus, who was glaring back at him. "Who ever knew that you would be rescued by the kind of people you loathe the most."

"I didn't ask for them to rescue me. They came here in their own free will." Samus said bluntly.

"Heh heh heh. You have degraded yourself as far as I know; getting rescued by a bunch of second rate pirates." Ridley said amusingly as this angered Luffy and the others.

"Eh… who is this guy?" Zoro asked while getting up on his feet.

"Ridley. The Space pirate leader." U-mos said with slight tone of anger. Ridley turned back at Luffy and looked down at him.

"You said that you are the captain of this crew, right?" Ridley asked, "I guess that is more believable than this guy over here saying he is the captain the first time I met him."

"I-I-I am the co-captain. Y-You should know how strong I am after fighting with me. Heh heh." Usopp giggled nervously, but Ridley ignored him.

"So… do you guys have a crew name, or should I just call you the second rate pirates?" Ridley asked uncaring.

"We are the Strawhat pirates!" Luffy yelled angrily. Ridley scoffed at this as Luffy then continued. "We are from another world, and we came here to get the Mystery heart!"

"Hmm?" Ridley muttered.

"Luffy, he didn't needed to know that part! Just stay quiet already!" Usopp barked at Luffy.

"I don't care what you came here to get." Ridley said bitterly as he walked closer to Luffy, "This world is going to be a part of my property soon, and I don't want some pathetic humans to be here when that happens."

Luffy and Ridley glared at each other angrily, giving a hatred feeling around the atmosphere. Everyone else was a little anxious to see what would happen next, except for Usopp, who only wants to leave.

"Well, if you don't want us here, then that is just fine with us." Usopp said as calmly as he could, "Come on, Luffy. We don't want to trouble him any longer. We might as well leave here before he kills now then later. Ha ha ha!"

"We are not going anywhere!" Luffy said as this baffled Usopp in fear.

"Oh come on, Luffy!" Usopp whimpered, "We may have done extreme things in the past, but this way too much for us to handle! We are merely pirates who sail through dangerous seawaters that suddenly ended up in another world! It was obvious that the cruel nature of fate wanted us to die bravely while trying to get back home.

So let's do that and die peacefully instead of being tortured to death! I beg of you!"

"Wait a second… seawaters?" Ridley asked rather shocked at what he just heard, "Is it possible that you all are… Sea pirates?" Ridley then started to chuckle at this. "This makes more sense now. The clothes, the crew, the attitude, I never knew that I would actually meet one in person. Heh heh heh heh heh! This is so hilarious!"

"What are you talking about!? What is so damn funny being a Sea pirate!?" Luffy asked.

"Ohh, don't you see it, kid!?" Ridley asked as the sheer loudness of his voice scared the heck out of Usopp. "What I am looking at right now are bunch of fairy tale people!"

"What do you mean!?" Luffy asked.

"Have you not realized it yet!? There is a huge difference between us." Ridley said while lowering his head down to Luffy's level, "You Sea pirates are the most primitive lifeforms in this part of the galaxy. The things you guys think and act are so ridiculous, it's not even funny. Unlike me and other Space pirates, we do not dream about our goals, we achieve them! How long does it take for your kind to get what you want? Five or ten years? We Space pirates only take atleast a month or less. Only I do envy you a bit. I could kill to encounter a military of your ranks instead of the ones I am dealing with right now. It would make things so much easier for me."

"You do not know what kind of military we have to encounter during our travels." Robin said bluntly. Ridley glared at her a little bit before he chuckled again.

"I expected an answer like that. What less of an answer can you get from Sea pirate?" Ridley asked as he then looked back at Luffy, "I don't know what you people are searching for here, but I think you should quit while you still have the chance. The odds of you people succeeding your dreams will never happen here, nor anywhere else.

I mean, what can you accomplish with only 8 people? Regular Sea pirates makes more sense than you and your crew."

"It doesn't matter how many people I have in my crew! We are strong enough to take down anyone!" Luffy said.

"You call yourself a captain, yet you don't act like one!" Ridley said, "You gathered these people to be a part of your crew, but is it really just because you wanted them to, or was it that you were so desperate, that you have to find the most pathetic people out there so you can act superior then them? Or maybe it is the other way around? They must have accepted to be your crew after they lost a sibling or a friend. They might have lost their will to live, and decided to spoil the rest of their lives with you, trying to atleast achieve their longlife dream. But by joining you, that only worsened their chances of doing that! Ha ha ha ha ha ha!"

Luffy unclenched his fist after hearing that. His crew were also very angry at what Ridley just said, including Usopp and Chopper. They have went through something like that in the past, and they got to be insulted just because of that. They now know that Ridley must go down.

"And what's even more ridiculous is that you want to become the Pirate King. I have never heard such garbage in my life." Ridley mocked, "Is that title some sort of tradition you humans do in your world? Because if it is, then you people are just making a fool out of yourselves. You cannot become the Pirate king just by beating pirates in your world. You have to face real pirates that come from better worlds. Like me, for example; you don't stand chance against me. That's why you should quit before it's too late!"

Ridley then backhanded Luffy in the face, knocking him down to the floor. "Luffy!" Usopp cried worryingly as Luffy seemed to be alright, but was in deep in thought to move.

"If I wanted to, I could squash you and your crew like the filthy insects you people are. But I prefer to let you guys live for now, and think about your decision whether you want to continue to pose as pirates or not." Ridley said as he then pointed diagonally towards the air. "Sunrise! That is time you have until I make my move again! I'll come back here, and see if you people are stupid enough to fight against me or not! The choice is yours!"

Ridley then spreads his wings and flapped them as he raised himself up a few feet from the ground. "Think about it, Sea pirate!" Ridley yelled as he then flew away with great speed.

U-mos glared at where Ridley left before looking back at Luffy with concern. "Luffy, are you alright?"

Luffy sat up and brushed the dust off his vest. He then looked behind his shoulder, and did his usual smile to U-mos. "Don't worry about me. Are you okay?" Luffy asked kindly.

"Um… yes, I am." U-mos replied confusedly.

"That's great!" Luffy said while getting up on his feet. "Man, that bird can hit hard. I almost lost my jaw. Heh heh. Hmm? Hey Nami, are you okay?"

"A little… I can barely get up." Nami replied as Sanji helped her up silently.

"Oh. Well Chopper can fix that up, right, Chopper?" Luffy asked.

"Luffy, are you okay?" Chopper asked concernedly.

"Sure, why wouldn't I be?" Luffy asked confusedly.

"Is just that I thought you would be angry what Ridley said just now." Chopper said.

"Oh, we all know he was wrong. Don't worry; he will regret saying that after I am through with him." Luffy said happily. "But man, this place is a wreck. We almost destroyed the ten foot bug-eye people statues. Sorry about that."

"It's alright. That can be fixed later." U-mos said.

"Cool! Let's get back to your temple, and think of way to kick that ugly bird's ass." Luffy said as he and his crew were about to leave.

"Fools. All of you are fools!"

Luffy stopped walking as Samus was the one who said that. "You just let Ridley walk all over you! You didn't do anything to protect the honor of your friends! You may not care of what he said to you, but what about your friends!? Don't you care about what they have just gone through!?" Samus asked angrily.

Nobody responded her. Luffy had no answer for her. "You pirates are all the same!" Samus scolded, "You care only about yourselves, and not for others! You would kill your own family just to get what you want! You people are no better than Ridley. He-"

Suddenly, Luffy turned around and angrily punched Samus in the face. He punched her so hard, he shattered her visor into little pieces. Everyone was shocked as Samus landed hard on the floor.

"Luffy, what are you doing!?" Usopp asked baffled. Samus then groggily sat up and removed her helmet. She angrily looked up at Luffy and aimed her arm cannon at him.

"I knew you were nothing but scum!" Samus began to say, "I will kill you right-"

"SHUT UP!!!" Luffy yelled angrily, interrupting Samus. "I know what just happened! He insulted us; so what!? He is not right about it! I didn't had to prove he was wrong, that's why I didn't fight back! You think I wasn't angry at what he said!? Of course I was angry, and I still am! There is nothing that makes me more furious then somebody making fun of my crew! I will kick the living hell out of anybody who dares do that!"

Samus was surprised and confused to see Luffy to act so differently then what she is used to. "I know that you hate pirates because they killed your family, but that doesn't mean that you have to reject everybody that tries to help you, even if they are pirates! You are not alone because you lost your family, you are alone because you want to! You fear that you would lose more people that you care about in the future; that is why you don't want any help! But let's face it; it's not because you prefer to work alone, it's because you are a coward!!"

Samus gasped. She wanted to say something to defend herself, but was too afraid to do so. She knew deep down that Luffy was right. Luffy didn't say anything as he then turned around and silently walked away. His crew followed him as U-mos did as well. Luffy took one last look at Samus and shook his head before leaving Samus alone.

"Damn!" Samus muttered as a tear went down her face.

END OF FLASHBACK

Luffy continued to look at the windy skies as below him, his crew his figuring out what to do. "So this Ridley guy tried to take down this world with the Phazon thing." Franky said, "And he also is the guy who took the light away from the bug bros."

"Where did all the Luminoth go anyway?" Usopp asked while putting his new hammer in his bag.

"They are in their stasis tubes. I told them to stay there until this crisis is over." U-mos said.

"What about you?" Robin asked.

"I will fight for my species right to live. I will not allow anything bad to happen to this planet even if I die in battle." U-mos said confidently.

"-sniff-… man, you have a good soul, bro. Good soul." Franky cried in joy.

"Anyway, I think we can restore the light of Aether from Ridley, but it will not be easy." U-mos said.

"Good. I don't plan to do easy tasks." Zoro said while getting up.

"Fine then." U-mos said as he then made a holograph of an energy controller. "As you know, these devices store the light of Aether. There are three more of them. One of them is in Agon wastes; the other one is in Torvus bog; and the last one is in Sanctuary Fortress. We need to reactive the controllers on each of those temples to restore the light of Aether.

"We need to get to those places as quick as we can, or else this place is doomed, so we can't just go to each temple together." Nami said, "I suggest we split up into three groups. That way, we can reactivate those devices quicker."

"Isn't that a little dangerous? We barely survived those Space pirates last night. Who knows what would happen if we split up." Usopp whimpered.

"We don't have any other choice. Do you want Ridley to win?" Nami asked.

"No, but If we are fast enough, we can probably make it together." Usopp said.

"So who is going with who?" Zoro asked.

"It took me a while, but after receiving some information about the other three temples from U-mos last night, I have come up with the perfect duos for them." Nami said, "Chopper and Robin; you two will head to Agon wastes."

"Yosh! We will do the best we can!" Chopper said confidently as Robin giggled.

"Usopp and Franky, you two will go to Sanctuary Fortress." Nami said.

"Suuupaaa! That place better be ready for me!" Franky said while doing his pose.

"Ohh, my I-cant-go-to-this-temple disease is acting up again." Usopp lied while crouching in pain.

"And last, but not least…" Nami said as Zoro eyed her curiously, "Zoro and I will be going to Torvus bog."

"Wha? Why do I have to go with you?" Zoro asked bitterly.

"Because you will get lost without me." Nami explained.

"That's not what I meant. Why can't you go with the stupid cook instead?" Zoro asked.

"He seemed rather depressed when we got here, so I have no choice but to go with you." Nami said.

"Pfft.. whatever." Zoro shrugged as everyone seemed ready to go.

"I must warn you about the creatures that inhabit in the temples. Try not to encounter them as they can be violent towards strangers." U-mos warned.

"Thanks for the heads up. Now come on, guys. Let's get moving." Nami said as her crewmates followed her, most of them unenthusiastically for their own reasons. Once they left, U-mos looked up towards the sky and looked at Luffy, who seemed to have an emotionless face.

"The strangest thing last night is that the Space pirates mentioned the Ing, yet I have not see one on our way back. Could it be a lie?

Hmm… I fear for the worst to happen." U-mos thought.

The Strawhat crew entered the area below U-mos quarters and were almost surprised to see Samus in front of them. She was holding on to a new helmet around her arm and stood there as the crew simply walked past her without looking at her.

"Wait. I have something to say." Samus said monotonously. The crew stopped, but didn't look back as they awaited for what Samus had to say. "I… apologize for what happened last night. I may have gone a little overboard on what I said, but I just wanted to let you know that I am sorry."

"… Don't apologize to us." Nami said as she then looked at Samus behind her shoulder, "You should apologize to Luffy. He was the one who made you come to your true senses. And to be honest, I hate pirates too, and the last thing I would be doing right now is helping out pirates with something. But the only thing that changes my mind about that, is that they are my family. And I would not let anything bad happen to them… unless I don't feel like it, of course."

"Oi, Oi." Everyone, except for Robin, said while lightly backslapping the air. Samus smirked at that kind of thought.

"… Be careful out there. Ridley somehow managed to brainwash the bounty hunters I mentioned yesterday. They'll probably try to stop you." Samus then looked serious, "I think you guys should get going. Dark Samus knows I am here, so she might be here any second now. I don't want her to attack you, do I?" Samus asked.

Nami grinned and gave the thumbs up to Samus. "Don't worry about us. We'll get the devices in each temple working again. See ya later." Nami said happily as she and her crewmates then left. Samus then puts on her helmet and awaited for Dark Samus to arrive.

A couple of minutes later, the Strawhat crew were already outside as Nami faced her crewmates. "Alright, this is where we split up. Good luck to you all, and try your best not to get slaughtered to death." Nami said confidently.

"Oh, thanks for the support." Usopp said sarcastically. They nodded to eachother as they then separated to go to their respective destinations.

It was a long walk for each duo, but they manage to find the round platforms that will lead them to their designated temples.

"Let's go, Doctor-san." Robin said kindly while getting on the platform.

"Don't call me that! I am not happy you said that to me. I am not!" Chopper said happily while doing his happy dance as he got on the platform as well. The platform then lead them down to Agon wastes.

In an area filled with spider webs, Zoro and Nami had just gotten on the platform that will lead them to Torvus bog. "Don't slow me down." Zoro said.

"Don't get lost." Nami replied before they went down.

In a small room, Usopp and Franky got to their platform that will lead them to Sanctuary fortress. "Ow! I am feeling suuupaaa today. Cant wait to kick some Space pirate butt!" Franky said excitedly.

"Just lead the way, Franky!" Usopp exclaimed courageously, "I got your back!"

"No you don't." Franky said.

"Yeah, you're right." Usopp sighed sadly as the platform lead them down to Sanctuary fortress.

In Agon Wastes…

The platform Chopper and Robin are on landed on the floor as it got clamped tight as well. "Looks like we are here. Shall we get going?"

Robin asked.

"Okay." Chopper said as they went through the hexagon door. They a path of sand in front of them, and some bugs that were hopping from one cliff wall to another. They ignored the bugs as they went to the through a path and went through another hexagon door. They were now in a vast area where they can see a huge machine on top of some cliffs in front of them. They also saw some white spikey balls from the ground. They also saw odd looking birds that are flying around in circles.

"Amazing." Robin said amazed at the sight of the area.

"Where do we go from here?" Chopper asked.

"I am not sure. But since we do not have the time to figure that out, we might as well just pick an entry close to here. Like that door over there." Robin suggested while pointing at a hexagon door at the other end of a sand plain.

"Okay, let's get over there." Chopper said. But as he took one step on the sand plain, a big sandworm, but not as big as Amorbis, came out of the sand. "Waaaaaaaahhhh!! Not another worm!"

The sandworm slithered his way to Chopper, but stopped as a pair of arms sprouted from the side of it's head and blocked it's vision. Chopper took the advantage to transform into his Heavy point and punch the sandworm so hard, it went flying out of the area.

"I did it! I beat the worm!" Chopper said victoriously. He then noticed that Robin was already near the hexagon door they were suppose to go into.

"Doctor-san, let us hurry." Robin said.

"Uh, yeah!" Chopper said as she caught up with her. They went through another hexagon door, and were now in a place in the middle of rocky cliffs. They also saw a save station in front of them, but they didn't pay to much attention to that.

"I think we went the wrong way." Chopper said. Suddenly, multiple odd-looking birds came flying out of a hole were sand was pouring out continuously. Once they were all gone, Robin noticed a passage inside that hole.

"We can try fitting in through there." Robin said. Chopper went ahead and jumped inside the hole next to the hole that was pouring out sand. Chopper crawled inside as Robin soon followed. Chopper stopped crawling as soon as he noticed a path sand leading back outside.

"Robin, can you sprout arms here? I think we need them to get through." Chopper said.

"Certainly." Robin answered kindly as she then crossed her limbs as a row of hands grew from each side of the hole. Chopper grabbed on to one of them as the arms helped Chopper and Robin to get through the force of the sand, and then outside. "There is the next entry." Robin said while looking at a hexagon door.

They went through it and were now in a small corridor. They walked through it and also went through between a glass ramp. Once they went through that, they got through another small corridor that led them to another hexagon door. They went through and walked along the corridor until they ended up in an enormous hall, with a huge lens at one side of it.

"Wow, this place is big." Chopper said amazed. "Doesn't this place look big, Robin?" Chopper looked behind his shoulder, and noticed Robin was quiet. "What's wrong, Robin?"

"No.. it's nothing." Robin said, but she wasn't too sure of that. They looked around and saw another small corridor that was right next to the big lens.

"Hey, let's go that way." Chopper said as he then started to walk towards it. "Oof!" Chopper then bumped into something, but it was invisible. "Huh?" Suddenly, the thing he bumped into then got visible as it turned out to be a Space pirate Commando. "Waaaaaaaaaaaahhhhhhh!! Robin, they're here!"

A couple of more Commandos showed up and aimed at Robin and Chopper. "Doctor-san… when I give the signal, you strike." Robin said bluntly.

"O-Okay." Chopper said while gulping in fear.

Robin slowly crossed her limbs and hands appeared around most of the commandos. "CLUTCH!" Robin broked their spines as they then fell limplessly on the grounds. Chopper immediately turned into his heavy point and charged at one of them.

"HEAVY GONG!" Chopper swings his fist at a commando, but the commando suddenly disappeared. "Where did he go!?" Chopper asked as he looked at his surroundings alertly. The Commando then reappeared above the lens and was about to shoot Chopper from behind, but suddenly got slashed across his back.

Chopper and Robin saw the commando as he limplessly fell on the ground dead. Then somebody jumped off the huge lens, and landed on his feet as Chopper and Robin couldn't believe who it was.

"Zoro!?" Chopper asked surprised.

"Hey, guys. Missed me?" Zoro asked.

"Zoro, what are you doing here? Where is Nami?" Chopper asked.

"Oh, the stupid cook caught up with her, and I didn't wanted to be with them, so I decided to go with you guys." Zoro replied.

"How did you get here though?" Robin asked.

"Easy, I remembered where you guys headed off to, so I went towards the same direction you guys went. And here I am." Zoro said plainly. Robin didn't believe Zoro, but Chopper did.

"How great! Now we don't have to worry about anybody trying to kill us now that Zoro is here. Right, Robin?" Chopper asked excitedly.

"I… suppose." Robin said, but wasn't to sure of what she said.

"Well, lets just not stand here like a bunch of lumps. Let's get going. I'll lead the way; I know this place from head to toe." Zoro said confidently. This made Robin even more suspicious as she and Chopper followed him.

In Torvus Bog…

"Achoo!" Zoro sneezed as the platform he and Nami were on reached it's destination.

"What's wrong with you? You sick?" Nami asked uncaring.

"Nah, I think somebody was talking about me." Zoro sniffed as they then went through the hexagon door. They were now in some kind of swamp and the pathway had strange looking plants along the way.

"Yuck! Why does this place have to look so gross?" Nami asked, disgusted by the place.

"You expected a beauty parlor? Just focus what we are here for." Zoro said. Nami sighed as she went ahead. She then stopped as she saw some sort of creature that looks like a rhino, but with two legs. Nami stared at it for a little while until the creature growled at her.

"AAAHHH!! MONSTER!" Nami cried in fear as the rhino creature charged at Nami. Zoro immediately got in front of Nami, and pushed the creature back with his swords. The creature got angry and shot electricity from the tip of it's horn. Zoro absorbed the electricity with his swords, which are now electrified. Zoro then leaped over the creature and slashed at it's back before landing on the ground. The creature died as it fell limplessly on the ground.

"Whatever this thing was, it was almost hard as steel. We need to be more alert around here from now on." Zoro said bluntly.

"Where were you!? It took you three seconds to help me! Did you get lost along the way!?" Nami asked angrily. Zoro didn't pay no attention to her as he walked ahead. "Don't ignore me, you idiot!"

Nami stomped ahead of Zoro as they walked through another hexagon door in front of them. They were now in front of a big lake, with metal platforms on the cliff walls. Their were also a metal platform that leads into two different hexagon doors on each of the platform.

"We'll have to jump over there." Zoro said.

"Yeah right! Carry me over there!" Nami demanded. Before Zoro could say anything, plant-like creatures popped out of the lake and swung their leaves on top of their heads in circles in order to hover towards Zoro and Nami.

"Alien pineapples?" Nami asked baffled. She then realized that the plant-like creatures were getting fatter by the second.

"I'll get them." Zoro said as he then sliced the plant-like creature in half, which caused them to explode. Their juices splattered everywhere, even on Nami and Zoro.

"EWW!! GROSS!!" Nami yelled disgustedly. "You idiot! Why did you have to attack them!? Now I am covered in their body juices!"

"You'll live. Now quit whining." Zoro said as he was about to leave, until Nami hits him on the head.

"Where do you think you are going!? You are suppose to carry me over there!" Nami yelled. Zoro groggily got up on his feet while muttering angrily about Nami. Zoro then gave Nami a piggyback ride as he jumped on to the metal platforms. Once they did, Zoro dropped Nami off her back without warning. "What is your problem!? Don't drop me like I was some sort of useless object!"

"Just shut up, and lead the way, woman!" Zoro barked, almost losing his natural tone. Nami glared at Zoro for a while before she started to guess which to go through.

"Let's go this way. Try not to get lost." Nami said uncaring. They went through the hexagon door and walked through a small corridor. They then walked through a little lake, and then walked through another small corridor, which ended them up to another door.

They went through it and were now in an intersection. To the right was a closed cage that led them to a big area with a bridge, while the other leads to another hexagon door. Since Nami saw two rhino creatures through the cage, she decided they should go to the hexagon door instead. They went through it, and ended up in a place with a huge spikey vines blocking the way. Zoro cuts the vines into small pieces as they then continued ahead.

Once again, they went through another door and ended up in another swamp, with a bridge over it.

"Okay, now where do we go?" Nami asked herself.

"Shh!" Zoro hissed.

"What? What are you-"

"Shut up! There is somebody here…" Zoro hissed. He looked around at his surroundings until he heard a sound of a footstep. He quickly unsheathed his sword and thrusted it a few inches close Nami's face. Nami frozed with fear as something turned visible behind her. It was a commando, who was now dead after Zoro thrusted his sword in his face.

"Warn me next time you do that!" Nami yelled.

"Come on!" Zoro said as he grabbed Nami and jumped on the wall, and then jumped off of it to get on the bridge. They ran towards the hexagon door while a couple of commando's attacked them from behind. Zoro turned around and created a cutting wave that knocked them down. He then caught up with Nami as they went through the hexagon door.

In Sanctuary Fortress…

Usopp and Franky went through a hexagon door after the platform they were on led them to their destination. They were in a corridor, with lots of gadgets and gears moving outside the path. "This place is scaring me already." Usopp whimpered.

"Quit whining." Franky said. They walked along the path, looking at some robotic centipedes walking on the walls. They eventually went through a hexagon door and ended up in front of a huge fortress. Franky whistled at the sight of this.

"Now this is what I call a temple. Lots of fancy gadgets and such." Franky said amazed.

"We have to go in there!? Ohh…" Usopp whimpered.

"Easy, bro. There is nobody in sight. We have just go through this bridge and go inside. How hard is that?" Franky asked. Suddenly, four commandos appeared behind them. Franky lowered his sunglasses and looked behind his shoulder fearlessly.

"AAHHH!! We are under attack!" Usopp cried in fear. The commandos then started to fire at the duo, who retreated to towards the bridge.

"FRESH FIRE!" Franky breathed out a stream of fire, and blocked the commandos' way to the bridge. "I blocked their way! They won't be getting through."

"Oh really!? Then what do you say about that!?" Usopp cried as the same commandos reappeared at the other side of the bridge. Franky looked back and forth, wondering how they got over there.

"Okay, I did not expected that." Franky said. The commandos started to shoot at the duo again, who hid behind the crates for defense. "Longnose! Cover me, I am going in!" Franky said as Usopp nodded fearfully. Usopp took a deep breath and got out of hiding.

"HISSATSU KEMURI BOSHI!" Usopp fired an smoke pellet that created a huge smokescreen upon impact. The commandos were temporarily blinded as Franky charged at them.

"FRANKY BOXING!" Franky repeatedly punches the commandos in front of them. Usopp was having a hard time trying to figure out what was happening due to the smoke screen.

"Franky, are you okay in there!?" Usopp asked worryingly. He didn't get answer. "Oh no… I guess I have to go in there and save him. With my new hammer!" Usopp said proudly while holding his new hammer. Usopp gave a valiant cry as he charged into the smoke screen, swinging his hammer frantically. "You can't defeat Captain Usopp! I am indestructible I tell you! INDESTRUCTIBLE!!!"

"Hey, what are you doing, bro? I took care of all of them." Franky said as smoke screen started to clear. It was now known that Franky already took care of the commandos, and Usopp was attacking nobody this whole time.

"Oh… I knew that. I was just training." Usopp lied.

"Yeah, right. Come on, let's get inside." Franky said as they then entered the fortress. They came across an area where machines were being built by other machines. They went inside a room where there was a pillar of light shooting up in the air and jumped on the platforms around it until they got to the second floor. They went through in the right and saw a huge machine through a window. Usopp grabbed onto Franky launched his arm to the other side of the room. He quickly pulled themselves to the other side as they crashed through a window.

"Ouch.. how do these guys walk through these places?" Usopp asked while rubbing his head in pain.

"How should I know? Now come on." Franky said.

They went through another hexagon door and where now in another big room, where there are big robots standing near the walls. Usopp gulped as he and Franky just walked through the corridor and went to their right. They then saw another hexagon door and opened it, leading them to an elevator. They got on it as it led them to a higher floor. They got out of that room and saw a huge gap. Usopp sighed depressingly as Franky launched his arm to a pole sticking out of the ceiling and swung with Usopp to the other side.

"Aint it a little quiet in here?" Usopp asked.

"I know what you mean. There must be a tough guy in this place. Let's hurry up and deal with him." Franky said as Usopp followed him.

Back in Agon wastes…

Robin eyed the person leading her and Chopper. She does not believe that the person leading them towards the energy controller is the actual Zoro. But she is not that sure of it yet.

"We are almost there. Hang tight people." Zoro said as they were walking through a hall.

"Wow, this is the first time you actually leading us somewhere other than the place where we started from." Chopper said amazed.

"Well, I am just that good of a person. Can't let a cute kid, and that hot babe behind all alone, can I?" Zoro asked with a smirk.

"Dummy! I am not happy because you called me cute! I am not happy!" Chopper said happily while doing his happy dance. Robin didn't say anything as they now reached an area that looked like a small coliseum.

"The device is just through that door." Zoro said, "All we need to do is to get through this place and-" Suddenly, a pair of arms appeared from the ground and tripped Zoro to land on his back. "What the!? Zoro saw Robin, who angrily glared at him. "What do you think you are doing!?"

"Robin, why are you attacking Zoro!?" Chopper asked.

"Don't you think it's about time to tell us who you are?" Robin asked angrily.

Zoro got confused by this. "What are you saying!? I am Zoro!"

"You cannot fool me." Robin said, "There are three things that the real Zoro can't and will not do. One, He wouldn't have lead us here even if he tried; Two, he would have taken days to find us by himself; And three, he would never ever call me a hot babe!"

Zoro, or now revealed as the fake Zoro, grinned as he got up. "You quite bright, aren't ya? Too bad that wont do any good for you here." the fake Zoro said with a female voice. The fake Zoro then transformed into his true form, or better yet, her true form as she turned out to be Gandrayda.

"Huh!? What is going on!?" Chopper asked fearfully.

"Haven't you two realized it yet? You must keep your friends close, and your enemies closer." Gandrayda said while clenching her fist.

Back in Torvus Bog…

Zoro and Nami entered in humongous area, where there is a platform that will lead up towards another hexagon door, which is very high up to jump on.

"I think device is behind that door. Let's hurry." Zoro said as he walked ahead.

"Why is it so cold here all of a sudden?" Nami shivered. Suddenly, the platform got shot by a beam of ice, freezing it completely. Zoro and Nami took cover as ice beams started to shower down at the area they were on. Once that was over, Rundas landed in the middle of the area, looking down at Zoro and Nami. "Who is that!?"

"Must be one of those bounty hunters Samus was talking about…" Zoro said while unsheathing his swords. "Well, if he wants to play, then let's play with him."

"Aww, this world is so annoying." Nami whined as they were about to battle.

Back in Sanctuary Fortress…

Usopp screamed as he and Franky jumped down to a big and squared area. Franky landed on his feet while Usopp landed on his head.

"Oww! This place is very unstable!" Usopp cried in pain.

"Yo, bro. What's that?" Franky asked. He was looking at none other than Ghor, who was making modifications around the area. Ghor was in some sort of bulky battlesuit as he turned around to face the duo.

"Oh finally! I was bored of waiting for you!" Ghor said as he then picked up a crate effortlessly and threw it to Usopp and Franky. They both jumped out of the way as the crate crashed into a wall behind them. "Your are the people that Ridley described. How generous of you to keep me company. Too bad you won't be here for long since I have to make mincemeat out of you!"

"Eh? Is that so, huh? Bring it on, tinhead!" Franky yelled as he got into his battle pose.

"Another world, another threat. When will it end?" Usopp whimpered behind another crate.

Preview: I don't see that bird anywhere. If he doesn't show up, I'll look for him and beat him to a pulp! I wonder how the others are doing… Next time on One Piece: A Smash Adventure; Chapter 64: The battle between pirates and bounty hunters, The 3rd time is enough. I am gonna be the Pirate King!

My fingers are killing me, but I don't care. As long as this chapter amused you, then that is fine with me. I am going to TRY and update quicker next time! Ciao!

Metroid Pt 13

Hey there! I updated a little quicker as I promised. Well, not that quick, but its something. Now I have some news for you guys. I dont want to bother you with this at the beginning of the chapter, so I'll tell you at the end of it; so make sure you read the notice after this chapter. Anyway, enjoy!

Lower class pirates. The Strawhat crew were insulted by Ridley on being Sea pirates. He believed that would never stand a chance against real pirates, but Luffy and the others knew that wasn't true. They waited until sunrise to split up into duos and reactivate the other three energy controllers to restore the light of Aether. But in order for them to do that, they have to battle the brainwashed bounty hunters; Rundas, Ghor, and Gandrayda. Will they be able to defeat them?

Chapter 64: The battle between pirates and bounty hunters, The 3rd time is enough

Back in the Great temple, Sanji was still in the room where the save station is, not making a sound. In the room next to him, Samus awaited for Dark Samus to arrive.

"Come on, where are you?" Samus asked impatiently. She stood in the middle of the room, just quietly waiting for Dark Samus to arrive. The room was so quiet, it can drive a regular guy crazy, but it's no problem for Samus since she has years of experience at waiting.

"Hmm?" Samus then noticed a blue object heading right towards the room she was in from outside the window. The object crashed right through the window and landed on the floor. Samus did not flinch as the object turned out to be Dark Samus, who morphed into her regular form. "About time you showed up."

Dark Samus then looked at Samus, and faced towards her. She slowly aimed her arm cannon at Samus, while she aimed back at her. They waited; one of them wasn't making any sudden moves. They could only hear the wind whistling through the hole of the glass wall. One of the pieces of the broken glass then got lose, and slowly fell towards the floor. Once it shattered to pieces, Samus and Dark Samus fired at each other.

Samus was firing repeatedly at Dark Samus, who does not flinch when getting shot by the small blasts. Samus then fired a missile at Dark Samus, who knocked it out of the way by creating an electrical barrier around her that is made out of Phazon. Dark Samus then aimed towards her left, and started to fire more small blasts than Samus can as she slowly moved her arm cannon to the right while firing. Samus runs out of the way while charging up her arm cannon, and ended up behind Dark Samus. "SUPER MISSILE!" Samus fired a super missile at Dark Samus from behind, which exploded upon impact, causing Dark Samus to stagger forward.

Dark Samus turned around, and fired a missile of her own at Samus, who rolled out of the way to avoid it. Dark Samus then charged her body with Phazon as she then morphed into a ball, and started to roll towards Samus. Samus got out of the way as Dark Samus bounced off the wall she headed towards to. She then started to bounce off of more walls until she can hit Samus. When Dark Samus couldn't hit her, she finally morphed back to normal, and jumped up in the air while charging up with Phazon again. She levitated up in the air for a couple of seconds until the Phazon around her turned into a Phazonic comet. She then flew right down towards Samus, who barely avoided as Dark Samus created a big explosion of Phazon.

Dark Samus then stood up and fired a laser from her arm cannon, swinging it horizontally to Samus. Samus avoided by jumping over it as her back boosters started to lit up. "SCREW ATTACK!" When Samus got close to Dark Samus, the boosters on her back ignited, causing her to spin multiple times while going up. Dark Samus got caught in her attack, and got hit multiple times by it. Once Samus' attack was over, Dark Samus quickly flew away from Samus by getting far behind her. Dark Samus then fired multiple missiles at the same time as Samus morphed into a ball, and rolled away to avoid them. "BOOST BALL!" Samus then went full speed at Dark Samus, but Dark Samus knocked her back by creating the same phazonic barrier as before.

"Ah!" Samus was knocked back as she morphed back to normal. While in midair, Dark Samus fired multiple small blasts at Samus. Samus absorbed the blasts by charging up her arm cannon towards them, thus adding a Phazonic element to her charged blast. Dark Samus flinched in surprise as Samus fired her Phazonic charged shot. Dark Samus quickly levitated out of the way as Samus' blast melted through some of the glass wall. As soon as Dark Samus avoided that blast, she got shot back from one of Samus' missiles. Samus then charged up her arm cannon, and fired five missiles at the same time at Dark Samus, who destroyed them by firing her own kind of missiles.

Dark Samus then dashed towards Samus while creating a laser from the tip of her arm cannon. She swung it horizontally, but Samus dodged it by morphing into a ball, and countering by leaving three bombs as she rolled away. The bombs exploded at Dark Samus, but it wasn't enough to take her down as she turned around, and fired multiple blasts at Samus while she was still in ball mode. Samus rolled out of the way of the blasts, but Dark Samus quickly got right in front of her and kicked her all the way to the other side of the room. "Gah!" Samus cried in pain as she crashed to the other side of the room. As Dark Samus was about to fire at her, Samus quickly got up as her arm cannon extended a bit, and inside of it turning red.

"PLASMA BEAM!" Samus fired multiple plasma beams at Dark Samus, who was able to dodge every single one of them. Samus then fired toward a part of a ground Dark Samus headed towards to, causing her to stop suddenly. This gave Samus the chance to charge at Dark Samus while charging up her Plasma Beam. "FLAMETHROWER!" Samus fired a short-range flamethrower from her arm cannon when she got close to Dark Samus, who got burned at every square inch of her body. Dark Samus then retreated from Samus' flamethrower as she used her speed to get rid of the flames on her. She then jumped upward, and levitated in the air as she was charging up her arm cannon, while Samus did the same.

"SUPER MISSILE!" Samus fired a super missile at Dark Samus, who fired her own kind of Super missile at Samus. The missiles made impact at each other, creating a big explosion that sends both Samus and Dark Samus flying back into a glass wall. They took no time to recover as they quickly got up and started to fire at each other again. Samus then tried to get behind Dark Samus while firing at her. Dark Samus did the same, except that she was levitating instead of running. None of them got close to the other's back; instead, they were just shooting each other like maniacs. Dark Samus had enough and turned invisible. Samus stopped running, and used her thermal visor so she can find Dark Samus, even though she is invisible.

In Samus' point of view, her surroundings are black and white. She will know where Dark Samus is once she finds her body shape in red. Once she did find Dark Samus, she got hit at her face from Dark Samus' arm cannon. Samus staggered a bit as Dark Samus was about to fire a charged shot at her in close range. Samus stopped her by knocking her arm cannon away with her regular arm. As Dark Samus tried to regain her balance, Samus jumped above her and vertically swung her arm cannon down at the back at Dark Samus' head, staggering her foward a few inches. Samus then landed on the ground behind Dark Samus and fired a fully charged Plasma beam behind her, causing her to get visible again.

Samus switched back to her regular visor as Dark Samus started to charge herself with Phazon again. Samus backed away as Dark Samus then morphed into a ball, and started to bounce out of every wall she hits. Samus then immediately went to the center of the room, preparing to attack Dark Samus. "POWER BOMB!" Samus used a power bomb, which was more powerful than a regular bomb as it's explosion engulfed upon the entire room, severely injuring Dark Samus as well. Due to some advanced equipment, Samus did not get hurt by her own attack as she morphed back to normal. She then saw Dark Samus morphing back to normal as well, but her phazonic aura started to lose it's color.

"Is this all you got!? I haven't even started to warm up yet!" Samus said. Dark Samus seemed to be laughing at that remark as it then charged at Samus again.

In Agon Wastes…

Robin glared at Gandrayda, who simply smirked back. Chopper had no idea what was going on. He was too freaked out the moment after he saw what he thought was Zoro transformed into another person.

"I am very scared now…" Chopper whimpered. Suddenly, the entries of the small coliseum got closed by electrical gates. There is no way out for Chopper and Robin now.

"You know… stalking you lower class pirates was really boring." Gandrayda said. "But atleast I managed to get all the data I needed from you."

"You were stalking us? Hmm… how cowardly of your part." Robin said bitterly.

"Heh heh, say what you want. But you won't be getting out of here alive." Gandrayda said as she then stood straight. "I have the power to transform into anyone or anything I want to be. I can even copy their powers and abilities. The chance of you two weaklings beating me is none."

"Why don't you prove it then instead of wasting our time." Robin said plainly.

"Ha ha ha! If you insist!" Gandrayda said with a cruel smirk. She then started to run towards Robin, who then crossed her limbs.

"OCHO FLEUR!" Arms then sprouted out of Gandrayda's body, but she didn't seem to mind. "AHH!!" Robin cried in pain as she felt an electrical current going through her entire body. Gandrayda laughed as she jumped over her and into a wall, which she jumped off before landing on the ground in front of Chopper and Robin again.

"Robin!" Chopper cried worringly as he went to Robin's aid. "Robin, what happened!?"

"I am not sure…" Robin panted, "The moment I sprouted armss on her, I felt an electrical current. It's like she is made of electricity."

"Ha ha ha ha! You're right." Gandrayda said as she raised her arm, showing an electrical current. "I can't say that I am actually made of electricity; It's just that when I am in my true form, I have the ability to absorb the health out of my opponents body once I make physical contact with them. And since you two have a custom to only use melee attacks, you will surely lose. Ha ha ha ha!"

"What do we do now, Robin!?" Chopper asked.

"Don't worry; we'll come up with something." Robin said as she got up, "We just need to stall her for a bit."

"Heh heh! Good luck with that!" Gandrayda said as she then started to cartwheel towards the duo. She then jumped up and threw electrical shuriken-like objects to Chopper and Robin, who got out of the way as they plunged to the ground behind them. Chopper transformed to his Walk point, and charged at Gandrayda while she was about to land on the floor. Once she did, Chopper transformed to his Heavy point and swung his fist at Gandrayda, who backflipped to dodge. Chopper charged at her, but Gandrayda jumped over him, and wrapped her legs around Chopper's waist, while wrapping her arms around Chopper's neck. "You look so big and strong in this form. But I guess it's only for show, isn't it?" Gandrayda asked while choking Chopper.

"Gah!" Chopper choked as Gandrayda was absorbing his health. Gandrayda then noticed a knife heading towards her head as she quickly jumped off of Chopper to avoid it. Gandrayda glared at Robin, who was the one responsible for throwing that knife.

"Hmph! How dare you try to harm me!" Gandrayda yelled angrily. Before she can do anything though, Chopper shoulder barged her from behind, knocking her down to the floor. Gandrayda quickly recovered as she frontflipped to her feet. "How dare you lay a finger on a lady, you runt!"

"I don't care! I won't forgive you for hurting Robin!" Chopper yelled angrily.

"Huh… how about this then!" Gandrayda yelled as she transformed into someone else, who looked very familiar to Chopper and Robin.

"Franky!?" Chopper exclaimed as Gandrayda was now Franky.

"Let's play!" Gandrayda said with Franky's voice. "BEANS LEFT!" Gandrayda shot out multiple shots at Chopper from his left wrist as Chopper got out of the way to avoid them. "STRONG RIGHT!" Gandrayda launched her right arm towards Chopper, who had to block it with his arms. Chopper grunted in pain as Gandrayda retrieved her and opened her left wrist. "WEAPONS-"

"DIEZ FLEUR!" Hands sprouted out of Gandrayda's stomach, and forced her left arm to face up just as she then fired. More arms the sprouted out of the ground and pulled Gandrayda down to the floor as the missile she fired started to go down at her.

BOOM!

Robin quickly made her sprouted armss disappear as Gandrayda groggily got up after that explosion. "Grr! You tramp!" Gandrayda yelled as she then transformed into Robin, which shocked the real Robin. Gandrayda smirked evilly as she sprouted arms out of Robin's body, holding her in place. Gandrayda then slowly started to arch Robin's back little by little, making Robin to feel nervous. "CLUTCH!" the sprouted hands then clutched Robin's back.

"AAAAAAHHHHHHH!!!" Robin cried in sheer pain as the hands around her disappeared. She fell limplessly on the ground as Chopper witnessed the whole thing.

"ROOOOOBBIIIIIIINNNNNN!!!" Chopper cried. Chopper fell on his knees in despair as Gandrayda laughed at this scene.

"Ha ha ha ha ha! She went down easily. I almost felt that her spine snapped in two. Ha ha ha!" Gandrayda laughed cruelly.

"NO! I won't let you get away with this!" Chopper exclaimed angrily as he got out a rumble ball. "RUMBLE BALL!" Chopper ate the rumble ball as Gandrayda was rather curious on what he is going to do next. Chopper then transformed into his arm point; surprising Gandrayda.

"Wow. That was some drug you got there, kid. Didnt know you use steroids." Gandrayda said with a smirk.

"I will make you pay on what you did to Robin… I WILL MAKE YOU PAY!" Chopper yelled angrily as he then charged at Gandrayda.

In Torvus Bog…

Zoro was dodging every ice blast that Rundas was shooting at him. One of them headed towards Nami, who just barely managed to dodge at the right time. "Hey, stop dodging and start attacking him, you idiot!" Nami yelled irritatingly.

"Don't tell me what to do!" Zoro yelled back as Rundas seemed to be done shooting at him. "Here is my chance!" Zoro said as he charged at Rundas, who created an armor of ice around his original armor for extra protection. Zoro repeatedly swings his swords at Rundas, who parried them with his own icy hands. Rundas then thrusted his hand at Zoro, who dodged by moving his head out of the way before countering with an upper vertical slash, which struck at Rundas' ice armor, but didn't destroyed it. Rundas then kicked Zoro back a few inches, and then took the chance to backslap him, but Zoro parried his attack with his swords, which frozed a bit afterwards.

"Damn it!" Zoro muttered as he started to parry every attack Rundas is giving him, freezing his swords even more. "TATSU MAKI!" Zoro created a tornado of cutting waves that sends Rundas flying back, but he did not get hurt since Zoro's tornado was an Ice-based attack due to his frozen swords. "I can't fight this guy like this!" Zoro yelled as Rundas then shot out huge ice blasts around the entire area while in midair, creating several ice spires as a result. "He is turning this place into his own icicle park! I can't beat him if he is going to keep doing this!" Zoro yelled frustratingly as Rundas landed on the floor.

"Tsk! I'll do it then!" Nami said as she got out her PCT.

"What do you plan to do?" Zoro asked.

"This guy is made of ice, right? If we heat up this place to a moderate level, he will probably feel weak, and that will give you the chance to beat him." Nami explained.

"Why can't you just heat this place to higher level?" Zoro asked.

"I prefer to freeze to death rather than to get burned alive! Just stick to my plan, okay!?" Nami asked.

"Fine! Just don't slow me down!" Zoro replied as he then charged at Rundas again.

"HEAT BALL!" Nami started to let out a couple of heat balls out of her PCT as they started to melt one of the spires. Rundas noticed the slight change in the atmosphere as he quickly parried Zoro out of the way, and started to charge at Nami.

"Nami! Look out!" Zoro yelled.

"Ahh!" Nami cried in fear as Rundas swung his fist horizontally, which Nami ducked to avoid. Nami then fearfully thrusted her PCT into Rundas' ice armor, which caused it to melt. Rundas was shocked as Nami got out of his way, while Zoro crouched behind him.

"ONI GIRI!" Zoro slashed through Rundas, giving him sheer pain on his back. Rundas then jumped away from Zoro and Nami, and fired ice blasts at both of them. Nami used heat balls to destroy the ice blasts that came in her way, while Zoro dodged them while also charging at Rundas with his swords held vertically. "KARASUMA…" Zoro leaped towards Rundas, "GARI!" Zoro quickly performed a flying multiple slash at Rundas, who somehow parried all of Zoro's slashes as he flew by. Rundas then created a trail of ice with his hands and started to surf around the air with it. While surfing on the trail of ice, Rundas fired multiple ice blasts at Zoro.

"This guy wont stand still!" Zoro said as he then hid behind a big ice spire to avoid the ice blasts fired at him.

"Zoro, get out of there!" Nami yelled. Before Zoro could do anything else, Rundas shattered the ice spire Zoro was hiding behind, and shoulder barged Zoro to a wall.

"Guah!" Zoro cried in pain as Rundas then grabbed Zoro by the legs, and swung him to an ice spire near him, shattering it to pieces. Zoro tumbled across the floor as Rundas charged up for another ice blast, but Rundas cried in pain as he got hit by a heat ball behind him. Rundas angrily looked behind his shoulder to see Nami was the one responsible for that attack.

"Uh… Sorry?" Nami said rather kindly and fearfully. Rundas turned around and was about to charge until he heard something behind him.

"NANAJUU-NI POUNDOU HOU!" Rundas turned around, and got hit by a devastating cutting wave Zoro unleashed. Rundas went crashing right through an ice spire as Zoro groggily walked next to Nami. "You should leave this guy to me. I can handle him by myself."

"Yeah right! If you die, then is who going to protect me from someone like me!?" Nami asked. Rundas then emerged from pieces of ice on the ground and glared at Zoro and Nami. "There he is! Get him!"

"Don't tell me what to do!" Zoro replied as he once again charged at Rundas, while he charged at him.

In Sanctuary Fortress…

"WEAPONS LEFT!" Franky fired a missile out of his wrist at Ghor, but the barrier in front of him blocked it with ease.

"You are going to have to do something alot more better than that!" Ghor said as he then fired multiple shots from his battle suit's pincer-like arms. Franky runs towards his side, avoiding the bullets that were coming toward him as he then rolled behind a crate. Meanwhile, Usopp aimed at Ghor from behind.

"HISSATSU KATAKI BOSHI!" Usopp fired an explosive pellet at Ghor, who quickly turns his battle suit's upper body into 180 degrees, and blocked Usopp's explosive with his barrier.

"It is futile to harm me!" Ghor said while his battle suit's legs also faced towards Usopp. "My defenses are superior than you both combined. It will take a miracle for the likes of you to defeat me!" Ghor then spun his upper body at 360 degrees before charging at Usopp.

"WHOA!" Usopp panicked as he leaped out of the way while Ghor crashed through a crate and into the wall. Ghor came out of the wall unharmed as he then started to fire at Usopp, who frantically runs away. "Ahh!! Help me! HELP ME!!" Usopp cried in fear while dodging the bullets.

"MASTER NAIL!" Nails came flying towards Ghor, but they all bounced off once they touched Ghor's barrier. Ghor faced Franky and started to fire at him, while Franky was charging at him as he was also removing the skin from his right hand. "STRONG HAMMER!" Franky punched Ghor's barrier with his steel fist, causing Ghor to skid back a bit, but his barrier was still intact. Ghor then grabbed Franky with his pincers, and threw him across the area. "Whoa!" Franky yelled as he landed on one of the platforms above. "Oh.." Franky dazedly got up as the platform he was on started to shake. It turns out that Ghor was destroying the support beams of the platform Franky is on.

"SHINSEN TAMAGO BOSHI!" Usopp fired a rotten egg at Ghor, who turned around to block it with his shield.

"What was that suppose to do to me? Give me a bad smell?" Ghor asked as the rotten egg yolk dripped down his barrier.

"HIYAAAAAAAAA!!" Usopp shouted bravely as he fired more rotten eggs at Ghor, covering his barrier with rotten egg yolk. Ghor got irritated and shook his upper body to wipe the yolk off his barrier.

"You are nothing but a complete nuisance!" Ghor said as wheels appeared below his battle suit's legs. Ghor then started to drive his suit way towards Usopp, but he suddenly was losing his balance. "What the!? What is going on!?" Ghor asked. He then noticed that he was riding on a trail of oil, making the floor slippery.

"I got you! I poured my special oil on the floor when you were getting rid of the yolk off your barrier!" Usopp exclaimed as Ghor was sliding uncontrollably towards a pile of crates.

CRASH!

Ghor got piled by the crates he crashed into as he struggled to get up.

"Now, Franky!" Usopp exclaimed.

"Yosh!" Franky said as the platform he was on started to fall. Once it did fall, Franky jumped off of it while taking a deep breath. "FRESH FIRE!" Franky breathed out a stream of fire, hitting the trail of oil, which ignited as it went right towards Ghor.

BOOOOOOOMMM!!!"

The area where Ghor was at exploded into flames as Franky landed on his feet. "Yes! We beat him!" Usopp said proudly. "Good thing I came up with this idea. Nice job, Franky."

"Yeah, whatever. But… that seemed a little easy." Franky said with a frown.

"So who cares?" Usopp asked uncaring, "We defeated him because he couldn't withstand the power of the great Captain-huh?" Usopp then noticed some crates moving out of place. Suddenly, Ghor came out of the rubble of the crates, which startled Usopp.

"Impressive!" Ghor stated as he then jumped high up in the air. Franky ran towards Usopp and pushed him out of the way as Ghor landed hard on the floor, creating an orange shockwave that shook the whole area. Franky and Usopp got up and looked at Ghor, who was laughing. "Did you honestly expected that I would burn to my demise? My battle suit is fire-proofed. No matter how hot the situation is, I can always get through without a single piece of rust on me!"

"You are too full of yourself, tinheaded bro." Franky said with a smirk, "You might be able to withstand any regular kind of heat, but you cant possibly endure my heat! Cause I am supaaaa hot right now; and I can burn you to a crisp if I want to."

"How determined… perhaps you would want to give out a demonstration for me." Ghor said plainly as he span his upper body 360 degrees before charging at Usopp and Franky. They both rolled out of the way as Ghor crashed to a wall behind them. Before Ghor could get out of the wall, Franky aimed at him with his left wrist.

"WEAPONS LEFT!" Franky fired at Ghor's back, causing Ghor to fall down in pain.

"Guoh! But how!?" Ghor asked himself as the barrier in front of him disappeared.

"I guess I hit the right button. You are not so invincible afterall." Franky said.

"Oh, you have yet to see what I can really do!" Ghor said as he then went past Franky and Usopp, and sucked in all the fire from the previous explosion. It allowed him to use some of his battle suit's armor plates to cover his face. "Now let us begin round 2!"

Back in Agon wastes…

"Ha ha ha ha ha ha!" Gandrayda laughed as he was avoiding Chopper's attacks while he was in Arm point. "This is so cute! You are trying to avenge that stupid tramp even though that the odds are against you!"

"You are wrong! I will defeat you!" Chopper exclaimed. "KOKUTEI ROSEO!" Chopper thrusted his hoove at Gandrayda, who simply jumped out of the way as Chopper destroyed part of the coliseum wall instead. Gandrayda then got behind Chopper and leaped towards him. Chopper immediately turned to his original point and threw an explosive testube up in the air before running away. Gandrayda couldnt stop herself as the testube exploded at her, but she retaliated as she landed on her feet.

"You stupid little racoon!" Gandrayda scowleded as she charged at Chopper.

"JUMP POINT!" Chopper transformed into his jump point and jumped above Gandrayda. Chopper then transformed into his heavy point. "ROSEO POUND!" Chopper went down at full speed towards Gandrayda, who turned into a flock of odd looking birds and flew out of the way as Chopper's rear hits the floor hard. Gandrayda then turned back to normal and kicked the ground, creating a purple blast that headed towards Chopper. "Ahh!" Chopper cried in pain he tumbled across the floor. Chopper groggily got up and glared at Gandrayda, who smirked back at him.

"I am starting to get bored of you. Why don't you just let me kill you already?" Gandrayda asked impatiently.

"I am not through with you yet!" Chopper exclaimed as he then transformed into his Horn point.

"Hmph! Fine then! Let's see if you like this!" Gandrayda said as she turned back into Zoro. "I wonder if you can avoid this move. ONI GIRI!" Gandrayda dashed towards Chopper, but he instantly stopped Gandrayda with his horns. "What!?"

"ROSEO COLLONADE!" Chopper lifted his head, throwing Gandrayda up in the air. "JUMP POINT!" Chopper transformed into his jump point and jumped above Gandrayda. He then jumped off of Gandrayda's face to get even higher. "BRAIN POINT, SCOPE!" Chopper transformed to his regular form and started to scan Gandrayda while she was heading towards the ground. "I'll be okay up here for a couple of seconds! I need to find her weakness!"

While Chopper was scanning for Gandrayda's weakness, Gandrayda somehow landed on her feet as she then faced towards Chopper. "SANJU-ROKO POUNDOU HOU!" Gandrayda swung her swords, creating a small cutting wave as it headed towards Chopper. Chopper didn't seem to care about that as he was still scanning for Gandrayda's weakness.

"I found it!" Chopper exclaimed excitedly, but he then got by Gandrayda's cutting wave. "Guh!" Chopper went crashing limplessly towards the ground, which pleased Gandrayda.

"Finally you went down!" Gandrayda said as she returned to her real form. She then walked towards Chopper and started to kick him while he was down, showing no mercy. "I will teach you not to harm your superiors!" Gandrayda said angrily. Suddenly, Chopper bit her around the ankle. "Ah! Are you an idiot!? You will die quicker like this!" Gandrayda said. Chopper bit with more pressure, which felt more worse than his health getting absorbed. "AAHHHH!! GET OFF OF ME!" Gandrayda then started to shake her leg to force Chopper off of her, but to no avail. Gandrayda then kicked Chopper towards a wall, but still nothing changed. Gandrayda then kicked him even harder, which was strong enough to get Chopper off of her.

Gandrayda then massaged her bitten ankle while Chopper crawled towards a small pile of sand. "This mark will take weeks to come off!" Gandrayda complained while looking at her ankle. She then angrily turned around, only to get sand thrown at her face, temporarily blinding her. "Ahh! What are you doing!?"

Chopper then transformed into his Arm point and aimed his hoove at Gandrayda. "KOKUTEI ROSEO!" Chopper thrusted his hoove, which connected to Gandrayda's face.

"Guah!" Gandrayda cried in pain as she then crashed into the coliseum wall behind her. Chopper panted heavily as the effects of his rumble ball wore off, changing him back to his regular form.

"The sand can absorb the static from your body. If I cover you with sand, then I can attack you without hesitation on getting my health absorbed." Chopper panted as he could not see any movement from where Gandrayda crashed into. Suddenly, a pair of arms grabbed Chopper and pinned him towards the ground. Chopper tried to struggle as Gandrayda came up to him, only transformed as Robin. "No..! Stop it!"

"Such a pathetic little boy…" Gandrayda said with Robin's voice. "Did you honestly believed that you can help anyone? That lady over there got hurt because you didn't protect her. You were useless from the beginning of this battle." Gandrayda then lowered herself close to Chopper's face. "You have no purpose to be alive anymore. I'll end your live slowly and painfully to a level I can enjoy." Chopper then started to let out tears as the hands around him started to choke him to death. Gandrayda then gave Chopper a maniacal grin on her face as she was seeing Chopper getting choked to death. But suddenly, an arm appeared out of Gandrayda's shoulder, and punched Gandrayda in the face.

"Gyah!" Gandrayda cried as she turned herself back to normal, causing the hands around Chopper to disappear. The hand on her shoulder disappeared as well as the real Robin started to get up on her knees. Robin glared at Gandrayda, who was rather shocked to see her up. "How are you still up!? You couldn't possibly get up after injuring your spine!"

"You may be able to copy other people's abilities, but you dont know how to use them properly." Robin said bluntly. "Your actions shall not be forgiven. I will make you regret this for the rest of your life."

"You think you can scare me!? Ha!" Gandrayda said as she transformed into Sanji. "I will personally show you the true meaning of fear!" Gandrayda exclaimed as she charged at Robin with a kick. A long arm sprouted next to Robin as it caught Gandrayda's attacking leg and squeezed it. Gandrayda grunted in pain as she tried to attack with her other leg, but another arm sprouted next to Robin's other side and grabbed it as well. Gandrayda angrily placed her hands on the floor and broke the arms' grip. Gandrayda then dashed towards Robin while raising her fist at her. Just before Gandrayda could swing her fist at Robin, Chopper, who was now in heavy point, grabbed Gandrayda's arm.

"Sanji doesn't fight with his hands!" Chopper yelled as he punched Gandrayda, making her fly back into a wall. Gandrayda turned back to her true form as she groggily walked out of the wall, with her body almost covered with sand.

"SEIS FLEUR!" Six arms sprouted six arms from Gandrayda's torso, which startled her. "It's time to get what you deserved. SLAP!" The six arms started to slap Gandrayda repeatedly, and mercilessly.

"AAA aaA AaA AAa aaA Aaa hhh!!" Gandrayda cried within every slap she recieved. It took around 30 seconds for Robin to finally stop slapping her. Gandrayda was about to fall on her knees until Chopper wrapped his arms around her arms and waist, raising her head ver his.

"Get off of me, you pervert! I won't let you get away with this!" Gandrayda yelled angrily, but she was too weak to do anything.

"Robin, now!" Chopper yelled. Robin nodded and sprouted legs after legs out of Chopper's feet. "You will pay for what you did to us! ROBI-CHO SUPPLEX!" Chopper jumped off of Robin's leg stilts and went straight down at full speed while Gandrayda was panicking.

CRAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA SS SSS SSS SSS SSS SSS SSH HHH HHH HHH HHH HHH HHHH HH HHH HH!!!!

"GUAAAAAAAAAHHHHHHH!!" Gandrayda cried as her head crashed right through solid ground, instantly knocking her out afterwards. Chopper landed on the floor as he changed back to his original point and ran towards Robin while tears were pouring out of his eyes.

"Robin! I was so scared! I thought you were gone!" Chopper cried as he hugged her.

"It's okay, Doctor-san. It's all over." Robin said kindly to Chopper while hugging him back. "It's all over…"

Back at Torvus Bog…

Rundas was on one of the ice spires while creating three snow boulders to throw them at Zoro and Nami. "Whoa!" Nami shouted as she barely dodged one of them. The other two boulders were cut in half by Zoro as Rundas jumped off the spire and started to run behind a couple of other spires. Zoro went after him, only to return at the same spot a couple of seconds later.

"Don't follow him! I can't afford you getting lost over there!" Nami said as this angered Zoro. Suddenly, Rundas came out of the ice spire area while surfing on the ice trail he was making. He fired multiple ice shots at Zoro, who dodged them by jumping and rolling out of the way. "This guy is too fast! If only… I got it! Zoro, cover me!"

"Huh!? What for!?" Zoro asked while avoiding Rundas' blasts.

"Don't ask! Just do it!" Nami said as she started to switch some around some poles of her PCT. Zoro did what she instructed him to do and kept Rundas' attention away from Nami. Zoro jumped on one of the ice spires as Rundas was heading towards him.

"TOUROU!" Zoro jumped and did an upward slash with both swords at Rundas, which knocked him out the trail of ice. "OUTOUROU!" Zoro slashed down at Rundas while they were both falling down, but Rundas blocked his attack with his hands. "HIRAMEKI!" Zoro thrusted his swords at Rundas, who air-dodged and countered with a kick, which Zoro blocked with his foot as he was pushed back. "SAMON!" Zoro heads straight down at Rundas again, and does a diagonal slash across Rundas chest before he landed on the ground. Zoro lands on Rundas chest with his feet and jumps up again to finish his combo attack. "MAGUMA!" Zoro did a downward pound at Rundas, inflicting him with sheer pain all over his body.

Rundas created a small and cold typhoon to push Zoro away from him. Before Zoro could land on the ground, Rundas got up and fired four ice blasts at him. "TATSU MAKI!" Zoro created a tornado of cutting waves that destroyed Rundas' ice blasts once they got close. Zoro then landed as he was having a hard time breathing, due to the cold air in the atmosphere. This gave Rundas a chance to create a sword out of ice. Rundas charged at Zoro with his ice sword as Zoro parried him. Rundas pounds at Zoro multiple times, not giving a single opportunity for him to counter as Zoro could only parry. Zoro was forced onto his knees as Rundas lifted his ice sword for the finishing blow.

"HEAT BALL!" Nami threw several heat balls at Rundas' ice sword, melting it instantly. Rundas glared at Nami, who this time, did not get frightened. "Today's forecast, it will be hot. And when I mean hot, I mean really hot! HEAT CHARGE!" The tip of Nami's PCT let out a small flamethrower. Nami turned the pole of her PCT around a few times, making the flame turn into a small, but extremely hot cutting flame. Rundas simply faced Nami as she was charging at him with the cutting flame. "FIRE SPEAR TEMPO!" Nami swung her PCT horizontally at Rundas, who simply ducked to avoid. He suddenly got tripped by Zoro and fell on his back as Nami pulled back her PCT and lowered it down on Rundas' shoulder.

Rundas cried in pain as the cutting flame was piercing through his armor. Rundas then created the small and cold typhoon again, pushing away Zoro and Nami. Rundas grabbed his wounded shoulder and covered it with ice to make him feel better. Rundas was now a little angry as they jumped on a spire and started to create more ice boulders before throwing them at their enemy duo. Zoro and Nami both separated as they avoided the boulders, giving Rundas the chance to create an armor of ice around his original armor. Rundas then created another ice trail and surfed on it as he then started to search for Zoro and Nami.

Zoro saw Rundas coming and positioned himself while Rundas came towards him. "HYAKU-HACHI POUNDOU HOU!" Zoro created a powerful cutting wave that made Rundas lose his balance as he was forced to jump on one of the spires near him. Once he landed on one of them though, the spire immediately went down. Rundas saved himself by creating another ice trail and surfed away to safety. He then noticed that a huge fog appeared at the area he was just in. He took a closer look and saw Nami, running around the place while cutting down some spires with her cutting flame, which explains the fog. This angered as he surfed down towards Nami from behind.

"Ahh!" Nami cried as she got slashed by Rundas, but suddenly grinned as she disappeared. Rundas was startled, and looked around his surroundings while still surfing on his trail of ice. He then looked in front of him, only to get hit in the face by the real Nami. "Mirage tempo. It was hard, but I managed to do it here." Nami said with a wink. Rundas tripped her on her back and was about to kill her until Zoro came between them, with his swords around Rundas' head.

"GAZAMI DORI!" Zoro clamped down on Rundas' head, but it didn't cut his head off as Rundas shoved him away. While Zoro was off balance, Nami swung her PCT at the back of Rundas' knee, causing Rundas to accidentally fire an ice blast up in the air. Nami then got up and slashed through Rundas' ice armored chest, melting it immediately. Nami then turned off her cutting flame as she noticed the ice blast Rundas fired earlier coming back down at him.

"HEAT BALL!" Nami threw a fire ball at Rundas' chest at the same Rundas' ice blast landed on his chest as well. The mixture of heat and ice started to tear Rundas apart. Rundas quickly got and absorbed in all the cold he could, which saved him. Zoro and Nami regrouped as Rundas angrily faced towards them. He jumped on an ice spire and created a humongous ice club from his palms as he started swinging it. "Eeek! That thing is too big to get away from!" Nami exclaimed.

"Nami, make this place really hot!" Zoro ordered. Nami gave a baffled look to Zoro.

"Are you nuts!? We'll probably burn!" Nami yelled.

"Heat is the only way to save ourselves! Hurry up and do it!" Zoro yelled angrily. Nami hesitated a bit before she finally agreed.

"Okay, fine! HEAT BALL!" Nami repeatedly threw multiple fire balls everywhere, heating up the entire area. It started to get so hot, that the rest of the ice spires completely melted, and then evaporated into steam. The spire Rundas is on was still intact, due to Rundas being so cold enough to make it still have it's shape. Zoro then span his swords upwards, gathering the heat around him as they then coated on fire. Zoro and Rundas were ready to unleash their attacks. Rundas began first by throwing the humongous ice club at Zoro.

"YAKI TATSU MAKI!" Zoro created a blazing tornado that went straight towards Rundas, instantly melting the ice club that he threw earlier. Rundas cried in pain as the blazing tornado engulfed around him, melting the spire he was on as well. As soon as the blazing tornado vanished, Rundas unconsciously fell to the floor, meaning Zoro and Nami has won the battle.

"We won." Zoro said bluntly while Nami was waving her hand in front of her face.

"This place is so hot! I want to get out of here!" Nami nagged.

Back in Sanctuary Fortress…

Ghor was shooting at Usopp and Franky while moving around the area. Usopp was hiding behind a crate while Franky was running away from the projectiles. Franky then jumped sideways and aimed at Ghor with his left arm. "WEAPONS LEFT!" Franky fired at Ghor, who didn't even flinch, nor has a scratch on him.

"Useless!" Ghor exclaimed as he raised his upper body and fired a plasma laser at Franky.

"Whoa!" Franky got out of the way as Ghor was moving his upper around in circles, firing his plasma laser everywhere.

"Ahh!! We are going to die! We are going to die!" Usopp said while cowering behind the crate. Franky had no choice but to grab a crate next to him and throw it at Ghor, who stopped firing his laser and caught it just in time. He then jumped up in the air with the crate and threw it down at Franky.

"STRONG RIGHT!" Franky launched his right fist at the crate, destroying it. Before he could retrieve his arm, Ghor grabbed on to it as he landed on the ground and started to spin his upper body, spinning Franky in circles. While being spun in circles, Franky slowly pulled back his arm as he got closer to Ghor. Franky started to punch Ghor's armor, but it wasn't doing anything as Ghor then lets him go, making him fly towards a wall, "Guah!"

"Franky!" Usopp cried worringly as Franky fell limblessly on the floor.

"You're next!" Ghor said as he got on his wheels and drove towards Usopp. Usopp jumped on the crate and jumped over Ghor as he went by. As Ghor stopped himself from crashing into a wall, Usopp landed on his feet and aimed at him.

"HISSATSU HIMAWARI BOSHI!" Usopp fired five explosive pellets at the same time in a pentagon pattern, impacting on Ghor's back, causing him to stagger forward. Usopp then noticed a little beacon under Ghor's suit, and decided to aim at it. "NAMARI BOSHI!" Usopp fired a lead bullet that hits the beacon under Ghor's suit, causing Ghor to fall down. This also removed the armor plates around Ghor's face, showing that he now has a weak point. "I did it? I mean, yes! You cannot defeat Captain Usopp!" Usopp exclaimed bravely.

"Why you!" Ghor furiously got up and charged at Usopp. Usopp gulped in fear as he got out his hammer. "Ha! That little object won't hurt me!" Ghor said.

"HISSATSU HAMMER BARRAGE!" Usopp suddenly started to throw multiple hammers, surprising Ghor as some of them hits him in the face. Ghor lost control of himself as fell on the floor, skidding past Usopp. "After fighting with Ridley, I made more hammers just in case!" Usopp said as he then aimed at Ghor while he was down. "HISSATSU SHURIKENRYUU SEIGUN!" Usopp fired a string of shurikens that separated upon being fired. Ghor immediately got up and knocked away the shurikens with his arms. Ghor then covered his face with armor plates again, and started to spin his whole body around in circles with his pincers arms extended.

Usopp ran as fast as he could as Ghor was spinning right towards him. Usopp tried slowing him down dropping caltrops on the ground behind him, but that didn't do anything to slow down Ghor. Usopp stopped running as he accidentally ran to a corner of the area. Ghor stopped spinning and faced towards the frightened Usopp. "No where to run." Ghor said playfully while lifting his arm.

"HIYA!!" Franky yelled as he jumped on Ghor from behind and grabbed his arm.

"What do you think you are doing!? Get your hands off me!" Ghor yelled angrily while trying to shake Franky off.

"Longnose, shoot him!" Franky yelled as he did his best to hang on to Ghor. Usopp nodded nervously, and nervously aimed towards Ghor's beacon.

"ATLAS SUISEI!" Usopp fired four flaming pellets at the same time that converted together and completely destroyed the beacon. The plated armor around Ghor's face were now gone as Franky smirked upon this situation.

"STRONG HAMMER!" Franky punched Ghor right on the head with his steel fist, almost knocking Ghor out. Franky then got off of him and then used his strenght to lift him up and throw him across the area.

"Ugh…" Ghor grunted as he groggily got up. Franky then ran towards him, but he saw Franky coming as he swung his arm horizontally at Franky, who dodged by crouching. Ghor then noticed Usopp aiming at him.

"SUPER SIZE HINOTORI BOSHI!" Usopp fired three pellets that splattered into oil soon afterwards. Franky then took a deep breath as the oil was about to go over him.

"FRESH FIRE!" Franky breathed out a stream of fire upwards as it ignited the oil above while heading towards Ghor. "SUPER SIZE FIRE BIRD STAR!" The ignited oil soon turned into a humongous fire bird as it engulfed Ghor while going through him.

"AAAAHHHHH!!!" Ghor cried in pain as the force of the fire sends him flying back into a wall. The flames were so intense, that it started to weld Ghor's battle suit to the wall. "Grr… I don't understand how this could have happen!" Ghor yelled frustratingly.

"Well it is happening, tinheaded bro. And it is now time to finish it!" Franky said as he started to charge while he was welded to the wall. "STRONG HAMMER!" Franky punched Ghor in the face so hard, that he got knocked out. "SUU UUP PAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAAA!!" Franky yelled victoriously as he then did his victory pose. After Ghor got knocked out, Franky's hair lost it's regular shape as it went down to Franky's face. "Oh great, I used up all the cola. Atleast we beat this guy."

Usopp ran to Franky's side while panting heavily. "Did you get him?" Usopp asked.

"Yeah, he's down." Franky said while flexing a bit. "Let's get going before something else shows up."

"That was just what I was going to say! Let's get moving!" Usopp said as they then left Ghor and headed towards the room where the energy controller is.

Back in the Great temple…

Samus breathed heavily as she was she was trying to shoot Dark Samus, but she was just too fast to hit. Dark Samus then appeared right in front of Samus' face and thrusted her arm cannon at Samus' gut. "Ah!" Samus grunted as she staggered back a few steps as Dark Samus then leaped and fired at her, which she avoided by morphing into a ball and getting some distance away from Dark Samus. Samus then morphed back to normal as she quickly aimed at Dark Samus. She fired a fully charged at Dark Samus' feet, which made Dark Samus to lose her footing. Samus then pushed some buttons on her arm cannon before she aimed at Dark Samus.

"ZERO LASER!" Samus fired a powerful and humongous laser beam at Dark Samus. The beam goes right through Dark Samus as it also went right through a big part of the glass wall that was in its way, leaving a huge hole. Samus' armor then fell apart, but Samus didn't care as she could no longer see any trace of Dark Samus. "Finally…" Samus said as she then started to walk away.

Before she could walk out the door, she noticed blue lights around the room. "That's not possible!" Samus said in surprise as she immediately turned around to see that the blue lights were gathering together. As all the lights finally gathered together, Dark Samus got out of it, revealing that she is still alive, only the difference is that she no longer has that Phazonic aura around her. Before Samus could get out her whip, Dark Samus knocked her hard into a glass wall. Samus groggily tried to get up as she then Dark Samus right in front of her, aiming at her face. "DAMN IT!"

Suddenly, A hexagon door opened as somebody ran inside. At the moment Dark Samus looked at the person, she was kicked in the face, sending her flying to the other side of the room. Samus was surprised by this as it turned out to be Sanji who saved her.

"Sanji!" Samus said in surprise. Samus put his hands in his pockets as he saw Dark Samus getting up.

"You just don't stop do you, do you?" Sanji asked angrily. "I have had it! The 3rd time is enough!" Sanji yelled while glaring at Dark Samus, who looked at Sanji oddly.

Meanwhile…

Ridley was flying through the morning skies, eager to find out what the Strawhat crew decided to do. "These pests are not to be taken to seriously. I will personally finish them off if they decided to stay and fight." Ridley said as he flew towards the Great temple.

What he didn't know was that Luffy was keeping an eye out for him as he was still on the temple. "Hmm?" Luffy then noticed Ridely fly in his view. "THAT'S HIM!" Luffy yelled angrily as he grabbed onto the pointing part of the temple and started to run around it multiple times, wrapping his arms around it as much as he could. "GOMU GOMU NO ZENMAI!" Luffy jumps up, causing his arm to unstretch by itself, making Luffy spin around the pole multiple times. Luffy then lets go of the pointing part, and goes flying straight towards Ridley.

"Hmm…? WHAT!?" Ridley noticed Luffy going right towards him before he gets tackled down by him. "UOAAAHH!!" Luffy and Ridley crashed down to the cliffs below the temple. They tumbled across the ground roughly before getting up. "Grr… what the hell was that!?" Ridley asked as he then noticed Luffy was now standing in front of him.

"RIDLEY!!! I AM GOING TO KICK YOUR ASS!!!"

TO BE CONTINUED…

Preview: Yosh! I am finally going to beat the hell out of this guy! I'll teach him not to mess with my crew, nor the ten foot bug-eye people! Next time on One Piece: A Smash Adventure; Chapter 65: Mr. Prince returns!, Sanji vs Dark Samus. I am gonna be the Pirate King!

I admit; that was a little lousy at the end, but it's best I can think of at the moment. Now about the thing I wanted to tell you guys; I have bad news. I am moving to another apartment this Wednesday, and the thing is that there wont be any internet connection there until January 15. I know that will take forever until that day comes, and I am just as angry as you guys are, but there is nothing I can do. We can hope that my internet connection would come sooner; but the chance of that happening is slim.

In conclusion; I am going to have to put this story on hold until I get my internet connection in my new apartment. Do not worry, folks. I will finish this story no matter what happens! Have a Happy New Year!

Metroid Pt 14

I have finally returned!!! It's so good to be back! I am so happy to be updating again. Well, it has been a long two weeks, and now I present to you the chapter you all been waiting for; the battle between Sanji and Dark Samus. Have fun!

Pirates over bounty hunters. On their way to reactivate the energy controllers; The Strawhat duos have defeated the three brainwashed bounty hunters that stood in their way. The only thing left that is able to stop them is Dark Samus and Ridley. Samus almost suffered defeat from the hands of Dark Samus if it wasnt for Sanji that stopped her. Sanji seems to have returned to his usual self as he will now get revenge on Dark Samus for all she has done. Will Sanji be able to beat her?

Chapter 65: Mr. Prince returns, Sanji vs Dark Samus

Sanji glared at Dark Samus, who continued to look at Sanji oddly. Sanji was no longer depressed man he was a couple of chapters ago; he was now the man that is willing to protect any damsel in distress at all cost. Samus was sitting against the wall, almost relieved to see Sanji.

"Sanji..?" Samus said. She was also a little confused to see him act different since she is so used to see Sanji depressed.

"This has gone far enough for me." Sanji said with a stern tone. "Seeing you hurt yet another woman in front of my presence again is despicable!" Sanji yelled angrily at Dark Samus, who doesn't care at what Sanji said. "Grr… just looking at you makes me sick!"

Sanji then calms down and takes a deep breath, while Samus tried to get up, but was too injured to do so. "Ah… I can't move." Samus grunted. Sanji then slowly to look behind his shoulder to look at Samus.

"Are you okay… Samus-SWAN!?" Sanji asked happily. The moment Sanji looked behind his shoulder, he already had a big heart out of his visible eye, and also a stupid smile on his happy face.

"Eh?" Samus said as she was a little bummed to see Sanji act queer all of a sudden. "I'm… okay. I guess."

"GOOD!! NOW LET ME FINISH OFF THIS STUPID PIECE OF GARBAGE SO I CAN LOOK AT YOU MORE!" Sanji said happily as he then slowly glared back at Dark Samus. "As I was saying; you are the source of all the sorrow and hatred I had to go through ever since I came here to this world. You have done five things that completely pissed me off so far! One, Robin-chwan got hurt because of you; Two, Because of your existence, I accidentally hurt Samus-chwan; Three; You tried to kill Nami-swan in front of me; Four, you tried to kill Samus-swan; And five; You look exactly as the person that I want to be so much!"

"Wha?" Samus asked surprised.

"Everytime I try to look into a womens locker room, I get beaten up mercilessly. But with you being a woman, you have no trouble getting inside. You can look at all the beautiful woman in there, and the beauty of it all is that you can look at them NAKED without them hitting you! I envy your power so much, I hate you because of that!" Sanji said determinedly.

"I now completely regret not being able to kill off Dark Samus." Samus said while a sweatdrop went down her forehead.

"But that is not important right now." Sanji said as he got serious again. "You first hurt Robin-chwan, then Nami-swan, and now Samus-swan. I cannot consider you as a human being, nor do I consider you as a female. I felt no remorse kicking you away, and it will continue that way once I start to unleash my fury upon you!"

Dark Samus didnt seem all that amused as Sanji then pointed at her. "That shitty aura you had around your body seems to be gone now. That was the only thing that was stopping me from giving you the pain that you deserve. You will go down like a dragon getting his head cut off by a brave knight, saving his beloved one from imprisonment!"

"Can you shut up, and just fight her already?" Samus muttered, rather annoyed with Sanji's lecture.

Sanji then looked at Samus. "Do not fear, Samus-swan! I will slay this dragon! Then we can live happily ever after!" Sanji said happily. Samus' right eye twitched as Sanji turned back to Dark Samus. "Let's dance!"

Dark Samus laughed as she then lunged towards Sanji, who lunged at her. "QUEVE!" Sanji does a flying kick at Dark Samus, who blocked it with her regular arm. Dark Samus then thrusted her arm cannon at Sanji while he was still in midair, but Sanji used his other foot to kick Dark Samus' arm cannon away. Sanji then flipped 180 degrees and placed his feet around Dark Samus' head. Once Sanji placed his hands on the floor, he flipped forward, throwing Dark Samus to the glass wall with his feet. Dark Samus was able to land on the glass wall with her feet as she then jumped off of it and did a flying kick at Sanji, who countered with his own leg.

They kicked eachother's legs, which was so strong that the both of them went flying back at the same time. They both landed on their feet and charged at eachother, with Sanji performing multiple kicks at Dark Samus, who dodged and blocked them all. Sanji then leaped up in the air and span horizontally with his legs spreads, which Dark Samus avoided by performing midair backflips. Once Sanji landed on the ground, he swung his leg horizontally at Dark Samus, who dodged by ducking, but was then kicked in the face by Sanji afterwards. Dark Samus staggered back a bit as Sanji then did a front flip, and kicked Dark Samus' shoulder with his heel.

Dark Samus then quickly grabbed Sanji's attacking foot with her regular arm, but Sanji arched his back and did a handstand. He then kicked Dark Samus' face with his heel, causing Dark Samus to let go of his leg. Sanji then did multiple backflips as he was dodging multiple blasts from Dark Samus. Sanji then quickly jumped to his right and started to run along the glass while Dark Samus was still shooting at him. "BROCHETTE!" Sanji jumped off the wall to get above Dark Samus, and faced his right leg down as he span like a drill down at Samus, who avoided his attack by dodging so fast, she reappeared at the other side of the room.

Dark Samus then jumped upwards as she created a phazonic sphere around herself. She then went straight towards Sanji like a comet as Sanji dodged her, but couldn't avoid the explosion she created when she landed on the ground afterwards. "Ah!" Sanji grunted as he flew back into the glass wall. Sanji groggily got up as the phazonic sphere around Dark Samus disappeared. While Dark Samus was getting up, Sanji dashed at her and swung his leg at her, but Dark Samus quickly got out of his way, and reappeared behind Sanji. She took this opportunity to fire multiple missiles simultaneously at Sanji, who quickly turned around and kicked away all her missiles one by one.

Dark Samus then quickly got close to Sanji and lowered her arm cannon on him, but Sanji did a handstand and caught Dark Samus' arm cannon with his feet. He then knocked Dark Samus' arm cannon away, and quickly got on his legs as he then did a double kick to Dark Samus, who blocked with her regular arm. Dark Samus then got underneath Sanji while he was still in midair and did an upward kick at Sanji's back, sending him flying upward. Dark Samus then charged up her arm cannon as Sanji recovered his balance, and raised his foot up as he going back down to Dark Samus. "YAAHHHH!!" Sanji lowered his foot at Dark Samus at the same time Dark Samus fired a charged shot at him.

Meanwhile…

Ridley looked down at Luffy angrily, but confused at the same time as he was also wondering what just happened. "So you decided to stay and fight…" Ridley began to say, "I told you what would happen if you faced me. Where you ignoring me at that time?"

"I could care less what you had to say last night!" Luffy said while cracking his knuckles. "No matter what you said, I am going to kick your ass no matter what!"

"Heh! You truly are stupid!" Ridley said, "I gave you the chance to live longer, yet you wasted that chance and decided to die sooner. Although, that does seem like a smarter choice when I think about it. Who wants to continue to live as a lower class pirate anyway? Perhaps you are not as stupid as I thought."

"You still don't get it, do you?" Luffy asked with his head lowered.

"Hmm?" Ridley asked.

"Everything you said last night was wrong. I didn't had to prove it to you." Luffy said as he then looked at Ridley with a frown.

"You didn't had to prove it to me?" Ridley asked curiously, "The better phrase would be is that you couldn't prove it to me. Like I said before; you Sea pirates are wea-"

"No! I didn't prove it to you, because I did not wanted to waste my time trying to convince somebody like you!" Luffy said angrily.

"Is that right?" Ridley asked slyfully, "Then why are you here?"

"You insulted my crew's pride. I will never forgive you for that." Luffy said while getting into his battle pose, "And I am also here to show you that I will become the Pirate King; no matter how strong, or underachieved people I have to face to get it!"

"Underachieved?" Ridley said as he got a little anger upon hearing that, "The things I achieved in my life are much more complex for a Sea pirate to understand. You don't know nothing about me."

"The only thing I know about you so far is that you are a big loser!" Luffy said, which angered Ridley even more.

"You just signed your own death warrant!" Ridley yelled as he raised his claw and lowered it at Luffy, who jumped back to avoid it

"GOMU GOMU NO PISTOL!" Luffy stretched his arm and punched Ridley in the face while in midair.

"Ugh!" Ridley grunted in pain as he then looked at Luffy with a shock look on his face. "What the hell did you just do!?"

"I am a rubberman!" Luffy said while cracking his knuckles, "And you are going down!" Luffy yelled as he then charged at Ridley again.

Back with Sanji…

"Hiya!" Sanji yelled as he tried to kick Dark Samus, but she jumped out of the way as she then countered by shooting multiple blasts at Sanji, who did the multiple backflips to avoid. Sanji then performed a midair backflip, and bounced off the glass wall behind him as he then flew right towards Dark Samus. Dark Samus quickly fired missiles at Sanji, but he quickly landed right in front of her, and rolled behind her. "TROISIEME HACHE!" Sanji slightly leaped up towards the air, and gave several fast kicks with his right foot at Dark Samus' back. Dark Samus staggered forward as Sanji leaped above her and stomped his feet at the back of Dark Samus' head.

Dark Samus landed on her knees after receiving Sanji's kick as Sanji then jumped away from Dark Samus, who was now charging Phazon around her. She then morphed into a ball and charged straight towards Sanji. Sanji rolled out of the way as Dark Samus went past him, but that didn't make her stop as she started to bounce off glass walls repeatedly. Sanji was running and jumping all over the place to avoid getting hit from Dark Samus. When Dark Samus then went straight towards Sanji, he quickly got on his hands. "QUASI!" Sanji span in circles with his legs extended as he kicked Dark Samus, sending her flying back in a distance.

Sanji landed on his knees in pain as he felt some recoil damage after kicking Dark Samus, who started to levitate up in the air while charging up some Phazon around her.

"Sanji, get out of there!" Samus yelled as Sanji noticed what Dark Samus was up to. Dark Samus then went flying straight to Sanji, who barely dodged as Dark Samus crashed to the floor. The Phazon around her disappeared as she was back to her original form. She looked at Sanji, who was groggily getting up. Dark Samus then took the chance to create a long laser from the tip of her arm cannon so she can swing it at Sanji, but he was suddenly right in front of her.

"SLICE SHOT!" Sanji jumped in front of Dark Samus and kicked her arm cannon, making her lose control of her laser. Sanji then grabbed Dark Samus' shoulders, but Dark Samus instantly got on her back and kicked Sanji off of her.

Before Sanji could land on the floor, Dark Samus fired two missiles at him while she was still on her back. Sanji quickly turned around in midair and kicked away the missiles, but that left him wide open as Dark Samus quickly got on her feet and punched Sanji in the gut. "GUAH!" Sanji cried in pain as the force of the blow sends him crashing back into a glass wall.

"Sanji!" Samus yelled worryingly as Dark Samus then grabbed Sanji's neck with her regular arm while also aiming at his face. Sanji's eyes opened up as he then kicked Dark Samus in the gut, causing her to let go of him. Sanji then did a double kick across Dark Samus face, and then a thrust kick to the chest, staggering Dark Samus back a few inches. Sanji then did multiple front flips, and leaped towards Dark Samus. "FLANCHET!" Sanji thrusted his foot towards Dark Samus' stomach, but Dark Samus quickly evaded Sanji, and reappeared above him. As Sanji tried to stop himself with his feet, Dark Samus aimed at his back and fired a charged shot at him.

"GRR!" Sanji cried as he then tumbled forward after getting hit. Dark Samus then flew right towards Sanji, who quickly got up and tried to kick Dark Samus, but she stopped herself just in time to avoid it. Dark Samus then countered by thrusting her arm cannon towards Sanji, but Sanji used his other leg to block it. He then grabbed onto Dark Samus' arm cannon and did a handstand on it. "PARTY TABLE KICK COURSE!" Sanji span around the arm cannon, kicking Dark Samus repeatedly in the face. Sanji then jumped off of Dark Samus' arm cannon as she almost lost her balance. Sanji then got behind Dark Samus and charged straight at her.

"COLLIER SHOOT!" Sanji thrusted his foot at Dark Samus' back so hard, she made a huge crack on the glass wall she crashed onto in front of her. Sanji took a few steps back, awaiting for Dark Samus to get back up again. Dark Samus then quickly got up and fired several missiles at Sanji, who kicked them all away. After kicking the last missile away, Sanji realized that Dark Samus was nowhere in sight.

"Sanji, be careful!" Samus said, "She turned invisible!"

"Invisible, huh? What good would that do?" Sanji asked while keeping a sharp eye for anything suspicious. Suddenly, a phazonic blast came out of nowhere, and headed straight towards Sanji, but he was able to dodge at time. Sanji then ran towards the area where the phazonic blast appeared from earlier, and thrusted his foot forward, but didn't hit anything. Missiles then appeared out of nowhere and went straight towards Sanji, who jumped high up in the air to avoid all of them. "GYEH!" Sanji cried as he got from something invisible from behind while in midair. Sanji groggily landed on his feet as he tried to recover his focus.

"If you think that you can defeat me like this, then think again!" Sanji yelled angrily as he turned around while swinging his leg, but didn't hit anything. He then quickly got to a handstand, and raised his heel quickly, hitting something invisible in the process. "Gotcha!" Sanji realized that he kicked Dark Samus, and lunged himself towards where he kicked her earlier, and managed to kick her again. Dark Samus then turned visible after receiving such a harsh kick from Sanji as she crash right into the glass wall behind her. Sanji then charged towards Dark Samus, who then started to shoot at him. Sanji evaded Dark Samus' shots as he then got close to her.

"POITRINE SHOT!" Sanji performed a powerful kick towards Dark Samus, who quickly evaded as Sanji made a humongous crack. Sanji quickly faced towards Dark Samus, only to get hit in the face by her arm cannon. The back of Sanji's head crashed onto the glass wall behind him, giving it a bigger crack as Dark Samus then grabbed him by his shirt collar while charging up her arm cannon. Dark Samus then fired a fully charged shot at Sanji, making him crash into the glass wall behind him and then falling limplessly on the floor as the glass wall behind him then shattered into pieces. "Eh…" Sanji groaned as Dark Samus then aimed at him while he was down.

"Sanji, what the hell do you think you are doing losing against her!?" Samus yelled angrily at Sanji, trying to motivate him, "Get up, and kick her ass already!"

Dark Samus got annoyed by hearing that, and turned around to aim at Samus. Before Dark Samus could fire at her, She felt a slight shiver behind her.

"You piece of trash… I thought I told you that I will not allow you to do that sort of thing again!"

Dark Samus quickly turned around, only to see Sanji hooking his foot around her head. "RECEPTION!" Sanji used that leg around Dark Samus' head, and smashed her face hard into the ground hard. Sanji then used his other leg to kick Dark Samus at the side of her head, sending her flying towards the other side of the room. Dark Samus groggily got up as Sanji was glaring at her. "Do not think that I am through with you just yet. I have more things in store for you!" Sanji yelled as he charged at Dark Samus again.

Meanwhile…

Chopper was in his Heavy point as he was helping Robin to get up after the terrifying battle with Gandrayda. "It's alright, Doctor-san. I can walk on my own." Robin said weakly.

"Don't say such things." Chopper said, "You got really hurt earlier, and I don't want to risk you getting hurt again."

Robin kindly smiled at him. Chopper blushed slightly as he then looked at Gandrayda, who was still unconscious. "She was really strong. Let's get out of here before she wakes up again." Chopper suggested.

"Hmm? Wait… something is happening to her." Robin said.

They looked at Gandrayda as something was coming out of her, something spiritual or holographic. It appeared to be some sort of human face, but the back of his head looks robotic, and their were wires out of his neck. The face then self-destructed into particles, never to be seen again.

"What… was that?" Chopper asked.

"It looked like a person, yet…" Robin said until she then shrugged it off. "Let's worry about this later. We still have an objective to do."

"Huh? Oh, right." Chopper said in realization as he then helped Robin towards the entrance where the Energy controller lies.

Back with Sanji…

Dark Samus shot multiple Phazon shots at Sanji, who was running horizontally while avoiding them. Sanji then jumped towards a regular wall, and then towards the ceiling, and then finally lunged towards Dark Samus. "JARRET!" Sanji kicked Dark Samus' shin, causing her to lose some of her balance. "CUISSEAU!" Sanji delivered a hard kick to Dark Samus' thigh, but Dark Samus still managed to stay standing. "TENDRON!" Sanji thrusted his foot at Dark Samus' neck, causing her to stagger back. Sanji then charged towards her while she was regaining her balance. "MOUTON SHOT!" Sanji does a powerful horizontal kick to Dark Samus' mid section.

Dark Samus growled in pain as he them wrapped her arm cannon around Sanji's attacking leg. She then used her regular arm and grabbed Sanji's face with it. She then slammed the back of his head into the ground hard, attempting to smash his skull in the process. Luckily, Sanji was still conscious as he then raised his foot and kicked Dark Samus at the back of her head, causing her to let go of Sanji. Sanji then shoved Dark Samus away with his other foot, and got back up to his feet to charge at her. "ESCALOPE!" Sanji leaped towards Dark Samus and intended to kick Dark Samus' forehead, but Dark Samus saved herself by creating a phazonic shield around her, knocking Sanji back.

Sanji tumbled backwards until he was able to get back up on his feet as he then Dark Samus leaped up towards the air, charging up her arm cannon longer than usual. Sanji's eyes widened as Dark Samus fired a super missile at him. Sanji leaped out of the missile's way, but couldn't avoid the explosion it caused afterwards. Sanji landed on his hands and knees as Dark Samus quickly got close to him, and grabbed him at the back of his shirt collar with her regular arm. She then threw Sanji up high in the air as she then started to fire multiple blasts at him. They all made impact on Sanji, creating a big dust screen that almost covered the whole ceiling.

Dark Samus believed she had won as she waited for Sanji's corpse to fall down. To her surprise, Sanji was still alive as he came flying out of the dust screen, heading right towards her. "EXTRA HACHE!" Sanji delivered a barrage of kicks towards every part of Dark Samus' body, staggering her back into the glass wall that was still intact. "BOUQUETIERE SHOT!" Sanji lands on his hands and underneath Dark Samus' chin. He then thrusted both feet at Dark Samus' chin, crashing her up towards the ceiling and then straight back down to the ground. Dark Samus groggily got up as Sanji jumped above her and intended to kick her, but Dark Samus created a Phazonic flamethrower at Sanji, knocking him back to the ground.

"AAAHHHH!!" Sanji cried in pain as the phazonic flame around him started to die down. Sanji panted heavily as Dark Samus then morphed into a ball with Phazonic energy around her, and rolled over Sanji, leaving her trail of Phazon over him. "GRRR!!" Sanji grunted as he then saw Dark Samus started to bounce towards the ceiling and then back to the ground again. She repeated this procedure as she was also getting closer to Sanji by the second. Sanji rolled sideways, avoiding Dark Samus as best as he could. Sanji then got back to his feet, and mustered most of his power into his right leg as Dark Samus was bouncing closer to him.

"TEKKA SHOOT!" Sanji caught Dark Samus with his right leg. He then did a handstand and started to spin around in circles, spinning Dark Samus as well. After spinning several times, Sanji lets Dark Samus loose, sending her flying right out of the temple and out of sight in just a manner of seconds. Sanji then fell on his back, panting heavily again as Samus was amazed at Sanji's strength.

"Incredible… to think that he could take Dark Samus down with sheer power alone." Samus said with an awe. "But.. why do I feel that this is not over yet?"

The room was quiet. You could only hear the sound of the wind whistling by the room through where some of the glass walls used to be. Suddenly, something broke the silence as Sanji and Samus could then hear the sound of some sort of comet heading their way. Sanji immediately turned around and sees phazonic comet heading towards him. Sanji tried to run away, but it crashed right into his back. "GUAH!" Sanji cried as he almost flew off the temple as he grabbed on to the ledge. He pulled himself up as he also saw the phazonic comet disappeared, revealing Dark Samus. You cant really tell, but it seems that Dark Samus was now really angry at Sanji.

"Tsk! You just cant seem to learn your lesson!" Sanji said as he got back inside the temple and got up on his feet. Dark Samus then fired multiple missiles simultaneously at Sanji, who zigzagged right past them instead of kicking them away. After Sanji evaded the last missile, he rolled right behind Dark Samus' back. "CUISSEAU SHOT!" Sanji kicked at the back of Dark Samus' kneecaps, forcing her on her knees. "LONGE!" Sanji kicked Dark Samus' back, causing her to tumble forward. Dark Samus then quickly dashed away before Sanji could kick her again. Dark Samus reappeared in the center of the room and charged up her arm cannon while Sanji charged towards her.

"COLLIER-" Just before Sanji could do anything to Dark Samus, she instantly stopped charging her arm cannon and quickly got right behind Sanji. Sanji tried to stop himself after running so fast as Dark Samus then fired a super missile. Luckily, Sanji slightly jumped and did a midair dodge, barely dodging Dark Samus' super missile as it flew right out of the temple. Sanji quickly got on his feet as Dark Samus was charging up more Phazon. "That move again… !" Sanji said as he then saw Dark Samus doing something different than attacking for once. All the phazon she gathered went directly to her arm cannon, but she wasn't going to use it against Sanji.

Instead, Dark Samus started to fire phazonic blasts all over the room, leaving huge chunks of phazon upon where the blasts hits on. Dark Samus concentrated her fire upon the walls, including where the one half of the glass walls used to be. Once she was finally done shooting everywhere. The only part of the wall that was left untouched was where Samus was leaning on. The change in the area does not please Sanji at all, since he is now at a disadvantage due to all the Phazon. "Pfft… you're kidding me…" Sanji mumbled as Dark Samus then laughed at him.

Meanwhile…

Rundas was completely unconscious as Zoro walked close to him, while Nami was sweating a bit. "This guy was tough." Zoro began to say, "I wonder why he attacked us…"

"Ugh, I dont care." Nami panted, "Let's just get out of here; this place is very hot. I cannot stand the heat around here."

Zoro didn't say anything. He then looked to his left to see the elevator platform that leads to the energy controller. "I think that thing is working now. Let's get on it."

"Good, I can't wait to get out of here." Nami said as they then went towards the platform. Nami then suddenly heard something behind her. She turned around and saw that something was coming out of Rundas. "Hey, Zoro. Look at this."

Zoro turned around and saw the same kind of spirit thing that came out of Gandrayda a while ago. It self-destructed into particles, leaving Zoro and Nami to wonder what just happened.

"Umm… okay? Let's pretend we didnt see that." Nami said oddly.

"Fine." Zoro shrugged as they then headed towards the Energy controller.

Back with Sanji…

Dark Samus was shooting at Sanji, who was doing his best to avoid her blasts, and also not trying to get too close to the phazon on the walls. Dark Samus fired a blast right underneath Sanji's feet, causing him to almost slip. He accidentally leaned his hand on the phazonic wall to prevent himself from falling down. "AAAAAAHHHHH!!!" Sanji cried as he held his hand in sheer pain.

"Don't touch that! You'll get hurt!" Samus yelled.

As Sanji was trying to ease the pain in his hand, Dark Samus took the chance to charge at him. As Dark Samus got close, Sanji quickly thrusted his feet at Dark Samus' arm, leaving her wide open for an attack. "DEUXIEME HACHE!" Sanji repeatedly thrusted his feet at Dark Samus' stomach area, staggering her back a bit. As Dark Samus was staggering back, Sanji quickly crouched behind her and did a sweeping kick at Dark Samus' legs, causing her to fall down. Sanji then lifted his right leg as high as he could, and slammed it down at Dark Samus, who blocked with her arm cannon. Dark Samus then shoved Sanji back, and fired a missile at him, which Sanji did backflip to avoid it.

Dark Samus then got up and started to fire more missiles at Sanji, who jumped up and waited until her missiles come closer. "JENGA SHOOT!" Sanji kicked at each missile one at a time, sending them all back to Dark Samus, who quickly got out of the way. Before Sanji could land on his feet, Dark Samus got underneath and created a phazonic flamethrower at Sanji, who barely dodged by arching his back in midair. Sanji then landed on his hands while drawing back his feet. "COTELETTE!" Sanji did a 360 degree spin, kicking Dark Samus' ribs hard. "SELLE!" Sanji quickly span the other way and kicked at Dark Samus' back, staggering her forward.

Sanji then quickly jumped up in the air as Dark Samus was turning towards him. "SANTEN DECOUPAGE!" Sanji performed three powerful roundhouse kicks with the first kick hitting Dark Samus' head, the second one hitting Dark Samus' chest, and the last one hitting her stomach, causing her to bend over. Sanji then landed right beneath Dark Samus' face as he was ready to jump again. "ANTI-MANNER KICK COURSE!" Sanji thrusted his foot upwards, kicking Dark Samus' face really hard. Dark Samus limplessly crashed right towards the other side of the room as Sanji landed on his feet, panting rather heavily. To his surprise, Dark Samus got right back up again.

"You just wont go down…" Sanji panted as Dark Samus also seemed a little exhausted. Sanji then charged right at her, which Dark Samus wanted as she then created a wall of Phazon in front of her, blocking Sanji's path. "Like that is going to stop me! SHISHINABE SHOT!" Sanji leaped up in the air, and kicked right through the wall of Phazon with ease. He landed on his knees after kicking through a hazardous element as he then noticed that Dark Samus was nowhere in sight. "What the… !?" Sanji looked behind his shoulder, and instantly got kicked in the face by Dark Samus. "Ugh!" Sanji tumbled backwards as Dark Samus quickly got behind him, and fired a small, but powerful Phazonic flare at Sanji, sending him flying to the other side of the room.

Dark Samus laughed as Sanji landed hard on the floor. "Damn it! If this keeps up, we're doomed!" Samus hissed. She then tried to move her legs, but was still injured from fighting Dark Samus earlier. She then tried to reach for her weapon, but it was kicked away by Dark Samus. "Eh!?" Samus looked up as Dark Samus looked down at her, aiming at her with her. Suddenly, a block of Phazon crashed to the side of Dark Samus' head, almost knocking her down. Dark Samus angrily looked at where that block of Phazon came from, and saw Sanji, with his leg raised diagonally. There was a little burn on Sanji's foot after kicking the block of Phazon, but he didn't care.

"How long do you intend to learn your lesson!?" Sanji yelled as he charged at Dark Samus again. Sanji swung his leg horizontally at Dark Samus, who ducked to avoid. Dark Samus then tried to fire at Sanji, but Sanji used his other leg to kick her arm cannon away. Sanji then landed on his hands and thrusted his feet at Dark Samus, who quickly got out of the way to avoid. Sanji quickly did a backflip and intended to land his feet on Dark Samus' face, but she ducked and aimed at Sanji's face while he was still in midair. Sanji quickly moved his head back to avoid Dark Samus' shot as he then placed his hands on Dark Samus' arm cannon.

Sanji then used the strength of his arms to swing his body horizontally and kick Dark Samus' head with both of his legs. As Sanji lets go of Dark Samus' arm cannon, Dark Samus quickly countered by swinging the back of her regular arm at the back of Sanji's neck. Sanji used his hands to stop himself from crashing to the floor as he then hooked both of his legs around Dark Samus head. "COLLIER HOOK!" Sanji swung himself horizontally while thrusting his legs forward, letting go of Dark Samus as her face crashed into the wall of Phazon. Dark Samus immediately got out of there, holding her face in sheer pain. Sanji was confused as he then saw Dark Samus' face was a little burned.

"So that's your weakness, huh?" Sanji said with a smirk. "The only way to kill a dragon is to use it's own flame against it."

Dark Samus glared at Sanji as he was rubbing his neck. "What is with that look of yours? You actually look a little more decent than before." Sanji said with a plain look. Dark Samus angrily charged at Sanji, who instantly got on his hands and quickly Dark Samus' arms and legs, leaving her chest wide open as Sanji quickly got on his feet. "The move I am about to use is the move that was supposed to be meant for you! I accidentally used this move against poor Samus, giving me such harsh sins. But I will now relinquish those sins by using this move ten times harder on you!" Sanji yelled as he quickly charged right towards Dark Samus.

"OEIL!" Sanji kicked Dark Samus' visor, "NEZ!" Sanji kicked another part of Dark Samus' visor, "JOUE!" Sanji kicked the side of Dark Samus' head, "BOUCHE!" Sanji kicked under Dark Samus' visor, "DENTA!" Sanji kicked at the same spot of Dark Samus face again, "MENTON!" Sanji kicked Dark Samus' chin. "I am not done yet! PARAGE SHOT!" Sanji angrily delivers a barrage of kicks at Dark Samus' face, not giving her a chance to react. The force of his kicks were forcing Dark Samus to get close the Phazonic wall behind her. Sanji then stopped kicking her as he prepared his final blow. "COLLIER SHOOT!" Sanji thrusted his foot at Dark Samus face with sheer force, knocking her into the Phazonic wall behind her.

Upon hitting the wall, it caused a humongous Phazonic current that went directly towards Dark Samus. Dark Samus growled with pain as the Phazon that were in the entire room shattered into pieces. The room no longer has any Phazonic walls, and most of glass walls were gone too. Sanji then took out a cigarette from his pocket.

"He did it…" Samus said. But then, something else was starting to happen. The particles of the shattered Phazon went right inside Dark Samus body, reviving her as her body deteriorated, revealing her organs, and a third eye on her forehead. She then raised her regular arm, revealing a fourth eye on the back of her hand.

"What… is this?" Sanji asked surprised. Dark Samus then quickly got behind Sanji, who barely saw her coming as she then whacked Sanji away with her arm cannon. Sanji almost went flying out of the temple, but Dark Samus quickly got in front of him and created a shield of Phazon, knocking Sanji the other way. As Sanji flew to the other side of the room, Dark Samus appeared above him and fired a Phazonic shot at Sanji's chest. "Guah…" Sanji fell hard on the floor as Dark Samus levitated next to him. Dark Samus then looked at Samus, who was shocked at what just happened.

"Sanji…" Samus said as Dark Samus went towards her. She then stopped as she then heard Sanji getting up. She looked behind her shoulder to see that Sanji was already up, panting weakly.

"This isn't over…" Sanji said bitterly as he then started to spin around around with one foot on the ground. Dark Samus looked at Sanji, curious on what he planned to do. Sanji stopped spinning as he then raised the foot he was spinning with, which was now blazing red. "DIABLE JAMBE!"

Meanwhile…

Back in Sanctuary Fortress, Franky pulled himself up a ledge near the hexagon door that leads to Energy controller. "Okay, Longnose. Come here." Franky said as he then helped Usopp up towards the floor he is on.

"Phew… how do these people walk through these places?" Usopp asked while panting lightly.

"Quit whining. We are almost there anyway. Now come on." Franky said as he then went through the hexagon door.

"Oh… wait for me!" Usopp said as he caught up with Franky.

Back down at the area where they fought Ghor, Ghor was still unconcious as the same spiritual thing that came out of Rundas and Gandrayda earlier started to come out of him. Once it did, it suddenly got grabbed by someone. That someone then crushed the spiritual thing with his own as he then looked at the door where Usopp and Franky went through.

"So… they are the pirates I hear so much about… heh heh heh."

Back with Sanji…

Sanji stood still with his right leg raised within a few inches from the ground as it was blazing hot. Dark Samus oddly looked at his foot, while the original Samus wondered the same thing

"His foot…" Samus began to say, "How is it on fire?"

Samus then glared at Dark Samus. "That Phazon of yours is really deadly, but their is one thing that is surpasses it. My passion! My passion burns more than your Phazon!"

Dark Samus then charged at Sanji, and fired a missile at him, but Sanji quickly avoided it, and got right in front of Dark Samus. "HIYYYYAAAAAAA!!!" Sanji thrusted his blazing foot towards Dark Samus' chest, causing sheer pain to Dark Samus. Dark Samus growled with pain as her chest was almost burning to crisp. Sanji then took a few steps backwards before charging at Dark Samus again. "PREMIER HACHE!" Sanji thrusted his blazing foot towards Dark Samus, but she barely avoided him as she got hit on her shoulder instead. Dark Samus growled in pain again while holding her shoulder as Sanji quickly landed on his feet, and turned around to charge at Dark Samus again.

Dark Samus angrily glared at Sanji as she then fired at the ground, creating three humongous pillars of Phazon in front of her. "FRIT ASSORTI!" Sanji delivered three kicks simultaneously at the three Phazonic pillars, destroying them instantly. Dark Samus staggered backwards due to that attack as Sanji went right through the flames he created, and went right towards Dark Samus. Dark Samus ducked under after Sanji's blazing kick, but couldn't avoid his regular foot as she kicked in the face, staggering her back into a wall. Sanji then jumped towards her while raising his blazing foot, intending to finish Dark Samus once and for all.

Dark Samus had other intentions as she then created a shield of Phazon that knocked Sanji back. Dark Samus then quickly repeated this process, knocking Sanji back multiple times so he wouldn't have the chance to counter. Sanji tried to jump off the ceiling to get some distance, but Dark Samus shot a Phazon blast on the ceiling, leaving a chunk of Phazon on it. Sanji quickly stopped himself from touching the ceiling as he lets himself fall down. His eyes widened as he then saw Dark Samus right above him with her arm cannon raised. Dark Samus swung her arm cannon down at Sanji, knocking him down to the ground hard.

"Sanji!" Samus yelled worryingly. Dark Samus got to the ground and saw that Sanji was no longer moving, which pleased her as she laughed victoriously. Her victory fanfare was short lived she then saw Sanji slowly getting up on his feet, with his leg still blazing red. Dark Samus could not take it anymore; she wanted to kill Sanji now. She levitated high up in the air as she was charging up a humongous amount of Phazon towards the tip of her arm cannon. Sanji saw this, and weakly got on his hands and started to spin around at a fast rate, with his blazing foot creating a sphere of fire around him. Dark Samus was gathering so much Phazon, it was now bigger than her.

"This can't be good…" Samus said as she covered her face with her arms. Dark Samus then finally fired a humongous Phazonic beam at Sanji while he was still spinning at a fast rate.

KAA AAB OOO OOO OOO OOO OOO OOO OOO OOO OOO OOO OOO OOO MMM MMM MMM MMM MMMM MMM MMM MMM MMM MMM MMM MMMM!!!!

A furious explosion occurred when Dark Samus' beam collided with Sanji's fire sphere, but luckily, the room was still intact. After Dark Samus finished her attack, she squinted her eyes to see if she did kill Sanji. Her eyes widened as she then saw the sphere around Sanji was now blue instead of red. The sphere around Sanji disappeared as Sanji started to slow down his velocity, showing his blazing leg was now blue. Samus opened her eyes, and was surprised to see Sanji was still alive.

"What the!? His foot absorbed Dark Samus' Phazon!" Samus said surprised. Dark Samus was now, for the first time in this fic, shocked to see Sanji was still alive as he then leaped towards her. Dark Samus tried to attack him, but Sanji wrapped his left arm around Dark Samus' arm cannon. Sanji felt the pain from touching Dark Samus' Phazonic body, but ignored it as he then glared at Dark Samus.

"THIS IS WHERE YOU WILL FALL!!! PHAZON…" Sanji placed his Phazonic foot at the side of Dark Samus' head, which gave her sheer pain. "… SHOT!!!" Sanji lets go of Dark Samus' arm cannon and swung his Phazonic foot downward, kicking Dark Samus right through the glass floor. Dark Samus quivered in pain as once she landed on the area beneath the temple, she exploded into Phazon particles, never to be seen again. Sanji landed next to hole he made in the glass floor as the Phazon around his foot disappeared.

Samus was amazed as Sanji placed his hands in his pockets. "The dreaded Dragon… has been slayed."

Preview: Finally I get to fight him. I will finally show Ridley that it doesn't matter what kind of pirate you are. I will teach him not to insult my crew! Next time on One Piece: A Smash Adventure; Chapter 66: My new technique!, Luffy vs Ridley. I am gonna be the Pirate King!

Sanji finally got his revenge. I hate to say this, but I kind of slacked off during this two week updateless period. I just felt like taking a little vacation, so don't expect any updates tomorrow, or anything like that. I will try to update around the weekend since I have exams this week. See ya!

Metroid Pt 15

Hi! I am here to present you the Luffy vs Ridley battle. Be aware that at some part of the battle, their will be slight torture. Anyway, here is the battle of captains! Have fun!

Mr. Prince's honor restored. Sanji and Dark Samus fought a tremendous battle, with Samus viewing the entire thing. Despite fighting a hazardous creature, Sanji overcame Dark Samus, kicking her down towards her defeat, never to be seen again. Meanwhile, Luffy finally started to battle Ridley. These two have something to prove to eachother, but only one of them can do such thing. Will Luffy be able to defeat one of the deadliest captains out there?

Chapter 66: My new technique!, Luffy vs Ridley

"GOMU GOMU NO GATLING GUN!" Luffy repeatedly punches Ridley, who was receiving most of Luffy's blows, but weren't strong enough to make him stagger. Ridley got irritated and decided to flap his wings hard to blow Luffy back. Luffy almost fell off his feet as Ridley then went airborne, and flew towards him. Luffy saw him coming and quickly arched his back to barely avoid Ridley as he flew by. "GOMU GOMU NO…" Luffy stretched both of his arms at Ridley and grabbed his tail, "… ROCKET!" Luffy sprung towards Ridley, but Ridley quickly turned around and backhanded Luffy at the side of his head. "UWAH!" Luffy cried as he went crashing back to the floor.

Ridley landed on the ground, and looked down at Luffy. "Is stretching your body all you can do?" Ridley asked, "Because if it is, you suck at it."

"I haven't even shown you what I can really do…" Luffy said while getting up on his feet.

"Heh!" Ridley laughed as he then started to breath out fire balls at Luffy. Luffy quickly rolled out of the way before he then charged at Ridley.

"GOMU GOMU NO MUCHI!" Luffy did a stretched horizontal kick at Ridley, who managed to catch it. Ridley then pulled in Luffy, and lowered his huge tail down at his body, almost crushing him through the ground. "Ah!" Luffy cried as Ridley raised his tail to lower it down at Luffy again. Luffy quickly rolled forward, rolling under Ridley's legs as he slammed his tail on the ground. Luffy then jumped on Ridley's back, and started to wrap his stretched arms around Ridley's neck, choking him in the process.

"Grr..!" Ridley grunted as he then used his tail to grab Luffy's neck, and try to kill him, but instead, he was actually stretching Luffy's neck back. "Let go of me!"

"No!" Luffy yelled back as he tried to break free of Ridley's tail. Luffy then nudged his head back, squeezing through Ridley's tail around his neck. "GOMU GOMU NO KANE!" Luffy managed to break free of Ridley's tail as his head went right in the back of Ridley's head, giving him a strong headbutt.

"GAH!" Ridley cried as he staggered forward. Luffy then jumped off of Ridley while his arms where still around Ridley's neck. As soon as Luffy landed on the ground, he flipped Ridley over his shoulder and into the ground.

Luffy then stretched his right foot upwards while Ridley was still on the ground. "GOMU GOMU NO-" before Luffy could lower his leg, Ridley quickly got on his claws and feet, and tackled Luffy in the air. Ridley then jumped up and slashed at Luffy's chest with his claws, leaving huge cuts on him. "AAHHH!" Luffy cried as Ridley then grabbed him, and lifted him up a few feet from the ground.

"Had enough yet, Sea pirate!?" Ridley asked. He then realized that Luffy was twisting his waist in circles before he placed his feet on the ground. Luffy then pulled his hands out of Ridley's grip and stretched them towards Ridley's tail.

"GOMU GOMU NO…" Luffy spat on Ridley's eyes, causing him to let go of Luffy, "… KAZAGURUMA!" Luffy untwisted his waist, spinning Ridley in circles in the process. Ridley growled as he was able to place his feet on the ground while he was still getting span in circles. This slowed Luffy's momentum as Ridley then swung his tail in 180 degrees, swinging Luffy up in the air. Ridley then breathed out fire balls at Luffy, who try to destroy them using his fists, which only made them to explode. Luffy fell limplessly on the ground as Ridley then spreads his wings before dashing right towards Luffy again. Luffy quickly got rolled out of the way as he Ridley flew past him.

"GOMU GOMU NO SENSUIKAN!" Luffy stretched his arm under Ridley's chin, giving him a hard uppercut. At the same time, Luffy was stretching and twisting his other arm, and charged at Ridley while he was staggering back from the punch he received earlier. "GOMU GOMU NO RIFLE!" Luffy thrusted his stretched and twisted arm at Ridley's gut, but he somehow managed to stay on his feet. Ridley coughed up some blood as he angrily grabbed Luffy's arm while spreading his wings. He pulled Luffy towards himself at the same time he flew at him. Ridley then lets go of Luffy's arm, and gave Luffy a devastating clothesline as he flew by.

"Gyah!" Luffy cried in pain as he was spiraling up in the air. Luffy retaliated by stretching his arm, and grabbing Ridley's tail while in midair. "GOMU GOMU NO ROCKET!" Luffy sprung towards Ridley's back, and crashed right into it, causing Ridley to lose control of himself. While Ridley tried to regain his flight composure, Luffy grabbed his shoulders from behind, and jumped off, stretching his arms, and twisting his torso vertically in the process. "GOMU GOMU NO MARUNOKO!" Luffy untwisted himself, spinning like a buzzsaw as he was heading straight back to Ridley, giving him a much more devastating headbutt then the one from earlier.

"Errrghh!!" Ridley grunted in pain as the force of Luffy's attack sends them crashing straight down to the ground, creating a big dust screen. Luffy got out of the dust screen as the dust screen was starting to clear. Once it did, it showed Ridley charging up his mouth with red energy. "INFERNAL BEAM!" Ridley shot out a plasma beam at Luffy, who jumped out of the way as Ridley clearly burned most of the ground in front of him.

"Whoa! That was close!" Luffy said in relief. Luffy then turned to Ridley, only to get smacked away by his tail. Luffy recovered as he landed on his feet and saw Ridley charging up for another beam attack again. "Oh no you don't!" Luffy yelled as he charged at Ridley while stretching both of his arms back. "GOMU GOMU NO BAZOO-"

"SPHERE OF DESTRUCTION!" Instead of shooting out a beam, he created a big sphere of fire from his mouth. Luffy stopped himself by thrusting his arms at the ground in front of him, creating a force that made Luffy on his back. The sphere of fire Ridley created went right over Luffy and into a mountain that was far behind him. It crashed onto it, creating a big explosion that was bigger than the mountain itself.

"WHAT THE!? I COULD HAVE DIED IF THAT HIT ME!" Luffy yelled in shock by the explosion. Luffy then turned around, and got caught by Ridley as he then flew high up in the air. "Hey! Put me down!"

"No problem!" Ridley replied as he threw Luffy down from a high altitude.

"Wahh!!" Luffy shouted as he was falling down. Ridley then breathed out fireballs down at Luffy, who wasnt going to give up as he stretched his arm past the fireballs, and grabbed Ridley's shoulder. He then pulled himself towards Ridley, going through his fireballs with ease. "GOMU GOMU NO KAMA!" Luffy delivered clothesline across Ridley's head with his regular as he then flew by. Ridley got angry and turned around to grab Luffy's leg. "Yahh!?" Ridley then pulled Luffy towards himself and wrapped his arms around his body as he started to fly towards another area.

Meanwhile…

Back at the Great temple, Sanji was still standing on the same spot after he defeated Dark Samus. He then collapsed on his knees, which made Samus worry.

"Sanji!" Samus said as she was able to get up and get to Sanji's side. "Sanji, are you okay!?"

"I am okay…" Sanji panted, "Are you okay?"

"I am fine now." Samus said, trying to sound nice. "What hell were you thinking? You could have died fighting Dark Samus."

"I couldn't let her hurt you…" Sanji said while looking down. "She was a monster who liked to hurt innocent people. It made me sick to my stomach looking at that creature. I had to get rid of her no matter what the cost…"

"Still…" Samus began to say, "That was very stupid of your part trying to help me. I could have taken her on my own." Samus then looked at Sanji gently, "But since you helped me anyway, I guess I have to show my gratitude."

Sanji got happy and puckered his lips in front of Samus, who simply pushed him back with her palm. "Th-Thanks for the help. I really couldnt have survived without you saving me." Samus said kindly as Sanji stopped trying to kiss her. Sanji looked up at the ceiling, feeling good about himself. Samus then got up, and looked outside. "But we can't relax yet. This planet is still in danger. It's not over until Ridley is defeated!"

Back with Luffy…

Ridley flew at great speeds, holding on to Luffy as well. "There is a good spot!" Ridley said as they were now above Agon wastes. He then threw Luffy downward, and tackled him right through a ceiling of a big hallway. They were now inside the big hall with a huge lens at the end of the wall.

Luffy groggily got up and panted as Ridley then breath out fireballs at him. Luffy runs past them and jumps above Ridley. "GOMU GOMU NO YARI!" Luffy thrusted both of his feet down at Ridley, who sidestepped to avoid. Luffy quickly pulled back his legs as Ridley almost bites them off. Luffy then stretched his right foot upward while going down to the ground.

"GOMU GOMU NO ONO!" Luffy lowered his stretched leg at the back of Ridley's head. Ridley growled with pain as he then jumped back to get some distance away from Luffy. Ridley then spreads his wings, and lunged towards Luffy, who jumped out of the way as Ridley crashed into the wall. "GOMU GOMU NO STAMP!" Luffy thrusted his leg at Ridley, who knocked it out of the way with his arm, causing Luffy to almost lose his balance.

"FIRE BREATH!" Ridley breathed out a stream of fire as Luffy quickly turned around and jumped away from it's range. Luffy then saw a platform above him as he then stretched his arms towards it. After Ridley finished breathing out fire, he quickly lunged towards Luffy, who quickly pulled himself up on the platform as Ridley went past him. As Luffy got on the platform, he turned around and saw Ridley flying towards with his mouth wide open. Luffy jumped off the platform just in time as Ridley destroyed the small platform with his teeth. "GOMU GOMU NO PISTOL!" Luffy thrusted his arm towards Ridley while in midair, and punched him across the jaw.

"Geh!" Ridley grunted as he then spat out a few pieces of the platform he destroyed earlier towards Luffy.

"GOMU GOMU NO GATLING GUN!" Luffy repeatedly punches all the pieces of the platform, knocking them all away. Before he can stop though, Ridley went right past his fists and tackled Luffy down. "AAHHH!!" Luffy cried as he crashed right into the ground. Luffy rolled right back into his feet as Ridley got into a higher altitude before charging down at Luffy again. "GOMU GOMU NO PACHINKO!" Luffy stretched his left arm to the other side of the hall and grabbed something. He did the same with his other arm as Ridley started to get closer. Luffy then slightly jumped with his feet facing in front of him as Ridley crashed into him, pushing his body back a bit.

"Ergh!?" Ridley suddenly then got pushed, and was flown back like a slingshot as he crashed into a wall behind him. Ridley groggily got up as Luffy was charging at him.

"GOMU GOMU NO BULLET!" Luffy stretched his arm way back, and punched Ridley in the gut at close-range.

"GOOAHH!!" Ridley cried in pain as Luffy didnt finish there.

"GOMU GOMU NO GATLING GUN!" Luffy repeatedly punched Ridley at all over his front body, not giving him a chance to recover. Ridley then yelled as he then grabbed Luffy and pinned him against the wall he was just leaning on. Ridley then opened his mouth and intended to bite Luffy's head off, but Luffy saved himself by moving his head the other the way. This process continued as Luffy was slowly breaking free of Ridley's grip. "HIIIYAAAA!!" Luffy spreads his arms and legs, breaking free of Ridley's grip. "GOMU GOMU NO PISTOL!" Luffy thrusted his arm at Ridley, but Ridley moved out of the way to avoid. He then grabbed Luffy's stretched arm and threw him to the other side of the hall.

"TAIL THRUST!" Ridley extended the joints of his tail and thrusted it towards Luffy, who barely dodged. Luffy then grabbed his tail as Ridley then started to shake him off. Ridley swung his tail left and right, but Luffy just wouldnt let go. Ridley then swung his tail hard at one direction, causing Luffy to let go. Luffy flew right towards the big lens in the hall, but was able to land sofly on it as he grabbed on to the ledges of it. Luffy then jumped off the lens and went down towards Ridley. Luffy thrusted his legs at Ridley while spinning and twisting them. He grabbed Ridley, who tried as Luffy was heading to the ground.

"GOMU GOMU NO OZUCHI!" As soon as Luffy landed on his hands, he lifted Ridley up with his legs as they started to untwist themselves, spinning Ridley in the process. Luffy then brought Ridley over his body and slammed him on the ground with his legs.

"GYAAAHHH!!" Ridley cried in pain as Luffy lets go of him. Despite all that, Ridley still got up, with some blood coming out of his forehead. "You got very lucky… but now playtime is over!" Ridley yelled as he lunged towards Luffy while he was getting up. He grabbed Luffy and flew at a big altitude as he intended to crash Luffy through a ceiling again.

"Not again!" Luffy yelled as slipped through Ridley's grip and grabbed his tail. Luff then stretched his legs and wrapped them to a mechanism on the floor. Luffy then pulled on Ridley's tail, causing Ridley to stop flying up as the force of Luffy's strength pulled him all the way down to the floor. Ridley crashed on the floor so hard, he bounced off of it as Luffy quickly got under him. "GOMU GOMU NO KAZAN!" Luffy stretched his leg right up to Ridley's back, kicking him high up in the air. Luffy then used that leg to wrap it around Ridley's tail as it made him fly up to Ridley's level. "GOMU GOMU NO BAZOOKA!" Luffy thrusted both of his palms at Ridley's gut.

"GOAH!!" Ridley cried as the force of Luffy's attack sended him flying towards the huge mechanic lens behind him. Once he crashed into it, a huge electrical current went through Ridley's entire body. "AAAAAAAAHHHHHHHHHH!!!" The lens then exploded as it blew Luffy back to the other side of the hall. Luffy sits up and sees if he got rid of Ridley as it was hard to tell through the dust screen created by the explosion.

Ridley was indeed still alive as he came flying out of the dust screen, and grabbed Luffy as they both flew out of the hole in the ceiling and into another place.

Meanwhile…

Chopper helped Robin walk inside the room where the energy controller is. "Hey, is that it?" Chopper asked while looking at a device in the middle of the room that looks exactly like the one in U-mos quarters.

"I suppose it is." Robin said as she tried to walk by herself. Chopper got close to her just in case she would fall down or something as Robin got closer to the device. "Now let's see…" Robin examined the device, trying to figure out how to reactivate it. "U-mos said that in order to reactivate the device, I need to push a button that is right… here!" Robin pushed a button on the device that made it turn on.

Chopper and Robin backed away as the energy controller shot a beam of light up to a mechanism above it. The mechanism then shot the light towards all the way back to the Great temple.

"It worked! We reactivated the device!" Chopper said excitedly.

Robin smiled as she looked at the beam of light. "It's all up to the others now."

Back with Luffy…

Luffy was punching Ridley with one arm as he was now flying above Torvus bog. "GOMU GOMU NO PISTOL!" Luffy stretched his arm and punched across Ridley's jaw, causing him to crash down into the area. They were now in an area where there is a bridge in the middle, and a small pond, next to some higher platforms. There was also two rhino-like creatures there as they saw Luffy and Ridley getting up. They both charged at them, but Luffy and Ridley knocked them out with one punch. As soon as they were out of the way, Luffy and Ridley angrily glared at eachother and punched eachother, with their fists creating a strong force between them.

They both jumped back as Luffy then charged at Ridley. "GOMU GOMU NO GATLING GUN!" Luffy repeatedly punches at Ridley, who flapped his wings to go high up in the air. Ridley then landed on his feet hard, creating a purple shockwave as Luffy almost fell into the pond. "Yah! That was close…" Luffy said in relief as he then saw Ridley charging at him. Ridley tried to grab Luffy, but Luffy quickly stretched his arms towards the bridge above him and pulled himself above Ridley. Luffy then placed his feet on Ridley's face, and pushed him away as Luffy swung his body back. Luffy then swung forward with his legs facing at Ridley, but Ridley ducked and grabbed Luffy with his claws.

Luffy was still holding on to the ledge of the bridge as Ridley tried to bite him. Luffy quickly used all his strength to pull himself back, bringing Ridley along with him as he flew right into the pond beneath it. Luffy got on the bridge and looked off the ledge to see Ridley was now wet. Ridley angrily firebreathed Luffy, who landed on his rear to avoid it. Luffy then ran to the other side of the bridge as Ridley flapped his wings to fly towards him. Luffy jumped off the bridge as Ridley crashed into a hexagon door. While in midair, Luffy stretched his arms to the ledge of the bridge and swung himself to the other side of the area he is in.

Luffy then climbed up some vines as Ridley was groggily getting out of the hexagon door. Luffy then swung on a vine and tackled Ridley out of the bridge and on the floor. Ridley backhanded Luffy off of him, and then got up to slash him with his claws, but Luffy rolled out of the way and got into a handstand. "GOMU GOMU NO YARI!" Luffy thrusted both of his legs at Ridley, who dodged and grabbed them. Ridley then threw Luffy over his shoulder and right into the pound.

"Ahhh!! Help me! I cant swim!" Luffy cried out as he was flapping his arms and legs in the water, but was sinking like a hammer.

"Huh? What is this?" Ridley asked as he then noticed that Luffy was now drowning. Luffy was now completely inside the water as he was starting to lose conciousness. His eyes then widened as he saw Ridley grabbing and pulling him out of the pond before throwing him to the other side of the area. "Do you honestly think that you can end your life that easily? Instead of drowning you in this pond, I'll make you drown in your own blood!"

"-cough-… I didn't try to end my life! I just cant swim!" Luffy yelled while getting up. Luffy then charged at Ridley, who quickly dodged him, and got behind him. Ridley then grabbed Luffy from behind and got on one of the round platforms that was in the middle of the pond.

"Let's have a little fun then!" Ridley yelled cruelly as he placed Luffy in the water harshly. Luffy almost lost consciousness as Ridley brought him back out. "You like that!? Come on!" Ridley yelled as he placed Luffy in the water again. He got out of the water again, and saw how Luffy was gasping for air. "Ha ha ha ha! This is fun! The only thing that is missing a little blood of yours!" Ridley looked around and saw a pillar supporting the bridge. "This will do! Let's see how many does hits from this pillar does it take to make you bleed from the head!" Ridley thrusted Luffy's face right into the pillar. He then did it four more times before looking at Luffy's face.

Luffy was barely conscious as some blood was coming out of his forehead. "Ha ha ha ha! Yes, your bleeding!" Ridley said cruelly. "Now let's turn this pond red!" Ridley was about to put Luffy back in the pond again, until Luffy angrily widened his eyes and slipped his arm right out of Ridley's grip. He then wiped some of his blood off of his face, and stretched his arm towards Ridley's eye.

"HIYAAAAA!!" Luffy used his nails to gauge Ridley's eye with.

"OWAAAAAAAAAHHHH!!" Ridley cried in pain as he let go of Luffy. Ridley quickly washed his eye out with the pond in front of him as Luffy was getting up. He glared at Ridley, who was in constant pain as he was trying to regain his vision. "Ahhh! Ergh! Guh… huh…" Ridley panted as the pain from his eye was now gone. He angrily behind his shoulder to see Luffy, who was glaring even angrier back at Ridley. "You will… PAY FOR THIS!!!" Ridley charged at Luffy, who had his right arm up.

"AAAAAAAAAHHHHH!!" Luffy yelled as he delivered a strong right hook across Ridley's jaw.

"Gah… !" Ridley cried as he fell hard on the floor. Luffy then kicked Ridley into the pond. He then jumped on the platform in the middle of the pond and grabbed Ridley. Luffy deliver several right hands across Ridley's head mercilessly until he bled. Once Ridley was now starting to bleed, Luffy grabbed him around the neck, and threw him right to support pillar of the bridge behind him. The pillar, and the bridge, fell on Ridley as Luffy looked on. As a big dust screen formed after the collapse of the bridge, Ridley came flying out of it, and grabbed Luffy as they flew out of the area.

Meanwhile…

Zoro and Nami entered the room where the energy controller is. "Is that it?" Zoro asked.

"Looks like it." Nami said. She then walked up to and pressed some buttons. She took a step back as the energy controller reactivated, shooting a beam of light towards the mechanism above it. The mechanism then shot the beam of light towards the Sky temple.

"That's it? Well that was easy." Zoro said.

"Speak for yourself." Nami sighed in exhaustion. "Now lets hope the others did their part as well."

Back with Luffy…

Ridley was now flying over Sanctuary Fortress as Luffy was once again, trying to break free from Ridley's grip. "GOMU GOMU NO FUUSEN!" Luffy inflated himself, breaking free of Ridley's grip. Luffy then deflated himself as he gave one strong at Ridley's face. Ridley and Luffy went falling down into a huge tower, with hole on top. They went falling in the hole as Ridley faced upwards and tried to stop himself from falling by using his claws and feet on the walls. "GOMU GOMU NO GATLING GUN!" Luffy took the chance to repeatedly punch Ridley, causing him to let go of the wall, and fall down even further. Ridley then flapped his wings and flew towards Luffy.

Ridley grabbed Luffy around the waist, but not his arms as they continued to fall down. Ridley took a deep breath, but Luffy stopped him by punching his face repeatedly. Ridley got irritated and backhanded Luffy in the face. Luffy countered by delivering a right fist across Ridley's head. Ridley then lifted his claw and lowered it down at Luffy, who stopped him by grabbing his hand. Luffy then realized that Ridley was about to do a firebreath at him, so Luffy used his strength to push Ridley's claw back, and punch Ridley in the mouth. Ridley lost his temper and threw Luffy further down in the hole as he then flew right down at him.

"It's almost a matter of time now!" Ridley yelled, "You're death is near!"

"That's what you think! GOMU GOMU NO SHOTGUN!" Luffy stretched his arm, and twanged it, causing it to move several directions as it was heading towards Ridley. Ridley got hit several times, and almost lost his flight composure, but was able to regain as he then flew past Luffy. Ridley turned around and placed his claws and feet on the walls to decrease his speed towards the ground as he started to charge up his beam from his mouth.

"INFERNAL BEAM!" Ridley fired out a big plasma beam at Luffy, who barely avoided it as he quickly got right in front of Ridley.

"GOMU GOMU NO…" Luffy builds up his speed with a long series of quick punches as his arms turned red, "… CANNON!" Luffy thrusted both of his arms towards Ridley's gut, sending him falling all the way down to the ground below.

CRASH!!!

Ridley landed hard on the ground as Luffy inflated himself to soften his landing. Luffy then panted as he rested his arm on the something, which turned out to be a button. By pushing the button, the platform Luffy and Ridley are on slowly started to go up to the top. "Ergh…" Ridley groggily got up and quickly breath out a fireball at Luffy. Luffy got out of the way and charged at Ridley, only to get smacked away by the back of his claw. Luffy quickly landed on his feet as Ridley tried to bite him, but Luffy rolled out of the way, and grabbed his tail. Ridley quickly swung his tail towards a wall, but Luffy saved himself by letting go just in time.

Ridley then tried to bite Luffy again, but Luffy used his hands and feet to prevent from Ridley's jaws closing on him. "Ah..!" Luffy was getting overpowered by Ridley's jaws as he then quickly lets go, and jumps back to prevent getting eaten alive. Ridley then swung his tail at Luffy, who jumped sideways, and towards the edge of the platform. Ridley then dashed towards the middle of the platform as he extended the joints of his tail, and taking a deep breath at the same time.

"DEATH WHEEL!" Ridley lets out a firebreath while spinning slowly around in circles, spinning his extended tail as well. The only thing Luffy can do to avoid this attack is to jump up and down. Luffy then jumped right above Ridley while he was still performing his spinning attack.

"GOMU GOMU NO GATLING GUN!" Luffy repeatedly punches Ridley from above, slowing Ridley down little by little. Ridley got irritated and spreads his wings, blowing of Luffy above him. Luffy quickly regained his balance in midair and went towards him. "GOMU GOMU NO PISTOL!" Luffy stretched his arm towards Ridley, but Ridley caught it. He then swung Luffy into the walls around him mercilessly. Luffy quickly placed his feet on the wall he was about to crash into and forcefully pulled his stretched his arm back, bringing along Ridley as well. As Ridley got close, Luffy jumped off the wall, and gave him a harsh kick across Ridley's face.

Ridley fell on the ground as Luffy then charged at him again. "GOMU GOMU NO STAMP!" Luffy stretched his foot at Ridley, kicking him in the face. Ridley rolled backwards as Luffy then stretched his arm at him, and grabbed his neck. Luffy then pulled Ridley towards himself while swinging his other arm in circles. "GOMU GOMU NO SENSUIKAN!" Luffy uppercuts Ridley across his jaw, sending him flying up a couple of feet. Ridley then flapped his wings and flew out of the hole as the platform finally reached to the top of the tower. Luffy looked around angrily as he tried to see where Ridley went. Luffy turned around as Ridley quickly flew past him, almost knocking Luffy off the tower.

"Come back here and fight, you coward!" Luffy yelled as he saw Ridley turning around. Ridley then flew right towards the tower, shooting missiles from his shoulders. Luffy jumped out of the way as the missiles made a moderate explosion that almost blasted him off the tower. Ridley once again flew past the tower and was about to turn towards it once again as Luffy was prepared this time. Luffy climbed up to the tip of the tower as Ridley was coming at him at full speed. Luffy took a deep breath and jumped as Ridley flew right underneath him. Luffy then quickly pulled his arm at Ridley's tail, and grabbed it hard.

Ridley looked behind his shoulder to see Luffy hanging on his tail. "This kid won't give up!" Ridley yelled as he then flew, along with Luffy on his tail, to another direction.

A couple of seconds later…

Samus continued to look outside as Sanji was finally getting back on his feet. "Hey, what's that?" Sanji asked as he noticed some beams of light heading towards U-mos quarters above them.

"The Light of Aether… looks like your comrades have succeeded." Samus said.

In U-mos quarters, U-mos looked at the mechanism above his energy controller, and saw the two beam of lights going inside, making a big light. "Thank goodness…" U-mos said in relief.

Back with Sanji and Samus, Sanji noticed something flying in his view. "Something is coming this way!" Sanji said. Samus squinted her eyes, and recognized who it was.

"Ridley!" Samus said angrily as she then noticed somebody else that was crawling towards his back.

"Luffy!" Sanji said in shock.

Luffy and Ridley both crashed down to area beneath the sky temple, creating a big dust screen.

"We have to help him! Let's go!" Samus yelled as she ran to the hexagon door.

"Wait! Don't hurt yourself! I'll protect you!" Sanji yelled as he went after Samus.

Back in the area under the sky temple, Luffy and Ridley groggily got on their feet, panting heavily while glaring eachother.

"I don't get you…" Ridley panted, "Never in my life, I have met pathetic excuse for a pirate. A Sea pirate such as yourself always give up when the odds are against them. Yet, you just don't seem to do that! No matter how many times I made you bleed; bash your head; ram you through ceilings; you just don't have the brains to give up!"

"Your the one has no brains!" Luffy yelled angrily, "I don't care if I break every bone in my body! I will kick your ass!!"

"Stop dreaming!" Ridley yelled, "Your ambition is making me sick! I'd puke on your face if I have to!" Ridley then calmed down and stood straight while glaring down at Luffy. "I was planning to use this on Samus, but you left me with no choice!" Ridley raised his claws as his body started to glow a bit.

"What the!? What is that!?" Luffy asked as Ridley now has a Phazonic current around his body.

"Behold of the power of my Phazon Enhancement Device!!" Ridley yelled, "There is a special device installed in my body that allows me to use Phazon as my weapon. This enhances my capabilities and physical strength! I can even blow up that tower with one blast! Your chances of losing has now increased tenfold! You cannot defeat me now!!!"

"So what if you have that?" Luffy asked as he then smirked at Ridley. "I can still beat you!"

"Ha! Then prove it!" Ridley said as he now moves much faster than before as he was already behind Luffy. Luffy quickly rolled out of the way as Ridley penetrated his claws right through the center of the of the area floor. "Gah!" Ridley quickly pulled his claw out as he then noticed some crystalized Phazon underneath the ground. "Oh, that's right! There is still Phazon underneath this area. I better be careful…" Ridley said to himself. Luffy then jumped at Ridley from behind, but Ridley quicker as he moved fast and quickly reappeared behind Luffy. Luffy looked behind his shoulder, only to get whacked away by Ridley's tail.

"UGH!" Luffy cried in pain as he went spiraling towards the other side of the area. Before he could crash to the ground, Ridley appeared behind him again, and swung his tail downward at Luffy, making him crash hard on the floor. Ridley then grabbed Luffy and rammed his body on the floor and wall next to him before throwing him up high in the air. Ridley extended the joints of his tail as he flew towards Luffy, and thrusted it towards Luffy, who was able to barely dodge it as it went past him. Luffy then grabbed Ridley's tail, only to get burned by the Phazon around it, causing him to let go as he went falling down to the ground.

Ridley unextended the joints of his tail, and quickly lunged towards Luffy and swunged his claw at him. Luffy barely dodged his claw as he landed on the floor. "GOMU GOMU NO BULLET!" Luffy stretched his arm back, and punched Ridley in the gut at close-range. "DAAAAAAHHHHH!!! THAT HURT!" Luffy cried in pain as his fist was swollen after hitting Ridley. Ridley laughed as smacked away Luffy, who then crashed into a wall. Luffy groggily got out of the wall as Ridley was forming Phazonic orbs from his palms.

"DIE!!" Ridley yelled as he charged at Luffy and lowered his Phazonic orbs at him.

KAA AAB OOO OOO OOO OOO OOO OOO OOO OOO OOO OOO OOO OOO OMM MMM MMM MMM MMM MMM MMM MMM MMM MMM MM!!!!!!

The explosion took a huge part of the wall, including one of the big Luminoth statues. After the dust screen cleared, Luffy was not there. Ridley looked behind his shoulder to see Luffy standing there, looking at the destroyed statue.

"Huh… you did good evading that." Ridley said as he turned towards Luffy, "But I guess you now know what I am capable off. You should let me finish you off so you can prevent further embarrassment.

"You destroyed that statue… I liked that statue…" Luffy said as he then looked at Ridley. "You have gone too far this time. I will make you pay."

"Oh? How do plan on doing that? It's not like you have an ability that will strengthen you." Ridley said with a smirk.

"Actually, I do." Luffy stated, "But I am not going to use that." Ridley was confused on what he meant. "Ever since I have gone into this world, I saw things that were beyond my imagination; techniques that looked impossible to do normally; Strong men that turn out to be transexuals." Ridley looked at Luffy oddly after hearing that last part, "After seeing all the great things here, I have developed a new technique that will surely destroy you!"

Luffy then inflated his body much more than usual. He deflated the air out of his arms and legs as he deflated his body. He then wrapped his deflated arms and legs around himself and started to do other things that were rather odd to explain. Ridley's eyes widened in shock and hatred upon seeing what Luffy has now become.

"What the hell is this?" Ridley asked with a snarl.

Luffy was now some sort of ball, which was as big as Samus' morph ball. "BALL LUFFY!" Luffy exclaimed. He then tried to roll around, which led him to turn face-first into the floor. "Heeyyy, I cant breath! Somebody help me roll around or something!"

Ridley was now completely furious; he has never seen anything so stupid in his life. "Are you actually being serious here? Or are you just trying to piss me off!?!" Ridley dashed towards Luffy, and smacked him away. "Do you honestly expect that stupid form can hurt me!?" Ridley yelled as he saw Luffy was heading towards the wall. As soon as Luffy touched the wall, he bounced off of it so fast, he disappeared. "What!?" Ridley gasped as Luffy then crashed into Ridley before bouncing off. "AAHHHH!!" Ridley went flying right into the wall behind him, making a huge crack on it. Ridley blew away the dust screen with his wings as he still shocked at what just happened.

"How did-" Before Ridley could finish that sentence, Luffy crashed into him again, making him tumble across the floor. Ridley got on his knees as he quickly looked around himself. "How is he bouncing all over the place!? There is no possible way he could injure me without even making a crack on a wall he bounces off of!"

"It's really easy!" Luffy said as he then came into Ridley's view. He was slightly bouncing up and down in front of Ridley. "To bounce off a wall, I soften my body so can I bounce with great speed. To attack you, I harden my body so I can hit you with great force, much harder than probably any cannonball can do! When I bounced off of you, I quickly softened my body the instant I hit you so I can bounce off quickly! I learned this move by watching the powerful transexual do it! This mode will help me win!!"

"What kind of crap are you telling me now!?" Ridley asked, "The only thing you did was to make yourself look ridiculous!! Besides, it will take alot more than just two hits from that mode of yours to surpass mine!"

"I know! That is why I am going this mode's strongest attack! GOMU GOMU NO…" Luffy softened his body as he bounced into a blur.

"BOUNCE-O-RAMA!" Suddenly, Luffy started to bounce all over the place, much more quicker than what Bellamy used to do.

"He's too fast! I can't tell where he is coming from!" Ridley panicked while trying not to get hit, if that's possible. Ridley then got hit in the gut as Luffy bounced off of it. "GRR!" Before Ridley could stagger forward, he got hit in the back, then in the face, then in the kneecaps, then in the jaw. To put it simple, Ridley was repeatedly getting hit over his entire body.

"GAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA HHH HHH HHH HHH HHH HHH HHH!!!!"

Luffy then bounced all the way up to the Great Temple. "GOMU GOMU NO COMET!!" Luffy bounced off underneath the Sky temple, and went right down at Ridley like a blazing comet. Ridley groggily looked up as he saw Luffy was about to make impact.

KAB OOO OOO OOO OOO OOO OOO OOO OOO OOO OOO OOO OOO OOO OOO OOO MMM MMM MMM MMM MMM MMM MMM MMM MMM MMM MMM MMMM!!!!!

The impact not only made a big explosion, but it also turned the floor into one humongous pile of rubble. The impact also effected Luffy as he turned back to normal, panting heavily as he tried to get up. He sat up and saw Ridley, completely unconscious on his back as there were electric sparks coming out of his body. Luffy did his usual smile, now knowing that the world's threat is finished.

Or so he thought.

A part of a wall behind him bursted into pieces. Luffy looked behind his shoulder to see what is going on. He saw something coming out of the destroyed wall.

"Ugh!? The ugly chicken!" Luffy yelled in shock.

Emperor Ing came out of the wall, looking down at Luffy as he can barely move.

Meanwhile…

Usopp and Franky went through a hexagon door, and where now outside the Fortress they were in. The Energy controller they were looking for was right near a ledge.

"And there it is. Time to do what we came here to do." Franky said with a smirk.

"I am so relieved." Usopp said. "We can finally end this torture we had to go through."

"Yeah, yeah. Just get over here, and help me figure this thing out." Franky said as he walked over to the energy controller. "Now the bug bro said that you had to push one of these buttons, but I cant remember which one it was."

Usopp was about to help Franky, but he heard the door behind him open. He looked behind his shoulder to see who or what it was.

"Even as a shipwright, I still don't get these fancy thing-a-ma-jigs that other worlds have." Franky said while still observing the buttons on the energy controller. "Yo, Longnose. Come here, and help me out, will ya?"

There was no answer.

"Longnose? You listening to me?"

Still no answer.

"Hey, Longnose! I am talking to… !?"

Franky turned around to see Usopp, who was barely conscious has he was being held up a few feet by the neck by someone. That someone was MPNo.4, who looked disappointed under his brown robe.

"H-Help… me…" Usopp said before he passed out.

"Hmph! Such a weak resistance! I have squashed bugs that were tougher than you." MPNo.4 said.

"Oi! Who are you!?" Franky asked angrily as he aimed his wrist at MPNo.4 with his left arm. MPNo.4 dropped Usopp as he limplessly fell on the floor. He then looked at Franky as a big grin formed on his face.

"Ghaa ha ha ha ha ha ha!"

Preview: Oh no! First Ridley, now the ugly chicken! What am I going to do? I can barely move my body now! Man, this day cannot get any worse! Next time on One Piece: A Smash Adventure; Chapter 67: Revelation!, Farewell ten foot bug-eye people. I am gonna be the Pirate King!

Okay, the next chapter is definitely the LAST chapter for this arc that started since I don't know when. The next chapter will also reveal the identity of MPNo.4. Be sure not to miss it! See ya!

Metroid Pt 16

Finally, this arc is coming to an end. Enjoy!

Captain vs Captain. Luffy and Ridley fought eachother with sheer intensity, fighting in what they believe in. Luffy turned out to be victorious by using his new ball mode against Ridley, taking him down instantly. Luffy's victory was short-lived however as Emperor Ing showed up at the scene. What will happen to our beloved Captain? And what will become of Aether?

Chapter 67: Revelation!, Goodbye ten foot bug-eye people

Luffy was surprised to see none other than Emperor Ing right after beating up Ridley. "Damn! I can barely move!" Luffy muttered as he tried to crawl away from Emperor Ing. He then realized he wasn't being chased. Luffy looked behind his shoulder, and see what was going on.

Emperor Ing also seemed to be quite injured as it can barely stand on it's legs. Nonetheless, Emperor Ing slowly limped towards Luffy, trying to get him. Luffy resumed trying to crawl away as Emperor Ing was getting closer by the second.

"Ahh… gotta get away!" Luffy muttered as he was losing consciousness.

Emperor Ing managed to get behind Luffy as it slowly raised it's pointy legs.

"VEAU SHOOT!" Sanji came out of nowhere and kicked Emperor Ing, sending it flying to the other side of the area. Sanji landed on his feet as he glared at Emperor Ing.

"Sanji!" Luffy said in shock as he was surprised to see Sanji. Samus was also with him as she was shocked to see Emperor Ing again.

"I thought I killed that thing! Why is it alive!?" Samus asked in shock.

"I remember this creature last night…" Sanji said bluntly, "I personally never introduced myself to him until now."

Emperor Ing struggled to get up, only to fall back down again.

"I dont remember this thing being weak. Did something happened to it?" Sanji asked.

"Not that I know of." Samus replied, "It probably got hurt by something around here. But…"

Before Samus could finish talking, Emperor Ing finally managed to get back up on it's pointy feet.

"Let's talk about this later. Oi, Luffy. You okay?" Sanji asked to Luffy.

"I can barely get up! I am too exhausted!" Luffy said while on the floor.

"Tsk… I guess I have to deal with this." Sanji said bluntly.

"No way! You are too injured from fighting Dark Samus earlier!" Samus said, "I'll deal with it. I know how to beat it."

"Don't be ridiculous! I cannot let a beautiful lady such as yourself to fight this hideous beast." Sanji said while still glaring at Emperor Ing. "Let I, Mr. Prince, be the slayer of this monstrosity!!" Sanji yelled courageously as he charged at Emperor Ing.

"You killed the mood again…" Samus said as a sweatdrop went down her forehead. While Sanji was fighting off Emperor Ing, Samus looked behind her shoulder to see that Ridley was already down and out. "So Ridley was defeated afterall… I underestimated you, Luffy."

"Hmm?" Luffy asked as he looked at Samus.

"Listen, about last night…" Samus began to say, "I apologize for what happened; I don't know what came over me. You were right about everything you said about me. Can you forgive me?"

Luffy looked at her plainly for a couple of seconds before he smiled at her. "Sure, no problem." Luffy said, "I am happy that you were able to understand. Maybe we now I can help you in your further missions from now on."

Samus smirked and looked back at Sanji fighting off Emperor Ing. "Don't be so full of yourself; it makes you look stupid. But I have to admit," Samus then looked back at Luffy, "I probably would have never been a better person if you wouldn't have shown me the light."

"Hee hee!" Luffy giggled as Samus smiled back.

"Take that!" Sanji yelled while kicking Emperor Ing. Samus looked backed at the battle that was going on as Sanji seems to be winning.

"Maybe I should help out." Samus said as she then took out her Plasma whip as Emperor Ing then backed away from Sanji. Emperor Ing was once again started to lose his footing as Sanji panted a bit.

"You are now done for!" Sanji said as he charged Emperor Ing. He then stopped as he noticed something behind Emperor Ing. Once Emperor Ing turned around, It got stabbed in it's core by some sort of… tail. "What!?"

"It cant be!" Samus said, also in shock.

Luffy slowly lifted his head, and looked at where Sanji and Samus were looking at. "Huh? Oh wow…"

Emperor Ing slowly fell dead on the ground as it then disintegrated into nothingness. The one who killed was none other than Ridley, who stood tall, but badly injured. Their were multiple wounds all over his body, with a little blood coming out of some them. His body was a little disfigured from all the blows it received. His eyes were half closed as he can barely stand on his own weight. He panted very heavily, looking at the sight in front of him.

"I told you already…" Ridley panted exhaustedly, "You cannot win, because you are a low class Sea pirate. You can.. -cough-… never surpass what I have done over the years. You, and your pathetic crew… will never achieve anything!!"

"This guy is still alive!?" Sanji yelled angrily, "I'll teach you not to mess with us!" Sanji yelled as he then lunged towards Ridley. Ridley simply whacked him away with the back of his hand. "Ah!" Sanji rolled across the floor in pain.

"Sanji!" Luffy yelled worryingly. Samus got angry as she then turned on her plasma whip.

"I had enough of your ways, Ridley!" Samus said angrily, "It's now time for you to know your place!"

"Place? Place!?" Ridley yelled angrily, "I am the most feared Space pirate that ever existed in this pathetic universe! It is my destiny to rule and destroy it all! My place is to do anything I want to any other inferior planet! Like this one for example; If I want to destroy this world that is filled with useless creatures, then I shall do just that! I will make them suffer for having no other purpose in life but to try and live peacefully! They are a disgrace to everything I stand for! That is why they must die!!"

Samus angrily glared at Ridley for what he is saying. "That is what you believe in! It is my job to stop monsters like you from spreading your hatred to innocent creatures!"

"Innocent!? I destroyed the meaning of that word a long time ago!" Ridley yelled, "But I don't expect you to believe that! Why don't you just come over here, and try to prove me wrong?"

Samus got her whip, and was about to attack Ridley until Luffy grabbed her shoulder by stretching towards it. Samus turned around as Luffy was getting up.

"My fight with him isn't over yet… don't interfere." Luffy said bluntly. Samus was about to say something, but she nodded instead as she backed away. Luffy then walked in front of Ridley.

"You again!? How many times do I have to tell you!?" Ridley asked, "You cannot-"

"Can you just shut your big mouth for once?" Luffy said rudely, "You and I know both know who already won this battle. There is no point for you to talk anymore."

"Huh!? You got alot of nerve talking to your superior like that!" Ridley said angrily.

"You are not my superior! I have already proved that by kicking your ass earlier!" Luffy yelled, which angered Ridley. "The truth is that you are in denial. You are so used to losing against the transexual that you let out your anger on me and my crew by telling us a bunch of garbage you believe in. Once I proved you wrong, you intended to cover up your loss by saying all this ruling and destroying stuff, since this was your first time experiencing a defeat from a low class Sea pirate such as myself. Isn't that right?"

Ridley was now completely angry at Luffy, much more angry then he was at Samus beating him. "You think you know everything!? I will show you that I am right!" Ridley then flapped his wings and flew up high in the air. "I have yet to show you my strongest attack yet! I will you use my Phazon beam to destroy you all! Wait, I have a better idea! Why don't I give you a demonstration by this temple above me!!"

"What!? Dont you dare!" Luffy yelled.

"Try and make me stop, Sea pirate!" Ridley yelled as he then looked up at the temple. He then started to gather phazonic energy in his mouth as he was charging up to fire his deadliest beam.

"He is too far to hit from here!" Samus yelled frustratingly.

"I'll stop him!" Luffy yelled as he looked at the destroyed ground. He then spreads his arms and grabbed the center of the floor. He then started to pull the chunk of the floor off the ground. Once he managed to slightly move it up, Sanji was regaining conscious. "Sanji! I need you to get me up there!"

"Huh…? What?" Sanji said in confusion as he then saw Ridley in the air. "I get it! I'm coming!" Sanji dashed towards Luffy as he slightly jumped up in the air while still holding the chunk of the floor. "ARMY DE L'AIR…" Luffy got on Sanji's leg, "GOMU SHOT!" Sanji used all his strength to kick upward, sending Luffy flying upward toward Ridley. The chunk of the floor he was holding onto also went along with him as it knocked Sanji off of his feet. Luffy quickly flew right above Ridley, who was finished charging his beam up.

"You fool! You will die along with that temple!" Ridley yelled but Luffy ignored him as he tried to pull the chunk of floor he was holding on to behind him. "Fine, then! PHAZON BEAM!" Ridley fired a big phazonic beam from his mouth towards Luffy.

"HIII IIII YAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA!!!" Luffy threw the chunk of the floor towards Ridley, who was very surprised to see what was underneath it.

"PHAZON!?" Ridley thought as their was an enormous amount of crystalized Phazon underneath the chunk of the floor Luffy threw at him. The Phazon simply absorbed the beam Ridley was shooting out as it then crashed into him.

"AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA AAA HHH HHH HHH HHH HHH HHH HHH HHH HHH HHH HH!!!!!"

Ridley limplessly fell right into a Luminoth statue. He could no longer move as the statue he crashed into shook a bit. The head then fell off of it's place as it went right down towards Ridley, who raised his arms in shock.

"AAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAHHHHH!!!"

CRASH!!!

Luffy, who started to fall down, took a deep breath as he was about to shout, "ARE YOU CONVINCED NOW!?!? YOU LOST!!!!

Meanwhile…

Franky kept aiming at MPNo.4, not letting his eyes off of him. "Who the hell do you think you are, bro!?" Franky asked.

"Ghaa ha ha ha! Do not be so angry. He is still alive." MPNo.4 said, "I merely knocked him out. I wanted to see how really strong you pirates, but I suppose I fought the weak one." MPNo. 4 then crossed his arms against his chest, "I'm impressed that you were able to take down one of the Bounty Hunters I helped that Space pirate fool to manipulate with my viruses. Such a shame though; I can sense that my viruses were disposed of. Those three should be back to their normal selves unfortunately, but it's not like I lost anything important. Heh heh!

"Bounty hunters. The one Samus were talking about?" Franky said a little surprised, "Just who are you!? Are you some kind of stalker, bro!? Cuz if you are, I'll knock your head off!"

"Oh, I am not really a stalker. This is actually my first time seeing you pirates in person." MPNo.4 said, "Although, you don't exactly look all that powerful. I guess Dimentio exaggerated when he described you and your crewmates."

"Dimentio?" Franky asked. His eyes then widened as he remembered the happy jester back in the pokemon world. "Wait a second! Are you working for that stupid happy clown!"

"Do not refer to me like I am his underling!" MPNo.4 said angrily. "He is merely a partner of mine. We may have different ambitions, but our goal right now is the same! For we must gather many dark-hearted rulers so we can rule the new world with ease!"

"What new world!? What is so good about that world that any other world doesn't have?" Franky asked.

"It is not my place for me to tell." MPNo.4 said, "I'll let you figure it out by yourself; that is, if you can survive till that time arrives."

"Oh? You threatening me, huh?" Franky said as he then removed his the skin from his right hand. "Well, bro; let's see how you are going to act after I break all your teeth!"

"Ghaa ha ha ha! I would like to see that!" MPNo.4 said with a smirk.

"I bet you do! STRONG HAMMER!" Franky punched MPNo.4 with his steel fist, but it didn't hurt him one bit. "Gaahh!!" Franky instead was the one that felt pain after hitting MPNo. 4. "What are you made of!?"

He didn't get as his answer as he fell on his back, avoiding MPNo.4 laser sword. "What is that!? A laser sword!?"

"You are no different from the long nose one." MPNo.4 said while pointing his laser at Franky's face. "I am now starting to wonder how you pirates managed to get this far."

"FRESH FIRE!" Due to Franky having no Cola power, he breathed out just a little bit of fire, which touched MPNo.4's robe.

"Gah!" MPNo.4 cried in shock as his robe caught on fire.

"Ha ha ha ha ha! Who is laughing now, huh? Ha ha ha ha-what the!?" Franky said as MPNo.4 simply stood where he was, letting his robe burn into crisp.

"You seem rather surprised." MPNo.4 said, "I guess it is about time to tell you who I am." MPNo.4 said as he removed his blazing robe off of him.

"Wh-Wha!?" Franky said in shock.

MPNo.4 is a bulky, humanoid robot. He has a green armor-plated chest, brown robotic legs, a black waist and blue forearms, white and red-striped hands, spikes around his wrists and kneecaps. The only thing that looks human is his head; he is bald, has purple scars over his pupiless blue eyes, and a red crystal-like sphere on his forehead.

"My name is Sigma; the former leader of the Mavericks!" MPNo.4 now known as Sigma said proudly. Franky stared at him as Sigma then looked down at him. "I am one of the future rulers of the new world! You should feel honored by my presence!"

"BEANS LEFT!" Franky aimed at Sigma with his left hand, but the bullets simply fell out of their holes. "Damn it!"

Sigma kicked Franky while he was down, making him roll next to the energy controller. "It seems that you are not completely human. Are you some sort of cyborg by any chance?

Franky looked at the ground, not responding to Sigma.

"So you are." Sigma said with a smirk, "How interesting. I never thought that a cyborg would be a part of a primitive pirate crew. Such a shame that you turned out to be useless."

"Grr.." Franky muttered.

"But I guess it was to be expected; humans are quite pathetic beings." Sigma said, "They built us so we can serve them; and then some time later, they treated us like their equals. How foolish to think that they can treat us like their equal; I knew from the beginning that they acted kind to us so that we don't revolt against them. Unfortunately, nobody else of my kind knew this but me, that is why I intended to conquer all of those who opposed me! But… they interfered… and I was…"

"Eh!" Franky shouted as he pushed a button on the energy controller next to him. Sigma looked at the controller as it let out a light beam towards the mechanism above it. The mechanism then shot the beam towards the Great temple. "You talk too much, Tinheaded bro. Instead of telling me your pathetic past, why don't you just do me a favor, and try to get another robe? Your face doesn't look as ugly with it on."

Sigma grabbed Franky's face, and slammed the back of his head on the ground. "Grr!!" Franky muttered as Sigma looked down at him.

"You are quite the pathetic one yourself; being someone your not." Sigma said with a frown, "Having some functions of a robot does not make you less of a human, and that was not a compliment. You may look strong on the outside, but we all know that you have no purpose in life!"

Franky opened his eyes angrily, glaring at Sigma as he smirked. Sigma then looked up at the sky with a frown. "It looks I have wasted my time here. Ridley, that fool! If he would have accepted to become one of the new rulers, then this world would have already been his." Sigma then looked back at Franky. "I will spare you and your weak comrade's life. Be grateful, for this a rare occasion that I am mercifully. Till we meet again, cyborg! Ghaa ha ha ha ha ha!"

Sigma laughed as he then left Franky's sight. Franky didn't get up as he was too angry to do so. "Tsk! Damn!" Franky said angrily.

30 minutes later…

"Robin-chwan! Are you okay!?"

All the Strawhat crewmembers regrouped back to the Sky temple, with most of them being happy for defending Aether. Sanji obviously noticed that Robin was injured so he sobbed in front of her.

"Who did this to you!? Who was the dirt bag that did this to you!?" Sanji asked, "I swear, If I find him, I'll…"

"It is alright, Cook-san. Chopper and I already handled the attacker." Robin said kindly. Sanji then calmed down a bit and happily went towards Nami.

"Nami-swan! Welcome back! I missed you so much! Did you missed me?" Sanji asked happily.

"Are you back to your old self again? You looked better being emo." Zoro said, which made Sanji glare at him. Chopper then noticed Usopp unconscious.

"Wahh!? What happened to Usopp!?" Chopper asked worryingly.

"Long story. I don't want to talk about it right now." Franky said grumpily as he placed Usopp on the ground gently. Chopper started to heal him right away as Nami noticed somebody was missing.

"Hey, where is Samus?" Nami asked. Sanji then felt slightly depressed upon hearing that question.

"She said that she had some stuff to do, so she left." Sanji said sadly.

"Just like that!? Man, she has alot of nerve. Who does she think she is just leaving without saying goodbye to us? Haven't she learned anything from last night?" Nami asked angrily.

"It's okay." Luffy said with a smile. "She has her own stuff to do, and we have ours."

"Hey, Luffy. What happened to Ridley?" Zoro asked.

"Dont worry! I kicked his ass! He won't be talking bad about us again." Luffy said while giving Zoro the peace sign.

"Then where is he?" Zoro asked.

"His men showed up and got him out of here. We tried to stop them, but Samus-swan said it was pointless. She said that Ridley would get revived either way."

"What!? So that means we will see Ridley again!?" Chopper asked nervously.

"I doubt that. Samus-swan said that it will take a while for him to revive again. And once he does, Samus-swan will be there to get him again. Just like the it's suppose to be!" Sanji said while clenching his fist.

Suddenly, the hexagon door leading to U-mos' quarters opened as U-mos came inside, along with other Luminoth. Luffy smiled as U-mos raised his hands. "I cannot thank you enough for what you have done for us." U-mos said gratefully, "Not only you brought back the Light of Aether back to us, but you also defended our world from destruction. We are eternally grateful for you actions." U-mos said as he and his species bowed down to the Strawhat crew. Luffy was so happy, he bowed down to the Luminoth, only to get pulled back on his feet by Nami afterwards.

"You guys don't have to thank us. Instead, how about you give us all your valuable items as a token of our hard work?" Nami said while rubbing her hands with glee.

"Hey, I just remembered. What about the Mystery heart? You can thank us by giving us that instead." Luffy said with a smile as Nami then glared at him.

"Ah, yes. I have almost forgotten about that. Please follow me." U-mos said as he then got up and lead the Strawhat crew to his quarters, except for Chopper, who was still tending to Usopp's wounds.

Once they arrived at U-mos quarters, U-mos approached his Energy controller, and pressed some buttons on it. He stood back as the energy controller started to shake. The others looked in awe as the Energy controller started to open, letting out a bright yellow light.

Once the light faded, it revealed the 5th Mystery heart. The heart was yellow, and has a circle with a thunderbolt in it's front and back.

"Take it. It is now yours." U-mos said happily as LUffy walked up to the 5th Mystery heart and grabbed it.

"Hee hee hee… Yosh! We have found our 5th Mystery heart!"

Meanwhile…

Back at the unknown world, Dimentio, along with the other five Mystery people, were sitting around the round table, while Yojimbo was leaning on a wall with his arms crossed.

"Are you certain of this, Sigma?" MPNo. 1 asked as he was communicating with Sigma with a communicator.

"Of course, I am. These pirates were nothing compared to me." Sigma said through the communicator.

"You only mentioned two of them. What about the others?" MPNo. 1 asked.

"I did not wanted to waste my time testing the other crewmembers. They look pathetic as those two I mentioned." Sigma said, "The only one that seems to be a threat is that Captain of theirs. They managed to defeat Ridley."

"How disappointing…" MPNo. 3 said.

"Alright, Sigma. Report back here. We have other issues to attend to." MPNo. 1 said.

"Understood…" Sigma replied as MPNo. 1 turned off the communicator.

"Ah ha ha ha ha! This is just simply amusing. Whoever thought that they actually defeat one of the most deadliest creatures in that universe. I certainly would have not. Ah ha ha ha ha!" Dimentio laughed.

"Bah… if he was so deadly, then how come he never gets away with anything? He couldn't even kill a fly without hurting himself." MPNo. 6 said while looking at his sharp knife.

"I wonder… do these pirates have something more than brute strength? Perhaps I need to research this even further…" MPNo. 5 said while rubbing his chin.

"You don't have to research for something so obvious." MPNo. 3 said.

"Oh? Do you know the answer?" MPNo. 5 asked.

"They won because Ridley is merely a joke." MPNo. 3 said while getting up, "He may be one of the deadliest creatures out there, but his arrogance is the only thing that stops from becoming truly strong. It is precisely why that he always loses against Samus; he is a terrible leader. Only strong people such as he should follow people that are truly worthy to be a leader, like me for example."

"Ah ha ha ha ha! Such big words for someone who lost against two kung-fu masters, who do seem quite arrogant to be leaders themselves. Oh how the big great leader has fallen." Dimentio said as he laughed afterwards.

"Grr… How about I teach you some manners!?" MPNo. 3 asked angrily as Dimentio just stared at him.

"That is enough!" MPNo. 1 said, "May I remind you two that we are in the same side. We cannot afford to lose any of you, since we need many rulers to fully give order to the precious new world out there. Now sit down, ???."

MPNo. 3 glared at Dimentio, who simply just smiled back. He then sat down angrily, dropping his topic for now.

"By the way, where is ??? (MPNo. 2)?" MPNo. 3 asked.

"He just left to his assigned world. He will negotiate with a new client." MPNo. 1 said.

"With his attitude, he is never going to get anyone to work with us." MPNo. 6 said.

"His client has a similar attitude he has. There might be a slight chance that he will convince this client to become one of the rulers for the new world." MPNo. 1 said.

"Speaking of the new world, we never gave it a name." Dimentio said, "Why don't we give it a name? The 'new world' is starting to sound a little dull."

"The new world already has a name." MPNo. 1 said as he got up. The rest were curious on what he was going to say next. "Since the beginning of time, people have feared the darkness. No matter what they do, they can never get away from it. This new world is perfect; spreading the darkness to all, giving fear to all, and reviving those of the darkness itself. The new world is known as… Obscurum."

Meanwhile…

We are now in some sort of a race circuit, with multiple F-Zero vehicles getting ready for a race. Yes, we are back in the F-Zero world as today is the day when the Grand Prix racing tournament will soon begin.

"Welcome ladies and gentlemen to the long awaited Grand Prix tournament, where our best racers will race against eachother to win the grand prize!" The announcer said excitedly as the crowd cheered. "Only one of them can win, though; so they have to be at their very best if they want to become the greatest of them all!!"

The crowd were extremely excited as they were anxious to see the race begin, with hovering cameras broadcasting the event to all of those who are big fans of F-Zero races.

Suddenly, a small portal appeared in the race track as Bowser came falling out of it, and crashed on the track. "Owww!!" Bowser cried angrily as he was getting up. "Damn, Beedrills! The nerve of them of attacking me just for fun! That's supposed to be my thing!" Bowser then looked around, noticing that he was on a race track. "Great… now where am I?"

"Attention, racing fans! The Grand Prix race will begin in just a moment! But first, let me introduce to you… the F-Zero racers!" The announcer said excitedly as a holographic screens appeared around the race track, showing the proflie pics of the participating. "First off, we have the high-flying medico- Dr. Stewart!"

The crowd cheered as Dr. Stewart, who was next to his vehicle, was waving to the crowd.

"The hit man who flies at a speed of sound- Pico!"

The crowd cheered even more as a humanoid turtle gets behind his steering wheel.

"The Cyborg returns- Mighty Gazelle!"

The crowd cheered as a strong looking robot was waving to the crowd while he was on his vehicle.

"The Japanese warrior- Samurai Goroh!"

Instead of cheering, the crowd was booing at Samurai Goroh.

"Huh!? How dare you!?" Goroh yelled angrily to the crowd as he then got behind his steering wheel. The announcer kept on announcing more participating racers as Bowser now where understood where he was.

"So I am now at Mute City, huh? Grr! It will take me forever to find Strawhat here!" Bowser muttered angrily.

"And now, ladies and gentlemen! It is time to introduce to you, one of the toughest bounty hunters of all time, the king of F-Zero racing, not to mention one of the greatest champions to have ever existed; please welcome- CAPTAAAAAAAAAAAAAAIN FAAAAAAAAAAALCONNNNNNNNN!!!!"

The crowd went absolutely nuts as Captain Falcon drove behind his starting point in a cool fashion. The fangirls screamed excitedly as Captain Falcon got out of his vehicle's cockpit, and waved to the crowd as he stood up.

"Falcon, you are the best!" Shouted one of his fans.

"Marry me, Falcon!"

"Nobody can beat Captain Falcon!"

"You better be in Brawl, man!!"

Captain Falcon continued to wave at the crowd until he noticed Bowser on the race track. "Well, what a surprise!" Captain Falcon said as he then got out of his vehicle and approached Bowser. "Why Bowser, I never thought I'd see you here. How are you?"

"Bleh…" Bowser replied unexcitedly.

"Ha ha ha! You were always quite the funny one." Captain Falcon said, "What brings you here in Mute City?"

"I really doubt that you care, but since you are asking, have you seen a stupid kid wearing a Straw hat around here?" Bowser asked.

"Luffy? Oh, of course I have seen him. He was just here." Captain Falcon replied.

"What!? Where is he now!?" Bowser asked.

"He and his crew left to another world." Captain Falcon said as Bowser stomped on the ground angrily. "Too bad that he and his crew couldn't stay to watch the Grand Prix; I am sure he would have liked it."

"Arrgh!! Every time I go to another world, he goes to another world! This is so stupid! It's like somebody out there is doing this so they can laugh at my expense! Well, let me tell you something!! This is not funny!!" Bowser yelled angrily to the sky as if he was referring to somebody. Could it be me? Nah…

"Hey, Bowser. Are you going to stay for the race? It will be spectacular." Captain Falcon said.

"No, I don't want to see your stupid kiddy race! Get lost already, Douglas!" Bowser said angrily.

"I don't know who you are talking about, but I guess I should leave you to your duties then." Captain Falcon said as he then turned around. "Good luck on finding Luffy. If you do see him, say 'hi' for me."

"Whatever…" Bowser muttered as Captain Falcon returned to his vehicle, the Blue Falcon. "Now let's see here." Bowser pulled out his remote, which was still broken. "There has to be some way to fix this contraption."

"We are now ready to begin our event!" Said the announcer. "Big turtle on the track, get out of there, or you are going to get run over!"

"Oh! I gotta move out of the way first." Bowser said as he started to get out of the race track. But as soon as he took one step forward, he stepped on a banana peel that appeared out of nowhere, causing him to slip and fall on his back. "Gah! Man that's old. Nrggh!" Bowser tried to get up, but the spikes on his back were stuck to the track. "Ah! I cant get out of here! Somebody help me up!"

"Racers, start your engines!" The announcer said as the racers were turning on their vehicles.

"Hey, wait a second! I am still stuck here!"

"3.."

"Yo! Are you deaf!? I am still on the track!"

"2.."

"Stop counting!"

"1…"

"GET ME OUT OF HERE!!!"

"GO!!!"

All the vehicles boosters ignited, giving them full speed as they went towards Bowser. "GAAAAAAAAAHHHH!!!" Bowser shouted in fear as most of the vehicles then crashed into him, while other racers like Captain Falcon, still went on.

"Hm? I thought I heard… oh, nevermind." Captain Falcon shrugged as I was now in the lead. Bowser suddenly came out of the pile of vehicles, heavily injured as he was about to collapse.

"Ohh…" Bowser groaned as he fell forward. The remote he has then created a portal on the ground as Bowser fell right through it before it disappeared.

Back in Aether…

The Strawhat crew were near the platform that will lead off the temple as they were saying their goodbyes to the U-mos, and the rest of the Luminoth.

"Hey, how about you join my crew?" Luffy asked to U-mos, "We could have great adventures together."

"I would love to join the saviors of Aether in their quest for adventure, but my place is with my people." U-mos said as Luffy then hugged his knees as he started to cry.

"How pathetic…" Nami muttered.

"You don't have to be sad, Luffy. You can keep the light crystals I gave you last night to remember us by." U-mos said. Nami then hugged U-mos' legs as well.

"We are going to miss you! Waaahh!" Nami cried as Zoro just gave a pathetic look to Nami. Chopper was also sad, while Franky was holding the unconscious Usopp on his shoulders.

"We have learned various things about your culture. Thank you for sharing it with us." Robin said kindly.

"It was no problem at all, Miss Robin. I do hope that we do meet again sometime." U-mos replied kindly as well.

"Alright, let's get going." Zoro said as he got on the platform. "Luffy, Nami, let him go."

Luffy and Nami sadly lets go of U-mos' legs as they and the rest of the crew got on the platform. "We will never forget you! Goodbye, ten foot bug-eye people!" Luffy said in tears as the platform then took them down.

"They will never be forgotten. They will always be remembered as the ones who saved Aether." U-mos said happily.

"Yeah… but still, those humans are the oddest ones yet." Said a Luminoth as U-mos chuckled.

Back at the platform, Sanji was feeling rather depressed again. "What's wrong with you all of a sudden?" Zoro asked.

"I wanted to say goodbye to Samus-swan." Sanji said sadly. The platform then got to the shore as the Strawhat crew got off and headed towards their ship.

"Why do you care about her anyway?" Nami asked rudely, "She is the one who left us. She should rot for all I care."

"How nice of you."

Everyone got shocked as they then rushed on the ship. They then Samus with her armor as her ship was hovering behind her.

"SAMUS-SWAN! YOU CAME BACK!" Sanji yelled happily as he was tapdancing with joy.

"What was that about I should rot?" Samus asked as Nami got frightened.

"Uh, well, I was referring to another Samus. Heh heh." Nami laughed weakly.

"I know. I was just teasing… for once in my life." Samus said as she then walked up to the crew.

"Have you came to say goodbye?" Luffy asked.

"Actually, I came to tell you that the bounty hunters you guys encountered are back to normal. They are a little dazed out after the beating you gave them, but they'll be alright. Thanks for bringing them back." The crew smiled as Samus continued, "Oh, I also informed some people that you would be probably visiting their world soon." Samus said, "They used to be Smash competitors, you know?" This delighted Luffy and Chopper.

"Really!? That's awesome! Thanks for telling them that!" Luffy said excitedly.

"No problem. It was the least I can do to help you guys out after you did the same thing for me." Samus said as she then gave out a smile. "I hope you guys do get what your looking for. You guys are the least despised pirate I have ever met."

"Was that suppose to be a compliment?" Nami asked.

"Don't know." Zoro replied.

"Oh Samus-swan! Let's meet again, and have a romantic evening together!" Sanji said happily.

"Maybe… if you act a little normal… then maybe." Samus replied as Sanji span around in circles with great happiness. "Well, I have to go. Space pirates dont kill themselves." Samus then jumped back on her ship as she then looked back at the crew over her shoulder with a smile, "Till we meet again."

"Yeah! Till we meet again." Luffy said while giving the thumbs up. Samus then entered her ship as it then flew out of the world. "He turned out to be a nice transexual afterall."

"Captain, it is now time to go." Robin said while holding the fifth Mystery heart.

"-sigh-… okay." Luffy said as he took the heart.

The ship unanchored as Sanji turned it around as Luffy sighed

Luffy then went in front of the ship and raised the 5th Mystery heart up in the air. "MYSTERY DOOR, OPEN! The heart then let out a yellow beam in front of Luffy. The beam then spreads out in five direction as a portal was formed in between the rays. The portal then was replaced by the humongous double door with 4 empty slots shaped as hearts, while one of them was filled with red energy, the other one filled with green energy, the other one filled with orange energy, and the last one filled with brown energy. The heart then shot another yellow beam at the slot next the red heart, filling it up with yellow energy, which made the door open and an image of another planet was shown inside. Luffy then had tears coming out of his eyes.

"Are you okay, Luffy?" Chopper asked.

"I'll be fine… is just that I finally met the ten foot bug-eye people… I AM SO HAPPY!" Luffy cried happily.

"Don't forget that you also won the bet against Nami." Zoro said. He then got hit hard on the head by Nami.

"WHY DID YOU HAVE TO SAY THAT!?" Nami yelled angrily. Luffy then wiped the tears out of his eyes and pointed straight forward.

"LET'S GO!" Luffy yelled as the ship went through the door before it then closed, and disappearing into thin air. They were now sailing through the stream of lights. Usopp was also starting to regain consciousness.

"Look! Usopp is waking up!" Chopper said excitedly.

"I am?… DAAAAAAHHHHH!!! WHERE IS THAT GUY!?" Usopp asked in panic as he fell off of Franky's shoulder.

"What? What guy?" Nami asked.

"The guy that attacked me! You saw him too, didn't you, Franky?" Usopp asked.

"Yeah… listen, there is something you guys need to know." Franky said with a serious tone.

Meanwhile…

We are now in another world, where there is a beautiful green meadow. With birds chirping happily, butterflies flying over flowers, it was peaceful place. At the shore, some ship was anchored as a couple of soldiers got off the ship before facing eachother. The last one to get off the ship was none other than MPNo. 2.

"Sir, we have arrived." Said one of his soldiers. MPNo. 2 looked at his surroundings, disgusted at the peaceful sights.

"Hmph… idiots!"

Just in case you didn't know, Obscurum means Darkness in Latin. I know, it's a dumb name, but oh well. And yes, Sigma is from the Megaman X series; he is my favorite villain. I guess this is finally done. We sure had a good time with it, right? Ha ha ha!

(Silence)

Okay fine! I'll make sure the next arc wont take so long to finish!

Ahem, speaking of arcs, it is now time to play our favorite game, "GUESS THAT ARC!". If you read the last part, you might know what that world is. Good luck to you all! Ciao!

Kirby Pt 1

Hello! It's now time to begin our sixth arc! And this chapter also has a little revelation of something, but you are going to have to read it to find out. Enjoy!

Five down, three to go. The Strawhat crew finally obtained the 5th Mystery heart after saving Aether from a certain demise. They then bid farewell to U-mos and Samus before they started to journey to the next world. Unknown to them, that MPNo. 2 is there as well. Just who is the mysterious person, and how will he react once he meets the Strawhat crew.

Chapter 68: The land of dreams, the battle of pure chaos

The Thousand Sunny continued to sail through the stream of lights as some of the Strawhat crewmembers were just doing their own business. Franky was relaxing on the grass deck while looking up at the light streams, remembering what happened when he met Sigma.

"Having some functions of a robot does not make you less of a human, and that was not a compliment. You may look strong on the outside, but we all know that you have no purpose in life!"

Franky frowned remembering this as he lowered his sunglasses over his eyes again. "Bah… he doesn't even know what he is saying." Franky said as he then started to snooze.

Luffy was at the front of the ship, eagerly waiting to arrive at the new world. Zoro, Usopp, and Chopper were sitting on the grass deck, talking about at the events that happened back in Aether.

"So there we were; on our way to reactivate the energy controller." Usopp began to say, "When suddenly this ginormous robot comes out of nowhere and throws a crate at me and Franky.

"Whoa!" Chopper said amusedly.

"But thanks to my great leadership skills; me and Franky were able to defeat that terrifying robot, with me doing most of the work, of course."

"Wow, Usopp! You are so cool!" Chopper said with sparks of joy coming out of his eyes.

"Can you just skip all that stuff, and get to the part where that other robot knocked you out?" Zoro asked.

"Hey! You are not the one telling the story!" Usopp berated Zoro, who didnt seem to care.

"This guy that attacked you…" Zoro began to say, "Franky said that he works with Dimentio. He might be also companions with that big samurai fella too."

"That makes three evil scary guys we might have to deal with." Chopper said, shivering at that thought.

"It's going to be alright. I am sure that once we get all the hearts, then we can go back home, and pretend this little incident never happened." Usopp said with a weak laugh.

"But this Sigma guy already knows of us. They are sure to come after us sooner or later." Zoro said, which made Usopp nervous.

"But why would they want to hurt us?" Chopper asked, "We just want to go back to our world; we don't want to fight them."

"We already interfered with their plans back in Indigo Plateau by stopping that Orange suit guy from taking control of all the pokemon." Zoro said, "And I bet Sigma was helping Ridley out with something, but since Luffy already took care of him, we might have angered Sigma somehow."

"Why would they help other bad people for anyway?" Usopp asked.

"Rulers." Franky said.

Zoro, Usopp, and Chopper looked towards Franky, who was still laying down.

"He said something about rulers for the New world. He probably was helping that pterodactyl guy so he can become another ruler. I don't know if that's right, but I am sure he wouldn't just made that up for no good reason." Franky said as then placed his hand on his head while leaning on the floor sideways.

"If that's true, then Dimentio is one of the rulers as well." Zoro said.

"Also that scary samurai." Chopper added.

"If that's the case, then why are they trying to get more rulers for this new world?" Usopp asked, "Surely if they want to be all powerful, they need bigger land, right?"

"Not really." Sanji said as he came walking by them, holding a fancy beverage. "If these rulers want to rule this new world, they are going to need to power to defend themselves from intruders first. It's not like these guys don't have power of their own or anything, but it's best to be safe than sorry."

"Cook is right. It's like trying to control a ship without a rudder." Franky said.

"Something like that, yeah." Sanji said, "But let's not worry about this too much. We have other things to attend to for now." Sanji said as his serious look turned to happy queer look as tapdanced towards the Woman's quarters. "NAMI-SAN, WHERE ARE YOU? I MADE A NICE DRINK FOR YOOOOUUUUU!!"

"Moron. Getting all stupid of all a sudden…" Zoro said with his arms crossed as everyone else sighed. Sanji happily went upstairs, approaching Nami's and Robin's front door.

"Naaaaammiiiii! Come on out! I am here to deliver your drink." Sanji said happily.

"Nice try, but I am not coming out!" Nami said from the inside of her room. Robin then opened the door, and smiled at Sanji.

"She does not want to come out. She lost the bet against the captain, remember?" asked Robin.

"Oh, I didn't really remember that, Robin-chawn." Sanji lied, "Maybe if I just come in with my eyes closed, I can-"

"Robin, get him out of here!" Nami yelled from inside the room.

"I'll take that for her then." Robin said.

"-sigh-… Okay." Sanji said depressingly as he gave Robin the drink. Robin then closed the door as Sanji sighed again. "Ohh, I really wanted to see Nami-san in her beautiful form. I guess another time then." Sanji then walked away.

Inside the woman's quarters, Robin placed Nami's drink on a table. "Here is the beverage Cook-san made for you." Robin said.

"Thanks. I'll get it later." Nami said while on her bed, writing in her journal… while in her bra and panties! Robin then sat on a comfy chair next to table as she then opened a book.

"You know, everyone else thinks that you are not really in your undergarments." Robin said.

"If I know that I am wearing nothing but bra and panties, then I am wearing nothing but bra and panties." Nami stated while still writing on her journal, "You have to be smart while doing these kinds of bets, Robin. I said to Luffy that if I lost the bet, I would be wearing nothing but my bra and panties, but I never said that I had to show myself in public. All I have to do is to stay here for the whole day, and this cruel incident will be over. Like I said before, you have to be smart in any kind of bet, including the stupid ones."

"If you say so." Robin giggled as she then resumed on reading her book.

Nami looked completely hot wearing nothing but bra and panties. Too bad she removed her clothes before this chapter started. BUT since I am such a very nice guy, I am going to give you guys the full detail on how she stripped!

She first started stripping by grabbing the shirt she has on, and slowly taking it off, revealing her breasts that for some reason get bigger within every season or two. Then she placed her shirt on her bed as she then started to take of her skirt. Once she took that off, it revealed her beautiful round butt. Her skin looked so smooth as she got on her bed, with the rays of her lamp reflecting her skin, making it look much more gorgeous. Her skin, and her body figure looks so amazing, that any guy would just want to jump on her and-

"For some reason, I feel like beating the hell out of some narrator." Nami said as a vein popped out of her forehead. Oh wait! She is talking about me! Ahem… moving on…

Back outside the ship, Usopp was now starting to have some concerns. "This is killing me. Sigma was a powerful man when I encountered him. That big samurai guy could cut a giant robot into little pieces with a knife! And Dimentio is a crazy person! If there are more people like them, Then we cant survive if we do this any longer!"

"What do you want us to do about it? If they want to kill us, then what is taking them so long to do so?" Zoro asked, "Besides, even if they could kill us, they have to go through me first."

"Zoro, you're cool!" Chopper said happily.

"Yosh! Then we will leave it all to you then!" Usopp said determinedly. Zoro just shrugged as he then yawned.

"Hey, guys! I think we are just about to arrive to the next world!" Luffy yelled as he could see the image of the next world in front of him. Everyone, except for Nami and Robin who were still in their room, got up and got ready for anything to happen.

"Remember, if you meet one of those ruler guys by yourself, and there is no way to escape, then fight!" Zoro said.

"Y-Yeah, whatever you say…" Usopp whimpered.

"Yosh! World number 6 here we come!" Luffy yelled excitedly as the ship went through the image.

A bright light blinded them for a couple of seconds after getting inside. The light dimmed down as the Strawhats could see nothing but the ocean. "Woohoo! We are in another world!" Luffy said happily.

"But where are we this time?" Franky asked.

"Hmm… looks like its going to take awhile to find land. Might as well take a nap." Zoro said as he then rested on the grass deck, already in deep sleep.

"What a fine moment to take a nap." Usopp said sarcastically while looking at Zoro.

"Yo, Usopp. Go and look around." Sanji said.

"Fine, but I am going to do that by my own terms, not because you told me to." Usopp said as he got out his binoculars and looked around. Chopper looked around the peaceful ocean and got relaxed.

"This world looks so much peaceful than the worlds we been on before. Perhaps nothing bad would happen to us here afterall." Chopper said with a smile.

Meanwhile…

Back in the beautiful green meadow, there was a beautiful butterfly flying around a flower. Too bad that the flower and the butterfly got squished by someone's boot as he went by. It turned out to be MPNo. 2, angrily walking back to his ship, accompanied by two of his soldiers. They walked down a hill and on to the beach shore, where their ship is. MPNo. 2 then stopped while clenching his fists angrily.

"First, they tell me to come to this place, and now they are telling me to come back…" MPNo. 2 muttered, "Urgh! Curse those stupid people I have to work with! They just had to tell me that as soon as I got here! I just hate those guys! I hate them, I hate them, I hate them!!!"

MPNo. 2 was wearing colorful clothing, with a colorful mantle over his shoulders. He has long blonde hair in a ponytail. Has white makeup on his face that sorta makes him look like some enraged clown. Not to mention he has some kind of sadistic personality.

"If I would have had all my powers from before, I wouldn't be working with these guys! I would be powerful enough to rule that new world by myself! But that isn't the case now, is it!?" MPNo. 2 yelled to himself. He then noticed some sand on his boot, which made him a bit tense.

"Ahem… there is sand on my boots!" MPNo. 2 said loud enough for his soldiers to hear. His soldiers quickly rushed towards their leader, and got on their knees to wipe the sand off of MPNo. 2's boots. MPNo. 2 was satisfied as his men got up.

"We have removed the sand on your boots, Sir Kefka." Said one of the soldiers.

"Mwa ha ho ho ho ho!… Idiots!" MPNo. 2-- Kefka said. Kefka, and his soldiers, resumed walking towards their anchored ship, where their was another soldier guarding the stairway towards the deck.

"Sir Kefka, back so soo-"

"Outta my way, stupid!" Kefka yelled angrily as he then knocked his own guard out of the way. "The nerve of people these days…" Kefka, and his soldiers following him, went up the stairs to get on board their ship. The soldier that was knocked down by Kefka got up and also got aboard.

Kefka walked towards the captain, who was reading an article. "That 35 roster thing must be fake; it's too short of a roster to have." The captain said.

"What are you doing?" Kefka asked.

"Oh, Sir Kefka! I didn't notice you were back so soon!" The captain said, "Why are you back so quick?"

"Nevermind that! Just get ready to sail; we are getting out of this dump." Kefka said.

"Yes sir!" The captain said as he rushed to the bridge of the ship. He then turned on the communicator. "All stations, get ready to depart. I repeat; all stations, get ready to depart.

The ship raised anchor as it then started turn away from the land Kefka was on. The blowhorn then could be heard as it was now leaving. The noise of the blowhorn was so loud, that it waked up a little creature sleeping in a hollow tree.

The creature looked like a round and pinkish puffball, with feet and little round arms. It has pinkier cheeks, blue eyes, and it was small too. The little creature yawned as it then noticed Kefka's ship leaving.

Back in Kefka's ship, Kefka was sitting on a relaxing chair, with one of his soldiers placing a cup of tea on a table next to him. The captain then approached him and saluted.

"Sir! Our transporter device still needs some time to cool off. We should be leaving this world about 20 minutes." The captain said.

"Fine, fine." Kefka said grumpily, "The sooner we leave this nightmare, the better. Can't stand the peacefulness around here." Kefka then took a sip of his tea, before spitting it out afterwards. "What is this!?"

"That's tea, sir." The soldier said.

"And why are you serving me tea!? You know I hate this stuff!" Kefka said angrily.

"I know, but you said you didn't want water because you said it wasn't suitable enough for you, and you didn't wanted root beer because you said that drink was only for barbarians, and you didn't wanted lemonade because you said you don't like the sweet tastes." The soldier said while rubbing the back of his head, "Since you didn't say anything about tea, I might as well give it a shot."

Kefka stared at the soldier blankly before looking back at his cup. "What the heck? Fill it up." Kefka said as the soldier filled his cup with more tea. Kefka placed his cup on it's plate and looked at the skies. "-sigh-… why can't things be like they used to be? Captain, have I ever told you about my glory days?"

"No sir." The captain said.

"Well since I have nothing else to do for the next couple of minutes, I might as well tell my story to an inferior like yourself." Kefka said as the captain felt a little hurt by that remark. "It all started a long time ago. where I came from, there were these creatures known as the Espers, who are creatures that wield 'magic'. Magic was an important thing in my world, so I joined an empire where we were able to capture many Espers and transform into what we called 'Magicites'. By transforming them into magicites, we get the magic they possess, and once we are done getting their magic, we throw them in dumpster where they belong."

"That's a little harsh. They are living things too, you know?" The captain said.

"Yeah, what's your point?" Kefka asked confusedly.

"Uh, nothing." The captain replied.

"Anyway…" Kefka began to say, "We then found the source of the most powerful magic of all, the Warring triad. It was composed of three statues. My former emperor, Gestahl, and I used these statues to take over our world. But… THEY came along! A group of people came to us, and tried to stop us. One of them turned out to be a traitor of the empire. She had the nerve to attack ME! I was so furious, I disrupted the balance of the statues, causing them to lose control of their power. The emperor tried to stop me, but the statues were already in my command, so they killed him. I disposed of the irritating group, and eventually, I absorbed all the magic from the statues, making me a god!"

"Then what happened? If you were a god, you couldn't possibly be stopped." The captain said.

"I though that too." Kefka said with a frown, "I ruled that world for one year. People feared me, they would always try to do their best not to anger me. If they did, I would call the light of judgement to kill them! Mwa ha ho ho ho ho!" Kefka laughed for a bit until he frowned. "It wasn't long though until that same group from before attacked me again. I don't know how they did it, but they managed to kill me… ME! A GOD! I died with my magic, leaving the world with no magic at all."

"And now you are alive again." The captain said.

"Ho ho ho ho… yes. It seems that fate brought me back once more." Kefka said as he looked up, "The new world is certainly a better place. Did you know that I was one of the first people to get revived? It was quite shocking; but it looked like I lost something in return. For some reason, I don't have the same power I had when I was a god.

Not that I am saying that what I have isn't enough, but I want more!… Then I met up with other people just like me. We discussed it, and decided that we should rule the new world. I despise working with others, but right now, it will have to do until I got all my powers back."

"So… your were a god before, and now you are trying to gather more rulers for the new world. How degrading.." The captain mumbled.

"What did you say!?" Kefka asked.

"Eh, nothing. Nothing important." The captain said nervously, "So, um, I suppose things are going smoothly now. There hasn't been any problems."

"Of course not! Oh, wait… the pirates." Kefka hissed.

"Pirates?" The captain asked.

"These pirate guys that are world hopping right now. They interfered with our plans once or twice already." Kefka said. "They don't even look like a threat. I even have a description of them. Where are they?"

"Here you go sir." Said one of Kefka's soldiers as he gave the description posters of the Strawhat crew. Kefka then picked Luffy's description and showed it to the captain.

"Does this brat look threatening? Obviously not." Kefka stated, "I have seen people that makes more sense then this brat. Him and his idiotic crew are just really lucky that they were able to survive through the predicament they are in right now."

"So what happens if we see them?" The captain asked.

"Do you even have to ask that? I will kill them of course, but not before until I torture them a bit." Kefka said as he started to imagine how he will torture Luffy and the others. "First, I will put all of them into a cage, then I'll put that cage into another cage, then I'll put that cage into another cage, and then I will leave that cage hanging over a pool of lava! It's brilliant! Mwa ha ho ho ho ho!"

"Uh… I think that's… okay." The captain lied.

"What? Don't you like that idea?" Kefka asked.

"It's not like I don't like it, it's just that I think that kind of thing has already been done before." The captain said.

"Bah! What do you know?" Kefka asked angrily. "I will tell you this. If I do meet up with these idiotic pirates, I am going to make sure that they will never forget who I am!"

Meanwhile…

The Thousand Sunny was still sailing along the ocean, with Usopp still searching for land with his binoculars. "Usopp, how much longer? I want to see how people here look like." Luffy said impatiently.

"Don't ask me. I'll tell you when I see land when I see it." Usopp replied grumpily. Zoro was still sleeping like a log as Franky came out of the kitchen while placing three cola bottles inside him.

"SUUUUPPAAAA!!" Franky shouted as he fully charged up again, with his hair facing up again. "So… we there yet?"

"No. And it's all Usopp's fault." Luffy whined.

"Shut up!" Usopp yelled while still searching. "Oh? Hey, I think I see some land ahead!"

"Really!? Yes!" Luffy said excitedly. Sanji and Franky peered over the edge to see the land ahead of them.

"It doesn't look that far… do you see anything odd over there, Usopp?" Sanji asked.

"Nothing out of the ordinary. It looks all natural to me." Usopp said by looking at the land. "Huh?… Hey, guys! There is a ship coming towards us!"

"A ship?" Chopper asked. "Could they be trying to get us?"

"Doesn't look like it." Franky said. "It looks like its just trying to pass by."

"Hey, what's going on?" Nami asked as she was about to get out of her room.

"Huh!? Nami-san?" Sanji's visible eye turned into a big heart as he turned around to face Nami. "NAMI-SWAAAaaannn ohhh…" He got sad as he saw Nami and Robin coming out of their quarters, Nami wearing clothes again. "Nami-san, why are you wearing clothes? You were suppose to be with your bra and panties for 24 hours."

"I'll do the other 23 hours and 45 minutes once we start traveling to another world." Nami said plainly as Sanji felt sad again.

"Luffy, next time you do a bet with Nami-san, give specific details on what she is going to do when she loses." Sanji said sadly.

"Yeah, sure…" Luffy said, to focused on the ship that was getting closer to them.

Back in Kefka's ship, the captain noticed the Thousand Sunny ahead of him. "Sir Kefka, there is a ship in front of us." The captain said.

"Eh? So what? Just go by it." Kefka said, without even looking at the ship.

"I'll just check to see if they aren't dangerous then." The captain said. He then took out his binoculars and looked towards the Thousand Sunny. "Let's see… big ship.. eight people.. pirate flag… !? Pirate flag?" The captain noticed the Strawhat crew's pirate flag, which looked somewhat familiar. He looked back at the descriptions of Luffy Kefka gave him before looking back at the ship. "That's the same kind of Straw hat, but it can't be them, can they?" The captain looked back at the ship, and noticed Luffy, with a blank look on his face. The captain's eyes widened in fear as he looked back to the description and back at Luffy repeatedly, now realizing that the Strawhat crew was right in front of him.

"S-S-S-S-Sir K-K-K-K-Kefka!" The captain stuttered in fear.

"What is it!?" Kefka asked irritatingly.

"The p-p-p-p-p-p-p-pir-r-r-r-r-r…" The captain stuttered again.

"What? Speak clearly, will you!?" Kefka asked as he then drinked his tea.

"THE WORLD HOPPING PIRATES ARE RIGHT IN FRONT OF US!!!!" The captain yelled in fear. Kefka spat out his tea in shock as he quickly knocked away the captain to look through his binoculars. He quickly looked through all the crewmembers and looked back at the descriptions he has of them.

"SON OF A SUBMARINER! THAT'S THEM!" Kefka yelled with his eyes popping out of his head. "What are they doing here of all places!? How dare they show up in the places I least expect them to be!?"

"Sir Kefka, what do we do!?" The captain panicked.

"What else!? We'll kill them! Prepare all the cannons! We are going to sink them down with that trashy boat they call a pirate ship!" Kefka said while glaring at the Thousand Sunny.

"Uh… we can't do that, Sir Kefka." The captain said nervously.

"Why not!?" Kefka asked.

"B-Because.. since we didn't expect to fight anybody, we didn't load up any ammunition on the ship." The captain said with a weak smile.

"You idiot! How do you expect us to attack them without ammunition!?" Kefka asked as the captain whimpered. "Erggh! I wasn't prepared for this… let's just sail past them, and see if we can get away."

"Ugh, that's going to be a problem too." The captain added.

"Wha?" Kefka asked, wanting to know what he meant.

Both ships then started to pass by eachother as Luffy tried to see who was there. "I see one guy yelling at someone, but I can't tell why."

"Hey Usopp, what can you see from their ship?" Nami asked.

"I think I see a weird-looking guy. Oh wait, I see some big writing on the ship's wall." Usopp said. "'This ship belongs to the great Kefka, one of the great rulers of the new world', WHAT THE!?"

"Did you say new world!?" Sanji asked.

"Wait, that means they are the bad guys!" Chopper exclaimed.

"What!? What is one of them doing here!?" Nami asked. "And why aren't they attacking us?"

"It looks like they just want to get away." Robin said.

"Isn't that the opposite? They shouldn't be running from us unless they have a reason." Franky said.

"L-Let's not find out the reason. Let's get out of here while we have the chance!" Usopp said.

"No!" Luffy yelled. "Let's get them!"

"What!? Luffy, are you out of your mind!?" Usopp asked.

"This is a perfect chance to not anger these people any further! Let's just avoid them and move on!" Nami yelled.

"No! If they don't want to attack us, then we are going to attack them!" Luffy yelled, "Sanji, turn this ship around! We are going after that ship!"

"Roger!" Sanji replied. He quickly went to the rudder and turned the ship around.

Back in Kefka's ship, their was chaos. "You imbecile! Why did you put that there!?" Kefka asked angrily.

"It was suppose to be a surprise for you." The captain said. "I thought you might like it after having this ship for so long-"

"Nevermind that!" Kefka interrupted him. Kefka then noticed the Thousand Sunny was turning around. "They're turning around now! We can't afford to let them get behind us! Turn this ship around!"

Kefka's ship turned around, trying to prevent that the Thousand Sunny would get behind them. Both ships were now going around in circles in the same speed. "Okay, now fire the cannons at them!" Kefka yelled.

"But we don't have ammunition!" The captain yelled.

"Then fire whatever we got!"

Kefka's then fired out something from their cannons. "THEY ARE SHOOTING FURNITURE AT US!" Usopp panicked as there was indeed multiple kinds of furniture crashing into the Thousand Sunny. "THERE IS NO WAY WE ARE GOING TO SURVIVE THIS! WE ARE GOING TO DIE!"

"We are going to die!? AAAHHHHH!!" Chopper cried in fear as he and Usopp started to run in circles, avoiding the falling furniture.

Luffy was angrily towards the attacking ship while Sanji and Franky were destroying some of the furniture that were heading towards them. Nami and Robin were hiding behind the mast, avoiding the incoming furniture. Despite with all of this going on, Zoro was still sleeping as a chair almost hits him.

"What are they thinking firing furniture at us!?" Sanji asked.

"Don't worry about this! I'll show these guys what this ship can really do!" Franky said as he was about to head towards his ship's cannons.

"Wait, Franky! I have a better idea!" Luffy said as he then stretched his arms towards the ledge of the ship. "GOMU GOMU NO…"

"Wait, Luffy! Where are you going!?" Nami asked.

"ROCKET!" Luffy sprung himself towards Kefka ship.

Back in Kefka's ship, Kefka was having one of his sadistic moments again. "Die! Die! Die! DIE!!! MWA HA HO HO HO HO!" Kefka laughed maniacally until his ship stopped firing furniture. "What happened!? Why did we stop firing!?"

"We ran out of furniture, sir!" The captain said.

"Then use the other stuff like food or the barrels around here!" Kefka yelled angrily.

"WHOOOOOAAA!!!" Luffy screamed as he managed to get towards Kefka's ship, but landed hard on his deck.

"Huh?" Kefka said as he looked behind his shoulder to see Luffy groggily getting up. "H-How did he get all the way over here!?"

"Uh… wow. That was fun." Luffy said. "Huh? Did I make it?"

The captain then blew his whistle, which called out most of Kefka's soldiers behind him as Kefka was very angry and confused at the same time. "Hey you, stupid boy! Who do you think you are by coming on my ship!?"

"Hmm?" Luffy looked towards the angry Kefka. He looked at him oddly as Kefka was still glaring at him. "Your face looks weird. Are you a transexual too?"

It was quiet.

"D-Did he just… !" Said one of the nervous soldiers.

"Yeah… he just did…"

Kefka had his mouth gaping open with sheer anger and shock as his face almost turned red. "WHAT DID YOU JUST SAY TO ME!? I AM GOING TO KILL YOU!!"

"Huh? Did I say something wrong?" Luffy asked plainly. Kefka then formed a fireball from the palm of his hand and threw at Luffy, who barely dodged it. "What the!? What was that for!?"

"DIE!!" Kefka yelled as he threw another fireball, only it was a little bigger as it exploded in front of Luffy, creating a dust screen. "Mwa ha ho ho ho ho! How do you like that!?"

"GOMU GOMU NO PISTOL!" Luffy stretched his arm forward and punched Kefka in the face, sending him rolling backwards towards his men. His men that caught him from rolling any further.

"Sir Kefka, are you alright!?" The captain asked. Kefka simply shoved everyone out of the way before getting up.

"Nobody told me that he can stretch like some rubberman!" Kefka yelled. "Grr! It doesn't matter! Get hi-wha?" Kefka realized that Luffy was stretching his leg.

"GOMU GOMU NO MUCHI!" Luffy swung his stretched leg horizontally as Kefka ducked to avoid it, while all of his men got kicked and almost fell off the ship. Kefka frantically looked behind his shoulder to see that all of his men were down. "Now it's your turn, transexual No. 2!" Luffy yelled as Kefka looked at him angrily.

"Gah… that's it! I'm outta here!" Kefka yelled as he started to run away.

"Hey, come back here!" Luffy yelled as he chased after Kefka. Kefka quickly ran up the stairs with Luffy chasing him. Once he got to the upper floor, he grabbed the barrels next to him and shoved them down the stairs. Luffy destroyed the barrels with his own fists as Kefka continued to run away. When there was nowhere left to run, Kefka looked down and saw a trampoline below.

"So long!" Kefka yelled as he then jumped over the rail. Too bad that his foot got caught in the rail, causing Kefka to trip and fall on the floor rather than on the trampoline. "OWWW!!" Kefka cried as he got up and limped away. Luffy jumped off the fence of the second floor and landed right in front of Kefka, stopping him in his tracks. "Gah! Hey, wait a minute! What do you think you are doing!?"

"I am going to kick your ass for being one of those new world guys!" Luffy yelled angrily.

"What!? Do you think you… !" Kefka began to say until he realized that his men were already getting up from the groaning he is hearing behind him. "Um, so you think you can actually stop me, huh? What makes you think you can?" Kefka said while slowly walking towards the ship's side while Luffy was looking at him.

"Because I can, that's why! I'll make you sure that you and the rest of the new world guys will stop trying to help bad people!" Luffy said as he didn't realize that all of Kefka's men were sneaking up him from behind.

"Ha! That's stupid! Do you think you can actually pull that off!?" Kefka said as one of his men gave him the signal that they are ready. "Well, I only thing to say to you, and that is-LOOK UP!" Kefka yelled while pointing upwards.

"Wha!?" Luffy, without thinking, looked up at the sky to see nothing. Suddenly, all of Kefka's men grabbed Luffy from behind and threw him into the ocean. Everyone on the Thousand Sunny, except for Zoro who was still sleeping, were shocked at what just happened.

"Luffy!" Sanji yelled as he jumped to the ocean to save Luffy.

Back in Kefka's ship, the soldiers were celebrating for throwing Luffy offboard. "Great job, Sir Kefka; you outsmarted him!" The captain said happily.

"Mwa ha ho ho ho ho! Was there any doubt?" Kefka laughed amusedly. "But we are still not done." Kefka said as he turned around to face the Thousand Sunny. "Let's sink that ship!"

Kefka then raised his palm, creating a bigger fireball than before. Everyone on the Thousand Sunny were getting very frightened on how big it's getting. "That is… humongous!" Franky said in shock. Kefka grinned as his fireball was almost as big as his ship's deck.

"Mwa ha ho ho ho ho! I will now show you fools not to mess with your superiors!" Kefka said, "Nobody messes with the great Kefka! Nobody! Now die! FIRA-!"

"HISSATSU TABASCO BOSHI!"

Out of fearness, Usopp fired a pellet filled with tabasco as it went right in Kefka's mouth. "GAAAAAAAAAHHHHH!!" Kefka mouth was so hot, he breathed out fire. He also accidentally threw his big fireball upwards. "WATER! GIVE ME SOME WATER!"

One of his soldiers then rushed towards a barrel filled with water and used a little cup to grab some of it. He then rushed back to Kefka and tried to give him the cup, but Kefka simply smacked it away and ran towards the barrel filled with water instead. and drank the entire thing. Kefka then came out of the barrel, with his stomach filled with water. "Ohh… I am so going to kill them!"

"Uh… sir." The captain said nervously.

"What!?" Kefka asked. The captain pointed up, which made Kefka look up as the fireball he made was going down at them. "Oh poopy…"

BOO OOO OOO OOO OOO OOO OOO OOO OOO OOO OOO OOO OOO OOO OOO OO OOO OOO OOO OMM MMM MMM MMM MMM MMM MMM MMM MMM MMM MMMM!!!!

The fireball exploded upon the deck. As soon as it did that, the device that the captain spoke of earlier finally activated, teleporting the ship off the world, and the explosion with it. Nami and the others were still in shock. Nami then looked towards Usopp, who was also in shock. "Usopp.. did you just?" Nami began to ask.

"I.. I stopped him?" Usopp asked himself in disbelieve. "I mean, yes! I stopped him. Nobody messes with Captain Usopp's men! Ah ha ha ha ha!"

"Usopp, you are amazing!" Chopper said while happily looking at Usopp praising himself. Sanji then came aboard with Luffy on his shoulders as he then placed him on the deck. It was certainly a chaotic arrival for them. Before they could say anything else, Zoro started to wake up.

"-yawn-… Hey." Zoro said while waking up.

Meanwhile, at the shore of the land in front of the Strawhat crew, there was that puffball again, who wondered what was coming.

"Poyo?"

Preview: Eh? Man, that was weird. I never thought that I actually see two transexuals in one week. This adventure is getting a little weird.

Hmm? Is that a walking marshmallow? Next time on One Piece: A Smash Adventure; Chapter 69: Hello Kirby!, the folks of Dreamland. I am gonna be the Pirate King!

Phew… that was something, huh? In case you didnt know, Kefka is the antagonist from Final Fantasy 6. But I am sure most of you knew that.

Okay, it looks like 9 out of 11 got it right; here is an imaginary cookie in shape of Kirby's body for the ones who guessed it right. As for the ones who didnt get it right; Greymonkey, it was a nice theory you came up with, but I am sorry you didn't get it right. Don't feel bad though, I'll give you and Dr. Dude an imaginary cookie in shape of Dedede's head for the efforts. Well, I am off. See ya!

P.S.: For all the female viewers out there, please do forgive me about that bra and panty thing with Nami. It's a guy thing; I hope you understand.

Kirby Pt 2

Hello! Brawl is already out and the people in Gamefaqs are crying about it. Now then, since you all might know, we are in the Kirby arc. Now, since I am more used to the names of the 4kids (AAHHH!!) names, I am going to give the Kirby characters their 4kids (AAHHH!!!) names. But don't worry, I will not be giving anybody any lousy accents that horrendous company gave them. Also, this chapter is also like an introduction chapter, so don't expect much. Anyway, let's officially begin our arc! Enjoy!

Son of a submariner? The Strawhat crew have arrived to their 6th world, hoping that things would go smoothly in this place. That was definitely not the case as they confronted MPNo. 2, or his real name, Kefka. At first, Kefka tried to escape from them, but once he knew that was impossible, he started to fight back. Luffy confronted Kefka, but Kefka outsmarted him by letting his men throw him offboard. Kefka then tried to kill the other crewmembers, but Usopp saved the day by shooting a tabasco pellet in his mouth, causing him to throw his powerful attack on himself. Now that he is gone, what other situations does this world have in store for the Strawhat crew?

Chapter 69: Hello Kirby!, The folks of Dreamland

After that outrageous battle with Kefka, the Thousand Sunny continued their way towards land. Mostly everyone was picking up the remains of the furniture that was fired onto them by Kefka, except for Zoro, who was a little confused on what happened when he was sleeping.

"So…" Zoro began to say, "… you weren't having a party? And all of this happened due to some maniac?"

"Yeah, that's what happened." Chopper said while picking up some destroyed furniture. "You should have seen it! There was this guy who created a humongous fireball, and he wanted to kill us with it!"

"Oh? Funny that none of this woke me up." Zoro said while scratching his head.

"But the good part is that Usopp managed to save us all!" Chopper said happily, "You should have seen it, Zoro! The way he fired at that crazy man like he didn't know what he was doing! But good thing he actually knew what he was doing all along, right, Usopp?"

"Uh, yeah! I, Captain Usopp, cannot be stopped by some pathetic mortal! Ha ha ha ha!" Usopp laughed in glory as Chopper admired his enthusiasm.

"Tsk! Just when we arrived here, something like this has to happen to us…" Nami said while Sanji was happily picking up the junk around her. "How come we can't just arrive at one world without getting attacked by some weirdo!? This is completely not fair! I am just an ordinary girl! Things like this shouldn't happen to me!"

"It's such a shame that it does, Miss Navigator." Robin said, already reading a book on a chair. "But atleast you are not alone; all the things that happen to us as well. Like that incident back in Black Shadow's base, for example."

"You are not helping, Robin." Nami said irritatingly while rubbing her temples.

"Don't worry, Nami-san! I will protect you from harm no matter what the cost!" Sanji said happily.

"Yeah, yeah; whatever." Nami said as she then started to think. "But now we know another person that is related to this new world thing. With such insane power in that insane head of his, are chances of getting back to our world just got slimmer."

"Yo, Longnose. Isn't that guy's name Kefka you read on his ship wall?" Franky asked.

"I think that's him." Usopp said, "But I am getting a feeling that this guy is nothing but trouble. The less we know about him, the better."

Suddenly, Luffy started to regain consciousness after falling into the ocean. "Ahh… huh? I'm alive?" Luffy asked.

"You alright, Luffy?" Zoro asked.

"Uh.. I think so." Luffy replied, "Hey! Where did that second transexual guy go!?"

"He's already gone." Sanji said, "Don't know where though."

"That idiot blew himself up with his own attack." Franky added.

"Ohh…" Luffy said as he then got silent for awhile, "Hiya ha ha ha! He blew himself up with his own attack! That's funny! Hiya ha ha ha!"

"Anyway, I think we are about to arrive." Zoro said as he noticed that they are close to the beach shore.

"Awesome! Sanji, lower the anchor!" Luffy said happily.

"Got it." Sanji said as he went back to the steering wheel. The Thousand Sunny stopped as it's paws lowered through the water and to the ground, anchoring to it.

"Ohh! This is so exciting! Come on, guys; let's check this place out!" Luffy said excitedly.

"Wait a minute, Strawhat. We cant leave the ship this messy. Let's clean up here first." Franky said while picking up some destroyed furniture and throwing it away.

"Aww… okay, hurry up then, I'll meet you guys later!" Luffy said as he was about to leave until Usopp angrily grabbed him.

"YOU'RE HELPING US TOO!" Usopp yelled as he forced Luffy to pick some destroyed furniture as well. Luffy mumbled to himself as Usopp just sighed at this.

"Hey, Usopp. Do you really think that there are scary monsters here?" Chopper asked.

"I don't think so; this place looks calm." Usopp said while crouching down to pick up some junk, "But we would not know that until we set foot on this place."

"Oh…" Chopper said, a little bit worried.

"But do not threat, Chopper." Usopp said while still picking up junk. "If we do encounter ferocious monsters here, they wont stand a chance against us."

"Really?" Chopper asked happily.

"Sure. There is not thing that is too big for me to get scared of." Usopp said with a smirk. Outside the ship, the pink puffball with arms and feet walked up to the Thousand Sunny curiously.

"Poyo?" said the puffball curiously as it then puffed himself, causing him to float over the rail of the Thousand Sunny. Chopper noticed him, and got startled as he took a few steps back.

"No, sir. Not one, giant, hideous creature can scare the heck out of me." Usopp said without noticing the puffball creature.

"Poyo." said the puffball as he smiled at Usopp.

"Hmm?" Usopp looked to his right and noticed the puffball creature for the first time. "AAAAAAHHHHHHH!!!!!" Usopp got scared and crawled backwards to the other side of the ship, getting far away from the puffball creature. "Wha-Wha-What is that!?"

Everyone else looked at where Usopp was trying to get away from, and were a little shocked to see the puffball creature as well.

"Hey, how this little guy got onboard?" Franky asked while walking up to the confused puffball creature.

"Don't get close to it, Franky!" Usopp yelled, "It might look harmless, but I bet it's a homicidal monster that is waiting to tear off our flesh!"

"What!?" Chopper asked in fear. The puffball was a little confused on why Usopp was so scared as everyone else approached him.

"Usopp, would you stop? This little fella doesn't seem like he would hurt anyone, right, little guy?" Nami asked while smiling at the walking puffball.

"Poyo!" The puffball replied happily.

"Poyo? What's that suppose to mean?" Franky asked.

"He could mean the spanish term for 'chicken', but that would be weird." Sanji said. Luffy looked at him closely at the puffball, while it looked back to him as well. Luffy poked the puffball on it's forehead, and it felt soft.

"He looks like a big marshmallow." Luffy said with his usual smile.

"More like a walking puffball if you ask me." Zoro said while looking down at the creature.

"Perhaps he is one of the residents of this land." Robin said, "There could be more of them around here."

"Cool! A land filled with walking marshmallows!" Luffy said happily.

"Poyo!" The puffball said happily.

"There he goes saying poyo again." Zoro said.

"He, reindeer-gorilla. Try to talk to this guy." Franky said while looking at Chopper behind his shoulder.

"Um… okay." Chopper said kinda nervously. He walked up to the puffball creature as it then looked at him.

"Oh?" The puffball looked at Chopper curiously. "Poyo, poyo?"

"Huh? I can't understand him." Chopper said in surprise.

"What do you mean? I thought you can understand to what animals are saying." Nami said.

"I do, but I just don't understand what he is saying to me." Chopper explained, "It may be that he just speaks a language that I never heard of before."

The crew then started to think until Luffy spoke up. "Hey, maybe he is just a baby."

"Oi, don't insult him. You hardly know him." Sanji said.

"No, I mean, that he might just be a baby. Like they don't know how to talk properly yet and stuff." Luffy explained. Everyone started to think about that, and as crazy as it sounded, Luffy was probably right.

"That can be logical…" Robin said.

"Since when did you have a brain, Luffy?" Zoro asked while Luffy laughed.

"Let's not take years to figure out the answer to that question." Nami said, "Anyway, if this little guy is a baby, then we cant really talk to it."

"Not necessarily, Miss Navigator." Robin said, "Even though this creature is very young, we could use simple words to communicate with it. I may be wrong, but it wouldn't hurt to try."

"Oh, Robin-chwan! You are so beautiful when you say smart things!" Sanji said while happily tapdancing, which made the puffball laugh.

"It's worth of shot. What do we say first?" Zoro asked.

"Let's start with his name." Robin said as she lowered herself to the puffball's level. "Do you have a name?"

The puffball smiled as he started to jump up and down saying, "Kirby! Kirby!"

"It worked." Nami said.

"So his name is Kirby, huh? Fits him." Franky said. Luffy then smiled at Kirby as he lowered himself to his level.

"Hello, Kirby. My name is Luffy. And this is Zoro, Nami, Sanji, Chopper, Robin, and Franky. And the guy over there is Usopp." Luffy said kindly as he pointed to the whimpering Usopp.

"Luffy!" Kirby said happily.

"Hey! He said my name! He can talk afterall!" Luffy said in surprise.

"He probably can only say one word at a time. It's not really a big deal." Zoro said.

"I bet that was a big deal for you when you were growing up, huh, Marimo?" Sanji asked as Zoro then glared at him.

"Do you want a piece of me, cook?" Zoro asked angrily.

"Marimo." Kirby said, which shocked Zoro.

"Ha ha ha! I like this little guy." Sanji laughed.

"Geh!? Do you both want a piece of me!?" Zoro asked while looking at Sanji and Kirby, back and forth.

"Stop it, you two." Nami said, "Instead of wasting our time here, why don't we just ask Kirby if there is some civilization around here?"

"Kirby, is there any place around here where their are people?" Robin asked kindly.

"Poyo!" Kirby said happily as he then jumped off the ship and slowly landed on the beach shore. He then turned around to the Strawhat crew, and pointed towards a hill that leads to the big green meadow. "Poyo, poyo!"

"I think he wants us to follow him." Chopper said.

"Okay! Let's follow Kirby, everyone! Usopp, come on!" Luffy said as he and the others then got off their ship and headed towards the hill.

"Well… he doesn't seem that threatening… guys, wait up!" Usopp yelled as he caught up to his crewmates.

Meanwhile…

In the green meadow, their were two kids that were walking along a road.

"It's a such a beautiful day today." Said one of the kids. It was a young girl who had light yellow skin, and long hair in a ponytail style. She wore a shirt which was half pink and half light green with an egg cracked look in the middle. And she also has feet like Kirby's.

"Yeah, it is. I cant wait to win against Kirby in another soccer game again!" said the other kid. He has dark yellow skin, and mushroom-like hair that is colored yellow and blue, which was long enough to cover his eyes. He wore cordury type pants with no shirt, and has feet like Kirby as well.

"Honestly, Tuff. Kirby is too young to play that kind of game. You and the others always take advantage of him." The girl said to the boy--Tuff.

"It's not my fault he doesn't know how to play properly." Tuff said, "Besides, he likes it when he loses. You should have known that by now, Tiff."

"Uh! It's your attitude that always makes me sick." said the girl-- Tiff. "But, I guess that's natural. Atleast nothing bad has happened here after Kirby defeated Nightmare."

"This place did got very peaceful as soon as he was gone. But that kinda made this place boring now." Tuff said.

"How can you say that? It was never fun when Dedede tried to get rid of Kirby with those demon beasts he always wastes money on." Tiff said.

"I know, I know; but I am just saying that nothing much has really happened after Dedede finally stopped doing that." Tuff said.

"I guess so…" Tiff said. They then approached a very small house next to a hollow tree that Kirby was sleeping on earlier.

"Hey, Kirby! It's time to wake up!" Tuff said loud enough, but got no reply. "Kirby? Are you up there?"

"I think he is not there." Tiff said. "That's funny; Kirby would usually stay sleeping around these hours."

"Perhaps he is inside his house." Tuff said. They then walked up to the front door of the small house. "Hey, Kirby! Are you in there? Kirby!"

"What!? What is all that racket!?"

The door opened quickly as Tiff and Tuff saw a small yellow bird inside. "Oh, it's just you two…" The bird said unhappily.

"Hey, Tokkori. Have you seen Kirby?" Tiff asked.

"Kirby? How should I know where that idiot went off to!? I am not his babysitter!" said the bird known as Tokkori, "Did you only wake me up just to ask me that!? Don't bother me unless it's something important!"

Tokkori then rudely slammed the door shut, angering Tuff a bit.

"Hey! Don't go slamming doors on peoples faces like that!" Tuff said angrily.

"Leave him alone, Tuff. He'll never learn…" Tiff said as Tuff then calmed down, "But I wonder.. where is Kirby?"

"He probably went walking around somewhere." Tuff said.

"Probably." Tiff said, "The place he could probably be at is at the beach, since it's close from here."

"Then let's go at the beach!" Tuff said as he rushed ahead of Tiff.

"Hey, don't just run off!" Tiff said as she tried to catch up with Tuff, "Tuff, slow down! There is no need to ru-" Tuff then stopped as Tiff accidentally crashed into him, causing them both to fall forwardly on the ground. "Ah! Hey, why did you stop all of a sudden!?"

"Look at that." Tuff said while pointing ahead of him. Tiff looked where was pointing and saw the Thousand Sunny near the beach shore.

"Wha-What is that?" Tiff asked while getting up.

"That is a big ship! It looks amazing!" Tuff said while also getting up.

"But why is there a ship like that here?" Tiff asked. She then noticed somebody going up a hill from afar. "Hey, there is somebody coming."

"It's Kirby!" Tuff said as he noticed Kirby, who finished going up the hill. "Hey Kirby-" Suddenly, Tiff covered his mouth with her hand. Tuff then broke free of her. "What are you doing!?"

"Look, somebody else is with Kirby." Tiff said as she noticed somebody with Kirby, which is Luffy and the others.

"Who are those guys?" Tuff asked.

"I don't know, but we better hide. Come on." Tiff said as she looked around for a place to hide.

"But what about Kirby?" Tuff asked.

"If they try to do anything funny, we'll help Kirby. Now let's hide behind this bush!" Tiff said as they then hid behind a bush.

"Poyo! Poyo, poyo!" Kirby said as he lead the way.

"Yosh, keep leading the way, Kirby!" Luffy said happily. Everyone noticed how beautiful this world is. Green meadows, big mountains, none-scary forests; they were impressed.

"This place is marvelous. Finally we are on a world that looks great unlike the last one." Nami said in amazement.

"Yeah, what a relief." Chopper said.

"Ergh, we cant be this relaxed." Usopp said while looking at his surroundings in an alert position, "We can't tell what would happen to us if we don't keep our guard up."

"I am sure there is nothing to worry about here." Zoro said, bored out of his mind. He then noticed a particular bush ahead of him. "Why don't we ask those two behind the bushes about this place?"

Tiff and Tuff got were shocked once they heard him say that. "Is he talking about us!?" Tuff asked.

"He can't be! We didn't even make a sound!" Tiff hissed.

Everyone looked at the bush where Tiff and Tuff where hiding behind as Usopp was a little scared. "Who goes there!?" Usopp asked with a little bravery. "You better not try to attack us, because if you are, I'll call my 8000 enforcers here to attack you!"

"8000!? No, wait! We aren't bad guys!" Tuff panicked as he got out from hiding.

"Tuff, wait!" Tiff said as she got out of the bushes and tried to calm Tuff down.

"Whoa!? What are those!?" Luffy asked as his eyes popped out of his head in surprise. Tiff and Tuff were a little frightened as the Strawhat craw were a little curious of what Tiff and Tuff are.

"They are just kids." Sanji said.

"Poyo!" Kirby said happily as he approached Tiff and Tuff.

"Kirby, what is going on here? Who are these people?" Tiff asked.

"And why is one of them wearing nothing but underwear?" Tuff asked while curiously looking at Franky.

"This is a thong, kid." Franky stated. Robin then approached Tiff and Tuff, who slightly moved away from her.

"We apologize if we gave you a scare." Robin said, "We are merely travelers that just want to find our way back home."

Tiff and Tuff looked at eachother for a second until they looked back at Robin. "You guys are just travelers? If you trying to get back home, then why are you here?" Tiff asked.

"We are looking for Mystery hearts that will take us back to our world so we can continue our pirate adventure." Luffy said happily.

"Pirates!?" Tiff said in shock.

"What a good way to calm them down, Luffy!" Usopp said sarcastically while backslapping Luffy.

"You guys are pirates? That's so cool!" Tuff said.

"Tuff!" Tiff yelled.

"What? They look so amazing for a pirate crew." Tuff said. Luffy, Usopp, Sanji, Chopper, and Franky felt grateful when they heard him say that.

"Anyway…" Nami began to say while ignoring her idiotic crew, "Do you two know where we can go to get some information around here?"

"Well, uh…" Tuff began to say until Tiff covered his mouth.

"Can you excuse us for a second? I need to talk to my little brother alone." Tiff said as she took Tuff behind the bush they were hiding earlier as Kirby followed them. "What do you think you are doing? Those guys are pirates! We can't trust them."

"But they seem nice." Tuff said, "They don't look like the kind of people that will cause any trouble."

"That's how they all are. They'll pretend to be nice to us so we can help them out without any trouble. Once we are no longer needed, they'll kill us!" Tiff explained.

"What do you want us to do then? If we don't help them, they are going to kill us anyway." Tuff argued.

"Poyo…" Kirby said.

"Okay, we'll help them until we can figure out how to get rid of them." Tiff said.

"Alright." Tuff said. They then got out of the bush and walked up to the Strawhat crew.

"Their is a village close from here. We can take you there if you promise that you wont do anything suspicious." Tiff said.

"Sure, no problem!" Luffy said, "We hardly do anything suspicious anyway."

"Speak for yourself…" Most of his crew said simultaneously.

"Okay, follow us." Tiff said. Tiff and Tuff then lead the Strawhat crew to the village they spoke off earlier with Kirby happily following them.

"They don't seem to trust us that much…" Chopper said.

"We're pirates; it's not surprising." Zoro said. Chopper sighed as the crew then walked up a small hill and saw a village ahead.

"Is that it?" Usopp asked.

"Doesn't look that big." Franky said.

"Yes, this is the place." Tiff said, "C'mon, I'll introduce you to the Cappies."

"Cappies?" Luffy asked curiously as they then headed down the small hill and into the village. "Gyeh!?" Luffy, Usopp, Chopper, and Franky were surprised what kind of people lived there. All the people there looked like ghosts, only they don't fly and they aren't transparent. They have oval-shaped black eyes, tan bodies, pudgy hands with no fingers. Most of the Cappies noticed the Strawhat crew as they then stopped what they were doing to take a look at them.

"Are these the Cappies?" Nami asked.

"They look like walking potatoes!" Luffy exclaimed.

"Oh… why do the woman here have to look like that?" Sanji asked sadly. Tiff then walked in front of the curious Cappies of the village.

"Dont mind them; they are simply tourists. They just want to look around and then they will leave." Tiff said. The Cappies then talked about this to eachother before they decided to go back to their business.

"I now have a craving for marshmallows and potatoes. Sanji, make some for me." Luffy said.

"Not right now; I feel a little bummed about this place." Sanji said. Tiff then walked back to the Strawhat crew.

"So, where do you want to go first?" Tiff asked.

"I am rather curious about the history of this place. Is there somewhere where we can take a look at artifacts?" Robin asked.

"Aww, let's find a place to eat first. I am hungry." Luffy whined.

"Mr. Curio has tons of artifacts stuff. I am sure he wont mind if you guys take a look at them." Tuff said.

"How about we split up to the places we want to go instead?" Zoro said.

"Um… okay. We'll meet back at Kawasaki's restaurant. The one right there." Tiff said while pointing at a small green building.

"Restaurant!? Let's go there now!" Luffy said as he was about to go there, but Nami grabbed the back of his vest collar from going any further.

"We need to know as much as we can about this place. We'll eat later." Nami said as she dragged Luffy away from the restaurant. "Okay, let's go to Curio's."

Robin, Nami, and Luffy followed Tiff while Tuff was with the other five crewmembers. "So, where do you guys want to go?"

"I am not really interested in sightseeing." Zoro said, "I'll just take a nap in front of that restaurant." Zoro then walked to one of the benches close to the restaurant and started to take a nap on them.

"I'll wait for Nami and Robin to come back, so I'll be near the restaurant too." Sanji said as he then also sat on a bench next to Zoro.

"I guess that leaves only you three." Tuff said.

"Poyo!" Kirby said as he then approached Chopper and grabbed his hoove. "Poyo, poyo!"

"Uh, do you want me to follow you?" Chopper asked.

"Poyo!" Kirby nodded as he then lead Chopper elsewhere, leaving Usopp, Franky, and Tuff alone.

"Yo, kid. Is there any place where they sell tools around here?" Franky asked.

"That would be Genju's place. I'll take you there." Tuff said as he then lead Usopp and Franky to Genju's store. What all of them didn't know was that there was a little, robotic grasshopper that watching their every move.

Meanwhile…

In a small home outside the village, Tiff opened the door. "Prof. Curio? Are you in here?" Tiff asked. She saw an old Cappy looking at studying some ancient artifacts he found this morning. He was wearing a green suit and has a grey beard.

"Oh?" The Cappy then noticed Tiff at the doorway, "Oh hello, Tiff. How nice to see you here." the old Cappy said as he then saw Luffy, Nami, and Robin. "And who might they be? Are they new around here?"

"Um, yeah. They are tourists wanting to know about this place." Tiff said with a weak laugh, "You don't mind if they look at your artifacts for a while, do you?"

"Of course not. It's good to see tourists that are interested in history, just make sure you don't touch anything." The old man known as Curio said.

Nami and Robin looked at the artifacts around the room, while Luffy was just anxious to leave. Robin then noticed a particular artifact on a shelve. "This one looks quite old. 200 years old, perhaps?" Robin asked.

"Why, yes. Your absolutely right." Curio said, "You seem to have quite a knowledge for antiques."

"I am an archaeologist myself. I should know about these things." Robin said.

"You are an archeologist? My, what a small world." Curio said happily, "You could probably help me excavate in the ruins around here sometime."

"I wouldn't mind that at all, Professor." Robin replied kindly.

"What's the point of all this if you cant get any profit out of it?" Nami muttered. Luffy was then bored and wanted to look at artifacts himself.

"Hey, how old is this thing?" Luffy asked while holding a very delicate artifact.

"Oh! Be careful with that! I just found that today, and I don't want anything bad to happen to it!" Curio said worryingly.

"Luffy, don't go grabbing things that aren't yours! Put that back where it came from!" Nami yelled.

"Sheesh, okay." Luffy said as he was about to place the artifact back where he found it, "Whoop!" Luffy accidentally stepped on a banana peel that came out of nowhere, causing him to fall down with the artifact. Tiff gasped as Curio tried to see if the artifact was alright.

"Don't worry… I still got it." Luffy said dazedly. Before he could get up, the artifact suddenly shattered into pieces.

"No!! It took me a long time to find that!" Curio said as he then cried in misery.

"We'll just be leaving now then." Nami said with a weak laugh. "Come on, Luffy!" Nami grabbed Luffy by the ear as they, along with Robin and Tiff, got out of Curio's house. "You just had to touch something, didn't you!"

"I'm sorry; I was bored." Luffy said while rubbing his ear in pain.

"It's alright; Curio usually gets his artifacts broken all the time." Tiff said. "Let's go back to the restaurant now."

"Yay! Food!" Luffy said as he rushed back to the village. Nami, Robin, and Tiff followed him as the same mechanized grasshopper from before watched them leave.

Meanwhile…

"Here it is! Genju's shop."

Tuff showed Genju's toy shop, which wasn't really that big. Usopp was a little interested as he went inside with Tuff, but Franky didn't as he stood outside.

"I am not interested in toys." Franky said to himself. "Huh?" Franky then noticed a gasoline station, where a Cappy with one eyebrow and green suspenders was working on a car. Franky walked towards the car to take a good look at it. "What kind of vehicle is this?"

"Huh? What?" The Cappy with one eyebrow noticed Franky looking at the car. "Can I help you?"

"Oh, no. I am just looking at this vehicle you are working on. Looks nice." Franky commented.

"Oh. You have a good eye, man. This baby could go around 70 miles per hour. Of course, nobody these days would use this kind of car. Ha ha!" The Cappy laughed. "My name is Gus; I am the owner of this gas station.

"I am Franky; a shipwright." Franky said.

"Shipwright? You mean you work on ships?" The Cappy known as Gus asked.

"You bet. I have the greatest ship I ever made just right next to the beach shore." Franky said.

"You don't say? That's pretty neat." Gus said.

While those two were talking, Usopp and Tuff were looking at the stuff inside Genju's store. "This is the place where you can find all the cool stuff." Tuff said while Usopp was looking at some toys.

"These are nice." Usopp commented. Then the owner of the store came out of the storage room and noticed Tuff.

"Hey, Tuff. What brings you here?" The owner asked.

"Hi, Genju. I am just giving a tour to a pi- I mean, to a guy new to this village." Tuff said. Genju noticed Usopp and gave him an odd look.

"Never seen you before. Where are you from?" The owner known as Genju asked.

"Oh, I am from a far away place. Trust me, it's far." Usopp said.

"I see. Well do have a nice tour around the village. If you need any about my shop, just ask." Genju said.

"Sure." Usopp said kindly as he then felt hungry, "I am getting a little hungry now. Let's go back to the restaurant."

"Okay. See ya, Genju." Tuff said as he and Usopp left.

"Oi, Franky. We are heading back!" Usopp said.

"Gotcha! See ya later, bro." Franky said to Gus.

"Stop by anytime!" Gus said as Franky left and caught up with Usopp and Tuff. As they left, the very same mechanized grasshopper watched them leave.

Meanwhile…

"Where are you taking me, Kirby?" Chopper asked as Kirby was still leading him to somewhere. They then stopped in front of a small park, where three kids were playing.

"Poyo!" Kirby said happily upon arriving.
